1Ma 1:10 From these there grew a wicked offshoot, Antiochus Epiphanes son of King Antiochus; once a hostage in Rome, he became king in the 107th year of the kingdom of the Greeks.

1Ma 1:11 It was then that there emerged from Israel a set of renegades who led many people astray. 'Come,' they said, 'let us ally ourselves with the gentiles surrounding us, for since we separated ourselves from them many misfortunes have overtaken us.'

1Ma 1:12 This proposal proved acceptable,

1Ma 1:13 and a number of the people eagerly approached the king, who authorised them to practise the gentiles' observances.

1Ma 1:14 So they built a gymnasium in Jerusalem, such as the gentiles have,

1Ma 1:15 disguised their circumcision, and abandoned the holy covenant, submitting to gentile rule as willing slaves of impiety.

1Ma 1:16 Once Antiochus had seen his authority established, he determined to make himself king of Egypt and the ruler of both kingdoms.

1Ma 1:17 He invaded Egypt in massive strength, with chariots and elephants (and cavalry) and a large fleet.

1Ma 1:18 He engaged Ptolemy king of Egypt in battle, and Ptolemy turned back and fled before his advance, leaving many casualties.

1Ma 1:19 The fortified cities of Egypt were captured, and Antiochus plundered the country.

1Ma 1:20 After his conquest of Egypt, in the year 143, Antiochus turned about and advanced on Israel and Jerusalem in massive strength.

1Ma 1:21 Insolently breaking into the sanctuary, he removed the golden altar and the lamp-stand for the light with all its fittings,

1Ma 1:22 together with the table for the loaves of permanent offering, the libation vessels, the cups, the golden censers, the veil, the crowns, and the golden decoration on the front of the Temple, which he stripped of everything.

1Ma 1:23 He made off with the silver and gold and precious vessels; he discovered the secret treasures and seized them

1Ma 1:24 and, removing all these, he went back to his own country, having shed much blood and uttered words of extreme arrogance.

1Ma 1:25 There was deep mourning for Israel throughout the country:

1Ma 1:26 Rulers and elders groaned; girls and young men wasted away; the women's beauty suffered a change;

1Ma 1:27 every bridegroom took up a dirge, the bride sat grief-stricken on her marriage-bed.

1Ma 1:28 The earth quaked because of its inhabitants and the whole House of Jacob was clothed with shame.

1Ma 1:29 Two years later the king sent the Mysarch through the cities of Judah. He came to Jerusalem with an impressive force, 1Ma 1:30 and addressing them with what appeared to be peaceful words, he gained their confidence; then suddenly he fell on the city, dealing it a terrible blow, and destroying many of the people of Israel.

1Ma 1:31 He pillaged the city and set it on fire, tore down its houses and encircling wall, 1Ma 1:32 took the women and children captive and commandeered the cattle.

1Ma 1:33 They then rebuilt the City of David with a great strong wall and strong towers and made this their Citadel.

1Ma 1:34 There they installed a brood of sinners, of renegades, who fortified themselves inside it,

1Ma 1:35 storing arms and provisions, and depositing there the loot they had collected from Jerusalem; they were to prove a great trouble.

1Ma 1:36 It became an ambush for the sanctuary, an evil adversary for Israel at all times.

1Ma 1:37 They shed innocent blood all round the sanctuary and defiled the sanctuary itself.

1Ma 1:38 The citizens of Jerusalem fled because of them, she became a dwelling-place of strangers; estranged from her own offspring, her children forsook her.

1Ma 1:39 Her sanctuary became as forsaken as a desert, her feasts were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into a mockery, her honour into reproach.

1Ma 1:40 Her dishonour now fully matched her former glory, her greatness was turned into grief.

1Ma 1:41 The king then issued a proclamation to his whole kingdom that all were to become a single people, each nation renouncing its particular customs.

1Ma 1:42 All the gentiles conformed to the king's decree,

1Ma 1:43 and many Israelites chose to accept his religion, sacrificing to idols and profaning the Sabbath.

1Ma 1:44 The king also sent edicts by messenger to Jerusalem and the towns of Judah, directing them to adopt customs foreign to the country,

1Ma 1:45 banning burnt offerings, sacrifices and libations from the sanctuary, profaning Sabbaths and feasts,

1Ma 1:46 defiling the sanctuary and everything holy,

1Ma 1:47 building altars, shrines and temples for idols, sacrificing pigs and unclean beasts,

1Ma 1:48 leaving their sons uncircumcised, and prostituting themselves to all kinds of impurity and abomination, 1Ma 1:49 so that they should forget the Law and revoke all observance of it.

1Ma 1:50 Anyone not obeying the king's command was to be put to death.

1Ma 1:51 Writing in such terms to every part of his kingdom, the king appointed inspectors for the whole people and directed all the towns of Judah to offer sacrifice city by city.

1Ma 1:52 Many of the people -- that is, every apostate from the Law -- rallied to them and so committed evil in the country, 1Ma 1:53 forcing Israel into hiding in any possible place of refuge.

1Ma 1:54 On the fifteenth day of Chislev in the year 145 the king built the appalling abomination on top of the altar of burnt offering; and altars were built in the surrounding towns of Judah

1Ma 1:55 and incense offered at the doors of houses and in the streets.

1Ma 1:56 Any books of the Law that came to light were torn up and burned.

1Ma 1:57 Whenever anyone was discovered possessing a copy of the covenant or practising the Law, the king's decree sentenced him to death.

1Ma 1:58 Month after month they took harsh action against any offenders they discovered in the towns of Israel.

1Ma 1:59 On the twenty-fifth day of each month, sacrifice was offered on the altar erected on top of the altar of burnt offering.

1Ma 1:60 Women who had had their children circumcised were put to death according to the edict

1Ma 1:61 with their babies hung round their necks, and the members of their household and those who had performed the circumcision were executed with them.

1Ma 1:62 Yet there were many in Israel who stood firm and found the courage to refuse unclean food.

1Ma 1:63 They chose death rather than contamination by such fare or profanation of the holy covenant, and they were executed.

1Ma 1:64 It was a truly dreadful retribution that visited Israel.

1Ma 2:1 About then, Mattathias son of John, son of Simeon, a priest of the line of Joarib, left Jerusalem and settled in Modein.

1Ma 2:2 He had five sons, John known as Gaddi,

1Ma 2:3 Simon called Thassi,

1Ma 2:4 Judas called Maccabaeus,

1Ma 2:5 Eleazar, called Avaran, and Jonathan called Apphus.

1Ma 2:6 When he saw the blasphemies being committed in Judah and Jerusalem,

1Ma 2:7 he said, 'Alas that I should have been born to witness the ruin of my people and the ruin of the Holy City, and to sit by while she is delivered over to her enemies, and the sanctuary into the hand of foreigners.'

1Ma 2:8 'Her Temple has become like someone of no repute,

1Ma 2:9 the vessels that were her glory have been carried off as booty, her babies have been slaughtered in her streets, her young men by the enemy's sword.

1Ma 2:10 Is there a nation that has not claimed a share of her royal prerogatives, that has not taken some of her spoils?

1Ma 2:11 All her ornaments have been snatched from her, her former freedom has become slavery.

1Ma 2:12 See how the Holy Place, our beauty, our glory, is now laid waste, see how the gentiles have profaned it!

1Ma 2:13 What have we left to live for?'

1Ma 2:14 Mattathias and his sons tore their garments, put on sackcloth, and observed deep mourning.

1Ma 2:15 The king's commissioners who were enforcing the apostasy came to the town of Modein for the sacrifices.

1Ma 2:16 Many Israelites gathered round them, but Mattathias and his sons drew apart.

1Ma 2:17 The king's commissioners then addressed Mattathias as follows, 'You are a respected leader, a great man in this town; you have sons and brothers to support you.

1Ma 2:18 Be the first to step forward and conform to the king's decree, as all the nations have done, and the leaders of Judah and the survivors in Jerusalem; you and your sons shall be reckoned among the Friends of the King, you and your sons will be honoured with gold and silver and many presents.'

1Ma 2:19 Raising his voice, Mattathias retorted, 'Even if every nation living in the king's dominions obeys him, each forsaking its ancestral religion to conform to his decrees, 1Ma 2:20 I, my sons and my brothers will still follow the covenant of our ancestors.

1Ma 2:21 May Heaven preserve us from forsaking the Law and its observances.

1Ma 2:22 As for the king's orders, we will not follow them: we shall not swerve from our own religion either to right or to left.'

1Ma 2:23 As he finished speaking, a Jew came forward in the sight of all to offer sacrifice on the altar in Modein as the royal edict required.

1Ma 2:24 When Mattathias saw this, he was fired with zeal; stirred to the depth of his being, he gave vent to his legitimate anger, threw himself on the man and slaughtered him on the altar.

1Ma 2:25 At the same time he killed the king's commissioner who was there to enforce the sacrifice, and tore down the altar.

1Ma 2:26 In his zeal for the Law he acted as Phinehas had against Zimri son of Salu.

1Ma 2:27 Then Mattathias went through the town, shouting at the top of his voice, 'Let everyone who has any zeal for the Law and takes his stand on the covenant come out and follow me.'

1Ma 2:28 Then he fled with his sons into the hills, leaving all their possessions behind in the town.

1Ma 2:29 Many people who were concerned for virtue and justice went down to the desert and stayed there, 1Ma 2:30 taking with them their sons, their wives and their cattle, so oppressive had their sufferings become.

1Ma 2:31 Word was brought to the royal officials and forces stationed in Jerusalem, in the City of David, that those who had repudiated the king's edict had gone down to the hiding places in the desert.

1Ma 2:32 A strong detachment went after them, and when it came up with them ranged itself against them in battle formation, preparing to attack them on the Sabbath day,

1Ma 2:33 and said, 'Enough of this! Come out and do as the king orders and you will be spared.'

1Ma 2:34 The others, however, replied, 'We refuse to come out, and we will not obey the king's orders and profane the Sabbath day.'

1Ma 2:35 The royal forces at once went into action,

1Ma 2:36 but the others offered no opposition; not a stone was thrown, there was no barricading of the hiding places.

1Ma 2:37 They only said, 'Let us all die innocent; let heaven and earth bear witness that you are massacring us with no pretence of justice.'

1Ma 2:38 The attack was pressed home on the Sabbath itself, and they were slaughtered, with their wives and children and cattle, to the number of one thousand persons.

1Ma 2:39 When the news reached Mattathias and his friends, they mourned them bitterly

1Ma 2:40 and said to one another, 'If we all do as our brothers have done, and refuse to fight the gentiles for our lives and institutions, they will only destroy us the sooner from the earth.'

1Ma 2:41 So then and there they came to this decision, 'If anyone attacks us on the Sabbath day, whoever he may be, we shall resist him; we must not all be killed, as our brothers were in the hiding places.'

1Ma 2:42 Soon they were joined by the Hasidaean party, stout fighting men of Israel, each one a volunteer on the side of the Law.

1Ma 2:43 All the refugees from the persecution rallied to them, giving them added support.

1Ma 2:44 They organised themselves into an armed force, striking down the sinners in their anger, and the renegades in their fury, and those who escaped them fled to the gentiles for safety.

1Ma 2:45 Mattathias and his friends made a tour, overthrowing the altars

1Ma 2:46 and forcibly circumcising all the boys they found uncircumcised in the territories of Israel.

1Ma 2:47 They hunted down the upstarts and managed their campaign to good effect.

1Ma 2:48 They wrested the Law out of the control of the gentiles and the kings and reduced the sinners to impotence.

1Ma 2:49 As the days of Mattathias were drawing to a close, he said to his sons, 'Arrogance and outrage are now in the ascendant; it is a period of turmoil and bitter hatred.'

1Ma 2:50 This is the time, my children, for you to have a burning zeal for the Law and to give your lives for the covenant of our ancestors.

1Ma 2:51 Remember the deeds performed by our ancestors, each in his generation, and you will win great honour and everlasting renown.

1Ma 2:52 Was not Abraham tested and found faithful, was that not considered as justifying him?

1Ma 2:53 Joseph in the time of his distress maintained the Law, and so became lord of Egypt.

1Ma 2:54 Phinehas, our father, in return for his burning zeal, received the covenant of everlasting priesthood.

1Ma 2:55 Joshua, for carrying out his task, became judge of Israel.

1Ma 2:56 Caleb, for his testimony before the assembled people, received an inheritance in the land.

1Ma 2:57 David for his generous heart inherited the throne of an everlasting kingdom.

1Ma 2:58 Elijah for his consuming fervour for the Law was caught up to heaven itself.

1Ma 2:59 Hananiah, Azariah and Mishael, for their fidelity, were saved from the flame.

1Ma 2:60 Daniel for his singleness of heart was rescued from the lion's jaws.

1Ma 2:61 Know then that, generation after generation, no one who hopes in him will be overcome.

1Ma 2:62 Do not fear the threats of the sinner, all his brave show must come to the dunghill and the worms.

1Ma 2:63 Exalted today, tomorrow he is nowhere to be found, for he has returned to the dust he came from and his scheming is brought to nothing.

1Ma 2:64 My children, be resolute and courageous for the Law, for it will bring you glory.

1Ma 2:65 'Here is your brother Simeon, I know he is a man of sound judgement. Listen to him all your lives; let him take your father's place.

1Ma 2:66 Judas Maccabaeus, strong and brave from his youth, let him be your general and conduct the war against the gentiles.

1Ma 2:67 The rest of you are to enrol in your ranks all those who keep the Law, and to assure the vengeance of your people.

1Ma 2:68 Pay back the gentiles to the full, and hold fast to the ordinance of the Law.'

1Ma 2:69 Then he blessed them and was joined to his ancestors.

1Ma 2:70 He died in the year 146 and was buried in his ancestral tomb at Modein, and all Israel mourned him deeply.

1Ma 3:1 His son, Judas, known as Maccabaeus, then took his place.

1Ma 3:2 All his brothers, and all who had attached themselves to his father, supported him, and they fought for Israel with a will.

1Ma 3:3 He extended the fame of his people. Like a giant, he put on the breastplate and buckled on his war harness; he engaged in battle after battle, protecting the ranks with his sword.

1Ma 3:4 He was like a lion in his exploits, like a young lion roaring over its prey.

1Ma 3:5 He pursued and tracked down the renegades, he consigned those who troubled his people to the flames.

1Ma 3:6 The renegades quailed with the terror he inspired, all evil-doers were utterly confounded, and deliverance went forward under his leadership.

1Ma 3:7 He brought bitterness to many a king and rejoicing to Jacob by his deeds, his memory is blessed for ever and ever.

1Ma 3:8 He went through the towns of Judah eliminating the irreligious from them, and diverted the Retribution from Israel.

1Ma 3:9 His name resounded to the ends of the earth, he rallied those who were on the point of perishing.

1Ma 3:10 Next, Apollonius mustered the gentiles and a large force from Samaria to make war on Israel.

1Ma 3:11 When Judas learned of it, he went out to meet him and routed and killed him. Many fell wounded, and the survivors took to flight.

1Ma 3:12 Their spoils were seized and the sword of Apollonius was taken by Judas, who used it to fight with throughout his life.

1Ma 3:13 On hearing that Judas had raised a mixed force of believers and seasoned fighters,

1Ma 3:14 Seron, commander of the Syrian troops, said, 'I shall make a name for myself and gain honour in the kingdom if I fight Judas and those supporters of his who are so contemptuous of the king's orders.'

1Ma 3:15 He therefore launched another expedition, with a strong army of unbelievers to support him in taking revenge on the Israelites.

1Ma 3:16 He had nearly reached the descent of Beth-Horon when Judas went out to confront him with a handful of men.

1Ma 3:17 But as soon as these saw the force advancing to meet them, they said to Judas, 'How can we, few as we are, engage such overwhelming numbers? We are exhausted as it is, not having had anything to eat today.'

1Ma 3:18 'It is easy', Judas answered, 'for a great number to be defeated by a few; indeed, in the sight of Heaven, deliverance, whether by many or by few, is all one;

1Ma 3:19 for victory in war does not depend on the size of the fighting force: Heaven accords the strength.

1Ma 3:20 They are coming against us in full-blown insolence and lawlessness to destroy us, our wives and our children, and to plunder us;

1Ma 3:21 but we are fighting for our lives and our laws,

1Ma 3:22 and he will crush them before our eyes; do not be afraid of them.'

1Ma 3:23 When he had finished speaking, he made a sudden sally against Seron and his force and overwhelmed them.

1Ma 3:24 Judas pursued them down from Beth-Horon as far as the plain. About eight hundred of their men fell, and the rest took refuge in the country of the Philistines.

1Ma 3:25 Judas and his brothers began to be feared, and alarm seized the surrounding peoples.

1Ma 3:26 His name even reached the king's ears, and among the nations there was talk of Judas and his battles.

1Ma 3:27 The news of these events infuriated Antiochus, and he ordered mobilisation of all the forces in his kingdom, a very powerful army.

1Ma 3:28 Opening his treasury, he distributed a year's pay to his troops, telling them to be prepared for any eventuality.

1Ma 3:29 He then found that the money in his coffers had run short and that the tribute of the province had decreased, as a result of the dissension and disaster brought on the country by his own abrogation of laws that had been in force from antiquity.

1Ma 3:30 He began to fear that, as had happened more than once, he would not have enough to cover the expenses and the lavish bounties he had previously been accustomed to make on a larger scale than his predecessors on the throne.

1Ma 3:31 In this grave quandary he resolved to invade Persia, there to levy tribute on the provinces and so accumulate substantial funds.

1Ma 3:32 He therefore left Lysias, a nobleman and member of the royal family, to manage the royal affairs between the River Euphrates and the Egyptian frontier, 1Ma 3:33 making him responsible for the education of his son Antiochus, until he should come back.

1Ma 3:34 To him Antiochus made over half his forces, with the elephants, giving him instructions about what he wanted done, particularly with regard to the inhabitants of Judaea and Jerusalem,

1Ma 3:35 against whom he was to send a force, to crush and destroy the power of Israel and the remnant of Jerusalem, to wipe out their very memory from the place, 1Ma 3:36 to settle foreigners in all parts of their territory and to distribute their land into lots.

1Ma 3:37 The king took the remaining half of his troops with him and set out from Antioch, the capital of his kingdom, in the year 147; he crossed the River Euphrates and made his way through the Upper Provinces.

1Ma 3:38 Lysias chose Ptolemy son of Dorymenes, with Nicanor and Gorgias, influential men from among the Friends of the King,

1Ma 3:39 and, under their command, despatched forty thousand foot and seven thousand horse to invade the land of Judah and devastate it, as the king had ordered.

1Ma 3:40 The entire force set out and reached the neighbourhood of Emmaus in the lowlands, where they pitched camp.

1Ma 3:41 The local merchants, hearing the news of this, arrived at the camp, bringing with them a large amount of gold and silver, and fetters as well, proposing to buy the Israelites as slaves; they were accompanied by a company from Idumaea and the Philistine country.

1Ma 3:42 Judas and his brothers saw that the situation was going from bad to worse and that armies were camping in their territory; they were also well aware that the king had ordered the people's total destruction.

1Ma 3:43 So they said to each other, 'Let us restore the ruins of our people and fight for our people and our sanctuary.'

1Ma 3:44 The Assembly was summoned, to prepare for war, to offer prayer and to implore compassion and mercy.

1Ma 3:45 Jerusalem was as empty as a desert, none of her children to go in and out. The sanctuary was trodden underfoot, men of an alien race held the Citadel, which had become a lodging for gentiles. There was no more rejoicing for Jacob, the flute and lyre were mute.

1Ma 3:46 After mustering, they made their way to Mizpah, opposite Jerusalem, since Mizpah was traditionally a place of prayer for Israel.

1Ma 3:47 That day they fasted and put on sackcloth, covering their heads with ashes and tearing their garments.

1Ma 3:48 For the guidance that the gentiles would have sought from the images of their false gods, they opened the Book of the Law.

1Ma 3:49 They also brought out the priestly vestments, with first-fruits and tithes, and marshalled the Nazirites who had completed the period of their vow.

1Ma 3:50 Then, raising their voices to Heaven, they cried, 'What shall we do with these people, and where are we to take them?'

1Ma 3:51 Your holy place has been trampled underfoot and defiled, your priests mourn in their humiliation, 1Ma 3:52 and now the gentiles are in alliance to destroy us: you know what they have in mind for us.

1Ma 3:53 How can we stand up and face them if you do not come to our aid?'

1Ma 3:54 Then they sounded the trumpets and raised a great shout.

1Ma 3:55 Next, Judas appointed leaders for the people, to command a thousand, a hundred, fifty or ten men.

1Ma 3:56 Those who were in the middle of building a house, or were about to be married, or were planting a vineyard, or were afraid, he told to go home again, as the Law allowed.

1Ma 3:57 The column then marched off and took up a position south of Emmaus.

1Ma 3:58 'Stand to your arms,' Judas told them, 'acquit yourselves bravely, in the morning be ready to fight these gentiles massed against us to destroy us and our sanctuary.'

1Ma 3:59 Better for us to die in battle than to watch the ruin of our nation and our Holy Place.

1Ma 3:60 Whatever be the will of Heaven, he will perform it.'

1Ma 4:1 Gorgias took with him five thousand foot and a thousand picked cavalry, and the force moved off by night

1Ma 4:2 with the object of attacking the Jewish position and dealing them an unexpected blow; the men from the Citadel were there to guide him.

1Ma 4:3 Judas got wind of it and himself moved off with his fighters to strike at the royal army at Emmaus, 1Ma 4:4 while its fighting troops were still dispersed outside the camp.

1Ma 4:5 Hence, when Gorgias reached Judas' camp, he found no one and began looking for the Jews in the mountains. 'For', he said, 'we have got them on the run.'

1Ma 4:6 First light found Judas in the plain with three thousand men, although these lacked the armour and swords they would have wished.

1Ma 4:7 They could now see the gentile encampment with its strong fortifications and cavalry surrounding it, clearly people who understood warfare.

1Ma 4:8 Judas said to his men, 'Do not be afraid of their numbers, and do not flinch at their attack.'

1Ma 4:9 Remember how our ancestors were delivered at the Red Sea when Pharaoh was pursuing them in force.

1Ma 4:10 And now let us call on Heaven: if he cares for us, he will remember his covenant with our ancestors and will destroy this army confronting us today;

1Ma 4:11 then all the nations will know for certain that there is One who ransoms and saves Israel.'

1Ma 4:12 The foreigners looked up and, seeing the Jews advancing against them,

1Ma 4:13 came out of the camp to join battle. Judas' men sounded the trumpet

1Ma 4:14 and engaged them. The gentiles were defeated and fled towards the plain

1Ma 4:15 and all the stragglers fell by the sword. The pursuit continued as far as Gezer and the plains of Idumaea, Azotus and Jamnia, and the enemy lost about three thousand men.

1Ma 4:16 Breaking off the pursuit, Judas returned with his men

1Ma 4:17 and said to the people, 'Never mind the booty, for we have another battle ahead of us.'

1Ma 4:18 Gorgias and his troops are still near us in the mountains. First stand up to our enemies and fight them, and then you can safely collect the booty.'

1Ma 4:19 The words were hardly out of Judas' mouth, when a detachment came into view, peering down from the mountain.

1Ma 4:20 Observing that their own troops had been routed and that the camp had been fired -- since the smoke, which they could see, attested the fact-

1Ma 4:21 they were panic-stricken at the sight; and when, furthermore, they saw Judas' troops drawn up for battle on the plain,

1Ma 4:22 they all fled into Philistine territory.

1Ma 4:23 Judas then turned back to plunder the camp, and a large sum in gold and silver, with violet and sea-purple stuffs, and many other valuables were carried off.

1Ma 4:24 On their return, the Jews chanted praises to Heaven, singing, 'He is kind and his love is everlasting!'

1Ma 4:25 That day had seen a remarkable deliverance in Israel.

1Ma 4:26 Those of the foreigners who had escaped came and gave Lysias an account of all that had happened.

1Ma 4:27 The news shocked and dismayed him, for affairs in Israel had not gone as he intended, and the result was quite the opposite to what the king had ordered.

1Ma 4:28 The next year he mobilised sixty thousand picked troops and five thousand cavalry with the intention of finishing off the Jews.

1Ma 4:29 They advanced into Idumaea and made their base at Beth-Zur, where Judas met them with ten thousand men.

1Ma 4:30 When he saw their military strength he offered this prayer, 'Blessed are you, Saviour of Israel, who shattered the mighty warrior's attack at the hand of your servant David, and delivered the Philistine camp into the hands of Jonathan son of Saul, and his armour-bearer.'

1Ma 4:31 Crush this expedition in the same way at the hands of your people Israel; let their troops and cavalry bring them nothing but shame.

1Ma 4:32 Sow panic in their ranks, confound the confidence they put in their numbers and send them reeling in defeat.

1Ma 4:33 Overthrow them by the sword of those who love you, and all who acknowledge your name will sing your praises.'

1Ma 4:34 The two forces engaged, and five thousand men of Lysias' troops fell in hand-to-hand fighting.

1Ma 4:35 Seeing the rout of his army and the courage of Judas' troops and their readiness to live or die nobly, Lysias withdrew to Antioch, where he recruited mercenaries for a further invasion of Judaea in even greater strength.

1Ma 4:36 Judas and his brothers then said, 'Now that our enemies have been defeated, let us go up to purify the sanctuary and dedicate it.'

1Ma 4:37 So they marshalled the whole army, and went up to Mount Zion.

1Ma 4:38 There they found the sanctuary deserted, the altar desecrated, the gates burnt down, and vegetation growing in the courts as it might in a wood or on some mountain, while the storerooms were in ruins.

1Ma 4:39 They tore their garments and mourned bitterly, putting dust on their heads.

1Ma 4:40 They prostrated themselves on the ground, and when the trumpets gave the signal they cried aloud to Heaven.

1Ma 4:41 Judas then ordered his men to keep the Citadel garrison engaged until he had purified the sanctuary.

1Ma 4:42 Next, he selected priests who were blameless and zealous for the Law

1Ma 4:43 to purify the sanctuary and remove the stones of the 'Pollution' to some unclean place.

1Ma 4:44 They discussed what should be done about the altar of burnt offering which had been profaned,

1Ma 4:45 and very properly decided to pull it down, rather than later be embarrassed about it since it had been defiled by the gentiles. They therefore demolished it

1Ma 4:46 and deposited the stones in a suitable place on the hill of the Dwelling to await the appearance of a prophet who should give a ruling about them.

1Ma 4:47 They took unhewn stones, as the Law prescribed, and built a new altar on the lines of the old one.

1Ma 4:48 They restored the Holy Place and the interior of the Dwelling, and purified the courts.

1Ma 4:49 They made new sacred vessels, and brought the lamp-stand, the altar of incense, and the table into the Temple.

1Ma 4:50 They burned incense on the altar and lit the lamps on the lamp-stand, and these shone inside the Temple.

1Ma 4:51 They placed the loaves on the table and hung the curtains and completed all the tasks they had undertaken.

1Ma 4:52 On the twenty-fifth of the ninth month, Chislev, in the year 148 they rose at dawn

1Ma 4:53 and offered a lawful sacrifice on the new altar of burnt offering which they had made.

1Ma 4:54 The altar was dedicated, to the sound of hymns, zithers, lyres and cymbals, at the same time of year and on the same day on which the gentiles had originally profaned it.

1Ma 4:55 The whole people fell prostrate in adoration and then praised Heaven who had granted them success.

1Ma 4:56 For eight days they celebrated the dedication of the altar, joyfully offering burnt offerings, communion and thanksgiving sacrifices.

1Ma 4:57 They ornamented the front of the Temple with crowns and bosses of gold, renovated the gates and storerooms, providing the latter with doors.

1Ma 4:58 There was no end to the rejoicing among the people, since the disgrace inflicted by the gentiles had been effaced.

1Ma 4:59 Judas, with his brothers and the whole assembly of Israel, made it a law that the days of the dedication of the altar should be celebrated yearly at the proper season, for eight days beginning on the twenty-fifth of the month of Chislev, with rejoicing and gladness.

1Ma 4:60 They then proceeded to build high walls with strong towers round Mount Zion, to prevent the gentiles from coming and riding roughshod over it as in the past.

1Ma 4:61 Judas stationed a garrison there to guard it; he also fortified Beth-Zur, so that the people would have a fortress confronting Idumaea.

1Ma 5:1 When the surrounding nations heard that the altar had been rebuilt and the sanctuary restored to what it had been before, they became very angry

1Ma 5:2 and decided to destroy the descendants of Jacob living among them; they began to murder and evict our people.

1Ma 5:3 Judas made war on the sons of Esau in Idumaea, in the region of Acrabattene where they were besieging the Israelites. He dealt them a serious blow, drove them off and despoiled them.

1Ma 5:4 He also remembered the wickedness of the sons of Baean, who were a menace and a trap for the people with their ambushes on the roads.

1Ma 5:5 Having blockaded them in their town and besieged them, he put them under the curse of destruction; he then set fire to their towers and burned them down with everyone inside.

1Ma 5:6 Next, he crossed over to the Ammonites where he found a strong fighting force and a numerous people, commanded by Timotheus.

1Ma 5:7 He fought many battles with them, defeated them and cut them to pieces.

1Ma 5:8 Having captured Jazer and its dependent villages, he retired to Judaea.

1Ma 5:9 Next, the gentiles of Gilead banded together to destroy the Israelites living in their territory. The latter, however, took refuge in the fortress of Dathema,

1Ma 5:10 and sent the following letter to Judas and his brothers: 'The gentiles round us have banded themselves together against us to destroy us, 1Ma 5:11 and they are preparing to storm the fortress in which we have taken refuge; Timotheus is in command of their forces.

1Ma 5:12 Come at once and rescue us from their clutches, for we have already suffered great losses.

1Ma 5:13 All our countrymen living in Tobias' country have been killed, their women and children have been taken into captivity, their property has been seized, and about a thousand men have been destroyed there.'

1Ma 5:14 While the letter was being read, other messengers arrived from Galilee with their garments torn, bearing similar news,

1Ma 5:15 'The people of Ptolemais, Tyre and Sidon have joined forces with the whole of gentile Galilee to destroy us!'

1Ma 5:16 When Judas and the people heard this, they held a great assembly to decide what should be done for their oppressed countrymen who were under attack from their enemies.

1Ma 5:17 Judas said to his brother Simon, 'Pick your men and go and relieve your countrymen in Galilee, while my brother Jonathan and I make our way into Gilead.'

1Ma 5:18 He left Joseph son of Zechariah and the people's leader Azariah with the remainder of the army in Judaea to keep guard, and gave them these orders,

1Ma 5:19 'You are to be responsible for our people. Do not engage the gentiles until we return.'

1Ma 5:20 Simon was allotted three thousand men for the expedition into Galilee, Judas eight thousand for Gilead.

1Ma 5:21 Simon advanced into Galilee, engaged the gentiles in several battles and swept all before him;

1Ma 5:22 he pursued them to the gate of Ptolemais, and they lost about three thousand men, whose spoils he collected.

1Ma 5:23 With him, he took away the Jews of Galilee and Arbatta, with their wives and children and all their possessions, and brought them into Judaea with great rejoicing.

1Ma 5:24 Meanwhile Judas Maccabaeus and his brother Jonathan crossed the Jordan and made a three-days' march through the desert,

1Ma 5:25 where they encountered the Nabataeans, who gave them a friendly reception and told them everything that had been happening to their brothers in Gilead, 1Ma 5:26 many of whom, they said, were shut up in Bozrah and Bosor, Alema, Chaspho, Maked and Carnaim, all large fortified towns.

1Ma 5:27 Others were blockaded in the other towns of Gilead, and the enemy planned to attack and capture these strongholds the very next day, and destroy all the people inside them on one day.

1Ma 5:28 Judas and his army at once turned off by the desert road to Bozrah. He took the town and, having put all the males to the sword and collected the booty, burned it down.

1Ma 5:29 When night came, he left the place, and they continued their march until they reached the fortress.

1Ma 5:30 In the light of dawn they looked, and there was an innumerable horde, setting up ladders and engines to capture the fortress; the assault was just beginning.

1Ma 5:31 When Judas saw that the attack had begun and that the war cry was rising to heaven from the city, mingled with trumpet calls and a great clamour,

1Ma 5:32 he said to the men of his army, 'Into battle today for your brothers!'

1Ma 5:33 Dividing them into three commands, he advanced on the enemy's rear, with trumpets sounding and prayers shouted aloud.

1Ma 5:34 The troops of Timotheus, recognising that this was Maccabaeus, fled before his advance; Maccabaeus dealt them a crushing defeat; about eight thousand of their men fell that day.

1Ma 5:35 Then, wheeling on Alema, he attacked and captured it and, having killed all the males and collected the booty, burned the place down.

1Ma 5:36 From there he moved on and took Chaspho, Maked, Bosor and the remaining towns of Gilead.

1Ma 5:37 After these events, Timotheus mustered another force and pitched camp opposite Raphon, on the far side of the stream-bed.

1Ma 5:38 Judas sent men to reconnoitre the camp, and these reported back as follows, 'With him are massed all the gentiles surrounding us, making a very numerous army,

1Ma 5:39 with Arab mercenaries as auxiliaries; they are encamped on the far side of the stream-bed, and ready to launch an attack on you.' Judas then advanced to engage them,

1Ma 5:40 and was approaching the watercourse with his troops when Timotheus told the commanders of his army, 'If he crosses first we shall not be able to resist him, because he will have a great advantage over us;

1Ma 5:41 but if he is afraid and camps on the other side of the stream, we shall cross over to him and the advantage will then be ours.'

1Ma 5:42 As soon as Judas reached the watercourse, he posted people's scribes along it, giving them this order: 'Do not let anyone pitch his tent; all are to go into battle!'

1Ma 5:43 He was himself the first across to the enemy side, with all the people following. He defeated all the opposing gentiles, who threw down their arms and ran for refuge in the sanctuary of Carnaim.

1Ma 5:44 The Jews first captured the town and then burned down the temple with everyone inside. And so Carnaim was overthrown, and the enemy could offer no further resistance to Judas.

1Ma 5:45 Next, Judas assembled all the Israelites living in Gilead, from the least to the greatest, with their wives, children and belongings, an enormous muster, to take them to Judaea.

1Ma 5:46 They reached Ephron, a large town straddling the road and strongly fortified. As it was impossible to by-pass it either to right or to left, there was nothing for it but to march straight through.

1Ma 5:47 But the people of the town denied them passage and barricaded the gates with stones.

1Ma 5:48 Judas sent them a conciliatory message in these terms, 'We want to pass through your territory to reach our own; no one will do you any harm, we only want to go through on foot.' But they would not open up for him.

1Ma 5:49 So Judas sent an order down the column for everyone to halt where he stood.

1Ma 5:50 The fighting men took up their positions; Judas attacked the town all day and night, and the town fell to him.

1Ma 5:51 He put all the males to the sword, rased the town to the ground, plundered it and marched through the town square over the bodies of the dead.

1Ma 5:52 They then crossed the Jordan into the Great Plain, opposite Beth-Shean, 1Ma 5:53 Judas all the time rallying the stragglers and encouraging the people the whole way until they reached Judaea.

1Ma 5:54 They climbed Mount Zion in joy and gladness and presented burnt offerings because they had returned safe and sound without having lost a single man.

1Ma 5:55 While Judas and Jonathan were in Gilead and Simon his brother in Galilee outside Ptolemais,

1Ma 5:56 Joseph son of Zechariah, and Azariah, who were in command of the army, heard of their valiant deeds and of the battles they had been fighting,

1Ma 5:57 and said, 'Let us make a name for ourselves too and go and fight the nations around us.'

1Ma 5:58 So they issued orders to the men under their command and marched on Jamnia.

1Ma 5:59 Gorgias and his men came out of the town and gave battle.

1Ma 5:60 Joseph and Azariah were routed and pursued as far as the frontiers of Judaea. That day about two thousand Israelites lost their lives.

1Ma 5:61 Our people thus met with a great reverse, because they had not listened to Judas and his brothers, thinking that they would do something equally valiant.

1Ma 5:62 They were not, however, of the same breed of men as those to whom the deliverance of Israel was entrusted.

1Ma 5:63 The noble Judas and his brothers, however, were held in high honour throughout Israel and among all the nations wherever their name was heard, 1Ma 5:64 and people thronged round to acclaim them.

1Ma 5:65 Judas marched out with his brothers to fight the Edomites in the country towards the south; he stormed Hebron and its dependent villages, threw down its fortifications and burned down its encircling towers.

1Ma 5:66 Leaving there, he made for the country of the Philistines and passed through Marisa.

1Ma 5:67 Among the fallen in that day's fighting were some priests who sought to prove their courage there by joining in the battle, a foolhardy venture.

1Ma 5:68 Judas next turned on Azotus, which belonged to the Philistines; he overthrew their altars, burned the statues of their gods and, having pillaged their towns, withdrew to Judaea.

1Ma 6:1 King Antiochus, meanwhile, was making his way through the Upper Provinces; he had heard that in Persia there was a city called Elymais, renowned for its riches, its silver and gold, 1Ma 6:2 and its very wealthy temple containing golden armour, breastplates and weapons, left there by Alexander son of Philip, the king of Macedon, the first to reign over the Greeks.

1Ma 6:3 He therefore went and attempted to take the city and pillage it, but without success, the citizens having been forewarned.

1Ma 6:4 They resisted him by force of arms. He was routed, and began retreating, very gloomily, towards Babylon.

1Ma 6:5 But, while he was still in Persia, news reached him that the armies which had invaded Judaea had been routed,

1Ma 6:6 and that Lysias in particular had advanced in massive strength, only to be forced to turn and flee before the Jews; that the latter were now stronger than ever, thanks to the arms, supplies and abundant spoils acquired from the armies they had cut to pieces,

1Ma 6:7 and that they had pulled down the abomination which he had erected on the altar in Jerusalem, had encircled the sanctuary with high walls as in the past, and had fortified Beth-Zur, one of his cities.

1Ma 6:8 When the king heard this news he was amazed and profoundly shaken; he threw himself on his bed and fell sick with grief, since things had not turned out for him as he had planned.

1Ma 6:9 And there he remained for many days, subject to deep and recurrent fits of melancholy, until he realised that he was dying.

1Ma 6:10 Then, summoning all his Friends, he said to them, 'Sleep evades my eyes, and my heart is cowed by anxiety.

1Ma 6:11 I have been wondering how I could have come to such a pitch of distress, so great a flood as that which now engulfs me -- I who was so generous and well-loved in my heyday.

1Ma 6:12 But now I recall how wrongly I acted in Jerusalem when I seized all the vessels of silver and gold there and ordered the extermination of the inhabitants of Judah for no reason at all.

1Ma 6:13 This, I am convinced, is why these misfortunes have overtaken me, and why I am dying of melancholy in a foreign land.'

1Ma 6:14 He summoned Philip, one of his Friends, and made him regent of the whole kingdom.

1Ma 6:15 He entrusted him with his diadem, his robe and his signet, on the understanding that he was to educate his son Antiochus and train him for the throne.

1Ma 6:16 King Antiochus then died, in the year 149.

1Ma 6:17 Lysias, learning that the king was dead, established on the throne in succession to him his son Antiochus, whom he had brought up from childhood -- and styled him Eupator.

1Ma 6:18 The people in the Citadel at the time were blockading Israel round the sanctuary and were taking every opportunity to harm them and to support the gentiles.

1Ma 6:19 Judas decided that they must be destroyed, and he mobilised the whole people to besiege them.

1Ma 6:20 They assembled and laid siege to the Citadel in the year 150, building batteries and siege-engines.

1Ma 6:21 But some of the besieged broke through the blockade, and to these a number of renegades from Israel attached themselves.

1Ma 6:22 They made their way to the king and said, 'How much longer are you going to wait before you see justice done and avenge our fellows?

1Ma 6:23 We were content to serve your father, to comply with his orders, and to obey his edicts.

1Ma 6:24 As a result our own people will have nothing to do with us; what is more, they have killed all those of us they could catch, and looted our family property.

1Ma 6:25 Nor is it on us alone that their blows have fallen, but on all your territories.

1Ma 6:26 At this moment, they are laying siege to the Citadel of Jerusalem, to capture it, and they have fortified the sanctuary and Beth-Zur.

1Ma 6:27 Unless you forestall them at once, they will go on to even bigger things, and then you will never be able to control them.'

1Ma 6:28 The king was furious when he heard this and summoned all his Friends, the generals of his forces and the marshals of horse.

1Ma 6:29 He recruited mercenaries from other kingdoms and the Mediterranean islands.

1Ma 6:30 His forces numbered a hundred thousand foot soldiers, twenty thousand cavalry and thirty-two elephants with experience of battle conditions.

1Ma 6:31 They advanced through Idumaea and besieged Beth-Zur, pressing the attack for days on end; they also constructed siege-engines, but the defenders made a sortie and set these on fire, putting up a brave resistance.

1Ma 6:32 At this, Judas left the Citadel and pitched camp at Beth-Zechariah opposite the royal encampment.

1Ma 6:33 The king rose at daybreak and marched his army at top speed down the road to Beth-Zechariah, where his forces took up their battle formations and sounded the trumpets.

1Ma 6:34 The elephants were given a syrup of grapes and mulberries to prepare them for the battle.

1Ma 6:35 These animals were distributed among the phalanxes, to each elephant being allocated a thousand men dressed in coats of mail with bronze helmets on their heads; five hundred picked horsemen were also assigned to each beast.

1Ma 6:36 The horsemen anticipated every move their elephant made; wherever it went they went with it, never quitting it.

1Ma 6:37 On each elephant, to protect it, was a stout wooden tower, kept in position by girths, each with its three combatants, as well as its mahout.

1Ma 6:38 The remainder of the cavalry was stationed on one or other of the two flanks of the army, to harass the enemy and cover the phalanxes.

1Ma 6:39 When the sun glinted on the bronze and golden shields, the mountains caught the glint and gleamed like fiery torches.

1Ma 6:40 One part of the royal army was deployed on the upper slopes of the mountain and the other in the valley below; they advanced in solid, well-disciplined formation.

1Ma 6:41 Everyone trembled at the noise made by this vast multitude, the thunder of the troops on the march and the clanking of their armour, for it was an immense and mighty army.

1Ma 6:42 Judas and his army advanced to give battle, and six hundred of the king's army were killed.

1Ma 6:43 Eleazar, called Avaran, noticing that one of the elephants was royally caparisoned and was also taller than all the others, and supposing that the king was mounted on it, 1Ma 6:44 sacrificed himself to save his people and win an imperishable name.

1Ma 6:45 Boldly charging towards the creature through the thick of the phalanx, dealing death to right and left, so that the enemy scattered on either side at his onslaught, 1Ma 6:46 he darted in under the elephant, thrust at it from underneath, and killed it. The beast collapsed on top of him, and he died on the spot.

1Ma 6:47 The Jews however realising how strong the king was and how ferocious his army, retreated ahead of them.

1Ma 6:48 The royal army moved up to encounter them outside Jerusalem, and the king began to blockade Judaea and Mount Zion.

1Ma 6:49 He granted peace terms to the people of Beth-Zur, who evacuated the town; it lacked store of provisions to withstand a siege, since the land was enjoying a sabbatical year.

1Ma 6:50 Having occupied Beth-Zur, the king stationed a garrison there to hold it.

1Ma 6:51 He besieged the sanctuary for a long time, erecting batteries and siege-engines, flame-throwers and ballistas, scorpions to discharge arrows, and catapults.

1Ma 6:52 The defenders countered these by constructing their own engines and were thus able to prolong their resistance.

1Ma 6:53 But they had no food in their stores since it was the seventh year, and because those who had taken refuge in Judaea from the gentiles had eaten up the last of their reserves.

1Ma 6:54 Only a few men were left in the Holy Place, owing to the severity of the famine; the rest had dispersed and gone home.

1Ma 6:55 Meanwhile Philip, whom King Antiochus before his death had appointed to train his son Antiochus for the throne, 1Ma 6:56 had returned from Persia and Media with the forces that had accompanied the king, and was planning to seize control of affairs.

1Ma 6:57 On hearing this, Lysias at once decided to leave, and said to the king, the generals of the army and the men, 'We are growing weaker every day, we are short of food, and the place we are besieging is well fortified; moreover the affairs of the kingdom demand our attention.'

1Ma 6:58 Let us offer the hand of friendship to these men and make peace with them and with their whole nation.

1Ma 6:59 Let us grant them permission to follow their own customs as before, since it is our abolition of these customs that has provoked them into acting like this.'

1Ma 6:60 The king and his commanders approved this argument, and he offered the Jews peace terms, which they accepted.

1Ma 6:61 The king and the generals ratified the treaty by oath, and the besieged accordingly left the fortress.

1Ma 6:62 The king then entered Mount Zion, but on seeing how impregnable the place was, he broke the oath he had sworn and gave orders for the encircling wall to be demolished.

1Ma 6:63 He then hurriedly withdrew, making off for Antioch, where he found Philip already master of the city. Antiochus gave battle and captured the city by force of arms.

1Ma 7:1 In the year 151, Demetrius son of Seleucus left Rome and arrived with a few men at a town on the coast, where he inaugurated his reign.

1Ma 7:2 It so happened that, as he was entering the royal residence of his ancestors, the army captured Antiochus and Lysias, and intended to bring them to him.

1Ma 7:3 On hearing this, he said, 'Keep them out of my sight.'

1Ma 7:4 The army put them to death, and Demetrius ascended his throne.

1Ma 7:5 Next, all those Israelites without law or piety, led by Alcimus, whose ambition was to become high priest,

1Ma 7:6 approached the king and denounced our people to him. 'Judas and his brothers', they said, 'have killed all your friends, and he has driven us out of our country.'

1Ma 7:7 Send someone now whom you can trust; let him go and see the wholesale ruin Judas has brought on us and on the king's dominions, and let him punish the wretches and all who assist them.'

1Ma 7:8 The king chose Bacchides, one of the Friends of the King, governor of Transeuphrates, an important personage in the kingdom and loyal to the king.

1Ma 7:9 He sent him with the godless Alcimus, whom he confirmed in the high priesthood, with orders to exact retribution from the Israelites.

1Ma 7:10 So they set out with a large force and, on reaching Judaea, sent emissaries to Judas and his brothers with proposals peaceable yet treacherous.

1Ma 7:11 The latter, however, did not put any faith in their words, aware that they had come with a large force.

1Ma 7:12 Nevertheless, a commission of scribes presented themselves before Alcimus and Bacchides, to sue for just terms.

1Ma 7:13 The first among the Israelites to ask them for peace terms were the Hasidaeans,

1Ma 7:14 who reasoned thus, 'This is a priest of Aaron's line who has come with the armed forces; he will not wrong us.'

1Ma 7:15 He did in fact discuss peace terms with them and gave them his oath, 'We shall not attempt to injure you or your friends.'

1Ma 7:16 They believed him, but he arrested sixty of them and put them to death on one day, fulfilling the words of scripture:

1Ma 7:17 They have scattered the bodies of your faithful, and shed their blood all round Jerusalem, leaving no one to bury them!

1Ma 7:18 At this, fear and dread gripped the whole people. 'There is no truth or virtue in them,' they said, 'they have broken their agreement and their sworn oath.'

1Ma 7:19 Bacchides then left Jerusalem and encamped at Beth-Zeth, and from there sent and arrested many of the men who had deserted him and a few of our people too; he had them killed and thrown down the great well.

1Ma 7:20 He then put Alcimus in charge of the province, leaving an army with him to support him; Bacchides himself returned to the king.

1Ma 7:21 Alcimus continued his struggle to become high priest,

1Ma 7:22 and all who were disturbing the peace of their own people rallied to him, and, having won control of Judaea, did much harm in Israel.

1Ma 7:23 Seeing that all the wrongs done to the Israelites by Alcimus and his supporters exceeded what the gentiles had done, 1Ma 7:24 Judas went right round the whole territory of Judaea to take vengeance on those who had deserted him and to prevent their free movement about the country.

1Ma 7:25 When Alcimus saw how strong Judas and his supporters had grown and realised that he was powerless to resist them, he went back to the king, to whom he made malicious accusations against them.

1Ma 7:26 The king sent Nicanor, one of his generals ranking as illustrious and a bitter enemy of Israel, with orders to exterminate the people.

1Ma 7:27 Reaching Jerusalem with a large force, Nicanor sent a friendly, yet treacherous, message to Judas and his brothers, as follows:

1Ma 7:28 'Let us have no fighting between you and me; I shall come with a small escort for a peaceful meeting with you.'

1Ma 7:29 He met Judas and they exchanged friendly greetings; the enemy, however, had made preparations to abduct Judas.

1Ma 7:30 When Judas became aware of Nicanor's treacherous purpose in coming to see him, he took fright and refused any further meeting.

1Ma 7:31 Nicanor then realised that his plan had been discovered, and took the field against Judas, to give battle near Caphar-Salama.

1Ma 7:32 About five hundred of Nicanor's men fell; the rest took refuge in the City of David.

1Ma 7:33 After these events Nicanor went up to Mount Zion. Some of the priests came out of the Holy Place with some elders, to give him a friendly welcome and show him the burnt offering being presented for the king.

1Ma 7:34 But he ridiculed them, laughed at them, defiled them and used insolent language, swearing in his rage,

1Ma 7:35 'Unless Judas is handed over to me this time with his army, as soon as I am safely back, I promise you, I shall burn this building down!'

1Ma 7:36 Then he went off in a fury. At this, the priests went in again, and stood weeping in front of the altar and the Temple, saying, 1Ma 7:37 'You have chosen this house to be called by your name, to be a house of prayer and petition for your people.

1Ma 7:38 Take vengeance on this man and on his army, and let them fall by the sword; remember their blasphemies and give them no respite.'

1Ma 7:39 Nicanor left Jerusalem and encamped at Beth-Horon, where he was joined by an army from Syria.

1Ma 7:40 Judas, meanwhile, camped at Adasa with three thousand men, and offered this prayer, 1Ma 7:41 'When the king's envoys blasphemed, your angel went out and struck down one hundred and eighty-five thousand of his men.

1Ma 7:42 In the same way let us see you crush this army today, so that everyone else may know that this man has spoken blasphemously against your sanctuary: pass judgement on him as his wickedness deserves!'

1Ma 7:43 The armies met in battle on the thirteenth of the month Adar, and Nicanor's army was crushed, he himself being the first to fall in the battle.

1Ma 7:44 When Nicanor's soldiers saw him fall, they threw down their arms and fled.

1Ma 7:45 The Jews pursued them a day's journey, from Adasa to the approaches of Gezer; they sounded their trumpets in warning as they followed them, 1Ma 7:46 and people came out of all the surrounding Judaean villages to encircle the fugitives, who then turned back on their own men. All fell by the sword, not one being left alive.

1Ma 7:47 Having collected the spoils and booty, they cut off Nicanor's head and the right hand he had stretched out in a display of insolence; these were taken and displayed within sight of Jerusalem.

1Ma 7:48 The people were overjoyed and kept that day as a great holiday:

1Ma 7:49 indeed they decided to celebrate it annually on the thirteenth of Adar.

1Ma 7:50 For a short while Judaea enjoyed peace.

1Ma 8:1 Now Judas had heard of the reputation of the Romans: how strong they were, and how well disposed towards any who made common cause with them, making a treaty of friendship with anyone who approached them.

1Ma 8:2 (And, indeed, they were extremely powerful.) He had been told of their wars and of their prowess among the Gauls, whom they had conquered and put under tribute;

1Ma 8:3 and of all they had done in the province of Spain to gain possession of the silver and gold mines there,

1Ma 8:4 making themselves masters of the whole country by their determination and perseverance, despite its great distance from their own; of the kings who came from the ends of the earth to attack them, only to be crushed by them and overwhelmed with disaster, and of others who paid them annual tribute;

1Ma 8:5 Philip, Perseus king of the Kittim, and others who had dared to make war on them, had been defeated and reduced to subjection,

1Ma 8:6 while Antiochus the Great, king of Asia, who had advanced to attack them with a hundred and twenty elephants, cavalry, chariots and a very large army, had also suffered defeat at their hands;

1Ma 8:7 they had taken him alive and imposed on him and his successors, on agreed terms, the payment of an enormous tribute, the surrender of hostages, and the cession

1Ma 8:8 of the Indian territory, with Media, Lydia, and some of their best provinces, which they took from him and gave to King Eumenes.

1Ma 8:9 Judas had also heard how, when the Greeks planned an expedition to destroy the Romans,

1Ma 8:10 the latter had got wind of it and, sending a single general against them, had fought a campaign in which they inflicted heavy casualties, carried their women and children away into captivity, pillaged their goods, subdued their country, tore down their fortresses and reduced them to a slavery lasting to the present day;

1Ma 8:11 and how they had destroyed and subjugated all the other kingdoms and islands that resisted them.

1Ma 8:12 But where their friends and those who relied on them were concerned, they had always stood by their friendship. They had subdued kings far and near, and all who heard their name went in terror of them.

1Ma 8:13 One man, if they determined to help him and advance him to a throne, would certainly occupy it, while another, if they so determined, would find himself deposed; their influence was paramount.

1Ma 8:14 In spite of all this, no single one of them had assumed a crown or put on the purple for his own aggrandisement.

1Ma 8:15 They had set up a senate, where three hundred and twenty councillors deliberated daily, constantly debating how best to regulate public affairs.

1Ma 8:16 They entrusted their government to one man for a year at a time, with absolute power over their whole empire, and this man was obeyed by all without envy or jealousy.

1Ma 8:17 Having chosen Eupolemus son of John, of the family of Accos, and Jason son of Eleazar, Judas sent them to Rome to make a treaty of friendship and alliance with these people, 1Ma 8:18 in the hope of being rid of the yoke, for they could see that Greek rule was reducing Israel to slavery.

1Ma 8:19 The envoys made the lengthy journey to Rome and presented themselves before the Senate with their formal proposal:

1Ma 8:20 'Judas Maccabaeus and his brothers, with the Jewish people, have sent us to you to conclude a treaty of alliance and peace with you, and to enrol ourselves as your allies and friends.'

1Ma 8:21 The proposal met with the approval of the senators.

1Ma 8:22 Here is a copy of the rescript which they engraved on bronze tablets and sent to Jerusalem to be kept there by the Jews as a record of peace and alliance:

1Ma 8:23 'Good fortune attend the Romans and the Jewish nation by sea and land for ever; may sword or enemy be far from them!

1Ma 8:24 'If war comes first to Rome or any of her allies throughout her dominions, 1Ma 8:25 the Jewish nation will take action as her ally, as occasion may require, and do it wholeheartedly.

1Ma 8:26 They will not give or supply to the enemy any grain, arms, money or ships: thus has Rome decided, and they are to honour their obligations without guarantees.

1Ma 8:27 In the same way, if war comes first to the Jewish nation, the Romans will support them energetically as occasion may offer, 1Ma 8:28 and the aggressor will not be furnished with grain, arms, money or ships: such is the Roman decision, and they will honour these obligations without treachery.

1Ma 8:29 Such are the articles under which the Romans have concluded their treaty with the Jewish people.

1Ma 8:30 If, later, either party should decide to make any addition or deletion, they will be free to do so, and any such addition or deletion will be binding.

1Ma 8:31 'As regards the wrongs done to them by King Demetrius, we have written to him in these terms: Why have you made your yoke lie heavy on our friends and allies the Jews?

1Ma 8:32 If they appeal against you again, we shall uphold their rights and make war on you by sea and land.'

1Ma 9:1 Demetrius, hearing that Nicanor and his army had fallen in battle, sent Bacchides and Alcimus a second time into Judaea, and with them the right wing of his army.

1Ma 9:2 They took the road to Galilee and besieged Mesaloth in Arbela, and captured it, putting many people to death.

1Ma 9:3 In the first month of the year 152, they encamped outside Jerusalem;

1Ma 9:4 they then moved on, making their way to Beer-Zaith with twenty thousand foot and two thousand horse.

1Ma 9:5 Judas lay in camp at Elasa, with three thousand picked men.

1Ma 9:6 When they saw the huge size of the enemy forces they were terrified, and many slipped out of the camp, until no more than eight hundred of the force were left.

1Ma 9:7 With battle now inevitable, Judas realised that his army had melted away; he was aghast, for he had no time to rally them.

1Ma 9:8 Yet, dismayed as he was, he said to those who were left, 'Up! Let us face the enemy; we may yet have the strength to fight them.'

1Ma 9:9 His men tried to dissuade him, declaring, 'We have no strength for anything but to escape with our lives this time; then we can come back with our brothers to fight them; by ourselves we are too few.'

1Ma 9:10 Judas retorted, 'That I should do such a thing as run away from them! If our time has come, at least let us die like men for our countrymen, and leave nothing to tarnish our reputation.'

1Ma 9:11 The army marched out of camp and drew up, facing the enemy. The cavalry was drawn up in two squadrons; the slingers and archers marched in the van of the army, and all the best fighters were put in the front rank;

1Ma 9:12 Bacchides was on the right wing. The phalanx advanced from between the two squadrons, sounding the trumpets; the men on Judas' side also blew their trumpets, 1Ma 9:13 and the earth shook with the noise of the armies. The engagement lasted from morning until evening.

1Ma 9:14 Judas saw that Bacchides and the main strength of his army lay on the right; all the stout-hearted rallied to him, 1Ma 9:15 and they crushed the right wing, pursuing them as far as the Azara Hills.

1Ma 9:16 But when the Syrians on the left wing saw that the right had been broken, they turned and followed hot on the heels of Judas and his men to take them in the rear.

1Ma 9:17 The fight became desperate, and there were many casualties on both sides.

1Ma 9:18 Judas himself fell, and the remnant fled.

1Ma 9:19 Jonathan and Simon took up their brother Judas and buried him in his ancestral tomb at Modein.

1Ma 9:20 All Israel wept and mourned him deeply and for many days they repeated this dirge.

1Ma 9:21 'What a downfall for the strong man, the man who kept Israel safe!'

1Ma 9:22 The other deeds of Judas, the battles he fought, the exploits he performed, and all his titles to greatness have not been recorded; but they were very many.

1Ma 9:23 After the death of Judas, the renegades came out of hiding throughout Israel and all the evil-doers reappeared.

1Ma 9:24 At that time there was a severe famine, and the country went over to their side.

1Ma 9:25 Bacchides deliberately chose the enemies of religion to administer the country.

1Ma 9:26 These traced and searched out the friends of Judas and brought them before Bacchides, who ill-treated and mocked them.

1Ma 9:27 A terrible oppression began in Israel; there had been nothing like it since the disappearance of prophecy among them.

1Ma 9:28 The friends of Judas then all united in saying to Jonathan,

1Ma 9:29 'Since your brother Judas died, there has been no one like him to head the resistance against our enemies, people like Bacchides and others who hate our nation.'

1Ma 9:30 Accordingly, we have today chosen you to take his place as our ruler and leader and to fight our campaigns.'

1Ma 9:31 Whereupon, Jonathan took command, in succession to his brother Judas.

1Ma 9:32 Bacchides, when he heard the news, made plans to kill Jonathan.

1Ma 9:33 But this became known to Jonathan, his brother Simon and all his supporters, and they took refuge in the desert of Tekoa, camping by the water-supply at Asphar storage-well.

1Ma 9:34 (Bacchides came to know of this on the Sabbath day, and he too crossed the Jordan with his entire army.)

1Ma 9:35 Jonathan sent his brother, who was one of his commanders, to ask his friends the Nabataeans to store their considerable baggage for them.

1Ma 9:36 The sons of Amrai, however, those of Medeba, intercepted them, captured John and everything he had and made off with their prize.

1Ma 9:37 Later, Jonathan and his brother Simon were told that the sons of Amrai were celebrating an important wedding, and were escorting the bride, a daughter of one of the great notables of Canaan, from Nabata with a large retinue.

1Ma 9:38 Remembering the bloody end of their brother John, they went up and hid under cover of the mountain.

1Ma 9:39 As they were keeping watch, a noisy procession came into sight with a great deal of baggage, and the bridegroom, with his groomsmen and his family, came out to meet it with tambourines and a band, and rich, warlike display.

1Ma 9:40 The Jews rushed down on them from their ambush and killed them, inflicting heavy casualties; the survivors escaped to the mountain, leaving their entire baggage train to be captured.

1Ma 9:41 Thus, the wedding was turned into mourning and the music of their band into lamentation.

1Ma 9:42 Having in this way avenged in full the blood of their brother, they returned to the marshes of the Jordan.

1Ma 9:43 As soon as Bacchides heard this, he came on the Sabbath day with a considerable force to the steep banks of the Jordan.

1Ma 9:44 Jonathan said to his men, 'Up! Let us fight for our lives, for today it is not as in the old days.

1Ma 9:45 You can see, we shall have to fight on our front and to our rear; we have the waters of the Jordan on one side, the marsh and scrub on the other, and we have no line of withdrawal.

1Ma 9:46 This is the moment to call on Heaven, to deliver you from the clutches of your enemies.'

1Ma 9:47 The engagement was begun by Jonathan, who aimed a blow at Bacchides, but the Syrian disengaged himself and withdrew,

1Ma 9:48 whereupon Jonathan and his men leapt into the Jordan and swam to the other bank; the enemy did not, however, cross the Jordan in pursuit.

1Ma 9:49 That day, Bacchides lost about a thousand men.

1Ma 9:50 Bacchides went back to Jerusalem and began fortifying some of the Judaean towns: the fortresses of Jericho, Emmaus, Beth-Horon, Bethel, Timnath, Pharathon and Tephon, with high walls and barred gates, 1Ma 9:51 and stationed a garrison in each of them to harass Israel.

1Ma 9:52 He also fortified the town of Beth-Zur, Gezer and the Citadel, and placed troops in them with supplies of provisions.

1Ma 9:53 He took the sons of the leading men of the country as hostages, and had them placed under guard in the Citadel of Jerusalem.

1Ma 9:54 In the year 153, in the second month, Alcimus ordered the demolition of the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary, destroying the work of the prophets. Alcimus had just begun the demolition

1Ma 9:55 when he suffered a stroke, and his work was interrupted. His mouth became obstructed, and his paralysis made him incapable of speaking at all or giving directions to his household;

1Ma 9:56 it was not long before he died in great agony.

1Ma 9:57 On the death of Alcimus, Bacchides went back to the king, and Judaea was left in peace for two years.

1Ma 9:58 The renegades then all agreed on a plan. 'Now is the time,' they said, 'while Jonathan and his supporters are living in peace and are full of confidence, for us to bring back Bacchides, and he will arrest the lot of them in one night.'

1Ma 9:59 So they went to him and reached an understanding.

1Ma 9:60 Bacchides at once set out with a large force, and sent secret instructions to all his allies in Judaea to seize Jonathan and his supporters. But they were unable to do this because their plan became known, 1Ma 9:61 and Jonathan and his men arrested some fifty of the men of the country who were ringleaders in the plot, and put them to death.

1Ma 9:62 Jonathan and Simon then retired with their partisans to Beth-Bassi in the desert; they rebuilt the ruinous parts of the place and fortified it.

1Ma 9:63 When Bacchides heard this, he mustered his whole force and notified his adherents in Judaea.

1Ma 9:64 He then proceeded to lay siege to Beth-Bassi, the fighting was protracted, and he constructed siege-engines.

1Ma 9:65 Jonathan, however, leaving his brother Simon in the town, broke out into the countryside with a handful of men.

1Ma 9:66 He launched a blow at Odomera and his brothers, and at the sons of Phasiron in their encampment; whereupon, these too came into the struggle, joining forces with him.

1Ma 9:67 Simon and his people, meanwhile, made a sortie from the town and set fire to the siege-engines.

1Ma 9:68 Taking the offensive against Bacchides, they defeated him. He was greatly disconcerted to find that his plan and his assault had come to nothing, 1Ma 9:69 and vented his anger on those renegades who had induced him to enter the country, putting many of them to death; he then decided to take his own troops home.

1Ma 9:70 Discovering this, Jonathan sent envoys to negotiate peace terms and the release of prisoners with him.

1Ma 9:71 Bacchides agreed to this, accepting his proposals and swearing never to seek occasion to harm him for the rest of his life.

1Ma 9:72 Having surrendered to Jonathan those prisoners he had earlier taken in Judaea, he turned about and withdrew to his own country, and never again came near their frontiers.

1Ma 9:73 The sword no longer hung over Israel, and Jonathan settled in Michmash, where he began to judge the people and to rid Israel of the godless.

1Ma 10:1 In the year 160, Alexander, son of Antiochus Epiphanes, raised an army and occupied Ptolemais. He was well received, and there inaugurated his reign.

1Ma 10:2 On hearing this, King Demetrius assembled a very large army and marched off to do battle with him.

1Ma 10:3 Demetrius furthermore sent Jonathan a most conciliatory letter, promising to promote him in rank,

1Ma 10:4 for, as he said, 'We had better move first to come to terms with these people before he makes common cause with Alexander against us;

1Ma 10:5 he will not have forgotten all the wrongs we inflicted on him and his brothers, and on his nation.'

1Ma 10:6 He even authorised him to raise an army, to manufacture arms, and to describe himself as his ally, and ordered the hostages in the Citadel to be surrendered to him.

1Ma 10:7 Jonathan went straight to Jerusalem and read the letter in the hearing of the whole people and of the men in the Citadel.

1Ma 10:8 They were terrified when they heard that the king had given him authority to raise an army.

1Ma 10:9 The men in the Citadel surrendered the hostages to Jonathan, who handed them back to their parents.

1Ma 10:10 Jonathan then took up residence in Jerusalem and began the rebuilding and restoration of the city.

1Ma 10:11 He ordered those responsible for the work to build the walls and the defences round Mount Zion of squared stone blocks to make them stronger, and this was done.

1Ma 10:12 The foreigners in the fortresses built by Bacchides abandoned them, 1Ma 10:13 one after another leaving his post to go back to his own country.

1Ma 10:14 Only at Beth-Zur were a few left of those who had forsaken the Law and the precepts, since this was their refuge.

1Ma 10:15 King Alexander heard of all the promises Demetrius had sent to Jonathan, and he was also given an account of the battles and exploits of this man and his brothers and of the hardships they had endured.

1Ma 10:16 'Shall we ever find another man like him?' he exclaimed. 'We must make him our friend and ally!'

1Ma 10:17 He therefore wrote him a letter, addressing him in these terms:

1Ma 10:18 'King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, greetings.

1Ma 10:19 'You have been brought to our notice as a strong man of action and as someone who deserves to be our friend.

1Ma 10:20 Accordingly, we have today appointed you high priest of your nation, with the title of "Friend of the King" -- he also sent him a purple robe and a golden crown--and you are to study our interests and maintain friendly relations with us.'

1Ma 10:21 Jonathan put on the sacred vestments in the seventh month of the year 160, on the feast of Shelters; he then set about raising troops and manufacturing arms in quantity.

1Ma 10:22 Demetrius was displeased when he heard what had happened.

1Ma 10:23 'What have we been doing,' he said, 'for Alexander to forestall us in winning the friendship of the Jews and so improving his own position?

1Ma 10:24 I too shall address an appeal to them, offering them advancement and riches as an inducement to support me.'

1Ma 10:25 And he wrote to them as follows: 'King Demetrius to the Jewish nation, greetings.

1Ma 10:26 'We have heard how you have kept your agreement with us and have maintained friendly relations with us and have not gone over to our enemies, and it has given us great satisfaction.

1Ma 10:27 If you now continue to keep faith with us, we shall make you a handsome return for what you do on our behalf.

1Ma 10:28 We shall accord you many exemptions and grant you privileges.

1Ma 10:29 'Henceforth I release you and exempt all the Jews from the tribute, the salt dues and the crown levies,

1Ma 10:30 and whereas I am entitled to one-third of the grain and one-half of the fruit of the trees, I release from this levy, from today and for the future, Judaea and the three districts annexed to it from Samaria-Galilee, from this day henceforth in perpetuity.

1Ma 10:31 Jerusalem will be sacred and exempt, with its territory, from tithes and dues.

1Ma 10:32 I relinquish control of the Citadel in Jerusalem and make it over to the high priest, so that he may man it with a garrison of his own choosing.

1Ma 10:33 Every Jewish person taken from Judaea into captivity in any part of my kingdom I set free without ransom, and decree that all will be exempt from taxes, even on their livestock.

1Ma 10:34 All festivals, Sabbaths, New Moons and days of special observance, and the three days before and three days after a festival, will be days of exemption and quittance for all the Jews in my kingdom, 1Ma 10:35 and no one will have the right to exact payment from, or to molest, any of them for any matter whatsoever.

1Ma 10:36 'Jews will be enrolled in the king's forces to the number of thirty thousand men and receive maintenance on the same scale as the rest of the king's forces.

1Ma 10:37 Some of them will be stationed in the king's major fortresses, and from among others appointments will be made to positions of trust in the kingdom. Their officers and commanders will be appointed from their own number and will live under their own laws, as the king has prescribed for Judaea.

1Ma 10:38 'As regards the three districts annexed to Judaea from the province of Samaria, these will be integrated into Judaea and considered as coming under one governor, obeying the high priest's authority and no other.'

1Ma 10:39 Ptolemais and the land thereto pertaining I present to the sanctuary in Jerusalem, to meet the necessary expenses of public worship.

1Ma 10:40 And I make a personal grant of fifteen thousand silver shekels annually chargeable to the royal revenue from appropriate places.

1Ma 10:41 And the entire surplus, which has not been paid in by the officials as in previous years, will henceforth be paid over by them for work on the Temple.

1Ma 10:42 In addition, the sum of five thousand silver shekels, levied annually on the profits of the sanctuary, as shown in the annual accounts, is also relinquished as the perquisite of the priests who perform the liturgy.

1Ma 10:43 Anyone who takes refuge in the Temple in Jerusalem or any of its precincts, when in debt to the royal exchequer or otherwise, will be discharged in full possession of all the goods he owns in my kingdom.

1Ma 10:44 As regards the building and restoration of the sanctuary, the expense of the work will be met from the royal exchequer.

1Ma 10:45 The reconstruction of the walls of Jerusalem and the fortification of the perimeter will also be a charge on the royal exchequer, as also the reconstruction of other city walls in Judaea.'

1Ma 10:46 When Jonathan and the people heard these proposals, they put no faith in them and refused to accept them, remembering what great wrongs Demetrius had done to Israel and how cruelly he had oppressed them.

1Ma 10:47 They decided in favour of Alexander, since he seemed to offer the better inducements of the two, and they became his constant allies.

1Ma 10:48 King Alexander now mustered large forces and advanced against Demetrius.

1Ma 10:49 The two kings met in battle. Alexander's army was routed, and Demetrius pursued him and defeated his troops.

1Ma 10:50 He continued the battle with vigour until sunset. Demetrius himself, however, was killed the same day.

1Ma 10:51 Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemy king of Egypt, with this message:

1Ma 10:52 'Since I have returned to my kingdom, have ascended the throne of my ancestors, have gained control by crushing Demetrius, and so recovered our country-

1Ma 10:53 for I fought him and we crushed both him and his army, and I now occupy his royal throne-

1Ma 10:54 let us now make a treaty of friendship. Give me your daughter in marriage: as your son-in-law, I shall give you, and her, presents which are worthy of you.'

1Ma 10:55 King Ptolemy replied as follows: 'Happy the day when you returned to the land of your ancestors and ascended their royal throne!

1Ma 10:56 I shall at once do for you what your letter proposes; but meet me at Ptolemais, so that we can see one another, and I shall become your father-in-law, as you have asked.'

1Ma 10:57 Ptolemy left Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra and reached Ptolemais in the year 162.

1Ma 10:58 King Alexander went to meet him, and Ptolemy gave him the hand of his daughter Cleopatra and celebrated her wedding in Ptolemais with great magnificence, as kings do.

1Ma 10:59 King Alexander then wrote to Jonathan to come and meet him.

1Ma 10:60 Jonathan made his way in state to Ptolemais and met the two kings; he gave them and their friends silver and gold, and many gifts, and made a favourable impression on them.

1Ma 10:61 A number of scoundrels, the pest of Israel, combined to denounce him, but the king paid no attention to them.

1Ma 10:62 In fact, the king commanded that Jonathan should be divested of his own garments and clothed in the purple, which was done.

1Ma 10:63 The king then seated him by his side and said to his officers, 'Escort him into the centre of the city and proclaim that no one is to bring charges against him on any count; no one is to molest him for any reason.'

1Ma 10:64 And so, when his accusers saw the honour done him by this proclamation, and Jonathan himself invested in the purple, they all fled.

1Ma 10:65 The king did him the honour of enrolling him among the First Friends, and appointed him commander-in-chief and governor-general.

1Ma 10:66 Jonathan then returned to Jerusalem in peace and gladness.

1Ma 10:67 In the year 165, Demetrius son of Demetrius came from Crete to the land of his ancestors.

1Ma 10:68 When King Alexander heard of it he was plunged into gloom, and retired to Antioch.

1Ma 10:69 Demetrius confirmed Apollonius as governor of Coele-Syria; the latter assembled a large force, encamped at Jamnia and sent the following message to Jonathan the high priest:

1Ma 10:70 'You are entirely alone in rising against us, and now I find myself ridiculed and reproached on your account. Why do you use your authority to our disadvantage in the mountains?

1Ma 10:71 If you are so confident in your forces, come down now to meet us on the plain and let us take each other's measure there; on my side I have the strength of the towns.

1Ma 10:72 Ask and learn who I am and who the others supporting us are. You will hear that you cannot stand up to us, since your ancestors were twice routed on their own ground,

1Ma 10:73 nor will you now be able to withstand the cavalry or so great an army on the plain, where there is neither rock, nor stone, nor refuge of any kind.'

1Ma 10:74 On hearing Apollonius' words, Jonathan's spirit was roused; he picked ten thousand men and left Jerusalem, and his brother Simon joined him with reinforcements.

1Ma 10:75 He drew up his forces outside Joppa, the citizens having shut him out, since Apollonius had a garrison in Joppa. When they began the attack, 1Ma 10:76 the citizens took fright and opened the gates, and Jonathan occupied Joppa.

1Ma 10:77 Hearing this, Apollonius marshalled three thousand cavalry and a large army and made his way to Azotus as though intending to march through, while in fact pressing on into the plain, since he had a great number of cavalry on which he was relying.

1Ma 10:78 Jonathan pursued him as far as Azotus, where the armies joined battle.

1Ma 10:79 Now, Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen in concealment behind them.

1Ma 10:80 Jonathan knew of this enemy position behind him; the horsemen surrounded his army, firing their arrows into his men from morning till evening.

1Ma 10:81 But the troops stood firm, as Jonathan had ordered. Once the cavalry was exhausted, 1Ma 10:82 Simon sent his own troops into attack against the phalanx, which he cut to pieces and routed.

1Ma 10:83 The cavalry scattered over the plain and fled to Azotus, where they took sanctuary in Beth-Dagon, the temple of their idol.

1Ma 10:84 Jonathan, however, set fire to Azotus and the surrounding towns, plundered them, and burned down the temple of Dagon, with all the fugitives who had crowded into it.

1Ma 10:85 The enemy losses, counting those who fell by the sword and those burnt to death, totalled about eight thousand men.

1Ma 10:86 Jonathan then left and pitched camp outside Ascalon, where the citizens came out to meet him with great ceremony.

1Ma 10:87 Jonathan then returned to Jerusalem with his followers, laden with booty.

1Ma 10:88 In the event, when King Alexander heard what had happened, he awarded Jonathan further honours:

1Ma 10:89 he sent him the golden brooch, of the kind customarily presented to the King's Cousins, and gave him proprietary rights over Ekron and the land adjoining it.

1Ma 11:1 The king of Egypt then assembled an army as numerous as the sands of the seashore, with many ships, and set out to take possession of Alexander's kingdom by a ruse and add it to his own kingdom.

1Ma 11:2 He set off for Syria with protestations of peace, and the people of the towns opened their gates to him and came out to meet him, since King Alexander's orders were to welcome him, Ptolemy being his father-in-law.

1Ma 11:3 On entering the towns, however, Ptolemy quartered troops as a garrison in each one.

1Ma 11:4 When he reached Azotus he was shown the burnt-out temple of Dagon, with Azotus and its suburbs in ruins, corpses scattered here and there, and the charred remains of those whom Jonathan had burnt to death in the battle, piled into heaps along his route.

1Ma 11:5 They explained to the king what Jonathan had done, hoping for his disapproval; but the king said nothing.

1Ma 11:6 Jonathan went in state to meet the king at Joppa, where they greeted each other and spent the night.

1Ma 11:7 Jonathan accompanied the king as far as the river called Eleutherus, and then returned to Jerusalem.

1Ma 11:8 King Ptolemy for his part occupied the coastal towns as far as Seleucia on the coast, all the while maturing his wicked designs against Alexander.

1Ma 11:9 He sent envoys to King Demetrius to say, 'Come and let us make a treaty; I shall give you my daughter, whom Alexander now has, and you shall rule your father's kingdom.'

1Ma 11:10 I regret having given my daughter to that man, since he has tried to kill me.'

1Ma 11:11 He made this accusation because he coveted his kingdom.

1Ma 11:12 Having carried off his daughter and bestowed her on Demetrius, he broke with Alexander, and their enmity became open.

1Ma 11:13 Ptolemy next entered Antioch and assumed the crown of Asia; he now wore on his head the two crowns of Egypt and Asia.

1Ma 11:14 King Alexander was in Cilicia at the time, since the people of those parts had risen in revolt, 1Ma 11:15 but when he heard the news, he advanced on his rival to give battle, while Ptolemy for his part also took the field, met him with a strong force and routed him.

1Ma 11:16 Alexander fled to Arabia for refuge, and King Ptolemy reigned supreme.

1Ma 11:17 Zabdiel the Arab cut off Alexander's head and sent it to Ptolemy.

1Ma 11:18 Three days later King Ptolemy died, and the Egyptian garrisons in the strongholds were killed by the local inhabitants.

1Ma 11:19 So Demetrius became king in the year 167.

1Ma 11:20 At the same time, Jonathan mustered the men of Judaea for an assault on the Citadel of Jerusalem, and they set up numerous siege-engines against it.

1Ma 11:21 But some renegades who hated their nation made their way to the king and told him that Jonathan was besieging the Citadel.

1Ma 11:22 The king was angered by the news. No sooner had he been informed than he set out and came to Ptolemais. He wrote to Jonathan, telling him to raise the siege and to meet him for a conference in Ptolemais as soon as possible.

1Ma 11:23 When Jonathan heard this, he gave orders for the siege to continue; he then selected a deputation from the elders of Israel and the priests, and took the deliberate risk

1Ma 11:24 of himself taking silver and gold, clothing and numerous other presents, and going to Ptolemais to face the king, whose favour he succeeded in winning;

1Ma 11:25 and although one or two renegades of his nation brought charges against him,

1Ma 11:26 the king treated him as his predecessors had treated him, and promoted him in the presence of all his friends.

1Ma 11:27 He confirmed him in the high-priesthood and whatever other distinctions he already held, and had him ranked among the First Friends.

1Ma 11:28 Jonathan asked the king to exempt Judaea and the three Samaritan districts from taxation, promising him three hundred talents in return.

1Ma 11:29 The king consented, and wrote Jonathan a rescript covering the whole matter, in these terms:

1Ma 11:30 'King Demetrius to Jonathan his brother, and to the Jewish nation, greetings.

1Ma 11:31 'We have written to Lasthenes our cousin concerning you, and now send you this copy of our rescript for your own information:

1Ma 11:32 "King Demetrius to his father Lasthenes, greetings.

1Ma 11:33 "The nation of the Jews is our ally; they fulfil their obligations to us, and in view of their goodwill towards us we have decided to show them our bounty.

1Ma 11:34 We confirm them in their possession of the territory of Judaea and the three districts of Aphairema, Lydda and Ramathaim; these were annexed to Judaea from Samaritan territory, with all their dependencies, in favour of all who offer sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the royal dues which the king formerly received from them every year, from the yield of the soil and the fruit crops.

1Ma 11:35 As regards our other rights over the tithes and taxes due to us, over the salt marshes, and the crown taxes due to us, as from today we release them from them all.

1Ma 11:36 None of these grants will be revoked henceforth or anywhere.

1Ma 11:37 You will make yourself responsible for having a copy of this made, to be given to Jonathan and displayed on the holy mountain in a conspicuous place."

1Ma 11:38 When King Demetrius saw that the country was at peace under his rule and that no resistance was offered him, he dismissed his forces, and sent all the men home, except for the foreign troops that he had recruited in the foreign island, thus incurring the enmity of the veterans who had served his ancestors.

1Ma 11:39 Now Trypho, one of Alexander's former supporters, noting that all the troops were muttering against Demetrius, went to see Iamleku, the Arab who was bringing up Antiochus, Alexander's young son, 1Ma 11:40 and repeatedly urged him to let him have the boy, so that he might succeed his father as king; he told him of Demetrius' decision and of the resentment it had aroused among his troops. He spent a long time there.

1Ma 11:41 Jonathan, meanwhile, sent to ask King Demetrius to withdraw the garrisons from the Citadel in Jerusalem and from the other fortresses, since they were constantly fighting Israel.

1Ma 11:42 Demetrius sent word back to Jonathan, 'Not only will I do this for you and for your nation, but I shall heap honours on you and your nation if I find a favourable opportunity.'

1Ma 11:43 For the present, you would do well to send me reinforcements, since all my troops have deserted.'

1Ma 11:44 Jonathan sent three thousand experienced soldiers to him in Antioch; when they reached the king, he was delighted at their arrival.

1Ma 11:45 The citizens crowded together in the centre of the city, to the number of some hundred and twenty thousand, intending to kill the king.

1Ma 11:46 The king took refuge in the palace, while the citizens occupied the thoroughfares of the city and began to attack.

1Ma 11:47 The king then called on the Jews for help; and these all rallied round him, then fanned out through the city, and that day killed about a hundred thousand of its inhabitants.

1Ma 11:48 They fired the city, seizing a great deal of plunder at the same time, and secured the king's safety.

1Ma 11:49 When the citizens saw that the Jews had the city at their mercy, their courage failed them, and they made an abject appeal to the king,

1Ma 11:50 'Give us the right hand of peace, and let the Jews stop their fight against us and the city.'

1Ma 11:51 They threw down their arms and made peace. The Jews were covered in glory, in the eyes of the king and of everyone else in his kingdom. Having won renown in his kingdom, they returned to Jerusalem laden with booty.

1Ma 11:52 Thus, King Demetrius sat all the more securely on his royal throne, and the country was quiet under his government.

1Ma 11:53 But he gave the lie to all the promises he had made, and changed his attitude to Jonathan, giving nothing in return for the services Jonathan had rendered him, but thwarting him at every turn.

1Ma 11:54 After this, Trypho came back with the little boy Antiochus, who became king and was crowned.

1Ma 11:55 All the troops that Demetrius had summarily dismissed rallied to Antiochus, and made war on Demetrius, who turned tail and fled.

1Ma 11:56 Trypho captured the elephants and seized Antioch.

1Ma 11:57 Young Antiochus then wrote as follows to Jonathan: 'I confirm you in the high-priesthood and set you over the four districts and appoint you one of the Friends of the King.'

1Ma 11:58 He sent him a service of gold plate, and granted him the right to drink from gold vessels, and to wear the purple and the golden brooch.

1Ma 11:59 He appointed his brother Simon commander-in-chief of the region from the Ladder of Tyre to the frontiers of Egypt.

1Ma 11:60 Jonathan then set out and made a progress through Transeuphrates and its towns, and the entire Syrian army rallied to his support. He came to Ascalon and was received in state by the inhabitants.

1Ma 11:61 From there he proceeded to Gaza, but the people of Gaza shut him out, so he laid siege to it, burning down its suburbs and plundering them.

1Ma 11:62 The people of Gaza then pleaded with Jonathan, and he made peace with them; but he took the sons of their chief men as hostages and sent them away to Jerusalem. He then travelled through the country as far as Damascus.

1Ma 11:63 Jonathan now learned that Demetrius' generals had arrived at Kadesh in Galilee with a large army, intending to remove him from office, 1Ma 11:64 and went to engage them, leaving his brother Simon inside the country.

1Ma 11:65 Simon laid siege to Beth-Zur, attacking it day after day, and blockading the inhabitants

1Ma 11:66 till they sued for peace, which he granted them, though he expelled them from the town and occupied it, stationing a garrison there.

1Ma 11:67 Jonathan and his army, meanwhile, having pitched camp by the Lake of Gennesar, rose early, and by morning were already in the plain of Hazor.

1Ma 11:68 The foreigners' army advanced to fight them on the plain, having first positioned an ambush for him in the mountains. While the main body was advancing directly towards the Jews, 1Ma 11:69 the troops in ambush broke cover and attacked first.

1Ma 11:70 All the men with Jonathan fled; no one was left, except Mattathias son of Absalom and Judas son of Chalphi, the generals of his army.

1Ma 11:71 At this, Jonathan tore his garments, put dust on his head, and prayed.

1Ma 11:72 Then he returned to the fight and routed the enemy, who fled.

1Ma 11:73 When the fugitives from his own forces saw this, they came back to him and joined in the pursuit as far as Kadesh where the enemy encampment was, and there they themselves pitched camp.

1Ma 11:74 About three thousand of the foreign troops fell that day. Jonathan then returned to Jerusalem.

1Ma 12:1 When Jonathan saw that circumstances were working in his favour, he sent a select mission to Rome to confirm and renew his treaty of friendship with the Romans.

1Ma 12:2 He also sent letters to the same effect to the Spartans and to other places.

1Ma 12:3 The envoys made their way to Rome, entered the Senate and said, 'Jonathan the high priest and the Jewish nation have sent us to renew your treaty of friendship and alliance with them as before.'

1Ma 12:4 The Senate gave them letters to the authorities of each place, to procure their safe conduct to Judaea.

1Ma 12:5 The following is the copy of the letter Jonathan wrote to the Spartans:

1Ma 12:6 'Jonathan the high priest, the senate of the nation, the priests and the rest of the Jewish people to the Spartans their brothers, greetings.

1Ma 12:7 'In the past, a letter was sent to Onias, the high priest, from Areios, one of your kings, stating that you are indeed our brothers, as the copy subjoined attests.'

1Ma 12:8 Onias received the envoy with honour, and accepted the letter, in which a clear declaration was made of friendship and alliance.

1Ma 12:9 For our part, though we have no need of these, having the consolation of the holy books in our possession, 1Ma 12:10 we venture to send to renew our fraternal friendship with you, so that we may not become strangers to you, a long time having elapsed since you last wrote to us.

1Ma 12:11 We, for our part, on every occasion, at our festivals and on other appointed days, unfailingly remember you in the sacrifices we offer and in our prayers, as it is right and fitting to remember brothers.

1Ma 12:12 We rejoice in your renown.

1Ma 12:13 'We ourselves, however, have had many trials and many wars, the neighbouring kings making war on us.

1Ma 12:14 We were unwilling to trouble you or our other allies and friends during these wars,

1Ma 12:15 since we have the support of Heaven to help us, thanks to which we have been delivered from our enemies, and they are the ones who have been brought low.

1Ma 12:16 We have therefore chosen Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, and sent them to the Romans to renew our former treaty of friendship and alliance,

1Ma 12:17 and we have ordered them also to visit you, to greet you and deliver you this letter of ours concerning the renewal of our brotherhood;

1Ma 12:18 we shall be grateful for an answer to it.'

1Ma 12:19 The following is the copy of the letter sent to Onias:

1Ma 12:20 'Areios king of the Spartans, to Onias the high priest, greetings.

1Ma 12:21 'It has been discovered in records regarding the Spartans and Jews that they are brothers, and of the race of Abraham.

1Ma 12:22 Now that this has come to our knowledge, we shall be obliged if you will send us news of your welfare.

1Ma 12:23 Our own message to you is this: your flocks and your possessions are ours, and ours are yours, and we are instructing our envoys to give you a message to this effect.'

1Ma 12:24 Jonathan learned that Demetrius' generals had returned with a larger army than before to make war on him.

1Ma 12:25 He therefore left Jerusalem and went to engage them in the area of Hamath, not giving them the time to invade his own territory.

1Ma 12:26 He sent spies into their camp, who told him on their return that the enemy were taking up positions for a night attack on the Jews.

1Ma 12:27 At sunset, Jonathan ordered his men to keep watch with their weapons at hand, in readiness to fight at any time during the night, and posted advance guards all round the camp.

1Ma 12:28 On learning that Jonathan and his men were ready to fight, the enemy took fright and, with quaking hearts, lit fires in their bivouac and decamped.

1Ma 12:29 Jonathan and his men, watching the glow of the fires, were unaware of their withdrawal until morning, 1Ma 12:30 and although Jonathan pursued them, he failed to overtake them, for they had already crossed the river Eleutherus.

1Ma 12:31 So Jonathan wheeled round on the Arabs called Zabadaeans, beat them and plundered them;

1Ma 12:32 then, breaking camp, he went to Damascus, thus crossing the whole province.

1Ma 12:33 Simon, meanwhile, had also set out and had penetrated as far as Ascalon and the neighbouring towns. He then turned on Joppa and moved quickly to occupy it, 1Ma 12:34 for he had heard of their intention to hand over this strong point to the supporters of Demetrius; he stationed a garrison there to hold it.

1Ma 12:35 Jonathan, on his return, called a meeting of the elders of the people and decided with them to build fortresses in Judaea

1Ma 12:36 and to heighten the walls of Jerusalem and erect a high barrier between the Citadel and the city, to cut the former off from the city and isolate it, to prevent the occupants from buying or selling.

1Ma 12:37 Rebuilding the city was a co-operative effort: part of the wall over the eastern ravine had fallen down; he restored the quarter called Chaphenatha.

1Ma 12:38 Simon, meanwhile, rebuilt Adida in the lowlands, fortifying it, and erecting gates with bolts.

1Ma 12:39 Trypho's ambition was to become king of Asia, assume the crown, and overpower King Antiochus.

1Ma 12:40 He was apprehensive that Jonathan might not allow him to do this, and might even make war on him, so he set out and came to Beth-Shean, in the hopes of finding some pretext for having him arrested and put to death.

1Ma 12:41 Jonathan went out to intercept him, with forty thousand picked men in battle order, and arrived at Beth-Shean.

1Ma 12:42 When Trypho saw him there with a large force, he hesitated to make any move against him.

1Ma 12:43 He even received him with honour, commended him to all his friends, gave him presents and ordered his friends and his troops to obey him as they would himself.

1Ma 12:44 He said to Jonathan, 'Why have you given all these people so much trouble, when there is no threat of war between us?

1Ma 12:45 Send them back home; pick yourself a few men as your bodyguard, and come with me to Ptolemais, which I am going to hand over to you, with the other fortresses and the remaining troops and all the officials; after which, I shall take the road for home. This was my purpose in coming here.'

1Ma 12:46 Jonathan trusted him and did as he said; he dismissed his forces, who went back to Judaea.

1Ma 12:47 With him he retained three thousand men, of whom he left two thousand in Galilee, while a thousand accompanied him.

1Ma 12:48 But as soon as Jonathan had entered Ptolemais, the people of Ptolemais closed the gates, seized him, and put all those who had entered with him to the sword.

1Ma 12:49 Trypho sent troops and cavalry into Galilee and the Great Plain to destroy all Jonathan's supporters.

1Ma 12:50 These, concluding that he had been taken and had perished with his companions, encouraged one another, marching with closed ranks and ready to give battle,

1Ma 12:51 and when their pursuers saw that they would fight for their lives, they turned back.

1Ma 12:52 All reached Judaea safe and sound, and there they lamented Jonathan and his companions, being very frightened indeed; all Israel was plunged into mourning.

1Ma 12:53 The surrounding nations were all now looking for ways of destroying them: 'They have no leader,' they said, 'no ally; we have only to attack them now, and we shall blot out their very memory from all peoples.'

1Ma 13:1 Simon heard that Trypho had collected a large army to invade and devastate Judaea,

1Ma 13:2 and when he saw how the people were quaking with fear, he went up to Jerusalem, called the people together,

1Ma 13:3 and exhorted them thus, 'You know yourselves how much I and my brothers and my father's family have done for the laws and the sanctuary; you know what wars and hardships we have experienced.

1Ma 13:4 That is why my brothers are all dead, for Israel's sake, and I am the only one left.

1Ma 13:5 Far be it from me, then, to be sparing of my own life in any time of oppression, for I am not worth more than my brothers.

1Ma 13:6 Rather will I avenge my nation and the sanctuary and your wives and children, now that the foreigners are all united in malice to destroy us.'

1Ma 13:7 The people's spirit rekindled as they listened to his words,

1Ma 13:8 and they shouted back at him, 'You are our leader in place of Judas and your brother Jonathan.

1Ma 13:9 Fight our battles for us, and we will do whatever you tell us.'

1Ma 13:10 So he assembled all the fighting men and hurried on with completing the walls of Jerusalem, fortifying the whole perimeter.

1Ma 13:11 He sent a considerable force to Joppa under Jonathan son of Absalom who drove out the inhabitants and remained there in occupation.

1Ma 13:12 Trypho now left Ptolemais with a large army to invade Judaea, taking Jonathan with him under guard.

1Ma 13:13 Simon pitched camp in Adida, facing the plain.

1Ma 13:14 When Trypho learned that Simon had taken the place of his brother Jonathan and that he intended to join battle with him, he sent envoys to him with this message,

1Ma 13:15 'Your brother Jonathan was in debt to the royal exchequer for the offices he held; that is why we are detaining him.

1Ma 13:16 If you send a hundred talents of silver and two of his sons as hostages, to make sure that on his release he does not revolt against us, we shall release him.'

1Ma 13:17 Although Simon was aware that the message was a ruse, he sent for the money and the boys for fear of incurring great hostility from the people,

1Ma 13:18 who would have said that Jonathan had died because Simon would not send Trypho the money and the children.

1Ma 13:19 He therefore sent both the boys and the hundred talents, but Trypho broke his word and did not release Jonathan.

1Ma 13:20 Next, Trypho set about the invasion and devastation of the country; he made a detour along the Adora road, but Simon and his army confronted him wherever he attempted to go.

1Ma 13:21 The men in the Citadel kept sending messengers to Trypho, urging him to get through to them by way of the desert and send them supplies.

1Ma 13:22 Trypho organised his entire cavalry to go, but that night it snowed so heavily that he could not get through for the snow, so he left there and moved off into Gilead.

1Ma 13:23 As he approached Baskama he killed Jonathan, who was buried there.

1Ma 13:24 Trypho turned back and regained his own country.

1Ma 13:25 Simon sent and recovered the bones of his brother Jonathan, and buried him in Modein, the town of his ancestors.

1Ma 13:26 All Israel kept solemn mourning for him and long bewailed him.

1Ma 13:27 Over the tomb of his father and brothers, Simon raised a monument high enough to catch the eye, using dressed stone back and front.

1Ma 13:28 He erected seven pyramids facing each other, for his father and mother and his four brothers, 1Ma 13:29 surrounding them with a structure consisting of tall columns surmounted by trophies of arms to their everlasting memory and, beside the trophies of arms, ships sculpted on a scale to be seen by all who sail the sea.

1Ma 13:30 Such was the monument he constructed at Modein, and it is still there today.

1Ma 13:31 Now Trypho, betraying the trust of young King Antiochus, put him to death.

1Ma 13:32 He usurped his throne, assuming the crown of Asia, and brought great havoc on the country.

1Ma 13:33 Simon built up the fortresses of Judaea, surrounding them with high towers, great walls and gates with bolts, and stocked these fortresses with food.

1Ma 13:34 He also sent a delegation to King Demetrius, to get him to grant the province a remission, since all Trypho did was to despoil.

1Ma 13:35 King Demetrius replied to his request in a letter framed as follows:

1Ma 13:36 'King Demetrius to Simon, high priest and Friend of Kings, and to the elders and nation of the Jews, greetings.

1Ma 13:37 'It has pleased us to accept the golden crown and the palm you have sent us, and we are disposed to make a general peace with you, and to write to the officials to grant you remissions.

1Ma 13:38 Everything that we have decreed concerning you remains in force, and the fortresses you have built may remain in your hands.

1Ma 13:39 We pardon all offences, unwitting or intentional, hitherto committed, and remit the crown tax you now owe us; and whatever other taxes were levied in Jerusalem are no longer to be levied.

1Ma 13:40 If any of you are suitable for enrolment in our bodyguard, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace between us.'

1Ma 13:41 The gentile yoke was thus lifted from Israel in the year 170,

1Ma 13:42 when our people began engrossing their documents and contracts: 'In the first year of Simon, eminent high priest, commander-in-chief and ethnarch of the Jews'.

1Ma 13:43 About that time Simon laid siege to Gezer, surrounding it with his troops. He constructed a mobile tower, brought it up to the city, opened a breach in one of the bastions and took it.

1Ma 13:44 The men in the mobile tower sprang out into the city, where great confusion ensued.

1Ma 13:45 The citizens, accompanied by their wives and children, mounted the ramparts with their garments torn and loudly implored Simon to make peace with them:

1Ma 13:46 'Treat us', they said, 'not as our wickedness deserves, but as your mercy prompts you.'

1Ma 13:47 Simon came to terms with them and stopped the fighting; but he expelled them from the city, purified the houses which contained idols, and then made his entry with songs of praise.

1Ma 13:48 He banished all impurity from it, settled in it people who observed the Law, and having fortified it, built a residence there for himself.

1Ma 13:49 The occupants of the Citadel in Jerusalem, prevented as they were from coming out and going into the countryside to buy and sell, were in desperate need of food, and numbers of them were being carried off by starvation.

1Ma 13:50 They begged Simon to make peace with them, and he granted this, though he expelled them and purified the Citadel from its pollutions.

1Ma 13:51 The Jews made their entry on the twenty-third day of the second month in the year 171, with acclamations and carrying palms, to the sound of lyres, cymbals and harps, chanting hymns and canticles, since a great enemy had been crushed and thrown out of Israel. Simon made it a day of annual rejoicing.

1Ma 13:52 He fortified the Temple hill on the Citadel side, and took up residence there with his men.

1Ma 13:53 Since his son John had come to manhood, Simon appointed him general-in-chief, with his residence in Gezer.

1Ma 14:1 In the year 172, King Demetrius assembled his forces and marched into Media to raise help for the fight against Trypho.

1Ma 14:2 When Arsaces king of Persia and Media heard that Demetrius had entered his territory, he sent one of his generals to capture him alive.

1Ma 14:3 The general defeated the army of Demetrius, seized him and brought him to Arsaces, who imprisoned him.

1Ma 14:4 The country was at peace throughout the days of Simon. He sought the good of his nation and they were well pleased with his authority, as with his magnificence, throughout his life.

1Ma 14:5 To crown his titles to glory, he took Joppa and made it a harbour, gaining access to the Mediterranean Isles.

1Ma 14:6 He enlarged the frontiers of his nation, keeping his mastery over the homeland,

1Ma 14:7 resettling a host of captives. He conquered Gezer, Beth-Zur and the Citadel, ridding them of every impurity, and no one could resist him.

1Ma 14:8 The people farmed their land in peace; the land gave its produce, the trees of the plain their fruit.

1Ma 14:9 The elders sat at ease in the squares, all their talk was of their prosperity; the young men wore splendid armour.

1Ma 14:10 He kept the towns supplied with provisions and furnished with fortifications, until his fame resounded to the ends of the earth.

1Ma 14:11 He established peace in the land, and Israel knew great joy.

1Ma 14:12 Each man sat under his own vine and his own fig tree, and there was no one to make them afraid.

1Ma 14:13 No enemy was left in the land to fight them, the very kings of those times had been crushed.

1Ma 14:14 He encouraged the afflicted members of his people, suppressing every wicked man and renegade. He strove to observe the Law, 1Ma 14:15 and gave new splendour to the Temple, enriching it with many sacred vessels.

1Ma 14:16 When it became known in Rome and as far as Sparta that Jonathan was dead, people were deeply grieved.

1Ma 14:17 But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon had succeeded him as high priest and was master of the country and the cities in it,

1Ma 14:18 they wrote to him on bronze tablets to renew the treaty of friendship and alliance which they had made with his brothers, Judas and Jonathan, 1Ma 14:19 and the document was read out before the assembly in Jerusalem.

1Ma 14:20 This is the copy of the letter sent by the Spartans: 'The rulers and the city of Sparta, to Simon the high priest and to the elders and priests and the rest of the people of the Jews, greetings.

1Ma 14:21 'The ambassadors whom you sent to our people have informed us of your glory and prosperity, and we are delighted with their visit.

1Ma 14:22 We have recorded their declarations in the minutes of our public assemblies, as follows, "Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, ambassadors of the Jews, came to us to renew their friendship with us.

1Ma 14:23 And it was the people's pleasure to receive these personages with honour and to deposit a copy of their statements in the public archives, so that the people of Sparta might preserve a record of them. A copy was also made for Simon the high priest."

1Ma 14:24 After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome as the bearer of a large golden shield weighing a thousand mina, to confirm the alliance with them.

1Ma 14:25 When these events were reported to our people, they said, 'What mark of appreciation shall we give to Simon and his sons?

1Ma 14:26 He stood firm, he and his brothers and his father's house: he fought off the enemies of Israel and secured its freedom.' So they recorded an inscription on bronze tablets and set it up on pillars on Mount Zion.

1Ma 14:27 This is a copy of the text: 'The eighteenth of Elul, in the year 172, being the third year of Simon, eminent high priest:

1Ma 14:28 'In Asaramel, in the Grand Assembly of priests and people, of princes of the nation and of elders of the country: 'We are acquainted with the matters following:

1Ma 14:29 'When there was almost incessant fighting in the country Simon, son of Mattathias, a priest of the line of Joarib, and his brothers courted danger and withstood their nation's enemies to safeguard the integrity of their sanctuary and of the Law, and so brought their nation great glory;

1Ma 14:30 'For when, Jonathan having rallied his nation and become its high priest and having then been gathered to his ancestors,

1Ma 14:31 the enemy planned to invade the country, intending to devastate their territory and to lay hands on their sanctuary,

1Ma 14:32 Simon next came forward to fight for his nation: spending much of his personal wealth on arming his nation's fighting men and on providing their pay;

1Ma 14:33 fortifying the towns of Judaea, as well as Beth-Zur on the Judaean frontier where the enemy arsenal had formerly been, and stationing in it a garrison of Jewish soldiers;

1Ma 14:34 fortifying Joppa on the coast, and Gezer on the borders of Azotus, a place formerly inhabited by the enemy, founding a Jewish colony there, and providing the settlers with everything they needed to set them on their feet;

1Ma 14:35 'In consequence of which, the people, aware of Simon's loyalty and of the glory which he was determined to win for his nation, have made him their ethnarch and high priest, for all his services and for the integrity and loyalty which he has shown towards his nation, and for having by every means sought to enhance his people's power;

1Ma 14:36 'It has fallen to him in his time to expel the foreigners from his country, including those in the City of David in Jerusalem, who had converted it into a citadel for their own use, from which they would sally out to defile the surroundings of the sanctuary and to violate its sacred character;

1Ma 14:37 to station Jewish soldiers there instead for the security of the country and the city; and to heighten the walls of Jerusalem;

1Ma 14:38 'And since King Demetrius has heard that the Romans call the Jews their friends, allies and brothers,

1Ma 14:39 and that they have given an honourable reception to Simon's ambassadors, and, furthermore,

1Ma 14:40 that the Jews and priests are happy that Simon should, pending the advent of a genuine prophet, be their ethnarch and high priest for life

1Ma 14:41 therefore he has confirmed him in the high-priestly office, has raised him to the rank of Friend and has showered great honours on him, also confirming him as their commander-in-chief,

1Ma 14:42 with the right to appoint officials to oversee the fabric of the sanctuary and to administer the country, munitions and fortresses;

1Ma 14:43 he is to have personal charge of the sanctuary, and to be obeyed by all; all official documents in the country must be drawn up in his name; and he may assume the purple and may wear golden ornaments;

1Ma 14:44 'Furthermore, it is against the law for any member of the public or of the priesthood to contravene any of these enactments or to contest his decisions, or to convene a meeting anywhere in the country without his permission, or to assume the purple or wear the golden brooch;

1Ma 14:45 and anyone acting contrary to, or rejecting any article of, these enactments is liable to punishment;

1Ma 14:46 'And since the people have unanimously agreed to grant Simon the right to act as aforesaid, and

1Ma 14:47 since Simon, for his part, has given his assent, and has consented to assume the high-priestly office and to be commander-in-chief and ethnarch of the Jews and their priests, and to preside over all:

1Ma 14:48 'So, be it now enacted: that this record be inscribed on bronze tablets and be erected at some conspicuous place within the precincts of the Temple,

1Ma 14:49 and that copies be deposited in the Treasury for Simon and his descendants.'

1Ma 15:1 Antiochus son of King Demetrius addressed a letter from the Mediterranean Isles to Simon, priest and ethnarch of the Jews, and to the whole nation;

1Ma 15:2 this was how it read: 'King Antiochus to Simon, high priest and ethnarch, and to the Jewish nation, greetings.

1Ma 15:3 'Whereas certain scoundrels have seized control of the kingdom of our fathers, and I propose to claim back the kingdom so that I may re-establish it as it was before, and whereas I have accordingly recruited very large forces and fitted out warships,

1Ma 15:4 intending to make a landing in the country and to hunt down the men who have ruined it and laid waste many towns in my kingdom;

1Ma 15:5 'I now, therefore, confirm in your favour all remissions of taxes granted to you by the kings my predecessors, as well as the waiving of whatever presents they may have conceded.

1Ma 15:6 I hereby authorise you to mint your own coinage as legal tender for your own country.

1Ma 15:7 I declare Jerusalem and the sanctuary to be free; all the arms you have manufactured and the fortresses you have built and now occupy may remain yours.

1Ma 15:8 All debts to the royal treasury, present or future, are cancelled henceforth in perpetuity.

1Ma 15:9 Furthermore, when we have won back our kingdom, we shall bestow such great honour on yourself, your nation and the sanctuary as will make your glory known throughout the world.'

1Ma 15:10 Antiochus invaded the land of his ancestors in the year 174 and, since the troops all rallied to him, Trypho was left with few supporters.

1Ma 15:11 Antiochus pursued the usurper, who took refuge in Dora on the coast, 1Ma 15:12 knowing that misfortunes were piling up on him and that his troops had deserted him.

1Ma 15:13 Antiochus pitched camp outside Dora with a hundred and twenty thousand fighting men and eight thousand cavalry.

1Ma 15:14 He laid siege to the city while the ships closed in from the sea, so that he had the city under attack from land and sea, and allowed no one to go in or come out.

1Ma 15:15 Numenius and his companions, meanwhile, arrived from Rome, bringing letters addressed to various kings and states, in the following terms:

1Ma 15:16 'Lucius, consul of the Romans, to King Ptolemy, greetings.

1Ma 15:17 'The Jewish ambassadors have come to us as our friends and allies to renew our original friendship and alliance in the name of the high priest Simon and the Jewish people.

1Ma 15:18 They have brought a golden shield worth a thousand mina.

1Ma 15:19 Accordingly, we have seen fit to write to various kings and states, warning them neither to molest the Jewish people nor to attack either them or their towns or their country, nor to ally themselves with any such aggressors.

1Ma 15:20 We have seen fit to accept the shield from them.

1Ma 15:21 If, therefore, any scoundrels have fled their country to take refuge with you, hand them over to Simon the high priest, to be punished by him according to their law.'

1Ma 15:22 The consul sent the same letter to King Demetrius, to Attalus, Ariarathes and Arsaces, 1Ma 15:23 and to all states, including Sampsames, the Spartans, Delos, Myndos, Sicyon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycia, Halicarnassus, Rhodes, Phaselis, Cos, Side, Arados, Gortyn, Cyprus and Cyrene.

1Ma 15:24 They also drew up a copy for Simon the high priest.

1Ma 15:25 Antiochus, meanwhile, from his positions on the outskirts of Dora, was continually throwing detachments against the town. He constructed siege-engines, and blockaded Trypho, preventing movement in or out.

1Ma 15:26 Simon sent him two thousand picked men to support him in the fight, with silver and gold and plenty of equipment.

1Ma 15:27 But Antiochus would not accept them; instead, he repudiated all his previous agreements with Simon and completely changed his attitude to him.

1Ma 15:28 He sent him Athenobius, one of his Friends, to confer with him and say, 'You are now occupying Joppa and Gezer and the Citadel in Jerusalem, which are towns in my kingdom.

1Ma 15:29 You have laid waste their territory and done immense harm to the country; and you have seized control of many places properly in my kingdom.

1Ma 15:30 Either now surrender the towns you have taken and the taxes from the places you have seized outside the frontiers of Judaea,

1Ma 15:31 or else pay me five hundred talents of silver in compensation for them and for the destruction you have done, and another five hundred talents for the taxes from the towns; otherwise we shall come and make war on you.'

1Ma 15:32 When the King's Friend, Athenobius, reached Jerusalem and saw Simon's magnificence, his cabinet of gold and silver plate and the state he kept, he was dumbfounded. He delivered the king's message,

1Ma 15:33 but Simon gave him this answer, 'We have not taken foreign territory or any alien property but have occupied our ancestral heritage, for some time unjustly wrested from us by our enemies;

1Ma 15:34 now that we have a favourable opportunity, we are merely recovering our ancestral heritage.

1Ma 15:35 As regards Joppa and Gezer, which you claim, these were towns that did great harm to our people and laid waste our country; we are prepared to give a hundred talents for them.' Without so much as a word in answer, 1Ma 15:36 the envoy went back to the king in a rage and reported on Simon's answer and his magnificence, and on everything he had seen, at which the king fell into a fury.

1Ma 15:37 Trypho now boarded a ship and escaped to Orthosia.

1Ma 15:38 The king appointed Cendebaeus military governor of the coastal region and allotted him a force of infantry and cavalry.

1Ma 15:39 He ordered him to deploy his men facing Judaea, and instructed him to rebuild Kedron and fortify its gates, and to make war on our people, while the king himself went in pursuit of Trypho.

1Ma 15:40 Cendebaeus arrived at Jamnia and began to provoke our people forthwith, invading Judaea, taking prisoners, and massacring.

1Ma 15:41 Having rebuilt Kedron, he stationed cavalry and troops there to make sorties and patrol the roads of Judaea, as the king had ordered.

1Ma 16:1 John then went up from Gezer and reported to his father Simon what Cendebaeus was busy doing.

1Ma 16:2 At this, Simon summoned his two elder sons, Judas and John, and said to them, 'My brothers and I, and my father's House, have fought the enemies of Israel from our youth until today, and many a time we have been successful in rescuing Israel.

1Ma 16:3 But now I am an old man, while you, by the mercy of Heaven, are the right age; take the place of my brother and myself, go out and fight for our nation, and may Heaven's aid be with you.'

1Ma 16:4 He then selected twenty thousand of the country's fighting men and cavalry, and these marched against Cendebaeus, spending the night at Modein.

1Ma 16:5 Making an early start, they marched into the plain, to find a large army opposing them, both infantry and cavalry; there was, however, a stream-bed in between.

1Ma 16:6 John drew up facing them, he and his army and, seeing that the men were afraid to cross the stream-bed, crossed over first himself. When his men saw this, they too crossed after him.

1Ma 16:7 He divided his army into two, with the cavalry in the centre and the infantry on either flank, as the opposing cavalry was very numerous.

1Ma 16:8 The trumpets rang out; Cendebaeus and his army were put to flight, many of them falling mortally wounded and the rest of them fleeing to the fortress.

1Ma 16:9 Then it was that Judas, John's brother, was wounded, but John pursued them until Cendebaeus reached Kedron, which he had rebuilt.

1Ma 16:10 Their flight took them as far as the towers in the countryside of Azotus, and John burnt these down. The enemy losses amounted to ten thousand men; John returned safely to Judaea.

1Ma 16:11 Ptolemy son of Abubos had been appointed general in command of the Plain of Jericho; he owned a great deal of silver and gold, 1Ma 16:12 and was the high priest's son-in-law.

1Ma 16:13 His ambition was fired; he hoped to make himself master of the whole country and therefore treacherously began to plot the destruction of Simon and his sons.

1Ma 16:14 Simon, who was inspecting the towns up and down the country and attending to their administration, had come down to Jericho with his sons Mattathias and Judas, in the year 172, in the eleventh month, the month of Shebat.

1Ma 16:15 The son of Abubos lured them into a small fortress called Dok, which he had built, where he offered them a great banquet, having previously hidden men in the place.

1Ma 16:16 When Simon and his sons were drunk, Ptolemy and his men reached for their weapons, rushed on Simon in the banqueting hall and killed him with his two sons and some of his servants.

1Ma 16:17 He thus committed a great act of treachery and rendered evil for good.

1Ma 16:18 Ptolemy wrote a report of the affair and sent it to the king, in the expectation of being sent reinforcements and of having the cities and the province made over to him.

1Ma 16:19 He also sent people to Gezer to murder John, and sent written orders to the military commanders to come to him so that he could give them silver, gold and presents;

1Ma 16:20 and he also sent others to seize control of Jerusalem and the Temple mount.

1Ma 16:21 But someone had been too quick for him and had already informed John in Gezer that his father and brothers had perished, adding, 'He is sending someone to kill you too!'

1Ma 16:22 Overcome as John was by the news, he arrested the men who had come to kill him and put them to death, being forewarned of their murderous design.

1Ma 16:23 The rest of John's acts, the battles he fought and the exploits he performed, the city walls he built, and all his other achievements, 1Ma 16:24 from the day he succeeded his father as high priest, are recorded in the annals of his pontificate.

2Ma 1:1 'To their brothers, the Jews living in Egypt, from their brothers, the Jews in Jerusalem and Judaea, greetings and untroubled peace.

2Ma 1:2 'May God prosper you, remembering his covenant with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants.

2Ma 1:3 May he give you all a heart to worship him and to do his will with a generous mind and a willing spirit.

2Ma 1:4 May he open your hearts to his Law and his precepts, and give you peace.

2Ma 1:5 May he hear your prayers and be reconciled with you, and not abandon you in time of evil.

2Ma 1:6 Such is our prayer for you.

2Ma 1:7 'During the reign of Demetrius, in the year 169, we Jews wrote to you as follows, "In the extremity of trouble that befell us in the years after Jason and his associates had betrayed the Holy Land and the kingdom,

2Ma 1:8 burning down the Temple gateway and shedding innocent blood, we prayed to the Lord and were then heard. And we then offered a sacrifice, with wheat-flour, we lit the lamps and we set out the loaves."

2Ma 1:9 'And we now recommend you too to keep the feast of Shelters in the month of Chislev, in the year one hundred and eighty-eight.'

2Ma 1:10 'The people of Jerusalem and of Judaea, the senate and Judas, to Aristobulus, tutor to King Ptolemy and one of the family of the anointed priests, and to the Jews in Egypt, greetings and good health.

2Ma 1:11 'Since we have been rescued by God from great danger, we give him great thanks for championing our cause against the king, 2Ma 1:12 for he it was who carried off those who had taken up arms against the Holy City.

2Ma 1:13 For when their leader reached Persia with his seemingly irresistible army, he was cut to pieces in the temple of Nanaea, as the result of a ruse employed by the priests who served that goddess.

2Ma 1:14 On the pretext of marrying Nanaea, Antiochus came to the place with his friends, intending to take its many treasures as a dowry.

2Ma 1:15 The priests of Nanaea had put these on display, and he for his part had entered the temple precincts with only a small retinue. As soon as Antiochus had gone inside the temple, the priests shut him in,

2Ma 1:16 opened a trap-door hidden in the ceiling and struck the leader down by hurling stones like thunderbolts. They then cut him into pieces and threw his head to those who were waiting outside.

2Ma 1:17 Blessed in all things be our God, who has delivered the sacrilegious over to death!

2Ma 1:18 'As we shall be celebrating the purification of the Temple on the twenty-fifth of Chislev, we consider it proper to notify you, so that you too may celebrate it, as you do the feast of Shelters and the fire that appeared when Nehemiah, the builder of the Temple and the altar, offered sacrifice.

2Ma 1:19 For when our ancestors were being deported to Persia, the devout priests of the time took some of the fire from the altar and hid it secretly in a hole like a dry well, where they concealed it in such a way that the place was unknown to anyone.

2Ma 1:20 When some years had elapsed, in God's good time, Nehemiah, commissioned by the king of Persia, sent the descendants of the priests who had hidden the fire to look for it. When they reported that in fact they had found not fire but a thick liquid, Nehemiah ordered them to draw some out and bring it back.

2Ma 1:21 When they had done this, Nehemiah ordered the priests to pour this liquid over the sacrificial materials, that is, the wood and what lay on it.

2Ma 1:22 When this had been done, and when in due course the sun, which had previously been clouded over, shone out, a great fire flared up, to the astonishment of all.

2Ma 1:23 While the sacrifice was being burned, the priests offered prayer, Jonathan intoning with all the priests, and the rest responding with Nehemiah.

2Ma 1:24 The prayer took this form, "Lord, Lord God, Creator of all things, awesome, strong, just, merciful, the only king and benefactor,

2Ma 1:25 the only provider, who alone are just, almighty and everlasting, the deliverer of Israel from every evil, who made our fathers your chosen ones and sanctified them,

2Ma 1:26 accept this sacrifice on behalf of all your people Israel, and protect your heritage and consecrate it.

2Ma 1:27 Bring together those of us who are dispersed, set free those in slavery among the heathen, look favourably on those held in contempt or abhorrence, and let the heathen know that you are our God.

2Ma 1:28 Punish those who oppress us and affront us by their insolence,

2Ma 1:29 and plant your people firmly in your Holy Place, as Moses promised."

2Ma 1:30 'The priests then chanted hymns accompanied by the harp.

2Ma 1:31 When the sacrifice had been burnt, Nehemiah ordered the remaining liquid to be poured over large stones, 2Ma 1:32 and when this was done a flame flared up, to be absorbed in a corresponding blaze of light from the altar.

2Ma 1:33 When the matter became known and the king of the Persians heard that, in the place where the exiled priests had hidden the fire, a liquid had appeared, with which Nehemiah and his people had purified the sacrificial offerings, 2Ma 1:34 the king, after verifying the facts, had the place enclosed and pronounced sacred.

2Ma 1:35 To the people on whom the king bestowed it, he granted a part of the considerable revenue he derived from it.

2Ma 1:36 Nehemiah and his people termed this stuff "nephtar", which means "purification", but it is commonly called "naphta".

2Ma 2:1 'It is on record that the prophet Jeremiah ordered the deportees to take the fire, as we have described,

2Ma 2:2 and how, having given them the Law, the prophet warned the deportees never to forget the Lord's precepts, nor to let their thoughts be tempted by the sight of gold and silver statues or the finery adorning them.

2Ma 2:3 Among other similar admonitions, he urged them not to let the Law depart from their hearts.

2Ma 2:4 'The same document also describes how the prophet, warned by an oracle, gave orders for the tent and the ark to go with him, when he set out for the mountain which Moses had climbed to survey God's heritage.

2Ma 2:5 On his arrival, Jeremiah found a cave-dwelling, into which he put the tent, the ark and the altar of incense, afterwards blocking up the entrance.

2Ma 2:6 Some of his companions went back later to mark out the path but were unable to find it.

2Ma 2:7 When Jeremiah learned this, he reproached them, "The place is to remain unknown", he said, "until God gathers his people together again and shows them his mercy.

2Ma 2:8 Then the Lord will bring these things once more to light, and the glory of the Lord will be seen, and so will the cloud, as it was revealed in the time of Moses and when Solomon prayed that the holy place might be gloriously hallowed."

2Ma 2:9 'It was also recorded how Solomon in his wisdom offered the sacrifice of the dedication and completion of the sanctuary.

2Ma 2:10 As Moses had prayed to the Lord and fire had come down from heaven and burned up the sacrifice, so Solomon also prayed, and the fire from above consumed the burnt offerings.

2Ma 2:11 Moses had said, "Because the sacrifice for sin had not been eaten, it was burnt instead."

2Ma 2:12 Solomon similarly observed the eight-day festival.

2Ma 2:13 'In addition to the above, it was also recorded, both in these writings and in the Memoirs of Nehemiah, how Nehemiah founded a library and made a collection of the books dealing with the kings and the prophets, the writings of David and the letters of the kings on the subject of offerings.

2Ma 2:14 Similarly, Judas made a complete collection of the books dispersed in the late war, and these we still have.

2Ma 2:15 If you need any of them, send someone to fetch them.

2Ma 2:16 'Since we are about to celebrate the purification, we now write, requesting you to observe the same days.

2Ma 2:17 God, who has saved his whole people, conferring heritage, kingdom, priesthood and sanctification on all of us,

2Ma 2:18 as he has promised in the Law, will surely, as our hope is in him, be swift to show us mercy and gather us together from everywhere under heaven to the holy place, since he has rescued us from great evils and has purified it.'

2Ma 2:19 The story of Judas Maccabaeus and his brothers, the purification of the great Temple, the dedication of the altar,

2Ma 2:20 together with the wars against Antiochus Epiphanes and his son Eupator,

2Ma 2:21 and the celestial manifestations that came to hearten the brave champions of Judaism, so that, few though they were, they pillaged the whole country, routed the barbarian hordes,

2Ma 2:22 recovered the sanctuary renowned the whole world over, liberated the city and re-established the laws by then all but abolished, the Lord showing his favour by all his gracious help to them-

2Ma 2:23 all this, already related in five books by Jason of Cyrene, we shall attempt to condense into a single work.

2Ma 2:24 Considering the spate of figures and the difficulty encountered, because of the mass of material, by those who wish to immerse themselves in historical records,

2Ma 2:25 we have aimed at providing diversion for those who merely want something to read, a saving of labour for those who enjoy committing things to memory, and profit for each and all.

2Ma 2:26 For us who have undertaken the drudgery of this abridgement, it has been no easy task but a matter of sweat and midnight oil,

2Ma 2:27 comparable to the exacting task of someone organising a banquet, whose aim is to satisfy a variety of tastes. Nevertheless, for the sake of rendering a general service, we remain glad to endure this drudgery,

2Ma 2:28 leaving accuracy of detail to the historian, and concentrating our effort on tracing the outlines in this condensed version.

2Ma 2:29 Just as the architect of a new house is responsible for the construction as a whole, while the man undertaking the ceramic painting has to take into consideration only the decorative requirements, so, I think, it is with us.

2Ma 2:30 To make the subject his own, to explore its by-ways, to be meticulous about details, is the business of the original historian,

2Ma 2:31 but the person making the adaptation must be allowed to aim at conciseness of expression and to forgo any exhaustive treatment of his subject.

2Ma 2:32 So now let us begin our narrative, without adding any more to what has been said above; there would be no sense in expanding the preface to the history and curtailing the history itself.

2Ma 3:1 While the holy city was inhabited in all peace and the laws were observed as perfectly as possible, owing to the piety of Onias the high priest and his hatred of wickedness,

2Ma 3:2 it came about that the kings themselves honoured the holy place and enhanced the glory of the Temple with the most splendid offerings,

2Ma 3:3 even to the extent that Seleucus king of Asia defrayed from his own revenues all the expenses arising out of the sacrificial liturgy.

2Ma 3:4 But a certain Simon, of the tribe of Bilgah, on being appointed administrator of the Temple, came into conflict with the high priest over the regulation of the city markets.

2Ma 3:5 Unable to get the better of Onias, he went off to Apollonius, son of Thraseos, who was at that time commander-in-chief of Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, 2Ma 3:6 and made out to him that the Treasury in Jerusalem was groaning with untold wealth, that the amount contributed was incalculable and out of all proportion to expenditure on the sacrifice, but that it could all be brought under the control of the king.

2Ma 3:7 Apollonius met the king and told him about the wealth that had been disclosed to him; whereupon the king selected Heliodorus, his chancellor, and sent him with instructions to effect the removal of the reported wealth.

2Ma 3:8 Heliodorus lost no time in setting out, ostensibly to inspect the towns of Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, but in fact to accomplish the king's purpose.

2Ma 3:9 On his arrival in Jerusalem, and after a hospitable reception from the high priest and the city, he announced what had been disclosed, thus revealing the reason for his presence, and asked if this was indeed the true situation.

2Ma 3:10 The high priest explained that there were funds set aside for widows and orphans,

2Ma 3:11 with some belonging to Hyrcanus son of Tobias, a man occupying a very exalted position, and that the whole sum, in contrast to what the evil Simon had alleged, amounted to four hundred talents of silver and two hundred of gold.

2Ma 3:12 He also added that it was entirely out of the question that an injustice should be done to those who had put their trust in the sanctity of the place and in the inviolable majesty of a Temple venerated throughout the entire world.

2Ma 3:13 But Heliodorus, because of his instructions from the king, peremptorily insisted that the funds must be confiscated for the royal exchequer.

2Ma 3:14 Fixing a day for the purpose, he went in to draw up an inventory of the funds. There was no little consternation throughout the city;

2Ma 3:15 the priests in their sacred vestments prostrated themselves before the altar and prayed to Heaven, to the Author of the law governing deposits, to preserve these funds intact for the depositors.

2Ma 3:16 The appearance of the high priest was enough to pierce the heart of the beholder, his expression and his altered colour betraying the anguish of his soul;

2Ma 3:17 the man was so overwhelmed by fear and bodily trembling that those who saw him could not possibly mistake the distress he was suffering.

2Ma 3:18 People rushed headlong from the houses, intent on making public supplication because of the indignity threatening the holy place.

2Ma 3:19 Women thronged the streets swathed in sackcloth below their breasts; girls secluded indoors came running, some to the doorways, some to the city walls, while others leaned out of the windows,

2Ma 3:20 all stretching out their hands to Heaven in entreaty.

2Ma 3:21 It was pitiful to see the people crowding together to prostrate themselves, and the foreboding of the high priest in his deep anguish.

2Ma 3:22 While they were calling on the all-powerful Lord to preserve the deposits intact for the depositors, in full security, 2Ma 3:23 Heliodorus set about his appointed task.

2Ma 3:24 He had already arrived with his bodyguard near the Treasury, when the Sovereign of spirits and of every power caused so great an apparition that all who had dared to accompany Heliodorus were dumbfounded at the power of God and reduced to abject terror.

2Ma 3:25 Before their eyes appeared a horse richly caparisoned and carrying a fearsome rider. Rearing violently, it struck at Heliodorus with its forefeet. The rider was seen to be accoutred entirely in gold.

2Ma 3:26 Two other young men of outstanding strength and radiant beauty, magnificently appalled, appeared to him at the same time and, taking their stand on each side of him, flogged him unremittingly, inflicting stroke after stroke.

2Ma 3:27 Suddenly Heliodorus fell to the ground, enveloped in thick darkness. His men came to his rescue and placed him in a litter, 2Ma 3:28 this man who but a moment before had made his way into the Treasury, as we said above, with a great retinue and his whole bodyguard; and as they carried him away, powerless to help himself, they openly acknowledged the sovereign power of God.

2Ma 3:29 While Heliodorus lay prostrate under the divine visitation, speechless and bereft of all hope of deliverance, 2Ma 3:30 the Jews blessed the Lord who had miraculously glorified his own holy place. And the Temple, which a little while before had been filled with terror and commotion, now overflowed with joy and gladness at the manifestation of the almighty Lord.

2Ma 3:31 Some of Heliodorus' companions quickly begged Onias to entreat the Most High to grant the man his life, lying as he did at the very point of death.

2Ma 3:32 The high priest, afraid that the king might suspect the Jews of some foul play concerning Heliodorus, did indeed offer a sacrifice for the man's recovery.

2Ma 3:33 And while the high priest was performing the rite of expiation, the same young men again appeared to Heliodorus, wearing the same apparel and, standing beside him, said, 'Be very grateful to Onias the high priest, since it is for his sake that the Lord has granted you your life.'

2Ma 3:34 As for you, who have been scourged by Heaven, you must proclaim to everyone the grandeur of God's power.' So saying, they vanished.

2Ma 3:35 Heliodorus offered sacrifice to the Lord and made most solemn vows to the preserver of his life, and then took courteous leave of Onias and marched his forces back to the king.

2Ma 3:36 He openly testified to everyone about the works of the supreme God which he had seen with his own eyes.

2Ma 3:37 When the king asked Heliodorus what sort of man would be the right person to send to Jerusalem on a second occasion, he replied,

2Ma 3:38 'If you have some enemy or anyone disloyal to the state, send him there, and you will get him back well flogged, if he survives at all, since some peculiarly divine power attaches to the holy place.

2Ma 3:39 He who has his dwelling in heaven watches over the place and defends it, and he strikes down and destroys those who come to harm it.'

2Ma 3:40 This was the outcome of the affair of Heliodorus and the preservation of the Treasury.

2Ma 4:1 The Simon mentioned above as the informer against the funds and against his country began slandering Onias, insinuating that the latter had been responsible for the assault on Heliodorus and himself had contrived this misfortune.

2Ma 4:2 Simon now had the effrontery to name this benefactor of the city, this protector of his compatriots, this zealot for the laws, as an enemy of the public good.

2Ma 4:3 This hostility reached such proportions that murders were actually committed by some of Simon's agents,

2Ma 4:4 and at this point Onias, recognising how mischievous this rivalry was, and aware that Apollonius son of Menestheus, the general commanding Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, was encouraging Simon in his malice,

2Ma 4:5 went to see the king, not to play the accuser of his fellow-citizens, but having the public and private welfare of the entire people at heart.

2Ma 4:6 He saw that, without some intervention by the king, an orderly administration would no longer be possible, nor would Simon put a stop to his folly.

2Ma 4:7 When Seleucus had departed this life and Antiochus styled Epiphanes had succeeded to the kingdom, Jason, brother of Onias, usurped the high priesthood:

2Ma 4:8 he approached the king with a promise of three hundred and sixty talents of silver, with eighty talents to come from some other source of revenue.

2Ma 4:9 He further committed himself to paying another hundred and fifty, if the king would empower him to set up a gymnasium and youth centre, and to register the Antiochists of Jerusalem.

2Ma 4:10 When the king gave his assent, Jason, as soon as he had seized power, imposed the Greek way of life on his fellow-countrymen.

2Ma 4:11 He suppressed the liberties which the kings had graciously granted to the Jews at the instance of John, father of that Eupolemus who was later to be sent on an embassy to negotiate a treaty of friendship and alliance with the Romans and, overthrowing the lawful institutions, introduced new usages contrary to the Law.

2Ma 4:12 He went so far as to found a gymnasium at the very foot of the Citadel, and to fit out the noblest of his young men in the petasos.

2Ma 4:13 Godless wretch that he was and no true high priest, Jason set no bounds to his impiety; indeed the hellenising process reached such a pitch

2Ma 4:14 that the priests ceased to show any interest in serving the altar; but, scorning the Temple and neglecting the sacrifices, they would hurry, on the stroke of the gong, to take part in the distribution, forbidden by the Law, of the oil on the exercise ground;

2Ma 4:15 setting no store by the honours of their fatherland, they esteemed hellenic glories best of all.

2Ma 4:16 But all this brought its own retribution; the very people whose way of life they envied, whom they sought to resemble in everything, proved to be their enemies and executioners.

2Ma 4:17 It is no small thing to violate the divine laws, as the period that followed will demonstrate.

2Ma 4:18 On the occasion of the quadrennial games at Tyre in the presence of the king,

2Ma 4:19 the vile Jason sent an embassy of Antiochists from Jerusalem, taking with them three hundred silver drachmas for the sacrifice to Hercules. But even those who brought the money did not think it would be right to spend it on the sacrifice and decided to reserve it for some other item of expenditure;

2Ma 4:20 and so what the sender had intended for the sacrifice to Hercules was in fact applied, at the suggestion of those who brought it, to the construction of triremes.

2Ma 4:21 Apollonius son of Menestheus had been sent to Egypt to attend the wedding of King Philometor. Antiochus, having learnt that the latter had become hostile to his affairs, began thinking about his own safety: that was why he had come to Joppa. He then moved to Jerusalem, 2Ma 4:22 where he was given a magnificent welcome by Jason and the city, and escorted in by torchlight with acclamation. After which, he marched his army into Phoenicia.

2Ma 4:23 When three years had passed, Jason sent Menelaus, brother of the Simon mentioned above, to convey the money to the king and to complete negotiations on various essential matters.

2Ma 4:24 But Menelaus, on being presented to the king, flattered him by his own appearance of authority, and so secured the high priesthood for himself, outbidding Jason by three hundred talents of silver.

2Ma 4:25 He returned with the royal mandate, bringing nothing worthy of the high priesthood and supported only by the fury of a cruel tyrant and the rage of a savage beast.

2Ma 4:26 Thus Jason, who had supplanted his own brother, was in turn supplanted by a third, and obliged to take refuge in Ammanitis.

2Ma 4:27 As for Menelaus, he secured the office, but defaulted altogether on the sums promised to the king,

2Ma 4:28 although Sostratus, the commandant of the Citadel, whose business it was to collect the revenue, kept demanding payment. The pair of them in consequence were summoned before the king, 2Ma 4:29 Menelaus leaving his brother Lysimachus as deputy high priest, while Sostratus left Crates, the commander of the Cypriots, to act for him.

2Ma 4:30 While all this was going on, it happened that the people of Tarsus and Mallus revolted, because their towns had been given as a present to Antiochis, the king's concubine.

2Ma 4:31 The king therefore hurried off to settle the affair, leaving Andronicus, one of his dignitaries, to act as his deputy.

2Ma 4:32 Thinking he had found a favourable opportunity, Menelaus abstracted a number of golden vessels from the Temple and presented them to Andronicus, and managed to sell others to Tyre and the surrounding cities.

2Ma 4:33 On receiving clear evidence to this effect, Onias retired to a place of sanctuary at Daphne near Antioch and then taxed him with it.

2Ma 4:34 Menelaus then had a quiet word with Andronicus, urging him to get rid of Onias. Andronicus sought out Onias and, resorting to the trick of offering him his right hand on oath, succeeded in persuading him, despite the latter's lingering suspicions, to leave sanctuary; whereupon, in defiance of all justice, he immediately put him to death.

2Ma 4:35 The result was that not only Jews but many people of other nationalities were appalled and outraged by the unjust murder of this man.

2Ma 4:36 On the king's return from the region of Cilicia, the Jews of the capital, and those Greeks who shared their hatred of the crime, appealed to him about the unjustified murder of Onias.

2Ma 4:37 Antiochus was profoundly grieved and filled with pity, and he wept for the prudence and moderation of the dead man.

2Ma 4:38 Burning with indignation, he immediately stripped Andronicus of the purple, tore his garments off him and, parading him through the length of the city, rid the world of the assassin on the very spot where he had laid impious hands on Onias, the Lord dealing out to him the punishment he deserved.

2Ma 4:39 Now Lysimachus with the connivance of Menelaus had committed many sacrilegious thefts in the city, and when the facts became widely known, the populace rose against Lysimachus, who had already disposed of many pieces of gold plate.

2Ma 4:40 The infuriated mob was becoming menacing, and Lysimachus armed nearly three thousand men and took aggressive action; the troops were led by a certain Auranus, a man advanced in years and no less in folly.

2Ma 4:41 Recognising this act of aggression as the work of Lysimachus, some snatched up stones, others cudgels, while others scooped up handfuls of ashes lying at hand, and all hurled everything indiscriminately at Lysimachus' men, 2Ma 4:42 to such effect that they wounded many of them, even killing a few, and routed them all; the sacrilegious thief himself they killed near the Treasury.

2Ma 4:43 As a result of this, legal proceedings were taken against Menelaus.

2Ma 4:44 When the king came down to Tyre, three men deputed by the Senate pleaded their case before him.

2Ma 4:45 Menelaus, seeing the case had gone against him, promised a substantial sum to Ptolemy son of Dorymenes if he would influence the king in his favour.

2Ma 4:46 Ptolemy then took the king aside into a colonnade, as though for a breath of fresh air, and persuaded him to change his mind;

2Ma 4:47 the king then dismissed the charges against Menelaus, the cause of all this evil, while he condemned to death the other poor wretches who, had they pleaded even before Scythians, would have been let off scot-free.

2Ma 4:48 No time was lost in carrying out this unjust punishment on those who had championed the cause of the city, the townships and the sacred vessels.

2Ma 4:49 Some Tyrians even were so outraged by the crime that they provided sumptuously for their funeral, 2Ma 4:50 while, as a result of the greed of the powerful, Menelaus remained in power, growing more wicked than ever and establishing himself as the chief enemy of his fellow-citizens.

2Ma 5:1 At about this time, Antiochus was preparing for his second attack on Egypt.

2Ma 5:2 It then happened that all over the city for nearly forty days there were apparitions of horsemen galloping through the air in cloth of gold, troops of lancers fully armed,

2Ma 5:3 squadrons of cavalry in order of battle, attacks and charges this way and that, a flourish of shields, a forest of pikes, a brandishing of swords, a hurling of missiles, a glittering of golden accoutrements and armour of all kinds.

2Ma 5:4 So everyone prayed that this manifestation might prove a good omen.

2Ma 5:5 Then, on the strength of a false report that Antiochus was dead, Jason took at least a thousand men and launched an unexpected attack on the city. When the walls had been breached and the city was finally on the point of being taken, Menelaus took refuge in the Citadel.

2Ma 5:6 Jason, however, made a pitiless slaughter of his fellow-citizens, oblivious of the fact that success against his own countrymen was the greatest of disasters, but rather picturing himself as winning trophies from some enemy, and not from his fellow-countrymen.

2Ma 5:7 Even so, he did not manage to seize power; and, in the end, his machinations brought him nothing but shame, and he took refuge once more in Ammanitis.

2Ma 5:8 His career of wickedness was thus brought to a halt: imprisoned by Aretas, the Arab despot, escaping from his town, hunted by everyone, detested for having overthrown the laws, abhorred as the butcher of his country and his countrymen, he drifted to Egypt.

2Ma 5:9 He who had exiled so many from their fatherland, himself perished on foreign soil, having travelled to Sparta, hoping that, for kinship's sake, he might find harbour there.

2Ma 5:10 So many carcases he had thrust out to lie unburied; now he himself had none to mourn him, no funeral rites, no place in the tomb of his ancestors.

2Ma 5:11 When the king came to hear of what had happened, he concluded that Judaea was in revolt. He therefore marched from Egypt, raging like a wild beast, and began by storming the city.

2Ma 5:12 He then ordered his soldiers to cut down without mercy everyone they encountered, and to butcher all who took refuge in their houses.

2Ma 5:13 It was a massacre of young and old, a slaughter of women and children, a butchery of young girls and infants.

2Ma 5:14 There were eighty thousand victims in the course of those three days, forty thousand dying by violence and as many again being sold into slavery.

2Ma 5:15 Not content with this, he had the audacity to enter the holiest Temple in the entire world, with Menelaus, that traitor to the laws and to his country, as his guide;

2Ma 5:16 with impure hands he seized the sacred vessels; with impious hands he seized the offerings presented by other kings for the aggrandisement, glory and dignity of the holy place.

2Ma 5:17 Holding so high an opinion of himself, Antiochus did not realise that the Lord was temporarily angry at the sins of the inhabitants of the city, hence his unconcern for the holy place.

2Ma 5:18 Had they not been entangled in many sins, Antiochus too, like Heliodorus when King Seleucus sent him to inspect the Treasury, would have been flogged the moment he arrived and checked in his presumption.

2Ma 5:19 The Lord, however, had not chosen the people for the sake of the holy place, but the holy place for the sake of the people;

2Ma 5:20 and so the holy place itself, having shared the disasters that befell the people, in due course also shared their good fortune; having been abandoned by the Almighty in his anger, once the great Sovereign was placated it was reinstated in all its glory.

2Ma 5:21 Antiochus, having extracted eighteen hundred talents from the Temple, hurried back to Antioch; in his pride he would have undertaken to make the dry land navigable and the sea passable on foot, so high his arrogance soared.

2Ma 5:22 But he left officials behind to plague the nation: in Jerusalem, Philip, a Phrygian by race, and by nature more barbarous than the man who appointed him;

2Ma 5:23 on Mount Gerizim, Andronicus; and, besides these, Menelaus, who lorded it over his countrymen worse than all the others. In his rooted hostility to the Jews, 2Ma 5:24 the king also sent the Mysarch Apollonius at the head of an army twenty-two thousand strong, with orders to put to death all men in their prime and to sell the women and children.

2Ma 5:25 Arriving in Jerusalem and posing as a man of peace, this man waited until the holy day of the Sabbath and then, taking advantage of the Jews as they rested from work, ordered his men to parade fully armed;

2Ma 5:26 all those who came out to watch he put to the sword; then, rushing into the city with his armed troops, he cut down an immense number of people.

2Ma 5:27 Judas, also known as Maccabaeus, however, with about nine others, withdrew into the desert. He lived like the wild animals in the hills with his companions, eating nothing but wild plants to avoid contracting defilement.

2Ma 6:1 Shortly afterwards, the king sent Gerontes the Athenian to force the Jews to violate their ancestral customs and live no longer by the laws of God;

2Ma 6:2 and to profane the Temple in Jerusalem and dedicate it to Olympian Zeus, and the one on Mount Gerizim to Zeus, Patron of Strangers, as the inhabitants of the latter place had requested.

2Ma 6:3 The advent of these evils was painfully hard for all the people to bear.

2Ma 6:4 The Temple was filled with revelling and debauchery by the gentiles, who took their pleasure with prostitutes and had intercourse with women in the sacred precincts, introducing other indecencies besides.

2Ma 6:5 The altar of sacrifice was loaded with victims proscribed by the law as profane.

2Ma 6:6 No one might either keep the Sabbath or observe the traditional feasts, or so much as admit to being a Jew.

2Ma 6:7 People were driven by harsh compulsion to take part in the monthly ritual meal commemorating the king's birthday; and when a feast of Dionysus occurred, they were forced to wear ivy wreaths and walk in the Dionysiac procession.

2Ma 6:8 A decree was issued at the instance of the people of Ptolemais for the neighbouring Greek cities, enforcing the same conduct on the Jews there, obliging them to share in the sacrificial meals,

2Ma 6:9 and ordering the execution of those who would not voluntarily conform to Greek customs. So it became clear that disaster was imminent.

2Ma 6:10 For example, two women were charged with having circumcised their children. They were paraded publicly round the town, with their babies hung at their breasts, and then hurled over the city wall.

2Ma 6:11 Other people, who had assembled in some near-by caves to keep the seventh day without attracting attention, were denounced to Philip, and were then all burnt to death together, since their consciences would not allow them to defend themselves, out of respect for the holiness of the day.

2Ma 6:12 Now, I urge anyone who may read this book not to be dismayed at these calamities, but to reflect that such visitations are intended not to destroy our race but to discipline it.

2Ma 6:13 Indeed, when evil-doers are not left for long to their own devices but incur swift retribution, it is a sign of great benevolence.

2Ma 6:14 In the case of other nations, the Master waits patiently for them to attain the full measure of their sins before he punishes them, but with us he has decided to deal differently, 2Ma 6:15 rather than have to punish us later, when our sins come to full measure.

2Ma 6:16 And so he never entirely withdraws his mercy from us; he may discipline us by some disaster, but he does not desert his own people.

2Ma 6:17 Let this be said simply by way of reminder; we must return to our story without more ado.

2Ma 6:18 Eleazar, one of the foremost teachers of the Law, a man already advanced in years and of most noble appearance, had his mouth forced open, to make him eat a piece of pork.

2Ma 6:19 But he, resolving to die with honour rather than to live disgraced, walked of his own accord to the torture of the wheel,

2Ma 6:20 having spat the stuff out, as befits those with the courage to reject what is not lawful to taste, rather than live.

2Ma 6:21 The people supervising the ritual meal, forbidden by the Law, because of the length of time for which they had known him, took him aside and privately urged him to have meat brought of a kind he could properly use, prepared by himself, and only pretend to eat the portions of sacrificial meat as prescribed by the king;

2Ma 6:22 this action would enable him to escape death, by availing himself of an act of kindness prompted by their long friendship.

2Ma 6:23 But having taken a noble decision worthy of his years and the dignity of his great age and the well-earned distinction of his grey hairs, worthy too of his impeccable conduct from boyhood, and above all of the holy legislation established by God himself, he answered accordingly, telling them to send him at once to Hades.

2Ma 6:24 'Pretence', he said, 'does not befit our time of life; many young people would suppose that Eleazar at the age of ninety had conformed to the foreigners' way of life

2Ma 6:25 and, because I had played this part for the sake of a paltry brief spell of life, might themselves be led astray on my account; I should only bring defilement and disgrace on my old age.'

2Ma 6:26 Even though for the moment I avoid execution by man, I can never, living or dead, elude the grasp of the Almighty.

2Ma 6:27 Therefore if I am man enough to quit this life here and now, I shall prove myself worthy of my old age,

2Ma 6:28 and I shall have left the young a noble example of how to make a good death, eagerly and generously, for the venerable and holy laws.' So saying, he walked straight to the wheel, 2Ma 6:29 while those who were escorting him, recently so well disposed towards him, turned against him after this declaration, which they regarded as sheer madness.

2Ma 6:30 He for his part, just before he died under the blows, gave a sigh and said, 'The Lord whose knowledge is holy sees clearly that, though I might have escaped death, from awe of him I gladly endure these agonies of body under the lash, and that in my soul I am glad to suffer.'

2Ma 6:31 This was how he died, leaving his death as an example of nobility and a record of virtue not only for the young but for the greater part of the nation.

2Ma 7:1 It also happened that seven brothers were arrested with their mother. The king tried to force them to taste some pork, which the Law forbids, by torturing them with whips and scourges.

2Ma 7:2 One of them, acting as spokesman for the others, said, 'What are you trying to find out from us? We are prepared to die rather than break the laws of our ancestors.'

2Ma 7:3 The king, in a fury, ordered pans and cauldrons to be heated over a fire.

2Ma 7:4 As soon as these were red-hot, he commanded that their spokesman should have his tongue cut out, his head scalped and his extremities cut off, while the other brothers and his mother looked on.

2Ma 7:5 When he had been rendered completely helpless, the king gave orders for him to be brought, still breathing, to the fire and fried alive in a pan. As the smoke from the pan drifted about, his mother and the rest encouraged one another to die nobly, with such words as these,

2Ma 7:6 'The Lord God is watching and certainly feels sorry for us, as Moses declared in his song, which clearly states that "he will take pity on his servants."

2Ma 7:7 When the first had left the world in this way, they brought the second forward to be tortured. After stripping the skin from his head, hair and all, they asked him, 'Will you eat some pork, before your body is tortured limb by limb?'

2Ma 7:8 Replying in his ancestral tongue, he said, 'No!' So he too was put to the torture in his turn.

2Ma 7:9 With his last breath he exclaimed, 'Cruel brute, you may discharge us from this present life, but the King of the world will raise us up, since we die for his laws, to live again for ever.'

2Ma 7:10 After him, they tortured the third, who on being asked for his tongue promptly thrust it out and boldly held out his hands,

2Ma 7:11 courageously saying, 'Heaven gave me these limbs; for the sake of his laws I have no concern for them; from him I hope to receive them again.'

2Ma 7:12 The king and his attendants were astounded at the young man's courage and his utter indifference to suffering.

2Ma 7:13 When this one was dead they subjected the fourth to the same torments and tortures.

2Ma 7:14 When he neared his end he cried, 'Ours is the better choice, to meet death at men's hands, yet relying on God's promise that we shall be raised up by him; whereas for you there can be no resurrection to new life.'

2Ma 7:15 Next they brought forward the fifth and began torturing him.

2Ma 7:16 But he looked at the king and said, 'You have power over human beings, mortal as you are, and can act as you please. But do not think that our race has been deserted by God.'

2Ma 7:17 Only wait, and you will see in your turn how his mighty power will torment you and your descendants.'

2Ma 7:18 After him, they led out the sixth, and his dying words were these, 'Do not delude yourself: we are suffering like this through our own fault, having sinned against our own God; hence, appalling things have befallen us-

2Ma 7:19 but do not think you yourself will go unpunished for attempting to make war on God.'

2Ma 7:20 But the mother was especially admirable and worthy of honourable remembrance, for she watched the death of seven sons in the course of a single day, and bravely endured it because of her hopes in the Lord.

2Ma 7:21 Indeed she encouraged each of them in their ancestral tongue; filled with noble conviction, she reinforced her womanly argument with manly courage, saying to them,

2Ma 7:22 'I do not know how you appeared in my womb; it was not I who endowed you with breath and life, I had not the shaping of your every part.'

2Ma 7:23 And hence, the Creator of the world, who made everyone and ordained the origin of all things, will in his mercy give you back breath and life, since for the sake of his laws you have no concern for yourselves.'

2Ma 7:24 Antiochus thought he was being ridiculed, suspecting insult in the tone of her voice; and as the youngest was still alive he appealed to him not with mere words but with promises on oath to make him both rich and happy if he would abandon the traditions of his ancestors; he would make him his Friend and entrust him with public office.

2Ma 7:25 The young man took no notice at all, and so the king then appealed to the mother, urging her to advise the youth to save his life.

2Ma 7:26 After a great deal of urging on his part she agreed to try persuasion on her son.

2Ma 7:27 Bending over him, she fooled the cruel tyrant with these words, uttered in their ancestral tongue, 'My son, have pity on me; I carried you nine months in my womb and suckled you three years, fed you and reared you to the age you are now, and provided for you.'

2Ma 7:28 I implore you, my child, look at the earth and sky and everything in them, and consider how God made them out of what did not exist, and that human beings come into being in the same way.'

2Ma 7:29 Do not fear this executioner, but prove yourself worthy of your brothers and accept death, so that I may receive you back with them in the day of mercy.'

2Ma 7:30 She had hardly finished, when the young man said, 'What are you all waiting for? I will not comply with the king's ordinance; I obey the ordinance of the Law given to our ancestors through Moses.'

2Ma 7:31 As for you, who have contrived every kind of evil against the Hebrews, you will certainly not escape the hands of God.

2Ma 7:32 We are suffering for our own sins;

2Ma 7:33 and if, to punish and discipline us, our living Lord is briefly angry with us, he will be reconciled with us in due course.

2Ma 7:34 But you, unholy wretch and wickedest of villains, what cause have you for pride, nourishing vain hopes and raising your hand against his servants? -

2Ma 7:35 for you have not yet escaped the judgement of God the almighty, the all-seeing.

2Ma 7:36 Our brothers, having endured brief pain, for the sake of ever-flowing life have died for the covenant of God, while you, by God's judgement, will have to pay the just penalty for your arrogance.

2Ma 7:37 I too, like my brothers, surrender my body and life for the laws of my ancestors, begging God quickly to take pity on our nation, and by trials and afflictions to bring you to confess that he alone is God,

2Ma 7:38 so that with my brothers and myself there may be an end to the wrath of the Almighty, rightly let loose on our whole nation.'

2Ma 7:39 The king fell into a rage and treated this one more cruelly than the others, for he was himself smarting from the young man's scorn.

2Ma 7:40 And so the last brother met his end undefiled and with perfect trust in the Lord.

2Ma 7:41 The mother was the last to die, after her sons.

2Ma 7:42 But let this be sufficient account of the ritual meals and monstrous tortures.

2Ma 8:1 Judas, otherwise known as Maccabaeus, and his companions made their way secretly among the villages, rallying their fellow-countrymen; they recruited those who remained loyal to Judaism and assembled about six thousand.

2Ma 8:2 They called on the Lord to have regard for the people oppressed on all sides, to take pity on the Temple profaned by the godless,

2Ma 8:3 to have mercy on the city now being destroyed and levelled to the ground, to hear the blood of the victims that cried aloud to him,

2Ma 8:4 to remember too the criminal slaughter of innocent babies and to avenge the blasphemies perpetrated against his name.

2Ma 8:5 As soon as Maccabaeus had an organised force, he at once proved invincible to the foreigners, the Lord's anger having turned into compassion.

2Ma 8:6 Making surprise attacks on towns and villages, he fired them; he captured favourable positions and inflicted very heavy losses on the enemy,

2Ma 8:7 generally availing himself of the cover of night for such enterprises. The fame of his valour spread far and wide.

2Ma 8:8 When Philip saw Judas was making steady progress and winning more and more frequent successes, he wrote to Ptolemy, the general officer commanding Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, asking for reinforcements in the royal interest.

2Ma 8:9 Ptolemy chose Nicanor son of Patroclus, one of the king's First Friends, and sent him without delay at the head of an international force of at least twenty thousand men to exterminate the entire Jewish race. As his associate he appointed Gorgias, a professional general of wide military experience.

2Ma 8:10 Nicanor for his part proposed, by the sale of Jewish prisoners of war, to raise the two thousand talents of tribute money owed by the king to the Romans.

2Ma 8:11 He lost no time in sending the seaboard towns an invitation to come and buy Jewish manpower, promising delivery of ninety head for one talent; but he did not reckon on the judgement from the Almighty that was soon to overtake him.

2Ma 8:12 When news reached Judas of Nicanor's advance, he warned his men of the enemy's approach, 2Ma 8:13 whereupon the cowardly ones and those who lacked confidence in the justice of God took to their heels and ran away.

2Ma 8:14 The rest sold all their remaining possessions, at the same time praying the Lord to deliver them from the godless Nicanor, who had sold them even in advance of any encounter-

2Ma 8:15 if not for their own sakes, then at least out of consideration for the covenants made with their ancestors, and because they themselves bore his sacred and majestic name.

2Ma 8:16 Maccabaeus marshalled his men, who numbered about six thousand, and exhorted them not to be dismayed at the enemy or discouraged at the vast horde of gentiles wickedly advancing against them, but to fight bravely,

2Ma 8:17 keeping before their eyes the outrage committed by them against the holy place and the infamous and scornful treatment inflicted on the city, not to mention the destruction of their traditional way of life.

2Ma 8:18 'They may put their trust in their weapons and their exploits,' he said, 'but our confidence is in almighty God, who is able with a single nod to overthrow both those marching on us and the whole world with them.'

2Ma 8:19 He reminded them of the occasions on which their ancestors had received help: that time when, under

Sennacherib, a hundred and eighty-five thousand men had perished;

2Ma 8:20 that time in Babylonia when in the battle with the Galatians the Jewish combatants numbered only eight thousand, with four thousand Macedonians, yet when the Macedonians were hard pressed, the eight thousand had destroyed a hundred and twenty thousand, thanks to the help they had received from Heaven, and had taken great booty as a result.

2Ma 8:21 Having so roused their courage by these words that they were ready to die for the laws and their country, he then divided his army into four,

2Ma 8:22 putting his brothers, Simon, Joseph and Jonathan in command of one division each, and assigning them fifteen hundred men apiece.

2Ma 8:23 Next, he ordered Esdrias to read the Holy Book aloud and gave them their watchword 'Help from God'. Then, putting himself at the head of the first division, he attacked Nicanor.

2Ma 8:24 With the Almighty for their ally they slaughtered over nine thousand of the enemy, wounded and crippled the greater part of Nicanor's army and put them all to flight.

2Ma 8:25 The money of their prospective purchasers fell into their hands. After pursuing them for a good while, they turned back, since time was pressing:

2Ma 8:26 it was the eve of the Sabbath, and for that reason they did not prolong their pursuit.

2Ma 8:27 They collected the enemy's weapons and stripped them of their spoils, and because of the Sabbath even more heartily blessed and praised the Lord, who had saved them and who had chosen that day for the first manifestation of his compassion.

2Ma 8:28 When the Sabbath was over, they distributed some of the booty among the victims of the persecution and the widows and orphans; the rest they divided among themselves and their children.

2Ma 8:29 They then joined in public supplication, imploring the merciful Lord to be fully reconciled with his servants.

2Ma 8:30 They also challenged the forces of Timotheus and Bacchides and destroyed over twenty thousand of them, gaining possession of several high fortresses. They divided their enormous booty into two equal shares, one for themselves, the other for the victims of the persecution and the orphans and widows, not forgetting the aged.

2Ma 8:31 They carefully collected the enemy's weapons and stored them in suitable places. The rest of the spoils they took to Jerusalem.

2Ma 8:32 They killed the tribal chieftain on Timotheus' staff, an extremely wicked man who had done great harm to the Jews.

2Ma 8:33 In the course of their victory celebrations in Jerusalem, they burned the men who had fired the Holy Gates; with Callisthenes they had taken refuge in one small house; so these received a fitting reward for their sacrilege.

2Ma 8:34 The triple-dyed scoundrel Nicanor, who had brought the thousand merchants to buy the Jews,

2Ma 8:35 finding himself with the Lord's help humbled by men he had himself reckoned as of very little account, stripped off his robes of state, and made his way across country unaccompanied, like a runaway slave, reaching Antioch by a singular stroke of fortune, since his army had been destroyed.

2Ma 8:36 Thus the man who had promised the Romans to make good their tribute money by selling the prisoners from Jerusalem, bore witness that the Jews had a defender and that they were in consequence invulnerable, since they followed the laws which that defender had ordained.

2Ma 9:1 At about the same time, Antiochus was beating a disorderly retreat from Persia.

2Ma 9:2 He had entered the city called Persepolis, planning to rob the temple and occupy the city; but the population at once sprang to arms to defend themselves, with the result that Antiochus was routed by the inhabitants and forced to beat a humiliating retreat.

2Ma 9:3 On his arrival in Ecbatana he learned what had happened to Nicanor and to Timotheus' forces.

2Ma 9:4 Flying into a passion, he resolved to make the Jews pay for the disgrace inflicted by those who had routed him, and with this in mind he ordered his charioteer to drive without stopping and get the journey over. But the sentence of Heaven was already hanging over him. In his pride, he had said, 'When I reach Jerusalem, I shall turn it into a mass grave for the Jews.'

2Ma 9:5 But the all-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, struck him with an incurable and unseen complaint. The words were hardly out of his mouth when he was seized with an incurable pain in his bowels and with excruciating internal torture;

2Ma 9:6 and this was only right, since he had inflicted many barbaric tortures on the bowels of others.

2Ma 9:7 Even so, he in no way diminished his arrogance; still bursting with pride, breathing fire in his wrath against the Jews, he was in the act of ordering an even keener pace when the chariot gave a sudden lurch and out he fell and, in this serious fall, was dragged along, every joint of his body wrenched out of place.

2Ma 9:8 He who only a little while before had thought in his superhuman boastfulness he could command the waves of the sea, he who had imagined he could weigh mountain peaks in a balance, found himself flat on the ground and then being carried in a litter, a visible demonstration to all of the power of God, 2Ma 9:9 in that the very eyes of this godless man teemed with worms and his flesh rotted away while he lingered on in agonising pain, and the stench of his decay sickened the whole army.

2Ma 9:10 A short while before, he had thought to grasp the stars of heaven; now no one could bring himself to act as his bearer, for the stench was intolerable.
2Ma 9:11 Then and there, as a consequence, in his shattered state, he began to shed his excessive pride and come to his senses under the divine lash, spasms of pain overtaking him.
2Ma 9:12 His stench being unbearable even to himself, he exclaimed, 'It is right to submit to God; no mortal should aspire to equality with the Godhead.'
2Ma 9:13 The wretch began to pray to the Master, who would never take pity on him now, declaring
2Ma 9:14 that the holy city, towards which he had been speeding to rase it to the ground and turn it into a mass grave, should be declared free;
2Ma 9:15 as for the Jews, whom he had considered as not even worth burying, so much carrion to be thrown out with their children for birds and beasts to prey on, he would give them all equal rights with the Athenians;
2Ma 9:16 the holy Temple which he had once plundered he would now adorn with the finest offerings; he would restore all the sacred vessels many times over; he would defray from his personal revenue the expenses incurred for the sacrifices;
2Ma 9:17 and, to crown all, he would himself turn Jew and visit every inhabited place, proclaiming the power of God.
2Ma 9:18 Finding no respite at all from his suffering, God's just sentence having overtaken him, he abandoned all hope for himself and wrote the Jews the letter transcribed below, which takes the form of an appeal in these terms:
2Ma 9:19 'To the excellent Jews, to the citizens, Antiochus, king and commander-in-chief, sends hearty greetings, wishing them all health and prosperity.
2Ma 9:20 'If you and your children are well and your affairs as you would wish, we are profoundly thankful.
2Ma 9:21 For my part, I cherish affectionate memories of you. 'On my return from the country of Persia I fell seriously ill, and thought it necessary to make provision for the common security of all.
2Ma 9:22 Not that I despair of my condition, for I have great hope of shaking off the malady,
2Ma 9:23 but considering how my father, whenever he was making an expedition into the uplands, would designate his successor
2Ma 9:24 so that, in case of any unforeseen event or disquieting rumour, the people of the provinces might know to whom he had left the conduct of affairs, and thus remain undisturbed;
2Ma 9:25 furthermore, being well aware that the sovereigns on our frontiers and the neighbours of our realm are watching for opportunities and waiting to see what will happen, I have designated as king my son Antiochus, whom I have more than once entrusted and commended to most of you when I was setting out for the upland satrapies; a transcript of my letter to him is appended hereto.
2Ma 9:26 I therefore urge and require you, being mindful of the benefits both public and personal received from me, that you each persist in those sentiments of goodwill that you harbour towards me.
2Ma 9:27 I am confident that he will pursue my own policy with benevolence and humanity, and will prove accommodating to your interests.'
2Ma 9:28 And so this murderer and blasphemer, having endured sufferings as terrible as those which he had made others endure, met his pitiable fate, and ended his life in the mountains far from his home.
2Ma 9:29 His comrade Philip brought back his body, and then, fearing Antiochus' son, withdrew to Egypt, to the court of Ptolemy Philometor.
2Ma 10:1 Maccabaeus and his companions, under the Lord's guidance, restored the Temple and the city,
2Ma 10:2 and pulled down the altars erected by the foreigners in the market place, as well as the shrines.
2Ma 10:3 They purified the sanctuary and built another altar; then, striking fire from flints and using this fire, they offered the first sacrifice for two years, burning incense, lighting the lamps and setting out the loaves.
2Ma 10:4 When they had done this, prostrating themselves on the ground, they implored the Lord never again to let them fall into such adversity, but if they should ever sin, to correct them with moderation and not to deliver them over to blasphemous and barbarous nations.
2Ma 10:5 This day of the purification of the Temple fell on the very day on which the Temple had been profaned by the foreigners, the twenty-fifth of the same month, Chislev.
2Ma 10:6 They kept eight festal days with rejoicing, in the manner of the feast of Shelters, remembering how, not long before at the time of the feast of Shelters, they had been living in the mountains and caverns like wild beasts.
2Ma 10:7 Then, carrying thyrsuses, leafy boughs and palms, they offered hymns to him who had brought the cleansing of his own holy place to a happy outcome.
2Ma 10:8 They also decreed by public edict, ratified by vote, that the whole Jewish nation should celebrate those same days every year.

2Ma 10:9 Such were the circumstances attending the death of Antiochus styled Epiphanes.

2Ma 10:10 Our task now is to unfold the history of Antiochus Eupator, son of that godless man, and briefly to relate the evil effects of the wars.

2Ma 10:11 On coming to the throne, this prince put at the head of affairs a certain Lysias, the general officer commanding Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, 2Ma 10:12 whereas Ptolemy, known as Macron, and the first person to govern the Jews justly, had done his best to govern them peacefully to make up for the wrongs inflicted on them in the past.

2Ma 10:13 Denounced, in consequence, to Eupator by the Friends of the King, he heard himself called traitor at every turn: for having abandoned Cyprus, which had been entrusted to him by Philometer, for having gone over to Antiochus Epiphanes, and for having shed no lustre on his illustrious office: he committed suicide by poisoning himself.

2Ma 10:14 Gorgias now became general of the area; he maintained a force of mercenaries and a continual state of war with the Jews.

2Ma 10:15 At the same time, the Idumaeans, who controlled important fortresses, were harassing the Jews, welcoming outlaws from Jerusalem and endeavouring to maintain a state of war.

2Ma 10:16 Maccabaeus and his men, after making public supplication to God, entreating him to support them, began operations against the Idumaean fortresses.

2Ma 10:17 Vigorously pressing home their attack, they seized possession of these vantage points, beating off all who fought on the ramparts; they slaughtered all who fell into their hands, accounting for no fewer than twenty thousand.

2Ma 10:18 Nine thousand at least took refuge in two exceptionally strong towers with everything they needed to withstand a siege,

2Ma 10:19 whereupon, Maccabaeus left Simon and Joseph, with Zacchaeus and his forces, in sufficient numbers to besiege them, and himself went off to other places requiring his attention.

2Ma 10:20 But Simon's men were greedy for money and allowed themselves to be bribed by some of the men in the towers; accepting seventy thousand drachmas, they let a number of them escape.

2Ma 10:21 When Maccabaeus was told what had happened, he summoned the people's commanders and accused the offenders of having sold their brothers for money by releasing their enemies to fight them.

2Ma 10:22 Having executed them as traitors, he at once proceeded to capture both towers.

2Ma 10:23 Successful in all that he undertook by force of arms, in these two fortresses he slaughtered more than twenty thousand men.

2Ma 10:24 Timotheus, who had been beaten by the Jews once before, now assembled an enormous force of mercenaries, mustering cavalry from Asia in considerable numbers, and soon appeared in Judaea, expecting to conquer it by force of arms.

2Ma 10:25 At his approach, Maccabaeus and his men made their supplications to God, sprinkling earth on their heads and putting sackcloth round their waists.

2Ma 10:26 Prostrating themselves on the terrace before the altar, they begged him to support them and to show himself the enemy of their enemies, the adversary of their adversaries, as the Law clearly states.

2Ma 10:27 After these prayers, they armed themselves and advanced a fair distance from the city, halting when they were close to the enemy.

2Ma 10:28 As the first light of dawn began to spread, the two sides joined battle, the one having as their pledge of success and victory not only their own valour but their recourse to the Lord, the other making their own ardour their mainstay in the fight.

2Ma 10:29 When the battle was at its height, the enemy saw five magnificent men appear from heaven on horses with golden bridles and put themselves at the head of the Jews;

2Ma 10:30 surrounding Maccabaeus and screening him with their own armour, they kept him unscathed, while they rained arrows and thunderbolts on the enemy until, blinded and confused, they scattered in complete disorder.

2Ma 10:31 Twenty thousand five hundred infantry and six hundred cavalry were slaughtered.

2Ma 10:32 Timotheus himself fled to a strongly guarded citadel called Gezer, where Chaereas was in command.

2Ma 10:33 For four days Maccabaeus and his men eagerly besieged the fortress,

2Ma 10:34 while the defenders, confident in the security of the place, hurled fearful blasphemies and godless insults at them.

2Ma 10:35 At daybreak on the fifth day, twenty young men of Maccabaeus' forces, fired with indignation at the blasphemies, manfully assaulted the wall, with wild courage cutting down everyone they encountered.

2Ma 10:36 Others, in a similar scaling operation, took the defenders in the rear, and set fire to the towers, lighting pyres on which they burned the blasphemers alive. The first, meanwhile, breaking open the gates, let the rest of the army in and, at their head, captured the town.

2Ma 10:37 Timotheus had hidden in a storage-well, but they killed him, with his brother Chaereas, and Apollphanes.

2Ma 10:38 When all this was over, with hymns and thanksgiving they blessed the Lord, who had shown such great kindness to Israel and given them the victory.

2Ma 11:1 Almost immediately afterwards, Lysias, the king's tutor and cousin, chief minister of the realm, much disturbed at the turn of events,

2Ma 11:2 mustered about eighty thousand foot soldiers and his entire cavalry and advanced against the Jews, intending to make the city a place for Greeks to live in,

2Ma 11:3 to levy a tax on the Temple as on other national shrines, and to put the office of high priest up for sale every year;

2Ma 11:4 he took no account at all of the power of God, being sublimely confident in his tens of thousands of infantrymen, his thousands of cavalry, and his eighty elephants.

2Ma 11:5 Invading Judaea, he approached Beth-Zur, a fortified position about twenty miles from Jerusalem, and began to subject it to strong pressure.

2Ma 11:6 When Maccabaeus and his men learned that Lysias was besieging the fortresses, they and the populace with them begged the Lord with lamentation and tears to send a good angel to save Israel.

2Ma 11:7 Maccabaeus himself was the first to take up his weapons, and he urged the rest to risk their lives with him in support of their brothers; so they sallied out resolutely, as one man.

2Ma 11:8 They were still near Jerusalem when a rider attired in white appeared at their head, brandishing golden weapons.

2Ma 11:9 With one accord they all blessed the God of mercy, and found themselves filled with such courage that they were ready to lay low not men only but the fiercest beasts and walls of iron.

2Ma 11:10 They advanced in battle order with the aid of their celestial ally, the Lord having had mercy on them.

2Ma 11:11 Charging like lions on the enemy, they laid low eleven thousand of the infantry and sixteen hundred horsemen, and routed all the rest.

2Ma 11:12 Of those, the majority got away, wounded and weaponless. Lysias himself escaped only by ignominious flight.

2Ma 11:13 Now Lysias was not lacking in intelligence and, as he reflected on the reverse he had just suffered, he realised that the Hebrews were invincible because the mighty God fought for them. He therefore sent them a delegation 2Ma 11:14 to persuade them to accept reasonable terms all round, and promised to compel the king to become their friend.

2Ma 11:15 Maccabaeus, thinking only of the common good, agreed to all that Lysias proposed, and whatever Maccabaeus submitted to Lysias in writing concerning the Jews was granted by the king.

2Ma 11:16 Here is the text of the letter Lysias wrote to the Jews: 'Lysias to the Jewish people, greetings.

2Ma 11:17 'John and Absalom, your envoys, have delivered to me the communication transcribed below, requesting me to approve its provisions.

2Ma 11:18 Anything requiring the king's attention I have put before him; whatever was possible, I have granted.

2Ma 11:19 Provided you maintain your goodwill towards the interests of the State, I shall do my best in the future to promote your well-being.

2Ma 11:20 As regards the details, I have given orders for your envoys and my own officials to discuss these with you.

2Ma 11:21 May you prosper. 'The twenty-fourth day of Dioscorus, in the year one hundred and forty-eight.'

2Ma 11:22 The king's letter ran as follows: 'King Antiochus to his brother Lysias, greetings.

2Ma 11:23 'Now that our father has taken his place among the gods, our will is that the subjects of the realm be left undisturbed to attend to their own affairs.

2Ma 11:24 We understand that the Jews do not approve our father's policy, the adoption of Greek customs, but prefer their own way of life and ask to be allowed to observe their own laws.

2Ma 11:25 Accordingly, since we intend this people to be free from vexation like any other, our ruling is that the Temple be restored to them and that they conduct their affairs according to the customs of their ancestors.

2Ma 11:26 'It will therefore be your concern to send them a mission of friendship, so that on learning our policy they may have confidence and happily go about their business.'

2Ma 11:27 The king's letter to the Jewish nation was in these terms: 'King Antiochus to the Jewish Senate and the rest of the Jews, greetings.

2Ma 11:28 'If you are well, that is as we would wish; we ourselves are in good health.

2Ma 11:29 'Menelaus informs us that you wish to return home and attend to your own affairs.

2Ma 11:30 Accordingly, all those who return before the thirtieth day of Xanthicus may rest assured that they have nothing to fear.

2Ma 11:31 The Jews may make use of their own kind of food and their own laws as formerly, and none of them is to be molested in any way for any unwitting offences.

2Ma 11:32 I am in fact sending Menelaus to set your minds at rest.

2Ma 11:33 Farewell. 'The fifteenth day of Xanthicus in the year one hundred and forty-eight.'

2Ma 11:34 The Romans also sent the Jews a letter, which read as follows: 'Quintus Memmius, Titus Manilius, Manius Sergius, legates of the Romans, to the people of the Jews, greetings.

2Ma 11:35 'Whatever Lysias, the king's Cousin, has granted you we also approve.

2Ma 11:36 As for the matters he decided to refer to the king, consider them carefully and send someone without delay, if we are to interpret them to your advantage, because we are leaving for Antioch.

2Ma 11:37 Lose no time, therefore, in sending us those who can tell us what your intentions are.

2Ma 11:38 Farewell. 'The fifteenth day of Dioscorus in the year one hundred and forty-eight.'

2Ma 12:1 These agreements once concluded, Lysias returned to the king and the Jews went back to their farming.

2Ma 12:2 Among the local generals, Timotheus and Apollonius son of Gennaeus, as also Hieronymus and Demophon, and Nicanor the Cypriarch as well, would not allow the Jews to live in peace and quiet.

2Ma 12:3 The people of Joppa committed a particularly wicked crime: they invited the Jews living among them to go aboard some boats they had lying ready, taking their wives and children. There was no hint of any intention to harm them;

2Ma 12:4 there had been a public vote by the citizens, and the Jews accepted, as well they might, being peaceable people with no reason to suspect anything. But once out in the open sea they were all sent to the bottom, a company of at least two hundred.

2Ma 12:5 When Judas heard of the cruel fate of his countrymen, he issued his orders to his men

2Ma 12:6 and after invoking God, the just judge, he attacked his brothers' murderers. Under cover of dark he set fire to the port, burned the boats and put to the sword everyone who had taken refuge there.

2Ma 12:7 As the town gates were closed, he withdrew, intending to come back and wipe out the whole community of Joppa.

2Ma 12:8 But hearing that the people of Jamnia were planning to treat their resident Jews in the same way,

2Ma 12:9 he made a night attack on the Jamnites and fired the port with its fleet; the glow of the flames was seen as far off as Jerusalem, thirty miles away.

2Ma 12:10 When they had left the town barely a mile behind them in their advance on Timotheus, Judas was attacked by an Arab force of at least five thousand foot soldiers, with five hundred cavalry.

2Ma 12:11 A fierce engagement followed, and with God's help Judas' men won the day; the defeated nomads begged Judas to offer them the right hand of friendship, and promised to surrender their herds and make themselves generally useful to him.

2Ma 12:12 Realising that they might indeed prove valuable in many ways, Judas consented to make peace with them and after an exchange of pledges the Arabs withdrew to their tents.

2Ma 12:13 Judas also attacked a certain fortified town, closed by ramparts and inhabited by a medley of races; its name was Caspin.

2Ma 12:14 Confident in the strength of their walls and their stock of provisions, the besieged adopted an insolent attitude to Judas and his men, reinforcing their insults with blasphemies and profanity.

2Ma 12:15 But Judas and his men invoked the great Sovereign of the world who without battering-ram or siege-engine had overthrown Jericho in the days of Joshua; they then made a fierce assault on the wall.

2Ma 12:16 By God's will, having captured the town, they made such indescribable slaughter that the nearby lake, a quarter of a mile across, seemed filled to overflowing with blood.

2Ma 12:17 Ninety-five miles further on from there, they reached the Charax, in the country of Jews known as Tubians.

2Ma 12:18 They did not find Timotheus himself in that neighbourhood; he had already left the district, having achieved nothing apart from leaving a very strong garrison at one point.

2Ma 12:19 Dositheus and Sosipater, two of the Maccabaean generals, marched out and destroyed the force Timotheus had left behind in the fortress, amounting to more than ten thousand men.

2Ma 12:20 Maccabaeus himself divided his army into cohorts to which he assigned commanders, and then hurried in pursuit of Timotheus, whose troops numbered one hundred and twenty thousand infantry and two thousand five hundred cavalry.

2Ma 12:21 Timotheus' first move on learning of Judas' advance was to send away the women and children and the rest of the baggage train to the place called the Carnaim, since it was an impregnable position, difficult of access owing to the narrowness of all the approaches.

2Ma 12:22 Judas' cohort came into sight first. The enemy, seized with fright and panic-stricken by the manifestation of the All-seeing, began to flee, one running this way, one running that, often wounding one another in consequence and running on the points of one another's swords.

2Ma 12:23 Judas pursued them with a will, cutting the sinners to pieces and killing something like thirty thousand men.

2Ma 12:24 Timotheus himself, having fallen into the hands of Dositheus and Sosipater and their men, very craftily pleaded with them to let him go with his life, on the grounds that he had the relatives and even the brothers of many of them in his power, and that these could otherwise expect short shrift.

2Ma 12:25 When at long last he convinced them that he would honour his promise and return these people safe and sound, they let him go for the sake of saving their brothers.

2Ma 12:26 Reaching the Carnaim and the Atargateion, Judas slaughtered twenty-five thousand men.

2Ma 12:27 Having defeated and destroyed them, he led his army against Ephron, a fortified town, where Lysanias was living. Stalwart young men drawn up outside the walls offered vigorous resistance, while inside there were quantities of war-engines and missiles in reserve.

2Ma 12:28 But the Jews, having invoked the Sovereign who by his power shatters enemies' defences, gained control of the town and cut down nearly twenty-five thousand of the people inside.

2Ma 12:29 Moving off from there, they pressed on to Scythopolis,

2Ma 12:30 seventy-five miles from Jerusalem. But as the Jews who had settled there assured Judas that the people of Scythopolis had always treated them well and had been particularly kind to them when times were at their worst, 2Ma 12:31 he and his men thanked them and urged them to extend the same friendship to his race in the future. They reached Jerusalem shortly before the feast of Weeks.

2Ma 12:32 After Pentecost, as it is called, they marched against Gorgias, the general commanding Idumaea.

2Ma 12:33 He came out at the head of three thousand infantry and four hundred cavalry;

2Ma 12:34 in the course of the ensuing battle a few Jews lost their lives.

2Ma 12:35 A man called Dositheus, a horseman of the Tubian contingent, a valiant man, overpowered Gorgias and, gripping him by the cloak, was forcibly dragging him along, intending to take the accursed man alive, but one of the Thracian cavalry, hurling himself on Dositheus, slashed his shoulder, and Gorgias escaped to Marisa.

2Ma 12:36 Meanwhile, since Esdras and his men had been fighting for a long time and were exhausted, Judas called on the Lord to show himself their ally and leader in battle.

2Ma 12:37 Then, chanting the battle cry and hymns at the top of his voice in his ancestral tongue, by a surprise attack he routed Gorgias' troops.

2Ma 12:38 Judas then rallied his army and moved on to the town of Adullam where, as it was the seventh day of the week, they purified themselves according to custom and kept the Sabbath.

2Ma 12:39 Next day, they came to find Judas (since the necessity was by now urgent) to have the bodies of the fallen taken up and laid to rest among their relatives in their ancestral tombs.

2Ma 12:40 But when they found on each of the dead men, under their tunics, objects dedicated to the idols of Jamnia, which the Law prohibits to Jews, it became clear to everyone that this was why these men had lost their lives.

2Ma 12:41 All then blessed the ways of the Lord, the upright judge who brings hidden things to light,

2Ma 12:42 and gave themselves to prayer, begging that the sin committed might be completely forgiven. Next, the valiant Judas urged the soldiers to keep themselves free from all sin, having seen with their own eyes the effects of the sin of those who had fallen;

2Ma 12:43 after this he took a collection from them individually, amounting to nearly two thousand drachmas, and sent it to Jerusalem to have a sacrifice for sin offered, an action altogether fine and noble, prompted by his belief in the resurrection.

2Ma 12:44 For had he not expected the fallen to rise again, it would have been superfluous and foolish to pray for the dead,

2Ma 12:45 whereas if he had in view the splendid recompense reserved for those who make a pious end, the thought was holy and devout. Hence, he had this expiatory sacrifice offered for the dead, so that they might be released from their sin.

2Ma 13:1 In the year one hundred and forty-nine, Judas and his men discovered that Antiochus Eupator was advancing in force against Judaea, 2Ma 13:2 and with him Lysias his tutor and chief minister; he had moreover a Greek force of one hundred and ten thousand infantry, five thousand three hundred cavalry, twenty-two elephants, and three hundred chariots fitted with scythes.

2Ma 13:3 Menelaus, too, joined them and very craftily kept urging Antiochus on, not for the welfare of his own country but in the hope of being restored to office.

2Ma 13:4 But the King of kings stirred up the anger of Antiochus against the guilty wretch, and when Lysias made it clear to the king that Menelaus was the cause of all the troubles, Antiochus gave orders for him to be taken to Beroea and there put to death by the local method of execution.

2Ma 13:5 In that place there is a tower fifty cubits high, full of ash, with an internal lip all round overhanging the ashes.

2Ma 13:6 If anyone is convicted of sacrilegious theft or of some other heinous crime, he is taken up to the top and pushed over to perish.

2Ma 13:7 In such a manner was the renegade fated to die; Menelaus had not even the privilege of burial.

2Ma 13:8 Deserved justice, this; since he had committed many sins against the altar, the fire and ashes of which were holy, it was in ashes that he met his death.

2Ma 13:9 The king, then, was advancing, his mind filled with barbarous designs, to give the Jews a demonstration of far worse things than anything that had happened under his father.

2Ma 13:10 When Judas heard of this, he ordered the people day and night to call on the Lord as never before, to come to the help of those who were in peril of being deprived of the Law, their fatherland and the holy Temple, 2Ma 13:11 and not to allow the people, just when they were beginning to breathe again, to fall into the power of ill-famed foreigners.

2Ma 13:12 When they had all, with one voice, obeyed his instructions and had made their petitions to the merciful Lord, weeping, fasting and prostrating themselves for three days continuously, Judas spoke words of encouragement and told them to keep close to him.

2Ma 13:13 After separate consultation with the elders, he resolved not to wait for the king's army to invade Judaea and take possession of the city, but to march out and settle the whole matter with the Lord's help.

2Ma 13:14 Having thus committed the outcome to the Creator of the world, and having exhorted his soldiers to fight bravely to the death for the laws, the Temple, the city, their country and their way of life, he encamped his army near Modein.

2Ma 13:15 Giving his men the password 'Victory from God', he made a night attack on the king's pavilion with a picked band of the bravest young men. Inside the camp he destroyed about two thousand, and his men cut down the largest of the elephants with its mahout;

2Ma 13:16 having eventually filled the camp with terror and confusion, they successfully withdrew,

2Ma 13:17 just as dawn was breaking. This was achieved, thanks to the protection which the Lord granted Judas.

2Ma 13:18 The king, having had a taste of Jewish daring, now tried to capture their positions by trickery.

2Ma 13:19 He advanced on Beth-Zur, a strong fortress of the Jews, but was checked, overcome and so repulsed.

2Ma 13:20 Judas supplied the garrison with what they needed,

2Ma 13:21 but Rhodocus, of the Jewish army, supplied the enemy with secret information; the man was identified, arrested, and dealt with.

2Ma 13:22 A second time, the king parleyed with the garrison of Beth-Zur; he offered and accepted pledges of friendship, retired, then attacked Judas and his men, but lost the battle.

2Ma 13:23 He was then told that Philip, left in charge of affairs, had rebelled in Antioch. He was stunned by this, opened negotiations with the Jews, came to an agreement, and swore to abide by all reasonable conditions.

Agreement reached, he offered a sacrifice, honoured the Temple, and made generous gifts to the holy place.

2Ma 13:24 He received Maccabaeus kindly and, leaving Hegemonides to exercise command from Ptolemais to the territory of the Gerrenians, 2Ma 13:25 went to Ptolemais. The inhabitants of the place disapproved of the treaty; they complained furiously and wanted to annul its provisions.

2Ma 13:26 Lysias mounted the rostrum and made a convincing defence of the provisions which convinced and calmed them and won their goodwill. He then withdrew to Antioch. So much for the episode of the king's offensive and retreat.

2Ma 14:1 Three years after this, Judas and his men learned that Demetrius son of Seleucus had landed at the port of Tripolis with a strong army and a fleet, 2Ma 14:2 and that he had occupied the country and had killed Antiochus and his tutor Lysias.

2Ma 14:3 A certain Alcimus, a former high priest, had wilfully incurred defilement at the time of the insurrection; realising that whichever way he turned there was no security for him, nor any further access to the holy altar,

2Ma 14:4 he went to King Demetrius in about the year one hundred and fifty-one and presented him with a golden crown and a palm, together with the traditional olive branches from the Temple; there, for that day, he let the matter rest.

2Ma 14:5 Presently he found an opportunity to further his mad plan. When Demetrius called him into his council and questioned him about the dispositions and intentions of the Jews, he replied,

2Ma 14:6 'Those Jews called Hasidaeans, who are led by Judas Maccabaeus, are war-mongers and rebels who are preventing the kingdom from finding stability.'

2Ma 14:7 That is why, after being deprived of my hereditary dignity -- I mean the high priesthood -- I have come here now,

2Ma 14:8 first out of genuine concern for the king's interests, and secondly, out of a regard for our own fellow-citizens, because the irresponsible behaviour of those I have mentioned has brought no slight misery on our entire race.

2Ma 14:9 When your majesty has taken note of all these points, may it please you to make provision for the welfare of our country and our oppressed nation, as befits the gracious benevolence you extend to all;

2Ma 14:10 for, as long as Judas remains alive, the State will never enjoy peace.'

2Ma 14:11 No sooner had he spoken thus than the rest of the King's Friends, who were hostile to Judas' activities, stoked Demetrius' anger.

2Ma 14:12 The latter at once selected Nicanor, then commander of the elephants, promoted him to the command of Judaea and despatched him

2Ma 14:13 with instructions to dispose of Judas, disperse his followers and instal Alcimus as high priest of the greatest of temples.

2Ma 14:14 The foreigners in Judaea, who had fled before Judas, flocked to join Nicanor, thinking that the misfortunes and troubles of the Jews would be to their own advantage.

2Ma 14:15 When the Jews heard that Nicanor was coming and that the foreigners were about to attack, they sprinkled dust over themselves and made supplication to him who had established his people for ever and who never failed to support his own heritage by direct manifestations.

2Ma 14:16 On their leader's orders, they at once left the place where they were and confronted the enemy at the village of Dessau.

2Ma 14:17 Simon, brother of Judas, engaged Nicanor but, owing to the sudden arrival of the enemy, suffered a slight reverse.

2Ma 14:18 Nicanor, however, had heard how brave Judas and his men were and how resolutely they always fought for their country, and he did not dare allow bloodshed to decide the issue.

2Ma 14:19 And so he sent Posidonius, Theodotus and Mattathias to offer the Jews pledges of friendship and to accept theirs.

2Ma 14:20 After careful consideration of his terms, the leader communicated them to his troops, and since they were all clearly of one mind they agreed to the treaty.

2Ma 14:21 A day was fixed on which the respective leaders were to meet as individuals. A litter came out from either side and seats were set up.

2Ma 14:22 Judas had posted armed men in strategic positions, in case of a sudden treacherous move by the enemy. The leaders held their conference and reached agreement.

2Ma 14:23 Nicanor took up residence in Jerusalem and did nothing out of place there; indeed, he sent away the crowds that had flocked to join him.

2Ma 14:24 He kept Judas constantly with him, becoming deeply attached to him

2Ma 14:25 and encouraged him to marry and have children. Judas married, settled down and led a normal life.

2Ma 14:26 When Alcimus saw how friendly the two men had become, he went to Demetrius with a copy of the treaty they had signed and told him that Nicanor was harbouring thoughts against the interests of the State, and was planning that Judas, an enemy of the realm, should fill the next vacancy among the Friends of the King.

2Ma 14:27 The king flew into a rage; roused by the slanders of this villain, he wrote to Nicanor, telling him of his strong displeasure at these agreements and ordering him immediately to send Maccabaeus to Antioch in chains.

2Ma 14:28 When the letter reached Nicanor, he was very much upset, for he disliked the prospect of breaking an agreement with a man who had done nothing wrong.

2Ma 14:29 Since, however, there was no way of opposing the king, he waited for an opportunity to carry out the order by a stratagem.

2Ma 14:30 Maccabaeus began to notice that Nicanor was treating him more sharply and that his manner of speaking to him was more abrupt than it had been, and he concluded that such sharpness could have no very good motive. He therefore collected a considerable number of his followers and got away from Nicanor.

2Ma 14:31 The latter, realising that the man had well and truly outmanoeuvred him, went to the greatest and holiest of Temples when the priests were offering the customary sacrifices, and ordered them to surrender Judas.

2Ma 14:32 When they protested on oath that they did not know where the wanted man could be,

2Ma 14:33 he stretched out his right hand towards the Temple and swore this oath, 'If you do not hand Judas over to me as prisoner, I shall raze this dwelling of God to the ground, I shall demolish the altar, and on this very spot I shall erect a splendid temple to Dionysus.'

2Ma 14:34 With these words he left them. The priests stretched out their hands to heaven, calling on him who has at all times done battle for our nation; this was their prayer:

2Ma 14:35 'O Lord in need of nothing, it has pleased you that the Temple where you dwell should be here with us.

2Ma 14:36 Now, therefore, holy Lord of all holiness, preserve for ever from all profanation this House, so newly purified.'

2Ma 14:37 Now, a man called Razis, one of the elders of Jerusalem, was denounced to Nicanor. He was a man who loved his countrymen and stood high in their esteem, and he was known as the father of the Jews because of his kindness.

2Ma 14:38 In the earlier days of the insurrection he had been convicted of Judaism, and he had risked both life and limb for Judaism with the utmost zeal.

2Ma 14:39 Nicanor, by way of demonstrating the enmity he had for the Jews, sent over five hundred soldiers to arrest him, 2Ma 14:40 reckoning that if he eliminated this man he would be dealing them a severe blow.

2Ma 14:41 When the troops were on the point of capturing the tower and were forcing the outer door and calling for fire to set the doors alight, Razis, finding himself completely surrounded, fell on his own sword,

2Ma 14:42 nobly resolving to die rather than fall into the clutches of these villains and suffer outrages unworthy of his noble birth.

2Ma 14:43 But in the heat of conflict he missed his thrust, and while the troops swarmed in through the doorways, he ran nimbly upstairs to the parapet and manfully threw himself down among the troops.

2Ma 14:44 But, as they immediately drew back, he fell into the middle of the empty space.

2Ma 14:45 Still breathing, and blazing with anger, he struggled to his feet, blood spurting in all directions, and despite his terrible wounds ran right through the crowd; then, taking his stand on a steep rock,

2Ma 14:46 although he had now lost every drop of blood, he tore out his entrails and taking them in both hands flung them down on the crowd, calling on the Master of his life and spirit to give them back to him one day. Thus he died.

2Ma 15:1 Nicanor heard that Judas and his men were in the neighbourhood of Samaria, so he decided to attack them, at no risk to himself, on the day of rest.

2Ma 15:2 Those Jews who had been compelled to follow him, said, 'Do not massacre them in such a savage, barbarous way. Respect the day on which the All-seeing has conferred a special holiness.'

2Ma 15:3 At this the triple-dyed scoundrel asked if there were in heaven a sovereign who had ordered the keeping of the Sabbath day.

2Ma 15:4 When they answered, 'The living Lord himself, the Heavenly Sovereign, has ordered the observance of the seventh day,'

2Ma 15:5 he retorted, 'And I, as sovereign on earth, order you to take up arms and do the king's business.' For all that, he did not manage to carry out his wicked plan.

2Ma 15:6 While Nicanor, in his unlimited boastfulness and pride, was planning to erect a general trophy with the spoils taken from Judas and his men, 2Ma 15:7 Maccabaeus remained firm in his confident conviction that the Lord would stand by him.

2Ma 15:8 He urged his men not to be dismayed by the foreigners' attacks but, keeping in mind the help that had come to them from Heaven in the past, to be confident that this time too victory would be theirs with the help of the Almighty.

2Ma 15:9 He put fresh heart into them by citing the Law and the Prophets and, by stirring up memories of the battles they had already won, he filled them with new enthusiasm.

2Ma 15:10 Having thus aroused their courage, he ended his exhortation by demonstrating the treachery of the foreigners and how they had violated their oaths.

2Ma 15:11 Having armed each one of them not so much with the safety given by shield and lance as with that confidence which springs from noble language, he encouraged them all by describing to them a convincing dream -- a vision, as it were.

2Ma 15:12 What he had seen was this: Onias, the former high priest, that paragon of men, modest of bearing and gentle of manners, suitably eloquent and trained from boyhood in the practice of every virtue -- Onias was stretching out his hands and praying for the whole Jewish community.

2Ma 15:13 Next, there appeared a man equally remarkable for his great age and dignity and invested with a marvellous and impressive air of majesty.

2Ma 15:14 Onias began to speak: 'This is a man', he said, 'who loves his brothers and prays much for the people and the holy city-Jeremiah, the prophet of God.'

2Ma 15:15 Jeremiah then stretched out his right hand and presented Judas with a golden sword, saying as he gave it,

2Ma 15:16 'Take this holy sword as a gift from God; with it you will shatter the enemy.'

2Ma 15:17 Encouraged by the noble words of Judas, which had the power to inspire valour and give the young the spirit of mature men, they decided not to entrench themselves in a camp, but bravely to take the offensive and, in hand-to-hand fighting, to commit the result to the fortune of war, since the city, their holy religion and the Temple were in danger.

2Ma 15:18 Their concern for their wives and children, their brothers and relatives, had shrunk to minute importance; their chief and greatest fear was for the consecrated Temple.

2Ma 15:19 Those left behind in the city felt a similar anxiety, alarmed as they were about the forthcoming encounter in the open country.

2Ma 15:20 Everyone now awaited the coming issue. The enemy had already concentrated their forces and stood formed up in order of battle, with the elephants drawn up in a strategic position and the cavalry disposed on the wings.

2Ma 15:21 Maccabaeus took note of these masses confronting him, the glittering array of armour and the fierce aspect of the elephants; then, raising his hands to heaven, he called on the Lord who works miracles, in the knowledge that it is not by force of arms but as he sees fit to decide, that victory is granted by him to such as deserve it.

2Ma 15:22 His prayer was worded thus: 'You, Master, sent your angel in the days of Hezekiah king of Judaea, and he destroyed no less than one hundred and eighty-five thousand of Sennacherib's army;

2Ma 15:23 now, once again, Sovereign of heaven, send a good angel before us to spread terror and dismay.

2Ma 15:24 May these men be struck down by the might of your arm, since they have come with blasphemy on their lips to attack your holy people.' And on these words he finished.

2Ma 15:25 Nicanor and his men advanced to the sound of trumpets and war songs, 2Ma 15:26 but the men of Judas closed with the enemy uttering invocations and prayers.

2Ma 15:27 Fighting with their hands and praying to God in their hearts, they cut down at least thirty-five thousand men and were greatly cheered by this manifestation of God.

2Ma 15:28 When the engagement was over and they were withdrawing in triumph, they recognised Nicanor, lying dead in full armour.

2Ma 15:29 With shouting and confusion all around, they blessed the sovereign Master in their ancestral tongue.

2Ma 15:30 He who, as protagonist, had devoted himself, body and soul, to his fellow-citizens, and had preserved the love he felt even in youth for those of his own race, gave orders for Nicanor's head to be cut off, with his arm up to the shoulder, and taken to Jerusalem.

2Ma 15:31 When he arrived there himself, he called his countrymen together, stationed the priests in front of the altar and then sent for the people from the Citadel.

2Ma 15:32 He showed them the head of the abominable Nicanor, and the hand which this infamous man had stretched out so insolently against the holy House of the Almighty.

2Ma 15:33 Then, cutting out godless Nicanor's tongue, he gave orders for it to be fed piecemeal to the birds, and for the salary of his folly to be hung up in front of the Temple.

2Ma 15:34 At this, everyone sent blessings heavenwards to the glorious Lord, saying, 'Blessed be he who has preserved his holy place from pollution!'

2Ma 15:35 He hung Nicanor's head from the Citadel, a clear and evident sign to all of the help of the Lord.

2Ma 15:36 They all decreed by public vote never to let that day go by unobserved, but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, called Adar in Aramaic, the eve of what is called the Day of Mordecai.

2Ma 15:37 So ends the episode of Nicanor, and as, since then, the city has remained in the possession of the Hebrews, I shall bring my own work to an end here too.

2Ma 15:38 If it is well composed and to the point, that is just what I wanted. If it is worthless and mediocre, that is all I could manage.

2Ma 15:39 Just as it is injurious to drink wine by itself, or again water alone, whereas wine mixed with water is pleasant and produces a delightful sense of well-being, so skill in presenting the incidents is what delights the understanding of those who read the book. And here I close.

Job 1:1 There was once a man in the land of Uz called Job: a sound and honest man who feared God and shunned evil.

Job 1:2 Seven sons and three daughters were born to him.

Job 1:3 And he owned seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred yoke of oxen and five hundred she-donkeys, and many servants besides. This man was the most prosperous of all the Sons of the East.

Job 1:4 It was the custom of his sons to hold banquets in one another's houses in turn, and to invite their three sisters to eat and drink with them.

Job 1:5 Once each series of banquets was over, Job would send for them to come and be purified, and at dawn on the following day he would make a burnt offering for each of them. 'Perhaps', Job would say, 'my sons have sinned and in their heart blasphemed.' So that was what Job used to do each time.

Job 1:6 One day when the sons of God came to attend on Yahweh, among them came Satan.

Job 1:7 So Yahweh said to Satan, 'Where have you been?' 'Prowling about on earth,' he answered, 'roaming around there.'

Job 1:8 So Yahweh asked him, 'Did you pay any attention to my servant Job? There is no one like him on the earth: a sound and honest man who fears God and shuns evil.'

Job 1:9 'Yes,' Satan said, 'but Job is not God-fearing for nothing, is he?

Job 1:10 Have you not put a wall round him and his house and all his domain? You have blessed all he undertakes, and his flocks throng the countryside.

Job 1:11 But stretch out your hand and lay a finger on his possessions: then, I warrant you, he will curse you to your face.'

Job 1:12 'Very well,' Yahweh said to Satan, 'all he has is in your power. But keep your hands off his person.' So Satan left the presence of Yahweh.

Job 1:13 On the day when Job's sons and daughters were eating and drinking in their eldest brother's house,

Job 1:14 a messenger came to Job. 'Your oxen', he said, 'were at the plough, with the donkeys grazing at their side,

Job 1:15 when the Sabaeans swept down on them and carried them off, and put the servants to the sword: I alone have escaped to tell you.'

Job 1:16 He had not finished speaking when another messenger arrived. 'The fire of God', he said, 'has fallen from heaven and burnt the sheep and shepherds to ashes: I alone have escaped to tell you.'

Job 1:17 He had not finished speaking when another messenger arrived. 'The Chaldaeans,' he said, 'three bands of them, have raided the camels and made off with them, and put the servants to the sword: I alone have escaped to tell you.'

Job 1:18 He had not finished speaking when another messenger arrived. 'Your sons and daughters', he said, 'were eating and drinking at their eldest brother's house,

Job 1:19 when suddenly from the desert a gale sprang up, and it battered all four corners of the house which fell in on the young people. They are dead: I alone have escaped to tell you.'

Job 1:20 Then Job stood up, tore his robe and shaved his head. Then, falling to the ground, he prostrated himself

Job 1:21 and said: Naked I came from my mother's womb, naked I shall return again. Yahweh gave, Yahweh has taken back. Blessed be the name of Yahweh!

Job 1:22 In all this misfortune Job committed no sin, and he did not reproach God.

Job 2:1 Another day, the sons of God came to attend on Yahweh and Satan came with them too.

Job 2:2 So Yahweh said to Satan, 'Where have you been?' 'Prowling about on earth,' he answered, 'roaming around there.'

Job 2:3 So Yahweh asked him, 'Did you pay any attention to my servant Job? There is no one like him on the earth: a sound and honest man who fears God and shuns evil. He persists in his integrity still; you achieved nothing by provoking me to ruin him.'

Job 2:4 'Skin after skin!' Satan replied. 'Someone will give away all he has to save his life.

Job 2:5 But stretch out your hand and lay a finger on his bone and flesh; I warrant you, he will curse you to your face.'

Job 2:6 'Very well,' Yahweh said to Satan, 'he is in your power. But spare his life.'

Job 2:7 So Satan left the presence of Yahweh. He struck Job down with malignant ulcers from the sole of his foot to the top of his head.

Job 2:8 Job took a piece of pot to scrape himself, and went and sat among the ashes.

Job 2:9 Then his wife said to him, 'Why persist in this integrity of yours? Curse God and die.'

Job 2:10 'That is how a fool of a woman talks,' Job replied. 'If we take happiness from God's hand, must we not take sorrow too?' And in all this misfortune Job uttered no sinful word.

Job 2:11 The news of all the disasters that had fallen on Job came to the ears of three of his friends. Each of them set out from home -- Eliphaz of Teman, Bildad of Shuah and Zophar of Naamath -- and by common consent they decided to go and offer him sympathy and consolation.

Job 2:12 Looking at him from a distance, they could not recognise him; they wept aloud and tore their robes and threw dust over their heads.

Job 2:13 They sat there on the ground beside him for seven days and seven nights. To Job they spoke never a word, for they saw how much he was suffering.

Job 3:1 In the end it was Job who broke the silence and cursed the day of his birth.

Job 3:2 This is what he said:

Job 3:3 Perish the day on which I was born and the night that told of a boy conceived.

Job 3:4 May that day be darkness, may God on high have no thought for it, may no light shine on it.

Job 3:5 May murk and shadow dark as death claim it for their own, clouds hang over it, eclipse swoop down on it.

Job 3:6 See! Let obscurity seize on it, from the days of the year let it be excluded, into the reckoning of the months not find its way.

Job 3:7 And may that night be sterile, devoid of any cries of joy!

Job 3:8 Let it be cursed by those who curse certain days and are ready to rouse Leviathan.

Job 3:9 Dark be the stars of its morning, let it wait in vain for light and never see the opening eyes of dawn.

Job 3:10 Since it would not shut the doors of the womb on me to hide sorrow from my eyes.
Job 3:11 Why was I not still-born, or why did I not perish as I left the womb?
Job 3:12 Why were there knees to receive me, breasts for me to suck?
Job 3:13 Now I should be lying in peace, wrapped in a restful slumber,
Job 3:14 with the kings and high viziers of earth who have built their dwellings in desolate places,
Job 3:15 or with princes who have quantities of gold and silver cramming their tombs;
Job 3:16 or, put away like an abortive child, I should not have existed, like little ones that never see the light.
Job 3:17 Down there, the wicked bustle no more, there the weary rest.
Job 3:18 Prisoners, all left in peace, hear no more the shouts of the oppressor.
Job 3:19 High and low are there together, and the slave is free of his master.
Job 3:20 Why give light to a man of grief? Why give life to those bitter of heart,
Job 3:21 who long for a death that never comes, and hunt for it more than for buried treasure?
Job 3:22 They would be glad to see the grave-mound and shout with joy if they reached the tomb.
Job 3:23 Why give light to one who does not see his way, whom God shuts in all alone?
Job 3:24 My only food is sighs, and my groans pour out like water.
Job 3:25 Whatever I fear comes true, whatever I dread befalls me.
Job 3:26 For me, there is no calm, no peace; my torments banish rest.
Job 4:1 Eliphaz of Teman spoke next. He said:
Job 4:2 If we say something to you, will you bear with us? Who in any case could refrain from speaking now?
Job 4:3 You have schooled many others, giving strength to feeble hands;
Job 4:4 your words supported any who wavered and strengthened every failing knee.
Job 4:5 And now your turn has come, and you lose patience, at the first touch on yourself you are overwhelmed!
Job 4:6 Does not your piety give you confidence, and your integrity of life give you hope?
Job 4:7 Can you recall anyone guiltless that perished? Where then have the honest been wiped out?
Job 4:8 I speak from experience: those who plough iniquity and sow disaster, reap just that.
Job 4:9 Under the breath of God, they perish: a blast of his anger, and they are destroyed;
Job 4:10 the lion's roars, his savage growls, like the fangs of a lion cub, are broken off.
Job 4:11 The lion dies for lack of prey and the lioness's whelps are dispersed.
Job 4:12 I have received a secret revelation, a whisper has come to my ears;
Job 4:13 by night when dreams confuse the mind and slumber lies heavy on everyone,
Job 4:14 a shiver of horror ran through me and filled all my bones with fright.
Job 4:15 A breath slid over my face, the hairs of my body bristled.
Job 4:16 Someone stood there -- I did not know his face, but the form stayed there before my eyes. Silence -- then I heard a voice,
Job 4:17 'Can a mortal seem upright to God, would anybody seem pure in the presence of his Maker?
Job 4:18 God cannot rely even on his own servants, even with his angels he finds fault.
Job 4:19 What then of those who live in houses of clay, who are founded on dust?
Job 4:20 They are crushed as easily as a moth, between morning and evening they are ground to powder. They vanish for ever, with no one to bring them back.
Job 4:21 Their tent-peg is snatched from them, and they die devoid of wisdom.'
Job 5:1 Make your appeal then. Will you find an answer? To which of the holy ones will you turn?
Job 5:2 Resentment kills the senseless, and anger brings death to the fool.
Job 5:3 I have seen the senseless taking root, when a curse fell suddenly on his house.
Job 5:4 His children are deprived of prop and stay, ruined at the gate, and no one to defend them;
Job 5:5 their harvest goes to feed the hungry, God snatches it from their mouths, and covetous people thirst for their possessions.
Job 5:6 No, misery does not grow out of the soil, nor sorrow spring from the ground.
Job 5:7 It is people who breed trouble for themselves as surely as eagles fly to the height.
Job 5:8 If I were you, I should appeal to God and lay my case before him.
Job 5:9 His works are great, past all reckoning, marvels beyond all counting.
Job 5:10 He sends down rain to the earth, pours down water on the fields.
Job 5:11 If his will is to raise up the downcast, or exalt the afflicted to the heights of prosperity,
Job 5:12 he frustrates the plans of the artful so that they cannot succeed in their intrigues.
Job 5:13 He traps the crafty in the snare of their own trickery, throws the plans of the cunning into disarray.
Job 5:14 In daylight they come up against darkness, and grope their way as if noon were night.
Job 5:15 He rescues the bankrupt from their jaws, and the needy from the grasp of the mighty.
Job 5:16 Hope springs afresh for the weak, and wickedness must shut its mouth.
Job 5:17 Blessed are those whom God corrects! Do not then scorn the lesson of Shaddai!
Job 5:18 For he who wounds is he who soothes the sore, and the hand that hurts is the hand that heals.

- Job 5:19 Six times he will deliver you from sorrow, and the seventh time, evil will not touch you.
Job 5:20 In time of famine, he will save you from death, and in wartime from the stroke of the sword.
Job 5:21 You will be safe from the lash of the tongue, unafraid at the approach of the despoiler.
Job 5:22 You will laugh at drought and frost, and have no fear of the beasts of the earth.
Job 5:23 You will have a pact with the stones of the field, and live in amity with wild beasts.
Job 5:24 You will know that your tent is secure, and your sheepfold unharmed when you inspect it.
Job 5:25 You will see your descendants multiply, your offspring grow like the grass in the fields.
Job 5:26 At a ripe age you will go to the grave, like a wheatsheaf stacked in due season.
Job 5:27 All this we have observed and it is so! Heed it, you will be the wiser for it!
Job 6:1 Job spoke next. He said:
Job 6:2 If only my misery could be weighed, and all my ills be put together on the scales!
Job 6:3 But they outweigh the sands of the seas: what wonder then if my words are wild?
Job 6:4 The arrows of Shaddai stick fast in me, my spirit absorbs their poison, God's terrors stand paraded against me.
Job 6:5 Does a wild donkey bray when it has grass, or an ox low when its fodder is within reach?
Job 6:6 Is not food insipid, eaten without salt, is there any taste in egg-white?
Job 6:7 But the very things my appetite revolts at are now my diet in sickness.
Job 6:8 Will no one hear my prayer, will not God himself grant my hope?
Job 6:9 May it please God to crush me, to give his hand free play and do away with me!
Job 6:10 This thought, at least, would give me comfort (a thrill of joy in unrelenting pain), that I never rebelled against the Holy One's decrees.
Job 6:11 But have I the strength to go on waiting? And why be patient, when doomed to such an end?
Job 6:12 Is mine the strength of stone, is my flesh made of bronze?
Job 6:13 Can I support myself on nothing? Has not all help deserted me?
Job 6:14 Refuse faithful love to your neighbour and you forsake the fear of Shaddai.
Job 6:15 Like the torrent, my brothers have proved deceptive, as fleeting torrents they flow:
Job 6:16 the ice makes their waters turgid when, above them, the snow melts,
Job 6:17 but, come the burning summer, they run dry, they vanish in the heat of the sun.
Job 6:18 Caravans leave the trail to find them, go deep into wastelands, and are lost.
Job 6:19 The caravans of Tema look to them, and on them Sheba's convoys build their hopes.
Job 6:20 Their trust brings only embarrassment, they reach them only to be thwarted.
Job 6:21 And this is how you now treat me, terrified at the sight of me, you take fright.
Job 6:22 Have I said to you, 'Give me something, make some present for me at your own cost,
Job 6:23 snatch me from the grasp of an oppressor, ransom me from the grip of a violent man'?
Job 6:24 Put me right, and I shall say no more; show me where I have been at fault.
Job 6:25 Fair comment can be borne without resentment, but what are your strictures aimed at?
Job 6:26 Do you think mere words deserve censure, desperate speech that the wind blows away?
Job 6:27 Soon you will be haggling over the price of an orphan, and selling your friend at bargain price!
Job 6:28 Come, I beg you, look at me: man to man, I shall not lie.
Job 6:29 Relent then, no harm is done; relent then, since I am upright.
Job 6:30 Is evil to be found on my lips? Can I not recognise misfortune when I taste it?
Job 7:1 Is not human life on earth just conscript service? Do we not live a hireling's life?
Job 7:2 Like a slave, sighing for the shade, or a hireling with no thought but for his wages,
Job 7:3 I have months of futility assigned to me, nights of suffering to be my lot.
Job 7:4 Lying in bed I wonder, 'When will it be day?' No sooner up than, 'When will evening come?' And crazy thoughts obsess me till twilight falls.
Job 7:5 Vermin and loathsome scabs cover my body; my skin is cracked and oozes pus.
Job 7:6 Swifter than a weaver's shuttle my days have passed, and vanished, leaving no hope behind.
Job 7:7 Remember that my life is but a breath, and that my eyes will never again see joy.
Job 7:8 The eye that once saw me will look on me no more, your eyes will turn my way, and I shall not be there.
Job 7:9 A cloud dissolves and is gone, so no one who goes down to Sheol ever comes up again,
Job 7:10 ever comes home again, and his house knows that person no more.
Job 7:11 That is why I cannot keep quiet: in my anguish of spirit I shall speak, in my bitterness of soul I shall complain.
Job 7:12 Am I the Sea, or some sea monster, that you should keep me under guard?
Job 7:13 If I say, 'My bed will comfort me, my couch will lighten my complaints,'
Job 7:14 you then frighten me with dreams and terrify me with visions,
Job 7:15 so that strangling would seem welcome in comparison, yes, death preferable to what I suffer.
Job 7:16 I am wasting away, my life is not unending; leave me then, for my days are but a breath.

Job 7:17 What are human beings that you should take them so seriously, subjecting them to your scrutiny,
Job 7:18 that morning after morning you should examine them and at every instant test them?
Job 7:19 Will you never take your eyes off me long enough for me to swallow my spittle?
Job 7:20 Suppose I have sinned, what have I done to you, you tireless watcher of humanity? Why do you choose me as your target? Why should I be a burden to you?
Job 7:21 Can you not tolerate my sin, not overlook my fault? For soon I shall be lying in the dust, you will look for me and I shall be no more.

Job 8:1 Bildad of Shuah spoke next. He said:

Job 8:2 How much longer are you going to talk like this and go blustering on in this way?
Job 8:3 Can God deflect the course of right or Shaddai falsify justice?
Job 8:4 If your sons sinned against him, he has punished them for their wrong-doing.
Job 8:5 You for your part, if you are pure and honest, must now seek God, plead with Shaddai.
Job 8:6 Forthwith his light will shine on you and he will restore an upright man's house to prosperity.
Job 8:7 Your former state will seem as nothing to you, so great will your future be.
Job 8:8 Question the generation that has passed, meditate on the experience of its ancestors-
Job 8:9 for we children of yesterday, we know nothing, our life on earth passes like a shadow-
Job 8:10 but they will teach you, they will tell you, and their thought is expressed in these sayings,
Job 8:11 'Can papyrus flourish except in marshes? Without water can the rushes grow?
Job 8:12 Even when green and before being cut, fastest of all plants they wither.
Job 8:13 Such is the fate of all who forget God; so perishes the hope of the godless.
Job 8:14 His hope is nothing but gossamer, his confidence a spider's web.
Job 8:15 Let him lean on his house, it will not stand firm; cling to it, it will not hold.
Job 8:16 Like some lush plant in the sunlight, he sent his young shoots sprouting over the garden;
Job 8:17 but his roots were twined in a heap of stones, he drew his life among the rocks.
Job 8:18 Snatch him from his bed, and it denies it ever saw him.
Job 8:19 Now he rots on the roadside, and others are springing up in the soil.
Job 8:20 Believe me, God neither spurns anyone of integrity, nor lends his aid to the evil.
Job 8:21 Once again laughter may fill your mouth and cries of joy break from your lips.
Job 8:22 Your enemies will be covered with shame and the tent of the wicked will vanish!

Job 9:1 Job spoke next. He said:

Job 9:2 Indeed, I know it is as you say: how could anyone claim to be upright before God?
Job 9:3 Anyone trying to argue matters with him, could not give him one answer in a thousand.
Job 9:4 Among the wisest and the hardest, who then can successfully defy him?
Job 9:5 He moves the mountains, though they do not know it; he throws them down when he is angry.
Job 9:6 He shakes the earth, and moves it from its place, making all its pillars tremble.
Job 9:7 The sun, at his command, forbears to rise, and on the stars he sets a seal.
Job 9:8 He and no other has stretched out the heavens and trampled on the back of the Sea.
Job 9:9 He has made the Bear and Orion, the Pleiades and the Mansions of the South.
Job 9:10 The works he does are great and unfathomable, and his marvels cannot be counted.
Job 9:11 If he passes me, I do not see him; he slips by, imperceptible to me.
Job 9:12 If he snatches his prey, who is going to stop him or dare to ask, 'What are you doing?'
Job 9:13 God does not renounce his anger: beneath him, Rahab's minions still lie prostrate.
Job 9:14 And here am I, proposing to defend myself and select my arguments against him!
Job 9:15 Even if I am upright, what point is there in answering him? I can only plead for mercy with my judge!
Job 9:16 And if he deigned to answer my citation, I cannot believe he would listen to what I said,
Job 9:17 he who crushes me for one hair, who, for no reason, wounds and wounds again,
Job 9:18 not even letting me regain my breath, with so much bitterness he fills me!
Job 9:19 Shall I try force? Look how strong he is! Or go to court? But who will summon him?
Job 9:20 If I prove myself upright, his mouth may condemn me, even if I am innocent, he may pronounce me perverse.
Job 9:21 But am I innocent? I am no longer sure, and life itself I despise!
Job 9:22 It is all one, and hence I boldly say: he destroys innocent and guilty alike.
Job 9:23 When a sudden deadly scourge descends, he laughs at the plight of the innocent.
Job 9:24 When a country falls into the power of the wicked, he veils the faces of its judges. Or if not he, who else?
Job 9:25 My days pass: more swiftly than a runner they flee away with never a glimpse of happiness,
Job 9:26 they skim past like a reed canoe, like an eagle swooping on its prey.
Job 9:27 If I decide to stifle my complaining, change countenance, and wear a smiling face,
Job 9:28 fear seizes me at the thought of all my woes, for I know you do not regard me as innocent.

Job 9:29 And if I have done wrong, why should I put myself to useless trouble?
Job 9:30 If I wash myself in melted snow, clean my hands with soda,
Job 9:31 you will only plunge me into the dung, till my clothes themselves recoil from me!
Job 9:32 For he is not human like me: impossible for me to answer him or appear alongside him in court.
Job 9:33 There is no arbiter between us, to lay his hand on both,
Job 9:34 to stay his rod from me, or keep away his daunting terrors.
Job 9:35 Nonetheless, unafraid of him, I shall speak: since I do not see myself like that at all!
Job 10:1 Since I have lost all taste for life, I shall give free rein to my complaining; I shall let my embittered soul speak out.
Job 10:2 I shall say to God, 'Do not condemn me, tell me what your case is against me.
Job 10:3 Is it right for you to attack me, in contempt for what you yourself have made, thus abetting the schemes of the wicked?
Job 10:4 Are your eyes mere human eyes, do you see as human beings see?
Job 10:5 Are you mortal like human beings? do your years pass as human days pass?
Job 10:6 You, who enquire into my faults and investigate my sins,
Job 10:7 you know very well that I am innocent, and that no one can rescue me from your grasp.
Job 10:8 Your hands having shaped and created me, now you change your mind and mean to destroy me!
Job 10:9 Having made me, remember, as though of clay, now you mean to turn me back into dust!
Job 10:10 Did you not pour me out like milk, and then let me thicken like curds,
Job 10:11 clothe me with skin and flesh, and weave me of bone and sinew?
Job 10:12 In your love you gave me life, and in your care watched over my every breath.
Job 10:13 Yet, all the while, you had a secret plan: I know that you were biding your time Job 10:14 to see if I should sin and then not acquit me of my faults.
Job 10:15 Woe to me, if I am guilty; even if I am upright, I dare not lift my head, so overwhelmed with shame and drunk with pain am I!
Job 10:16 Proud as a lion, you hunt me down, multiplying your exploits at my expense,
Job 10:17 attacking me again and again, your fury against me ever increasing, your troops assailing me, wave after wave.
Job 10:18 Why did you bring me out of the womb? I should have perished then, unseen by any eye,
Job 10:19 a being that had never been, to be carried from womb to grave.
Job 10:20 The days of my life are few enough: turn your eyes away, leave me a little joy,
Job 10:21 before I go to the place of no return, to the land of darkness and shadow dark as death,
Job 10:22 where dimness and disorder hold sway, and light itself is like dead of night.
Job 11:1 Zophar of Naamath spoke next. He said:
Job 11:2 Is babbling to go without an answer? Is wordiness a proof of uprightness?
Job 11:3 Do you think your talking strikes people dumb, will you jeer with no one to refute you?
Job 11:4 These were your words, 'My conduct is pure, in your eyes I am free of blame!'
Job 11:5 Will no one let God speak, open his lips and give you answer,
Job 11:6 show you the secrets of wisdom which put all cleverness to shame? Then you would realise that God is calling you to account for your sin.
Job 11:7 Can you claim to fathom the depth of God, can you reach the limit of Shaddai?
Job 11:8 It is higher than the heavens: what can you do? It is deeper than Sheol: what can you know?
Job 11:9 It would be longer to measure than the earth and broader than the sea.
Job 11:10 If he intervenes to close or convoke the assembly, who is to prevent him?
Job 11:11 He knows how deceptive human beings are, and he sees their misdeeds too, and marks them well.
Job 11:12 Hence empty-headed people would do well to study sense and people who behave like wild donkeys to let themselves be tamed.
Job 11:13 Come, reconsider your attitude, stretch out your hands towards him!
Job 11:14 If you repudiate the sin which you have doubtless committed and do not allow wickedness to live on in your tents,
Job 11:15 you will be able to raise an unsullied face, unwavering and free from fear,
Job 11:16 for you will forget about your misery, thinking of it only as a flood that passed long ago.
Job 11:17 Then begins an existence more radiant than noon, and the very darkness will be bright as morning.
Job 11:18 Confident because there is hope; after your troubles, you will sleep secure.
Job 11:19 When you lie down to rest, no one will trouble you, and many will seek your favour.
Job 11:20 But as for the wicked, their eyes are weary, there is no refuge for them; their only hope is to breathe their last.
Job 12:1 Job spoke next. He said:
Job 12:2 Doubtless, you are the voice of the people, and when you die, wisdom will die with you!

- Job 12:3 But I have a brain, as well as you, I am in no way inferior to you, and who, in any case, does not know all that?
- Job 12:4 Anyone becomes a laughing-stock to his friends if he cries to God and expects an answer. People laugh at anyone who has integrity and is upright.
- Job 12:5 'Add insult to injury,' think the prosperous, 'strike the fellow now that he is staggering!'
- Job 12:6 And yet the tents of brigands are left in peace: those who provoke God dwell secure and so does anyone who makes a god of his fist!
- Job 12:7 You have only to ask the cattle, for them to instruct you, and the birds of the sky, for them to inform you.
- Job 12:8 The creeping things of earth will give you lessons, and the fish of the sea provide you an explanation:
- Job 12:9 there is not one such creature but will know that the hand of God has arranged things like this!
- Job 12:10 In his hand is the soul of every living thing and the breath of every human being!
- Job 12:11 Can the ear not distinguish the value of what is said, just as the palate can tell one food from another?
- Job 12:12 Wisdom is found in the old, and discretion comes with great age.
- Job 12:13 But in him there is wisdom, and power too, and good counsel no less than discretion.
- Job 12:14 What he destroys, no one can rebuild; whom he imprisons, no one can release.
- Job 12:15 Is there a drought? He has withheld the waters. Do they play havoc on earth? He has let them loose.
- Job 12:16 In him is strength, in him resourcefulness, beguiler and beguiled alike are his.
- Job 12:17 He robs a country's counsellors of their wits, turns judges into fools.
- Job 12:18 He undoes the belts of kings and knots a rope round their waists.
- Job 12:19 He makes priests walk barefoot, and overthrows the powers that are established.
- Job 12:20 He strikes the most assured of speakers dumb and robs old people of their discretion.
- Job 12:21 He pours contempt on the nobly born, and unbuckles the belt of the strong.
- Job 12:22 He unveils the depths of darkness, brings shadow dark as death to the light.
- Job 12:23 He builds nations up, then ruins them, he makes peoples expand, then suppresses them.
- Job 12:24 He strips a country's leaders of their judgement, and leaves them to wander in a trackless waste,
- Job 12:25 to grope about in unlit darkness, lurching to and fro as though drunk.
- Job 13:1 I have seen all this with my own eyes, heard with my own ears and understood.
- Job 13:2 Whatever you know, I know too; I am in no way inferior to you.
- Job 13:3 But my words are intended for Shaddai; I mean to remonstrate with God.
- Job 13:4 As for you, you are only charlatans, all worthless as doctors!
- Job 13:5 Will no one teach you to be quiet -- the only wisdom that becomes you!
- Job 13:6 Kindly listen to my accusation and give your attention to the way I shall plead.
- Job 13:7 Do you mean to defend God by prevarication and by dishonest argument,
- Job 13:8 and, taking his side like this, appoint yourselves as his advocates?
- Job 13:9 How would you fare, if he were to scrutinise you? Can he be duped as mortals are duped?
- Job 13:10 He would inflict a harsh rebuke on you for your covert partiality.
- Job 13:11 Does his majesty not affright you? Does his terror not overcome you?
- Job 13:12 Your received ideas are maxims of ash, your retorts, retorts of clay.
- Job 13:13 Be quiet! Kindly let me do the talking, happen to me what may.
- Job 13:14 I am putting my flesh between my teeth, I am taking my life in my hands;
- Job 13:15 let him kill me if he will; I have no other hope than to justify my conduct in his eyes.
- Job 13:16 And this is what will save me, for the wicked would not dare to appear before him.
- Job 13:17 Listen carefully to my words, and pay attention to what I am going to say.
- Job 13:18 You see, I shall proceed by form of law, knowing that I am upright.
- Job 13:19 Who wants to contest my case? In advance, I agree to be silenced and to die!
- Job 13:20 Only grant me two concessions, and then I shall not hide away from your face:
- Job 13:21 remove your hand, which lies so heavy on me, no longer make me cower from your terror.
- Job 13:22 Then call me forward and I shall answer, or rather, I shall speak and you will answer.
- Job 13:23 How many faults and crimes have I committed? Tell me what my misdeed has been, what my sin?
- Job 13:24 Why do you hide your face and look on me as your enemy?
- Job 13:25 Do you want to intimidate a wind-blown leaf, do you want to pursue a dry straw?
- Job 13:26 You who lay bitter allegations against me and tax me with the faults of my youth
- Job 13:27 and have put my feet in the stocks; you examine my every step and measure my footprints one by one!
- Job 13:28 For his part, he crumbles away like rotten wood, or like a moth-eaten garment,
- Job 14:1 a human being, born of woman, whose life is short but full of trouble.
- Job 14:2 Like a flower, such a one blossoms and withers, fleeting as a shadow, transient.

Job 14:3 And this is the creature on whom you fix your gaze, and bring to judgement before you!
Job 14:4 But will anyone produce the pure from what is impure? No one can!
Job 14:5 Since his days are measured out, since his tale of months depends on you, since you assign him bounds he cannot pass,
Job 14:6 turn your eyes from him, leave him alone, like a hired labourer, to finish his day in peace.
Job 14:7 There is always hope for a tree: when felled, it can start its life again; its shoots continue to sprout.
Job 14:8 Its roots may have grown old in the earth, its stump rotting in the ground,
Job 14:9 but let it scent the water, and it buds, and puts out branches like a plant newly set.
Job 14:10 But a human being? He dies, and dead he remains, breathes his last, and then where is he?
Job 14:11 The waters of the sea will vanish, the rivers stop flowing and run dry:
Job 14:12 a human being, once laid to rest, will never rise again, the heavens will wear out before he wakes up, or before he is roused from his sleep.
Job 14:13 Will no one hide me in Sheol, and shelter me there till your anger is past, fixing a certain day for calling me to mind-
Job 14:14 can the dead come back to life? - day after day of my service, I should be waiting for my relief to come.
Job 14:15 Then you would call, and I should answer, you would want to see once more what you have made.
Job 14:16 Whereas now you count every step I take, you would then stop spying on my sin;
Job 14:17 you would seal up my crime in a bag, and put a cover over my fault.
Job 14:18 Alas! Just as, eventually, the mountain falls down, the rock moves from its place, Job 14:19 water wears away the stones, the cloudburst erodes the soil; so you destroy whatever hope a person has.
Job 14:20 You crush him once for all, and he is gone; first you disfigure him, then you dismiss him.
Job 14:21 His children may rise to honours -- he does not know it; they may come down in the world -- he does not care.
Job 14:22 He feels no pangs, except for his own body, makes no lament, except for his own self.
Job 15:1 Eliphaz of Teman spoke next. He said:
Job 15:2 Does anyone wise respond with windy arguments, or feed on an east wind?
Job 15:3 Or make a defence with ineffectual words and speeches good for nothing?
Job 15:4 You do worse: you suppress reverence, you discredit discussion before God.
Job 15:5 Your very fault incites you to speak like this, hence you adopt this language of cunning.
Job 15:6 Your own mouth condemns you, and not I; your own lips bear witness against you.
Job 15:7 Are you the first-born of the human race, brought into the world before the hills?
Job 15:8 Have you been a listener at God's council, or established a monopoly of wisdom?
Job 15:9 What knowledge do you have that we have not, what understanding that is not ours too?
Job 15:10 One of us is an old, grey-headed man loaded with more years than your father!
Job 15:11 Can you ignore these divine consolations and the moderate tone of our words?
Job 15:12 How passion carries you away! And how you roll your eyes,
Job 15:13 when you vent your anger on God and speeches come tripping off your tongue!
Job 15:14 How can anyone be pure, anyone born of woman be upright?
Job 15:15 God cannot rely even on his holy ones, to him, even the heavens seem impure.
Job 15:16 How much more, this hateful, corrupt thing, humanity, which soaks up wickedness like water!
Job 15:17 Listen to me, I have a lesson for you: I am going to impart my own experience
Job 15:18 and the tradition of the sages who have remained faithful to their ancestors,
Job 15:19 to whom alone the land was given -- no foreigner included among them.
Job 15:20 The life of the wicked is unceasing torment, the years allotted to the tyrant are numbered.
Job 15:21 A cry of panic echoes in his ear; when all is peace, his destroyer swoops down on him.
Job 15:22 No more can he count on escaping from the dark, but knows that he is destined for the sword,
Job 15:23 marked down as meat for the vulture. He knows that his ruin is at hand.
Job 15:24 The hour of darkness terrifies him, distress and anguish assail him as when a king is poised for the assault.
Job 15:25 He raised his hand against God, boldly he defied Shaddai!
Job 15:26 Head lowered, he charged him, with his massively bossed shield.
Job 15:27 His face had grown full and fat, and his thighs too heavy with flesh.
Job 15:28 He had occupied the towns he had destroyed, with their uninhabited houses about to fall into ruins;
Job 15:29 but no great profit to him, his luck will not hold, he will cast his shadow over the country no longer,
Job 15:30 (he will not escape the dark). A flame will scorch his young shoots, the wind will carry off his blossom.
Job 15:31 Let him not trust in his great height or delusion will be his.
Job 15:32 His palm trees will wither before their time and his branches never again be green.

Job 15:33 Like the vine, he will shake off his unripe fruit, like the olive tree, shed his blossom.
Job 15:34 Yes, sterile is the spawn of the sinner, and fire consumes the tents of the venal.
Job 15:35 Whoever conceives malice, breeds disaster, bears as offspring only a false hope.
Job 16:1 Job spoke next. He said:
Job 16:2 How often have I heard all this before! What sorry comforters you are!
Job 16:3 'When will these windy arguments be over?' or again, 'What sickness drives you to defend yourself?'
Job 16:4 Oh yes! I too could talk as you do, if you were in my place; I could overwhelm you with speeches, shaking my head over you,
Job 16:5 and speak words of encouragement, and then have no more to say.
Job 16:6 When I speak, my suffering does not stop; if I say nothing, is it in any way reduced?
Job 16:7 And now it is driving me to distraction; you have struck my whole acquaintanceship with horror,
Job 16:8 now it rounds on me, my slanderer has now turned witness, he appears against me, accusing me face to face;
Job 16:9 his anger tears and hounds me with gnashing teeth. My enemies look daggers at me,
Job 16:10 and open gaping jaws. Their sneers strike like slaps in the face; and they all set on me at once.
Job 16:11 Yes, God has handed me over to the godless, and cast me into the hands of the wicked.
Job 16:12 I was living at peace, until he made me totter, taking me by the neck to shatter me. He has set me up as his target:
Job 16:13 he shoots his arrows at me from all sides, pitilessly pierces my loins, and pours my gall out on the ground.
Job 16:14 Breach after breach he drives through me, charging on me like a warrior.
Job 16:15 I have sewn sackcloth over my skin, thrown my forehead in the dust.
Job 16:16 My face is red with tears, and shadow dark as death covers my eyelids.
Job 16:17 Nonetheless, my hands are free of violence, and my prayer is pure.
Job 16:18 Cover not my blood, O earth, and let my cry mount without cease!
Job 16:19 Henceforth I have a witness in heaven, my defender is there on high.
Job 16:20 Interpreter of my thoughts there with God, before whom flow my tears,
Job 16:21 let my anguish plead the cause of a man at grips with God, just as a man might defend his fellow.
Job 16:22 For the years of my life are numbered, and I am leaving by the road of no return.
Job 17:1 My breathing is growing weaker and the gravediggers are gathering for me.
Job 17:2 Scoffers are my only companions, their harshness haunts my nights.
Job 17:3 So you must go bail for me to yourself, for which of them cares to clap his hand on mine?
Job 17:4 For you have shut their hearts to reason, hence not a hand is lifted.
Job 17:5 Just so is a man who invites his friends to share his property while the eyes of his own children languish.
Job 17:6 I have become a byword among foreigners, and a creature on whose face to spit,
Job 17:7 since I am nearly blind with grief and my limbs are reduced to a shadow.
Job 17:8 Any honest person is appalled at the sight, the innocent is indignant at the sinner.
Job 17:9 Anyone upright grows stronger step by step: and anyone whose hands are clean grows ever in vigour!
Job 17:10 Come on then, all of you, back to the attack! I shall not find one wise man among you!
Job 17:11 My days are over, so are my plans, my heart-strings are broken;
Job 17:12 yet they would have me believe that night is day, that light to dispel the darkness is at hand,
Job 17:13 when all I want, in fact, is to dwell in Sheol and in that darkness there to make my bed!
Job 17:14 To the tomb, I cry, 'You are my father!' -- to the worm, 'You are my mother-you, my sister!'
Job 17:15 Where then is my hope? Who can see any happiness for me?
Job 17:16 unless they come down to Sheol with me, all of us sinking into the dust together?
Job 18:1 Bildad of Shuah spoke next. He said:
Job 18:2 What prevents you others from saying something? Think -- for it is our turn to speak!
Job 18:3 Why do you regard us as animals, considering us no more than brutes?
Job 18:4 Tear yourself to pieces if you will, but the world, for all your rage, will not turn to desert, the rocks will not shift from their places.
Job 18:5 The light of the wicked must certainly be put out, the lamp that gives him light cease to shine.
Job 18:6 In his tent the light is dimmed, the lamp that shone on him is snuffed.
Job 18:7 His vigorous stride loses its power, his own designs falter.
Job 18:8 For into the net his own feet carry him, he walks into the snares.
Job 18:9 A spring grips him by the heel, a trap snaps shut, and he is caught.
Job 18:10 Hidden in the ground is a snare to catch him, pitfalls lie across his path.
Job 18:11 Terrors threaten him from all sides following him step by step.
Job 18:12 Hunger becomes his companion, by his side Disaster stands.

Job 18:13 Disease devours his skin, Death's First-Born gnaws his limbs.
Job 18:14 He will be torn from the shelter of his tent, and you will drag him to the King of Terrors.
Job 18:15 You can live in the tent, since it is no longer his, and brimstone will be scattered on his sheepfold.
Job 18:16 Below, his roots dry out and his branches are blasted above.
Job 18:17 His memory fades from the land, his name is forgotten in the countryside.
Job 18:18 Driven from the light into the darkness, he is banished from the world,
Job 18:19 without issue or posterity among his own people or a single survivor where he used to live.
Job 18:20 His end appals the west and fills the east with terror.
Job 18:21 Such indeed is the fate of the places where wickedness dwells -- the home of everyone who knows not God.

Job 19:1 Job spoke next. He said:

Job 19:2 How much longer are you going to torment me and crush me by your speeches?
Job 19:3 You have insulted me ten times already: have you no shame at maltreating me?
Job 19:4 Even if I had gone astray, my error would still be my own affair.
Job 19:5 But, whereas you take this superior attitude and claim that my disgrace is my own fault,
Job 19:6 I tell you that God has wronged me and enveloped me in his net.
Job 19:7 If I protest against such violence, I am not heard, if I appeal against it, judgement is never given.
Job 19:8 He has built an impassable wall across my path and covered my way with darkness.
Job 19:9 He has deprived me of my glory and taken the crown from my head.
Job 19:10 He assails me from all directions to make me vanish; he uproots my hope as he might a tree.
Job 19:11 Inflamed with anger against me, he regards me as his foe.
Job 19:12 His troops have come in force, directing their line of advance towards me, they are now encamped round my tent.
Job 19:13 He has alienated my brothers from me, my relatives take care to avoid me,
Job 19:14 my intimate friends have gone away and the guests in my house have forgotten me.
Job 19:15 My slave-girls regard me as an intruder, a stranger as far as they are concerned.
Job 19:16 My servant does not answer when I call him, I am obliged to beg favours from him!
Job 19:17 My breath is unbearable to my wife, my stench to my own brothers.
Job 19:18 Even the children look down on me, whenever I stand up, they start jeering at me.
Job 19:19 All my dearest friends recoil from me in horror: those I loved best have turned against me.
Job 19:20 My flesh is rotting under my skin, my bones are sticking out like teeth.
Job 19:21 Pity me, pity me, my friends, since I have been struck by the hand of God.
Job 19:22 Must you persecute me just as God does, and give my body no peace?
Job 19:23 Will no one let my words be recorded, inscribed on some monument
Job 19:24 with iron chisel and engraving tool, cut into the rock for ever?
Job 19:25 I know that I have a living Defender and that he will rise up last, on the dust of the earth.
Job 19:26 After my awakening, he will set me close to him, and from my flesh I shall look on God.
Job 19:27 He whom I shall see will take my part: my eyes will be gazing on no stranger. My heart sinks within me.
Job 19:28 When you say, 'How can we confound him? What pretext can we discover against him?'
Job 19:29 You yourselves had best beware the sword, since the wrath bursts into flame at wicked deeds and then you will learn that there is indeed a judgement!

Job 20:1 Zophar of Naamath spoke next. He said:

Job 20:2 My thoughts urge me to reply to this, and hence the impatience that grips me.
Job 20:3 I have put up with prating that outrages me and now my mind inspires me with an answer.
Job 20:4 Do you not know, that since time began and human beings were set on the earth,
Job 20:5 the triumph of the wicked has always been brief, and the sinner's gladness has never lasted long?
Job 20:6 Towering to the sky he may have been, his head touching the clouds;
Job 20:7 but he vanishes, like a phantom, once for all, while those who used to see him, ask, 'Where is he?'
Job 20:8 Like a dream that leaves no trace he takes his flight, like a vision in the night he flies away.
Job 20:9 The eye accustomed to see him sees him no more, his home will never set eyes on him again.
Job 20:10 His sons will have to reimburse the poor and his children pay back his riches.
Job 20:11 His bones used to be full of youthful vigour: and there it lies, in the dust with him, now!
Job 20:12 Evil was sweet to his mouth, he would shelter it under his tongue;
Job 20:13 cultivating it carefully, he would let it linger on his palate.
Job 20:14 Such food goes bad in his belly, working inside him like the poison of a viper.
Job 20:15 Now he has to vomit up the wealth that he has swallowed, God makes him disgorge it.
Job 20:16 He used to suck vipers' venom, and the tongue of the adder kills him.
Job 20:17 No more will he know the streams of oil or the torrents of honey and cream.

Job 20:18 When he gives back his winnings, his cheerfulness will fade, and the satisfied air he had when business was thriving.

Job 20:19 Since he once destroyed the huts of the poor, plundering houses instead of building them up,

Job 20:20 since his avarice could never be satisfied, now all his hoarding will not save him;

Job 20:21 since nothing could escape his greed, his prosperity will not last.

Job 20:22 When he has everything he needs, want will seize him, and misery will light on him with all its force.

Job 20:23 On him God looses all his burning wrath, hurling against his flesh a hail of arrows.

Job 20:24 If he escapes the weapons of iron, the bow of bronze will transfix him.

Job 20:25 Out of his back sticks an arrow, from his gall a shining point. The terrors advance on him,

Job 20:26 all the hidden darknesses are waiting to carry him off. A fire unlit by human hand devours him, and consumes what is left in his tent.

Job 20:27 The heavens lay bare his iniquity, and the earth rises up against him.

Job 20:28 The income of his house pours away, like the torrents, on the day of retribution.

Job 20:29 Such is the fate God reserves for the wicked, the inheritance he assigns to the accursed!

Job 21:1 Job spoke next. He said:

Job 21:2 Listen carefully to my words; let this be the consolation you allow me.

Job 21:3 Permit me to speak in my turn; you may jeer when I have spoken.

Job 21:4 Is my complaint just about a fellow-mortal? I have good grounds to be perturbed!

Job 21:5 Give your attention to me; you will be dumbfounded and will place your hand over your mouth.

Job 21:6 I myself am appalled at the very thought, and my flesh creeps.

Job 21:7 Why do the wicked still live on, their power increasing with their age?

Job 21:8 They see their posterity assured, and their offspring secure before their eyes.

Job 21:9 The peace of their houses has nothing to fear, the rod that God wields is not for them.

Job 21:10 No mishap with their bull at breeding-time, nor miscarriage with their cow at calving.

Job 21:11 They let their infants frolic like lambs, their children dance like deer.

Job 21:12 They sing to the tambourine and harp, and rejoice to the sound of the pipe.

Job 21:13 They end their lives in happiness and go down in peace to Sheol.

Job 21:14 Yet these are the ones who say to God, 'Go away! We do not want to learn your ways.'

Job 21:15 What is the point of our serving Shaddai? What should we gain from praying to him?'

Job 21:16 Surely they have won their own prosperity, since God is kept so far from their plans?

Job 21:17 Do we often see the light of the wicked put out, or disaster overtake him, or the retribution of God destroy his possessions,

Job 21:18 or the wind blow him away like a straw, or a whirlwind carry him off like chaff?

Job 21:19 So God is storing up punishment for his children? But the wicked himself should be punished, and should know it!

Job 21:20 He himself should witness his own ruin, and himself drink the anger of Shaddai.

Job 21:21 Once he is gone, what joy can he gain from his family, once the number of his months has been cut off?

Job 21:22 But who can teach wisdom to God, to him who is judge of those on high?

Job 21:23 And again: one person dies in the fullness of strength, in all possible happiness and ease,

Job 21:24 thighs padded with fat and the marrow in the bones good and moist.

Job 21:25 Another dies in bitterness of heart, never having tasted happiness.

Job 21:26 They lie together down in the dust and the worms soon cover them both.

Job 21:27 Oh, I know what is in your minds, what you so spitefully think about me!

Job 21:28 'What has become of the great lord's house,' you say, 'where is the tent where the wicked used to live?'

Job 21:29 Have you never questioned people who travel, do you not understand the testimony they give:

Job 21:30 on the day of disaster, the wicked is spared, on the day of retribution, he is kept safe?

Job 21:31 And who is there then to reproach him for his deeds and to pay him back for the things he has done?

Job 21:32 He is carried away to the cemetery, and a watch is kept at his tomb.

Job 21:33 The clods of the ravine lie easy on him, and the whole population walk behind.

Job 21:34 So what sense is there in your empty consolation? your answers are the left-overs of infidelity!

Job 22:1 Eliphaz of Teman spoke next. He said:

Job 22:2 Can a human being contribute anything to God, when even someone intelligent can benefit only himself?

Job 22:3 Does Shaddai derive any benefit from your uprightness, or profit from your blameless conduct?

Job 22:4 Do you think he is punishing you for your piety and bringing you to justice for that?

Job 22:5 No, for your great wickedness, more likely, for your unlimited sins!

Job 22:6 You have exacted unearned pledges from your brothers, stripped people naked of their clothes,

Job 22:7 failed to give water to the thirsty and refused bread to the hungry;
Job 22:8 handed the land over to a strong man, for some favoured person to move in,
Job 22:9 sent widows away empty-handed and crushed the arms of orphans.
Job 22:10 No wonder, then, if snares are all around you, and sudden terrors make you afraid;
Job 22:11 if light has turned to darkness, so that you cannot see, and you have been submerged in the flood.
Job 22:12 Does not God live high in the heavens, does he not see the zenith of the stars?
Job 22:13 And because he is up there, you have said, 'What does God know? Can he judge through the dark cloud?
Job 22:14 The clouds, to him, are an impenetrable veil, as he goes his way on the rim of the heavens.'
Job 22:15 And will you still follow the ancient trail trodden by the wicked,
Job 22:16 those who were borne off before their time, whose foundations were swamped by a flood,
Job 22:17 for having said to God, 'Go away! What can Shaddai do to us?'
Job 22:18 Yet he himself had filled their houses with good things, although excluded from the plans of the wicked!
Job 22:19 At such a spectacle, the upright rejoice, and the innocent deride them:
Job 22:20 'See how our enemies have been destroyed! See how their wealth has perished in the flames!'
Job 22:21 Well then! Make peace with him, be reconciled, and all your happiness will be restored to you.
Job 22:22 Welcome the teaching from his lips, and keep his words close to your heart.
Job 22:23 If you return, humbled, to Shaddai and drive wickedness far from your tent,
Job 22:24 if you lay your gold down on the dust, Ophir down among the pebbles of the torrent,
Job 22:25 Shaddai will be bars of gold to you and silver piled in heaps.
Job 22:26 Then Shaddai will be all your delight, and you will lift your face to God.
Job 22:27 You will pray, and he will hear; and you will be able to fulfil your vows.
Job 22:28 Whatever you undertake will go well, and light will shine on your path;
Job 22:29 for he casts down the pride of the arrogant, but he saves those of downcast eyes.
Job 22:30 He rescues anyone who is innocent; have your hands clean, and you will be saved.
Job 23:1 Job spoke next. He said:
Job 23:2 My lament is still rebellious; despite my groans, his hand is just as heavy.
Job 23:3 Will no one help me to know how to travel to his dwelling?
Job 23:4 I should set out my case to him, advancing any number of grievances.
Job 23:5 Then I could learn his defence, every word of it, taking note of everything he said to me.
Job 23:6 Would he put all his strength into this debate with me? No, he would only have to give his attention to me,
Job 23:7 to recognise his opponent as upright and so I should win my case for ever.
Job 23:8 If I go to the east, he is not there; or to the west, I still cannot see him.
Job 23:9 If I seek him in the north, he is not to be found, invisible as ever, if I turn to the south.
Job 23:10 And yet he knows every step I take! Let him test me in the crucible: I shall come out pure gold.
Job 23:11 My footsteps have followed close in his, I have walked in his way without swerving;
Job 23:12 I have not neglected the commandment of his lips, in my heart I have cherished the words of his mouth.
Job 23:13 But once he has made up his mind, who can change it? Whatever he plans, that he carries out.
Job 23:14 No doubt, then, but he will carry out my sentence, like so many other decrees that he has made.
Job 23:15 That is why I am full of fear before him, and the more I think, the greater grows my dread of him.
Job 23:16 God has undermined my courage, Shaddai has filled me with fear.
Job 23:17 The darkness having failed to destroy me, I am plunged back into obscurity by him!
Job 24:1 Why does Shaddai not make known the times he has fixed; why do his faithful never see his Days?
Job 24:2 The wicked move boundary-marks away, they carry off flock and shepherd.
Job 24:3 They drive away the orphan's donkey, as security, they seize the widow's ox.
Job 24:4 The needy have to keep out of the way, poor country people have to keep out of sight.
Job 24:5 Like wild desert donkeys, they go out to work, searching from dawn for food, and at evening for something on which to feed their children.
Job 24:6 They go harvesting in the field of some scoundrel, they go pilfering in the vineyards of the wicked.
Job 24:7 They spend the night naked, lacking clothes, with no covering against the cold.
Job 24:8 Mountain rainstorms cut them through, unsheltered, they hug the rocks.
Job 24:9 The orphan child is torn from the breast, the child of the poor is exacted as security.
Job 24:10 They go about naked, lacking clothes, and starving while they carry the sheaves.
Job 24:11 Two little walls, their shelter at high noon; parched with thirst, they have to tread the winepress.
Job 24:12 From the towns come the groans of the dying and the gasp of the wounded crying for help. Yet God remains deaf to prayer!

Job 24:13 In contrast, there are those who reject the light: who know nothing of its ways and who do not frequent its paths.

Job 24:14 When all is dark the murderer leaves his bed to kill the poor and needy. During the night the thief goes on the prowl,

Job 24:15 The eye of the adulterer watches for twilight, 'No one will see me,' he mutters as he masks his face. In the daytime they keep out of sight, these people who do not want to know the light.

Job 24:16 breaking into houses while the darkness lasts.

Job 24:17 For all of them, morning is a time of shadow dark as death, since that is when they know what fear is.

Job 24:18

Job 24:19

Job 24:20

Job 24:21

Job 24:22

Job 24:23

Job 24:24

Job 24:25 Is this not so? Who can prove me a liar or show that my words have no substance?

Job 25:1 Bildad of Shuah spoke next. He said:

Job 25:2 What sovereignty, what awe, is his who creates peace on his heights!

Job 25:3 Who can count his armies? Against whom does his lightning not surge forth?

Job 25:4 Could anyone think God regards him as virtuous, the child of woman as pure!

Job 25:5 Why, the very moon lacks lustre, the very stars seem impure to him! The Shadows tremble underneath the earth, the waters and their denizens are afraid.

Job 25:6 How much less a human, this maggot, the child of man, this worm! Before his eyes, Sheol is bare, Perdition itself is uncovered.

Job 25:7 He it was who spread the North above the void and poised the earth on nothingness.

Job 25:8 He fastens up the waters in his clouds, without the clouds giving way under their weight.

Job 25:9 He covers the face of the full moon, spreading his cloud across it.

Job 25:10 He has traced a ring on the surface of the waters, at the boundary between light and dark.

Job 25:11 The pillars of the heavens tremble, awe-struck at his threats.

Job 25:12 By his power, he has whipped up the Sea, by his skill, he has crushed Rahab.

Job 25:13 His breath has made the heavens luminous, his hand transfixed the Fleeing Serpent.

Job 25:14 This is only a fraction of what he has done and all we catch of it is the feeblest echo. But who can conceive the thunder of his power?

Job 26:1 Job spoke next. He said:

Job 26:2 To one so weak, what a help you are, for the arm that is powerless, what a rescuer!

Job 26:3 What excellent advice you give the unlearned, you are never at a loss for a helpful suggestion!

Job 26:4 For whom are these words of yours intended and whence comes that wit you are now displaying?

Job 27:1 And Job continued his solemn discourse. He said:

Job 27:2 I swear by the living God who denies me justice, by Shaddai who has filled me with bitterness,

Job 27:3 that as long as a shred of life is left in me, and the breath of God breathes in my nostrils,

Job 27:4 my lips will never speak evil nor my tongue utter any lie.

Job 27:5 Far from admitting you to be in the right, I shall maintain my integrity to my dying day.

Job 27:6 I take my stand on my uprightness, I shall not stir: in my heart I need not be ashamed of my days.

Job 27:7 Let my enemy meet the fate of the wicked, my adversary, the lot of the evil-doer!

Job 27:8 For what hope does the godless have when he prays and raises his soul to God?

Job 27:9 Is God likely to hear his cries when disaster descends on him?

Job 27:10 Did he make Shaddai all his delight, calling on him at every turn?

Job 27:11 But I am showing you the way that God works, making no secret of Shaddai's designs.

Job 27:12 And if you had all understood them for yourselves, you would not have wasted your breath in empty words.

Job 27:13 This is the fate that God assigns to the wicked, the inheritance that the violent receive from Shaddai.

Job 27:14 Though he have many children, it is but for the sword; his descendants will never have enough to eat.

Job 27:15 Plague will bury those he leaves behind him, and their widows will have no chance to mourn them.

Job 27:16 Though he amass silver like dust and gather fine clothes like clay,

Job 27:17 let him gather!-some good man will wear them, while his silver is shared among the upright.

Job 27:18 All he has built himself is a spider's web, made himself a watchman's shack.

Job 27:19 He goes to bed rich, but never again: he wakes to find it has all gone. As drought and heat make snow disappear, so does Sheol anyone who has sinned.

Job 27:20 Terror assails him in broad daylight, and at night a whirlwind sweeps him off. The womb that shaped him forgets him and his name is recalled no longer. Thus wickedness is blasted as a tree is struck.

Job 27:21 An east wind picks him up and drags him away, snatching him up from his homestead. He used to ill-treat the childless woman and show no kindness to the widow.

Job 27:22 Pitilessly he is turned into a target, and forced to flee from the hands that menace him. But he who lays mighty hold on tyrants rises up to take away a life that seemed secure.

Job 27:23 His downfall is greeted with applause, he is hissed wherever he goes. He is no more than a straw floating on the water, his estate is accursed throughout the land, nobody goes near his vineyard. He let him build his hopes on false security, but kept his eyes on every step he took.

Job 27:24 He had his time of glory, now he vanishes, wilting like the saltwort once it is picked, and withering like an ear of corn.

Job 28:1 Silver has its mines, and gold a place for refining.

Job 28:2 Iron is extracted from the earth, the smelted rocks yield copper.

Job 28:3 Man makes an end of darkness, to the utmost limit he digs the black rock in shadow dark as death.

Job 28:4 Foreigners bore into ravines in unfrequented places, swinging suspended far from human beings.

Job 28:5 That earth from which bread comes is ravaged underground by fire.

Job 28:6 There, the rocks have veins of sapphire and their dust contains gold.

Job 28:7 That is a path unknown to birds of prey, unseen by the eye of any vulture;

Job 28:8 a path not trodden by the lordly beasts, where no lion ever walked.

Job 28:9 Man attacks the flint, upturning mountains by their roots.

Job 28:10 He cuts canals through the rock, on the watch for anything precious.

Job 28:11 He explores the sources of rivers, bringing hidden things to light.

Job 28:12 But where does Wisdom come from? Where is Intelligence to be found?

Job 28:13 No human being knows the way to her, she is not to be found on earth where they live.

Job 28:14 'She is not in me,' says the Abyss; 'Nor here,' replies the Sea.

Job 28:15 She cannot be bought with solid gold, nor paid for with any weight of silver,

Job 28:16 nor valued against gold of Ophir, precious agate or sapphire.

Job 28:17 Neither gold nor glass compares with her, for her, a vase of fine gold would be no exchange,

Job 28:18 let alone coral or crystal: better go fishing for Wisdom than for pearls!

Job 28:19 Topaz from Cush is worthless in comparison, and gold, even refined, is valueless.

Job 28:20 But where does Wisdom come from? Where is Intelligence to be found?

Job 28:21 She cannot be seen by any living creature, she is hidden from the birds of the sky.

Job 28:22 Perdition and Death both say, 'We have heard only rumours of her.'

Job 28:23 God alone understands her path and knows where she is to be found.

Job 28:24 (For he sees to the remotest parts of the earth, and observes all that lies under heaven.)

Job 28:25 When he willed to give weight to the wind and measured out the waters with a gauge,

Job 28:26 when he imposed a law on the rain and mapped a route for thunderclaps to follow,

Job 28:27 then he saw and evaluated her, looked her through and through, assessing her.

Job 28:28 Then he said to human beings, 'Wisdom? - that is fear of the Lord; Intelligence? - avoidance of evil.'

Job 29:1 And Job continued his solemn discourse. He said:

Job 29:2 Will no one bring back to me the months that have gone, and the days when God was my guardian,

Job 29:3 when his lamp shone over my head, and his light was my guide in the darkness?

Job 29:4 Shall I ever see my days of harvest again when God protected my tent;

Job 29:5 when Shaddai still dwelt with me, and my children were around me;

Job 29:6 when my feet were bathed in milk, and streams of oil poured from the rocks?

Job 29:7 When I went out to the gate of the city, when I took my seat in the square,

Job 29:8 as soon as I appeared, the young men stepped aside, and the old men rose to their feet.

Job 29:9 Men of note broke off their speeches, and put their hands over their mouths;

Job 29:10 the voices of rulers were silenced, and their tongues stayed still in their mouths.

Job 29:11 On hearing me, people congratulated me, on seeing me, people deferred to me,

Job 29:12 because I freed the poor in distress and the orphan who had no helper.

Job 29:13 The dying man's blessing rested on me and I gave the widow's heart cause to rejoice.

Job 29:14 Uprightness I wore as a garment, fair judgement was my cloak and my turban.

Job 29:15 I was eyes for the blind, and feet for the lame.

Job 29:16 Who but me was father of the poor? The stranger's case had a hearing from me.

Job 29:17 I used to break the fangs of the wicked, and snatch their prey from their jaws.

Job 29:18 And I used to say, 'I shall die in honour, after days as numerous as the sand.

Job 29:19 My roots can reach the water, the dews of night settle on my leaves.

Job 29:20 My glory will be for ever new and the bow in my hand for ever strong.'

Job 29:21 They waited anxiously to hear me, and listened in silence to what I had to say.

Job 29:22 When I had finished, no one contradicted, my words dropping on them, one by one.
Job 29:23 They waited for me as though for rain, open-mouthed as though for a late shower.
Job 29:24 If I smiled at them, it was too good to be true, they watched my face for the least sign of favour.
Job 29:25 As their chief, I told them which course to take, like a king living among his troops, and I led them wherever I chose.

Job 30:1 And now I am the laughing-stock of people who are younger than I am and whose parents I would have disdained to put with the dogs guarding my flock.
Job 30:2 And what use to me was the strength of their hands? - enfeebled as they were,
Job 30:3 worn out by want and hunger, for they used to gnaw the roots of the thirsty ground -- that place of gloom, ruin and desolation-
Job 30:4 they used to pick saltwort among the scrub, making their meals off roots of broom.
Job 30:5 Outlawed from human company, which raised hue and cry against them, as against thieves,
Job 30:6 they made their homes in the sides of ravines, in holes in the earth or in clefts of rock.
Job 30:7 You could hear them braying from the bushes as they huddled together in the thistles.
Job 30:8 Children of scoundrels, worse, nameless people, the very outcasts of society!
Job 30:9 And these are the ones who now make up songs about me and use me as a byword!
Job 30:10 Filled with disgust, they keep their distance, on seeing me, they spit without restraint.
Job 30:11 And since God has loosened my bow-string and afflicted me, they too throw off the bridle in my presence.
Job 30:12 Their brats surge forward on my right, to see when I am having a little peace, and advance on me with threatening strides.
Job 30:13 They cut off all means of escape seizing the chance to destroy me, and no one stops them.
Job 30:14 They move in, as if through a wide breach, and I go tumbling beneath the rubble.
Job 30:15 Terror rounds on me, my confidence is dispersed as though by the wind, my hope of safety vanishes like a cloud.
Job 30:16 And now the life in me trickles away, days of grief have gripped me.
Job 30:17 At night-time sickness saps my bones I am gnawed by wounds that never sleep.
Job 30:18 Violently, he has caught me by my clothes, has gripped me by the collar of my coat.
Job 30:19 He has thrown me into the mud; I am no more than dust and ashes.
Job 30:20 I cry to you, and you give me no answer; I stand before you, but you take no notice.
Job 30:21 You have grown cruel to me, and your strong hand torments me unmercifully.
Job 30:22 You carry me away astride the wind and blow me to pieces in a tempest.
Job 30:23 Yes, I know that you are taking me towards death, to the common meeting-place of all the living.
Job 30:24 Yet have I ever laid a hand on the poor when they cried out for justice in calamity?
Job 30:25 Have I not wept for those whose life is hard, felt pity for the penniless?
Job 30:26 I hoped for happiness, but sorrow came; I looked for light, but there was darkness.
Job 30:27 My stomach seethes, is never still, days of suffering have struck me.
Job 30:28 Sombre I go, yet no one comforts me, and if I rise in the council, I rise to weep.
Job 30:29 I have become brother to the jackal and companion to the ostrich.
Job 30:30 My skin has turned black on me, my bones are burnt with fever.
Job 30:31 My harp is tuned to dirges, my pipe to the voice of mourners.
Job 31:1 I had made an agreement with my eyes not to linger on any virgin.
Job 31:2 Now what portion does God allot from above, what fate does Shaddai apportion from his heaven-
Job 31:3 if not the disasters appropriate to the wicked and the calamities fit for evil-doers?
Job 31:4 But surely he sees how I behave, does he not count all my steps?
Job 31:5 Have I been a fellow-traveller with falsehood, or hastened my steps towards deceit?
Job 31:6 Let him weigh me on accurate scales: then he, God, will recognise my integrity!
Job 31:7 If my feet have wandered from the rightful path, or if my eyes have led my heart astray, or if my hands are smirched with any stain,
Job 31:8 let someone else eat what I have sown and let my young shoots all be rooted out.
Job 31:9 If my heart has been seduced by a woman, or if I have lurked at my neighbour's door,
Job 31:10 let my wife go and grind for someone else, let others have intercourse with her!
Job 31:11 For I would have committed a sin of lust, a crime punishable by the law,
Job 31:12 a fire, indeed, burning all to Perdition, which would have devoured my whole revenue.
Job 31:13 If I have ever infringed the rights of slave or slave-girl in legal actions against me-
Job 31:14 what shall I do, when God stands up? What shall I say, when he holds his assize?
Job 31:15 Did he not create them in the womb like me, the same God forming us in the womb?
Job 31:16 Have I been insensible to the needs of the poor, or let a widow's eyes grow dim?
Job 31:17 Have I eaten my bit of bread on my own without sharing it with the orphan?

Job 31:18 I, whom God has fostered father-like from childhood, and guided since I left my mother's womb,
Job 31:19 have I ever seen a wretch in need of clothing, or the poor with nothing to wear,
Job 31:20 without his having cause to bless me from his heart, as he felt the warmth of the fleece from my lambs?
Job 31:21 Have I raised my hand against an orphan, presuming on my credit at the gate?
Job 31:22 If so, let my shoulder fall from its socket, let my arm break off at the elbow!
Job 31:23 For the terror of God would fall on me and I could not then stand my ground before his majesty.
Job 31:24 Have I put my faith in gold, saying to fine gold, 'Ah, my security'?
Job 31:25 Have I ever gloated over my great wealth, or the riches that my hands have won?
Job 31:26 Or has the sight of the sun in its glory, or the glow of the moon as it walked the sky,
Job 31:27 secretly stolen my heart, so that I blew them a kiss?
Job 31:28 That too would be a criminal offence, to have denied the supreme God.
Job 31:29 Have I rejoiced at my enemy's misfortune, or exulted when disaster overtook him? -
Job 31:30 I, who would not allow my tongue to sin or to lay his life under a curse.
Job 31:31 The people of my tent, did they not say, 'Will anyone name a person whom he has not filled with meat'?
Job 31:32 No stranger ever had to sleep outside, my door was always open to the traveller.
Job 31:33 Have I ever concealed my transgression from others or kept my fault a secret in my breast?
Job 31:34 Have I ever stood in fear of common gossip, or dreaded any family's contempt, and so kept quiet, not venturing out of doors?
Job 31:35 Will no one give me a hearing? I have said my last word; now let Shaddai reply! When my adversary has drafted his writ against me
Job 31:36 I shall wear it on my shoulder, and bind it round my head like a royal turban.
Job 31:37 I shall give him an account of my every step and go as boldly as a prince to meet him. End of the words of Job.
Job 31:38 If my land cries for vengeance against me and its furrows weep in concert,
Job 31:39 if I have eaten its produce without paying, and caused the death of its owners,
Job 31:40 let brambles grow instead of wheat, rank weeds instead of barley!
Job 32:1 These three men stopped arguing with Job, because he was convinced of his uprightness.
Job 32:2 But Elihu son of Barachel the Buzite, of the clan of Ram, became very angry. He fumed with rage against Job for thinking that he was right and God was wrong;
Job 32:3 and he was equally angry with the three friends for giving up the argument and thus putting God in the wrong.
Job 32:4 While they and Job were talking, Elihu had waited, because they were older than he was;
Job 32:5 but when he saw that the three men had not another word to say in answer, his anger burst out.
Job 32:6 And Elihu son of Barachel the Buzite began to speak. He said: I am still young, and you are old, so I was shy and hesitant to tell you what I know.
Job 32:7 I thought, 'Age ought to speak, advancing years will convey wisdom.'

Job 32:8 There is, you see, a spirit residing in humanity, the breath of God conferring intelligence.
Job 32:9 Great age does not give wisdom, nor seniority fair judgement.
Job 32:10 And so I ask you for a hearing; now it is my turn to tell what I know.
Job 32:11 Up to now, I was hanging on your words, I paid attention to your arguments as each of you chose his words.
Job 32:12 I paid very close attention; and I see that none of you has confounded Job, not one of you has refuted what he says.
Job 32:13 So do not say, 'We have found wisdom; our teaching is divine and not human.'
Job 32:14 I am not going to follow the same line of argument; my reply to Job will be couched in different terms.
Job 32:15 They are nonplussed for an answer, words have failed them.
Job 32:16 I have been waiting. Since they do not speak, since they have given up the argument,
Job 32:17 now I shall have my say, my turn has come to say what I know.
Job 32:18 For I am full of words and forced to speak by a spirit within me;
Job 32:19 within me, it feels like new wine seeking a vent, bursting out of new wine-skins.
Job 32:20 To gain relief, I must speak, I must open my lips and reply.
Job 32:21 I shall not take anyone's side, I shall not flatter anyone.
Job 32:22 I do not know how to flatter -- or my Creator would make short work of me.
Job 33:1 So, Job, please listen to my words and attend to all I have to say.
Job 33:2 Now as I open my mouth, and my tongue shapes words against my palate,
Job 33:3 I shall utter words of wisdom from the heart, my lips will speak in all sincerity.
Job 33:4 God's was the spirit that made me, Shaddai's the breath that gave me life.

Job 33:5 Refute me, if you can. Prepare yourself, take up your position!
Job 33:6 Look, I am your equal, not some god, like you I was moulded out of clay.
Job 33:7 No fear of me, therefore, need affright you, my hand will not lie heavy over you.
Job 33:8 How could you say in my hearing -- for the sound of your words did not escape me--
Job 33:9 'I am clean, and sinless, I am pure, without fault.
Job 33:10 But he keeps inventing excuses against me and regards me as his enemy.
Job 33:11 He puts me in the stocks, he watches my every path?
Job 33:12 In saying so, I tell you, you are wrong: for God is greater than any human being.
Job 33:13 Why then quarrel with him for not replying to you, word for word?
Job 33:14 God speaks first in one way, and then in another, although we do not realise it.
Job 33:15 In dreams and in night-visions, when slumber has settled on humanity and people are asleep in bed,
Job 33:16 he speaks in someone's ear, frightens him with apparitions
Job 33:17 to turn him from what he is doing and to put an end to his pride.
Job 33:18 And thus he preserves his soul from the abyss, his life from passing down the Canal.
Job 33:19 Or again, he corrects by the sufferings of the sick-bed, when someone's bones tremble continuously Job 33:20 and the thought of food revolts him, however tasty it is,
Job 33:21 and his flesh rots away while you watch it and the bones beneath begin to show,
Job 33:22 and his soul is drawing nearer to the abyss and his life to the dwelling of the dead.
Job 33:23 Then, if there is an Angel near him, a Mediator, one in a thousand, to remind him where his duty lies,
Job 33:24 to take pity on him and to say, 'Spare him from going down to the abyss: I have found the ransom for his life.'
Job 33:25 his flesh will recover its childhood freshness, he will return to the days of his youth.
Job 33:26 He will pray to God who has restored him to favour, and will come into his presence with joy. He will tell others how he has received saving justice
Job 33:27 and sing this hymn before his companions, 'I sinned and left the path of right, but God has not punished me as my sin deserved.
Job 33:28 He has spared my soul from going down to the abyss and is making my life see the light.'
Job 33:29 All this is what God keeps doing again and yet again for human beings,
Job 33:30 to snatch souls back from the abyss and to make the light of the living still shine.
Job 33:31 Pay attention, Job, listen to me: keep quiet, I have more to say.
Job 33:32 If you have anything to say, refute me, speak out, for I would gladly accept that you are upright.
Job 33:33 If not, then listen to me: keep quiet, and I will teach you wisdom.
Job 34:1 Elihu continued his speech. He said:
Job 34:2 And now, you sages, listen to what I say, lend me your ears, you learned men.
Job 34:3 The ear distinguishes the value of what is said, just as the palate can tell one food from another.
Job 34:4 Let us consider together God's ruling and decide what we all mean by good.
Job 34:5 Job has been saying, 'I am upright and God denies me fair judgement.
Job 34:6 My judge is treating me cruelly, my wound is incurable, for no fault of mine.'
Job 34:7 Can anyone else exist like Job, who laps up mockery like water,
Job 34:8 who consorts with evil-doers and marches in step with the wicked?
Job 34:9 Did he not say, 'No one derives any benefit from enjoying the society of God'?
Job 34:10 Listen to me then, like intelligent people. Far be evil from God or injustice from Shaddai!
Job 34:11 For he pays people back for what they do, treating each as his own conduct deserves.
Job 34:12 Be sure of it: God never does wrong, Shaddai does not pervert what is just.
Job 34:13 Did someone else entrust the world to his care was he given charge of the universe by someone else?
Job 34:14 If he were to recall his spirit, to concentrate his breath back in himself,
Job 34:15 all flesh would instantly perish and all people would return to dust.
Job 34:16 If you have any intelligence, listen to this, lend your ear to the sound of my words.
Job 34:17 Could an enemy of fair judgement ever govern? Would you dare condemn the Upright One, the Almighty,
Job 34:18 who says to a king, 'You are a scoundrel!' and to nobles, 'You are wicked!', Job 34:19 who is unimpressed by princes and makes no distinction between rich and poor, since all alike have been made by him?
Job 34:20 They die suddenly, at dead of night, they perish -- these great ones -- and disappear: it costs him no effort to remove a tyrant.
Job 34:21 For his eyes keep watch on human ways, and he observes every step.
Job 34:22 No darkness, no shadow dark as death where wrong-doers can hide!
Job 34:23 He serves no writ on anyone, no summons to appear before God's court:

Job 34:24 he breaks the powerful without enquiry and sets up others in their places.
Job 34:25 He knows the sort of things they do! He overthrows them at night, to be trampled on.
Job 34:26 He beats them like criminals chained up for all to see,
Job 34:27 since they have turned their backs on him, having understood so little of his ways
Job 34:28 as to make the cries of the weak rise to him and let him hear the appeal of the afflicted.
Job 34:29 But if he is still silent and no one can move him, if he veils his face, so that no one can see him, he is taking pity on nations and individuals,
Job 34:30 is setting some wrong-doer free from the meshes of affliction.
Job 34:31 When such a one says to God, 'I was misled, I shall not do wrong any more;
Job 34:32 although I have sinned, instruct me; although I did wrong, I will not do it again,'
Job 34:33 in your opinion, should he punish such a one -- you who have rejected his decisions? This is for you to decide -- not for me!- so kindly enlighten us!
Job 34:34 Ordinary sensible people, however, will say to me, and so will any sage who has been listening to me,
Job 34:35 'Job's words are spoken without any knowledge, what he says shows no intelligence.
Job 34:36 Kindly examine him thoroughly, since his answers imply that he is a criminal.
Job 34:37 For to his sin he now adds rebellion, bringing law to an end among us and heaping abuse on God.'
Job 35:1 Elihu continued his speech. He said:
Job 35:2 Do you think you can prove yourself upright and establish your uprightness before God
Job 35:3 by daring to say to him, 'What does it matter to you, or how does it benefit me, whether I have sinned or not?'
Job 35:4 Very well, I shall tell you and your friends as well.
Job 35:5 Take a look at the skies and see, observe how high the clouds are above you.
Job 35:6 If you sin, how can you affect him? If you heap up crimes, what effect has it on him?
Job 35:7 If you are upright, what do you give him, what benefit does he receive at your hands?
Job 35:8 Your wickedness affects only your fellows, your uprightness, other human beings.
Job 35:9 They too groan under the weight of oppression, they cry for help under the tyranny of the mighty,
Job 35:10 but none of them thinks of saying, 'Where is God, my Maker, who makes glad songs ring out at night,
Job 35:11 who has made us more intelligent than wild animals wiser than birds in the sky?'
Job 35:12 Cry they may, but get no answer, to be spared from the arrogance of the wicked.
Job 35:13 Of course God does not listen to trivialities, Shaddai pays no attention to them.
Job 35:14 And how much less when you say, 'I cannot see him, my case is open and I am waiting for him.'
Job 35:15 Or, 'His anger never punishes, he does not seem aware of human rebellion.'
Job 35:16 Hence, when Job speaks, he talks nonsense, ignorantly babbling on and on.
Job 36:1 Elihu went on speaking. He said:
Job 36:2 Be patient a little longer while I explain, for I have more to say on God's behalf.
Job 36:3 I shall range far afield for my arguments to prove my Maker just.
Job 36:4 I guarantee, nothing I shall say will be untrue: you have a man of sound learning here.
Job 36:5 God does not reject anyone whose heart is pure
Job 36:6 or let the sinner live on in all his power. He does accord fair judgement to the afflicted;
Job 36:7 he does uphold what the upright deserve. When he raises kings to thrones, if they grow proud of their unending rule,
Job 36:8 then he fetters them with chains, they are caught in the bonds of affliction.
Job 36:9 He shows them the import of their deeds, of the sins of pride they have committed.
Job 36:10 In their ears he sounds a warning, ordering them to turn back from doing wrong.
Job 36:11 If they take notice and obey him, the rest of their days are prosperous and the years pass pleasantly.
Job 36:12 If not, they go down the Canal and perish in their stupidity.
Job 36:13 The stubborn, who cherish their anger and do not cry for help when he chains them,
Job 36:14 die in the bloom of youth or live among the male prostitutes of the temple.
Job 36:15 But God saves the afflicted by his affliction, warning him in his misery.
Job 36:16 You, too, he would like to snatch from torment. While you were enjoying boundless abundance, with rich food piled high on your table,
Job 36:17 you did not bring the wicked to trial and did not give fair judgement to the orphan.
Job 36:18 Beware of being led astray by abundance, of being corrupted by expensive presents.
Job 36:19 Take the powerful to law, not merely the penniless, those whose arm is strong, not merely the weak.
Job 36:20 Do not crush people you do not know to install your relations in their place.
Job 36:21 Avoid any tendency to wrong-doing, for this is why affliction is testing you now.
Job 36:22 See, God is sublime in his strength and who can teach lessons as he does?
Job 36:23 Who has even told him which course to take, or dared to say to him, 'You have done wrong'?

Job 36:24 Consider, rather, how you may praise his work, a theme that many have sung.
Job 36:25 This is something that everyone can see, gazing, as we do, from afar.
Job 36:26 Yes, the greatness of God exceeds our knowledge, the number of his years is past counting.
Job 36:27 It is he who makes the raindrops small and pulverises the rain into mist.
Job 36:28 And the clouds then pour this out, sending it streaming down on the human race.
Job 36:29 And who can fathom how he spreads the clouds, or why such crashes thunder from his tent?
Job 36:30 He spreads a mist before him and covers the tops of the mountains.
Job 36:31 By these means, he sustains the peoples, giving them plenty to eat.
Job 36:32 He gathers up the lightning in his hands, assigning it the mark where to strike.
Job 36:33 His crashing gives warning of its coming, anger flashes out against iniquity.
Job 37:1 At this, my very heart quakes and leaps out of its place.
Job 37:2 Listen, oh listen, to the blast of his voice and the sound that issues from his mouth.
Job 37:3 His lightning is hurled across the heaven, it strikes to the extremities of earth.
Job 37:4 After it comes a roaring sound, God thunders with majestic voice. He does not check his thunderbolts until his voice resounds no more.
Job 37:5 Yes, certainly God shows us marvels and does great deeds that we cannot understand.
Job 37:6 When he says to the snow, 'Fall on the earth!' to the showers, 'Now rain hard!'
Job 37:7 he brings all human activity to a standstill, for everyone to acknowledge his work.
Job 37:8 The animals go back to their dens and take shelter in their lairs.
Job 37:9 The storm wind comes from the Mansion of the South, and the north winds usher in the cold.
Job 37:10 At the breath of God, ice comes next, the surface of the waters hardens over.
Job 37:11 He weighs the clouds down with moisture, and the storm clouds radiate his lightning.
Job 37:12 He himself guides their wheeling motion presiding over their seasonal changes. They carry out his orders to the letter all over this earthly world.
Job 37:13 Whether to punish earth's peoples or as a work of faithful love, he despatches them.
Job 37:14 Listen to this, Job, without flinching and reflect on the marvellous works of God.
Job 37:15 Do you know how God controls them or how his clouds make the lightning flash?
Job 37:16 Do you know how he balances the clouds -- a miracle of consummate skill?
Job 37:17 When your clothes are hot to your body and the earth lies still under the south wind,
Job 37:18 can you, like him, stretch out the sky, tempered like a mirror of cast metal?
Job 37:19 Teach me what we should say to him: but better discuss no further, since we are in the dark.
Job 37:20 Does he take note when I speak? When human beings give orders, does he take it in?
Job 37:21 There are times when the light vanishes, behind darkening clouds; then comes the wind, sweeping them away.
Job 37:22 and brightness spreads from the north. God is clothed in fearful splendour:
Job 37:23 he, Shaddai, is far beyond our reach. Supreme in power, in equity, excelling in saving justice, yet no oppressor-
Job 37:24 no wonder then that people fear him: everyone thoughtful holds him in awe!
Job 38:1 Then from the heart of the tempest Yahweh gave Job his answer. He said:
Job 38:2 Who is this, obscuring my intentions with his ignorant words?
Job 38:3 Brace yourself like a fighter; I am going to ask the questions, and you are to inform me!
Job 38:4 Where were you when I laid the earth's foundations? Tell me, since you are so well-informed!
Job 38:5 Who decided its dimensions, do you know? Or who stretched the measuring line across it?
Job 38:6 What supports its pillars at their bases? Who laid its cornerstone Job 38:7 to the joyful concert of the morning stars and unanimous acclaim of the sons of God?
Job 38:8 Who pent up the sea behind closed doors when it leapt tumultuous from the womb,
Job 38:9 when I wrapped it in a robe of mist and made black clouds its swaddling bands;
Job 38:10 when I cut out the place I had decreed for it and imposed gates and a bolt?
Job 38:11 'Come so far,' I said, 'and no further; here your proud waves must break!'
Job 38:12 Have you ever in your life given orders to the morning or sent the dawn to its post,
Job 38:13 to grasp the earth by its edges and shake the wicked out of it?
Job 38:14 She turns it as red as a clay seal, she tints it as though it were a dress,
Job 38:15 stealing the light from evil-doers and breaking the arm raised to strike.
Job 38:16 Have you been right down to the sources of the sea and walked about at the bottom of the Abyss?
Job 38:17 Have you been shown the gates of Death, have you seen the janitors of the Shadow dark as death?
Job 38:18 Have you an inkling of the extent of the earth? Tell me all about it if you have!
Job 38:19 Which is the way to the home of the Light, and where does darkness live? -
Job 38:20 You could then show them the way to their proper places, you could put them on the path home again!

Job 38:21 If you do know, you must have been born when they were, you must be very old by now!
Job 38:22 Have you visited the place where the snow is stored? Have you seen the stores of hail,
Job 38:23 which I keep for times of distress, for days of battle and war?
Job 38:24 From which direction does the lightning fork, where in the world does the east wind blow itself out?
Job 38:25 Who bores a channel for the downpour or clears the way for the rolling thunder
Job 38:26 so that rain may fall on lands where no one lives, and the deserts void of human dwelling,
Job 38:27 to meet the needs of the lonely wastes and make grass sprout on the thirsty ground?
Job 38:28 Has the rain a father? Who begets the dewdrops?
Job 38:29 What womb brings forth the ice, who gives birth to the frost of heaven,
Job 38:30 when the waters grow hard as stone and the surface of the deep congeals?
Job 38:31 Can you fasten the harness of the Pleiades, or untie Orion's bands?
Job 38:32 Can you guide the Crown season by season and show the Bear and its cubs which way to go?
Job 38:33 Have you grasped the celestial laws? Could you make their writ run on the earth?
Job 38:34 Can your voice carry as far as the clouds and make the pent-up waters do your bidding?
Job 38:35 Will lightning flashes come at your command and answer, 'Here we are'?
Job 38:36 Who endowed the ibis with wisdom and gave the cock his intelligence?
Job 38:37 Whose skill details every cloud and tilts the water-skins of heaven
Job 38:38 until the dust solidifies and the cracks in the ground close up?
Job 38:39 Do you go hunting prey for the lioness; do you satisfy the hunger of young lions Job 38:40 where they crouch in their den, waiting eagerly in the bushes?
Job 38:41 Who makes provision for the raven when his little ones cry out to God craning their necks in search of food?

Job 39:1 Do you know when mountain goats give birth? Have you ever watched deer in labour?
Job 39:2 Have you ever counted the months that they carry their young? Do you know when they give birth?
Job 39:3 They crouch to drop their young, they get rid of their burdens
Job 39:4 and the calves, having grown big and strong, go off into the desert and never come back to them.
Job 39:5 Who has given the wild donkey his freedom, who has undone the harness of the brayer?
Job 39:6 I have given him the wastelands as his home, the salt plain as his habitat.
Job 39:7 He scorns the turmoil of the town, obeys no donkey-man's shouts.
Job 39:8 The mountains are the pastures that he ranges in quest of anything green.
Job 39:9 Is the wild ox willing to serve you or spend a night beside your manger?
Job 39:10 If you tie a rope round his neck will he harrow the furrows for you?
Job 39:11 Can you rely on his massive strength and leave him to do your heavy work?
Job 39:12 Can you depend on him to come home and pile your grain on your threshing-floor?
Job 39:13 Can the wing of the ostrich be compared with the plumage of stork or falcon?
Job 39:14 She leaves her eggs on the ground with only earth to warm them;
Job 39:15 forgetting that a foot may tread on them or a wild animal crush them.
Job 39:16 Cruel to her chicks as if they were not hers, little she cares if her labour goes for nothing.
Job 39:17 God, you see, has deprived her of wisdom and given her no share of intelligence.
Job 39:18 Yet, if she bestirs herself to use her height, she can make fools of horse and rider too.
Job 39:19 Are you the one who makes the horse so brave and covers his neck with flowing mane?
Job 39:20 Do you make him leap like a grasshopper? His haughty neighing inspires terror.
Job 39:21 Exultantly he paws the soil of the valley, and charges the battle-line in all his strength.
Job 39:22 He laughs at fear; he is afraid of nothing, he recoils before no sword.
Job 39:23 On his back the quiver rattles, the flashing spear and javelin.
Job 39:24 Trembling with impatience, he eats up the miles; when the trumpet sounds, there is no holding him.
Job 39:25 At each trumpet blast he neighs exultantly. He scents the battle from afar, the thundering of the commanders and the war cry.
Job 39:26 Is it your wisdom that sets the hawk flying when he spreads his wings to travel south?
Job 39:27 Does the eagle soar at your command to make her eyrie in the heights?
Job 39:28 She spends her nights among the crags with a needle of rock as her fortress,
Job 39:29 from which she watches for prey, fixing it with her far-ranging eye.
Job 39:30 Even her young drink blood; where anyone has been killed, she is there.
Job 40:1 Still speaking to Job, Yahweh said:
Job 40:2 Is Yahweh's opponent going to give way? Has God's critic thought up an answer?
Job 40:3 Job replied to Yahweh:
Job 40:4 My words have been frivolous: what can I reply? I had better lay my hand over my mouth.
Job 40:5 I have spoken once, I shall not speak again; I have spoken twice, I have nothing more to say.
Job 40:6 Yahweh gave Job his answer from the heart of the tempest. He said:

Job 40:7 Brace yourself like a fighter, I am going to ask the questions, and you are to inform me!
Job 40:8 Do you really want to reverse my judgement, put me in the wrong and yourself in the right?
Job 40:9 Has your arm the strength of God's, can your voice thunder as loud?
Job 40:10 Come on, display your majesty and grandeur, robe yourself in splendour and glory.
Job 40:11 Let the fury of your anger burst forth, humble the haughty at a glance!
Job 40:12 At a glance, bring down all the proud, strike down the wicked where they stand.
Job 40:13 Bury the lot of them in the ground, shut them, every one, in the Dungeon.
Job 40:14 And I shall be the first to pay you homage, since your own right hand is strong enough to save you.
Job 40:15 But look at Behemoth, my creature, just as you are! He feeds on greenstuff like the ox,
Job 40:16 but what strength he has in his loins, what power in his stomach muscles!
Job 40:17 His tail is as stiff as a cedar, the sinews of his thighs are tightly knit.
Job 40:18 His bones are bronze tubes, his frame like forged iron.
Job 40:19 He is the first of the works of God. His Maker threatened him with the sword, Job 40:20 forbidding him the mountain regions and all the wild animals that play there.
Job 40:21 Under the lotus he lies, he hides among the reeds in the swamps.
Job 40:22 The leaves of the lotus give him shade, the willows by the stream shelter him.
Job 40:23 If the river overflows, he does not worry: Jordan might come up to his mouth, but he would not care.
Job 40:24 Who is going to catch him by the eyes or put poles through his nose?
Job 40:25 Leviathan, too! Can you catch him with a fish-hook or hold his tongue down with a rope?
Job 40:26 Can you put a cane through his nostrils or pierce his jaw with a hook?
Job 40:27 Will he plead lengthily with you, addressing you in diffident tones?
Job 40:28 Will he strike a bargain with you to become your slave for life?
Job 40:29 Will you make a pet of him, like a bird, keep him on a lead to amuse your little girls?
Job 40:30 Is he to be sold by the fishing guild and then retailed by merchants?
Job 40:31 Riddle his hide with darts? Or his head with fishing spears?
Job 40:32 You have only to lay a finger on him never to forget the struggle or risk it again!
Job 41:1 Any hope you might have would be futile, the mere sight of him would overwhelm you.
Job 41:2 When roused, he grows ferocious, who could ever stand up to him?
Job 41:3 Who has ever attacked him with impunity? No one beneath all heaven!
Job 41:4 Next I will talk of his limbs and describe his matchless strength-
Job 41:5 who can undo the front of his tunic or pierce the double armour of his breastplate?
Job 41:6 Who dare open the gates of his mouth? Terror reigns round his teeth!
Job 41:7 His back is like rows of shields, sealed with a stone seal,
Job 41:8 touching each other so close that no breath could pass between,
Job 41:9 sticking to one another making an impervious whole.
Job 41:10 His sneezes radiate light, his eyes are like the eyelashes of the dawn.
Job 41:11 From his mouth come fiery torches, sparks of fire fly out of it.
Job 41:12 His nostrils belch smoke like a cauldron boiling on the fire.
Job 41:13 His breath could kindle coals, flame issues from his mouth.
Job 41:14 His strength resides in his neck, violence leaps before him as he goes.
Job 41:15 The strips of his flesh are jointed together, firmly set in and immovable.
Job 41:16 His heart is as hard as rock unyielding as the lower millstone.
Job 41:17 When he stands up, the waves take fright and the billows of the sea retreat.
Job 41:18 Sword may strike but will not stick in him, no more will spear, javelin or lance.
Job 41:19 Iron means no more to him than straw, nor bronze than rotten wood.
Job 41:20 No arrow can make him flee, a sling-stone tickles him like hay.
Job 41:21 Club seems to him like straw, he laughs at the whirring javelin.
Job 41:22 He has sharp potsherds underneath, and moves across the slime like a harrow.
Job 41:23 He makes the depths seethe like a cauldron, he makes the sea fume like a scent burner.
Job 41:24 Behind him he leaves a glittering wake -- a white fleece seems to float on the deeps.
Job 41:25 He has no equal on earth, being created without fear.
Job 41:26 He looks the haughtiest in the eye; of all the lordly beasts he is king.
Job 42:1 This was the answer Job gave to Yahweh:
Job 42:2 I know that you are all-powerful: what you conceive, you can perform.
Job 42:3 I was the man who misrepresented your intentions with my ignorant words. You have told me about great works that I cannot understand, about marvels which are beyond me, of which I know nothing.
Job 42:4 (Listen, please, and let me speak: I am going to ask the questions, and you are to inform me.)
Job 42:5 Before, I knew you only by hearsay but now, having seen you with my own eyes,
Job 42:6 I retract what I have said, and repent in dust and ashes.

Job 42:7 When Yahweh had finished saying this to Job, he said to Eliphaz of Teman, 'I burn with anger against you and your two friends, for not having spoken correctly about me as my servant Job has done.'

Job 42:8 So now find seven bullocks and seven rams, and take them back with you to my servant Job and make a burnt offering for yourselves, while Job, my servant, offers prayers for you. I shall show him favour and shall not inflict my displeasure on you for not having spoken about me correctly, as my servant Job has done.'

Job 42:9 Eliphaz of Teman, Bildad of Shuah and Zophar of Naamath went away to do as Yahweh had ordered, and Yahweh listened to Job with favour.

Job 42:10 And Yahweh restored Job's condition, while Job was interceding for his friends. More than that, Yahweh gave him double what he had before.

Job 42:11 And all his brothers and all his sisters and all his friends of former times came to see him. Over dinner in his house, they showed their sympathy and comforted him for all the evils Yahweh had inflicted on him. Each of them gave him a silver coin, and each a gold ring.

Job 42:12 Yahweh blessed Job's latter condition even more than his former one. He came to own fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, a thousand yoke of oxen and a thousand she-donkeys.

Job 42:13 He had seven sons and three daughters;

Job 42:14 his first daughter he called 'Turtledove', the second 'Cassia' and the third 'Mascara'.

Job 42:15 Throughout the land there were no women as beautiful as the daughters of Job. And their father gave them inheritance rights like their brothers.

Job 42:16 After this, Job lived for another one hundred and forty years, and saw his children and his children's children to the fourth generation.

Job 42:17 Then, old and full of days, Job died.

Psa 1:1 How blessed is anyone who rejects the advice of the wicked and does not take a stand in the path that sinners tread, nor a seat in company with cynics,

Psa 1:2 but who delights in the law of Yahweh and murmurs his law day and night.

Psa 1:3 Such a one is like a tree planted near streams; it bears fruit in season and its leaves never wither, and every project succeeds.

Psa 1:4 How different the wicked, how different! Just like chaff blown around by the wind

Psa 1:5 the wicked will not stand firm at the Judgement nor sinners in the gathering of the upright.

Psa 1:6 For Yahweh watches over the path of the upright, but the path of the wicked is doomed.

Psa 2:1 Why this uproar among the nations, this impotent muttering of the peoples?

Psa 2:2 Kings of the earth take up position, princes plot together against Yahweh and his anointed,

Psa 2:3 'Now let us break their fetters! Now let us throw off their bonds!'

Psa 2:4 He who is enthroned in the heavens laughs, Yahweh makes a mockery of them,

Psa 2:5 then in his anger rebukes them, in his rage he strikes them with terror.

Psa 2:6 'I myself have anointed my king on Zion my holy mountain.'

Psa 2:7 I will proclaim the decree of Yahweh: He said to me, 'You are my son, today have I fathered you.

Psa 2:8 Ask of me, and I shall give you the nations as your birthright, the whole wide world as your possession.

Psa 2:9 With an iron sceptre you will break them, shatter them like so many pots.'

Psa 2:10 So now, you kings, come to your senses, you earthly rulers, learn your lesson!

Psa 2:11 In fear be submissive to Yahweh;

Psa 2:12 with trembling kiss his feet, lest he be angry and your way come to nothing, for his fury flares up in a moment. How blessed are all who take refuge in him!

Psa 3:1 [Psalm Of David When he was fleeing from his son Absalom] Yahweh, how countless are my enemies, how countless those who rise up against me,

Psa 3:2 how countless those who say of me, 'No salvation for him from his God!'Pause

Psa 3:3 But you, Yahweh, the shield at my side, my glory, you hold my head high.

Psa 3:4 I cry out to Yahweh; he answers from his holy mountain.Pause

Psa 3:5 As for me, if I lie down and sleep, I shall awake, for Yahweh sustains me.

Psa 3:6 I have no fear of people in their thousands upon thousands, who range themselves against me wherever I turn.

Psa 3:7 Arise, Yahweh, rescue me, my God! You strike all my foes across the face, you break the teeth of the wicked.

Psa 3:8 In Yahweh is salvation, on your people, your blessing!Pause

Psa 4:1 [For the choirmaster For strings Psalm Of David] When I call, answer me, God, upholder of my right. In my distress you have set me at large; take pity on me and hear my prayer!

Psa 4:2 Children of men, how long will you be heavy of heart, why love what is vain and chase after illusions?Pause

Psa 4:3 Realise that Yahweh performs wonders for his faithful, Yahweh listens when I call to him.

Psa 4:4 Be careful not to sin, speak in your hearts, and on your beds keep silence.Pause

Psa 4:5 Loyally offer sacrifices, and trust in Yahweh.

Psa 4:6 Many keep saying, 'Who will put happiness before our eyes?' Let the light of your face shine on us. Yahweh, Psa 4:7 to my heart you are a richer joy than all their corn and new wine.

Psa 4:8 In peace I lie down and at once fall asleep, for it is you and none other, Yahweh, who make me rest secure.

Psa 5:1 [For the choirmaster For flutes Psalm Of David] Give ear to my words, Yahweh, spare a thought for my sighing.

Psa 5:2 Listen to my cry for help, my King and my God! To you I pray, Psa 5:3 Yahweh. At daybreak you hear my voice; at daybreak I lay my case before you and fix my eyes on you.

Psa 5:4 You are not a God who takes pleasure in evil, no sinner can be your guest.

Psa 5:5 Boasters cannot stand their ground under your gaze. You hate evil-doers, Psa 5:6 liars you destroy; the violent and deceitful Yahweh detests.

Psa 5:7 But, so great is your faithful love, I may come into your house, and before your holy temple bow down in reverence of you.

Psa 5:8 In your saving justice, Yahweh, lead me, because of those who lie in wait for me; make your way plain before me.

Psa 5:9 Not a word from their lips can be trusted, through and through they are destruction, their throats are wide -- open graves, their tongues seductive.

Psa 5:10 Lay the guilt on them, God, make their intrigues their own downfall; for their countless offences, thrust them from you, since they have rebelled against you.

Psa 5:11 But joy for all who take refuge in you, endless songs of gladness! You shelter them, they rejoice in you, those who love your name.

Psa 5:12 It is you who bless the upright, Yahweh, you surround them with favour as with a shield.

Psa 6:1 [For the choirmaster For strings For the octachord Psalm Of David] Yahweh, let your rebuke to me not be in anger, your punishment not in the heat of wrath.

Psa 6:2 Have pity on me, Yahweh, for I am fading away. Heal me, Yahweh, my bones are shaken, Psa 6:3 my spirit is shaken to its very depths. But you, Yahweh . . . how long?

Psa 6:4 Yahweh, relent and save my life rescue me because of your faithful love,

Psa 6:5 for in death there is no remembrance of you; who could sing your praises in Sheol?

Psa 6:6 I am worn out with groaning, every night I drench my pillow and soak my bed with tears.

Psa 6:7 My eyes waste away with vexation. Arrogance from all my foes!

Psa 6:8 Away from me, all evil-doers! For Yahweh has heard the sound of my weeping, Psa 6:9 Yahweh has heard my pleading. Yahweh will accept my prayer.

Psa 6:10 Let all my enemies be put to confusion, shaken to their depths, let them retreat in sudden confusion.

Psa 7:1 [Lament Of David Which he sang to Yahweh about Cush the Benjaminite] Yahweh my God, I take refuge in you, save me from all my pursuers and rescue me,

Psa 7:2 or he will savage me like a lion, carry me off with no one to rescue me.

Psa 7:3 Yahweh my God, if I have done this: if injustice has stained my hands,

Psa 7:4 if I have repaid my ally with treachery or spared one who attacked me unprovoked,

Psa 7:5 may an enemy hunt me down and catch me, may he trample my life into the ground and crush my vital parts into the dust.Pause

Psa 7:6 Arise, Yahweh, in your anger, rise up against the arrogance of my foes. Awake, my God, you demand judgement.

Psa 7:7 Let the assembly of nations gather round you; return above it on high!

Psa 7:8 (Yahweh judges the nations.) Judge me, Yahweh, as my uprightness and my integrity deserve.

Psa 7:9 Put an end to the malice of the wicked, make the upright stand firm, you who discern hearts and minds, God the upright.

Psa 7:10 God is a shield that protects me, saving the honest of heart.

Psa 7:11 God is an upright judge, slow to anger, but a God at all times threatening

Psa 7:12 for those who will not repent. Let the enemy whet his sword, draw his bow and make ready;

Psa 7:13 but he is making ready instruments of death for himself and tipping his arrows with fire;

Psa 7:14 look at him: pregnant with malice, conceiving spite, he gives birth to treachery.

Psa 7:15 He digs a trap, scoops it out, but he falls into the snare he made himself.

Psa 7:16 His spite recoils on his own head, his brutality falls back on his own skull.

Psa 7:17 I thank Yahweh for his saving justice. I sing to the name of the Most High.

Psa 8:1 [For the choirmaster On the . . . of Gath Psalm Of David] Yahweh our Lord, how majestic is your name throughout the world! Whoever keeps singing of your majesty higher than the heavens,

Psa 8:2 even through the mouths of children, or of babes in arms, you make him a fortress, firm against your foes, to subdue the enemy and the rebel.

- Psa 8:3 I look up at your heavens, shaped by your fingers, at the moon and the stars you set firm-
- Psa 8:4 what are human beings that you spare a thought for them, or the child of Adam that you care for him?
- Psa 8:5 Yet you have made him little less than a god, you have crowned him with glory and beauty,
- Psa 8:6 made him lord of the works of your hands, put all things under his feet,
- Psa 8:7 sheep and cattle, all of them, and even the wild beasts,
- Psa 8:8 birds in the sky, fish in the sea, when he makes his way across the ocean.
- Psa 8:9 Yahweh our Lord, how majestic your name throughout the world!
- Psa 9:1 [For the choirmaster On oboe and harp Psalm Of David] I thank you, Yahweh, with my whole heart, I recount all your wonders,
- Psa 9:2 I rejoice and delight in you, I sing to your name, Most High.
- Psa 9:3 My enemies are in retreat, they stumble and perish at your presence,
- Psa 9:4 for you have given fair judgement in my favour, seated on your throne as upright judge.
- Psa 9:5 You have rebuked the nations, destroyed the wicked, blotted out their name for ever and ever;
- Psa 9:6 the enemy is wiped out -- mere ruins for ever -- you have annihilated their cities, their memory has perished. See,
- Psa 9:7 Yahweh is enthroned for ever, keeping his throne firm for judgement;
- Psa 9:8 he will himself judge the world in uprightness, will give a true verdict on the nations.
- Psa 9:9 May Yahweh be a stronghold for the oppressed, a stronghold in times of trouble!
- Psa 9:10 Those who revere your name can rely on you, you never desert those who seek you, Yahweh.
- Psa 9:11 Sing to Yahweh who dwells in Zion, tell the nations his mighty deeds,
- Psa 9:12 for the avenger of blood does not forget them, he does not ignore the cry of the afflicted.
- Psa 9:13 Have pity on me, Yahweh, see my affliction, pull me back from the gates of death,
- Psa 9:14 that I may recount all your praises at the gates of the daughter of Zion and rejoice in your salvation.
- Psa 9:15 The nations have fallen into the trap they made, their feet caught in the snare they laid.
- Psa 9:16 Yahweh has made himself known, given judgement, he has ensnared the wicked in the work of their own hands. Muted music Pause
- Psa 9:17 May the wicked turn away to Sheol, all the nations forgetful of God.
- Psa 9:18 For the needy is not forgotten for ever, not for ever does the hope of the poor come to nothing.
- Psa 9:19 Arise, Yahweh; human strength shall not prevail. The nations shall stand trial before you.
- Psa 9:20 Strike them with terror, Yahweh; the nations shall know that they are no more than human! Pause
- Psa 10:1 Why, Yahweh, do you keep so distant, stay hidden in times of trouble?
- Psa 10:2 In his pride the wicked hunts down the weak, who is caught in the schemes he devises.
- Psa 10:3 The wicked is proud of his inmost desires, by his blasphemies the grasping spurns Yahweh,
- Psa 10:4 the wicked in his arrogance does not look very far; 'There is no God,' is his only thought.
- Psa 10:5 In all circumstances his step is assured; your judgements are above his head. His rivals? He scoffs at them all.
- Psa 10:6 He says in his heart, 'I shall never be shaken,' free of trouble himself,
- Psa 10:7 he wishes it on others. His speech is full of lies and browbeating, under his tongue lurk spite and wickedness.
- Psa 10:8 In the undergrowth he lies in ambush, in his hiding-place he murders the innocent. He watches intently for the downtrodden,
- Psa 10:9 lurking unseen like a lion in his lair, lurking to pounce on the poor; he pounces on him and drags him off in his net.
- Psa 10:10 He keeps watch, crouching down low, the poor wretch falls into his clutches;
- Psa 10:11 he says in his heart, 'God forgets, he has turned away his face to avoid seeing the end.'
- Psa 10:12 Rise, Yahweh! God, raise your hand, do not forget the afflicted!
- Psa 10:13 Why should the wicked spurn God, assuring himself you will never follow it up?
- Psa 10:14 You have seen for yourself the trouble and vexation, you watch so as to take it in hand. The oppressed relies on you; you are the only recourse of the orphan.
- Psa 10:15 Break the arm of the wicked and evil, seek out wickedness till there is none left to be found.
- Psa 10:16 Yahweh is king for ever and ever, the heathen has vanished from his country.
- Psa 10:17 Yahweh, you listen to the laments of the poor, you give them courage, you grant them a hearing,
- Psa 10:18 to give judgement for the orphaned and exploited, so that earthborn humans may strike terror no more.
- Psa 11:1 [For the choirmaster Of David] In Yahweh I have found refuge. How can you say to me, 'Bird, flee to your mountain?'
- Psa 11:2 'For look, the wicked are drawing their bows, fitting their arrows to the string to shoot honest men from the shadows.

Psa 11:3 If the foundations fall to ruin, what can the upright do?'

Psa 11:4 Yahweh in his holy temple! Yahweh, his throne is in heaven; his eyes watch over the world, his gaze scrutinises the children of Adam.

Psa 11:5 Yahweh examines the upright and the wicked, the lover of violence he detests.

Psa 11:6 He will rain down red-hot coals, fire and sulphur on the wicked, a scorching wind will be their lot.

Psa 11:7 For Yahweh is upright and loves uprightness, the honest will ever see his face.

Psa 12:1 [For the choirmaster On the octachord Psalm Of David] Help, Yahweh! No one loyal is left, the faithful have vanished from among the children of Adam.

Psa 12:2 Friend tells lies to friend, and, smooth-tongued, speaks from an insincere heart.

Psa 12:3 May Yahweh cut away every smooth lip, every boastful tongue,

Psa 12:4 those who say, 'In our tongue lies our strength, our lips are our allies; who can master us?'

Psa 12:5 'For the poor who are plundered, the needy who groan, now will I act,' says Yahweh, 'I will grant salvation to those who sigh for it.'

Psa 12:6 Yahweh's promises are promises unalloyed, natural silver which comes from the earth seven times refined.

Psa 12:7 You, Yahweh, will watch over them, you will protect them from that brood for ever.

Psa 12:8 The wicked will scatter in every direction, as the height of depravity among the children of Adam.

Psa 13:1 [For the choirmaster Psalm Of David] How long, Yahweh, will you forget me? For ever? How long will you turn away your face from me?

Psa 13:2 How long must I nurse rebellion in my soul, sorrow in my heart day and night? How long is the enemy to domineer over me?

Psa 13:3 Look down, answer me, Yahweh my God! Give light to my eyes or I shall fall into the sleep of death.

Psa 13:4 Or my foe will boast, 'I have overpowered him,' and my enemy have the joy of seeing me stumble.

Psa 13:5 As for me, I trust in your faithful love, Yahweh. Let my heart delight in your saving help, let me sing to Yahweh for his generosity to me, let me sing to the name of Yahweh the Most High!

Psa 14:1 [For the choirmaster Of David] The fool has said in his heart, 'There is no God.' Their deeds are corrupt and vile, not one of them does right.

Psa 14:2 Yahweh looks down from heaven at the children of Adam. To see if a single one is wise, a single one seeks God.

Psa 14:3 All have turned away, all alike turned sour, not one of them does right, not a single one.

Psa 14:4 Are they not aware, all these evil-doers? They are devouring my people, this is the bread they eat, and they never call to Yahweh.

Psa 14:5 They will be gripped with fear, where there is no need for fear, for God takes the side of the upright;

Psa 14:6 you may mock the plans of the poor, but Yahweh is their refuge.

Psa 14:7 Who will bring from Zion salvation for Israel? When Yahweh brings his people home, what joy for Jacob, what happiness for Israel!

Psa 15:1 [Psalm Of David] Yahweh, who can find a home in your tent, who can dwell on your holy mountain?

Psa 15:2 Whoever lives blamelessly, who acts uprightly, who speaks the truth from the heart,

Psa 15:3 who keeps the tongue under control, who does not wrong a comrade, who casts no discredit on a neighbour,

Psa 15:4 who looks with scorn on the vile, but honours those who fear Yahweh, who stands by an oath at any cost,

Psa 15:5 who asks no interest on loans, who takes no bribe to harm the innocent. No one who so acts can ever be shaken.

Psa 16:1 [In a quiet voice Of David] Protect me, O God, in you is my refuge.

Psa 16:2 To Yahweh I say, 'You are my Lord, my happiness is in none

Psa 16:3 of the sacred spirits of the earth.' They only take advantage of all who love them.

Psa 16:4 People flock to their teeming idols. Never shall I pour libations to them! Never take their names on my lips.

Psa 16:5 My birthright, my cup is Yahweh; you, you alone, hold my lot secure.

Psa 16:6 The measuring-line marks out for me a delightful place, my birthright is all I could wish.

Psa 16:7 I bless Yahweh who is my counsellor, even at night my heart instructs me.

Psa 16:8 I keep Yahweh before me always, for with him at my right hand, nothing can shake me.

Psa 16:9 So my heart rejoices, my soul delights, my body too will rest secure,

Psa 16:10 for you will not abandon me to Sheol, you cannot allow your faithful servant to see the abyss.

Psa 16:11 You will teach me the path of life, unbounded joy in your presence, at your right hand delight for ever.

Psa 17:1 [Prayer Of David] Listen, Yahweh, to an upright cause, pay attention to my cry, lend an ear to my prayer, my lips free from deceit.

Psa 17:2 From your presence will issue my vindication, your eyes fixed on what is right.

Psa 17:3 You probe my heart, examine me at night, you test me by fire and find no evil. I have not sinned with my mouth

Psa 17:4 as most people do. I have treasured the word from your lips,

Psa 17:5 my steps never stray from the paths you lay down, from your tracks; so my feet never stumble.

Psa 17:6 I call upon you, God, for you answer me; turn your ear to me, hear what I say.

Psa 17:7 Show the evidence of your faithful love, saviour of those who hope in your strength against attack.

Psa 17:8 Guard me as the pupil of an eye, shelter me in the shadow of your wings

Psa 17:9 from the presence of the wicked who would maltreat me; deadly enemies are closing in on me.

Psa 17:10 Engrossed in themselves they are mouthing arrogant words.

Psa 17:11 They are advancing against me, now they are closing in, watching for the chance to hurl me to the ground,

Psa 17:12 like a lion preparing to pounce, like a young lion crouching in ambush.

Psa 17:13 Arise, Yahweh, confront him and bring him down, with your sword save my life from the wicked,

Psa 17:14 Yahweh, from mortals, by your hand, from mortals whose part in life is in this world. You fill their bellies from your store, their children will have all they desire, and leave their surplus to their children.

Psa 17:15 But I in my uprightness will see your face, and when I awake I shall be filled with the vision of you.

Psa 18:1 [For the choirmaster Of David, the servant of Yahweh, who addressed the words of this song to Yahweh when Yahweh had delivered him from all his enemies and from the clutches of Saul. He said:] I love you, Yahweh, my strength (my Saviour, you have saved me from violence).

Psa 18:2 Yahweh is my rock and my fortress, my deliverer is my God. I take refuge in him, my rock, my shield, my saving strength, my stronghold, my place of refuge.

Psa 18:3 I call to Yahweh who is worthy of praise, and I am saved from my foes.

Psa 18:4 With Death's breakers closing in on me, Belial's torrents ready to swallow me,

Psa 18:5 Sheol's snares every side of me, Death's traps lying ahead of me,

Psa 18:6 I called to Yahweh in my anguish, I cried for help to my God; from his Temple he heard my voice, my cry came to his ears.

Psa 18:7 Then the earth quaked and rocked, the mountains' foundations shuddered, they quaked at his blazing anger.

Psa 18:8 Smoke rose from his nostrils, from his mouth devouring fire (coals were kindled at it).

Psa 18:9 He parted the heavens and came down, a storm-cloud underneath his feet;

Psa 18:10 riding one of the winged creatures, he flew, soaring on the wings of the wind.

Psa 18:11 His covering he made the darkness, his pavilion dark waters and dense cloud.

Psa 18:12 A brightness lit up before him, hail and blazing fire.

Psa 18:13 Yahweh thundered from the heavens, the Most High made his voice heard.

Psa 18:14 He shot his arrows and scattered them, he hurled his lightning and routed them.

Psa 18:15 The very springs of ocean were exposed, the world's foundations were laid bare, at your roaring, Yahweh, at the blast of breath from your nostrils!

Psa 18:16 He reached down from on high, snatched me up, pulled me from the watery depths,

Psa 18:17 rescued me from my mighty foe, from my enemies who were stronger than I.

Psa 18:18 They assailed me on my day of disaster but Yahweh was there to support me;

Psa 18:19 he freed me, set me at large, he rescued me because he loves me.

Psa 18:20 Yahweh rewards me for my uprightness, as my hands are pure, so he repays me,

Psa 18:21 since I have kept the ways of Yahweh, and not fallen away from my God.

Psa 18:22 His judgements are all before me, his statutes I have not put away from me.

Psa 18:23 I am blameless before him, I keep myself clear of evil.

Psa 18:24 So Yahweh repaid me for acting uprightly because he could see I was pure.

Psa 18:25 You are faithful to the faithful, blameless with the blameless,

Psa 18:26 sincere to the sincere, but cunning to the crafty,

Psa 18:27 you save a people that is humble and humiliate those with haughty looks.

Psa 18:28 Yahweh, you yourself are my lamp, my God lights up my darkness;

Psa 18:29 with you I storm the rampart, with my God I can scale any wall.

Psa 18:30 This God, his way is blameless; the word of Yahweh is refined in the furnace, for he alone is the shield of all who take refuge in him.

Psa 18:31 For who is God but Yahweh, who is a rock but our God?

Psa 18:32 This God who girds me with strength, who makes my way free from blame,

Psa 18:33 who makes me as swift as a deer and sets me firmly on the heights,

Psa 18:34 who trains my hands for battle, my arms to bend a bow of bronze.

Psa 18:35 You give me your invincible shield (your right hand upholds me) you never cease to listen to me,

Psa 18:36 you give me the strides of a giant, give me ankles that never weaken.

Psa 18:37 I pursue my enemies and overtake them, not turning back till they are annihilated;
Psa 18:38 I strike them down and they cannot rise, they fall, they are under my feet.
Psa 18:39 You have girded me with strength for the fight, bent down my assailants beneath me,
Psa 18:40 made my enemies retreat before me; and those who hate me I destroy.
Psa 18:41 They cry out, there is no one to save; to Yahweh, but no answer comes.
Psa 18:42 I crumble them like dust before the wind, trample them like the mud of the streets.
Psa 18:43 You free me from the quarrels of my people, you place me at the head of the nations, a people I did not know are now my servants;
Psa 18:44 foreigners come wooing my favour, no sooner do they hear than they obey me;
Psa 18:45 foreigners grow faint of heart, they come trembling out of their fastnesses.
Psa 18:46 Life to Yahweh! Blessed be my rock! Exalted be the God of my salvation,
Psa 18:47 the God who gives me vengeance, and subjects whole peoples to me,
Psa 18:48 who rescues me from my raging enemies. You lift me high above those who attack me, you deliver me from the man of violence.
Psa 18:49 For this I will praise you, Yahweh, among the nations, and sing praise to your name.
Psa 18:50 He saves his king time after time, displays his faithful love for his anointed, for David and his heirs for ever.
Psa 19:1 [For the choirmaster Psalm Of David] The heavens declare the glory of God, the vault of heaven proclaims his handiwork,
Psa 19:2 day discourses of it to day, night to night hands on the knowledge.
Psa 19:3 No utterance at all, no speech, not a sound to be heard,
Psa 19:4 but from the entire earth the design stands out, this message reaches the whole world. High above, he pitched a tent for the sun,
Psa 19:5 who comes forth from his pavilion like a bridegroom, delights like a champion in the course to be run.
Psa 19:6 Rising on the one horizon he runs his circuit to the other, and nothing can escape his heat.
Psa 19:7 The Law of Yahweh is perfect, refreshment to the soul; the decree of Yahweh is trustworthy, wisdom for the simple.
Psa 19:8 The precepts of Yahweh are honest, joy for the heart; the commandment of Yahweh is pure, light for the eyes.
Psa 19:9 The fear of Yahweh is pure, lasting for ever; the judgements of Yahweh are true, upright, every one,
Psa 19:10 more desirable than gold, even than the finest gold; his words are sweeter than honey, that drips from the comb.
Psa 19:11 Thus your servant is formed by them; observing them brings great reward.
Psa 19:12 But who can detect his own failings? Wash away my hidden faults.
Psa 19:13 And from pride preserve your servant, never let it be my master. So shall I be above reproach, free from grave sin.
Psa 19:14 May the words of my mouth always find favour, and the whispering of my heart, in your presence, Yahweh, my rock, my redeemer.
Psa 20:1 [For the choirmaster Psalm Of David] May Yahweh answer you in time of trouble, may the name of the God of Jacob protect you!
Psa 20:2 May he send you help from the sanctuary, give you support from Zion!
Psa 20:3 May he remember all your sacrifices and delight in your burnt offerings! Pause
Psa 20:4 May he grant you your heart's desire and crown all your plans with success!
Psa 20:5 So that with joy we can hail your victory and draw up our ranks in the name of our God. May Yahweh grant all your petitions.
Psa 20:6 Now I know that Yahweh gives victory to his anointed. He will respond from his holy heavens with great deeds of victory from his right hand.
Psa 20:7 Some call on chariots, some on horses, but we on the name of Yahweh our God.
Psa 20:8 They will crumple and fall, while we stand upright and firm.
Psa 20:9 Yahweh, save the king, answer us when we call.
Psa 21:1 [For the choirmaster Psalm Of David] Yahweh, the king rejoices in your power; How your saving help fills him with joy!
Psa 21:2 You have granted him his heart's desire, not denied him the prayer of his lips.Pause
Psa 21:3 For you come to meet him with blessings of prosperity, put a crown of pure gold on his head.
Psa 21:4 He has asked for life, you have given it him, length of days for ever and ever.
Psa 21:5 Great his glory through your saving help; you invest him with splendour and majesty.
Psa 21:6 You confer on him everlasting blessings, you gladden him with the joy of your presence.
Psa 21:7 For the king puts his trust in Yahweh; the faithful love of the Most High will keep him from falling.
Psa 21:8 Your hand will reach all your enemies, your right hand all who hate you.

Psa 21:9 You will hurl them into a blazing furnace on the day when you appear; Yahweh will engulf them in his anger, and fire will devour them.

Psa 21:10 You will purge the earth of their descendants, the human race of their posterity.

Psa 21:11 They have devised evil against you but, plot as they may, they will not succeed,

Psa 21:12 since you will make them turn tail, by shooting your arrows in their faces.

Psa 21:13 Rise, Yahweh, in your power! We will sing and make music in honour of your strength.

Psa 22:1 [For the choirmaster To 'the Doe of the Dawn' Psalm Of David] My God, my God, why have you forsaken me? The words of my groaning do nothing to save me.

Psa 22:2 My God, I call by day but you do not answer, at night, but I find no respite.

Psa 22:3 Yet you, the Holy One, who make your home in the praises of Israel,

Psa 22:4 in you our ancestors put their trust, they trusted and you set them free.

Psa 22:5 To you they called for help and were delivered; in you they trusted and were not put to shame.

Psa 22:6 But I am a worm, less than human, scorn of mankind, contempt of the people;

Psa 22:7 all who see me jeer at me, they sneer and wag their heads,

Psa 22:8 'He trusted himself to Yahweh, let Yahweh set him free! Let him deliver him, as he took such delight in him.'

Psa 22:9 It was you who drew me from the womb and soothed me on my mother's breast.

Psa 22:10 On you was I cast from my birth, from the womb I have belonged to you.

Psa 22:11 Do not hold aloof, for trouble is upon me, and no one to help me!

Psa 22:12 Many bulls are encircling me, wild bulls of Bashan closing in on me.

Psa 22:13 Lions ravening and roaring open their jaws at me.

Psa 22:14 My strength is trickling away, my bones are all disjointed, my heart has turned to wax, melting inside me.

Psa 22:15 My mouth is dry as earthenware, my tongue sticks to my jaw. You lay me down in the dust of death.

Psa 22:16 A pack of dogs surrounds me, a gang of villains closing in on me as if to hack off my hands and my feet.

Psa 22:17 I can count every one of my bones, while they look on and gloat;

Psa 22:18 they divide my garments among them and cast lots for my clothing.

Psa 22:19 Yahweh, do not hold aloof! My strength, come quickly to my help, Psa 22:20 rescue my soul from the sword, the one life I have from the grasp of the dog!

Psa 22:21 Save me from the lion's mouth, my poor life from the wild bulls' horns!

Psa 22:22 I shall proclaim your name to my brothers, praise you in full assembly:

Psa 22:23 'You who fear Yahweh, praise him! All the race of Jacob, honour him! Revere him, all the race of Israel!'

Psa 22:24 For he has not despised nor disregarded the poverty of the poor, has not turned away his face, but has listened to the cry for help.

Psa 22:25 Of you is my praise in the thronged assembly, I will perform my vows before all who fear him.

Psa 22:26 The poor will eat and be filled, those who seek Yahweh will praise him, 'May your heart live for ever.'

Psa 22:27 The whole wide world will remember and return to Yahweh, all the families of nations bow down before him.

Psa 22:28 For to Yahweh, ruler of the nations, belongs kingly power!

Psa 22:29 All who prosper on earth will bow before him, all who go down to the dust will do reverence before him. And those who are dead,

Psa 22:30 their descendants will serve him, will proclaim his name to generations

Psa 22:31 still to come; and these will tell of his saving justice to a people yet unborn: he has fulfilled it.

Psa 23:1 [Psalm Of David] Yahweh is my shepherd, I lack nothing.

Psa 23:2 In grassy meadows he lets me lie. By tranquil streams he leads me

Psa 23:3 to restore my spirit. He guides me in paths of saving justice as befits his name.

Psa 23:4 Even were I to walk in a ravine as dark as death I should fear no danger, for you are at my side. Your staff and your crook are there to soothe me.

Psa 23:5 You prepare a table for me under the eyes of my enemies; you anoint my head with oil; my cup brims over.

Psa 23:6 Kindness and faithful love pursue me every day of my life. I make my home in the house of Yahweh for all time to come.

Psa 24:1 [Psalm Of David] To Yahweh belong the earth and all it contains, the world and all who live there;

Psa 24:2 it is he who laid its foundations on the seas, on the flowing waters fixed it firm.

Psa 24:3 Who shall go up to the mountain of Yahweh? Who shall take a stand in his holy place?

Psa 24:4 The clean of hands and pure of heart, whose heart is not set on vanities, who does not swear an oath in order to deceive.

Psa 24:5 Such a one will receive blessing from Yahweh, saving justice from the God of his salvation.
Psa 24:6 Such is the people that seeks him, that seeks your presence, God of Jacob.Pause
Psa 24:7 Gates, lift high your heads, raise high the ancient gateways, and the king of glory shall enter!
Psa 24:8 Who is he, this king of glory? It is Yahweh, strong and valiant, Yahweh valiant in battle.
Psa 24:9 Gates, lift high your heads, raise high the ancient gateways, and the king of glory shall enter!
Psa 24:10 Who is he, this king of glory? Yahweh Sabaoth, he is the king of glory.Pause
Psa 25:1 [Of David] ADORATION I offer, Yahweh,
Psa 25:2 to you, my God. BUT in my trust in you do not put me to shame, let not my enemies gloat over me.
Psa 25:3 CALLING to you, none shall ever be put to shame, but shame is theirs who groundlessly break faith.
Psa 25:4 DIRECT me in your ways, Yahweh, and teach me your paths.
Psa 25:5 ENCOURAGE me to walk in your truth and teach me since you are the God who saves me. FOR my hope is in you all day long -- such is your generosity, Yahweh.
Psa 25:6 GOODNESS and faithful love have been yours for ever, Yahweh, do not forget them.
Psa 25:7 HOLD not my youthful sins against me, but remember me as your faithful love dictates.
Psa 25:8 INTEGRITY and generosity are marks of Yahweh for he brings sinners back to the path.
Psa 25:9 JUDICIOUSLY he guides the humble, instructing the poor in his way.
Psa 25:10 KINDNESS unfailing and constancy mark all Yahweh's paths, for those who keep his covenant and his decrees.
Psa 25:11 LET my sin, great though it is, be forgiven, Yahweh, for the sake of your name.
Psa 25:12 MEN who respect Yahweh, what of them? He teaches them the way they must choose.
Psa 25:13 NEIGHBOURS to happiness will they live, and their children inherit the land.
Psa 25:14 ONLY those who fear Yahweh have his secret and his covenant, for their understanding.
Psa 25:15 PERMANENTLY my eyes are on Yahweh, for he will free my feet from the snare.
Psa 25:16 QUICK, turn to me, pity me, alone and wretched as I am!
Psa 25:17 RELIEVE the distress of my heart, bring me out of my constraint.
Psa 25:18 SPARE a glance for my misery and pain, take all my sins away.
Psa 25:19 TAKE note how countless are my enemies, how violent their hatred for me.
Psa 25:20 UNLESS you guard me and rescue me I shall be put to shame, for you are my refuge.
Psa 25:21 VIRTUE and integrity be my protection, for my hope, Yahweh, is in you.
Psa 25:22 Ransom Israel, O God, from all its troubles.
Psa 26:1 [Of David] Yahweh, be my judge! I go on my way in innocence, my trust in Yahweh never wavers.
Psa 26:2 Probe me, Yahweh, examine me, Test my heart and my mind in the fire.
Psa 26:3 For your faithful love is before my eyes, and I live my life by your truth.
Psa 26:4 No sitting with wastrels for me, no travelling with hypocrites;
Psa 26:5 I hate the company of sinners, I refuse to sit down with the wicked.
Psa 26:6 I will wash my hands in innocence and join the procession round your altar, Yahweh,
Psa 26:7 to make heard the sound of thanksgiving, to proclaim all your wonders.
Psa 26:8 Yahweh, I love the beauty of your house and the place where your glory dwells.
Psa 26:9 Do not couple me with sinners, nor my life with men of violence,
Psa 26:10 whose hands are stained with guilt, their right hands heavy with bribes.
Psa 26:11 In innocence I will go on my way; ransom me, take pity on me.
Psa 26:12 I take my stand on the right path; I will bless you, Yahweh, in the assemblies.
Psa 27:1 [Of David] Yahweh is my light and my salvation, whom should I fear? Yahweh is the fortress of my life, whom should I dread?
Psa 27:2 When the wicked advance against me to eat me up, they, my opponents, my enemies, are the ones who stumble and fall.
Psa 27:3 Though an army pitch camp against me, my heart will not fear, though war break out against me, my trust will never be shaken.
Psa 27:4 One thing I ask of Yahweh, one thing I seek: to dwell in Yahweh's house all the days of my life, to enjoy the sweetness of Yahweh, to seek out his temple.
Psa 27:5 For he hides me away under his roof on the day of evil, he folds me in the recesses of his tent, sets me high on a rock.
Psa 27:6 Now my head is held high above the enemies who surround me; in his tent I will offer sacrifices of acclaim. I will sing, I will make music for Yahweh.
Psa 27:7 Yahweh, hear my voice as I cry, pity me, answer me!
Psa 27:8 Of you my heart has said, 'Seek his face!' Your face, Yahweh, I seek;
Psa 27:9 do not turn away from me. Do not thrust aside your servant in anger, without you I am helpless. Never leave me, never forsake me, God, my Saviour.
Psa 27:10 Though my father and mother forsake me, Yahweh will gather me up.

Psa 27:11 Yahweh, teach me your way, lead me on the path of integrity because of my enemies;
Psa 27:12 do not abandon me to the will of my foes -- false witnesses have risen against me, and are breathing out violence.
Psa 27:13 This I believe: I shall see the goodness of Yahweh, in the land of the living.
Psa 27:14 Put your hope in Yahweh, be strong, let your heart be bold, put your hope in Yahweh.
Psa 28:1 [Of David] To you, Yahweh, I cry, my rock, do not be deaf to me! If you stay silent I shall be like those who sink into oblivion.
Psa 28:2 Hear the sound of my prayer when I call upon you, when I raise my hands, Yahweh, towards your Holy of Holies.
Psa 28:3 Do not drag me away with the wicked, with evil-doers, who talk to their partners of peace with treachery in their hearts.
Psa 28:4 Repay them as their deeds deserve, as befits their treacherous actions; as befits their handiwork repay them, let their deserts fall back on themselves.
Psa 28:5 They do not comprehend the deeds of Yahweh, the work of his hands. May he pull them down and not rebuild them!
Psa 28:6 Blessed be Yahweh for he hears the sound of my prayer.
Psa 28:7 Yahweh is my strength and my shield, in him my heart trusts. I have been helped; my body has recovered its vigour, with all my heart I thank him.
Psa 28:8 Yahweh is the strength of his people, a safe refuge for his anointed.
Psa 28:9 Save your people, bless your heritage, shepherd them and carry them for ever!
Psa 29:1 [Psalm Of David] Give Yahweh his due, sons of God, give Yahweh his due of glory and strength,
Psa 29:2 give Yahweh the glory due to his name, adore Yahweh in the splendour of holiness.
Psa 29:3 Yahweh's voice over the waters, the God of glory thunders; Yahweh over countless waters,
Psa 29:4 Yahweh's voice in power, Yahweh's voice in splendour;
Psa 29:5 Yahweh's voice shatters cedars, Yahweh shatters cedars of Lebanon,
Psa 29:6 he makes Lebanon skip like a calf, Sirion like a young wild ox.
Psa 29:7 Yahweh's voice carves out lightning-shafts,
Psa 29:8 Yahweh's voice convulses the desert, Yahweh convulses the desert of Kadesh,
Psa 29:9 Yahweh's voice convulses terebinths, strips forests bare. In his palace all cry, 'Glory!'
Psa 29:10 Yahweh was enthroned for the flood, Yahweh is enthroned as king for ever.
Psa 29:11 Yahweh will give strength to his people, Yahweh blesses his people with peace.
Psa 30:1 [Psalm Canticle for the Dedication of the House Of David] I praise you to the heights, Yahweh, for you have raised me up, you have not let my foes make merry over me.
Psa 30:2 Yahweh, my God, I cried to you for help and you healed me.
Psa 30:3 Yahweh, you have lifted me out of Sheol, from among those who sink into oblivion you have given me life.
Psa 30:4 Make music for Yahweh, all you who are faithful to him, praise his unforgettable holiness.
Psa 30:5 His anger lasts but a moment, his favour through life; In the evening come tears, but with dawn cries of joy.
Psa 30:6 Carefree, I used to think, 'Nothing can ever shake me!'
Psa 30:7 Your favour, Yahweh, set me on impregnable heights, but you turned away your face and I was terrified.
Psa 30:8 To you, Yahweh, I call, to my God I cry for mercy.
Psa 30:9 What point is there in my death, my going down to the abyss? Can the dust praise you or proclaim your faithfulness?
Psa 30:10 Listen, Yahweh, take pity on me, Yahweh, be my help!
Psa 30:11 You have turned my mourning into dancing, you have stripped off my sackcloth and clothed me with joy.
Psa 30:12 So my heart will sing to you unceasingly, Yahweh, my God, I shall praise you for ever.
Psa 31:1 [For the choirmaster Psalm Of David] In you, Yahweh, I have taken refuge, let me never be put to shame, in your saving justice deliver me, rescue me,
Psa 31:2 turn your ear to me, make haste. Be for me a rock-fastness, a fortified citadel to save me.
Psa 31:3 You are my rock, my rampart; true to your name, lead me and guide me!
Psa 31:4 Draw me out of the net they have spread for me, for you are my refuge;
Psa 31:5 to your hands I commit my spirit, by you have I been redeemed. God of truth,
Psa 31:6 you hate those who serve useless idols; but my trust is in Yahweh:
Psa 31:7 I will delight and rejoice in your faithful love! You, who have seen my misery, and witnessed the miseries of my soul,
Psa 31:8 have not handed me over to the enemy, but have given me freedom to roam at large.

Psa 31:9 Take pity on me, Yahweh, for I am in trouble. Vexation is gnawing away my eyes, my soul deep within me.

Psa 31:10 For my life is worn out with sorrow, and my years with sighs. My strength gives way under my misery, and my bones are all wasted away.

Psa 31:11 The sheer number of my enemies makes me contemptible, loathsome to my neighbours, and my friends shrink from me in horror. When people see me in the street they take to their heels.

Psa 31:12 I have no more place in their hearts than a corpse, or something lost.

Psa 31:13 All I hear is slander -- terror wherever I turn -- as they plot together against me, scheming to take my life.

Psa 31:14 But my trust is in you, Yahweh; I say, 'You are my God.'

Psa 31:15 every moment of my life is in your hands, rescue me from the clutches of my foes who pursue me;

Psa 31:16 let your face shine on your servant, save me in your faithful love.

Psa 31:17 I call on you, Yahweh, so let disgrace fall not on me, but on the wicked. Let them go down to Sheol in silence, Psa 31:18 muzzles on their lying mouths, which speak arrogantly against the upright in pride and contempt.

Psa 31:19 Yahweh, what quantities of good things you have in store for those who fear you, and bestow on those who make you their refuge, for all humanity to see.

Psa 31:20 Safe in your presence you hide them, far from human plotting, shielding them in your tent, far from contentious tongues.

Psa 31:21 Blessed be Yahweh who works for me miracles of his faithful love (in a fortified city)!

Psa 31:22 In a state of terror I cried, 'I have been cut off from your sight!' Yet you heard my plea for help when I cried out to you.

Psa 31:23 Love Yahweh, all his faithful: Yahweh protects his loyal servants, but he repays the arrogant with interest.

Psa 31:24 Be brave, take heart, all who put your hope in Yahweh.

Psa 32:1 [Of David Poem] How blessed are those whose offence is forgiven, whose sin blotted out.

Psa 32:2 How blessed are those to whom Yahweh imputes no guilt, whose spirit harbours no deceit.

Psa 32:3 I said not a word, but my bones wasted away from groaning all the day;

Psa 32:4 day and night your hand lay heavy upon me; my heart grew parched as stubble in summer drought.Pause

Psa 32:5 I made my sin known to you, did not conceal my guilt. I said, 'I shall confess my offence to Yahweh.' And you, for your part, took away my guilt, forgave my sin.Pause

Psa 32:6 That is why each of your faithful ones prays to you in time of distress. Even if great floods overflow, they will never reach your faithful.

Psa 32:7 You are a refuge for me, you guard me in trouble, with songs of deliverance you surround me.Pause

Psa 32:8 I shall instruct you and teach you the way to go; I shall not take my eyes off you.

Psa 32:9 Be not like a horse or a mule; that does not understand bridle or bit; if you advance to master them, there is no means of bringing them near.

Psa 32:10 Countless troubles are in store for the wicked, but one who trusts in Yahweh is enfolded in his faithful love.

Psa 32:11 Rejoice in Yahweh, exult all you upright, shout for joy, you honest of heart.

Psa 33:1 Shout for joy, you upright; praise comes well from the honest.

Psa 33:2 Give thanks to Yahweh on the lyre, play for him on the ten-stringed lyre.

Psa 33:3 Sing to him a new song, make sweet music for your cry of victory.

Psa 33:4 The word of Yahweh is straightforward, all he does springs from his constancy.

Psa 33:5 He loves uprightness and justice; the faithful love of Yahweh fills the earth.

Psa 33:6 By the word of Yahweh the heavens were made, by the breath of his mouth all their array.

Psa 33:7 He collects the waters of the sea like a dam, he stores away the abyss in his treasure-house.

Psa 33:8 Let the whole earth fear Yahweh, let all who dwell in the world revere him;

Psa 33:9 for, the moment he spoke, it was so, no sooner had he commanded, than there it stood!

Psa 33:10 Yahweh thwarts the plans of nations, frustrates the counsels of peoples;

Psa 33:11 but Yahweh's own plan stands firm for ever, his heart's counsel from age to age.

Psa 33:12 How blessed the nation whose God is Yahweh, the people he has chosen as his heritage.

Psa 33:13 From heaven Yahweh looks down, he sees all the children of Adam,

Psa 33:14 from the place where he sits he watches all who dwell on the earth;

Psa 33:15 he alone moulds their hearts, he understands all they do.

Psa 33:16 A large army will not keep a king safe, nor his strength save a warrior's life;

Psa 33:17 it is delusion to rely on a horse for safety, for all its power it cannot save.

Psa 33:18 But see how Yahweh watches over those who fear him, those who rely on his faithful love,

Psa 33:19 to rescue them from death and keep them alive in famine.
Psa 33:20 We are waiting for Yahweh; he is our help and our shield,
Psa 33:21 for in him our heart rejoices, in his holy name we trust.
Psa 33:22 Yahweh, let your faithful love rest on us, as our hope has rested in you.
Psa 34:1 [Of David, when he had feigned insanity before Abimelech, and Abimelech sent him away] I will bless Yahweh at all times, his praise continually on my lips.
Psa 34:2 I will praise Yahweh from my heart; let the humble hear and rejoice.
Psa 34:3 Proclaim with me the greatness of Yahweh, let us acclaim his name together.
Psa 34:4 I seek Yahweh and he answers me, frees me from all my fears.
Psa 34:5 Fix your gaze on Yahweh and your face will grow bright, you will never hang your head in shame.
Psa 34:6 A pauper calls out and Yahweh hears, saves him from all his troubles.
Psa 34:7 The angel of Yahweh encamps around those who fear him, and rescues them.
Psa 34:8 Taste and see that Yahweh is good. How blessed are those who take refuge in him.
Psa 34:9 Fear Yahweh, you his holy ones; those who fear him lack for nothing.
Psa 34:10 Young lions may go needy and hungry, but those who seek Yahweh lack nothing good.
Psa 34:11 Come, my children, listen to me, I will teach you the fear of Yahweh.
Psa 34:12 Who among you delights in life, longs for time to enjoy prosperity?
Psa 34:13 Guard your tongue from evil, your lips from any breath of deceit.
Psa 34:14 Turn away from evil and do good, seek peace and pursue it.
Psa 34:15 The eyes of Yahweh are on the upright, his ear turned to their cry.
Psa 34:16 But Yahweh's face is set against those who do evil, to cut off the memory of them from the earth.
Psa 34:17 They cry in anguish and Yahweh hears, and rescues them from all their troubles.
Psa 34:18 Yahweh is near to the broken-hearted, he helps those whose spirit is crushed.
Psa 34:19 Though hardships without number beset the upright, Yahweh brings rescue from them all.
Psa 34:20 Yahweh takes care of all their bones, not one of them will be broken.
Psa 34:21 But to the wicked evil brings death, those who hate the upright will pay the penalty.
Psa 34:22 Yahweh ransoms the lives of those who serve him, and there will be no penalty for those who take refuge in him.
Psa 35:1 [Of David] Accuse my accusers, Yahweh, attack my attackers.
Psa 35:2 Grasp your buckler and shield, up, and help me.
Psa 35:3 Brandish spear and pike to confront my pursuers, give me the assurance, 'I am your Saviour.'
Psa 35:4 Shame and humiliation on those who are out to kill me! Defeat and repulse in dismay on those who plot my downfall.
Psa 35:5 May they be like chaff before the wind, with the angel of Yahweh to chase them.
Psa 35:6 May their way be dark and slippery, with the angel of Yahweh to hound them.
Psa 35:7 Unprovoked they laid their snare for me, unprovoked dug a trap to kill me.
Psa 35:8 Ruin comes upon them unawares; the snare they have laid will catch them, and into their own trap they will fall.
Psa 35:9 Then I shall delight in Yahweh, rejoice that he has saved me.
Psa 35:10 My very bones will all exclaim, Yahweh, who can compare with you in rescuing the poor from the oppressor; the needy from the exploiter?
Psa 35:11 False witnesses come forward against me asking me questions I cannot answer, they cross-examine me,
Psa 35:12 repay my kindness with cruelty, make my life barren.
Psa 35:13 But I, when they were ill, had worn sackcloth, and mortified myself with fasting, praying ever anew in my heart,
Psa 35:14 as if for a friend or brother; I had wandered restless, as if mourning a mother, so bowed had I been in sorrow.
Psa 35:15 When I stumble they gather in glee, gather around me; strangers I never even knew tear me apart incessantly.
Psa 35:16 If I fall they surround me, grinding their teeth at me.
Psa 35:17 How much longer, Lord, will you look on? Rescue me from their onslaughts, from young lions rescue the one life that I have.
Psa 35:18 I will give you thanks in the great assembly praise you where the people gather.
Psa 35:19 Let not my lying enemies gloat over me; those who hate me unprovoked look askance at me.
Psa 35:20 They have no greeting of peace to the peace-loving people of the land; they think up deceptive speeches.
Psa 35:21 Their mouths wide open to accuse me, they say, 'Come on now, we saw you.'
Psa 35:22 You saw it, Yahweh, do not stay silent; Lord, do not stand aloof from me.

Psa 35:23 Up, awake, to my defence, my God and my Lord, to my cause.
Psa 35:24 In your saving justice give judgement for me, Yahweh my God, and do not let them gloat over me.
Psa 35:25 Do not let them think, 'Just as we hoped,' nor, 'Now we have swallowed him up.'
Psa 35:26 Shame and dismay on them all who gloat over my misfortunes. Let all who profit at my expense be covered with shame and disgrace.
Psa 35:27 But let all who delight in my uprightness shout for joy and gladness; let them constantly say, 'Great is Yahweh, who delights to see his servant in peace.'

Psa 35:28 And my tongue shall recount your saving justice, all day long sing your praise.

Psa 36:1 [For the choirmaster Of the servant of Yahweh Of David] Sin is the oracle of the wicked in the depths of his heart; there is no fear of God before his eyes.

Psa 36:2 He sees himself with too flattering an eye to detect and detest his guilt;

Psa 36:3 all he says is malicious and deceitful, he has turned his back on wisdom. To get his way

Psa 36:4 he hatches malicious plots even in his bed; once set on his evil course no wickedness is too much for him.

Psa 36:5 Yahweh, your faithful love is in the heavens, your constancy reaches to the clouds,

Psa 36:6 your saving justice is like towering mountains, your judgements like the mighty deep. Yahweh, you support both man and beast;

Psa 36:7 how precious, God, is your faithful love. So the children of Adam take refuge in the shadow of your wings.

Psa 36:8 They feast on the bounty of your house, you let them drink from your delicious streams;

Psa 36:9 in you is the source of life, by your light we see the light.

Psa 36:10 Maintain your faithful love to those who acknowledge you, and your saving justice to the honest of heart.

Psa 36:11 Do not let the foot of the arrogant overtake me or wicked hands drive me away.

Psa 36:12 There they have fallen, the evil-doers, flung down, never to rise again.

Psa 37:1 [Of David] Do not get heated about the wicked or envy those who do wrong.

Psa 37:2 Quick as the grass they wither, fading like the green of the fields.

Psa 37:3 Put your trust in Yahweh and do right, make your home in the land and live secure.

Psa 37:4 Make Yahweh your joy and he will give you your heart's desires.

Psa 37:5 Commit your destiny to Yahweh, be confident in him, and he will act,

Psa 37:6 making your uprightness clear as daylight, and the justice of your cause as the noon.

Psa 37:7 Stay quiet before Yahweh, wait longingly for him, do not get heated over someone who is making a fortune, succeeding by devious means.

Psa 37:8 Refrain from anger, leave rage aside, do not get heated -- it can do no good;

Psa 37:9 for evil-doers will be annihilated, while those who hope in Yahweh shall have the land for their own.

Psa 37:10 A little while and the wicked will be no more, however well you search for the place, the wicked will not be there;

Psa 37:11 but the poor will have the land for their own, to enjoy untroubled peace.

Psa 37:12 The wicked plots against the upright and gnashes his teeth at him,

Psa 37:13 but Yahweh only laughs at his efforts, knowing that his end is in sight.

Psa 37:14 Though the wicked draw his sword and bend his bow to slaughter the honest and bring down the poor and the needy,

Psa 37:15 his sword will pierce his own heart, and his bow will be shattered.

Psa 37:16 What little the upright possesses outweighs all the wealth of the wicked;

Psa 37:17 for the weapons of the wicked shall be shattered, while Yahweh supports the upright.

Psa 37:18 The lives of the just are in Yahweh's care, their birthright will endure for ever;

Psa 37:19 they will not be put to shame when bad times come, in time of famine they will have plenty.

Psa 37:20 The wicked, enemies of Yahweh, will be destroyed, they will vanish like the green of the pasture, they will vanish in smoke.

Psa 37:21 The wicked borrows and will not repay, but the upright is generous in giving;

Psa 37:22 those he blesses will have the land for their own, and those he curses be annihilated.

Psa 37:23 Yahweh guides a strong man's steps and keeps them firm; and takes pleasure in him.

Psa 37:24 When he trips he is not thrown sprawling, since Yahweh supports him by the hand.

Psa 37:25 Now I am old, but ever since my youth I never saw an upright person abandoned, or the descendants of the upright forced to beg their bread.

Psa 37:26 The upright is always compassionate, always lending, so his descendants reap a blessing.

Psa 37:27 Turn your back on evil and do good, you will have a home for ever,

Psa 37:28 for Yahweh loves justice and will not forsake his faithful. Evil-doers will perish eternally, the descendants of the wicked be annihilated,

Psa 37:29 but the upright shall have the land for their own, there they shall live for ever.
Psa 37:30 Wisdom comes from the lips of the upright, and his tongue speaks what is right;
Psa 37:31 the law of his God is in his heart, his foot will never slip.
Psa 37:32 The wicked keeps a close eye on the upright, looking out for a chance to kill him;
Psa 37:33 Yahweh will never abandon him to the clutches of the wicked, nor let him be condemned if he is tried.
Psa 37:34 Put your hope in Yahweh, keep to his path, he will raise you up to make the land your own; you will look on while the wicked are annihilated.
Psa 37:35 I have seen the wicked exultant, towering like a cedar of Lebanon.
Psa 37:36 When next I passed he was gone, I searched for him and he was nowhere to be found.
Psa 37:37 Observe the innocent, consider the honest, for the lover of peace will not lack children.
Psa 37:38 But the wicked will all be destroyed together, and their children annihilated.
Psa 37:39 The upright have Yahweh for their Saviour, their refuge in times of trouble;
Psa 37:40 Yahweh helps them and rescues them, he will rescue them from the wicked, and save them because they take refuge in him.
Psa 38:1 [Psalm Of David In commemoration] Yahweh, do not correct me in anger, do not discipline me in wrath.
Psa 38:2 For your arrows have pierced deep into me, your hand has pressed down upon me.
Psa 38:3 Your indignation has left no part of me unscathed, my sin has left no health in my bones.
Psa 38:4 My sins stand higher than my head, they weigh on me as an unbearable weight.
Psa 38:5 I have stinking, festering wounds, thanks to my folly.
Psa 38:6 I am twisted and bent double, I spend my days in gloom.
Psa 38:7 My loins burn with fever, no part of me is unscathed.
Psa 38:8 Numb and utterly crushed I groan in distress of heart.
Psa 38:9 Lord, all my longing is known to you, my sighing no secret from you,
Psa 38:10 my heart is throbbing, my strength has failed, the light has gone out of my eyes.
Psa 38:11 Friends and companions shun my disease, even the dearest of them keep their distance.
Psa 38:12 Those with designs on my life lay snares, those who wish me ill speak of violence and hatch treachery all day long.
Psa 38:13 But I hear nothing, as though I were deaf, as though dumb, saying not a word.
Psa 38:14 I am like the one who, hearing nothing, has no sharp answer to make.
Psa 38:15 For in you, Yahweh, I put my hope, you, Lord my God, will give answer.
Psa 38:16 I said, 'Never let them gloat over me, do not let them take advantage of me if my foot slips.'
Psa 38:17 There is no escape for me from falling, no relief from my misery.
Psa 38:18 But I make no secret of my guilt, I am anxious at the thought of my sin.
Psa 38:19 There is no numbering those who oppose me without cause, no counting those who hate me unprovoked,
Psa 38:20 repaying me evil for good, slandering me for trying to do them good.
Psa 38:21 Yahweh, do not desert me, my God, do not stand aloof from me.
Psa 38:22 Come quickly to my help, Lord, my Saviour!
Psa 39:1 [For the choirmaster For Jeduthun Psalm Of David] I said, 'I will watch how I behave so that I do not sin by my tongue. I will keep a muzzle on my mouth as long as any sinner is near.'
Psa 39:2 I stayed dumb, silent, speechless, but the sinner's prosperity redoubled my torment.
Psa 39:3 My heart had been smouldering within me, but at the thought of this it flared up and the words came bursting out,
Psa 39:4 'Yahweh, let me know my fate, how much longer I have to live. Show me just how frail I am.
Psa 39:5 'Look, you have given me but a hand's breadth or two of life, the length of my life is as nothing to you. Every human being that stands on earth is a mere puff of wind,
Psa 39:6 every human being that walks only a shadow; a mere puff of wind is the wealth stored away -- no knowing who will profit from it.'
Psa 39:7 So now, Lord, what am I to hope for? My hope is in you.
Psa 39:8 Save me from all my sins, do not make me the butt of fools.
Psa 39:9 I keep silence, I speak no more since you yourself have been at work.
Psa 39:10 Take your scourge away from me. I am worn out by the blows you deal me.
Psa 39:11 You correct human beings by punishing sin, like a moth you eat away all their desires -- a human being is a mere puff of wind.
Psa 39:12 Yahweh, hear my prayer, listen to my cry for help, do not remain deaf to my weeping. For I am a stranger in your house, a nomad like all my ancestors.
Psa 39:13 Turn away your gaze that I may breathe freely before I depart and am no more!
Psa 40:1 [For the choirmaster Of David Psalm] I waited, I waited for Yahweh, then he stooped to me and heard my cry for help.

Psa 40:2 He pulled me up from the seething chasm, from the mud of the mire. He set my feet on rock, and made my footsteps firm.

Psa 40:3 He put a fresh song in my mouth, praise of our God. Many will be awestruck at the sight, and will put their trust in Yahweh.

Psa 40:4 How blessed are those who put their trust in Yahweh, who have not sided with rebels and those who have gone astray in falsehood.

Psa 40:5 How much you have done, Yahweh, my God -- your wonders, your plans for us -- you have no equal. I will proclaim and speak of them; they are beyond number.

Psa 40:6 You wanted no sacrifice or cereal offering, but you gave me an open ear, you did not ask for burnt offering or sacrifice for sin;

Psa 40:7 then I said, 'Here I am, I am coming.' In the scroll of the book it is written of me,

Psa 40:8 my delight is to do your will; your law, my God, is deep in my heart.

Psa 40:9 I proclaimed the saving justice of Yahweh in the great assembly. See, I will not hold my tongue, as you well know.

Psa 40:10 I have not kept your saving justice locked in the depths of my heart, but have spoken of your constancy and saving help. I have made no secret of your faithful and steadfast love, in the great assembly.

Psa 40:11 You, Yahweh, have not withheld your tenderness from me; your faithful and steadfast love will always guard me.

Psa 40:12 For troubles surround me, until they are beyond number; my sins have overtaken me; I cannot see my way. They outnumber the hairs of my head, and my heart fails me.

Psa 40:13 Be pleased, Yahweh, to rescue me, Yahweh, come quickly and help me!

Psa 40:14 Shame and dismay to all who seek to take my life. Back with them, let them be humiliated who delight in my misfortunes.

Psa 40:15 Let them be aghast with shame, those who say to me, 'Aha, aha!'

Psa 40:16 But joy and happiness in you to all who seek you! Let them ceaselessly cry, 'Great is Yahweh' who love your saving power.

Psa 40:17 Poor and needy as I am, the Lord has me in mind. You, my helper, my Saviour, my God, do not delay.

Psa 41:1 [For the choirmaster Psalm Of David] Blessed is anyone who cares for the poor and the weak; in time of trouble Yahweh rescues him.

Psa 41:2 Yahweh protects him, gives him life and happiness on earth. Do not abandon him to his enemies' pleasure!

Psa 41:3 Yahweh sustains him on his bed of sickness; you transform altogether the bed where he lies sick.

Psa 41:4 For my part I said, 'Yahweh, take pity on me! Cure me for I have sinned against you.'

Psa 41:5 My enemies speak to me only of disaster, 'When will he die and his name disappear?'

Psa 41:6 When people come to see me their talk is hollow, when they get out they spread the news with spite in their hearts.

Psa 41:7 All who hate me whisper together about me and reckon I deserve the misery I suffer.

Psa 41:8 'A fatal sickness has a grip on him; now that he is down, he will never get up again.'

Psa 41:9 Even my trusted friend on whom I relied, who shared my table, takes advantage of me.

Psa 41:10 But you, Yahweh, take pity on me! Put me on my feet and I will give them their due.

Psa 41:11 This will convince me that you delight in me, if my enemy no longer exults over me.

Psa 41:12 Then you will keep me unscathed, and set me in your presence for ever.

Psa 41:13 Blessed be Yahweh, the God of Israel, from eternity to eternity. Amen, Amen.

Psa 42:1 [For the choirmaster Poem Of the sons of Korah] As a deer yearns for running streams, so I yearn for you, my God.

Psa 42:2 I thirst for God, the living God; when shall I go to see the face of God?

Psa 42:3 I have no food but tears day and night, as all day long I am taunted, 'Where is your God?'

Psa 42:4 This I remember as I pour out my heart, how I used to pass under the roof of the Most High used to go to the house of God, among cries of joy and praise, the sound of the feast.

Psa 42:5 Why be so downcast, why all these sighs? Hope in God! I will praise him still, my Saviour, Psa 42:6 my God. When I am downcast I think of you: from the land of Jordan and Hermon, I think of you, humble mountain.

Psa 42:7 Deep is calling to deep by the roar of your cataracts, all your waves and breakers have rolled over me.

Psa 42:8 In the daytime God sends his faithful love, and even at night; the song it inspires in me is a prayer to my living God.

Psa 42:9 I shall say to God, my rock, 'Why have you forgotten me? Why must I go around in mourning, harrassed by the enemy?'

Psa 42:10 With death in my bones, my enemies taunt me, all day long they ask me, 'Where is your God?'

Psa 42:11 Why so downcast, why all these sighs? Hope in God! I will praise him still, my Saviour, my God.

Psa 43:1 Judge me, God, defend my cause against a people who have no faithful love; from those who are treacherous and unjust, rescue me.

Psa 43:2 For you are the God of my strength; why abandon me? Why must I go around in mourning, harrassed by the enemy?

Psa 43:3 Send out your light and your truth; they shall be my guide, to lead me to your holy mountain to the place where you dwell.

Psa 43:4 Then I shall go to the altar of God, to the God of my joy. I will rejoice and praise you on the harp, O God, my God.

Psa 43:5 Why so downcast, why all these sighs? Hope in God! I will praise him still, my Saviour, my God.

Psa 44:1 [For the choirmaster Of the sons of Korah Poem] God, we have heard for ourselves, our ancestors have told us, of the deeds you did in their days, in days of old,

Psa 44:2 by your hand. To establish them in the land you drove out nations, to make room for them you harried peoples.

Psa 44:3 It was not their own sword that won the land, nor their own arms which made them victorious, but your hand it was and your arm, and the light of your presence, for you loved them.

Psa 44:4 You are my king, my God, who decreed Jacob's victories;

Psa 44:5 through you we conquered our opponents, in your name we trampled down those who rose up against us.

Psa 44:6 For my trust was not in my bow, my victory was not won by my sword;

Psa 44:7 it was you who saved us from our opponents, you who put to shame those who hate us.

Psa 44:8 Our boast was always of God, we praised your name without ceasing.Pause

Psa 44:9 Yet now you have abandoned and humiliated us, you no longer take the field with our armies,

Psa 44:10 you leave us to fall back before the enemy, those who hate us plunder us at will.

Psa 44:11 You hand us over like sheep for slaughter, you scatter us among the nations,

Psa 44:12 you sell your people for a triflre and make no profit on the sale.

Psa 44:13 You make us the butt of our neighbours, the mockery and scorn of those around us,

Psa 44:14 you make us a by-word among nations, other peoples shake their heads over us.

Psa 44:15 All day long I brood on my disgrace, the shame written clear on my face, Psa 44:16 from the sound of insult and abuse, from the sight of hatred and vengefulness.

Psa 44:17 All this has befallen us though we had not forgotten you, nor been disloyal to your covenant,

Psa 44:18 our hearts never turning away, our feet never straying from your path.

Psa 44:19 Yet you have crushed us in the place where jackals live, and immersed us in shadow dark as death.

Psa 44:20 Had we forgotten the name of our God and stretched out our hands to a foreign god,

Psa 44:21 would not God have found this out, for he knows the secrets of the heart?

Psa 44:22 For your sake we are being massacred all day long, treated as sheep to be slaughtered.

Psa 44:23 Wake, Lord! Why are you asleep? Awake! Do not abandon us for good.

Psa 44:24 Why do you turn your face away, forgetting that we are poor and harrassed?

Psa 44:25 For we are bowed down to the dust, and lie prone on the ground.

Psa 44:26 Arise! Come to our help! Ransom us, as your faithful love demands.

Psa 45:1 [For the choirmaster Tune: 'Lilies . . .' Of the sons of Korah Poem Love song] My heart is stirred by a noble theme, I address my poem to the king, my tongue the pen of an expert scribe.

Psa 45:2 Of all men you are the most handsome, gracefulness is a dew upon your lips, for God has blessed you for ever.

Psa 45:3 Warrior, strap your sword at your side, in your majesty and splendour advance,

Psa 45:4 ride on in the cause of truth, gentleness and uprightness. Stretch the bowstring tight, lending terror to your right hand.

Psa 45:5 Your arrows are sharp, nations lie at your mercy, the king's enemies lose heart.

Psa 45:6 Your throne is from God, for ever and ever, the sceptre of your kingship a sceptre of justice,

Psa 45:7 you love uprightness and detest evil. This is why God, your God, has anointed you with oil of gladness, as none of your rivals,

Psa 45:8 your robes all myrrh and aloes. From palaces of ivory, harps bring you joy,

Psa 45:9 in your retinue are daughters of kings, the consort at your right hand in gold of Ophir.

Psa 45:10 Listen, my daughter, attend to my words and hear; forget your own nation and your ancestral home,

Psa 45:11 then the king will fall in love with your beauty; he is your lord, bow down before him.

Psa 45:12 The daughter of Tyre will court your favour with gifts, and the richest of peoples

Psa 45:13 with jewels set in gold. Clothed

Psa 45:14 in brocade, the king's daughter is led within to the king with the maidens of her retinue; her companions are brought to her,

Psa 45:15 they enter the king's palace with joy and rejoicing.

Psa 45:16 Instead of your ancestors you will have sons; you will make them rulers over the whole world.

Psa 45:17 I will make your name endure from generation to generation, so nations will sing your praise for ever and ever.

Psa 46:1 [For the choirmaster Of the sons of Korah For oboe Song] God is both refuge and strength for us, a help always ready in trouble;

Psa 46:2 so we shall not be afraid though the earth be in turmoil, though mountains tumble into the depths of the sea,

Psa 46:3 and its waters roar and seethe, and the mountains totter as it heaves. (Yahweh Sabaoth is with us, our citadel, the God of Jacob.)Pause

Psa 46:4 There is a river whose streams bring joy to God's city, it sanctifies the dwelling of the Most High.

Psa 46:5 God is in the city, it cannot fall; at break of day God comes to its rescue.

Psa 46:6 Nations are in uproar, kingdoms are tumbling, when he raises his voice the earth crumbles away.

Psa 46:7 Yahweh Sabaoth is with us, our citadel, the God of Jacob. Pause

Psa 46:8 Come, consider the wonders of Yahweh, the astounding deeds he has done on the earth;

Psa 46:9 he puts an end to wars over the whole wide world, he breaks the bow, he snaps the spear, shields he burns in the fire.

Psa 46:10 'Be still and acknowledge that I am God, supreme over nations, supreme over the world.'

Psa 46:11 Yahweh Sabaoth is with us, our citadel, the God of Jacob.Pause

Psa 47:1 [For the choirmaster Of the sons of Korah Psalm] Clap your hands, all peoples, acclaim God with shouts of joy.

Psa 47:2 For Yahweh, the Most High, is glorious, the great king over all the earth.

Psa 47:3 He brings peoples under our yoke and nations under our feet.

Psa 47:4 He chooses for us our birthright, the pride of Jacob whom he loves.Pause

Psa 47:5 God goes up to shouts of acclaim, Yahweh to a fanfare on the ram's horn.

Psa 47:6 Let the music sound for our God, let it sound, let the music sound for our king, let it sound.

Psa 47:7 For he is king of the whole world; learn the music, let it sound for God!

Psa 47:8 God reigns over the nations, seated on his holy throne.

Psa 47:9 The leaders of the nations rally to the people of the God of Abraham. The shields of the earth belong to God, who is exalted on high.

Psa 48:1 [Song Psalm Of the sons of Korah] Great is Yahweh and most worthy of praise in the city of our God, the holy mountain,

Psa 48:2 towering in beauty, the joy of the whole world: Mount Zion in the heart of the north, the settlement of the great king;

Psa 48:3 God himself among its palaces has proved himself its bulwark.

Psa 48:4 For look, kings made alliance, together they advanced;

Psa 48:5 without a second glance, when they saw, they panicked and fled away.

Psa 48:6 Trembling seized them on the spot, pains like those of a woman in labour;

Psa 48:7 it was the east wind, that wrecker of ships from Tarshish.

Psa 48:8 What we had heard we saw for ourselves in the city of our God, in the city of Yahweh Sabaoth, which God has established for ever.Pause

Psa 48:9 We reflect on your faithful love, God, in your temple!

Psa 48:10 Both your name and your praise, God, are over the whole wide world. Your right hand is full of saving justice,

Psa 48:11 Mount Zion rejoices, the daughters of Judah delight because of your saving justice.

Psa 48:12 Go round Zion, walk right through her, count her bastions,

Psa 48:13 admire her walls, examine her palaces, to tell future generations

Psa 48:14 that such is God; our God for ever and ever, he is our guide!

Psa 49:1 [For the choirmaster Of the sons of Korah Psalm] Hear this, all nations, listen, all who dwell on earth,

Psa 49:2 people high and low, rich and poor alike!

Psa 49:3 My lips have wisdom to utter, my heart good sense to whisper.

Psa 49:4 I listen carefully to a proverb, I set my riddle to the music of the harp.

Psa 49:5 Why should I be afraid in times of trouble? Malice dogs me and hems me in.

Psa 49:6 They trust in their wealth, and boast of the profusion of their riches.

Psa 49:7 But no one can ever redeem himself or pay his own ransom to God,

Psa 49:8 the price for himself is too high; it can never be

Psa 49:9 that he will live on for ever and avoid the sight of the abyss.

Psa 49:10 For he will see the wise also die no less than the fool and the brute, and leave their wealth behind for others.

Psa 49:11 For ever no home but their tombs, their dwelling-place age after age, though they gave their name to whole territories.

Psa 49:12 In prosperity people lose their good sense, they become no better than dumb animals.

Psa 49:13 So they go on in their self-assurance, right up to the end they are content with their lot.Pause

Psa 49:14 They are penned in Sheol like sheep, Death will lead them to pasture, and those who are honest will rule over them. In the morning all trace of them will be gone, Sheol will be their home.

Psa 49:15 But my soul God will ransom from the clutches of Sheol, and will snatch me up.Pause

Psa 49:16 Do not be overawed when someone gets rich, and lives in ever greater splendour;

Psa 49:17 when he dies he will take nothing with him, his wealth will not go down with him.

Psa 49:18 Though he pampered himself while he lived -- and people praise you for looking after yourself-

Psa 49:19 he will go to join the ranks of his ancestors, who will never again see the light.

Psa 49:20 In prosperity people lose their good sense, they become no better than dumb animals.

Psa 50:1 [Psalm Of Asaph] The God of gods, Yahweh, is speaking, from east to west he summons the earth.

Psa 50:2 From Zion, perfection of beauty, he shines forth;

Psa 50:3 he is coming, our God, and will not be silent. Devouring fire ahead of him, raging tempest around him,

Psa 50:4 he summons the heavens from on high, and the earth to judge his people.

Psa 50:5 'Gather to me my faithful, who sealed my covenant by sacrifice.'

Psa 50:6 The heavens proclaim his saving justice, 'God himself is judge.'Pause

Psa 50:7 'Listen, my people, I am speaking, Israel, I am giving evidence against you, I, God, your God.

Psa 50:8 'It is not with your sacrifices that I find fault, those burnt offerings constantly before me;

Psa 50:9 I will not accept any bull from your homes, nor a single goat from your folds.

Psa 50:10 'For all forest creatures are mine already, the animals on the mountains in their thousands.

Psa 50:11 I know every bird in the air, whatever moves in the fields is mine.

Psa 50:12 'If I am hungry I shall not tell you, since the world and all it holds is mine.

Psa 50:13 Am I to eat the flesh of bulls or drink the blood of goats?

Psa 50:14 'Let thanksgiving be your sacrifice to God, fulfil the vows you make to the Most High;

Psa 50:15 then if you call to me in time of trouble I will rescue you and you will honour me.'

Psa 50:16 But to the wicked, God says: 'What right have you to recite my statutes, to take my covenant on your lips,

Psa 50:17 when you detest my teaching, and thrust my words behind you?

Psa 50:18 'You make friends with a thief as soon as you see one, you feel at home with adulterers,

Psa 50:19 your conversation is devoted to wickedness, and your tongue to inventing lies.

Psa 50:20 'You sit there, slandering your own brother, you malign your own mother's son.

Psa 50:21 You do this, and am I to say nothing? Do you think that I am really like you? I charge you, indict you to your face.

Psa 50:22 'Think it out, you who forget God, or I will tear you apart without hope of a rescuer.

Psa 50:23 Honour to me is a sacrifice of thanksgiving; to the upright I will show God's salvation.'

Psa 51:1 [For the choirmaster Of David When the prophet Nathan had come to him because he had gone to Bathsheba] Have mercy on me, O God, in your faithful love, in your great tenderness wipe away my offences;

Psa 51:2 wash me clean from my guilt, purify me from my sin.

Psa 51:3 For I am well aware of my offences, my sin is constantly in mind.

Psa 51:4 Against you, you alone, I have sinned, I have done what you see to be wrong, that you may show your saving justice when you pass sentence, and your victory may appear when you give judgement,

Psa 51:5 remember, I was born guilty, a sinner from the moment of conception.

Psa 51:6 But you delight in sincerity of heart, and in secret you teach me wisdom.

Psa 51:7 Purify me with hyssop till I am clean, wash me till I am whiter than snow.

Psa 51:8 Let me hear the sound of joy and gladness, and the bones you have crushed will dance.

Psa 51:9 Turn away your face from my sins, and wipe away all my guilt.

Psa 51:10 God, create in me a clean heart, renew within me a resolute spirit,

Psa 51:11 do not thrust me away from your presence, do not take away from me your spirit of holiness.

Psa 51:12 Give me back the joy of your salvation, sustain in me a generous spirit.

Psa 51:13 I shall teach the wicked your paths, and sinners will return to you.

Psa 51:14 Deliver me from bloodshed, God, God of my salvation, and my tongue will acclaim your saving justice.

Psa 51:15 Lord, open my lips, and my mouth will speak out your praise.

Psa 51:16 Sacrifice gives you no pleasure, burnt offering you do not desire.

Psa 51:17 Sacrifice to God is a broken spirit, a broken, contrite heart you never scorn.

Psa 51:18 In your graciousness do good to Zion, rebuild the walls of Jerusalem.

Psa 51:19 Then you will delight in upright sacrifices,-burnt offerings and whole oblations -- and young bulls will be offered on your altar.

Psa 52:1 [For the choirmaster Poem Of David When Doeg the Edomite went and warned Saul, 'David has gone to Abimelech's house'] Why take pride in being wicked, you champion in villainy, all day long Psa 52:2 plotting crime? Your tongue is razor-sharp, you artist in perfidy.

Psa 52:3 You prefer evil to good, lying to uprightness. Pause

Psa 52:4 You revel in destructive talk, treacherous tongue!

Psa 52:5 That is why God will crush you, destroy you once and for all, snatch you from your tent, uproot you from the land of the living.Pause

Psa 52:6 The upright will be awestruck as they see it, they will mock him,

Psa 52:7 'So much for someone who would not place his reliance in God, but relied on his own great wealth, and made himself strong by crime.'

Psa 52:8 But I, like a flourishing olive tree in the house of God, put my trust in God's faithful love, for ever and ever.

Psa 52:9 I shall praise you for ever for what you have done, and shall trust in your name, so full of goodness, in the presence of your faithful.

Psa 53:1 [For the choirmaster In sickness Poem Of David] The fool has said in his heart, 'There is no God!' They are corrupt, vile and unjust, not one of them does right.

Psa 53:2 God looks down from heaven at the children of Adam, to see if a single one is wise, a single one seeks God.

Psa 53:3 All have proved faithless, all alike turned sour, not one of them does right, not a single one.

Psa 53:4 Are they not aware, these evil-doers? They are devouring my people; this is the bread they eat, and they never call upon God.

Psa 53:5 They will be gripped with fear, just where there is no need for fear, for God scatters the bones of him who besieges you; they are mocked because God rejects them.

Psa 53:6 Who will bring from Zion salvation for Israel? When God brings his people home, what joy for Jacob, what happiness for Israel!

Psa 54:1 [For the choirmaster On stringed instruments Poem Of David When the Ziphites went to Saul and said,'Is not David hiding with us?'] God, save me by your name, in your power vindicate me.

Psa 54:2 God, hear my prayer, listen to the words I speak.

Psa 54:3 Arrogant men are attacking me, bullies hounding me to death, no room in their thoughts for God.Pause

Psa 54:4 But now God is coming to my help, the Lord, among those who sustain me.

Psa 54:5 May their wickedness recoil on those who lie in wait for me. Yahweh, in your constancy destroy them.

Psa 54:6 How gladly will I offer you sacrifice, and praise your name, for it is good,

Psa 54:7 for it has rescued me from all my troubles, and my eye has feasted on my enemies.

Psa 55:1 [For the choirmaster For strings Poem Of David] God, hear my prayer, do not hide away from my plea,

Psa 55:2 give me a hearing, answer me, my troubles give me no peace. I shudder

Psa 55:3 at the enemy's shouts, at the outcry of the wicked; they heap up charges against me, in their anger bring hostile accusations against me.

Psa 55:4 My heart writhes within me, the terrors of death come upon me,

Psa 55:5 fear and trembling overwhelm me, and shuddering grips me.

Psa 55:6 And I say, 'Who will give me wings like a dove, to fly away and find rest?'

Psa 55:7 How far I would escape, and make a nest in the desert!Pause

Psa 55:8 I would soon find a refuge from the storm of abuse, from the

Psa 55:9 destructive tempest, Lord, from the flood of their tongues. For I see violence and strife in the city,

Psa 55:10 day and night they make their rounds along the city walls, Inside live malice and mischief,

Psa 55:11 inside lives destruction, tyranny and treachery never absent from its central square.

Psa 55:12 Were it an enemy who insulted me, that I could bear; if an opponent pitted himself against me, I could turn away from him.

Psa 55:13 But you, a person of my own rank, a comrade and dear friend,

Psa 55:14 to whom I was bound by intimate friendship in the house of God! May they recoil in disorder,

Psa 55:15 may death descend on them, may they go down alive to Sheol, since evil shares their home with them.

Psa 55:16 For my part, I appeal to God, and Yahweh saves me;

Psa 55:17 evening, morning, noon, I complain and I groan. He hears my cry,

Psa 55:18 he ransoms me and gives me peace from the feud against me, for they are taking me to law.

Psa 55:19 But God will listen and will humble them, he who has been enthroned from the beginning; no change of heart for them, for they do not fear God.

Psa 55:20 They attack those at peace with them, going back on their oaths;
Psa 55:21 though their mouth is smoother than butter, enmity is in their hearts; their words more soothing than oil, yet sharpened like swords.
Psa 55:22 Unload your burden onto Yahweh and he will sustain you; never will he allow the upright to stumble.
Psa 55:23 You, God, will thrust them down to the abyss of destruction, men bloodthirsty and deceptive, before half their days are spent. For my part, I put my trust in you.
Psa 56:1 [For the choirmaster Tune: 'The oppression of distant princes' Of David In a quiet voice When the Philistines seized him in Gath] Take pity on me, God, as they harry me, pressing their attacks home all day.
Psa 56:2 Those who harry me lie in wait for me all day, countless are those who attack me from the heights.
Psa 56:3 When I am afraid, I put my trust in you,
Psa 56:4 in God, whose word I praise, in God I put my trust and have no fear, what power has human strength over me?
Psa 56:5 All day long they carp at my words, their only thought is to harm me,
Psa 56:6 they gather together, lie in wait and spy on my movements, as though determined to take my life.
Psa 56:7 Because of this crime reject them, in your anger, God, strike down the nations.
Psa 56:8 You yourself have counted up my sorrows, collect my tears in your wineskin.
Psa 56:9 Then my enemies will turn back on the day when I call. This I know, that God is on my side.
Psa 56:10 In God whose word I praise, in Yahweh whose word I praise,
Psa 56:11 in God I put my trust and have no fear; what can mortal man do to me?
Psa 56:12 I am bound by the vows I have made, God, I will pay you the debt of thanks,
Psa 56:13 for you have saved my life from death to walk in the presence of God, in the light of the living.
Psa 57:1 [For the choirmaster Tune: 'Do not destroy' Of David In a quiet voice When he escaped from Saul in the cave] Take pity on me, God, take pity on me, for in you I take refuge, in the shadow of your wings I take refuge, until the destruction is past.
Psa 57:2 I call to God the Most High, to God who has done everything for me;
Psa 57:3 may he send from heaven and save me, and check those who harry me; Pause may God send his faithful love and his constancy.
Psa 57:4 I lie surrounded by lions, greedy for human prey, their teeth are spears and arrows, their tongue a sharp sword.
Psa 57:5 Be exalted above the heavens, God! Your glory over all the earth!
Psa 57:6 They laid a snare in my path -- I was bowed with care -- they dug a pit ahead of me, but fell in it themselves. Pause
Psa 57:7 My heart is ready, God, my heart is ready; I will sing, and make music for you.
Psa 57:8 Awake, my glory, awake, lyre and harp, that I may awake the Dawn.
Psa 57:9 I will praise you among the peoples, Lord, I will make music for you among nations,
Psa 57:10 for your faithful love towers to heaven, your constancy to the clouds.
Psa 57:11 Be exalted above the heavens, God! Your glory over all the earth!
Psa 58:1 [For the choirmaster Tune: 'Do not destroy' Of David In a quiet voice] Divine as you are, do you truly give upright verdicts? do you judge fairly the children of Adam?
Psa 58:2 No! You devise injustice in your hearts, and with your hands you administer tyranny on the earth.
Psa 58:3 Since the womb they have gone astray, the wicked, on the wrong path since their birth, with their unjust verdicts.
Psa 58:4 They are poisonous as any snake, deaf as an adder that blocks its ears
Psa 58:5 so as not to hear the magician's music, however skilful his spells.
Psa 58:6 God, break the teeth in their mouths, snap off the fangs of these young lions, Yahweh.
Psa 58:7 May they drain away like water running to waste, may they wither like trampled grass,
Psa 58:8 like the slug that melts as it moves or a still-born child that never sees the sun.
Psa 58:9 Before they sprout thorns like the bramble, green or burnt up, may retribution whirl them away.
Psa 58:10 The upright will rejoice to see vengeance done, and will bathe his feet in the blood of the wicked.
Psa 58:11 'So', people will say, 'the upright does have a reward; there is a God to dispense justice on earth.'
Psa 59:1 [For the choirmaster Tune: 'Do not destroy' Of David In a quiet voice When Saul sent men to watch David's house in order to have him killed] Rescue me from my enemies, my God, be my stronghold from my assailants,
Psa 59:2 rescue me from evil-doers, from men of violence save me.
Psa 59:3 Look at them, lurking to ambush me, violent men are attacking me, for no fault, no sin of mine, Yahweh,
Psa 59:4 for no guilt, they come running to take up position. Wake up, stand by me and keep watch,
Psa 59:5 Yahweh, God of Sabaoth, God of Israel, rise up, to punish all the nations, show no mercy to all these malicious traitors. Pause

Psa 59:6 Back they come at nightfall, snarling like curs, prowling through the town.
Psa 59:7 Look how they rant in speech with swords on their lips, 'Who is there to hear us?'
Psa 59:8 For your part, Yahweh, you laugh at them, you make mockery of all nations.
Psa 59:9 My strength, I keep my eyes fixed on you. For my stronghold is God,
Psa 59:10 the God who loves me faithfully is coming to meet me, God will let me feast my eyes on those who lie in wait for me.
Psa 59:11 Do not annihilate them, or my people may forget; shake them in your power, bring them low, Lord, our shield.
Psa 59:12 Sin is in their mouths, sin on their lips, so let them be trapped in their pride for the curses and lies that they utter.
Psa 59:13 Destroy them in your anger, destroy them till they are no more, and let it be known that God is Master in Jacob and the whole wide world.Pause
Psa 59:14 Back they come at nightfall, snarling like curs, prowling through the town,
Psa 59:15 scavenging for something to eat, growling unless they have their fill.
Psa 59:16 And so I will sing of your strength, in the morning acclaim your faithful love; you have been a stronghold for me, a refuge when I was in trouble.
Psa 59:17 My strength, I will make music for you, for my stronghold is God, the God who loves me faithfully.
Psa 60:1 [For the choirmaster To the tune 'The decree is a lily' In a quiet voice Of David To be learnt When he was at war with Aram-Naharaim and Aram-Zobah, and Joab marched back to destroy twelve thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt] God, you have rejected us, broken us, you were angry, come back to us!
Psa 60:2 You made the earth tremble, split it open; now mend the rifts, it is tottering still.
Psa 60:3 You have forced your people to drink a bitter draught, forced us to drink a wine that made us reel.
Psa 60:4 You gave a signal to those who fear you to let them escape out of range of the bow.Pause
Psa 60:5 To rescue those you love, save with your right hand and answer us.
Psa 60:6 God has spoken from his sanctuary, 'In triumph I will divide up Shechem, and share out the Valley of Succoth.
Psa 60:7 'Mine is Gilead, mine Manasseh, Ephraim the helmet on my head, Judah my commander's baton,
Psa 60:8 'Moab a bowl for me to wash in, on Edom I plant my sandal. Now try shouting "Victory!" over me, Philistia!'
Psa 60:9 Who will lead me against a fortified city, who will guide me into Edom,
Psa 60:10 if not you, the God who has rejected us? God, you no longer march with our armies.
Psa 60:11 Bring us help in our time of crisis, any human help is worthless.
Psa 60:12 With God we shall do deeds of valour, he will trample down our enemies.
Psa 61:1 [For the choirmaster For strings Of David] God, hear my cry, listen to my prayer.
Psa 61:2 From the end of the earth I call to you with fainting heart. Lead me to the high rock that stands far out of my reach.
Psa 61:3 For you are my refuge, a strong tower against the enemy.
Psa 61:4 Let me stay in your tent for ever, taking refuge in the shelter of your wings!
Psa 61:5 For you, God, accept my vows, you grant me the heritage of those who fear your name.
Psa 61:6 Let the king live on and on, let his years continue age after age.
Psa 61:7 May his throne be always in God's presence, your faithful love and constancy watch over him.
Psa 61:8 Then I shall always sing to your name, day after day fulfilling my vows.
Psa 62:1 [For the choirmaster . . . Jeduthun Psalm Of David] In God alone there is rest for my soul, from him comes my safety;
Psa 62:2 he alone is my rock, my safety, my stronghold so that I stand unshaken.
Psa 62:3 How much longer will you set on a victim, all together, intent on murder, like a rampart already leaning over, a wall already damaged?
Psa 62:4 Trickery is their only plan, deception their only pleasure, with lies on their lips they pronounce a blessing, with a curse in their hearts.Pause
Psa 62:5 Rest in God alone, my soul! He is the source of my hope.
Psa 62:6 He alone is my rock, my safety, my stronghold, so that I stand unwavering.
Psa 62:7 In God is my safety and my glory, the rock of my strength. In God is my refuge;
Psa 62:8 trust in him, you people, at all times. Pour out your hearts to him, God is a refuge for us.Pause
Psa 62:9 Ordinary people are a mere puff of wind, important people a delusion; set both on the scales together, and they are lighter than a puff of wind.
Psa 62:10 Put no trust in extortion, no empty hopes in robbery; however much wealth may multiply, do not set your heart on it.
Psa 62:11 Once God has spoken, twice have I heard this: Strength belongs to God,
Psa 62:12 to you, Lord, faithful love; and you repay everyone as their deeds deserve.

Psa 63:1 [Psalm Of David When he was in the desert of Judah] God, you are my God, I pine for you; my heart thirsts for you, my body longs for you, as a land parched, dreary and waterless.

Psa 63:2 Thus I have gazed on you in the sanctuary, seeing your power and your glory.

Psa 63:3 Better your faithful love than life itself; my lips will praise you.

Psa 63:4 Thus I will bless you all my life, in your name lift up my hands.

Psa 63:5 All my longings fulfilled as with fat and rich foods, a song of joy on my lips and praise in my mouth.

Psa 63:6 On my bed when I think of you, I muse on you in the watches of the night,

Psa 63:7 for you have always been my help; in the shadow of your wings I rejoice;

Psa 63:8 my heart clings to you, your right hand supports me.

Psa 63:9 May those who are hounding me to death go down to the depths of the earth,

Psa 63:10 given over to the blade of the sword, and left as food for jackals.

Psa 63:11 Then the king shall rejoice in God, all who swear by him shall gain recognition, for the mouths of liars shall be silenced.

Psa 64:1 [For the choirmaster Psalm Of David] Listen, God, to my voice as I plead, protect my life from fear of the enemy;

Psa 64:2 hide me from the league of the wicked, from the gang of evil-doers.

Psa 64:3 They sharpen their tongues like a sword, aim their arrows of poisonous abuse,

Psa 64:4 shoot at the innocent from cover, shoot suddenly, with nothing to fear.

Psa 64:5 They support each other in their evil designs, they discuss how to lay their snares. 'Who will see us?' they say,

Psa 64:6 'or will penetrate our secrets?' He will do that, he who penetrates human nature to its depths, the depths of the heart.

Psa 64:7 God has shot them with his arrow, sudden were their wounds.

Psa 64:8 He brings them down because of their tongue, and all who see them shake their heads.

Psa 64:9 Everyone will be awestruck, proclaim what God has done, and understand why he has done it.

Psa 64:10 The upright will rejoice in Yahweh, will take refuge in him, and all the honest will praise him.

Psa 65:1 [For the choirmaster Psalm Of David Song] Praise is rightfully yours, God, in Zion. Vows to you shall be fulfilled,

Psa 65:2 for you answer prayer. All humanity must come to you

Psa 65:3 with its sinful deeds. Our faults overwhelm us, but you blot them out.

Psa 65:4 How blessed those whom you choose and invite to dwell in your courts. We shall be filled with the good things of your house, of your holy temple.

Psa 65:5 You respond to us with the marvels of your saving justice, God our Saviour, hope of the whole wide world, even the distant islands.

Psa 65:6 By your strength you hold the mountains steady, being clothed in power,

Psa 65:7 you calm the turmoil of the seas, the turmoil of their waves. The nations are in uproar, in panic those who live at the ends of the earth;

Psa 65:8 your miracles bring shouts of joy to the gateways of morning and evening.

Psa 65:9 You visit the earth and make it fruitful, you fill it with riches; the river of God brims over with water, you provide the grain. To that end

Psa 65:10 you water its furrows abundantly, level its ridges, soften it with showers and bless its shoots.

Psa 65:11 You crown the year with your generosity, richness seeps from your tracks,

Psa 65:12 the pastures of the desert grow moist, the hillsides are wrapped in joy,

Psa 65:13 the meadows are covered with flocks, the valleys clothed with wheat; they shout and sing for joy.

Psa 66:1 [For the choirmaster Song Psalm] Acclaim God, all the earth,

Psa 66:2 sing psalms to the glory of his name, glorify him with your praises,

Psa 66:3 say to God, 'How awesome you are! Your achievements are the measure of your power, your enemies woo your favour,

Psa 66:4 all the earth bows down before you, sings psalms to you, sings psalms to your name.'Pause

Psa 66:5 Come and see the marvels of God, his awesome deeds for the children of Adam:

Psa 66:6 he changed the sea into dry land, they crossed the river on foot. So let us rejoice in him,

Psa 66:7 who rules for ever by his power; his eyes keep watch on the nations to forestall rebellion against him.Pause

Psa 66:8 Nations, bless our God, let the sound of his praise be heard;

Psa 66:9 he brings us to life and keeps our feet from stumbling.

Psa 66:10 God, you have put us to the test, refined us like silver,

Psa 66:11 let us fall into the net; you have put a heavy strain on our backs,

Psa 66:12 let men ride over our heads; but now the ordeal by fire and water is over, you have led us out to breathe again.

Psa 66:13 I bring burnt offerings to your house, I fulfil to you my vows,
Psa 66:14 the vows that rose to my lips, that I pronounced when I was in trouble.
Psa 66:15 I will offer you rich burnt offerings, with the smoke of burning rams. I will sacrifice to you bullocks and goats.Pause
Psa 66:16 Come and listen, all who fear God, while I tell what he has done for me.
Psa 66:17 To him I cried aloud, high praise was on my tongue.
Psa 66:18 Had I been aware of guilt in my heart, the Lord would not have listened,
Psa 66:19 but in fact God did listen, attentive to the sound of my prayer.
Psa 66:20 Blessed be God who has not turned away my prayer, nor his own faithful love from me.
Psa 67:1 [For the choirmaster For strings Psalm Song] May God show kindness and bless us, and make his face shine on us.Pause
Psa 67:2 Then the earth will acknowledge your ways, and all nations your power to save.
Psa 67:3 Let the nations praise you, God, let all the nations praise you.
Psa 67:4 Let the nations rejoice and sing for joy, for you judge the world with justice, you judge the peoples with fairness, you guide the nations on earth.Pause
Psa 67:5 Let the nations praise you, God, let all the nations praise you.
Psa 67:6 The earth has yielded its produce; God, our God has blessed us.
Psa 67:7 May God continue to bless us, and be revered by the whole wide world.
Psa 68:1 [For the choirmaster Of David Psalm Song] Let God arise, let his enemies scatter, let his opponents flee before him.
Psa 68:2 You disperse them like smoke; as wax melts in the presence of a fire, so the wicked melt at the presence of God.
Psa 68:3 The upright rejoice in the presence of God, delighted and crying out for joy.
Psa 68:4 Sing to God, play music to his name, build a road for the Rider of the Clouds, rejoice in Yahweh, dance before him.
Psa 68:5 Father of orphans, defender of widows, such is God in his holy dwelling.
Psa 68:6 God gives the lonely a home to live in, leads prisoners out into prosperity, but rebels must live in the bare wastelands.
Psa 68:7 God, when you set out at the head of your people, when you strode over the desert,
Psa 68:8 the earth rocked,Pause the heavens pelted down rain at the presence of God, at the presence of God, the God of Israel.
Psa 68:9 God, you rained down a shower of blessings, when your heritage was weary you gave it strength.
Psa 68:10 Your family found a home, which you in your generosity provided for the humble.
Psa 68:11 The Lord gave a command, the good news of a countless army.
Psa 68:12 The chieftains of the army are in flight, in flight, and the fair one at home is sharing out the spoils.
Psa 68:13 While you are at ease in the sheepfolds, the wings of the Dove are being covered with silver, and her feathers with a sheen of green gold;
Psa 68:14 when Shaddai scatters the chieftains, through her it snows on the Dark Mountain.
Psa 68:15 A mountain of God, the mountain of Bashan! a haughty mountain, the mountain of Bashan!
Psa 68:16 Why be envious, haughty mountains, of the mountain God has chosen for his dwelling? There God will dwell for ever.
Psa 68:17 The chariots of God are thousand upon thousand; God has come from Sinai to the sanctuary.
Psa 68:18 You have climbed the heights, taken captives, you have taken men as tribute, even rebels that Yahweh God might have a dwelling-place.
Psa 68:19 Blessed be the Lord day after day, he carries us along, God our Saviour.Pause
Psa 68:20 This God of ours is a God who saves; from Lord Yahweh comes escape from death;
Psa 68:21 but God smashes the head of his enemies, the long-haired skull of the prowling criminal.
Psa 68:22 The Lord has said, 'I will bring them back from Bashan, I will bring them back from the depths of the sea,
Psa 68:23 so that you may bathe your feet in blood, and the tongues of your dogs feast on your enemies.'
Psa 68:24 Your processions, God, are for all to see, the processions of my God, of my king, to the sanctuary;
Psa 68:25 singers ahead, musicians behind, in the middle come girls, beating their drums.
Psa 68:26 In choirs they bless God, Yahweh, since the foundation of Israel.
Psa 68:27 Benjamin was there, the youngest in front, the princes of Judah in bright-coloured robes, the princes of Zebulun, the princes of Naphtali.
Psa 68:28 Take command, my God, as befits your power, the power, God, which you have wielded for us,
Psa 68:29 from your temple high above Jerusalem. Kings will come to you bearing tribute.
Psa 68:30 Rebuke the Beast of the Reeds, that herd of bulls, that people of calves, who bow down with ingots of silver. Scatter the people who delight in war.

Psa 68:31 From Egypt nobles will come, Ethiopia will stretch out its hands to God.

Psa 68:32 Kingdoms of the earth, sing to God, play for Psa 68:33 the Rider of the Heavens, the primeval heavens.Pause There he speaks, with a voice of power!

Psa 68:34 Acknowledge the power of God. Over Israel his splendour, in the clouds his power.

Psa 68:35 Awesome is God in his sanctuary. He, the God of Israel, gives strength and power to his people.

Blessed be God.

Psa 69:1 [For the choirmaster Tune: 'Lilies . . .' Of David] Save me, God, for the waters have closed in on my very being.

Psa 69:2 I am sinking in the deepest swamp and there is no firm ground. I have stepped into deep water and the waves are washing over me.

Psa 69:3 I am exhausted with calling out, my throat is hoarse, my eyes are worn out with searching for my God.

Psa 69:4 More numerous than the hairs of my head are those who hate me without reason. Those who seek to get rid of me are powerful, my treacherous enemies. (Must I give back what I have never stolen?)

Psa 69:5 God, you know how foolish I am, my offences are not hidden from you.

Psa 69:6 Those who hope in you must not be made fools of, Yahweh Sabaoth, because of me! Those who seek you must not be disgraced, God of Israel, because of me!

Psa 69:7 It is for you I bear insults, my face is covered with shame,

Psa 69:8 I am estranged from my brothers, alienated from my own mother's sons;

Psa 69:9 for I am eaten up with zeal for your house, and insults directed against you fall on me.

Psa 69:10 I mortify myself with fasting, and find myself insulted for it,

Psa 69:11 I dress myself in sackcloth and become their laughing-stock,

Psa 69:12 the gossip of people sitting at the gate, and the theme of drunkards' songs.

Psa 69:13 And so, I pray to you, Yahweh, at the time of your favour; in your faithful love answer me, in the constancy of your saving power.

Psa 69:14 Rescue me from the mire before I sink in; so I shall be saved from those who hate me, from the watery depths.

Psa 69:15 Let not the waves wash over me, nor the deep swallow me up, nor the pit close its mouth on me.

Psa 69:16 Answer me, Yahweh, for your faithful love is generous; in your tenderness turn towards me;

Psa 69:17 do not turn away from your servant, be quick to answer me, for I am in trouble.

Psa 69:18 Come to my side, redeem me, ransom me because of my enemies.

Psa 69:19 You know well the insults, the shame and disgrace I endure. Every one of my oppressors is known to you.

Psa 69:20 Insult has broken my heart past cure. I hoped for sympathy, but in vain, for consolers -- not one to be found.

Psa 69:21 To eat they gave me poison, to drink, vinegar when I was thirsty.

Psa 69:22 May their own table prove a trap for them, and their abundance a snare;

Psa 69:23 may their eyes grow so dim that they cannot see, all their muscles lose their strength.

Psa 69:24 Vent your fury on them, let your burning anger overtake them.

Psa 69:25 Reduce their encampment to ruin, and leave their tents untenanted,

Psa 69:26 for hounding someone you had already stricken, for redoubling the pain of one you had wounded.

Psa 69:27 Charge them with crime after crime, exclude them from your saving justice,

Psa 69:28 erase them from the book of life, do not enrol them among the upright.

Psa 69:29 For myself, wounded wretch that I am, by your saving power raise me up!

Psa 69:30 I will praise God's name in song, I will extol him by thanksgiving,

Psa 69:31 for this will please Yahweh more than an ox, than a bullock horned and hoofed.

Psa 69:32 The humble have seen and are glad. Let your courage revive, you who seek God.

Psa 69:33 For God listens to the poor, he has never scorned his captive people.

Psa 69:34 Let heaven and earth and seas, and all that stirs in them, acclaim him!

Psa 69:35 For God will save Zion, and rebuild the cities of Judah, and people will live there on their own land;

Psa 69:36 the descendants of his servants will inherit it, and those who love his name will dwell there.

Psa 70:1 [For the choirmaster Of David In commemoration] Be pleased, God, to rescue me, Yahweh, come quickly and help me!

Psa 70:2 Shame and dismay to those who seek my life! Back with them! Let them be humiliated who delight in my misfortunes.

Psa 70:3 Let them shrink away covered with shame, those who say to me, 'Aha, aha!'

Psa 70:4 But joy and happiness in you to all who seek you. Let them ceaselessly cry, 'God is great', who love your saving power.

Psa 70:5 Poor and needy as I am, God, come quickly to me! Yahweh, my helper, my Saviour, do not delay!

Psa 71:1 In you, Yahweh, I take refuge, I shall never be put to shame.

Psa 71:2 In your saving justice rescue me, deliver me, listen to me and save me.
Psa 71:3 Be a sheltering rock for me, always accessible; you have determined to save me, for you are my rock, my fortress.
Psa 71:4 My God, rescue me from the clutches of the wicked, from the grasp of the rogue and the ruthless.
Psa 71:5 For you are my hope, Lord, my trust, Yahweh, since boyhood.
Psa 71:6 On you I have relied since my birth, since my mother's womb you have been my portion, the constant theme of my praise.
Psa 71:7 Many were bewildered at me, but you are my sure refuge.
Psa 71:8 My mouth is full of your praises, filled with your splendour all day long.
Psa 71:9 Do not reject me in my old age, nor desert me when my strength is failing.
Psa 71:10 for my enemies are discussing me, those with designs on my life are plotting together.
Psa 71:11 'Hound him down, for God has deserted him! Seize him, there is no one to rescue him.'
Psa 71:12 God, do not stand aloof, my God, come quickly to help me.
Psa 71:13 Shame and ruin on those who slander me, may those intent on harming me be covered with insult and infamy.
Psa 71:14 As for me, my hope will never fade, I will praise you more and more.
Psa 71:15 My lips shall proclaim your saving justice, your saving power all day long.
Psa 71:16 I will come in the power of Yahweh to tell of your justice, yours alone.
Psa 71:17 God, you have taught me from boyhood, and I am still proclaiming your marvels.
Psa 71:18 Now that I am old and grey-haired, God, do not desert me, till I have proclaimed your strength to generations still to come, your power
Psa 71:19 and justice to the skies. You have done great things, God, who is like you?
Psa 71:20 You have shown me much misery and hardship, but you will give me life again, You will raise me up again from the depths of the earth,
Psa 71:21 prolong my old age, and comfort me again.
Psa 71:22 For my part, I will thank you on the lyre for your constancy, my God. I will play the harp in your honour, Holy One of Israel.
Psa 71:23 My lips sing for joy as I play to you, because you have redeemed me,
Psa 71:24 and all day long my tongue muses on your saving justice. Shame and disgrace on those intent to harm me!
Psa 72:1 [Of Solomon] God, endow the king with your own fair judgement, the son of the king with your own saving justice,
Psa 72:2 that he may rule your people with justice, and your poor with fair judgement.
Psa 72:3 Mountains and hills, bring peace to the people! With justice
Psa 72:4 he will judge the poor of the people, he will save the children of the needy and crush their oppressors.
Psa 72:5 In the sight of the sun and the moon he will endure, age after age.
Psa 72:6 He will come down like rain on mown grass, like showers moistening the land.
Psa 72:7 In his days uprightness shall flourish, and peace in plenty till the moon is no more.
Psa 72:8 His empire shall stretch from sea to sea, from the river to the limits of the earth.
Psa 72:9 The Beast will cower before him, his enemies lick the dust;
Psa 72:10 the kings of Tarshish and the islands will pay him tribute. The kings of Sheba and Saba will offer gifts;
Psa 72:11 all kings will do him homage, all nations become his servants.
Psa 72:12 For he rescues the needy who calls to him, and the poor who has no one to help.
Psa 72:13 He has pity on the weak and the needy, and saves the needy from death.
Psa 72:14 From oppression and violence he redeems their lives, their blood is precious in his sight.
Psa 72:15 (Long may he live; may the gold of Sheba be given him!) Prayer will be offered for him constantly, and blessings invoked on him all day.
Psa 72:16 May wheat abound in the land, waving on the heights of the hills, like Lebanon with its fruits and flowers at their best, like the grasses of the earth.
Psa 72:17 May his name be blessed for ever, and endure in the sight of the sun. In him shall be blessed every race in the world, and all nations call him blessed.
Psa 72:18 Blessed be Yahweh, the God of Israel, who alone works wonders;
Psa 72:19 blessed for ever his glorious name. May the whole world be filled with his glory! Amen! Amen!
Psa 72:20 End of the prayers of David, son of Jesse.
Psa 73:1 [Psalm Of Asaph] Indeed God is good to Israel, the Lord to those who are pure of heart.
Psa 73:2 My feet were on the point of stumbling, a little more and I had slipped,
Psa 73:3 envying the arrogant as I did, and seeing the prosperity of the wicked.
Psa 73:4 For them no such thing as pain, untroubled, their comfortable portliness;
Psa 73:5 exempt from the cares which are the human lot, they have no part in Adam's afflictions.

Psa 73:6 So pride is a necklace to them, violence the garment they wear.
Psa 73:7 From their fat oozes out malice, their hearts drip with cunning.
Psa 73:8 Cynically they advocate evil, loftily they advocate force.
Psa 73:9 Their mouth claims heaven for themselves, and their tongue is never still on earth.
Psa 73:10 That is why my people turn to them, and enjoy the waters of plenty,
Psa 73:11 saying, 'How can God know? What knowledge can the Most High have?'
Psa 73:12 That is what the wicked are like, piling up wealth without any worries.
Psa 73:13 Was it useless, then, to have kept my own heart clean, to have washed my hands in innocence?
Psa 73:14 When I was under a hail of blows all day long, and punished every morning,
Psa 73:15 had I said, 'I shall talk like them,' I should have betrayed your children's race.
Psa 73:16 So I set myself to understand this: how difficult I found it!
Psa 73:17 Until I went into the sanctuaries of the gods and understood what was destined to become of them.
Psa 73:18 You place them on a slippery slope and drive them down into chaos.
Psa 73:19 How sudden their hideous destruction! They are swept away, annihilated by terror!
Psa 73:20 Like a dream upon waking, Lord, when you awake, you dismiss their image.
Psa 73:21 My heart grew embittered, my affections dried up,
Psa 73:22 I was stupid and uncomprehending, a clumsy animal in your presence.
Psa 73:23 Even so, I stayed in your presence, you grasped me by the right hand;
Psa 73:24 you will guide me with advice, and will draw me in the wake of your glory.
Psa 73:25 Who else is there for me in heaven? And, with you, I lack nothing on earth.
Psa 73:26 My heart and my flesh are pining away: my heart's rock, my portion, God for ever!
Psa 73:27 Truly, those who abandon you will perish; you destroy those who adulterously desert you,
Psa 73:28 whereas my happiness is to be near God. I have made the Lord Yahweh my refuge, to tell of all your works.

Psa 74:1 [Poem Of Asaph] God, why have you finally rejected us, your anger blazing against the flock you used to pasture?

Psa 74:2 Remember the people you took to yourself long ago, your own tribe which you redeemed, and this Mount Zion where you came to live.

Psa 74:3 Come up to these endless ruins! The enemy have sacked everything in the sanctuary;

Psa 74:4 your opponents made uproar in the place of assemblies, they fixed their emblems over the entrance, emblems

Psa 74:5 never known before. Their axes deep in the wood,

Psa 74:6 hacking at the panels, they battered them down with axe and pick;

Psa 74:7 they set fire to your sanctuary, profanely rased to the ground the dwelling-place of your name.

Psa 74:8 They said to themselves, 'Let us crush them at one stroke!' They burned down every sacred shrine in the land.

Psa 74:9 We see no signs, no prophet any more, and none of us knows how long it will last.

Psa 74:10 How much longer, God, will the enemy blaspheme? Is the enemy to insult your name for ever?

Psa 74:11 Why hold back your hand, keep your right hand hidden in the folds of your robe?

Psa 74:12 Yet, God, my king from the first, author of saving acts throughout the earth,

Psa 74:13 by your power you split the sea in two, and smashed the heads of the monsters on the waters.

Psa 74:14 You crushed Leviathan's heads, gave him as food to the wild animals.

Psa 74:15 You released the springs and brooks, and turned primordial rivers into dry land.

Psa 74:16 Yours is the day and yours the night, you caused sun and light to exist, Psa 74:17 you fixed all the boundaries of the earth, you created summer and winter.

Psa 74:18 Remember, Yahweh, the enemy's blasphemy, a foolish people insults your name.

Psa 74:19 Do not surrender your turtledove to the beast; do not forget for ever the life of your oppressed people.

Psa 74:20 Look to the covenant! All the hiding-places of the land are full, haunts of violence.

Psa 74:21 Do not let the downtrodden retreat in confusion, give the poor and needy cause to praise your name.

Psa 74:22 Arise, God, champion your own cause, remember how fools blaspheme you all day long!

Psa 74:23 Do not forget the shouting of your enemies, the ever-mounting uproar of your adversaries.

Psa 75:1 [For the choirmaster Tune: 'Do not destroy' Psalm Of Asaph Song] We give thanks to you, God, we give thanks to you, as we call upon your name, as we recount your wonders.

Psa 75:2 'At the appointed time I myself shall dispense justice.

Psa 75:3 The earth quakes and all its inhabitants; it is I who hold its pillars firm.Pause

Psa 75:4 'I said to the boastful, "Do not boast!" to the wicked, "Do not flaunt your strength!"'

Psa 75:5 Do not flaunt your strength so proudly, do not talk with that arrogant stance."

Psa 75:6 No longer from east to west, no longer in the mountainous desert,

Psa 75:7 is God judging in uprightness, bringing some down, raising others.

Psa 75:8 Yahweh is holding a cup filled with a heady blend of wine; he will pour it, they will drink it to the dregs, all the wicked on earth will drink it.

Psa 75:9 But I shall speak out for ever, shall make music for the God of Jacob.

Psa 75:10 I shall break down all the strength of the wicked, and the strength of the upright will rise high.

Psa 76:1 [For the choirmaster For strings Psalm Of Asaph Song] God is acknowledged in Judah, his name is great in Israel,

Psa 76:2 his tent is pitched in Salem, his dwelling is in Zion;

Psa 76:3 there he has broken the lightning-flashes of the bow, shield and sword and war.Pause

Psa 76:4 Radiant you are, and renowned for the mountains of booty

Psa 76:5 taken from them. Heroes are now sleeping their last sleep, the warriors' arms have failed them;

Psa 76:6 at your reproof, God of Jacob, chariot and horse stand stunned.

Psa 76:7 You, you alone, strike terror! Who can hold his ground in your presence when your anger strikes?

Psa 76:8 From heaven your verdicts thunder, the earth is silent with dread

Psa 76:9 when God takes his stand to give judgement, to save all the humble of the earth.Pause

Psa 76:10 Human anger serves only to praise you, the survivors of your anger will huddle round you.

Psa 76:11 Make and fulfil your vows to Yahweh your God, let those who surround him make offerings to the Awesome One.

Psa 76:12 He cuts short the breath of princes, strikes terror in earthly kings.

Psa 77:1 [For the choirmaster . . . Jeduthun Of Asaph Psalm] I cry to God in distress, I cry to God and he hears me.

Psa 77:2 In the day of my distress I sought the Lord; all night I tirelessly stretched out my hands, my heart refused to be consoled.

Psa 77:3 I sigh as I think of God, my spirit faints away as I ponder on him. Pause

Psa 77:4 You kept me from closing my eyes, I was too distraught to speak;

Psa 77:5 I thought of former times, years long past

Psa 77:6 I recalled; through the night I ponder in my heart, as I reflect, my spirit asks this question:

Psa 77:7 Is the Lord's rejection final? Will he never show favour again?

Psa 77:8 Is his faithful love gone for ever? Has his Word come to an end for all time?

Psa 77:9 Does God forget to show mercy? In anger does he shut off his tenderness?Pause

Psa 77:10 And I said, 'This is what wounds me, the right hand of the Most High has lost its strength.'

Psa 77:11 Remembering Yahweh's great deeds, remembering your wonders in the past,

Psa 77:12 I reflect on all that you did, I ponder all your great deeds.

Psa 77:13 God, your ways are holy! What god is as great as our God?

Psa 77:14 You are the God who does marvellous deeds, brought nations to acknowledge your power,

Psa 77:15 with your own arm redeeming your people, the children of Jacob and Joseph.Pause

Psa 77:16 When the waters saw you, God, when the waters saw you they writhed in anguish, the very depths shook with fear.

Psa 77:17 The clouds pelted down water, the sky thundered, your arrows shot back and forth.

Psa 77:18 The rolling of your thunder was heard, your lightning-flashes lit up the world, the earth shuddered and shook.

Psa 77:19 Your way led over the sea, your path over the countless waters, and none could trace your footsteps.

Psa 77:20 You guided your people like a flock by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Psa 78:1 [Psalm Of Asaph] My people, listen to my teaching, pay attention to what I say.

Psa 78:2 I will speak to you in poetry, unfold the mysteries of the past.

Psa 78:3 What we have heard and know, what our ancestors have told us

Psa 78:4 we shall not conceal from their descendants, but will tell to a generation still to come: the praises of Yahweh, his power, the wonderful deeds he has done.

Psa 78:5 He instituted a witness in Jacob, he established a law in Israel, he commanded our ancestors to hand it down to their descendants,

Psa 78:6 that a generation still to come might know it, children yet to be born. They should be sure to tell their own children,

Psa 78:7 and should put their trust in God, never forgetting God's great deeds, always keeping his commands,

Psa 78:8 and not, like their ancestors, be a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation weak of purpose, their spirit fickle towards God.

Psa 78:9 The archer sons of Ephraim turned tail when the time came for fighting;

Psa 78:10 they failed to keep God's covenant, they refused to follow his Law;

Psa 78:11 they had forgotten his great deeds, the marvels he had shown them;

Psa 78:12 he did marvels in the sight of their ancestors in Egypt, in the plains of Tanis.

Psa 78:13 He split the sea and brought them through, made the waters stand up like a dam;

Psa 78:14 he led them with a cloud by day, and all the night with the light of a fire;
Psa 78:15 he split rocks in the desert, let them drink as though from the limitless depths;
Psa 78:16 he brought forth streams from a rock, made waters flow down in torrents.
Psa 78:17 But they only sinned against him more than ever, defying the Most High in barren country;
Psa 78:18 they deliberately challenged God by demanding food to their hearts' content.
Psa 78:19 They insulted God by saying, 'Can God make a banquet in the desert?
Psa 78:20 True, when he struck the rock, waters gushed out and flowed in torrents; but what of bread? Can he give that, can he provide meat for his people?'
Psa 78:21 When he heard them Yahweh vented his anger, fire blazed against Jacob, his anger mounted against Israel,
Psa 78:22 because they had no faith in God, no trust in his power to save.
Psa 78:23 Even so he gave orders to the skies above, he opened the sluice-gates of heaven;
Psa 78:24 he rained down manna to feed them, he gave them the wheat of heaven;
Psa 78:25 mere mortals ate the bread of the Mighty, he sent them as much food as they could want.
Psa 78:26 He roused an east wind in the heavens, despatched a south wind by his strength;
Psa 78:27 he rained down meat on them like dust, birds thick as sand on the seashore,
Psa 78:28 tumbling into the middle of his camp, all around his dwelling-place.
Psa 78:29 They ate as much food as they wanted, he satisfied all their cravings;
Psa 78:30 but their cravings were still upon them, the food was still in their mouths,
Psa 78:31 when the wrath of God attacked them, slaughtering their strongest men, laying low the flower of Israel.
Psa 78:32 Despite all this, they went on sinning, they put no faith in his marvels.
Psa 78:33 He made their days vanish in mist, their years in sudden ruin.
Psa 78:34 Whenever he slaughtered them, they began to seek him, they turned back and looked eagerly for him,
Psa 78:35 recalling that God was their rock, God the Most High, their redeemer.
Psa 78:36 They tried to hoodwink him with their mouths, their tongues were deceitful towards him;
Psa 78:37 their hearts were not loyal to him, they were not faithful to his covenant.
Psa 78:38 But in his compassion he forgave their guilt instead of killing them, time and again repressing his anger instead of rousing his full wrath,
Psa 78:39 remembering they were creatures of flesh, a breath of wind that passes, never to return.
Psa 78:40 How often they defied him in the desert! How often they grieved him in the wastelands!
Psa 78:41 Repeatedly they challenged God, provoking the Holy One of Israel,
Psa 78:42 not remembering his hand, the time when he saved them from the oppressor,
Psa 78:43 he who did his signs in Egypt, his miracles in the plains of Tanis,
Psa 78:44 turning their rivers to blood, their streams so that they had nothing to drink.
Psa 78:45 He sent horseflies to eat them up, and frogs to devastate them,
Psa 78:46 consigning their crops to the caterpillar, the fruit of their hard work to the locust;
Psa 78:47 he killed their vines with hail, their sycamore trees with frost,
Psa 78:48 delivering up their cattle to hail, and their flocks to thunderbolts.
Psa 78:49 He loosed against them the full heat of his anger, fury, rage and destruction, a detachment of destroying angels;
Psa 78:50 he gave free course to his anger. He did not exempt their own selves from death, delivering up their lives to the plague.
Psa 78:51 He struck all the first-born in Egypt, the flower of the youth in the tents of Ham.
Psa 78:52 He brought out his people like sheep, guiding them like a flock in the desert,
Psa 78:53 leading them safe and unafraid, while the sea engulfed their enemies.
Psa 78:54 He brought them to his holy land, the hill-country won by his right hand;
Psa 78:55 he dispossessed nations before them, measured out a heritage for each of them, and settled the tribes of Israel in their tents.
Psa 78:56 But still they challenged the Most High God and defied him, refusing to keep his decrees;
Psa 78:57 as perverse and treacherous as their ancestors, they gave way like a faulty bow,
Psa 78:58 provoking him with their high places, rousing his jealousy with their idols.
Psa 78:59 God listened and vented his wrath, he totally rejected Israel;
Psa 78:60 he forsook his dwelling in Shiloh, the tent where he used to dwell on the earth.
Psa 78:61 He abandoned his power to captivity, his splendour to the enemy's clutches;
Psa 78:62 he gave up his people to the sword, he vented his wrath on his own heritage.
Psa 78:63 Fire devoured their young men, their young girls had no wedding-song;
Psa 78:64 their priests fell by the sword and their widows sang no dirge.

Psa 78:65 The Lord arose as though he had been asleep, like a strong man fighting-mad with wine,
Psa 78:66 he struck his enemies on the rump, and put them to everlasting shame.
Psa 78:67 Rejecting the tents of Joseph, passing over the tribe of Ephraim,
Psa 78:68 he chose the tribe of Judah, his well-loved mountain of Zion;
Psa 78:69 he built his sanctuary like high hills, like the earth set it firm for ever.
Psa 78:70 He chose David to be his servant, took him from the sheepfold,
Psa 78:71 took him from tending ewes to pasture his servant Jacob, and Israel his heritage.
Psa 78:72 He pastured them with unblemished heart, with a sensitive hand he led them.
Psa 79:1 [Psalm Of Asaph] God, the pagans have invaded your heritage, they have defiled your holy temple, they have laid Jerusalem in ruins,
Psa 79:2 they have left the corpses of your servants as food for the birds of the air, the bodies of your faithful for the wild beasts.
Psa 79:3 Around Jerusalem they have shed blood like water, leaving no one to bury them.
Psa 79:4 We are the scorn of our neighbours, the butt and laughing-stock of those around us.
Psa 79:5 How long will you be angry, Yahweh? For ever? Is your jealousy to go on smouldering like a fire?
Psa 79:6 Pour out your anger on the nations who do not acknowledge you, and on the kingdoms that do not call on your name;
Psa 79:7 for they have devoured Jacob and devastated his home.
Psa 79:8 Do not count against us the guilt of former generations, in your tenderness come quickly to meet us, for we are utterly weakened;
Psa 79:9 help us, God our Saviour, for the glory of your name; Yahweh, wipe away our sins, rescue us for the sake of your name.
Psa 79:10 Why should the nations ask, 'Where is their God?' Let us see the nations suffer vengeance for shedding your servants' blood.
Psa 79:11 May the groans of the captive reach you, by your great strength save those who are condemned to death!
Psa 79:12 Repay our neighbours sevenfold for the insults they have levelled at you, Lord.
Psa 79:13 And we, your people, the flock that you pasture, will thank you for ever, will recite your praises from age to age.
Psa 80:1 [For the choirmaster Tune: 'The decrees are lilies' Of Asaph Psalm] Shepherd of Israel, listen, you who lead Joseph like a flock, enthroned on the winged creatures, shine forth
Psa 80:2 over Ephraim, Benjamin and Manasseh; rouse your valour and come to our help.
Psa 80:3 God, bring us back, let your face shine on us and we shall be safe.
Psa 80:4 Yahweh, God Sabaoth, how long will you flare up at your people's prayer?
Psa 80:5 You have made tears their food, redoubled tears their drink.
Psa 80:6 You let our neighbours quarrel over us, our enemies mock us.
Psa 80:7 God Sabaoth, bring us back, let your face shine on us and we shall be safe.
Psa 80:8 You brought a vine out of Egypt, to plant it you drove out nations;
Psa 80:9 you cleared a space for it, it took root and filled the whole country.
Psa 80:10 The mountains were covered with its shade, and the cedars of God with its branches,
Psa 80:11 its boughs stretched as far as the sea, its shoots as far as the River.
Psa 80:12 Why have you broken down its fences? Every passer-by plucks its grapes,
Psa 80:13 boars from the forest tear at it, wild beasts feed on it.
Psa 80:14 God Sabaoth, come back, we pray, look down from heaven and see, visit this vine;
Psa 80:15 protect what your own hand has planted.
Psa 80:16 They have thrown it on the fire like dung, the frown of your rebuke will destroy them.
Psa 80:17 May your hand protect those at your side, the child of Adam you have strengthened for yourself!
Psa 80:18 Never again will we turn away from you, give us life and we will call upon your name.
Psa 80:19 God Sabaoth, bring us back, let your face shine on us and we shall be safe.
Psa 81:1 [For the choirmaster On the . . . of Gath Of Asaph] Sing for joy to God our strength, shout in triumph to the God of Jacob.
Psa 81:2 Strike up the music, beat the tambourine, play the melodious harp and the lyre;
Psa 81:3 blow the trumpet for the new month, for the full moon, for our feast day!
Psa 81:4 For Israel has this statute, a decision of the God of Jacob,
Psa 81:5 a decree he imposed on Joseph, when he went to war against Egypt. I heard a voice unknown to me,
Psa 81:6 'I freed his shoulder from the burden, his hands were able to lay aside the labourer's basket.
Psa 81:7 You cried out in your distress, so I rescued you. 'Hidden in the storm, I answered you, I tested you at the waters of Meribah.Pause
Psa 81:8 Listen, my people, while I give you warning; Israel, if only you would listen to me!

Psa 81:9 'You shall have no strange gods, shall worship no alien god.
Psa 81:10 I, Yahweh, am your God, who brought you here from Egypt, you have only to open your mouth for me to fill it.
Psa 81:11 'My people would not listen to me, Israel would have none of me.
Psa 81:12 So I left them to their stubborn selves, to follow their own devices.
Psa 81:13 'If only my people would listen to me, if only Israel would walk in my ways,
Psa 81:14 at one stroke I would subdue their enemies, turn my hand against their opponents.
Psa 81:15 'Those who hate Yahweh would woo his favour, though their doom was sealed for ever,
Psa 81:16 while I would feed him on pure wheat, would give you your fill of honey from the rock.'
Psa 82:1 [Psalm Of Asaph] God takes his stand in the divine assembly, surrounded by the gods he gives judgement.
Psa 82:2 'How much longer will you give unjust judgements and uphold the prestige of the wicked?
Psa 82:3 Let the weak and the orphan have justice, be fair to the wretched and the destitute.Pause
Psa 82:4 'Rescue the weak and the needy, save them from the clutches of the wicked.
Psa 82:5 'Ignorant and uncomprehending, they wander in darkness, while the foundations of the world are tottering.
Psa 82:6 I had thought, "Are you gods, are all of you sons of the Most High?"
Psa 82:7 No! you will die as human beings do, as one man, princes, you will fall.'
Psa 82:8 Arise, God, judge the world, for all nations belong to you.
Psa 83:1 [Song Psalm Of Asaph] God, do not remain silent, do not stay quiet or unmoved, God!
Psa 83:2 See how your enemies are in uproar, how those who hate you are rearing their heads.
Psa 83:3 They are laying plans against your people, conspiring against those you cherish;
Psa 83:4 they say, 'Come, let us annihilate them as a nation, the name of Israel shall be remembered no more!'
Psa 83:5 They conspire with a single mind, they conclude an alliance against you,
Psa 83:6 the tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Hagrites,
Psa 83:7 Gebal, Ammon, Amalek, Philistia and the Tyrians;
Psa 83:8 even Assyria has joined them to reinforce the children of Lot.Pause
Psa 83:9 Treat them like Midian and Sisera, like Jabin at the river Kishon;
Psa 83:10 wiped out at En-Dor, they served to manure the ground.
Psa 83:11 Treat their leaders like Oreb and Zeeb, all their commanders like Zebah and Zalmunna,
Psa 83:12 for they said, 'Let us take for ourselves God's settlements.'
Psa 83:13 My God, treat them like thistledown, like chaff at the mercy of the wind.
Psa 83:14 As fire devours a forest, as a flame sets mountains ablaze,
Psa 83:15 so drive them away with your tempest, by your whirlwind fill them with terror.
Psa 83:16 Shame written all over their faces, let them seek your name, Yahweh!
Psa 83:17 Dishonour and terror be always theirs, death also and destruction.
Psa 83:18 Let them know that you alone bear the name of Yahweh, Most High over all the earth.
Psa 84:1 [For the choirmaster On the . . . of Gath Of the sons of Korah Psalm] How lovely are your dwelling-places, Yahweh Sabaoth.
Psa 84:2 My whole being yearns and pines for Yahweh's courts, My heart and my body cry out for joy to the living God.
Psa 84:3 Even the sparrow has found a home, the swallow a nest to place its young: your altars, Yahweh Sabaoth, my King and my God.
Psa 84:4 How blessed are those who live in your house; they shall praise you continually. Pause
Psa 84:5 Blessed those who find their strength in you, whose hearts are set on pilgrimage.
Psa 84:6 As they pass through the Valley of the Balsam, they make there a water-hole, and -- a further blessing -- early rain fills it.
Psa 84:7 They make their way from height to height, God shows himself to them in Zion.
Psa 84:8 Yahweh, God Sabaoth, hear my prayer, listen, God of Jacob.
Psa 84:9 God, our shield, look, and see the face of your anointed.
Psa 84:10 Better one day in your courts than a thousand at my own devices, to stand on the threshold of God's house than to live in the tents of the wicked.
Psa 84:11 For Yahweh God is a rampart and shield, he gives grace and glory; Yahweh refuses nothing good to those whose life is blameless.
Psa 84:12 Yahweh Sabaoth, blessed is he who trusts in you.
Psa 85:1 [For the choirmaster Of the sons of Korah Psalm] Yahweh, you are gracious to your land, you bring back the captives of Jacob,
Psa 85:2 you take away the guilt of your people, you blot out all their sin.Pause
Psa 85:3 You retract all your anger, you renounce the heat of your fury.

Psa 85:4 Bring us back, God our Saviour, appease your indignation against us!
Psa 85:5 Will you be angry with us for ever? Will you prolong your wrath age after age?
Psa 85:6 Will you not give us life again, for your people to rejoice in you?
Psa 85:7 Show us, Lord, your faithful love, grant us your saving help.
Psa 85:8 I am listening. What is God's message? Yahweh's message is peace for his people, for his faithful, if only they renounce their folly.
Psa 85:9 His saving help is near for those who fear him, his glory will dwell in our land.
Psa 85:10 Faithful Love and Loyalty join together, Saving Justice and Peace embrace.
Psa 85:11 Loyalty will spring up from the earth, and Justice will lean down from heaven.
Psa 85:12 Yahweh will himself give prosperity, and our soil will yield its harvest.
Psa 85:13 Justice will walk before him, treading out a path.
Psa 86:1 [Prayer Of David] Listen to me, Yahweh, answer me, for I am poor and needy.
Psa 86:2 Guard me, for I am faithful, save your servant who relies on you. You are my God,
Psa 86:3 take pity on me, Lord, for to you I cry all the day.
Psa 86:4 Fill your servant's heart with joy, Lord, for to you I raise up my heart.
Psa 86:5 Lord, you are kind and forgiving, rich in faithful love for all who call upon you.
Psa 86:6 Yahweh, hear my prayer, listen to the sound of my pleading.
Psa 86:7 In my day of distress I call upon you, because you answer me, Lord;
Psa 86:8 among the gods there is none to compare with you, no great deeds to compare with yours.
Psa 86:9 All nations will come and adore you, Lord, and give glory to your name.
Psa 86:10 For you are great and do marvellous deeds, you, God, and none other.
Psa 86:11 Teach me, Yahweh, your ways, that I may not stray from your loyalty; let my heart's one aim be to fear your name.
Psa 86:12 I thank you with all my heart, Lord my God, I will glorify your name for ever,
Psa 86:13 for your faithful love for me is so great that you have rescued me from the depths of Sheol.
Psa 86:14 Arrogant men, God, are rising up against me, a brutal gang is after my life, in their scheme of things you have no place.
Psa 86:15 But you, Lord, God of tenderness and mercy, slow to anger, rich in faithful love and loyalty,
Psa 86:16 turn to me and pity me. Give to your servant your strength, to the child of your servant your saving help,
Psa 86:17 give me a sign of your kindness.
Psa 86:18 My enemies will see to their shame that you, Yahweh, help and console me.
Psa 87:1 [Of the sons of Korah Psalm Song] With its foundations on the holy mountains,
Psa 87:2 Yahweh loves his city, he prefers the gates of Zion to any dwelling-place in Jacob.
Psa 87:3 He speaks of glory for you, city of God,Pause
Psa 87:4 'I number Rahab and Babylon among those that acknowledge me; look at Tyre, Philistia, Ethiopia, so and so was born there.'

Psa 87:5 But of Zion it will be said, 'Every one was born there,' her guarantee is the Most High.
Psa 87:6 Yahweh in his register of peoples will note against each, 'Born there',Pause
Psa 87:7 princes no less than native-born; all make their home in you.
Psa 88:1 [Song Psalm Of the sons of Korah In sickness In suffering Poem For Heman the native-born] Yahweh,
God of my salvation, when I cry out to you in the night,
Psa 88:2 may my prayer reach your presence, hear my cry for help.
Psa 88:3 For I am filled with misery, my life is on the brink of Sheol;
Psa 88:4 already numbered among those who sink into oblivion, I am as one bereft of strength,
Psa 88:5 left alone among the dead, like the slaughtered lying in the grave, whom you remember no more, cut off as they are from your protection.
Psa 88:6 You have plunged me to the bottom of the grave, in the darkness, in the depths;
Psa 88:7 weighted down by your anger, kept low by your waves.Pause
Psa 88:8 You have deprived me of my friends, made me repulsive to them, imprisoned, with no escape;
Psa 88:9 my eyes are worn out with suffering. I call to you, Yahweh, all day, I stretch out my hands to you.
Psa 88:10 Do you work wonders for the dead, can shadows rise up to praise you?Pause
Psa 88:11 Do they speak in the grave of your faithful love, of your constancy in the place of perdition?
Psa 88:12 Are your wonders known in the darkness, your saving justice in the land of oblivion?
Psa 88:13 But, for my part, I cry to you, Yahweh, every morning my prayer comes before you;
Psa 88:14 why, Yahweh, do you rebuff me, turn your face away from me?
Psa 88:15 Wretched and close to death since childhood, I have borne your terrors -- I am finished!
Psa 88:16 Your anger has overwhelmed me, your terrors annihilated me.
Psa 88:17 They flood around me all day long, close in on me all at once.

Psa 88:18 You have deprived me of friends and companions, and all that I know is the dark.

Psa 89:1 [Poem For Ethan the native-born] I shall sing the faithful love of Yahweh for ever, from age to age my lips shall declare your constancy,

Psa 89:2 for you have said: love is built to last for ever, you have fixed your constancy firm in the heavens.

Psa 89:3 'I have made a covenant with my Chosen One, sworn an oath to my servant David:

Psa 89:4 I have made your dynasty firm for ever, built your throne stable age after age.'Pause

Psa 89:5 The heavens praise your wonders, Yahweh, your constancy in the gathering of your faithful.

Psa 89:6 Who in the skies can compare with Yahweh? Who among the sons of god can rival him?

Psa 89:7 God, awesome in the assembly of holy ones, great and dreaded among all who surround him,

Psa 89:8 Yahweh, God Sabaoth, who is like you? Mighty Yahweh, your constancy is all round you!

Psa 89:9 You control the pride of the ocean, when its waves ride high you calm them.

Psa 89:10 You split Rahab in two like a corpse, scattered your enemies with your mighty arm.

Psa 89:11 Yours are the heavens and yours the earth, the world and all it holds, you founded them;

Psa 89:12 you created the north and the south, Tabor and Hermon hail your name with joy.

Psa 89:13 Yours is a strong arm, mighty your hand, your right hand raised high;

Psa 89:14 Saving Justice and Fair Judgement the foundations of your throne, Faithful Love and Constancy march before you.

Psa 89:15 How blessed the nation that learns to acclaim you! They will live, Yahweh, in the light of your presence.

Psa 89:16 In your name they rejoice all day long, by your saving justice they are raised up.

Psa 89:17 You are the flower of their strength, by your favour our strength is triumphant;

Psa 89:18 for to Yahweh belongs our shield, to the Holy One of Israel our king.

Psa 89:19 Once you spoke in a vision, to your faithful you said: 'I have given strength to a warrior, I have raised up a man chosen from my people.'

Psa 89:20 'I have found David my servant, and anointed him with my holy oil.'

Psa 89:21 My hand will always be with him, my arm will make him strong.

Psa 89:22 'No enemy will be able to outwit him, no wicked man overcome him;

Psa 89:23 I shall crush his enemies before him, strike his opponents dead.

Psa 89:24 'My constancy and faithful love will be with him, in my name his strength will be triumphant.'

Psa 89:25 I shall establish his power over the sea, his dominion over the rivers.

Psa 89:26 'He will cry to me, "You are my father, my God, the rock of my salvation!"'

Psa 89:27 So I shall make him my first-born, the highest of earthly kings.

Psa 89:28 'I shall maintain my faithful love for him always, my covenant with him will stay firm.'

Psa 89:29 I have established his dynasty for ever, his throne to be as lasting as the heavens.

Psa 89:30 'Should his descendants desert my law, and not keep to my rulings,

Psa 89:31 should they violate my statutes, and not observe my commandments,

Psa 89:32 'then I shall punish their offences with the rod, their guilt with the whip,

Psa 89:33 but I shall never withdraw from him my faithful love, I shall not belie my constancy.'

Psa 89:34 'I shall not violate my covenant, I shall not withdraw the word once spoken.'

Psa 89:35 I have sworn by my holiness, once and for all, never will I break faith with David.

Psa 89:36 'His dynasty shall endure for ever, his throne like the sun before me,

Psa 89:37 as the moon is established for ever, a faithful witness in the skies.'Pause

Psa 89:38 Yet you yourself -- you have spurned and rejected, and have vented your wrath on your anointed,

Psa 89:39 you have repudiated the covenant with your servant, dishonoured his crown in the dust.

Psa 89:40 You have pierced all his defences, and laid his strongholds in ruins,

Psa 89:41 everyone passing by plunders him, he has become the butt of his neighbours.

Psa 89:42 You have raised high the right hand of his opponents, have made all his enemies happy;

Psa 89:43 you have snapped off his sword on a rock, and failed to support him in battle.

Psa 89:44 You have stripped him of his splendid sceptre, and toppled his throne to the ground.

Psa 89:45 You have aged him before his time, enveloped him in shame.Pause

Psa 89:46 How long, Yahweh, will you remain hidden? For ever? Is your anger to go on smouldering like a fire?

Psa 89:47 Remember me; how long have I left? For what pointless end did you create all the children of Adam?

Psa 89:48 Who can live and never see death? Who can save himself from the clutches of Sheol?Pause

Psa 89:49 Lord, what of those pledges of your faithful love? You made an oath to David by your constancy.

Psa 89:50 Do not forget the insults to your servant; I take to heart the taunts of the nations,

Psa 89:51 which your enemies have levelled, Yahweh, have levelled at the footsteps of your anointed!

Psa 89:52 Blessed be Yahweh for ever. Amen, Amen.

Psa 90:1 [Prayer Of Moses, man of God] Lord, you have been our refuge from age to age.

Psa 90:2 Before the mountains were born, before the earth and the world came to birth, from eternity to eternity you are God.

Psa 90:3 You bring human beings to the dust, by saying, 'Return, children of Adam.'

Psa 90:4 A thousand years are to you like a yesterday which has passed, like a watch of the night.

Psa 90:5 You flood them with sleep -- in the morning they will be like growing grass:

Psa 90:6 in the morning it is blossoming and growing, by evening it is withered and dry.

Psa 90:7 For we have been destroyed by your wrath, dismayed by your anger.

Psa 90:8 You have taken note of our guilty deeds, our secrets in the full light of your presence.

Psa 90:9 All our days pass under your wrath, our lives are over like a sigh.

Psa 90:10 The span of our life is seventy years -- eighty for those who are strong -- but their whole extent is anxiety and trouble, they are over in a moment and we are gone.

Psa 90:11 Who feels the power of your anger, or who that fears you, your wrath?

Psa 90:12 Teach us to count up the days that are ours, and we shall come to the heart of wisdom.

Psa 90:13 Come back, Yahweh! How long must we wait? Take pity on your servants.

Psa 90:14 Each morning fill us with your faithful love, we shall sing and be happy all our days;

Psa 90:15 let our joy be as long as the time that you afflicted us, the years when we experienced disaster.

Psa 90:16 Show your servants the deeds you do, let their children enjoy your splendour!

Psa 90:17 May the sweetness of the Lord be upon us, to confirm the work we have done!

Psa 91:1 You who live in the secret place of Elyon, spend your nights in the shelter of Shaddai,

Psa 91:2 saying to Yahweh, 'My refuge, my fortress, my God in whom I trust!'

Psa 91:3 He rescues you from the snare of the fowler set on destruction;

Psa 91:4 he covers you with his pinions, you find shelter under his wings. His constancy is shield and protection.

Psa 91:5 You need not fear the terrors of night, the arrow that flies in the daytime,

Psa 91:6 the plague that stalks in the darkness, the scourge that wreaks havoc at high noon.

Psa 91:7 Though a thousand fall at your side, ten thousand at your right hand, you yourself will remain unscathed.

Psa 91:8 You have only to keep your eyes open to see how the wicked are repaid,

Psa 91:9 you who say, 'Yahweh my refuge!' and make Elyon your fortress.

Psa 91:10 No disaster can overtake you, no plague come near your tent;

Psa 91:11 he has given his angels orders about you to guard you wherever you go.

Psa 91:12 They will carry you in their arms in case you trip over a stone.

Psa 91:13 You will walk upon wild beast and adder, you will trample young lions and snakes.

Psa 91:14 'Since he clings to me I rescue him, I raise him high, since he acknowledges my name.

Psa 91:15 He calls to me and I answer him: in distress I am at his side, I rescue him and bring him honour.

Psa 91:16 I shall satisfy him with long life, and grant him to see my salvation.'

Psa 92:1 [Psalm Song For the Sabbath] It is good to give thanks to Yahweh, to make music for your name, Most High,

Psa 92:2 to proclaim your faithful love at daybreak, and your constancy all through the night,

Psa 92:3 on the lyre, the ten-stringed lyre, to the murmur of the harp.

Psa 92:4 You have brought me joy, Yahweh, by your deeds, at the work of your hands I cry out,

Psa 92:5 'How great are your works, Yahweh, immensely deep your thoughts!'

Psa 92:6 Stupid people cannot realise this, fools do not grasp it.

Psa 92:7 The wicked may sprout like weeds, and every evil-doer flourish, but only to be eternally destroyed;

Psa 92:8 whereas you are supreme for ever, Yahweh.

Psa 92:9 Look how your enemies perish, how all evil-doers are scattered!

Psa 92:10 You give me the strength of the wild ox, you anoint me with fresh oil;

Psa 92:11 I caught sight of the ambush against me, overheard the plans of the wicked.

Psa 92:12 The upright will flourish like the palm tree, will grow like a cedar of Lebanon.

Psa 92:13 Planted in the house of Yahweh, they will flourish in the courts of our God.

Psa 92:14 In old age they will still bear fruit, will remain fresh and green,

Psa 92:15 to proclaim Yahweh's integrity; my rock, in whom no fault can be found.

Psa 93:1 Yahweh is king, robed in majesty, robed is Yahweh and girded with power.

Psa 93:2 The world is indeed set firm, it can never be shaken; your throne is set firm from of old, from all eternity you exist.

Psa 93:3 The rivers lift up, Yahweh, the rivers lift up their voices, the rivers lift up their thunder.

Psa 93:4 Greater than the voice of many waters, more majestic than the breakers of the sea, Yahweh is majestic in the heights.

Psa 93:5 Your decrees stand firm, unshakeable, holiness is the beauty of your house, Yahweh, for all time to come.

Psa 94:1 God of vengeance, Yahweh, God of vengeance, shine forth!
Psa 94:2 Arise, judge of the world, give back the proud what they deserve!
Psa 94:3 How long are the wicked, Yahweh, how long are the wicked to triumph?
Psa 94:4 They bluster and boast, they flaunt themselves, all the evil-doers.
Psa 94:5 They crush your people, Yahweh, they oppress your heritage,
Psa 94:6 they murder the widow and the stranger, bring the orphan to a violent death.
Psa 94:7 They say, 'Yahweh is not looking, the God of Jacob is taking no notice.'
Psa 94:8 Take notice yourselves, you coarsest of people! Fools, when will you learn some sense?
Psa 94:9 Shall he who implanted the ear not hear, he who fashioned the eye not see?
Psa 94:10 Shall he who instructs nations not punish? Yahweh, the teacher of all people, Psa 94:11 knows human plans and how insipid they are.
Psa 94:12 How blessed are those you instruct, Yahweh, whom you teach by means of your law,
Psa 94:13 to give them respite in evil times, till a pit is dug for the wicked.
Psa 94:14 Yahweh will not abandon his people, he will not desert his heritage;
Psa 94:15 for judgement will again become saving justice, and in its wake all upright hearts will follow.
Psa 94:16 Who rises up on my side against the wicked? Who stands firm on my side against all evil-doers?
Psa 94:17 If Yahweh did not come to my help, I should soon find myself dwelling in the silence.
Psa 94:18 I need only say, 'I am slipping,' for your faithful love, Yahweh, to support me;
Psa 94:19 however great the anxiety of my heart, your consolations soothe me.
Psa 94:20 Are you partner to a destructive court, that gives disorder the status of law?
Psa 94:21 They make an attack on the life of the upright, and condemn innocent blood.
Psa 94:22 No! Yahweh is a stronghold to me, my God is my rock of refuge.
Psa 94:23 He turns back their guilt on themselves, annihilates them for their wickedness, he annihilates them, Yahweh our God.
Psa 95:1 Come, let us cry out with joy to Yahweh, acclaim the rock of our salvation.
Psa 95:2 Let us come into his presence with thanksgiving, acclaim him with music.
Psa 95:3 For Yahweh is a great God, a king greater than all the gods.
Psa 95:4 In his power are the depths of the earth, the peaks of the mountains are his;
Psa 95:5 the sea belongs to him, for he made it, and the dry land, moulded by his hands.
Psa 95:6 Come, let us bow low and do reverence; kneel before Yahweh who made us!
Psa 95:7 For he is our God, and we the people of his sheepfold, the flock of his hand. If only you would listen to him today!
Psa 95:8 Do not harden your hearts as at Meribah, as at the time of Massah in the desert,
Psa 95:9 when your ancestors challenged me, put me to the test, and saw what I could do!
Psa 95:10 For forty years that generation sickened me, and I said, 'Always fickle hearts; they cannot grasp my ways.'

Psa 95:11 Then in my anger I swore they would never enter my place of rest.

Psa 96:1 Sing a new song to Yahweh! Sing to Yahweh, all the earth!

Psa 96:2 Sing to Yahweh, bless his name! Proclaim his salvation day after day, Psa 96:3 declare his glory among the nations, his marvels to every people!

Psa 96:4 Great is Yahweh, worthy of all praise, more awesome than any of the gods.

Psa 96:5 All the gods of the nations are idols! It was Yahweh who made the heavens;

Psa 96:6 in his presence are splendour and majesty, in his sanctuary power and beauty.

Psa 96:7 Give to Yahweh, families of nations, give to Yahweh glory and power,

Psa 96:8 give to Yahweh the glory due to his name! Bring an offering and enter his courts,

Psa 96:9 adore Yahweh in the splendour of his holiness. Tremble before him, all the earth.

Psa 96:10 Say among the nations, 'Yahweh is king.' The world is set firm, it cannot be moved. He will judge the nations with justice.

Psa 96:11 Let the heavens rejoice and earth be glad! Let the sea thunder, and all it holds!

Psa 96:12 Let the countryside exult, and all that is in it, and all the trees of the forest cry out for joy,

Psa 96:13 at Yahweh's approach, for he is coming, coming to judge the earth; he will judge the world with saving justice, and the nations with constancy.

Psa 97:1 Yahweh is king! Let earth rejoice, the many isles be glad!

Psa 97:2 Cloud, black cloud enfolds him, saving justice and judgement the foundations of his throne.

Psa 97:3 Fire goes before him, sets ablaze his enemies all around;

Psa 97:4 his lightning-flashes light up the world, the earth sees it and quakes.

Psa 97:5 The mountains melt like wax, before the Lord of all the earth.

Psa 97:6 The heavens proclaim his saving justice, all nations see his glory.

Psa 97:7 Shame on all who serve images, who pride themselves on their idols; bow down to him, all you gods!

Psa 97:8 Zion hears and is glad, the daughters of Judah exult, because of your judgements, Yahweh.
Psa 97:9 For you are Yahweh, Most High over all the earth, far transcending all gods.
Psa 97:10 Yahweh loves those who hate evil, he keeps safe his faithful, rescues them from the clutches of the wicked.
Psa 97:11 Light dawns for the upright, and joy for honest hearts.
Psa 97:12 Rejoice in Yahweh, you who are upright, praise his unforgettable holiness.
Psa 98:1 [Psalm] Sing a new song to Yahweh, for he has performed wonders, his saving power is in his right hand and his holy arm.
Psa 98:2 Yahweh has made known his saving power, revealed his saving justice for the nations to see,
Psa 98:3 mindful of his faithful love and his constancy to the House of Israel. The whole wide world has seen the saving power of our God.
Psa 98:4 Acclaim Yahweh, all the earth, burst into shouts of joy!
Psa 98:5 Play to Yahweh on the harp, to the sound of instruments;
Psa 98:6 to the sound of trumpet and horn, acclaim the presence of the King.
Psa 98:7 Let the sea thunder, and all that it holds, the world and all who live in it.
Psa 98:8 Let the rivers clap their hands, and the mountains shout for joy together,
Psa 98:9 at Yahweh's approach, for he is coming to judge the earth; he will judge the world with saving justice and the nations with fairness.
Psa 99:1 Yahweh is king, the peoples tremble; he is enthroned on the winged creatures, the earth shivers;
Psa 99:2 Yahweh is great in Zion. He is supreme over all nations;
Psa 99:3 let them praise your name, great and awesome; holy is he Psa 99:4 and mighty! You are a king who loves justice, you established honesty, justice and uprightness; in Jacob it is you who are active.
Psa 99:5 Exalt Yahweh our God, bow down at his footstool; holy is he!
Psa 99:6 Moses and Aaron are among his priests, and Samuel, calling on his name; they called on Yahweh and he answered them.
Psa 99:7 He spoke with them in the pillar of fire, they obeyed his decrees, the Law he gave them.
Psa 99:8 Yahweh our God, you answered them, you were a God of forgiveness to them, but punished them for their sins.
Psa 99:9 Exalt Yahweh our God, bow down at his holy mountain; holy is Yahweh our God!
Psa 100:1 [Psalm For thanksgiving] Acclaim Yahweh, all the earth,
Psa 100:2 serve Yahweh with gladness, come into his presence with songs of joy!
Psa 100:3 Be sure that Yahweh is God, he made us, we belong to him, his people, the flock of his sheepfold.
Psa 100:4 Come within his gates giving thanks, to his courts singing praise, give thanks to him and bless his name!
Psa 100:5 For Yahweh is good, his faithful love is everlasting, his constancy from age to age.
Psa 101:1 [Of David Psalm] I will sing of faithful love and judgement; to you, Yahweh, will I make music.
Psa 101:2 I will go forward in the path of the blameless; when will you come to me? I will live in purity of heart, in my house,
Psa 101:3 I will not set before my eyes anything sordid. I hate those who act crookedly; this has no attraction for me.
Psa 101:4 Let the perverse of heart keep away from me; the wicked I disregard.
Psa 101:5 One who secretly slanders a comrade, I reduce to silence; haughty looks, proud heart, these I cannot abide.
Psa 101:6 I look to the faithful of the land to be my companions, only he who walks in the path of the blameless shall be my servant.
Psa 101:7 There is no room in my house for anyone who practises deceit; no liar will stand his ground where I can see him.
Psa 101:8 Morning after morning I reduce to silence all the wicked in the land, banishing from the city of Yahweh all evil-doers.
Psa 102:1 [Prayer of someone afflicted, who in misfortune pours out sorrows before Yahweh] Yahweh, hear my prayer, let my cry for help reach you.
Psa 102:2 Do not turn away your face from me when I am in trouble; bend down and listen to me, when I call, be quick to answer me!
Psa 102:3 For my days are vanishing like smoke, my bones burning like an oven;
Psa 102:4 like grass struck by blight, my heart is withering, I forget to eat my meals.
Psa 102:5 From the effort of voicing my groans my bones stick out through my skin.
Psa 102:6 I am like a desert-owl in the wastes, a screech-owl among ruins,
Psa 102:7 I keep vigil and moan like a lone bird on a roof.

Psa 102:8 All day long my enemies taunt me, those who once praised me now use me as a curse.
Psa 102:9 Ashes are the food that I eat, my drink is mingled with tears,
Psa 102:10 because of your fury and anger, since you have raised me up only to cast me away;
Psa 102:11 my days are like a fading shadow, I am withering up like grass.
Psa 102:12 But you, Yahweh, are enthroned for ever, each generation in turn remembers you.
Psa 102:13 Rise up, take pity on Zion! the time has come to have mercy on her, the moment has come;
Psa 102:14 for your servants love her very stones, are moved to pity by her dust.
Psa 102:15 Then will the nations revere the name of Yahweh, and all the kings of the earth your glory;
Psa 102:16 when Yahweh builds Zion anew, he will be seen in his glory;
Psa 102:17 he will turn to hear the prayer of the destitute, and will not treat their prayer with scorn.
Psa 102:18 This shall be put on record for a future generation, and a people yet to be born shall praise God:
Psa 102:19 Yahweh has leaned down from the heights of his sanctuary, has looked down from heaven to earth,
Psa 102:20 to listen to the sighing of the captive, and set free those condemned to death,
Psa 102:21 to proclaim the name of Yahweh in Zion, his praise in Jerusalem;
Psa 102:22 nations will gather together, and kingdoms to worship Yahweh.
Psa 102:23 In my journeying my strength has failed on the way;
Psa 102:24 let me know the short time I have left. Do not take me away before half my days are done, for your years run on from age to age.
Psa 102:25 Long ago you laid earth's foundations, the heavens are the work of your hands.
Psa 102:26 They pass away but you remain; they all wear out like a garment, like outworn clothes you change them;
Psa 102:27 but you never alter, and your years never end.
Psa 102:28 The children of those who serve you will dwell secure, and their descendants live on in your presence.
Psa 103:1 [Of David] Bless Yahweh, my soul, from the depths of my being, his holy name;
Psa 103:2 bless Yahweh, my soul, never forget all his acts of kindness.
Psa 103:3 He forgives all your offences, cures all your diseases,
Psa 103:4 he redeems your life from the abyss, crowns you with faithful love and tenderness;
Psa 103:5 he contents you with good things all your life, renews your youth like an eagle's.
Psa 103:6 Yahweh acts with uprightness, with justice to all who are oppressed;
Psa 103:7 he revealed to Moses his ways, his great deeds to the children of Israel.
Psa 103:8 Yahweh is tenderness and pity, slow to anger and rich in faithful love;
Psa 103:9 his indignation does not last for ever, nor his resentment remain for all time;
Psa 103:10 he does not treat us as our sins deserve, nor repay us as befits our offences.
Psa 103:11 As the height of heaven above earth, so strong is his faithful love for those who fear him.
Psa 103:12 As the distance of east from west, so far from us does he put our faults.
Psa 103:13 As tenderly as a father treats his children, so Yahweh treats those who fear him;
Psa 103:14 he knows of what we are made, he remembers that we are dust.
Psa 103:15 As for a human person -- his days are like grass, he blooms like the wild flowers;
Psa 103:16 as soon as the wind blows he is gone, never to be seen there again.
Psa 103:17 But Yahweh's faithful love for those who fear him is from eternity and for ever; and his saving justice to their children's children;
Psa 103:18 as long as they keep his covenant, and carefully obey his precepts.
Psa 103:19 Yahweh has fixed his throne in heaven, his sovereign power rules over all.
Psa 103:20 Bless Yahweh, all his angels, mighty warriors who fulfil his commands, attentive to the sound of his words.
Psa 103:21 Bless Yahweh, all his armies, servants who fulfil his wishes.
Psa 103:22 Bless Yahweh, all his works, in every place where he rules. Bless Yahweh, my soul.
Psa 104:1 Bless Yahweh, my soul, Yahweh, my God, how great you are! Clothed in majesty and splendour,
Psa 104:2 wearing the light as a robe! You stretch out the heavens like a tent,
Psa 104:3 build your palace on the waters above, making the clouds your chariot, gliding on the wings of the wind,
Psa 104:4 appointing the winds your messengers, flames of fire your servants.
Psa 104:5 You fixed the earth on its foundations, for ever and ever it shall not be shaken;
Psa 104:6 you covered it with the deep like a garment, the waters overtopping the mountains.
Psa 104:7 At your reproof the waters fled, at the voice of your thunder they sped away,
Psa 104:8 flowing over mountains, down valleys, to the place you had fixed for them;
Psa 104:9 you made a limit they were not to cross, they were not to return and cover the earth.
Psa 104:10 In the ravines you opened up springs, running down between the mountains,

Psa 104:11 supplying water for all the wild beasts; the wild asses quench their thirst,
Psa 104:12 on their banks the birds of the air make their nests, they sing among the leaves.
Psa 104:13 From your high halls you water the mountains, satisfying the earth with the fruit of your works:
Psa 104:14 for cattle you make the grass grow, and for people the plants they need, to bring forth food from the earth,
Psa 104:15 and wine to cheer people's hearts, oil to make their faces glow, food to make them sturdy of heart.
Psa 104:16 The trees of Yahweh drink their fill, the cedars of Lebanon which he sowed;
Psa 104:17 there the birds build their nests, on the highest branches the stork makes its home;
Psa 104:18 for the wild goats there are the mountains, in the crags the coney find refuge.
Psa 104:19 He made the moon to mark the seasons, the sun knows when to set.
Psa 104:20 You bring on darkness, and night falls, when all the forest beasts roam around;
Psa 104:21 young lions roar for their prey, asking God for their food.
Psa 104:22 The sun rises and away they steal, back to their lairs to lie down,
Psa 104:23 and man goes out to work, to labour till evening falls.
Psa 104:24 How countless are your works, Yahweh, all of them made so wisely! The earth is full of your creatures.
Psa 104:25 Then there is the sea, with its vast expanses teeming with countless creatures, creatures both great and small;
Psa 104:26 there ships pass to and fro, and Leviathan whom you made to sport with.
Psa 104:27 They all depend upon you, to feed them when they need it.
Psa 104:28 You provide the food they gather, your open hand gives them their fill.
Psa 104:29 Turn away your face and they panic; take back their breath and they die and revert to dust.
Psa 104:30 Send out your breath and life begins; you renew the face of the earth.
Psa 104:31 Glory to Yahweh for ever! May Yahweh find joy in his creatures!
Psa 104:32 At his glance the earth trembles, at his touch the mountains pour forth smoke.
Psa 104:33 I shall sing to Yahweh all my life, make music for my God as long as I live.
Psa 104:34 May my musings be pleasing to him, for Yahweh gives me joy.
Psa 104:35 May sinners vanish from the earth, and the wicked exist no more! Bless Yahweh, my soul.
Psa 105:1 Alleluia! Give thanks to Yahweh, call on his name, proclaim his deeds to the peoples!
Psa 105:2 Sing to him, make music for him, recount all his wonders!
Psa 105:3 Glory in his holy name, let the hearts that seek Yahweh rejoice!
Psa 105:4 Seek Yahweh and his strength, tirelessly seek his presence!
Psa 105:5 Remember the marvels he has done, his wonders, the judgements he has spoken.
Psa 105:6 Stock of Abraham, his servant, children of Jacob whom he chose!
Psa 105:7 He is Yahweh our God, his judgements touch the whole world.
Psa 105:8 He remembers his covenant for ever, the promise he laid down for a thousand generations,
Psa 105:9 which he concluded with Abraham, the oath he swore to Isaac.
Psa 105:10 He established it as a statute for Jacob, an everlasting covenant with Israel,
Psa 105:11 saying, 'To you I give a land, Canaan, your allotted birthright.'
Psa 105:12 When they were insignificant in numbers, a handful of strangers in the land,
Psa 105:13 wandering from country to country, from one kingdom and nation to another,
Psa 105:14 he allowed no one to oppress them; for their sake he instructed kings,
Psa 105:15 'Do not touch my anointed ones, to my prophets you may do no harm.'
Psa 105:16 He called down famine on the land, he took away their food supply;
Psa 105:17 he sent a man ahead of them, Joseph, sold as a slave.
Psa 105:18 So his feet were weighed down with shackles, his neck was put in irons.
Psa 105:19 In due time his prophecy was fulfilled, the word of Yahweh proved him true.
Psa 105:20 The king sent orders to release him, the ruler of nations set him free;
Psa 105:21 he put him in charge of his household, the ruler of all he possessed,
Psa 105:22 to instruct his princes as he saw fit, to teach his counsellors wisdom.
Psa 105:23 Then Israel migrated to Egypt, Jacob settled in the country of Ham.
Psa 105:24 He made his people increase in numbers, he gave them more strength than their enemies,
Psa 105:25 whose heart he turned to hate his own people, to double-cross his servants.
Psa 105:26 He sent his servant Moses, and Aaron, the man of his choice.
Psa 105:27 They worked there the wonders he commanded, marvels in the country of Ham.
Psa 105:28 Darkness he sent, and darkness fell, but that nation defied his orders.
Psa 105:29 He turned their rivers to blood, and killed all the fish in them.
Psa 105:30 Their country was overrun with frogs, even in the royal apartments;
Psa 105:31 at his word came flies, and mosquitoes throughout the country.

Psa 105:32 He gave them hail as their rain, flames of fire in their land;
Psa 105:33 he blasted their vine and their fig tree, and shattered the trees of the country.
Psa 105:34 At his word came locusts, hoppers beyond all counting;
Psa 105:35 they devoured every green thing in the land, devoured all the produce of the soil.
Psa 105:36 He struck all the first-born in their land, the flower of all their manhood;
Psa 105:37 he led Israel out with silver and gold; in their tribes there was none who stumbled.
Psa 105:38 Egypt was glad at their leaving, for terror of Israel had seized them.
Psa 105:39 He spread out a cloud to cover them, and fire to light up the night.
Psa 105:40 They asked and he brought them quails, food from heaven to their hearts' content;
Psa 105:41 he opened a rock, the waters gushed out, and flowed in dry ground as a river.
Psa 105:42 Faithful to his sacred promise, given to his servant Abraham,
Psa 105:43 he led out his people with rejoicing, his chosen ones with shouts of joy.
Psa 105:44 He gave them the territories of nations, they reaped the fruit of other people's labours,
Psa 105:45 on condition that they kept his statutes, and remained obedient to his laws.
Psa 106:1 Alleluia! Give thanks to Yahweh, for he is good, his faithful love is everlasting!
Psa 106:2 Who can recount all Yahweh's triumphs, who can fully voice his praise?
Psa 106:3 How blessed are those who keep to what is just, whose conduct is always upright!
Psa 106:4 Remember me, Yahweh, in your love for your people. Come near to me with your saving power, Psa 106:5 let me share the happiness of your chosen ones, let me share the joy of your people, the pride of your heritage.
Psa 106:6 Like our ancestors, we have sinned, we have acted wickedly, guiltily;
Psa 106:7 our ancestors in Egypt never grasped the meaning of your wonders. They did not bear in mind your countless acts of love, at the Sea of Reeds they defied the Most High;
Psa 106:8 but for the sake of his name he saved them, to make known his mighty power.
Psa 106:9 At his rebuke the Sea of Reeds dried up, he let them pass through the deep as though it were desert,
Psa 106:10 so he saved them from their opponents' clutches, rescued them from the clutches of their enemies.
Psa 106:11 The waters enveloped their enemies, not one of whom was left.
Psa 106:12 Then they believed what he had said, and sang his praises.
Psa 106:13 But they soon forgot his achievements, they did not even wait for his plans;
Psa 106:14 they were overwhelmed with greed in the wastelands, in the solitary wastes they challenged God.
Psa 106:15 He gave them all they asked for, but struck them with a deep wasting sickness;
Psa 106:16 in the camp they grew jealous of Moses, and of Aaron, Yahweh's holy one.
Psa 106:17 The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, closed in on Abiram's faction;
Psa 106:18 fire flamed out against their faction, the renegades were engulfed in flames.
Psa 106:19 At Horeb they made a calf, bowed low before cast metal;
Psa 106:20 they exchanged their glory for the image of a grass-eating bull.
Psa 106:21 They forgot the God who was saving them, who had done great deeds in Egypt,
Psa 106:22 such wonders in the land of Ham, such awesome deeds at the Sea of Reeds.
Psa 106:23 He thought of putting an end to them, had not Moses, his chosen one, taken a stand in the breach and confronted him, to turn his anger away from destroying them.
Psa 106:24 They counted a desirable land for nothing, they put no trust in his promise;
Psa 106:25 they stayed in their tents and grumbled, they would not listen to Yahweh's voice.
Psa 106:26 So he lifted his hand against them, to strike them down in the desert,
Psa 106:27 to strike down their descendants among the nations, to scatter them all over the world.
Psa 106:28 They committed themselves to serve Baal-Peor, and ate sacrifices made to lifeless gods.
Psa 106:29 They so provoked him by their actions that a plague broke out among them.
Psa 106:30 Then up stood Phinehas to intervene, and the plague was checked;
Psa 106:31 for this he is the example of uprightness, from age to age for ever.
Psa 106:32 At the waters of Meribah they so angered Yahweh, that Moses suffered on their account,
Psa 106:33 for they had embittered his spirit, and he spoke without due thought.
Psa 106:34 They did not destroy the nations, as Yahweh had told them to do,
Psa 106:35 but intermarried with them, and adopted their ways.
Psa 106:36 They worshipped those nations' false gods, till they found themselves entrapped,
Psa 106:37 and sacrificed their own sons and their daughters to demons.
Psa 106:38 Innocent blood they shed, the blood of their sons and daughters; offering them to the idols of Canaan, they polluted the country with blood.
Psa 106:39 They defiled themselves by such actions, their behaviour was that of a harlot.
Psa 106:40 Yahweh's anger blazed out at his people, his own heritage filled him with disgust.
Psa 106:41 He handed them over to the nations, and their opponents became their masters;

Psa 106:42 their enemies lorded it over them, crushing them under their rule.
Psa 106:43 Time and again he rescued them, but they still defied him deliberately, and sank ever deeper in their guilt;
Psa 106:44 even so he took pity on their distress, as soon as he heard them cry out.
Psa 106:45 Bearing his covenant with them in mind, he relented in his boundless and faithful love;
Psa 106:46 he ensured that they received compassion, in their treatment by all their captors.
Psa 106:47 Save us, Yahweh our God, gather us from among the nations, that we may give thanks to your holy name, and may glory in praising you.
Psa 106:48 Blessed be Yahweh, the God of Israel, from all eternity and for ever! Let all the people say, 'Amen'.
Psa 107:1 Alleluia! Give thanks to Yahweh for he is good, his faithful love lasts for ever.
Psa 107:2 So let them say whom Yahweh redeemed, whom he redeemed from the power of their enemies,
Psa 107:3 bringing them back from foreign lands, from east and west, north and south.
Psa 107:4 They were wandering in the desert, in the wastelands, could find no way to an inhabited city;
Psa 107:5 they were hungry and thirsty, their life was ebbing away.
Psa 107:6 They cried out to Yahweh in their distress, he rescued them from their plight,
Psa 107:7 he set them on the road, straight to an inhabited city.
Psa 107:8 Let them thank Yahweh for his faithful love, for his wonders for the children of Adam!
Psa 107:9 He has fed the hungry to their hearts' content, filled the starving with good things.
Psa 107:10 Sojourners in gloom and shadow dark as death, fettered in misery and chains,
Psa 107:11 for defying the orders of Yahweh, for scorning the plan of the Most High-
Psa 107:12 he subdued their spirit by hard labour; if they fell there was no one to help.
Psa 107:13 They cried out to Yahweh in their distress, he rescued them from their plight,
Psa 107:14 he brought them out from gloom and shadow dark as death, and shattered their chains.
Psa 107:15 Let them thank Yahweh for his faithful love, for his wonders for the children of Adam!
Psa 107:16 He broke open gates of bronze and smashed iron bars.
Psa 107:17 Fools for their rebellious ways, wretched because of their sins,
Psa 107:18 finding all food repugnant, brought close to the gates of death-
Psa 107:19 they cried out to Yahweh in their distress; he rescued them from their plight,
Psa 107:20 he sent out his word and cured them, and rescued their life from the abyss.
Psa 107:21 Let them thank Yahweh for his faithful love, for his wonders for the children of Adam!
Psa 107:22 Let them offer thanksgiving sacrifices, and recount with shouts of joy what he has done!
Psa 107:23 Voyagers on the sea in ships, plying their trade on the great ocean,
Psa 107:24 have seen the works of Yahweh, his wonders in the deep.
Psa 107:25 By his word he raised a storm-wind, lashing up towering waves.
Psa 107:26 Up to the sky then down to the depths! Their stomachs were turned to water;
Psa 107:27 they staggered and reeled like drunkards, and all their skill went under.
Psa 107:28 They cried out to Yahweh in their distress, he rescued them from their plight,
Psa 107:29 he reduced the storm to a calm, and all the waters subsided,
Psa 107:30 and he brought them, overjoyed at the stillness, to the port where they were bound.
Psa 107:31 Let them thank Yahweh for his faithful love, for his wonders for the children of Adam!
Psa 107:32 Let them extol him in the assembly of the people, and praise him in the council of elders.
Psa 107:33 He has turned rivers into desert, bubbling springs into arid ground,
Psa 107:34 fertile country into salt-flats, because the people living there were evil.
Psa 107:35 But he has turned desert into stretches of water, arid ground into bubbling springs,
Psa 107:36 and has given the hungry a home, where they have built themselves a city.
Psa 107:37 There they sow fields and plant vines, and reap a harvest of their produce.
Psa 107:38 He blesses them and their numbers increase, he keeps their cattle at full strength.
Psa 107:39 Their numbers had fallen, they had grown weak, under pressure of disaster and hardship;
Psa 107:40 he covered princes in contempt, left them to wander in trackless wastes.
Psa 107:41 But the needy he raises from their misery, makes their families as numerous as sheep.
Psa 107:42 At the sight the honest rejoice, and the wicked have nothing to say.
Psa 107:43 Who is wise? Such a one should take this to heart, and come to understand Yahweh's faithful love.
Psa 108:1 [Song Psalm Of David] My heart is ready, God, I will sing and make music; come, my glory!
Psa 108:2 Awake, lyre and harp, I will awake the Dawn!
Psa 108:3 I will praise you among the peoples, Yahweh, I will play to you among nations,
Psa 108:4 for your faithful love towers to heaven, and your constancy to the clouds.
Psa 108:5 Be exalted above the heavens, God. Your glory over the whole earth!
Psa 108:6 To rescue those you love, save with your right hand and answer us.
Psa 108:7 God has spoken from his sanctuary, 'In triumph I will divide up Shechem, and share out the Valley of Succoth.

Psa 108:8 'Mine is Gilead, mine Manasseh, Ephraim the helmet on my head, Judah my commander's baton,
Psa 108:9 'Moab a bowl for me to wash in, on Edom I plant my sandal, over Philistia I cry victory.'
Psa 108:10 Who will lead me against a fortified city, who will guide me into Edom,
Psa 108:11 if not you, the God who has rejected us? God, you no longer march with our armies.
Psa 108:12 Bring us help in our time of crisis, any human assistance is worthless.
Psa 108:13 With God we shall do deeds of valour, he will trample down our enemies.
Psa 109:1 [For the choirmaster Of David Psalm] God whom I praise, do not be silent!
Psa 109:2 Wicked and deceiving words are being said about me, false accusations are cast in my teeth.
Psa 109:3 Words of hate fly all around me, though I give no cause for hostility.
Psa 109:4 In return for my friendship they denounce me, and all I can do is pray!
Psa 109:5 They repay my kindness with evil, and friendship with hatred.
Psa 109:6 'Set up a wicked man against him as accuser to stand on his right.
Psa 109:7 At his trial may he emerge as guilty, even his prayer construed as a crime!
Psa 109:8 'May his life be cut short, someone else take over his office,
Psa 109:9 his children be orphaned, his wife be widowed.
Psa 109:10 'May his children wander perpetually, beggars, driven from the ruins of their house,
Psa 109:11 a creditor seize all his goods, and strangers make off with his earnings.
Psa 109:12 'May there be none left faithful enough to show him love, no one take pity on his orphans,
Psa 109:13 the line of his descendants cut off, his name wiped out in one generation.
Psa 109:14 'May Yahweh never forget the crimes of his ancestors, and his mother's sins not be wiped out;
Psa 109:15 may Yahweh keep these constantly in mind, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.'
Psa 109:16 He had no thought of being loyal, but hounded the poor and the needy and the broken-hearted to their death.
Psa 109:17 He had a taste for cursing; let it recoil on him! No taste for blessing; let it never come his way!
Psa 109:18 Cursing has been the uniform he wore; let it soak into him like water, like oil right into his bones.
Psa 109:19 Let it be as a robe which envelops him completely, a sash which he always wears.
Psa 109:20 Let this be the salary Yahweh pays the accusers who blacken my name.
Psa 109:21 Yahweh, treat them as your name demands; as your faithful love is generous, deliver me.
Psa 109:22 Poor and needy as I am, my wounds go right to the heart;
Psa 109:23 I am passing away like a fading shadow, they have shaken me off like a locust.
Psa 109:24 My knees are weak from lack of food, my body lean for lack of fat.
Psa 109:25 I have become the butt of their taunts, they shake their heads at the sight of me.
Psa 109:26 Help me, Yahweh my God, save me as your faithful love demands.
Psa 109:27 Let them know that yours is the saving hand, that this, Yahweh, is your work.
Psa 109:28 Let them curse, provided that you bless; let their attacks bring shame to them and joy to your servant!
Psa 109:29 Let my accusers be clothed in disgrace, enveloped in a cloak of shame.
Psa 109:30 With generous thanks to Yahweh on my lips, I shall praise him before all the people,
Psa 109:31 for he stands at the side of the poor, to save their lives from those who sit in judgement on them.
Psa 110:1 [Of David Psalm] Yahweh declared to my Lord, 'Take your seat at my right hand, till I have made your enemies your footstool.'
Psa 110:2 Yahweh will stretch out the sceptre of your power; from Zion you will rule your foes all around you.
Psa 110:3 Royal dignity has been yours from the day of your birth, sacred honour from the womb, from the dawn of your youth.
Psa 110:4 Yahweh has sworn an oath he will never retract, you are a priest for ever of the order of Melchizedek.
Psa 110:5 At your right hand, Lord, he shatters kings when his anger breaks out.
Psa 110:6 He judges nations, heaping up corpses, he breaks heads over the whole wide world.
Psa 110:7 He drinks from a stream as he goes, and therefore he holds his head high.
Psa 111:1 Alleluia! I give thanks to Yahweh with all my heart, in the meeting-place of honest people, in the assembly.
Psa 111:2 Great are the deeds of Yahweh, to be pondered by all who delight in them.
Psa 111:3 Full of splendour and majesty his work, his saving justice stands firm for ever.
Psa 111:4 He gives us a memorial of his great deeds; Yahweh is mercy and tenderness.
Psa 111:5 He gives food to those who fear him, he keeps his covenant ever in mind.
Psa 111:6 His works show his people his power in giving them the birthright of the nations.
Psa 111:7 The works of his hands are fidelity and justice, all his precepts are trustworthy,
Psa 111:8 established for ever and ever, accomplished in fidelity and honesty.
Psa 111:9 Deliverance he sends to his people, his covenant he imposes for ever; holy and awesome his name.

Psa 111:10 The root of wisdom is fear of Yahweh; those who attain it are wise. His praise will continue for ever.

Psa 112:1 Alleluia! How blessed is anyone who fears Yahweh, who delights in his commandments!

Psa 112:2 His descendants shall be powerful on earth, the race of the honest shall receive blessings:

Psa 112:3 Riches and wealth for his family; his uprightness stands firm for ever.

Psa 112:4 For the honest he shines as a lamp in the dark, generous, tender-hearted, and upright.

Psa 112:5 All goes well for one who lends generously, who is honest in all his dealing;

Psa 112:6 for all time to come he will not stumble, for all time to come the upright will be remembered.

Psa 112:7 Bad news holds no fears for him, firm is his heart, trusting in Yahweh.

Psa 112:8 His heart held steady, he has no fears, till he can gloat over his enemies.

Psa 112:9 To the needy he gives without stint, his uprightness stands firm for ever; his reputation is founded on strength.

Psa 112:10 The wicked are vexed at the sight, they grind their teeth and waste away. The desires of the wicked will be frustrated.

Psa 113:1 Alleluia! Praise, servants of Yahweh, praise the name of Yahweh.

Psa 113:2 Blessed be the name of Yahweh, henceforth and for ever.

Psa 113:3 From the rising of the sun to its setting, praised be the name of Yahweh!

Psa 113:4 Supreme over all nations is Yahweh, supreme over the heavens his glory.

Psa 113:5 Who is like Yahweh our God? His throne is set on high,

Psa 113:6 but he stoops to look down on heaven and earth.

Psa 113:7 He raises the poor from the dust, he lifts the needy from the dunghill,

Psa 113:8 to give them a place among princes, among princes of his people.

Psa 113:9 He lets the barren woman be seated at home, the happy mother of sons.

Psa 114:1 Alleluia! When Israel came out of Egypt, the House of Jacob from a people of foreign speech, Psa 114:2 Judah became his sanctuary, and Israel his domain.

Psa 114:3 The sea fled at the sight, the Jordan turned back,

Psa 114:4 the mountains skipped like rams, the hills like sheep.

Psa 114:5 Sea, what makes you flee? Jordan, why turn back?

Psa 114:6 Why skip like rams, you mountains? Why like sheep, you hills?

Psa 114:7 Tremble, earth, at the coming of the Lord, at the coming of the God of Jacob, Psa 114:8 who turns rock into pool, flint into fountain.

Psa 115:1 Not to us, Yahweh, not to us, but to your name give the glory, for your faithful love and your constancy!

Psa 115:2 Why should the nations ask, 'Where is their God?'

Psa 115:3 Our God is in heaven, he creates whatever he chooses.

Psa 115:4 They have idols of silver and gold, made by human hands.

Psa 115:5 These have mouths but say nothing, have eyes but see nothing,

Psa 115:6 have ears but hear nothing, have noses but smell nothing.

Psa 115:7 They have hands but cannot feel, have feet but cannot walk, no sound comes from their throats.

Psa 115:8 Their makers will end up like them, and all who rely on them.

Psa 115:9 House of Israel, rely on Yahweh; he is their help and their shield.

Psa 115:10 House of Aaron, rely on Yahweh; he is their help and their shield.

Psa 115:11 You who fear Yahweh, rely on Yahweh; he is their help and their shield.

Psa 115:12 Yahweh will keep us in mind, he will bless, he will bless the House of Israel, he will bless the House of Aaron, Psa 115:13 he will bless those who fear Yahweh, small and great alike.

Psa 115:14 May Yahweh add to your numbers, yours and your children's too!

Psa 115:15 May you be blessed by Yahweh, who made heaven and earth.

Psa 115:16 Heaven belongs to Yahweh, but earth he has given to the children of Adam.

Psa 115:17 The dead cannot praise Yahweh, those who sink into silence,

Psa 115:18 but we, the living, shall bless Yahweh, henceforth and for ever.

Psa 116:1 Alleluia! I am filled with love when Yahweh listens to the sound of my prayer, Psa 116:2 when he bends down to hear me, as I call.

Psa 116:3 The bonds of death were all round me, the snares of Sheol held me fast; distress and anguish held me in their grip,

Psa 116:4 I called on the name of Yahweh. Deliver me, Yahweh, I beg you.

Psa 116:5 Yahweh is merciful and upright, our God is tenderness.

Psa 116:6 Yahweh looks after the simple, when I was brought low he gave me strength.

Psa 116:7 My heart, be at peace once again, for Yahweh has treated you generously.

Psa 116:8 He has rescued me from death, my eyes from tears, and my feet from stumbling.

Psa 116:9 I shall pass my life in the presence of Yahweh, in the land of the living.
Psa 116:10 My trust does not fail even when I say, 'I am completely wretched.'
Psa 116:11 In my terror I said, 'No human being can be relied on.'
Psa 116:12 What return can I make to Yahweh for his generosity to me?
Psa 116:13 I shall take up the cup of salvation and call on the name of Yahweh.
Psa 116:14 I shall fulfil my vows to Yahweh, witnessed by all his people.
Psa 116:15 Costly in Yahweh's sight is the death of his faithful.
Psa 116:16 I beg you, Yahweh! I am your servant, I am your servant and my mother was your servant; you have undone my fetters.
Psa 116:17 I shall offer you a sacrifice of thanksgiving and call on the name of Yahweh.
Psa 116:18 I shall fulfil my vows to Yahweh, witnessed by all his people,
Psa 116:19 in the courts of the house of Yahweh, in your very heart, Jerusalem.
Psa 117:1 Alleluia! Praise Yahweh, all nations, extol him, all peoples, Psa 117:2 for his faithful love is strong and his constancy never-ending.
Psa 118:1 Alleluia! Give thanks to Yahweh for he is good, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 118:2 Let the House of Israel say, 'His faithful love endures for ever.'
Psa 118:3 Let the House of Aaron say, 'His faithful love endures for ever.'
Psa 118:4 Let those who fear Yahweh say, 'His faithful love endures for ever.'
Psa 118:5 In my distress I called to Yahweh, he heard me and brought me relief.
Psa 118:6 With Yahweh on my side I fear nothing; what can human beings do to me?
Psa 118:7 With Yahweh on my side as my help, I gloat over my enemies.
Psa 118:8 It is better to take refuge in Yahweh than to rely on human beings;
Psa 118:9 better to take refuge in Yahweh than to rely on princes.
Psa 118:10 Nations were swarming around me, in the name of Yahweh I cut them down;
Psa 118:11 they swarmed around me, pressing upon me, in the name of Yahweh I cut them down.
Psa 118:12 They swarmed around me like bees, they flared up like a brushwood fire, in the name of Yahweh I cut them down.
Psa 118:13 I was pushed hard, to make me fall, but Yahweh came to my help.
Psa 118:14 Yahweh is my strength and my song, he has been my Saviour.
Psa 118:15 Shouts of joy and salvation, in the tents of the upright, 'Yahweh's right hand is triumphant,
Psa 118:16 Yahweh's right hand is victorious, Yahweh's right hand is triumphant!'
Psa 118:17 I shall not die, I shall live to recount the great deeds of Yahweh.
Psa 118:18 Though Yahweh punished me sternly, he has not abandoned me to death.
Psa 118:19 Open for me the gates of saving justice, I shall go in and thank Yahweh.
Psa 118:20 This is the gate of Yahweh, where the upright go in.
Psa 118:21 I thank you for hearing me, and making yourself my Saviour.
Psa 118:22 The stone which the builders rejected has become the cornerstone;
Psa 118:23 This is Yahweh's doing, and we marvel at it.
Psa 118:24 This is the day which Yahweh has made, a day for us to rejoice and be glad.
Psa 118:25 We beg you, Yahweh, save us, we beg you, Yahweh, give us victory!
Psa 118:26 Blessed in the name of Yahweh is he who is coming! We bless you from the house of Yahweh.
Psa 118:27 Yahweh is God, he gives us light. Link your processions, branches in hand, up to the horns of the altar.
Psa 118:28 You are my God, I thank you, all praise to you, my God. I thank you for hearing me, and making yourself my Saviour.
Psa 118:29 Give thanks to Yahweh for he is good, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 119:1 How blessed are those whose way is blameless, who walk in the Law of Yahweh!
Psa 119:2 Blessed are those who observe his instructions, who seek him with all their hearts,
Psa 119:3 and, doing no evil, who walk in his ways.
Psa 119:4 You lay down your precepts to be carefully kept.
Psa 119:5 May my ways be steady in doing your will.
Psa 119:6 Then I shall not be shamed, if my gaze is fixed on your commandments.
Psa 119:7 I thank you with a sincere heart for teaching me your upright judgements.
Psa 119:8 I shall do your will; do not ever abandon me wholly.
Psa 119:9 How can a young man keep his way spotless? By keeping your words.
Psa 119:10 With all my heart I seek you, do not let me stray from your commandments.
Psa 119:11 In my heart I treasure your promises, to avoid sinning against you.
Psa 119:12 Blessed are you, Yahweh, teach me your will!
Psa 119:13 With my lips I have repeated all the judgements you have given.

Psa 119:14 In the way of your instructions lies my joy, a joy beyond all wealth.
Psa 119:15 I will ponder your precepts and fix my gaze on your paths.
Psa 119:16 I find my delight in your will, I do not forget your words.
Psa 119:17 Be generous to your servant and I shall live, and shall keep your words.
Psa 119:18 Open my eyes and I shall fix my gaze on the wonders of your Law.
Psa 119:19 Wayfarer though I am on the earth, do not hide your commandments from me.
Psa 119:20 My heart is pining away with longing at all times for your judgements.
Psa 119:21 You have rebuked the arrogant, the accursed, who stray from your commandments.
Psa 119:22 Set me free from taunts and contempt since I observe your instructions.
Psa 119:23 Though princes sit plotting against me, your servant keeps pondering your will.
Psa 119:24 Your instructions are my delight, your wishes my counsellors.
Psa 119:25 Down in the dust I lie prostrate; true to your word, revive me.
Psa 119:26 I tell you my ways and you answer me; teach me your wishes.
Psa 119:27 Show me the way of your precepts, that I may reflect on your wonders.
Psa 119:28 I am melting away for grief; true to your word, raise me up.
Psa 119:29 Keep me far from the way of deceit, grant me the grace of your Law.
Psa 119:30 I have chosen the way of constancy, I have moulded myself to your judgements.
Psa 119:31 I cling to your instructions, Yahweh, do not disappoint me.
Psa 119:32 I run the way of your commandments, for you have given me freedom of heart.
Psa 119:33 Teach me, Yahweh, the way of your will, and I will observe it.
Psa 119:34 Give me understanding and I will observe your Law, and keep it wholeheartedly.
Psa 119:35 Guide me in the way of your commandments, for my delight is there.
Psa 119:36 Bend my heart to your instructions, not to selfish gain.
Psa 119:37 Avert my eyes from pointless images, by your word give me life.
Psa 119:38 Keep your promise to your servant so that all may hold you in awe.
Psa 119:39 Avert the taunts that I dread, for your judgements are generous.
Psa 119:40 See how I yearn for your precepts; in your saving justice give me life.
Psa 119:41 Let your faithful love come to me, Yahweh, true to your promise, save me!
Psa 119:42 Give me an answer to the taunts against me, since I rely on your word.
Psa 119:43 Do not deprive me of that faithful word, since my hope lies in your judgements.
Psa 119:44 I shall keep your Law without fail for ever and ever.
Psa 119:45 I shall live in all freedom because I have sought your precepts.
Psa 119:46 I shall speak of your instructions before kings and will not be shamed.
Psa 119:47 Your commandments fill me with delight, I love them dearly.
Psa 119:48 I stretch out my hands to your commandments that I love, and I ponder your judgements.
Psa 119:49 Keep in mind your promise to your servant on which I have built my hope.
Psa 119:50 It is my comfort in distress, that your promise gives me life.
Psa 119:51 Endlessly the arrogant have jeered at me, but I have not swerved from your Law.
Psa 119:52 I have kept your age -- old judgements in mind, Yahweh, and I am comforted.
Psa 119:53 Fury grips me when I see the wicked who abandon your Law.
Psa 119:54 Your judgements are my song where I live in exile.
Psa 119:55 All night, Yahweh, I hold your name in mind, I keep your Law.
Psa 119:56 This is what it means to me, observing your precepts.
Psa 119:57 My task, I have said, Yahweh, is to keep your word.
Psa 119:58 Wholeheartedly I entreat your favour; true to your promise, take pity on me!
Psa 119:59 I have reflected on my ways, and I turn my steps to your instructions.
Psa 119:60 I hurry without delay to keep your commandments.
Psa 119:61 Though caught in the snares of the wicked, I do not forget your Law.
Psa 119:62 At midnight I rise to praise you for your upright judgements.
Psa 119:63 I am a friend to all who fear you and keep your precepts.
Psa 119:64 Your faithful love fills the earth, Yahweh, teach me your judgements.
Psa 119:65 You have been generous to your servant, Yahweh, true to your promise.
Psa 119:66 Teach me judgement and knowledge, for I rely on your commandments.
Psa 119:67 Before I was punished I used to go astray, but now I keep to your promise.
Psa 119:68 You are generous and act generously, teach me your will.
Psa 119:69 The arrogant blacken me with lies though I wholeheartedly observe your precepts.
Psa 119:70 Their hearts are gross like rich fat, but my delight is in your Law.
Psa 119:71 It was good for me that I had to suffer, the better to learn your judgements.
Psa 119:72 The Law you have uttered is more precious to me than all the wealth in the world.

Psa 119:73 Your hands have made me and held me firm, give me understanding and I shall learn your commandments.

Psa 119:74 Those who fear you rejoice at the sight of me since I put my hope in your word.

Psa 119:75 I know, Yahweh, that your judgements are upright, and in punishing me you show your constancy.

Psa 119:76 Your faithful love must be my consolation, as you have promised your servant.

Psa 119:77 Treat me with tenderness and I shall live, for your Law is my delight.

Psa 119:78 Let the arrogant who tell lies against me be shamed, while I ponder your precepts.

Psa 119:79 Let those who fear you rally to me, those who understand your instructions.

Psa 119:80 My heart shall be faultless towards your will; then I shall not be ashamed.

Psa 119:81 I shall wear myself out for your salvation, for your word is my hope.

Psa 119:82 My eyes, too, are worn out waiting for your promise, when will you have pity on me?

Psa 119:83 For I am like a smoked wineskin, but I do not forget your will.

Psa 119:84 How long has your servant to live? When will you bring my persecutors to judgement?

Psa 119:85 The arrogant have dug pitfalls for me in defiance of your Law.

Psa 119:86 All your commandments show constancy. Help me when they pursue me dishonestly.

Psa 119:87 They have almost annihilated me on earth, but I have not deserted your precepts.

Psa 119:88 True to your faithful love, give me life, and I shall keep the instructions you have laid down.

Psa 119:89 For ever, Yahweh, your word is planted firm in heaven.

Psa 119:90 Your constancy endures from age to age; you established the earth and it stands firm.

Psa 119:91 Through your judgements all stands firm to this day, for all creation is your servant.

Psa 119:92 Had your Law not been my delight, I would have perished in my misery.

Psa 119:93 I shall never forget your precepts, for by them you have given me life.

Psa 119:94 I am yours, save me, for I seek your precepts.

Psa 119:95 The wicked may hope to destroy me, but all my thought is of your instructions.

Psa 119:96 I have seen that all perfection is finite, but your commandment has no limit.

Psa 119:97 How I love your Law! I ponder it all day long.

Psa 119:98 You make me wiser than my enemies by your commandment which is mine for ever.

Psa 119:99 I am wiser than all my teachers because I ponder your instructions.

Psa 119:100 I have more understanding than the aged because I keep your precepts.

Psa 119:101 I restrain my foot from evil paths to keep your word.

Psa 119:102 I do not turn aside from your judgements, because you yourself have instructed me.

Psa 119:103 How pleasant your promise to my palate, sweeter than honey in my mouth!

Psa 119:104 From your precepts I learn wisdom, so I hate all deceptive ways.

Psa 119:105 Your word is a lamp for my feet, a light on my path.

Psa 119:106 I have sworn -- and shall maintain it -- to keep your upright judgements.

Psa 119:107 I am utterly wretched, Yahweh; true to your promise, give me life.

Psa 119:108 Accept, Yahweh, the tribute from my mouth, and teach me your judgements.

Psa 119:109 My life is in your hands perpetually, I do not forget your Law.

Psa 119:110 The wicked have laid out a snare for me, but I have not strayed from your precepts.

Psa 119:111 Your instructions are my eternal heritage, they are the joy of my heart.

Psa 119:112 I devote myself to obeying your statutes, their recompense is eternal.

Psa 119:113 I hate a divided heart, I love your Law.

Psa 119:114 You are my refuge and shield, I put my hope in your word.

Psa 119:115 Leave me alone, you wicked, I shall observe the commandments of my God.

Psa 119:116 True to your word, support me and I shall live; do not disappoint me of my hope.

Psa 119:117 Uphold me and I shall be saved, my gaze fixed on your will.

Psa 119:118 You shake off all who stray from your will; deceit fills their horizon.

Psa 119:119 In your sight all the wicked of the earth are like rust, so I love your instructions.

Psa 119:120 My whole body trembles before you, your judgements fill me with fear.

Psa 119:121 All my conduct has been just and upright, do not hand me over to my oppressors.

Psa 119:122 Guarantee the well-being of your servant, do not let the proud oppress me.

Psa 119:123 My eyes are languishing for your salvation and for the saving justice you have promised.

Psa 119:124 Show your faithful love to your servant, teach me your judgements.

Psa 119:125 Your servant am I; give me understanding and I shall know your instructions.

Psa 119:126 It is time to take action, Yahweh, your Law is being broken.

Psa 119:127 So I love your commandments more than gold, purest gold.

Psa 119:128 So I rule my life by your precepts, I hate all deceptive paths.

Psa 119:129 Wonderful are your instructions, so I observe them.

Psa 119:130 As your word unfolds it gives light, and even the simple understand.

Psa 119:131 I open wide my mouth, panting eagerly for your commandments.
Psa 119:132 Turn to me, pity me; those who love your name deserve it.
Psa 119:133 Keep my steps firm in your promise; that no evil may triumph over me.
Psa 119:134 Rescue me from human oppression, and I will observe your precepts.
Psa 119:135 Let your face shine on your servant, teach me your will.
Psa 119:136 My eyes stream with tears because your Law is disregarded.
Psa 119:137 You are upright, Yahweh, and your judgements are honest.
Psa 119:138 You impose uprightness as a witness to yourself, it is constancy itself.
Psa 119:139 My zeal is burning me up because my oppressors forget your word.
Psa 119:140 Your promise is well tested, your servant holds it dear.
Psa 119:141 Puny and despised as I am, I do not forget your precepts.
Psa 119:142 Your saving justice is for ever just, and your Law is trustworthy.
Psa 119:143 Though anguish and distress grip me your commandments are my delight.
Psa 119:144 Your instructions are upright for ever, give me understanding and I shall live.
Psa 119:145 I call with all my heart; answer me, Yahweh, and I will observe your judgements.
Psa 119:146 I call to you; save me, and I will keep your instructions.
Psa 119:147 I am awake before dawn to cry for help, I put my hope in your word.
Psa 119:148 My eyes are awake before each watch of the night, to ponder your promise.
Psa 119:149 In your faithful love, Yahweh, listen to my voice, let your judgements give me life.
Psa 119:150 My pursuers are coming closer to their wicked designs, and further from your Law.
Psa 119:151 You are close to me, Yahweh, and all your commandments are true.
Psa 119:152 Long have I known that your instructions were laid down to last for ever.
Psa 119:153 Look at my suffering and rescue me, for I do not forget your Law.
Psa 119:154 Plead my cause and defend me; as you promised, give me life.
Psa 119:155 Salvation is far from the wicked, for they do not seek your will.
Psa 119:156 Your kindnesses to me are countless, Yahweh; true to your judgements, give me life.
Psa 119:157 Though my enemies and oppressors are countless, I do not turn aside from your instructions.
Psa 119:158 The sight of these renegades appals me; they do not observe your promise.
Psa 119:159 See how I love your precepts; true to your faithful love, give me life.
Psa 119:160 Faithfulness is the essence of your word, your upright judgements hold good for ever.
Psa 119:161 Though princes hound me unprovoked, what fills me with awe is your word.
Psa 119:162 I rejoice in your promise like one who finds a vast treasure.
Psa 119:163 Falsehood I hate and detest, my love is for your Law.
Psa 119:164 Seven times a day I praise you for your upright judgements.
Psa 119:165 Great peace for those who love your Law; no stumbling-blocks for them!
Psa 119:166 I am waiting for your salvation, Yahweh, I fulfil your commandments.
Psa 119:167 I observe your instructions, I love them dearly.
Psa 119:168 I observe your precepts, your judgements, for all my ways are before you.
Psa 119:169 May my cry approach your presence, Yahweh; by your word give me understanding.
Psa 119:170 May my prayer come into your presence, rescue me as you have promised.
Psa 119:171 May my lips proclaim your praise, for you teach me your will.
Psa 119:172 May my tongue recite your promise, for all your commandments are upright.
Psa 119:173 May your hand be there to help me, since I have chosen your precepts.
Psa 119:174 I long for your salvation, Yahweh, your Law is my delight.
Psa 119:175 May I live only to praise you, may your judgements be my help.
Psa 119:176 I am wandering like a lost sheep, come and look for your servant, for I have not forgotten your commandments.
Psa 120:1 [Song of Ascents] { The Songs of Ascents (Pss 120-134) were sung by pilgrims on their way up to Jerusalem.} To Yahweh when I am in trouble I call and he answers me.
Psa 120:2 Yahweh, save me from lying lips and a treacherous tongue!
Psa 120:3 What will he repay you, what more, treacherous tongue?
Psa 120:4 War-arrows made sharp over red-hot charcoal.
Psa 120:5 How wretched I am, living in Meshech, dwelling in the tents of Kedar!
Psa 120:6 Too long have I lived among people who hate peace.
Psa 120:7 When I speak of peace they are all for war!
Psa 121:1 [Song of Ascents] I lift up my eyes to the mountains; where is my help to come from?
Psa 121:2 My help comes from Yahweh who made heaven and earth.
Psa 121:3 May he save your foot from stumbling; may he, your guardian, not fall asleep!
Psa 121:4 You see -- he neither sleeps nor slumbers, the guardian of Israel.

Psa 121:5 Yahweh is your guardian, your shade, Yahweh, at your right hand.
Psa 121:6 By day the sun will not strike you, nor the moon by night.
Psa 121:7 Yahweh guards you from all harm Yahweh guards your life,
Psa 121:8 Yahweh guards your comings and goings, henceforth and for ever.
Psa 122:1 [Song of Ascents Of David] I rejoiced that they said to me, 'Let us go to the house of Yahweh.'
Psa 122:2 At last our feet are standing at your gates, Jerusalem!
Psa 122:3 Jerusalem, built as a city, in one united whole,
Psa 122:4 there the tribes go up, the tribes of Yahweh, a sign for Israel to give thanks to the name of Yahweh.
Psa 122:5 For there are set the thrones of judgement, the thrones of the house of David.
Psa 122:6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem, prosperity for your homes!
Psa 122:7 Peace within your walls, prosperity in your palaces!
Psa 122:8 For love of my brothers and my friends I will say, 'Peace upon you!'
Psa 122:9 For love of the house of Yahweh our God I will pray for your well-being.
Psa 123:1 [Song of Ascents] I lift up my eyes to you who are enthroned in heaven.
Psa 123:2 Just as the eyes of slaves are on their masters' hand, or the eyes of a slave-girl on the hand of her mistress, so our eyes are on Yahweh our God, for him to take pity on us.
Psa 123:3 Have pity on us, Yahweh, have pity, for we have had our full share of scorn,
Psa 123:4 more than our share of jeers from the complacent. (Scorn is for the proud.)
Psa 124:1 [Song of Ascents Of David] If Yahweh had not been on our side -- let Israel repeat it-
Psa 124:2 if Yahweh had not been on our side when people attacked us,
Psa 124:3 they would have swallowed us alive in the heat of their anger.
Psa 124:4 Then water was washing us away, a torrent running right over us;
Psa 124:5 running right over us then were turbulent waters.
Psa 124:6 Blessed be Yahweh for not letting us fall a prey to their teeth!
Psa 124:7 We escaped like a bird from the fowlers' net. The net was broken and we escaped;
Psa 124:8 our help is in the name of Yahweh, who made heaven and earth.
Psa 125:1 [Song of Ascents] Whoever trusts in Yahweh is like Mount Zion: unshakeable, it stands for ever.
Psa 125:2 Jerusalem! The mountains encircle her: so Yahweh encircles his people, henceforth and for ever.
Psa 125:3 The sceptre of the wicked will not come to rest over the heritage of the upright; or the upright might set their own hands to evil.
Psa 125:4 Do good, Yahweh, to those who are good, to the sincere at heart.
Psa 125:5 But the crooked, the twisted, turn them away, Yahweh, with evil-doers. Peace to Israel!
Psa 126:1 [Song of Ascents] When Yahweh brought back Zion's captives we lived in a dream;
Psa 126:2 then our mouths filled with laughter, and our lips with song. Then the nations kept saying, 'What great deeds Yahweh has done for them!'
Psa 126:3 Yes, Yahweh did great deeds for us, and we were overjoyed.
Psa 126:4 Bring back, Yahweh, our people from captivity like torrents in the Negeb!
Psa 126:5 Those who sow in tears sing as they reap.
Psa 126:6 He went off, went off weeping, carrying the seed. He comes back, comes back singing, bringing in his sheaves.
Psa 127:1 [Song of Ascents Of Solomon] If Yahweh does not build a house in vain do its builders toil. If Yahweh does not guard a city in vain does its guard keep watch.
Psa 127:2 In vain you get up earlier, and put off going to bed, sweating to make a living, since it is he who provides for his beloved as they sleep.
Psa 127:3 Sons are a birthright from Yahweh, children are a reward from him.
Psa 127:4 Like arrows in a warrior's hand are the sons you father when young.
Psa 127:5 How blessed is the man who has filled his quiver with them; in dispute with his enemies at the city gate he will not be worsted.
Psa 128:1 [Song of Ascents] How blessed are all who fear Yahweh, who walk in his ways!
Psa 128:2 Your own labours will yield you a living, happy and prosperous will you be.
Psa 128:3 Your wife a fruitful vine in the inner places of your house. Your children round your table like shoots of an olive tree.
Psa 128:4 Such are the blessings that fall on those who fear Yahweh.
Psa 128:5 May Yahweh bless you from Zion! May you see Jerusalem prosper all the days of your life,
Psa 128:6 and live to see your children's children! Peace to Israel!
Psa 129:1 [Song of Ascents] Often as men have attacked me since I was young -- let Israel repeat it-
Psa 129:2 often as men have attacked me since I was young, they have never overcome me.
Psa 129:3 On my back ploughmen have set to work, making long furrows,
Psa 129:4 but Yahweh the upright has shattered the yoke of the wicked.

Psa 129:5 Let all who hate Zion be thrown back in confusion,
Psa 129:6 let them be like grass on a roof, dried up before it is cut,
Psa 129:7 never to fill the reaper's arm nor the binder's lap.
Psa 129:8 And no passer-by will say, 'The blessing of Yahweh be on you! 'We bless you in the name of Yahweh.'

Psa 130:1 [Song of Ascents] From the depths I call to you, Yahweh:
Psa 130:2 Lord, hear my cry. Listen attentively to the sound of my pleading!
Psa 130:3 If you kept a record of our sins, Lord, who could stand their ground?
Psa 130:4 But with you is forgiveness, that you may be revered.
Psa 130:5 I rely, my whole being relies, Yahweh, on your promise.
Psa 130:6 My whole being hopes in the Lord, more than watchmen for daybreak; more than watchmen for daybreak
Psa 130:7 let Israel hope in Yahweh. For with Yahweh is faithful love, with him generous ransom;
Psa 130:8 and he will ransom Israel from all its sins.
Psa 131:1 [Song of Ascents] Yahweh, my heart is not haughty, I do not set my sights too high. I have taken no part in great affairs, in wonders beyond my scope.
Psa 131:2 No, I hold myself in quiet and silence, like a little child in its mother's arms, like a little child, so I keep myself.
Psa 131:3 Let Israel hope in Yahweh henceforth and for ever.
Psa 132:1 [Song of Ascents] Yahweh, remember David and all the hardships he endured,
Psa 132:2 the oath he swore to Yahweh, his vow to the Mighty One of Jacob:
Psa 132:3 'I will not enter tent or house, will not climb into bed,
Psa 132:4 will not allow myself to sleep, not even to close my eyes,
Psa 132:5 till I have found a place for Yahweh, a dwelling for the Mighty One of Jacob!'
Psa 132:6 Listen, we heard of it in Ephrathah, we found it at Forest-Fields.
Psa 132:7 Let us go into his dwelling-place, and worship at his footstool.
Psa 132:8 Go up, Yahweh, to your resting-place, you and the ark of your strength.
Psa 132:9 Your priests are robed in saving justice, your faithful are shouting for joy.
Psa 132:10 For the sake of your servant David, do not reject your anointed.
Psa 132:11 Yahweh has sworn to David, and will always remain true to his word, 'I promise that I will set a son of yours upon your throne.
Psa 132:12 If your sons observe my covenant and the instructions I have taught them, their sons too for evermore will occupy your throne.'

Psa 132:13 For Yahweh has chosen Zion, he has desired it as a home.
Psa 132:14 'Here shall I rest for evermore, here shall I make my home as I have wished.
Psa 132:15 'I shall generously bless her produce, give her needy their fill of food,
Psa 132:16 I shall clothe her priests with salvation, and her faithful will sing aloud for joy.
Psa 132:17 'There I shall raise up a line of descendants for David, light a lamp for my anointed;
Psa 132:18 I shall clothe his enemies with shame, while his own crown shall flourish.'

Psa 133:1 [Song of Ascents] How good, how delightful it is to live as brothers all together!
Psa 133:2 It is like a fine oil on the head, running down the beard, running down Aaron's beard, onto the collar of his robes.
Psa 133:3 It is like the dew of Hermon falling on the heights of Zion; for there Yahweh bestows his blessing, everlasting life.

Psa 134:1 [Song of Ascents] Come, bless Yahweh, all you who serve Yahweh, serving in the house of Yahweh, in the courts of the house of our God. Through the night watches
Psa 134:2 stretch out your hands towards the sanctuary and bless Yahweh.
Psa 134:3 May Yahweh bless you from Zion, he who made heaven and earth!
Psa 135:1 Alleluia! Praise the name of Yahweh, you who serve Yahweh, praise him,
Psa 135:2 serving in the house of Yahweh, in the courts of the house of our God.
Psa 135:3 Praise Yahweh, for Yahweh is good, make music for his name -- it brings joy-
Psa 135:4 for Yahweh has chosen Jacob for himself, Israel as his own possession.
Psa 135:5 For I know that Yahweh is great, our Lord is above all gods.
Psa 135:6 Yahweh does whatever he pleases in heaven, on earth, in the waters and all the depths.
Psa 135:7 He summons up clouds from the borders of earth, sends rain with lightning-flashes, and brings the wind out of his storehouse.
Psa 135:8 He struck the first-born in Egypt, man and beast alike,
Psa 135:9 he sent signs and wonders into the heart of Egypt, against Pharaoh and all his officials.
Psa 135:10 He struck down many nations, he slaughtered mighty kings,

Psa 135:11 Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan.
Psa 135:12 He gave their land as a birthright, a birthright to his people Israel.
Psa 135:13 Yahweh, your name endures for ever, Yahweh, your memory is fresh from age to age.
Psa 135:14 For Yahweh vindicates his people, feels compassion for his servants.
Psa 135:15 The idols of the nations are silver and gold, made by human hands.
Psa 135:16 These have mouths but say nothing, have eyes but see nothing,
Psa 135:17 have ears but hear nothing, and they have no breath in their mouths.
Psa 135:18 Their makers will end up like them, everyone who relies on them.
Psa 135:19 House of Israel, bless Yahweh, House of Aaron, bless Yahweh,
Psa 135:20 House of Levi, bless Yahweh, you who fear Yahweh, bless Yahweh.
Psa 135:21 Blessed be Yahweh from Zion, he who dwells in Jerusalem!
Psa 136:1 Alleluia! Give thanks to Yahweh for he is good, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:2 Give thanks to the God of gods, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:3 Give thanks to the Lord of lords, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:4 He alone works wonders, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:5 In wisdom he made the heavens, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:6 He set the earth firm on the waters, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:7 He made the great lights, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:8 The sun to rule the day, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:9 Moon and stars to rule the night, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:10 He struck down the first-born of Egypt, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:11 He brought Israel out from among them, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:12 With mighty hand and outstretched arm, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:13 He split the Sea of Reeds in two, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:14 Let Israel pass through the middle, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:15 And drowned Pharaoh and all his army, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:16 He led his people through the desert, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:17 He struck down mighty kings, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:18 Slaughtered famous kings, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:19 Sihon king of the Amorites, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:20 And Og king of Bashan, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:21 He gave their land as a birthright, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:22 A birthright to his servant Israel, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:23 He kept us in mind when we were humbled, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:24 And rescued us from our enemies, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:25 He provides food for all living creatures, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 136:26 Give thanks to the God of heaven, for his faithful love endures for ever.
Psa 137:1 By the rivers of Babylon we sat and wept at the memory of Zion.
Psa 137:2 On the poplars there we had hung up our harps.
Psa 137:3 For there our gaolers had asked us to sing them a song, our captors to make merry, 'Sing us one of the songs of Zion.'
Psa 137:4 How could we sing a song of Yahweh on alien soil?
Psa 137:5 If I forget you, Jerusalem, may my right hand wither!
Psa 137:6 May my tongue remain stuck to my palate if I do not keep you in mind, if I do not count Jerusalem the greatest of my joys.
Psa 137:7 Remember, Yahweh, to the Edomites' cost, the day of Jerusalem, how they said, 'Down with it! Rase it to the ground!'
Psa 137:8 Daughter of Babel, doomed to destruction, a blessing on anyone who treats you as you treated us,
Psa 137:9 a blessing on anyone who seizes your babies and shatters them against a rock!
Psa 138:1 [Of David] I thank you, Yahweh, with all my heart, for you have listened to the cry I uttered. In the presence of angels I sing to you,
Psa 138:2 I bow down before your holy Temple. I praise your name for your faithful love and your constancy; your promises surpass even your fame.
Psa 138:3 You heard me on the day when I called, and you gave new strength to my heart.
Psa 138:4 All the kings of the earth give thanks to you, Yahweh, when they hear the promises you make;
Psa 138:5 they sing of Yahweh's ways, 'Great is the glory of Yahweh!'
Psa 138:6 Sublime as he is, Yahweh looks on the humble, the proud he picks out from afar.
Psa 138:7 Though I live surrounded by trouble you give me life -- to my enemies' fury! You stretch out your right hand and save me, Psa 138:8 Yahweh will do all things for me. Yahweh, your faithful love endures for ever, do not abandon what you have made.

Psa 139:1 [For the choirmaster Of David Psalm] Yahweh, you examine me and know me,

Psa 139:2 you know when I sit, when I rise, you understand my thoughts from afar.

Psa 139:3 You watch when I walk or lie down, you know every detail of my conduct.

Psa 139:4 A word is not yet on my tongue before you, Yahweh, know all about it.

Psa 139:5 You fence me in, behind and in front, you have laid your hand upon me.

Psa 139:6 Such amazing knowledge is beyond me, a height to which I cannot attain.

Psa 139:7 Where shall I go to escape your spirit? Where shall I flee from your presence?

Psa 139:8 If I scale the heavens you are there, if I lie flat in Sheol, there you are.

Psa 139:9 If I speed away on the wings of the dawn, if I dwell beyond the ocean,

Psa 139:10 even there your hand will be guiding me, your right hand holding me fast.

Psa 139:11 I will say, 'Let the darkness cover me, and the night wrap itself around me,'

Psa 139:12 even darkness to you is not dark, and night is as clear as the day.

Psa 139:13 You created my inmost self, knit me together in my mother's womb.

Psa 139:14 For so many marvels I thank you; a wonder am I, and all your works are wonders. You knew me through and through,

Psa 139:15 my being held no secrets from you, when I was being formed in secret, textured in the depths of the earth.

Psa 139:16 Your eyes could see my embryo. In your book all my days were inscribed, every one that was fixed is there.

Psa 139:17 How hard for me to grasp your thoughts, how many, God, there are!

Psa 139:18 If I count them, they are more than the grains of sand; if I come to an end, I am still with you.

Psa 139:19 If only, God, you would kill the wicked!-Men of violence, keep away from me!-

Psa 139:20 those who speak blasphemously about you, and take no account of your thoughts.

Psa 139:21 Yahweh, do I not hate those who hate you, and loathe those who defy you?

Psa 139:22 My hate for them has no limits, I regard them as my own enemies.

Psa 139:23 God, examine me and know my heart, test me and know my concerns.

Psa 139:24 Make sure that I am not on my way to ruin, and guide me on the road of eternity.

Psa 140:1 [For the choirmaster Psalm Of David] Rescue me, Yahweh, from evil men, protect me from violent men,

Psa 140:2 whose heart is bent on malice, day after day they harbour strife;

Psa 140:3 their tongues as barbed as a serpent's, viper's venom behind their lips.Pause

Psa 140:4 Keep me, Yahweh, from the clutches of the wicked, protect me from violent men, who are bent on making me stumble, laying out snares where I walk,

Psa 140:5 in their arrogance hiding pitfall and noose to trap me as I pass.Pause

Psa 140:6 I said to Yahweh, 'You are my God.' Listen, Yahweh, to the sound of my prayer.

Psa 140:7 Yahweh my Lord, my saving strength, you shield my head when battle comes.

Psa 140:8 Yahweh, do not grant the wicked their wishes, do not let their plots succeed.Pause Do not let my attackers

Psa 140:9 prevail, but let them be overwhelmed by their own malice.

Psa 140:10 May red-hot embers rain down on them, may they be flung into the mire once and for all.

Psa 140:11 May the slanderer find no rest anywhere, may evil hunt down violent men implacably.

Psa 140:12 I know that Yahweh will give judgement for the wretched, justice for the needy.

Psa 140:13 The upright shall praise your name, the honest dwell in your presence.

Psa 141:1 [Psalm Of David] Yahweh, I am calling, hurry to me, listen to my voice when I call to you.

Psa 141:2 May my prayer be like incense in your presence, my uplifted hands like the evening sacrifice.

Psa 141:3 Yahweh, mount a guard over my mouth, a guard at the door of my lips.

Psa 141:4 Check any impulse to speak evil, to share the foul deeds of evil-doers. I shall not sample their delights!

Psa 141:5 May the upright correct me with a friend's rebuke; but the wicked shall never anoint my head with oil, for that would make me party to their crimes.

Psa 141:6 They are delivered into the power of the rock, their judge, those who took pleasure in hearing me say,

Psa 141:7 'Like a shattered millstone on the ground our bones are scattered at the mouth of Sheol.'

Psa 141:8 To you, Yahweh, I turn my eyes, in you I take refuge, do not leave me unprotected.

Psa 141:9 Save me from the traps that are set for me, the snares of evil-doers.

Psa 141:10 Let the wicked fall each into his own net, while I pass on my way.

Psa 142:1 [Psalm Of David When he was in the cave Prayer] To Yahweh I cry out with my plea. To Yahweh I cry out with entreaty.

Psa 142:2 I pour out my worry in his presence, in his presence I unfold my troubles.

Psa 142:3 However faint my spirit; you are watching over my path. On the road I have to travel they have hidden a trap for me.

Psa 142:4 Look on my right and see -- there is no one who recognises me. All refuge is denied me, no one cares whether I live or die.

Psa 142:5 I cry out to you, Yahweh, I affirm, 'You are my refuge, my share in the land of the living!'

Psa 142:6 Listen to my calling, for I am miserably weak. Rescue me from my persecutors, for they are too strong for me.

Psa 142:7 Lead me out of prison that I may praise your name. The upright gather round me because of your generosity to me.

Psa 143:1 [Psalm Of David] Yahweh, hear my prayer, listen to my pleading; in your constancy answer me, in your saving justice;

Psa 143:2 do not put your servant on trial, for no one living can be found guiltless at your tribunal.

Psa 143:3 An enemy is in deadly pursuit, crushing me into the ground, forcing me to live in darkness, like those long dead.

Psa 143:4 My spirit is faint, and within me my heart is numb with fear.

Psa 143:5 I recall the days of old, reflecting on all your deeds, I ponder the works of your hands.

Psa 143:6 I stretch out my hands to you, my heart like a land thirsty for you.Pause

Psa 143:7 Answer me quickly, Yahweh, my spirit is worn out; do not turn away your face from me, or I shall be like those who sink into oblivion.

Psa 143:8 Let dawn bring news of your faithful love, for I place my trust in you; show me the road I must travel for you to relieve my heart.

Psa 143:9 Rescue me from my enemies, Yahweh, since in you I find protection.

Psa 143:10 Teach me to do your will, for you are my God. May your generous spirit lead me on even ground.

Psa 143:11 Yahweh, for the sake of your name, in your saving justice give me life, rescue me from distress.

Psa 143:12 In your faithful love annihilate my enemies, destroy all those who oppress me, for I am your servant.

Psa 144:1 [Of David] Blessed be Yahweh, my rock, who trains my hands for war and my fingers for battle,

Psa 144:2 my faithful love, my bastion, my citadel, my Saviour; I shelter behind him, my shield, he makes the peoples submit to me.

Psa 144:3 Yahweh, what is a human being for you to notice, a child of Adam for you to think about?

Psa 144:4 Human life, a mere puff of wind, days as fleeting as a shadow.

Psa 144:5 Yahweh, part the heavens and come down, touch the mountains, make them smoke.

Psa 144:6 Scatter them with continuous lightning-flashes, rout them with a volley of your arrows.

Psa 144:7 Stretch down your hand from above, save me, rescue me from deep waters, from the clutches of foreigners,

Psa 144:8 whose every word is worthless, whose right hand is raised in perjury.

Psa 144:9 God, I sing to you a new song, I play to you on the ten-stringed lyre,

Psa 144:10 for you give kings their victories, you rescue your servant David. From the sword of evil

Psa 144:11 save me, rescue me from the clutches of foreigners whose every word is worthless, whose right hand testifies to falsehood.

Psa 144:12 May our sons be like plants growing tall from their earliest days, our daughters like pillars carved fit for a palace,

Psa 144:13 our barns filled to overflowing with every kind of crop, the sheep in our pastures be numbered in thousands and tens of thousands,

Psa 144:14 our cattle well fed, free of raids and pillage, free of outcry in our streets.

Psa 144:15 How blessed the nation of whom this is true, blessed the nation whose God is Yahweh!

Psa 145:1 [Hymn of Praise Of David] I shall praise you to the heights, God my King, I shall bless your name for ever and ever.

Psa 145:2 Day after day I shall bless you, I shall praise your name for ever and ever.

Psa 145:3 Great is Yahweh and worthy of all praise, his greatness beyond all reckoning.

Psa 145:4 Each age will praise your deeds to the next, proclaiming your mighty works.

Psa 145:5 Your renown is the splendour of your glory, I will ponder the story of your wonders.

Psa 145:6 They will speak of your awesome power, and I shall recount your greatness.

Psa 145:7 They will bring out the memory of your great generosity, and joyfully acclaim your saving justice.

Psa 145:8 Yahweh is tenderness and pity, slow to anger, full of faithful love.

Psa 145:9 Yahweh is generous to all, his tenderness embraces all his creatures.

Psa 145:10 All your creatures shall thank you, Yahweh, and your faithful shall bless you.

Psa 145:11 They shall speak of the glory of your kingship and tell of your might,

Psa 145:12 making known your mighty deeds to the children of Adam, the glory and majesty of your kingship.
Psa 145:13 Your kingship is a kingship for ever, your reign lasts from age to age. Yahweh is trustworthy in all his words, and upright in all his deeds.
Psa 145:14 Yahweh supports all who stumble, lifts up those who are bowed down.
Psa 145:15 All look to you in hope and you feed them with the food of the season.
Psa 145:16 And, with generous hand, you satisfy the desires of every living creature.
Psa 145:17 Upright in all that he does, Yahweh acts only in faithful love.
Psa 145:18 He is close to all who call upon him, all who call on him from the heart.
Psa 145:19 He fulfils the desires of all who fear him, he hears their cry and he saves them.
Psa 145:20 Yahweh guards all who love him, but all the wicked he destroys.
Psa 145:21 My mouth shall always praise Yahweh, let every creature bless his holy name for ever and ever.
Psa 146:1 Alleluia! Praise Yahweh, my soul!
Psa 146:2 I will praise Yahweh all my life, I will make music to my God as long as I live.
Psa 146:3 Do not put your trust in princes, in any child of Adam, who has no power to save.
Psa 146:4 When his spirit goes forth he returns to the earth, on that very day all his plans come to nothing.
Psa 146:5 How blessed is he who has Jacob's God to help him, his hope is in Yahweh his God,
Psa 146:6 who made heaven and earth, the sea and all that is in them. He keeps faith for ever,
Psa 146:7 gives justice to the oppressed, gives food to the hungry; Yahweh sets prisoners free.
Psa 146:8 Yahweh gives sight to the blind, lifts up those who are bowed down.
Psa 146:9 Yahweh protects the stranger, he sustains the orphan and the widow. Yahweh loves the upright, but he frustrates the wicked.
Psa 146:10 Yahweh reigns for ever, your God, Zion, from age to age.
Psa 147:1 Alleluia! Praise Yahweh -- it is good to sing psalms to our God -- how pleasant to praise him.
Psa 147:2 Yahweh, Builder of Jerusalem! He gathers together the exiles of Israel,
Psa 147:3 healing the broken-hearted and binding up their wounds;
Psa 147:4 he counts out the number of the stars, and gives each one of them a name.
Psa 147:5 Our Lord is great, all-powerful, his wisdom beyond all telling.
Psa 147:6 Yahweh sustains the poor, and humbles the wicked to the ground.
Psa 147:7 Sing to Yahweh in thanksgiving, play the harp for our God.
Psa 147:8 He veils the sky with clouds, and provides the earth with rain, makes grass grow on the hills and plants for people to use,
Psa 147:9 gives fodder to cattle and to young ravens when they cry.
Psa 147:10 He takes no delight in the power of horses, no pleasure in human sturdiness;
Psa 147:11 his pleasure is in those who fear him, in those who hope in his faithful love.
Psa 147:12 Praise Yahweh, Jerusalem, Zion, praise your God.
Psa 147:13 For he gives strength to the bars of your gates, he blesses your children within you,
Psa 147:14 he maintains the peace of your frontiers, gives you your fill of finest wheat.
Psa 147:15 He sends his word to the earth, his command runs quickly,
Psa 147:16 he spreads the snow like flax, strews hoarfrost like ashes,
Psa 147:17 he sends ice-crystals like breadcrumbs, and who can withstand that cold?
Psa 147:18 When he sends his word it thaws them, when he makes his wind blow, the waters are unstopped.
Psa 147:19 He reveals his word to Jacob, his statutes and judgements to Israel.
Psa 147:20 For no other nation has he done this, no other has known his judgements.
Psa 148:1 Alleluia! Praise Yahweh from the heavens, praise him in the heights.
Psa 148:2 Praise him, all his angels, praise him, all his host!
Psa 148:3 Praise him, sun and moon, praise him, all shining stars,
Psa 148:4 praise him, highest heavens, praise him, waters above the heavens.
Psa 148:5 Let them praise the name of Yahweh at whose command they were made;
Psa 148:6 he established them for ever and ever by an unchanging decree.
Psa 148:7 Praise Yahweh from the earth, sea-monsters and all the depths,
Psa 148:8 fire and hail, snow and mist, storm-winds that obey his word,
Psa 148:9 mountains and every hill, orchards and every cedar,
Psa 148:10 wild animals and all cattle, reptiles and winged birds,
Psa 148:11 kings of the earth and all nations, princes and all judges on earth,
Psa 148:12 young men and girls, old people and children together.
Psa 148:13 Let them praise the name of Yahweh, for his name alone is sublime, his splendour transcends earth and heaven.
Psa 148:14 For he heightens the strength of his people, to the praise of all his faithful, the children of Israel, the people close to him.

Psa 149:1 Alleluia! Sing a new song to Yahweh: his praise in the assembly of the faithful!

Psa 149:2 Israel shall rejoice in its Maker, the children of Zion delight in their king;

Psa 149:3 they shall dance in praise of his name, play to him on tambourines and harp!

Psa 149:4 For Yahweh loves his people, he will crown the humble with salvation.

Psa 149:5 The faithful exult in glory, shout for joy as they worship him,

Psa 149:6 praising God to the heights with their voices, a two-edged sword in their hands,

Psa 149:7 to wreak vengeance on the nations, punishment on the peoples,

Psa 149:8 to load their kings with chains and their nobles with iron fetters,

Psa 149:9 to execute on them the judgement passed -- to the honour of all his faithful.

Psa 150:1 Alleluia! Praise God in his holy place, praise him in the heavenly vault of his power, Psa 150:2 praise him for his mighty deeds, praise him for all his greatness.

Psa 150:3 Praise him with fanfare of trumpet, praise him with harp and lyre,

Psa 150:4 praise him with tambourines and dancing, praise him with strings and pipes,

Psa 150:5 praise him with the clamour of cymbals, praise him with triumphant cymbals,

Psa 150:6 Let everything that breathes praise Yahweh. Alleluia!

Pro 1:1 The proverbs of Solomon son of David, king of Israel:

Pro 1:2 for learning what wisdom and discipline are, for understanding words of deep meaning,

Pro 1:3 for acquiring a disciplined insight, uprightness, justice and fair dealing;

Pro 1:4 for teaching sound judgement to the simple, and knowledge and reflection to the young;

Pro 1:5 Let the wise listen and learn yet more, and a person of discernment will acquire the art of guidance.

Pro 1:6 for perceiving the meaning of proverbs and obscure sayings, the sayings of the sages and their riddles.

Pro 1:7 The fear of Yahweh is the beginning of knowledge; fools spurn wisdom and discipline.

Pro 1:8 Listen, my child, to your father's instruction, do not reject your mother's teaching:

Pro 1:9 they will be a crown of grace for your head, a circlet for your neck.

Pro 1:10 My child, if sinners try to seduce you, do not go with them.

Pro 1:11 If they say, 'Come with us: let us lie in ambush to shed blood; if we plan an ambush for the innocent without provocation,

Pro 1:12 we can swallow them alive, like Sheol, and whole, like those who sink into oblivion.

Pro 1:13 We shall find treasures of every sort, we shall fill our houses with plunder;

Pro 1:14 throw in your lot with us: one purse between us all.'

Pro 1:15 My child, do not follow them in their way, keep your steps out of their path

Pro 1:16 for their feet hasten to evil, they are quick to shed blood;

Pro 1:17 for the net is spread in vain if any winged creature can see it.

Pro 1:18 It is for their own blood such people lie in wait, their ambush is against their own selves!

Pro 1:19 Such are the paths of all who seek dishonest gain: which robs of their lives all who take it for their own.

Pro 1:20 Wisdom calls aloud in the streets, she raises her voice in the public squares;

Pro 1:21 she calls out at the street corners, she delivers her message at the city gates.

Pro 1:22 'You simple people, how much longer will you cling to your simple ways? How much longer will mockers revel in their mocking and fools go on hating knowledge?

Pro 1:23 Pay attention to my warning. To you I will pour out my heart and tell you what I have to say.

Pro 1:24 Since I have called and you have refused me, since I have beckoned and no one has taken notice,

Pro 1:25 since you have ignored all my advice and rejected all my warnings,

Pro 1:26 I, for my part, shall laugh at your distress, I shall jeer when terror befalls you,

Pro 1:27 when terror befalls you, like a storm, when your distress arrives, like a whirlwind, when ordeal and anguish bear down on you.

Pro 1:28 Then they will call me, but I shall not answer, they will look eagerly for me and will not find me.

Pro 1:29 They have hated knowledge, they have not chosen the fear of Yahweh,

Pro 1:30 they have taken no notice of my advice, they have spurned all my warnings:

Pro 1:31 so they will have to eat the fruits of their own ways of life, and choke themselves with their own scheming.

Pro 1:32 For the errors of the simple lead to their death, the complacency of fools works their own ruin;

Pro 1:33 but whoever listens to me may live secure, will have quiet, fearing no mischance.'

Pro 2:1 My child, if you take my words to heart, if you set store by my commandments,

Pro 2:2 tuning your ear to wisdom, tuning your heart to understanding,

Pro 2:3 yes, if your plea is for clear perception, if you cry out for understanding,

Pro 2:4 if you look for it as though for silver, search for it as though for buried treasure,

Pro 2:5 then you will understand what the fear of Yahweh is, and discover the knowledge of God.

Pro 2:6 For Yahweh himself is giver of wisdom, from his mouth issue knowledge and understanding.

Pro 2:7 He reserves his advice for the honest, a shield to those whose ways are sound;

Pro 2:8 he stands guard over the paths of equity, he keeps watch over the way of those faithful to him.
Pro 2:9 Then you will understand uprightness, equity and fair dealing, the paths that lead to happiness.
Pro 2:10 When wisdom comes into your heart and knowledge fills your soul with delight,
Pro 2:11 then prudence will be there to watch over you, and understanding will be your guardian
Pro 2:12 to keep you from the way that is evil, from those whose speech is deceitful,
Pro 2:13 from those who leave the paths of honesty to walk the roads of darkness:
Pro 2:14 those who find their joy in doing wrong, and their delight in deceitfulness,
Pro 2:15 whose tracks are twisted, and the paths that they tread crooked.
Pro 2:16 To keep you, too, from the woman who belongs to another, from the stranger, with her wheedling words;
Pro 2:17 she has left the partner of her younger days, she has forgotten the covenant of her God;
Pro 2:18 her house is tilting towards Death, down to the Shades go her paths.
Pro 2:19 Of those who go to her not one returns, they never regain the paths of life.
Pro 2:20 Thus you will tread the way of good people, persisting in the paths of the upright.
Pro 2:21 For the land will be for the honest to live in, the innocent will have it for their home;
Pro 2:22 while the wicked will be cut off from the land, and the faithless rooted out of it.
Pro 3:1 My child, do not forget my teaching, let your heart keep my principles,
Pro 3:2 since they will increase your length of days, your years of life and your well-being.
Pro 3:3 Let faithful love and constancy never leave you: tie them round your neck, write them on the tablet of your heart.
Pro 3:4 Thus you will find favour and success in the sight of God and of people.
Pro 3:5 Trust wholeheartedly in Yahweh, put no faith in your own perception;
Pro 3:6 acknowledge him in every course you take, and he will see that your paths are smooth.
Pro 3:7 Do not congratulate yourself on your own wisdom, fear Yahweh and turn your back on evil:
Pro 3:8 health-giving, this, to your body, relief to your bones.
Pro 3:9 Honour Yahweh with what goods you have and with the first-fruits of all your produce;
Pro 3:10 then your barns will be filled with corn, your vats overflowing with new wine.
Pro 3:11 My child, do not scorn correction from Yahweh, do not resent his reproof;
Pro 3:12 for Yahweh reproves those he loves, as a father the child whom he loves.
Pro 3:13 Blessed are those who have discovered wisdom, those who have acquired understanding!
Pro 3:14 Gaining her is more rewarding than silver, her yield is more valuable than gold.
Pro 3:15 She is beyond the price of pearls, nothing you could covet is her equal.
Pro 3:16 In her right hand is length of days; in her left hand, riches and honour.
Pro 3:17 Her ways are filled with delight, her paths all lead to contentment.
Pro 3:18 She is a tree of life for those who hold her fast, those who cling to her live happy lives.
Pro 3:19 In wisdom, Yahweh laid the earth's foundations, in understanding he spread out the heavens.
Pro 3:20 Through his knowledge the depths were cleft open, and the clouds distil the dew.
Pro 3:21 My child, hold to sound advice and prudence, never let them out of sight;
Pro 3:22 they will give life to your soul and beauty to your neck.
Pro 3:23 You will go on your way in safety, your feet will not stumble.
Pro 3:24 When you go to bed, you will not be afraid; once in bed, your sleep will be sweet.
Pro 3:25 Have no fear either of sudden terror or of attack mounted by wicked men,
Pro 3:26 since Yahweh will be your guarantor, he will keep your steps from the snare.
Pro 3:27 Refuse no kindness to those who have a right to it, if it is in your power to perform it.
Pro 3:28 Do not say to your neighbour, 'Go away! Come another time! I will give it you tomorrow,' if you can do it now.
Pro 3:29 Do not plot harm against your neighbour who is living unsuspecting beside you.
Pro 3:30 Do not pick a groundless quarrel with anyone who has done you no harm.
Pro 3:31 Do not envy the man of violence, never model your conduct on his;
Pro 3:32 for the wilful wrong-doer is abhorrent to Yahweh, who confides only in the honest.
Pro 3:33 Yahweh's curse lies on the house of the wicked, but he blesses the home of the upright.
Pro 3:34 He mocks those who mock, but accords his favour to the humble.
Pro 3:35 Glory is the portion of the wise, all that fools inherit is contempt.
Pro 4:1 Listen, my children, to a father's instruction; pay attention, and learn what understanding is.
Pro 4:2 What I am offering you is sound doctrine: do not forsake my teaching.
Pro 4:3 I too was once a child with a father, in my mother's eyes a tender child, unique.
Pro 4:4 This was what he used to teach me, 'Let your heart treasure what I have to say, keep my principles and you will live;
Pro 4:5 acquire wisdom, acquire understanding, never forget her, never deviate from my words.

Pro 4:6 Do not desert her, she will keep you safe; love her, she will watch over you.
Pro 4:7 The first principle of wisdom is: acquire wisdom; at the cost of all you have, acquire understanding!
Pro 4:8 Hold her close, and she will make you great; embrace her, and she will be your pride;
Pro 4:9 she will provide a graceful garland for your head, bestow a crown of honour on you.'
Pro 4:10 Listen, my child, take my words to heart, and the years of your life will be multiplied.
Pro 4:11 I have educated you in the ways of wisdom, I have guided you along the path of honesty.
Pro 4:12 When you walk, your going will be unhindered, if you run, you will not stumble.
Pro 4:13 Hold fast to discipline, never let her go, keep your eyes on her, she is your life.
Pro 4:14 Do not follow the path of the wicked, do not walk the way that the evil go.
Pro 4:15 Avoid it, do not take it, turn your back on it, pass it by.
Pro 4:16 For they cannot sleep unless they have first done wrong, they miss their sleep if they have not made someone stumble;
Pro 4:17 for the bread of wickedness is what they eat, and the wine of violence is what they drink.
Pro 4:18 The path of the upright is like the light of dawn, its brightness growing to the fullness of day;
Pro 4:19 the way of the wicked is as dark as night, they cannot tell the obstacles they stumble over.
Pro 4:20 My child, pay attention to what I am telling you, listen carefully to my words;
Pro 4:21 do not let them out of your sight, keep them deep in your heart.
Pro 4:22 For they are life to those who find them and health to all humanity.
Pro 4:23 More than all else, keep watch over your heart, since here are the wellsprings of life.
Pro 4:24 Turn your back on the mouth that misleads, keep your distance from lips that deceive.
Pro 4:25 Let your eyes be fixed ahead, your gaze be straight before you.
Pro 4:26 Let the path you tread be level and all your ways be firm.
Pro 4:27 Turn neither to right nor to left, keep your foot clear of evil.
Pro 5:1 My son, pay attention to my wisdom, listen carefully to what I know;
Pro 5:2 so that you may preserve discretion and your lips may guard knowledge. Take no notice of a loose-living woman,
Pro 5:3 for the lips of the adulteress drip with honey, her palate is more unctuous than oil,
Pro 5:4 but in the end she is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.
Pro 5:5 Her feet go down to death, Sheol the goal of her steps;
Pro 5:6 far from following the path of life, her course is uncertain and she does not know it.
Pro 5:7 And now, son, listen to me, never deviate from what I say:
Pro 5:8 set your course as far from her as possible, go nowhere near the door of her house,
Pro 5:9 or she will hand over your honour to others, the years of your life to a man without pity,
Pro 5:10 and strangers will batten on your property, and your produce go to the house of a stranger,
Pro 5:11 and, at your ending, your body and flesh having been consumed, you will groan
Pro 5:12 and exclaim, 'Alas, I hated discipline, my heart spurned all correction;
Pro 5:13 I would not attend to the voice of my masters, I would not listen to those who tried to teach me.
Pro 5:14 Now I have come to nearly every kind of misery, in the assembly and in the community.'
Pro 5:15 Drink the water from your own storage-well, fresh water from your own spring.
Pro 5:16 Even if your fountains overflow outside, your streams of water in the public squares:
Pro 5:17 let them be for you alone, and not for strangers with you.
Pro 5:18 May your fountain-head be blessed! Find joy with the wife you married in your youth,
Pro 5:19 fair as a hind, graceful as a fawn: hers the breasts that ever fill you with delight, hers the love that ever holds you captive.
Pro 5:20 Why be seduced, my son, by someone else's wife, and fondle the breast of a woman who belongs to another?
Pro 5:21 For the eyes of Yahweh observe human ways, and survey all human paths.
Pro 5:22 The wicked is snared in his own misdeeds, is caught in the meshes of his own sin.
Pro 5:23 For want of discipline, he dies, led astray by his own excessive folly.
Pro 6:1 My child, if you have gone surety for your neighbour, if you have guaranteed the bond of a stranger,
Pro 6:2 if you have committed yourself with your lips, if through words of yours you have been entrapped,
Pro 6:3 do this, my child, to extricate yourself -- since you have put yourself in the power of your neighbour: go, humble yourself, plead with your neighbour,
Pro 6:4 give your eyes no sleep, your eyelids no rest,
Pro 6:5 break free like a gazelle from the trap, like a bird from the fowler's clutches.
Pro 6:6 Idler, go to the ant; ponder her ways and grow wise:
Pro 6:7 no one gives her orders, no overseer, no master,
Pro 6:8 yet all through the summer she gets her food ready, and gathers her supplies at harvest time.
Pro 6:9 How long do you intend to lie there, idler? When are you going to rise from your sleep?

Pro 6:10 A little sleep, a little drowsiness, a little folding of the arms to lie back,
Pro 6:11 and poverty comes like a vagrant and, like a beggar, dearth.
Pro 6:12 A scoundrel, a vicious man, he goes with a leer on his lips,
Pro 6:13 winking his eye, shuffling his foot, beckoning with his finger.
Pro 6:14 Trickery in his heart, always scheming evil, he sows dissension.
Pro 6:15 Disaster will overtake him sharply for this, suddenly, irretrievably, he will be broken.
Pro 6:16 There are six things that Yahweh hates, seven that he abhors:
Pro 6:17 a haughty look, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent blood,
Pro 6:18 a heart that weaves wicked plots, feet that hurry to do evil,
Pro 6:19 a false witness who lies with every breath, and one who sows dissension among brothers.
Pro 6:20 Keep your father's precept, my child, do not spurn your mother's teaching.
Pro 6:21 Bind them ever to your heart, tie them round your neck.
Pro 6:22 While you are active, they will guide you, when you fall asleep, they will watch over you, when you wake up, they will converse with you.
Pro 6:23 For the precept is a lamp, the teaching is a light; correction and discipline are the way to life,
Pro 6:24 preserving you from the woman of bad character, from the wheedling talk of a woman who belongs to another.
Pro 6:25 Do not covet her beauty in your heart or let her captivate you with the play of her eyes;
Pro 6:26 a prostitute can be bought for a hunk of bread, but a married woman aims to snare a precious life.
Pro 6:27 Can a man carry fire inside his shirt without setting his clothes alight?
Pro 6:28 Can you walk on red-hot coals without burning your feet?
Pro 6:29 Just so, the man who makes love to his neighbour's wife: no one who touches her will get off unpunished.
Pro 6:30 People attach but little blame to a thief who steals only to satisfy his hunger;
Pro 6:31 yet even he, if caught, will have to repay sevenfold and hand over all his family resources.
Pro 6:32 But the adulterer has no sense; he works his own destruction.
Pro 6:33 All he will get is blows and contempt, and dishonour never to be blotted out.
Pro 6:34 For jealousy inflames the husband who will show no mercy when the day comes for revenge;
Pro 6:35 he will not consider any compensation; lavish what gifts you may, he will not be placated.
Pro 7:1 My child, keep my words, and treasure my precepts,
Pro 7:2 keep my precepts and you will live, keep my teaching as the apple of your eye.
Pro 7:3 Bind these to your fingers, write them on the tablet of your heart.
Pro 7:4 Say to Wisdom, 'You are my sister!' Call Understanding your relation,
Pro 7:5 to save yourself from the woman that belongs to another, from the stranger, with her seductive words.
Pro 7:6 While I was at the window of my house, I was looking out through the lattice
Pro 7:7 and I saw, among the callow youths, I noticed among the lads, one boy who had no sense.
Pro 7:8 Going along the lane, near the corner where she lives, he reaches the path to her house,
Pro 7:9 at twilight when day is declining, at dead of night and in the dark.
Pro 7:10 And look, a woman is coming to meet him, dressed like a prostitute, false of heart.
Pro 7:11 She is loud and brazen; her feet cannot rest at home.
Pro 7:12 Once in the street, once in the square, she lurks at every corner.
Pro 7:13 She catches hold of him, she kisses him, the bold-faced creature says to him,
Pro 7:14 'I had to offer a communion sacrifice, I have discharged my vows today;
Pro 7:15 that is why I came out to meet you, to look for you, and now I have found you.
Pro 7:16 I have spread coverlets over my divan, embroidered stuff, Egyptian material,
Pro 7:17 I have sprinkled my bed with myrrh, with aloes and cinnamon.
Pro 7:18 Come on, we'll make love as much as we like, till morning. Let us enjoy the delights of love!
Pro 7:19 For my husband is not at home, he has gone on a very long journey,
Pro 7:20 taking his moneybags with him; he will not be back till the moon is full.'
Pro 7:21 With her persistent coaxing she overcomes him, lures him on with her wheedling patter.
Pro 7:22 Forthwith he follows her, like an ox on its way to the slaughterhouse, like a madman on his way to the stocks,
Pro 7:23 until an arrow pierces him to the liver, like the bird that dashes into the net without realising that its life is at stake.
Pro 7:24 And now, son, listen to me, pay attention to the words I have to say:
Pro 7:25 do not let your heart stray into her ways, or wander into her paths;
Pro 7:26 she has done so many to death, and the strongest have all been her victims.
Pro 7:27 Her house is the way to Sheol, the descent to the courts of death.
Pro 8:1 Is not Wisdom calling? Is not Understanding raising her voice?

Pro 8:2 On the heights overlooking the road, at the crossways, she takes her stand;
Pro 8:3 by the gates, at the entrance to the city, on the access-roads, she cries out,
Pro 8:4 'I am calling to you, all people, my words are addressed to all humanity.
Pro 8:5 Simpletons, learn how to behave, fools, come to your senses.
Pro 8:6 Listen, I have something important to tell you, when I speak, my words are right.
Pro 8:7 My mouth proclaims the truth, for evil is abhorrent to my lips.
Pro 8:8 All the words from my mouth are upright, nothing false there, nothing crooked,
Pro 8:9 everything plain, if you can understand, straight, if you have acquired knowledge.
Pro 8:10 Accept my discipline rather than silver, and knowledge of me in preference to finest gold.
Pro 8:11 For Wisdom is more precious than jewels, and nothing else is so worthy of desire.
Pro 8:12 'I, Wisdom, share house with Discretion, I am mistress of the art of thought.
Pro 8:13 (Fear of Yahweh means hatred of evil.) I hate pride and arrogance, wicked behaviour and a lying mouth.
Pro 8:14 To me belong good advice and prudence, I am perception: power is mine!
Pro 8:15 By me monarchs rule and princes decree what is right;
Pro 8:16 by me rulers govern, so do nobles, the lawful authorities.
Pro 8:17 I love those who love me; whoever searches eagerly for me finds me.
Pro 8:18 With me are riches and honour, lasting wealth and saving justice.
Pro 8:19 The fruit I give is better than gold, even the finest, the return I make is better than pure silver.
Pro 8:20 I walk in the way of uprightness in the path of justice,
Pro 8:21 to endow my friends with my wealth and to fill their treasuries.
Pro 8:22 'Yahweh created me, first-fruits of his fashioning, before the oldest of his works.
Pro 8:23 From everlasting, I was firmly set, from the beginning, before the earth came into being.
Pro 8:24 The deep was not, when I was born, nor were the springs with their abounding waters.
Pro 8:25 Before the mountains were settled, before the hills, I came to birth;
Pro 8:26 before he had made the earth, the countryside, and the first elements of the world.
Pro 8:27 When he fixed the heavens firm, I was there, when he drew a circle on the surface of the deep,
Pro 8:28 when he thickened the clouds above, when the sources of the deep began to swell,
Pro 8:29 when he assigned the sea its boundaries -- and the waters will not encroach on the shore -- when he traced the foundations of the earth,
Pro 8:30 I was beside the master craftsman, delighting him day after day, ever at play in his presence,
Pro 8:31 at play everywhere on his earth, delighting to be with the children of men.
Pro 8:32 'And now, my children, listen to me. Happy are those who keep my ways.
Pro 8:33 Listen to instruction and become wise, do not reject it.
Pro 8:34 Blessed, whoever listens to me, who day after day keeps watch at my gates to guard my portals.
Pro 8:35 For whoever finds me finds life, and obtains the favour of Yahweh;
Pro 8:36 but whoever misses me harms himself, all who hate me are in love with death.'
Pro 9:1 Wisdom has built herself a house, she has hewn her seven pillars,
Pro 9:2 she has slaughtered her beasts, drawn her wine, she has laid her table.
Pro 9:3 She has despatched her maidservants and proclaimed from the heights above the city,
Pro 9:4 'Who is simple? Let him come this way.' To the fool she says,
Pro 9:5 'Come and eat my bread, drink the wine which I have drawn!
Pro 9:6 Leave foolishness behind and you will live, go forwards in the ways of perception.'
Pro 9:7 Reprove a mocker and you attract contempt, rebuke the wicked and you attract dishonour.
Pro 9:8 Do not rebuke the mocker, he will hate you. Rebuke the wise and he will love you for it.
Pro 9:9 Be open with the wise, he grows wiser still, teach the upright, he will gain yet more.
Pro 9:10 The first principle of wisdom is the fear of Yahweh, What God's holy ones know -- this is understanding.
Pro 9:11 For by me your days will be multiplied, and your years of life increased.
Pro 9:12 Are you wise? You are wise to your own good. A mocker? The burden is yours alone.
Pro 9:13 A silly woman acts on impulse, is foolish and knows nothing.
Pro 9:14 She sits at the door of her house, on a throne high up in the city,
Pro 9:15 calling to the passers-by, who are walking straight past on their way,
Pro 9:16 'Who is simple? Turn aside, come over here.' To the fool she says,
Pro 9:17 'Stolen waters are sweet, and bread tastes better when eaten in secret.'
Pro 9:18 But the fool does not know that this is where the Shades are and that her guests are already in the vales of Sheol.
Pro 10:1 The proverbs of Solomon. A wise child is a father's joy, a foolish child a mother's grief.
Pro 10:2 Treasures wickedly come by give no benefit, but uprightness brings delivery from death.

- Pro 10:3 Yahweh does not let the upright go hungry, but he thwarts the greed of the wicked.
- Pro 10:4 A slack hand brings poverty, but the hand of the diligent brings wealth.
- Pro 10:5 Reaping at harvest-time is the mark of the prudent, sleeping at harvest-time is the sign of the worthless.
- Pro 10:6 Blessings are on the head of the upright, but the mouth of the godless is a cover for violence.
- Pro 10:7 The upright is remembered with blessings, the name of the wicked rots away.
- Pro 10:8 The wise of heart takes orders, but a gabbling fool heads for ruin.
- Pro 10:9 Anyone whose ways are honourable walks secure, but whoever follows crooked ways is soon unmasked.
- Pro 10:10 A wink of the eye brings trouble, a bold rebuke brings peace.
- Pro 10:11 The mouth of the upright is a life-giving fountain, but the mouth of the godless is a cover for violence.
- Pro 10:12 Hatred provokes disputes, but love excuses all offences.
- Pro 10:13 On the lips of the discerning is found wisdom, on the back of a fool, the stick.
- Pro 10:14 Wise people store up knowledge, but the mouth of a fool makes ruin imminent.
- Pro 10:15 The wealth of the rich is their stronghold, poverty is the undoing of the weak.
- Pro 10:16 The wage of the upright affords life, but sin is all the wicked earns.
- Pro 10:17 Whoever abides by discipline, walks towards life, whoever ignores correction goes astray.
- Pro 10:18 Liars' lips are a cover for hatred, whoever utters slander is a fool.
- Pro 10:19 A flood of words is never without fault; whoever controls the lips is wise.
- Pro 10:20 The tongue of the upright is purest silver, the heart of the wicked is of trumpery value.
- Pro 10:21 The lips of the upright nourish many peoples, but fools die for want of sense.
- Pro 10:22 The blessing of Yahweh is what brings riches, to this, hard toil has nothing to add.
- Pro 10:23 A fool takes pleasure in doing wrong, the intelligent in cultivating wisdom.
- Pro 10:24 What the wicked fears overtakes him, what the upright desires comes to him as a present.
- Pro 10:25 When the storm is over, the wicked is no more, but the upright stands firm for ever.
- Pro 10:26 As vinegar to the teeth, smoke to the eyes, so the sluggard to the one who sends him.
- Pro 10:27 The fear of Yahweh adds length to life, the years of the wicked will be cut short.
- Pro 10:28 The hope of the upright is joy, the expectations of the wicked come to nothing.
- Pro 10:29 The way of Yahweh is a rampart for the honest, for evil-doers nothing but ruin.
- Pro 10:30 The upright will never have to give way, but the land will offer no home for the wicked.
- Pro 10:31 The mouth of the upright utters wisdom, the tongue that deceives will be cut off.
- Pro 10:32 The lips of the upright know about kindness, the mouth of the wicked about deceit.
- Pro 11:1 A false balance is abhorrent to Yahweh, a just weight is pleasing to him.
- Pro 11:2 Pride comes first; disgrace soon follows; with the humble is wisdom found.
- Pro 11:3 The honest have their own honesty for guidance, the treacherous are ruined by their own perfidy.
- Pro 11:4 In the day of retribution riches will be useless, but uprightness delivers from death.
- Pro 11:5 The uprightness of the good makes their way straight, the wicked fall by their own wickedness.
- Pro 11:6 Their uprightness sets the honest free, the treacherous are imprisoned by their own desires.
- Pro 11:7 The hope of the wicked perishes with death, hope placed in riches comes to nothing.
- Pro 11:8 The upright escapes affliction, the wicked incurs it instead.
- Pro 11:9 Through his mouth the godless is the ruin of his neighbour, but by knowledge the upright are safeguarded.
- Pro 11:10 When the upright prosper the city rejoices, when the wicked are ruined there is a shout of joy.
- Pro 11:11 A city is raised on the blessing of the honest, and demolished by the mouth of the wicked.
- Pro 11:12 Whoever looks down on a neighbour lacks good sense; the intelligent keeps a check on the tongue.
- Pro 11:13 A tittle-tattler lets secrets out, the trustworthy keeps things hidden.
- Pro 11:14 For want of leadership a people perishes, safety lies in many advisers.
- Pro 11:15 Whoever goes bail for a stranger does himself harm, but one who shuns going surety is safe.
- Pro 11:16 A gracious woman acquires honour, violent people acquire wealth.
- Pro 11:17 Faithful love brings its own reward, the inflexible injure their own selves.
- Pro 11:18 Disappointment crowns the labours of the wicked, whoever sows uprightness reaps a solid reward.
- Pro 11:19 Whoever establishes uprightness is on the way to life, whoever pursues evil, on the way to death.
- Pro 11:20 Tortuous hearts are abhorrent to Yahweh, dear to him, those whose ways are blameless.
- Pro 11:21 Be sure of it, the wicked will not go unpunished, but the race of the upright will come to no harm.
- Pro 11:22 A golden ring in the snout of a pig is a lovely woman who lacks discretion.
- Pro 11:23 The hope of the upright is nothing but good, the expectation of the wicked is retribution.
- Pro 11:24 One scatters money around, yet only adds to his wealth, another is excessively mean, but only grows the poorer.
- Pro 11:25 The soul who blesses will prosper, whoever satisfies others will also be satisfied.

- Pro 11:26 The people's curse is on those who hoard the wheat, their blessing on the head of those who sell it.
- Pro 11:27 Whoever strives for good obtains favour, whoever looks for evil will get an evil return.
- Pro 11:28 Whoever trusts in riches will have a fall, the upright will flourish like the leaves.
- Pro 11:29 Whoever misgoverns a house inherits the wind, and the fool becomes slave to the wise.
- Pro 11:30 The fruit of the upright is a tree of life: the sage captivates souls.
- Pro 11:31 If here on earth the upright gets due reward, how much more the wicked and the sinner!
- Pro 12:1 Whoever loves discipline, loves knowledge, stupid are those who hate correction.
- Pro 12:2 The honest obtains Yahweh's favour, the schemer incurs his condemnation.
- Pro 12:3 No one is made secure by wickedness, but nothing shakes the roots of the upright.
- Pro 12:4 A capable wife, her husband's crown, a shameless wife, a cancer in his bones.
- Pro 12:5 The plans of the upright are honest, the intrigues of the wicked are full of deceit.
- Pro 12:6 The words of the wicked are snares to shed blood, what the honest say keeps them safe.
- Pro 12:7 Once thrown down, the wicked are no more, but the house of the upright stands firm.
- Pro 12:8 Prudence wins praise, but a tortuous heart incurs only contempt.
- Pro 12:9 Better a common fellow who has a slave than someone who gives himself airs and has nothing to eat.
- Pro 12:10 The upright has compassion on his animals, but the heart of the wicked is ruthless.
- Pro 12:11 Whoever works his land shall have bread and to spare, but no one who chases fantasies has any sense.
- Pro 12:12 The godless delights in the snare of the wicked, but the root of the upright bears fruit.
- Pro 12:13 In the sin of the lips lies a disastrous trap, but the upright finds a way out of misfortune.
- Pro 12:14 Abundance of good things is the fruit of the lips; labour brings its own return.
- Pro 12:15 Fools think the way they go is straight, the wise listens to advice.
- Pro 12:16 The fool shows anger straightaway, the discreet conceals dislike.
- Pro 12:17 To tell the truth is to further justice, a false witness is nothing but deceit.
- Pro 12:18 Thoughtless words can wound like a sword, but the tongue of the wise brings healing.
- Pro 12:19 Sincere lips endure for ever, the lying tongue lasts only a moment.
- Pro 12:20 Deceit is in the heart of the schemer, joy with those who give counsels of peace.
- Pro 12:21 No harm can come to the upright, but the wicked are swamped by misfortunes.
- Pro 12:22 Lying lips are abhorrent to Yahweh; dear to him those who make truth their way of life.
- Pro 12:23 The discreet keeps knowledge hidden, the heart of fools proclaims their folly.
- Pro 12:24 For the diligent hand, authority; for the slack hand, forced labour.
- Pro 12:25 Worry makes a heart heavy, a kindly word makes it glad.
- Pro 12:26 The upright shows the way to a friend; the way of the wicked leads them astray.
- Pro 12:27 The idle has no game to roast; diligence is anyone's most precious possession.
- Pro 12:28 In the way of uprightness is life, the ways of the vengeful lead to death.
- Pro 13:1 A wise child listens to a father's discipline, a cynic will not listen to reproof.
- Pro 13:2 The fruit of the mouth provides a good meal, but the soul of the treacherous feeds on violence.
- Pro 13:3 A guard on the mouth makes life secure, whoever talks too much is lost.
- Pro 13:4 The idler hungers but has no food; hard workers get their fill.
- Pro 13:5 The upright hates a lying word, but the wicked slanders and defames.
- Pro 13:6 Uprightness stands guard over one whose way is honest, sin causes the ruin of the wicked.
- Pro 13:7 There are some who, on nothing, pretend to be rich, some, with great wealth, pretend to be poor.
- Pro 13:8 The ransom for life is a person's wealth; but the poor will not hear the reproof.
- Pro 13:9 The light of the upright is joyful, the lamp of the wicked goes out.
- Pro 13:10 Insolence breeds only disputes, wisdom lies with those who take advice.
- Pro 13:11 A sudden fortune will dwindle away, accumulation little by little is the way to riches.
- Pro 13:12 Hope deferred makes the heart sick, desire fulfilled is a tree of life.
- Pro 13:13 Contempt for the word is self-destructive, respect for the commandment wins salvation.
- Pro 13:14 The teaching of the wise is a life-giving fountain for eluding the snares of death.
- Pro 13:15 Good sense wins favour, but the way of the treacherous is hard.
- Pro 13:16 Anyone of discretion acts by the light of knowledge, the fool parades his folly.
- Pro 13:17 A bad messenger falls into misfortune, a trusty messenger brings healing.
- Pro 13:18 Whoever rejects discipline wins poverty and scorn; for anyone who accepts correction: honour.
- Pro 13:19 Desire fulfilled is sweet to the soul; fools are loth to turn -- from evil.
- Pro 13:20 Whoever walks with the wise becomes wise, whoever mixes with fools will be ruined.
- Pro 13:21 Evil will pursue the sinner, but good will reward the upright.
- Pro 13:22 The good bequeaths a heritage to children's children, the wealth of the sinner is stored away for the upright.
- Pro 13:23 Though the farms of the poor yield much food, some perish for lack of justice.

- Pro 13:24 Whoever fails to use the stick hates his child; whoever is free with correction loves him.
- Pro 13:25 The upright eats to the full, the belly of the wicked goes empty.
- Pro 14:1 Wisdom builds herself a house; with her own hands Folly pulls it down.
- Pro 14:2 Whoever keeps to an honest course fears Yahweh, whoever deserts his paths shows contempt for him.
- Pro 14:3 Pride sprouts in the mouth of the fool, the lips of the wise keep them safe.
- Pro 14:4 No oxen, empty manger; strong bull, much cash.
- Pro 14:5 The truthful witness tells no lies, the false witness lies with every breath.
- Pro 14:6 In vain the mocker looks for wisdom, knowledge comes easy to the intelligent.
- Pro 14:7 Keep well clear of the fool, you will not find wise lips there.
- Pro 14:8 With people of discretion, wisdom keeps a watch over their conduct, but the folly of fools leads them astray.
- Pro 14:9 Fools mock at the sacrifice for sin, but favour resides among the honest.
- Pro 14:10 The heart knows its own grief best, nor can a stranger share its joy.
- Pro 14:11 The house of the wicked will be destroyed, the tent of the honest will prosper.
- Pro 14:12 There are ways that some think straight, but they lead in the end to death.
- Pro 14:13 Even in laughter the heart finds sadness, and joy makes way for sorrow.
- Pro 14:14 The miscreant will reap the reward of his conduct, and the good the reward of his deeds.
- Pro 14:15 The simpleton believes any message, a person of discretion treads a careful path.
- Pro 14:16 The wise fears evil and avoids it, the fool is insolent and conceited.
- Pro 14:17 A quick-tempered person commits rash acts, but a schemer is detestable.
- Pro 14:18 Simpletons have folly for their portion, people of discretion knowledge for their crown.
- Pro 14:19 The evil bow down before the good, the wicked, at the gates of the upright.
- Pro 14:20 The poor is detestable even to a friend, but many are they who love someone rich.
- Pro 14:21 One who despises the needy is at fault, one who takes pity on the poor is blessed.
- Pro 14:22 Plan evil -- isn't this to go astray? Those who plan for good can earn faithful love and constancy.
- Pro 14:23 Hard work always yields its profit, idle talk brings only want.
- Pro 14:24 The crown of the wise is their riches; the folly of fools is folly.
- Pro 14:25 A truthful witness saves lives, whoever utters lies is a deceiver.
- Pro 14:26 In the fear of Yahweh is powerful security; for his children he is a refuge.
- Pro 14:27 The fear of Yahweh is a life-giving spring for eluding the snares of death.
- Pro 14:28 Large population, monarch's glory; dwindling population, ruler's ruin.
- Pro 14:29 Mastery of temper is high proof of intelligence, a quick temper makes folly worse than ever.
- Pro 14:30 The life of the body is a tranquil heart, but envy is a cancer in the bones.
- Pro 14:31 To oppress the weak insults the Creator, kindness to the needy honours the Creator.
- Pro 14:32 For evil-doing, the wicked will be flung headlong, but in integrity the upright will find refuge.
- Pro 14:33 Wisdom resides in an understanding heart; she is not to be found in the hearts of fools.
- Pro 14:34 Uprightness makes a nation great, by sin whole races are disgraced.
- Pro 14:35 A king shows favour to a wise minister, but anger to one who shames him.
- Pro 15:1 A mild answer turns away wrath, sharp words stir up anger.
- Pro 15:2 The tongue of the wise makes knowledge welcome, the mouth of a fool spews folly.
- Pro 15:3 The eyes of Yahweh are everywhere: observing the wicked and the good.
- Pro 15:4 The tongue that soothes is a tree of life; the perverse tongue, a breaker of hearts.
- Pro 15:5 Only a fool spurns a father's discipline, whoever accepts correction is discreet.
- Pro 15:6 In the house of the upright there is no lack of treasure, the earnings of the wicked are fraught with anxiety.
- Pro 15:7 The lips of the wise spread knowledge, not so the hearts of fools.
- Pro 15:8 The sacrifice of the wicked is abhorrent to Yahweh, dear to him is the prayer of the honest.
- Pro 15:9 The conduct of the wicked is abhorrent to Yahweh, but he loves the person whose goal is uprightness.
- Pro 15:10 Correction is severe for one who leaves the way; whoever hates being reprimanded will die.
- Pro 15:11 Sheol and Perdition lie open to Yahweh; how much more the human heart!
- Pro 15:12 The mocker does not care to be reprimanded, and will not choose the wise as companions.
- Pro 15:13 Glad heart means happy face, where the heart is sad the spirit is broken.
- Pro 15:14 The heart of the wise seeks knowledge, a fool's mouth feeds on folly.
- Pro 15:15 For the poor every day is evil, for the joyous heart it is always festival time.
- Pro 15:16 Better to have little and with it fear of Yahweh than immense wealth and with it anxiety.
- Pro 15:17 Better a dish of herbs when love is there than a fattened ox and hatred to go with it.
- Pro 15:18 The hot-headed provokes disputes, the equable allays dissension.
- Pro 15:19 The way of the lazy is like a thorny hedge, the path of the honest is a broad highway.

- Pro 15:20 A wise child is a father's joy; only a brute despises his mother.
- Pro 15:21 Folly appeals to someone without sense, a person of understanding goes straight forward.
- Pro 15:22 Without deliberation plans come to nothing. Plans succeed where counsellors are many.
- Pro 15:23 Anyone who has a ready answer has joy too: how satisfying is the apt reply!
- Pro 15:24 For the prudent, the path of life leads upwards thus avoiding Sheol below.
- Pro 15:25 Yahweh pulls down the house of the proud, but he keeps the widow's boundaries intact.
- Pro 15:26 Wicked scheming is abhorrent to Yahweh, but words that are kind are pure.
- Pro 15:27 Craving for dishonest gain brings trouble on a house, hatred of bribery earns life.
- Pro 15:28 The heart of the upright reflects before answering, the mouth of the wicked spews out wickedness.
- Pro 15:29 Yahweh keeps his distance from the wicked, but he listens to the prayers of the upright.
- Pro 15:30 A kindly glance gives joy to the heart, good news lends strength to the bones.
- Pro 15:31 The ear attentive to wholesome correction finds itself at home in the company of the wise.
- Pro 15:32 Whoever rejects correction lacks self-respect, whoever accepts reproof grows in understanding.
- Pro 15:33 The fear of Yahweh is a school of wisdom, before there can be glory, there must be humility.
- Pro 16:1 A human heart makes the plans, Yahweh gives the answer.
- Pro 16:2 A person's own acts seem right to the doer, but Yahweh is the weigher of souls.
- Pro 16:3 Command what you do to Yahweh, and what you plan will be achieved.
- Pro 16:4 Yahweh made everything for its own purpose, yes, even the wicked for the day of disaster.
- Pro 16:5 Every arrogant heart is abhorrent to Yahweh: be sure this will not go unpunished.
- Pro 16:6 By faithful love and constancy sin is expiated; by fear of Yahweh evil is avoided.
- Pro 16:7 Let Yahweh be pleased with someone's way of life and he makes that person's very enemies into friends.
- Pro 16:8 Better have little and with it uprightness than great revenues with injustice.
- Pro 16:9 The human heart may plan a course, but it is Yahweh who makes the steps secure.
- Pro 16:10 The lips of the king utter prophecies, he keeps faith when he speaks in judgement.
- Pro 16:11 The balances and scales belong to Yahweh, all the weights in the bag are of his making.
- Pro 16:12 Evil-doing is abhorrent to kings, since uprightness is a throne's foundation.
- Pro 16:13 Upright lips are welcome to a king, he loves someone of honest words.
- Pro 16:14 The king's wrath is the herald of death, but the wise will appease it.
- Pro 16:15 When the king's face brightens it spells life, his favour is like the rain in spring.
- Pro 16:16 Better gain wisdom than gold, choose understanding in preference to silver.
- Pro 16:17 To turn from evil is the way of the honest; whoever watches the path keeps life safe.
- Pro 16:18 Pride goes before destruction, a haughty spirit before a fall.
- Pro 16:19 Better be humble with the poor than share the booty with the proud.
- Pro 16:20 Whoever listens closely to the word finds happiness; whoever trusts Yahweh is blessed.
- Pro 16:21 The wise of heart is acclaimed as intelligent, sweetness of speech increases knowledge.
- Pro 16:22 Shrewdness is a fountain of life for its possessor, the folly of fools is their own punishment.
- Pro 16:23 The heart of the wise lends shrewdness to speech and makes words more persuasive.
- Pro 16:24 Kindly words are a honeycomb, sweet to the taste, wholesome to the body.
- Pro 16:25 There is a way that some think straight, but it leads in the end to death.
- Pro 16:26 A worker's appetite works on his behalf, for his hunger urges him on.
- Pro 16:27 A worthless person concocts evil, such a one's talk is like a scorching fire.
- Pro 16:28 A troublemaker sows strife, a slanderer divides friend from friend.
- Pro 16:29 The violent lures his neighbour astray and leads him by a way that is not good.
- Pro 16:30 Whoever narrows the eyes to think up tricks and purses the lips has already done wrong.
- Pro 16:31 White hairs are a crown of honour, they are found in the ways of uprightness.
- Pro 16:32 Better an equable person than a hero, someone with self-mastery than one who takes a city.
- Pro 16:33 In the fold of the garment the lot is thrown, but from Yahweh comes the decision.
- Pro 17:1 Better a mouthful of dry bread with peace than a house filled with quarrelsome sacrifices.
- Pro 17:2 A shrewd servant comes off better than an unworthy child, he will share the inheritance with the brothers.
- Pro 17:3 A furnace for silver, a foundry for gold, but Yahweh for the testing of hearts!
- Pro 17:4 An evil-doer pays heed to malicious talk, a liar listens to a slanderous tongue.
- Pro 17:5 To mock the poor is to insult the Creator, no one who laughs at distress will go unpunished.
- Pro 17:6 The crown of the aged is their children's children; the children's glory is their father.
- Pro 17:7 Fine words do not become the foolish, false words become a prince still less.
- Pro 17:8 A gift works like a talisman for one who holds it: it brings prosperity at every turn.
- Pro 17:9 Whoever covers an offence promotes love, whoever again raises the matter divides friends.
- Pro 17:10 A reproof makes more impression on a person of understanding than a hundred strokes on a fool.

- Pro 17:11 The wicked person thinks of nothing but rebellion, but a cruel messenger will be sent to such a one.
- Pro 17:12 Rather come on a bear robbed of her cubs than on a fool in his folly.
- Pro 17:13 Disaster will never be far from the house of one who returns evil for good.
- Pro 17:14 As well unleash a flood as start a dispute; desist before the quarrel breaks out.
- Pro 17:15 To absolve the guilty and condemn the upright, both alike are abhorrent to Yahweh.
- Pro 17:16 What good is money in the hand of a fool? To buy wisdom with it? The desire is not there.
- Pro 17:17 A friend is a friend at all times, it is for adversity that a brother is born.
- Pro 17:18 Whoever offers guarantees lacks sense and goes surely for a neighbour.
- Pro 17:19 The double-dealer loves sin, the proud courts ruin.
- Pro 17:20 The tortuous of heart finds no happiness, the perverse of speech falls into misery.
- Pro 17:21 He who fathers a stupid child does so to his sorrow, the father of a fool knows no joy.
- Pro 17:22 A glad heart is excellent medicine, a depressed spirit wastes the bones away.
- Pro 17:23 Under cover of his cloak a bad man takes a gift to pervert the course of justice.
- Pro 17:24 The intelligent has wisdom there before him, but the eyes of a fool range to the ends of the earth.
- Pro 17:25 A foolish child is a father's sorrow, and the grief of her who gave the child birth.
- Pro 17:26 To fine the upright is indeed a crime, to strike the noble is an injustice.
- Pro 17:27 Whoever can control the tongue knows what knowledge is, someone of understanding keeps a cool temper.
- Pro 17:28 If the fool holds his tongue, he may pass for wise; if he seals his lips, he may pass for intelligent.
- Pro 18:1 Whoever lives alone follows private whims, and is angered by advice of any kind.
- Pro 18:2 A fool takes no pleasure in understanding but only in airing an opinion.
- Pro 18:3 When wickedness comes, indignity comes too, and, with contempt, dishonour.
- Pro 18:4 Deep waters, such are human words: a gushing stream, the utterance of wisdom.
- Pro 18:5 It is not good to show partiality for the wicked and so to deprive the upright when giving judgement.
- Pro 18:6 The lips of a fool go to the law-courts with a mouth that pleads for a beating.
- Pro 18:7 The mouth of the fool works its owner's ruin, the lips of a fool are a snare for their owner's life.
- Pro 18:8 The words of a slanderer are tasty morsels that go right down into the belly.
- Pro 18:9 Whoever is idle at work is blood-brother to the destroyer.
- Pro 18:10 The name of Yahweh is a strong tower; the upright runs to it and is secure.
- Pro 18:11 The wealth of the rich forms a stronghold, a high wall, as the rich supposes.
- Pro 18:12 The human heart is haughty until destruction comes, before there can be glory there must be humility.
- Pro 18:13 To retort without first listening is both foolish and embarrassing.
- Pro 18:14 Sickness the human spirit can endure, but when the spirit is broken, who can bear this?
- Pro 18:15 The heart of the intelligent acquires learning, the ears of the wise search for knowledge.
- Pro 18:16 A present will open all doors and win access to the great.
- Pro 18:17 The first to plead is adjudged to be upright, until the next comes and cross-examines him.
- Pro 18:18 The lot puts an end to disputes and decides between men of power.
- Pro 18:19 A brother offended is worse than a fortified city, and quarrels are like the locks of a keep.
- Pro 18:20 From the fruit of the mouth is a stomach filled, it is the yield of the lips that gives contentment.
- Pro 18:21 Death and life are in the gift of the tongue, those who indulge it must eat the fruit it yields.
- Pro 18:22 He who finds a wife finds happiness, receiving a mark of favour from Yahweh.
- Pro 18:23 The language of the poor is entreaty, the answer of the rich harshness.
- Pro 18:24 There are friends who point the way to ruin, others are closer than a brother.
- Pro 19:1 Better the poor living an honest life than the adept at double-talk who is a fool.
- Pro 19:2 Where knowledge is wanting, zeal is not good; whoever goes too quickly stumbles.
- Pro 19:3 Folly leads conduct astray, yet it is against Yahweh that the heart rages.
- Pro 19:4 Wealth multiplies friends, but the one friend the poor has is taken away.
- Pro 19:5 The false witness will not go unpunished, no one who utters lies will go free.
- Pro 19:6 The nobleman has many to court his favour, to a giver of gifts, everyone is friend.
- Pro 19:7 The poor man's brothers hate him, every one; his friends -- how much the more do these desert him! He goes in search of words, but there are none to be had.
- Pro 19:8 Whoever acquires sense wins profit from it, whoever treasures understanding finds happiness.
- Pro 19:9 The false witness will not go unpunished, whoever utters lies will be destroyed.
- Pro 19:10 It is not fitting for a fool to live in luxury, still less for a slave to govern princes.
- Pro 19:11 Good sense makes for self-control, and for pride in overlooking an offence.
- Pro 19:12 Like the roaring of a lion, the anger of a king, but like dew on the grass his favour.
- Pro 19:13 A foolish child is a disaster for the father, the bickerings of a wife are like an ever-dripping gutter.
- Pro 19:14 From fathers comes inheritance of house and wealth, from Yahweh a wife who is discreet.
- Pro 19:15 Idleness lulls to sleep, the feckless soul will go hungry.

- Pro 19:16 Keeping the commandment is self-preservation, but whoever despises these ways will die.
- Pro 19:17 Whoever is kind to the poor is lending to Yahweh who will repay him the kindness done.
- Pro 19:18 While there is hope for him, chastise your child, but do not get so angry as to kill him.
- Pro 19:19 The violent lays himself open to a penalty; spare him, and you aggravate his crime.
- Pro 19:20 Listen to advice, accept correction, to be the wiser in the time to come.
- Pro 19:21 Many are the plans in the human heart, but the purpose of Yahweh -- that stands firm.
- Pro 19:22 Faithful love is what people look for in a person; they prefer the poor to a liar.
- Pro 19:23 The fear of Yahweh leads to life, it brings food and shelter, without fear of evil.
- Pro 19:24 Into the dish the idler dips his hand, but bring it back to his mouth he cannot.
- Pro 19:25 Strike a cynic, and simpletons will be more wary; reprove the intelligent and he will understand your meaning.
- Pro 19:26 He who ill-treats his father and drives out his mother is a child both worthless and depraved.
- Pro 19:27 Give up listening to instruction, my child, if you mean to stray from words of knowledge.
- Pro 19:28 A perjured witness holds the law in scorn; the mouth of the wicked feasts on evil-doing.
- Pro 19:29 Punishments were made for mockers, and beating for the backs of fools.
- Pro 20:1 Wine is reckless, liquor rowdy; unwise is anyone whom it seduces.
- Pro 20:2 Like the roaring of a lion is the fury of a king; whoever provokes him sins against himself.
- Pro 20:3 It is praiseworthy to stop short of a law-suit; only a fool flies into a rage.
- Pro 20:4 In autumn the idler does not plough, at harvest time he looks -- nothing there!
- Pro 20:5 The resources of the human heart are like deep waters: an understanding person has only to draw on them.
- Pro 20:6 Many describe themselves as people of faithful love, but who can find someone really to be trusted?
- Pro 20:7 The upright whose ways are blameless -- blessed the children who come after!
- Pro 20:8 A king enthroned on the judgement seat with one look scatters all that is evil.
- Pro 20:9 Who can say, 'I have cleansed my heart, I am purified of my sin'?
- Pro 20:10 One weight here, another there; here one measure, there another: both alike are abhorrent to Yahweh.
- Pro 20:11 A young man's character appears in what he does, if his behaviour is pure and straight.
- Pro 20:12 Ear that hears, eye that sees, Yahweh has made both of these.
- Pro 20:13 Do not love sleep or you will know poverty; keep your eyes open and have your fill of food.
- Pro 20:14 'No good, no good!' says the buyer, but he goes off congratulating himself.
- Pro 20:15 There are gold and jewels of every type, but a priceless ornament is speech informed by knowledge.
- Pro 20:16 Take the man's clothes! He has gone surely for a stranger. Take a pledge from him to the profit of persons unknown!
- Pro 20:17 Bread is sweet when it is got by fraud, but later the mouth is full of grit.
- Pro 20:18 Plans are matured by consultation; take wise advice when waging war.
- Pro 20:19 The bearer of gossip lets out secrets; do not mingle with chatters.
- Pro 20:20 Whoever curses father or mother will have his lamp put out in the deepest darkness.
- Pro 20:21 Property quickly come by at first will not be blessed in the end.
- Pro 20:22 Do not say, 'I shall repay evil'; put your hope in Yahweh and he will keep you safe.
- Pro 20:23 One weight here, another there: this is abhorrent to Yahweh, false scales are not good.
- Pro 20:24 Yahweh guides the steps of the powerful: but who can comprehend human ways?
- Pro 20:25 Anyone is trapped who cries 'Dedicated!' and begins to reflect only after the vow.
- Pro 20:26 A wise king winnows the wicked and makes the wheel pass over them.
- Pro 20:27 The human spirit is the lamp of Yahweh -- searching the deepest self.
- Pro 20:28 Faithful love and loyalty mount guard over the king, his throne is founded on saving justice.
- Pro 20:29 The pride of the young is their strength, the ornament of the old, grey hairs.
- Pro 20:30 Wounding strokes are good medicine for evil, blows have an effect on the inmost self.
- Pro 21:1 Like flowing water is a king's heart in Yahweh's hand; he directs it wherever he pleases.
- Pro 21:2 All actions are straight in the doer's own eyes, but it is Yahweh who weighs hearts.
- Pro 21:3 To do what is upright and just is more pleasing to Yahweh than sacrifice.
- Pro 21:4 Haughty eye, proud heart, lamp of the wicked, nothing but sin.
- Pro 21:5 The hardworking is thoughtful, and all is gain; too much haste, and all that comes of it is want.
- Pro 21:6 To make a fortune with the help of a lying tongue: such is the idle fantasy of those who look for death.
- Pro 21:7 The violence of the wicked proves their ruin, for they refuse to do what is right.
- Pro 21:8 The way of the felon is devious, the conduct of the innocent straight.
- Pro 21:9 Better the corner of a roof to live on than a house shared with a quarrelsome woman.
- Pro 21:10 The soul of the wicked is intent on evil, to such a person no neighbour can ever do right.
- Pro 21:11 When a cynic is punished, simpletons grow wiser, but someone of understanding acquires knowledge by instruction.

Pro 21:12 The Upright One watches the house of the wicked; he hurls the wicked to destruction.

Pro 21:13 Whoever refuses to listen to the cry of the weak, will in turn plead and not be heard.

Pro 21:14 Anger is mollified by a covert gift, raging fury by a present under cover of the cloak.

Pro 21:15 Doing what is right fills the upright with joy, but evil-doers with terror.

Pro 21:16 Whoever strays far from the way of prudence will rest in the assembly of shadows.

Pro 21:17 Pleasure-lovers stay poor, no one will grow rich who loves wine and good living.

Pro 21:18 The wicked is a ransom for the upright; and the law-breaker for the honest.

Pro 21:19 Better to live in a desert land than with a quarrelsome and irritable woman.

Pro 21:20 The wise has valuables and oil at home, but a fool soon runs through both.

Pro 21:21 Whoever pursues uprightness and faithful love will find life, uprightness and honour.

Pro 21:22 A sage can scale a garrisoned city and shatter the rampart on which it relied.

Pro 21:23 Watch kept over mouth and tongue keeps the watcher safe from disaster.

Pro 21:24 Insolent, haughty -- the name is 'Cynic'; overweening pride marks such behaviour.

Pro 21:25 The idler's desires are the death of him, since his hands will do no work.

Pro 21:26 All day long the godless is racked by desire, the upright gives without ever refusing.

Pro 21:27 The sacrifice of the wicked is abhorrent, above all if it is offered for bad motives.

Pro 21:28 The false witness will perish, but no one who knows how to listen will ever be silenced.

Pro 21:29 The wicked man's strength shows on his face, but the honest it is whose steps are firm.

Pro 21:30 No wisdom, no understanding, no advice is worth anything before Yahweh.

Pro 21:31 Fit out the cavalry for the day of battle, but the victory is Yahweh's.

Pro 22:1 Fame is preferable to great wealth, favour, to silver and gold.

Pro 22:2 Rich and poor rub shoulders, Yahweh has made them both.

Pro 22:3 The discreet sees danger and takes shelter, simpletons go ahead and pay the penalty.

Pro 22:4 The reward of humility is the fear of Yahweh, and riches, honour and life.

Pro 22:5 Thorns and snares line the path of the wilful, whoever values life will stay at a distance.

Pro 22:6 Give a lad a training suitable to his character and, even when old, he will not go back on it.

Pro 22:7 The rich lords it over the poor, the borrower is the lender's slave.

Pro 22:8 Whoever sows injustice reaps disaster, and the rod of such anger will disappear.

Pro 22:9 A kindly eye will earn a blessing, such a person shares out food with the poor.

Pro 22:10 Expel the mocker and strife goes too, law-suits and dislike die down.

Pro 22:11 Whoever loves the pure of heart and is gracious of speech has the king for a friend.

Pro 22:12 Yahweh's eyes protect knowledge, but he confounds deceitful speeches.

Pro 22:13 'There is a lion outside,' says the idler, 'I shall be killed in the street!'

Pro 22:14 The mouth of an adulterous woman is a deep pit, into it falls the man whom Yahweh rebukes.

Pro 22:15 Folly is anchored in the heart of a youth, the whip of instruction will rid him of it.

Pro 22:16 Harsh treatment enriches the poor, but a gift impoverishes the rich.

Pro 22:17 Give ear, listen to the sayings of the sages, and apply your heart to what I know,

Pro 22:18 for it will be a delight to keep them deep within you to have them all ready on your lips.

Pro 22:19 So that your trust may be in Yahweh, it is you whom I wish to instruct today.

Pro 22:20 Have I not written for you thirty chapters of advice and knowledge,

Pro 22:21 to make you know the certainty of true sayings, so that you can return with sound answers to those who sent you?

Pro 22:22 Do not despoil the weak, for he is weak, and do not oppress the poor at the gate,

Pro 22:23 for Yahweh takes up their cause, and extorts the life of their extortioners.

Pro 22:24 Do not make friends with one who gives way to anger, make no one quick-tempered a companion of yours,

Pro 22:25 for fear you learn such behaviour and in it find a snare for yourself.

Pro 22:26 Do not be one of those who go guarantor, who go surety for debts:

Pro 22:27 if you have no means of paying your debt will be taken from under you.

Pro 22:28 Do not displace the ancient boundary-stone set by your ancestors.

Pro 22:29 You see someone alert at his business? His aim will be to serve kings; not for him the service of the obscure.

Pro 23:1 If you take your seat at a great man's table, take careful note of what you have before you;

Pro 23:2 if you have a big appetite put a knife to your throat.

Pro 23:3 Do not hanker for his delicacies, for they are deceptive food.

Pro 23:4 Do not wear yourself out in quest of wealth, stop applying your mind to this.

Pro 23:5 Fix your gaze on it, and it is there no longer, for it is able to sprout wings like an eagle that flies off to the sky.

Pro 23:6 Do not eat the food of anyone whose eye is jealous, do not hanker for his delicacies.
Pro 23:7 For what he is really thinking about is himself: 'Eat and drink,' he tells you, but his heart is not with you.
Pro 23:8 You will spit out whatever you have eaten and find your compliments wasted.
Pro 23:9 Do not waste words on a fool, who will not appreciate the shrewdness of your remarks.
Pro 23:10 Do not displace the ancient boundary-stone, or encroach on orphans' lands,
Pro 23:11 for they have a powerful avenger, and he will take up their cause against you.
Pro 23:12 Apply your heart to discipline, and your ears to instructive sayings.
Pro 23:13 Do not be chary of correcting a child, a stroke of the cane is not likely to be fatal.
Pro 23:14 Give him a stroke of the cane, you will save his soul from Sheol.
Pro 23:15 My child, if your heart is wise, then my own heart is glad,
Pro 23:16 and my inmost self rejoices when from your lips come honest words.
Pro 23:17 Do not let your heart be envious of sinners but remain steady every day in the fear of Yahweh;
Pro 23:18 for there is a future, and your hope will not come to nothing.
Pro 23:19 Listen, my child, and be wise, and guide your heart in the way.
Pro 23:20 Do not be one of those forever tippling wine nor one of those who gorge themselves with meat;
Pro 23:21 for the drunkard and glutton impoverish themselves, and sleepiness is clothed in rags.
Pro 23:22 Listen to your father from whom you are sprung, do not despise your mother in her old age.
Pro 23:23 Purchase truth -- never sell it-wisdom, discipline, and discernment.
Pro 23:24 The father of the upright will rejoice indeed, he who fathers a wise child will have joy of it.
Pro 23:25 Your father and mother will be happy, and she who bore you joyful.
Pro 23:26 My child, pay attention to me, let your eyes take pleasure in my way:
Pro 23:27 a prostitute is a deep pit, a narrow well, the woman who belongs to another.
Pro 23:28 Yes, like a brigand, she lies in wait, increasing the number of law-breakers.
Pro 23:29 For whom is pity, for whom contempt, for whom is strife, for whom complaint, for whom blows struck at random, for whom the clouded eye?
Pro 23:30 For those who linger over wine too long, ever on the look-out for the blended liquors.
Pro 23:31 Do not gaze at wine, how red it is, how it sparkles in the cup! How smoothly it slips down the throat!
Pro 23:32 In the end its bite is like a serpent's, its sting as sharp as an adder's.
Pro 23:33 Your eyes will see peculiar things, you will talk nonsense from your heart.
Pro 23:34 You will be like someone sleeping in mid-ocean, like one asleep at the mast-head.
Pro 23:35 'Struck me, have they? But I'm not hurt. Beaten me? I don't feel anything. When shall I wake up? . . I'll ask for more of it!'
Pro 24:1 Do not be envious of the wicked or wish for their company,
Pro 24:2 for their hearts are scheming violence, their lips talking mischief.
Pro 24:3 By wisdom a house is built, by understanding it is made strong;
Pro 24:4 by knowledge its storerooms are filled with riches of every kind, rare and desirable.
Pro 24:5 The wise is mighty in power, strength is reinforced by science;
Pro 24:6 for it is by strategy that you wage war, and victory depends on having many counsellors.
Pro 24:7 For a fool wisdom is an inaccessible fortress: at the city gate he does not open his mouth.
Pro 24:8 Anyone intent on evil-doing is known as a master in cunning.
Pro 24:9 Folly dreams of nothing but sin, the mocker is abhorrent.
Pro 24:10 If you lose heart when things go wrong, your strength is not worth much.
Pro 24:11 Save those being dragged towards death, but can you rescue those on their way to execution?
Pro 24:12 If you say, 'But look, we did not know,' will the Weigher of the heart pay no attention? Will not the Guardian of your soul be aware and repay you as your deeds deserve?
Pro 24:13 Eat honey, my child, since it is good; honey that drips from the comb is sweet to the taste:
Pro 24:14 and so, for sure, will wisdom be to your soul: find it and you will have a future and your hope will not be cut short.
Pro 24:15 Do not lurk, wicked man, round the upright man's dwelling, do not despoil his house.
Pro 24:16 For though the upright falls seven times, he gets up again; the wicked are the ones who stumble in adversity.
Pro 24:17 Should your enemy fall, do not rejoice, when he stumbles do not let your heart exult:
Pro 24:18 for fear that Yahweh will be displeased at the sight and turn his anger away from him.
Pro 24:19 Do not be indignant about the wicked, do not be envious of the evil,
Pro 24:20 for there is no future for the evil, the lamp of the wicked will go out.
Pro 24:21 Fear Yahweh, my child, and fear the king; do not ally yourself with innovators;
Pro 24:22 for suddenly disaster will loom for them, and who knows what ruin will seize them and their friends?
Pro 24:23 The following are also taken from the sages: To show partiality in judgement is not good.
Pro 24:24 Whoever tells the wicked, 'You are upright,' peoples curse him, nations revile him;

Pro 24:25 but those who correct him, come out of it well, on them will come a happy blessing.

Pro 24:26 Whoever returns an honest answer, plants a kiss on the lips.

Pro 24:27 Plan what you want on the open ground, make your preparation in the field; then go and build your house.

Pro 24:28 Do not bear witness lightly against your neighbour, nor deceive with your lips.

Pro 24:29 Do not say, 'I will treat my neighbour as my neighbour treated me; I will repay everyone what each has earned.'

Pro 24:30 By the idler's field I was passing, by the vineyard of a man who had no sense,

Pro 24:31 there it all lay, deep in thorns, entirely overgrown with weeds, and its stone wall broken down.

Pro 24:32 And as I gazed I pondered, I drew this lesson from the sight,

Pro 24:33 'A little sleep, a little drowsiness, a little folding of the arms to lie back

Pro 24:34 and poverty comes like a vagrant, and, like a beggar, dearth.'

Pro 25:1 Here are some more of Solomon's proverbs, transcribed at the court of Hezekiah king of Judah:

Pro 25:2 To conceal a matter, this is the glory of God, to sift it thoroughly, the glory of kings.

Pro 25:3 The heavens for height and the earth for depth, unfathomable, as are the hearts of kings.

Pro 25:4 From silver remove the dross and it emerges wholly purified;

Pro 25:5 from the king's presence remove the wicked and on uprightness his throne is founded.

Pro 25:6 In the presence of the king do not give yourself airs, do not take a place among the great;

Pro 25:7 better to be invited, 'Come up here', than be humiliated in the presence of the prince.

Pro 25:8 What your eyes have witnessed do not produce too quickly at the trial, for what are you to do at the end should your neighbour confute you?

Pro 25:9 Have the quarrel out with your neighbour, but do not disclose another's secret,

Pro 25:10 for fear your listener put you to shame, and the loss of repute be irremediable.

Pro 25:11 Like apples of gold inlaid with silver is a word that is aptly spoken.

Pro 25:12 A golden ring, an ornament of finest gold, is a wise rebuke to an attentive ear.

Pro 25:13 The coolness of snow in harvest time, such is a trustworthy messenger to those who send him: he revives the soul of his master.

Pro 25:14 Clouds and wind, but no rain: such is anyone whose promises are princely but never kept.

Pro 25:15 With patience a judge may be cajoled: a soft tongue breaks bones.

Pro 25:16 Eat to your satisfaction what honey you may find, but not to excess or you will bring it up again.

Pro 25:17 Do not set foot too often in your neighbour's house, for fear the neighbour tire of you and come to hate you.

Pro 25:18 A mace, a sword, a piercing arrow, such is anyone who bears false witness against a companion.

Pro 25:19 Decaying tooth, lame foot, such is the fickle when trusted in time of trouble:

Pro 25:20 as well take off your coat in bitter weather. You are pouring vinegar on a wound when you sing songs to a sorrowing heart.

Pro 25:21 If your enemy is hungry, give him something to eat; if thirsty, something to drink.

Pro 25:22 By this you will be heaping red-hot coals on his head, and Yahweh will reward you.

Pro 25:23 The north wind begets the rain, and a backbiting tongue, black looks.

Pro 25:24 Better the corner of a roof to live on than a house shared with a quarrelsome woman.

Pro 25:25 Cold water to a thirsty throat; such is good news from a distant land.

Pro 25:26 A churned -- up spring, a fountain fouled; such is the upright person trembling before the wicked.

Pro 25:27 It is not good to eat too much honey, nor to seek for glory on top of glory.

Pro 25:28 An open town, and without defences: such is anyone who lacks self-control.

Pro 26:1 Snow no more befits the summer, nor rain the harvest-time, than honours befit a fool.

Pro 26:2 As the sparrow escapes, and the swallow flies away, so the undeserved curse will never hit its mark.

Pro 26:3 A whip for the horse, a bridle for the donkey, and for the backs of fools, a stick.

Pro 26:4 Do not answer a fool in the terms of his folly for fear you grow like him yourself.

Pro 26:5 Answer a fool in the terms of his folly for fear he imagine himself wise.

Pro 26:6 He wounds himself, he takes violence for his drink, who sends a message by a fool.

Pro 26:7 Unreliable as the legs of the lame, so is a proverb in the mouth of fools.

Pro 26:8 As well tie the stone to the sling as pay honour to a fool.

Pro 26:9 A thorn branch in a drunkard's hand, such is a proverb in the mouth of fools.

Pro 26:10 An archer wounding everyone, such is he who hires the passing fool and drunkard.

Pro 26:11 As a dog returns to its vomit, so a fool reverts to his folly.

Pro 26:12 You see someone who thinks himself wise? More to be hoped for from a fool than from him!

Pro 26:13 'A wild beast on the road!' says the idler, 'a lion in the streets!'

Pro 26:14 The door turns on its hinges, the idler on his bed.

Pro 26:15 Into the dish the idler dips his hand, but is too tired to bring it back to his mouth.

- Pro 26:16 The idler thinks himself wiser than seven people who answer with discretion.
- Pro 26:17 He takes a stray dog by the ears, who meddles in someone else's quarrel.
- Pro 26:18 Like a madman hurling firebrands, arrows and death,
- Pro 26:19 so is anyone who lies to a companion and then says, 'Aren't I amusing?'
- Pro 26:20 No wood, and the fire goes out; no slanderer, and quarrelling dies down.
- Pro 26:21 Charcoal for live embers, wood for fire, and the quarrelsome for kindling strife.
- Pro 26:22 The words of a slanderer are tasty morsels that go right down into the belly.
- Pro 26:23 Base silver-plate on top of clay: such are fervent lips and a wicked heart.
- Pro 26:24 Whoever hates may hide it in speech, but deep within lies treachery;
- Pro 26:25 do not trust such a person's pretty speeches, since in the heart lurk seven abominations.
- Pro 26:26 Hatred may disguise itself with guile, to reveal its wickedness later in the assembly.
- Pro 26:27 Whoever digs a pit falls into it, the stone comes back on him that rolls it.
- Pro 26:28 The lying tongue hates its victims, the wheedling mouth causes ruin.
- Pro 27:1 Do not congratulate yourself about tomorrow, since you do not know what today will bring forth.
- Pro 27:2 Let someone else sing your praises, but not your own mouth, a stranger, but not your own lips.
- Pro 27:3 Heavy is the stone, weighty is the sand; heavier than both -- a grudge borne by a fool.
- Pro 27:4 Cruel is wrath, overwhelming is anger; but jealousy, who can withstand that?
- Pro 27:5 Better open reproof than feigned love.
- Pro 27:6 Trustworthy are blows from a friend, deceitful are kisses from a foe.
- Pro 27:7 The gorged throat revolts at honey, the hungry throat finds all bitterness sweet.
- Pro 27:8 Like a bird that strays from its nest, so is anyone who strays away from home.
- Pro 27:9 Oil and perfume gladden the heart, and the sweetness of friendship rather than self-reliance.
- Pro 27:10 Do not give up your friend or your father's friend; when trouble comes, do not go off to your brother's house, better a near neighbour than a distant brother.
- Pro 27:11 Learn to be wise, my child, and gladden my heart, that I may have an answer for anyone who insults me.
- Pro 27:12 The discreet sees danger and takes shelter, simpletons go ahead and pay the penalty.
- Pro 27:13 Take the man's clothes! He has gone surety for a stranger. Take a pledge from him, for persons unknown.
- Pro 27:14 Whoever at dawn loudly blesses his neighbour -- it will be reckoned to him as a curse.
- Pro 27:15 The dripping of a gutter on a rainy day and a quarrelsome woman are alike;
- Pro 27:16 whoever can restrain her, can restrain the wind, and take a firm hold on grease.
- Pro 27:17 Iron is sharpened by iron, one person is sharpened by contact with another.
- Pro 27:18 Whoever tends the fig tree eats its figs, whoever looks after his master will be honoured.
- Pro 27:19 As water reflects face back to face, so one human heart reflects another.
- Pro 27:20 Sheol and Perdition are never satisfied, insatiable, too, are human eyes.
- Pro 27:21 A furnace for silver, a foundry for gold: a person is worth what his reputation is worth.
- Pro 27:22 Pound a fool in a mortar, among grain with a pestle, his folly will not leave him.
- Pro 27:23 Know your flocks' condition well, take good care of your herds;
- Pro 27:24 for riches do not last for ever, crowns do not hand themselves on from age to age.
- Pro 27:25 The grass once gone, the aftergrowth appearing, the hay gathered in from the mountains,
- Pro 27:26 you should have lambs to clothe you, goats to buy you a field,
- Pro 27:27 goat's milk sufficient to feed you, to feed your household and provide for your serving girls.
- Pro 28:1 The wicked flees when no one is pursuing, the upright is bold as a lion.
- Pro 28:2 A country in revolt throws up many leaders: with one person wise and experienced, you have stability.
- Pro 28:3 The wicked oppresses the weak: here is a devastating rain -- and farewell, bread!
- Pro 28:4 Those who forsake the law sing the praises of the wicked, those who observe the law are angered by them.
- Pro 28:5 The wicked do not know what justice means, those who seek Yahweh understand everything.
- Pro 28:6 Better someone poor living an honest life than someone of devious ways however rich.
- Pro 28:7 An intelligent child is one who keeps the Law; an associate of profligates brings shame on his father.
- Pro 28:8 Whoever increases wealth by usury and interest amasses it for someone else who will bestow it on the poor.
- Pro 28:9 Whoever refuses to listen to the Law, such a one's very prayer is an abomination.
- Pro 28:10 Whoever seduces the honest to evil ways will fall into his own pit. The blameless are the heirs to happiness.
- Pro 28:11 The rich may think himself wise, but the intelligent poor will unmask him.
- Pro 28:12 When the upright triumph, there is great exultation: when the wicked are in the ascendant, people take cover.

- Pro 28:13 No one who conceals his sins will prosper, whoever confesses and renounces them will find mercy.
- Pro 28:14 Blessed the person who is never without fear, whoever hardens his heart will fall into distress.
- Pro 28:15 Like a roaring lion or a springing bear is a wicked ruler of a powerless people.
- Pro 28:16 An unenlightened ruler is rich in rapacity, one who hates greed will lengthen his days.
- Pro 28:17 A man guilty of murder will flee till he reaches his tomb: let no one halt him!
- Pro 28:18 Whoever lives an honest life will be safe, whoever wavers between two ways falls down in one of them.
- Pro 28:19 Whoever works his land shall have bread and to spare, but no one who chases fantasies has any sense.
- Pro 28:20 A trustworthy person will be overwhelmed with blessings, but no one who tries to get rich quickly will go unpunished.
- Pro 28:21 It is not good to show partiality, but people will do wrong for a mouthful of bread.
- Pro 28:22 The person of greedy eye chases after wealth, not knowing that want will be the result.
- Pro 28:23 Anyone who reproves another will enjoy more favour in the end than the flatterer.
- Pro 28:24 Whoever robs father and mother saying, 'Nothing wrong in that!' is comrade for a brigand.
- Pro 28:25 The covetous provokes disputes, whoever trusts in Yahweh will prosper.
- Pro 28:26 Whoever trusts his own wit is a fool, anyone whose ways are wise will be safe.
- Pro 28:27 No one who gives to the poor will ever go short, but whoever closes his eyes will have curses in plenty.
- Pro 28:28 When the wicked are in the ascendant, people take cover, but when they perish, the upright multiply.
- Pro 29:1 Whoever is stiff-necked under reproof will be suddenly and irremediably broken.
- Pro 29:2 When the upright are on the increase, the people rejoice; when the wicked are in power, the people groan.
- Pro 29:3 The lover of Wisdom makes his father glad, but the patron of prostitutes fritters his wealth away.
- Pro 29:4 A king gives a country stability by justice, an extortioner brings it to ruin.
- Pro 29:5 Whoever flatters his companion spreads a net for his feet.
- Pro 29:6 In the sin of the wicked lies a snare, but the upright exults and rejoices.
- Pro 29:7 The upright understands the cause of the weak, the wicked has not the wit to understand it.
- Pro 29:8 Scoffers set a city in ferment, but the wise moderate anger.
- Pro 29:9 Let someone wise argue with a fool, anger and good humour alike will be wasted.
- Pro 29:10 The bloodthirsty hate the honest, but the upright seek them out.
- Pro 29:11 The fool blurts out every angry feeling, but the wise subdues and restrains them.
- Pro 29:12 When a ruler listens to false reports, all his ministers will be scoundrels.
- Pro 29:13 Poor and oppressor are found together, Yahweh gives light to the eyes of both.
- Pro 29:14 The king who judges the weak with equity sees his throne set firm for ever.
- Pro 29:15 The stick and the reprimand bestow wisdom, a young man left to himself brings shame on his mother.
- Pro 29:16 When the wicked are on the increase, sin multiplies, but the upright will witness their downfall.
- Pro 29:17 Correct your child, and he will give you peace of mind; he will delight your soul.
- Pro 29:18 Where there is no vision the people get out of hand; happy are they who keep the law.
- Pro 29:19 Not by words is a slave corrected: even if he understands, he will take no notice.
- Pro 29:20 You see someone too ready of speech? There is more to be hoped for from a fool!
- Pro 29:21 If a slave is pampered from childhood, he will prove ungrateful in the end.
- Pro 29:22 The hot-head provokes disputes, someone in a rage commits all sorts of sins.
- Pro 29:23 Pride brings humiliation, whoever humbles himself will win honour.
- Pro 29:24 To hear the curse and disclose nothing is to share with the thief and to hate oneself.
- Pro 29:25 To be afraid of human beings is a snare, whoever trusts in Yahweh is secure.
- Pro 29:26 Many people seek a ruler's favour, but the rights of each come from Yahweh.
- Pro 29:27 Abhorrent to the upright is the sinful, abhorrent to the wicked is one whose way is straight.
- Pro 30:1 The sayings of Agur son of Jakeh, of Massa. Prophecy of this man for Ithiel, for Ithiel and for Ucal.
- Pro 30:2 I am myself the stupidest of people, bereft of human intelligence,
- Pro 30:3 I have not learnt wisdom, and I lack the knowledge of the holy ones.
- Pro 30:4 Who has mounted to the heavens, then come down again? Who has gathered the wind in the clasp of his hand? Who has wrapped the waters in his cloak? Who has set all the ends of the earth firm? What is his name? What is his child's name? Do you know?
- Pro 30:5 Every word of God is unalloyed, a shield to those who take refuge in him.
- Pro 30:6 To his words make no addition, lest he reprove you and account you a liar.
- Pro 30:7 Two things I beg of you, do not grudge me them before I die:
- Pro 30:8 keep falsehood and lies far from me, give me neither poverty nor riches, grant me only my share of food,

Pro 30:9 for fear that, surrounded by plenty, I should fall away and say, 'Yahweh-who is Yahweh?' or else, in destitution, take to stealing and profane the name of my God.

Pro 30:10 Do not blacken a slave's name to his master, lest he curse you, and you suffer for it.

Pro 30:11 There is a breed of person that curses his father and does not bless his mother;

Pro 30:12 a breed that, laying claim to purity, has not yet been cleansed of its filth;

Pro 30:13 a breed haughty of eye, with disdain in every glance;

Pro 30:14 a breed with swords for teeth, with knives for jaws, devouring the oppressed from the earth and the needy from the land.

Pro 30:15 The leech has two daughters: 'Give! Give!' There are three insatiable things, four, indeed, that never say, 'Enough!'

Pro 30:16 Sheol, the barren womb, earth which can never have its fill of water, fire which never says, 'Enough!'

Pro 30:17 The eye which looks jeeringly on a father, and scorns the obedience due to a mother, will be pecked out by the ravens of the valley, and eaten by the vultures.

Pro 30:18 There are three things beyond my comprehension, four, indeed, that I do not understand:

Pro 30:19 the way of an eagle through the skies, the way of a snake over the rock, the way of a ship in mid-ocean, the way of a man with a girl.

Pro 30:20 This is how an adulteress behaves: she eats, then wipes her mouth and says, 'I have done nothing wrong!'

Pro 30:21 There are three things at which the earth trembles, four, indeed, which it cannot endure:

Pro 30:22 a slave become king, a brute gorged with food,

Pro 30:23 a hateful woman wed at last, a servant girl inheriting from her mistress.

Pro 30:24 There are four creatures little on the earth, though they are wisest of the wise:

Pro 30:25 ants, a race with no strength, yet in the summer they make sure of their food;

Pro 30:26 the coneys, a race without defences, yet they make their home in the rocks;

Pro 30:27 locusts, which have no king, yet they all march in good order;

Pro 30:28 lizards, which you can catch in your hand, yet they frequent the palaces of kings.

Pro 30:29 There are three things of stately tread, four, indeed, of stately walk:

Pro 30:30 the lion, bravest of beasts, he will draw back from nothing;

Pro 30:31 a vigorous cock, a he-goat, and the king when he harangues his people.

Pro 30:32 If you have been foolish enough to fly into a passion and now have second thoughts, lay your hand on your lips.

Pro 30:33 For by churning the milk you produce butter, by wringing the nose you produce blood, and by whipping up anger you produce strife.

Pro 31:1 The sayings of Lemuel king of Massa, taught him by his mother:

Pro 31:2 What, my son! What, son of my womb! What, son of my vows!

Pro 31:3 Do not expend your energy on women nor your wealth on those who ruin kings.

Pro 31:4 Not for kings, O Lemuel, not for kings the drinking of wine, not for princes the love of liquor,

Pro 31:5 for fear that in liquor they forget what they have decreed and pervert the course of justice against all the poor.

Pro 31:6 Procure strong drink for someone about to die, wine for him whose heart is heavy:

Pro 31:7 let him drink and forget his misfortune, and remember his misery no more.

Pro 31:8 Make your views heard, on behalf of the dumb, on behalf of all the unwanted;

Pro 31:9 make your views heard, pronounce an upright verdict, defend the cause of the poor and the wretched.

Pro 31:10 The truly capable woman -- who can find her? She is far beyond the price of pearls.

Pro 31:11 Her husband's heart has confidence in her, from her he will derive no little profit.

Pro 31:12 Advantage and not hurt she brings him all the days of her life.

Pro 31:13 She selects wool and flax, she does her work with eager hands.

Pro 31:14 She is like those merchant vessels, bringing her food from far away.

Pro 31:15 She gets up while it is still dark giving her household their food, giving orders to her serving girls.

Pro 31:16 She sets her mind on a field, then she buys it; with what her hands have earned she plants a vineyard.

Pro 31:17 She puts her back into her work and shows how strong her arms can be.

Pro 31:18 She knows that her affairs are going well; her lamp does not go out at night.

Pro 31:19 She sets her hands to the distaff, her fingers grasp the spindle.

Pro 31:20 She holds out her hands to the poor, she opens her arms to the needy.

Pro 31:21 Snow may come, she has no fears for her household, with all her servants warmly clothed.

Pro 31:22 She makes her own quilts, she is dressed in fine linen and purple.

Pro 31:23 Her husband is respected at the city gates, taking his seat among the elders of the land.

Pro 31:24 She weaves materials and sells them, she supplies the merchant with sashes.

Pro 31:25 She is clothed in strength and dignity, she can laugh at the day to come.
Pro 31:26 When she opens her mouth, she does so wisely; on her tongue is kindly instruction.
Pro 31:27 She keeps good watch on the conduct of her household, no bread of idleness for her.
Pro 31:28 Her children stand up and proclaim her blessed, her husband, too, sings her praises:
Pro 31:29 'Many women have done admirable things, but you surpass them all!'
Pro 31:30 Charm is deceitful, and beauty empty; the woman who fears Yahweh is the one to praise.
Pro 31:31 Give her a share in what her hands have worked for, and let her works tell her praises at the city gates.

Ecc 1:1 Composition of Qoheleth son of David, king in Jerusalem.
Ecc 1:2 Sheer futility, Qoheleth says. Sheer futility: everything is futile!
Ecc 1:3 What profit can we show for all our toil, toiling under the sun?
Ecc 1:4 A generation goes, a generation comes, yet the earth stands firm for ever.
Ecc 1:5 The sun rises, the sun sets; then to its place it speeds and there it rises.
Ecc 1:6 Southward goes the wind, then turns to the north; it turns and turns again; then back to its circling goes the wind.
Ecc 1:7 Into the sea go all the rivers, and yet the sea is never filled, and still to their goal the rivers go.
Ecc 1:8 All things are wearisome. No one can say that eyes have not had enough of seeing, ears their fill of hearing.
Ecc 1:9 What was, will be again, what has been done, will be done again, and there is nothing new under the sun!
Ecc 1:10 Take anything which people acclaim as being new: it existed in the centuries preceding us.
Ecc 1:11 No memory remains of the past, and so it will be for the centuries to come -- they will not be remembered by their successors.
Ecc 1:12 I, Qoheleth, have reigned over Israel in Jerusalem.
Ecc 1:13 Wisely I have applied myself to investigation and exploration of everything that happens under heaven. What a wearisome task God has given humanity to keep us busy!
Ecc 1:14 I have seen everything that is done under the sun: how futile it all is, mere chasing after the wind!
Ecc 1:15 What is twisted cannot be straightened, what is not there cannot be counted.
Ecc 1:16 I thought to myself: I have acquired a greater stock of wisdom than anyone before me in Jerusalem. I myself have mastered every kind of wisdom and science.
Ecc 1:17 I have applied myself to understanding philosophy and science, stupidity and folly, and I now realise that all this too is chasing after the wind.
Ecc 1:18 Much wisdom, much grief; the more knowledge, the more sorrow.
Ecc 2:1 I thought to myself, 'Very well, I will try pleasure and see what enjoyment has to offer.' And this was futile too.
Ecc 2:2 This laughter, I reflected, is a madness, this pleasure no use at all.
Ecc 2:3 I decided to hand my body over to drinking wine, my mind still guiding me in wisdom; I resolved to embrace folly, to discover the best way for people to spend their days under the sun.
Ecc 2:4 I worked on a grand scale: built myself palaces, planted vineyards;
Ecc 2:5 made myself gardens and orchards, planting every kind of fruit tree in them;
Ecc 2:6 had pools made for watering the young trees of my plantations.
Ecc 2:7 I bought slaves, male and female, had home-born slaves as well; herds and flocks I had too, more than anyone in Jerusalem before me.
Ecc 2:8 I amassed silver and gold, the treasures of kings and provinces; acquired singers, men and women, and every human luxury, chest upon chest of it.
Ecc 2:9 So I grew great, greater than anyone in Jerusalem before me; nor did my wisdom leave me.
Ecc 2:10 I denied my eyes nothing that they desired, refused my heart no pleasure, for I found all my hard work a pleasure, such was the return for all my efforts.
Ecc 2:11 I then reflected on all that my hands had achieved and all the effort I had put into its achieving. What futility it all was, what chasing after the wind! There is nothing to be gained under the sun.
Ecc 2:12 My reflections then turned to wisdom, stupidity and folly. For instance, what can the successor of a king do? What has been done already.
Ecc 2:13 More is to be gained from wisdom than from folly, just as one gains more from light than from darkness; this, of course, I see:
Ecc 2:14 The wise have their eyes open, the fool walks in the dark. No doubt! But I know, too, that one fate awaits them both.
Ecc 2:15 'Since the fool's fate', I thought to myself, 'will be my fate too, what is the point of my having been wise?' I realised that this too is futile.
Ecc 2:16 For there is no lasting memory for the wise or the fool, and in the days to come both will be forgotten; the wise, no less than the fool, must die.

Ecc 2:17 Life I have come to hate, for what is done under the sun disgusts me, since all is futility and chasing after the wind.

Ecc 2:18 All I have toiled for under the sun and now bequeath to my successor I have come to hate;

Ecc 2:19 who knows whether he will be wise or a fool? Yet he will be master of all the work into which I have put my efforts and wisdom under the sun. That is futile too.

Ecc 2:20 I have come to despair of all the efforts I have expended under the sun.

Ecc 2:21 For here is one who has laboured wisely, skilfully and successfully and must leave what is his own to someone who has not toiled for it at all. This is futile too, and grossly unjust;

Ecc 2:22 for what does he gain for all the toil and strain that he has undergone under the sun-

Ecc 2:23 since his days are full of sorrow, his work is full of stress and even at night he has no peace of mind? This is futile too.

Ecc 2:24 There is no happiness except in eating and drinking, and in enjoying one's achievements; and I see that this too comes from God's hand;

Ecc 2:25 for who would get anything to eat or drink, unless all this came from him?

Ecc 2:26 Wisdom, knowledge and joy, God gives to those who please him, but on the sinner he lays the task of gathering and storing up for someone else who is pleasing to him. This too is futility and chasing after the wind.

Ecc 3:1 There is a season for everything, a time for every occupation under heaven:

Ecc 3:2 A time for giving birth, a time for dying; a time for planting, a time for uprooting what has been planted.

Ecc 3:3 A time for killing, a time for healing; a time for knocking down, a time for building.

Ecc 3:4 A time for tears, a time for laughter; a time for mourning, a time for dancing.

Ecc 3:5 A time for throwing stones away, a time for gathering them; a time for embracing, a time to refrain from embracing.

Ecc 3:6 A time for searching, a time for losing; a time for keeping, a time for discarding.

Ecc 3:7 A time for tearing, a time for sewing; a time for keeping silent, a time for speaking.

Ecc 3:8 A time for loving, a time for hating; a time for war, a time for peace.

Ecc 3:9 What do people gain from the efforts they make?

Ecc 3:10 I contemplate the task that God gives humanity to labour at.

Ecc 3:11 All that he does is apt for its time; but although he has given us an awareness of the passage of time, we can grasp neither the beginning nor the end of what God does.

Ecc 3:12 I know there is no happiness for a human being except in pleasure and enjoyment through life.

Ecc 3:13 And when we eat and drink and find happiness in all our achievements, this is a gift from God.

Ecc 3:14 I know that whatever God does will be for ever. To this there is nothing to add, from this there is nothing to subtract, and the way God acts inspires dread.

Ecc 3:15 What is, has been already, what will be, is already; God seeks out anyone who is persecuted.

Ecc 3:16 Again I observe under the sun: crime is where justice should be, the criminal is where the upright should be.

Ecc 3:17 And I think to myself: the upright and the criminal will both be judged by God, since there is a time for every thing and every action here.

Ecc 3:18 I think to myself: where human beings are concerned, this is so that God can test them and show them that they are animals.

Ecc 3:19 For the fate of human and the fate of animal is the same: as the one dies, so the other dies; both have the selfsame breath. Human is in no way better off than animal -- since all is futile.

Ecc 3:20 Everything goes to the same place, everything comes from the dust, everything returns to the dust.

Ecc 3:21 Who knows if the human spirit mounts upward or if the animal spirit goes downward to the earth?

Ecc 3:22 I see there is no contentment for a human being except happiness in achievement; such is the lot of a human beings. No one can tell us what will happen after we are gone.

Ecc 4:1 Then again, I contemplate all the oppression that is committed under the sun. Take for instance the tears of the oppressed. No one to comfort them! The power their oppressors wield. No one to comfort them!

Ecc 4:2 So, rather than the living who still have lives to live, I congratulate the dead who have already met death;

Ecc 4:3 happier than both of these are those who are yet unborn and have not seen the evil things that are done under the sun.

Ecc 4:4 I see that all effort and all achievement spring from mutual jealousy. This too is futility and chasing after the wind.

Ecc 4:5 The fool folds his arms and eats his own flesh away.

Ecc 4:6 Better one hand full of repose than two hands full of achievements to chase after the wind.

Ecc 4:7 And something else futile I observe under the sun:

Ecc 4:8 a person is quite alone -- no child, no brother; and yet there is no end to his efforts, his eyes can never have their fill of riches. For whom, then, do I work so hard and grudge myself pleasure? This too is futile, a sorry business.

Ecc 4:9 Better two than one alone, since thus their work is really rewarding.

Ecc 4:10 If one should fall, the other helps him up; but what of the person with no one to help him up when he falls?

Ecc 4:11 Again: if two sleep together they keep warm, but how can anyone keep warm alone?

Ecc 4:12 Where one alone would be overcome, two will put up resistance; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

Ecc 4:13 Better a youngster poor and wise than a monarch old and silly who will no longer take advice-

Ecc 4:14 even though stepping from prison to the throne, even though born a beggar in that kingdom.

Ecc 4:15 I observe that all who live and move under the sun support the young newcomer who takes over.

Ecc 4:16 He takes his place at the head of innumerable subjects; but his successors will not think the more kindly of him for that. This too is futile and chasing after the wind.

Ecc 4:17 Watch your step when you go to the House of God: drawing near to listen is better than the offering of a sacrifice by fools, though they do not know that they are doing wrong.

Ecc 5:1 Be in no hurry to speak; do not hastily declare yourself before God; for God is in heaven, you on earth.

Be sparing, then, of speech:

Ecc 5:2 From too much worrying comes illusion, from too much talking, the accents of folly.

Ecc 5:3 If you make a vow to God, discharge it without delay, for God has no love for fools. Discharge your vow.

Ecc 5:4 Better a vow unmade than made and not discharged.

Ecc 5:5 Do not allow your mouth to make a sinner of you, and do not say to the messenger that it was a mistake. Why give God occasion to be angry with you and ruin all the work that you have done?

Ecc 5:6 From too many illusions come futility and too much talk. Therefore, fear God.

Ecc 5:7 If in a province you see the poor oppressed, fair judgement and justice violated, do not be surprised, for over every official there watches a higher official, and over these, higher officials still.

Ecc 5:8 But what the land yields is for the benefit of all, a king is served by the fields.

Ecc 5:9 No one who loves money ever has enough, no one who loves luxury has any income; this, too, is futile.

Ecc 5:10 Where goods abound, parasites abound: where is the owner's profit, apart from feasting his eyes?

Ecc 5:11 The labourer's sleep is sweet, whether he has eaten little or much, but the surfeit of the rich will not let him sleep at all.

Ecc 5:12 Something grossly unjust I observe under the sun: riches stored and turning to loss for their owner.

Ecc 5:13 An unlucky venture, and those riches are lost; a son is born to him, and he has nothing to leave him.

Ecc 5:14 Naked from his mother's womb he came; as naked as he came will he depart; not one of his achievements can he take with him.

Ecc 5:15 And something else grossly unjust: that as he came, so must he go; what profit can he show after toiling to earn the wind,

Ecc 5:16 as he spends the rest of his days in darkness, mourning, many sorrows, sickness and exasperation.

Ecc 5:17 So my conclusion is this: true happiness lies in eating and drinking and enjoying whatever has been achieved under the sun, throughout the life given by God: for this is the lot of humanity.

Ecc 5:18 And whenever God gives someone riches and property, with the ability to enjoy them and to find contentment in work, this is a gift from God.

Ecc 5:19 For such a person will hardly notice the passing of time, so long as God keeps his heart occupied with joy.

Ecc 6:1 I see another evil under the sun, which goes hard with people:

Ecc 6:2 suppose someone has received from God riches, property, honours -- nothing at all left to wish for; but God does not give the chance to enjoy them, and some stranger enjoys them. This is futile, and grievous suffering too.

Ecc 6:3 Or take someone who has had a hundred children and lived for many years, and, having reached old age, has never enjoyed the good things of life and has not even got a tomb; it seems to me, a still-born child is happier.

Ecc 6:4 In futility it came, into darkness it departs, and in darkness will its name be buried.

Ecc 6:5 It has never so much as seen or known the sun; all the same, it will rest more easily than that person,

Ecc 6:6 who would never have known the good things of life, even by living a thousand years twice over. Do we not all go to the same place in the end?

Ecc 6:7 All toil is for the mouth, yet the appetite is never satisfied.

Ecc 6:8 What advantage has the wise over the fool? And what of the pauper who knows how to behave in society?

Ecc 6:9 Better the object seen than the sting of desire: for the latter too is futile and chasing after the wind.

Ecc 6:10 What has been is already defined -- we know what people are: They cannot bring to justice one who is stronger than themselves.

Ecc 6:11 The more we say, the more futile it is: what good can we derive from it?

Ecc 6:12 And who knows what is best for someone during life, during the days of futile life which are spent like a shadow? Who can tell anyone what will happen after him under the sun?

Ecc 7:1 Better a good name than costly oil, the day of death than the day of birth.

Ecc 7:2 Better go to the house of mourning than to the house of feasting; for to this end everyone comes, let the living take this to heart.

Ecc 7:3 Better sadness than laughter: a joyful heart may be concealed behind sad looks.

Ecc 7:4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, the heart of fools in the house of gaiety.

Ecc 7:5 Better attend to the reprimand of the wise than listen to a song sung by a fool.

Ecc 7:6 For like the crackling of thorns under the cauldron is the laughter of fools: and that too is futile.

Ecc 7:7 But being oppressed drives a sage mad, and a present corrupts the heart.

Ecc 7:8 Better the end of a matter than its beginning, better patience than ambition.

Ecc 7:9 Do not be too easily exasperated, for exasperation dwells in the heart of fools.

Ecc 7:10 Do not ask why the past was better than the present, for this is not a question prompted by wisdom.

Ecc 7:11 Wisdom is as good as a legacy, profitable to those who enjoy the light of the sun.

Ecc 7:12 For as money protects, so does wisdom, and the advantage of knowledge is this: that wisdom bestows life on those who possess her.

Ecc 7:13 Consider God's creation: who, for instance, can straighten what God has bent?

Ecc 7:14 When things are going well, enjoy yourself, and when they are going badly, consider this: God has designed the one no less than the other so that we should take nothing for granted.

Ecc 7:15 In my futile life, I have seen everything: the upright person perishing in uprightness and the wicked person surviving in wickedness.

Ecc 7:16 Do not be upright to excess and do not make yourself unduly wise: why should you destroy yourself?

Ecc 7:17 Do not be wicked to excess, and do not be a fool: why die before your time?

Ecc 7:18 It is wise to hold on to one and not let go of the other, since the godfearing will find both.

Ecc 7:19 Wisdom makes the wise stronger than a dozen governors in a city.

Ecc 7:20 No one on earth is sufficiently upright to do good without ever sinning.

Ecc 7:21 Again, do not listen to all that people say, then you will not hear your servant abusing you.

Ecc 7:22 For often, as you very well know, you have abused others.

Ecc 7:23 Thanks to wisdom, I have found all this to be true; I resolved to be wise, but this was beyond my reach!

Ecc 7:24 The past is out of reach, buried deep -- who can discover it?

Ecc 7:25 But I have reached the point where, having learnt, explored and investigated wisdom and reflection, I recognise evil as being a form of madness, and folly as something stupid.

Ecc 7:26 And I find woman more bitter than Death, she is a snare, her heart is a net, and her arms are chains. The man who is pleasing to God eludes her, but the sinner is captured by her.

Ecc 7:27 This is what I think, says Qoheleth, having examined one thing after another to draw some conclusion,

Ecc 7:28 which I am still looking for, although unsuccessfully: one man in a thousand, I may find, but a woman better than other women-never.

Ecc 7:29 This alone is my conclusion: God has created man straightforward, and human artifices are human inventions.

Ecc 8:1 Who compares with the sage? Who else knows how to explain things? Wisdom lights up the face, enlivening a grim expression.

Ecc 8:2 Obey the king's command and, because of the divine promise,

Ecc 8:3 be in no hurry to depart from it; do not be obstinate in a bad cause, since the king will do as he likes in any case.

Ecc 8:4 Since the word of a king is sovereign, what is the point of saying, 'Why do that?'

Ecc 8:5 One who obeys the command will come to no harm; the heart of the sage knows the right moment and verdict,

Ecc 8:6 for there is a right moment and verdict for everything; but misfortune lies heavy upon anyone

Ecc 8:7 who does not know what the outcome will be, no one is going to say how things will turn out.

Ecc 8:8 No one can control the wind and stop it from blowing, no one can control the day of death. From war there is no escape, no more can wickedness save the person who commits it.

Ecc 8:9 I have seen all this to be so, having carefully studied everything taking place under the sun, while one person tyrannises over another to the former's detriment.

Ecc 8:10 And again, I have observed the wicked carried to their graves, and people leaving the holy place and, once out in the city, forgetting how the wicked used to behave; how futile this is too!

Ecc 8:11 Because the sentence on the evil-doer is not carried out on the instant, people's hearts are full of desire to do wrong.

Ecc 8:12 The sinner who does wrong a hundred times lives on. But this too I know, that there is good in store for people who fear God, because they fear him,

Ecc 8:13 but there is no good in store for the wicked because he does not fear God, and so, like a shadow, he will not prolong his days.

Ecc 8:14 Another futile thing that happens on earth: upright people being treated as though they were wicked and wicked people being treated as though they were upright. To me this is one more example of futility.

Ecc 8:15 And therefore I praise joy, since human happiness lies only in eating and drinking and in taking pleasure; this comes from what someone achieves during the days of life that God gives under the sun.

Ecc 8:16 Having applied myself to acquiring wisdom and to observing the activity taking place in the world -- for day and night our eyes enjoy no rest-

Ecc 8:17 I have scrutinised God's whole creation: you cannot get to the bottom of everything taking place under the sun; you may wear yourself out in the search, but you will never find it. Not even a sage can get to the bottom of it, even if he says that he has done so.

Ecc 9:1 Yes, I have applied myself to all this and experienced all this to be so: that is to say, that the upright and the wise, with their activities, are in the hands of God. We do not understand either love or hate, where we are concerned, both of them are Ecc 9:2 futile. And for all of us is reserved a common fate, for the upright and for the wicked, for the good and for the bad; whether we are ritually pure or not, whether we offer sacrifice or not: it is the same for the good and for the sinner, for someone who takes a vow, as for someone who fears to do so.

Ecc 9:3 This is another evil among those occurring under the sun: that there should be the same fate for everyone. The human heart, however, is full of wickedness; folly lurks in our hearts throughout our lives, until we end among the dead.

Ecc 9:4 But there is hope for someone still linked to the rest of the living: better be a live dog than a dead lion.

Ecc 9:5 The living are at least aware that they are going to die, but the dead know nothing whatever. No more wages for them, since their memory is forgotten.

Ecc 9:6 Their love, their hate, their jealousy, have perished long since, and they will never have any further part in what goes on under the sun.

Ecc 9:7 So, eat your bread in joy, drink your wine with a glad heart, since God has already approved your actions.

Ecc 9:8 At all times, dress in white and keep your head well scented.

Ecc 9:9 Spend your life with the woman you love, all the days of futile life God gives you under the sun, throughout your futile days, since this is your lot in life and in the effort you expend under the sun.

Ecc 9:10 Whatever work you find to do, do it with all your might, for there is neither achievement, nor planning, nor science, nor wisdom in Sheol where you are going.

Ecc 9:11 Another thing I have observed under the sun: that the race is not won by the speediest, nor the battle by the champions; it is not the wise who get food, nor the intelligent wealth, nor the learned favour: chance and mischance befall them all.

Ecc 9:12 We do not know when our time will come: like fish caught in the treacherous net, like birds caught in the snare, just so are we all trapped by misfortune when it suddenly overtakes us.

Ecc 9:13 Here is another example of the wisdom I have acquired under the sun and it strikes me as important:

Ecc 9:14 There was once a small town, with only a few inhabitants; a mighty king made war on it, laying siege to it and building great siege-works round it.

Ecc 9:15 But there was in that town a poverty-stricken sage who by his wisdom saved the town. No one remembered this poor man afterwards.

Ecc 9:16 So I say: Wisdom is more effective than brute force, but the wisdom of a poor man is not valued: no one listens to what he has to say.

Ecc 9:17 The calm words of the wise make themselves heard above the shouts of someone commanding an army of fools.

Ecc 9:18 Wisdom is worth more than weapons of war, but a single sin undoes a deal of good.

Ecc 10:1 One dead fly can spoil the scent-maker's oil: a grain of stupidity outweighs wisdom and glory.

Ecc 10:2 The sage's heart leads him aright, the fool's leads him astray.

Ecc 10:3 A fool walks down the road, he has no wit -- and everyone remarks, 'How silly he is!'

Ecc 10:4 If the anger of the ruler rises against you, do not leave your post; composure mitigates grave offences.

Ecc 10:5 One evil I observe under the sun: the sort of misjudgement to which rulers are prone-

Ecc 10:6 folly promoted to the top and the rich taking the lowest place.

Ecc 10:7 I see slaves riding on horses and princes on foot like slaves.

Ecc 10:8 He who digs a pit falls into it, he who undermines a wall gets bitten by a snake,

Ecc 10:9 he who quarries stones gets hurt by them, he who chops wood takes a risk from it.

Ecc 10:10 If, for want of sharpening, the blade is blunt, you have to work twice as hard; but it is the outcome that makes wisdom rewarding.

Ecc 10:11 If, for want of charming, the snake bites, the snake-charmer gets nothing out of it.

Ecc 10:12 The sayings of a sage give pleasure, what a fool says procures his own ruin:

Ecc 10:13 his words have their origin in stupidity and their ending in treacherous folly.

Ecc 10:14 A fool talks a great deal, but none of us in fact can tell the future; what will happen after us, who can tell?

Ecc 10:15 A fool finds hard work very tiring, he cannot even find his own way into town.

Ecc 10:16 Woe to you, country with a lad for king, and where princes start feasting in the morning!

Ecc 10:17 Happy the land whose king is nobly born, where princes eat at a respectable hour to keep themselves strong and not merely to revel!

Ecc 10:18 Thanks to idleness, the roof-tree gives way, thanks to carelessness, the house lets in the rain.

Ecc 10:19 We give parties to enjoy ourselves, wine makes us cheerful and money has an answer for everything.

Ecc 10:20 Do not abuse the king, even in thought, do not abuse a rich man, even in your bedroom, for a bird of the air might carry the news, a winged messenger might repeat what you have said.

Ecc 11:1 Cast your bread on the water, eventually you will recover it.

Ecc 11:2 Offer a share to seven or to eight people, you can never tell what disaster may occur.

Ecc 11:3 When clouds are full of rain, they will shed it on the earth. If a tree falls, whether south or north, where it falls, there it will lie.

Ecc 11:4 Keep watching the wind and you will never sow, keep staring at the clouds and you will never reap.

Ecc 11:5 You do not understand how the wind blows, or how the embryo grows in a woman's womb: no more can you understand the work of God, the Creator of all.

Ecc 11:6 In the morning, sow your seed, until evening, do not cease from labour, for of any two things you do not know which will succeed, or which of the two is the better.

Ecc 11:7 How sweet light is, how delightful it is to see the sun!

Ecc 11:8 However many years you live, enjoy them all, but remember, the days of darkness will be many: futility awaits you at the end.

Ecc 11:9 Young man, enjoy yourself while you are young, make the most of the days of your youth, follow the prompting and desire of heart and eye, but remember, God will call you to account for everything.

Ecc 11:10 Rid your heart of indignation, keep your body clear of suffering, though youth and the age of black hair are both futile.

Ecc 12:1 Remember your Creator while you are still young, before the bad days come, before the years come which, you will say, give you no pleasure;

Ecc 12:2 before the sun and the light grow dim and the moon and stars, before the clouds return after the rain;

Ecc 12:3 the time when your watchmen become shaky, when strong men are bent double, when the women, one by one, quit grinding, and, as they look out of the window, find their sight growing dim.

Ecc 12:4 When the street-door is kept shut, when the sound of grinding fades away, when the first cry of a bird wakes you up, when all the singing has stopped;

Ecc 12:5 when going uphill is an ordeal and you are frightened at every step you take- yet the almond tree is in flower and the grasshopper is weighed down and the caper-bush loses its tang; while you are on the way to your everlasting home and the mourners are assembling in the street;

Ecc 12:6 before the silver thread snaps, or the golden bowl is cracked, or the pitcher shattered at the fountain, or the pulley broken at the well-head;

Ecc 12:7 the dust returns to the earth from which it came, and the spirit returns to God who gave it.

Ecc 12:8 Sheer futility, Qoheleth says, everything is futile.

Ecc 12:9 Besides being a sage, Qoheleth taught the people what he himself knew, having weighed, studied and emended many proverbs.

Ecc 12:10 Qoheleth took pains to write in an attractive style and by it to convey truths.

Ecc 12:11 The sayings of a sage are like goads, like pegs positioned by shepherds: the same shepherd finds a use for both.

Ecc 12:12 Furthermore, my child, you must realise that writing books involves endless hard work, and that much study wearies the body.

Ecc 12:13 To sum up the whole matter: fear God and keep his commandments, for that is the duty of everyone.

Ecc 12:14 For God will call all our deeds to judgement, all that is hidden, be it good or bad.

Sol 1:1 Solomon's Song of Songs:

Sol 1:2 BELOVED: Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth, for your love-making is sweeter than wine;

Sol 1:3 delicate is the fragrance of your perfume, your name is an oil poured out, and that is why girls love you.

Sol 1:4 Draw me in your footsteps, let us run. The king has brought me into his rooms; you will be our joy and our gladness. We shall praise your love more than wine; how right it is to love you.

Sol 1:5 BELOVED: I am black but lovely, daughters of Jerusalem, like the tents of Kedar, like the pavilions of Salmah.

Sol 1:6 Take no notice of my dark colouring, it is the sun that has burnt me. My mother's sons turned their anger on me, they made me look after the vineyards. My own vineyard I had not looked after!

Sol 1:7 Tell me then, sweetheart, where will you lead your flock to graze, where will you rest it at noon? That I may no more wander like a vagabond beside the flocks of your companions.

Sol 1:8 CHORUS: If you do not know this, O loveliest of women, follow the tracks of the flock, and take your kids to graze close by the shepherds' tents.

Sol 1:9 LOVER: I compare you, my love, to my mare harnessed to Pharaoh's chariot.

Sol 1:10 Your cheeks show fair between their pendants and your neck within its necklaces.

Sol 1:11 We shall make you golden earrings and beads of silver.

Sol 1:12 DUO: -While the king rests in his own room my nard yields its perfume.

Sol 1:13 My love is a sachet of myrrh lying between my breasts.

Sol 1:14 My love is a cluster of henna flowers among the vines of En-Gedi.

Sol 1:15 -How beautiful you are, my beloved, how beautiful you are! Your eyes are doves.

Sol 1:16 -How beautiful you are, my love, and how you delight me! Our bed is the greensward.

Sol 1:17 -The beams of our house are cedar trees, its panelling the cypress.

Sol 2:1 -I am the rose of Sharon, the lily of the valleys.

Sol 2:2 -As a lily among the thistles, so is my beloved among girls.

Sol 2:3 -As an apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my love among young men. In his delightful shade I sit, and his fruit is sweet to my taste.

Sol 2:4 He has taken me to his cellar, and his banner over me is love.

Sol 2:5 Feed me with raisin cakes, restore me with apples, for I am sick with love.

Sol 2:6 His left arm is under my head, his right embraces me.

Sol 2:7 -I charge you, daughters of Jerusalem, by all gazelles and wild does, do not rouse, do not wake my beloved before she pleases.

Sol 2:8 BELOVED: I hear my love. See how he comes leaping on the mountains, bounding over the hills.

Sol 2:9 My love is like a gazelle, like a young stag. See where he stands behind our wall. He looks in at the window, he peers through the opening.

Sol 2:10 My love lifts up his voice, he says to me, 'Come then, my beloved, my lovely one, come.'

Sol 2:11 For see, winter is past, the rains are over and gone.

Sol 2:12 'Flowers are appearing on the earth. The season of glad songs has come, the cooing of the turtledove is heard in our land.

Sol 2:13 The fig tree is forming its first figs and the blossoming vines give out their fragrance. Come then, my beloved, my lovely one, come.

Sol 2:14 'My dove, hiding in the clefts of the rock, in the coverts of the cliff, show me your face, let me hear your voice; for your voice is sweet and your face is lovely.'

Sol 2:15 Catch the foxes for us, the little foxes that make havoc of the vineyards, for our vineyards are in fruit.

Sol 2:16 My love is mine and I am his. He pastures his flock among the lilies.

Sol 2:17 Before the day-breeze rises, before the shadows flee, return! Be, my love, like a gazelle, like a young stag, on the mountains of Bether.

Sol 3:1 On my bed at night I sought the man who is my sweetheart: I sought but could not find him!

Sol 3:2 So I shall get up and go through the city; in the streets and in the squares, I shall seek my sweetheart. I sought but could not find him!

Sol 3:3 I came upon the watchmen -- those who go on their rounds in the city: 'Have you seen my sweetheart?

Sol 3:4 Barely had I passed them when I found my sweetheart. I caught him, would not let him go, not till I had brought him to my mother's house, to the room where she conceived me!

Sol 3:5 LOVER: I charge you, daughters of Jerusalem, by gazelles and wild does, do not rouse, do not wake my beloved before she pleases.

Sol 3:6 POET: What is this coming up from the desert like a column of smoke, breathing of myrrh and frankincense and every exotic perfume?

Sol 3:7 Here comes Solomon's litter. Around it are sixty champions, the flower of the warriors of Israel;

Sol 3:8 all of them skilled swordsmen, expert in war. Each man has his sword at his side, against alarms by night.

Sol 3:9 King Solomon has had a palanquin made of wood from Lebanon.

Sol 3:10 He has had the posts made of silver, the canopy of gold, the seat of purple; the centre is inlaid with ebony.

Sol 3:11 Daughters of Zion, come and see King Solomon, wearing the diadem with which his mother crowned him on his wedding day, on the day of his heart's joy.

Sol 4:1 LOVER: How beautiful you are, my beloved, how beautiful you are! Your eyes are doves, behind your veil; your hair is like a flock of goats surging down Mount Gilead.

Sol 4:2 Your teeth, a flock of sheep to be shorn when they come up from the washing. Each one has its twin, not one unpaired with another.

Sol 4:3 Your lips are a scarlet thread and your words enchanting. Your cheeks, behind your veil, are halves of pomegranate.

Sol 4:4 Your neck is the Tower of David built on layers, hung round with a thousand bucklers, and each the shield of a hero.

Sol 4:5 Your two breasts are two fawns, twins of a gazelle, that feed among the lilies.

Sol 4:6 Before the day-breeze rises, before the shadows flee, I shall go to the mountain of myrrh, to the hill of frankincense.

Sol 4:7 You are wholly beautiful, my beloved, and without a blemish.

Sol 4:8 Come from Lebanon, my promised bride, come from Lebanon, come on your way. Look down from the heights of Amanus, from the crests of Senir and Hermon, the haunt of lions, the mountains of leopards.

Sol 4:9 You ravish my heart, my sister, my promised bride, you ravish my heart with a single one of your glances, with a single link of your necklace.

Sol 4:10 What spells lie in your love, my sister, my promised bride! How delicious is your love, more delicious than wine! How fragrant your perfumes, more fragrant than all spices!

Sol 4:11 Your lips, my promised bride, distil wild honey. Honey and milk are under your tongue; and the scent of your garments is like the scent of Lebanon.

Sol 4:12 She is a garden enclosed, my sister, my promised bride; a garden enclosed, a sealed fountain.

Sol 4:13 Your shoots form an orchard of pomegranate trees, bearing most exquisite fruit:

Sol 4:14 nard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon, with all the incense-bearing trees; myrrh and aloes, with the subtlest odours.

Sol 4:15 Fountain of the garden, well of living water, streams flowing down from Lebanon!

Sol 4:16 BELOVED: Awake, north wind, come, wind of the south! Breathe over my garden, to spread its sweet smell around. Let my love come into his garden, let him taste its most exquisite fruits.

Sol 5:1 LOVER: I come into my garden, my sister, my promised bride, I pick my myrrh and balsam, I eat my honey and my honeycomb, I drink my wine and my milk. POET: Eat, friends, and drink, drink deep, my dearest friends.

Sol 5:2 BELOVED: I sleep, but my heart is awake. I hear my love knocking. 'Open to me, my sister, my beloved, my dove, my perfect one, for my head is wet with dew, my hair with the drops of night.'

Sol 5:3 -'I have taken off my tunic, am I to put it on again? I have washed my feet, am I to dirty them again?'

Sol 5:4 My love thrust his hand through the hole in the door; I trembled to the core of my being.

Sol 5:5 Then I got up to open to my love, myrrh ran off my hands, pure myrrh off my fingers, on to the handle of the bolt.

Sol 5:6 I opened to my love, but he had turned and gone. My soul failed at his flight, I sought but could not find him, I called, but he did not answer.

Sol 5:7 The watchmen met me, those who go on their rounds in the city. They beat me, they wounded me, they took my cloak away from me: those guardians of the ramparts!

Sol 5:8 I charge you, daughters of Jerusalem, if you should find my love, what are you to tell him? -That I am sick with love!

Sol 5:9 CHORUS: What makes your lover better than other lovers, O loveliest of women? What makes your lover better than other lovers, to put us under such an oath?

Sol 5:10 BELOVED: My love is fresh and ruddy, to be known among ten thousand.

Sol 5:11 His head is golden, purest gold, his locks are palm fronds and black as the raven.

Sol 5:12 His eyes are like doves beside the water-courses, bathing themselves in milk, perching on a fountain-rim.

Sol 5:13 His cheeks are beds of spices, banks sweetly scented. His lips are lilies, distilling pure myrrh.

Sol 5:14 His hands are golden, rounded, set with jewels of Tarshish. His belly a block of ivory covered with sapphires.

Sol 5:15 His legs are alabaster columns set in sockets of pure gold. His appearance is that of Lebanon, unrivalled as the cedars.

Sol 5:16 His conversation is sweetness itself, he is altogether lovable. Such is my love, such is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

Sol 6:1 CHORUS: Where did your lover go, O loveliest of women? Which way did your lover turn so that we can help you seek him?

Sol 6:2 BELOVED: My love went down to his garden, to the beds of spices, to pasture his flock on the grass and gather lilies.

Sol 6:3 I belong to my love, and my love to me. He pastures his flock among the lilies.

Sol 6:4 LOVER: You are fair as Tirzah, my beloved, enchanting as Jerusalem, formidable as an army!

Sol 6:5 Turn your eyes away from me, they take me by assault! Your hair is like a flock of goats surging down the slopes of Gilead.

Sol 6:6 Your teeth are like a flock of ewes as they come up from being washed. Each one has its twin, not one unpaired with another.

Sol 6:7 Your cheeks, behind your veil, are halves of pomegranate.

Sol 6:8 There are sixty queens and eighty concubines (and countless girls).

Sol 6:9 My dove is my only one, perfect and mine. She is the darling of her mother, the favourite of the one who bore her. Girls have seen her and proclaimed her blessed, queens and concubines have sung her praises,

Sol 6:10 'Who is this arising like the dawn, fair as the moon, resplendent as the sun, formidable as an army?'

Sol 6:11 I went down to the nut orchard to see the fresh shoots in the valley, to see if the vines were budding and the pomegranate trees in flower.

Sol 6:12 Before I knew . . . my desire had hurled me onto the chariots of Amminadib!

Sol 7:1 CHORUS: Come back, come back, girl from Shulam, come back, come back, where we can look at you!

Why are you looking at the girl from Shulam, dancing between two lines of dancers?

Sol 7:2 LOVER: How beautiful are your feet in their sandals, O prince's daughter! The curve of your thighs is like the curve of a necklace, work of a master hand.

Sol 7:3 Your navel is a bowl well rounded with no lack of wine, your belly a heap of wheat surrounded with lilies.

Sol 7:4 Your two breasts are two fawns, twins of a gazelle.

Sol 7:5 Your neck is an ivory tower. Your eyes, the pools of Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-Rabbim. Your nose, the Tower of Lebanon, sentinel facing Damascus.

Sol 7:6 Your head is held high like Carmel, and its hair is as dark as purple; a king is held captive in your tresses.

Sol 7:7 How beautiful you are, how charming, my love, my delight!

Sol 7:8 In stature like the palm tree, its fruit-clusters your breasts.

Sol 7:9 I have decided, 'I shall climb the palm tree, I shall seize its clusters of dates!' May your breasts be clusters of grapes, your breath sweet-scented as apples,

Sol 7:10 and your palate like sweet wine. BELOVED: Flowing down the throat of my love, as it runs on the lips of those who sleep.

Sol 7:11 I belong to my love, and his desire is for me.

Sol 7:12 Come, my love, let us go to the fields. We will spend the night in the villages,

Sol 7:13 and in the early morning we will go to the vineyards. We will see if the vines are budding, if their blossoms are opening, if the pomegranate trees are in flower. Then I shall give you the gift of my love.

Sol 7:14 The mandrakes yield their fragrance, the most exquisite fruits are at our doors; the new as well as the old, I have stored them for you, my love.

Sol 8:1 Ah, why are you not my brother, nursed at my mother's breast! Then if I met you out of doors, I could kiss you without people thinking ill of me.

Sol 8:2 I should lead you, I should take you into my mother's house, and you would teach me! I should give you spiced wine to drink, juice of my pomegranates.

Sol 8:3 His left arm is under my head and his right embraces me.

Sol 8:4 LOVER: I charge you, daughters of Jerusalem, do not rouse, do not wake my beloved, before she pleases!

Sol 8:5 Who is this coming up from the desert leaning on her lover? I awakened you under the apple tree, where your mother conceived you, where she who bore you conceived you.

Sol 8:6 BELOVED: Set me like a seal on your heart, like a seal on your arm. For love is strong as Death, passion as relentless as Sheol. The flash of it is a flash of fire, a flame of Yahweh himself.

Sol 8:7 Love no flood can quench, no torrents drown. Were a man to offer all his family wealth to buy love, contempt is all that he would gain.

Sol 8:8 Our sister is little: her breasts are not yet formed. What shall we do for our sister on the day she is spoken for?

Sol 8:9 If she is a rampart, on the crest we shall build a battlement of silver; if she is a door, we shall board her up with planks of cedar.

Sol 8:10 I am a wall, and my breasts represent its towers. And under their eyes I have found true peace.

Sol 8:11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-Hamon. He entrusted it to overseers, and each one was to pay him the value of its produce, a thousand shekels of silver.

Sol 8:12 But I tend my own vineyard myself. You, Solomon, may have your thousand shekels, and those who oversee its produce their two hundred.

Sol 8:13 You who dwell in the gardens, my companions listen for your voice; let me hear it.

Sol 8:14 Haste away, my love, be like a gazelle, a young stag, on the spice-laden mountains.

Wis 1:1 Love uprightness you who are rulers on earth, be properly disposed towards the Lord and seek him in simplicity of heart;

Wis 1:2 for he will be found by those who do not put him to the test, revealing himself to those who do not mistrust him.

Wis 1:3 Perverse thoughts, however, separate people from God, and power, when put to the test, confounds the stupid.

Wis 1:4 Wisdom will never enter the soul of a wrong-doer, nor dwell in a body enslaved to sin;

Wis 1:5 for the holy spirit of instruction flees deceitfulness, recoils from unintelligent thoughts, is thwarted by the onset of vice.

Wis 1:6 Wisdom is a spirit friendly to humanity, though she will not let a blasphemer's words go unpunished; since God observes the very soul and accurately surveys the heart, listening to every word.

Wis 1:7 For the spirit of the Lord fills the world, and that which holds everything together knows every word said.

Wis 1:8 No one who speaks what is wrong will go undetected, nor will avenging Justice pass by such a one.

Wis 1:9 For the schemes of the godless will be examined, and a report of his words will reach the Lord to convict him of his crimes.

Wis 1:10 There is a jealous ear that overhears everything, not even a murmur of complaint escapes it.

Wis 1:11 So beware of uttering frivolous complaints, restrain your tongue from finding fault; even what is said in secret has repercussions, and a lying mouth deals death to the soul.

Wis 1:12 Do not court death by the errors of your ways, nor invite destruction through the work of your hands.

Wis 1:13 For God did not make Death, he takes no pleasure in destroying the living.

Wis 1:14 To exist -- for this he created all things; the creatures of the world have health in them, in them is no fatal poison, and Hades has no power over the world:

Wis 1:15 for uprightness is immortal.

Wis 1:16 But the godless call for Death with deed and word, counting him friend, they wear themselves out for him; with him they make a pact, worthy as they are to belong to him.

Wis 2:1 And this is the false argument they use, 'Our life is short and dreary, there is no remedy when our end comes, no one is known to have come back from Hades.

Wis 2:2 We came into being by chance and afterwards shall be as though we had never been. The breath in our nostrils is a puff of smoke, reason a spark from the beating of our hearts;

Wis 2:3 extinguish this and the body turns to ashes, and the spirit melts away like the yielding air.

Wis 2:4 In time, our name will be forgotten, nobody will remember what we have done; our life will pass away like wisps of cloud, dissolving like the mist that the sun's rays drive away and that its heat dispels.

Wis 2:5 For our days are the passing of a shadow, our end is without return, the seal is affixed and nobody comes back.

Wis 2:6 'Come then, let us enjoy the good things of today, let us use created things with the zest of youth:

Wis 2:7 take our fill of the dearest wines and perfumes, on no account forgo the flowers of spring

Wis 2:8 but crown ourselves with rosebuds before they wither,

Wis 2:9 no meadow excluded from our orgy; let us leave the signs of our revelry everywhere, since this is our portion, this our lot!

Wis 2:10 'As for the upright man who is poor, let us oppress him; let us not spare the widow, nor respect old age, white-haired with many years.

Wis 2:11 Let our might be the yardstick of right, since weakness argues its own futility.

Wis 2:12 Let us lay traps for the upright man, since he annoys us and opposes our way of life, reproaches us for our sins against the Law, and accuses us of sins against our upbringing.

Wis 2:13 He claims to have knowledge of God, and calls himself a child of the Lord.

Wis 2:14 We see him as a reproof to our way of thinking, the very sight of him weighs our spirits down;

Wis 2:15 for his kind of life is not like other people's, and his ways are quite different.

Wis 2:16 In his opinion we are counterfeit; he avoids our ways as he would filth; he proclaims the final end of the upright as blessed and boasts of having God for his father.

Wis 2:17 Let us see if what he says is true, and test him to see what sort of end he will have.

Wis 2:18 For if the upright man is God's son, God will help him and rescue him from the clutches of his enemies.

Wis 2:19 Let us test him with cruelty and with torture, and thus explore this gentleness of his and put his patience to the test.

Wis 2:20 Let us condemn him to a shameful death since God will rescue him -- or so he claims.'

Wis 2:21 This is the way they reason, but they are misled, since their malice makes them blind.

Wis 2:22 They do not know the hidden things of God, they do not hope for the reward of holiness, they do not believe in a reward for blameless souls.

Wis 2:23 For God created human beings to be immortal, he made them as an image of his own nature;
Wis 2:24 Death came into the world only through the Devil's envy, as those who belong to him find to their cost.
Wis 3:1 But the souls of the upright are in the hands of God, and no torment can touch them.
Wis 3:2 To the unenlightened, they appeared to die, their departure was regarded as disaster,
Wis 3:3 their leaving us like annihilation; but they are at peace.
Wis 3:4 If, as it seemed to us, they suffered punishment, their hope was rich with immortality;
Wis 3:5 slight was their correction, great will their blessings be. God was putting them to the test and has proved them worthy to be with him;
Wis 3:6 he has tested them like gold in a furnace, and accepted them as a perfect burnt offering.
Wis 3:7 At their time of visitation, they will shine out; as sparks run through the stubble, so will they.
Wis 3:8 They will judge nations, rule over peoples, and the Lord will be their king for ever.
Wis 3:9 Those who trust in him will understand the truth, those who are faithful will live with him in love; for grace and mercy await his holy ones, and he intervenes on behalf of his chosen.
Wis 3:10 But the godless will be duly punished for their reasoning, for having neglected the upright and deserted the Lord.
Wis 3:11 Yes, wretched are they who scorn wisdom and discipline: their hope is void, their toil unavailing, their achievements unprofitable;
Wis 3:12 their wives are reckless, their children depraved, their descendants accursed.
Wis 3:13 Blessed the sterile woman if she be blameless, and has not known an unlawful bed, for she will have fruit at the visitation of souls.
Wis 3:14 Blessed, too, the eunuch whose hand commits no crime, and who harbours no resentment against the Lord: a special favour will be granted to him for his loyalty, a most desirable portion in the temple of the Lord.
Wis 3:15 For the fruit of honest labours is glorious, and the root of understanding does not decay.
Wis 3:16 But the children of adulterers will not reach maturity, the offspring of an unlawful bed will disappear.
Wis 3:17 Even if they live long, they will count for nothing, their old age will go unhonoured at the last;
Wis 3:18 while if they die early, they have neither hope nor comfort on the day of judgement,
Wis 3:19 for the end of a race of evil-doers is harsh.
Wis 4:1 Better to have no children yet to have virtue, since immortality perpetuates its memory; for God and human beings both recognise it.
Wis 4:2 Present, we imitate it, absent, we long for it; crowned, it holds triumph through eternity, having striven for untainted prizes and emerged the victor.
Wis 4:3 But the offspring of the godless come to nothing, however prolific, sprung from a bastard stock, they will never strike deep roots, never put down firm foundations.
Wis 4:4 They may branch out for a time, but, on unsteady foundations, they will be rocked by the wind and uprooted by the force of the storm;
Wis 4:5 their branches, yet unformed, will be snapped off, their fruit be useless, too unripe to eat, fit for nothing.
Wis 4:6 For children begotten of unlawful bed witness, when put on trial, to their parents' wickedness.
Wis 4:7 The upright, though he die before his time, will find rest.
Wis 4:8 Length of days is not what makes age honourable, nor number of years the true measure of life;
Wis 4:9 understanding, this is grey hairs, untarnished life, this is ripe old age.
Wis 4:10 Having won God's favour, he has been loved and, as he was living among sinners, has been taken away.
Wis 4:11 He has been carried off so that evil may not warp his understanding or deceitfulness seduce his soul;
Wis 4:12 for the fascination of evil throws good things into the shade, and the whirlwind of desire corrupts a simple heart.
Wis 4:13 Having come to perfection so soon, he has lived long;
Wis 4:14 his soul being pleasing to the Lord, he has hurried away from the wickedness around him. Yet people look on, uncomprehending; and it does not enter their heads
Wis 4:15 that grace and mercy await his chosen ones and that he intervenes on behalf of his holy ones.
Wis 4:16 The upright who dies condemns the godless who survive, and youth quickly perfected condemns the lengthy old age of the wicked.
Wis 4:17 These people see the end of the wise without understanding what the Lord has in store or why he has taken such a one to safety;
Wis 4:18 they look on and sneer, but the Lord will laugh at them.
Wis 4:19 Soon they will be corpses without honour, objects of horror among the dead for ever. For he will shatter them and fling them headlong and dumbfounded. He will shake them from their foundations; they will be utterly laid waste, a prey to grief, and their memory will perish.
Wis 4:20 When the count of their sins has been drawn up, in terror they will come, and their crimes, confronting them, will accuse them.

Wis 5:1 Then the upright will stand up boldly to face those who had oppressed him and had thought so little of his sufferings.

Wis 5:2 And, seeing him, they will be seized with terrible fear, amazed that he should have been so unexpectedly saved.

Wis 5:3 Stricken with remorse, they will say to one another with groans and labouring breath,

Wis 5:4 'This is the one whom we used to mock, making him the butt of our insults, fools that we were! His life we regarded as madness, his ending as without honour.

Wis 5:5 How has he come to be counted as one of the children of God and to have his lot among the holy ones?

Wis 5:6 Clearly we have strayed from the way of truth; the light of justice has not shone for us, the sun has not risen for us.

Wis 5:7 We have left no path of lawlessness or ruin unexplored, we have crossed deserts where there was no track, but the way of the Lord is one we have never known.

Wis 5:8 What good has arrogance been to us? What has been the purpose of our riches and boastfulness?

Wis 5:9 All those things have passed like a shadow, passed like a fleeting rumour.

Wis 5:10 Like a ship that cuts through heaving waves -- leaving no trace to show where it has passed, no wake from its keel in the waves.

Wis 5:11 Or like a bird flying through the air -- leaving no proof of its passing; it whips the light air with the stroke of its pinions, tears it apart in its whirring rush, drives its way onward with sweeping wing, and afterwards no sign is seen of its passage.

Wis 5:12 Or like an arrow shot at a mark, the pierced air closing so quickly on itself, there is no knowing which way the arrow has passed.

Wis 5:13 So with us: scarcely born, we disappear; of virtue not a trace have we to show, we have spent ourselves in our own wickedness!

Wis 5:14 For the hope of the godless is like chaff carried on the wind, like fine spray driven by the storm; it disperses like smoke before the wind, goes away like the memory of a one-day guest.

Wis 5:15 But the upright live for ever, their recompense is with the Lord, and the Most High takes care of them.

Wis 5:16 So they will receive the glorious crown and the diadem of beauty from the Lord's hand; for he will shelter them with his right hand and with his arm he will shield them.

Wis 5:17 For armour he will take his jealous love, he will arm creation to punish his enemies;

Wis 5:18 he will put on justice as a breastplate, and for helmet wear his forthright judgement;

Wis 5:19 he will take up invincible holiness for shield,

Wis 5:20 of his pitiless wrath he will forge a sword, and the universe will march with him to fight the reckless.

Wis 5:21 Bolts truly aimed, the shafts of lightning will leap, and from the clouds, as from a full-drawn bow, fly to their mark;

Wis 5:22 and the catapult will hurl hailstones charged with fury. The waters of the sea will rage against them, the rivers engulf them without pity,

Wis 5:23 a mighty gale will rise against them and winnow them like a hurricane. Thus wickedness will lay the whole earth waste and evil-doing bring down the thrones of the mighty.

Wis 6:1 Listen then, kings, and understand; rulers of remotest lands, take warning;

Wis 6:2 hear this, you who govern great populations, taking pride in your hosts of subject nations!

Wis 6:3 For sovereignty is given to you by the Lord and power by the Most High, who will himself probe your acts and scrutinise your intentions.

Wis 6:4 If therefore, as servants of his kingdom, you have not ruled justly nor observed the law, nor followed the will of God,

Wis 6:5 he will fall on you swiftly and terribly. On the highly placed a ruthless judgement falls;

Wis 6:6 the lowly are pardoned, out of pity, but the mighty will be mightily tormented.

Wis 6:7 For the Lord of all does not cower before anyone, he does not stand in awe of greatness, since he himself has made small and great and provides for all alike;

Wis 6:8 but a searching trial awaits those who wield power.

Wis 6:9 So, monarchs, my words are meant for you, so that you may learn wisdom and not fall into error;

Wis 6:10 for those who in holiness observe holy things will be adjudged holy, and, accepting instruction from them, will find their defence in them.

Wis 6:11 Set your heart, therefore, on what I have to say, listen with a will, and you will be instructed.

Wis 6:12 Wisdom is brilliant, she never fades. By those who love her, she is readily seen, by those who seek her, she is readily found.

Wis 6:13 She anticipates those who desire her by making herself known first.

Wis 6:14 Whoever gets up early to seek her will have no trouble but will find her sitting at the door.

Wis 6:15 Meditating on her is understanding in its perfect form, and anyone keeping awake for her will soon be free from care.

Wis 6:16 For she herself searches everywhere for those who are worthy of her, benevolently appearing to them on their ways, anticipating their every thought.

Wis 6:17 For Wisdom begins with the sincere desire for instruction, care for instruction means loving her,

Wis 6:18 loving her means keeping her laws, attention to her laws guarantees incorruptibility,

Wis 6:19 and incorruptibility brings us near to God;

Wis 6:20 the desire for Wisdom thus leads to sovereignty.

Wis 6:21 If then thrones and sceptres delight you, monarchs of the nations, honour Wisdom, so that you may reign for ever.

Wis 6:22 What Wisdom is and how she was born, I shall now explain; I shall hide no mysteries from you, but shall follow her steps from the outset of her origin, setting out what we know of her in full light, without departing from the truth.

Wis 6:23 Blighting envy is no companion for me, for envy has nothing in common with Wisdom.

Wis 6:24 In the greatest number of the wise lies the world's salvation, in a sagacious king the stability of a people.

Wis 6:25 Learn, therefore, from my words; the gain will be yours.

Wis 7:1 I too am mortal like everyone else, a descendant of the first man formed from the earth. I was modelled in flesh inside a mother's womb,

Wis 7:2 where, for ten months, in blood I acquired substance -- the result of virile seed and pleasure, sleep's companion.

Wis 7:3 I too, when I was born, drew in the common air, I fell on the same ground that bears us all, and crying was the first sound I made, like everyone else.

Wis 7:4 I was nurtured in swaddling clothes, with every care.

Wis 7:5 No king has known any other beginning of existence;

Wis 7:6 for there is only one way into life, and one way out of it.

Wis 7:7 And so I prayed, and understanding was given me; I entreated, and the spirit of Wisdom came to me.

Wis 7:8 I esteemed her more than sceptres and thrones; compared with her, I held riches as nothing.

Wis 7:9 I reckoned no precious stone to be her equal, for compared with her, all gold is a pinch of sand, and beside her, silver ranks as mud.

Wis 7:10 I loved her more than health or beauty, preferred her to the light, since her radiance never sleeps.

Wis 7:11 In her company all good things came to me, and at her hands incalculable wealth.

Wis 7:12 All these delighted me, since Wisdom brings them, though I did not then realise that she was their mother.

Wis 7:13 What I learned diligently, I shall pass on liberally, I shall not conceal how rich she is.

Wis 7:14 For she is to human beings an inexhaustible treasure, and those who acquire this win God's friendship, commended to him by the gifts of instruction.

Wis 7:15 May God grant me to speak as he would wish and conceive thoughts worthy of the gifts I have received, since he is both guide to Wisdom and director of sages;

Wis 7:16 for we are in his hand, yes, ourselves and our sayings, and all intellectual and all practical knowledge.

Wis 7:17 He it was who gave me sure knowledge of what exists, to understand the structure of the world and the action of the elements,

Wis 7:18 the beginning, end and middle of the times, the alternation of the solstices and the succession of the seasons,

Wis 7:19 the cycles of the year and the position of the stars,

Wis 7:20 the natures of animals and the instincts of wild beasts, the powers of spirits and human mental processes, the varieties of plants and the medical properties of roots.

Wis 7:21 And now I understand everything, hidden or visible, for Wisdom, the designer of all things, has instructed me.

Wis 7:22 For within her is a spirit intelligent, holy, unique, manifold, subtle, mobile, incisive, unsullied, lucid, invulnerable, benevolent, shrewd,

Wis 7:23 irresistible, beneficent, friendly to human beings, steadfast, dependable, unperturbed, almighty, all-surveying, penetrating all intelligent, pure and most subtle spirits.

Wis 7:24 For Wisdom is quicker to move than any motion; she is so pure, she pervades and permeates all things.

Wis 7:25 She is a breath of the power of God, pure emanation of the glory of the Almighty; so nothing impure can find its way into her.

Wis 7:26 For she is a reflection of the eternal light, untarnished mirror of God's active power, and image of his goodness.

Wis 7:27 Although she is alone, she can do everything; herself unchanging, she renews the world, and, generation after generation, passing into holy souls, she makes them into God's friends and prophets;

Wis 7:28 for God loves only those who dwell with Wisdom.

Wis 7:29 She is indeed more splendid than the sun, she outshines all the constellations; compared with light, she takes first place,

Wis 7:30 for light must yield to night, but against Wisdom evil cannot prevail.

Wis 8:1 Strongly she reaches from one end of the world to the other and she governs the whole world for its good.

Wis 8:2 Wisdom I loved and searched for from my youth; I resolved to have her as my bride, I fell in love with her beauty.

Wis 8:3 She enhances her noble birth by sharing God's life, for the Master of All has always loved her.

Wis 8:4 Indeed, she shares the secrets of God's knowledge, and she chooses what he will do.

Wis 8:5 If in this life wealth is a desirable possession, what is more wealthy than Wisdom whose work is everywhere?

Wis 8:6 Or if it be the intellect that is at work, who, more than she, designs whatever exists?

Wis 8:7 Or if it be uprightness you love, why, virtues are the fruit of her labours, since it is she who teaches temperance and prudence, justice and fortitude; nothing in life is more useful for human beings.

Wis 8:8 Or if you are eager for wide experience, she knows the past, she forecasts the future; she knows how to turn maxims, and solve riddles; she has foreknowledge of signs and wonders, and of the unfolding of the ages and the times.

Wis 8:9 I therefore determined to take her to share my life, knowing that she would be my counsellor in prosperity and comfort me in cares and sorrow.

Wis 8:10 'Thanks to her, I shall be admired by the masses and honoured, though young, by the elders.

Wis 8:11 I shall be reckoned shrewd as a judge, and the great will be amazed at me.

Wis 8:12 They will wait on my silences, and pay attention when I speak; if I speak at some length, they will lay their hand on their lips.

Wis 8:13 By means of her, immortality will be mine, I shall leave an everlasting memory to my successors.

Wis 8:14 I shall govern peoples, and nations will be subject to me;

Wis 8:15 at the sound of my name fearsome despots will be afraid; I shall show myself kind to the people and valiant in battle.

Wis 8:16 'When I go home I shall take my ease with her, for nothing is bitter in her company, when life is shared with her there is no pain, nothing but pleasure and joy.'

Wis 8:17 Having meditated on all this, and having come to the conclusion that immortality resides in kinship with Wisdom,

Wis 8:18 noble contentment in her friendship, inexhaustible riches in her activities, understanding in cultivating her society, and renown in conversing with her, I went all ways, seeking how to get her.

Wis 8:19 I was a boy of happy disposition, I had received a good soul as my lot,

Wis 8:20 or rather, being good, I had entered an undefiled body;

Wis 8:21 but, realising that I could never possess Wisdom unless God gave her to me, -a sign of intelligence in itself, to know in whose gift she lay -- I prayed to the Lord and entreated him, and with all my heart I said:

Wis 9:1 'God of our ancestors, Lord of mercy, who by your word have made the universe,

Wis 9:2 and in your wisdom have fitted human beings to rule the creatures that you have made,

Wis 9:3 to govern the world in holiness and saving justice and in honesty of soul to dispense fair judgement,

Wis 9:4 grant me Wisdom, consort of your throne, and do not reject me from the number of your children.

Wis 9:5 For I am your servant, son of your serving maid, a feeble man, with little time to live, with small understanding of justice and the laws.

Wis 9:6 Indeed, were anyone perfect among the sons of men, if he lacked the Wisdom that comes from you, he would still count for nothing.

Wis 9:7 'You have chosen me to be king over your people, to be judge of your sons and daughters.

Wis 9:8 You have bidden me build a temple on your holy mountain, and an altar in the city where you have pitched your tent, a copy of the holy Tent which you prepared at the beginning.

Wis 9:9 With you is Wisdom, she who knows your works, she who was present when you made the world; she understands what is pleasing in your eyes and what agrees with your commandments.

Wis 9:10 Despatch her from the holy heavens, send her forth from your throne of glory to help me and to toil with me and teach me what is pleasing to you;

Wis 9:11 since she knows and understands everything she will guide me prudently in my actions and will protect me with her glory.

Wis 9:12 Then all I do will be acceptable, I shall govern your people justly and be worthy of my father's throne.

Wis 9:13 'What human being indeed can know the intentions of God? And who can comprehend the will of the Lord?

Wis 9:14 For the reasoning of mortals is inadequate, our attitudes of mind unstable;

Wis 9:15 for a perishable body presses down the soul, and this tent of clay weighs down the mind with its many cares.

Wis 9:16 It is hard enough for us to work out what is on earth, laborious to know what lies within our reach; who, then, can discover what is in the heavens?

Wis 9:17 And who could ever have known your will, had you not given Wisdom and sent your holy Spirit from above?

Wis 9:18 Thus have the paths of those on earth been straightened and people have been taught what pleases you, and have been saved, by Wisdom.'

Wis 10:1 It was Wisdom who protected the first man to be fashioned, the father of the world, who had been created all alone, she it was who rescued him from his fall

Wis 10:2 and gave him the strength to subjugate all things.

Wis 10:3 But when in his wrath a wicked man deserted her, he perished in his fratricidal fury.

Wis 10:4 When because of him the earth was drowned, it was Wisdom again who saved it, piloting the upright man on valueless timber.

Wis 10:5 Again, when, concurring in wickedness, the nations had been thrown into confusion, she singled out the upright man, preserved him blameless before God and fortified him against pity for his child.

Wis 10:6 She it was who, while the godless perished, saved the upright man as he fled from the fire raining down on the Five Cities,

Wis 10:7 in witness against whose evil ways a desolate land still smokes, where plants bear fruit that never ripens and where, monument to an unbelieving soul, there stands a pillar of salt.

Wis 10:8 For, by ignoring the path of Wisdom, not only did they suffer the loss of not knowing the good, but they left the world a memorial to their folly, so that their offences could not pass unnoticed.

Wis 10:9 But Wisdom delivered her servants from their ordeals.

Wis 10:10 The upright man, fleeing from the anger of his brother, was led by her along straight paths. She showed him the kingdom of God and taught him the knowledge of holy things. She brought him success in his labours and gave him full return for all his efforts;

Wis 10:11 she stood by him against grasping and oppressive men and she made him rich.

Wis 10:12 She preserved him from his enemies and saved him from the traps they set for him. In an arduous struggle she awarded him the prize, to teach him that piety is stronger than all.

Wis 10:13 She did not forsake the upright man when he was sold, but snatched him away from sin;

Wis 10:14 she accompanied him down into the pit, nor did she abandon him in his chains until she had brought him the sceptre of a kingdom and authority over his despotic masters, thus exposing as liars those who had traduced him, and giving him honour everlasting.

Wis 10:15 It was Wisdom who delivered a holy people, a blameless race, from a nation of oppressors.

Wis 10:16 She entered the soul of a servant of the Lord, and withstood fearsome kings with wonders and signs.

Wis 10:17 To the holy people she gave the wages of their labours; she guided them by a marvellous road, herself their shelter by day -- and their starlight through the night.

Wis 10:18 She brought them across the Red Sea, leading them through an immensity of water,

Wis 10:19 whereas she drowned their enemies, then spat them out from the depths of the abyss.

Wis 10:20 So the upright despoiled the godless; Lord, they extolled your holy name, and with one accord praised your protecting hand;

Wis 10:21 for Wisdom opened the mouths of the dumb and made eloquent the tongues of babes.

Wis 11:1 She made their actions successful, by means of a holy prophet.

Wis 11:2 They journeyed through an unpeopled desert and pitched their tents in inaccessible places.

Wis 11:3 They stood firm against their enemies, fought off their foes.

Wis 11:4 On you they called when they were thirsty, and from the rocky cliff water was given them, from hard stone a remedy for their thirst.

Wis 11:5 Thus, what had served to punish their enemies became a benefit for them in their difficulties.

Wis 11:6 Whereas their enemies had only the ever-flowing source of a river fouled with mingled blood and mud,

Wis 11:7 to punish them for their decree of infanticide, you gave your people, against all hope, water in abundance,

Wis 11:8 once you had shown by the thirst that they were experiencing how severely you were punishing their enemies.

Wis 11:9 From their own ordeals, which were only loving correction, they realised how an angry sentence was tormenting the godless;

Wis 11:10 for you had tested your own as a father admonishes, but the others you had punished as a pitiless king condemns,

Wis 11:11 and, whether far or near, they were equally afflicted.

Wis 11:12 For a double sorrow seized on them, and a groaning at the memory of the past;

Wis 11:13 when they learned that the punishments they were receiving were beneficial to the others, they realised it was the Lord,

Wis 11:14 while for the man whom long before they had exposed and later mockingly rebuffed, they felt only admiration when all was done, having suffered a thirst so different from that of the upright.

Wis 11:15 For their foolish and wicked notions which led them astray into worshipping mindless reptiles and contemptible beetles, you sent a horde of mindless animals to punish them

Wis 11:16 and to teach them that the agent of sin is the agent of punishment.

Wis 11:17 And indeed your all-powerful hand which created the world from formless matter, did not lack means to unleash a horde of bears or savage lions on them

Wis 11:18 or unknown beasts, newly created, full of rage, breathing out fire, or puffing out stinking smoke, or flashing fearful sparks from their eyes,

Wis 11:19 beasts able not only to destroy them, being so savage, but even to strike them dead by their terrifying appearance.

Wis 11:20 However, without these, one breath could have blown them over, pursued by Justice, whirled away by the breath of your power. You, however, ordered all things by measure, number and weight.

Wis 11:21 For your great power is always at your service, and who can withstand the might of your arm?

Wis 11:22 The whole world, for you, can no more than tip a balance, like a drop of morning dew falling on the ground.

Wis 11:23 Yet you are merciful to all, because you are almighty, you overlook people's sins, so that they can repent.

Wis 11:24 Yes, you love everything that exists, and nothing that you have made disgusts you, since, if you had hated something, you would not have made it.

Wis 11:25 And how could a thing subsist, had you not willed it? Or how be preserved, if not called forth by you?

Wis 11:26 No, you spare all, since all is yours, Lord, lover of life!

Wis 12:1 For your imperishable spirit is in everything!

Wis 12:2 And thus, gradually, you correct those who offend; you admonish and remind them of how they have sinned, so that they may abstain from evil and trust in you, Lord.

Wis 12:3 The ancient inhabitants of your holy land

Wis 12:4 you hated for their loathsome practices, their acts of sorcery, and unholy rites.

Wis 12:5 Those ruthless murderers of children, those eaters of entrails at feasts of human flesh and of blood, those initiates of secret brotherhoods,

Wis 12:6 those murderous parents of defenceless beings, you determined to destroy at our ancestors' hands,

Wis 12:7 so that this land, dearer to you than any other, might receive a worthy colony of God's children.

Wis 12:8 Even so, since these were human, you treated them leniently, sending hornets as forerunners of your army, to exterminate them little by little.

Wis 12:9 Not that you were unable to hand the godless over to the upright in pitched battle or destroy them at once by savage beasts or one harsh word;

Wis 12:10 but, by carrying out your sentences gradually, you gave them a chance to repent, although you knew that they were inherently evil, innately wicked,

Wis 12:11 and fixed in their cast of mind; for they were a race accursed from the beginning. Nor was it from awe of anyone that you let their sins go unpunished.

Wis 12:12 For who is there to ask, 'What have you done?' Or who is there to disagree with your sentence? Who to arraign you for destroying nations which you have created? Who to confront you by championing the wicked?

Wis 12:13 For there is no god, other than you, who cares for every one, to whom you have to prove that your sentences have been just.

Wis 12:14 No more could any king or despot challenge you over those whom you have punished.

Wis 12:15 For, being upright yourself, you rule the universe uprightly, and hold it as incompatible with your power to condemn anyone who has not deserved to be punished.

Wis 12:16 For your strength is the basis of your saving justice, and your sovereignty over all makes you lenient to all.

Wis 12:17 You show your strength when people will not believe in your absolute power, and you confound any insolence in those who do know it.

Wis 12:18 But you, controlling your strength, are mild in judgement, and govern us with great lenience, for you have only to will, and your power is there.

Wis 12:19 By acting thus, you have taught your people that the upright must be kindly to his fellows, and you have given your children the good hope that after sins you will grant repentance.

Wis 12:20 For, if with such care and indulgence you have punished your children's enemies, though doomed to death, and have given them time and place to be rid of their wickedness,

Wis 12:21 with what exact attention have you not judged your children, to whose ancestors, by oaths and covenants, you made such generous promises?

Wis 12:22 Thus, you instruct us, when you punish our enemies in moderation, that we should reflect on your kindness when we judge, and, when we are judged, we should look for mercy.

Wis 12:23 And this is why people leading foolish and wicked lives were tortured by you with their own abominations;

Wis 12:24 for they had strayed too far on the paths of error by taking the vilest and most despicable of animals for gods, being deluded like silly little children.

Wis 12:25 So, as to children with no sense, you gave them a sentence making fools of them.

Wis 12:26 Those, however, who would not take warning from a mocking reproof were soon to endure a sentence worthy of God.

Wis 12:27 The creatures that made them suffer and against which they protested, those very creatures that they had taken for gods and by which they were punished they saw in their true light; and he whom hitherto they had refused to know, they realised was true God. And this is why the final condemnation fell on them.

Wis 13:1 Yes, naturally stupid are all who are unaware of God, and who, from good things seen, have not been able to discover Him-who-is, or, by studying the works, have not recognised the Artificer.

Wis 13:2 Fire, however, or wind, or the swift air, the sphere of the stars, impetuous water, heaven's lamps, are what they have held to be the gods who govern the world.

Wis 13:3 If, charmed by their beauty, they have taken these for gods, let them know how much the Master of these excels them, since he was the very source of beauty that created them.

Wis 13:4 And if they have been impressed by their power and energy, let them deduce from these how much mightier is he that has formed them,

Wis 13:5 since through the grandeur and beauty of the creatures we may, by analogy, contemplate their Author.

Wis 13:6 Small blame, however, attaches to them, for perhaps they go astray only in their search for God and their eagerness to find him;

Wis 13:7 familiar with his works, they investigate them and fall victim to appearances, seeing so much beauty.

Wis 13:8 But even so, they have no excuse:

Wis 13:9 if they are capable of acquiring enough knowledge to be able to investigate the world, how have they been so slow to find its Master?

Wis 13:10 But wretched are they, with their hopes set on dead things, who have given the title of gods to human artefacts, gold or silver, skilfully worked, figures of animals, or useless stone, carved by some hand long ago.

Wis 13:11 Take a woodcutter. He fells a suitable tree, neatly strips off the bark all over and then with admirable skill works the wood into an object useful in daily life.

Wis 13:12 The bits left over from his work he uses for cooking his food, then eats his fill.

Wis 13:13 There is still a good-for-nothing bit left over, a gnarled and knotted billet: he takes it and whittles it with the concentration of his leisure hours, he shapes it with the skill of experience, he gives it a human shape

Wis 13:14 or perhaps he makes it into some vile animal, smears it with ochre, paints its surface red, coats over all its blemishes.

Wis 13:15 He next makes a worthy home for it, lets it into the wall, fixes it with an iron clamp.

Wis 13:16 Thus he makes sure that it will not fall down -- being well aware that it cannot help itself, since it is only an image, and needs to be helped.

Wis 13:17 And yet, if he wishes to pray for his goods, for his marriage, for his children, he does not blush to harangue this lifeless thing -- for health, he invokes what is weak,

Wis 13:18 for life, he pleads with what is dead, for help, he goes begging to total inexperience, for a journey, what cannot even use its feet,

Wis 13:19 for profit, an undertaking, and success in pursuing his craft, he asks skill from something whose hands have no skill whatever.

Wis 14:1 Or someone else, taking ship to cross the wild waves, loudly invokes a piece of wood frailer than the vessel that bears him.

Wis 14:2 Agreed, the ship is the product of a craving for gain, its building embodies the wisdom of the shipwright;

Wis 14:3 but your providence, Father, is what steers it, you having opened a pathway even through the sea, and a safe way over the waves,

Wis 14:4 showing that you can save, whatever happens, so that, even without experience, someone may put to sea.

Wis 14:5 It is not your will that the works of your Wisdom should be sterile, so people entrust their lives to the smallest piece of wood, cross the waves on a raft, yet are kept safe and sound.

Wis 14:6 Why, in the beginning, when the proud giants were perishing, the hope of the world took refuge on a raft and, steered by your hand, preserved the seed of a new generation for the ages to come.

Wis 14:7 For blessed is the wood which serves the cause of uprightness

Wis 14:8 but accursed the man-made idol, yes, it and its maker, he for having made it, and it because, though perishable, it has been called god.

Wis 14:9 For God holds the godless and his godlessness in equal hatred;

Wis 14:10 both work and workman will alike be punished.

Wis 14:11 Hence even the idols of the nations will have a visitation since, in God's creation, they have become an abomination, a scandal for human souls, a snare for the feet of the foolish.

Wis 14:12 The idea of making idols was the origin of fornication, their discovery corrupted life.

Wis 14:13 They did not exist at the beginning, they will not exist for ever;

Wis 14:14 human vanity brought them into the world, and a quick end is therefore reserved for them.

Wis 14:15 A father afflicted by untimely mourning has an image made of his child so soon carried off, and now pays divine honours to what yesterday was only a corpse, handing on mysteries and ceremonies to his people;

Wis 14:16 time passes, the custom hardens and is observed as law.

Wis 14:17 Rulers were the ones who ordered that statues should be worshipped: people who could not honour them in person, because they lived too far away, would have a portrait made of their distant countenance, to have an image that they could see of the king whom they honoured; meaning, by such zeal, to flatter the absent as if he were present.

Wis 14:18 Even people who did not know him were stimulated into spreading his cult by the artist's enthusiasm;

Wis 14:19 for the latter, doubtless wishing to please his ruler, exerted all his skill to surpass the reality,

Wis 14:20 and the crowd, attracted by the beauty of the work, mistook for a god someone whom recently they had honoured as a man.

Wis 14:21 And this became a snare for life: that people, whether enslaved by misfortune or by tyranny, should have conferred the ineffable Name on sticks and stones.

Wis 14:22 It is not enough, however, for them to have such misconceptions about God; for, living in the fierce warfare of ignorance, they call these terrible evils peace.

Wis 14:23 With their child-murdering rites, their occult mysteries, or their frenzied orgies with outlandish customs,

Wis 14:24 they no longer retain any purity in their lives or their marriages, one treacherously murdering another or wronging him by adultery.

Wis 14:25 Everywhere a welter of blood and murder, theft and fraud, corruption, treachery, riot, perjury,

Wis 14:26 disturbance of decent people, forgetfulness of favours, pollution of souls, sins against nature, disorder in marriage, adultery and debauchery.

Wis 14:27 For the worship of idols with no name is the beginning, cause, and end of every evil.

Wis 14:28 For these people either carry their merrymaking to the point of frenzy, or they prophesy what is not true, or they live wicked lives, or they perjure themselves without hesitation;

Wis 14:29 since they put their trust in lifeless idols they do not reckon their false oaths can harm them.

Wis 14:30 But they will be justly punished for this double crime: for degrading the concept of God by adhering to idols; and for wickedly perjuring themselves in contempt for what is holy.

Wis 14:31 For it is not the power of the things by which they swear but the punishment reserved for sinners that always follows the offences of wicked people.

Wis 15:1 But you, our God, are kind and true, slow to anger, governing the universe with mercy.

Wis 15:2 Even if we sin, we are yours, since we acknowledge your power, but we will not sin, knowing we count as yours.

Wis 15:3 To know you is indeed the perfect virtue, and to know your power is the root of immortality.

Wis 15:4 We have not been duped by inventions of misapplied human skill, or by the sterile work of painters, by figures daubed with assorted colours,

Wis 15:5 the sight of which sets fools yearning and hankering for the lifeless form of an unbreathing image.

Wis 15:6 Lovers of evil and worthy of such hopes are those who make them, those who want them and those who worship them.

Wis 15:7 Take a potter, now, laboriously working the soft earth, shaping each object for us to use. Out of the self-same clay, he models vessels intended for a noble use and those for a contrary purpose, all alike: but which of these two uses each will have is for the potter himself to decide.

Wis 15:8 Then -- ill -- spent effort!-from the same clay he models a futile god, although so recently made out of earth himself and shortly to return to what he was taken from, when asked to give back the soul that has been lent to him.

Wis 15:9 Even so, he does not worry about having to die or about the shortness of his life, but strives to outdo the goldsmiths and silversmiths, imitates the bronzeworkers, and prides himself on modelling counterfeits.

Wis 15:10 Ashes, his heart; more vile than earth, his hope; more wretched than clay, his life!

Wis 15:11 For he has misconceived the One who has modelled him, who breathed an active soul into him and inspired a living spirit.

Wis 15:12 What is more, he looks on this life of ours as a kind of game, and our time here like a fair, full of bargains. 'However foul the means,' he says, 'a man must make a living.'

Wis 15:13 He, more than any other, knows he is sinning, he who from one earthly stuff makes both brittle pots and idols.

Wis 15:14 But most foolish, more pitiable even than the soul of a little child, are the enemies who once played the tyrant with your people,

Wis 15:15 and have taken all the idols of the heathen for gods; these can use neither their eyes for seeing nor their nostrils for breathing the air nor their ears for hearing nor the fingers on their hands for handling nor their feet for walking.

Wis 15:16 They have been made, you see, by a human being, modelled by a being whose own breath is borrowed. No man can model a god to resemble himself;

Wis 15:17 subject to death, his impious hands can produce only something dead. He himself is worthier than the things he worships; he will at least have lived, but never they.

Wis 15:18 And they worship even the most loathsome of animals, worse than the rest in their degree of stupidity,

Wis 15:19 without a trace of beauty -- if that is what is attractive in animals- and excluded from God's praises and blessing.

Wis 16:1 Thus they were appropriately punished by similar creatures and tormented by swarms of vermin.

Wis 16:2 In contrast to this punishment, you did your people a kindness and, to satisfy their sharp appetite, provided quails -- a luscious rarity -- for them to eat.

Wis 16:3 Thus the Egyptians, at the repulsive sight of the creatures sent against them, were to find that, though they longed for food, they had lost their natural appetite; whereas your own people, after a short privation, were to have a rare relish for their portion.

Wis 16:4 Inevitable that relentless want should seize on the former oppressors; enough for your people to be shown how their enemies were being tortured.

Wis 16:5 Even when the fearful rage of wild animals overtook them and they were perishing from the bites of writhing snakes, your retribution did not continue to the end.

Wis 16:6 Affliction struck them briefly, by way of warning, and they had a saving token to remind them of the commandment of your Law,

Wis 16:7 for whoever turned to it was saved, not by what he looked at, but by you, the Saviour of all.

Wis 16:8 And by such means you proved to our enemies that you are the one who delivers from every evil;

Wis 16:9 for them, the bites of locusts and flies proved fatal and no remedy could be found to save their lives, since they deserved to be punished by such creatures.

Wis 16:10 But your children, not even the fangs of poisonous snakes could bring them down; for your mercy came to their help and cured them.

Wis 16:11 One sting -- how quickly healed!-to remind them of your pronouncements rather than that, by sinking into deep forgetfulness, they should be cut off from your kindness.

Wis 16:12 No herb, no poultice cured them, but your all-healing word, Lord.

Wis 16:13 Yes, you are the one with power over life and death, bringing to the gates of Hades and back again.

Wis 16:14 A human being out of malice may put to death, but cannot bring the departed spirit back or free the soul that Hades has once received.

Wis 16:15 It is not possible to escape your hand.

Wis 16:16 The godless who refused to acknowledge you were scourged by the strength of your arm, pursued by no ordinary rains, hail and unrelenting downpours, and consumed by fire.

Wis 16:17 Even more wonderful, in the water -- which quenches all -- the fire raged fiercer than ever; for the elements fight for the upright.

Wis 16:18 At one moment, the fire would die down, to avoid consuming the animals sent against the godless and to make clear to them by that sight, that the sentence of God was pursuing them;

Wis 16:19 at another, in the very heart of the water, it would burn more fiercely than fire to ruin the produce of a wicked land.

Wis 16:20 How differently with your people! You gave them the food of angels, from heaven untiringly providing them bread already prepared, containing every delight, to satisfy every taste.

Wis 16:21 And the substance you gave showed your sweetness towards your children, for, conforming to the taste of whoever ate it, it transformed itself into what each eater wished.

Wis 16:22 Snow and ice endured the fire, without melting; this was to show them that, to destroy the harvests of their enemies, fire would burn even in hail and flare in falling rain,

Wis 16:23 whereas, on the other hand, it would even forget its own strength in the service of feeding the upright.

Wis 16:24 For the creation, being at the service of you, its Creator, tautens to punish the wicked and slackens for the benefit of those who trust in you.

Wis 16:25 And this is why, by changing into all things, it obediently served your all-nourishing bounty, conforming to the wishes of those who were in need;

Wis 16:26 so that your beloved children, Lord, might learn that the various crops are not what provide nourishment, but your word which preserves all who believe in you.

Wis 16:27 For that which fire could not destroy melted in the heat of a single fleeting sunbeam,

Wis 16:28 to show that, to give you thanks, we must rise before the sun and meet you at the dawning of the day;

Wis 16:29 whereas the hope of the ungrateful melts like winter frost and flows away like water running to waste.

Wis 17:1 Yes, your judgements are great and impenetrable, which is why uninstructed souls have gone astray.

Wis 17:2 While the wicked supposed they had a holy nation in their power, they themselves lay prisoners of the dark, in the fetters of long night, confined under their own roofs, banished from eternal providence.

Wis 17:3 While they thought to remain unnoticed with their secret sins, curtained by dark forgetfulness, they were scattered in fearful dismay, terrified by apparitions.

Wis 17:4 The hiding place sheltering them could not ward off their fear; terrifying noises echoed round them; and gloomy, grim-faced spectres haunted them.

Wis 17:5 No fire had power enough to give them light, nor could the brightly blazing stars illuminate that dreadful night.

Wis 17:6 The only light for them was a great, spontaneous blaze -- a fearful sight to see! And in their terror, once that sight had vanished, they thought what they had seen more terrible than ever.

Wis 17:7 Their magical illusions were powerless now, and their claims to intelligence were ignominiously confounded;

Wis 17:8 for those who promised to drive out fears and disorders from sick souls were now themselves sick with ludicrous fright.

Wis 17:9 Even when there was nothing frightful to scare them, the vermin creeping past and the hissing of reptiles filled them with panic;

Wis 17:10 they died convulsed with fright, refusing even to look at empty air, which cannot be eluded anyhow!

Wis 17:11 Wickedness is confessedly very cowardly, and it condemns itself; under pressure from conscience it always assumes the worst.

Wis 17:12 Fear, indeed, is nothing other than the failure of the help offered by reason;

Wis 17:13 the less you rely within yourself on this, the more alarming it is not to know the cause of your suffering.

Wis 17:14 And they, all locked in the same sleep, while that darkness lasted -- which was in fact quite powerless and had issued from the depths of equally powerless Hades-

Wis 17:15 were now chased by monstrous spectres, now paralysed by the fainting of their souls; for a sudden, unexpected terror had attacked them.

Wis 17:16 And thus, whoever it might be that fell there stayed clamped to the spot in this prison without bars.

Wis 17:17 Whether he was ploughman or shepherd, or somebody at work in the desert, he was still overtaken and suffered the inevitable fate, for all had been bound by the one same chain of darkness.

Wis 17:18 The soughing of the wind, the tuneful noise of birds in the spreading branches, the measured beat of water in its powerful course, the headlong din of rocks cascading down,

Wis 17:19 the unseen course of bounding animals, the roaring of the most savage of wild beasts, the echo rebounding from the clefts in the mountains, all held them paralysed with fear.

Wis 17:20 For the whole world shone with the light of day and, unhindered, went about its work;

Wis 17:21 over them alone there spread a heavy darkness, image of the dark that would receive them. But heavier than the darkness was the burden they were to themselves.

Wis 18:1 For your holy ones, however, there was a very great light. The Egyptians, who could hear them but not see them, called them fortunate because they had not suffered too;

Wis 18:2 they thanked them for doing no injury in return for previous wrongs and asked forgiveness for their past ill-will.

Wis 18:3 In contrast to the darkness, you gave your people a pillar of blazing fire to guide them on their unknown journey, a mild sun for their ambitious migration.

Wis 18:4 But well those others deserved to be deprived of light and imprisoned in darkness, for they had kept in captivity your children, by whom the incorruptible light of the Law was to be given to the world.

Wis 18:5 As they had resolved to kill the infants of the holy ones, and as of those exposed only one child had been saved, you punished them by carrying off their horde of children and by destroying them all in the wild water.

Wis 18:6 That night had been known in advance to our ancestors, so that, well knowing him in whom they had put their trust, they would be sure of his promises.

Wis 18:7 Your people thus were waiting both for the rescue of the upright and for the ruin of the enemy;

Wis 18:8 for by the very vengeance that you exacted on our adversaries, you glorified us by calling us to you.
Wis 18:9 So the holy children of the good offered sacrifice in secret and with one accord enacted this holy law: that the holy ones should share good things and dangers alike; and forthwith they chanted the hymns of the ancestors.

Wis 18:10 In echo came the discordant cries of their enemies, and the pitiful wails of people mourning for their children could be heard from far away.

Wis 18:11 One and the same punishment had struck slave and master alike, and now commoner and king had the same sufferings to endure.

Wis 18:12 Struck by the same death, all had innumerable dead. There were not enough living left to bury them, for, at one stroke, the flower of their offspring had perished.

Wis 18:13 Those whose spells had made them completely incredulous, when faced with the destruction of their first-born, acknowledged this people to be child of God.

Wis 18:14 When peaceful silence lay over all, and night had run the half of her swift course,

Wis 18:15 down from the heavens, from the royal throne, leapt your all-powerful Word like a pitiless warrior into the heart of a land doomed to destruction. Carrying your unambiguous command like a sharp sword,

Wis 18:16 it stood, and filled the universe with death; though standing on the earth, it touched the sky.

Wis 18:17 Immediately, dreams and gruesome visions overwhelmed them with terror, unexpected fears assailed them.

Wis 18:18 Hurled down, some here, some there, half dead, they were able to say why they were dying;

Wis 18:19 for the dreams that had troubled them had warned them why beforehand, so that they should not perish without knowing why they were being afflicted.

Wis 18:20 Experience of death, however, touched the upright too, and a great many were struck down in the desert. But the Retribution did not last long,

Wis 18:21 for a blameless man hurried to their defence. Wielding the weapons of his sacred office, prayer and expiating incense, he confronted Retribution and put an end to the plague, thus showing that he was your servant.

Wis 18:22 He overcame Hostility, not by physical strength, nor by force of arms; but by word he prevailed over the Punisher, by recalling the oaths made to the Fathers, and the covenants.

Wis 18:23 Already the corpses lay piled in heaps, when he interposed and beat Retribution back and cut off its approach to the living.

Wis 18:24 For the whole world was on his flowing robe, the glorious names of the Fathers engraved on the four rows of stones, and your Majesty on the diadem on his head.

Wis 18:25 From these the Destroyer recoiled, he was afraid of these. This one experience of Retribution was enough.

Wis 19:1 But the godless were assailed by merciless anger to the very end, for he knew beforehand what they would do,

Wis 19:2 how, after letting his people leave and hastening their departure, they would change their minds and give chase.

Wis 19:3 They were actually still conducting their mourning rites and lamenting at the tombs of their dead, when another mad scheme came into their heads and they set out to pursue, as though runaways, the people whom they had expelled and begged to go.

Wis 19:4 A well-deserved fate urged them to this extreme and made them forget what had already happened, so that they would add to their torments the one punishment outstanding

Wis 19:5 and, while your people were experiencing a journey contrary to all expectations, would themselves meet an extraordinary death.

Wis 19:6 For the whole creation, submissive to your commands, had its very nature re-created, so that your children should be preserved from harm.

Wis 19:7 Overshadowing the camp there was the cloud; where there had been water, dry land was seen to rise; the Red Sea became an unimpeded way, the tempestuous waves, a green plain;

Wis 19:8 sheltered by your hand, the whole nation passed across, gazing at these amazing prodigies.

Wis 19:9 They were like horses at pasture, they skipped like lambs, singing your praises, Lord, their deliverer.

Wis 19:10 For they still remembered the events of their exile, how the land had bred mosquitoes instead of animals and the River had disgorged millions of frogs instead of fish.

Wis 19:11 Later they were to see a new way for birds to come into being, when, goaded by greed, they demanded something tasty,

Wis 19:12 and quails came up out of the sea to satisfy them.

Wis 19:13 On the sinners, however, punishments rained down not without violent thunder as early warning; and they suffered what their own crimes had justly deserved since they had shown such bitter hatred to foreigners.

Wis 19:14 Others, indeed, had failed to welcome strangers who came to them, but the Egyptians had enslaved their own guests and benefactors.

Wis 19:15 The sinners, moreover, will certainly be punished for it, since they gave the foreigners a hostile welcome;

Wis 19:16 but the latter, having given a festive reception to people who already shared the same rights as themselves, later overwhelmed them with terrible labours.

Wis 19:17 Hence they were struck with blindness, like the sinners at the gate of the upright, when, yawning darkness all around them, each had to grope his way through his own door.

Wis 19:18 A new attuning of the elements occurred, as on a harp the notes may change their rhythm, though all the while preserving the same tone; and this is just what happened:

Wis 19:19 land animals became aquatic, swimming ones took to the land,

Wis 19:20 fire reinforced its strength in water, and water forgot the power of extinguishing it;

Wis 19:21 flames, on the other hand, did not char the flesh of delicate animals that ventured into them; nor did they melt the heavenly food resembling ice and as easily melted.

Wis 19:22 Yes, Lord, in every way you have made your people great and glorious; you have never failed to help them at any time or place.

Sir 1:1 [The Law, the Prophets, and the other writers succeeding them have passed on to us great lessons, in consequence of which Israel must be commended for learning and wisdom. Furthermore, it is a duty, not only to acquire learning by reading, but also, once having acquired it, to make oneself of use to people outside by what one can say or write. My grandfather Jesus, having long devoted himself to the reading of the Law, the Prophets and other books of the Fathers and having become very learned in them, himself decided to write something on the subjects of learning and wisdom, so that people who wanted to learn might, by themselves accepting these disciplines, learn how better to live according to the Law. You are therefore asked to read this book with good will and attention and to show indulgence in those places where, notwithstanding our efforts at interpretation, we may seem to have failed to give an adequate rendering of this or that expression; the fact is that there is no equivalent for things originally written in Hebrew when it is a question of translating them into another language; what is more, the Law itself, the Prophets and the other books differ considerably in translation from what appears in the original text. It was in the thirty-eighth year of the late King Euergetes that, coming to Egypt and spending some time here, and finding life here consistent with a high degree of wisdom, I became convinced of an immediate duty to apply myself in my turn with pains and diligence to the translation of the book that follows; and I spent much time and learning on it in the course of this period, to complete the work and to publish the book for the benefit of those too who, domiciled abroad, wish to study, to reform their behaviour, and to live as the Law requires.] All wisdom comes from the Lord, she is with him for ever.

Sir 1:2 The sands of the sea, the drops of rain, the days of eternity -- who can count them?

Sir 1:3 The height of the sky, the breadth of the earth, the depth of the abyss -- who can explore them?

Sir 1:4 Wisdom was created before everything, prudent understanding subsists from remotest ages.

Sir 1:5

Sir 1:6 For whom has the root of wisdom ever been uncovered? Her resourceful ways, who knows them?

Sir 1:7

Sir 1:8 One only is wise, terrible indeed,

Sir 1:9 seated on his throne, the Lord. It was he who created, inspected and weighed her up, and then poured her out on all his works-

Sir 1:10 as much to each living creature as he chose -- bestowing her on those who love him.

Sir 1:11 The fear of the Lord is glory and pride, happiness and a crown of joyfulness.

Sir 1:12 The fear of the Lord gladdens the heart, giving happiness, joy and long life.

Sir 1:13 For those who fear the Lord, all will end well: on their dying day they will be blessed.

Sir 1:14 The basis of wisdom is to fear the Lord; she was created with the faithful in their mothers' womb;

Sir 1:15 she has made a home in the human race, an age -- old foundation, and to their descendants will she faithfully cling.

Sir 1:16 The fullness of wisdom is to fear the Lord; she intoxicates them with her fruits;

Sir 1:17 she fills their entire house with treasures and their storerooms with her produce.

Sir 1:18 The crown of wisdom is to fear the Lord: she makes peace and health flourish.

Sir 1:19 The Lord has seen and assessed her, he has showered down knowledge and intelligence, he has exalted the renown of those who possess her.

Sir 1:20 The root of wisdom is to fear the Lord, and her branches are long life.

Sir 1:21

Sir 1:22 The rage of the wicked cannot put him in the right, for the weight of his rage is his downfall.

Sir 1:23 A patient person puts up with things until the right time comes: but his joy will break out in the end.

Sir 1:24 Till the time comes he keeps his thoughts to himself, and many a lip will affirm how wise he is.

Sir 1:25 Wisdom's treasures contain the maxims of knowledge, the sinner, however, holds piety in abhorrence.

- Sir 1:26 If you desire wisdom, keep the commandments, and the Lord will bestow it on you.
- Sir 1:27 For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction, and what pleases him is faithfulness and gentleness.
- Sir 1:28 Do not stand out against fear of the Lord, do not practise it with a double heart.
- Sir 1:29 Do not act a part in public, keep watch over your lips.
- Sir 1:30 Do not grow too high and mighty, for fear you fall and cover yourself in disgrace; for the Lord would then reveal your secrets and overthrow you before the whole community for not having practised fear of the Lord and for having a heart full of deceit.
- Sir 2:1 My child, if you aspire to serve the Lord, prepare yourself for an ordeal.
- Sir 2:2 Be sincere of heart, be steadfast, and do not be alarmed when disaster comes.
- Sir 2:3 Cling to him and do not leave him, so that you may be honoured at the end of your days.
- Sir 2:4 Whatever happens to you, accept it, and in the uncertainties of your humble state, be patient,
- Sir 2:5 since gold is tested in the fire, and the chosen in the furnace of humiliation.
- Sir 2:6 Trust him and he will uphold you, follow a straight path and hope in him.
- Sir 2:7 You who fear the Lord, wait for his mercy; do not turn aside, for fear you fall.
- Sir 2:8 You who fear the Lord, trust him, and you will not be robbed of your reward.
- Sir 2:9 You who fear the Lord, hope for those good gifts of his, everlasting joy and mercy.
- Sir 2:10 Look at the generations of old and see: whoever trusted in the Lord and was put to shame? Or whoever, steadfastly fearing him, was forsaken? Or whoever called to him and was ignored?
- Sir 2:11 For the Lord is compassionate and merciful, he forgives sins and saves in the time of distress.
- Sir 2:12 Woe to faint hearts and listless hands, and to the sinner who treads two paths.
- Sir 2:13 Woe to the listless heart that has no faith, for such will have no protection.
- Sir 2:14 Woe to you who have lost the strength to endure; what will you do at the Lord's visitation?
- Sir 2:15 Those who fear the Lord do not disdain his words, and those who love him keep his ways.
- Sir 2:16 Those who fear the Lord do their best to please him, and those who love him will find satisfaction in the Law.
- Sir 2:17 Those who fear the Lord keep their hearts prepared and humble themselves in his presence.
- Sir 2:18 Let us fall into the hands of the Lord, not into any human clutches; for as his majesty is, so too is his mercy.
- Sir 3:1 Children, listen to me for I am your father: do what I tell you, and so be safe;
- Sir 3:2 for the Lord honours the father above his children and upholds the rights of a mother over her sons.
- Sir 3:3 Whoever respects a father expiates sins,
- Sir 3:4 whoever honours a mother is like someone amassing a fortune.
- Sir 3:5 Whoever respects a father will in turn be happy with children, the day he prays for help, he will be heard.
- Sir 3:6 Long life comes to anyone who honours a father, whoever obeys the Lord makes a mother happy.
- Sir 3:7 Such a one serves parents as well as the Lord.
- Sir 3:8 Respect your father in deed as well as word, so that blessing may come on you from him;
- Sir 3:9 since a father's blessing makes his children's house firm, while a mother's curse tears up its foundations.
- Sir 3:10 Do not make a boast of disgrace overtaking your father, your father's disgrace reflects no honour on you;
- Sir 3:11 for a person's own honour derives from the respect shown to his father, and a mother held in dishonour is a reproach to her children.
- Sir 3:12 My child, support your father in his old age, do not grieve him during his life.
- Sir 3:13 Even if his mind should fail, show him sympathy, do not despise him in your health and strength;
- Sir 3:14 for kindness to a father will not be forgotten but will serve as reparation for your sins.
- Sir 3:15 On your own day of ordeal God will remember you: like frost in sunshine, your sins will melt away.
- Sir 3:16 Whoever deserts a father is no better than a blasphemer, and whoever distresses a mother is accursed of the Lord.
- Sir 3:17 My child, be gentle in carrying out your business, and you will be better loved than a lavish giver.
- Sir 3:18 The greater you are, the more humbly you should behave, and then you will find favour with the Lord;
- Sir 3:19
- Sir 3:20 for great though the power of the Lord is, he accepts the homage of the humble.
- Sir 3:21 Do not try to understand things that are too difficult for you, or try to discover what is beyond your powers.
- Sir 3:22 Concentrate on what has been assigned you, you have no need to worry over mysteries.
- Sir 3:23 Do not meddle with matters that are beyond you; what you have been taught already exceeds the scope of the human mind.
- Sir 3:24 For many have been misled by their own notions, wicked presumption having warped their judgement.
- Sir 3:25
- Sir 3:26 A stubborn heart will come to a bad end, and whoever dallies with danger will perish in it.

- Sir 3:27 A stubborn heart is weighed down with troubles, the sinner heaps sin on sin.
Sir 3:28 For the disease of the proud there is no cure, since an evil growth has taken root there.
Sir 3:29 The heart of the sensible will reflect on parables, an attentive ear is the sage's dream.
Sir 3:30 Water puts out a blazing fire, almsgiving expiates sins.
Sir 3:31 Whoever gives favours in return is mindful of the future; at the moment of falling, such a person will find support.
- Sir 4:1 My child, do not refuse the poor a livelihood, do not tantalise the needy.
Sir 4:2 Do not add to the sufferings of the hungry, do not bait anyone in distress.
Sir 4:3 Do not aggravate a heart already angry, nor keep the destitute waiting for your alms.
Sir 4:4 Do not repulse a hard-pressed beggar, nor turn your face from the poor.
Sir 4:5 Do not avert your eyes from the needy, give no one occasion to curse you;
Sir 4:6 for if someone curses you in distress, his Maker will give ear to the imprecation.
Sir 4:7 Gain the love of the community, in the presence of the great bow your head.
Sir 4:8 To the poor lend an ear, and courteously return the greeting.
Sir 4:9 Save the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and do not be mean-spirited in your judgements.
Sir 4:10 Be like a father to the fatherless and as good as a husband to their mothers. And you will be like a child to the Most High, who will love you more than your own mother does.
Sir 4:11 Wisdom brings up her own children and cares for those who seek her.
Sir 4:12 Whoever loves her loves life, those who seek her early will be filled with joy.
Sir 4:13 Whoever possesses her will inherit honour, and wherever he walks the Lord will bless him.
Sir 4:14 Those who serve her minister to the Holy One, and the Lord loves those who love her.
Sir 4:15 Whoever obeys her rules the nations, whoever pays attention to her dwells secure.
Sir 4:16 If he trusts himself to her he will inherit her, and his descendants will remain in possession of her;
Sir 4:17 for though she takes him at first through winding ways, bringing fear and faintness on him, trying him out with her discipline till she can trust him, and testing him with her ordeals,
Sir 4:18 she then comes back to him on the straight road, makes him happy and reveals her secrets to him.
Sir 4:19 If he goes astray, however, she abandons him and leaves him to his own destruction.
Sir 4:20 Take circumstances into account and beware of evil, and have no cause to be ashamed of yourself;
Sir 4:21 for there is a shame that leads to sin and a shame that is honourable and gracious.
Sir 4:22 Do not be too severe on yourself, do not let shame lead you to ruin.
Sir 4:23 Do not refrain from speaking when it will do good, and do not hide your wisdom;
Sir 4:24 for your wisdom is made known by what you say, your erudition by the words you utter.
Sir 4:25 Do not contradict the truth, rather blush for your own ignorance.
Sir 4:26 Do not be ashamed to confess your sins, do not struggle against the current of the river.
Sir 4:27 Do not grovel to the foolish, do not show partiality to the influential.
Sir 4:28 Fight to the death for truth, and the Lord God will war on your side.
Sir 4:29 Do not be bold of tongue, yet idle and slack in deed;
Sir 4:30 do not be like a lion at home, or cowardly towards your servants.
Sir 4:31 Do not let your hands be outstretched to receive, yet tight-fisted when the time comes to give back.
- Sir 5:1 Do not put your confidence in your money or say, 'With this I am self-sufficient.'
Sir 5:2 Do not be led by your appetites and energy to follow the passions of your heart.
Sir 5:3 And do not say, 'Who has authority over me?' for the Lord will certainly give you your deserts.
Sir 5:4 Do not say, 'I have sinned, but what harm has befallen me?' for the Lord's forbearance is long.
Sir 5:5 Do not be so sure of forgiveness that you add sin to sin.
Sir 5:6 And do not say, 'His compassion is great, he will forgive me my many sins'; for with him are both mercy and retribution, and his anger does not pass from sinners.
Sir 5:7 Do not delay your return to the Lord, do not put it off day after day; for suddenly the Lord's wrath will blaze out, and on the day of punishment you will be utterly destroyed.
Sir 5:8 Do not set your heart on ill-gotten gains, they will be of no use to you on the day of disaster.
Sir 5:9 Do not winnow in every wind, or walk along every by-way (as the double-talking sinner does).
Sir 5:10 Be steady in your convictions, and be a person of your word.
Sir 5:11 Be quick to listen, and deliberate in giving an answer.
Sir 5:12 If you understand the matter, give your neighbour an answer, if not, keep your hand over your mouth.
Sir 5:13 Both honour and disgrace come from talking, the tongue is its owner's downfall.
Sir 5:14 Do not get a name for scandal-mongering, do not set traps with your tongue; for as shame lies in store for the thief, so harsh condemnation awaits the deceitful.
Sir 5:15 Avoid offences in great as in small matters, and do not exchange friendship for enmity,
Sir 6:1 for a bad name will earn you shame and reproach, as happens to the double-talking sinner.
Sir 6:2 Do not get carried aloft on the wings of passion, for fear your strength tear itself apart like a bull,

- Sir 6:3 and you devour your own foliage and destroy your own fruit and end by making yourself like a piece of dried-up wood.
- Sir 6:4 An evil temper destroys the person who has it and makes him the laughing-stock of his enemies.
- Sir 6:5 A kindly turn of speech attracts new friends, a courteous tongue invites many a friendly response.
- Sir 6:6 Let your acquaintances be many, but for advisers choose one out of a thousand.
- Sir 6:7 If you want to make a friend, take him on trial, and do not be in a hurry to trust him;
- Sir 6:8 for one kind of friend is so only when it suits him but will not stand by you in your day of trouble.
- Sir 6:9 Another kind of friend will fall out with you and to your dismay make your quarrel public,
- Sir 6:10 and a third kind of friend will share your table, but not stand by you in your day of trouble:
- Sir 6:11 when you are doing well he will be your second self, ordering your servants about;
- Sir 6:12 but, if disaster befalls you, he will recoil from you and keep out of your way.
- Sir 6:13 Keep well clear of your enemies, and be wary of your friends.
- Sir 6:14 A loyal friend is a powerful defence: whoever finds one has indeed found a treasure.
- Sir 6:15 A loyal friend is something beyond price, there is no measuring his worth.
- Sir 6:16 A loyal friend is the elixir of life, and those who fear the Lord will find one.
- Sir 6:17 Whoever fears the Lord makes true friends, for as a person is, so is his friend too.
- Sir 6:18 My child, from your earliest youth choose instruction, and till your hair is white you will keep finding wisdom.
- Sir 6:19 Like ploughman and sower, cultivate her and wait for her fine harvest, for in tilling her you will toil a little while, but very soon you will be eating her crops.
- Sir 6:20 How very harsh she is to the undisciplined! The senseless does not stay with her for long:
- Sir 6:21 she will weigh as heavily on the senseless as a touchstone and such a person will lose no time in throwing her off;
- Sir 6:22 for Wisdom is true to her name, she is not accessible to many.
- Sir 6:23 Listen, my child, and take my advice, do not reject my counsel:
- Sir 6:24 put your feet into her fetters, and your neck into her collar;
- Sir 6:25 offer your shoulder to her burden, do not be impatient of her bonds;
- Sir 6:26 court her with all your soul, and with all your might keep in her ways;
- Sir 6:27 search for her, track her down: she will reveal herself; once you hold her, do not let her go.
- Sir 6:28 For in the end you will find rest in her and she will take the form of joy for you:
- Sir 6:29 her fetters you will find a mighty defence, her collars, a precious necklace.
- Sir 6:30 Her yoke will be a golden ornament, and her bonds be purple ribbons;
- Sir 6:31 you will wear her like a robe of honour, you will put her on like a crown of joy.
- Sir 6:32 If you wish it, my child, you can be taught; apply yourself, and you will become intelligent.
- Sir 6:33 If you love listening, you will learn, if you pay attention, you will become wise.
- Sir 6:34 Attend the gathering of elders; if there is a wise man there, attach yourself to him.
- Sir 6:35 Listen willingly to any discourse coming from God, do not let wise proverbs escape you.
- Sir 6:36 If you see a man of understanding, visit him early, let your feet wear out his doorstep.
- Sir 6:37 Reflect on the injunctions of the Lord, busy yourself at all times with his commandments. He will strengthen your mind, and the wisdom you desire will be granted you.
- Sir 7:1 Do no evil, and evil will not befall you;
- Sir 7:2 shun wrong, and it will avoid you.
- Sir 7:3 My child, do not sow in the furrows of wickedness, for fear you have to reap them seven times over.
- Sir 7:4 Do not ask the Lord for the highest place, or the king for a seat of honour.
- Sir 7:5 Do not parade your uprightness before the Lord, or your wisdom before the king.
- Sir 7:6 Do not scheme to be appointed judge, for fear you should not be strong enough to stamp out injustice, for fear of being swayed by someone influential and so of risking the loss of your integrity.
- Sir 7:7 Do not wrong the general body of citizens and so lower yourself in popular esteem.
- Sir 7:8 Do not be drawn to sin twice over, for you will not go unpunished even once.
- Sir 7:9 Do not say, 'God will be impressed by my numerous offerings; when I sacrifice to God Most High, he is bound to accept.'
- Sir 7:10 Do not be hesitant in prayer; do not neglect to give alms.
- Sir 7:11 Do not laugh at someone who is sad of heart, for he who brings low can lift up high.
- Sir 7:12 Do not make up lies against your brother, nor against a friend either.
- Sir 7:13 Mind you tell no lies, for no good can come of it.
- Sir 7:14 Do not talk too much at the gathering of elders, and do not repeat yourself at your prayers.
- Sir 7:15 Do not shirk tiring jobs or farm work, ordained by the Most High.
- Sir 7:16 Do not swell the ranks of sinners, remember that the retribution will not delay.
- Sir 7:17 Be very humble, since the recompense for the godless is fire and worms.

Sir 7:18 Do not barter a friend away for the sake of profit, nor a true brother for the gold of Ophir.
Sir 7:19 Do not turn against a wise and good wife; her gracious presence is worth more than gold.
Sir 7:20 Do not ill-treat a slave who is an honest worker, or a wage-earner who is devoted to you.
Sir 7:21 Love an intelligent slave with all your heart, and do not deny such a slave his freedom.
Sir 7:22 Have you cattle? Look after them; if they are making you a profit, keep them.
Sir 7:23 Have you children? Educate them, from childhood make them bow the neck.
Sir 7:24 Have you daughters? Take care of their bodies, but do not be over-indulgent.
Sir 7:25 Marry a daughter off, and you have finished a great work; but give her to a man of sense.
Sir 7:26 Have you a wife to your liking? Do not turn her out; but if you do not love her, never trust her.
Sir 7:27 With all your heart honour your father, never forget the birthpangs of your mother.
Sir 7:28 Remember that you owe your birth to them; how can you repay them for what they have done for you?
Sir 7:29 With all your soul, fear the Lord and revere his priests.
Sir 7:30 With all your might love him who made you, and do not abandon his ministers.
Sir 7:31 Fear the Lord and honour the priest and give him the portion enjoined on you: first-fruits, sacrifice of reparation, shoulder-gift, sanctification sacrifice, first-fruits of the holy things.
Sir 7:32 And also give generously to the poor, so that your blessing may lack nothing.
Sir 7:33 Let your generosity extend to all the living, do not withhold it even from the dead.
Sir 7:34 Do not turn your back on those who weep, but share the grief of the grief-stricken.
Sir 7:35 Do not shrink from visiting the sick; in this way you will make yourself loved.
Sir 7:36 In everything you do, remember your end, and you will never sin.
Sir 8:1 Do not try conclusions with anyone influential, in case you later fall into his clutches.
Sir 8:2 Do not quarrel with anyone rich, in case he puts his weight against you; for gold has destroyed many, and has swayed the hearts of kings.
Sir 8:3 Do not argue with anyone argumentative, do not pile wood on that fire.
Sir 8:4 Do not joke with anyone uncouth, for fear of hearing your ancestors insulted.
Sir 8:5 Do not revile a repentant sinner; remember that we all are guilty.
Sir 8:6 Do not despise anyone in old age; after all, some of us too are growing old.
Sir 8:7 Do not gloat over anyone's death; remember that we all have to die.
Sir 8:8 Do not scorn the discourse of the wise, but make yourself familiar with their maxims, since from these you will learn the theory and the art of serving the great.
Sir 8:9 Do not dismiss what the old people have to say, for they too were taught by their parents; from them you will learn how to think, and the art of the timely answer.
Sir 8:10 Do not kindle the coals of the sinner, in case you scorch yourself in his blaze.
Sir 8:11 Refuse to be provoked by the insolent, for fear that such a one try to trap you in your words.
Sir 8:12 Do not lend to anyone who is stronger than you are -- if you do lend, resign yourself to loss.
Sir 8:13 Do not stand surety beyond your means; if you do stand surety, be prepared to pay up.
Sir 8:14 Do not go to law with a judge, since judgement will be given in his favour.
Sir 8:15 Do not go travelling with a rash man, for fear he becomes burdensome to you; he will act as the whim takes him, and you will both be ruined by his folly.
Sir 8:16 Do not argue with a quick-tempered man, do not go with him where there are no other people, since blood counts for nothing in his eyes, and where no help is to be had, he will strike you down.
Sir 8:17 Do not ask a fool for advice, since a fool will not be able to keep a confidence.
Sir 8:18 In a stranger's presence do nothing that should be kept secret, since you cannot tell what use the stranger will make of it.
Sir 8:19 Do not open your heart to all comers, nor lay claim to their good offices.
Sir 9:1 Do not be jealous of the wife you love, do not teach her lessons in how to harm you.
Sir 9:2 Do not put yourself in a woman's hands or she may come to dominate you completely.
Sir 9:3 Do not keep company with a prostitute, in case you get entangled in her snares.
Sir 9:4 Do not dally with a singing girl, in case you get caught by her wiles.
Sir 9:5 Do not stare at a pretty girl, in case you and she incur the same punishment.
Sir 9:6 Do not give your heart to whores, or you will ruin your inheritance.
Sir 9:7 Keep your eyes to yourself in the streets of a town, do not prowl about its unfrequented quarters.
Sir 9:8 Turn your eyes away from a handsome woman, do not stare at a beauty belonging to someone else. Because of a woman's beauty, many have been undone; this makes passion flare up like a fire.
Sir 9:9 Never sit down with a married woman, or sit at table with her drinking wine, in case you let your heart succumb to her and you lose all self-control and slide to disaster.
Sir 9:10 Do not desert an old friend; the new one will not be his match. New friend, new wine; when it grows old, you drink it with pleasure.
Sir 9:11 Do not envy the sinner his success; you do not know how that will end.

- Sir 9:12 Do not take pleasure in what pleases the godless; remember they will not go unpunished here below.
- Sir 9:13 Keep your distance from the man who has the power to put to death, and you will not be haunted by the fear of dying. If you do approach him, make no false move, or he may take your life. Realise that you are treading among trip-lines, that you are strolling on the battlements.
- Sir 9:14 Cultivate your neighbours to the best of your ability, and consult with the wise.
- Sir 9:15 For conversation seek the intelligent, let all your discussions bear on the law of the Most High.
- Sir 9:16 Have the upright for your table companions, and let your pride be in fearing the Lord.
- Sir 9:17 Work from skilled hands will earn its praise, but a leader of the people must be skilful in words.
- Sir 9:18 A chatterbox is a terror to his town, a loose talker is detested.
- Sir 10:1 A sagacious ruler educates his people, and he makes his subjects understand order.
- Sir 10:2 As the magistrate is, so will his officials be, as the governor is, so will be the inhabitants of his city.
- Sir 10:3 An undisciplined king will be the ruin of his people, a city owes its prosperity to the intelligence of its leading men.
- Sir 10:4 The government of the earth is in the hands of the Lord, he sets the right leader over it at the right time.
- Sir 10:5 Human success is in the hands of the Lord. He invests the scribe with honour.
- Sir 10:6 Do not resent your neighbour's every offence, and never act in a fit of passion.
- Sir 10:7 Pride is hateful to God and humanity, and injustice is abhorrent to both.
- Sir 10:8 Sovereignty passes from nation to nation because of injustice, arrogance and money.
- Sir 10:9 What has dust and ashes to pride itself on? Even in life its entrails are repellent.
- Sir 10:10 A long illness makes a fool of the doctor; a king today is a corpse tomorrow.
- Sir 10:11 For in death the portion of all alike will be insects, wild animals and worms.
- Sir 10:12 The first stage of pride is to desert the Lord and to turn one's heart away from one's Maker.
- Sir 10:13 Since the first stage of pride is sin, whoever clings to it will pour forth filth. This is why the Lord inflicts unexpected punishments on such people, utterly destroying them.
- Sir 10:14 The Lord has turned mighty princes off their thrones and seated the humble there instead.
- Sir 10:15 The Lord has plucked up the proud by the roots, and planted the lowly in their place.
- Sir 10:16 The Lord has overthrown the lands of the nations and destroyed them to the very foundations of the earth.
- Sir 10:17 Sometimes he has taken them away and destroyed them, and blotted out their memory from the earth.
- Sir 10:18 Pride was not created for human beings, nor furious rage for those born of woman.
- Sir 10:19 What race deserves honour? The human race. What race deserves honour? Those who fear the Lord. What race deserves contempt? The human race. What race deserves contempt? Those who break the Law.
- Sir 10:20 A leader is honoured by his brothers, and those who fear the Lord are honoured by him.
- Sir 10:21
- Sir 10:22 The rich, the noble, the poor, let them pride themselves on fearing the Lord.
- Sir 10:23 It is not right to despise one who is poor but intelligent, and it is not good to honour one who is a sinner.
- Sir 10:24 Magnate, magistrate, potentate, all are to be honoured, but none is greater than the one who fears the Lord.
- Sir 10:25 A wise slave will have free men waiting on him, and the enlightened will not complain.
- Sir 10:26 Do not try to be smart when you do your work, do not put on airs when you are in difficulties.
- Sir 10:27 Better the hardworking who has plenty of everything, than the pretentious at a loss for a meal.
- Sir 10:28 My child, be modest in your self-esteem, and value yourself at your proper worth.
- Sir 10:29 Who can justify one who inflicts injuries on himself, or respect one who is full of self-contempt?
- Sir 10:30 The poor is honoured for wit, and the rich for wealth.
- Sir 10:31 Honoured in poverty, how much the more in wealth! Dishonoured in wealth, how much the more in poverty!
- Sir 11:1 Wisdom enables the poor to stand erect, and gives to the poor a place with the great.
- Sir 11:2 Do not praise anyone for good looks, nor dislike anyone for mere appearance.
- Sir 11:3 Small among winged creatures is the bee but her produce is the sweetest of the sweet.
- Sir 11:4 Do not grow proud when people honour you; for the works of the Lord are wonderful but hidden from human beings.
- Sir 11:5 Many monarchs have been made to sit on the ground, and the person nobody thought of has worn the crown.
- Sir 11:6 Many influential people have been utterly disgraced, and prominent people have fallen into the power of others.
- Sir 11:7 Do not find fault before making thorough enquiry; first reflect, then give a reprimand.
- Sir 11:8 Listen before you answer, and do not interrupt a speech before it is finished.
- Sir 11:9 Do not wrangle about something that does not concern you, do not interfere in the quarrels of sinners.

Sir 11:10 My child, do not take on a great amount of business; if you multiply your interests, you are bound to suffer for it; hurry as fast as you can, yet you will never arrive, nor will you escape by running away.

Sir 11:11 Some people work very hard at top speed, only to find themselves falling further behind.

Sir 11:12 Or there is the slow kind of person, needing help, poor in possessions and rich in poverty; and the Lord turns a favourable eye on him, lifts him out of his wretched condition,

Sir 11:13 and enables him to hold his head high, thus causing general astonishment.

Sir 11:14 Good and bad, life and death, poverty and wealth, all come from the Lord.

Sir 11:15

Sir 11:16

Sir 11:17 To the devout the Lord's gift remains constant, and his favour will be there to lead them for ever.

Sir 11:18 Others grow rich by pinching and scraping, and here is the reward they receive for it:

Sir 11:19 although they say, 'Now I can sit back and enjoy the benefit of what I have got,' they do not know how long this will last; they will have to leave their goods to others and die.

Sir 11:20 Stick to your job, work hard at it and grow old at your work.

Sir 11:21 Do not admire the achievements of sinners, trust the Lord and mind your own business; since it is a trifle in the eyes of the Lord, in a moment, suddenly to make the poor rich.

Sir 11:22 The blessing of the Lord is the reward of the devout, in a moment God brings his blessing to flower.

Sir 11:23 Do not say, 'What are my needs, how much shall I have in the future?'

Sir 11:24 And do not say, 'I am self-sufficient, what disaster can affect me now?'

Sir 11:25 In prosperous times, disasters are forgotten and in times of disaster, no one remembers prosperity.

Sir 11:26 Yet it is a trifle for the Lord on the day someone dies to repay him as his conduct deserves.

Sir 11:27 A moment's adversity, and pleasures are forgotten; in a person's last hour his deeds will stand revealed.

Sir 11:28 Call no one fortunate before his death; it is by his end that someone will be known.

Sir 11:29 Do not bring everyone home with you, for many are the traps of the crafty.

Sir 11:30 Like a captive partridge in a cage, so is the heart of the proud: like a spy he watches for your downfall,

Sir 11:31 ever on the look-out, turning good into bad and finding fault with what is praiseworthy.

Sir 11:32 A hearthful of glowing coals starts from a single spark, and the sinner lurks for the chance to spill blood.

Sir 11:33 Beware of a scoundrel and his evil contrivances, in case he puts a smear on you for ever.

Sir 11:34 Give a home to a stranger and he will start trouble and estrange you from your own family.

Sir 12:1 If you mean to do a kindness, choose the right person, then your good deeds will not be wasted.

Sir 12:2 Do good to someone devout, and you will be rewarded, if not by that person, then certainly by the Most High.

Sir 12:3 No good will come to one who persists in evil, or who refuses to give alms.

Sir 12:4 Give to the devout, do not go to the help of a sinner.

Sir 12:5 Do good to the humble, give nothing to the godless. Refuse him bread, do not give him any, it might make him stronger than you are; then you would be repaid evil twice over for all the good you had done him.

Sir 12:6 For the Most High himself detests sinners, and will repay the wicked with what they deserve.

Sir 12:7 Give to the good, and do not go to the help of a sinner.

Sir 12:8 In prosperity you cannot always tell a true friend, but in adversity you cannot mistake an enemy.

Sir 12:9 When someone is doing well that person's enemies are sad, when someone is doing badly, even a friend will keep at a distance.

Sir 12:10 Do not ever trust an enemy; as bronze tarnishes, so does an enemy's malice.

Sir 12:11 Even if he behaves humbly and comes bowing and scraping, maintain your reserve and be on your guard against him. Behave towards him as if you were polishing a mirror, you will find that his tarnish cannot last.

Sir 12:12 Do not stand him beside you in case he thrusts you out and takes your place. Do not seat him on your right, or he will be after your position, and then you will remember what I have said and sadly admit that I was right.

Sir 12:13 Who feels sorry for a snake-charmer bitten by a snake, or for those who take risks with savage animals? -

Sir 12:14 just so for one who consorts with a sinner, and becomes an accomplice in his sins.

Sir 12:15 He will stay with you for a while, but if you once give way he will press his advantage.

Sir 12:16 An enemy may have sweetness on his lips, and in his heart a scheme to throw you into the ditch. An enemy may have tears in his eyes, but if he gets a chance there can never be too much blood for him.

Sir 12:17 If you meet with misfortune, you will find him there before you, and, pretending to help you, he will trip you up.

Sir 12:18 He will wag his head and clap his hands, he will whisper a lot and his expression will change.

Sir 13:1 Whoever touches pitch will be defiled, and anyone who associates with the proud will come to be like them.

Sir 13:2 Do not try to carry a burden too heavy for you, do not associate with someone more powerful and wealthy than yourself. Why put the clay pot next to the iron cauldron? It will only break when they bang against each other.

Sir 13:3 The rich does wrong and takes a high line; the poor is wronged and has to beg for pardon.

Sir 13:4 If you are useful the rich will exploit you, if you go bankrupt he will desert you.

Sir 13:5 Are you well off? - he will live with you, he will clean you out without a single qualm.

Sir 13:6 Does he need you? - he will hoodwink you, smile at you and raise your hopes; he will speak politely to you and say, 'Is there anything you need?'

Sir 13:7 He will make you feel small at his dinner parties and, having cleaned you out two or three times over, will end by laughing at you. Afterwards, when he sees you, he will avoid you and shake his head about you.

Sir 13:8 Take care you are not hoodwinked and thus humiliated through your own stupidity.

Sir 13:9 When an influential person invites you, show reluctance, and he will press his invitation all the more.

Sir 13:10 Do not thrust yourself forward, in case you are pushed aside, but do not stand aloof, or you will be overlooked.

Sir 13:11 Do not affect to treat him as an equal, do not trust his flow of words; since all this talking is expressly meant to test you, under cover of geniality he will be weighing you up.

Sir 13:12 Pitiless is anyone who retails gossip; he will not spare you either blows or chains.

Sir 13:13 Be wary, take very great care, because you are walking with your own downfall.

Sir 13:14

Sir 13:15 Every living thing loves its own sort, and every man his fellow.

Sir 13:16 Every creature mixes with its kind, and human beings stick to their own sort.

Sir 13:17 How can wolf and lamb agree? - Just so with sinner and devout.

Sir 13:18 What peace can there be between hyena and dog? And what peace between rich and poor?

Sir 13:19 Wild desert donkeys are the prey of lions; so too, the poor is the quarry of the rich.

Sir 13:20 The proud thinks humility abhorrent; so too, the rich abominates the poor.

Sir 13:21 When the rich stumbles he is supported by friends; when the poor falls, his friends push him away.

Sir 13:22 When the rich slips, there are many hands to catch him, if he talks nonsense he is congratulated. The poor slips, and is blamed for it, he may talk good sense, but no room is made for him.

Sir 13:23 The rich speaks and everyone stops talking, and then they praise his discourse to the skies. The poor speaks and people say, 'Who is this?' and if he stumbles, they trip him up yet more.

Sir 13:24 Wealth is good where there is no sin, poverty is evil, the godless say.

Sir 13:25 The heart moulds a person's expression whether for better or worse.

Sir 13:26 Happy heart, cheerful expression; but wearisome work, inventing proverbs.

Sir 14:1 Blessed is anyone who has not sinned in speech and who needs feel no remorse for sins.

Sir 14:2 Blessed is anyone whose conscience brings no reproach and who has never given up hope.

Sir 14:3 Wealth is not the right thing for the niggardly, and what use are possessions to the covetous?

Sir 14:4 Whoever hoards by stinting himself is hoarding for others, and others will live sumptuously on his riches.

Sir 14:5 If someone is mean to himself, whom does he benefit? he does not even enjoy what is his own.

Sir 14:6 No one is meaner than the person who is mean to himself, this is how his wickedness repays him.

Sir 14:7 If he does any good, he does it unintentionally, and in the end he himself reveals his wickedness.

Sir 14:8 Wicked the person who has an envious eye, averting his face, and careless of others' lives.

Sir 14:9 The eye of the grasping is not content with what he has, greed shrivels up the soul.

Sir 14:10 The miser is grudging of bread, there is famine at his table.

Sir 14:11 My child, treat yourself as well as you can afford, and bring worthy offerings to the Lord.

Sir 14:12 Remember that death will not delay, and that you have never seen Sheol's contract.

Sir 14:13 Be kind to your friend before you die, treat him as generously as you can afford.

Sir 14:14 Do not refuse yourself the good things of today, do not let your share of what is lawfully desired pass you by.

Sir 14:15 Will you not have to leave your fortune to another, and the fruit of your labour to be divided by lot?

Sir 14:16 Give and receive, enjoy yourself -- there are no pleasures to be found in Sheol.

Sir 14:17 Like clothes, every body will wear out, the age -- old law is, 'Everyone must die.'

Sir 14:18 Like foliage growing on a bushy tree, some leaves falling, others growing, so are the generations of flesh and blood: one dies, another is born.

Sir 14:19 Every achievement rots away and perishes, and with it goes its author.

Sir 14:20 Blessed is anyone who meditates on wisdom, and reasons with intelligence,

Sir 14:21 who studies her ways in his heart, and ponders her secrets.

Sir 14:22 He pursues her like a hunter, and lies in wait by her path;

Sir 14:23 he peeps in at her windows, and listens at her doors;
Sir 14:24 he lodges close to her house, and fixes his peg in her walls;
Sir 14:25 he pitches his tent at her side, and lodges in an excellent lodging;
Sir 14:26 he sets his children in her shade, and camps beneath her branches;
Sir 14:27 he is sheltered by her from the heat, and in her glory he makes his home.

Sir 15:1 Whoever fears the Lord will act like this, and whoever grasps the Law will obtain wisdom.
Sir 15:2 She will come to meet him like a mother, and receive him like a virgin bride.
Sir 15:3 She will give him the bread of understanding to eat, and the water of wisdom to drink.
Sir 15:4 He will lean on her and will not fall, he will rely on her and not be put to shame.
Sir 15:5 She will raise him high above his neighbours, and in full assembly she will open his mouth.
Sir 15:6 He will find happiness and a crown of joy, he will inherit an everlasting name.
Sir 15:7 Fools will not gain possession of her, nor will sinners set eyes on her.
Sir 15:8 She stands remote from pride, and liars cannot call her to mind.
Sir 15:9 Praise is unseemly in a sinner's mouth, since it has not been put there by the Lord.
Sir 15:10 For praise should be uttered only in wisdom, and the Lord himself then prompts it.
Sir 15:11 Do not say, 'The Lord was responsible for my sinning,' for he does not do what he hates.
Sir 15:12 Do not say, 'It was he who led me astray,' for he has no use for a sinner.
Sir 15:13 The Lord hates all that is foul, and no one who fears him will love it either.
Sir 15:14 He himself made human beings in the beginning, and then left them free to make their own decisions.
Sir 15:15 If you choose, you will keep the commandments and so be faithful to his will.
Sir 15:16 He has set fire and water before you; put out your hand to whichever you prefer.
Sir 15:17 A human being has life and death before him; whichever he prefers will be given him.
Sir 15:18 For vast is the wisdom of the Lord; he is almighty and all-seeing.
Sir 15:19 His eyes are on those who fear him, he notes every human action.
Sir 15:20 He never commanded anyone to be godless, he has given no one permission to sin.

Sir 16:1 Do not long for a brood of worthless children, and do not take pleasure in godless sons.
Sir 16:2 However many you have, take no pleasure in them, unless the fear of the Lord lives among them.
Sir 16:3 Do not count on their having long life, do not put too much faith in their number; for better have one than a thousand, better die childless than have children who are godless.
Sir 16:4 One person of sense can populate a city, but a race of lawless people will be destroyed.
Sir 16:5 My eyes have seen many such things, my ears have heard things even more impressive.
Sir 16:6 Fire is kindled in a sinful society, Retribution blazes in a rebellious nation.
Sir 16:7 God did not pardon the giants of old who, confident in their strength, had rebelled.
Sir 16:8 He did not spare the people with whom Lot lived; he abhorred them, rather, for their pride.
Sir 16:9 He was pitiless to the nation of perdition -- those people who gloried in their sins--
Sir 16:10 as also to the six hundred thousand men on the march, who had banded together in their obstinacy.
Sir 16:11 And had there been only one man stubborn, it would have been amazing had he escaped unpunished, since mercy and wrath alike belong to the Lord who is mighty to forgive and to pour out wrath.
Sir 16:12 As great as his mercy, so is his severity; he judges each person as his deeds deserve:
Sir 16:13 the sinner will not escape with his ill-gotten gains nor the patience of the devout go for nothing.
Sir 16:14 He takes note of every charitable action, and everyone is treated as he deserves.
Sir 16:15
Sir 16:16
Sir 16:17 Do not say, 'I shall hide from the Lord; who is going to remember me up there? I shall not be noticed among so many people; what am I in the immensity of creation?'

Sir 16:18 For see, the sky and the heavens above the sky, the abyss and the earth shake at his visitation.
Sir 16:19 The mountains and earth's foundations alike quail and tremble when he looks at them.
Sir 16:20 But to all this no one gives thought. Who keeps his movements in mind?
Sir 16:21 The storm wind itself is invisible, and most of what he does goes undetected.
Sir 16:22 'Who will report whether justice has been done? Who will be watching? The covenant is remote!'
Sir 16:23 Such are the thoughts of the person of little sense, stupid, misguided, cherishing his folly.
Sir 16:24 Listen to me, my child, and learn knowledge, and give your whole mind to my words.
Sir 16:25 I shall expound discipline methodically and proclaim knowledge with precision.
Sir 16:26 When God created his works in the beginning, he assigned them their places as soon as they were made.
Sir 16:27 He determined his works for all time, from their origins to their distant generations. They know neither hunger nor weariness, and they never desert their duties.
Sir 16:28 Not one has ever got in the way of another, and they will never disobey his word.
Sir 16:29 And afterwards the Lord looked at the earth, and filled it with his good things.

Sir 16:30 He covered its surface with every kind of animal, and to it they will return.

Sir 17:1 The Lord fashioned human beings from the earth, to consign them back to it.

Sir 17:2 He gave them so many days and so much time, he gave them authority over everything on earth.

Sir 17:3 He clothed them in strength, like himself, and made them in his own image.

Sir 17:4 He filled all living things with dread of human beings, making them masters over beasts and birds.

Sir 17:5

Sir 17:6 He made them a tongue, eyes and ears, and gave them a heart to think with.

Sir 17:7 He filled them with knowledge and intelligence, and showed them what was good and what evil.

Sir 17:8 He put his own light in their hearts to show them the magnificence of his works,

Sir 17:9

Sir 17:10 so that they would praise his holy name as they told of his magnificent works.

Sir 17:11 He set knowledge before them, he endowed them with the law of life.

Sir 17:12 He established an eternal covenant with them, and revealed his judgements to them.

Sir 17:13 Their eyes saw the majesty of his glory, and their ears heard the glory of his voice.

Sir 17:14 He said to them, 'Beware of all wrong-doing'; he gave each a commandment concerning his neighbour.

Sir 17:15 Their ways are always under his eye, they cannot be hidden from his sight.

Sir 17:16

Sir 17:17 Over each nation he has set a governor, but Israel is the Lord's own portion.

Sir 17:18

Sir 17:19 Their actions are all as plain as the sun to him, and his eyes rest constantly on their conduct.

Sir 17:20 Their iniquities are not hidden from him, all their sins are before the Lord.

Sir 17:21

Sir 17:22 Almsgiving is like a signet ring to him, he cherishes generosity like the pupil of an eye.

Sir 17:23 One day he will rise and reward them, he will repay their deserts on their own heads.

Sir 17:24 But to those who repent he permits return, and he encourages those who have lost hope.

Sir 17:25 Return to the Lord and renounce your sins, plead before his face, stop offending him.

Sir 17:26 Come back to the Most High, turn away from iniquity and hold all that is foul in abhorrence.

Sir 17:27 Who is going to praise the Most High in Sheol if we do not glorify him while we are alive?

Sir 17:28 The dead can praise no more than those who do not exist, only those with life and health can praise the Lord.

Sir 17:29 How great is the mercy of the Lord, his pardon for those who turn to him!

Sir 17:30 For we cannot have everything, human beings are not immortal.

Sir 17:31 What is brighter than the sun? And yet it fades. Flesh and blood think of nothing but evil.

Sir 17:32 He surveys the armies of the lofty sky, and all of us are only dust and ashes.

Sir 18:1 He who lives for ever has created the sum of things.

Sir 18:2 The Lord alone will be found just.

Sir 18:3

Sir 18:4 He has given no one the power to proclaim his works to the end, and who can fathom his magnificent deeds?

Sir 18:5 Who can assess his magnificent strength, and who can go further and tell all of his mercies?

Sir 18:6 Nothing can be added to them, nothing subtracted, it is impossible to fathom the marvels of the Lord.

Sir 18:7 When someone finishes he is only beginning, and when he stops he is as puzzled as ever.

Sir 18:8 What is a human being, what purpose does he serve? What is good and what is bad for him?

Sir 18:9 The length of his life: a hundred years at most.

Sir 18:10 Like a drop of water from the sea, or a grain of sand, such are these few years compared with eternity.

Sir 18:11 This is why the Lord is patient with them and pours out his mercy on them.

Sir 18:12 He sees and recognises how wretched their end is, and so he makes his forgiveness the greater.

Sir 18:13 Human compassion extends to neighbours, but the Lord's compassion extends to everyone; rebuking, correcting and teaching, bringing them back as a shepherd brings his flock.

Sir 18:14 He has compassion on those who accept correction, and who fervently search for his judgements.

Sir 18:15 My child, do not temper your favours with blame nor any of your gifts with words that hurt.

Sir 18:16 Does not dew relieve the heat? In the same way a word is worth more than a gift.

Sir 18:17 Why surely, a word is better than a good present, but a generous person is ready with both.

Sir 18:18 A fool will offer nothing but insult, and a grudging gift makes the eyes smart.

Sir 18:19 Learn before you speak, take care of yourself before you fall ill.

Sir 18:20 Examine yourself before judgement comes, and on the day of visitation you will be acquitted.

Sir 18:21 Humble yourself before you fall ill, repent as soon as the sin is committed.

Sir 18:22 Let nothing prevent your discharging a vow in good time, and do not wait till death to set matters right.

- Sir 18:23 Prepare yourself before making a vow, and do not be like someone who tempts the Lord.
Sir 18:24 Bear in mind the retribution of the last days, the time of vengeance when God averts his face.
Sir 18:25 In a time of plenty remember times of famine, think of poverty and want when you are rich.
Sir 18:26 The time slips by between dawn and dusk, everything passes quickly for the Lord.
Sir 18:27 The wise will be cautious in everything, in sinful times will take care not to offend.
Sir 18:28 Every person of sense recognises wisdom, and will respect anyone who has found her.
Sir 18:29 Those who understand sayings have toiled for their wisdom and have poured out accurate maxims.
Sir 18:30 Do not be governed by your passions, restrain your desires.
Sir 18:31 If you allow yourself to satisfy your desires, this will make you the laughing-stock of your enemies.
Sir 18:32 Do not indulge in luxurious living, do not get involved in such society.
Sir 18:33 Do not beggar yourself by banqueting on credit when there is nothing in your pocket.
Sir 19:1 A drunken workman will never grow rich, and one who makes light of small matters will gradually sink.
Sir 19:2 Wine and women corrupt intelligent men, the customer of whores loses all sense of shame.
Sir 19:3 Grubs and worms will have him as their legacy, and the man who knows no shame will lose his life.
Sir 19:4 Being too ready to trust shows shallowness of mind, and sinning harms the sinner.
Sir 19:5 Taking pleasure in evil earns condemnation;
Sir 19:6 by hating gossip one avoids evil.
Sir 19:7 Never repeat what you are told and you will come to no harm;
Sir 19:8 whether to friend or foe, do not talk about it, unless it would be sinful not to, do not reveal it;
Sir 19:9 you would be heard out, then mistrusted, and in due course you would be hated.
Sir 19:10 Have you heard something? Let it die with you. Courage! It will not burst you!
Sir 19:11 A fool will suffer birthpangs over a piece of news, like a woman labouring with child.
Sir 19:12 Like an arrow stuck in the flesh of the thigh, so is a piece of news inside a fool.
Sir 19:13 Question your friend, he may have done nothing at all; and if he has done anything, he will not do it again.
Sir 19:14 Question your neighbour, he may have said nothing at all; and if he has said anything, he will not say it again.
Sir 19:15 Question your friend, for slander is very common, do not believe all you hear.
Sir 19:16 People sometimes make a slip, without meaning what they say; and which of us has never sinned by speech?
Sir 19:17 Question your neighbour before you threaten him, and defer to the Law of the Most High.
Sir 19:18
Sir 19:19
Sir 19:20 Wisdom consists entirely in fearing the Lord, and wisdom is entirely constituted by the fulfilling of the Law.
Sir 19:21
Sir 19:22 Being learned in evil, however, is not wisdom, there is no prudence in the advice of sinners.
Sir 19:23 There is a cleverness that is detestable; whoever has no wisdom is a fool.
Sir 19:24 Better be short of sense and full of fear, than abound in shrewdness and violate the Law.
Sir 19:25 There is a wickedness which is scrupulous but nonetheless dishonest, and there are those who misuse kindness to win their case.
Sir 19:26 There is the person who will walk bowed down with grief, when inwardly this is nothing but deceit:
Sir 19:27 he hides his face and pretends to be deaf, if he is not unmasked, he will take advantage of you.
Sir 19:28 There is the person who is prevented from sinning by lack of strength, yet he will do wrong when he gets the chance.
Sir 19:29 You can tell a person by his appearance, you can tell a thinker by the look on his face.
Sir 19:30 The way a person dresses, the way he laughs, the way he walks, tell you what he is.
Sir 20:1 There is the rebuke that is untimely, and there is the person who keeps quiet, and he is the shrewd one.
Sir 20:2 But how much better to rebuke than to fume!
Sir 20:3 The person who acknowledges a fault wards off punishment.
Sir 20:4 Like a eunuch trying to take a girl's virginity is someone who tries to impose justice by force.
Sir 20:5 There is the person who keeps quiet and is considered wise, another incurs hatred for talking too much.
Sir 20:6 There is the person who keeps quiet, not knowing how to answer, another keeps quiet, knowing when to speak.
Sir 20:7 The wise will keep quiet till the right moment, but a garrulous fool will always misjudge it.
Sir 20:8 Someone who talks too much will earn dislike, and someone who usurps authority will earn hatred.
Sir 20:9 There is the person who finds misfortune a boon, and the piece of luck that turns to loss.
Sir 20:10 There is the gift that affords you no profit, and the gift that repays you double.
Sir 20:11 There is the honour that leads to humiliation, and there are people in a low state who raise their heads.

- Sir 20:12 There is the person who buys much for little, yet pays for it seven times over.
Sir 20:13 The wise wins love with words, while fools may shower favours in vain.
Sir 20:14 The gift of the stupid will bring you no advantage, his eyes look for seven times as much in return.
Sir 20:15 He gives little and reviles much, he opens his mouth like the town crier, he lends today and demands payment tomorrow; he is a detestable fellow.
Sir 20:16 The fool will say, 'I have no friends, I get no gratitude for my good deeds;
Sir 20:17 those who eat my bread have malicious tongues.' How often he will be laughed at, and by how many!
Sir 20:18 Better a slip on the pavement than a slip of the tongue; this is how ruin takes the wicked by surprise.
Sir 20:19 A coarse-grained person is like an indiscreet story endlessly retold by the ignorant.
Sir 20:20 A maxim is rejected when coming from a fool, since the fool does not utter it on the apt occasion.
Sir 20:21 There is a person who is prevented from sinning by poverty; no qualms of conscience disturb that person's rest.
Sir 20:22 There is a person who courts destruction out of false shame, courts destruction for the sake of a fool's opinion.
Sir 20:23 There is a person who out of false shame makes promises to a friend, and so makes an enemy for nothing.
Sir 20:24 Lying is an ugly blot on anyone, and ever on the lips of the undisciplined.
Sir 20:25 A thief is preferable to an inveterate liar, but both are heading for ruin.
Sir 20:26 Lying is an abominable habit, the liar's disgrace lasts for ever.
Sir 20:27 The wise gains advancement by words, the shrewd wins favour from the great.
Sir 20:28 Whoever tills the soil will have a full harvest, whoever wins favour from the great will secure pardon for offences.
Sir 20:29 Presents and gifts blind the eyes of the wise and stifle rebukes like a muzzle on the mouth.
Sir 20:30 Wisdom concealed, and treasure undiscovered, what use is either of these?
Sir 20:31 Better one who conceals his folly than one who conceals his wisdom.
Sir 21:1 My child, have you sinned? Do so no more, and ask forgiveness for your previous faults.
Sir 21:2 Flee from sin as from a snake, if you approach it, it will bite you; its teeth are lion's teeth, they take human life away.
Sir 21:3 All law-breaking is like a two-edged sword, the wounds it inflicts are beyond cure.
Sir 21:4 Terror and violence make havoc of riches, similarly, desolation overtakes the houses of the proud.
Sir 21:5 A plea from the mouth of the poor goes straight to the ear of God, whose judgement comes without delay.
Sir 21:6 Whoever resents reproof walks in the sinner's footsteps; whoever fears the Lord is repentant of heart.
Sir 21:7 The glib speaker is known far and wide, but the wary detects every slip.
Sir 21:8 To build your house with other people's money is like collecting stones for your own tomb.
Sir 21:9 A meeting of the lawless is like a heap of tow: they will end in a blazing fire.
Sir 21:10 The sinner's road is smoothly paved, but it ends at the pit of Sheol.
Sir 21:11 Whoever keeps the Law will master his instincts; the fear of the Lord is made perfect in wisdom.
Sir 21:12 No one who lacks aptitude can be taught, but certain aptitudes give rise to bitterness.
Sir 21:13 The sage's knowledge is as rich as the abyss and his advice is like a living spring.
Sir 21:14 The heart of a fool is like a broken jar, it will not hold any knowledge.
Sir 21:15 If the educated hears a wise saying, he praises it and caps it with another; if a debauchee hears it, he does not like it and tosses it behind his back.
Sir 21:16 The talk of a fool is like a load on a journey, but it is a pleasure to listen to the intelligent.
Sir 21:17 The utterance of the shrewd will be eagerly awaited in the assembly, what he says will be given serious consideration.
Sir 21:18 The wisdom of a fool is like the wreckage of a house, the knowledge of a dolt is incoherent talk.
Sir 21:19 To the senseless fellow instruction is like fetters on the feet, like manacles on the right hand.
Sir 21:20 A fool laughs at the top of his voice, but the intelligent quietly smiles.
Sir 21:21 To the shrewd instruction is like a golden ornament, like a bracelet on the right arm.
Sir 21:22 The step of a fool goes straight into a house, but a person of much experience makes a respectful approach;
Sir 21:23 the stupid peeps inside through the door, a well-bred person waits outside.
Sir 21:24 Listening at doors is a sign of bad upbringing, the perceptive would be ashamed to do so.
Sir 21:25 The lips of gossips repeat the words of others, the words of the wise are carefully weighed.
Sir 21:26 The heart of fools is in their mouth, but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.
Sir 21:27 When the godless curses Satan, he is cursing himself.
Sir 21:28 The scandal-monger sullies himself and earns the hatred of the neighbourhood.

- Sir 22:1 An idler is like a stone covered in filth, everyone whistles at his disgrace.
- Sir 22:2 An idler is like a lump of dung, anyone picking it up shakes it off his hand.
- Sir 22:3 It is a disgrace to have fathered a badly brought-up son, but the birth of any daughter is a loss;
- Sir 22:4 a sensible daughter will find a husband, but a shameless one is a grief to her father.
- Sir 22:5 A brazen daughter puts father and mother to shame, and will be disowned by both.
- Sir 22:6 An untimely remonstrance is like music at a funeral, but a thrashing and correction are wisdom at all times.
- Sir 22:7
- Sir 22:8
- Sir 22:9 Teaching a fool is like gluing bits of pottery together -- you are rousing someone who is besotted with sleep.
- Sir 22:10 You might as well talk to someone sound asleep; when you have finished the fool will say, 'What's up?'
- Sir 22:11 Shed tears for the dead, who has left the light behind; shed tears for the fool, who has left his wits behind. Shed quieter tears for the dead who is at rest, for the fool life is worse than death.
- Sir 22:12 Mourning for the dead lasts seven days, for the foolish and ungodly all the days of their lives.
- Sir 22:13 Do not waste many words on the stupid, do not go near a dolt. Beware of him, or you will have trouble and be soiled by contact with him; keep away from him, and you will have peace of mind and not be exasperated by his folly.
- Sir 22:14 What is heavier than lead, and what is its name if not 'fool'?
- Sir 22:15 Sand and salt and a lump of iron are a lighter burden than a dolt.
- Sir 22:16 A tie-beam bonded into a building will not be dislodged by an earthquake; so too, a heart resolved after due reflection will not flinch at the critical moment.
- Sir 22:17 A heart founded on intelligent reflection is like a stucco decoration on a smooth wall.
- Sir 22:18 Pebbles placed on top of a wall will not stand up to the wind; no more can the heart of a fool frightened at his own thoughts stand up to fear.
- Sir 22:19 Prick an eye and you will draw a tear, prick a heart and you reveal its feelings.
- Sir 22:20 Throw stones at birds and you scare them away, reproach a friend and you destroy a friendship.
- Sir 22:21 If you have drawn your sword on a friend, do not despair; there is a way back.
- Sir 22:22 If you have opened your mouth against your friend, do not worry; there is hope for reconciliation; but insult, arrogance, betrayal of secrets, and the stab in the back -- in these cases any friend is lost.
- Sir 22:23 Win your neighbour's confidence when he is poor, so that you may enjoy his later good fortune with him; stand by him in times of trouble, in order to have your share when he comes into a legacy.
- Sir 22:24 Fire is heralded by the reek of the furnace and smoke, so too, bloodshed by insults.
- Sir 22:25 I shall not be ashamed to shelter a friend nor shall I hide away from him,
- Sir 22:26 and if evil comes to me through him, everyone who hears about it will beware of him.
- Sir 22:27 Who will set a guard on my mouth, and an efficient seal on my lips, to keep me from falling, and my tongue from causing my ruin?
- Sir 23:1 Lord, father and master of my life, do not abandon me to their whims, do not let me fall because of them.
- Sir 23:2 Who will lay whips to my thoughts, and the discipline of wisdom to my heart, to be merciless to my errors and not let my sins go unchecked,
- Sir 23:3 for fear my errors should multiply and my sins then abound and I fall before my adversaries, and my enemy gloat over me?
- Sir 23:4 Lord, father and God of my life, do not let my eyes be proud,
- Sir 23:5 turn envy away from me,
- Sir 23:6 do not let lechery and lust grip me, do not leave me a prey to shameless desire.
- Sir 23:7 Children, listen to what I teach, no one who keeps it will be caught out.
- Sir 23:8 The sinner is ensnared by his own lips, both the abusive and the proud are tripped by them.
- Sir 23:9 Do not get into the habit of swearing, do not make a habit of naming the Holy One;
- Sir 23:10 for just as a slave who is constantly overseen will never be without bruises, so someone who is always swearing and uttering the Name will not be exempt from sin.
- Sir 23:11 A man for ever swearing is full of iniquity, and the scourge will not depart from his house. If he offends, his sin will be on him, if he did it unheedingly, he has doubly sinned; if he swears a false oath, he will not be treated as innocent, for his house will be filled with calamities.
- Sir 23:12 One way of talking is like death, let it not be found in the heritage of Jacob since devout people have nothing to do with that: they will not wallow in sin.
- Sir 23:13 Do not get into the habit of using coarse and foul language since this involves sinful words.
- Sir 23:14 Remember your father and mother when you are sitting with the great, for fear you forget yourself in their presence and behave like a fool, and then wish you had not been born and curse the day of your birth.

Sir 23:15 No one in the habit of using shameful language will break himself of it as long as he lives.

Sir 23:16 There are two types of people who commit sin after sin and a third who attracts retribution-

Sir 23:17 desire, blazing like a furnace, will not die down until it has been sated- the man who lusts after members of his own family is not going to stop until he is quite burnt out; every food is sweet to the promiscuous, and he will not desist until he dies;

Sir 23:18 and the man who sins against the marriage bed and says to himself, 'Who can see me? There is darkness all round me, the walls hide me, no one can see me, why should I worry? The Most High will not remember my sins.'

Sir 23:19 What he fears are human eyes, he does not realise that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter than the sun, observing every aspect of human behaviour, seeing into the most secret corners.

Sir 23:20 All things were known to him before they were created, and are still, now that they are finished.

Sir 23:21 This man will be punished in view of the whole town, and will be seized when he least expects it.

Sir 23:22 Similarly the woman unfaithful to her husband, who provides him with an heir by another man:

Sir 23:23 first, she has disobeyed the Law of the Most High; secondly, she has been false to her husband; and thirdly, she has gone whoring in adultery

Sir 23:24 and conceived children by another man. She will be led before the assembly, an enquiry will be held about her children.

Sir 23:25 Her children will strike no root, her branches will bear no fruit.

Sir 23:26 She will leave an accursed memory behind her, her shame will never be wiped out.

Sir 23:27 And those who survive her will recognise that nothing is better than fearing the Lord, and nothing sweeter than adherence to the Lord's commandments.

Sir 24:1 Wisdom speaks her own praises, in the midst of her people she glories in herself.

Sir 24:2 She opens her mouth in the assembly of the Most High, she glories in herself in the presence of the Mighty One:

Sir 24:3 'I came forth from the mouth of the Most High, and I covered the earth like mist.

Sir 24:4 I had my tent in the heights, and my throne was a pillar of cloud.

Sir 24:5 Alone, I have made the circuit of the heavens and walked through the depths of the abyss.

Sir 24:6 Over the waves of the sea and over the whole earth, and over every people and nation I have held sway.

Sir 24:7 Among all these I searched for rest, and looked to see in whose territory I might pitch camp.

Sir 24:8 Then the Creator of all things instructed me and he who created me fixed a place for my tent. He said, "Pitch your tent in Jacob, make Israel your inheritance."

Sir 24:9 From eternity, in the beginning, he created me, and for eternity I shall remain.

Sir 24:10 In the holy tent I ministered before him and thus became established in Zion.

Sir 24:11 In the beloved city he has given me rest, and in Jerusalem I wield my authority.

Sir 24:12 I have taken root in a privileged people, in the Lord's property, in his inheritance.

Sir 24:13 I have grown tall as a cedar on Lebanon, as a cypress on Mount Hermon;

Sir 24:14 I have grown tall as a palm in En-Gedi, as the rose bushes of Jericho; as a fine olive in the plain, as a plane tree, I have grown tall.

Sir 24:15 Like cinnamon and acanthus, I have yielded a perfume, like choice myrrh, have breathed out a scent, like galbanum, onycha, labdanum, like the smoke of incense in the tent.

Sir 24:16 I have spread my branches like a terebinth, and my branches are glorious and graceful.

Sir 24:17 I am like a vine putting out graceful shoots, my blossoms bear the fruit of glory and wealth.

Sir 24:18

Sir 24:19 Approach me, you who desire me, and take your fill of my fruits,

Sir 24:20 for memories of me are sweeter than honey, inheriting me is sweeter than the honeycomb.

Sir 24:21 They who eat me will hunger for more, they who drink me will thirst for more.

Sir 24:22 No one who obeys me will ever have to blush, no one who acts as I dictate will ever sin.'

Sir 24:23 All this is no other than the Book of the Covenant of the Most High God, the Law that Moses enjoined on us, an inheritance for the communities of Jacob.

Sir 24:24

Sir 24:25 This is what makes wisdom brim over like the Pishon, like the Tigris in the season of fruit,

Sir 24:26 what makes intelligence overflow like the Euphrates, like the Jordan at harvest time;

Sir 24:27 and makes discipline flow like the Nile, like the Gihon when the grapes are harvested.

Sir 24:28 The first man did not finish discovering about her, nor has the most recent tracked her down;

Sir 24:29 for her thoughts are wider than the sea, and her designs more profound than the abyss.

Sir 24:30 And I, like a conduit from a river, like a watercourse running into a garden,

Sir 24:31 I said, 'I am going to water my orchard, I intend to irrigate my flower beds.' And see, my conduit has grown into a river, and my river has grown into a sea.

Sir 24:32 Making discipline shine forth from daybreak, I shall send its light far and wide.

Sir 24:33 I shall pour out teaching like prophecy, as a legacy to all future generations.

Sir 24:34 And note, I have been working not merely for myself, but for all who are seeking wisdom.

Sir 25:1 There are three things my soul delights in, and which are delightful to God and to all people: concord between brothers, friendship between neighbours, and a wife and husband who live happily together.

Sir 25:2 There are three sorts of people my soul hates, and whose existence I consider an outrage: the poor swollen with pride, the rich who is a liar and an adulterous old man who has no sense.

Sir 25:3 If you have gathered nothing in your youth, how can you discover anything in your old age?

Sir 25:4 How fine a thing: sound judgement with grey hairs, and for greybeards to know how to advise!

Sir 25:5 How fine a thing: wisdom in the aged, and considered advice coming from people of distinction!

Sir 25:6 The crown of the aged is ripe experience, their glory, the fear of the Lord.

Sir 25:7 There are nine things I can think of which strike me as happy, and a tenth which is now on my tongue: the man who can be proud of his children, he who lives to see the downfall of his enemies;

Sir 25:8 happy is he who keeps house with a sensible wife; he who does not toil with ox and donkey; he who has never sinned with his tongue; he who does not serve a man less worthy than himself;

Sir 25:9 happy is he who has acquired good sense and can find attentive ears for what he has to say;

Sir 25:10 how great is he who has acquired wisdom; but unsurpassed is one who fears the Lord.

Sir 25:11 The fear of the Lord surpasses everything; what can compare with someone who has mastered that?

Sir 25:12

Sir 25:13 Any wound rather than a wound of the heart! Any spite rather than the spite of woman!

Sir 25:14 Any evil rather than an evil caused by an enemy! Any vengeance rather than the vengeance of a foe!

Sir 25:15 There is no poison worse than the poison of a snake, there is no fury worse than the fury of an enemy.

Sir 25:16 I would sooner keep house with a lion or a dragon than keep house with a spiteful wife.

Sir 25:17 A woman's spite changes her appearance and makes her face as grim as a bear's.

Sir 25:18 When her husband goes out to dinner with his neighbours, he cannot help heaving bitter sighs.

Sir 25:19 No spite can approach the spite of a woman, may a sinner's lot be hers!

Sir 25:20 Like the climbing of a sandhill for elderly feet, such is a garrulous wife for a quiet husband.

Sir 25:21 Do not be taken in by a woman's beauty, never lose your head over a woman.

Sir 25:22 Bad temper, insolence and shame hold sway where the wife supports the husband.

Sir 25:23 Low spirits, gloomy face, stricken heart: such is a spiteful wife. Slack hands and sagging knees: such is the wife who does not make her husband happy.

Sir 25:24 Sin began with a woman, and thanks to her we must all die.

Sir 25:25 Do not let water find a leak, nor a spiteful woman give free rein to her tongue.

Sir 25:26 If she will not do as you tell her, get rid of her.

Sir 26:1 How blessed is the husband of a really good wife; the number of his days will be doubled.

Sir 26:2 A perfect wife is the joy of her husband, he will live out the years of his life in peace.

Sir 26:3 A good wife is the best of portions, reserved for those who fear the Lord;

Sir 26:4 rich or poor, their hearts will be glad, their faces cheerful, whatever the season.

Sir 26:5 There are three things that I dread, and a fourth which terrifies me: slander by a whole town, the gathering of a mob, and a false accusation -- these are all worse than death;

Sir 26:6 but a woman jealous of a woman means heartbreak and sorrow, and all this is the scourge of the tongue.

Sir 26:7 A bad wife is a badly fitting ox-yoke, trying to master her is like grasping a scorpion.

Sir 26:8 A drunken wife will goad anyone to fury, she cannot conceal her own degradation.

Sir 26:9 A woman's wantonness shows in her wide-eyed look, her eyelashes leave no doubt.

Sir 26:10 Keep a headstrong daughter under firm control, or, feeling free, she will take advantage of it.

Sir 26:11 Keep a strict watch on her shameless eye, do not be surprised if she disgraces you.

Sir 26:12 Like a thirsty traveller she will open her mouth and drink any water she comes across; she will sit down in front of every tent-peg and open her quiver to any arrow.

Sir 26:13 The grace of a wife will charm her husband, her understanding will make him the stronger.

Sir 26:14 A silent wife is a gift from the Lord, no price can be put on a well-trained character.

Sir 26:15 A modest wife is a boon twice over, a chaste character cannot be over-valued.

Sir 26:16 Like the sun rising over the mountains of the Lord, such is the beauty of a good wife in a well-run house.

Sir 26:17 Like a lamp shining on the sacred lamp-stand, such is a beautiful face on a well-proportioned body.

Sir 26:18 Like golden pillars on a silver base, such are shapely legs on firm-set heels.

Sir 26:19

Sir 26:20

Sir 26:21
Sir 26:22
Sir 26:23
Sir 26:24
Sir 26:25
Sir 26:26
Sir 26:27

Sir 26:28 There are two things which grieve my heart and a third arouses my anger: a warrior wasting away through poverty, the intelligent treated with contempt, someone turning back from virtue to sin -- the Lord marks out such a person for a violent death.

Sir 26:29 It is difficult for a merchant to avoid doing wrong and for a trader not to incur sin.

Sir 27:1 Many have sinned for the sake of profit, one who hopes to be rich must turn a blind eye.

Sir 27:2 A peg will stick in the joint between two stones, and sin will wedge itself between selling and buying.

Sir 27:3 Whoever does not firmly hold to the fear of the Lord, his house will soon be overthrown.

Sir 27:4 In a shaken sieve the rubbish is left behind, so too the defects of a person appear in speech.

Sir 27:5 The kiln tests the work of the potter, the test of a person is in conversation.

Sir 27:6 The orchard where the tree grows is judged by its fruit, similarly words betray what a person feels.

Sir 27:7 Do not praise anyone who has not yet spoken, since this is where people are tested.

Sir 27:8 If you pursue virtue, you will attain it and put it on like a festal gown.

Sir 27:9 Birds consort with their kind, truth comes home to those who practise it.

Sir 27:10 The lion lies in wait for its prey, so does sin for those who do wrong.

Sir 27:11 The conversation of the devout is wisdom at all times, but the fool is as changeable as the moon.

Sir 27:12 When visiting stupid people, choose the right moment, but among the thoughtful take your time.

Sir 27:13 The conversation of fools is disgusting, raucous their laughter in their sinful pleasures.

Sir 27:14 The talk of hard-swearing people makes your hair stand on end, their brawling makes you stop your ears.

Sir 27:15 A quarrel between the proud leads to bloodshed, and their insults are embarrassing to hear.

Sir 27:16 A betrayer of secrets forfeits all trust and will never find the kind of friend he wants.

Sir 27:17 Be fond of a friend and keep faith with him, but if you have betrayed his secrets, do not go after him any more;

Sir 27:18 for, as one destroys a person by killing him, so you have killed your neighbour's friendship,

Sir 27:19 and as you let a bird slip through your fingers, so you have let your friend go, and will not catch him.

Sir 27:20 Do not go after him -- he is far away, he has fled like a gazelle from the snare.

Sir 27:21 For a wound can be bandaged and abuse forgiven, but for the betrayer of a secret there is no hope.

Sir 27:22 Someone with a sly wink is plotting mischief, no one can dissuade him from it.

Sir 27:23 Honey-tongued to your face, he is lost in admiration at your words; but behind your back he has other things to say, and turns your words into a stumbling-block.

Sir 27:24 I have found many things to hate, but nothing as much as him, and the Lord hates him too.

Sir 27:25 Whoever throws a stone in the air, throws it on to his own head; a treacherous blow cuts both ways.

Sir 27:26 The man who digs a pit falls into it, whoever sets a snare will be caught by it.

Sir 27:27 On anyone who does evil, evil will recoil, without his knowing where it comes from.

Sir 27:28 Sarcasm and abuse are the mark of the arrogant, but vengeance lies in wait like a lion for such a one.

Sir 27:29 The trap will close on all who rejoice in the downfall of the devout, and pain will eat them up before they die.

Sir 27:30 Resentment and anger, these are foul things too, and a sinner is a master at them both.

Sir 28:1 Whoever exacts vengeance will experience the vengeance of the Lord, who keeps strict account of sin.

Sir 28:2 Pardon your neighbour any wrongs done to you, and when you pray, your sins will be forgiven.

Sir 28:3 If anyone nurses anger against another, can one then demand compassion from the Lord?

Sir 28:4 Showing no pity for someone like oneself, can one then plead for one's own sins?

Sir 28:5 Mere creature of flesh, yet cherishing resentment!-who will forgive one for sinning?

Sir 28:6 Remember the last things, and stop hating, corruption and death, and be faithful to the commandments.

Sir 28:7 Remember the commandments, and do not bear your fellow ill-will, remember the covenant of the Most High, and ignore the offence.

Sir 28:8 Avoid quarrelling and you will sin less; for the hot-tempered provokes quarrels,

Sir 28:9 a sinner sows trouble between friends, introducing discord among the peaceful.

Sir 28:10 The way a fire burns depends on its fuel, a quarrel spreads in proportion to its violence; a man's rage depends on his strength, his fury grows fiercer in proportion to his wealth.

Sir 28:11 A sudden quarrel kindles fire, a hasty dispute leads to bloodshed.

Sir 28:12 Blow on a spark and up it flares, spit on it and out it goes; both are the effects of your mouth.

- Sir 28:13 A curse on the scandal-monger and double-talker, such a person has ruined many who lived in concord.
- Sir 28:14 That third tongue has shattered the peace of many and driven them from nation to nation; it has pulled down fortified cities, and overthrown the houses of the great.
- Sir 28:15 The third tongue has had upright wives divorced, depriving them of reward for their hard work.
- Sir 28:16 No one who listens to it will ever know peace of mind, will ever live in peace again.
- Sir 28:17 A stroke of the whip raises a weal, but a stroke of the tongue breaks bones.
- Sir 28:18 Many have fallen by the edge of the sword, but many more have fallen by the tongue.
- Sir 28:19 Blessed is anyone who has been sheltered from it, and has not experienced its fury, who has not dragged its yoke about, or been bound in its chains;
- Sir 28:20 for its yoke is an iron yoke, its chains are bronze chains;
- Sir 28:21 the death it inflicts is a miserable death, Sheol is preferable to it.
- Sir 28:22 It cannot gain a hold over the devout, they are not burnt by its flames.
- Sir 28:23 Those who desert the Lord will fall into it, it will flare up inextinguishably among them, it will be let loose against them like a lion, it will tear them like a leopard.
- Sir 28:24 Be sure you put a thorn-hedge round your property, lock away your silver and gold;
- Sir 28:25 then make scales and weights for your words, and put a door with bolts across your mouth.
- Sir 28:26 Take care you take no false step through it, in case you fall a prey to him who lies in wait.
- Sir 29:1 Making your neighbour a loan is an act of mercy, to lend him a helping hand is to keep the commandments.
- Sir 29:2 Lend to your neighbour in his time of need, and in your turn repay your neighbour on time.
- Sir 29:3 Be as good as your word and keep faith with him, and you will find your needs met every time.
- Sir 29:4 Many treat a loan as a windfall, and embarrass those who have come to their rescue.
- Sir 29:5 Until he gets something, a man will kiss his neighbour's hand, and refer diffidently to his wealth; but when the loan falls due, he puts this off, he repays with offhand words, and pleads the inconvenience of the time.
- Sir 29:6 Even if he can be made to pay, his creditor will recover barely half, and consider even that a windfall. But otherwise he will be cheated of his money, and undeservedly gain himself an enemy; the man will pay him back in curses and abuse, and with insults instead of honour.
- Sir 29:7 Many, not out of malice, refuse to lend; they are merely anxious not to be cheated for nothing.
- Sir 29:8 Nevertheless, be patient with those who are badly off, do not keep them waiting on your generosity.
- Sir 29:9 In obedience to the commandment, help the poor; do not turn the poor away empty-handed in their need.
- Sir 29:10 Spend your money on your brother or your friend, do not leave it under a stone to rust away.
- Sir 29:11 Use your wealth as the Most High has decreed; you will find that more profitable than gold.
- Sir 29:12 Stock your store-rooms with almsgiving; this will save you from all misfortune.
- Sir 29:13 Better than sturdy shield or weighty spear, this will fight for you against the enemy.
- Sir 29:14 A good man will go surety for his neighbour; only a shameless wretch would desert him.
- Sir 29:15 Do not forget the favour your guarantor has done you; he has given his life for you.
- Sir 29:16 A sinner is careless of his guarantor's prosperity, the ungrateful forgets his deliverer.
- Sir 29:17 Going surety has ruined many who were prosperous, tossing them about in a heavy sea.
- Sir 29:18 It has driven the powerful from home to wander among foreign nations.
- Sir 29:19 A wicked man in a hurry to stand guarantor in the hope of profit, is hurrying to be sentenced.
- Sir 29:20 Come to your neighbour's help as far as you can, but take care not to fall into the same plight.
- Sir 29:21 The first thing in life is water, and bread, and clothing, and a house for the sake of privacy.
- Sir 29:22 Better the life of the poor under a roof of planks, than lavish fare in somebody else's house.
- Sir 29:23 Whether you have little or much, be content with it, and you will not hear your household complaining.
- Sir 29:24 It is a miserable life, going from house to house; wherever you stay, you dare not open your mouth,
- Sir 29:25 you do not belong, you receive no thanks for the drink you pour out and hear embittering words into the bargain:
- Sir 29:26 'Come along, stranger, lay the table, what have you got ready? give me something to eat!'
- Sir 29:27 'Go away, stranger, make room for someone important; my brother is coming to stay, I need the house.'
- Sir 29:28 It is hard for the reasonable to be begrudging hospitality to be shamed like a debtor.
- Sir 30:1 Whoever loves his son will beat him frequently so that in after years the son may be his comfort.
- Sir 30:2 Whoever is strict with his son will reap the benefit, and be able to boast of him to his acquaintances.
- Sir 30:3 Whoever educates his son will be the envy of his enemy, and will be proud of him among his friends.
- Sir 30:4 Even when the father dies, he might well not be dead, since he leaves his likeness behind him.
- Sir 30:5 In life he has had the joy of his company, dying, he has no anxieties.
- Sir 30:6 He leaves an avenger against his enemies and a rewarder of favours for his friends.

- Sir 30:7 Whoever coddles his son will bandage his wounds, his heart will turn over at every cry.
Sir 30:8 A badly broken-in horse turns out stubborn, a son left to himself turns out headstrong.
Sir 30:9 Pamper your child and he will terrorise you, play along with him and he will bring you sorrow.
Sir 30:10 Do not laugh with him, or one day you will weep with him and end up gnashing your teeth.
Sir 30:11 While he is young, do not allow him his freedom and do not wink at his mistakes.
Sir 30:12 Bend his neck in youth, bruise his ribs while he is a child, or else he will grow stubborn and disobedient, and hurt you very deeply.
Sir 30:13 Be strict with your son, and persevere with him, or you will rue his insolence.
Sir 30:14 Better be poor if healthy and fit than rich if tormented in body.
Sir 30:15 Health and strength are better than any gold, a robust body than untold wealth.
Sir 30:16 No riches can outweigh bodily health, no enjoyment surpass a cheerful heart.
Sir 30:17 Better death than a wretched life, and everlasting rest than chronic illness.
Sir 30:18 Good things lavished on a closed mouth are like food offerings put on a grave.
Sir 30:19 What use is an offering to an idol which can neither eat nor smell? How describe someone pursued by the Lord's displeasure?
Sir 30:20 He looks and sighs like a eunuch embracing a pretty girl -- how he sighs!
Sir 30:21 Do not abandon yourself to sorrow, do not torment yourself with brooding.
Sir 30:22 Gladness of heart is life to anyone, joy is what gives length of days.
Sir 30:23 Give your cares the slip, console your heart, chase sorrow far away; for sorrow has been the ruin of many, and is no use to anybody.
Sir 30:24 Jealousy and anger shorten your days, and worry brings premature old age.
Sir 30:25 A genial heart makes a good trencherman, someone who enjoys a good meal.
Sir 31:1 The sleeplessness brought by wealth makes a person lose weight, the worry it causes drives away sleep.
Sir 31:2 The worries of the daytime prevent you from sleeping, like a serious illness, they keep sleep at bay.
Sir 31:3 The rich for ever toils, piling up money, and then, leaving off, he is gorged with luxuries;
Sir 31:4 the poor for ever toils, barely making a living, and then, leaving off, is poorer than ever.
Sir 31:5 No one who loves money can easily avoid sinning, whoever pursues profit will be corrupted by it.
Sir 31:6 Gold has been the ruin of many; their coming destruction was self-evident,
Sir 31:7 since it is a snare for those who sacrifice to it and stupid people all get caught in it.
Sir 31:8 Happy the rich who is found to be blameless and does not go chasing after gold.
Sir 31:9 Who is he, so that we can congratulate him, for he has achieved marvels among his fellows?
Sir 31:10 Who has been through this test and emerged perfect? He may well be proud of that! Who has had the chance to sin and has not sinned, had the chance to do wrong and has not done it?
Sir 31:11 His fortune will be firmly based and the assembly will acclaim his generosity.
Sir 31:12 If you are sitting down to a lavish table, do not display your greed, do not say, 'What a lot to eat'!
Sir 31:13 Remember, it is bad to have a greedy eye. Is any creature more wicked than the eye? - That is why it is always weeping!
Sir 31:14 Do not reach out for anything your host has his eye on, do not jostle him at the dish.
Sir 31:15 Judge your fellow-guest's needs by your own, be thoughtful in every way.
Sir 31:16 Eat what is offered you like a well brought-up person, do not wolf your food or you will earn dislike.
Sir 31:17 For politeness' sake be the first to stop; do not act the glutton, or you will give offence,
Sir 31:18 and if you are sitting with a large party, do not help yourself before the others do.
Sir 31:19 A little is quite enough for a well-bred person; his breathing is easy when he lies in bed.
Sir 31:20 A moderate diet ensures sound sleep, one gets up early, in the best of spirits. Sleeplessness, biliousness and gripe are what the glutton has to endure.
Sir 31:21 If you are forced to eat too much, get up, go and vomit, and you will feel better.
Sir 31:22 Listen to me, my child, do not disregard me, eventually you will see the force of my words. Be moderate in all your activities and illness will never overtake you.
Sir 31:23 People praise the person who keeps a splendid table, and their opinion of his munificence is sound.
Sir 31:24 But a niggardly host provokes universal resentment and people will retail instances of his meanness.
Sir 31:25 Do not play the valiant at your wine, for wine has been the undoing of many.
Sir 31:26 The furnace proves the temper of steel, and wine proves hearts in the drinking bouts of braggarts.
Sir 31:27 Wine gives life if drunk in moderation. What is life worth without wine? It came into being to make people happy.
Sir 31:28 Drunk at the right time and in the right amount, wine makes for a glad heart and a cheerful mind.
Sir 31:29 Bitterness of soul comes of wine drunk to excess out of temper or bravado.
Sir 31:30 Drunkenness excites the stupid to a fury to his own harm, it reduces his strength while leading to blows.

- Sir 31:31 Do not provoke your fellow-guest at a wine feast, do not make fun of him when he is enjoying himself, do not take him to task or annoy him by reclaiming money owed.
- Sir 32:1 Have they made you the presider? Do not let it go to your head, behave like everyone else in the party, see that they are happy and then sit down yourself.
- Sir 32:2 Having discharged your duties, take your place so that your joy may be through theirs, and you may receive the crown for your competence.
- Sir 32:3 Speak, old man -- it is proper that you should -- but with discretion: do not spoil the music.
- Sir 32:4 If someone is singing, do not ramble on and do not play the sage at the wrong moment.
- Sir 32:5 An amber seal on a precious stone, such is a concert of music at a wine feast.
- Sir 32:6 An emerald seal in a golden setting, such are strains of music with a vintage wine.
- Sir 32:7 Speak, young man, when you must, but twice at most, and then only if questioned.
- Sir 32:8 Keep to the point, say much in few words; give the impression of knowing but not wanting to speak.
- Sir 32:9 Among eminent people do not behave as though you were their equal; do not make frivolous remarks when someone else is speaking.
- Sir 32:10 Lightning comes before the thunder, favour goes ahead of a modest person.
- Sir 32:11 Leave in good time, do not bring up the rear, and hurry home without loitering.
- Sir 32:12 There amuse yourself, and do what you have a mind to, but do not sin by arrogant talk.
- Sir 32:13 And for all this bless your Creator, who intoxicates you with his favours.
- Sir 32:14 Whoever fears the Lord will accept his correction; those who look for him will win his favour.
- Sir 32:15 Whoever seeks the Law will be nourished by it, the hypocrite will find it a stumbling-block.
- Sir 32:16 Those who fear the Lord win his approval, their good deeds shining like a light.
- Sir 32:17 The sinner waves reproof aside, he finds an excuse for headstrong behaviour.
- Sir 32:18 A sensible person never scorns a warning; foreigners and the proud do not know about fear.
- Sir 32:19 Never act without reflection, and you will not regret your actions.
- Sir 32:20 Do not venture on a rough road, for fear of stumbling over the stones.
- Sir 32:21 Do not be over-confident on an even road
- Sir 32:22 and beware of your own children.
- Sir 32:23 Watch yourself in everything you do; this is also the way to keep the commandments.
- Sir 32:24 Anyone who trusts in the Law obeys its precepts, no one who has confidence in the Lord will come to harm.
- Sir 33:1 No evil will befall one who fears the Lord, such a one will be rescued even in the ordeal.
- Sir 33:2 No one who hates the Law is wise, one who is hypocritical about it is like a storm-tossed ship.
- Sir 33:3 An intelligent person will put faith in the Law, for such a one the Law is as dependable as a prophecy.
- Sir 33:4 Prepare what you have to say and you will get a hearing, marshal your information before you answer.
- Sir 33:5 The feelings of a fool are like a cart-wheel, a fool's thought revolves like a turning axle.
- Sir 33:6 A rutting stallion is like a sarcastic friend; he neighs, whoever rides him.
- Sir 33:7 Why is one day better than another, though the sun gives the same daylight throughout the year?
- Sir 33:8 They have been differentiated in the mind of the Lord, who has diversified the seasons and feasts;
- Sir 33:9 some he has made more important and has hallowed, others he has made ordinary days.
- Sir 33:10 Human beings come from the ground, Adam himself was formed out of earth;
- Sir 33:11 in the fullness of his wisdom the Lord has made distinctions between them, and diversified their conditions.
- Sir 33:12 Some of them he has blessed, hallowing and setting them near him; others he has cursed and humiliated by degrading them from their positions.
- Sir 33:13 Like clay in the hands of the potter to mould as it pleases him, so are human beings in the hands of their Maker to reward as he judges right.
- Sir 33:14 Opposite evil stands good, opposite death, life; so too opposite the devout stands the sinner.
- Sir 33:15 Contemplate all the works of the Most High, you will find they go in pairs, by opposites.
- Sir 33:16 Although the last to come, I have kept my eyes open like a man picking up what the grape-pickers have left.
- Sir 33:17 By the blessing of the Lord I have come in first, and like a true grape-picker have filled my winepress.
- Sir 33:18 And note, I have not been working merely for myself, but for all who seek instruction.
- Sir 33:19 Listen to me, important public figures, presidents of the assembly, give ear!
- Sir 33:20 Neither to son nor wife, brother nor friend, give power over yourself during your own lifetime. And do not give your property to anyone else, in case you regret it and have to ask for it back.
- Sir 33:21 As long as you live and there is breath in your body, do not yield power over yourself to anyone;
- Sir 33:22 better for your children to come begging to you, than for you to have to go begging to them.
- Sir 33:23 In all you do be the master, and leave a reputation unstained.
- Sir 33:24 The day your life draws to a close, at the hour of death, then distribute your heritage.

- Sir 33:25 Fodder, the stick and burdens for a donkey, bread, discipline and work for a slave.
- Sir 33:26 Work your slave hard, and you will have peace of mind, leave his hands idle, and he will be asking for his freedom.
- Sir 33:27 Yoke and harness will bow the neck, for a bad servant, torments and the rack.
- Sir 33:28 Set him to work, so that he will not be idle; idleness teaches every kind of mischief.
- Sir 33:29 Keep him at his duties, where he should be, if he is disobedient, clap him in irons.
- Sir 33:30 But do not be over-exacting with anyone, and do nothing contrary to justice.
- Sir 33:31 You have only one slave? Treat him like yourself, since you have acquired him with blood.
- Sir 33:32 You have only one slave? Treat him as a brother, since you need him as you need yourself.
- Sir 33:33 If you ill-treat him and he runs away, which way will you go to look for him?
- Sir 34:1 Vain and deceptive hopes are for the foolish, and dreams lend wings to fools.
- Sir 34:2 As well clutch at shadows and chase the wind as put any faith in dreams.
- Sir 34:3 Dreams are no different from mirrors; confronting a face, the reflection of that face.
- Sir 34:4 What can be cleansed by uncleanness, what can be verified by falsehood?
- Sir 34:5 Divinations, auguries and dreams are nonsense, like the fantasies of a pregnant woman.
- Sir 34:6 Unless sent as emissaries from the Most High, do not give them a thought;
- Sir 34:7 for dreams have led many astray, and those who relied on them have come to grief.
- Sir 34:8 Fulfilling the Law requires no such falsehood, and wisdom is perfected in veracity.
- Sir 34:9 A much travelled man knows many things, and a man of great experience will talk sound sense.
- Sir 34:10 Someone who has never had his trials knows little; but the travelled man is master of every situation.
- Sir 34:11 I have seen many things on my travels, I have understood more than I can put into words.
- Sir 34:12 I have often been in danger of death, but I have been spared, and this is why:
- Sir 34:13 the spirit of those who fear the Lord can survive, for their hope is in someone with power to save them.
- Sir 34:14 No one who fears the Lord need ever hesitate, or ever be daunted, since the Lord is his hope.
- Sir 34:15 Happy the soul of one who fears the Lord. On whom does he rely? Who supports him?
- Sir 34:16 The eyes of the Lord watch over those who love him, he is their powerful protection and their strong support, their screen from the desert wind, their shelter from the midday sun, a guard against stumbling, an assurance against a fall.
- Sir 34:17 He revives the spirit and brightens the eyes, he gives health, life and blessing.
- Sir 34:18 The sacrifice of an offering unjustly acquired is a mockery; the gifts of the impious are unacceptable.
- Sir 34:19 The Most High takes no pleasure in offerings from the godless, multiplying sacrifices will not gain pardon for sin.
- Sir 34:20 Offering sacrifice from the property of the poor is as bad as slaughtering a son before his father's eyes.
- Sir 34:21 A meagre diet is the very life of the poor, to deprive them of it is to commit murder.
- Sir 34:22 To take away a fellow-man's livelihood is to kill him, to deprive an employee of his wages is to shed blood.
- Sir 34:23 If one person builds while another pulls down, what will they get out of it but trouble?
- Sir 34:24 If one person prays and another calls down a curse, to which one's voice is the Master going to listen?
- Sir 34:25 If someone washes after touching a corpse, and then touches it again, what is the good of his washing?
- Sir 34:26 Just so with someone who fasts for sin, and then goes and commits it again. Who is going to hear that person's prayer? What is the good of the self-abasement?
- Sir 35:1 One who keeps the Law multiplies offerings; one who follows the commandments offers communion sacrifices.
- Sir 35:2 Proof of gratitude is an offering of fine flour, almsgiving a sacrifice of praise.
- Sir 35:3 To abandon wickedness is what pleases the Lord, to give up wrong-doing is an expiatory sacrifice.
- Sir 35:4 Do not appear empty-handed in the Lord's presence; for all these things are due under the commandment.
- Sir 35:5 The offering of the upright graces the altar, and its savour rises before the Most High.
- Sir 35:6 The sacrifice of the upright is acceptable, its memorial will not be forgotten.
- Sir 35:7 Honour the Lord with generosity, do not stint the first-fruits you bring.
- Sir 35:8 Add a smiling face to all your gifts, and be cheerful as you dedicate your tithes.
- Sir 35:9 Give to the Most High as he has given to you, as generously as your means can afford;
- Sir 35:10 for the Lord is a good rewarder, he will reward you seven times over.
- Sir 35:11 Do not try to bribe him with presents, he will not accept them, do not put your faith in wrongly motivated sacrifices;
- Sir 35:12 for the Lord is a judge who is utterly impartial.
- Sir 35:13 He never shows partiality to the detriment of the poor, he listens to the plea of the injured party.

Sir 35:14 He does not ignore the orphan's supplication, nor the widow's as she pours out her complaint.
Sir 35:15 Do the widow's tears not run down her cheeks, as she accuses the man who is the cause of them?
Sir 35:16 Whoever wholeheartedly serves God will be accepted, his petitions will carry to the clouds.
Sir 35:17 The prayer of the humble pierces the clouds: and until it does, he is not to be consoled,
Sir 35:18 nor will he desist until the Most High takes notice of him, acquits the upright and delivers judgement.
Sir 35:19 And the Lord will not be slow, nor will he be dilatory on their behalf,
Sir 35:20 until he has crushed the loins of the merciless and exacted vengeance on the nations,
Sir 35:21 until he has eliminated the hordes of the arrogant and broken the sceptres of the wicked,
Sir 35:22 until he has repaid all people as their deeds deserve and human actions as their intentions merit,
Sir 35:23 until he has judged the case of his people and made them rejoice in his mercy.
Sir 35:24 Mercy is welcome in time of trouble, like rain clouds in time of drought.
Sir 36:1 Take pity on us, Master, Lord of the universe, look at us, spread fear of yourself throughout all other nations.
Sir 36:2 Raise your hand against the foreign nations and let them see your might.
Sir 36:3 As, in their sight, you have proved yourself holy to us, so now, in our sight, prove yourself great to them.
Sir 36:4 Let them acknowledge you, just as we have acknowledged that there is no God but you, Lord.
Sir 36:5 Send new portents, do fresh wonders, win glory for your hand and your right arm.
Sir 36:6 Rouse your fury, pour out your rage, destroy the opponent, annihilate the enemy.
Sir 36:7 Hasten the day, remember the oath, and let people tell of your mighty deeds.
Sir 36:8 Let fiery wrath swallow up the survivor, and destruction overtake those who oppress your people.
Sir 36:9 Crush the heads of hostile rulers who say, 'There is no one else but us!'
Sir 36:10 Gather together all the tribes of Jacob, restore them their heritage as at the beginning.
Sir 36:11 Take pity, Lord, on the people called by your name, on Israel whom you have made your first-born.
Sir 36:12 Have compassion on your holy city, on Jerusalem, the place where you rest.
Sir 36:13 Fill Zion with your praises and your sanctuary with your glory.
Sir 36:14 Vindicate those whom you created first, fulfil what has been prophesied in your name.
Sir 36:15 Give those who wait for you their reward, let your prophets be proved true.
Sir 36:16 Grant, Lord, the prayer of your servants, in the terms of Aaron's blessing on your people,
Sir 36:17 so that all the earth's inhabitants may acknowledge that you are the Lord, the everlasting God.
Sir 36:18 The stomach takes in all kinds of food, but some foods are better than others.
Sir 36:19 As the palate discerns the flavour of game, so a shrewd listener detects lying words.
Sir 36:20 A perverse character causes depression in others; it needs experience to know how to repay such a one.
Sir 36:21 A woman will accept any husband, but some daughters are better than others.
Sir 36:22 A woman's beauty delights the beholder, a man likes nothing better.
Sir 36:23 If her tongue is kind and gentle, her husband is the happiest of men.
Sir 36:24 The man who takes a wife has the makings of a fortune, a helper to match himself, a pillar of support.
Sir 36:25 When property has no fence, it is open to plunder, when a man has no wife, he is aimless and querulous.
Sir 36:26 Will anyone trust an armed thief who flits from town to town?
Sir 36:27 So it is with the man who has no nest, and lodges wherever night overtakes him.
Sir 37:1 Any friend will say, 'I am your friend too,' but some friends are friends only in name.
Sir 37:2 Is it not a deadly sorrow when a comrade or a friend turns enemy?
Sir 37:3 O evil inclination, why were you created, to cover the earth with deceit?
Sir 37:4 One kind of comrade congratulates a friend in prosperity but in time of trouble appears on the other side.
Sir 37:5 One kind of comrade genuinely feels for a friend and when it comes to a fight, springs to arms.
Sir 37:6 Do not forget the genuine friend, do not push him out of mind once you are rich.
Sir 37:7 Any adviser will offer advice, but some are governed by self-interest.
Sir 37:8 Beware of someone who offers advice; first find out what he wants himself- since his advice coincides with his own interest -- in case he has designs on you
Sir 37:9 and tells you, 'You are on the right road,' but stands well clear to see what will happen to you.
Sir 37:10 Do not consult anyone who looks at you askance, conceal your plans from people jealous of you.
Sir 37:11 Do not consult a woman about her rival, or a coward about war, a merchant about prices, or a buyer about selling, anyone mean about gratitude, or anyone selfish about kindness, a lazy fellow about any sort of work, or a casual worker about finishing a job, an idle servant about a major undertaking -- do not rely on these for any advice.
Sir 37:12 But have constant recourse to some devout person, whom you know to be a keeper of the commandments, whose soul matches your own, and who, if you go wrong, will be sympathetic.

Sir 37:13 Finally, stick to the advice your own heart gives you, no one can be truer to you than that;
Sir 37:14 since a person's soul often gives a clearer warning than seven watchmen perched on a watchtower.
Sir 37:15 And besides all this beg the Most High to guide your steps into the truth.
Sir 37:16 Reason should be the basis for every activity, reflection must come before any undertaking.
Sir 37:17 Thoughts are rooted in the heart, and this sends out four branches:
Sir 37:18 good and evil, life and death, and mistress of them always is the tongue.
Sir 37:19 One kind of person is clever at teaching others, yet is no good whatever to himself;
Sir 37:20 another, very eloquent, is detested and ends by starving to death,
Sir 37:21 not having won the favour of the Lord, and being destitute of all wisdom.
Sir 37:22 Another considers himself wise and proclaims his intellectual conclusions as certainties.
Sir 37:23 But the truly wise instructs his people and his intellectual conclusions are certainties.
Sir 37:24 The wise is showered with blessings, and all who see him will call him happy.
Sir 37:25 Human life lasts a number of days, but the days of Israel are beyond counting.
Sir 37:26 The wise will earn confidence among the people, his name will live for ever.
Sir 37:27 During your life, my child, see what suits your constitution, do not give it what you find disagrees with it;
Sir 37:28 for not everything is good for everybody, nor does everybody like everything.
Sir 37:29 Do not be insatiable for any delicacy, do not be greedy for food,
Sir 37:30 for over-eating leads to illness and excess leads to liver-attacks.
Sir 37:31 Many people have died from over-eating; control yourself, and so prolong your life.
Sir 38:1 Treat the doctor with the honour that is his due, in consideration of his services; for he too has been created by the Lord.
Sir 38:2 Healing itself comes from the Most High, like a gift received from a king.
Sir 38:3 The doctor's learning keeps his head high, and the great regard him with awe.
Sir 38:4 The Lord has brought forth medicinal herbs from the ground, and no one sensible will despise them.
Sir 38:5 Did not a piece of wood once sweeten the water, thus giving proof of its power?
Sir 38:6 He has also given some people knowledge, so that they may draw credit from his mighty works.
Sir 38:7 He uses these for healing and relieving pain; the druggist makes up a mixture from them.
Sir 38:8 Thus, there is no end to his activities; thanks to him, well-being exists throughout the world.
Sir 38:9 My child, when you are ill, do not rebel, but pray to the Lord and he will heal you.
Sir 38:10 Renounce your faults, keep your hands unsmeared, and cleanse your heart from all sin.
Sir 38:11 Offer incense and a memorial of fine flour, make as rich an offering as you can afford.
Sir 38:12 Then let the doctor take over -- the Lord created him too -- do not let him leave you, for you need him.
Sir 38:13 There are times when good health depends on doctors.
Sir 38:14 For they, in their turn, will pray the Lord to grant them the grace to relieve and to heal, and so prolong your life.
Sir 38:15 Whoever sins in the eyes of his Maker, let such a one come under the care of the doctor!
Sir 38:16 My child, shed tears over the dead, lament for the dead to show your sorrow, then bury the body with due ceremony and do not fail to honour the grave.
Sir 38:17 Weep bitterly, beat your breast, observe the mourning the dead deserves for a day or two, to avoid censorious comment, and then be comforted in your sorrow;
Sir 38:18 for grief can lead to death, a grief-stricken heart loses all energy.
Sir 38:19 In affliction sorrow persists, a life of grief is hard to bear.
Sir 38:20 Do not abandon your heart to grief, drive it away, bear your own end in mind.
Sir 38:21 Do not forget, there is no coming back; you cannot help the dead, and you will harm yourself.
Sir 38:22 'Remember my doom, since it will be yours too; I yesterday, you today!'
Sir 38:23 Once the dead are laid to rest, let their memory rest, do not fret for them, once their spirit departs.
Sir 38:24 Leisure gives the scribe the chance to acquire wisdom; a man with few commitments can grow wise.
Sir 38:25 How can the ploughman become wise, whose sole ambition is to wield the goad, driving his oxen, engrossed in their work, his conversation limited to bullocks,
Sir 38:26 his thoughts absorbed in the furrows he traces and his long evenings spent in fattening heifers?
Sir 38:27 Similarly with all workmen and craftsmen, toiling day and night; those who engrave seals, for ever trying to think of a new design, concentrating on catching a good likeness and staying up late to get the work done.
Sir 38:28 Similarly with the blacksmith sitting by his anvil; he considers what to do with the pig-iron, the breath of the fire scorches his skin, as he contends with the heat of the furnace; the noise of the hammer deafens him, his eyes are fixed on the pattern; he concentrates on getting the job done well and stays up late to apply the finishing touches.
Sir 38:29 Similarly with the potter, sitting at his work, turning the wheel with his feet; constantly on the alert over his work, each flick of the finger premeditated;

Sir 38:30 he pummels the clay with his arm, and with his feet he kneads it; he concentrates on applying the glaze right and stays up late to clean the kiln.

Sir 38:31 All these people rely on their hands and each is skilled at his own craft.

Sir 38:32 A town could not be inhabited without them, there would be no settling, no travelling.

Sir 38:33 But you will not find them in the parliament, they do not hold high rank in the assembly. They do not sit on the judicial bench, and they do not meditate on the Law.

Sir 38:34 They are not remarkable for their culture or judgement, nor are they found frequenting the philosophers. They sustain the structure of the world, and their prayer is concerned with their trade.

Sir 39:1 Not so with one who concentrates his mind and his meditation on the Law of the Most High. He researches into the wisdom of all the Ancients, he occupies his time with the prophecies.

Sir 39:2 He preserves the discourses of famous men, he is at home with the niceties of parables.

Sir 39:3 He researches into the hidden sense of proverbs, he ponders the obscurities of parables.

Sir 39:4 He enters the service of princes, he is seen in the presence of rulers. He travels in foreign countries, he has experienced human good and human evil.

Sir 39:5 At dawn and with all his heart he turns to the Lord his Creator; he pleads in the presence of the Most High, he opens his mouth in prayer and makes entreaty for his sins.

Sir 39:6 If such be the will of the great Lord, he will be filled with the spirit of intelligence, he will shower forth words of wisdom, and in prayer give thanks to the Lord.

Sir 39:7 He will grow upright in purpose and learning, he will ponder the Lord's hidden mysteries.

Sir 39:8 He will display the instruction he has received, taking his pride in the Law of the Lord's covenant.

Sir 39:9 Many will praise his intelligence and it will never be forgotten. His memory will not disappear, generation after generation his name will live.

Sir 39:10 Nations will proclaim his wisdom, the assembly will celebrate his praises.

Sir 39:11 If he lives long, his name will be more glorious than a thousand others, and if he dies, that will satisfy him just as well.

Sir 39:12 And here are some more of my reflections: yes, I am as full as the moon at the full!

Sir 39:13 Listen to me, devout children, and blossom like the rose that grows on the bank of a watercourse.

Sir 39:14 Give off a sweet smell like incense, flower like the lily, spread your fragrance abroad, sing a song of praise blessing the Lord for all his works.

Sir 39:15 Declare the greatness of his name, proclaim his praise with song and with lyre, and this is how you must sing his praises:

Sir 39:16 'How wonderful, the actions of the Lord! Whatever he orders is done at the proper time!' You must not say, 'What is this? Why is that?' There is a proper time for every question.

Sir 39:17 At his word, the water stops and piles up high, at his voice, the watery reservoirs take shape,

Sir 39:18 at his command, whatever he wants is done, no one can stop him, if he intends to save.

Sir 39:19 He can see whatever human beings are doing, nothing can be hidden from his eye;

Sir 39:20 his gaze stretches from eternity to eternity, and nothing can astonish him.

Sir 39:21 You must not say, 'What is this? Why is that?' for everything has been made for a purpose.

Sir 39:22 As his blessing covers the dry land like a river and soaks it like a flood,

Sir 39:23 so retribution is his legacy to the nations, just as he has turned fresh waters to salt.

Sir 39:24 His ways are as smooth for the devout, as they are full of obstacles for the wicked.

Sir 39:25 Good things were created from the beginning for good people, as bad ones were for sinners.

Sir 39:26 The prime needs of human beings for living are water and fire, iron and salt, wheat-flour, milk and honey, the juice of the grape, oil and clothing.

Sir 39:27 All these are good for those who are good, but turn out bad for sinners.

Sir 39:28 Some winds have been created for punishing, in his fury, he uses them as scourges; on the day of doom, they unleash their violence and appease the wrath of their Creator.

Sir 39:29 Fire and hail, famine and death, have all been created for punishing.

Sir 39:30 Wild animals' fangs, scorpions, vipers, the avenging sword for the ruin of the godless:

Sir 39:31 all of them exult in discharging his orders, ready on earth whenever the need arises and, when their time comes, not falling short of his word.

Sir 39:32 That is why I was determined from the outset, why I have pondered and why I have written,

Sir 39:33 'The works of the Lord are all good, when the time is right, he gives whatever is needed.'

Sir 39:34 You must not say, "This is worse than that," for, sooner or later, everything proves its worth.

Sir 39:35 So now, sing with all your heart and voice, and bless the name of the Lord!

Sir 40:1 A hard lot has been created for human beings, a heavy yoke lies on the children of Adam from the day they come out of their mother's womb, till the day they return to the mother of them all.

Sir 40:2 What fills them with foreboding and their hearts with fear is dread of the day of death.

Sir 40:3 From the one who sits on a glorious throne to the wretch in dust and ashes,
Sir 40:4 from the one who wears purple and a crown to the one dressed in sacking, all is fury and jealousy, turmoil and unrest, fear of death, rivalry, strife.
Sir 40:5 And even at night while he rests on his bed his sleep only gives a new twist to his worries:
Sir 40:6 scarcely has he lain down to rest, when in his sleep, as if in broad daylight, he is troubled with nightmares, like one who has escaped from a battle,
Sir 40:7 and at the moment of rescue he wakes up, amazed that there was nothing to be afraid of!
Sir 40:8 For all creatures, human and animal -- and seven times more for sinners--
Sir 40:9 there is death and blood and strife and the sword, disasters, famine, affliction, plague.
Sir 40:10 These things were all created for the wicked, and the Flood came because of them.
Sir 40:11 All that comes from the earth returns to the earth, and what comes from the water returns to the sea.
Sir 40:12 All bribery and injustice will be blotted out, but good faith will stand for ever.
Sir 40:13 Ill-gotten wealth will vanish like a torrent, like the single thunder-clap that heralds rain.
Sir 40:14 When he opens his hand, he rejoices, by the same token, sinners come to ruin.
Sir 40:15 The sprigs of the godless will not make many branches, tainted roots find only hard rock.
Sir 40:16 The reed that grows by every lake and river's edge is the first plant to be uprooted.
Sir 40:17 Charity is a very paradise of blessing and almsgiving endures for ever.
Sir 40:18 For a person of private means and one who works hard, life is pleasant, better off than either, one who finds a treasure.
Sir 40:19 Children and the founding of a city perpetuate a name: more esteemed than either, a perfect wife.
Sir 40:20 Wine and music cheer the heart; better than either, the love of wisdom.
Sir 40:21 Flute and harp add sweetness to a song; better than either, a melodious voice.
Sir 40:22 The eye longs for grace and beauty; better than either, the green of spring corn.
Sir 40:23 Friend or comrade -- it is always well met; better than either, a wife and husband.
Sir 40:24 Brothers and allies are good in times of trouble; better than either, almsgiving to the rescue.
Sir 40:25 Gold and silver will steady your feet; more esteemed than either, good advice.
Sir 40:26 Money and strength make a confident heart; better than either, the fear of the Lord. With fear of the Lord, nothing is lacking: no need to seek for other help.
Sir 40:27 Fear of the Lord is a paradise of blessing, a better protection than the highest reputation.
Sir 40:28 My child, do not live by sponging off others, better be dead than be a sponger.
Sir 40:29 A life spent in eyeing someone else's table cannot be accounted a life at all. Other people's food defiles the gullet; a wise, well-brought-up person will beware of doing this.
Sir 40:30 What a sponger says may sound very sweet but in his belly there burns a fire.
Sir 41:1 O death, how bitter it is to remember you for someone peacefully living with his possessions, for someone with no worries and everything going well and who can still enjoy his food!
Sir 41:2 O death, your sentence is welcome to one in want, whose strength is failing, to one worn out with age and a thousand worries, resentful and impatient!
Sir 41:3 Do not dread death's sentence; remember those who came before you and those who will come after.
Sir 41:4 This is the sentence passed on all living creatures by the Lord, so why object to what seems good to the Most High? Whether your life lasts ten or a hundred or a thousand years, its length will not be held against you in Sheol.
Sir 41:5 Hateful brats, such are the children of sinners, who foregather in the haunts of the godless.
Sir 41:6 The inheritance of sinners' children is doomed to perish, their posterity will endure lasting reproach.
Sir 41:7 A godless father will be blamed by his children for the reproach he has brought on them.
Sir 41:8 A bad outlook for you, godless people, who have forsaken the Law of God Most High.
Sir 41:9 When you were born, you were born to be accursed, and when you die, that curse will be your portion.
Sir 41:10 All that comes from the earth returns to the earth, so too the wicked proceed from curse to destruction.
Sir 41:11 Mourning concerns only the bodies of the dead, but the worthless name of sinners will be blotted out.
Sir 41:12 Be careful of your reputation, for it will last you longer than a thousand great hoards of gold.
Sir 41:13 A good life lasts a certain number of days, but a good reputation lasts for ever.
Sir 41:14 Keep my instructions and be at peace, my children. Wisdom hidden away and treasure undisplayed, what use is either of these?
Sir 41:15 Better someone who hides his folly than one who hides his wisdom.
Sir 41:16 Preserve a sense of shame in the following matters, for not every kind of shame is right to harbour, nor is every situation correctly appraised by all.
Sir 41:17 Be ashamed, before father and mother, of depraved behaviour, and before prince or potentate of telling lies;
Sir 41:18 of wrong-doing before judge or magistrate, and of impiety before the assembly of the people;
Sir 41:19 of sharp practice before your companion and your friend, and of theft before the neighbourhood you live in.

Sir 41:20 Before the truth and covenant of God, be ashamed of leaning elbows on the table,

Sir 41:21 of being ungracious when giving or receiving, of ignoring those who greet you,

Sir 41:22 of gazing at a loose woman, of repulsing your fellow-countryman,

Sir 41:23 of misappropriating another's portion or gift, of paying court to another man's wife,

Sir 41:24 of making advances to his servant-girl -- do not go near her bed-

Sir 41:25 of saying disagreeable things to friends -- do not follow up a gift with a taunt-

Sir 41:26 of repeating everything you hear and of betraying confidences.

Sir 41:27 Then you will know what true shame is, and you will find yourself in everyone's graces.

Sir 42:1 The following things you should not be ashamed of, and do not sin from fear of what others think:

Sir 42:2 of the Law of the Most High or of the covenant, of a verdict that acquits the godless,

Sir 42:3 of keeping accounts with a travelling companion, of settling property on your friends,

Sir 42:4 of being accurate over scales and weights, of making small and large profits,

Sir 42:5 of gaining from commercial transactions, of disciplining your children strictly, of lashing a wicked slave till you draw blood.

Sir 42:6 With an interfering wife, it is as well to use your seal, and where there are many hands, lock things up.

Sir 42:7 Whatever stores you issue, do it by number and weight, spendings and takings, put everything in writing.

Sir 42:8 Do not be ashamed to correct a stupid person or a fool, or an old dotard who bickers with young people. Then you will show yourself really educated and win the approval of everyone.

Sir 42:9 Unknown to her, a daughter keeps her father awake, the worry she gives him drives away his sleep: in her youth, in case she never marries, married, in case she should be disliked,

Sir 42:10 as a virgin, in case she should be defiled and found with child in her father's house, having a husband, in case she goes astray, married, in case she should be sterile!

Sir 42:11 Your daughter is headstrong? Keep a sharp look-out that she does not make you the laughing-stock of your enemies, the talk of the town, the object of common gossip, and put you to public shame.

Sir 42:12 Do not stare at any man for his good looks, do not sit down with women;

Sir 42:13 for moth comes out of clothes, and woman's spite out of woman.

Sir 42:14 Better a man's spite than a woman's kindness: women give rise to shame and reproach.

Sir 42:15 Next, I shall remind you of the works of the Lord, and tell of what I have seen. By the words of the Lord his works come into being and all creation obeys his will.

Sir 42:16 The shining sun looks down on all things, and the work of the Lord is full of his glory.

Sir 42:17 The Lord has not granted the Holy Ones the power to tell of all his marvels which the Almighty Lord has solidly constructed for the universe to stand firm in his glory.

Sir 42:18 He has fathomed both the abyss and the human heart and seen into their devious ways; for the Most High knows all there is to know and sees the signs of the times.

Sir 42:19 He declares what is past and what will be, and reveals the trend of hidden things.

Sir 42:20 Not a thought escapes him, not a single word is hidden from him.

Sir 42:21 He has embellished the magnificent works of his wisdom, he is from everlasting to everlasting, nothing can be added to him, nothing taken away, he needs no one's advice.

Sir 42:22 How lovely, all his works, how dazzling to the eye!

Sir 42:23 They all live and last for ever, and, whatever the circumstances, all obey.

Sir 42:24 All things go in pairs, by opposites, he has not made anything imperfect:

Sir 42:25 one thing complements the excellence of another. Who could ever grow tired of gazing at his glory?

Sir 43:1 Pride of the heights, a clear vault of the sky -- such is the beauty of the heavens, a glorious sight.

Sir 43:2 The sun, as he emerges, proclaims at his rising, 'How wonderful a thing, the work of the Most High!'

Sir 43:3 At his zenith, he parches the ground, who can withstand his blaze?

Sir 43:4 We have to blow the furnace to produce any heat, the sun burns the mountains three times as much; breathing out blasts of fire, flashing his rays, he dazzles the eyes.

Sir 43:5 Great is the Lord who created him and whose word speeds him on his course.

Sir 43:6 And then the moon, ever punctual to mark the times, an everlasting sign:

Sir 43:7 It is the moon that signals the feasts, a luminary that wanes after being full.

Sir 43:8 The month derives its name from hers, she waxes wonderfully in her phases, banner of the hosts on high, shining in the vault of heaven.

Sir 43:9 The glory of the stars makes the beauty of the sky, a brilliant adornment of the Lord on High.

Sir 43:10 At the words of the Holy One they stand as he decrees, and never grow slack at their watch.

Sir 43:11 See the rainbow and praise its Maker, so superbly beautiful in its splendour.

Sir 43:12 Across the sky it forms a glorious arc drawn by the hands of the Most High.

Sir 43:13 By his command he sends the snow, he speeds the lightning by his command.

Sir 43:14 In the same way, his treasures open and the clouds fly out like birds.
Sir 43:15 His great power solidifies the clouds, then pulverises them into hail.
Sir 43:16 at the sight of him, the mountains quake. At his will the south wind blows, or the storm from the north and the whirlwind.
Sir 43:17 At the roar of his thunder, the earth writhes in labour,
Sir 43:18 He sprinkles snow like birds alighting, it comes down like locusts settling. The eye marvels at the beauty of its whiteness, and the mind is amazed at its falling.
Sir 43:19 Over the earth, like salt, he also pours hoarfrost, which, when it freezes, bristles like thorns.
Sir 43:20 The cold wind blows from the north, and ice forms on the water; it forms on every piece of standing water, covering it like a breastplate.
Sir 43:21 The wind swallows up the mountains and scorches the desert, like a fire it consumes the vegetation.
Sir 43:22 But cloud brings swift healing, and dew brings joy after the heat.
Sir 43:23 By his own resourcefulness he has tamed the abyss, and planted it with islands.
Sir 43:24 Those who sail the sea tell of its dangers, their accounts fill our ears with amazement:
Sir 43:25 for there too exist strange and wonderful works, animals of every kind and huge sea creatures.
Sir 43:26 Thanks to God, his messenger reaches port, everything works out according to his word.
Sir 43:27 We could say much more and still fall short; to put it concisely, 'He is all.'
Sir 43:28 Where shall we find sufficient power to glorify him, since he is the Great One, above all his works,
Sir 43:29 the awe-inspiring Lord, stupendously great, and wonderful in his power?
Sir 43:30 Exalt the Lord in your praises as high as you may -- still he surpasses you. Exert all your strength when you exalt him, do not grow tired -- you will never come to the end.
Sir 43:31 Who has ever seen him to describe him? Who can glorify him as he deserves?
Sir 43:32 Many mysteries remain even greater than these, for we have seen only a few of his works,
Sir 43:33 the Lord himself having created all things and given wisdom to those who are devout.
Sir 44:1 Next let us praise illustrious men, our ancestors in their successive generations.
Sir 44:2 The Lord has created an abundance of glory, and displayed his greatness from earliest times.
Sir 44:3 Some wielded authority as kings and were renowned for their strength; others were intelligent advisers and uttered prophetic sayings.
Sir 44:4 Others directed the people by their advice, by their understanding of the popular mind, and by the wise words of their teaching;
Sir 44:5 others composed musical melodies and set down ballads;
Sir 44:6 others were rich and powerful, living peacefully in their homes.
Sir 44:7 All these were honoured by their contemporaries and were the glory of their day.
Sir 44:8 Some of them left a name behind them, so that their praises are still sung.
Sir 44:9 While others have left no memory, and disappeared as though they had not existed. They are now as though they had never been, and so too, their children after them.
Sir 44:10 But here is a list of illustrious men whose good works have not been forgotten.
Sir 44:11 In their descendants they find a rich inheritance, their posterity.
Sir 44:12 Their descendants stand by the commandments and, thanks to them, so do their children's children.
Sir 44:13 Their offspring will last for ever, their glory will not fade.
Sir 44:14 Their bodies have been buried in peace, and their name lives on for all generations.
Sir 44:15 The peoples will proclaim their wisdom, the assembly will celebrate their praises.
Sir 44:16 Enoch pleased the Lord and was transferred to heaven, an example for the conversion of all generations.
Sir 44:17 Noah was found perfectly upright, in the time of retribution he became the heir: because of him a remnant was preserved for the earth at the coming of the Flood.
Sir 44:18 Everlasting covenants were made with him that never again should every living creature perish by flood.
Sir 44:19 Abraham, the great ancestor of a host of nations, no one was ever his equal in glory.
Sir 44:20 He observed the Law of the Most High, and entered into a covenant with him. He confirmed the covenant in his own flesh, and proved himself faithful under ordeal.
Sir 44:21 The Lord therefore promised him on oath to bless the nations through his descendants, to multiply him like the dust on the ground, to exalt his descendants like the stars, and to give them the land as their heritage, from one sea to the other, from the River to the ends of the earth.
Sir 44:22 To Isaac too, for the sake of Abraham his father, he assured
Sir 44:23 the blessing of all humanity; he caused the covenant to rest on the head of Jacob. He confirmed him in his blessings and gave him the land as his inheritance; he divided it into portions, and shared it out among the twelve tribes.
Sir 45:1 From Jacob's stock he produced a generous man who found favour in the eyes of all humanity, beloved by God and people, Moses, of blessed memory.

Sir 45:2 He made him the equal of the holy ones in glory and made him strong, to the terror of his enemies.

Sir 45:3 By the word of Moses, he made prodigies cease and raised him high in the respect of kings; he gave him commandments for his people, and showed him something of his glory.

Sir 45:4 For his loyalty and gentleness he sanctified him, choosing him alone out of all human beings;

Sir 45:5 he allowed him to hear his voice, and led him into the darkness;

Sir 45:6 he gave him the commandments face to face, the law of life and knowledge, to teach Jacob his ordinances and Israel his decrees. He raised up Aaron, a holy man like Moses, his brother, of the tribe of Levi.

Sir 45:7 He made an everlasting covenant with him, and gave him the priesthood of the people. He adorned him with impressive vestments, he dressed him in a robe of glory.

Sir 45:8 He clothed him in glorious perfection and invested him with rich ornaments, the breeches, the long robe, the ephod.

Sir 45:9 To surround the robe he gave him pomegranates, and many gold bells all round to chime at every step, for their sound to be heard in the Temple as a reminder to the children of his people;

Sir 45:10 and a sacred vestment of gold and aquamarine and scarlet, the work of an embroiderer; the pectoral of judgement, the urim and thummim, of plaited crimson, the work of a craftsman;

Sir 45:11 precious stones cut like seals mounted in gold, the work of a jeweller, as a reminder with their engraved inscriptions of the number of the tribes of Israel;

Sir 45:12 and a golden diadem on his turban, engraved with the seal of consecration; superb ornamentation, magnificent work, adornment to delight the eye.

Sir 45:13 There had never been such lovely things before him, and no one else has ever put them on, but only his own sons, and his descendants for all time.

Sir 45:14 His sacrifices were to be burnt entirely, twice each day and for ever.

Sir 45:15 Moses consecrated him and anointed him with holy oil; and this was an everlasting covenant for him, and for his descendants as long as the heavens endure, that he should preside over worship, act as priest, and bless the people in the name of the Lord.

Sir 45:16 He chose him out of all the living to offer sacrifices to the Lord, incense and perfume as a memorial to make expiation for the people.

Sir 45:17 He entrusted him with his commandments, committed to him the statutes of the Law for him to teach Jacob his decrees and enlighten Israel on his Law.

Sir 45:18 Others plotted against him, they were jealous of him in the desert, Dathan and Abiram and their men, Korah and his crew in fury and rage.

Sir 45:19 The Lord saw it and was displeased, his raging fury made an end of them; he worked miracles on them, consuming them by his flaming fire.

Sir 45:20 And he added to Aaron's glory, he gave him an inheritance; he allotted him the offerings of the first-fruits, before all else, as much bread as he could want.

Sir 45:21 Thus they eat the sacrifices of the Lord which he gave to him and his posterity.

Sir 45:22 But of the people's territory he inherits nothing, he alone of all the people has no share, 'For I myself am your share and heritage.'

Sir 45:23 Phinehas son of Eleazar is third in glory because of his zeal in the fear of the Lord, because he stood firm when the people revolted, with a staunch and courageous heart; and in this way made expiation for Israel.

Sir 45:24 Hence a covenant of peace was sealed with him, making him governor of both sanctuary and people, and securing to him and his descendants the high priestly dignity for ever.

Sir 45:25 There was also a covenant with David son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah, a royal succession by exclusively linear descent, but the succession of Aaron passes to all his descendants.

Sir 45:26 May God endow your hearts with wisdom to judge his people uprightly, so that the virtues of your ancestors may never fade, and their glory may pass to all their descendants!

Sir 46:1 Mighty in war was Joshua son of Nun, successor to Moses in the prophetic office, who well deserved his name, and was a great saviour of the chosen people, wreaking vengeance on the enemies who opposed him, and so bringing Israel into its inheritance.

Sir 46:2 How splendid he was when, arms uplifted, he brandished his sword against cities!

Sir 46:3 Who had ever shown such determination as his? He himself led the battles of the Lord.

Sir 46:4 Was not the sun held back by his hand, and one day drawn out into two?

Sir 46:5 He called on the Most High, the Mighty One, while pressing the enemies from all directions, and the great Lord answered him with hard and violent hailstones.

Sir 46:6 He fell on that enemy nation, and at the Descent destroyed all resistance to make the nations acknowledge his warlike prowess and that he was waging war on behalf of the Lord.

Sir 46:7 For he was a follower of the Mighty One, in the time of Moses showing his devotion, he and Caleb son of Jephunneh, by opposing the whole community, by preventing the people from sinning, and by silencing the mutters of rebellion.

Sir 46:8 Hence these two alone were preserved out of six hundred thousand men on the march, and brought into their inheritance, into a land where milk and honey flow.

Sir 46:9 And the Lord conferred strength on Caleb too, which stayed by him into old age, so that he could invest the highlands of the country which his descendants kept as their inheritance,

Sir 46:10 so that every Israelite might see that it is good to follow the Lord.

Sir 46:11 The Judges too, each when he was called, all men whose hearts were never disloyal, who never turned their backs on the Lord -- may their memory be blessed!

Sir 46:12 May their bones flourish again from the tomb, and may the names of those illustrious men be worthily borne by their sons!

Sir 46:13 Samuel was the beloved of his Lord; prophet of the Lord, he instituted the kingdom, and anointed rulers over his people.

Sir 46:14 By the Law of the Lord he judged the assembly, and the Lord watched over Jacob.

Sir 46:15 By his loyalty he was recognised as a prophet, by his words he was known to be a trustworthy seer.

Sir 46:16 He called on the Lord, the Mighty One, when his enemies pressed in from all directions, by offering a sucking lamb.

Sir 46:17 And the Lord thundered from heaven, and made his voice heard in a rolling peal;

Sir 46:18 he massacred the leaders of the enemy, and all the rulers of the Philistines.

Sir 46:19 Before the time of his everlasting rest he bore witness to the Lord and his anointed, 'Of no property, not even a pair of sandals, have I ever deprived a soul.' Nor did anyone accuse him.

Sir 46:20 And, having fallen asleep, he prophesied again, warning the king of his end; he spoke from the depths of the earth in prophecy, to blot out the wickedness of the people.

Sir 47:1 After him arose Nathan, to prophesy in the time of David.

Sir 47:2 As the fat is set apart from the communion sacrifice, so was David chosen out of the Israelites.

Sir 47:3 He played with lions as though with kids, and with bears as though with lambs.

Sir 47:4 While still a boy, did he not slay the giant and take away the people's shame, by hurling a stone from his sling and cutting short the boasting of Goliath?

Sir 47:5 For he called on the Lord Most High, who gave strength to his right arm to put a mighty warrior to death and assert the strength of his own people.

Sir 47:6 Hence they gave him credit for ten thousand, and praised him while they blessed the Lord, by offering him a crown of glory.

Sir 47:7 For he destroyed the enemies on every front, he annihilated his foes, the Philistines, and crushed their strength for ever.

Sir 47:8 In all his activities he gave thanks to the Holy One Most High in words of glory; he put all his heart into his songs out of love for his Creator.

Sir 47:9 He placed singers before the altar, melodiously to sing;

Sir 47:10 he gave the feasts their splendour, the festivals their solemn pomp, causing the Lord's holy name to be praised and the sanctuary to resound from dawn.

Sir 47:11 The Lord took away his sins, making his strength ever greater; he gave him a royal covenant, and a glorious throne in Israel.

Sir 47:12 A wise son succeeded him, who lived content, thanks to him.

Sir 47:13 Solomon reigned in a time of peace, and God gave him peace all round so that he could raise a house to his name and prepare an everlasting sanctuary.

Sir 47:14 How wise you were despite your youth, like a river, brimming over with intelligence!

Sir 47:15 Your mind ranged the earth, you filled it with mysterious sayings.

Sir 47:16 Your name reached the distant islands, and you were loved for your peace.

Sir 47:17 Your songs, your proverbs, your sayings and your answers were the wonder of the world.

Sir 47:18 In the name of the Lord God, of him who is called the God of Israel, you amassed gold like so much tin, and made silver as common as lead.

Sir 47:19 You abandoned your body to women, you became the slave of your appetites.

Sir 47:20 You stained your honour, you profaned your stock, so bringing retribution on your children and affliction for your folly:

Sir 47:21 the empire split in two, from Ephraim arose a rebel kingdom.

Sir 47:22 But the Lord never goes back on his mercy, never cancels any of his words, will neither deny offspring to his elect nor stamp out the line of the man who loved him. And hence, he has granted a remnant to Jacob and to David a root sprung from him.

Sir 47:23 Solomon rested with his ancestors, leaving one of his stock as his successor, the stupidest member of the nation, brainless Rehoboam, who drove the people to rebel.

Sir 47:24 Next, Jeroboam son of Nebat, who made Israel sin, and set Ephraim on the way of evil; from then on their sins multiplied so excessively as to drive them out of their country;

Sir 47:25 for they tried out every kind of wickedness, until vengeance overtook them.

Sir 48:1 Then the prophet Elijah arose like a fire, his word flaring like a torch.
Sir 48:2 It was he who brought famine on them and decimated them in his zeal.
Sir 48:3 By the word of the Lord he shut up the heavens, three times also he brought down fire.
Sir 48:4 How glorious you were in your miracles, Elijah! Has anyone reason to boast as you have? -
Sir 48:5 rousing a corpse from death, from Sheol, by the word of the Most High;
Sir 48:6 dragging kings down to destruction, and high dignitaries from their beds;
Sir 48:7 hearing a rebuke on Sinai and decrees of punishment on Horeb;
Sir 48:8 anointing kings as avengers, and prophets to succeed you;
Sir 48:9 taken up in the whirlwind of fire, in a chariot with fiery horses;
Sir 48:10 designated in the prophecies of doom to allay God's wrath before the fury breaks, to turn the hearts of fathers towards their children, and to restore the tribes of Jacob.
Sir 48:11 Blessed, those who will see you, and those who have fallen asleep in love; for we too shall certainly have life.
Sir 48:12 Such was Elijah, who was enveloped in a whirlwind; and Elisha was filled with his spirit; throughout his life no ruler could shake him, and no one could subdue him.
Sir 48:13 No task was too hard for him, and even in death his body prophesied.
Sir 48:14 In his lifetime he performed wonders, and in death his works were marvellous.
Sir 48:15 Despite all this the people did not repent, nor did they give up their sins, until they were herded out of their country and scattered all over the earth;
Sir 48:16 only a few of the people were left, with a ruler of the House of David. Some of them did what pleased the Lord, others piled sin on sin.
Sir 48:17 Hezekiah fortified his city, and laid on a water-supply inside it; with iron he tunnelled through the rock and constructed storage-tanks.
Sir 48:18 In his days Sennacherib invaded and sent Rabshakeh; he lifted his hand against Zion, and boasted loudly in his arrogance.
Sir 48:19 Then their hearts and hands trembled, they felt the pangs of a woman in labour,
Sir 48:20 but they called on the merciful Lord, stretching out their hands towards him. Swiftly the Holy One heard them from heaven and delivered them by the agency of Isaiah;
Sir 48:21 he struck the camp of the Assyrians and his Angel annihilated them.
Sir 48:22 For Hezekiah did what is pleasing to the Lord, and was steadfast in the ways of David his father, enjoined on him by the prophet Isaiah, a great man trustworthy in his vision.
Sir 48:23 In his days the sun moved back; he prolonged the life of the king.
Sir 48:24 In the power of the spirit he saw the last things, he comforted the mourners of Zion,
Sir 48:25 he revealed the future to the end of time, and hidden things long before they happened.
Sir 49:1 The memory of Josiah is like blended incense prepared by the perfumer's art; it is as sweet as honey to all mouths, and like music at a wine feast.
Sir 49:2 He took the right course, of converting the people, he rooted out the iniquitous abominations,
Sir 49:3 he set his heart on the Lord, in godless times he upheld the cause of religion.
Sir 49:4 Apart from David, Hezekiah and Josiah, they all heaped wrong on wrong, they abandoned the Law of the Most High: the kings of Judah disappeared;
Sir 49:5 for they handed their power over to others and their honour to a foreign nation.
Sir 49:6 The holy, chosen city was burnt down, her streets were left deserted,
Sir 49:7 as Jeremiah had predicted; for they had ill-treated him, though consecrated a prophet in his mother's womb, to tear up and afflict and destroy, but also to build up and to plant.
Sir 49:8 Ezekiel saw a vision of glory which God showed to him above the chariot of the great winged creatures,
Sir 49:9 for he mentioned the enemies in the downpour to the advantage of those who follow the right way.
Sir 49:10 As for the twelve prophets, may their bones flower again from the tomb, since they have comforted Jacob and redeemed him in faith and hope.
Sir 49:11 How shall we extol Zerubbabel? He was like a signet ring on the right hand,
Sir 49:12 so too was Joshua son of Jozadak; they who in their days built the Temple and raised a sanctuary sacred to the Lord, destined to everlasting glory.
Sir 49:13 Great too is the memory of Nehemiah, who rebuilt our walls which lay in ruins, erected the bolted gates and rebuilt our houses.
Sir 49:14 No one else has ever been created on earth to equal Enoch, for he was taken up from earth.
Sir 49:15 And no one else ever born has been like Joseph, the leader of his brothers, the prop of his people; his bones received a visitation.
Sir 49:16 Shem and Seth were the most honoured of men, but above every living creature is Adam.

Sir 50:1 It was the High Priest Simon son of Onias who repaired the Temple during his lifetime and in his day fortified the sanctuary.

Sir 50:2 He laid the foundations of double depth, the high buttresses of the Temple precincts.

Sir 50:3 In his day the pool was excavated, a reservoir as huge as the sea.

Sir 50:4 Anxious to save the people from ruin, he fortified the city against siege.

Sir 50:5 How splendid he was with the people thronging round him, when he emerged from the curtained shrine,

Sir 50:6 like the morning star among the clouds, like the moon at the full,

Sir 50:7 like the sun shining on the Temple of the Most High, like the rainbow gleaming against brilliant clouds,

Sir 50:8 like a rose in springtime, like a lily by a spring, like a branch of the incense tree in summer,

Sir 50:9 like fire and incense in the censer, like a massive golden vessel encrusted with every kind of precious stone,

Sir 50:10 like an olive tree loaded with fruit, like a cypress soaring to the clouds;

Sir 50:11 when he took his ceremonial robe and put on his magnificent ornaments, when he went up to the holy altar and filled the sanctuary precincts with his grandeur;

Sir 50:12 when he received the portions from the hands of the priests, himself standing by the altar hearth, crowned with the circle of his brothers, as a cedar of Lebanon is by its foliage, as though surrounded by the trunks of palm trees.

Sir 50:13 When all the sons of Aaron in their glory, with the offerings of the Lord in their hands, stood before the whole assembly of Israel,

Sir 50:14 while he completed the rites at the altars, nobly presenting the offerings to the Almighty, Most High!

Sir 50:15 He would reach out his hand to the cup and pour a libation of wine, pouring it at the foot of the altar, a fragrance pleasing to the Most High, King of All;

Sir 50:16 then the sons of Aaron would shout and blow their metal trumpets, making a mighty sound ring out as a reminder before the Most High;

Sir 50:17 and immediately the people all together would fall on their faces to the ground, in adoration of their Lord, the Almighty, God Most High,

Sir 50:18 and with the cantors chanting their hymns of praise. Sweet was the melody of all these voices,

Sir 50:19 as the people pleaded with the Lord Most High and prayed in the presence of the Merciful, until the service of the Lord was completed and the ceremony at an end.

Sir 50:20 Then he would come down and raise his hands over the whole assembly of the Israelites, to give them the Lord's blessing from his lips, being privileged to pronounce his name;

Sir 50:21 and once again the people would bow low to receive the blessing of the Most High.

Sir 50:22 And now bless the God of all things, the doer of great deeds everywhere, who has exalted our days from the womb and has acted mercifully towards us.

Sir 50:23 May he grant us cheerful hearts and bring peace in our time, in Israel for ages on ages.

Sir 50:24 May his mercy be faithfully with us, may he redeem us in our own times!

Sir 50:25 There are two nations that my soul detests, the third is not a nation at all:

Sir 50:26 the inhabitants of Mount Seir, the Philistines, and the stupid people living at Shechem.

Sir 50:27 Instruction in wisdom and knowledge is what has been written in this book by Jesus son of Sira Eleazar of Jerusalem, who has poured a rain of wisdom from his heart.

Sir 50:28 Blessed is he who devotes his time to these and grows wise by taking them to heart!

Sir 50:29 If he practises them he will be strong enough for anything, since the light of the Lord is his path.

Sir 51:1 I shall give thanks to you, Lord and King, and praise you, God my Saviour, I give thanks to your name;

Sir 51:2 for you have been my guard and support and redeemed my body from destruction, from the snare of the lying tongue, from lips that fabricate falsehood; in the presence of my assailants, you were on my side; you have been my support, you have redeemed me,

Sir 51:3 true to your abounding kindness -- and the greatness of your name -- you liberated me from the fangs of those seeking to devour me, from the clutches of those seeking my life, from the many ordeals which I have endured,

Sir 51:4 from the stifling heat which hemmed me in, from the heart of a fire which I had not kindled,

Sir 51:5 from deep in the belly of Sheol,

Sir 51:6 treacherous denunciations to the king. My soul has been close to death, my life had gone down to the brink of Sheol.

Sir 51:7 I was completely surrounded, there was no one to help me; I looked for someone to help me, there was no one.

Sir 51:8 Then I remembered your mercy, Lord, and your deeds from earliest times, how you deliver those who wait for you patiently, and save them from the clutches of their enemies.

Sir 51:9 And I sent up my plea from the earth, I begged to be delivered from death.

Sir 51:10 I called on the Lord, the father of my Lord, 'Do not desert me in the days of ordeal, in the days of the proud, when we are helpless. I shall praise your name unceasingly and gratefully sing its praises.'

Sir 51:11 And my plea was heard, for you saved me from destruction, you delivered me from that time of evil.

Sir 51:12 And therefore I shall thank you and praise you, and bless the name of the Lord.

Sir 51:13 When I was still a youth, before I went travelling, in my prayers I asked outright for wisdom.

Sir 51:14 Outside the sanctuary I would pray for her, and to the last I shall continue to seek her.

Sir 51:15 From her blossoming to the ripening of her grape my heart has taken its delight in her. My foot has pursued a straight path, I have sought her ever since my youth.

Sir 51:16 By bowing my ear a little, I have received her, and have found much instruction.

Sir 51:17 Thanks to her I have advanced; glory be to him who has given me wisdom!

Sir 51:18 For I was determined to put her into practice, have earnestly pursued the good, and shall not be put to shame.

Sir 51:19 My soul has fought to possess her, I have been scrupulous in keeping the Law; I have stretched out my hands to heaven and bewailed how little I knew of her;

Sir 51:20 I have directed my soul towards her, and in purity I have found her; having my heart fixed on her from the outset, I shall never be deserted;

Sir 51:21 my very core having yearned to discover her, I have now acquired a good possession.

Sir 51:22 In reward the Lord has given me a tongue with which I shall sing his praises.

Sir 51:23 Come close to me, you ignorant, take your place in my school.

Sir 51:24 Why complain about lacking these things when your souls are so thirsty for them?

Sir 51:25 I have opened my mouth, I have said: 'Buy her without money,

Sir 51:26 put your necks under her yoke, let your souls receive instruction, she is near, within your reach.'

Sir 51:27 See for yourselves: how slight my efforts have been to win so much peace.

Sir 51:28 Buy instruction with a large sum of silver, thanks to her you will gain much gold.

Sir 51:29 May your souls rejoice in the mercy of the Lord, may you never be ashamed of praising him.

Sir 51:30 Do your work before the appointed time and at the appointed time he will give you your reward.

(Subscript:) Wisdom of Jesus, son of Sira.

Isa 1:1 The vision of Isaiah son of Amoz concerning Judah and Jerusalem, which he received in the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah kings of Judah.

Isa 1:2 Listen, you heavens; earth, attend, for Yahweh is speaking, 'I have reared children and brought them up, but they have rebelled against me.

Isa 1:3 The ox knows its owner and the donkey its master's crib; Israel does not know, my people do not understand.'

Isa 1:4 Disaster, sinful nation, people weighed down with guilt, race of wrong-doers, perverted children! They have abandoned Yahweh, despised the Holy One of Israel, they have turned away from him.

Isa 1:5 Where shall I strike you next, if you persist in treason? The whole head is sick, the whole heart is diseased,

Isa 1:6 from the sole of the foot to the head there is nothing healthy: only wounds, bruises and open sores not dressed, not bandaged, not soothed with ointment,

Isa 1:7 your country a desolation, your towns burnt down, your soil, foreigners lay it waste before your eyes, a desolation like devastation by foreigners.

Isa 1:8 The daughter of Zion is left like a shanty in a vineyard, like a shed in a cucumber field, like a city besieged.

Isa 1:9 Had Yahweh Sabaoth not left us a few survivors, we should be like Sodom, we should be the same as Gomorrah.

Isa 1:10 Hear what Yahweh says, you rulers of Sodom; listen to what our God teaches, you people of Gomorrah.

Isa 1:11 'What are your endless sacrifices to me?' says Yahweh. 'I am sick of burnt offerings of rams and the fat of calves. I take no pleasure in the blood of bulls and lambs and goats.'

Isa 1:12 When you come and present yourselves before me, who has asked you to trample through my courts?

Isa 1:13 Bring no more futile cereal offerings, the smoke from them fills me with disgust. New Moons, Sabbaths, assemblies -- I cannot endure solemnity combined with guilt.

Isa 1:14 Your New Moons and your meetings I utterly detest; to me they are a burden I am tired of bearing.

Isa 1:15 When you stretch out your hands I turn my eyes away. You may multiply your prayers, I shall not be listening. Your hands are covered in blood, Isa 1:16 wash, make yourselves clean. Take your wrong-doing out of my sight. Cease doing evil.

Isa 1:17 Learn to do good, search for justice, discipline the violent, be just to the orphan, plead for the widow.

Isa 1:18 'Come, let us talk this over,' says Yahweh. 'Though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be white as snow; though they are red as crimson, they shall be like wool.'

Isa 1:19 If you are willing to obey, you shall eat the good things of the earth.

Isa 1:20 But if you refuse and rebel, the sword shall eat you instead -- for Yahweh's mouth has spoken.'

Isa 1:21 The faithful city, what a harlot she has become! Zion, once full of fair judgement, where saving justice used to dwell, but now assassins!

Isa 1:22 Your silver has turned into dross, your wine is watered.

Isa 1:23 Your princes are rebels, accomplices of brigands. All of them greedy for presents and eager for bribes, they show no justice to the orphan, and the widow's cause never reaches them.

Isa 1:24 Hence, the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth, the Mighty One of Israel, says this, 'Disaster, I shall get the better of my enemies, I shall avenge myself on my foes.'

Isa 1:25 'I shall turn my hand against you, I shall purge your dross as though with potash, I shall remove all your alloy.

Isa 1:26 'And I shall restore your judges as at first, your counsellors as in bygone days, after which you will be called City of Saving Justice, Faithful City.'

Isa 1:27 Zion will be redeemed by fair judgement, and those who return, by saving justice.

Isa 1:28 Rebels and sinners alike will be destroyed, and those who abandon Yahweh will perish.

Isa 1:29 How ashamed you will be of the terebinths which gave you such delight; and how you will blush for the gardens which you chose!

Isa 1:30 For you will be like a terebinth with faded leaves, like a garden without water;

Isa 1:31 the strong will become like tinder, his work like the spark; both will go up in flames together, with no one to put them out.

Isa 2:1 The vision of Isaiah son of Amoz, concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

Isa 2:2 It will happen in the final days that the mountain of Yahweh's house will rise higher than the mountains and tower above the heights. Then all the nations will stream to it,

Isa 2:3 many peoples will come to it and say, 'Come, let us go up to the mountain of Yahweh, to the house of the God of Jacob that he may teach us his ways so that we may walk in his paths.' For the Law will issue from Zion and the word of Yahweh from Jerusalem.

Isa 2:4 Then he will judge between the nations and arbitrate between many peoples. They will hammer their swords into ploughshares and their spears into sickles. Nation will not lift sword against nation, no longer will they learn how to make war.

Isa 2:5 House of Jacob, come, let us walk in Yahweh's light.

Isa 2:6 You have rejected your people, the House of Jacob, for it has long been full of sorcerers like the Philistines, and is overrun with foreigners.

Isa 2:7 The country is full of silver and gold and treasures unlimited, the country is full of horses, its chariots are unlimited;

Isa 2:8 the country is full of idols. They bow down before the work of their hands, before what their own fingers have made.

Isa 2:9 Human nature has been humbled, humankind brought low: do not raise them again!

Isa 2:10 Go into the rock, hide in the dust, in terror of Yahweh, at the brilliance of his majesty, when he arises to make the earth quake.

Isa 2:11 Human pride will lower its eyes, human arrogance will be humbled, and Yahweh alone will be exalted, on that day.

Isa 2:12 That will be a day for Yahweh Sabaoth, for all who are majestic and haughty, for all who are proud, to be brought low,

Isa 2:13 for all the cedars of Lebanon, high and proud, and for all the oaks of Bashan;

Isa 2:14 for all the high mountains and for all the proud hills;

Isa 2:15 for every lofty tower and for every towering wall;

Isa 2:16 for all the ships of Tarshish and for everything held precious.

Isa 2:17 Human pride will be humbled, human arrogance brought low, and Yahweh alone will be exalted, on that day.

Isa 2:18 When the idols all disappear,

Isa 2:19 they will go into the caverns of the rocks and into the fissures of the earth in terror of Yahweh, at the brilliance of his majesty, when he arises to make the earth quake.

Isa 2:20 That day, people will fling to moles and bats the silver idols and golden idols which have been made for them to worship,

Isa 2:21 and go into the crevices of the rocks and the clefts in the cliffs, in terror of Yahweh, at the brilliance of his majesty, when he arises to make the earth quake.

Isa 2:22 Have no more to do with humankind, which has only the breath in its nostrils. How much is this worth?

Isa 3:1 Now the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth is about to deprive Jerusalem and Judah of resources and provisions -- all reserves of food, all reserves of water-

Isa 3:2 of hero, warrior, judge, prophet, diviner, elder,

Isa 3:3 captain, dignitary, counsellor, architect, soothsayer.

Isa 3:4 'I shall give them boys for princes, raw lads to rule over them.'

Isa 3:5 People will be ill-treated by one another, each by his neighbour; the young will insult the aged, and the low, the respected.

Isa 3:6 Yes, a man will catch hold of his brother in their father's house, to say, 'You have a cloak, so you be leader, and rule this heap of ruins.'

Isa 3:7 And, that day, the other will protest, 'I am no healer; in my house there is neither food nor clothing; do not make me leader of the people.'

Isa 3:8 For Jerusalem has collapsed and Judah has fallen, because their words and deeds affront Yahweh and insult his glorious gaze.

Isa 3:9 Their complacency bears witness against them, they parade their sin like Sodom; they do not conceal it, all the worse for them, for they have hatched their own downfall.

Isa 3:10 Say, 'Blessed the upright, for he will feed on the fruit of his deeds;

Isa 3:11 woe to the wicked, it will go ill with him, for he will be treated as his actions deserve.'

Isa 3:12 O my people, their oppressors pillage them and extortioners rule over them! O my people, your rulers mislead you and efface the paths you ought to follow!

Isa 3:13 Yahweh has risen to accuse, is standing to pass judgement on the people.

Isa 3:14 Yahweh is about to try the elders and the princes of his people, 'You are the ones who have ravaged the vineyard, the spoils of the poor are in your houses.

Isa 3:15 By what right do you crush my people and grind the faces of the poor?' says the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth.

Isa 3:16 Yahweh says: Because Zion's daughters are proud and walk with heads held high and enticing eyes -- with mincing steps they go, jingling the bangles on their feet-

Isa 3:17 the Lord will give Zion's daughters scabby heads, Yahweh will lay their foreheads bare.

Isa 3:18 That day the Lord will take away the ornamental chains, medallions, crescents,

Isa 3:19 pendants, bracelets, trinkets,

Isa 3:20 diadems, ankle-chains, necklaces, scent bottles, amulets,

Isa 3:21 finger-rings, nose-rings,

Isa 3:22 party dresses, cloaks, scarves, purses,

Isa 3:23 mirrors, linen clothes, turbans and mantillas.

Isa 3:24 Then, instead of perfume, a stink; instead of belt, a rope, instead of hair elaborately dressed, a shaven scalp, instead of gorgeous clothes, sacking round the waist, and brand marks instead of beauty.

Isa 3:25 Your men will fall by the sword, your warriors in battle,

Isa 3:26 and her gates will moan and mourn; she will sit on the ground, deserted.

Isa 4:1 That day, seven women will catch hold of one man and say, 'We will eat our own food, and wear our own clothing, but just let us bear your name. Take our disgrace away.'

Isa 4:2 That day, Yahweh's seedling will turn to beauty and glory, what the earth brings forth will turn to the pride and ornament of Israel's survivors.

Isa 4:3 Those who are left in Zion and remain in Jerusalem will be called holy, all those in Jerusalem noted down to live.

Isa 4:4 When the Lord has washed away the filth of Zion's daughters and with the wind of judgement and the wind of burning cleansed Jerusalem of the blood shed in her,

Isa 4:5 Yahweh will create, over every house on Mount Zion and over those who assemble there, a cloud by day, and by night smoke with the brightness of a flaring fire. For over all will be the Glory as canopy

Isa 4:6 and tent to give shade by day from the heat, refuge and shelter from the storm and the rain.

Isa 5:1 Let me sing my beloved the song of my friend for his vineyard. My beloved had a vineyard on a fertile hillside.

Isa 5:2 He dug it, cleared it of stones, and planted it with red grapes. In the middle he built a tower, he hewed a press there too. He expected it to yield fine grapes: wild grapes were all it yielded.

Isa 5:3 And now, citizens of Jerusalem and people of Judah, I ask you to judge between me and my vineyard.

Isa 5:4 What more could I have done for my vineyard that I have not done? Why, when I expected it to yield fine grapes, has it yielded wild ones?

Isa 5:5 Very well, I shall tell you what I am going to do to my vineyard: I shall take away its hedge, for it to be grazed on, and knock down its wall, for it to be trampled on.

Isa 5:6 I shall let it go to waste, unpruned, undug, overgrown by brambles and thorn-bushes, and I shall command the clouds to rain no rain on it.

Isa 5:7 Now, the vineyard of Yahweh Sabaoth is the House of Israel, and the people of Judah the plant he cherished. He expected fair judgement, but found injustice, uprightness, but found cries of distress.

Isa 5:8 Woe to those who add house to house and join field to field until there is nowhere left and they are the sole inhabitants of the country.

Isa 5:9 Yahweh Sabaoth has sworn this in my hearing, 'Many houses will be brought to ruin, great and fine ones left untenanted;

Isa 5:10 for ten acres of vineyard will yield only one barrel, and ten bushel of seed will yield only one bushel.'

Isa 5:11 Woe to those who get up early to go after strong drink, and stay up late at night inflamed with wine.

Isa 5:12 Nothing but harp and lyre, tambourine and pipe, and wine for their drinking bouts. Never a thought for the works of Yahweh, never a glance for what his hands have done.

Isa 5:13 That is why my people is in exile, for want of perception; her dignitaries starving, her populace parched with thirst.

Isa 5:14 That is why Sheol opens wide its throat and gapes with measureless jaw and down go her noblemen and populace and her loud revellers merry to the last!

Isa 5:15 Human nature has been humbled, humankind brought low, and the eyes of the proud have been humbled.

Isa 5:16 Yahweh Sabaoth is the more respected for his judgement, God the Holy One has displayed his holiness by his justice!

Isa 5:17 Now the lambs will graze in their old pastures, and the fields laid waste by fat cattle will feed the kids.

Isa 5:18 Woe to those who drag guilt along by the reins of duplicity, drag along sin as though with a cart rope;

Isa 5:19 to those who say, 'Why doesn't he do his work quickly so that we can see it; why doesn't the Holy One of Israel's design hurry up and come true so that we can experience it?'

Isa 5:20 Woe to those who call what is bad, good, and what is good, bad, who substitute darkness for light and light for darkness, who substitute bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter.

Isa 5:21 Woe to those who think themselves wise and believe themselves enlightened.

Isa 5:22 Woe to those whose might lies in wine bibbing, their heroism in mixing strong drinks,

Isa 5:23 who acquit the guilty for a bribe and deny justice to the upright.

Isa 5:24 Yes, as the flame devours the stubble, as the straw flares up and disappears, their root will be like decay and their shoot be carried off like dust, for having rejected the law of Yahweh Sabaoth, for having despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

Isa 5:25 This is why Yahweh's anger has blazed out against his people; and he has raised his hand against them to strike them; why the mountains have shuddered and why corpses are lying like dung in the streets. After all this, his anger is not spent. No, his hand is still raised!

Isa 5:26 He hoists a signal for a distant nation, he whistles them up from the ends of the earth; and see how swift, how fleet they come!

Isa 5:27 None of them tired, none of them stumbling, none of them asleep or drowsy, none of them with belt unfastened, none of them with broken sandal-strap.

Isa 5:28 Their arrows are sharpened, their bows all strung, their horses' hoofs you would think were flint and their wheels, a whirlwind!

Isa 5:29 Their roar is like that of a lioness, like fierce young lions they roar, growling they seize their prey and carry it off, with no one to prevent it,

Isa 5:30 growling at it, that day, like the growling of the sea. Only look at the country: darkness and distress, and the light turned to darkness by the clouds.

Isa 6:1 In the year of King Uzziah's death I saw the Lord seated on a high and lofty throne; his train filled the sanctuary.

Isa 6:2 Above him stood seraphs, each one with six wings: two to cover its face, two to cover its feet and two for flying;

Isa 6:3 and they were shouting these words to each other: Holy, holy, holy is Yahweh Sabaoth. His glory fills the whole earth.

Isa 6:4 The door-posts shook at the sound of their shouting, and the Temple was full of smoke.

Isa 6:5 Then I said: 'Woe is me! I am lost, for I am a man of unclean lips and I live among a people of unclean lips, and my eyes have seen the King, Yahweh Sabaoth.'

Isa 6:6 Then one of the seraphs flew to me, holding in its hand a live coal which it had taken from the altar with a pair of tongs.

Isa 6:7 With this it touched my mouth and said: 'Look, this has touched your lips, your guilt has been removed and your sin forgiven.'

Isa 6:8 I then heard the voice of the Lord saying: 'Whom shall I send? Who will go for us?' And I said, 'Here am I, send me.'

Isa 6:9 He said: 'Go, and say to this people, "Listen and listen, but never understand! Look and look, but never perceive!"

Isa 6:10 Make this people's heart coarse, make their ears dull, shut their eyes tight, or they will use their eyes to see, use their ears to hear, use their heart to understand, and change their ways and be healed.'

Isa 6:11 I then said, 'Until when, Lord?' He replied, 'Until towns are in ruins and deserted, houses untenanted and a great desolation reigns in the land,

Isa 6:12 and Yahweh has driven the people away and the country is totally abandoned.

Isa 6:13 And suppose one-tenth of them are left in it, that will be stripped again, like the terebinth, like the oak, cut back to the stock; their stock is a holy seed.'

Isa 7:1 In the reign of Ahaz son of Jotham, son of Uzziah king of Judah, Razon king of Aram advanced on Jerusalem with Pekah son of Remaliah king of Israel, to attack it; but he was unable to attack it.

Isa 7:2 The House of David was informed: 'Aram has halted in Ephraimite territory.' At this, his heart and his people's hearts shook like forest trees shaking in the wind.

Isa 7:3 Yahweh then said to Isaiah, 'Go out with your son Shear-Jashub, and meet Ahaz at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, on the road to the Fuller's Field,

Isa 7:4 and say to him, "Pay attention and keep calm. Do not be frightened or demoralised by these two smouldering sticks of firewood, by the fierce anger of Razon, Aram and the son of Remaliah,

Isa 7:5 or because Aram, Ephraim and the son of Remaliah have been plotting against you and saying:

Isa 7:6 Let us mount an attack on Judah, destroy it, force it onto our side and install the son of Tabeel there as king.

Isa 7:7 "Lord Yahweh says this: This will not happen, it will never occur,

Isa 7:8 for the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Razon; another sixty-five years, and Ephraim will cease to be a people.

Isa 7:9 The head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is the son of Remaliah. If you will not take your stand on me you will not stand firm."

Isa 7:10 Yahweh spoke to Ahaz again and said:

Isa 7:11 Ask Yahweh your God for a sign, either in the depths of Sheol or in the heights above.

Isa 7:12 But Ahaz said, 'I will not ask. I will not put Yahweh to the test.'

Isa 7:13 He then said: Listen now, House of David: are you not satisfied with trying human patience that you should try my God's patience too?

Isa 7:14 The Lord will give you a sign in any case: It is this: the young woman is with child and will give birth to a son whom she will call Immanuel.

Isa 7:15 On curds and honey will he feed until he knows how to refuse the bad and choose the good.

Isa 7:16 Before the child knows how to refuse the bad and choose the good, the lands whose two kings are frightening you will be deserted.

Isa 7:17 Yahweh will bring times for you, your people and your ancestral House, such as have not been seen since Ephraim broke away from Judah (the king of Assyria).

Isa 7:18 When that day comes, Yahweh will whistle up mosquitoes from the distant streams of Egypt and bees from the land of Assyria,

Isa 7:19 and they will all come and settle on the streams in the gullies, in the holes in the rocks, on all the thorn-bushes and on all the water-points.

Isa 7:20 That day the Lord will shave, with a razor hired from the other side of the River (with the king of Assyria), the head and the hair of the leg, and take off the beard, too.

Isa 7:21 When that day comes, each man will raise one heifer and two sheep,

Isa 7:22 and because of the abundant milk they give (on curds will he feed) all who are left in the country will feed on curds and honey.

Isa 7:23 When that day comes, wherever there used to be a thousand vines worth a thousand pieces of silver, all will be brambles and thorn-bushes;

Isa 7:24 to be ventured into only with arrows and bow, for the country will be nothing but brambles and thorn-bushes.

Isa 7:25 No more will you venture on any hillside formerly under the hoe for fear of the brambles and thorn-bushes; it will be fit only for pasturing the cattle, a tramping-ground for sheep.

Isa 8:1 Yahweh said to me, 'Take a large tablet and on it with an ordinary stylus write, "Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz".

Isa 8:2 And take reliable witnesses, the priest Uriah and Zechariah son of Jeberechiah.'

Isa 8:3 I then had intercourse with the prophetess, who then conceived and gave birth to a son. Yahweh said to me, 'Call him Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz,

Isa 8:4 for before the child knows how to say "mother" or "father", the wealth of Damascus and the booty of Samaria will be carried away while the king of Assyria looks on.'

Isa 8:5 Yahweh spoke to me again and said,

Isa 8:6 'Since this people has rejected the waters of Shiloah which flow smoothly, and has trembled before Razon and the son of Remaliah,

Isa 8:7 now, against it, the Lord will bring the mighty, swelling waters of the River (the king of Assyria and all his glory); the River will flood up all its channels and overflow all its banks;

Isa 8:8 it will flow into Judah, flooding everything and passing on; it will reach right up to the neck, and the spreading of its wings will cover the whole extent of your country, Immanuel!

Isa 8:9 Realise this, peoples, and be afraid, listen, all members of far-off nations! Arm yourselves yet be afraid! Arm yourselves yet be afraid!

Isa 8:10 Devise plans as you may: they will come to nothing! Make what pronouncements you like; it will not come about! For God is with us!

Isa 8:11 For this was how Yahweh spoke to me when his hand seized hold of me and he taught me not to follow the path of this people, saying,

Isa 8:12 'Do not call conspiracy all that this people calls conspiracy; do not dread what they dread, have no fear of that.

Isa 8:13 Yahweh Sabaoth is the one you will proclaim holy, him you will dread, him you will fear.

Isa 8:14 He will be a sanctuary, a stumbling-stone, a rock to trip up the two Houses of Israel; a snare and a trap for the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

Isa 8:15 over which many of them will stumble, fall and be broken, be ensnared and made captive.

Isa 8:16 Bind up the testimony, seal the instruction in the heart of my disciples.'

Isa 8:17 My trust is in Yahweh who hides his face from the House of Jacob; I put my hope in him.

Isa 8:18 Look, I and the children whom Yahweh has given me shall become signs and portents in Israel on behalf of Yahweh Sabaoth who dwells on Mount Zion.

Isa 8:19 And should people say to you, 'Go and consult ghosts and wizards that whisper and mutter' -- a people should certainly consult its gods and the dead on behalf of the living!

Isa 8:20 As regards instruction and testimony, without doubt this is how they will talk, and hence there will be no dawn for them.

Isa 8:21 Oppressed and starving he will wander the country; and, once starving, he will become frenzied and curse his king and his God; turning his gaze upward,

Isa 8:22 then down to earth, there will be only anguish, gloom, the confusion of night, swirling darkness.

Isa 8:23 For is not everything dark as night for a country in distress? As the past humbled the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, so the future will glorify the Way of the Sea, beyond the Jordan, the territory of the nations.

Isa 9:1 The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; on the inhabitants of a country in shadow dark as death light has blazed forth.

Isa 9:2 You have enlarged the nation, you have increased its joy; they rejoice before you as people rejoice at harvest time, as they exult when they are dividing the spoils.

Isa 9:3 For the yoke that weighed on it, the bar across its shoulders, the rod of its oppressor, these you have broken as on the day of Midian.

Isa 9:4 For all the footgear clanking over the ground and all the clothing rolled in blood, will be burnt, will be food for the flames.

Isa 9:5 For a son has been born for us, a son has been given to us, and dominion has been laid on his shoulders; and this is the name he has been given, 'Wonder-Counsellor, Mighty-God, Eternal-Father, Prince-of-Peace'

Isa 9:6 to extend his dominion in boundless peace, over the throne of David and over his kingdom to make it secure and sustain it in fair judgement and integrity. From this time onwards and for ever, the jealous love of Yahweh Sabaoth will do this.

Isa 9:7 The Lord has launched a word at Jacob and it has fallen on Israel;

Isa 9:8 and the people will all soon know it, Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria, who say in the pride of their arrogant hearts,

Isa 9:9 'The bricks have fallen down but we shall rebuild with dressed stone; the sycamores have been felled but we shall replace them with cedars.'

Isa 9:10 But, against them, Yahweh has raised their foe Razon, he has whipped up their enemies,

Isa 9:11 Aram to the east, Philistines to the west, to devour Israel with gaping jaws. After all this, his anger is not spent. No, his hand is still raised!

Isa 9:12 But the people would not come back to him who struck them, they would not seek out Yahweh Sabaoth;

Isa 9:13 hence Yahweh has topped and tailed Israel, cutting off palm and reed in a single day.

Isa 9:14 (The 'top' is the elder and the man of rank; the 'tail' is the prophet teaching lies.)

Isa 9:15 This people's leaders have led them astray, and those who are led by them are swallowed up.

Isa 9:16 Hence the Lord will no longer take delight in their young people, or pity on their orphans and widows, since all of them are godless and evil, and everything they say is madness. After all this, his anger is not spent. No, his hand is still raised!

Isa 9:17 Yes, wickedness has been burning like a fire, devouring bramble and thorn-bush, setting the forest thickets ablaze -- up they go in billowing smoke!

Isa 9:18 The country has been set on fire by the fury of Yahweh Sabaoth, and the people are like food for the flames. No one spares a thought for his brother.

Isa 9:19 They have sliced to the right and are still hungry, they have eaten to the left and are not satisfied; each devours the flesh of his own arm.

Isa 9:20 Manasseh devours Ephraim, Ephraim Manasseh, together they turn against Judah. After all this, his anger is not spent. No, his hand is still raised!

Isa 10:1 Woe to those who enact unjust decrees, who compose oppressive legislation

Isa 10:2 to deny justice to the weak and to cheat the humblest of my people of fair judgement, to make widows their prey and to rob the orphan.

Isa 10:3 What will you do on the day of punishment, when disaster comes from far away? To whom will you run for help and where will you leave your riches,

Isa 10:4 to avoid squatting among the captives or falling among the slain? After all this, his anger is not spent. No, his hand is still raised!

Isa 10:5 Woe to Assyria, rod of my anger, the club in their hands is my fury!

Isa 10:6 I was sending him against a godless nation, commissioning him against the people who enraged me, to pillage and plunder at will and trample on them like the mud in the streets.

Isa 10:7 But this was not his intention nor did his heart plan it so, for he dreamed of putting an end to them, of liquidating nations without number!

Isa 10:8 For he thought, 'Are not my officers all kings?

Isa 10:9 Is not Calno like Carchemish, Hamath like Arpad, Samaria like Damascus?

Isa 10:10 As my hand has found the kingdoms of the false gods, where there were more images than in Jerusalem and Samaria,

Isa 10:11 as I have treated Samaria and her false gods shall I not treat Jerusalem and her statues too?'

Isa 10:12 When the Lord has completed all his work on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem, he will punish the fruit of the king of Assyria's boastful heart and the insolence of his haughty looks.

Isa 10:13 For he thinks: 'By the strength of my own arm I have done this and by my own wisdom: how intelligent I have been! I have abolished the frontiers between peoples, I have plundered their treasures, like a hero, I have subjugated their inhabitants.

Isa 10:14 My hand has found, as though a bird's nest, the riches of the peoples. Like someone collecting deserted eggs, I have collected the whole world while no one has fluttered a wing or opened a beak to squawk.'

Isa 10:15 Does the axe claim more credit than the man who wields it, or the saw more strength than the man who handles it? As though a staff controlled those who raise it, or the club could raise what is not made of wood!

Isa 10:16 That is why Yahweh Sabaoth is going to inflict leanness on his stout men, and beneath his glory kindle a fever burning like a fire.

Isa 10:17 The light of Israel will become a fire and its Holy One a flame burning and devouring his thorn-bushes and brambles in a day.

Isa 10:18 He will consume his luxuriant forest and productive ground, he will ravage body and soul: it will be like a consumptive wasting away;

Isa 10:19 and what remain of the trees of his forest will be so few that a child could write their number.

Isa 10:20 When that day comes, the remnant of Israel and the survivors of the House of Jacob will stop relying on the man who strikes them and will truly rely on Yahweh, the Holy One of Israel.

Isa 10:21 A remnant will return, the remnant of Jacob, to the mighty God.

Isa 10:22 Israel, though your people are like the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will return: a destruction has been decreed which will make justice overflow,

Isa 10:23 for, throughout the country, the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth will enforce the destruction now decreed.

Isa 10:24 That is why the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth says this: My people who live in Zion, do not be afraid of Assyria! He may strike you with the rod, he may raise the club against you (on the way from Egypt),

Isa 10:25 but in a very short time the retribution will come to an end, and my anger will destroy them.

Isa 10:26 Yahweh Sabaoth will brandish a whip at him as he struck Midian at Oreb's Rock, will brandish his rod at the Sea as he raised it on the way from Egypt.

Isa 10:27 When that day comes, his burden will fall from your shoulder, and his yoke from your neck, and the yoke will be destroyed . . .

Isa 10:28 He has reached Aiath, he has moved on to Migron, he has left his baggage train at Michmash.

Isa 10:29 They have passed through the defile, they have bivouacked at Geba. Ramah quaked, Gibeah of Saul has fled.

Isa 10:30 Cry your loudest, Bath-Gallim! Pay attention, Laish! Answer her, Anathoth!

Isa 10:31 Madmenah has run away, the inhabitants of Gebim have taken cover.

Isa 10:32 This very day, as he halts at Nob, he will shake his fist at the mountain of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

Isa 10:33 See how the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth violently lops off the foliage! The ones standing highest are cut down, the proudest are laid low!

Isa 10:34 The forest thickets fall beneath the axe, and the Lebanon falls to the blows of a Mighty One.

Isa 11:1 A shoot will spring from the stock of Jesse, a new shoot will grow from his roots.

Isa 11:2 On him will rest the spirit of Yahweh, the spirit of wisdom and insight, the spirit of counsel and power, the spirit of knowledge and fear of Yahweh:

Isa 11:3 his inspiration will lie in fearing Yahweh. His judgement will not be by appearances. his verdict not given on hearsay.

Isa 11:4 He will judge the weak with integrity and give fair sentence for the humblest in the land. He will strike the country with the rod of his mouth and with the breath of his lips bring death to the wicked.

Isa 11:5 Uprightness will be the belt around his waist, and constancy the belt about his hips.

Isa 11:6 The wolf will live with the lamb, the panther lie down with the kid, calf, lion and fat-stock beast together, with a little boy to lead them.

Isa 11:7 The cow and the bear will graze, their young will lie down together. The lion will eat hay like the ox.

Isa 11:8 The infant will play over the den of the adder; the baby will put his hand into the viper's lair.

Isa 11:9 No hurt, no harm will be done on all my holy mountain, for the country will be full of knowledge of Yahweh as the waters cover the sea.

Isa 11:10 That day, the root of Jesse, standing as a signal for the peoples, will be sought out by the nations and its home will be glorious.

Isa 11:11 When that day comes, the Lord will raise his hand a second time to ransom the remnant of his people, those still left, from Assyria, from Egypt, from Pathros, Cush and Elam, from Shinar, Hamath and the islands of the Sea.

Isa 11:12 He will hoist a signal for the nations and assemble the outcasts of Israel; he will gather the scattered people of Judah from the four corners of the earth.

Isa 11:13 Then Ephraim's jealousy will cease and Judah's enemies be suppressed; Ephraim will no longer be jealous of Judah nor Judah any longer hostile to Ephraim,

Isa 11:14 but together they will swoop on the Philistines' back, to the west, and together pillage the people of the east. Edom and Moab will be subject to their sway and the Ammonites will obey them.

Isa 11:15 Then Yahweh will dry up the gulf of the Sea of Egypt, he will raise his hand against the River with the heat of his breath. He will divide it into seven streams for them to cross dry-shod.

Isa 11:16 And there will be a highway for the remnant of his people for those still left, from Assyria, as there was for Israel when he came out of Egypt.

Isa 12:1 And, that day, you will say: 'I praise you, Yahweh, you have been angry with me but your anger is now appeased and you have comforted me.'

Isa 12:2 Look, he is the God of my salvation: I shall have faith and not be afraid, for Yahweh is my strength and my song, he has been my salvation.'

Isa 12:3 Joyfully you will draw water from the springs of salvation

Isa 12:4 and, that day, you will say, 'Praise Yahweh, invoke his name. Proclaim his deeds to the people, declare his name sublime.'

Isa 12:5 Sing of Yahweh, for his works are majestic, make them known throughout the world.

Isa 12:6 Cry and shout for joy, you who live in Zion, For the Holy One of Israel is among you in his greatness.'

Isa 13:1 Proclamation about Babylon, seen by Isaiah son of Amoz.

Isa 13:2 On a bare hill hoist a signal, shout for them, beckon them to come to the Nobles' Gate.

Isa 13:3 I have issued orders to my sacred warriors, I have summoned my heroes to serve my anger, my proud champions.

Isa 13:4 The noise of a great crowd in the mountains, like an immense people, the tumultuous sound of kingdoms, of nations mustering: it is Yahweh Sabaoth marshalling the troops for battle.

Isa 13:5 They come from a distant country, from the far horizons, Yahweh and the instruments of his fury to lay the whole country waste.

Isa 13:6 Howl! For the Day of Yahweh is near, coming like devastation from Shaddai.

Isa 13:7 This is why all hands fall limp, why all the men are losing heart;

Isa 13:8 they are panic-stricken, seized with pains and convulsions; they writhe like a woman in labour, they look at one another appalled, with feverish faces.

Isa 13:9 Look, the Day of Yahweh is coming, merciless, with wrath and burning anger, to reduce the country to a desert and root out the sinners from it.

Isa 13:10 For in the sky the stars and Orion will shed their light no longer, the sun will be dark when it rises, and the moon will no longer give its light.

Isa 13:11 I am going to punish the world for its wickedness and the wicked for their guilt, and put an end to the pride of the arrogant and humble the haughtiness of despots.

Isa 13:12 I shall make people scarcer than pure gold, human life scarcer than the gold of Ophir.

Isa 13:13 This is why I am going to shake the heavens, why the earth will reel on its foundations, under the wrath of Yahweh Sabaoth, the day when his anger ignites.

Isa 13:14 Then like a hunted gazelle, like sheep that nobody gathers in, everyone will head back to his people, everyone will flee to his native land.

Isa 13:15 All those who are found will be stabbed, all those captured will fall by the sword,

Isa 13:16 their babies dashed to pieces before their eyes, their houses plundered, their wives raped.

Isa 13:17 Look, against them I am stirring up the Medes who care nothing for silver, who set no value by gold.

Isa 13:18 Bows will annihilate the young men, they will have no pity for the fruit of the womb, or mercy in their eyes for children.

Isa 13:19 And Babylon, that pearl of kingdoms, that splendid jewel of the Chaldaeans, will, like Sodom and Gomorrah, be overthrown by God.

Isa 13:20 Never again will anyone live there or reside there for all generations to come. Never again will the Arab pitch his tent there, or the shepherds bring their flocks to rest.

Isa 13:21 But beasts of the desert will make their haunt there and owls fill their houses, there ostriches will settle their home, there goats will dance.

Isa 13:22 Hyenas will howl in its towers, jackals in its delightful palaces, for its doom is about to come and its days will not last long.

Isa 14:1 Yahweh will have pity on Jacob, he will choose Israel once more and resettle them on their native soil. Foreigners will join them, attaching themselves to the House of Jacob.

Isa 14:2 Peoples will take them and escort them home, and the House of Israel will take them as slaves, men and women on Yahweh's soil. They will enslave those who enslaved them and will master their oppressors.

Isa 14:3 When that day comes, and Yahweh gives you rest from your suffering and torment and the grim servitude to which you have been subjected,

Isa 14:4 you will recite this satire on the king of Babylon and say: 'How did the tyrant end? How did his arrogance end?

Isa 14:5 Yahweh has broken the staff of the wicked, the sceptre of rulers,

Isa 14:6 furiously lashing peoples with continual blows, angrily hammering nations, pursuing without respite.

Isa 14:7 The whole world is at rest and calm, shouts of joy resounding,

Isa 14:8 the cypresses, the cedars of Lebanon, rejoice aloud at your fate, "Now that you have been laid low, no one comes up to fell us."

Isa 14:9 'On your account, Sheol below is astir to greet your arrival. He has roused the ghosts to greet you, all the rulers of the world. He has made all the kings of the nations get up from their thrones.

Isa 14:10 They will all greet you with the words, "So, you too are now as weak as we are! You, too, have become like us.

Isa 14:11 Your pride has been flung down to Sheol with the music of your lyres; under you a mattress of maggots, over you a blanket of worms.

Isa 14:12 How did you come to fall from the heavens, Daystar, son of Dawn? How did you come to be thrown to the ground, conqueror of nations?

Isa 14:13 You who used to think to yourself: I shall scale the heavens; higher than the stars of God I shall set my throne. I shall sit on the Mount of Assembly far away to the north.

Isa 14:14 I shall climb high above the clouds, I shall rival the Most High."

Isa 14:15 Now you have been flung down to Sheol, into the depths of the abyss!

Isa 14:16 'When they see you, they will scrutinise you and consider what you have become, "Is this the man who made the world tremble, who overthrew kingdoms?"

Isa 14:17 He made the world a desert, he levelled cities and never freed his prisoners to go home."

Isa 14:18 All other kings of nations, all of them, lie honourably, each in his own tomb;

Isa 14:19 but you have been thrown away, unburied, like a loathsome branch, covered with heaps of the slain pierced by the sword who fall on the rocks of the abyss like trampled carrion.

Isa 14:20 'You will not rejoin them in the grave, for you have brought your country to ruin and destroyed your people. The offspring of the wicked leave no name behind them.'

Isa 14:21 Make ready to slaughter his sons for the guilt of their father! Never again must they rise to conquer the world and cover the face of the earth with their cities.

Isa 14:22 'I will rise against them, declares Yahweh Sabaoth, and deprive Babylon of name, remnant, offspring and posterity, declares Yahweh.'

Isa 14:23 I shall turn it into the haunt of hedgehogs, a swamp. I shall sweep it with the broom of destruction, declares Yahweh Sabaoth.'

Isa 14:24 Yahweh Sabaoth has sworn it, 'Yes, what I have planned will take place, what I have decided will be so:

Isa 14:25 'I shall break Assyria in my country, I shall trample on him on my mountains. Then his yoke will slip off them, his burden will slip from their shoulders.'

Isa 14:26 This is the decision taken in defiance of the whole world; this, the hand outstretched in defiance of all nations.

Isa 14:27 Once Yahweh Sabaoth has decided, who will stop him? Once he stretches out his hand, who can withdraw it?

Isa 14:28 In the year Ahaz died came this proclamation:

Isa 14:29 All Philistia, do not rejoice because the rod which used to beat you is now broken, for the serpent stock will produce a viper, its offspring will be a flying dragon.

Isa 14:30 While the first-born of the poor are grazing and the destitute are resting in safety, I shall make your stock die of hunger and then slaughter what remains of you.

Isa 14:31 Howl, gate! Shriek, city! Totter, all Philistia! For a smoke is coming from the north, and there are no deserters in those battalions.

Isa 14:32 What reply will be given then to the messengers of that nation? - That Yahweh founded Zion and there the poor of his people will find refuge.

Isa 15:1 Proclamation about Moab: Laid waste in a night, Ar-Moab lies silent; Laid waste in a night, Kir-Moab lies silent.

Isa 15:2 The daughter of Dibon has climbed to the high places to weep; on Nebo and in Medeba Moab laments. Every head shaven, every beard cut off, Isa 15:3 they wear sackcloth in their streets; on their roofs and in their squares, everyone is lamenting and collapsing in tears.

Isa 15:4 Heshbon and Elealeh are crying out in distress, their voices can be heard as far as Jahaz. That is why the warriors of Moab are shivering, his soul trembles at the sound.

Isa 15:5 His heart cries out in distress for Moab, whose fugitives are already at Zoar, nearly at Eglath-Shelishiyah. They climb the slope of Luhith, weeping as they go; on the road to Horonaim they utter heart-rending cries.

Isa 15:6 The Waters of Nimrim have become a waste land, the grass dried up, the plants withered away, nothing green any more.

Isa 15:7 That is why they are carrying what they could save of their stores across the Ravine of the Willows.

Isa 15:8 For the cry for help re-echoes round the territory of Moab; their wailing, right to Eglaim, to Beer-Elim, their wailing;

Isa 15:9 Dimon's waters are swollen with blood, and I have worse in store for Dimon: a lion for those of Moab who survive, for those left on its soil.

Isa 16:1 Send the lamb to the ruler of the land, from Sela by the desert, to the mountain of the daughter of Zion,

Isa 16:2 for soon, like a fluttered bird, like nestlings cast out, will be the women of Moab at the fords of the Arnon.

Isa 16:3 Hold a council, make a decision. At noon spread your shadow as if it were night. Hide those who have been driven out, do not betray the fugitive,

Isa 16:4 let those who have been driven out of Moab come and live with you; be their refuge in the face of the devastator. Once the oppression is past, and the devastation has stopped and those now trampling on the country have gone away,

Isa 16:5 the throne will be made secure in faithful love and on it will sit in constancy within the tent of David, a judge seeking fair judgement and pursuing uprightness.

Isa 16:6 We have heard about Moab's pride, about how very proud it is, about its arrogance, its pride, its rage, its bravado, which will come to nothing!

Isa 16:7 And so Moab is wailing for Moab, wailing, every one of them. For the raisin cakes of Kir-Hareseth you mourn, stricken with grief.

Isa 16:8 For Heshbon's vineyards are withering, the vine of Sibmah whose red grapes used to overcome the overlords of the nations. It used to reach to Jazer, had wound its way into the desert, its shoots grew so numerous they spread across the sea.

Isa 16:9 And so I weep, as Jazer weeps, for the vine of Sibmah. I water you with my tears, Heshbon and Elealeh. For over your harvest and vintage the cheering has died away;

Isa 16:10 joy and gladness have vanished from the orchards. No more revelry in the vineyards, no more happy shouting; no more the treader treads wine in the presses, the cheering has ceased.

Isa 16:11 That is why my whole being quivers like harp strings for Moab, my very heart, for Kir-Heres.

Isa 16:12 Moab will be seen, wearing itself out on the high places and going to its temple to pray, but it will accomplish nothing.

Isa 16:13 Such was the word which Yahweh spoke about Moab in the past.

Isa 16:14 And now Yahweh has spoken in these terms, 'Within three years, as a hired worker reckons them, the glory of Moab will be humbled, despite its teeming population. It will be reduced to nothing, an insignificant remnant.'

Isa 17:1 Proclamation about Damascus: Damascus will soon cease to be a city, it will become a heap of ruins.

Isa 17:2 Its towns, abandoned for ever, will be pastures for flocks; there they will rest with no one to disturb them.

Isa 17:3 Ephraim will be stripped of its defences and Damascus of its sovereignty; and the remnant of Aram will be treated like the glory of the Israelites -- declares Yahweh Sabaoth.

Isa 17:4 When that day comes, Jacob's glory will diminish, from being fat he will grow lean;

Isa 17:5 as when a reaper gathers in the standing corn, harvesting the ears of corn with his arm, or when they glean the ears in the Valley of Rephaim,

Isa 17:6 nothing will remain but pickings, as when an olive tree is beaten; two or three berries left on the topmost bough, four or five berries on the branches of the tree -- declares Yahweh, God of Israel.

Isa 17:7 That day, a man will look to his Creator and his eyes will turn to the Holy One of Israel.

Isa 17:8 He will no longer look to altars, his own handiwork, or to what his own fingers have made: the sacred poles and incense-altars.

Isa 17:9 That day, its cities of refuge will be abandoned as were the woods and heaths at the Israelites' advance: there will be desolation.

Isa 17:10 Since you have forgotten the God of your salvation, and failed to keep the Rock, your refuge, in mind, you plant pleasure-gardens, you sow exotic seeds;

Isa 17:11 the day you plant them, you get them to sprout, and, next morning, your seedlings are in flower; but the harvest will vanish on the day of disease and incurable pain.

Isa 17:12 Disaster! The thunder of vast hordes, a thunder like the thunder of the seas, the roar of nations roaring like the roar of mighty floods,

Isa 17:13 of nations roaring like the roar of ocean! He rebukes them and far away they flee, driven like chaff on the mountains before the wind, like an eddy of dust before the storm.

Isa 17:14 At evening all is terror, by morning all have disappeared. Such will be the lot of those who plunder us, such, the fate of our despilers.

Isa 18:1 Disaster! Land of the whirring locust beyond the rivers of Cush,

Isa 18:2 who send ambassadors by sea, in little reed-boats across the waters! Go, swift messengers to a nation tall and bronzed, to a people feared far and near, a mighty and masterful nation whose country is criss-crossed with rivers.

Isa 18:3 All you who inhabit the world, you who people the earth, when the signal is hoisted on the mountains, you will see, when the ram's-horn is sounded, you will hear.

Isa 18:4 For this is what Yahweh has told me, 'I shall sit here quietly looking down, like the burning heat in the daytime, like a dewy mist in the heat of harvest.'

Isa 18:5 For, before the harvest, once the flowering is over and blossom turns into ripening grape, the branches will be cut off with pruning knives, and the shoots taken off, cut away.

Isa 18:6 All has been abandoned to the mountain birds of prey and the wild animals: the birds of prey will summer on them, and all the wild animals winter on them.

Isa 18:7 Then, an offering will be brought to Yahweh Sabaoth on behalf of a people tall and bronzed, on behalf of a people feared far and near, on behalf of a mighty and masterful nation whose country is criss-crossed with rivers: to the place where the name of Yahweh Sabaoth resides, Mount Zion.

Isa 19:1 Proclamation about Egypt: Look! Yahweh, riding a swift cloud, is coming to Egypt. The false gods of Egypt totter before him and Egypt's heart quails within her.

Isa 19:2 I shall stir up Egypt against Egypt, they will fight one another, brother against brother, friend against friend, city against city, kingdom against kingdom.

Isa 19:3 Egypt's spirit will fail within her and I shall confound her deliberations. They will consult false gods and wizards, ghosts and sorcerers.

Isa 19:4 And I shall hand Egypt over to the clutches of a cruel master, a ruthless king will rule them -- declares Yahweh Sabaoth.

Isa 19:5 The waters will ebb from the sea, the river will dry up and run low,

Isa 19:6 the streams will become foul, the rivers of Egypt sink and dry up. Rush and reed will turn black,

Isa 19:7 the Nile-plants on the banks of the Nile; all the vegetation of the Nile, will wither, blow away and be no more.

Isa 19:8 The fishermen will groan, it will be mourning for all who cast hook in the Nile; those who spread nets on the waters will lose heart.

Isa 19:9 The workers of carded flax and the weavers of white cloth will be confounded,

Isa 19:10 the weavers dismayed, all the workmen dejected.

Isa 19:11 Yes, the princes of Zoan are fools, Pharaoh's wisest councillors make up a stupid council. How dare you say to Pharaoh, 'I am descended from sages, I am descended from bygone kings'?

Isa 19:12 Where are these sages of yours? Let them tell you, so that all may know, the plans Yahweh Sabaoth has made against Egypt!

Isa 19:13 The princes of Zoan are fools, the princes of Noph, self-deceivers, the top men of her provinces have led Egypt astray.

Isa 19:14 Yahweh has infused them with a giddy spirit; they have led Egypt astray in all she undertakes like a drunkard straying about as he vomits.

Isa 19:15 Nowadays no one does for Egypt what top and tail, palm and reed used to do.

Isa 19:16 That day Egypt will be like women, trembling and terrified at the threatening hand of Yahweh Sabaoth, when he raises it against her.

Isa 19:17 The land of Judah will become Egypt's shame; whenever she is reminded of it, she will be terrified, because of the plan which Yahweh Sabaoth has laid against her.

Isa 19:18 That day in Egypt there will be five towns speaking the language of Canaan and pledging themselves to Yahweh Sabaoth; one of them will be called City of the Sun.

Isa 19:19 That day there will be an altar dedicated to Yahweh in the centre of Egypt and, close to the frontier, a pillar dedicated to Yahweh,

Isa 19:20 and this will be a sign and a witness to Yahweh Sabaoth in Egypt. When they cry to Yahweh for help because of oppressors, he will send them a Saviour and leader to deliver them.

Isa 19:21 Yahweh will reveal himself to Egypt, and the Egyptians will acknowledge Yahweh that day and will offer sacrifices and cereal offerings, and will make vows to Yahweh and perform them.

Isa 19:22 And if Yahweh strikes Egypt, having struck he will heal, and they will turn to Yahweh who will hear their prayers and heal them.

Isa 19:23 That day there will be a highway from Egypt to Assyria. Assyria will have access to Egypt and Egypt have access to Assyria. Egypt will serve with Assyria.

Isa 19:24 That day Israel will make a third with Egypt and Assyria, a blessing at the centre of the world,

Isa 19:25 and Yahweh Sabaoth will bless them in the words, 'Blessed be my people Egypt, Assyria my creation, and Israel my heritage.'

Isa 20:1 The year the general-in-chief, sent by Sargon king of Assyria, came to Ashdod and stormed and captured it

Isa 20:2 at that time Yahweh spoke through Isaiah son of Amoz and said, 'Go, undo the sackcloth round your waist and take the sandals off your feet.' And he did so, and walked about, naked and barefoot.

Isa 20:3 Yahweh then said, 'As my servant Isaiah has been walking about naked and barefoot for the last three years as a sign and portent for Egypt and Cush,

Isa 20:4 so the king of Assyria will lead the captives of Egypt and the exiles of Cush, young and old, naked and barefoot, their buttocks bared, to the shame of Egypt.

Isa 20:5 Then they will be afraid and ashamed of Cush their hope and Egypt their pride,

Isa 20:6 and the inhabitants of this coast will say on that day, "Look what has happened to our hope, to those to whom we fled for help, to escape from the king of Assyria. How are we going to escape?"'

Isa 21:1 Proclamation about the coastal desert: As whirlwinds sweeping over the Negeb, he comes from the desert, from a fearsome country.

Isa 21:2 A harsh vision has been shown me, 'The traitor betrays and the despoiler despoils. Advance, Elam, lay siege, Media! I have cut short all groaning.'

Isa 21:3 This is why my loins are racked with pain, why I am seized with pangs like the pangs of a woman in labour; I am too distressed to hear, too afraid to look.

Isa 21:4 My heart is bewildered, dread overwhelms me, the twilight I longed for has become my horror.

Isa 21:5 They lay the table, spread the cloth, they eat, they drink. Up, princes, grease the shield!

Isa 21:6 For this is what the Lord has told me, 'Go, post a look-out, let him report what he sees.'

Isa 21:7 He will see cavalry, horsemen two by two, men mounted on donkeys, men mounted on camels; let him watch alertly, be very alert indeed!

Isa 21:8 Then the look-out shouted, 'On the watchtower, Lord, I stay all day and at my post I stand all night.'

Isa 21:9 Now the cavalry is coming, horsemen two by two.' He shouted again and said, 'Babylon has fallen, has fallen, and all the images of her gods he has shattered to the ground!'

Isa 21:10 You whom I have threshed, grain of my threshing-floor, what I have heard from Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, I am telling you now.

Isa 21:11 Proclamation about Dumah: From Seir, someone shouts to me, 'Watchman, what time of night? Watchman, what time of night?'

Isa 21:12 The watchman answers, 'Morning is coming, then night again. If you want to ask, ask! Come back! Come here!'

Isa 21:13 Proclamation about the wastelands: In the thickets, on the wastelands, you spend the night, you caravans of Dedanites.

Isa 21:14 Bring water for the thirsty! The inhabitants of Tema went with bread to greet the fugitive.

Isa 21:15 For these have fled before the sword, the naked sword and the bent bow, the press of battle.

Isa 21:16 For this is what the Lord has told me, 'In one year's time as a hired worker reckons it, all the glory of Kedar will be finished

Isa 21:17 and, of the valiant archers, the Kedarites, hardly any will be left, for Yahweh, God of Israel, has spoken.'

Isa 22:1 Prophecy on the Valley of Vision: Now what is the matter with you for you all to be up on the housetops,

Isa 22:2 full of excitement, boisterous town, joyful city? Your slain have not fallen to the sword nor died in battle.

Isa 22:3 Your leaders have all fled together, captured without a bow between them, all who could be found have been captured at a blow, far though they had fled.

Isa 22:4 That is why I said, 'Turn your eyes away from me, let me weep bitterly; do not try to comfort me over the ruin of the daughter of my people.'

Isa 22:5 For this is a day of rout, panic and confusion, the work of the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth in the Valley of Vision. The wall is sapped, cries for help ring out to the mountains.

Isa 22:6 Elam has picked up his quiver, with manned chariots and horsemen, and Kir has bared his shield.

Isa 22:7 Your fairest valleys are full of chariots and the horsemen take up positions at the gates;

Isa 22:8 thus falls the defence of Judah. That day you turned your gaze to the weapons in the House of the Forest.

Isa 22:9 You saw how many breaches there were in the City of David. You collected the waters of the lower pool.

Isa 22:10 You surveyed the houses in Jerusalem and pulled houses down to strengthen the wall.

Isa 22:11 Between the two walls you made a reservoir for the waters of the old pool. But you did not look to the Creator of these things, you did not look to the One who fashioned them long ago.

Isa 22:12 That day the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth called on you to weep and mourn, to shave your heads, to put on sackcloth.

Isa 22:13 But instead there is joy and merriment, killing of oxen, slaughtering of sheep, eating of meat, drinking of wine, 'Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we shall be dead.'

Isa 22:14 Then Yahweh Sabaoth revealed this to my ears, 'This guilt will never be forgiven you, until you are dead,' says the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth.

Isa 22:15 The Lord Yahweh Sabaoth says this: Go and find that steward, Shebna, the master of the palace:

Isa 22:16 'What do you own here, who gave you the right for you to hew yourself a tomb here?' He is hewing himself a tomb, is digging a resting-place for himself in the rock.

Isa 22:17 But Yahweh will throw you away, strong as you are, will grasp you in his grip,

Isa 22:18 will screw you up into a ball, a ball thrown into a vast space. There you will die, with your splendid chariots, disgrace to your master's palace!

Isa 22:19 I shall hound you from your office, I shall snatch you from your post

Isa 22:20 and, when that day comes, I shall summon my servant Eliakim son of Hilkiah.

Isa 22:21 I shall dress him in your tunic, I shall put your sash round his waist, I shall invest him with your authority; and he will be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and to the House of Judah.

Isa 22:22 I shall place the key of David's palace on his shoulder; when he opens, no one will close, when he closes, no one will open.

Isa 22:23 I shall drive him like a nail into a firm place; and he will become a throne of glory for his family.

Isa 22:24 'On him will depend all the glory of his family, the descendants and offspring, all the vessels of small capacity too, from cups to pitchers.

Isa 22:25 That day, declares Yahweh Sabaoth, the nail driven into a firm place will give way, will be torn out and fall. And the whole load hanging on it will be lost. For Yahweh has spoken.'

Isa 23:1 Proclamation about Tyre: Howl, ships of Tarshish, for all has been destroyed- no more houses, no way of getting in: the news has reached them from Kittim.

Isa 23:2 Be struck dumb, inhabitants of the coast, you merchants of Sidon, whose messengers cross the sea

Isa 23:3 to the wide ocean. The grain of the Canal, the harvest of the Nile, formed her revenue. She was the market for the nations.

Isa 23:4 Blush, Sidon (citadel of the seas), for this is what the sea has said, 'I have felt no birth-pangs, never given birth, never reared boys nor brought up girls.'

Isa 23:5 When the news reaches Egypt, they will tremble to hear Tyre's fate.

Isa 23:6 Cross to Tarshish, howl, inhabitants of the coast.

Isa 23:7 Is this your proud city founded far back in the past, whose steps led her far afield to found her colonies?

Isa 23:8 Who took this decision against Tyre, who used to hand out crowns, whose traders were princes, whose merchants, men honoured in the city?

Isa 23:9 Yahweh Sabaoth took this decision to wither the pride of all beauty and humiliate those honoured in the city.

Isa 23:10 Cultivate your country like the Delta, daughter of Tarshish, for your marine docks are no more.

Isa 23:11 He has raised his hand against the sea, he has shaken kingdoms, Yahweh has ordained the destruction of the fortresses of Canaan.

Isa 23:12 He has said, 'Exult no more, ill-treated virgin daughter of Sidon! Get up, cross to Kittim, no respite for you there, either.'

Isa 23:13 Look at the land of the Chaldaeans, a people who used not to exist! Assyria assigned it to the creatures of the wilds; they raised their siege-towers against it, demolished its bastions, reduced it to ruin.

Isa 23:14 Howl, ships of Tarshish, for your fortress has been destroyed.

Isa 23:15 When that day comes, Tyre will be forgotten for seventy years, the length of one king's life. But when the seventy years are over, Tyre will become like the whore in the song:

Isa 23:16 'Take your harp, walk the town, whore whom men have forgotten! Play sweetly, song after song, to make them remember you.'

Isa 23:17 At the end of the seventy years Yahweh will visit Tyre. She will receive her pay again and play the whore with all the kingdoms of the world on the surface of the earth.

Isa 23:18 But her profits and wages will be dedicated to Yahweh. They will not be stored or hoarded, but her profits will go to those who live in Yahweh's presence, for them to have as much food as they want and splendid clothes.

Isa 24:1 See how Yahweh lays the earth waste, makes it a desert, buckles its surface, scatters its inhabitants,

Isa 24:2 priest and people alike, master and slave, mistress and maid, seller and buyer, lender and borrower, creditor and debtor.

Isa 24:3 Ravaged, ravaged the earth will be, despoiled, despoiled, for Yahweh has uttered this word.

Isa 24:4 The earth is mourning, pining away, the pick of earth's people are withering away.

Isa 24:5 The earth is defiled by the feet of its inhabitants, for they have transgressed the laws, violated the decree, broken the everlasting covenant.

Isa 24:6 That is why the curse has consumed the earth and its inhabitants pay the penalty, that is why the inhabitants of the earth have been burnt up and few people are left.

Isa 24:7 The new wine is mourning, the vine is withering away, the once merry-hearted are sighing.

Isa 24:8 The cheerful sound of tambourines is silent, the sound of revelling is over, the cheerful sound of the harp is silent.

Isa 24:9 No more will they sing over their wine, liquor will taste bitter to the drinker.

Isa 24:10 The city of nothingness is in ruins, every house is shut, no one can enter.

Isa 24:11 People shout in the streets to try to get wine; all joy has vanished, happiness has been banished from the country.

Isa 24:12 Nothing but rubble in the city, the gate has collapsed in ruins.

Isa 24:13 For at the heart of earth's life, among the peoples, it is as at the beating of the olive trees, as at the gleaning of the grapes when the grape harvest is over.

Isa 24:14 They raise their voices, shouting for joy, in Yahweh's honour they shout from the west.

Isa 24:15 'Yes, in the east, give glory to Yahweh, in the islands of the sea, to the name of Yahweh, God of Israel!'

Isa 24:16 We have heard psalms from the remotest parts of earth, 'Glory to the Upright One!' But I thought, 'What an ordeal, what an ordeal! What misery for me!' The traitors have betrayed, the traitors have acted most treacherously.

Isa 24:17 Fear, the pit and the snare for you, inhabitants of the city!

Isa 24:18 And whoever flees from the cry of fear will fall into the pit, and whoever climbs out of the pit will be caught in the snare. Yes, the sluice-gates above are open, the foundations of the earth are quaking.

Isa 24:19 A cracking, the earth cracks open, a jolting, the earth gives a jolt, a lurching, the earth lurches backwards and forwards.

Isa 24:20 The earth will reel to and fro like a drunkard, it will be shaken like a shanty; so heavy will be its sin on it, it will fall, never to rise again.

Isa 24:21 When that day comes, Yahweh will punish the armies of the sky above and on earth the kings of the earth;

Isa 24:22 they will be herded together, herded together like prisoners in a dungeon and shut up in gaol, and, after long years, punished.

Isa 24:23 The moon will be confused and the sun ashamed, for Yahweh Sabaoth is king on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem, and the Glory will radiate on their elders.

Isa 25:1 Yahweh, you are my God, I shall praise you to the heights, I shall praise your name; for you have accomplished marvels, plans long-conceived, faithfully, firmly.

Isa 25:2 For you have made the town a heap of stones, the fortified city a ruin. The foreigners' citadel is a city no longer, it will never be rebuilt.

Isa 25:3 Hence mighty peoples will honour you, the city of pitiless nations hold you in awe;

Isa 25:4 For you have been a refuge for the weak, a refuge for the needy in distress, a shelter from the storm, shade from the heat; for the breath of the pitiless is like a winter storm.

Isa 25:5 Like heat in a dry land you calm the foreigners' tumult; as heat under the shadow of a cloud, so the song of the pitiless dies away.

Isa 25:6 On this mountain, for all peoples, Yahweh Sabaoth is preparing a banquet of rich food, a banquet of fine wines, of succulent food, of well-strained wines.

Isa 25:7 On this mountain, he has destroyed the veil which used to veil all peoples, the pall enveloping all nations;

Isa 25:8 he has destroyed death for ever. Lord Yahweh has wiped away the tears from every cheek; he has taken his people's shame away everywhere on earth, for Yahweh has spoken.

Isa 25:9 And on that day, it will be said, 'Look, this is our God, in him we put our hope that he should save us, this is Yahweh, we put our hope in him. Let us exult and rejoice since he has saved us.'

Isa 25:10 For Yahweh's hand will rest on this mountain, and Moab will be trodden under his feet as straw is trodden into the dung-heap.

Isa 25:11 He may stretch his hands wide on the mountain like a swimmer stretching out his hands to swim. But he will humble his pride despite what his hands may attempt.

Isa 25:12 And the impregnable fortress of your walls, he has overthrown, laid low, flung to the ground, in the dust.

Isa 26:1 That day, this song will be sung in Judah: 'We have a fortress city, the walls and ramparts provide safety.'

Isa 26:2 Open the gates! Let the upright nation come in, the nation that keeps faith!

Isa 26:3 This is the plan decreed: you will guarantee peace, the peace entrusted to you.

Isa 26:4 Trust in Yahweh for ever, for Yahweh is a rock for ever.

Isa 26:5 He has brought low the dwellers on the heights, the lofty citadel; he lays it low, brings it to the ground, flings it down in the dust.

Isa 26:6 It will be trodden under foot, by the feet of the needy, the steps of the weak.'

Isa 26:7 The path of the Upright One is honesty; you smooth the honest way of the upright.

Isa 26:8 Following the path of your judgements, Yahweh, we set our hopes in you, your name, your memory are all our soul desires.

Isa 26:9 At night my soul longs for you and my spirit within me seeks you out; for when your judgements appear on earth the inhabitants of the world learn what saving justice is.

Isa 26:10 If pity is shown to the wicked without his learning what saving justice is, he will act wrongly in the land of right conduct and not see the majesty of Yahweh.

Isa 26:11 Yahweh, your hand is raised but they do not see! The antagonists of your people will look and grow pale; with your fiery wrath you will devour your enemies.

Isa 26:12 Yahweh, you will grant us peace, having completed all our undertakings for us.

Isa 26:13 Yahweh our God, other lords than you have ruled us but, loyal to you alone, we invoke your name.

Isa 26:14 The dead will not come back to life, the shadows will not rise again, for you have punished them, annihilated them, wiping out their very memory.

Isa 26:15 You have made the nation larger, Yahweh, made the nation larger and won yourself glory, you have rolled back the frontiers of the country.

Isa 26:16 Yahweh, in distress they had recourse to you, they expended themselves in prayer, since your punishment was on them.

Isa 26:17 As a pregnant woman near her time of delivery writhes and cries out in her pangs, so have we been, Yahweh, in your eyes:

Isa 26:18 we have been pregnant, we have writhed, but we have given birth only to wind: we have not given salvation to the earth, no inhabitants for the world have been brought to birth.

Isa 26:19 Your dead will come back to life, your corpses will rise again. Wake up and sing, you dwellers in the dust, for your dew will be a radiant dew, but the earth will give birth to the shades.

Isa 26:20 Go, my people, go to your private room, shut yourselves in. Hide yourselves a little while until the retribution has passed.

Isa 26:21 For see, Yahweh emerges from his dwelling to punish the inhabitants of earth for their guilt; and the earth will reveal the blood shed on it and no longer hide its slain.

Isa 27:1 That day Yahweh will punish, with his unyielding sword, massive and strong, Leviathan the fleeing serpent, Leviathan the coiling serpent; he will kill that dragon that lives in the sea.

Isa 27:2 That day, sing of the splendid vineyard!

Isa 27:3 I, Yahweh, am its guardian, from time to time I water it; so that no harm befall it, I guard it night and day.

Isa 27:4 -I do not have a wall. Who can reduce me to brambles and thorn-bushes? -I shall make war and trample on it and at the same time burn it.

Isa 27:5 Or should they beg for my protection, let them make their peace with me, peace let them make with me.

Isa 27:6 In days to come, Jacob will take root, Israel will bud and blossom and the surface of the world be one vast harvest.

Isa 27:7 Has he struck him as he was struck by those who struck him? Has he murdered him as he was murdered by those who murdered him?

Isa 27:8 By expelling, by excluding him, you have executed a sentence, he has blown him away with a breath as rough as the east wind.

Isa 27:9 For that is how Jacob's guilt will be forgiven, such will be the result of renouncing his sin, when all the altar-stones have been smashed to pieces like lumps of chalk, when the sacred poles and incense-altars stand no longer.

Isa 27:10 For the fortified city is abandoned now, deserted, forsaken as a desert where calves browse, where they lie down, destroying its branches.

Isa 27:11 When boughs go dry, they get burnt, women come and use them for firewood. Now, this is a people that does not understand, and so its Maker will not take pity on it, he who formed it will not show it any mercy.

Isa 27:12 When that day comes, Yahweh will start his threshing from the course of the River to the Torrent of Egypt, and you will be gathered one by one, Israelites!

Isa 27:13 When that day comes, the great ram's-horn will be sounded, and those lost in Assyria will come, and those banished to Egypt, and they will worship Yahweh on the holy mountain, in Jerusalem.

Isa 28:1 Woe to the haughty crown of Ephraim's drunkards, to the fading flower of its proud splendour sited at the head of the lush valley, to those prostrated by wine!

Isa 28:2 See, a strong and mighty man in the Lord's service, like a storm of hail, a destroying tempest, like immense flood-waters overflowing, with his hand he throws them to the ground.

Isa 28:3 They will be trampled underfoot, the haughty crown of Ephraim's drunkards,

Isa 28:4 and the faded flower of its proud splendour sited at the head of the lush valley. Like a fig ripe before summer comes: whoever spots it forthwith picks and swallows it.

Isa 28:5 That day Yahweh Sabaoth will be a crown of splendour and a proud diadem for the remnant of his people,

Isa 28:6 a spirit of fair judgement for him who sits in judgement, and the strength of those who repel the assault on the gate.

Isa 28:7 These too have been confused by wine, have gone astray owing to liquor. Priest and prophet have become confused by liquor, are sodden with wine, have strayed owing to liquor, have become confused in their visions, have strayed in their decisions.

Isa 28:8 Yes, every table is covered in filthy vomit, not one is clean!

Isa 28:9 'Whom does he think he is lecturing? Whom does he think his message is for? Babies just weaned? Babies just taken from the breast?

Isa 28:10 With his "Sav lasav, sav lasav, kav lakav, kav lakav, zeer sham, zeer sham!"

Isa 28:11 Now, with stammering lips and in a foreign language, he will talk to this nation.

Isa 28:12 He used to say to them, 'Here you can rest! Here you can let the weary rest! Here all is quiet.' But they refused to listen.

Isa 28:13 Now Yahweh is going to say this to them, 'Sav lasav, sav lasav, kav lakav, kav lakav, zeer sham, zeer sham.' So that when they walk they will fall over backwards and so be broken, trapped and taken captive.

Isa 28:14 Hence listen to Yahweh's word, you insolent men, rulers of this people in Jerusalem.

Isa 28:15 Because you have said, 'We have made a treaty with Death and have struck a pact with Sheol. When the scourging flood comes over, it will not touch us, for we have made lies our refuge and hidden under falsehood.'

Isa 28:16 So the Lord Yahweh says this, 'Now I shall lay a stone in Zion, a granite stone, a precious corner-stone, a firm foundation-stone: no one who relies on this will stumble.

Isa 28:17 And I will make fair judgement the measure, and uprightness the plumb-line.' But hail will sweep away the refuge of lies and floods wash away the hiding-place;

Isa 28:18 your treaty with Death will be broken and your pact with Sheol will not hold. When the scourging flood comes over, you will be trodden down by it;

Isa 28:19 every time it comes over, it will seize on you, for it will come over, morning after morning, day by day and night by night. Nothing but fear will make you understand what you hear.

Isa 28:20 For the bed is too short to stretch in, the blanket too narrow for covering.

Isa 28:21 Yes, as on Mount Perazim, Yahweh will rise, as in the Valley of Gibeon, he will storm to do his work, his mysterious work, to do his deed, his extraordinary deed.

Isa 28:22 Stop scoffing, then, or your bonds will be tightened further, for I have heard it: it has been irrevocably decided as regards the whole country by the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth.

Isa 28:23 Listen closely to my words, be attentive, understand what I am saying.

Isa 28:24 Does the ploughman plough all day to sow, breaking up and harrowing his ground?

Isa 28:25 Once he has levelled its surface, does he not scatter fennel, sow cummin? Then he puts in wheat, millet, barley and, round the edges, spelt, Isa 28:26 for his God has taught him this rule and instructed him.

Isa 28:27 Fennel must not be crushed with a sledge, nor cart-wheels driven over cummin; fennel must be beaten with a stick, and cummin with a flail.

Isa 28:28 When you are threshing wheat, you do not waste time crushing it; you get the horse and cart-wheel moving, but you do not grind it fine.

Isa 28:29 All this is a gift from Yahweh Sabaoth, marvellous advice leading to great achievements.

Isa 29:1 Woe, Ariel, Ariel, city where David encamped. Let year after year pass, let the feasts make their full round, Isa 29:2 then I shall inflict trouble on Ariel, and there will be sighing and sobbing, and I shall make it truly Ariel.

Isa 29:3 I shall encamp all round you, I shall lay siege to you and mount siege-works against you.

Isa 29:4 You will be laid low, will speak from the underworld, your words will rise like a murmur from the dust. Your voice from the earth will be like a ghost's, it will whisper as though coming from the dust.

Isa 29:5 The horde of your enemies will be like fine dust, the horde of the warriors like flying chaff. And suddenly, in an instant,

Isa 29:6 you will be visited by Yahweh Sabaoth with thunder, earthquake, mighty din, hurricane, tempest, flame of devouring fire.

Isa 29:7 It will be like a dream, like a vision at night: the horde of all the nations at war with Ariel, all those fighting, besieging and troubling it.

Isa 29:8 It will be like the dream of a hungry man: he eats, then wakes up with an empty belly; or like the dream of a thirsty man: he drinks, then wakes up exhausted with a parched throat. So will it be with the horde of all the nations making war on Mount Zion.

Isa 29:9 Be stupefied and stunned, go blind, unseeing, drunk but not on wine, staggering but not through liquor.

Isa 29:10 For Yahweh has infused you with a spirit of lethargy, he has closed your eyes (the prophets), he has veiled your heads (the seers).

Isa 29:11 For to you every vision has become like the words of a sealed book. You give it to someone able to read and say, 'Read that.' He replies, 'I cannot, because it is sealed.'

Isa 29:12 You then give the book to someone who cannot read, and say, 'Read that.' He replies, 'I cannot read.'

Isa 29:13 The Lord then said: Because this people approaches me only in words, honours me only with lip-service while their hearts are far from me, and reverence for me, as far as they are concerned, is nothing but human commandment, a lesson memorised,

Isa 29:14 very well, I shall have to go on astounding this people with prodigies and wonders: for the wisdom of its wise men is doomed, the understanding of any who understand will vanish.

Isa 29:15 Woe to those who burrow down to conceal their plans from Yahweh, who scheme in the dark and say, 'Who can see us? Who knows who we are?'

Isa 29:16 How perverse you are! Is the potter no better than the clay? Something that was made, can it say of its maker, 'He did not make me'? Or a pot say of the potter, 'He does not know his job'?

Isa 29:17 Is it not true that in a very short time the Lebanon will become productive ground, so productive you might take it for a forest?

Isa 29:18 That day the deaf will hear the words of the book and, delivered from shadow and darkness, the eyes of the blind will see.

Isa 29:19 The lowly will find ever more joy in Yahweh and the poorest of people will delight in the Holy One of Israel;

Isa 29:20 for the tyrant will be no more, the scoffer has vanished and all those on the look-out for evil have been destroyed:

Isa 29:21 those who incriminate others by their words, those who lay traps for the arbitrator at the gate and groundlessly deprive the upright of fair judgement.

Isa 29:22 That is why Yahweh, God of the House of Jacob, Abraham's redeemer, says this, 'No longer shall Jacob be disappointed, no more shall his face grow pale,

Isa 29:23 for when he sees his children, my creatures, home again with him, he will acknowledge my name as holy, he will acknowledge the Holy One of Jacob to be holy and will hold the God of Israel in awe.

Isa 29:24 Erring spirits will learn to understand and murmurers accept instruction.'

Isa 30:1 Woe to the rebellious children -- declares Yahweh -- who make plans which do not come from me and make alliances not inspired by me, and so add sin to sin!

Isa 30:2 They are leaving for Egypt, without consulting me, to take refuge in Pharaoh's protection, to shelter in Egypt's shadow.

Isa 30:3 Pharaoh's protection will be your shame, the shelter of Egypt's shadow your confounding.

Isa 30:4 For his princes have gone to Zoan and his messengers have reached Hanes.

Isa 30:5 Everyone has been disappointed by a people who cannot help, who bring neither aid nor profit, only disappointment and confusion.

Isa 30:6 Proclamation about the beasts of the Negeb: Into the land of distress and of anguish, of lioness and roaring lion, of viper and flying dragon, they bear their riches on donkeys' backs, their treasures on camels' humps, to a nation that cannot help:

Isa 30:7 Egypt, whose help is vain and futile; and so I call her 'Rahab -the-collapsed'.

Isa 30:8 Now go, inscribe this on a tablet, write it on a scroll, so that it may serve for time to come for ever and for ever.

Isa 30:9 This is a rebellious people, they are lying children, children who will not listen to Yahweh's Law.

Isa 30:10 To the seers they say, 'See nothing!' To the prophets, 'Do not prophesy the truth to us; tell us flattering things; have illusory visions;

Isa 30:11 turn aside from the way, leave the path, rid us of the Holy One of Israel.'

Isa 30:12 So the Holy One of Israel says this, 'Since you have rejected this word and put your trust in fraud and disloyalty and rely on these,

Isa 30:13 for you this guilt will prove to be a breach opening up, a bulge at the top of a wall which suddenly and all at once comes crashing down.

Isa 30:14 He will shatter it like an earthenware pot, ruthlessly knocking it to pieces, so that of the fragments not one shard can be found with which to take up fire from the hearth or scoop water from the storage-well.'

Isa 30:15 For Lord Yahweh, the Holy One of Israel, says this, 'Your salvation lay in conversion and tranquillity, your strength in serenity and trust and you would have none of it.

Isa 30:16 "No," you said, "we shall flee on horses." And so flee you will! And again, "We shall ride on swift ones." And so your pursuers will be swift!

Isa 30:17 A thousand will quake at the threat of one and when five threaten you will flee, until what is left of you will be like a flagstaff on a mountain top, like a signal on a hill.'

Isa 30:18 But Yahweh is waiting to be gracious to you, the Exalted One, to take pity on you, for Yahweh is a God of fair judgement; blessed are all who hope in him.

Isa 30:19 Yes, people of Zion living in Jerusalem, you will weep no more. He will be gracious to you when your cry for help rings out; as soon as he hears it, he will answer you.

Isa 30:20 When the Lord has given you the bread of suffering and the water of distress, he who is your teacher will hide no longer, and you will see your teacher with your own eyes.

Isa 30:21 Your ears will hear these words behind you, 'This is the way, keep to it,' whether you turn to right or left.

Isa 30:22 You will hold unclean the silverplating of your idols and the goldplating of your images. You will throw them away like the polluted things they are, shouting after them, 'Good riddance!'

Isa 30:23 He will send rain for the seed you sow in the ground, and the bread that the ground provides will be rich and nourishing. That day, your cattle will graze in wide pastures.

Isa 30:24 Oxen and donkeys that work the land will eat for fodder wild sorrel, spread by the shovel-load and fork-load.

Isa 30:25 On every lofty mountain, on every high hill there will be streams and water-courses, on the day of the great slaughter when the strongholds fall.

Isa 30:26 Then moonlight will be bright as sunlight and sunlight itself be seven times brighter -- like the light of seven days in one -- on the day Yahweh dresses his people's wound and heals the scars of the blows they have received.

Isa 30:27 See, the name of Yahweh comes from afar, blazing his anger, heavy his threat. His lips are brimming over with fury, his tongue is like a devouring fire.

Isa 30:28 His breath is like a river in spate coming up to the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of destruction, to harness the peoples in a bridle, that will lead them astray.

Isa 30:29 Your song will be like that on a festal night, and there will be joy in your hearts as when to the sound of the flute people make a pilgrimage to the mountain of Yahweh, the Rock of Israel.

Isa 30:30 Yahweh will make his majestic voice ring out, he will show the weight of his arm in the heat of his anger, with a devouring fire, with thunderbolt, downpour and hailstones.

Isa 30:31 Yes, at Yahweh's voice Assyria will be terrified, he will strike him with his rod;
Isa 30:32 each time he goes by, will fall the punishing rod that Yahweh will lay on him, to the sound of tambourines and harps, in the battles which he will wage against him with uplifted hand.
Isa 30:33 Yes, Topheth has been ready for a long time now, that too is ready for the king, deep and wide his pyre, fire and wood in plenty. Yahweh's breath, like a stream of brimstone, will set fire to it.
Isa 31:1 Woe to those going down to Egypt for help, who put their trust in horses, who rely on the quantity of chariots, and on great strength of cavalrymen, but do not look to the Holy One of Israel or consult Yahweh.
Isa 31:2 Yet he too is wise and can bring disaster and he will not go back on his word; he will rise against the breed of evil-doers and against those who protect wrong-doers.
Isa 31:3 The Egyptian is human, not divine, his horses are flesh, not spirit; Yahweh will stretch out his hand: the protector will stumble, the protected will fall and all will perish together.
Isa 31:4 Yes, this is what Yahweh has said to me: As a lion or lion cub growls over its prey, when scores of shepherds are summoned to drive it off, without being frightened by their shouting or cowed by the noise they make, just so will Yahweh Sabaoth descend to fight for Mount Zion and for its hill.
Isa 31:5 Like hovering birds, so will Yahweh Sabaoth protect Jerusalem; by protecting it, he will save it, by supporting it, he will deliver it.
Isa 31:6 Come back to the one whom the Israelites have so deeply betrayed!
Isa 31:7 For, that day, each of you will throw away the false gods of silver and the false gods of gold which your own sinful hands have made.
Isa 31:8 Assyria will fall by the sword, not that of a man, will be devoured by the sword, of no human being, he will flee before the sword and his young warriors will be enslaved.
Isa 31:9 In his terror he will abandon his rock, and his panic-stricken officers desert the standard -- declares Yahweh, whose fire is in Zion, whose furnace, in Jerusalem.
Isa 32:1 There will be a king who reigns uprightly and princes who rule with fair judgement;
Isa 32:2 each will be like a shelter from the wind, a refuge from the storm, like streams on arid ground, like the shade of a solid rock in a desolate land.
Isa 32:3 The eyes of seers will no longer be closed, the ears of hearers will be alert,
Isa 32:4 the heart of the hasty will learn to think things over, and the tongue of stammerers will speak promptly and clearly.
Isa 32:5 The fool will no longer be called generous, nor the rascal be styled bountiful.
Isa 32:6 For the fool speaks folly and his heart is set on villainy; he is godless in his actions and his words ascribe error to Yahweh; he starves the hungry of their food and refuses drink to the thirsty.
Isa 32:7 Everything to do with the rascal is evil, he devises infamous plans to ruin the poor with lying words even when the needy has right on his side;
Isa 32:8 but the noble person plans only noble things, noble his every move.
Isa 32:9 Stand up, you haughty women, listen to my words; you over-confident daughters, pay attention to what I say.
Isa 32:10 Within one year and a few days you will tremble, you over-confident women; grape-harvesting will be finished, gathering will never happen again.
Isa 32:11 Shudder, you haughty women, tremble, you over-confident women; strip, undress, put sackcloth round your waists.
Isa 32:12 Beat your breasts for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine,
Isa 32:13 for my people's soil where the bramble-bush will be growing and for all the happy houses, for the rejoicing city.
Isa 32:14 For the citadel will be abandoned and the thronged city deserted, Ophel and the Keep will be denuded for ever, the playground of wild donkeys and the pasture of flocks,
Isa 32:15 until the spirit is poured out on us from above, and the desert becomes an orchard, and an orchard that seems like a forest.
Isa 32:16 Fair judgement will fix its home in the desert, and uprightness live in this orchard,
Isa 32:17 and the product of uprightness will be peace, the effect of uprightness being quiet and security for ever.
Isa 32:18 My people will live in a peaceful home, in peaceful houses, tranquil dwellings.
Isa 32:19 And should the forest be totally destroyed and the city gravely humiliated,
Isa 32:20 You will be happy to sow wherever there is water and to let the ox and donkey roam free.
Isa 33:1 Woe to you, destroying though not yourself destroyed, betraying though not yourself betrayed; when you have finished destroying, you will be destroyed, when you have stopped betraying, you will be betrayed.
Isa 33:2 Yahweh, show us your mercy, we hope in you. Be our arm every morning and our salvation in time of distress.
Isa 33:3 At the sound of tumult the peoples flee, when you stand up the nations scatter.

Isa 33:4 Your spoil is gathered in as a grasshopper gathers in, like a swarm of locusts people descend on it.

Isa 33:5 Yahweh is exalted, for he is enthroned above, he has filled Zion with fair judgement and saving justice.

Isa 33:6 You can count on this all your days: wisdom and knowledge are the riches that save, the fear of Yahweh is his treasure.

Isa 33:7 Look, Ariel is lamenting in the streets, the ambassadors of peace are weeping bitterly.

Isa 33:8 The highways are deserted, no travellers any more on the roads. Agreements are broken, witnesses held in contempt, there is respect for no one.

Isa 33:9 The land pines away in mourning, the Lebanon is withering with shame, Sharon has become like the wasteland, Bashan and Carmel are shuddering.

Isa 33:10 'Now I shall stand up,' says Yahweh, 'now I shall rise, now draw myself up.'

Isa 33:11 You conceive chaff, you give birth to straw: like fire, my breath will devour you.

Isa 33:12 The peoples will be burnt up as though by quicklime, like cut thorns they will be burnt on the fire.

Isa 33:13 You who are far away, listen to what I have done, and you who are near, realise my strength.'

Isa 33:14 The sinners in Zion are panic-stricken and fear seizes on the godless, 'Which of us can survive the devouring fire, which of us survive everlasting burning?'

Isa 33:15 The one who acts uprightly and speaks honestly, who scorns to get rich by extortion, who rejects bribes out of hand, who refuses to listen to plans involving bloodshed and shuts his eyes rather than countenance crime:

Isa 33:16 such a man will live on the heights, the craggy rocks will be his refuge, he will be fed, he will not want for water.

Isa 33:17 Your eyes will gaze on the king in his beauty, they will look on a country stretching far and wide.

Isa 33:18 Your heart will meditate on past terrors, 'Where is the man who did the counting? Where is the man who did the weighing? Where is the man who counted off the towers?'

Isa 33:19 No more will you see that insolent people, that people of unintelligible speech, of barbarous and meaningless tongue.

Isa 33:20 Gaze at Zion, city of our feasts; your eyes will see Jerusalem as a home that is secure, a tent not to be moved, none of its tent-pegs ever to be pulled out, none of its guy-ropes ever to be broken.

Isa 33:21 There it is that Yahweh shows us his power, like a place of rivers and very wide canals on which will row no galley, over which will pass no majestic ship.

Isa 33:22 (For Yahweh is our judge, Yahweh our lawgiver, Yahweh is our king and our Saviour.)

Isa 33:23 Your tackle has given way, it cannot support the mast, it cannot hoist the pennon. And so there is much booty to be shared out; the lame fall to plundering,

Isa 33:24 and no one living there will say, 'I am sickly'; the people living there will find their guilt forgiven.

Isa 34:1 Come near and listen, you nations, pay attention, you peoples. Let the earth and its contents listen, the world and its entire population.

Isa 34:2 For Yahweh is angry with all the nations, enraged with all their hordes. He has vowed them to destruction, handed them over to slaughter.

Isa 34:3 Their dead will be thrown away, the stench will rise from their corpses, the mountains will run with their blood,

Isa 34:4 the entire array of heaven will fall apart. The heavens will be rolled up like a scroll and all their array will fade away, as fade the leaves falling from the vine, as fade those falling from the fig tree.

Isa 34:5 For my sword has drunk deep in the heavens: see how it now falls on Edom, on the people vowed to destruction, to punish them.

Isa 34:6 Yahweh's sword is gorged with blood, it is greasy with fat, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams. For Yahweh has a sacrifice in Bozrah, a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

Isa 34:7 The wild oxen will fall with them, the bullocks with the bulls; their land will be drenched with blood and their dust will be greasy with fat.

Isa 34:8 For this will be Yahweh's day of vengeance, the year of retribution in Zion's lawsuit.

Isa 34:9 Its streams will turn into pitch, its dust into brimstone, its country will turn into blazing pitch.

Isa 34:10 Never quenched night or day, its smoke rising for ever, it will lie waste age after age, no one will travel through it for ever and ever.

Isa 34:11 It will be the haunt of pelican and hedgehog, the owl and the raven will live there; over it Yahweh will stretch the measuring line of chaos and the plumb-line of emptiness.

Isa 34:12 There will be no more nobles to proclaim the royal authority; there will be an end of all its princes.

Isa 34:13 Brambles will grow in its bastions, nettles and thorn-bushes in its fortresses, it will be the lair of jackals, an enclosure for ostriches.

Isa 34:14 Wild cats will meet hyenas there, satyr will call to satyr, there Lilith too will lurk and find somewhere to rest.

Isa 34:15 The snake will nest and lay eggs there, will hatch and gather its young into the shade; and there the vultures will assemble, each one with its mate.

Isa 34:16 Search in Yahweh's book, and read, not one of these will be missing, not one of them lacking a mate; for thus his mouth has ordained it, and his spirit has brought them together.

Isa 34:17 He has thrown the lot for each, his hand has measured out their share; they will possess it for ever, and live there age after age.

Isa 35:1 Let the desert and the dry lands be glad, let the wasteland rejoice and bloom; like the asphodel,

Isa 35:2 let it burst into flower, let it rejoice and sing for joy. The glory of Lebanon is bestowed on it, the splendour of Carmel and Sharon; then they will see the glory of Yahweh, the splendour of our God.

Isa 35:3 Strengthen all weary hands, steady all trembling knees

Isa 35:4 and say to the faint-hearted, 'Be strong! Do not be afraid. Here is your God, vengeance is coming, divine retribution; he is coming to save you.'

Isa 35:5 Then the eyes of the blind will be opened, the ears of the deaf unsealed,

Isa 35:6 then the lame will leap like a deer and the tongue of the dumb sing for joy; for water will gush in the desert and streams in the wastelands,

Isa 35:7 the parched ground will become a marsh and the thirsty land springs of water; the lairs where the jackals used to live will become plots of reed and papyrus.

Isa 35:8 And through it will run a road for them and a highway which will be called the Sacred Way; the unclean will not be allowed to use it; He will be the one to use this road, the fool will not stray along it.

Isa 35:9 No lion will be there, no ferocious beast set foot on it, nothing of the sort be found; it will be used by the redeemed.

Isa 35:10 For those whom Yahweh has ransomed will return, they will come to Zion shouting for joy, their heads crowned with joy unending; rejoicing and gladness will escort them and sorrow and sighing will take flight.

Isa 36:1 In the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib king of Assyria advanced on all the fortified towns of Judah and captured them.

Isa 36:2 From Lachish the king of Assyria sent the cupbearer-in-chief with a large force to King Hezekiah in Jerusalem. The cupbearer-in-chief took up position near the conduit of the upper pool on the road to the Fuller's Field.

Isa 36:3 The master of the palace, Eliakim son of Hilkiah, Shebna the secretary and the herald Joah son of Asaph went out to him.

Isa 36:4 The cupbearer-in-chief said to them, 'Say to Hezekiah, "The great king, the king of Assyria, says this: What makes you so confident?"

Isa 36:5 Do you think empty words are as good as strategy and military strength? Who are you relying on, to dare to rebel against me?

Isa 36:6 There you are, relying on that broken reed, Egypt, which pricks and pierces the hand of the person who leans on it. That is what Pharaoh king of Egypt is like to all who rely on him.

Isa 36:7 You may say to me: We rely on Yahweh our God. But haven't his high places and altars been suppressed by Hezekiah, who told Judah and Jerusalem: This is the altar before which you must worship?

Isa 36:8 Very well, then, make a wager with my lord the king of Assyria: I will give you two thousand horses if you can find horsemen to ride them.

Isa 36:9 How could you repulse a single one of the least of my master's soldiers? And yet you have relied on Egypt for chariots and horsemen.

Isa 36:10 And lastly, have I marched on this country to lay it waste without warrant from Yahweh? Yahweh himself said to me: March on this country and lay it waste."

Isa 36:11 Eliakim, Shebna and Joah said to the cupbearer-in-chief, 'Please speak to your servants in Aramaic, for we understand it; do not speak to us in the Judaean language within earshot of the people on the ramparts.'

Isa 36:12 But the cupbearer-in-chief said, 'Do you think my lord sent me here to say these things to your master or to you? On the contrary, it was to the people sitting on the ramparts who, like you, are doomed to eat their own dung and drink their own urine.'

Isa 36:13 The cupbearer-in-chief then drew himself up and shouted loudly in the Judaean language, 'Listen to the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

Isa 36:14 The king says this, "Do not let Hezekiah delude you! He will be powerless to save you.

Isa 36:15 Do not let Hezekiah persuade you to rely on Yahweh by saying: Yahweh is sure to save us; this city will not fall into the king of Assyria's clutches.

Isa 36:16 Do not listen to Hezekiah, for the king of Assyria says this: Make peace with me,

Isa 36:17 surrender to me, and every one of you will be free to eat the fruit of his own vine and of his own fig tree and to drink the water of his own storage-well until I come and take you away to a country like your own, a land of corn and good wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

Isa 36:18 Do not let Hezekiah delude you by saying: Yahweh will save us. Has any god of any nation been able to save his country from the king of Assyria's clutches?

Isa 36:19 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? Where are the national gods of Samaria? Did they save Samaria from my clutches?

Isa 36:20 Of all the national gods, which ones have saved their countries from my clutches, that Yahweh should be able to save Jerusalem from my clutches?" '

Isa 36:21 They, however, kept quiet and said nothing in reply, since the king had given the order, 'You are not to answer him.'

Isa 36:22 The master of the palace, Eliakim son of Hilkiah, Shebna the secretary and the herald Joah son of Asaph, with their clothes torn, went to Hezekiah and reported what the cupbearer-in-chief had said.

Isa 37:1 On hearing this, King Hezekiah tore his clothes, put on sackcloth and went to the Temple of Yahweh.

Isa 37:2 He sent Eliakim master of the palace, Shebna the secretary and the elders of the priests, wearing sackcloth, to the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz.

Isa 37:3 They said to him, 'This is what Hezekiah says, "Today is a day of suffering, of punishment, of disgrace. Children come to birth and there is no strength to bring them forth."

Isa 37:4 May Yahweh your God hear the words of the cupbearer-in-chief whom his master, the king of Assyria, has sent to insult the living God, and may Yahweh your God punish the words he has heard! Offer your prayer for the remnant still left." '

Isa 37:5 When King Hezekiah's ministers came to Isaiah,

Isa 37:6 he said to them, 'Say to your master, "Yahweh says this: Do not be afraid of the words which you have heard or the blasphemies which the king of Assyria's minions have uttered against me."

Isa 37:7 Look, I am going to put a spirit in him and, on the strength of a rumour, he will go back to his own country, and in that country I shall make him fall by the sword." '

Isa 37:8 The cupbearer turned about and rejoined the king of Assyria, who was then attacking Libnah, the cupbearer having learnt that the king had already left Lachish

Isa 37:9 on hearing that Tirhakah king of Cush was on his way to attack him. Sennacherib again sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

Isa 37:10 'Tell Hezekiah king of Judah this, "Do not let your God on whom you are relying deceive you with the promise: Jerusalem will not fall into the king of Assyria's clutches."

Isa 37:11 You have learnt by now what the kings of Assyria have done to all the other countries, putting them under the curse of destruction. Are you likely to be saved?

Isa 37:12 Did the gods of the nations whom my ancestors devastated save them-Gozan, Haran, Rezeph and the Edenites who were in Tel Basar?

Isa 37:13 Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, the king of Lair, of Sepharvaim, of Hena, of Ivvah?" '

Isa 37:14 Hezekiah took the letter from the messengers' hands and read it; he then went up to the Temple of Yahweh and spread it out before Yahweh.

Isa 37:15 Hezekiah said this prayer in the presence of Yahweh,

Isa 37:16 'Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, enthroned on the winged creatures, you alone are God of all the kingdoms of the world, you made heaven and earth.'

Isa 37:17 Give ear, Yahweh, and listen; open your eyes, Yahweh, and see! Hear the words of Sennacherib, who has sent to insult the living God.

Isa 37:18 It is true, Yahweh, that the kings of Assyria have destroyed all the nations (and their countries);

Isa 37:19 they have thrown their gods on the fire, for these were not gods but human artefacts -- wood and stone -- and hence they have destroyed them.

Isa 37:20 But now, Yahweh our God, save us from his clutches, I beg you, and let all the kingdoms of the world know that you alone are God, Yahweh.'

Isa 37:21 Isaiah son of Amoz then sent the following message to Hezekiah, 'Yahweh, God of Israel, says this, "In answer to the prayer which you have addressed to me about Sennacherib king of Assyria.

Isa 37:22 Here is the pronouncement which Yahweh has made about him: She despises you, she scorns you, the virgin daughter of Zion; she tosses her head at you, the daughter of Jerusalem!

Isa 37:23 Whom have you insulted, whom did you blaspheme? Against whom raised your voice and lifted your haughty eyes? Against the Holy One of Israel.

Isa 37:24 Through your minions you have insulted the Lord, thinking: With my many chariots I have climbed the mountain-tops, the utmost peaks of Lebanon. I have felled its mighty cedars, its finest cypresses, have reached its furthest peak, its forest garden.

Isa 37:25 Yes, I have dug and drunk of foreign waters; under the soles of my feet I have dried up all Egypt's rivers.

Isa 37:26 Do you hear? Long ago I prepared this, from days of old I actually planned it, now I carry it out. You were to lay walled cities in heaps of ruins;

Isa 37:27 that was why their inhabitants, feeble of hand, were dismayed and discomfited, were weak as grass, were frail as plants, were like grass of housetop and meadow under the east wind.

Isa 37:28 But whether you stand up or sit down, whether you go out or come in, I know it (and how you rave against me).

Isa 37:29 Because you have raved against me and your arrogance has reached my ears, I shall put a hook through your nostrils and a muzzle on your lips, and make you return by the road by which you came.

Isa 37:30 And this will be the sign for you: This year will be eaten the self-sown grain, next year what sprouts in the fallow; but in the third year sow and reap, plant vineyards and eat their fruit.

Isa 37:31 The surviving remnant of the House of Judah will bring forth new roots below and fruits above;

Isa 37:32 for a remnant will issue from Jerusalem, and survivors from Mount Zion. Yahweh Sabaoth's jealous love will accomplish this."

Isa 37:33 'This, then, is what Yahweh says about the king of Assyria: He will not enter this city, will shoot no arrow at it, confront it with no shield, throw up no earthwork against it.'

Isa 37:34 By the road by which he came, by that he will return; he will not enter this city, declares Yahweh.

Isa 37:35 I shall protect this city and save it for my sake and my servant David's sake.'

Isa 37:36 That same night the angel of Yahweh went out and struck down a hundred and eighty-five thousand men in the Assyrian camp. In the early morning when it was time to get up, there they lay, so many corpses.

Isa 37:37 Sennacherib struck camp and left; he returned home and stayed in Nineveh.

Isa 37:38 One day when he was worshipping in the temple of his god Nisroch, his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer struck him down with the sword and escaped into the territory of Ararat. His son Esarhaddon succeeded him.

Isa 38:1 About then, Hezekiah fell ill and was at the point of death. The prophet Isaiah son of Amoz came and said to him, 'Yahweh says this, "Put your affairs in order, for you are going to die, you will not live."

Isa 38:2 Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and addressed this prayer to Yahweh,

Isa 38:3 'Ah, Yahweh, remember, I beg you, that I have behaved faithfully and with sincerity of heart in your presence and done what you regard as right.' And Hezekiah shed many tears.

Isa 38:4 Then the word of Yahweh came to Isaiah,

Isa 38:5 'Go and say to Hezekiah, "Yahweh, the God of your ancestor David, says this: I have heard your prayer and seen your tears. I shall cure you: in three days' time you will go up to the Temple of Yahweh. I shall add fifteen years to your life.'

Isa 38:6 I shall save you and this city from the king of Assyria's clutches and defend this city for my sake and my servant David's sake."

Isa 38:7 'Here', Isaiah replied, 'is the sign from Yahweh that he will do what he has said.

Isa 38:8 Look, I shall make the shadow cast by the declining sun on the steps -- the steps to Ahaz's roof-room--go back ten steps.' And the sun went back the ten steps by which it had declined.

Isa 38:9 Canticle of Hezekiah king of Judah after his illness and recovery.

Isa 38:10 I thought: In the noon of my life I am to depart. At the gates of Sheol I shall be held for the rest of my days.

Isa 38:11 I thought: I shall never see Yahweh again in the land of the living, I shall never see again a single one of those who live on earth.

Isa 38:12 My home has been pulled up, and thrown away like a shepherd's tent; like a weaver, I have rolled up my life, he has cut me from the loom. From dawn to dark, you have been making an end of me;

Isa 38:13 till daybreak, I cried for help; like a lion, he has crushed all my bones, from dawn to dark, you have been making an end of me.

Isa 38:14 I twitter like a swallow, I moan like a dove, my eyes have grown dim from looking up. Lord, I am overwhelmed, come to my help.

Isa 38:15 How can I speak and what can I say to him? He is the one to act. I must eke out the rest of my years in bitterness of soul.

Isa 38:16 The Lord is over them; they live, and everything in them lives by his spirit. You will cure me. Restore me to life.

Isa 38:17 At once, my bitterness turns to well-being. For you have preserved my soul from the pit of nothingness, you have thrust all my sins behind you.

Isa 38:18 For Sheol cannot praise you, nor Death celebrate you; those who go down to the pit can hope no longer in your constancy.

Isa 38:19 The living, the living are the ones who praise you, as I do today. Fathers tell their sons about your constancy.

Isa 38:20 Yahweh, come to my help and we will make our harps resound all the days of our life in the Temple of Yahweh.

Isa 38:21 'Bring a fig poultice,' Isaiah said, 'apply it to the ulcer and he will recover.'

Isa 38:22 Hezekiah said, 'What is the sign to tell me that I shall be going up to the Temple of Yahweh?'

Isa 39:1 At that time, the king of Babylon, Merodach-Baladan son of Baladan, sent letters and a gift to Hezekiah, for he had heard of his illness and his recovery.

Isa 39:2 Hezekiah was delighted at this and showed the ambassadors his entire treasury, the silver, gold, spices, precious oil, his armoury too, and everything to be seen in his storehouses. There was nothing in his palace or in his whole domain that Hezekiah did not show them.

Isa 39:3 The prophet Isaiah then came to King Hezekiah and asked him, 'What have these men said, and where have they come to you from?' Hezekiah answered, 'They have come from a distant country, from Babylon.'

Isa 39:4 Isaiah said, 'What have they seen in your palace?' 'They have seen everything in my palace,' Hezekiah answered. 'There is nothing in my storehouses that I have not shown them.'

Isa 39:5 Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, 'Listen to the word of Yahweh Sabaoth,

Isa 39:6 "The days are coming when everything in your palace, everything that your ancestors have amassed until now, will be carried off to Babylon. Not a thing will be left," Yahweh says.

Isa 39:7 "Sons sprung from you, sons begotten by you, will be abducted to be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon."

Isa 39:8 Hezekiah said to Isaiah, 'This word of Yahweh that you announce is reassuring,' for he was thinking, 'There is going to be peace and security during my lifetime.'

Isa 40:1 'Console my people, console them,' says your God.

Isa 40:2 'Speak to the heart of Jerusalem and cry to her that her period of service is ended, that her guilt has been atoned for, that, from the hand of Yahweh, she has received double punishment for all her sins.'

Isa 40:3 A voice cries, 'Prepare in the desert a way for Yahweh. Make a straight highway for our God across the wastelands.

Isa 40:4 Let every valley be filled in, every mountain and hill be levelled, every cliff become a plateau, every escarpment a plain;

Isa 40:5 then the glory of Yahweh will be revealed and all humanity will see it together, for the mouth of Yahweh has spoken.'

Isa 40:6 A voice said, 'Cry aloud!' and I said, 'What shall I cry?' -All humanity is grass and all its beauty like the wild flower's.

Isa 40:7 The grass withers, the flower fades when the breath of Yahweh blows on them. (The grass is surely the people.)

Isa 40:8 The grass withers, the flower fades, but the word of our God remains for ever.'

Isa 40:9 Go up on a high mountain, messenger of Zion. Shout as loud as you can, messenger of Jerusalem! Shout fearlessly, say to the towns of Judah, 'Here is your God.'

Isa 40:10 Here is Lord Yahweh coming with power, his arm maintains his authority, his reward is with him and his prize precedes him.

Isa 40:11 He is like a shepherd feeding his flock, gathering lambs in his arms, holding them against his breast and leading to their rest the mother ewes.

Isa 40:12 Who was it measured the water of the sea in the hollow of his hand and calculated the heavens to the nearest inch, gauged the dust of the earth to the nearest bushel, weighed the mountains in scales, the hills in a balance?

Isa 40:13 Who directed the spirit of Yahweh, what counsellor could have instructed him?

Isa 40:14 Whom has he consulted to enlighten him, to instruct him in the path of judgement, to teach him knowledge and show him how to understand?

Isa 40:15 See, the nations are like a drop in a bucket, they count as a grain of dust on the scales. See, coasts and islands weigh no more than fine powder.

Isa 40:16 The Lebanon is not enough for the burning fires nor its animals enough for the burnt offering.

Isa 40:17 All the nations are as nothing before him, for him they count as nothingness and emptiness.

Isa 40:18 To whom can you compare God? What image can you contrive of him?

Isa 40:19 The craftsman casts an idol, a goldsmith overlays it with gold and casts silver chains for it.

Isa 40:20 Someone too poor to afford a sacrifice chooses a piece of wood that will not rot; he then seeks out a skilled craftsman to set up an idol that will not totter.

Isa 40:21 Did you not know, had you not heard? Was it not told you from the beginning? Have you not understood how the earth was set on its foundations?

Isa 40:22 He who sits enthroned above the circle of the earth, the inhabitants of which are like grasshoppers, stretches out the heavens like a cloth, spreads them out like a tent to live in.

Isa 40:23 He reduces princes to nothing, the rulers of the world to mere emptiness.

Isa 40:24 Scarcely are they planted, scarcely sown, scarcely has their stem taken root in the soil, than he blows on them and they wither and the storm carries them away like chaff.

Isa 40:25 'To whom can you compare me, or who is my equal?' says the Holy One.

Isa 40:26 Lift your eyes and look: he who created these things leads out their army in order, summoning each of them by name. So mighty is his power, so great his strength, that not one fails to answer.

Isa 40:27 How can you say, Jacob, how can you repeat, Israel, 'My way is hidden from Yahweh, my rights are ignored by my God'?

Isa 40:28 Did you not know? Had you not heard? Yahweh is the everlasting God, he created the remotest parts of the earth. He does not grow tired or weary, his understanding is beyond fathoming.

Isa 40:29 He gives strength to the weary, he strengthens the powerless.

Isa 40:30 Youths grow tired and weary, the young stumble and fall,

Isa 40:31 but those who hope in Yahweh will regain their strength, they will sprout wings like eagles, though they run they will not grow weary, though they walk they will never tire.

Isa 41:1 Coasts and islands, fall silent before me, and let the peoples renew their strength, let them come forward and speak; let us assemble for judgement.

Isa 41:2 'Who has raised from the east him whom saving justice summons in its train, him to whom Yahweh delivers up the nations and subjects kings, him who reduces them to dust with his sword, and to driven stubble with his bow, Isa 41:3 him who pursues them and advances unhindered, his feet scarcely touching the road?

Isa 41:4 Who has acted thus, who has done this? He who calls each generation from the beginning: I, Yahweh, who am the first and till the last I shall still be there.'

Isa 41:5 The coasts and islands have seen and taken fright, the remotest parts of earth are trembling: they are approaching, they are here!

Isa 41:6 People help one another, they say to each other, 'Take heart!'

Isa 41:7 The woodworker encourages the smelter, the polisher encourages the hammerer, saying of the soldering, 'It is sound'; and he fastens it with nails to keep it steady.

Isa 41:8 But you, Israel, my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, descendant of Abraham my friend,

Isa 41:9 whom I have taken to myself, from the remotest parts of the earth and summoned from countries far away, to whom I have said, 'You are my servant, I have chosen you, I have not rejected you,'

Isa 41:10 do not be afraid, for I am with you; do not be alarmed, for I am your God. I give you strength, truly I help you, truly I hold you firm with my saving right hand.

Isa 41:11 Look, all those who rage against you will be put to shame and humiliated; those who picked quarrels with you will be reduced to nothing and will perish.

Isa 41:12 You will look for them but will not find them, those who used to fight you; they will be destroyed and brought to nothing, those who made war on you.

Isa 41:13 For I, Yahweh, your God, I grasp you by your right hand; I tell you, 'Do not be afraid, I shall help you.'

Isa 41:14 Do not be afraid, Jacob, you worm! You little handful of Israel! I shall help you, declares Yahweh; your redeemer is the Holy One of Israel.

Isa 41:15 Look, I am making you into a threshing-sledge, new, with double teeth; you will thresh and beat the mountains to dust and reduce the hills to straw.

Isa 41:16 You will winnow them and the wind will carry them off, the gale will scatter them; whereas you will rejoice in Yahweh, will glory in the Holy One of Israel.

Isa 41:17 The oppressed and needy search for water, and there is none, their tongue is parched with thirst. I, Yahweh, shall answer them, I, the God of Israel, shall not abandon them.

Isa 41:18 I shall open up rivers on barren heights and water-holes down in the ravines; I shall turn the desert into a lake and dry ground into springs of water.

Isa 41:19 I shall plant the desert with cedar trees, acacias, myrtles and olives; in the wastelands I shall put cypress trees, plane trees and box trees side by side;

Isa 41:20 so that people may see and know, so that they may all observe and understand that the hand of Yahweh has done this, that the Holy One of Israel has created it.

Isa 41:21 'Present your case,' says Yahweh, 'Produce your arguments,' says Jacob's king.

Isa 41:22 'Let them produce and reveal to us what is going to happen. What happened in the past? Reveal it so that we can consider it and know what the outcome will be. Or tell us about the future,

Isa 41:23 reveal what is to happen next, and then we shall know that you are gods. At least, do something, be it good or bad, so that we may feel alarm and fear.

Isa 41:24 Look, you are less than nothingness, and what you do is less than nothing; to choose you is an outrage.'

Isa 41:25 I have raised him from the north and he has come, from the east he has been summoned by name. He tramples on rulers like mud, like a potter treading clay.

Isa 41:26 Who revealed this from the beginning for us to know, and in the past for us to say, 'That is right'? No one in fact revealed it, no one proclaimed it, no one has heard you speak.

Isa 41:27 First-fruits of Zion, look, here they come! I send a messenger to Jerusalem, Isa 41:28 and I look -- no one, not a single counsellor among them who, if I asked, could give an answer.

Isa 41:29 Taken altogether they are nothingness, what they do is nothing, their statues, wind and emptiness.

Isa 42:1 Here is my servant whom I uphold, my chosen one in whom my soul delights. I have sent my spirit upon him, he will bring fair judgement to the nations.

Isa 42:2 He does not cry out or raise his voice, his voice is not heard in the street;

Isa 42:3 he does not break the crushed reed or snuff the faltering wick. Faithfully he presents fair judgement;

Isa 42:4 he will not grow faint, he will not be crushed until he has established fair judgement on earth, and the coasts and islands are waiting for his instruction.

Isa 42:5 Thus says God, Yahweh, who created the heavens and spread them out, who hammered into shape the earth and what comes from it, who gave breath to the people on it, and spirit to those who walk on it:

Isa 42:6 I, Yahweh, have called you in saving justice, I have grasped you by the hand and shaped you; I have made you a covenant of the people and light to the nations,

Isa 42:7 to open the eyes of the blind, to free captives from prison, and those who live in darkness from the dungeon.

Isa 42:8 I am Yahweh, that is my name! I shall not yield my glory to another, nor my honour to idols.

Isa 42:9 See how the former predictions have come true. Fresh things I now reveal; before they appear I tell you of them.

Isa 42:10 Sing a new song to Yahweh! Let his praise be sung from remotest parts of the earth by those who sail the sea and by everything in it, by the coasts and islands and those who inhabit them.

Isa 42:11 Let the desert and its cities raise their voices, the encampments where Kedar lives. Let the inhabitants of the Rock cry aloud for joy and shout from the mountain tops.

Isa 42:12 Let them give glory to Yahweh and, in the coasts and islands, let them voice his praise.

Isa 42:13 Yahweh advances like a hero, like a warrior he rouses his fire. He shouts, he raises the war cry, he shows his might against his foes.

Isa 42:14 'From long ago I have been silent, I have kept quiet, held myself in check, groaning like a woman in labour, panting and gasping for air.

Isa 42:15 I shall ravage mountain and hill, shall wither all their vegetation; I shall turn the torrents into firm ground and dry up the marshes.

Isa 42:16 I shall lead the blind by a road they do not know, by paths they do not know I shall conduct them. I shall turn the darkness into light before them and the quagmires into solid ground. This I shall do -- without fail.'

Isa 42:17 Those who trust in idols will recoil, they will blush for shame, who say to metal images, 'You are our gods.'

Isa 42:18 Listen, you deaf! Look and see, you blind!

Isa 42:19 Who so blind as my servant, so deaf as the messenger I send? (Who so blind as the friend I have taken to myself, so deaf as Yahweh's servant?)

Isa 42:20 You have seen many things but not observed them; your ears are open but you do not hear.

Isa 42:21 Yahweh wished, because of his saving justice, to make the Law great and glorious.

Isa 42:22 Yet here is a people pillaged and plundered, all of them shut up in caves, imprisoned in dungeons. They have been pillaged, with no one to rescue them, plundered, with no one to say, 'Give it back!'

Isa 42:23 Which of you will listen to this, who pay attention and listen in future?

Isa 42:24 Who surrendered Jacob to the plunderer and Israel to the pillagers? Was it not Yahweh, against whom we had sinned, in whose ways they would not walk and whose Law they would not obey?

Isa 42:25 On him he poured out his blazing anger and the fury of war; it enveloped him in flames and yet he did not understand; it burned him up, but he did not learn a lesson.

Isa 43:1 And now, thus says Yahweh, he who created you, Jacob, who formed you, Israel: Do not be afraid, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by your name, you are mine.

Isa 43:2 Should you pass through the waters, I shall be with you; or through rivers, they will not swallow you up. Should you walk through fire, you will not suffer, and the flame will not burn you.

Isa 43:3 For I am Yahweh, your God, the Holy One of Israel, your Saviour. I have given Egypt for your ransom, Cush and Seba in exchange for you.

Isa 43:4 Since I regard you as precious, since you are honoured and I love you, I therefore give people in exchange for you, and nations in return for your life.

Isa 43:5 Do not be afraid, for I am with you. I shall bring your offspring from the east, and gather you from the west.

Isa 43:6 To the north I shall say, 'Give them up!' and to the south, 'Do not hold them back!' Bring back my sons from far away, and my daughters from the remotest part of the earth,

Isa 43:7 everyone who bears my name, whom I have created for my glory, whom I have formed, whom I have made.

Isa 43:8 Bring forward the people that is blind, yet has eyes, that is deaf and yet has ears.

Isa 43:9 Let all the nations assemble, let the peoples gather here! Which of them has proclaimed this and revealed things to us in the past? Let them bring their witnesses to justify themselves, let others hear and say, 'It is true.'

Isa 43:10 You yourselves are my witnesses, declares Yahweh, and the servant whom I have chosen, so that you may know and believe me and understand that it is I. No god was formed before me, nor will be after me.

Isa 43:11 I, I am Yahweh, and there is no other Saviour but me.

Isa 43:12 I have revealed, have saved, and have proclaimed, not some foreigner among you. You are my witnesses, declares Yahweh, I am God, Isa 43:13 yes, from eternity I am. No one can deliver from my hand; when I act, who can thwart me?

Isa 43:14 Thus says Yahweh, your redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent to Babylon, I shall knock down all the prison bars, and the Chaldaeans' shouts of joy will change to lamentations.

Isa 43:15 I am Yahweh, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your king.

Isa 43:16 Thus says Yahweh, who made a way through the sea, a path in the raging waters,

Isa 43:17 who led out chariot and horse together with an army of picked troops: they lay down never to rise again, they were snuffed out, put out like a wick.

Isa 43:18 No need to remember past events, no need to think about what was done before.

Isa 43:19 Look, I am doing something new, now it emerges; can you not see it? Yes, I am making a road in the desert and rivers in wastelands.

Isa 43:20 The wild animals will honour me, the jackals and the ostriches, for bestowing water in the desert and rivers on the wastelands for my people, my chosen one, to drink.

Isa 43:21 The people I have shaped for myself will broadcast my praises.

Isa 43:22 But, Jacob, you have not invoked me; no, Israel, you have grown weary of me.

Isa 43:23 You have not brought me lambs as your burnt offerings and have not honoured me with your sacrifices. I have not subjected you to cereal offering, I have not wearied you by demanding incense.

Isa 43:24 You have not bought expensive reed for me or sated me with the fat of your sacrifices. Instead by your sins you have treated me like a slave, you have wearied me with your crimes,

Isa 43:25 I, I it is who blot out your acts of revolt for my own sake and shall not call your sins to mind.

Isa 43:26 Remind me, and we will judge this together; state your own case and justify yourself.

Isa 43:27 Your first ancestor sinned, your interpreters revolted against me.

Isa 43:28 That is why I deposed the chief men of my sanctuary, why I put Jacob under the curse of destruction and subjected Israel to insult.

Isa 44:1 And now listen, Jacob my servant, Israel whom I have chosen.

Isa 44:2 Thus says Yahweh who made you, who formed you in the womb; he will help you. Do not be afraid, Jacob my servant, Jeshurun whom I have chosen.

Isa 44:3 For I shall pour out water on the thirsty soil and streams on the dry ground. I shall pour out my spirit on your descendants, my blessing on your offspring,

Isa 44:4 and they will spring up among the grass, like willows on the banks of a stream.

Isa 44:5 One person will say, 'I belong to Yahweh,' another will call himself by Jacob's name. On his hand another will write 'Yahweh's' and be surnamed 'Israel'.

Isa 44:6 Thus says Yahweh, Israel's king, Yahweh Sabaoth, his redeemer: I am the first and I am the last; there is no God except me.

Isa 44:7 Who is like me? Let him call out, let him affirm it and convince me it is so; let him say what has been happening since I instituted an eternal people, and predict to them what will happen next!

Isa 44:8 Have no fear, do not be afraid: have I not told you and revealed it long ago? You are my witnesses. Is there any God except me? There is no Rock; I know of none.

Isa 44:9 The makers of idols are all nothingness; the works they delight in serve no purpose. And these are the witness against them: they see nothing, they know nothing; and so they will be put to shame.

Isa 44:10 Who ever fashioned a god or cast an image without hope of gain?

Isa 44:11 Watch how all its devotees will be put to shame, and the men who made it too, who are only human. Let them all assemble, let them stand forward and feel both fear and shame!

Isa 44:12 The blacksmith makes an axe over the charcoal, beats it into shape with a hammer, works on it with his strong arm. Then he feels hungry and his strength deserts him; having drunk no water, he is exhausted.

Isa 44:13 The wood carver takes his measurements, outlines the image with chalk, executes it with the chisel, following the outline with a compass. He makes it look like a human being, with human standards of beauty, so that it can reside in a house.

Isa 44:14 He has cut down cedars, has selected an oak and a terebinth which he has grown for himself among the trees in the forest and has planted a pine tree which the rain has nourished.

Isa 44:15 Once it is suitable to burn, he takes some of it to warm himself; having kindled it, he bakes bread. But he also makes a god and worships it; he makes an idol from it and bows down before it.

Isa 44:16 Half of it he burns on the fire, over this half he roasts meat, eats it and is replete; at the same time he warms himself and says, 'Ah, how warm I am, watching the flames!'

Isa 44:17 With the remainder he makes a god, his idol, bows down before it, worships it and prays to it. 'Save me,' he says, 'for you are my god.'

Isa 44:18 They know nothing, they understand nothing, since their eyes are incapable of seeing and their hearts of reflecting.

Isa 44:19 Not one of them looks into his heart, not one of them has the knowledge and wit to think, 'I burned half of it on the fire and cooked food over the embers. Am I right to make something disgusting out of what is left? Am I right to bow down before a block of wood?'

Isa 44:20 He hankers after ashes, his deluded heart has led him astray; he will not save himself, he will not think, 'What I have in my hand is nothing but a lie!'

Isa 44:21 Remember these things, Jacob, and Israel, since you are my servant. I formed you, you are my servant; Israel, I shall not forget you.

Isa 44:22 I have dispelled your acts of revolt like a cloud and your sins like a mist. Come back to me, for I have redeemed you.

Isa 44:23 Heavens, shout for joy, for Yahweh has acted! Underworld, shout aloud! Shout for joy, you mountains, forests and all your trees! For Yahweh has redeemed Jacob and displayed his glory in Israel!

Isa 44:24 Thus says Yahweh, your redeemer, he who formed you in the womb: I, Yahweh, have made all things, I alone spread out the heavens. When I hammered the earth into shape, who was with me?

Isa 44:25 I, who foil the omens of soothsayers and make fools of diviners, who confound sages turning their knowledge into folly,

Isa 44:26 who confirm the word of my servant and make the plans of my envoys succeed; who say to Jerusalem, 'You will be inhabited,' and to the towns of Judah, 'You will be rebuilt and I shall restore the ruins of Jerusalem';

Isa 44:27 who say to the ocean, 'Dry up! I shall make your rivers run dry';

Isa 44:28 who say to Cyrus, 'My shepherd.' He will perform my entire will by saying to Jerusalem, 'You will be rebuilt,' and to the Temple, 'You will be refounded.'

Isa 45:1 Thus says Yahweh to his anointed one, to Cyrus whom, he says, I have grasped by his right hand, to make the nations bow before him and to disarm kings, to open gateways before him so that their gates be closed no more:

Isa 45:2 I myself shall go before you, I shall level the heights, I shall shatter the bronze gateways, I shall smash the iron bars.

Isa 45:3 I shall give you secret treasures and hidden hoards of wealth, so that you will know that I am Yahweh, who call you by your name, the God of Israel.

Isa 45:4 It is for the sake of my servant Jacob and of Israel my chosen one, that I have called you by your name, have given you a title though you do not know me.

Isa 45:5 I am Yahweh, and there is no other, there is no other God except me. Though you do not know me, I have armed you

Isa 45:6 so that it may be known from east to west that there is no one except me. I am Yahweh, and there is no other,

Isa 45:7 I form the light and I create the darkness, I make well-being, and I create disaster, I, Yahweh, do all these things.

Isa 45:8 Rain down, you heavens, from above, and let the clouds pour down saving justice, let the earth open up and blossom with salvation, and let justice sprout with it; I, Yahweh, have created it!

Isa 45:9 Woe to anyone who argues with his Maker, one earthenware pot among many! Does the clay say to its potter, 'What are you doing? Your work has no hands!'

Isa 45:10 Woe to anyone who asks a father, 'Why are you begetting?' and a woman, 'Why are you giving birth?'

Isa 45:11 Thus says Yahweh, the Holy One of Israel and his Maker: I am asked for signs regarding my sons, I am given orders about the work I do.

Isa 45:12 It was I who made the earth and I created human beings on it, mine were the hands that spread out the heavens and I have given the orders to all their array.

Isa 45:13 I myself have raised him in saving justice and I shall make all paths level for him. He will rebuild my city and bring my exiles home without ransom or indemnity, says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Isa 45:14 Thus says Yahweh: The produce of Egypt, the commerce of Cush and the men of Seba, tall of stature, will come over to you and belong to you. They will follow you, walking in chains, they will bow before you, they will pray to you, 'With you alone is God, and there is no other! The gods do not exist.'

Isa 45:15 Truly, you are a God who conceals himself, God of Israel, Saviour!

Isa 45:16 They are shamed and humbled, every one of them, humiliated they go, the makers of idols.

Isa 45:17 Israel will be saved by Yahweh, saved everlasting. You will never be ashamed or humiliated for ever and ever.

Isa 45:18 For thus says Yahweh, the Creator of the heavens -- he is God, who shaped the earth and made it, who set it firm; he did not create it to be chaos, he formed it to be lived in: I am Yahweh, and there is no other.

Isa 45:19 I have not spoken in secret, in some dark corner of the underworld. I did not say, 'Offspring of Jacob, search for me in chaos! I am Yahweh: I proclaim saving justice, I say what is true.'

Isa 45:20 Assemble, come, all of you gather round, survivors of the nations. They have no knowledge, those who parade their wooden idols and pray to a god that cannot save.

Isa 45:21 Speak up, present your case, let them put their heads together! Who foretold this in the past, who revealed it long ago? Was it not I, Yahweh? There is no other god except me, no saving God, no Saviour except me!

Isa 45:22 Turn to me and you will be saved, all you ends of the earth, for I am God, and there is no other.

Isa 45:23 By my own self I swear it; what comes from my mouth is saving justice, it is an irrevocable word: All shall bend the knee to me, by me every tongue shall swear,

Isa 45:24 saying, 'In Yahweh alone are saving justice and strength,' until all those who used to rage at him come to him in shame.

Isa 45:25 In Yahweh the whole race of Israel finds justice and glory.

Isa 46:1 Bel is crouching, Nebo cowering, their idols are being put on animals, on beasts of burden, the loads you have been carrying are a burden to a weary beast.

Isa 46:2 They are cowering and crouching together, no one can save this burden, they themselves have gone into captivity.

Isa 46:3 Listen to me, House of Jacob, all who remain of the House of Israel, whom I have carried since the womb, whom I have supported since you were conceived.

Isa 46:4 Until your old age I shall be the same, until your hair is grey I shall carry you. As I have done, so I shall support you, I myself shall carry and shall save you.

Isa 46:5 With whom can you compare me, equate me, to whom can you liken me, making equals of us?

Isa 46:6 They lavish gold from their purses and weigh out silver on the scales. They engage a goldsmith to make a god, then bow low and actually adore!

Isa 46:7 They lift it on their shoulders and carry it, and put it down where it is meant to stand, so that it never moves from the spot. You may cry out to it in distress, it never replies, it never saves anyone in trouble.

Isa 46:8 Remember this and stand firm; rebels, look into your hearts.

Isa 46:9 Remember the things that happened long ago, for I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is none like me.

Isa 46:10 From the beginning I revealed the future, in advance, what has not yet occurred. I say: My purpose will come about, I shall do whatever I please;

Isa 46:11 I call a bird of prey from the east, my man predestined, from a distant land. What I have said, I shall do, what I have planned, I shall perform.

Isa 46:12 Listen to me, you hard-hearted people far removed from saving justice:

Isa 46:13 I am bringing my justice nearer, it is not far away, my salvation will not delay. I shall place my salvation in Zion and my glory in Israel.

Isa 47:1 Step down! Sit in the dust, virgin daughter of Babylon. Sit on the ground, no throne, daughter of the Chaldaeans, for never again will you be called tender and delicate.

Isa 47:2 Take the grinding mill, crush up the meal. Remove your veil, tie up your skirt, bare your legs, cross the rivers.

Isa 47:3 Let your nakedness be displayed and your shame exposed. I am going to take vengeance and no one will stand in my way.

Isa 47:4 Our redeemer, Yahweh Sabaoth is his name, the Holy One of Israel, says:

Isa 47:5 Sit in silence, bury yourself in darkness, daughter of the Chaldaeans, for never again will you be called the mistress of kingdoms.

Isa 47:6 Being angry with my people, I rejected my heritage, surrendering them into your clutches. You showed them no mercy, you made your yoke very heavy on the aged.

Isa 47:7 You thought, 'I shall be a queen for ever.' You did not reflect on these matters or think about the future.

Isa 47:8 Now listen to this, voluptuous woman, lolling at ease and thinking to yourself, 'I am the only one who matters. I shall never be widowed, never know bereavement.'

Isa 47:9 Yet both these things will befall you, suddenly, in one day. Bereavement and widowhood will suddenly befall you in spite of all your witchcraft and the potency of your spells.

Isa 47:10 Confident in your wickedness, you thought, 'No one can see me.' Your wishes and your knowledge were what deluded you, as you thought to yourself, 'I am the only one who matters.'

Isa 47:11 Hence, disaster will befall you which you will not know how to charm away, calamity overtake you which you will not be able to avert, ruination will suddenly befall you, such as you have never known.

Isa 47:12 Keep to your spells then, and all your sorceries, at which you have worked so hard since you were young. Perhaps you will succeed, perhaps you will strike terror!

Isa 47:13 You have had many tiring consultations: let the astrologers come forward now and save you, the star-gazers who announce month by month what will happen to you next.

Isa 47:14 Look, they are like wisps of straw, the fire will burn them up. They will not save their lives from the power of the flame. No embers these, for keeping warm, no fire to sit beside!

Isa 47:15 Such will your wizards prove to be for you, for whom you have worked so hard since you were young; each wandering his own way, none of them can save you.

Isa 48:1 Listen to this, House of Jacob, you who are called by the name of Israel and issued from the waters of Judah, who swear by the name of Yahweh and invoke the God of Israel, though not in good faith or uprightness;

Isa 48:2 for they call themselves after the holy city and rely on the God of Israel, Yahweh Sabaoth is his name.

Isa 48:3 Things now past I revealed long ago, they issued from my mouth, I proclaimed them; suddenly I acted and they happened.

Isa 48:4 For I knew you to be obstinate, your neck an iron sinew and your forehead bronze.

Isa 48:5 As I told you about it long before, before it happened I revealed it to you, so that you could not say, 'My statue did it, my idol, my metal image, ordained this.'

Isa 48:6 You have heard and seen all this, why won't you admit it? Now I am going to reveal new things to you, secrets that you do not know;

Isa 48:7 they have just been created, not long ago, and until today you have heard nothing about them, so that you cannot say, 'Yes, I knew about this.'

Isa 48:8 No, you have not heard, you have not known, for a long time your ear has not been attentive, for I knew how treacherous you were; you have been called a rebel since the womb.

Isa 48:9 For the sake of my name I shall defer my anger, for the sake of my honour I shall be patient with you, rather than destroy you.

Isa 48:10 Look, I have purchased you, but not for silver, I have chosen you out of the cauldron of affliction.

Isa 48:11 For my sake and my sake only shall I act, for why should my name be profaned? I will not yield my glory to another.

Isa 48:12 Listen to me, Jacob, Israel whom I have called: I, and none else, am the first, I am also the last.

Isa 48:13 My hand laid the foundations of earth and my right hand spread out the heavens. I summon them and they all present themselves together.

Isa 48:14 Assemble, all of you, and listen; which of them has revealed this? Yahweh loves him; he will do his pleasure on Babylon and the race of the Chaldaeans;

Isa 48:15 I, I have spoken, yes, I have summoned him, I have brought him, and he will succeed.

Isa 48:16 Come near and listen to this: from the first, I never spoke obscurely; when it happened, I was there, and now Lord Yahweh has sent me with his spirit.

Isa 48:17 Thus says Yahweh, your redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am Yahweh your God and teach you for your own good, I lead you in the way you ought to go.

Isa 48:18 If only you had listened to my commandments! Your prosperity would have been like a river and your saving justice like the waves of the sea.

Isa 48:19 Your descendants would have been numbered like the sand, your offspring as many as its grains. Their name would never be cancelled or blotted out from my presence.

Isa 48:20 Come out from Babylon! Flee from the Chaldaeans! Declare this with cries of joy, proclaim it, carry it to the remotest parts of earth, say, 'Yahweh has redeemed his servant Jacob.'

Isa 48:21 Those he led through the arid country never went thirsty; he made water flow for them from the rock, he split the rock and out streamed the water.

Isa 48:22 There is no peace, says Yahweh, for the wicked.

Isa 49:1 Coasts and islands, listen to me, pay attention, distant peoples. Yahweh called me when I was in the womb, before my birth he had pronounced my name.

Isa 49:2 He made my mouth like a sharp sword, he hid me in the shadow of his hand. He made me into a sharpened arrow and concealed me in his quiver.

Isa 49:3 He said to me, 'Israel, you are my servant, through whom I shall manifest my glory.'

Isa 49:4 But I said, 'My toil has been futile, I have exhausted myself for nothing, to no purpose.' Yet all the while my cause was with Yahweh and my reward with my God.

Isa 49:5 And now Yahweh has spoken, who formed me in the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob back to him and to re-unite Israel to him; I shall be honoured in Yahweh's eyes, and my God has been my strength.-

Isa 49:6 He said, 'It is not enough for you to be my servant, to restore the tribes of Jacob and bring back the survivors of Israel; I shall make you a light to the nations so that my salvation may reach the remotest parts of earth.'

Isa 49:7 Thus says Yahweh, the redeemer, the Holy One of Israel, to the one who is despised, detested by the nation, to the slave of despots: Kings will stand up when they see, princes will see and bow low, because of Yahweh who is faithful, the Holy One of Israel who has chosen you.

Isa 49:8 Thus says Yahweh: At the time of my favour I have answered you, on the day of salvation I have helped you. I have formed you and have appointed you to be the covenant for a people, to restore the land, to return ravaged properties,

Isa 49:9 to say to prisoners, 'Come out,' to those who are in darkness, 'Show yourselves.' Along the roadway they will graze, and any bare height will be their pasture.

Isa 49:10 They will never hunger or thirst, scorching wind and sun will never plague them; for he who pities them will lead them, will guide them to springs of water.

Isa 49:11 I shall turn all my mountains into a road and my highways will be raised aloft.

Isa 49:12 Look! Here they come from far away, look, these from the north and the west, those from the land of Sinim.

Isa 49:13 Shout for joy, you heavens; earth, exult! Mountains, break into joyful cries! For Yahweh has consoled his people, is taking pity on his afflicted ones.

Isa 49:14 Zion was saying, 'Yahweh has abandoned me, the Lord has forgotten me.'

Isa 49:15 Can a woman forget her baby at the breast, feel no pity for the child she has borne? Even if these were to forget, I shall not forget you.

Isa 49:16 Look, I have engraved you on the palms of my hands, your ramparts are ever before me.

Isa 49:17 Your rebuilders are hurrying, your destroyers and despoilers will soon go away.

Isa 49:18 Raise your eyes and look around you: all are assembling, coming to you. By my life, declares Yahweh, you will put them all on like jewels, like a bride, you will fasten them on.

Isa 49:19 For your desolate places and your ruins and your devastated country from now on will be too cramped for your inhabitants, and your devourers will be far away.

Isa 49:20 Once more they will say in your hearing, the children of whom you were bereft, 'The place is too cramped for me, make room for me to live.'

Isa 49:21 Then you will think to yourself, 'Who has borne me these? I was bereft and barren, exiled, turned out of my home; who has reared these? I was left all alone, so where have these come from?'

Isa 49:22 Thus says Lord Yahweh: Look, I am beckoning to the nations and hoisting a signal to the peoples: they will bring your sons in their arms and your daughters will be carried on their shoulders.

Isa 49:23 Kings will be your foster-fathers and their princesses, your foster-mothers. They will fall prostrate before you, faces to the ground, and lick the dust at your feet. And you will know that I am Yahweh; those who hope in me will not be disappointed.

Isa 49:24 Can the body be snatched from the warrior, can the tyrant's captive be set free?

Isa 49:25 But thus says Yahweh: The warrior's captive will indeed be snatched away and the tyrant's booty will indeed be set free; I myself shall fight those who fight you and I myself shall save your children.

Isa 49:26 I shall make your oppressors eat their own flesh, they will be as drunk on their own blood as on new wine. And all humanity will know that I am Yahweh, your Saviour, your redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

Isa 50:1 Thus says Yahweh: Where is your mother's writ of divorce by which I repudiated her? Or to which of my creditors have I sold you? Look, you have been sold for your own misdeeds, your mother was repudiated for your acts of rebellion.

Isa 50:2 Why was there no one there when I came? Why did no one answer when I called? Is my hand too short to redeem? Have I not strength to save? Look, with a threat I can dry the sea, and turn rivers to desert; the fish in them go rotten for want of water and die of thirst.

Isa 50:3 I dress the heavens in black, I cover them in sackcloth.

Isa 50:4 Lord Yahweh has given me a disciple's tongue, for me to know how to give a word of comfort to the weary. Morning by morning he makes my ear alert to listen like a disciple.

Isa 50:5 Lord Yahweh has opened my ear and I have not resisted, I have not turned away.

Isa 50:6 I have offered my back to those who struck me, my cheeks to those who plucked my beard; I have not turned my face away from insult and spitting.

Isa 50:7 Lord Yahweh comes to my help, this is why insult has not touched me, this is why I have set my face like flint and know that I shall not be put to shame.

Isa 50:8 He who grants me saving justice is near! Who will bring a case against me? Let us appear in court together! Who has a case against me? Let him approach me!

Isa 50:9 Look, Lord Yahweh is coming to my help! Who dares condemn me? Look at them, all falling apart like moth-eaten clothes!

Isa 50:10 Which of you fears Yahweh and listens to his servant's voice? Which of you walks in darkness and sees no light? Let him trust in the name of Yahweh and lean on his God!

Isa 50:11 Look, all you who light a fire and arm yourselves with firebrands, walk by the light of your fire and the firebrands you have kindled! This is what you will get from me: you will lie down in torment!

Isa 51:1 Listen to me, you who pursue saving justice, you who seek Yahweh. Consider the rock from which you were hewn, the quarry from which you were dug.

Isa 51:2 Consider Abraham your father and Sarah who gave you birth. When I called him he was the only one but I blessed him and made him numerous.

Isa 51:3 Yes, Yahweh has pity on Zion, has pity on all her ruins; he will turn her desert into an Eden and her wastelands into the garden of Yahweh. Joy and gladness will be found in her, thanksgiving and the sound of music.

Isa 51:4 Pay attention to me, my people, listen to me, my nation, for a law will come from me, and I shall make my saving justice the light of peoples.

Isa 51:5 My justice is suddenly approaching, my salvation appears, my arm is about to judge the peoples. The coasts and islands will put their hope in me and put their trust in my arm.

Isa 51:6 Raise your eyes to the heavens, look down at the earth; for the heavens will vanish like smoke, the earth wear out like clothing and its inhabitants die like vermin, but my salvation will last for ever and my saving justice remain inviolable.

Isa 51:7 Listen to me, you who know what saving justice means, a people who take my laws to heart: do not fear people's taunts, do not be alarmed by their insults,

Isa 51:8 for the moth will eat them like clothing, the grub will devour them like wool, but my saving justice will last for ever and my salvation for all generations.

Isa 51:9 Awake, awake! Clothe yourself in strength, arm of Yahweh. Awake, as in the olden days, generations long ago! Was it not you who split Rahab in half, who pierced the Dragon through?

Isa 51:10 Was it not you who dried up the sea, the waters of the great Abyss; who made the sea-bed into a road for the redeemed to go across?

Isa 51:11 This is why those whom Yahweh has ransomed will return, they will enter Zion shouting for joy, their heads crowned with a joy unending; joy and gladness will escort them and sorrow and sighing will take flight.

Isa 51:12 I, I am your consoler. Why then should you be afraid of mortal human beings, of a child of man, whose fate is that of the grass?

Isa 51:13 You forget about Yahweh your Creator who spread out the heavens and laid the earth's foundations; you have never stopped trembling all day long before the fury of the oppressor when he was bent on destruction. Where is the oppressor's fury now?

Isa 51:14 The despairing captive is soon to be set free; he will not die in the dungeon, nor will his food run out.

Isa 51:15 I am Yahweh your God who stirs up the sea, making its waves roar -- Yahweh Sabaoth is my name.

Isa 51:16 I put my words into your mouth, I hid you in the shadow of my hand, to spread out the heavens and lay the earth's foundations and say to Zion, 'You are my people.'

Isa 51:17 Awake, awake! To your feet, Jerusalem! You who from Yahweh's hand have drunk the cup of his wrath. The chalice, the stupefying cup, you have drained to the dregs.

Isa 51:18 There is no one to guide her of all the children she has borne, no one to grasp her hand of all the children she has reared.

Isa 51:19 Double disaster has befallen you -- who is there to sympathise? Pillage and ruin, famine and sword -- who is there to console you?

Isa 51:20 Your children are lying helpless at the end of every street like an antelope trapped in a net; they are filled to the brim with Yahweh's wrath, with the rebuke of your God.

Isa 51:21 So listen to this, afflicted one, drunk, though not with wine.

Isa 51:22 Thus says your Lord Yahweh, your God, defender of your people: Look, I am taking the stupefying cup from your hand, the chalice, the cup of my wrath, you will not have to drink again.

Isa 51:23 I shall hand it to your tormentors who used to say to you, 'On the ground! So that we can walk over you!' And you would flatten your back like the ground, like a street for them to walk on.

Isa 52:1 Awake, awake! Clothe yourself in strength, Zion. Put on your finest clothes, Jerusalem, Holy City; for the uncircumcised and the unclean will enter you no more.

Isa 52:2 Shake off your dust; get up, captive Jerusalem! The chains have fallen from your neck, captive daughter of Jerusalem!

Isa 52:3 For Yahweh says this, 'You were sold for nothing; you will be redeemed without money.'

Isa 52:4 For the Lord Yahweh says this, 'Long ago my people went to Egypt and settled there as aliens; finally Assyria oppressed them for no reason.

Isa 52:5 So now what is to be done,' declares Yahweh, 'since my people have been carried off for nothing, their masters howl in triumph,' declares Yahweh, 'and my name is held in contempt all day, every day?

Isa 52:6 Because of this my people will know my name, because of this they will know when the day comes, that it is I saying, Here I am!'

Isa 52:7 How beautiful on the mountains, are the feet of the messenger announcing peace, of the messenger of good news, who proclaims salvation and says to Zion, 'Your God is king!'

Isa 52:8 The voices of your watchmen! Now they raise their voices, shouting for joy together, for with their own eyes they have seen Yahweh returning to Zion.

Isa 52:9 Break into shouts together, shouts of joy, you ruins of Jerusalem; for Yahweh has consoled his people, he has redeemed Jerusalem.

Isa 52:10 Yahweh has bared his holy arm for all the nations to see, and all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

Isa 52:11 Go away, go away, leave that place, do not touch anything unclean. Get out of her, purify yourselves, you who carry Yahweh's vessels!

Isa 52:12 For you are not to hurry away, you are not to leave like fugitives. No, Yahweh marches at your head and the God of Israel is your rearguard.

Isa 52:13 Look, my servant will prosper, will grow great, will rise to great heights.

Isa 52:14 As many people were aghast at him -- he was so inhumanly disfigured that he no longer looked like a man-

Isa 52:15 so many nations will be astonished and kings will stay tight-lipped before him, seeing what had never been told them, learning what they had not heard before.

Isa 53:1 Who has given credence to what we have heard? And who has seen in it a revelation of Yahweh's arm?

Isa 53:2 Like a sapling he grew up before him, like a root in arid ground. He had no form or charm to attract us, no beauty to win our hearts;

Isa 53:3 he was despised, the lowest of men, a man of sorrows, familiar with suffering, one from whom, as it were, we averted our gaze, despised, for whom we had no regard.

Isa 53:4 Yet ours were the sufferings he was bearing, ours the sorrows he was carrying, while we thought of him as someone being punished and struck with affliction by God;

Isa 53:5 whereas he was being wounded for our rebellions, crushed because of our guilt; the punishment reconciling us fell on him, and we have been healed by his bruises.

Isa 53:6 We had all gone astray like sheep, each taking his own way, and Yahweh brought the acts of rebellion of all of us to bear on him.

Isa 53:7 Ill-treated and afflicted, he never opened his mouth, like a lamb led to the slaughter-house, like a sheep dumb before its shearers he never opened his mouth.

Isa 53:8 Forcibly, after sentence, he was taken. Which of his contemporaries was concerned at his having been cut off from the land of the living, at his having been struck dead for his people's rebellion?

Isa 53:9 He was given a grave with the wicked, and his tomb is with the rich, although he had done no violence, had spoken no deceit.

Isa 53:10 It was Yahweh's good pleasure to crush him with pain; if he gives his life as a sin offering, he will see his offspring and prolong his life, and through him Yahweh's good pleasure will be done.

Isa 53:11 After the ordeal he has endured, he will see the light and be content. By his knowledge, the upright one, my servant will justify many by taking their guilt on himself.

Isa 53:12 Hence I shall give him a portion with the many, and he will share the booty with the mighty, for having exposed himself to death and for being counted as one of the rebellious, whereas he was bearing the sin of many and interceding for the rebellious.

Isa 54:1 Shout for joy, barren one who has borne no children! Break into cries and shouts of joy, you who were never in labour! For the children of the forsaken one are more in number than the children of the wedded wife, says Yahweh.

Isa 54:2 Widen the space of your tent, extend the curtains of your home, do not hold back! Lengthen your ropes, make your tent-pegs firm,

Isa 54:3 for you will burst out to right and to left, your race will dispossess the nations and repopulate deserted towns.

Isa 54:4 Do not fear, you will not be put to shame again, do not worry, you will not be disgraced again; for you will forget the shame of your youth and no longer remember the dishonour of your widowhood.

Isa 54:5 For your Creator is your husband, Yahweh Sabaoth is his name, the Holy One of Israel is your redeemer, he is called God of the whole world.

Isa 54:6 Yes, Yahweh has called you back like a forsaken, grief-stricken wife, like the repudiated wife of his youth, says your God.

Isa 54:7 I did forsake you for a brief moment, but in great compassion I shall take you back.

Isa 54:8 In a flood of anger, for a moment I hid my face from you. But in everlasting love I have taken pity on you, says Yahweh, your redeemer.

Isa 54:9 For me it will be as in the days of Noah when I swore that Noah's waters should never flood the world again. So now I swear never to be angry with you and never to rebuke you again.

Isa 54:10 For the mountains may go away and the hills may totter, but my faithful love will never leave you, my covenant of peace will never totter, says Yahweh who takes pity on you.

Isa 54:11 Unhappy creature, storm-tossed, unpitied, look, I shall lay your stones on agates and your foundations on sapphires.

Isa 54:12 I shall make your battlements rubies, your gateways firestone and your entire wall precious stones.

Isa 54:13 All your children will be taught by Yahweh and great will be your children's prosperity.

Isa 54:14 In saving justice you will be made firm, free from oppression: you will have nothing to fear; free from terror: it will not approach you.

Isa 54:15 Should anyone attack you, that will not be my doing, and whoever does attack you, for your sake will fall.

Isa 54:16 I created the smith who blows on the charcoal-fire to produce a weapon for his use; I also created the destroyer to ruin it.

Isa 54:17 No weapon forged against you will succeed. Any voice raised against you in court you will refute.

Such is the lot of the servants of Yahweh, the saving justice I assure them, declares Yahweh.

Isa 55:1 Oh, come to the water all you who are thirsty; though you have no money, come! Buy and eat; come, buy wine and milk without money, free!

Isa 55:2 Why spend money on what cannot nourish and your wages on what fails to satisfy? Listen carefully to me, and you will have good things to eat and rich food to enjoy.

Isa 55:3 Pay attention, come to me; listen, and you will live. I shall make an everlasting covenant with you in fulfilment of the favours promised to David.

Isa 55:4 Look, I have made him a witness to peoples, a leader and lawgiver to peoples.

Isa 55:5 Look, you will summon a nation unknown to you, a nation unknown to you will hurry to you for the sake of Yahweh your God, because the Holy One of Israel has glorified you.

Isa 55:6 Seek out Yahweh while he is still to be found, call to him while he is still near.

Isa 55:7 Let the wicked abandon his way and the evil one his thoughts. Let him turn back to Yahweh who will take pity on him, to our God, for he is rich in forgiveness;

Isa 55:8 for my thoughts are not your thoughts and your ways are not my ways, declares Yahweh.

Isa 55:9 For the heavens are as high above earth as my ways are above your ways, my thoughts above your thoughts.

Isa 55:10 For, as the rain and the snow come down from the sky and do not return before having watered the earth, fertilising it and making it germinate to provide seed for the sower and food to eat,

Isa 55:11 so it is with the word that goes from my mouth: it will not return to me unfulfilled or before having carried out my good pleasure and having achieved what it was sent to do.

Isa 55:12 Yes, you will go out with joy and be led away in safety. Mountains and hills will break into joyful cries before you and all the trees of the countryside clap their hands.

Isa 55:13 Cypress will grow instead of thorns, myrtle instead of nettles. And this will be fame for Yahweh, an eternal monument never to be effaced.

Isa 56:1 Thus says Yahweh: Make fair judgement your concern, act with justice, for soon my salvation will come and my saving justice be manifest.

Isa 56:2 Blessed is anyone who does this, anyone who clings to it, observing the Sabbath, not profaning it, and abstaining from every evil deed.

Isa 56:3 No foreigner adhering to Yahweh should say, 'Yahweh will utterly exclude me from his people.' No eunuch should say, 'Look, I am a dried-up tree.'

Isa 56:4 For Yahweh says this: To the eunuchs who observe my Sabbaths and choose to do my good pleasure and cling to my covenant,

Isa 56:5 I shall give them in my house and within my walls a monument and a name better than sons and daughters; I shall give them an everlasting name that will never be effaced.

Isa 56:6 As for foreigners who adhere to Yahweh to serve him, to love Yahweh's name and become his servants, all who observe the Sabbath, not profaning it, and cling to my covenant:

Isa 56:7 these I shall lead to my holy mountain and make them joyful in my house of prayer. Their burnt offerings and sacrifices will be accepted on my altar, for my house will be called a house of prayer for all peoples.

Isa 56:8 Lord Yahweh who gathers the exiles of Israel declares: There are others I shall gather besides those already gathered.

Isa 56:9 Come and gorge, all you wild beasts, all you beasts of the forest!

Isa 56:10 Its watchmen are all blind, they know nothing. Dumb watchdogs all, unable to bark, they dream, lie down, and love to sleep.

Isa 56:11 Greedy dogs, never satisfied, such are the shepherds, who understand nothing; they all go their own way, each to the last man after his own interest.

Isa 56:12 'Come, let me fetch wine; we will get drunk on strong drink, tomorrow will be just as wonderful as today and even more so!'

Isa 57:1 The upright person perishes and no one cares. The faithful is taken off and no one takes it to heart.

Yes, because of the evil times the upright is taken off;

Isa 57:2 he will enter peace, and those who follow the right way will find rest on their beds.

Isa 57:3 But you, you children of a witch, come here, adulterous race prostituting yourselves!

Isa 57:4 At whom are you jeering, at whom are you making faces and sticking out your tongue? Are you not the spawn of rebellion, a lying race?

Isa 57:5 Lusting among the terebinths, and under every spreading tree, sacrificing children in the ravines, below the clefts in the rocks.

Isa 57:6 The smooth stones of the ravines will be your portion, yes, these will be your lot. To these you have poured libations, have brought your cereal offering. Can all this appease me?

Isa 57:7 On a mountain high and lofty you have put your bed. Thither, too, you have climbed to offer sacrifice.

Isa 57:8 Behind door and doorpost you have set your reminder. Yes, far from me, you exposed yourself, climbed on to your bed, and made the most of it. You struck a profitable bargain with those whose bed you love, whoring with them often, with your eyes on the sacred symbol.

Isa 57:9 You went to Molech with oil, you were prodigal with your perfumes; you sent your envoys far afield, down to Sheol itself.

Isa 57:10 Though tired by so much travelling, you never said, 'It is no use.' Finding your strength revive, you never gave up.

Isa 57:11 Who was it you dreaded, and feared, that you should betray me, no longer remember me and not spare a thought for me? Was I not silent for a long time? So you cannot have been afraid of me.

Isa 57:12 Now I shall expose this uprightness of yours, and little good it did you.

Isa 57:13 When you cry for help, let those thronging round you save you! The wind will carry them all away, one puff will take them off. But whoever trusts in me will inherit the country, he will own my holy mountain.

Isa 57:14 Then it will be said: Level up, level up, clear the way, remove the obstacle from my people's way,

Isa 57:15 for thus says the High and Exalted One who lives eternally and whose name is holy, 'I live in the holy heights but I am with the contrite and humble, to revive the spirit of the humble, to revive the heart of the contrite.'

Isa 57:16 'For I do not want to be forever accusing nor always to be angry, or the spirit would fail under my onslaught, the souls that I myself have made.'

Isa 57:17 'Angered by his wicked cupidity, I hid and struck him in anger, but he rebelliously went the way of his choice.'

Isa 57:18 'I saw how he behaved, but I shall heal him, I shall lead him, fill him with consolation, him and those who mourn for him,

Isa 57:19 bringing praise to their lips. Peace, peace to far and near, Yahweh says, and I shall heal him.'

Isa 57:20 The wicked, however, are like the restless sea that cannot be still, whose waters throw up mud and dirt.

Isa 57:21 'No peace', says Yahweh, 'for the wicked.'

Isa 58:1 Shout for all you are worth, do not hold back, raise your voice like a trumpet. To my people proclaim their rebellious acts, to the House of Jacob, their sins.

Isa 58:2 They seek for me day after day, they long to know my ways, like a nation that has acted uprightly and not forsaken the law of its God. They ask me for laws that are upright, they long to be near God:

Isa 58:3 'Why have we fasted, if you do not see, why mortify ourselves if you never notice?' Look, you seek your own pleasure on your fastdays and you exploit all your workmen;

Isa 58:4 look, the only purpose of your fasting is to quarrel and squabble and strike viciously with your fist.

Fasting like yours today will never make your voice heard on high.

Isa 58:5 Is that the sort of fast that pleases me, a day when a person inflicts pain on himself? Hanging your head like a reed, spreading out sackcloth and ashes? Is that what you call fasting, a day acceptable to Yahweh?

Isa 58:6 Is not this the sort of fast that pleases me: to break unjust fetters, to undo the thongs of the yoke. to let the oppressed go free, and to break all yokes?

Isa 58:7 Is it not sharing your food with the hungry, and sheltering the homeless poor; if you see someone lacking clothes, to clothe him, and not to turn away from your own kin?

Isa 58:8 Then your light will blaze out like the dawn and your wound be quickly healed over. Saving justice will go ahead of you and Yahweh's glory come behind you.

Isa 58:9 Then you will cry for help and Yahweh will answer; you will call and he will say, 'I am here.' If you do away with the yoke, the clenched fist and malicious words,

Isa 58:10 if you deprive yourself for the hungry and satisfy the needs of the afflicted, your light will rise in the darkness, and your darkest hour will be like noon.

Isa 58:11 Yahweh will always guide you, will satisfy your needs in the scorched land; he will give strength to your bones and you will be like a watered garden, like a flowing spring whose waters never run dry.

Isa 58:12 Your ancient ruins will be rebuilt; you will build on age -- old foundations. You will be called 'Breach-mender', 'Restorer of streets to be lived in'.

Isa 58:13 If you refrain from breaking the Sabbath, from taking your own pleasure on my holy day, if you call the Sabbath 'Delightful', and the day sacred to Yahweh 'Honourable', if you honour it by abstaining from travel, from seeking your own pleasure and from too much talk,

Isa 58:14 then you will find true happiness in Yahweh, and I shall lead you in triumph over the heights of the land. I shall feed you on the heritage of your father Jacob, for the mouth of Yahweh has spoken.

Isa 59:1 No, the arm of Yahweh is not too short to save, nor his ear too dull to hear,

Isa 59:2 but your guilty deeds have made a gulf between you and your God. Your sins have made him hide his face from you so as not to hear you,

Isa 59:3 since your hands are stained with blood and your fingers with guilt; your lips utter lies, your tongues murmur wickedness.

Isa 59:4 No one makes upright accusations or pleads sincerely. All rely on empty words, utter falsehood, conceive trouble and give birth to evil.

Isa 59:5 They are hatching adders' eggs and weaving a spider's web; eat one of their eggs and you die, crush one and a viper emerges.

Isa 59:6 Their webs are useless for clothing, their deeds are useless for wearing; their deeds are deeds of guilt, violence fills their hands.

Isa 59:7 Their feet run to do evil; they are quick to shed innocent blood. Their thoughts are thoughts of guilt, wherever they go there is havoc and ruin.

Isa 59:8 They do not know the way of peace, there is no fair judgement in their course, they have made their own crooked paths, and no one treading them knows any peace.

Isa 59:9 Thus fair judgement is remote from us nor can uprightness overtake us. We looked for light and all is darkness, for brightness and we walk in gloom.

Isa 59:10 Like the blind we feel our way along walls, we grope our way like people without eyes. We stumble as though noon were twilight, among the robust we are like the dead.

Isa 59:11 We growl, all of us, like bears, like doves we make no sound but moaning, waiting for the fair judgement that never comes, for salvation, but that is far away.

Isa 59:12 How often we have rebelled against you and our sins bear witness against us. Our rebellious acts are indeed with us, we are well aware of our guilt:

Isa 59:13 rebellion and denial of Yahweh, turning our back on our God, talking violence and revolt, murmuring lies in our heart.

Isa 59:14 Fair judgement is driven away and saving justice stands aloof, for good faith has stumbled in the street and sincerity cannot enter.

Isa 59:15 Good faith has vanished; anyone abstaining from evil is victimised. Yahweh saw this and was displeased that there was no fair judgement.

Isa 59:16 He saw there was no one and wondered there was no one to intervene. So he made his own arm his mainstay, his own saving justice his support.

Isa 59:17 He put on saving justice like a breastplate, on his head the helmet of salvation. He put on the clothes of vengeance like a tunic and wrapped himself in jealousy like a cloak.

Isa 59:18 To each he repays his due, retribution to his enemies, reprisals on his foes, to the coasts and islands he will repay their due.

Isa 59:19 From the west, Yahweh's name will be feared, and from the east, his glory, for he will come like a pent-up stream impelled by the breath of Yahweh.

Isa 59:20 Then for Zion will come a redeemer, for those who stop rebelling in Jacob, declares Yahweh.

Isa 59:21 'For my part, this is my covenant with them, says Yahweh. My spirit with which I endowed you, and my words that I have put in your mouth, will not leave your mouth, or the mouths of your children, or the mouths of your children's children, says Yahweh, henceforth and for ever.'

Isa 60:1 Arise, shine out, for your light has come, and the glory of Yahweh has risen on you.

Isa 60:2 Look! though night still covers the earth and darkness the peoples, on you Yahweh is rising and over you his glory can be seen.

Isa 60:3 The nations will come to your light and kings to your dawning brightness.

Isa 60:4 Lift up your eyes and look around: all are assembling and coming towards you, your sons coming from far away and your daughters being carried on the hip.

Isa 60:5 At this sight you will grow radiant, your heart will throb and dilate, since the riches of the sea will flow to you, the wealth of the nations come to you;

Isa 60:6 camels in throngs will fill your streets, the young camels of Midian and Ephah; everyone in Saba will come, bringing gold and incense and proclaiming Yahweh's praises.

Isa 60:7 All the flocks of Kedar will gather inside you, the rams of Nebaioth will be at your service as acceptable victims on my altar, and I shall glorify my glorious house.

Isa 60:8 Who are these flying like a cloud, like doves to their dovecote?

Isa 60:9 Why, the coasts and islands put their hope in me and the vessels of Tarshish take the lead in bringing your children from far away, and their silver and gold with them, for the sake of the name of Yahweh your God, of the Holy One of Israel who has made you glorious.

Isa 60:10 Foreigners will rebuild your walls and their kings will serve you. For though I struck you in anger, in mercy I have pitied you.

Isa 60:11 Your gates will always be open, never closed, either day or night, for the riches of the nations to be brought you and their kings to be let in.

Isa 60:12 For the nation and kingdom that will not serve you will perish, and the nations will be utterly destroyed.

Isa 60:13 The glory of the Lebanon will come to you, cypress, plane-tree, box-tree, one and all, to adorn the site of my sanctuary, for me to honour the place where I stand.

Isa 60:14 Your oppressors' children will humbly approach you, at your feet all who despised you will fall addressing you as 'City of Yahweh', 'Zion of the Holy One of Israel'.

Isa 60:15 Instead of your being forsaken and hated, avoided by everyone, I will make you an object of eternal pride, a source of joy from age to age.

Isa 60:16 You will suck the milk of nations, you will suck the wealth of kings, and you will know that I, Yahweh, am your Saviour, that your redeemer is the Mighty One of Jacob.

Isa 60:17 For bronze I shall bring gold and for iron I shall bring silver, and for wood, bronze, and for stone, iron; I shall make Peace your administration and Saving Justice your government.

Isa 60:18 Violence will no longer be heard of in your country, nor devastation and ruin within your frontiers. You will call your walls 'Salvation' and your gates 'Praise'.

Isa 60:19 No more will the sun give you daylight, nor moonlight shine on you, but Yahweh will be your everlasting light, your God will be your splendour.

Isa 60:20 Your sun will set no more nor will your moon wane, for Yahweh will be your everlasting light and your days of mourning will be over.

Isa 60:21 Your people, all of them upright, will possess the country for ever, the shoot I myself have planted, my handiwork, for my own glory.

Isa 60:22 The smallest will grow into a thousand, the weakest one into a mighty nation. When the time is ripe, I, Yahweh, shall quickly bring it about.

Isa 61:1 The spirit of Lord Yahweh is on me for Yahweh has anointed me. He has sent me to bring the news to the afflicted, to soothe the broken-hearted,

Isa 61:2 to proclaim liberty to captives, release to those in prison, to proclaim a year of favour from Yahweh and a day of vengeance for our God, to comfort all who mourn

Isa 61:3 (to give to Zion's mourners), to give them for ashes a garland, for mourning-dress, the oil of gladness, for despondency, festal attire; and they will be called 'terebinth of saving justice', planted by Yahweh to glorify him.

Isa 61:4 They will rebuild the ancient ruins, they will raise what has long lain waste, they will restore the ruined cities, all that has lain waste for ages past.

Isa 61:5 Strangers will come forward to feed your flocks, foreigners be your ploughmen and vinedressers;

Isa 61:6 but you will be called 'priests of Yahweh' and be addressed as 'ministers of our God'. You will feed on the wealth of nations, you will supplant them in their glory.

Isa 61:7 To make up for your shame, you will receive double; instead of disgrace, shouts of joy will be their lot; yes, they will have a double portion in their country and everlasting joy will be theirs.

Isa 61:8 For I am Yahweh: I love fair judgement, I hate robbery and wrong-doing, and I shall reward them faithfully and make an everlasting covenant with them.

Isa 61:9 Their race will be famous throughout the nations and their offspring throughout the peoples. All who see them will admit that they are a race whom Yahweh has blessed.

Isa 61:10 I exult for joy in Yahweh, my soul rejoices in my God, for he has clothed me in garments of salvation, he has wrapped me in a cloak of saving justice, like a bridegroom wearing his garland, like a bride adorned in her jewels.

Isa 61:11 For as the earth sends up its shoots and a garden makes seeds sprout, so Lord Yahweh makes saving justice and praise spring up in the sight of all nations.

Isa 62:1 About Zion I will not be silent, about Jerusalem I shall not rest until saving justice dawns for her like a bright light and her salvation like a blazing torch.

Isa 62:2 The nations will then see your saving justice, and all kings your glory, and you will be called a new name which Yahweh's mouth will reveal.

Isa 62:3 You will be a crown of splendour in Yahweh's hand, a princely diadem in the hand of your God.

Isa 62:4 No more will you be known as 'Forsaken' or your country be known as 'Desolation'; instead, you will be called 'My Delight is in her' and your country 'The Wedded'; for Yahweh will take delight in you and your country will have its wedding.

Isa 62:5 Like a young man marrying a virgin, your rebuilder will wed you, and as the bridegroom rejoices in his bride, so will your God rejoice in you.

Isa 62:6 On your walls, Jerusalem, I have posted watchmen; they will never fall silent, day or night. No peace for you, as you keep Yahweh's attention!

Isa 62:7 And give him no peace either until he restores Jerusalem and makes her the pride of the world!

Isa 62:8 Yahweh has sworn by his right hand and by his mighty arm: Never again shall I give your grain to feed your enemies. Never again will foreigners drink the wine for which you have toiled.

Isa 62:9 No, the reapers will eat it and praise Yahweh, the harvesters will drink it in my sacred courts!

Isa 62:10 Pass through, pass through the gates. Clear a way for my people! Level up, level up the highway, remove the stones! Hoist a signal to the peoples!

Isa 62:11 This is what Yahweh has proclaimed to the remotest part of earth: Say to the daughter of Zion, 'Look, your salvation is coming; with him comes his reward, his achievement precedes him!'

Isa 62:12 They will be called 'The Holy People', 'Yahweh's Redeemed', while you will be called 'Sought-after', 'City-not-forsaken'.

Isa 63:1 Who is this coming from Edom, from Bozrah in crimson garments, so magnificently dressed, marching so full of strength? - It is I, whose word is saving justice, whose power is to save.

Isa 63:2 -Why are your garments red, your clothes like someone treading the winepress?

Isa 63:3 -I have trodden the winepress alone; of my people, not one was with me. So I trod them down in my anger, I trampled on them in my wrath. Their blood squirted over my garments and all my clothes are stained.

Isa 63:4 For I have decided on a day of vengeance, my year of retribution has come.

Isa 63:5 I looked: there was no one to help me; I was appalled but could find no supporter! Then my own arm came to my rescue and my own fury supported me.

Isa 63:6 I crushed the peoples in my anger, I shattered them in my fury and sent their blood streaming to the ground.

Isa 63:7 I shall recount Yahweh's acts of faithful love, Yahweh's praises, in return for all that Yahweh has done for us, for his great kindness to the House of Israel, for all that he has done in his mercy, for the abundance of his acts of faithful love.

Isa 63:8 For he said, 'Truly they are my people, children who will not betray me,' and he became their Saviour.

Isa 63:9 In all their troubles, it was no messenger or angel but his presence that saved them. In his love and pity he himself redeemed them, lifted them up and carried them throughout the days of old.

Isa 63:10 But they rebelled and vexed his holy Spirit. Then he became their enemy and himself waged war on them.

Isa 63:11 But he called the past to mind, Moses his servant. Where is he who saved them from the sea, the Shepherd of his flock? Where was he who put his holy Spirit among them,

Isa 63:12 whose glorious arm led the way by Moses' right hand? Who divided the waters before them to win himself everlasting renown,

Isa 63:13 who led them through the depths as easily as a horse through the desert? They stumbled as little Isa 63:14 as cattle going down to the plain. Yahweh's Spirit led them to rest. This was how you guided your people to win yourself glorious renown.

Isa 63:15 Look down from heaven and see from your holy and glorious dwelling. Where is your zeal and your might? Are your deepest feelings, your mercy to me, to be restrained?

Isa 63:16 After all, you are our Father. If Abraham will not own us, if Israel will not acknowledge us, you, Yahweh, are our Father, 'Our Redeemer' is your name from of old.

Isa 63:17 Why, Yahweh, do you let us wander from your ways and let our hearts grow too hard to fear you? Return, for the sake of your servants, the tribes of your heritage.

Isa 63:18 Your holy people have owned it for so short a time, our enemies have trampled on your sanctuary.

Isa 63:19 We have long been like those you do not rule, people who do not bear your name. Oh, that you would tear the heavens open and come down -- in your presence the mountains would quake,

Isa 64:1 as fire sets brushwood alight, as fire makes water boil -- to make your name known to your foes; the nations would tremble at your presence,

Isa 64:2 at the unexpected miracles you would do. (Oh, that you would come down, in your presence the mountains would quake!)

Isa 64:3 Never has anyone heard, no ear has heard, no eye has seen any god but you act like this for the sake of those who trust him.

Isa 64:4 You come to meet those who are happy to act uprightly; keeping your ways reminds them of you. Yes, you have been angry and we have been sinners; now we persist in your ways and we shall be saved.

Isa 64:5 We have all been like unclean things and our upright deeds like filthy rags. We wither, all of us, like leaves, and all our misdeeds carry us off like the wind.

Isa 64:6 There is no one to invoke your name, to rouse himself to hold fast to you, for you have hidden your face from us and given us up to the power of our misdeeds.

Isa 64:7 And yet, Yahweh, you are our Father; we the clay and you our potter, all of us are the work of your hands.

Isa 64:8 Yahweh, do not let your anger go too far and do not remember guilt for ever. Look, please, we are all your people;

Isa 64:9 your holy cities have become a desert, Zion has become a desert, Jerusalem a wasteland.

Isa 64:10 Our holy and glorious Temple, in which our ancestors used to praise you, has been burnt to the ground; all our delight lies in ruins.

Isa 64:11 Yahweh, can you restrain yourself at all this? Will you stay silent and afflict us beyond endurance?

Isa 65:1 I have let myself be approached by those who did not consult me, I have let myself be found by those who did not seek me. I said, 'Here I am, here I am!' to a nation that did not invoke my name.

Isa 65:2 Each day I stretched out my hands to a rebellious people who follow a way which is not good, as the fancy takes them;

Isa 65:3 a people constantly provoking me to my face by sacrificing in gardens, burning incense on bricks,

Isa 65:4 living in tombs, spending the night in dark corners, eating the meat of pigs, putting unclean foods on their plates.

Isa 65:5 'Keep your distance,' they say, 'do not touch me, lest my sanctity come near you!' Such words are like stifling smoke to me, an ever-burning fire.

Isa 65:6 Look, it is inscribed before me: I shall not be silent until I have repaid them, repaid them in full,

Isa 65:7 punished your guilt and your ancestors' guilt together, Yahweh declares. For having burnt incense on the mountains and insulted me on the hills, I shall pay them back in full for what they have done.

Isa 65:8 Yahweh says this: As when a bunch of grapes is found still to have juice in it, people say, 'Do not destroy it, for it contains a blessing,' so I shall act for my servants' sake, I shall not destroy them all.

Isa 65:9 I shall produce descendants from Jacob and heirs to my mountains from Judah, my chosen ones will own them and my servants will live there.

Isa 65:10 Sharon will be a pasture for flocks, the Valley of Achor a feeding ground for cattle, for those of my people who have sought me.

Isa 65:11 But as for those of you who abandon Yahweh, who forget my holy mountain, who lay the table for Gad, who fill cups of mixed wine for Meni,

Isa 65:12 you I shall destine to the sword and all of you will stoop to be slaughtered, because I called and you would not answer, I spoke and you would not listen; you have done what I consider evil, you chose to do what displeases me.

Isa 65:13 Therefore Lord Yahweh says this: You will see my servants eating while you go hungry; you will see my servants drinking while you go thirsty; you will see my servants rejoicing while you are put to shame;

Isa 65:14 you will hear my servants shouting for joy of heart, while you shriek for sorrow of heart and howl with a broken spirit.

Isa 65:15 And you will leave your name behind as a curse for my chosen ones, 'May Lord Yahweh strike you dead!' But to his servants he will give another name.

Isa 65:16 Whoever blesses himself on earth will bless himself by the God of truth, and whoever swears an oath on earth will swear by the God of truth, for past troubles will be forgotten and hidden from my eyes.

Isa 65:17 For look, I am going to create new heavens and a new earth, and the past will not be remembered and will come no more to mind.

Isa 65:18 Rather be joyful, be glad for ever at what I am creating, for look, I am creating Jerusalem to be 'Joy' and my people to be 'Gladness'.

Isa 65:19 I shall be joyful in Jerusalem and I shall rejoice in my people. No more will the sound of weeping be heard there, nor the sound of a shriek; Isa 65:20 never again will there be an infant there who lives only a few days, nor an old man who does not run his full course; for the youngest will die at a hundred, and at a hundred the sinner will be accursed.

Isa 65:21 They will build houses and live in them, they will plant vineyards and eat their fruit.

Isa 65:22 They will not build for others to live in, or plant for others to eat; for the days of my people will be like the days of a tree, and my chosen ones will themselves use what they have made.

Isa 65:23 They will not toil in vain, nor bear children destined to disaster, for they are the race of Yahweh's blessed ones and so are their offspring.

Isa 65:24 Thus, before they call I shall answer, before they stop speaking I shall have heard.

Isa 65:25 The wolf and the young lamb will feed together, the lion will eat hay like the ox, and dust be the serpent's food. No hurt, no harm will be done on all my holy mountain, Yahweh says.

Isa 66:1 Thus says Yahweh: With heaven my throne and earth my footstool, what house could you build me, what place for me to rest,

Isa 66:2 when all these things were made by me and all belong to me? - declares Yahweh. But my eyes are drawn to the person of humbled and contrite spirit, who trembles at my word.

Isa 66:3 Some slaughter a bull, some kill a human being, some sacrifice a lamb, some strangle a dog, some present an offering of pig's blood, some burn memorial incense, a revolting blessing; all these people have chosen their own ways and take delight in their disgusting practices.

Isa 66:4 I too take delight in making fools of them, I shall bring what they most fear down on them because I have called and no one would answer, I spoke and no one listened. They have done what I regard as evil, have chosen what displeases me.

Isa 66:5 Listen to the word of Yahweh, you who tremble at his word. Your brothers, who hate and reject you because of my name, have said, 'Let Yahweh show his glory, let us witness your joy!' But they will be put to shame.

Isa 66:6 Listen! An uproar from the city! A voice from the Temple! The voice of Yahweh bringing retribution on his enemies.

Isa 66:7 Before being in labour she has given birth. Before the birth pangs came, she has been delivered of a child.

Isa 66:8 Who ever heard of such a thing, who ever saw anything like this? Can a country be born in one day? Can a nation be brought forth all at once? For Zion, scarcely in labour, has brought forth her children!

Isa 66:9 Shall I open the womb and not bring to birth? says Yahweh. Shall I, who bring to birth, close the womb? says your God.

Isa 66:10 Rejoice with Jerusalem, be glad for her, all you who love her! Rejoice, rejoice with her, all you who mourned her!

Isa 66:11 So that you may be suckled and satisfied from her consoling breast, so that you may drink deep with delight from her generous nipple.

Isa 66:12 For Yahweh says this: Look, I am going to send peace flowing over her like a river, and like a stream in spate the glory of the nations. You will be suckled, carried on her hip and fondled in her lap.

Isa 66:13 As a mother comforts a child, so I shall comfort you; you will be comforted in Jerusalem.

Isa 66:14 At the sight your heart will rejoice, and your limbs regain vigour like the grass. To his servants Yahweh will reveal his hand, but to his enemies his fury.

Isa 66:15 For see how Yahweh comes in fire, his chariots like the whirlwind, to assuage his anger with burning, his rebukes with flaming fire.

Isa 66:16 For by fire will Yahweh execute fair judgement, and by his sword, on all people; and Yahweh's victims will be many.

Isa 66:17 As for those who sanctify themselves and purify themselves to enter the gardens, following the one in the centre, who eat the flesh of pigs, revolting things and rats: their deeds and their thoughts will perish together, declares Yahweh.

Isa 66:18 I am coming to gather every nation and every language. They will come to witness my glory.

Isa 66:19 I shall give them a sign and send some of their survivors to the nations: to Tarshish, Put, Lud, Meshech, Tubal and Javan, to the distant coasts and islands that have never heard of me or seen my glory. They will proclaim my glory to the nations,

Isa 66:20 and from all the nations they will bring all your brothers as an offering to Yahweh, on horses, in chariots, in litters, on mules and on camels, to my holy mountain, Jerusalem, Yahweh says, like Israelites bringing offerings in clean vessels to Yahweh's house.

Isa 66:21 And some of them I shall make into priests and Levites, Yahweh says.

Isa 66:22 For as the new heavens and the new earth I am making will endure before me, declares Yahweh, so will your race and your name endure.

Isa 66:23 From New Moon to New Moon, from Sabbath to Sabbath, all humanity will come and bow in my presence, Yahweh says.

Isa 66:24 And on their way out they will see the corpses of those who rebelled against me; for their worm will never die nor their fire be put out, and they will be held in horror by all humanity.

Jer 1:1 The words of Jeremiah son of Hilkiah, one of the priests living at Anathoth in the territory of Benjamin.

Jer 1:2 The word of Yahweh came to him in the days of Josiah son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign;

Jer 1:3 then in the days of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah, until the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah son of Josiah, king of Judah, until the deportation of Jerusalem, in the fifth month.

Jer 1:4 The word of Yahweh came to me, saying:

Jer 1:5 'Before I formed you in the womb I knew you; before you came to birth I consecrated you; I appointed you as prophet to the nations.'

Jer 1:6 I then said, 'Ah, ah, ah, Lord Yahweh; you see, I do not know how to speak: I am only a child!'

Jer 1:7 But Yahweh replied, 'Do not say, "I am only a child," for you must go to all to whom I send you and say whatever I command you.

Jer 1:8 Do not be afraid of confronting them, for I am with you to rescue you, Yahweh declares.'

Jer 1:9 Then Yahweh stretched out his hand and touched my mouth, and Yahweh said to me: 'There! I have put my words into your mouth.

Jer 1:10 Look, today I have set you over the nations and kingdoms, to uproot and to knock down, to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant.'

Jer 1:11 The word of Yahweh came to me, asking, 'Jeremiah, what do you see?' I answered, 'I see a branch of the Watchful Tree.'

Jer 1:12 Then Yahweh said, 'Well seen, for I am watching over my word to perform it.'

Jer 1:13 A second time the word of Yahweh came to me, asking, 'What do you see?' I answered, 'I see a cooking pot on the boil, with its mouth tilting from the north.'

Jer 1:14 Then Yahweh said: 'From the north disaster will come boiling over on all who live in the country,

Jer 1:15 for I am now summoning all the families of the kingdoms of the north, Yahweh declares. They will come, and each will set his throne in front of the gates of Jerusalem, all round, against its walls and against all the towns of Judah.

Jer 1:16 I shall pronounce my judgements on them because of all their wickedness, since they have abandoned me, offering incense to other gods and worshipping what their own hands have made.

Jer 1:17 'As for you, prepare yourself for action. Stand up and tell them all I command you. Have no fear of them and in their presence I will make you fearless.

Jer 1:18 For look, today I have made you into a fortified city, a pillar of iron, a wall of bronze to stand against the whole country: the kings of Judah, its princes, its priests and the people of the country.

Jer 1:19 They will fight against you but will not overcome you, for I am with you, Yahweh declares, to rescue you.'

Jer 2:1 The word of Yahweh came to me, saying,

Jer 2:2 'Go and shout this in Jerusalem's ears: 'Yahweh says this: "I remember your faithful love, the affection of your bridal days, when you followed me through the desert, through a land unsown.'

Jer 2:3 Israel was sacred to Yahweh; the first-fruits of his harvest; all who ate this incurred guilt, disaster befell them, Yahweh declares."

Jer 2:4 Listen to Yahweh's word, House of Jacob and all the families of the House of Israel.

Jer 2:5 Yahweh says this, 'What did your ancestors find wrong in me for them to have deserted me so far as to follow Futility and become futile themselves?

Jer 2:6 They never said, "Where is Yahweh, who brought us out of Egypt and led us through the desert, through a land of plains and ravines, through a land of drought, of shadow dark as death, a land through which no one passes and where no human being lives?"

Jer 2:7 I brought you to a country of plenty, to enjoy its produce and good things; but when you entered you defiled my country and made my heritage loathsome.

Jer 2:8 The priests never asked, "Where is Yahweh?" Those skilled in the Law did not know me, the shepherds too rebelled against me and the prophets prophesied by Baal and followed the Useless Ones.

Jer 2:9 So I must state my case against you once more, Yahweh declares, and state my case against your children's children:

Jer 2:10 Cross to the isles of the Kittim and look, send to Kedar and carefully observe, see if anything like this has happened before!

Jer 2:11 Does a nation change its gods? - and these are not gods at all! Yet my people have exchanged their Glory for the Useless One!

Jer 2:12 You heavens, stand aghast at this, horrified, utterly appalled, Yahweh declares.

Jer 2:13 For my people have committed two crimes: they have abandoned me, the fountain of living water, and dug water-tanks for themselves, cracked water-tanks that hold no water.

Jer 2:14 'Is Israel a slave? Was he born into serfdom, for him to be preyed on like this?

Jer 2:15 Lions have roared at him, they have made their voices heard. They have left this country a desert, his towns lie burnt and uninhabited.

Jer 2:16 The people of Noph and Tahpanhes have shaved your skull!

Jer 2:17 Have you not brought this on yourself, by abandoning Yahweh your God, when he was guiding you on your way?

Jer 2:18 What is the good of going to Egypt now to drink the water of the Nile? What is the good of going to Assyria to drink the water of the River?

Jer 2:19 Your wickedness will bring its own punishment, your infidelities will bring you to book, so give thought and see how evil and bitter it is to abandon Yahweh your God and not to stand in awe of me, the Lord Yahweh Sabaoth declares.

Jer 2:20 'It is long ago now since you broke your yoke, burst your bonds and said, "I will not serve!" Yet on every high hill and under every green tree you have sprawled and played the whore.

Jer 2:21 Yet I had planted you, a red vine of completely sound stock. How is it you have turned into seedlings of a vine that is alien to me?

Jer 2:22 Even though you scrub yourself with soda and put in quantities of soap, the stain of your guilt would still be visible to me, the Lord Yahweh declares.

Jer 2:23 How dare you say, "I am not defiled, I have not run after the Baals?" Look at your behaviour in the Valley, realise what you have done.

Jer 2:24 A wild she-donkey, at home in the desert, snuffing the breeze in desire; who can control her when she is on heat? Males need not trouble to look for her, they will find her in her month.

Jer 2:25 Beware! Your own foot will go unshod, your own throat grow dry! But you said, "It is no use! No! For I love the Strangers and they are the ones I shall follow."

Jer 2:26 'Like a thief ashamed at being caught, so will the House of Israel be: they, their kings, their chief men, their priests and their prophets,

Jer 2:27 who say to a piece of wood, "You are my father," and to a stone, "You gave birth to me." For they turn to me their backs, never their faces; yet when trouble comes they shout, "Get up! Save us!"

Jer 2:28 Where are your gods you made for yourself? Let them get up if they can save you when trouble comes! For you have as many gods as you have towns, Judah!

Jer 2:29 Why make out a case against me? You have all rebelled against me, Yahweh declares.

Jer 2:30 In vain I have struck your children, they have not accepted correction; your own sword has devoured your prophets like a marauding lion.

Jer 2:31 Now you of this generation, listen to what Yahweh says: Have I been a desert for Israel, or a land of gloom? Why do my people say, "We are our own masters, we will come to you no more"?

Jer 2:32 Does a girl forget her ornaments, a bride her sash? And yet my people have forgotten me, days beyond number.

Jer 2:33 'How well you set your course in pursuit of love! And so you have schooled your ways to wicked deeds.

Jer 2:34 The very skirts of your robe are stained with the blood of the poor, of innocent men you never caught breaking and entering! And in spite of all this,

Jer 2:35 you say, "I am innocent, let his anger turn from me!" Now I pass sentence on you for saying, "I have not sinned."

Jer 2:36 'How frivolously you undertake a change of course! But you will be disappointed by Egypt just as you were by Assyria.

Jer 2:37 You will have to leave there too with your hands on your head, for Yahweh has rejected those that you rely on, you will come to no good with them.'

Jer 3:1 'If a man divorces his wife and she leaves him and becomes someone else's, has he the right to go back to her? Has not that piece of land been totally polluted? And you, having played the whore with many lovers, you claim the right to come back to me! Yahweh demands.

Jer 3:2 'Lift your eyes to the bare heights and look! Where have you not offered your sex! You waited by the roadside for them like an Arab in the desert. You have polluted the country with your prostitution and your vices:

Jer 3:3 this is why the showers have been withheld, the late rains have not come. 'But you maintained a prostitute's bold front, with no trace of a blush.

Jer 3:4 From now on, do not cry out at me, "My father! My beloved ever since I was young!"

Jer 3:5 Will he keep up his anger for ever, maintain his wrath to the end?" You say this but still go on sinning, being so obstinate.'

Jer 3:6 In the days of King Josiah, Yahweh said to me, 'Have you seen what disloyal Israel has done? How she has made her way up every high hill and to every green tree, and played the whore there?

Jer 3:7 I thought, "After doing all this she will come back to me." But she did not come back. Her faithless sister Judah saw this.

Jer 3:8 She also saw that I had repudiated disloyal Israel for all her adulteries and given her her divorce papers. Her faithless sister Judah, however, was not afraid: she too went and played the whore.

Jer 3:9 And with her shameless whoring, she polluted the country; she committed adultery with stones and pieces of wood.

Jer 3:10 Worse than all this: Judah, her faithless sister, has come back to me not in sincerity, but only in pretence, Yahweh declares.'

Jer 3:11 And Yahweh said to me, 'Disloyal Israel is upright, compared with faithless Judah.

Jer 3:12 So go and shout words towards the north, and say: "Come back, disloyal Israel, Yahweh declares, I shall frown on you no more, since I am merciful, Yahweh declares. I shall not keep my anger for ever.

Jer 3:13 Only acknowledge your guilt: how you have rebelled against Yahweh your God, how you have prostituted yourself with the Strangers under every green tree and have not listened to my voice, Yahweh declares.

Jer 3:14 "Come back, disloyal children, Yahweh declares, for I alone am your Master, and I will take you, one from a town, two from a family, and bring you to Zion.

Jer 3:15 I shall give you shepherds after my own heart, who will pasture you wisely and discreetly.

Jer 3:16 Then, when you have increased and grown numerous in the country, Yahweh declares, no one will ever again say: The ark of the covenant of Yahweh! It will not enter their minds, they will not remember it or miss it, nor will another one be made.

Jer 3:17 When that time comes, Jerusalem will be called: The Throne of Yahweh, and all the nations will converge on her, on Yahweh's name, on Jerusalem, and will no longer follow their own stubborn and wicked inclinations.

Jer 3:18 "When those days come, the House of Judah will join the House of Israel; together they will come from the land of the north to the country I gave your ancestors as their heritage."

Jer 3:19 'And I was thinking: How am I to rank you as my children? I shall give you a country of delights, the fairest heritage of all the nations! I thought: You will call me Father and will never cease to follow me.'

Jer 3:20 But like a woman betraying her lover, House of Israel, you have betrayed me,' Yahweh declares.

Jer 3:21 A noise is heard on the bare heights: the weeping and entreaty of the Israelites, for they have gone wildly astray, have forgotten Yahweh their God.

Jer 3:22 'Come back, disloyal sons, I want to cure your disloyalty.' 'We are here, we are coming to you, for you are Yahweh our God.'

Jer 3:23 The hills are a delusion after all, so is the tumult of the mountains. Yahweh our God is, after all, the saving of Israel.

Jer 3:24 Shame has devoured what our ancestors worked for ever since we were young, their flocks and herds, their sons and their daughters.

Jer 3:25 Let us lie down in our shame, let our confusion cover us, for we have sinned against Yahweh our God, we and our ancestors, from our youth until today, and have not listened to the voice of Yahweh our God.'

Jer 4:1 'If you come back, Israel, Yahweh declares, if you come back to me, if you take your Horrors out of my sight, if you go roving no more,

Jer 4:2 if you swear, "As Yahweh lives!" truthfully, justly, uprightly, then the nations will bless themselves by him and glory in him.

Jer 4:3 'For Yahweh says this to the men of Judah and Jerusalem, "Clear the ground that lies neglected, do not sow among thorns.

Jer 4:4 Circumcise yourselves for Yahweh, apply circumcision to your hearts, men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem, or my wrath will leap out like a fire and burn with no one to quench it, in return for the wickedness of your deeds."

Jer 4:5 Announce it in Judah, proclaim it in Jerusalem, say, 'Sound the trumpet in the countryside, shout the message aloud: Mobilise! Take to the fortified towns!

Jer 4:6 Signpost the way to Zion! Run! Do not delay! For I am bringing disaster from the north, an immense calamity.

Jer 4:7 The lion is up from his thicket, the destroyer of nations is on his way, he has come from his home to reduce your land to a desert; your towns will be in ruins, uninhabited.

Jer 4:8 So wrap yourselves in sackcloth, lament and wail, since Yahweh's burning anger has not turned away from us.

Jer 4:9 'That day,' Yahweh declares, 'the king's heart will fail him, the princes' hearts will fail them too, the priests will stand aghast, the prophets stupefied.'

Jer 4:10 Then I said, 'Ah, Lord Yahweh, how sadly you deceived this people and Jerusalem when you used to say, "You will have peace," whereas the sword is now at our throats!'

Jer 4:11 When that time comes, this will be said to this people and to Jerusalem: The scorching wind from the desert heights comes towards the daughter of my people -and not to winnow or to cleanse!

Jer 4:12 A gale of wind comes to me from over there. Now I myself shall pass sentence on them!'

Jer 4:13 Look, he is advancing like the clouds, his chariots like a hurricane, his horses swifter than eagles. Disaster for us! We are lost!

Jer 4:14 Wash your heart clean of wickedness, Jerusalem, and so be saved. How long will you go on harbouring your pernicious thoughts?

Jer 4:15 For a voice from Dan shouts the news, proclaims disaster from the highlands of Ephraim.

Jer 4:16 Report it to the nations, proclaim it to Jerusalem, 'Enemies are coming from a distant country, shouting their war cry against the towns of Judah;

Jer 4:17 they surround her like watchmen round a field because she has rebelled against me', Yahweh declares.

Jer 4:18 'Your own behaviour and actions have brought this on yourself. Your wickedness, how bitter, has stabbed you to the heart!'

Jer 4:19 In the pit of my stomach how great my agony! Walls of my heart! My heart is throbbing! I cannot keep quiet, for I have heard the trumpet call, the battle cry.

Jer 4:20 Ruin on ruin is the news: the whole land is laid waste, my tents are suddenly destroyed, in one moment all that sheltered me.

Jer 4:21 How long must I see the standard and hear the trumpet call?

Jer 4:22 'This is because my people are stupid, they do not know me, they are slow-witted children, they have no understanding, they are clever enough at doing wrong, but do not know how to do right.'

Jer 4:23 I looked to the earth -- it was a formless waste; to the heavens, and their light had gone.

Jer 4:24 I looked to the mountains -- they were quaking and all the hills rocking to and fro.

Jer 4:25 I looked -- there was no one at all, the very birds of heaven had all fled.

Jer 4:26 I looked -- the fruitful land was a desert, all its towns in ruins before Yahweh, before his burning anger.

Jer 4:27 Yes, Yahweh has said this, 'The whole country will be laid waste, though I shall not annihilate it completely.'

Jer 4:28 For this, the earth will go into mourning and the heavens above grow dark. For I have spoken, I have decided, I shall not change my mind or go back on it.'

Jer 4:29 At the din of horseman and archer the entire city takes to flight: some plunge into the thickets, others scale the rocks; every town is abandoned, not a single person is left there.

Jer 4:30 And, once despoiled, what are you going to do? You may dress yourself in scarlet, put on ornaments of gold, enlarge your eyes with paint but you make yourself pretty in vain. Your former lovers disdain you, your life is what they are seeking.

Jer 4:31 Yes, I hear screams like those of a woman in labour, anguish like that of a woman giving birth to her first child; they are the screams of the daughter of Zion, gasping, hands outstretched, 'Unhappy me! I am dying, the murderers have killed me!'

Jer 5:1 Rove the streets of Jerusalem, now look and enquire, see in her squares if you can find an individual, one individual who does right and seeks the truth, and I will pardon her, Yahweh says.

Jer 5:2 Although they say, 'As Yahweh lives,' they are, in fact, swearing a false oath.

Jer 5:3 Yahweh, do your eyes not look for truth? You have struck them; they have not felt it. You have annihilated them, for they ignored the lesson. They have set their faces harder than rock, they have refused to repent.

Jer 5:4 I thought, 'These are only the poor! They behave stupidly since they do not know Yahweh's way or the ruling of their God.'

Jer 5:5 I shall approach the great men and speak to them, for these will know Yahweh's way and the ruling of their God.' But these, too, have broken the yoke, have burst the bonds.

Jer 5:6 And so, a lion from the forest will slaughter them, a wolf from the plains will despoil them, a leopard will be lurking round their towns: anyone who goes out will be torn to pieces -- because of their many crimes, their countless infidelities.

Jer 5:7 'Why should I pardon you? Your sons have abandoned me, to swear by gods that are not gods at all. I fed them full, and they became adulterers, they hurried to the brothel.'

Jer 5:8 They are well-fed, roving stallions, each neighing for his neighbour's wife.

Jer 5:9 Shall I fail to punish this, Yahweh demands, or on such a nation to exact vengeance?

Jer 5:10 Scale her terraces! Destroy! But do not annihilate her completely! Strip off her branches, for Yahweh does not own them!

Jer 5:11 How treacherously they have treated me, the House of Israel and the House of Judah! Yahweh declares.

Jer 5:12 'They have denied Yahweh, they have said, "He is nothing; no evil will overtake us, we shall not see sword or famine."

Jer 5:13 And the prophets? Nothing but wind; the word is not in them; let those very things happen to them!" '

Jer 5:14 Because of this, Yahweh, God Sabaoth, says this, 'Since you have said such things, now I shall make my words a fire in your mouth, and make this people wood, for the fire to devour.'

Jer 5:15 Now I shall bring on you a nation from afar, House of Israel, Yahweh declares, an enduring nation, an ancient nation, a nation whose language you do not know, nor can you grasp what they say.

Jer 5:16 Their quiver a gaping tomb, they are all of them fighters.

Jer 5:17 They will devour your harvest and your food, devour your sons and daughters, devour your flocks and herds, devour your vines and fig trees, and demolish your fortified towns in which you trust -- with the sword!'

Jer 5:18 'Yet even in those days, Yahweh declares, I shall not annihilate you completely.'

Jer 5:19 'And when you ask, "Why has Yahweh our God done all this to us?" you will give them this answer, "As you abandon me to serve alien gods in your own country, so you must serve aliens in a country not your own."

Jer 5:20 'Announce this in the House of Jacob, proclaim it in Judah, and say,

Jer 5:21 "Now listen to this, stupid, brainless people who have eyes and do not see, who have ears and do not hear!"

Jer 5:22 Have you no fear of me? Yahweh demands. Will you not tremble before me who set the sand as limit to the sea, as an everlasting barrier it cannot pass? Its waves may toss but not prevail, they may roar but cannot pass beyond.

Jer 5:23 But this people has a rebellious, unruly heart; they have rebelled and gone!

Jer 5:24 Nor do they say to themselves: Now we ought to fear Yahweh our God who gives the rain, of autumn and of spring, at the right season, and reserves us the weeks appointed for harvest.

Jer 5:25 Your misdeeds have upset all this, your sins have deprived you of these blessings."

Jer 5:26 Yes, there are wicked men among my people who watch like fowlers on the alert; they set traps and they catch human beings.

Jer 5:27 Like a cage full of birds so are their houses full of loot; they have grown rich and powerful because of it, Jer 5:28 they are fat, they are sleek, in wickedness they go to any lengths: they have no respect for rights, for orphans' rights, and yet they succeed! They have not upheld the cause of the needy.

Jer 5:29 Shall I fail to punish this, Yahweh demands, or on such a nation to exact vengeance?

Jer 5:30 Horrible, disgusting things are happening in the land:

Jer 5:31 the prophets prophesy falsely and the priests exploit the people. And my people love it! But when the end comes, what will you do?

Jer 6:1 Flee in a body, Benjaminites, right away from Jerusalem! Sound the trumpet in Tekoa! Light the beacon on Beth-ha-Cherem! For disaster lowers from the north, an immense calamity.

Jer 6:2 Beautiful, delicate as she is, I shall destroy the daughter of Zion!

Jer 6:3 Shepherds are advancing on her with their flocks. They have pitched their tents all round her, each grazes his part.

Jer 6:4 Prepare for holy war against her! To arms! We shall attack at noon! Disaster for us! The light is fading, the evening shadows lengthen.

Jer 6:5 To arms! We shall attack at night and destroy her palaces.

Jer 6:6 For Yahweh Sabaoth says this, 'Cut down trees, throw up an earthwork outside Jerusalem: this is the city to be punished, with nothing but oppression in her.'

Jer 6:7 As a well keeps its water fresh so she keeps her wickedness fresh. Violence and ruin are what you hear in her, wounds and blows always forced on my attention.

Jer 6:8 Reform, Jerusalem, or I shall turn my attention away from you and reduce you to a desert, a land without people.'

Jer 6:9 Yahweh Sabaoth says this, 'They will glean, glean what is left of Israel like a vine. Like a grape-picker, pass your hand again over the branches!'

Jer 6:10 To whom should I speak, whom warn, for them to hear? Look, their ears are uncircumcised, they cannot listen. Look, for them Yahweh's word is something to sneer at, they have no taste for it.

Jer 6:11 So I am full of Yahweh's wrath, I am weary of holding it in. Then pour it on the children in the streets, and on the bands of youths as well, for husband and wife will both be taken, the greybeard and the man weighed down with years.

Jer 6:12 Their houses will pass to other men, so will their fields and wives. Yes, I shall stretch my hand over those living in this country, Yahweh declares.

Jer 6:13 For, from the least to greatest, they are all greedy for gain; prophet no less than priest, all of them practise fraud.

Jer 6:14 Without concern they dress my people's wound, saying, 'Peace! Peace!' whereas there is no peace.

Jer 6:15 They should be ashamed of their loathsome deeds. Not they! They feel no shame, they do not even know how to blush. And so as others fall, they too will fall, will be thrown down when I come and punish them, Yahweh says.

Jer 6:16 Yahweh says this, 'Stand at the crossroads and look, ask for the ancient paths: which was the good way? Take it and you will find rest for yourselves. But they have said, "We will not take it."

Jer 6:17 I posted look-outs on your behalf: Listen to the sound of the trumpet! But they said, "We will not listen."

Jer 6:18 Then hear, you nations, and know, assembly, what is going to happen to them!

Jer 6:19 Listen, earth! Watch, I shall bring disaster on this people: it is the fruit of the way they think, since they have not listened to my words nor to my law, but have rejected it.

Jer 6:20 What do I care about incense imported from Sheba, or fragrant cane from a distant country? Your burnt offerings are not acceptable, your sacrifices do not please me.'

Jer 6:21 And so, Yahweh says this, 'In front of this people I shall now lay obstacles for them to stumble over; father and son alike, neighbour and friend will perish.'

Jer 6:22 Yahweh says this, 'Look, a people is coming from the land of the north, from the far ends of the earth a great nation is rising;

Jer 6:23 they are armed with bow and spear, they are cruel and pitiless; their noise is like the roaring of the sea; they are riding horses, they are ready to fight against you as one man, against you, daughter of Zion.'

Jer 6:24 We have heard the news, our hands fall limp, anguish has gripped us, pain like that of a woman in labour.

Jer 6:25 Do not go out into the countryside, do not venture onto the roads, for the enemy's sword is there, terror on every side.

Jer 6:26 Put on sackcloth, daughter of my people, roll in ashes; mourn as for an only son, a very bitter dirge. For on us suddenly the destroyer is coming.

Jer 6:27 'I have appointed you as tester of my people, to learn and to test how they behave.

Jer 6:28 All of them are total rebels peddlers of slander, hard as bronze and iron, all agents of corruption.

Jer 6:29 The bellows blast away to make the fire burn away the lead. In vain the smelter does his work, for the dross is not purged out.

Jer 6:30 "Silver-reject", men call them, and indeed Yahweh has rejected them!"

Jer 7:1 The word that came to Jeremiah from Yahweh, saying,

Jer 7:2 'Stand at the gate of the Temple of Yahweh and there proclaim this message. Say, "Listen to the word of Yahweh, all you of Judah who come in by these gates to worship Yahweh."

Jer 7:3 Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this: Amend your behaviour and your actions and I will let you stay in this place.

Jer 7:4 Do not put your faith in delusive words, such as: This is Yahweh's sanctuary, Yahweh's sanctuary, Yahweh's sanctuary!

Jer 7:5 But if you really amend your behaviour and your actions, if you really treat one another fairly,

Jer 7:6 if you do not exploit the stranger, the orphan and the widow, if you do not shed innocent blood in this place and if you do not follow other gods, to your own ruin,

Jer 7:7 then I shall let you stay in this place, in the country I gave for ever to your ancestors of old.

Jer 7:8 Look, you are putting your faith in delusive, worthless words!

Jer 7:9 Steal, would you, murder, commit adultery, perjure yourselves, burn incense to Baal, follow other gods of whom you know nothing? -

Jer 7:10 and then come and stand before me in this Temple that bears my name, saying: Now we are safe to go on doing all these loathsome things!

Jer 7:11 Do you look on this Temple that bears my name as a den of bandits? I, at any rate, can see straight, Yahweh declares.

Jer 7:12 "Now go to the place which used to be mine at Shiloh, where I once gave my name a home; see what I have done to it because of the wickedness of my people Israel!"

Jer 7:13 And now, since you have done all these things, Yahweh declares, and refused to listen when I spoke so urgently, so persistently, or to answer when I called you,

Jer 7:14 I shall treat this Temple that bears my name, and in which you put your heart, the place that I gave you and your ancestors, just as I treated Shiloh,

Jer 7:15 and I shall drive you out of my sight, as I did all your kinsfolk, the whole race of Ephraim."

Jer 7:16 'You, for your part, must not intercede for this people, nor raise either plea or prayer on their behalf; do not plead with me, for I will not listen to you.

Jer 7:17 Can you not see what they are doing in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

Jer 7:18 The children collect the wood, the fathers light the fire, the women knead the dough, to make cakes for the Queen of Heaven; and, to spite me, they pour libations to alien gods.

Jer 7:19 Is it really me they spite, Yahweh demands, is it not in fact themselves, to their own confusion?

Jer 7:20 So, Lord Yahweh says this, "My anger, my wrath will be poured down on this place, on man and beast, on the trees of the countryside and the fruits of the soil; it will burn, and not be quenched."

Jer 7:21 Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this, "Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices and eat all the meat.

Jer 7:22 For when I brought your ancestors out of Egypt, I said nothing to them, gave them no orders, about burnt offerings or sacrifices.

Jer 7:23 My one command to them was this: Listen to my voice, then I will be your God and you shall be my people. In everything, follow the way that I mark out for you, and you shall prosper.

Jer 7:24 But they did not listen, they did not pay attention; they followed their own devices, their own stubborn and wicked inclinations, and got worse rather than better.

Jer 7:25 From the day your ancestors left Egypt until today, I have sent you all my servants the prophets, persistently sending them day after day.

Jer 7:26 But they have not listened to me, have not paid attention; they have deliberately resisted, behaving worse than their ancestors.

Jer 7:27 So you will tell them all this, but they will not listen to you; you will call them, but they will not answer you."

Jer 7:28 Then you are to say to them, "This is the nation that will neither listen to the voice of Yahweh its God nor take correction. Sincerity is no more, it has vanished from their mouths.

Jer 7:29 "Cut off your tresses, throw them away! On the bare heights raise a dirge, for Yahweh has rejected, has abandoned, a brood that enrages him!"

Jer 7:30 'Yes, the people of Judah have done what displeases me, Yahweh declares. They have set up their Horrors in the Temple that bears my name, to defile it, Jer 7:31 and have built the high places of Topheth in the Valley of Ben-Hinnom, to burn their sons and daughters: a thing I never ordered, that had never entered my thoughts.

Jer 7:32 So now the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when people will no longer say Topheth or Valley of Ben-Hinnom, but Valley of Slaughter. Topheth will become a burial ground, for lack of other space;

Jer 7:33 the corpses of this people will be food for the birds of the sky and the animals of earth, and there will be no one to drive them off.

Jer 7:34 I shall silence the shouts of rejoicing and mirth and the voices of bridegroom and bride, in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem, for the country will be reduced to desert.'

Jer 8:1 'When that time comes, Yahweh declares, the bones of the kings of Judah, the bones of its chief men, the bones of the priests, the bones of the prophets and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, will be taken from their tombs.

Jer 8:2 They will be spread out before the sun, the moon, the whole array of heaven, whom they have loved and served, followed, consulted and worshipped. They will not be gathered or reburied but will be left lying on the surface like dung.

Jer 8:3 And death will seem preferable to life to all the survivors of this wicked race, wherever I have driven them, Yahweh Sabaoth declares.

Jer 8:4 'You are to tell them, "Yahweh says this: If someone falls, can he not stand up again? If people stray, can they not turn back?

Jer 8:5 Why does this people persist in acts of infidelity, why does Jerusalem persist in continuous infidelity? They cling to illusion, they refuse to turn back.

Jer 8:6 I have listened attentively: they have never said anything like that. Not one repents of wickedness saying: What have I done? Each one keeps returning to the course like a horse charging into battle.

Jer 8:7 Even the stork in the sky knows the appropriate season; turtle dove, swallow and crane observe their time of migration. But my people do not know Yahweh's laws!" '

Jer 8:8 How can you say, 'We are wise, since we have Yahweh's Law?' Look how it has been falsified by the lying pen of the scribes!

Jer 8:9 The wise are put to shame, alarmed, caught out because they have rejected Yahweh's word. What price their wisdom now?

Jer 8:10 So I shall give their wives to other men, their fields to new masters, for, from the least to greatest, they are all greedy for gain; prophet no less than priest, all of them practise fraud.

Jer 8:11 Without concern they dress the wound of the daughter of my people, saying, 'Peace! Peace!' whereas there is no peace.

Jer 8:12 They should be ashamed of their loathsome deeds. Not they! They feel no shame, they do not even know how to blush. And so as others fall, they too will fall, will be thrown down when the time for punishing them comes, Yahweh says.

Jer 8:13 I shall put an end to them, Yahweh declares, no more grapes on the vine, no more figs on the fig tree only withered leaves: I have found them people to trample on them!

Jer 8:14 Why are we sitting still? Mobilise! Take to the fortified towns and there fall silent, since Yahweh our God means to silence us by giving us poisoned water to drink because we have sinned against him.

Jer 8:15 We are hoping for peace -- no good came of it! For the time of healing -- nothing but terror!

Jer 8:16 From Dan you can hear the snorting of his horses; at the neighing of his stallions the whole country quakes; they are coming to devour the country and its contents, the town and those that live in it.

Jer 8:17 Yes, now I am sending you poisonous snakes against which no charm exists; and they will bite you, Yahweh declares.

Jer 8:18 Incurable sorrow overtakes me, my heart fails me.

Jer 8:19 Hark, from the daughter of my people the cry for help, ringing far and wide throughout the land! 'Is Yahweh no longer in Zion, her King no longer there?' (Why have they provoked me with their idols, with their futile foreign gods?)

Jer 8:20 'Harvest is over, summer at an end, and we have not been saved!'

Jer 8:21 The wound of the daughter of my people wounds me too, all looks dark to me, terror grips me.

Jer 8:22 Is there no balm in Gilead any more? Is no doctor there? Then why is there no progress in the cure of the daughter of my people?

Jer 8:23 Who will turn my head into a fountain, and my eyes into a spring of tears, that I can weep day and night over the slain of the daughter of my people?

Jer 9:1 Who will find me a wayfarer's shelter in the desert, for me to quit my people, and leave them far behind? For all of them are adulterers, a conspiracy of traitors.

Jer 9:2 They bend their tongues like a bow; not truth but falsehood holds sway in the land; yes, they go from crime to crime, but me they do not know, Yahweh declares.

Jer 9:3 Let each be on his guard against his friend; do not trust a brother, for every brother aims but to supplant, and every friend is a peddler of slander.

Jer 9:4 Each one cheats his friend, never telling the truth; they have trained their tongues to lie and devote all their energies to doing wrong.

Jer 9:5 You live in a world of bad faith! Out of bad faith, they refuse to know me, Yahweh declares.

Jer 9:6 And, so, Yahweh Sabaoth declares, now I shall purge them and test them, no other way to treat the daughter of my people!

Jer 9:7 Their tongue is a deadly arrow, their words are in bad faith; with his mouth each wishes his neighbour peace, while in his heart plotting a trap for him.

Jer 9:8 Shall I fail to punish them for this, Yahweh demands, or on such a nation fail to exact vengeance?

Jer 9:9 I raise the wail and lament for the mountains, the dirge for the desert pastures, for they have been burnt: no one passes there, the sound of flocks is heard no more. Birds of the sky and animals, all have fled, all are gone.

Jer 9:10 I shall make Jerusalem a heap of ruins, a lair for jackals, and the towns of Judah an uninhabited wasteland.

Jer 9:11 Who is wise enough to understand this? To whom has Yahweh's mouth spoken to explain it? Why is the country annihilated, burnt like the desert where no one passes?

Jer 9:12 Yahweh says, 'This is because they have forsaken my Law which I gave them and have not listened to my voice or followed it,

Jer 9:13 but have followed their own stubborn hearts, have followed the Baals as their ancestors taught them.'

Jer 9:14 So Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this, 'Now I shall give this people wormwood to eat and poisoned water to drink.

Jer 9:15 I shall scatter them among nations unknown to their ancestors or to them; and I shall pursue them with the sword until I have annihilated them.'

Jer 9:16 Yahweh Sabaoth says this, 'Prepare to call for the mourning women! Send for those who are best at it!

Jer 9:17 Let them lose no time in raising the lament over us! Let our eyes rain tears, our eyelids run with weeping!

Jer 9:18 A lament makes itself heard in Zion, "What ruin is ours, what utter shame! For we must leave the country, our homes have been knocked down!" '

Jer 9:19 Now listen, you women, to Yahweh's word, let your ears take in the word his own mouth speaks. Teach your daughters how to wail and teach one another this dirge,

Jer 9:20 'Death has climbed in at our windows, and made its way into our palaces; it has cut down the children in the street, the young people in the squares-

Jer 9:21 Speak! Yahweh declares this -- human corpses are strewn like dung in the open field, like sheaves left by the reaper, with no one to gather them.'

Jer 9:22 Yahweh says this, 'Let the sage not boast of wisdom, nor the valiant of valour, nor the wealthy of riches!

Jer 9:23 But let anyone who wants to boast, boast of this: of understanding and knowing me. For I am Yahweh, who acts with faithful love, justice, and uprightness on earth; yes, these are what please me,' Yahweh declares.

Jer 9:24 'Look, the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when I shall punish all who are circumcised only in the flesh:

Jer 9:25 Egypt, Judah, Edom, the Ammonites, Moab, and all the men with shaven temples who live in the desert. For all those nations, and the whole House of Israel too, are uncircumcised at heart.'

Jer 10:1 Listen, House of Israel, to the word that Yahweh addresses to you. Yahweh says this:

Jer 10:2 'Do not learn the ways of the nations or take alarm at the heavenly signs, alarmed though the nations may be at them.

Jer 10:3 Yes, the customs of the peoples are quite futile: wood, nothing more, cut out of a forest, worked with a blade by a carver's hand,

Jer 10:4 then embellished with silver and gold, then fastened with hammer and nails to keep it from moving.

Jer 10:5 Like scarecrows in a melon patch, they cannot talk, they have to be carried, since they cannot walk. Have no fear of them: they can do no harm -- nor any good either!'

Jer 10:6 Yahweh, there is no one like you, so great you are, so great your mighty name.

Jer 10:7 Who would not revere you, King of nations? Yes, this is your due. Since of all the wise among the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is not a single one like you.

Jer 10:8 All of them are brutish and stupid: the Futile Ones' teaching is but wood,

Jer 10:9 silver leaf imported from Tarshish and gold from Ophir, the work of carver or goldsmith; then dressed up in violet and purple, all the work of skilled men.

Jer 10:10 But Yahweh is the true God. He is the living God, the everlasting King. The earth quakes when he is wrathful, the nations cannot endure his fury.

Jer 10:11 'Tell them this, "The gods who did not make the heavens and the earth will vanish from the earth and from under these heavens." '

Jer 10:12 By his power he made the earth, by his wisdom set the world firm, but his discernment spread out the heavens.

Jer 10:13 When he thunders there is a roaring of waters in heaven; he raises clouds from the remotest parts of the earth, makes the lightning flash for the downpour, and brings the wind from his storehouse.

Jer 10:14 At this all people stand stupefied, uncomprehending, every goldsmith blushes for his idols; his castings are but delusion, with no breath in them.

Jer 10:15 They are futile, a laughable production; when the time comes for them to be punished, they will vanish.

Jer 10:16 The Heritage of Jacob is not like these, for he is the maker of everything, and Israel is the tribe that is his heritage. His name is Yahweh Sabaoth.

Jer 10:17 Pick up your pack from the ground, you the besieged!

Jer 10:18 For Yahweh says this, 'Now I shall throw out the inhabitants of the country, this time, and bring distress on them, so that they may find me!'

Jer 10:19 Disaster is on me! What a wound! My injury is incurable! And I used to think, 'If this is the worst, I can bear it!'

Jer 10:20 But now my tent is destroyed, all my ropes are snapped, my sons have left me and are no more; no one is left to put my tent up again or to hang the side-cloths.

Jer 10:21 The shepherds are the ones who have been stupid: they have not searched for Yahweh. This is why they have not prospered and why their whole flock has been dispersed.

Jer 10:22 Listen! A terrible noise! A mighty uproar from the land of the north to reduce the towns of Judah to desert, to a lair for jackals!

Jer 10:23 I know, Yahweh, no one's course is in his control, nor is it in anyone's power, as he goes his way, to guide his own steps.

Jer 10:24 Correct me, Yahweh, but with moderation, not in your anger, or you will reduce me to nothing.

Jer 10:25 Pour out your anger on the nations who do not acknowledge you, and on the families that do not call on your name, for they have devoured Jacob, have devoured and made an end of him and reduced his home to desolation.

Jer 11:1 The word that came to Jeremiah from Yahweh,

Jer 11:2 'Hear the terms of this covenant; tell them to the people of Judah and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

Jer 11:3 Tell them, "Yahweh, God of Israel, says this: Cursed be anyone who will not listen to the terms of this covenant

Jer 11:4 which I ordained for your ancestors when I brought them out of Egypt, out of that iron-foundry. Listen to my voice, I told them, carry out all my orders, then you will be my people and I shall be your God,

Jer 11:5 so that I may fulfil the oath I swore to your ancestors, that I may give them a country flowing with milk and honey, as is the case today." ' I replied, 'So be it, Yahweh!'

Jer 11:6 Then Yahweh said to me, 'Proclaim all these terms in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, "Listen to the terms of this covenant and obey them."

Jer 11:7 For when I brought your ancestors out of Egypt, I solemnly warned them, and have persistently warned them until today, saying: Listen to my voice.

Jer 11:8 But they did not listen, did not pay attention; instead, each followed his own stubborn and wicked inclinations. And against them, in consequence, I put into action the words of this covenant which I had ordered them to obey and which they had not obeyed." '

Jer 11:9 Yahweh said to me, 'Plainly there is conspiracy among the people of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem.

Jer 11:10 They have reverted to the sins of their ancestors who refused to listen to my words: they too are following other gods and serving them. The House of Israel and the House of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their ancestors.

Jer 11:11 And so, Yahweh says this, "I shall now bring a disaster on them which they cannot escape; they will call to me for help, but I shall not listen to them."

Jer 11:12 The towns of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem will then go and call for help to the gods to whom they burn incense, but these will be no help at all to them in their time of distress!

Jer 11:13 "For you have as many gods as you have towns, Judah! You have built as many altars to Shame, as many incense altars to Baal, as Jerusalem has streets!"

Jer 11:14 "You, for your part, must not intercede for this people, nor raise either plea or prayer on their behalf, for I will not listen when their distress forces them to call to me for help."

Jer 11:15 "What is my beloved doing in my house? She has achieved her wicked plans. Can vows and consecrated meat turn disaster from you for you to be so happy?"

Jer 11:16 "Green olive-tree covered in fine fruit", was Yahweh's name for you. With a shattering noise he has set fire to it, its branches are broken.'

Jer 11:17 And Yahweh Sabaoth, who planted you, has decreed disaster for you because of the evil the House of Israel and the House of Judah have done, provoking me by burning incense to Baal.

Jer 11:18 Yahweh informed me and I knew it; you then revealed their scheming to me.

Jer 11:19 I for my part was like a trustful lamb being led to the slaughterhouse, not knowing the schemes they were plotting against me, 'Let us destroy the tree in its strength, let us cut him off from the land of the living, so that his name may no longer be remembered!'

Jer 11:20 Yahweh Sabaoth, whose judgement is upright, tester of motives and thoughts, I shall see your vengeance on them, for I have revealed my cause to you.

Jer 11:21 Against the people of Anathoth who are determined to kill me and say to me, 'Do not prophesy in the name of Yahweh or you will die at our hands!'

Jer 11:22 Yahweh says this, 'I am about to punish them. Their young people will die by the sword, their sons and daughters by famine.'

Jer 11:23 Not one will be left when I bring disaster on the people of Anathoth, when the year for punishing them comes.'

Jer 12:1 Your uprightness is too great, Yahweh, for me to dispute with you. But I should like to discuss some points of justice with you: Why is it that the way of the wicked prospers? Why do all treacherous people thrive?

Jer 12:2 You plant them, they take root, they flourish, yes, and bear fruit. You are on their lips, yet far from their heart.

Jer 12:3 You know me, Yahweh, you see me, you probe my heart, which is close to yours. Drag them off like sheep for the slaughterhouse, reserve them for the day of butchery.

Jer 12:4 (How long will the land be in mourning, and the grass wither all over the countryside? The animals and birds are dying as a result of the wickedness of the inhabitants.) For they say, 'God does not see our fate.'

Jer 12:5 'If you find it exhausting to race against me on foot, how will you compete against horses? In a country at peace you feel secure, but how will you fare in the thickets of the Jordan?

Jer 12:6 'For even your brothers and your own family will betray you. They will pursue you in full cry. Put no faith in them when they speak you fair!'

Jer 12:7 I have abandoned my house, left my heritage, I have delivered what I dearly loved into the clutches of its enemies.

Jer 12:8 To me, my heritage has behaved like a lion in the forest, it roared at me ferociously: so I now hate it.

Jer 12:9 I see my heritage as a brightly-coloured bird of prey attacked by birds of prey on every side! Go, assemble all the wild animals, make them come and dine!

Jer 12:10 Many shepherds have laid my vineyard waste, have trampled over my plot of land, the plot of land which was my joy, reducing my favourite estate to a deserted wilderness.

Jer 12:11 They have made it a waste; wasted, it mourns before me. The whole country has been devastated and no one takes it to heart.

Jer 12:12 The devastators have arrived on all the bare heights of the desert (for Yahweh wields a devouring sword); from one end of the country to the other, there is no peace for any living thing.

Jer 12:13 Wheat they have sown, thorns they reap: they have worn themselves out, to no profit. They are disappointed in their harvests, because of Yahweh's burning anger.

Jer 12:14 Yahweh says this, 'As regards all my evil neighbours who have laid hands on the heritage I granted my people Israel, look, I shall uproot them from their soil, (though I shall uproot the House of Judah from among them).

Jer 12:15 But having uprooted them, I shall take pity on them again and bring them back each to its own heritage, each to its own country,

Jer 12:16 and if they carefully learn my people's ways and swear by my name, "As Yahweh lives", as they have taught my people to swear by Baal, then they will be re-established among my people.

Jer 12:17 But if any nation refuses to listen, I shall uproot it for ever and destroy it, Yahweh declares.'

Jer 13:1 Yahweh said this to me, 'Go and buy a linen waistcloth and put it round your waist. But do not dip it in water.'

Jer 13:2 And so, as Yahweh had ordered, I bought a waistcloth and put it round my waist.

Jer 13:3 A second time the word of Yahweh came to me,

Jer 13:4 'Take the waistcloth that you have bought and are wearing round your waist. Up, go to the Euphrates and hide it there in a hole in the rock.'

Jer 13:5 So I went and hid it by the Euphrates as Yahweh had ordered me.

Jer 13:6 A long time later, Yahweh said to me, 'Up, go to the Euphrates and fetch the waistcloth I ordered you to hide there.'

Jer 13:7 So I went to the Euphrates, and I searched, and I took the waistcloth from the place where I had hidden it. And there was the waistcloth ruined, no use for anything.

Jer 13:8 Then the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Jer 13:9 'Yahweh says this, "In the same way I shall ruin the pride of Judah, the immense pride of Jerusalem."

Jer 13:10 This evil people, these people who refuse to listen to my words, who follow their own stubborn inclinations and run after other gods, serving and worshipping them -- this people will become like this waistcloth, no good for anything.

Jer 13:11 For just as a waistcloth clings to a man's waist, so I made the whole House of Israel and the whole House of Judah cling to me, Yahweh declares, to be my people, my glory, my honour and my pride. But they have not listened."

Jer 13:12 'You will also say this to them, "Yahweh, God of Israel, says this: Any jug can be filled with wine." And if they answer you, "Do you think we do not know that any jug can be filled with wine?"

Jer 13:13 you are to say, "Yahweh says this: Look, I shall fill all the inhabitants of this country, the kings who occupy the throne of David, the priests, the prophets and all the citizens of Jerusalem, with drunkenness.

Jer 13:14 Then I shall smash them one against the other, parents and children all together, Yahweh declares. Mercilessly, relentlessly, pitilessly, I shall destroy them."

Jer 13:15 Listen and pay attention, do not be proud: Yahweh is speaking!

Jer 13:16 Give glory to Yahweh your God before the darkness comes, before your feet stumble on the darkened mountains. You hope for light, but he will turn it to shadow dark as death, will change it to blackness.

Jer 13:17 If you do not listen to this warning, I shall weep in secret for your pride; my eyes will weep bitterly and stream with tears, for Yahweh's flock is being led into captivity.

Jer 13:18 Tell the king and the queen mother, 'Sit in a lower place, since your glorious crown has fallen from your head.

Jer 13:19 The towns of the Negeb are shut off with no one to give access to them. All Judah has been deported, deported wholesale.'

Jer 13:20 Raise your eyes and look at these now coming from the north. Where is the flock once entrusted to you, the flock which was your pride?

Jer 13:21 What will you say when they come and punish you, you yourself having taught them? Against you, in the lead, will come your friends. Then will not anguish grip you as it grips a woman in labour?

Jer 13:22 And should you ask yourself, 'Why is all this happening to me?' it is because of your great guilt that your skirts have been pulled up and you have been manhandled.

Jer 13:23 Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? And you, can you do right, being so accustomed to wrong?

Jer 13:24 'I shall scatter you like chaff on the desert wind.

Jer 13:25 This is your share, the part allotted you, from me, Yahweh declares, because you have forgotten me and put your trust in Delusion.

Jer 13:26 I am the one who pulls your skirts up over your face to let your shame be seen.

Jer 13:27 Oh! Your adulteries, your shrieks of pleasure, your vile prostitution! On the hills, in the fields, I have seen your Horrors. Jerusalem, disaster is coming for you! How much longer till you are made clean?'

Jer 14:1 The word of Yahweh that came to Jeremiah on the occasion of the drought.

Jer 14:2 'Judah is in mourning, her towns are pining, sinking to the ground; a cry goes up from Jerusalem.

Jer 14:3 The nobles send their servants for water, they come to the water-tanks, find no water, and return with their pitchers empty. Dismayed and bewildered, they cover their heads.

Jer 14:4 Because the soil is all cracked since the country has had no rain; the farmers are dismayed, they cover their heads.

Jer 14:5 Even the doe in the countryside giving birth abandons her young, for there is no grass;

Jer 14:6 the wild donkeys standing on the bare heights gasp for air like jackals: their eyes grow dim for lack of pasture.'

Jer 14:7 Although our sins witness against us, Yahweh, for your name's sake, intervene! Yes, our acts of infidelity have been many, we have sinned against you!

Jer 14:8 Yahweh, hope of Israel, its Saviour in time of distress, why are you like a stranger in this country, like a traveller staying only for one night?

Jer 14:9 Why are you like someone bemused, like a warrior who has no power to rescue? And yet, Yahweh, you are among us, we are called by your name. Do not desert us!

Jer 14:10 Yahweh says this about this people, 'They take such pleasure in darting hither and thither, they cannot restrain their feet! But Yahweh takes pleasure in them no longer; now he will keep their guilt in mind and punish their sins.'

Jer 14:11 Yahweh then said to me, 'Do not intercede for this people or their welfare.

Jer 14:12 If they fast, I will not listen to their plea; if they offer burnt offerings and cereal offerings I will not accept them. Rather, I shall make an end of them by sword, famine and plague.'

Jer 14:13 'Ah, Lord Yahweh,' I answered, 'here are the prophets telling them, "You will not see the sword, famine will not touch you; I promise you true peace in this place." '

Jer 14:14 Then Yahweh said to me, 'The prophets are prophesying lies in my name; I have not sent them, I gave them no orders, I never spoke to them. Delusive visions, hollow predictions, daydreams of their own, that is what they prophesy to you.

Jer 14:15 Therefore, Yahweh says this: The prophets who prophesy in my name when I have not sent them, and tell you there will be no sword or famine in this country, these same prophets will meet their end by sword and famine.

Jer 14:16 And as for the people to whom they prophesy, they will be tossed into the streets of Jerusalem, victims of famine and the sword, with not a soul to bury them: neither them nor their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters. I shall pour their own wickedness down on them.

Jer 14:17 'So say this word to them: May my eyes shed tears night and day, unceasingly, since the daughter of my people has sustained a fearsome wound, a crippling injury.

Jer 14:18 If I go into the countryside, there lie those killed by the sword; if I go into the city, I see people tortured with hunger; even prophets and priests roam the country at their wits' end.'

Jer 14:19 Have you rejected Judah altogether? Does your very soul revolt at Zion? Why have you struck us down without hope of cure? We were hoping for peace -- no good came of it! For the moment of cure -- nothing but terror!

Jer 14:20 Yahweh, we acknowledge our wickedness and our ancestors' guilt: we have indeed sinned against you.

Jer 14:21 For your name's sake do not reject us, do not dishonour the throne of your glory. Remember us; do not break your covenant with us.

Jer 14:22 Can any of the nations' Futile Ones make it rain? Can the heavens of their own accord give showers? Are you not the one, Yahweh our God? In you is our hope, since you make all these things.

Jer 15:1 Yahweh said to me, 'Even if Moses and Samuel pleaded before me, I could not sympathise with this people! Drive them out of my sight; away with them!

Jer 15:2 And if they ask you, "Where shall we go?" tell them this, "Yahweh says this: Those for the plague, to the plague; those for the sword, to the sword; those for famine, to famine; those for captivity, to captivity!"

Jer 15:3 "I shall consign them to four kinds of thing, Yahweh declares: the sword to kill, the dogs to drag away, the birds of heaven and wild animals of earth to devour and to destroy.

Jer 15:4 I shall make them an object of horror to all the kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, and what he did in Jerusalem."

Jer 15:5 Who is there to pity you, Jerusalem, who to grieve for you, who to go out of his way and ask how you are?

Jer 15:6 'You yourself have rejected me, Yahweh declares, you have turned your back on me; so I have stretched my hand over you and destroyed you. Tired of relenting, Jer 15:7 I have winnowed them with a winnow at the country's gates. They have been bereft, I have destroyed my people, but they refuse to leave their ways.

Jer 15:8 I have made their widows outnumber the sand of the sea. On the mother of young warriors I bring the destroyer in broad daylight. Suddenly I bring anguish and terror down on her.

Jer 15:9 The mother of seven sons grows faint and gasps for breath. It is still day, but already her sun has set, she is dismayed and distracted; and the rest of them I shall consign to the sword, to their enemies, Yahweh declares.'

Jer 15:10 A disaster for me, mother, that you bore me to be a man of strife and dissension for the whole country. I neither lend nor borrow, yet all of them curse me.

Jer 15:11 Have I not genuinely done my best to serve you, Yahweh? Have I not interceded with you in time of disaster and distress!

Jer 15:12 'Can iron break the iron of the north and the bronze?

Jer 15:13 Your wealth and your treasures I shall hand over to plunder, without repayment, because of all your sins, throughout your territory.

Jer 15:14 I shall enslave you to your enemies in a country which you do not know, for my anger has kindled a fire that will burn you up.'

Jer 15:15 Yahweh, you know! Remember me, take care of me, and avenge me on my persecutors. However long your anger endures, do not snatch me away. Realise that I suffer insult for your sake.

Jer 15:16 When your words came, I devoured them: your word was my delight and the joy of my heart; for I was called by your Name, Yahweh, God Sabaoth.

Jer 15:17 I never sat in the company of scoffers amusing myself; with your hands on me I held myself aloof, since you had filled me with indignation.

Jer 15:18 Why is my suffering continual, my wound incurable, refusing to be healed? Truly, for me you are a deceptive stream with uncertain waters!

Jer 15:19 To which Yahweh replied, 'If you repent, I shall restore you to plead before me. If you distinguish between the precious and the base, you shall be as my own mouth. They will come back to you, but you must not go back to them.'

Jer 15:20 As far as these people are concerned, I shall make you a fortified wall of bronze. They will fight against you but will not overcome you, because I am with you to save you and rescue you, Yahweh declares.

Jer 15:21 I shall rescue you from the clutches of the wicked and redeem you from the grasp of the violent.'

Jer 16:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows:

Jer 16:2 'You are not to marry or have sons and daughters in this place.

Jer 16:3 For Yahweh says this regarding the sons and daughters to be born in this place, about the mothers who give birth to them, and about the fathers who beget them in this land,

Jer 16:4 "They will die of deadly diseases, unlamented and unburied; they will be like dung spread on the ground; they will meet their end by sword and famine, and their corpses will be food for the birds of the sky and the beasts of earth."

Jer 16:5 'Yes, Yahweh says this, "Go into no house where there is mourning, do not go and lament or grieve with them; for I have withdrawn my peace from this people, Yahweh declares, and faithful love and pity too.

Jer 16:6 High or low, they will die in this country, without burial or lament; there will be no gashing, no shaving of the head for them.

Jer 16:7 No bread will be broken for the mourner to comfort him for the dead; no cup of consolation will be offered him for his father or his mother.

Jer 16:8 "And do not enter a house where there is feasting, to sit with them and eat and drink.

Jer 16:9 For Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this: In this place, before your eyes, in your own days, I will silence the shouts of rejoicing and mirth and the voices of bridegroom and bride.

Jer 16:10 "When you tell these people this and they ask you: Why has Yahweh decreed such complete and total disaster for us? What have we done wrong? What sin have we committed against Yahweh our God?

Jer 16:11 then you are to answer: It is because your ancestors abandoned me, Yahweh declares, and followed other gods, and served and worshipped them. They abandoned me and did not keep my Law.

Jer 16:12 And you for your part have behaved even worse than your ancestors. Look, each of you follows his own stubborn and wicked inclinations, without listening to me.

Jer 16:13 And so, I shall eject you from this country into a country unknown to you or to your ancestors, and there you can serve other gods, day and night, for I shall show you no more favour."

Jer 16:14 'Look, the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when people will no longer say, "As Yahweh lives who brought the Israelites out of Egypt!"

Jer 16:15 but, "As Yahweh lives who brought the Israelites back from the land of the north and all the countries to which he had driven them." I shall bring them back to the very soil I gave their ancestors.'

Jer 16:16 'Watch, I shall send for many fishermen, Yahweh declares, and these will fish them up; next, I shall send for many huntsmen, and these will hunt them out of every mountain, every hill, and out of the holes in the rocks.

Jer 16:17 For my eyes watch all their ways, these are not hidden from me, and their guilt does not escape my gaze.

Jer 16:18 I shall requite their guilt and their sin twice over, since they have polluted my country with the carcases of their Horrors, and filled my heritage with their Abominations.'

Jer 16:19 Yahweh, my strength, my stronghold, my refuge in time of distress! To you the nations will come from the remotest parts of the earth and say, 'Our fathers inherited nothing but Delusion, Futility of no use whatever.'

Jer 16:20 Can human beings make their own gods? These are not gods at all!'

Jer 16:21 'Now listen, I will make them acknowledge, this time I will make them acknowledge my hand and my might; and then they will know that Yahweh is my name.'

Jer 17:1 'The sin of Judah is written with an iron pen, engraved with a diamond point on the tablet of the heart and on the horns of their altars,

Jer 17:2 while their children remember their altars and their sacred pole beside the green trees, on the lofty hills.

Jer 17:3 My mountain on the plain, your wealth and all your treasures I shall hand over to be plundered, because of the sin of your high places throughout your territory.

Jer 17:4 You will have to relinquish your heritage which I gave you; I will enslave you to your enemies in a country which you do not know, for my fiery anger kindled by you will burn for ever.'

Jer 17:5 Yahweh says this, 'Accursed be anyone who trusts in human beings, who relies on human strength and whose heart turns from Yahweh.

Jer 17:6 Such a person is like scrub in the wastelands: when good comes, it does not affect him since he lives in the parched places of the desert, uninhabited, salt land.

Jer 17:7 'Blessed is anyone who trusts in Yahweh, with Yahweh to rely on.'

Jer 17:8 Such a person is like a tree by the waterside that thrusts its roots to the stream: when the heat comes it has nothing to fear, its foliage stays green; untroubled in a year of drought, it never stops bearing fruit.

Jer 17:9 'The heart is more devious than any other thing, and is depraved; who can pierce its secrets?'

Jer 17:10 I, Yahweh, search the heart, test the motives, to give each person what his conduct and his actions deserve.

Jer 17:11 'The partridge will hatch eggs it has not laid. No different is the person who gets riches unjustly: his days half done, they will desert him and he prove a fool after all.'

Jer 17:12 A glorious throne, sublime from the beginning, such is our Holy Place.

Jer 17:13 Yahweh, hope of Israel, all who abandon you will be put to shame, those who turn from you will be registered in the underworld, since they have abandoned Yahweh, the fountain of living water.

Jer 17:14 Heal me, Yahweh, and I shall be healed, save me, and I shall be saved, for you are my praise.

Jer 17:15 Look, they keep saying to me, 'Where is Yahweh's word? Let it come true then!'

Jer 17:16 Yet I have never urged you to send disaster, I never desired the fatal day, this you know; what came from my lips was not concealed from you.

Jer 17:17 Do not be a terror to me, you, my refuge in time of disaster.

Jer 17:18 Let my persecutors be confounded, not me, let them, not me, be terrified. On them bring the day of disaster, destroy them, destroy them twice over!

Jer 17:19 Yahweh said this to me, 'Go and stand at the Gate of the Sons of the People by which the kings of Judah go in and out -- and at all the gates of Jerusalem.

Jer 17:20 Say to them, "Listen to the word of Yahweh, you kings of Judah, all you people of Judah too, and all you inhabitants of Jerusalem who pass through the gates."

Jer 17:21 Yahweh says this: As you value your lives, on no account carry a burden on the Sabbath day or bring it in through the gates of Jerusalem.

Jer 17:22 Bring no burden out of your houses on the Sabbath day, and do no work. Keep the Sabbath day holy, as I ordered your ancestors.

Jer 17:23 They would not hear, would not pay attention; they deliberately refused to listen or accept instruction.

Jer 17:24 But if you listen carefully to me, Yahweh declares, and bring no burden in through the gates of this city on the Sabbath day, if you keep the Sabbath holy and do no work on that day, Jer 17:25 then, through the gates of this city, kings and princes occupying the throne of David will continue to make their entry, riding in chariots or on horseback, they, their chief men, the people of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. And this city will be inhabited for ever.

Jer 17:26 They will come from the towns of Judah, from the districts round Jerusalem, from the territory of Benjamin, from the lowlands, from the highlands, from the Negeb, to offer burnt offering and sacrifice, and cereal offering and incense, to offer thanksgiving sacrifices in the Temple of Yahweh.

Jer 17:27 But if you do not listen to me to keep the Sabbath day holy, and to refrain from entering the gates of Jerusalem with burdens on the Sabbath day, then I shall set fire to its gates; fire will devour the palaces of Jerusalem and not be quenched." '

Jer 18:1 The word that came to Jeremiah from Yahweh as follows,

Jer 18:2 'Get up and make your way down to the potter's house, and there I shall tell you what I have to say.'

Jer 18:3 So I went down to the potter's house; and there he was, working at the wheel.

Jer 18:4 But the vessel he was making came out wrong, as may happen with clay when a potter is at work. So he began again and shaped it into another vessel, as he thought fit.

Jer 18:5 Then the word of Yahweh came to me as follows,

Jer 18:6 'House of Israel, can I not do to you what this potter does? Yahweh demands. Yes, like clay in the potter's hand, so you are in mine, House of Israel.

Jer 18:7 Sometimes I announce that I shall uproot, break down and destroy a certain nation or kingdom,

Jer 18:8 but should the nation I have threatened abandon its wickedness, I then change my mind about the disaster which I had intended to inflict on it.

Jer 18:9 Sometimes I announce that I shall build up and plant a certain nation or kingdom,

Jer 18:10 but should that nation do what displeases me and refuse to listen to my voice, I then change my mind about the good which I was intending to confer on it.

Jer 18:11 So now, say this to the people of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, "Yahweh says this: Listen, I am preparing a disaster for you, I am working out a plan against you. So now, each one of you, turn back from your evil ways, amend your conduct and actions."

Jer 18:12 They, however, will say, "It is no use! We shall follow our own plans; each of us will act on his own wicked inclinations." '

Jer 18:13 Therefore, Yahweh says this, 'Ask, please, among the nations if anyone has heard anything like this. The Virgin of Israel has done a very horrible thing.

Jer 18:14 Does the snow of Lebanon ever leave the rocks of its slopes? Do the rivers of foreign lands, their cold flowing waters, ever run dry?

Jer 18:15 And yet my people have forgotten me! They burn incense to a Nothing! They have been made to stumble in their ways, the ancient paths, to walk in paths, on an unmade road,

Jer 18:16 to make their country an object of horror, everlasting derided: every passer-by will be appalled at it and shake his head.

Jer 18:17 Like the east wind, I shall scatter them before the enemy. I shall show them my back, not my face, the day they are ruined.'

Jer 18:18 'Come on,' they said, 'let us concoct a plot against Jeremiah, for the Law will not perish for lack of priests, nor advice for lack of wise men, nor the word for lack of prophets. Come on, let us slander him and pay no attention to anything he says.'

Jer 18:19 Pay attention to me, Yahweh, hear what my adversaries are saying.

Jer 18:20 Should evil be returned for good? Now they are digging a pit for me. Remember how I pleaded before you and spoke good of them, to turn your retribution away from them.

Jer 18:21 So, hand their sons over to famine, abandon them to the edge of the sword. Let their wives become childless and widowed. Let their husbands die of plague, their young men be cut down by the sword in battle.

Jer 18:22 Let cries re-echo from their houses as you bring raiders suddenly on them. For they have dug a pit to catch me, they have laid snares to trap my feet.

Jer 18:23 But you, Yahweh, know all about their murderous plot against me. Do not forgive their guilt, do not efface their sin from your sight. Let them be hurled down before you, deal with them while you are angry!

Jer 19:1 Then Yahweh said to Jeremiah, 'Go and buy a potter's earthenware jug. Take some of the people's elders and some of the senior priests with you.

Jer 19:2 Go out towards the Valley of Ben-Hinnom, just outside the Gate of the Potsherds. There proclaim the words I shall say to you.

Jer 19:3 You must say, "Kings of Judah, inhabitants of Jerusalem! Listen to the word of Yahweh! Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this: I am about to bring such a disaster on this place that the ears of every one who hears of it will ring.

Jer 19:4 For they have abandoned me and have made this place unrecognisable, and offered incense here to other gods which neither they nor their ancestors nor the kings of Judah ever knew before. They have filled this place with the blood of the innocent;

Jer 19:5 for they have built high places for Baal to burn their sons as burnt offerings to Baal, a thing I never ordered, never mentioned, that had never entered my thoughts.

Jer 19:6 So now the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when people will no longer call this place Topheth, or Valley of Ben-Hinnom, but Valley of Slaughter.

Jer 19:7 Because of this place, I shall empty Judah and Jerusalem of sound advice; I shall make them fall by the sword before their enemies, by the hand of those determined to kill them; I shall give their corpses as food to the birds of the sky and the animals of earth.

Jer 19:8 And I shall make this city an object of horror and derision; every passer-by will be appalled at it and whistle at the sight of all the wounds it has sustained.

Jer 19:9 I shall make them eat the flesh of their own sons and daughters: they will eat one another during the siege, in the shortage to which their enemies, and those determined to kill them, will reduce them."

Jer 19:10 'You must break this jug in front of the men who are with you,

Jer 19:11 and say to them, "Yahweh Sabaoth says this: I am going to break this people and this city just as one breaks a potter's pot, so that it can never be mended again. "Topheth will become a burial ground, for lack of other burial space.

Jer 19:12 That is how I shall treat this place, Yahweh declares, and its inhabitants, by making this city like Topheth.

Jer 19:13 The houses of Jerusalem and those of the kings of Judah, all the houses on the roofs of which they offered incense to the whole array of heaven and poured libations to other gods, will be unclean, like this place Topheth."

Jer 19:14 Jeremiah then came back from Topheth where Yahweh had sent him to prophesy, and stood in the court of the Temple of Yahweh and said to all the people,

Jer 19:15 'Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this, "Yes, on this city, and on all the towns belonging to it, I shall bring all the disaster which I had decreed for it, since they have stubbornly refused to listen to my words."

Jer 20:1 Now the priest Pashhur son of Immer, who was the chief of police in the Temple of Yahweh, heard Jeremiah making this prophecy.

Jer 20:2 Pashhur struck the prophet Jeremiah and then put him in the stocks, in the Upper Benjamin Gate leading into the Temple of Yahweh.

Jer 20:3 Next day, Pashhur had Jeremiah taken out of the stocks; Jeremiah then said to him, 'Not Pashhur but Terror-on-every-Side is Yahweh's name for you.

Jer 20:4 For Yahweh says this, "I am going to hand you over to terror, you and all your friends; they will fall by the sword of their enemies, your own eyes will see it. The whole of Judah, too, I shall hand over to the king of Babylon; he will carry them off captive to Babylon and put them to the sword.

Jer 20:5 And all the wealth of this city, all its stores, all its valuables, all the treasures of the kings of Judah, I shall hand over to their enemies who will plunder them, round them up and carry them off to Babylon.

Jer 20:6 As for you, Pashhur, and your whole household, you will go into captivity; you will go to Babylon; there you will die, and there be buried, you and all your friends to whom you have prophesied lies."

Jer 20:7 You have seduced me, Yahweh, and I have let myself be seduced; you have overpowered me: you were the stronger. I am a laughing-stock all day long, they all make fun of me.

Jer 20:8 For whenever I speak, I have to howl and proclaim, 'Violence and ruin!' For me, Yahweh's word has been the cause of insult and derision all day long.

Jer 20:9 I would say to myself, 'I will not think about him, I will not speak in his name any more,' but then there seemed to be a fire burning in my heart, imprisoned in my bones. The effort to restrain it wearied me, I could not do it.

Jer 20:10 I heard so many disparaging me, 'Terror on every side! Denounce him! Let us denounce him!' All those who were on good terms with me watched for my downfall, 'Perhaps he will be seduced into error. Then we shall get the better of him and take our revenge!'

Jer 20:11 But Yahweh is at my side like a mighty hero; my opponents will stumble, vanquished, confounded by their failure; everlasting, unforgettable disgrace will be theirs.

Jer 20:12 Yahweh Sabaoth, you who test the upright, observer of motives and thoughts, I shall see your vengeance on them, for I have revealed my cause to you.

Jer 20:13 Sing to Yahweh, praise Yahweh, for he has delivered the soul of one in need from the clutches of evil doers.

Jer 20:14 A curse on the day when I was born! May the day my mother bore me be unblessed!

Jer 20:15 A curse on the man who brought my father the news, 'A son, a boy has been born to you!' making him overjoyed.

Jer 20:16 May this man be like the towns that Yahweh overthrew without mercy; may he hear the warning-cry at dawn and the shout of battle at high noon,

Jer 20:17 for not killing me in the womb; my mother would have been my grave and her womb pregnant for ever.

Jer 20:18 Why ever did I come out of the womb to see toil and sorrow and end my days in shame?

Jer 21:1 The word that came to Jeremiah from Yahweh when King Zedekiah sent Pashhur son of Malchiah to him, with the priest Zephaniah son of Maaseiah, to say this,

Jer 21:2 'Please consult Yahweh for us, since Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon is making war on us: perhaps Yahweh will work one of his many miracles for us and force him to withdraw.'

Jer 21:3 Jeremiah said to them, 'Take this answer to Zedekiah,

Jer 21:4 "Yahweh, God of Israel, says this: I shall bring back the weapons of war which you are now carrying, and with which you are fighting the king of Babylon and the Chaldaeans now besieging you; from outside the walls, I shall stack them in the centre of this city.

Jer 21:5 And I shall fight against you myself with outstretched hand and mighty arm, in anger, fury and great wrath.

Jer 21:6 I shall strike down the inhabitants of this city, human and animal; they will die of a great plague.

Jer 21:7 Then, Yahweh declares, I shall deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, his officials, the people and those of this city who have escaped the plague, the sword, or the famine, into the clutches of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, into the clutches of their enemies and into the clutches of those determined to kill them; mercilessly, relentlessly, pitilessly, he will put them to the sword."

Jer 21:8 'And you must say to this people, "Yahweh says this: Look, I offer you a choice between the way of life and the way of death.

Jer 21:9 Anyone who stays in this city will die by sword, by famine, or by plague; but anyone who leaves it and surrenders to the Chaldaeans now besieging you will live; he will escape with his life.

Jer 21:10 For I am determined on disaster, and not prosperity, for this city, Yahweh declares. It will be handed over to the king of Babylon, and he will burn it down."

Jer 21:11 To the royal House of Judah. Listen to the word of Yahweh,

Jer 21:12 House of David! Yahweh says this: Each morning give fair judgement, rescue anyone who has been wronged from the hands of his oppressor, or else my wrath will leap out like a fire, it will burn and no one will be able to quench it, because of the wickedness of your actions.

Jer 21:13 My quarrel is with you, resident of the valley, Rock-in-the-Plain, Yahweh declares, with you that say, 'Who would dare attack us and enter our lairs?'

Jer 21:14 I shall punish you as your actions deserve, Yahweh declares, I shall set fire to its forest and it will devour all around it.

Jer 22:1 Yahweh said this, 'Go down to the palace of the king of Judah and there say this word, Jer 22:2 "Listen to the word of Yahweh, king of Judah now occupying the throne of David, you, your officials and your people who go through these gates.

Jer 22:3 Yahweh says this: Act uprightly and justly; rescue from the hands of the oppressor anyone who has been wronged, do not exploit or ill-treat the stranger, the orphan, the widow; shed no innocent blood in this place.

Jer 22:4 For if you are scrupulous in obeying this command, then kings occupying the throne of David will continue to make their entry through the gates of this palace riding in chariots or on horseback, they, their officials and their people.

Jer 22:5 But if you do not listen to these words, then I swear by myself, Yahweh declares, this palace shall become a ruin!

Jer 22:6 "Yes, this is what Yahweh says about the palace of the king of Judah: You are like Gilead to me, like a peak of Lebanon. All the same, I will reduce you to a desert, to uninhabited towns.

Jer 22:7 I dedicate men to destroy you, each man with his weapons; they will cut down your finest cedars and throw them on the fire.

Jer 22:8 "And when many nations pass this city, they will say to one another: Why has Yahweh treated this great city like this?

Jer 22:9 And the answer will be: Because they abandoned the covenant of Yahweh their God to worship other gods and serve them."

Jer 22:10 Do not weep for the man who is dead, do not raise the dirge for him. Weep rather for the one who has gone away, since he will never come back, never see his native land again.

Jer 22:11 For this is what Yahweh has said about Shallum son of Josiah, king of Judah, who succeeded Josiah his father and was forced to leave this place, 'He will never come back to it

Jer 22:12 but will die in the place to which he has been taken captive; and he will never see this country again.

Jer 22:13 'Disaster for the man who builds his house without uprightness, his upstairs rooms without fair judgement, who makes his fellow-man work for nothing, without paying him his wages,

Jer 22:14 who says, "I shall build myself a spacious palace with airy upstairs rooms," who makes windows in it, panels it with cedar, and paints it vermilion.

Jer 22:15 Are you more of a king because of your passion for cedar? Did your father go hungry or thirsty? But he did what is just and upright, so all went well for him.

Jer 22:16 He used to examine the cases of poor and needy, then all went well. Is not that what it means to know me? Yahweh demands.

Jer 22:17 You on the other hand have eyes and heart for nothing but your own interests, for shedding innocent blood and perpetrating violence and oppression.'

Jer 22:18 That is why Yahweh says this about Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah: 'No lamenting for him, "My poor brother! My poor sister!" No lamenting for him, "His poor lordship! His poor majesty!"'

Jer 22:19 He will have a donkey's funeral -- dragged away and thrown out of the gates of Jerusalem.'

Jer 22:20 'Climb the Lebanon range and shriek, raise your voice in Bashan, shriek from the Abarim, for all your lovers have been ruined!

Jer 22:21 I spoke to you in your prosperity, but you said, "I will not listen!" From your youth this has been how you behaved, refusing to listen to my voice.

Jer 22:22 The wind will shepherd all your shepherds away and your lovers will go into captivity. Then you will blush deep with shame at the thought of all your wickedness.

Jer 22:23 You who have made the Lebanon your home and made your nest among the cedars, how you will groan when anguish overtakes you, pangs like those of a woman in labour!

Jer 22:24 'As I live, Yahweh declares, even if Coniah son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, were the signet ring on my right hand, I would still wrench you off!

Jer 22:25 I shall hand you over to those determined to kill you, to those you dread, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, to the Chaldaeans.

Jer 22:26 I shall hurl you and the mother who bore you into another country; you were not born there but you will both die there.

Jer 22:27 They will not return to the country to which they desperately long to return.'

Jer 22:28 Is he a shoddy broken pot, this man Coniah, a crock that no one wants? Why are he and his offspring ejected, hurled into a country they know nothing of?

Jer 22:29 O land, land, land, listen to the word of Yahweh!

Jer 22:30 Yahweh says this, 'List this man as: Childless; a man who made a failure of his life, since none of his offspring will succeed in occupying the throne of David, or ruling in Judah again.'

Jer 23:1 'Disaster for the shepherds who lose and scatter the sheep of my pasture, Yahweh declares.

Jer 23:2 This, therefore, is what Yahweh, God of Israel, says about the shepherds who shepherd my people, "You have scattered my flock, you have driven them away and have not taken care of them. Right, I shall take care of you for your misdeeds, Yahweh declares!

Jer 23:3 But the remnant of my flock I myself shall gather from all the countries where I have driven them, and bring them back to their folds; they will be fruitful and increase in numbers.

Jer 23:4 For them I shall raise up shepherds to shepherd them and pasture them. No fear, no terror for them any more; not one shall be lost, Yahweh declares!

Jer 23:5 Look, the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when I shall raise an upright Branch for David; he will reign as king and be wise, doing what is just and upright in the country.

Jer 23:6 In his days Judah will triumph and Israel live in safety. And this is the name he will be called, 'Yahweh-is-our-Saving-Justice.' "

Jer 23:7 'So, look, the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when people will no longer say, "As Yahweh lives who brought the Israelites out of Egypt,"

Jer 23:8 but, "As Yahweh lives who led back and brought home the offspring of the House of Israel from the land of the north and all the countries to which he had driven them, to live on their own soil."

Jer 23:9 On the prophets. My heart is broken within me, I tremble in all my bones; I am like a drunken man, like a man overcome with wine, because of Yahweh and his holy words:

Jer 23:10 'For the country is full of adulterers; yes, because of a curse, the country is in mourning and the pasturage in the desert has dried up; they are prompt to do wrong, make no effort to do right.

Jer 23:11 Yes, even prophet and priest are godless, I have detected their wickedness in my own House, Yahweh declares.

Jer 23:12 Because of this, their way will prove treacherous going for them; in the darkness where they are driven, there they will fall. For I shall bring disaster on them, when the year for punishing them comes, Yahweh declares.

Jer 23:13 'In the prophets of Samaria I have seen insanity: they prophesied in the name of Baal and led my people Israel astray.

Jer 23:14 But in the prophets of Jerusalem I have seen something horrible: adultery, persistent lying, such abetting of the wicked that no one renounces his wickedness. To me they are all like Sodom and its inhabitants are like Gomorrah.

Jer 23:15 So this is what Yahweh Sabaoth says about the prophets, "Now I shall give them wormwood to eat and make them drink poisoned water, since from the prophets of Jerusalem godlessness has spread throughout the land."

Jer 23:16 'Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "Do not listen to what those prophets prophesy to you; they are deluding you, they retail visions of their own, and not what comes from Yahweh's mouth.

Jer 23:17 To those who despise me, they keep saying: Yahweh has spoken: you will have peace! and to all who follow their own stubborn inclinations: No disaster will touch you."

Jer 23:18 But who has been present in Yahweh's council and seen, and heard his word? Who has paid attention to his word and listened to it?

Jer 23:19 Look, Yahweh's hurricane, his wrath, bursts out, a fearsome hurricane, to burst on the heads of the wicked;

Jer 23:20 Yahweh's anger will not withdraw until he has performed, has carried out, what he has in mind. In the final days, you will understand this clearly,

Jer 23:21 'I did not send these prophets, yet they ran! I did not speak to them, yet they prophesied!

Jer 23:22 Had they been present in my council, they could have proclaimed my words to my people and turned them from their evil way and from the wickedness of their deeds!

Jer 23:23 'Am I a God when near, Yahweh demands, and not a God when far away?

Jer 23:24 Can anyone hide somewhere secret without my seeing him? Yahweh demands. Do I not fill heaven and earth? Yahweh demands.

Jer 23:25 'I have heard what the prophets say who make their lying prophecies in my name. "I have had a dream," they say, "I have had a dream!"'

Jer 23:26 How long are there to be those among the prophets who prophesy lies and are in fact prophets of their own delusions?

Jer 23:27 They are doing their best, by means of the dreams that they keep telling each other, to make my people forget my name, just as their ancestors forgot my name in favour of Baal.

Jer 23:28 Let the prophet who has had a dream tell it for a dream! And let him who receives a word from me, deliver my word accurately! 'What have straw and wheat in common? Yahweh demands.

Jer 23:29 Is my word not like fire, Yahweh demands, is it not like a hammer shattering a rock?

Jer 23:30 'So, then, I have a quarrel with the prophets, Yahweh declares, that steal my words from one another.

Jer 23:31 I have a quarrel with the prophets, Yahweh declares, who wag their tongues to utter prophecies.

Jer 23:32 I have a quarrel with the prophets who make prophecies out of lying dreams, Yahweh declares, who recount them, and lead my people astray by their lies and their bragging. I certainly never sent them or commissioned them, and they serve no good purpose for this people, Yahweh declares.

Jer 23:33 'And when this people, or a prophet, or a priest, asks you, "What is Yahweh's burden?" you must answer, "You are the burden, and I shall get rid of you, Yahweh declares!"

Jer 23:34 'As for the prophet, the priest, or anyone else, who says, "Yahweh's burden", I shall punish that man, and his household too.

Jer 23:35 This is what you must say to one another, among yourselves, "What answer has Yahweh given?" or "What has Yahweh said?"

Jer 23:36 But stop using the expression "Yahweh's burden", for what each man says will be his own responsibility. And you twist the words of the living God, of Yahweh Sabaoth, our God.

Jer 23:37 This is the way to speak to a prophet, "What answer has Yahweh given?" or "What has Yahweh said?"

Jer 23:38 But if you say, "Yahweh's burden", then Yahweh says this, "Since you use the expression 'Yahweh's burden', when I have warned you to stop saying, 'Yahweh's burden',

Jer 23:39 believe me, I shall pick you up and fling you from my presence, you and the city I gave to you and to your ancestors.'

Jer 23:40 I shall bring down everlasting shame on you, everlasting and unforgettable disgrace."

Jer 24:1 Yahweh gave me a vision: set out in front of the Temple of Yahweh were two baskets of figs. This was after Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had led Jeconiah son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, away into exile from Jerusalem, with the chief men of Judah, the blacksmiths and metalworkers, and had taken them to Babylon.

Jer 24:2 One basket contained excellent figs, like those that ripen first; the other contained very bad figs, so bad they were uneatable.

Jer 24:3 Yahweh said to me, 'What do you see, Jeremiah?' 'Figs,' I answered, 'the good ones excellent, the bad ones very bad, so bad as to be uneatable.'

Jer 24:4 Then the word of Yahweh was addressed to me,

Jer 24:5 'Yahweh, the God of Israel, says this, "As these figs are good, so I mean to concern myself with the welfare of the exiles of Judah whom I have sent from this place to the country of the Chaldaeans.

Jer 24:6 My eyes will watch over them for their good, to bring them back to this country, to build them up and not to break them down, to plant them and not to uproot them.

Jer 24:7 I shall give them a heart to acknowledge that I am Yahweh. They will be my people and I shall be their God, for they will return to me with all their heart.

Jer 24:8 As for the bad figs, the figs so bad as to be uneatable--yes, Yahweh says this -- that is how I shall treat Zedekiah king of Judah, his chief men and what is left of Jerusalem, those who remain in this country and those living in Egypt.

Jer 24:9 I shall make them an object of horror, a disaster, to all the kingdoms of the earth, a thing of shame, a byword, a laughing-stock, a curse, wherever I shall drive them.

Jer 24:10 Sword, famine and plague I shall send against them until they have vanished from the soil I gave to them and to their ancestors."

Jer 25:1 The word that was addressed to Jeremiah about all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah (that is to say the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon).

Jer 25:2 The prophet Jeremiah proclaimed it before all the people of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem:

Jer 25:3 'For twenty-three years, from the thirteenth year of Josiah son of Amon, king of Judah, until today, the word of Yahweh has been addressed to me and I have never tired of speaking to you (but you have not listened.

Jer 25:4 Furthermore, Yahweh has untiringly sent you all his servants the prophets, but you have not listened or paid attention).

Jer 25:5 The message was this, "Turn back, each one of you, from your evil behaviour and your evil actions, and you will go on living on the soil Yahweh long ago gave to you and your ancestors for ever.

Jer 25:6 (And do not follow other gods to serve and worship them, do not provoke me with things you yourselves have made, and then I shall not harm you.)

Jer 25:7 But you have not listened to me (Yahweh declares, so that you have now provoked me with things you yourselves have made, and thus harmed yourselves)."

Jer 25:8 'So-this is what Yahweh Sabaoth says, "Since you have not listened to my words, Jer 25:9 I shall now send for all the families of the north (Yahweh declares, that is, for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, my servant) and bring them down on this country and its inhabitants (and on all these surrounding nations); I shall curse them with utter destruction and make them an object of horror, of scorn, and ruin them for ever.

Jer 25:10 From them I shall banish the shouts of rejoicing and mirth, the voices of bridegroom and bride, the sound of the handmill and the light of the lamp;

Jer 25:11 and this whole country will be reduced to ruin and desolation, and these nations will be enslaved to the king of Babylon for seventy years.

Jer 25:12 (But when the seventy years are over, I shall punish the king of Babylon and that nation, Yahweh declares, for the wrong they have done, that is, the country of the Chaldaeans, and make it desolate for ever),
Jer 25:13 and against that country I shall perform all the words with which I have threatened it, that is, everything written in this book."

Jer 25:14 What Jeremiah prophesied against all the nations. ('For these in their turn are to be enslaved to powerful nations and great kings, and I shall pay them back as their deeds and handiwork deserve.'

Jer 25:15 For Yahweh, the God of Israel, said this to me, 'Take this cup of the wine of wrath and make all the nations to whom I send you drink it;

Jer 25:16 they will drink and reel and lose their wits, because of the sword I am sending among them.'

Jer 25:17 I took the cup from Yahweh's hand and made all the nations to whom Yahweh sent me drink it

Jer 25:18 (Jerusalem and the towns of Judah, its kings and its chief men, to make them a ruin, an object of horror and derision and a curse, as is the case today):

Jer 25:19 Pharaoh king of Egypt, his officials, his chief men and all his people,

Jer 25:20 with the whole conglomeration of peoples there (all the kings of the country of Uz); all the kings of the country of the Philistines, Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron and what is still left of Ashdod;

Jer 25:21 Edom, Moab and the Ammonites;

Jer 25:22 (all) the kings of Tyre, (all) the kings of Sidon, the kings of the island across the sea;

Jer 25:23 Dedan, Tema, Buz, all the people with shaven temples;

Jer 25:24 all the kings of Arabia (and all the kings of the conglomeration of peoples) who live in the desert

Jer 25:25 (all the kings of Zimri), all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of Media;

Jer 25:26 all the kings of the north, near and far, one after another: in short, all the kingdoms on the face of the earth. (As for the king of Sheshak, he will drink last of all.)

Jer 25:27 'You will say to them, "Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this: Drink! Get drunk! Vomit! Fall, never to rise again, before the sword that I am sending among you!"'

Jer 25:28 If they refuse to take the cup from your hand and drink, you will say to them, "Yahweh Sabaoth says this: You must drink!

Jer 25:29 Look, for a start, I am bringing disaster on the city that bears my name, so are you likely to go unpunished? You certainly will not go unpunished, for next I shall summon a sword against all the inhabitants of the land, Yahweh declares."

Jer 25:30 'For your part, you are to prophesy all these words to them. Say to them: "Yahweh roars from on high, he thunders from his holy dwelling-place, loudly he roars at his own fold, shouts aloud like those who tread the grape at all the inhabitants of the land.

Jer 25:31 The noise resounds to the remotest parts of the earth. For Yahweh is indicting the nations, arraigning all humanity for judgement; the wicked he assigns to the sword, Yahweh declares.

Jer 25:32 Yahweh Sabaoth says this: Look, disaster is spreading from nation to nation, a mighty tempest is rising from the far ends of the earth.

Jer 25:33 "Those slaughtered by Yahweh that day will be scattered across the world from end to end. No dirge will be raised for them; no one will gather them or bury them; they will stay lying on the surface like dung.

Jer 25:34 "Howl, shepherds, shriek, roll on the ground, you lords of the flock, for your days have come to be slaughtered and to be scattered, and like a choice vase you will fall.

Jer 25:35 No refuge then for the shepherds, no escape for the lords of the flock!

Jer 25:36 Listen! A shriek from the shepherds, a howl from the lords of the flock! For Yahweh has laid their pasture waste, Jer 25:37 the peaceful sheepfolds are reduced to silence owing to Yahweh's furious anger.

Jer 25:38 The lion has left his lair and their country is a wasteland now, owing to the devastating fury, owing to his furious anger."

Jer 26:1 At the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from Yahweh, Jer 26:2 'Yahweh says this, "Stand in the court of the Temple of Yahweh. To all the people from the towns of Judah who come to worship in the Temple of Yahweh you will say everything I have ordered you to say, not omitting one syllable.

Jer 26:3 Perhaps they will listen and each turn from his evil way: if so, I shall relent and not bring the disaster on them which I intend because of their misdeeds."

Jer 26:4 Say to them, "Yahweh says this: If you will not listen to me and follow my Law which I have given you, Jer 26:5 and pay attention to the words of my servants the prophets whom I have never tired of sending to you, although you never have paid attention, Jer 26:6 I shall treat this Temple as I treated Shiloh, and make this city a curse for all the nations of the world."

Jer 26:7 The priests and prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah say these words in the Temple of Yahweh.

Jer 26:8 When Jeremiah had finished saying everything that Yahweh had ordered him to say to all the people, the priests and prophets and all the people seized hold of him and said, 'You will die for this!

Jer 26:9 Why have you made this prophecy in Yahweh's name, "This Temple will become like Shiloh, and this city become an uninhabited ruin"?' And the people all crowded in on Jeremiah in the Temple of Yahweh.

Jer 26:10 Hearing of this, the chief men of Judah came up from the royal palace to the Temple of Yahweh and took their seats at the entry of the New Gate of the Temple of Yahweh.

Jer 26:11 The priests and prophets then said to the chief men and all the people, 'This man deserves to die, since he has prophesied against this city, as you have heard with your own ears.'

Jer 26:12 Jeremiah, however, replied to all the chief men and all the people as follows, 'Yahweh himself sent me to prophesy against this Temple and this city all the things you have heard.

Jer 26:13 So now amend your behaviour and actions, listen to the voice of Yahweh your God, and Yahweh will relent about the disaster that he has decreed for you.

Jer 26:14 For myself, I am, as you see, in your hands. Do whatever you please or think right with me.

Jer 26:15 But be sure of this, that if you put me to death, you will be bringing innocent blood on yourselves, on this city and on its inhabitants, since Yahweh has truly sent me to you to say all this for you to hear.'

Jer 26:16 The chief men and all the people then said to the priests and prophets, 'This man does not deserve to die: he has spoken to us in the name of Yahweh our God.'

Jer 26:17 And some of the country's elders rose to address all the assembled people.

Jer 26:18 'Micah of Moresheth,' they said, 'who prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, had this to say to all the people of Judah, "Yahweh Sabaoth says this: Zion will become ploughland, Jerusalem a heap of rubble and the Temple Mount a wooded height."

Jer 26:19 'Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him to death for this? Did they not rather, fearing Yahweh, plead with him, to such effect that Yahweh relented about the disaster which he had decreed for them? Are we now to burden our souls with such a crime?'

Jer 26:20 There was another man, too, who used to prophesy in Yahweh's name, Uriah son of Shemaiah, from Kiriath-Jearim. He prophesied exactly the same things against this city and this country as Jeremiah.

Jer 26:21 When King Jehoiakim with all his officers and all the chief men heard what he said, the king was determined to put him to death. On hearing this, Uriah took fright and, fleeing, escaped to Egypt.

Jer 26:22 King Jehoiakim, however, sent Elnathan son of Achbor to Egypt with others,

Jer 26:23 who brought Uriah back from Egypt and took him to King Jehoiakim, who had him put to the sword and his body thrown into the common burial ground.

Jer 26:24 But Jeremiah had a protector in Ahikam son of Shaphan, so he was not handed over to the people to be put to death.

Jer 27:1 (At the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from Yahweh:)

Jer 27:2 Yahweh said this to me, 'Make yourself thongs and yokes and put them on your neck.

Jer 27:3 Then send them to the king of Edom, the king of Moab, the king of the Ammonites, the king of Tyre, and the king of Sidon, through their envoys accredited to Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem.

Jer 27:4 Give them the following message for their masters, "Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this: You must tell your masters this:

Jer 27:5 I by my great power and outstretched arm made the earth, the human beings and the animals that are on earth, and I give them to whom I please.

Jer 27:6 For the present, I have handed all these countries over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, my servant; I have even put the wild animals at his service.

Jer 27:7 (All the nations will serve him, his son and his grandson, until the time for his own country comes in its turn, when mighty nations and great kings will enslave him.)

Jer 27:8 Any nation or kingdom that will not serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and will not bow its neck to the yoke of the king of Babylon, I shall punish that nation with sword, famine and plague, Yahweh declares, until I have destroyed it by his hand.

Jer 27:9 For your own part, do not listen to your prophets, your diviners, dreamers, magicians and sorcerers, who tell you: You will not be enslaved by the king of Babylon.

Jer 27:10 They prophesy lies to you, the result of which will be that you will be banished from your soil, that I shall drive you out, and you will perish.

Jer 27:11 The nation, however, that is prepared to bend its neck to the yoke of the king of Babylon and serve him, I shall leave in peace on its own soil, Yahweh declares, to farm it and stay on it." '

Jer 27:12 To Zedekiah king of Judah I spoke in exactly the same terms. 'Bend your necks', I told him, 'to the yoke of the king of Babylon; serve him and his people and you will survive.'

Jer 27:13 (Why so anxious to die, you and your people, by sword, famine and plague, with which Yahweh has threatened the nation refusing to serve the king of Babylon?)

Jer 27:14 Do not listen to the words the prophets say to you, "You will not be enslaved by the king of Babylon." They prophesy lies to you.

Jer 27:15 Since I have not sent them, Yahweh declares, they prophesy untruths to you in my name. The result will be that I shall drive you out, you will perish, and so will the prophets who prophesy to you.'

Jer 27:16 I also spoke to the priests and to all this people as follows, 'Yahweh says this, "Do not listen to the words of your prophets who prophesy to you as follows: Look, the vessels of the Temple of Yahweh will very shortly be brought back from Babylon. They prophesy lies to you.'

Jer 27:17 (Do not listen to them; serve the king of Babylon and you will survive. Why should this city become a ruin?)

Jer 27:18 If they are real prophets, if Yahweh's word is really with them, they ought now to be pleading with Yahweh Sabaoth that the remaining vessels in the Temple of Yahweh, in the palace of the king of Judah and elsewhere in Jerusalem, do not go to Babylon too!

Jer 27:19 For this is what Yahweh Sabaoth says about (the pillars, the Sea, the stands and) the other vessels still remaining in this city,

Jer 27:20 those not carried off by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon when he took Jeconiah son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon (with all the leading men of Judah and Jerusalem).

Jer 27:21 Yes, this is what Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says about the vessels still remaining in the Temple of Yahweh, in the palace of the king of Judah and elsewhere in Jerusalem:

Jer 27:22 They will be carried off to Babylon (and stay there until the day I punish them), Yahweh declares. (Then I shall bring them back and restore them to this place.)"

Jer 28:1 That same year, at the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fifth month of the fourth year, the prophet Hananiah son of Azzur, a Gibeonite, spoke as follows to Jeremiah in the Temple of Yahweh in the presence of the priests and of all the people, Jer 28:2 'Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this, "I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.

Jer 28:3 In exactly two years' time I shall bring back all the vessels of the Temple of Yahweh which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from here and carried off to Babylon.

Jer 28:4 And I shall also bring back Jeconiah son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah and all the exiles of Judah who have gone to Babylon, Yahweh declares, for I shall break the yoke of the king of Babylon."

Jer 28:5 The prophet Jeremiah then replied to the prophet Hananiah in front of the priests and all the people present in the Temple of Yahweh.

Jer 28:6 'So be it!' the prophet Jeremiah said, 'May Yahweh do so! May he fulfil the words that you have prophesied and bring all the vessels of the Temple of Yahweh and all the exiles back to this place from Babylon.

Jer 28:7 Listen carefully, however, to this word that I am now going to say for you and all the people to hear:

Jer 28:8 From remote times, the prophets who preceded you and me prophesied war, disaster and plague for many countries and for great kingdoms;

Jer 28:9 the prophet who prophesies peace can be recognised as one truly sent by Yahweh only when his word comes true.'

Jer 28:10 The prophet Hananiah then snatched the yoke off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah and broke it.

Jer 28:11 In front of all the people Hananiah then said, 'Yahweh says this, "This is how, in exactly two years' time, I shall break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and take it off the necks of all the nations." ' At this, the prophet Jeremiah went away.

Jer 28:12 After the prophet Hananiah had broken the yoke he had snatched off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, the word of Yahweh came to Jeremiah,

Jer 28:13 'Go to Hananiah and tell him this, "Yahweh says this: You have broken the wooden yokes only to make iron yokes to replace them!"

Jer 28:14 For Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this: An iron yoke is what I now lay on the necks of all these nations to enslave them to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. (They will be enslaved to him; I have even given him the wild animals.)"

Jer 28:15 The prophet Jeremiah said to the prophet Hananiah, 'Listen carefully, Hananiah: Yahweh has not sent you; and thanks to you this people is now relying on what is false.'

Jer 28:16 And so, Yahweh says this, "I am going to send you off the face of the earth: you will die this year (since you have preached rebellion against Yahweh)."

Jer 28:17 The prophet Hananiah died the same year, in the seventh month.

Jer 29:1 This is the text of the letter that the prophet Jeremiah sent from Jerusalem to those who were left of the elders in exile, to the priests, the prophets and all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had deported from Jerusalem to Babylon.

Jer 29:2 This was after King Jeconiah had left Jerusalem with the queen mother, the eunuchs, the chief men of Judah and Jerusalem, and the blacksmiths and metalworkers.

Jer 29:3 The letter was entrusted to Elasar son of Shaphan and to Gemariah son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah had sent to Babylon, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. The letter said:

Jer 29:4 'Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this to all the exiles deported from Jerusalem to Babylon:

Jer 29:5 Build houses, settle down; plant gardens and eat what they produce;

Jer 29:6 marry and have sons and daughters; choose wives for your sons, find husbands for your daughters so that these can bear sons and daughters in their turn; you must increase there and not decrease.

Jer 29:7 Work for the good of the city to which I have exiled you; pray to Yahweh on its behalf, since on its welfare yours depends.

Jer 29:8 For Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this: Do not be deceived by the prophets who are with you or by your diviners; do not listen to the dreams you have,

Jer 29:9 since they prophesy lies to you in my name. I have not sent them, Yahweh declares.

Jer 29:10 For Yahweh says this: When the seventy years granted to Babylon are over, I shall intervene on your behalf and fulfil my favourable promise to you by bringing you back to this place.

Jer 29:11 Yes, I know what plans I have in mind for you, Yahweh declares, plans for peace, not for disaster, to give you a future and a hope.

Jer 29:12 When you call to me and come and pray to me, I shall listen to you.

Jer 29:13 When you search for me, you will find me; when you search wholeheartedly for me,

Jer 29:14 I shall let you find me (Yahweh declares. I shall restore your fortunes and gather you in from all the nations and wherever I have driven you, Yahweh declares. I shall bring you back to the place from which I exiled you).

Jer 29:15 'Since you say: Yahweh has raised up prophets for us in Babylon-

Jer 29:16 this is what Yahweh says about the king now occupying the throne of David and all the people living in this city, your brothers who did not go with you into exile:

Jer 29:17 Yahweh Sabaoth says this: I am now going to send them sword, famine and plague; I shall make them like rotten figs, so bad as to be uneatable.

Jer 29:18 I shall pursue them with sword, famine and plague. I shall make them an object of terror to all the kingdoms of the earth, a curse, a thing of horror, scorn and derision to all the nations where I have driven them,

Jer 29:19 because they have refused to listen to my words, Yahweh declares, although I have persistently sent them all my servants the prophets; but they would not listen, Yahweh declares.

Jer 29:20 But all you exiles, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon, listen to Yahweh's word!

Jer 29:21 'This is what Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says about Ahab son of Kolaiah, and Zedekiah son of Maaseiah, who prophesy lies to you in my name: I shall hand them over now to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon who will put them to death before your very eyes.

Jer 29:22 This curse, based on their fate, will be used by all the exiles of Judah in Babylon: May Yahweh treat you like Zedekiah and Ahab, roasted alive by the king of Babylon,

Jer 29:23 because they have done a scandalous thing in Israel, committing adultery with their neighbour's wives and speaking lying words in my name without orders from me. I know all the same and am witness to it, Yahweh declares.'

Jer 29:24 'And to Shemaiah of Nehelam you will speak as follows:

Jer 29:25 Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this: Since you, on your own initiative, have sent a letter to all the people in Jerusalem, to the priest Zephaniah son of Maaseiah (and to all the priests), saying:

Jer 29:26 Yahweh has appointed you priest in place of the priest Jehoiada to keep order in the Temple of Yahweh, to put any crazy fellow posing as a prophet in the stocks and collar,

Jer 29:27 why then have you not disciplined Jeremiah of Anathoth, now posing as a prophet to you?

Jer 29:28 Why, he has even sent us a message in Babylon, saying: It will be a long time. Build houses, settle down; plant gardens and eat what they produce.'

Jer 29:29 (Now, after the priest Zephaniah had read this letter to the prophet Jeremiah),

Jer 29:30 the word of Yahweh came then to Jeremiah as follows,

Jer 29:31 'Send this message to all the exiles, "This is what Yahweh says about Shemaiah of Nehelam: Since Shemaiah has prophesied to you without my sending him, and since he has caused you to rely on what is false for that reason, Yahweh declares, I shall punish Shemaiah of Nehelam and his descendants; no male member of his family will survive among this people to see the happiness that I will bestow on my people (Yahweh declares, since he has preached rebellion against Yahweh)."

Jer 30:1 The word which came to Jeremiah from Yahweh, as follows,

Jer 30:2 'Yahweh, God of Israel, says this, "Write for yourself in a book all the words I have spoken to you.

Jer 30:3 For look, the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when I shall bring back the captives of my people Israel (and Judah), Yahweh says. I shall make them come back and take possession of the country I gave to their ancestors."

Jer 30:4 These are the words Yahweh spoke about Israel (and Judah):

Jer 30:5 Yahweh says this: We have heard a cry of panic, of terror, not of peace.

Jer 30:6 Now ask and see: can a man bear children? Then why do I see each man with his hands on his loins like a woman in labour? Why has every face grown pale?

Jer 30:7 Disaster! This is the great day, no other like it: a time of distress for Jacob, though he will be saved from it.

Jer 30:8 (That day, Yahweh Sabaoth declares, I shall break the yoke now on your neck and snap your chains; and foreigners will enslave you no more, Jer 30:9 but Israel and Judah will serve Yahweh their God, and David their king whom I shall raise up for them.)

Jer 30:10 So do not be afraid, my servant Jacob, Yahweh declares, Israel, do not be alarmed: for look, I shall rescue you from distant countries and your descendants from the country where they are captive. Jacob will return and be at peace, secure, with no one to trouble him.

Jer 30:11 For I am with you to save you, Yahweh declares, I shall make an end of all the nations where I have driven you, but I shall not make an end of you, only discipline you in moderation, not to let you go quite unpunished.

Jer 30:12 Yes, Yahweh says this: Your wound is incurable, your injury past healing.

Jer 30:13 There is no one to plead your cause; for an ulcer there are remedies, but for you no cure at all.

Jer 30:14 All your lovers have forgotten you, they look for you no more. Yes, I have struck you as an enemy strikes, with cruel punishment (because of your great guilt and countless sins).

Jer 30:15 Why cry out because of your wound? Your pain is incurable! Because of your great guilt and countless sins, I have treated you like this.

Jer 30:16 But all those who devoured you will be devoured, all your enemies, all, go into captivity, those who despoiled you will be despoiled, and all who pillaged you be pillaged.

Jer 30:17 For I shall restore you to health and heal your wounds, Yahweh declares, you who used to be called 'Outcast', 'Zion for whom no one cares'.

Jer 30:18 Yahweh says this: Look, I shall restore the tents of Jacob and take pity on his dwellings: the town will be rebuilt on its mound, the stronghold where it ought to stand.

Jer 30:19 From them will come thanksgiving and shouts of joy. I shall make them increase, they will not decrease; I shall make them honoured, no more to be humbled.

Jer 30:20 Their sons will be as once they were, their community fixed firmly before me, and I shall punish all their oppressors.

Jer 30:21 Their prince will be one of their own, their ruler come from their own people, and I shall permit him to approach me freely; for who, otherwise, would be so bold as to approach me, Yahweh demands?

Jer 30:22 You will be my people and I shall be your God.

Jer 30:23 Look, Yahweh's hurricane, his wrath, bursts out, a roaring hurricane, to burst on the heads of the wicked;

Jer 30:24 Yahweh's burning anger will not turn aside until he has performed, has carried out, what he has in mind. In the final days, you will understand this.

Jer 31:1 When that time comes, Yahweh declares, I shall be the God of all the families of Israel, and they will be my people.

Jer 31:2 Yahweh says this: They have found pardon in the desert, those who have survived the sword. Israel is marching to his rest.

Jer 31:3 Yahweh has appeared to me from afar; I have loved you with an everlasting love and so I still maintain my faithful love for you.

Jer 31:4 I shall build you once more, yes, you will be rebuilt, Virgin of Israel! Once more in your best attire, and with your tambourines, you will go out dancing gaily.

Jer 31:5 Once more you will plant vineyards on the mountains of Samaria (those who plant will themselves enjoy the fruit).

Jer 31:6 Yes, a day will come when the watchmen shout on the mountains of Ephraim, 'Up! Let us go up to Zion, to Yahweh our God!'

Jer 31:7 For Yahweh says this: Shout with joy for Jacob! Hail the chief of nations! Proclaim! Praise! Shout, 'Yahweh has saved his people, the remnant of Israel!'

Jer 31:8 Watch, I shall bring them back from the land of the north and gather them in from the far ends of the earth. With them, the blind and the lame, women with child, women in labour, all together: a mighty throng will return here!

Jer 31:9 In tears they will return, in prayer I shall lead them. I shall guide them to streams of water, by a smooth path where they will not stumble. For I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first-born son.

Jer 31:10 Listen, nations, to the word of Yahweh. On the farthest coasts and islands proclaim it, say, 'He who scattered Israel is gathering him, will guard him as a shepherd guarding his flock.'

Jer 31:11 For Yahweh has ransomed Jacob, rescued him from a hand stronger than his own.

Jer 31:12 They will come, shouting for joy on the heights of Zion, thronging towards Yahweh's lavish gifts, for wheat, new wine and oil, sheep and cattle; they will be like a well-watered garden, they will sorrow no more.

Jer 31:13 The young girl will then take pleasure in the dance, and young men and old alike; I shall change their mourning into gladness, comfort them, give them joy after their troubles;

Jer 31:14 I shall refresh my priests with rich food, and my people will gorge themselves on my lavish gifts, Yahweh declares.

Jer 31:15 Yahweh says this: A voice is heard in Ramah, lamenting and weeping bitterly: it is Rachel weeping for her children, refusing to be comforted for her children, because they are no more.

Jer 31:16 Yahweh says this: Stop your lamenting dry your eyes, for your labour will have a reward, Yahweh declares, and they will return from the enemy's country.

Jer 31:17 There is hope for your future after all, Yahweh declares, your children will return to their homeland.

Jer 31:18 I have indeed heard Ephraim's grieving, 'You flogged me, I took a flogging, like a young, untrained bull. Bring me back, let me come back, for you are Yahweh my God!'

Jer 31:19 For, since I turned away, I have repented; having understood, I beat my breast. I was deeply ashamed, I blushed, aware of the disgrace incurred when I was young.'

Jer 31:20 Is Ephraim, then, so dear a son to me, a child so favoured, that whenever I mention him I remember him lovingly still? That is why I yearn for him, why I must take pity on him, Yahweh declares.

Jer 31:21 Set up your signposts, raise yourself landmarks, fix your mind on the road, the way by which you went. Come home, Virgin of Israel, come home to these towns of yours.

Jer 31:22 How long will you hesitate, rebellious daughter? For Yahweh is creating something new on earth: the Woman sets out to find her Husband again.

Jer 31:23 Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this, 'In the country of Judah and in its towns, they will use these words once more, when I bring their captives home: "Yahweh bless you, home of saving justice, holy mountain!"'

Jer 31:24 'And in this country, Judah and all its towns, the ploughmen and those who wander with their flocks, will live together,

Jer 31:25 for I shall give the weary all they need and satisfy all those whose strength has gone.'

Jer 31:26 At this, I awoke and saw that my sleep had been sweet to me.

Jer 31:27 'Look, the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when I shall sow the House of Israel and the House of Judah with the seed both of people and of cattle.

Jer 31:28 And as I once watched over them to uproot, to knock down, to overthrow, destroy and bring disaster, so now I shall watch over them to build and to plant, Yahweh declares.

Jer 31:29 'In those days people will no longer say: "The fathers have eaten unripe grapes; the children's teeth are set on edge."

Jer 31:30 But each will die for his own guilt. Everyone who eats unripe grapes will have his own teeth set on edge.

Jer 31:31 'Look, the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when I shall make a new covenant with the House of Israel (and the House of Judah), Jer 31:32 but not like the covenant I made with their ancestors the day I took them by the hand to bring them out of Egypt, a covenant which they broke, even though I was their Master, Yahweh declares.

Jer 31:33 No, this is the covenant I shall make with the House of Israel when those days have come, Yahweh declares. Within them I shall plant my Law, writing it on their hearts. Then I shall be their God and they will be my people.

Jer 31:34 There will be no further need for everyone to teach neighbour or brother, saying, "Learn to know Yahweh!" No, they will all know me, from the least to the greatest, Yahweh declares, since I shall forgive their guilt and never more call their sin to mind.'

Jer 31:35 Yahweh who provides the sun to shine by day, who regulates moon and stars to shine by night, who stirs the sea, making its waves roar, he whose name is Yahweh Sabaoth, says this,

Jer 31:36 'Were this established order ever to pass away before me, Yahweh declares, then the race of Israel would also cease being a nation for ever before me!'

Jer 31:37 Yahweh says this, 'Were the heavens above ever to be measured, the foundations of the earth below ever to be fathomed, then I too would reject the whole race of Israel for all that they have done, Yahweh declares.'

Jer 31:38 'Look, the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when the City will be rebuilt for Yahweh, from the Tower of Hananel to the Corner Gate.

Jer 31:39 Then once again the measuring line will stretch straight to the Hill of Gareb, turning then to Goah.
Jer 31:40 And the whole valley, with its corpses and ashes, and all the ground beside the ravine of the Kidron as far as the corner of the Horse Gate, eastwards, will be consecrated to Yahweh. It will never be destroyed or demolished again.

Jer 32:1 The word that came to Jeremiah from Yahweh in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar.

Jer 32:2 The army of the king of Babylon was then besieging Jerusalem, and the prophet Jeremiah was confined in the Court of the Guard in the king of Judah's palace,

Jer 32:3 where Zedekiah king of Judah had confined him, saying, 'Why do you keep prophesying like this, "Yahweh says this: I am going to hand this city over to the king of Babylon and he will capture it;

Jer 32:4 and Zedekiah king of Judah will not escape the clutches of the Chaldaeans, but will certainly be handed over to the king of Babylon, speak to him personally and see him face to face.

Jer 32:5 He will take Zedekiah away to Babylon and there he will stay (until I attend to him, Yahweh declares. If you fight the Chaldaeans you will not succeed!)"'

Jer 32:6 Jeremiah said, 'The word of Yahweh has been addressed to me as follows,

Jer 32:7 "Look, Hanamel the son of your uncle Shallum will come to you and say: Buy my field at Anathoth, for you have the right of redemption to purchase it."

Jer 32:8 And, as Yahweh had said, my cousin Hanamel came to me, in the Court of the Guard and said, "Buy my field at Anathoth in the territory of Benjamin, for you have the right of inheritance and right of redemption; buy it." I knew then that this was Yahweh's order.

Jer 32:9 Accordingly, I bought the field from my cousin Hanamel of Anathoth and weighed him out the money: seventeen silver shekels.

Jer 32:10 I drew up the deeds and sealed it, called in witnesses and weighed out the money on the scales.

Jer 32:11 I then took both the sealed deed of purchase (with its stipulations and clauses) and its open copy

Jer 32:12 and handed over the deed of purchase to Baruch son of Neriah, son of Mahseiah, in the presence of my cousin Hanamel, of the witnesses who had signed the deed of purchase, and of all the Judaeans who then happened to be in the Court of the Guard.

Jer 32:13 In their presence I gave Baruch this order,

Jer 32:14 "Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this: Take these deeds, the sealed deed of purchase and its open copy, and put them in an earthenware pot, so that they may be preserved for a long time.

Jer 32:15 For Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this: Houses, fields and vineyards will again be bought in this country."

Jer 32:16 'After I had entrusted the deed of purchase to Baruch son of Neriah, I prayed to Yahweh as follows,

Jer 32:17 "Ah, Lord Yahweh, you made the heavens and the earth by your great power and outstretched arm. To you nothing is impossible.

Jer 32:18 You show faithful love to thousands but repay the fathers' guilt in full to their children after them. Great and mighty God, whose name is Yahweh Sabaoth, Jer 32:19 great in purpose, mighty in deed, whose eyes are open on all human ways, rewarding every individual as that person's ways and actions deserve!

Jer 32:20 You performed signs and wonders in Egypt, as you still do in Israel and among humanity today. You have won the name for yourself which is yours today.

Jer 32:21 You brought your people Israel out of Egypt with signs and wonders, with mighty hand and outstretched arm and fearsome terror.

Jer 32:22 Then you gave them this country which you had promised on oath to their ancestors, a country flowing with milk and honey.

Jer 32:23 They then entered it, taking possession of it, but they would not listen to your voice nor follow your Law: they would do nothing you ordered them to do; and so you made this total disaster befall them.

Jer 32:24 Look! The earthworks are already in place to take the city and, by means of sword, famine and plague, the city is now within the clutches of the Chaldaeans attacking it. What you said has now come true, as you see.

Jer 32:25 Yet you yourself, Lord Yahweh, told me: Buy the field, pay for it, have it witnessed although the city is already in the Chaldaeans' clutches."

Jer 32:26 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Jer 32:27 'Look, I am Yahweh, God of all humanity. Is anything impossible to me?

Jer 32:28 'So, Yahweh says this, "I shall hand this city over to the Chaldaeans and to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he will capture it;

Jer 32:29 the Chaldaeans attacking this city will enter it, fire it and burn it to the ground, with the houses on whose roofs incense has been offered to Baal and libations poured to other gods, to provoke my anger.

Jer 32:30 For the people of Israel and Judah alike have done nothing but what displeases me since they were young. (The people of Israel in fact have done nothing but provoke my anger by their actions, Yahweh declares.)

Jer 32:31 Yes, from the day when this city was built until today, it has been such cause of anger and wrath to me that I mean to remove it from my sight,

Jer 32:32 on account of all the wickedness the people of Israel and the people of Judah have done to provoke my anger; they, their kings, their chief men, their priests, their prophets, the people of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

Jer 32:33 They turned to me their backs, never their faces; and though I taught them so urgently, so untiringly, they would not listen and accept correction.

Jer 32:34 Instead, they set up their Horrors in the Temple that bears my name to defile it,

Jer 32:35 and built the high places of Baal in the Valley of Ben-Hinnom, to burn their sons and daughters alive in honour of Molech: a thing I have never ordered, that had never entered my thoughts -- that they would cause Judah to sin by anything so loathsome!

Jer 32:36 "So now, this is what Yahweh, God of Israel, says about this city of which you now say: By means of sword, famine and plague, it is already within the king of Babylon's clutches:

Jer 32:37 Look, I shall gather them in from all the countries where I have driven them in my anger, my fury and great wrath. I shall bring them back to this place and make them live in safety.

Jer 32:38 Then they will be my people, and I shall be their God.

Jer 32:39 I shall give them singleness of heart and singleness of conduct so that they will always fear me, for their own good and that of their children after them.

Jer 32:40 I shall make an everlasting covenant with them, never to cease in my efforts for their welfare, and I shall put respect for me in their hearts, so that they will never turn away from me again.

Jer 32:41 My joy will lie in them and in doing them good, and I shall plant them firmly in this country, with all my heart and soul.

Jer 32:42 For Yahweh says this: Just as I have brought this complete and total disaster on this people, so I shall bring them all the good things I have promised them.

Jer 32:43 Fields will again be bought in this country of which you now say: It is a wasteland without human or animal, already in the clutches of the Chaldaeans.

Jer 32:44 People will buy fields, pay money, draw up deeds, seal them and have them witnessed in the territory of Benjamin, in the districts round Jerusalem, in the towns of Judah, of the highlands, of the lowlands and of the Negeb. For I shall bring back their captives, Yahweh declares."

Jer 33:1 Jeremiah was still confined to the Court of the Guard when the word of Yahweh came to him a second time, as follows,

Jer 33:2 'Yahweh who made the earth, who formed it and set it firm -- Yahweh is his name -- says this,
Jer 33:3 "Call to me and I will answer you; I will tell you great secrets of which you know nothing.

Jer 33:4 For this is what Yahweh, God of Israel, says about the houses of this city and the palaces of the kings of Judah which are about to be destroyed by means of the earthworks and the sword;

Jer 33:5 about those now fighting the Chaldaeans, only to fill the city with corpses, those whom I have slaughtered in my furious anger, those whose wickedness has made me hide my face from this city:

Jer 33:6 Look, I shall bring them remedy and cure; I shall cure them and reveal a new order of peace and loyalty to them.

Jer 33:7 I shall bring back the captives of Judah and the captives of Israel and shall rebuild them as before.

Jer 33:8 I shall cleanse them of all their guilt, by which they have offended me, I shall forgive all their guilty actions, by which they have offended me and rebelled against me.

Jer 33:9 And, for me, Jerusalem will become a name of joy and praise and pride for all the nations on earth to see; when they hear of all the prosperity that I shall give, they will be seized with fear and trembling at all the prosperity and the peace that I provide for it."

Jer 33:10 'Yahweh says this, "In this place of which you now say: It is a ruin, without human or animal, in the towns of Judah and desolate streets of Jerusalem where there is neither human nor animal, once more will be heard

Jer 33:11 shouts of rejoicing and mirth, the voices of bridegroom and bride, and the singing of those who bring thanksgiving sacrifices to the Temple of Yahweh: Give thanks to Yahweh Sabaoth, for Yahweh is good, for his faithful love is everlasting. For I shall bring back the country's captives, as before, Yahweh says."

Jer 33:12 'Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "In this ruinous place, without human or animal, in all its towns, once again there will be pastures for the shepherds to rest their flocks.

Jer 33:13 In the towns of the highlands, of the lowlands and the Negeb, in the territory of Benjamin, in the districts round Jerusalem and in the towns of Judah, once again the flocks shall pass under the hand of someone who counts them, Yahweh says.

Jer 33:14 "Look, the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when I shall fulfil the promise of happiness I made to the House of Israel and the House of Judah:

Jer 33:15 In those days and at that time, I shall make an upright Branch grow for David, who will do what is just and upright in the country.

Jer 33:16 In those days Judah will triumph and Israel live in safety. And this is the name the city will be called: Yahweh-is-our-Saving-Justice."

Jer 33:17 'For Yahweh says this, "David will never lack a male descendant to occupy the throne of the House of Israel,

Jer 33:18 nor will the levitical priests ever lack male descendants to stand before me and offer the burnt offering, to burn the cereal offering and offer sacrifice every day." '

Jer 33:19 The word of Yahweh came to Jeremiah as follows,

Jer 33:20 'Yahweh says this, "If you could break my covenant with the day and my covenant with the night so that day and night do not come at their due time,

Jer 33:21 then my covenant with David my servant might also be broken and he would have no son to reign on his throne, and so also might my covenant with the levitical priests, who are my ministers.

Jer 33:22 As surely as the array of heaven cannot be counted, nor the sand of the sea be measured, so surely shall I increase the heirs of David my servant and the Levites who minister to me."

Jer 33:23 The word of Yahweh came to Jeremiah as follows,

Jer 33:24 'Have you not noticed what these people say, "The two families which Yahweh chose he has now rejected"? So they despise my people, whom they no longer think of as a nation.

Jer 33:25 Yahweh says this, "If I have not created day and night and fixed the laws governing heaven and earth, Jer 33:26 why, then I shall reject the descendants of Jacob and of David my servant and cease to choose rulers from his descendants for the heirs of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob! For I shall bring back their captives and take pity on them."

Jer 34:1 The word came to Jeremiah from Yahweh when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and his whole army, with all the kingdoms of the earth under his dominion and all the peoples, were waging war on Jerusalem and all its towns,

Jer 34:2 'Yahweh, God of Israel, says this, "Go and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah and tell him, Yahweh says this: I am going to hand this city over to the power of the king of Babylon, and he will burn it down.

Jer 34:3 And you yourself will not escape his clutches but will certainly be captured and handed over to him.

You will see the king of Babylon face to face and speak to him personally. Then you will go to Babylon.

Jer 34:4 Even so, listen to the word of Yahweh, Zedekiah king of Judah! This is what Yahweh says about you: You will not die by the sword;

Jer 34:5 you will die in peace. And as spices were burnt for your ancestors, the kings who in times past preceded you, so spices will be burnt for you and a dirge sung for you: Alas for his highness! I have spoken, Yahweh declares."

Jer 34:6 The prophet Jeremiah repeated all these words to Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem,

Jer 34:7 while the army of the king of Babylon was attacking Jerusalem and all such towns of Judah as still held out, namely Lachish and Azekah, these being the only fortified towns of Judah remaining.

Jer 34:8 The word came to Jeremiah from Yahweh after King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people in Jerusalem to issue a proclamation freeing their slaves:

Jer 34:9 each man was to free his Hebrew slaves, men and women, no one was any longer to keep a brother Judean in slavery.

Jer 34:10 All the chief men and all the people who had entered into the covenant had agreed that everyone should free his slaves, men or women, and no longer keep them as slaves: they had agreed on this and set them free.

Jer 34:11 Afterwards, however, they changed their minds, recovered the slaves, men and women, whom they had set free, and reduced them to slavery again.

Jer 34:12 The word of Yahweh came then to Jeremiah as follows,

Jer 34:13 'Yahweh, God of Israel, says this, "I made a covenant with your ancestors when I brought them out of Egypt, out of the house of slavery; it said:

Jer 34:14 At the end of seven years each one of you is to free his brother Hebrew who has sold himself to you: he may be your slave for six years, then you must send him away free. But your ancestors did not listen to me and would not pay attention.

Jer 34:15 Now, today you repented and did what pleases me by proclaiming freedom for your neighbour; you made a covenant before me in the Temple that bears my name.

Jer 34:16 And then you changed your minds and, profaning my name, each of you has recovered his slaves, men and women, whom you had sent away free to live their own lives, and has forced them to become your slaves again."

Jer 34:17 'So Yahweh says this: "You have disobeyed me, by failing to grant freedom to brother and neighbour. Very well, I in my turn, Yahweh declares, shall leave sword, famine and plague free to deal with you and I shall make you an object of horror to all the kingdoms of the earth.

Jer 34:18 As for the people who have broken my covenant, who have not observed the terms of the covenant which they made before me, I shall treat them like the calf that people cut in two to pass between its pieces.

Jer 34:19 The chief men of Judah and Jerusalem, the eunuchs, the priests, and all the country people who have passed between the pieces of the calf,

Jer 34:20 I shall hand over to their enemies and those determined to kill them, and their corpses will be food for the birds of the sky and the animals of earth.

Jer 34:21 As for Zedekiah king of Judah and his chief men, I shall hand them to their enemies, to those determined to kill them, and to the army of the king of Babylon which has just withdrawn.

Jer 34:22 Listen, I shall give the order, Yahweh declares, and bring them back to this city to attack it and capture it and burn it down. And I shall make an uninhabited waste of the towns of Judah."

Jer 35:1 The word which came to Jeremiah from Yahweh in the days of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah,
Jer 35:2 'Go to the clan of the Rechabites and speak to them; bring them into one of the rooms of the Temple of Yahweh and offer them wine to drink.'

Jer 35:3 So I took Jaazaniah son of Jeremiah, son of Habazziniah, with his brothers and all his sons, the whole Rechabite clan,

Jer 35:4 and brought them to the Temple of Yahweh into the room of Ben-Johanan son of Igdaliah, a man of God, which was next to that of the chief men, above the room of Maaseiah son of Shallum, guardian of the threshold.

Jer 35:5 I then set pitchers full of wine, and some cups, before the members of the Rechabite clan and said, 'Drink some wine.'

Jer 35:6 But they replied, 'We do not drink wine, because our ancestor Jonadab son of Rechab gave us this order, "You must not drink wine, neither you nor your sons for ever;

Jer 35:7 nor must you build houses, sow seed, plant vineyards or own them, but must live in tents all your lives, so that you may live long on the soil to which you are alien."

Jer 35:8 We have punctiliously obeyed the orders of our ancestor, Jonadab son of Rechab, never drinking wine ourselves, nor our wives, our sons or our daughters,

Jer 35:9 not building houses to live in, owning neither vineyard nor field nor seed,

Jer 35:10 living in tents. We have obeyed the orders of our ancestor Jonadab, respecting them in every particular.

Jer 35:11 However, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon invaded this country, we decided, "We must get away! We will go to Jerusalem to escape the armies of the Chaldaeans and Aramaeans." So that is why we are living in Jerusalem.'

Jer 35:12 Then the word of Yahweh came to Jeremiah as follows,

Jer 35:13 'Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this, "Go and say to the people of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: Will you never learn the lesson and listen to my words, Yahweh demands?

Jer 35:14 The words of Jonadab son of Rechab, ordering his sons to drink no wine, have been observed; obedient to their ancestor's command, they drink none even today . But to me, who spoke to you so urgently, so untiringly, you have not listened.

Jer 35:15 I have urgently and untiringly sent you all my servants the prophets to say: Turn back, each one of you, from your evil behaviour and amend your actions, do not follow other gods to serve them, and you will go on living on the soil I gave to you and your ancestors. But you have not paid attention or listened to me.

Jer 35:16 Thus the sons of Jonadab son of Rechab have kept the command their ancestor gave them, but this people has not listened to me.

Jer 35:17 And so, Yahweh, God Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this: Look, on Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem I am going to bring all the disaster which I have decreed for them, because I spoke to them and they would not listen, called to them and they would not answer."

Jer 35:18 Then Jeremiah said to the Rechabite clan, 'Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this, "Because you have obeyed the orders of your ancestor Jonadab and observed all his rules and done everything he ordered you to do, Jer 35:19 therefore, Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this: Jonadab son of Rechab will never lack a male descendant to stand before me for ever."

Jer 36:1 In the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from Yahweh,

Jer 36:2 'Take a scroll and on it write all the words I have spoken to you about Israel, Judah and all the nations, from the day I first spoke to you, in the time of Josiah, until today.

Jer 36:3 Perhaps when the House of Judah hears about all the disaster I intend to inflict on them, they will turn, each one of them, from their evil behaviour, so that I can forgive their sinful guilt.'

Jer 36:4 Jeremiah then summoned Baruch son of Neriah, who at his dictation wrote down on the scroll all the words Yahweh had spoken to him.

Jer 36:5 Jeremiah then gave Baruch this order, 'As I am prevented from entering the Temple of Yahweh, Jer 36:6 you yourself must go and, from the scroll you wrote at my dictation, read all Yahweh's words to the people in his Temple on the day of the fast, and in this way you can read them in the hearing also of all the Judaeans who come in from their towns.'

Jer 36:7 Perhaps their prayers will move Yahweh and they will turn one and all from their evil behaviour, for great is the furious anger with which Yahweh has threatened this people.'

Jer 36:8 Baruch son of Neriah duly carried out the order that the prophet Jeremiah had given him, to read all Yahweh's words from the book in his Temple.

Jer 36:9 Now, in the fifth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, all the people of Jerusalem and all the people who could get to Jerusalem from the towns of Judah were summoned to a fast before Yahweh.

Jer 36:10 Baruch then read Jeremiah's words from the book; this happened in the room of Gemariah son of the scribe Shaphan, in the upper court at the entry of the New Gate of the Temple of Yahweh, where all the people could hear.

Jer 36:11 Micaiah son of Gemariah, son of Shaphan, having heard all Yahweh's words read from the book, Jer 36:12 went down to the royal palace, to the scribe's room. All the chief men were in session: the scribe Elishama, Delaiah son of Shemaiah, Elnathan son of Achbor, Gemariah son of Shaphan, Zedekiah son of Hananiah and all the other chief men;

Jer 36:13 and to them Micaiah reported all the words he heard as Baruch was reading the book aloud to the people.

Jer 36:14 The chief men then by common consent sent Jehudi son of Netaniah to Baruch, with Shelemiah son of Cushi, to say, 'Come, and bring the scroll with you which you have been reading to the people.'

Jer 36:15 Bringing the scroll with him, Baruch son of Neriah appeared before them. 'Sit down,' they said, 'and read it out.' So Baruch read it to them.

Jer 36:16 Having heard all the words they turned to one another in alarm and said to Baruch, 'We must certainly inform the king of this.'

Jer 36:17 They then questioned Baruch, 'Tell us', they said, 'how you came to write all these words.'

Jer 36:18 'Jeremiah dictated them all to me,' Baruch replied, 'and I wrote them down in ink in this book.'

Jer 36:19 The chief men said to Baruch, 'You and Jeremiah had better go into hiding; and do not tell anyone where you are.'

Jer 36:20 Whereupon they went off to the king in the palace court, depositing the scroll in the room of the scribe Elishama. They then informed the king of the whole affair.

Jer 36:21 The king sent Jehudi for the scroll, and he brought it from the room of the scribe Elishama and read it to the king and all the chief men standing round the king.

Jer 36:22 The king was sitting in his winter apartments -- it was the ninth month -- with a fire burning in a brazier in front of him.

Jer 36:23 Each time Jehudi had read three or four columns, the king cut them off with a scribe's knife and threw them into the fire in the brazier until the whole of the scroll had been burnt in the brazier fire.

Jer 36:24 But in spite of hearing all these words, neither the king nor any of his courtiers took alarm or tore their clothes;

Jer 36:25 and although Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had urged the king not to burn the scroll he would not listen to them,

Jer 36:26 but ordered the king's son Jerahmeel and Seraiah son of Azriel and Shelemiah son of Abdeel to arrest the scribe Baruch and the prophet Jeremiah. But Yahweh had hidden them.

Jer 36:27 Then the word of Yahweh came to Jeremiah, after the king had burnt the scroll containing the words Baruch had written at Jeremiah's dictation,

Jer 36:28 'Take another scroll and write down all the words that were written on the first scroll burnt by Jehoiakim king of Judah.'

Jer 36:29 And as regards Jehoiakim king of Judah, you are to say, "Yahweh says this: You have burnt that scroll, saying: Why have you written down: The king of Babylon will certainly come and lay this country waste and leave it without human or animal?"

Jer 36:30 So, this is what Yahweh says about Jehoiakim king of Judah: He will have no one to occupy the throne of David, and his corpse will be tossed out to the heat of the day and the frost of the night.

Jer 36:31 I shall punish him, his offspring and his courtiers for their guilt; on them, on the citizens of Jerusalem and on the people of Judah I shall bring the total disaster which I had decreed for them but to which they have paid no attention."

Jer 36:32 Jeremiah then took another scroll and gave it to the scribe Baruch son of Neriah, who in it at Jeremiah's dictation wrote all the words of the book that Jehoiakim king of Judah had burnt, with many similar words in addition.

Jer 37:1 Zedekiah son of Josiah became king, succeeding Coniah son of Jehoiakim. Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had made him king of Judah.

Jer 37:2 But neither he nor his courtiers nor the people of the country paid any attention to the words Yahweh spoke through the prophet Jeremiah.

Jer 37:3 King Zedekiah sent Jehucal son of Shelemiah and the priest Zephaniah son of Maaseiah to the prophet Jeremiah with this message, 'Intercede for us with Yahweh our God.'

Jer 37:4 Now Jeremiah was still moving freely among the people: he had not yet been put in prison.

Jer 37:5 Meanwhile Pharaoh's army was on the move from Egypt and the Chaldaeans besieging Jerusalem had raised the siege when they heard the news.

Jer 37:6 Then the word of Yahweh came to the prophet Jeremiah as follows,

Jer 37:7 'Yahweh, God of Israel, says this, "To the king of Judah who sent you to consult me make this reply: Is Pharaoh's army marching to your aid? It will withdraw to its own country, Egypt.'

Jer 37:8 The Chaldaeans will return to attack this city; they will capture it and burn it down.

Jer 37:9 Yahweh says this: Do not cheer yourselves up by thinking: The Chaldaeans are leaving us for good. They are not leaving.

Jer 37:10 Even if you cut to pieces the whole Chaldaean army now fighting against you until there were only the wounded left, they would stand up again, each man in his tent, to burn this city down."

Jer 37:11 At the time when the Chaldaean army, threatened by Pharaoh's army, had raised the siege of Jerusalem,

Jer 37:12 Jeremiah set out from Jerusalem for the territory of Benjamin to see about a piece of his property among the people there.

Jer 37:13 He was at the Benjamin Gate when the guard commander there, a certain Irijah son of Shelemiah, son of Hananiah, arrested the prophet Jeremiah, shouting, 'You are deserting to the Chaldaeans!'

Jer 37:14 Jeremiah answered, 'It is a lie! I am not deserting to the Chaldaeans.' But Irijah would not listen to Jeremiah and took him under arrest to the chief men.

Jer 37:15 And the chief men, furious with Jeremiah, had him beaten and shut up in the house of the scribe Jonathan, which had been turned into a prison.

Jer 37:16 Thus Jeremiah found himself in an underground vault. And there for a long time he stayed.

Jer 37:17 Later, King Zedekiah had him sent for, and the king questioned him privately in his palace. 'Is there any word from Yahweh?' he asked. 'There is,' Jeremiah answered, and added, 'you will be handed over to the king of Babylon.'

Jer 37:18 Jeremiah then said to King Zedekiah, 'What wrong have I done you, or your courtiers or this people, for you to have put me in prison?

Jer 37:19 Where are your prophets now who prophesied, "The king of Babylon will not attack you or this country"?

Jer 37:20 So now I beg you to hear me, my lord king! I beg you to approve my request! Do not have me taken back to the house of the scribe Jonathan, or I shall die there.'

Jer 37:21 King Zedekiah then gave an order, and Jeremiah was confined in the Court of the Guard and given a loaf of bread a day from the Street of the Bakers as long as there was bread left in the city. So Jeremiah stayed in the Court of the Guard.

Jer 38:1 But Shephatiah son of Mattan, Gedaliah son of Pashhur, Jucal son of Shelemiah and Pashhur son of Malchiah heard the words which Jeremiah was saying to all the people,

Jer 38:2 'Yahweh says this, "Anyone who stays in this city will die by sword, famine or plague; but anyone who leaves it and surrenders to the Chaldaeans will live; he will escape with his life."

Jer 38:3 Yahweh says this: This city will certainly be handed over to the army of the king of Babylon, and he will capture it."

Jer 38:4 The chief men then said to the king, 'You must have this man put to death: he is unquestionably disheartening the remaining soldiers in the city, and all the people too, by talking like this. This man is seeking not the welfare of the people but their ruin.'

Jer 38:5 King Zedekiah answered, 'He is in your hands as you know, for the king is powerless to oppose you.'

Jer 38:6 So they took Jeremiah and put him into the storage-well of the king's son Malchiah in the Court of the Guard, letting him down with ropes. There was no water in the storage-well, only mud, and into the mud Jeremiah sank.

Jer 38:7 But Ebed-Melech the Cushite, a eunuch attached to the palace, heard that Jeremiah had been put into the storage-well. As the king was sitting in the Benjamin Gate, Jer 38:8 Ebed-Melech came out from the palace and spoke to the king.

Jer 38:9 'My lord king,' he said, 'these men have done a wicked thing by treating the prophet Jeremiah like this: they have thrown him into the storage-well. He will starve to death there, since there is no more food in the city.'

Jer 38:10 At this the king gave Ebed-Melech the Cushite the following order: 'Take thirty men with you from here and pull the prophet Jeremiah out of the storage-well before he dies.'

Jer 38:11 Ebed-Melech took the men with him and went into the palace to the Treasury wardrobe; out of it he took some torn, worn-out rags which he lowered on ropes to Jeremiah in the storage-well.

Jer 38:12 Ebed-Melech the Cushite then said to Jeremiah, 'These torn, worn-out rags are for you to put under your armpits to pad the ropes.' Jeremiah did this.

Jer 38:13 Then they hauled Jeremiah up with the ropes and pulled him out of the storage-well. And Jeremiah stayed in the Court of the Guard.

Jer 38:14 King Zedekiah had the prophet Jeremiah summoned to him at the third entrance to the Temple of Yahweh. 'I want to ask you for a word,' the king said to Jeremiah, 'keep nothing back from me.'

Jer 38:15 Jeremiah answered Zedekiah, 'If I do proclaim it to you, are you not sure to have me put to death? And if I give you advice, you will not listen to me.'

Jer 38:16 King Zedekiah then secretly swore this oath to Jeremiah, 'As Yahweh lives, giver of this life of ours, I will have you neither put to death nor handed over to these men who are determined to kill you.'

Jer 38:17 Jeremiah then said to Zedekiah, 'Yahweh, God Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this, "If you go out and surrender to the king of Babylon's generals, your life will be safe and this city will not be burnt down; you and your family will survive.'

Jer 38:18 But if you do not go out and surrender to the king of Babylon's generals, this city will be handed over to the Chaldaeans and they will burn it down; nor will you yourself escape their clutches."

Jer 38:19 King Zedekiah then said to Jeremiah, 'I am afraid of the Judaeans who have already gone over to the Chaldaeans: I might be handed over to them and they would ill-treat me.'

Jer 38:20 'You will not be handed over to them,' Jeremiah replied. 'Please listen to Yahweh's voice as I have relayed it to you, and then all will go well with you and your life will be safe.'

Jer 38:21 But if you refuse to surrender, this is what Yahweh has shown me:

Jer 38:22 the sight of all the women left in the king of Judah's palace being led off to the king of Babylon's generals and saying: "They have misled you, they have triumphed over you, those friends of yours! Your feet have sunk in the mud! They are up and away!"

Jer 38:23 'Yes, all your wives and children will be led off to the Chaldaeans, and you yourself will not escape their clutches but will be a prisoner in the clutches of the king of Babylon. And as for this city, it will be burnt down.'

Jer 38:24 Zedekiah then said to Jeremiah, 'Do not let anyone else hear these words or you will die.'

Jer 38:25 If the chief men hear that I have been talking to you, and come and say, "Tell us what you said to the king and what the king said to you; keep nothing back from us, or we shall put you to death,"

Jer 38:26 you must reply, "I presented this request to the king: that he would not have me sent back to Jonathan's house to die."

Jer 38:27 And in fact all the chief men came to Jeremiah and questioned him. He told them exactly what the king had ordered him to say. They then left him in peace, since the conversation had not been overheard.

Jer 38:28 And Jeremiah stayed in the Court of the Guard until the day Jerusalem was captured. And he was there when Jerusalem actually was captured.

Jer 39:1 In the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon advanced on Jerusalem with his entire army, and they laid siege to it.

Jer 39:2 In the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, a breach was made in the city wall.

Jer 39:3 The king of Babylon's officials, all having made their entry, took their seats in the Middle Gate: Nergal-Sharezer, Samgar-Nebo, Sar-Sechim a high dignitary of state, Nergal-Sharezer the chief astrologer, and all the king of Babylon's other officials . . .

Jer 39:4 On seeing them, Zedekiah king of Judah and all the fighting men fled, leaving the city under cover of dark, by way of the king's garden through the gate between the two walls, and made their way towards the Arabah.

Jer 39:5 But the Chaldaean troops pursued them and caught up with Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho. They captured him and took him to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon at Riblah in the territory of Hamath, where he passed sentence on him.

Jer 39:6 The king of Babylon had Zedekiah's sons slaughtered before his eyes at Riblah; the king of Babylon also had all the leading men of Judah put to death.

Jer 39:7 He then put out Zedekiah's eyes and, loading him with chains, carried him off to Babylon.

Jer 39:8 The Chaldaeans burnt down the royal palace and the private houses, and demolished the walls of Jerusalem.

Jer 39:9 Nebuzaradan commander of the guard deported the remainder of the population left behind in the city, the deserters who had gone over to him, and the rest of the artisans to Babylon.

Jer 39:10 But Nebuzaradan commander of the guard left some of the poor people behind in the country of Judah, those who had nothing, at the same time giving them vineyards and fields.

Jer 39:11 With regard to Jeremiah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had given the following orders to Nebuzaradan, commander of the guard,

Jer 39:12 'Take him, look after him; do him no harm, but treat him as he may ask you.'

Jer 39:13 He entrusted this mission to (Nebuzaradan commander of the guard,) Nebushazban the high dignitary of state, Nergal-Sharezer the chief astrologer and all the king of Babylon's other officials.

Jer 39:14 These despatched men to take Jeremiah from the Court of the Guard and turned him over to Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan for safe conduct home. So he remained among the people.

Jer 39:15 While Jeremiah was confined in the Court of the Guard, the word of Yahweh came to him as follows,

Jer 39:16 'Go and say to Ebed-Melech the Cushite, "Yahweh, God of Israel says this: Look, I am about to perform my words about this city for its ruin and not for its prosperity. That day they will come true before your eyes."

Jer 39:17 But I shall rescue you that day, Yahweh declares, and you will not be handed over to the hands of the men you fear.

Jer 39:18 Yes, I shall certainly rescue you: you will not fall to the sword; you will escape with your life, because you have put your trust in me, Yahweh declares."

Jer 40:1 The word which came to Jeremiah from Yahweh after Nebuzaradan commander of the guard had released him from Ramah, where he had found him in chains with all the other captives from Jerusalem and Judah who were being deported to Babylon:

Jer 40:2 The commander of the guard took Jeremiah and said to him, 'Yahweh your God foretold calamity for this country,

Jer 40:3 and now he has brought it. He has done what he threatened to do, because you had sinned against Yahweh and would not listen to his voice; so all this has happened to you.

Jer 40:4 Look, today I am having your hands unchained. If you like to come with me to Babylon, come: I shall look after you. If you do not want to come with me to Babylon, do not. Look, you have the whole country before you: go wherever you think it best and most suitable to go.'

Jer 40:5 And before Jeremiah retired, he added, 'You can go back to Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon has appointed governor of the towns of Judah, and stay with him among the people, or go anywhere else you think suitable.' With that, the commander of the guard gave him provisions and a present, and dismissed him.

Jer 40:6 Jeremiah went to Mizpah, to Gedaliah son of Ahikam and stayed with him, among those people still left in the country.

Jer 40:7 When the military leaders who with their men were still in the field, all heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam as governor of the country, making him responsible for the men, women and children, and those of the poor country people who had not been deported to Babylon,

Jer 40:8 they came to Gedaliah at Mizpah: Ishmael son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan sons of Kareah, Seraiah son of Tanhumeth, the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, Jezaniah son of the Maacathite, they and their men.

Jer 40:9 To them and to their men Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, swore an oath. 'Do not be afraid', he said, 'of serving the Chaldaeans, stay in the country, serve the king of Babylon, and all will go well with you.'

Jer 40:10 I for my part, as the man answerable to the Chaldaeans when they come to us, shall stay here at Mizpah, whereas you can harvest the wine, summer fruit and oil, fill your storage jars and settle in the towns which you have seized.'

Jer 40:11 Similarly, when all the Judaeans living in Moab, with the Ammonites, in Edom and elsewhere, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant in Judah and had appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan as their governor,

Jer 40:12 the Judaeans all came back from wherever they had been driven. On their return to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah at Mizpah, they harvested an immense quantity of wine and summer fruit.

Jer 40:13 Now Johanan son of Kareah and all the military leaders still in the field, came to Gedaliah at Mizpah

Jer 40:14 and said to him, 'Are you aware that Baalis king of the Ammonites has sent Ishmael son of Nethaniah to assassinate you?' But Gedaliah son of Ahikam would not believe them.

Jer 40:15 Johanan son of Kareah then spoke in secret to Gedaliah at Mizpah, as follows: 'Please let me go and kill Ishmael son of Nethaniah, and no one will be any the wiser. Why should he assassinate you and cause the dispersal of all the Judaeans who have rallied round you. Why should the remnant of Judah perish?'

Jer 40:16 But Gedaliah son of Ahikam replied to Johanan son of Kareah, 'You will do no such thing, for what you say about Ishmael is false.'

Jer 41:1 In the seventh month, however, Ishmael son of Nethaniah son of Elishama, who was of royal descent, came with officers of the king and ten men to Gedaliah son of Ahikam at Mizpah. And as they were taking their meal together, there at Mizpah,

Jer 41:2 Ishmael son of Nethaniah stood up with his ten men, and attacking Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, with their swords, they killed the man whom the king of Babylon had made governor of the country. Jer 41:3 And all the Judaeans who were with him, that is with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Chaldaean soldiers who happened to be there, Ishmael killed too.

Jer 41:4 On the day after the murder of Gedaliah, before the news had become known,

Jer 41:5 eighty men arrived from Shechem, Shiloh and Samaria, with their beards shaved off, their clothing torn, and covered in self-inflicted gashes; they were bringing cereal offerings and incense with them to present to the Temple of Yahweh.

Jer 41:6 Ishmael son of Nethaniah went out of Mizpah to meet them, weeping as he went. When he met them he said, 'Come to Gedaliah son of Ahikam.'

Jer 41:7 But once they were well inside the town, Ishmael son of Nethaniah slaughtered them, with the help of his men, and had them thrown into the storage-well.

Jer 41:8 There were ten of them, however, who said to Ishmael, 'Do not kill us: we have stocks of wheat and barley, oil and honey, hidden away in the fields.' So he spared them and did not kill them with their brothers.

Jer 41:9 The storage-well into which Ishmael threw the corpses of all the men he had killed was a large one, the one which King Asa had built as a precaution against Baasha king of Israel. Ishmael son of Nethaniah filled it with the slaughtered men.

Jer 41:10 Ishmael then took all the rest of the people prisoner who were at Mizpah, the king's daughters and all the remaining people in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan, commander of the guard, had entrusted to Gedaliah son of Ahikam. Ishmael son of Nethaniah took them prisoner and set out, intending to cross over to the Ammonites.

Jer 41:11 When Johanan son of Kareah and all the military leaders who were with him heard about all the crimes committed by Ishmael son of Nethaniah, Jer 41:12 they mustered all their men and set out to attack Ishmael son of Nethaniah. They caught up with him at the great Pool of Gibeon.

Jer 41:13 At the sight of Johanan son of Kareah and all the military leaders with him, all the people with Ishmael were delighted.

Jer 41:14 All the people whom Ishmael had taken as prisoners from Mizpah turned about, went back and joined Johanan son of Kareah.

Jer 41:15 Ishmael son of Nethaniah, however, escaped from Johanan with eight of his men and fled to the Ammonites.

Jer 41:16 Johanan son of Kareah and all the military leaders with him then rallied all the remaining people whom Ishmael son of Nethaniah had taken as prisoners from Mizpah after killing Gedaliah son of Ahikam: men -- fighting men-women, children and eunuchs, whom they brought back from Gibeon.

Jer 41:17 Setting off, they made a halt at Khan Kimham near Bethlehem, intending to go on to Egypt, Jer 41:18 to get away from the Chaldaeans. They were now terrified of them, since Ishmael son of Nethaniah had killed Gedaliah son of Ahikam whom the king of Babylon had made governor of the country.

Jer 42:1 Then all the military leaders, in particular Johanan son of Kareah and Azariah son of Hoshaiyah, and all the people from least to greatest, approached

Jer 42:2 the prophet Jeremiah and said, 'Please hear our petition and intercede with Yahweh your God for us and for all this remnant -- and how few of us are left out of many, your own eyes can see--'

Jer 42:3 so that Yahweh your God may show us the way we are to go and what we must do.'

Jer 42:4 The prophet Jeremiah replied, 'I hear you; I will indeed pray to Yahweh your God as you ask; and whatever answer Yahweh your God gives you, I will tell you, keeping nothing back from you.'

Jer 42:5 They in their turn said to Jeremiah, 'May Yahweh be a true and faithful witness against us, if we do not follow the instructions that Yahweh your God sends us through you.'

Jer 42:6 Whether we like it or not, we shall obey the voice of Yahweh our God to whom we are sending you, so that we may prosper by obeying the voice of Yahweh our God.'

Jer 42:7 Ten days later the word of Yahweh came to Jeremiah.

Jer 42:8 He then summoned Johanan son of Kareah and all the military leaders who were with him, and all the people from least to greatest,

Jer 42:9 and said, 'Yahweh, God of Israel, to whom you deputed me to present your petition says this,

Jer 42:10 "If you will only stay in this country, I shall build you and not overthrow you; I shall plant you and not uproot you, for I am sorry about the disaster I have inflicted on you."

Jer 42:11 Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon, whom you fear now; do not fear him, Yahweh declares, for I am with you to save you and rescue you from his clutches.

Jer 42:12 I shall take pity on you, so that he pities you and lets you return to your native soil.

Jer 42:13 But if you say: We will not stay in this country; if you disobey the voice of Yahweh your God,

Jer 42:14 and say: No, Egypt is where we shall go, where we shall not see war or hear the trumpet-call or go short of food; that is where we want to live;

Jer 42:15 in that case, remnant of Judah, listen to Yahweh's word: Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this: If you are determined to go to Egypt, and if you do go and settle there,

Jer 42:16 the sword you fear will overtake you there in Egypt, and there you will die.

Jer 42:17 Yes, all those who are determined to go to Egypt and settle there, will die by sword, famine and plague: not a single one of them will survive or escape the disaster I shall inflict on them.

Jer 42:18 Yes, Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this: Just as my furious anger was poured out on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so will my fury be poured out on you if you go to Egypt: you will become an object of execration and horror, a curse, a laughing-stock; and you will never see this place again."

Jer 42:19 Remnant of Judah, Yahweh has told you, "Do not go into Egypt." Understand clearly that today I have given you a solemn warning.

Jer 42:20 You were not being sincere when you sent me to Yahweh your God and said, "Intercede for us with Yahweh our God; tell us exactly what Yahweh our God says and we will do it."

Jer 42:21 Today I have told you, but you have not obeyed the voice of Yahweh your God or any part of the message he sent me to give you.

Jer 42:22 So understand this clearly: you will die by sword, famine and plague in the place where you want to go and settle.'

Jer 43:1 When Jeremiah had finished telling all the people all the words of Yahweh their God, which Yahweh their God had sent him to tell them -- all the words quoted above-

Jer 43:2 Azariah son of Hoshaiyah, and Johanan son of Kareah, and all those arrogant men, said to Jeremiah, "You are lying. Yahweh our God did not send you to say, "Do not go to Egypt and settle there."

Jer 43:3 It was Baruch son of Neriah, who keeps inciting you against us, to hand us over to the Chaldaeans so that they can put us to death or deport us to Babylon.'

Jer 43:4 So neither Johanan nor any of the military leaders nor any of the people obeyed the voice of Yahweh by staying in the country of Judah.

Jer 43:5 Instead, Johanan son of Kareah and all the military leaders led off the entire remnant of Judah, those who had come back from all the nations where they had been driven to live in the country of Judah:

Jer 43:6 men, women, children, the royal princesses too, and every single person that Nebuzaradan commander of the guard had left with Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, including the prophet Jeremiah and Baruch son of Neriah.

Jer 43:7 And so, in disobedience to the voice of Yahweh, they reached Egypt and arrived at Tahpanhes.

Jer 43:8 At Tahpanhes the word of Yahweh was addressed to Jeremiah as follows,

Jer 43:9 'Take some large stones and bury them in the cement on the terrace outside the entrance of Pharaoh's palace in Tahpanhes, where the Judaeans can see you.

Jer 43:10 Then say to them, "Yahweh, God of Israel, says this: Look, I shall send for my servant Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, and he will place his throne on these stones I have buried, and spread his canopy above them.

Jer 43:11 When he comes, he will defeat Egypt: Those for the plague, to the plague; those for captivity, to captivity; those for the sword, to the sword!

Jer 43:12 "He will set fire to the temples of the gods of Egypt; he will burn these gods or take them prisoner; like a shepherd wrapping his cloak round him, so he will wrap Egypt round him, and then leave without anyone laying hands on him.

Jer 43:13 He will break the obelisks of the temple of the Sun in Egypt, and burn down the temples of the gods of Egypt."

Jer 44:1 The word that came to Jeremiah for all the Judaeans living in Egypt, those, that is, living in Migdol, Tahpanhes, Noph and the territory of Pathros.

Jer 44:2 'Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this, "You have seen all the disaster I have brought on Jerusalem and all the towns of Judah; today they lie in ruins and uninhabited.

Jer 44:3 This was because of the wicked deeds they committed to provoke my anger, by going and offering incense and serving other gods whom neither they, nor you, nor your ancestors knew anything about,

Jer 44:4 although I urgently and untiringly sent you all my servants the prophets to say: You must not do this loathsome thing, which I hate.

Jer 44:5 But they would not listen or pay attention, and turn from their wickedness and stop offering incense to other gods.

Jer 44:6 And so my furious anger overflowed, burning down the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem, which were reduced to ruins and wasteland, as they still are today.

Jer 44:7 And now, Yahweh, God Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this: Why bring complete disaster on yourselves by cutting yourselves off from Judah -- your men, women, children and babes in arms -- so as to leave yourselves no remnant,

Jer 44:8 by provoking my wrath by your actions, offering incense to other gods in Egypt where you have come to settle, as though bent on your own destruction and on becoming a curse and a laughing-stock for all the nations of the earth?

Jer 44:9 Have you forgotten the wicked deeds of your ancestors, of the kings of Judah and of your princes, your own wicked deeds and those of your wives, committed in the country of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?
Jer 44:10 To this day they have felt neither contrition nor fear; they have not observed my Law or my statutes, which I prescribed for you, as for your ancestors.

Jer 44:11 So, Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this: Look, I have determined on disaster and shall destroy Judah completely.

Jer 44:12 I shall take the remnant of Judah who were determined to come to Egypt and settle there, and in Egypt they will perish; they will fall to the sword or perish of famine, from least to greatest; by sword and famine they will die and be an object of execration and horror, a curse, a laughing-stock.

Jer 44:13 I shall punish those who live in Egypt just as I punished Jerusalem: by sword, famine and plague.

Jer 44:14 Of the remnant of Judah which has come to settle in Egypt, not a single one will escape or survive to return to the country of Judah where they long to return and live. For none of them will return, except a few refugees."

Jer 44:15 At this, all the men who knew that their wives offered incense to other gods, and all the women who were standing there, a great crowd (and all the people living in Egypt, in Pathros), answered Jeremiah as follows,

Jer 44:16 'We have no intention of listening to the word you have just spoken to us in Yahweh's name,

Jer 44:17 but intend to go on doing all we have vowed to do: offering incense to the Queen of Heaven and pouring libations in her honour, as we used to do, we and our ancestors, our kings and our chief men, in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem: we had food in plenty then, we lived well, we suffered no disasters.

Jer 44:18 But since we gave up offering incense to the Queen of Heaven and pouring libations in her honour, we have been destitute and have perished either by sword or by famine.

Jer 44:19 Besides, when we offer incense to the Queen of Heaven and pour libations in her honour, do you think we make cakes for her with her features on them, and pour libations to her, without our husbands' knowledge?

Jer 44:20 To all the people, men and women, all those who had made this answer, Jeremiah retorted,

Jer 44:21 'The incense you offered in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem, you, your ancestors, your kings, your chief men and the people at large -- was this not what Yahweh kept remembering, and found so repellent

Jer 44:22 that Yahweh could not endure your misdeeds and your loathsome practices any longer, with the result that your country has become the uninhabited ruin, the object of horror and cursing it is today?

Jer 44:23 Because you offered incense, because you sinned against Yahweh, refusing to listen to the voice of Yahweh, or to observe his Law, his statutes and his decrees -- that is why the present disaster has overtaken you.'

Jer 44:24 Further, Jeremiah said to all the people, and particularly to all the women, 'Listen to the word of Yahweh, all you Judaeans in Egypt,

Jer 44:25 Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this, "You and your wives, what your mouths promised, your hands have indeed performed! You said: We shall punctiliously fulfil the vows we have made and offer incense to the Queen of Heaven and pour libations in her honour. Very well, keep your vows, perform them punctiliously!

Jer 44:26 But listen to the word of Yahweh, all you Judaeans living in Egypt: I swear by my great name, Yahweh says, that my name will no longer be uttered by any man of Judah throughout Egypt; no one will say: As Lord Yahweh lives.

Jer 44:27 No, I am going to keep my eye on them for disaster, not for prosperity, and all the Judaeans in Egypt will perish either by the sword or by famine until they are wiped out.

Jer 44:28 Yet, though few in number, those who escape the sword will return to the country of Judah from Egypt. Then the entire remnant of Judah which has come and settled in Egypt will know whose word comes true, mine or theirs.

Jer 44:29 "And here is the sign for you, Yahweh declares, that I shall punish you in this place: so that you will know that the words with which I threaten you will come true:

Jer 44:30 Yahweh says this: Look, I shall hand Pharaoh Hophra, king of Egypt, over to his enemies and to those determined to kill him, just as I handed Zedekiah king of Judah over to his enemy Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who was determined to kill him."

Jer 45:1 The word that the prophet Jeremiah addressed to Baruch son of Neriah when the latter wrote these words down in a book at Jeremiah's dictation in the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah, Jer 45:2 'This is what Yahweh God of Israel says about you, Baruch!

Jer 45:3 "You have been thinking: what disaster for me, and Yahweh has added further grief to my troubles! I am worn out with groaning, and find no relief!"

Jer 45:4 Say to him as follows, "Yahweh says this: Now I am knocking down what I have built, am uprooting what I have planted, over the whole country!

Jer 45:5 And you ask for special treatment! Do not ask, for I am now going to bring disaster on all humanity, Yahweh declares, but you I shall allow to escape with your life, wherever you may go." '

Jer 46:1 The words of Yahweh that were addressed to the prophet Jeremiah against the nations.

Jer 46:2 On Egypt. Against the army of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was at Carchemish on the River Euphrates when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon defeated it in the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah.

Jer 46:3 Buckler and shield at the ready! Onward to battle!

Jer 46:4 Harness the horses: into the saddle, horsemen! To your ranks! On with your helmets! Sharpen your spears, put on your breastplates!

Jer 46:5 Why do I see them retreating, panic-stricken? Their heroes, beaten back, are fleeing headlong, with not a look behind. Terror on every side, Yahweh declares!

Jer 46:6 No flight for the swift, no escape for the strong! Up in the north on the River Euphrates, they have collapsed, have fallen.

Jer 46:7 Who was it rose like the Nile, his waters foaming like a torrent?

Jer 46:8 Why, Egypt rose like the Nile, his waters foaming like a torrent. 'I shall rise', he said, 'and drown the earth; sweep away town and its inhabitants!

Jer 46:9 Charge, horses! Forward, chariots! Let the warriors advance, men from Cush and Put with shield in hand, men from Lud who bend the bow!'

Jer 46:10 For this is the Day of Lord Yahweh Sabaoth, a day of vengeance when he takes revenge on his foes: the sword will devour until gorged, until drunk with their blood, for Lord Yahweh Sabaoth is holding a sacrificial feast in the land of the north, on the River Euphrates.

Jer 46:11 Go up to Gilead and fetch balm, virgin daughter of Egypt! You multiply remedies in vain, nothing can cure you!

Jer 46:12 The nations have heard of your shame, your wailing fills the world, for warrior has stumbled against warrior, and both have fallen together.

Jer 46:13 The word that came from Yahweh to the prophet Jeremiah when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon advanced to attack Egypt.

Jer 46:14 Publish it in Egypt, proclaim it in Migdol, proclaim it in Noph and Tahpanhes! Say, 'Stand your ground, be prepared, for the sword is devouring all round you!'

Jer 46:15 Why has Apis fled? Why has your Mighty One not stood firm? Why, Yahweh has overturned him,

Jer 46:16 he has caused many to fall! Falling over one another, they say, 'Up, and back to our own people, to the country where we were born, away from the devastating sword!'

Jer 46:17 They have given Pharaoh king of Egypt the nickname, 'Much-noise-but-he-lets-the-chance-slip-by'!

Jer 46:18 As I live, the King declares, whose name is Yahweh Sabaoth, he is coming, a very Tabor among mountains, a Carmel high above the sea!

Jer 46:19 Get your bundle ready for exile, fair inhabitant of Egypt! Noph will be reduced to a desert, desolate, uninhabited.

Jer 46:20 Egypt was a splendid heifer, but a gadfly from the north has settled on her.

Jer 46:21 The mercenaries she had with her, these too were like fattened calves: but they too have taken to their heels, have all run away, not held their ground, for their day of disaster has overtaken them, their time for being punished.

Jer 46:22 Hear her hissing like a snake as they advance in force to fall on her with their axes, like woodcutters, Jer 46:23 they will fell her forest, Yahweh declares, however impenetrable it was for they are more numerous than locusts, there is no counting them.

Jer 46:24 The daughter of Egypt is put to shame, handed over to a people from the north.

Jer 46:25 Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, has said, 'Look, I shall punish Amon of No, Pharaoh, Egypt, its gods, its kings, Pharaoh and those who put their trust in him.'

Jer 46:26 I shall hand him over to those who are determined to kill him, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, to his generals. But afterwards, Egypt will be inhabited again as in the past, Yahweh declares.

Jer 46:27 But do not be afraid, my servant Jacob, Israel, do not be alarmed: for look, I shall rescue you from afar and your descendants from the country where they are captive. Jacob will return and be at peace, secure, with no one to trouble him.

Jer 46:28 Do not be afraid, my servant Jacob, Yahweh declares, for I am with you: I shall make an end of all the nations where I have driven you, but I shall not make an end of you, I shall discipline you only as you deserve, not leaving you quite unpunished.

Jer 47:1 The word of Yahweh that came to Jeremiah about the Philistines before Pharaoh attacked Gaza.

Jer 47:2 'Yahweh says this: Look, the waters are rising from the north to become an overwhelming flood, overwhelming the country and all in it, the town and its inhabitants! People cry for help, and there is wailing from all the country's inhabitants

Jer 47:3 at the thunder of his chargers' hoofs, the crash of his chariots, the grinding of his wheels. Fathers forget about their children, their hands fall limp

Jer 47:4 because the day has come for all the Philistines to be destroyed, for Tyre and Sidon to be stripped to the last of their allies. Yes, Yahweh is destroying the Philistines, the remnant from the Isle of Caphtor.

Jer 47:5 Baldness has befallen Gaza, Ashkelon has been reduced to silence. You who remain in the valley, how long will you gash yourselves?

Jer 47:6 Oh, sword of Yahweh, how long before you rest? Back into your scabbard, stop, keep still!

Jer 47:7 Yet how can it rest when Yahweh has given it an order, Ashkelon and the sea coast, the targets assigned to it?

Jer 48:1 On Moab. Yahweh, God of Israel, says this: Wretched Nebo, for it has been ravaged, Kiriathaim has been shamed and taken, shame and distraction on the citadel, Jer 48:2 the pride of Moab is no more! At Heshbon they plotted her downfall, 'Come, let us put an end to her as a nation!' And you too, inhabitants of Madmen, will be silenced, the sword will be after you.

Jer 48:3 A cry of agony goes up from Horonaim, 'Devastation! Dire calamity.'

Jer 48:4 Moab has been shattered,' the agonised cries of her little ones ring out.

Jer 48:5 Up the slope of Luhith, weeping they go. On the road down to Horonaim is heard the shriek of disaster,

Jer 48:6 'Away! Flee for your lives like the wild donkey into the desert!'

Jer 48:7 Yes, since you relied on your deeds and your wealth, you will be captured too. Chemosh will go into exile, with all his priests and princes.

Jer 48:8 The despoiler will descend on every town, not one will escape; the Valley will be ravaged, the Plain be plundered as Yahweh has said.

Jer 48:9 Give Moab wings so that she can fly away, for her towns will be laid in ruins where no one will ever live again.

Jer 48:10 (Accursed be he who does Yahweh's work negligently! Accursed be he who deprives his sword of blood!)

Jer 48:11 From his youth Moab lived at ease, he settled on his lees, never having been decanted, never having gone into exile: and so he kept his own flavour, his aroma was unchanged.

Jer 48:12 And so the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when I shall send him decanters to decant him; they will empty his pitchers and break his wine jars to bits.

Jer 48:13 Moab will be shamed by Chemosh then, as the House of Israel was shamed by Bethel in which they put their trust.

Jer 48:14 How can you say, 'We are heroes, sturdy fighting men'?

Jer 48:15 Moab has been ravaged, his cities scaled, the flower of his youth goes down to the slaughter, declares the King, whose name is Yahweh Sabaoth.

Jer 48:16 Moab's ruin is coming soon, his downfall comes at top speed.

Jer 48:17 Grieve for him, all you living near him, all you who knew his name. Say, 'How shattered it is, that mighty rod, that splendid sceptre!'

Jer 48:18 Come down from your glory, sit on the parched ground, daughter of Dibon, for the despoiler of Moab has advanced on you, he has destroyed your strongholds.

Jer 48:19 Stand by the roadside, keep watch, daughter of Aroer. Question fugitive and runaway, ask, 'What has happened?'

Jer 48:20 'Moab has been shattered and shamed. Wail and shriek! Shout along the Arnon, Moab has been laid waste!'

Jer 48:21 Judgement has also come on the Plain, on Holon, Jahzah, Mephaath,

Jer 48:22 Dibon, Nebo, Beth-Diblathaim,

Jer 48:23 Kiriathaim, Beth-Gamul, Beth-Meon,

Jer 48:24 Kerioth, Bozrah, and all the towns of Moab, far and near.

Jer 48:25 Moab's horn has been cut off, his arm is broken, Yahweh declares.

Jer 48:26 Make him drunk! He has set himself up against Yahweh; let Moab wallow in his vomit and become a laughing-stock in his turn.

Jer 48:27 Was Israel not a laughing-stock to you? Was he caught red-handed with the thieves, for you to shake your head whenever you mention him?

Jer 48:28 Leave the towns, make the rocks your home, inhabitants of Moab. Learn from the dove that makes its nest in the walls of the gaping gorge.

Jer 48:29 We have heard about Moab's pride, so very proud! What arrogance! What pride! What conceit! What a haughty heart!

Jer 48:30 -I know all about his presumption, Yahweh declares, his empty boasting, those empty deeds of his!

Jer 48:31 -and so I lament for Moab, for all Moab I raise my cry and mourn for the people of Kir-Heres.

Jer 48:32 More than for Jazer I weep for you, vineyard of Sibmah: your shoots stretched beyond the sea, they reached all the way to Jazer. On your harvest and vintage the despoiler has descended.

Jer 48:33 Gladness and joy have vanished from the orchards of Moab. I have dried up the wine in the presses, the treader of grapes treads no more, the joyful shouting has ceased.

Jer 48:34 The cries of Heshbon and Elealeh can be heard as far as Jahaz. The shrieks resound from Zoar to Horonaim and Eglath-Shelishiyah, for even the Waters of Nimrim have become a wasteland.

Jer 48:35 And in Moab I shall make an end, Yahweh declares, of anyone offering sacrifice on the high places and anyone offering incense to his gods.

Jer 48:36 That is why my heart sobs like a flute for Moab, sobs like a flute for the people of Kir-Heres, since the wealth he had acquired is lost.

Jer 48:37 Yes, every head is shaved, every beard cut off, gashes are on every hand, sackcloth round every waist.

Jer 48:38 On all the housetops of Moab and in all its squares there is nothing but lamenting, for I have broken Moab like an unwanted pot, Yahweh declares.

Jer 48:39 How shattered he is! Wail! Moab so shamefully in retreat! Moab has become a laughing-stock, a thing of horror to all his neighbours.

Jer 48:40 For Yahweh says this: (Look, like an eagle, he will hover, spreading his wings over Moab.)

Jer 48:41 The towns have been captured, the strongholds seized. (And the heart of Moab's warriors, that day, will be like that of a woman in labour pains.)

Jer 48:42 Moab will be destroyed, no longer a people, for setting itself up against Yahweh.

Jer 48:43 Terror, the pit and the snare for you, inhabitant of Moab, Yahweh declares.

Jer 48:44 And anyone who escapes from terror will fall into the pit, and anyone who climbs out of the pit will be caught in the snare. Yes, I shall bring all this on Moab when the year comes for punishing them, Yahweh declares.

Jer 48:45 In the shelter of Heshbon the fugitives have paused, exhausted. But fire will burst from Heshbon, a flame from the palace of Sihon, consuming the brows of Moab, the head of a turbulent brood.

Jer 48:46 Disaster for you, Moab! The people of Chemosh are lost! For your sons have been taken into exile and your daughters into captivity.

Jer 48:47 But I shall bring back Moab's captives in the final days, Yahweh declares. Thus far the judgement on Moab.

Jer 49:1 To the Ammonites. Yahweh says this: Has Israel no sons? Has he no heir? Why should Milcom have inherited Gad and his people have settled in its towns?

Jer 49:2 And so the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when I shall make the war cry ring out for Rabbah-of-the-Ammonites. She will become a desolate mound and her daughter towns will be burnt down. Then Israel will inherit from his heirs, Yahweh says.

Jer 49:3 Wail, Heshbon, for Ar has been laid waste! Shriek, daughters of Rabbah! Wrap yourself in sackcloth, raise the dirge, run to and fro among the sheep-pens! For Milcom is going into exile, with all his priests and princes.

Jer 49:4 How you used to glory in your Valley, rebellious daughter, confident in your resources, 'Who will dare to attack me?'

Jer 49:5 Look, I shall bring terror on you, Lord Yahweh Sabaoth declares, from all directions; you shall be driven away, everyone for himself, with no one to rally the fugitives.

Jer 49:6 (But later I shall bring back the captive Ammonites, Yahweh declares.)

Jer 49:7 To Edom. Yahweh says this: Is there no wisdom left in Teman? Have the shrewd run out of commonsense, has their wisdom vanished?

Jer 49:8 Away! Take to your heels! Go into hiding, inhabitants of Dedan, for I shall bring ruin on Esau when the time comes for me to punish him.

Jer 49:9 If grape-pickers were to come to you, would they not leave a few gleanings? If robbers came during the night, would they not steal only as much as they wanted?

Jer 49:10 But I for my part have stripped Esau, have laid his hiding places bare: he can hide no longer. His race is destroyed, so are his brothers and neighbours; he is no more!

Jer 49:11 Leave your orphans, I shall support them, and let your widows rely on me!

Jer 49:12 For Yahweh says this, 'Look, those who would not have had to drink the cup will have to drink it all the same; so why should you go unpunished? You will not go unpunished, but will certainly have to drink.'

Jer 49:13 For by my own self I have sworn, Yahweh declares, that Bozrah will become an object of horror, a laughing-stock, a desert, a curse, and all its towns ruins for ever.'

Jer 49:14 I have received a message from Yahweh, a herald has been sent throughout the nations, 'Muster! March against this people! Prepare for battle!'

Jer 49:15 For look, I shall reduce you to the smallest of nations, to the most despised of people.

Jer 49:16 Your reputation for ferocity, your proud heart has misled you. You whose home is in the crannies of the Rock, who cling to the top of the peak! Though you make your nest as high as the eagle's, I shall bring you down from there, Yahweh declares.

Jer 49:17 Edom will become an object of horror; everyone going near will be appalled, and whistle at the sight of all her wounds.

Jer 49:18 As at the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and their neighbouring towns, no one will live there any more, Yahweh says, no human being settle there again.

Jer 49:19 Look, like a lion he climbs from the thickets of the Jordan to the perennial pasture! In a flash, I shall make them run away, and there appoint someone I shall choose. For who is there like me? Who can hale me into court? Name me the shepherd who can stand up to me.

Jer 49:20 So now hear the plan that Yahweh has laid against Edom, the schemes he has in mind against the inhabitants of Teman: they will certainly be dragged away like the smallest of the flock! Their pastures will certainly be sacked before their eyes!

Jer 49:21 The earth quakes at the sound of their downfall, the sound of it echoes to the Sea of Reeds.

Jer 49:22 Look, like an eagle, he will soar and hover, spreading his wings over Bozrah. And the heart of Edom's warriors, that day, will be like that of a woman in labour pains.

Jer 49:23 To Damascus. Hamath and Arpad are shamed, for they have heard bad news. They are convulsed with anxiety like the sea that cannot be calmed.

Jer 49:24 Damascus is aghast, she prepares for flight, she is seized with trembling (anguish and sorrow have laid hold on her as on a woman in labour).

Jer 49:25 What now! That famous town deserted, that city of gaiety?

Jer 49:26 And so in her squares her young men will fall, and all her fighting men will perish, that day, Yahweh Sabaoth declares.

Jer 49:27 I shall light a fire inside the walls of Damascus, to devour the palaces of Ben-Hadad.

Jer 49:28 To Kedar and the kingdoms of Hazor, which were conquered by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. Yahweh says this: Up! March on Kedar, destroy the sons of the east!

Jer 49:29 Let their tents and their flocks be captured, their tent-cloths and all their gear; let their camels be seized and the shout go up, 'Terror on every side!'

Jer 49:30 Away! Get into hiding as fast as you can, inhabitants of Hazor, Yahweh declares, for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has made a plan against you, he has a scheme in mind against you, Jer 49:31 Up! March on a nation at its ease, living secure, Yahweh declares, that has no gates, no bars, that lives in a remote place!

Jer 49:32 Their camels will be the plunder, their countless sheep the spoil. I shall scatter them to the winds, those Crop-Heads, and bring ruin on them from every side, Yahweh declares.

Jer 49:33 Hazor will become the lair of jackals, desolate for ever. No one will live there any more, no human being settle there again.

Jer 49:34 The word of Yahweh that came to the prophet Jeremiah about Elam, at the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah.

Jer 49:35 'Yahweh Sabaoth says this: Look, I shall break Elam's bow, the source of his might.

Jer 49:36 I shall bring four winds on Elam from the four corners of the sky, and I shall scatter them to all these winds: there will not be a single nation to which people expelled from Elam do not go.

Jer 49:37 I shall make the Elamites tremble before their enemies, before those determined to kill them. I shall bring disaster on them, my burning anger, Yahweh declares. I shall pursue them with the sword until I have destroyed them all.

Jer 49:38 I shall set up my throne in Elam, uprooting its king and princes, Yahweh declares.

Jer 49:39 In the final days, I shall bring Elam's captives back, Yahweh declares.'

Jer 50:1 The word that Yahweh spoke against Babylon, against the country of the Chaldaeans, through the prophet Jeremiah.

Jer 50:2 Announce it to the nations, proclaim it, hoist a signal and proclaim it, making no secret of it, say, 'Babylon is captured, Bel disgraced, Marduk shattered. (Her idols are disgraced, her Obscenities shattered.)'

Jer 50:3 For a nation is marching on her from the north, to turn her country into a desert: no one will live there any more; human and animal have fled and gone.

Jer 50:4 In those days and at that time the people of Israel will return (they and the people of Judah); they will come weeping in search of Yahweh their God.

Jer 50:5 They will ask the way to Zion and turn their faces towards her, 'Come, let us bind ourselves to Yahweh by an everlasting covenant never to be forgotten!'

Jer 50:6 Lost sheep, such were my people; their shepherds led them astray, the mountains misled them; from mountain to hill they went, forgetful of their fold.

Jer 50:7 Whoever came across them devoured them, their enemies said, 'We are not to blame, since they have sinned against Yahweh, the Home of Justice, against Yahweh, the Hope of their ancestors.'

Jer 50:8 Escape from Babylon, leave the country of the Chaldaeans. Be like he-goats, leading the sheep!

Jer 50:9 For look, I shall raise a league of mighty nations to attack Babylon, from the land of the north. They will take up position against her; by them she will be taken. Their arrows, like an experienced soldier's, never return in vain.

Jer 50:10 Chaldaea will be plundered, all her plunderers will be satisfied, Yahweh declares.

Jer 50:11 Rejoice! Have your triumph, you plunderers of my heritage! Be playful like a heifer let out to grass!
Neigh like stallions!

Jer 50:12 But your mother is covered with shame, disgraced is the woman who bore you; she is the least of nations now; a desert, a parched land, a wasteland.

Jer 50:13 Because of Yahweh's anger, no one will live there any more, she will become a total solitude. All who pass by Babylon will be appalled and whistle at the sight of all her wounds.

Jer 50:14 Take position against Babylon, surround her, all you who bend the bow. Shoot at her! Do not spare your arrows, for she has sinned against Yahweh!

Jer 50:15 Raise the war cry against her from all sides. She surrenders! Her bastions fall! Her walls collapse!
This is Yahweh's vengeance! Take revenge on her. Treat her as she has treated others.

Jer 50:16 Deprive Babylon of the man who sows, of the man who wields the sickle at harvest. Away from the devastating sword, let everyone return to his own people, let everyone flee to his own country!

Jer 50:17 Israel was a straying sheep pursued by lions. First, the king of Assyria devoured him, and latterly Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon crunched his bones.

Jer 50:18 So Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel, says this: Look, I shall punish the king of Babylon and his country as I punished the king of Assyria.

Jer 50:19 I will bring Israel back to his pastures to browse on Carmel and in Bashan, on the highlands of Ephraim and in Gilead, and he will be satisfied.

Jer 50:20 In those days and at that time, Yahweh declares, you may look for Israel's guilt, it will not be there, for Judah's sins, you will not find them, for I shall pardon the remnant that I leave.

Jer 50:21 March on the country of Merathaim, march on it and on the inhabitants of Pekod; slaughter and curse with destruction every last one of them, Yahweh declares, carry out my orders to the letter!

Jer 50:22 The din of battle fills the country, immense destruction.

Jer 50:23 How utterly shattered that hammer of the whole world! What a thing of horror Babylon has become throughout the nations!

Jer 50:24 I set a snare for you, Babylon; you were caught before you knew it. You have been found and overpowered for having defied Yahweh.

Jer 50:25 Yahweh has opened his armoury and taken out the weapons of his fury. For Lord Yahweh Sabaoth has work to do in the country of the Chaldaeans.

Jer 50:26 Fall on her from every side, open her granaries, pile her in heaps, curse her with destruction, until nothing is left of her.

Jer 50:27 Slaughter all her bulls, down to the slaughterhouse with them! Disaster on them, their day has come, their time for being punished.

Jer 50:28 Listen! Fugitives and runaways from the country of Babylon arrive in Zion and proclaim the revenge of Yahweh our God, revenge for his Temple!

Jer 50:29 Call up the archers against Babylon! All you who bend the bow, invest her on all sides, leave her no way of escape. Repay her as her deeds deserve; treat her as she has treated others, for she was arrogant to Yahweh, to the Holy One of Israel.

Jer 50:30 And so in her squares her young men will fall, and all her fighting men will perish, that day, Yahweh declares.

Jer 50:31 My quarrel is with you, 'Arrogance!' Lord Yahweh Sabaoth declares, your day has come, the time for me to punish you.

Jer 50:32 'Arrogance' will stumble, she will fall, no one will lift her up: I shall set fire to her towns and it will devour all around it.

Jer 50:33 Yahweh Sabaoth says this: The people of Israel are oppressed (and the people of Judah too), all their captors hold them fast, they will not let them go.

Jer 50:34 But their redeemer is strong: Yahweh Sabaoth is his name. He will take up their cause, to give our country rest but make the inhabitants of Babylon tremble.

Jer 50:35 A sword against the Chaldaeans, Yahweh declares, against the inhabitants of Babylon, against her princes and her sages!

Jer 50:36 A sword against her diviners: may they lose their wits! A sword against her warriors: may they panic!

Jer 50:37 A sword against her horses, her chariots and the conglomeration of people inside her: may they be like women! A sword against her treasures: may they be plundered!

Jer 50:38 Drought on her waters: may they dry up! For it is a country of idols, and they are mad about those bogeys of theirs!

Jer 50:39 Hence wild cats and jackals will live there, and ostriches make their home there. She will never again be inhabited, for ever, but remain uninhabited age after age.

Jer 50:40 As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and their neighbouring towns, Yahweh declares, no one will live there any more, no human being settle there again.

Jer 50:41 Look, a people is coming from the north, a mighty nation; from the far ends of the earth many kings are stirring.

Jer 50:42 They are armed with bow and spear, they are cruel and pitiless; their noise is like the roaring of the sea; they ride horses, ready as one man to fight you, daughter of Babylon!

Jer 50:43 The king of Babylon has heard the news, his hands fall limp, anguish has seized him, pain like that of a woman in labour.

Jer 50:44 Look, like a lion he climbs the thickets of the Jordan to the perennial pasture! In a flash I shall make them run away and there appoint someone I shall choose. For who is there like me? Who can hale me into court? Name me the shepherd who can stand up to me.

Jer 50:45 So now hear the plan that Yahweh has laid against Babylon, the schemes he has in mind against the country of the Chaldaeans: they will certainly be dragged away like the smallest in the flock! Their pastures will certainly be sacked before their eyes!

Jer 50:46 The earth quakes at the sound of Babylon's capture, and the shouting echoes through the nations.

Jer 51:1 Yahweh says this: Against Babylon and the inhabitants of Leb-Kamai I shall rouse a destructive wind.

Jer 51:2 I shall send winnowers to Babylon to winnow her and leave her country bare, for she will be beleaguered on all sides, on the day of disaster.

Jer 51:3 Let no archer bend his bow! Let no man swagger in his breastplate!-No quarter for her young men! Curse her whole army with destruction!

Jer 51:4 In the country of the Chaldaeans the slaughtered will fall, in the streets of Babylon, those run through by the sword.

Jer 51:5 For Israel and Judah have not been bereft of their God, Yahweh Sabaoth, although their country was full of sin against the Holy One of Israel.

Jer 51:6 Escape from Babylon (save your lives, each one of you); do not perish for her guilt, for now is the time for Yahweh's vengeance: he will pay her her reward!

Jer 51:7 Babylon was a golden cup in Yahweh's hand, she made the whole world drunk, the nations drank her wine and then went mad.

Jer 51:8 Babylon has suddenly fallen, is broken: wail for her! Fetch balm for her wounds, perhaps she can be cured!

Jer 51:9 -'We tried to cure Babylon; she has got no better. Leave her alone and let us each go to his own country.' -Yes, her sentence reaches to the sky, rises to the very clouds.

Jer 51:10 Yahweh has shown the uprightness of our cause. Come, let us tell in Zion what Yahweh our God has done.

Jer 51:11 Sharpen the arrows, fill the quivers! Yahweh has roused the spirit of the kings of the Medes, because he has a plan against Babylon to destroy it; this is Yahweh's revenge, revenge for his Temple.

Jer 51:12 Against the walls of Babylon raise the standard! Strengthen the guard! Post the sentries! Take up concealed positions! For Yahweh has both planned and done what he promised he would to the inhabitants of Babylon.

Jer 51:13 Enthroned beside abundant waters, rich in treasures, you now meet your end, the finish of your pillaging.

Jer 51:14 By his own self Yahweh Sabaoth has sworn: I shall fill you with men as though with grasshoppers, and over you they will raise the triumph-shout.

Jer 51:15 By his power he made the earth, by his wisdom set the world firm, by his discernment spread out the heavens.

Jer 51:16 When he thunders there is a roaring of waters in heaven; he raises clouds from the furthest limits of the earth, makes the lightning flash for the downpour, and brings the wind from his storehouse.

Jer 51:17 At this everyone stands stupefied, uncomprehending, every goldsmith blushes for his idols; his castings are but delusion, with no breath in them.

Jer 51:18 They are futile, a laughable production, when the time comes for them to be punished, they will vanish.

Jer 51:19 The Heritage of Jacob is not like these, for he is the maker of everything, and Israel is the tribe that is his heritage; His name is Yahweh Sabaoth.

Jer 51:20 You were my mace, a weapon of war. With you I crushed nations, struck kingdoms down,

Jer 51:21 with you crushed horse and rider, with you crushed chariot and charioteer,

Jer 51:22 with you crushed man and woman, with you crushed old man and young, with you crushed young man and girl,

Jer 51:23 with you crushed shepherd and flock, with you crushed ploughman and team, with you crushed governors and magistrates,

Jer 51:24 and I shall repay Babylon and the inhabitants of Chaldaea, before your eyes, for all the wrongs they have done to Zion, Yahweh declares.

Jer 51:25 I am setting myself against you, mountain of destruction, Yahweh declares, destroyer of the whole world! I shall reach out my hand for you and send you tumbling from the crags and make you a burnt-out mountain.

Jer 51:26 No corner-stone will be taken from you again and no foundation-stone, for you will be a desert for ever, Yahweh declares.

Jer 51:27 Raise the standard throughout the world, sound the trumpet among the nations! Consecrate nations to make war on her; summon kingdoms against her: Ararat, Minni, Ashkenaz; appoint a recruiting-officer for her enemies, bring up the cavalry, bristling like locusts.

Jer 51:28 Consecrate nations to make war on her: the kings of Media, her governors, all her magistrates and the whole territory under their rule.

Jer 51:29 Then the earth trembled and writhed, for Yahweh's plan against Babylon was being executed: to change the country of Babylon into an unpopulated desert.

Jer 51:30 The warriors of Babylon have done with fighting, they have stayed inside their fortresses; their courage exhausted, they are now like women. Her houses are on fire, her gates are shattered.

Jer 51:31 Courier follows close on courier, messenger on messenger, to tell the king of Babylon that his city has been taken from all sides,

Jer 51:32 the fords occupied, the bastions burnt down and the fighting men seized with panic.

Jer 51:33 For Yahweh Sabaoth, the God of Israel, says this: the daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor when it is being trodden: a little while, and then the time for harvesting her will come.

Jer 51:34 He devoured me, consumed me, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, left me like an empty dish, like the Dragon he has swallowed me whole, filled his belly with my titbits and threw me out.

Jer 51:35 'On Babylon be the wounds I suffered!' the daughter of Zion will say. 'On the inhabitants of Chaldaea be my blood!' Jerusalem will say.

Jer 51:36 So, Yahweh says this: Look, I am taking up your cause to make sure you are avenged. I shall dry her river up, make her springs run dry.

Jer 51:37 Babylon will become a heap of stones, the lair of jackals, a thing of horror and of scorn, with no one living in it.

Jer 51:38 Like lions they roar together, they growl like lions' whelps.

Jer 51:39 Are they feverish? I will prepare them a drink and make them drink until they are tipsy and fall into an everlasting sleep, never to wake again, Yahweh declares.

Jer 51:40 I will drag them away to the slaughterhouse like lambs, like rams and goats.

Jer 51:41 What! Has Sheshak been taken, been conquered, the pride of the whole world? What a thing of horror Babylon has become throughout the nations!

Jer 51:42 The sea has risen over Babylon, she sinks beneath its boisterous waves.

Jer 51:43 Her towns have been turned into wasteland, a parched land, a desert, a country where no one lives and where nobody goes.

Jer 51:44 I shall punish Bel in Babylon and make him disgorge what he has swallowed. In future the nations will stream to him no more. The very walls of Babylon will fall.

Jer 51:45 Get out of her, my people; save your lives, each one of you, from Yahweh's furious anger.

Jer 51:46 But do not be faint-hearted! Do not take fright at rumours hawked round the country: one rumour spreads one year, next year another follows; violence rules on earth and one tyrant succeeds another.

Jer 51:47 So look, the days are coming when I shall punish the idols of Babylon. Her entire country will be humbled, with all her slaughtered lying on home-soil.

Jer 51:48 The heaven and earth and all within them will shout for joy over Babylon, for the destroyers from the north are coming to her, Yahweh declares.

Jer 51:49 Babylon in her turn must fall, you slaughtered ones of Israel, just as through Babylon there fell men slaughtered all over the world.

Jer 51:50 You who have escaped her sword, leave her, do not wait! Remember Yahweh from afar, let Jerusalem come into your mind.

Jer 51:51 -'We were ashamed when we heard of the outrage, we were covered in confusion because foreigners had entered the Temple of Yahweh's holy places.'

Jer 51:52 -So look, the days are coming, Yahweh declares, when I shall punish her idols, and the wounded will groan throughout her country.

Jer 51:53 Were Babylon to scale the heavens or reinforce her towering citadel, destroyers would still come to her on my orders, Yahweh declares.

Jer 51:54 The din of shouting from Babylon, of immense destruction, from the country of the Chaldaeans!

Jer 51:55 Yes, Yahweh is laying Babylon waste and silencing her monstrous din, whose waves used to roar like the ocean and their tumultuous voices rang out.

Jer 51:56 For the destroyer has fallen on Babylon, her warriors are captured, their bows are broken. Yes, Yahweh is a God of retribution, he never fails to repay.

Jer 51:57 I shall make her princes and her sages drink, her governors, her magistrates, her warriors; they will fall into an everlasting sleep, never to wake again, declares the King, whose name is Yahweh Sabaoth.

Jer 51:58 Yahweh Sabaoth says this: The walls of Babylon the Great will be rased to the ground, and her lofty gates will be burnt down. Thus peoples toil for nothing and nations wear themselves out, for the flames.

Jer 51:59 This is the order that the prophet Jeremiah gave to Seraiah son of Neriah, son of Mahseiah when Seraiah left for Babylon with Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year of his reign. Seraiah was lord chamberlain.

Jer 51:60 Now, on one sheet, Jeremiah had written down the entire disaster that was to befall Babylon, that is, all these words recorded here against Babylon.

Jer 51:61 Jeremiah then said to Seraiah, 'When you reach Babylon, see to it that you read all these words aloud.

Jer 51:62 Then say, "You, Yahweh, have promised to destroy this place, so that no one will live here ever again, neither human nor animal, and it will be desolate for ever."

Jer 51:63 Then, when you have finished reading this sheet, tie a stone to it and throw it into the middle of the Euphrates,

Jer 51:64 with the words, "So shall Babylon sink, never to rise again from the disaster which I am going to bring on her." ' Thus far the words of Jeremiah.

Jer 52:1 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he came to the throne, and he reigned for eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamital daughter of Jeremiah, of Libnah.

Jer 52:2 He did what is displeasing to Yahweh, just as Jehoiakim had done.

Jer 52:3 That this should happen to Jerusalem and Judah was due to Yahweh's anger, resulting in his casting them away from his presence. Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

Jer 52:4 In the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon advanced on Jerusalem with his entire army; he pitched camp in front of the city and threw up earthworks round it.

Jer 52:5 The city lay under siege till the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.

Jer 52:6 In the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, when famine was raging in the city and there was no food for the populace,

Jer 52:7 a breach was made in the city wall. The king and all the fighting men then fled, leaving the city under cover of dark, by way of the gate between the two walls, which is near the king's garden -- the Chaldaeans had surrounded the city -- and made his way towards the Arabah.

Jer 52:8 The Chaldaean troops pursued the king and caught up with Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho, where all his troops deserted.

Jer 52:9 But the Chaldaeans captured the king and took him to the king of Babylon at Riblah in the territory of Hamath, where he passed sentence on him.

Jer 52:10 He had Zedekiah's sons slaughtered before his eyes; he also had all the chief men of Judah put to death at Riblah.

Jer 52:11 He then put out Zedekiah's eyes and, loading him with chains, the king of Babylon carried him off to Babylon where he kept him prisoner until his dying day.

Jer 52:12 In the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month -- it was in the nineteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon -- Nebuzaradan commander of the guard, a member of the king of Babylon's staff, entered Jerusalem.

Jer 52:13 He burnt down the Temple of Yahweh, the royal palace and all the houses in Jerusalem.

Jer 52:14 The Chaldaean troops who accompanied the commander of the guard demolished all the walls surrounding Jerusalem.

Jer 52:15 Nebuzaradan commander of the guard deported (some of the poor people and) the remainder of the population left in the city, the deserters who had gone over to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the artisans.

Jer 52:16 But Nebuzaradan commander of the guard left some of the poor country-people behind as vineyard workers and ploughmen.

Jer 52:17 The Chaldaeans broke up the bronze pillars from the Temple of Yahweh, the wheeled stands and the bronze Sea, which were in the Temple of Yahweh, and took all the bronze away to Babylon.

Jer 52:18 They also took the ash containers, the scoops, the knives, the sprinkling bowls, the incense bowls, and all the bronze furnishings used in worship.

Jer 52:19 The commander of the guard also took the bowls, the censers, the sprinkling bowls, the ash containers, the lamp-stands, the goblets and the saucers: everything that was made of gold and everything made of silver.

Jer 52:20 As regards the two pillars, the one Sea, the twelve bronze oxen supporting the Sea, and the wheeled stands, which King Solomon had made for the Temple of Yahweh, there was no reckoning the weight of bronze in all these objects.

Jer 52:21 As regards the pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, its circumference was twelve cubits, it was four fingers thick, and hollow inside;

Jer 52:22 on it stood a capital of bronze, the height of the capital being five cubits; round the capital were filigree and pomegranates, all in bronze. So also for the second pillar.

Jer 52:23 There were ninety-six pomegranates round the sides, making a hundred pomegranates round the filigree in all.

Jer 52:24 The commander of the guard took prisoner Seraiah the chief priest, Zephaniah the priest next in rank, and the three guardians of the threshold.

Jer 52:25 In the city he took prisoner an official who was in command of the fighting men, seven of the king's personal friends who were discovered in the city, the secretary to the army commander responsible for military conscription, and sixty men of distinction discovered in the city.

Jer 52:26 Nebuzaradan commander of the guard took these men and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah, Jer 52:27 and at Riblah, in the territory of Hamath, the king of Babylon had them put to death. Thus Judah was deported from its country.

Jer 52:28 The number of people deported by Nebuchadnezzar was as follows. In the seventh year: three thousand and twenty-three Judaeans;

Jer 52:29 in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar, eight hundred and thirty-two persons were deported from Jerusalem;

Jer 52:30 in the twenty-third year of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuzaradan commander of the guard deported seven hundred and forty-five Judaeans. In all: four thousand six hundred persons.

Jer 52:31 But in the thirty-seventh year of the exile of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-fifth day of the month, Evil-Merodach king of Babylon, in the year he came to the throne, pardoned Jehoiachin king of Judah and released him from prison.

Jer 52:32 He treated him kindly and allotted him a seat above those of the other kings who were with him in Babylon.

Jer 52:33 So Jehoiachin laid aside his prisoner's garb and for the rest of his life always ate at the king's table.

Jer 52:34 And his upkeep was permanently ensured by the king, day after day, for the rest of his life until the day he died.

Lam 1:1 How deserted she sits, the city once thronged with people! Once the greatest of nations, she is now like a widow. Once the princess of states, she is now put to forced labour.

Lam 1:2 All night long she is weeping, tears running down her cheeks. Not one of all her lovers remains to comfort her. Her friends have all betrayed her and become her enemies.

Lam 1:3 Judah has gone into exile after much pain and toil. Living among the nations she finds no respite; her persecutors all overtake her where there is no way out.

Lam 1:4 The roads to Zion are in mourning; no one comes to her festivals now. Her gateways are all deserted; her priests groan; her young girls are grief-stricken; she suffers bitterly.

Lam 1:5 Her foes now have the upper hand, her enemies prosper, for Yahweh has made her suffer for her many, many crimes; her children have gone away into captivity driven in front of the oppressor.

Lam 1:6 And from the daughter of Zion all her splendour has departed. Her princes were like stags which could find no pasture, exhausted, as they flee before the hunter.

Lam 1:7 Jerusalem remembers her days of misery and distress; when her people fell into the enemy's clutches there was no one to help her. Her enemies looked on and laughed at her downfall.

Lam 1:8 Jerusalem has sinned so gravely that she has become a thing unclean. All who used to honour her despise her, having seen her nakedness; she herself groans aloud and turns her face away.

Lam 1:9 Her filth befoils her skirts -- she never thought to end like this, and hence her astonishing fall with no one to comfort her. Yahweh, look at my misery, for the enemy is triumphant!

Lam 1:10 The enemy stretched out his hand for everything she treasured; she saw the heathen enter her sanctuary, whom you had forbidden to enter your Assembly.

Lam 1:11 All her people are groaning, looking for something to eat; they have bartered their treasures for food, to keep themselves alive. Look, Yahweh, and consider how despised I am!

Lam 1:12 All you who pass this way, look and see: is any sorrow like the sorrow inflicted on me, with which Yahweh struck me on the day of his burning anger?

Lam 1:13 He sent fire from on high deep into my bones; he stretched a net for my feet, he pulled me back; he left me shattered, sick all day long.

Lam 1:14 He has watched out for my offences, with his hand he enmeshes me, his yoke is on my neck, he has deprived me of strength. The Lord has put me into clutches which I am helpless to resist.

Lam 1:15 The Lord has rejected all my warriors within my walls, he has summoned a host against me to crush my young men; in the winepress the Lord trampled the young daughter of Judah.

Lam 1:16 And that is why I weep; my eyes stream with water, since a comforter who could revive me is far away. My children are shattered, for the enemy has proved too strong.

Lam 1:17 Zion stretches out her hands, with no one to comfort her. Yahweh has commanded Jacob's enemies to surround him; they treat Jerusalem as though she were unclean.

Lam 1:18 Yahweh is in the right, for I rebelled against his command. Listen, all you peoples, and see my sorrow. My young girls and my young men have gone into captivity. Qophp

Lam 1:19 I called to my lovers; they failed me. My priests and my elders expired in the city, as they searched for food to keep themselves alive.

Lam 1:20 Look, Yahweh. I am in distress! My inmost being is in ferment; my heart turns over inside me -- how rebellious I have been! Outside, the sword bereaves; inside it is like death.

Lam 1:21 Listen, for I am groaning, with no one to comfort me. All my enemies have heard of my disaster, they are glad about what you have done. Bring the Day you once foretold, so that they may be like me!

Lam 1:22 Let all their wickedness come before you, and treat them as you have treated me for all my crimes; numberless are my groans, and I am sick at heart.

Lam 2:1 In his anger, with what darkness has the Lord enveloped the daughter of Zion! He has flung the beauty of Israel from heaven to the ground, without regard for his footstool on the day of his anger.

Lam 2:2 The Lord pitilessly engulfed all the homes of Jacob; in his fury he tore down the fortresses of the daughter of Judah; he threw to the ground, he desecrated the kingdom and its princes.

Lam 2:3 In his burning anger he broke all the might of Israel, withdrew his protecting right hand at the coming of the enemy, and blazed against Jacob like a fire that burns up everything near it.

Lam 2:4 Like an enemy he bent his bow, and his right hand held firm; like a foe he slaughtered all those who were a delight to see; on the tent of the daughter of Zion he poured out his fury like fire.

Lam 2:5 The Lord behaved like an enemy; he engulfed Israel, he engulfed all its citadels, he destroyed its fortresses and for the daughter of Judah multiplied weeping on wailing.

Lam 2:6 He wrecked his domain like a garden, destroyed his assembly-points, Yahweh erased the memory of festivals and Sabbaths in Zion; in the heat of his anger he treated king and priest with contempt.

Lam 2:7 The Lord has rejected his altar, he has come to loathe his sanctuary and has given her palace walls into the clutches of the enemy; from the uproar they made in Yahweh's temple it might have been a festival day!

Lam 2:8 Yahweh has resolved to destroy the walls of the daughter of Zion, stretching out the line, not staying his hand until he has engulfed everything, thus bringing mourning on wall and rampart; alike they crumbled.

Lam 2:9 Her gates have sunk into the ground; he has broken and shattered their bars. Her king and her princes are among the gentiles, there is no instruction, furthermore her prophets cannot find any vision from Yahweh.

Lam 2:10 Mute, they sit on the ground, the elders of the daughter of Zion; they have put dust on their heads and wrapped themselves in sackcloth. The young girls of Jerusalem bow their heads to the ground.

Lam 2:11 My eyes are worn out with weeping, my inmost being is in ferment, my heart plummets at the destruction of my young people, as the children and babies grow faint in the streets of the city.

Lam 2:12 They keep saying to their mothers, 'Where is some food?' as they faint like wounded men in the streets of the city, as they breathe their last on their mothers' breasts.

Lam 2:13 To what can I compare or liken you, daughter of Jerusalem? Who can rescue and comfort you, young daughter of Zion? For huge as the sea is your ruin: who can heal you?

Lam 2:14 The visions your prophets had for you were deceptive whitewash; they did not lay bare your guilt so as to change your fortunes: the visions they told you were deceptive.

Lam 2:15 All who pass your way clap their hands at the sight; they whistle and shake their heads over the daughter of Jerusalem, 'Is this the city they call Perfection of Beauty, the joy of the whole world?'

Lam 2:16 Your enemies open their mouths in chorus against you; they whistle and grind their teeth; they say, 'We have swallowed her up. This is the day we were waiting for; at last we have seen it!'

Lam 2:17 Yahweh has done what he planned, has carried out his threat, as he ordained long ago: he has destroyed without pity, increasing the might of your foes -- and letting your foes get the credit.

Lam 2:18 Cry then to the Lord, rampart of the daughter of Zion; let your tears flow like a torrent, day and night; allow yourself no respite, give your eyes no rest!

Lam 2:19 Up, cry out in the night-time as each watch begins! Pour your heart out like water in Yahweh's presence! Raise your hands to him for the lives of your children (who faint with hunger at the end of every street)!

Lam 2:20 Look, Yahweh, and consider: whom have you ever treated like this? Should women eat their little ones, the children they have nursed? Should priest and prophet be slaughtered in the Lord's sanctuary?

Lam 2:21 Children and old people are lying on the ground in the streets; my young men and young girls have fallen by the sword; you have killed them, on the day of your anger, you have slaughtered them pitilessly.

Lam 2:22 As though to a festival you called together terrors from all sides, so that, on the day of Yahweh's anger, none escaped and none survived. Those whom I had nursed and reared, my enemy has annihilated them all.

Lam 3:1 I am the man familiar with misery under the rod of his fury.

Lam 3:2 He has led and guided me into darkness, not light.

Lam 3:3 Against none but me does he turn his hand, again and again, all day.

Lam 3:4 He has wasted my flesh and skin away, has broken my bones.

Lam 3:5 He has besieged me and made hardship a circlet round my head.

Lam 3:6 He has forced me to dwell where all is dark, like those long-dead in their everlasting home.

Lam 3:7 He has walled me in so that I cannot escape; he has weighed me down with chains;

Lam 3:8 even when I shout for help, he shuts out my prayer.

Lam 3:9 He has closed my way with blocks of stone, he has obstructed my paths.

Lam 3:10 For me he is a lurking bear, a lion in hiding.

Lam 3:11 Heading me off, he has torn me apart, leaving me shattered.

Lam 3:12 He has bent his bow and used me as a target for his arrows.

Lam 3:13 He has shot deep into me with shafts from his quiver.

Lam 3:14 I have become a joke to all my own people, their refrain all day long.

Lam 3:15 He has given me my fill of bitterness, he has made me drunk with wormwood.

Lam 3:16 He has broken my teeth with gravel, he has fed me on ashes.

Lam 3:17 I have been deprived of peace, I have forgotten what happiness is Lam 3:18 and thought, 'My lasting hope in Yahweh is lost.'

Lam 3:19 Bring to mind my misery and anguish; it is wormwood and gall!

Lam 3:20 My heart dwells on this continually and sinks within me.

Lam 3:21 This is what I shall keep in mind and so regain some hope:

Lam 3:22 Surely Yahweh's mercies are not over, his deeds of faithful love not exhausted;

Lam 3:23 every morning they are renewed; great is his faithfulness!

Lam 3:24 'Yahweh is all I have,' I say to myself, 'and so I shall put my hope in him.'

Lam 3:25 Yahweh is good to those who trust him, to all who search for him.

Lam 3:26 It is good to wait in silence for Yahweh to save.

Lam 3:27 It is good for someone to bear the yoke from a young age,

Lam 3:28 to sit in solitude and silence when it weighs heavy,

Lam 3:29 to lay one's head in the dust -- maybe there is hope-

Lam 3:30 to offer one's cheek to the striker, to have one's fill of disgrace!

Lam 3:31 For the Lord will not reject anyone for ever.

Lam 3:32 If he brings grief, he will have pity out of the fullness of his faithful love,

Lam 3:33 for it is not for his own pleasure that he torments and grieves the human race.

Lam 3:34 When all the prisoners in a country are crushed underfoot,

Lam 3:35 when human rights are overridden in defiance of the Most High,

Lam 3:36 when someone is cheated of justice, does not the Lord see it?

Lam 3:37 Who has only to speak and it is so done? Who commands, if not the Lord?

Lam 3:38 From where, if not from the mouth of the Most High, do evil and good come?

Lam 3:39 Why then should anyone complain? Better to be bold against one's sins.

Lam 3:40 Let us examine our path, let us ponder it and return to Yahweh.

Lam 3:41 Let us raise our hearts and hands to God in heaven.

Lam 3:42 We are the ones who have sinned, who have rebelled, and you have not forgiven.

Lam 3:43 You have enveloped us in anger, pursuing us, slaughtering without pity.

Lam 3:44 You have wrapped yourself in a cloud too thick for prayer to pierce.

Lam 3:45 You have reduced us to rubbish and refuse among the nations.

Lam 3:46 Our enemies open their mouths in chorus against us.

Lam 3:47 Terror and pitfall have been our lot, ravage and ruin.

Lam 3:48 My eyes dissolve in torrents of tears at the ruin of my beloved people.

Lam 3:49 My eyes will weep ceaselessly, without relief,

Lam 3:50 until Yahweh looks down and sees from heaven.

Lam 3:51 My eyes have grown sore over all the daughters of my city.

Lam 3:52 Unprovoked, my enemies hunted me down like a bird.
Lam 3:53 They shut me finally in a pit, they closed me in with a stone.
Lam 3:54 The waters rose over my head; I thought, 'I am lost!'
Lam 3:55 Yahweh, I called on your name from the deep pit.
Lam 3:56 You heard my voice, do not close your ear to my prayer, to my cry.
Lam 3:57 You are near when I call to you. You said, 'Do not be afraid!'
Lam 3:58 Lord, you defended my cause, you have redeemed my life.
Lam 3:59 Yahweh, you have seen the wrong done to me, grant me redress.
Lam 3:60 You have seen their vindictiveness, all their plots against me.
Lam 3:61 You have heard their insults, Yahweh, all their plots against me,
Lam 3:62 the whispering and murmuring of my enemies against me all day long.
Lam 3:63 Look, whether they sit or stand, I am their refrain.
Lam 3:64 Yahweh, repay them as their deeds deserve.
Lam 3:65 Lay hardness of heart as your curse on them.
Lam 3:66 Angry pursue them, root them out from under your heavens!
Lam 4:1 How the gold has tarnished, how the fine gold has changed! The sacred stones lie scattered at the corner of every street.
Lam 4:2 The children of Zion, as precious as finest gold -- to think that they should now be reckoned like crockery made by a potter!
Lam 4:3 The very jackals give the breast, and suckle their young: but the daughter of my people is as cruel as the ostriches of the desert.
Lam 4:4 The tongue of the baby at the breast sticks to its palate for thirst; little children ask for bread, no one gives them any.
Lam 4:5 Those who used to eat only the best, now lie dying in the streets; those who were reared in the purple claw at the rubbish heaps,
Lam 4:6 for the wickedness of the daughter of my people exceeded the sins of Sodom, which was overthrown in a moment without a hand being laid on it.
Lam 4:7 Once her young people were brighter than snow, whiter than milk; rosier than coral their bodies, their hue like sapphire.
Lam 4:8 Now their faces are blacker than soot, they are not recognised in the streets, the skin has shrunk over their bones, as dry as a stick.
Lam 4:9 Happier those killed by the sword than those killed by famine: they waste away, sunken for lack of the fruits of the earth.
Lam 4:10 With their own hands, kindly women cooked their children; this was their food when the daughter of my people was ruined.
Lam 4:11 Yahweh indulged his fury, he vented his fierce anger, he lit a fire in Zion which devoured her foundations.
Lam 4:12 The kings of the earth never believed, nor did any of the inhabitants of the world, that foe or enemy would ever penetrate the gates of Jerusalem.
Lam 4:13 Owing to the sins of her prophets and the crimes of her priests, who had shed the blood of the upright, in the heart of the city,
Lam 4:14 they wandered blindly through the streets, polluted with blood, so that no one dared to touch their clothes.
Lam 4:15 'Keep away! Unclean!' people shouted, 'Keep away! Keep away! Don't touch!' If they left and fled to the nations, they were not allowed to stay there either.
Lam 4:16 The face of Yahweh destroyed them, he will look on them no more. There was no respect for the priests, no deference for the elders.
Lam 4:17 Continually we were wearing out our eyes, watching for help -- in vain. From our towers we watched for a nation which could not save us anyway.
Lam 4:18 Men dogged our steps, to keep us out of our streets. Our end was near, our days were done, our end had come.
Lam 4:19 Our pursuers were swifter than eagles in the sky; they hounded our steps through the mountains, they lay in ambush for us in the wilds.
Lam 4:20 The breath of our nostrils, Yahweh's anointed, was caught in their traps, he of whom we said, 'In his shadow we shall live among the nations.'

Lam 4:21 Rejoice, exult, daughter of Edom, you who reside in Uz! To you in turn the cup will pass; you will get drunk and strip yourself naked!

Lam 4:22 Your wickedness is atoned for, daughter of Zion, he will never banish you again. But your wickedness, daughter of Edom, will he punish, your sins he will lay bare!

Lam 5:1 Yahweh, remember what has happened to us; consider, and see our degradation.

Lam 5:2 Our heritage has passed to strangers, our homes to foreigners.

Lam 5:3 We are orphans, we are fatherless; our mothers are like widows.

Lam 5:4 We have to buy our own water to drink, our own wood we can get only at a price.

Lam 5:5 The yoke is on our necks; we are persecuted; exhausted we are, allowed no rest.

Lam 5:6 We made a pact with Egypt, with Assyria, to have plenty of food.

Lam 5:7 Our ancestors sinned; they are no more, and we bear the weight of their guilt.

Lam 5:8 Slaves rule us; there is no one to rescue us from their clutches.

Lam 5:9 At peril of our lives we earn our bread, by risking the sword of the desert.

Lam 5:10 Our skin is as hot as an oven, from the scorch of famine.

Lam 5:11 The women in Zion have been raped, the young girls in the towns of Judah.

Lam 5:12 Princes have been hanged by their hands; the face of the old has won no respect.

Lam 5:13 Youths have been put to the mill, boys stagger under loads of wood.

Lam 5:14 The elders have deserted the gateway; the young have given up their music.

Lam 5:15 Joy has vanished from our hearts; our dancing has turned to mourning.

Lam 5:16 The crown has fallen from our heads. Alas that ever we sinned!

Lam 5:17 This is why our hearts are sick; this is why our eyes are dim:

Lam 5:18 because Mount Zion is desolate; jackals roam to and fro on it.

Lam 5:19 Yet you, Yahweh, rule from eternity; your throne endures from age to age.

Lam 5:20 Why do you never remember us? Why do you abandon us so long?

Lam 5:21 Make us come back to you, Yahweh, and we will come back. Restore us as we were before!

Lam 5:22 Unless you have utterly rejected us, in an anger which knows no limit.

Bar 1:1 This is the text of the book written in Babylon by Baruch son of Neraiah, son of Mahseiah, son of Zedekiah, son of Hasadiah, son of Hilkiah, Bar 1:2 in the fifth year, on the seventh day of the month, at the time when the Chaldaeans had captured Jerusalem and burned it down.

Bar 1:3 Baruch read the text of this book aloud to Jeconiah son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and to all the people who had come to hear the reading,

Bar 1:4 to the nobles and the sons of the king, and to the elders; to the whole people, that is, to the least no less than to the greatest, to all who lived in Babylon beside the river Sud.

Bar 1:5 On hearing it they wept, fasted and prayed before the Lord;

Bar 1:6 and they collected as much money as each could afford

Bar 1:7 and sent it to Jerusalem to the priest Jehoiakim son of Hilkiah, son of Shallum, and the other priests, and all the people who were with him in Jerusalem.

Bar 1:8 Also on the tenth day of Sivan he was given the utensils of the house of the Lord, which had been removed from the Temple, to take them back to the land of Judah; these were silver utensils which Zedekiah son of Josiah, king of Judah, had had made

Bar 1:9 after Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had deported Jeconiah from Jerusalem to Babylon, together with the princes, the metalworkers, the nobles and the common people.

Bar 1:10 Now, they wrote, we are sending you money to pay for burnt offerings, offerings for sin, and incense.

Prepare oblations and offer them on the altar of the Lord our God;

Bar 1:11 and pray for the long life of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and of his son Belshazzar, that they may endure on earth as long as the heavens endure;

Bar 1:12 and that the Lord may give us strength and enlighten our eyes, so that we may lead our lives under the protection of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and of his son Belshazzar, and that we may serve them for a long time and win their favour.

Bar 1:13 Also pray to the Lord our God for us, because we have sinned against him, and the anger, the fury of the Lord, has still not turned away from us.

Bar 1:14 Lastly, you must read the booklet which we are sending you, publicly in the house of the Lord on the feastday and appropriate days.

Bar 1:15 You must say: Saving justice is the Lord's, we have only the look of shame we bear, as is the case today for the people of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

Bar 1:16 for our kings and princes, our priests, our prophets, and for our ancestors,

Bar 1:17 because we have sinned before the Lord,

Bar 1:18 have disobeyed him, and have not listened to the voice of the Lord our God telling us to follow the commandments which the Lord had ordained for us.

Bar 1:19 From the day when the Lord brought our ancestors out of Egypt until today we have been disobedient to the Lord our God, we have been disloyal, refusing to listen to his voice.

Bar 1:20 And we are not free even today of the disasters and the curse which the Lord pronounced through his servant Moses the day he brought our ancestors out of Egypt to give us a land flowing with milk and honey.

Bar 1:21 We have not listened to the voice of the Lord our God in all the words of those prophets he sent us;

Bar 1:22 but, each following the dictates of our evil heart, we have taken to serving alien gods, and doing what is displeasing to the Lord our God.

Bar 2:1 And so the Lord has carried out the sentence which he passed on us, on our judges who governed Israel, on our kings and leaders and on the people of Israel and of Judah;

Bar 2:2 what he did to Jerusalem has never been paralleled under the wide heavens -- in conformity with what was written in the Law of Moses;

Bar 2:3 we were each reduced to eating the flesh of our own sons and daughters.

Bar 2:4 Furthermore, he has handed them over into the power of all the kingdoms that surround us, to be the contempt and execration of all the neighbouring peoples among whom the Lord scattered them.

Bar 2:5 Instead of being masters, they found themselves enslaved, because we had sinned against the Lord our God by not listening to his voice.

Bar 2:6 Saving justice is the Lord's; we and our ancestors have only the look of shame we bear today.

Bar 2:7 All those disasters which the Lord pronounced against us have now befallen us.

Bar 2:8 And yet we have not tried to win the favour of the Lord by each of us renouncing the dictates of our own wicked heart;

Bar 2:9 so the Lord has been alert to our misdeeds and has brought disaster down on us, since the Lord is upright in everything he had commanded us to do,

Bar 2:10 and we have not listened to his voice so as to follow the commandments which the Lord had ordained for us.

Bar 2:11 And now, Lord, God of Israel, who brought your people out of Egypt with a mighty hand, with signs and wonders, with great power and with outstretched arm, to win yourself a name such as you have today,

Bar 2:12 we have sinned, we have committed sacrilege; Lord our God, we have broken all your precepts.

Bar 2:13 Let your anger turn from us since we are no more than a little remnant among the nations where you have dispersed us.

Bar 2:14 Listen, Lord, to our prayers and our entreaties; deliver us for your own sake and let us win the favour of the people who have deported us,

Bar 2:15 so that the whole world may know that you are the Lord our God, since Israel and his descendants bear your name.

Bar 2:16 Look down, Lord, from your holy dwelling-place and think of us, bow your ear and listen,

Bar 2:17 open your eyes, Lord, and look; the dead down in Sheol, whose breath has been taken from their bodies, are not the ones to give glory and due recognition to the Lord;

Bar 2:18 whoever is overcome with affliction, who goes along bowed down and frail, with failing eyes and hungering soul, that is the one to give you glory and due recognition, Lord.

Bar 2:19 We do not rely on the merits of our ancestors and of our kings to offer you our humble plea, Lord our God.

Bar 2:20 No, you have sent down your anger and your fury on us, as you threatened through your servants the prophets when they said,

Bar 2:21 'The Lord says this: Bend your necks and serve the king of Babylon, and you will remain in the country which I gave to your ancestors.'

Bar 2:22 But if you do not listen to the voice of the Lord and serve the king of Babylon

Bar 2:23 then I shall silence the shouts of rejoicing and mirth and the voices of bridegroom and bride in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem, and the whole country will be reduced to desert, with no inhabitants.'

Bar 2:24 But we would not listen to your voice and serve the king of Babylon, and so you carried out what you had threatened through your servants the prophets: that the bones of our kings and of our ancestors would be dragged from their resting places.

Bar 2:25 They were indeed tossed out to the heat of the day and the frost of the night. And people died in dreadful agony, from famine, sword and plague.

Bar 2:26 And so, because of the wickedness of the House of Israel and the House of Judah, you have made this House, that bears your name, what it is today.

Bar 2:27 And yet, Lord our God, you have treated us in a way worthy of all your goodness and boundless tenderness,

Bar 2:28 just as you had promised through your servant Moses, the day you told him to write your Law in the presence of the Israelites, and said,

Bar 2:29 'If you do not listen to my voice, this great and innumerable multitude will certainly be reduced to a tiny few among the nations where I shall scatter them-

Bar 2:30 for I knew that, being an obstinate people, they would not listen to me. But in the country of their exile, they will come to themselves

Bar 2:31 and acknowledge that I am the Lord their God. I shall give them a heart and an attentive ear,

Bar 2:32 and they will sing my praises in the country of their exile, they will remember my name;

Bar 2:33 they will stop being obstinate and, remembering what became of their ancestors who sinned before the Lord, will turn from their evil deeds.

Bar 2:34 Then I shall bring them back to the country which I promised on oath to their ancestors Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and make them masters in it. I shall make their numbers grow; they will not dwindle again.

Bar 2:35 And I shall make an everlasting covenant with them; so that I am their God and they are my people.

And never again shall I drive my people Israel out of the country which I have given them.'

Bar 3:1 Almighty Lord, God of Israel, a soul in anguish, a troubled heart now cries to you:

Bar 3:2 Listen and have pity, Lord, for we have sinned before you.

Bar 3:3 You sit enthroned for ever, while we are perishing for ever.

Bar 3:4 Almighty Lord, God of Israel, hear the prayer of the dead of Israel, of the children of those who have sinned against you and have not listened to the voice of the Lord their God; hence the disasters which dog us.

Bar 3:5 Do not call to mind the misdeeds of our ancestors, but remember instead your power and your name.

Bar 3:6 You are indeed the Lord our God and we will praise you, Lord,

Bar 3:7 since you have put respect for you in our hearts to encourage us to call on your name. We long to praise you in our exile, for we have rid our hearts of the wickedness of our ancestors who sinned against you.

Bar 3:8 Look, today we are still in exile where you have scattered us as something contemptible, accursed, condemned, for all the misdeeds of our ancestors who had abandoned the Lord our God.

Bar 3:9 Listen, Israel, to commands that bring life; hear, and learn what knowledge means.

Bar 3:10 Why, Israel, why are you in the country of your enemies, growing older and older in an alien land,

Bar 3:11 defiling yourselves with the dead, reckoned with those who go to Sheol?

Bar 3:12 It is because you have forsaken the fountain of wisdom!

Bar 3:13 Had you walked in the way of God, you would be living in peace for ever.

Bar 3:14 Learn where knowledge is, where strength, where understanding, and so learn where length of days is, where life, where the light of the eyes and where peace.

Bar 3:15 But who has found out where she lives, who has entered her treasure house?

Bar 3:16 Where now are the leaders of the nations and those who ruled even the beasts of earth,

Bar 3:17 those who sported with the birds of heaven, those who accumulated silver and gold on which all people rely, and whose possessions had no end,

Bar 3:18 those who worked so carefully in silver -but of whose works no trace is to be found?

Bar 3:19 They have vanished, gone down to Sheol. Others have risen to their places,

Bar 3:20 more recent generations have seen the day and peopled the earth in their turn, but the way of knowledge they have not found;

Bar 3:21 they have not recognised the paths she treads. Nor have their children had any grasp of her, remaining far from her way.

Bar 3:22 Nothing has been heard of her in Canaan, nothing has been seen of her in Teman;

Bar 3:23 the children of Hagar in search of worldly wisdom, the merchants of Midian and Teman, the tale-spinners and the philosophers have none of them found the way to wisdom or remembered the paths she treads.

Bar 3:24 How great, Israel, is the house of God, how wide his domain,

Bar 3:25 immeasurably wide, infinitely lofty!

Bar 3:26 In it were born the giants, famous from the beginning, immensely tall, expert in war;

Bar 3:27 God's choice did not fall on these, he did not show them the way of knowledge;

Bar 3:28 they perished for lack of wisdom, perished by their own folly.

Bar 3:29 Who has ever climbed the sky and seized her to bring her down from the clouds?

Bar 3:30 Who has ever crossed the ocean and found her to bring her back in exchange for the finest gold?

Bar 3:31 No one can learn the way to her, no one can understand the path she treads.

Bar 3:32 But the One who knows all discovers her, he has grasped her with his own intellect, he has set the earth firm for evermore and filled it with four-footed beasts,

Bar 3:33 he sends the light -- and it goes, he recalls it -- and trembling it obeys;

Bar 3:34 the stars shine joyfully at their posts;

Bar 3:35 when he calls them, they answer, 'Here we are'; they shine to delight their Creator.

Bar 3:36 It is he who is our God, no other can compare with him.

Bar 3:37 He has uncovered the whole way of knowledge and shown it to his servant Jacob, to Israel his well-beloved;

Bar 3:38 only then did she appear on earth and live among human beings.

Bar 4:1 She is the book of God's commandments, the Law that stands for ever; those who keep her shall live, those who desert her shall die.

Bar 4:2 Turn back, Jacob, seize her, in her radiance make your way to light:

Bar 4:3 do not yield your glory to another, your privilege to a people not your own.

Bar 4:4 Israel, blessed are we: what pleases God has been revealed to us!

Bar 4:5 Take courage, my people, memorial of Israel!

Bar 4:6 You were sold to the nations, but not for extermination. You provoked God; and so were delivered to your enemies,

Bar 4:7 since you had angered your Creator by offering sacrifices to demons, and not to God.

Bar 4:8 You had forgotten the eternal God who reared you. You had also grieved Jerusalem who nursed you,

Bar 4:9 for when she saw God's anger falling on you, she said: Listen, you neighbours of Zion: God has sent me great sorrow.

Bar 4:10 I have seen my sons and daughters taken into captivity, which the Eternal brought down on them.

Bar 4:11 I had reared them joyfully; in tears, in sorrow, I watched them go away.

Bar 4:12 Do not, any of you, exult over me, a widow, deserted by so many; I am bereaved because of the sins of my children, who turned away from the Law of God,

Bar 4:13 who did not want to know his precepts and would not follow the ways of his commandments or tread the paths of discipline as his justice directed.

Bar 4:14 Come here, neighbours of Zion! Remember my sons' and daughters' captivity, which the Eternal brought down on them.

Bar 4:15 How he brought a distant nation down on them, a ruthless nation speaking a foreign language, they showed neither respect for the aged, nor pity for the child;

Bar 4:16 they carried off the widow's cherished sons, they left her quite alone, bereft of her daughters.

Bar 4:17 For my part, how could I help you?

Bar 4:18 He who brought those disasters down on you, is the one to deliver you from your enemies' clutches.

Bar 4:19 Go, my children, go your way! I must stay bereft and lonely;

Bar 4:20 I have taken off the clothes of peace and put on the sackcloth of entreaty; all my life I shall cry to the Eternal.

Bar 4:21 Take courage, my children, call on God: he will deliver you from tyranny, from the clutches of your enemies;

Bar 4:22 for I look to the Eternal for your rescue, and joy has come to me from the Holy One at the mercy soon to reach you from your Saviour, the Eternal.

Bar 4:23 In sorrow and tears I watched you go away, but God will give you back to me in joy and gladness for ever.

Bar 4:24 As the neighbours of Zion have now witnessed your captivity, so will they soon see your rescue by God, which will come upon you with great glory and splendour of the Eternal.

Bar 4:25 My children, patiently bear the anger brought on you by God. Your enemy has persecuted you, but soon you will witness his destruction and set your foot on his neck.

Bar 4:26 My favourite children have travelled by rough roads, carried off like a flock by a marauding enemy.

Bar 4:27 Take courage, my children, call on God: he who brought this on you will remember you.

Bar 4:28 As by your will you first strayed from God, so now turn back and search for him ten times harder;

Bar 4:29 for as he has been bringing down those disasters on you, so will he rescue you and give you eternal joy.

Bar 4:30 Take courage, Jerusalem: he who gave you your name will console you.

Bar 4:31 Disaster will come to all who have ill-treated you and gloated over your fall.

Bar 4:32 Disaster will come to the cities where your children were slaves; disaster to whichever one received your children,

Bar 4:33 for just as she rejoiced at your fall and was happy to see you ruined, so will she grieve over her own desolation.

Bar 4:34 I shall deprive her of the joy of a populous city, and her insolence will turn to mourning;

Bar 4:35 fire from the Eternal will befall her for many a day, and demons will dwell in her for ages.

Bar 4:36 Jerusalem, turn your eyes to the east, see the joy that is coming to you from God.

Bar 4:37 Look, the children you watched go away are on their way home; reassembled from east and west, they are on their way home at the Holy One's command, rejoicing in God's glory.

Bar 5:1 Jerusalem, take off your dress of sorrow and distress, put on the beauty of God's glory for evermore,

Bar 5:2 wrap the cloak of God's saving justice around you, put the diadem of the Eternal One's glory on your head,

Bar 5:3 for God means to show your splendour to every nation under heaven,

Bar 5:4 and the name God gives you for evermore will be, 'Peace-through-Justice, and Glory-through-Devotion'.

Bar 5:5 Arise, Jerusalem, stand on the heights and turn your eyes to the east: see your children reassembled from west and east at the Holy One's command, rejoicing because God has remembered.

Bar 5:6 Though they left you on foot driven by enemies, now God brings them back to you, carried gloriously, like a royal throne.

Bar 5:7 For God has decreed the flattening of each high mountain, of the everlasting hills, the filling of the valleys to make the ground level so that Israel can walk safely in God's glory.

Bar 5:8 And the forests and every fragrant tree will provide shade for Israel, at God's command;

Bar 5:9 for God will guide Israel in joy by the light of his glory, with the mercy and saving justice which come from him. A copy of the letter which Jeremiah sent to those about to be led captive to Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to tell them what he had been commanded by God:

Bar 6:1 'Because of the sins which you have committed before God you are to be deported to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar king of the Babylonians.

Bar 6:2 Once you have reached Babylon you will stay there for many years, as long as seven generations; after which I shall bring you home in peace.

Bar 6:3 Now in Babylon you will see gods made of silver, of gold, of wood, being carried shoulder-high, and filling the gentiles with fear.

Bar 6:4 Be on your guard! Do not imitate the foreigners, do not have any fear of their gods

Bar 6:5 as you see their worshippers prostrating themselves before and behind them. Instead, say in your hearts, "Master, it is you that we must worship."

Bar 6:6 For my angel is with you; your lives will be in his care.

Bar 6:7 'Overlaid with gold and silver, their tongues polished smooth by a craftsman, they are counterfeit and have no power to speak.

Bar 6:8 As though for a girl fond of finery, these people take gold and make crowns for the heads of their gods.

Bar 6:9 And sometimes, the priests filch gold and silver from their gods to spend on themselves, even giving some of it to the prostitutes on the terrace.

Bar 6:10 They dress up these gods of silver, gold and wood, in clothes, like human beings; on their own they cannot protect themselves from either tarnish or woodworm;

Bar 6:11 when they have been dressed in purple cloaks, their faces have to be dusted, because of the temple dust which settles thick on them.

Bar 6:12 One holds a sceptre like the governor of a province, yet is powerless to put to death anyone who offends him;

Bar 6:13 another holds sword and mace in his right hand, yet is powerless to defend himself against war or thieves.

Bar 6:14 From this it is evident that they are not gods; do not be afraid of them.

Bar 6:15 'Just as a pot in common use becomes useless once it is broken, so are these gods enshrined inside their temples.

Bar 6:16 Their eyes are full of dust raised by the feet of those who enter.

Bar 6:17 Just as the doors are locked on all sides on someone who has offended a king and is under sentence of death, so the priests secure the temples of these gods with gates and bolts and bars for fear of burglary.

Bar 6:18 They light more lamps for them than they do for themselves, and the gods see none of them.

Bar 6:19 They are like one of the temple beams, which are said to be gnawed away from within; the termites creep out of the ground and eat them and their clothes too, and they feel nothing.

Bar 6:20 Their faces are blackened by the smoke that rises from the temple.

Bar 6:21 Bats, swallows, birds of every kind perch on their bodies and heads, and so do cats.

Bar 6:22 From this, you can see for yourselves that they are not gods; do not be afraid of them.

Bar 6:23 'The gold with which they are parading their futility before the world is supposed to make them look beautiful, but if someone does not rub off the tarnish, these gods will not be shining much on their own, and even while they were being cast, they felt nothing.

Bar 6:24 However much was paid for them, there is still no breath of life in them.

Bar 6:25 Being unable to walk, they have to be carried on men's shoulders, which shows how futile they are. It is humiliating for their worshippers, too, who have to stand them up again if they fall over.

Bar 6:26 Once they have been stood up, they cannot move on their own; if they tilt askew, they cannot right themselves; offerings made to them might as well be made to the dead.

Bar 6:27 Whatever is sacrificed to them, the priests re-sell and pocket the profit; while their wives salt down part of it, but give nothing to the poor or to the helpless. As to the sacrifices themselves, why, women during their periods and women in childbed are not afraid to touch them!

Bar 6:28 From all this you can tell that they are not gods; do not be afraid of them.

Bar 6:29 'Indeed, how can they even be called gods, when women do the offering to these gods of silver, gold and wood?

Bar 6:30 In their temples, the priests stay sitting down, their garments torn, heads and beard shaved and heads uncovered;

Bar 6:31 they roar and shriek before their gods as people do at funeral feasts.

Bar 6:32 The priests take robes from the gods to clothe their own wives and children.

Bar 6:33 Whether these gods are treated badly or well, they are incapable of paying back either treatment; as incapable too of making or unmaking kings,

Bar 6:34 equally incapable of distributing wealth or money. If anyone fails to honour a vow he has made to them, they cannot call him to account.

Bar 6:35 They can neither save anyone from death nor rescue the weak from the strong,

Bar 6:36 nor restore sight to the blind, nor save anyone in trouble,

Bar 6:37 nor take pity on a widow, nor be generous to an orphan.

Bar 6:38 These wooden gods overlaid with gold and silver are about as much use as rocks cut out of the mountain side. Their worshippers will be confounded!

Bar 6:39 So how can anyone think or say that they are gods?

Bar 6:40 'The Chaldaeans themselves do them no honour; if they find someone who is dumb and cannot speak, they present him to Bel, entreating him for the gift of speech, as though he could perceive it!

Bar 6:41 And they are incapable of drawing the conclusion and abandoning those gods -- such is their lack of perception.

Bar 6:42 Women with strings round their waists sit in the streets, burning bran like incense;

Bar 6:43 when one of these has been picked up by a passer-by and been to bed with him, she then gloats over her neighbour for not having been thought as worthy as herself and for not having had her string broken.

Bar 6:44 Whatever is done for them is spurious. So how can anyone think or say that they are gods?

Bar 6:45 'Made by woodworkers and goldsmiths, they are only what those workmen decide to make them.

Bar 6:46 Their makers have not long to live themselves, so how can the things they make be gods?

Bar 6:47 Their legacy to their descendants is nothing but delusion and dishonour.

Bar 6:48 If war or disasters befall them, the priests discuss where best to hide themselves and these gods;

Bar 6:49 how can anyone fail to realise that they are not gods, if they cannot save themselves from war or from disasters?

Bar 6:50 And since they are only made of wood overlaid with gold or silver, it will later become apparent that they are spurious; it will be obvious to everyone, to nations as to kings, that they are not gods but the work of human hands, and that there is no divine activity in them.

Bar 6:51 Does anyone still need convincing that they are not gods?

Bar 6:52 'They can neither appoint a king over a country, nor give rain to humankind,

Bar 6:53 nor regulate their own affairs, nor rescue anyone who suffers a wrong; they are as helpless as crows between sky and ground.

Bar 6:54 If fire falls on the temple of these wooden gods overlaid with gold or silver, their priests fly to safety while they for their part stay there like beams, to be burnt.

Bar 6:55 They cannot put up any resistance to a king or to enemies.

Bar 6:56 So how can anyone think or say that they are gods?

Bar 6:57 'These wooden gods overlaid with gold or silver cannot evade thieves or marauders; strong men may rob them of their gold and silver and make off with the robes they are dressed in; yet they are powerless to help even themselves.

Bar 6:58 Better to be a king displaying his prowess, a household pot of use to its owner, than to be these counterfeit gods; or merely the door of a house, protecting what is inside, than these counterfeit gods; or a wooden pillar in a palace than these counterfeit gods.

Bar 6:59 The sun, the moon and the stars, which shine and have been given work to do, are obedient;

Bar 6:60 similarly, the lightning, as it flashes, is a fine sight; in the same way, the wind blows across every country,

Bar 6:61 the clouds execute the order God gives them to pass over the whole earth, and the fire, sent from above to consume mountain and forest, carries out its orders.

Bar 6:62 Now these gods are not their equals, either in beauty or in power.

Bar 6:63 So, no one can think or say that they are gods, powerless as they are to administer justice or to do anyone any good.

Bar 6:64 Therefore, knowing that they are not gods, do not be afraid of them.

Bar 6:65 'For they can neither curse nor bless kings,

Bar 6:66 nor produce signs in heaven for the nations, nor shine like the sun, nor shed light like the moon.

Bar 6:67 The animals are better off than they are, being able to look after themselves by making for cover.

Bar 6:68 There is not the slightest shred of evidence that they are gods; so do not be afraid of them!

Bar 6:69 'Their wooden gods overlaid with gold and silver are like a scarecrow in a field of cucumbers -- protecting nothing.

Bar 6:70 Or again, their wooden gods overlaid with gold and silver are like a thorn-bush in a garden -- any kind of bird may perch on it -- or like a corpse thrown out into the dark.

Bar 6:71 From the purple and linen rotting on their backs you can tell that they are not gods; and in the end, eaten away, they will be the dishonour of the country.

Bar 6:72 Better, then, someone upright who has no idols; dishonour will never come near him.'

Eze 1:1 In the thirtieth year, on the fifth day of the fourth month, as I was among the exiles by the River Chebar, heaven opened and I saw visions from God.

Eze 1:2 On the fifth of the month -- it was the fifth year of exile for King Jehoiachin-

Eze 1:3 the word of Yahweh was addressed to the priest Ezekiel son of Buzi, in Chaldea by the River Chebar. There the hand of Yahweh came on him.

Eze 1:4 I looked; a stormy wind blew from the north, a great cloud with flashing fire and brilliant light round it, and in the middle, in the heart of the fire, a brilliance like that of amber,

Eze 1:5 and in the middle what seemed to be four living creatures. They looked like this: They were of human form.

Eze 1:6 Each had four faces, each had four wings.

Eze 1:7 Their legs were straight; they had hooves like calves, glittering like polished brass.

Eze 1:8 Below their wings, they had human hands on all four sides corresponding to their four faces and four wings.

Eze 1:9 They touched one another with their wings; they did not turn as they moved; each one moved straight forward.

Eze 1:10 As to the appearance of their faces, all four had a human face, and a lion's face to the right, and all four had a bull's face to the left, and all four had an eagle's face.

Eze 1:11 Their wings were spread upwards, each had one pair touching its neighbour's, and the other pair covering its body.

Eze 1:12 And each one moved straight forward; they went where the spirit urged them, they did not turn as they moved.

Eze 1:13 Between these living creatures were what looked like blazing coals, like torches, darting backwards and forwards between the living creatures; the fire gave a brilliant light, and lightning flashed from the fire,

Eze 1:14 and the living creatures kept disappearing and reappearing like flashes of lightning.

Eze 1:15 Now, as I looked at the living creatures, I saw a wheel touching the ground beside each of the four-faced living creatures.

Eze 1:16 The appearance and structure of the wheels were like glittering chrysolite. All four looked alike, and their appearance and structure were such that each wheel seemed to have another wheel inside it.

Eze 1:17 In whichever of the four directions they moved, they did not need to turn as they moved.

Eze 1:18 Their circumference was of awe-inspiring size, and the rims of all four sparkled all the way round.

Eze 1:19 When the living creatures moved, the wheels moved beside them; and when the living creatures left the ground, the wheels too left the ground.

Eze 1:20 They moved in whichever direction the spirit chose to go, and the wheels rose with them, since the wheels shared the spirit of the animals.

Eze 1:21 When the living creatures moved on, they moved on; when the former halted, the latter halted; when the former left the ground, the wheels too left the ground, since the wheels shared the spirit of the animals.

Eze 1:22 Over the heads of the living creatures was what looked like a solid surface glittering like crystal, spread out over their heads, above them,

Eze 1:23 and under the solid surface, their wings were spread out straight, touching one another, and each had a pair covering its body.

Eze 1:24 I also heard the noise of their wings; when they moved, it was like the noise of flood-waters, like the voice of Shaddai, like the noise of a storm, like the noise of an armed camp; and when they halted, they lowered their wings;

Eze 1:25 there was a noise too.

Eze 1:26 Beyond the solid surface above their heads, there was what seemed like a sapphire, in the form of a throne. High above on the form of a throne was a form with the appearance of a human being.

Eze 1:27 I saw a brilliance like amber, like fire, radiating from what appeared to be the waist upwards; and from what appeared to be the waist downwards, I saw what looked like fire, giving a brilliant light all round.

Eze 1:28 The radiance of the encircling light was like the radiance of the bow in the clouds on rainy days. The sight was like the glory of Yahweh. I looked and fell to the ground, and I heard the voice of someone speaking to me.

Eze 2:1 He said, 'Son of man, get to your feet; I will speak to you.'

Eze 2:2 As he said these words the spirit came into me and put me on my feet, and I heard him speaking to me.

Eze 2:3 He said, 'Son of man, I am sending you to the Israelites, to the rebels who have rebelled against me.'

They and their ancestors have been in revolt against me up to the present day.

Eze 2:4 Because they are stubborn and obstinate children, I am sending you to them, to say, "Lord Yahweh says this."

Eze 2:5 Whether they listen or not, this tribe of rebels will know there is a prophet among them.

Eze 2:6 And you, son of man, do not be afraid of them or of what they say, though you find yourself surrounded with brambles and sitting on scorpions. Do not be afraid of their words or alarmed by their looks, for they are a tribe of rebels.

Eze 2:7 You are to deliver my words to them whether they listen or not, for they are a tribe of rebels.

Eze 2:8 But you, son of man, are to listen to what I say to you; do not be a rebel like that rebellious tribe. Open your mouth and eat what I am about to give you.'

Eze 2:9 When I looked, there was a hand stretching out to me, holding a scroll.

Eze 2:10 He unrolled it in front of me; it was written on, front and back; on it was written 'Lamentations, dirges and cries of grief'.

Eze 3:1 He then said, 'Son of man, eat what you see; eat this scroll, then go and speak to the House of Israel.'

Eze 3:2 I opened my mouth; he gave me the scroll to eat

Eze 3:3 and then said, 'Son of man, feed on this scroll which I am giving you and eat your fill.' So I ate it, and it tasted sweet as honey.

Eze 3:4 He then said, 'Son of man, go to the House of Israel and tell them what I have said.'

Eze 3:5 You are not being sent to a nation that speaks a difficult foreign language; you are being sent to the House of Israel.

Eze 3:6 Not to big nations that speak difficult foreign languages, and whose words you would not understand -- if I sent you to them, they would listen to you;

Eze 3:7 but the House of Israel will not listen to you because it will not listen to me. The whole House of Israel is defiant and obstinate.

Eze 3:8 But now, I am making you as defiant as they are, and as obstinate as they are;

Eze 3:9 I am making your resolution as hard as a diamond, harder than flint. So do not be afraid of them, do not be overawed by them, for they are a tribe of rebels.'

Eze 3:10 Then he said, 'Son of man, take to heart everything I say to you, listen carefully,

Eze 3:11 then go to your exiled countrymen and talk to them. Say to them, "Lord Yahweh says this," whether they listen or not.'

Eze 3:12 The spirit lifted me up, and behind me I heard a great vibrating sound, 'Blessed be the glory of Yahweh in his dwelling-place!'

Eze 3:13 This was the sound of the living creatures' wings beating against each other, and the sound of the wheels beside them: a great vibrating sound.

Eze 3:14 The spirit lifted me up and took me, and I went, bitter and angry, and the hand of Yahweh lay heavy on me.

Eze 3:15 I came to Tel Abib, to the exiles beside the River Chebar where they were living, and there I stayed with them in a stupor for seven days.

Eze 3:16 After seven days the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 3:17 'Son of man, I have appointed you as watchman for the House of Israel. When you hear a word from my mouth, warn them from me.

Eze 3:18 If I say to someone wicked, "You will die," and you do not warn this person; if you do not speak to warn someone wicked to renounce evil and so save his life, it is the wicked person who will die for the guilt, but I shall hold you responsible for that death.

Eze 3:19 If, however, you do warn someone wicked who then fails to renounce wickedness and evil ways, the wicked person will die for the guilt, but you yourself will have saved your life.

Eze 3:20 When someone upright renounces uprightness to do evil and I set a trap for him, it is he who will die; since you failed to warn him, he will die for his guilt, and the uprightness he practised will no longer be remembered; but I shall hold you responsible for his death.

Eze 3:21 If, however, you warn someone upright not to sin and this person does not sin, such a one will live, thanks to your warning, and you too will have saved your life.'

Eze 3:22 While I was there the hand of Yahweh came on me; he said, 'Get up, go out into the valley, and there I shall speak to you.'

Eze 3:23 I got up and went out into the valley; the glory of Yahweh was resting there, like the glory I had seen by the River Chebar, and I fell to the ground.

Eze 3:24 The spirit of Yahweh then entered me and put me on my feet and spoke to me. He said, 'Go and shut yourself in your house.'

Eze 3:25 Son of man, you are about to be tied and bound, and unable to mix with other people.

Eze 3:26 I am going to make your tongue stick to the roof of your mouth; you will be dumb, and no longer able to reprove them, for they are a tribe of rebels.

Eze 3:27 When I speak to you, however, I shall open your mouth and then you will say to them, "Lord Yahweh says this: Let anyone prepared to listen, listen; let anyone who refuses, refuse!" -for they are a tribe of rebels.'

Eze 4:1 'For your part, son of man, take a brick and lay it in front of you; on it scratch a city, Jerusalem.

Eze 4:2 You are then to besiege it, trench round it, build earthworks, pitch camps and bring up battering-rams all round.

Eze 4:3 Then take an iron pan and place it as though it were an iron wall between you and the city. Then fix your gaze on it; it is being besieged and you are besieging it. This is a sign for the House of Israel.

Eze 4:4 'Lie down on your left side and take the guilt of the House of Israel on yourself. You will bear their guilt for as many days as you lie on that side.

Eze 4:5 Allowing one day for every year of their guilt, I ordain that you bear it for three hundred and ninety days; this is how you will bear the House of Israel's guilt.

Eze 4:6 And when you have finished doing this, you are to lie down again, on your right side, and bear the guilt of the House of Judah for forty days. I have set the length for you as one day for one year.

Eze 4:7 Then fix your gaze on the siege of Jerusalem, raise your bared arm and prophesy against her.

Eze 4:8 Look, I am going to tie you up and you will not be able to turn over from one side to the other until the period of your seclusion is over.

Eze 4:9 'Now take wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet and spelt; put them all in the same pot and make them into bread for yourself. You are to eat it for as many days as you are lying on your side -- three hundred and ninety days.

Eze 4:10 Of this food, you are to weigh out a daily portion of twenty shekels and eat it a little piece at a time.

Eze 4:11 And you are to ration the water you drink -- a sixth of a hin -- drinking that a little at a time.

Eze 4:12 You are to eat this in the form of a barley cake baked where they can see you, on human dung.'

Eze 4:13 And Yahweh said, 'This is how the Israelites will have to eat their defiled food, wherever I disperse them among the nations.'

Eze 4:14 I then said, 'Lord Yahweh, my soul is not defiled. From my childhood until now, I have never eaten an animal that has died a natural death or been savaged; no tainted meat has ever entered my mouth.'

Eze 4:15 'Very well,' he said, 'I grant you cow-dung instead of human dung; you are to bake your bread on that.'

Eze 4:16 He then said, 'Son of man, I am going to cut off Jerusalem's food supply; in their extremity, the food they eat will be weighed out; to their horror, the water they drink will be rationed,

Eze 4:17 until there is no food or water left, and they fall into a stupor and waste away because of their guilt.'

Eze 5:1 'Son of man, take a sharp sword, use it like a barber's razor and run it over your head and beard. Then take scales and divide the hair you have cut off.

Eze 5:2 Burn one-third inside the city, while the days of the siege are working themselves out. Then take another third and chop it up with the sword all round the city. The last third you are to scatter to the wind, while I unsheathe the sword behind them.

Eze 5:3 Also take a few hairs and tie them up in the folds of your cloak;

Eze 5:4 and of these again take a few, and throw them on the fire and burn them. From them fire will come on the whole House of Israel.

Eze 5:5 'The Lord Yahweh says this, "This is Jerusalem, which I have placed in the middle of the nations, surrounded with foreign countries.

Eze 5:6 She has rebelled more perversely against my observances than the nations have, and against my laws than the surrounding countries have; for they have rejected my observances and not kept my laws."

Eze 5:7 'Therefore, the Lord Yahweh says this, "Because your disorders are worse than those of the nations round you, since you do not keep my laws or respect my observances, and since you do not respect even the observances of the surrounding nations,

Eze 5:8 very well, the Lord Yahweh says this: I, too, am against you and shall execute my judgements on you for the nations to see.

Eze 5:9 Because of all your loathsome practices I shall do such things as I have never done before, nor shall ever do again.

Eze 5:10 Those of you who are parents will eat their children, and children will eat their parents. I shall execute judgement on you and disperse what remains of you to the winds.

Eze 5:11 For, as I live -- declares Lord Yahweh -- as sure as you have defiled my sanctuary with all your horrors and all your loathsome practices, so I too shall reject you without a glance of pity, I shall not spare you.

Eze 5:12 A third of your citizens will die of plague or starve to death inside you; a third will fall by the sword round you; and a third I shall scatter to the winds, unsheathing the sword behind them.

Eze 5:13 I shall sate my anger and bring my fury to rest on them until I am avenged; and when I have sated my fury on them, then they will know that I, Yahweh, spoke out of jealousy for you.

Eze 5:14 Yes, I shall reduce you to a ruin, an object of derision to the surrounding nations, in the eyes of all who pass by.

Eze 5:15 You will be an object of derision and insults, an example, an object of amazement to the surrounding nations, when I execute judgement on you in furious anger and furious punishments. I, Yahweh, have spoken.

Eze 5:16 On them I shall send the deadly arrows of famine, which will destroy you -- for I shall send them to destroy you; then I shall make the famine worse and cut off your food supply.

Eze 5:17 I shall send famine and wild animals on you to rob you of your children; plague and bloodshed will sweep through you, and I shall bring the sword down on you. I, Yahweh, have spoken." '

Eze 6:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 6:2 'Son of man, turn towards the mountains of Israel and prophesy against them.

Eze 6:3 Say, "Mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord Yahweh. The Lord Yahweh says this to mountains and hills and ravines and valleys: Look, I am going to summon the sword against you and destroy your high places.

Eze 6:4 Your altars will be wrecked, and your incense burners smashed; I shall fling your butchered inhabitants down in front of your foul idols;

Eze 6:5 I shall lay the corpses of the Israelites in front of their foul idols and scatter their bones all round your altars.

Eze 6:6 Wherever you live, the towns will be destroyed and the high places wrecked, to the ruin and wrecking of your altars, the shattering and abolition of your foul idols, the smashing of your incense burners and the utter destruction of all your works.

Eze 6:7 As the butchered fall about you, you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 6:8 "But I shall spare some of you to escape the sword among the nations, when you have been dispersed in their lands;

Eze 6:9 and your survivors will remember me among the nations where they are held captive, since I shall have broken their adulterous hearts for having deserted me, and destroyed their eyes for having turned adulterously towards their foul idols. They will loathe themselves for all the wrong they have caused by their loathsome practices.

Eze 6:10 Then they will know that I am Yahweh and that I was not talking lightly when I said that I would inflict these disasters on them."

Eze 6:11 'The Lord Yahweh says this, "Clap your hands, stamp your feet, and say: Alas for all the loathsome sins of the House of Israel, which is about to fall by sword, famine and plague!"

Eze 6:12 Far off, they will die by plague; near at hand they will fall by the sword; and any who survive or are spared will die of famine. This is how I shall sate my fury on them.

Eze 6:13 Then you will know that I am Yahweh, when their butchered corpses lie among their foul idols, all round their altars, on every high hill, on every mountain top, under every green tree, under every leafy oak, wherever they offer a smell pleasing to all their idols.

Eze 6:14 I shall point my finger at them and reduce the country to an empty wasteland from the desert to Riblah, everywhere they live, and they will know that I am Yahweh." '

Eze 7:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 7:2 'Son of man, say, "Lord Yahweh says this to the land of Israel: Finished! The end is coming for the four corners of the country.

Eze 7:3 This is the end for you; I shall unleash my anger on you, and judge you as your conduct deserves and call you to account for all your loathsome practices.

Eze 7:4 I shall show you no pity, I shall not spare you; I shall repay you for your conduct and for the loathsome practices in which you persist. Then you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 7:5 "The Lord Yahweh says this: Disaster, a unique disaster, is coming.

Eze 7:6 The end is coming, the end is coming, it is on the move towards you, it is coming now.

Eze 7:7 Now it is your turn, you who dwell in this country. Doom is coming, the day is near; no joy now, only tumult, on the mountains.

Eze 7:8 Now I shall soon vent my fury on you and sate my anger on you: I shall judge you as your conduct deserves and repay you for all your loathsome practices.

Eze 7:9 I shall show neither pity nor mercy, but shall repay you for your conduct and the loathsome practices in which you persist. Then you will know that I am Yahweh and that I strike.

Eze 7:10 "Now is the day, your turn has come, it has come, it appears, the sceptre has blossomed, pride is at its peak.

Eze 7:11 Violence has risen to become the scourge of wickedness . . .

Eze 7:12 Doom is coming, the day is near. Neither should buyer rejoice, nor seller regret, for the fury rests on everyone alike.

Eze 7:13 The seller will not be able to go back on his bargain; each persists in his sins; they take no defensive measures.

Eze 7:14 The trumpet sounds, all is ready, but no one goes into battle, since my fury rests on all alike.
Eze 7:15 "Outside, the sword; inside, plague and famine. Whoever is living in the countryside will die by the sword; whoever is living in the city will be devoured by famine and plague.

Eze 7:16 And those who escape will escape to the mountains and there, like doves of the valleys, I shall slaughter them all, each one for his sin.

Eze 7:17 Every hand will grow limp, every knee turn to water.

Eze 7:18 They will put on sackcloth, each one trembling. Every face will be ashamed and every head be shaved.

Eze 7:19 They will throw their silver away in the streets and their gold they will regard as a pollution; neither their silver nor their gold will be able to save them on the day of Yahweh's fury. Never again will they have enough to eat, never again will they fill their bellies, since that was the occasion for their guilt.

Eze 7:20 They used to pride themselves on the beauty of their jewellery, out of which they made their loathsome images, their horrors; so now I have made it pollute them.

Eze 7:21 I shall hand it over as plunder to foreigners, as loot to the most evil people on earth. They will profane it.

Eze 7:22 I shall turn my face away from them, while my treasure-house is profaned and robbers will force their way in and profane it.

Eze 7:23 "Forge yourself a chain; for the country is full of bloody executions and the city full of deeds of violence,

Eze 7:24 so I shall bring the cruellest of the nations to seize their houses. I shall put an end to the pride of their elite, and their sanctuary will be profaned.

Eze 7:25 Terror is on the way: they will look for peace and there will be none.

Eze 7:26 Disaster will follow on disaster, rumour on rumour; they will pester the prophet for a vision; the priest will be at a loss over the law and the elders on how to advise.

Eze 7:27 The king will go into mourning, the prince be plunged in grief, the hands of the country people tremble. I shall treat them as their conduct deserves, and judge them as their own verdicts merit. Then they will know that I am Yahweh!" '

Eze 8:1 In the sixth year, on the fifth day of the sixth month, I was sitting at home and the elders of Judah were sitting with me, when suddenly the hand of the Lord Yahweh fell on me there.

Eze 8:2 I looked, and there was a form with the appearance of a human being. Downwards from what seemed to be the waist there was fire; and upwards from the waist there was a brilliance like the glitter of amber.

Eze 8:3 Something like a hand was stretched out and it took me by a lock of my hair; and the spirit lifted me between heaven and earth and, in visions from God, took me to Jerusalem, to the entrance of the inner north gate, where stands the idol that provokes jealousy.

Eze 8:4 There was the glory of the God of Israel; it looked like what I had seen in the valley.

Eze 8:5 He said, 'Son of man, raise your eyes to the north.' I raised my eyes to the north, and there, to the north of the altar gate, stood this statue of jealousy at the entrance.

Eze 8:6 He said, 'Son of man, do you see what they are doing, the monstrous, loathsome things that the House of Israel is practising here, to drive me out of my sanctuary? And you will see practices more loathsome still.'

Eze 8:7 He next took me to the entrance to the court. I looked; there was a hole in the wall.

Eze 8:8 He said, 'Son of man, bore through the wall.' I bored through the wall, until I had made an opening.

Eze 8:9 He said, 'Go in and look at the loathsome things they are doing inside.'

Eze 8:10 I went in and looked and there was every kind of reptile and repulsive animal, and all the foul idols of the House of Israel, carved all round the walls.

Eze 8:11 Seventy elders of the House of Israel were worshipping the idols -- among them Jaazaniah son of Shaphan -- each one with his censer in his hand, from which rose a fragrant cloud of incense.

Eze 8:12 He said, 'Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the House of Israel do in the dark, each in his personal image-shrine? They say, "Yahweh cannot see us; Yahweh has abandoned the country." '

Eze 8:13 He said, 'You will see them at practices more loathsome still.'

Eze 8:14 He next took me to the entrance of the north gate of the Temple of Yahweh where women were sitting, weeping for Tammuz.

Eze 8:15 He said, 'Son of man, do you see that? You will see even more loathsome things than that.'

Eze 8:16 He then led me to the inner court of the Temple of Yahweh. And there, at the entrance to Yahweh's sanctuary, between the portico and the altar, there were about twenty-five men, with their backs to Yahweh's sanctuary and their faces turned towards the east. They were prostrating themselves to the east, before the rising sun.

Eze 8:17 He said to me, 'Son of man, do you see that? Is it not bad enough for the House of Judah to be doing the loathsome things they are doing here? But they fill the country with violence and provoke my anger further; look at them now putting that branch to their nostrils.'

Eze 8:18 And so I shall react in fury; I shall show neither pity nor mercy. They may cry as loudly as they like to me; I will not listen.'

Eze 9:1 Then he shouted loudly for me to hear, 'The scourges of the city are approaching, each carrying his weapon of destruction!'

Eze 9:2 Immediately six men advanced from the upper north gate, each holding a deadly weapon. Among them was a man dressed in linen, with a scribe's ink-horn in his belt. They came in and halted in front of the bronze altar.

Eze 9:3 The glory of the God of Israel rose from above the winged creature where it had been, towards the threshold of the Temple. He called to the man dressed in linen with a scribe's ink-horn in his belt

Eze 9:4 and Yahweh said to him, 'Go all through the city, all through Jerusalem, and mark a cross on the foreheads of all who grieve and lament over all the loathsome practices in it.'

Eze 9:5 I heard him say to the others, 'Follow him through the city and strike. Not one glance of pity; show no mercy;

Eze 9:6 old men, young men, girls, children, women, kill and exterminate them all. But do not touch anyone with a cross on his forehead. Begin at my sanctuary.' So they began with the old men who were in the Temple.

Eze 9:7 He said to them, 'Defile the Temple; fill the courts with corpses; then go out!' They went out and hacked their way through the city.

Eze 9:8 While they were hacking them down, I was left alone; I fell on my face, crying out, 'Ah, Lord Yahweh, are you going to annihilate all that is left of Israel by venting your fury on Jerusalem?'

Eze 9:9 He said, 'The guilt of the House of Israel and Judah is immense; the country is full of bloodshed, the city full of perversity, for they say, "Yahweh has abandoned the country, Yahweh cannot see."

Eze 9:10 Then, I too shall neither give one glance of pity nor show any mercy. I shall repay them for what they have done.'

Eze 9:11 The man dressed in linen with the scribe's ink-horn in his belt then came back and made his report, 'I have carried out your orders.'

Eze 10:1 Then, in vision I saw that above the solid surface over the heads of the winged creatures there was above them something like sapphire, which seemed to be like a throne.

Eze 10:2 He then said to the man dressed in linen, 'Go in between the wheels below the winged creatures; take a handful of burning coal from between the winged creatures and scatter it over the city.' He went in as I watched.

Eze 10:3 The winged creatures were on the right of the Temple as the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

Eze 10:4 The glory of Yahweh rose from above the winged creatures, towards the threshold of the Temple; the Temple was filled by the cloud and the court was full of the brightness of the glory of Yahweh.

Eze 10:5 The noise of the winged creatures' wings could be heard even in the outer court, like the voice of God Almighty when he speaks.

Eze 10:6 When he had given the order to the man dressed in linen, 'Take the fire from between the wheels, between the winged creatures,' the man went in and stood by one of the wheels.

Eze 10:7 One of the winged creatures then reached his hand out towards the fire between the winged creatures, took some of it and put it into the hands of the man dressed in linen, who took it and came out again.

Eze 10:8 There appeared to be what looked like a human hand under the winged creatures' wings.

Eze 10:9 And I looked, and there were four wheels beside the winged creatures, one wheel beside each winged creature, and the appearance of the wheels was like the sparkle of chrysolite.

Eze 10:10 In appearance, all four looked alike, as though each wheel had another wheel inside it.

Eze 10:11 In whichever of the four directions they moved, they did not need to turn as they moved, but whichever way the head was facing there they followed; they did not turn as they moved,

Eze 10:12 and their entire bodies, their backs, their hands, their wings, as well as the wheels, had eyes all the way round (the wheels of all four).

Eze 10:13 In my hearing, these wheels were called 'galgal'.

Eze 10:14 Each had four faces; the first was a winged creature's face, the second a human face, the third a lion's face and the fourth an eagle's face.

Eze 10:15 The winged creatures rose; this was the being I had seen by the River Chebar.

Eze 10:16 When the winged creatures moved, the wheels moved beside them; and when the winged creatures raised their wings to leave the ground, the wheels did not turn beside them.

Eze 10:17 When the former halted the latter halted; when the former rose, the latter rose with them, since they shared the same living spirit.

Eze 10:18 The glory of Yahweh then came out over the Temple threshold and paused over the winged creatures.

Eze 10:19 These raised their wings and rose from the ground as I watched, and the wheels were beside them.

They paused at the entrance to the east gate of the Temple of Yahweh, with the glory of the God of Israel over them, above.

Eze 10:20 This was the winged creature I had seen beneath the God of Israel by the River Chebar; I knew that they were winged creatures.

Eze 10:21 Each had four faces and four wings and what seemed to be human hands under their wings.

Eze 10:22 Their faces were like those I had seen by the River Chebar. Each one moved straight forward.

Eze 11:1 The spirit lifted me up and brought me to the east gate of the Temple of Yahweh, the gate that looks eastwards. There at the entrance to the gate stood twenty-five men, among whom I saw Jaazaniah son of Azzur and Pelatiah son of Benaiah, leaders of the people.

Eze 11:2 He said to me, 'Son of man, these are the wicked schemers who are spreading their bad advice through this city.'

Eze 11:3 They say, "There will be no house-building yet awhile. The city is the cooking pot and we are the meat."

Eze 11:4 So prophesy against them, prophesy, son of man!"

Eze 11:5 The spirit of Yahweh fell on me, and he said to me, 'Say, "Yahweh says this: I know what you are saying, House of Israel, I know how insolent you are."

Eze 11:6 You have filled this city with more and more of your victims; you have strewn its streets with victims.

Eze 11:7 And so the Lord Yahweh says this: Your victims, whom you have put in it, are the meat, and the city is the cooking pot; but I shall take you out of it.

Eze 11:8 You are afraid of the sword and I shall bring the sword down on you -- declares the Lord Yahweh-

Eze 11:9 and I shall take you out of it and hand you over to foreigners and bring you to justice;

Eze 11:10 you will fall by the sword on the soil of Israel; I shall execute justice on you, and you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 11:11 This city will be no cooking pot for you, nor will you be the meat inside; I shall execute justice on you on the soil of Israel;

Eze 11:12 and you will know that I am Yahweh, whose laws you have not obeyed and whose judgements you have not kept; instead, you have adopted the customs of the nations round you." '

Eze 11:13 Now as I was prophesying, Pelatiah son of Benaiah dropped dead. I fell to the ground and cried out, 'Ah, Lord Yahweh, are you going to annihilate the remnant of Israel?'

Eze 11:14 The word of Yahweh was then addressed to me as follows,

Eze 11:15 'Son of man, to your brothers one and all, to your kinsfolk and to the whole House of Israel, the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, "Keep well away from Yahweh. This country has now been made over to us!"

Eze 11:16 So say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Yes, I have sent them far away among the nations and I have dispersed them to foreign countries; and for a while I have been a sanctuary for them in the country to which they have gone."

Eze 11:17 So say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: I shall gather you back from the peoples, I shall collect you in from the countries where you have been scattered and give you the land of Israel.

Eze 11:18 When they come back, they will purge it of all its horrors and loathsome practices.

Eze 11:19 I shall give them a single heart and I shall put a new spirit in them; I shall remove the heart of stone from their bodies and give them a heart of flesh,

Eze 11:20 so that they can keep my laws and respect my judgements and put them into practice. Then they will be my people and I shall be their God.

Eze 11:21 But those whose hearts are set on their horrors and loathsome practices I shall repay for their conduct -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 11:22 The winged creatures then raised their wings and the wheels moved with them, with the glory of the God of Israel over them, above.

Eze 11:23 And the glory of Yahweh rose from the centre of the city and halted on the mountain to the east of the city.

Eze 11:24 Then the spirit lifted me up and took me, in vision, in the spirit of God, to the exiles in Chaldaea, and the vision which I had seen faded.

Eze 11:25 I then told the exiles everything that Yahweh had shown me.

Eze 12:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 12:2 'Son of man, you are living among a tribe of rebels who have eyes and never see, they have ears and never hear, because they are a tribe of rebels.'

Eze 12:3 So, son of man, pack an exile's bundle and set off for exile by daylight while they watch. You will leave your home and go somewhere else while they watch. Then perhaps they will see that they are a tribe of rebels.

Eze 12:4 You will pack your baggage like an exile's bundle, by daylight, while they watch, and leave like an exile in the evening, while they watch.

Eze 12:5 While they watch, make a hole in the wall, and go out through it.

Eze 12:6 While they watch, you will shoulder your pack and go out into the dark; you will cover your face so that you cannot see the ground, since I have made you an omen for the House of Israel.'

Eze 12:7 I did as I had been told. I packed my baggage like an exile's bundle, by daylight; and in the evening I made a hole through the wall with my hands; then I went out into the dark and shouldered my pack while they watched.

Eze 12:8 Next morning the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 12:9 'Son of man, did not the House of Israel, did not that tribe of rebels, ask you, "What are you doing?"'

Eze 12:10 Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: This prophecy concerns Jerusalem and the whole House of Israel who live there."

Eze 12:11 Say, "I am an omen for you; as I have done, so will be done to them; they will be deported into exile."

Eze 12:12 Their prince will shoulder his pack in the dark and go out through the wall; a hole will be made to let him out; he will cover his face, so that he cannot see the country.

Eze 12:13 I shall throw my net over him and catch him in my mesh; I shall take him to Babylon, to the land of the Chaldaeans, though he will not see it; and there he will die.

Eze 12:14 And all those in attendance on him, his army and all his troops, I shall scatter to all the winds and unsheathe the sword behind them.

Eze 12:15 Then they will know that I am Yahweh, when I scatter them throughout the nations and disperse them in foreign countries.

Eze 12:16 But I shall let a few of them escape the sword, famine and plague, to describe all their loathsome practices to the peoples among whom they will go, so that these too may know that I am Yahweh." '

Eze 12:17 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 12:18 'Son of man, you are to tremble as you eat your food and shudder apprehensively as you drink your water,

Eze 12:19 and you are to say to the people of the country, "The Lord Yahweh says this to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. They will shudder apprehensively as they eat their food, and drink their water in fear, so that the country and its population may be freed from the violence of its inhabitants.

Eze 12:20 When the populous cities have been destroyed and the country has been reduced to desert, then you will know that I am Yahweh." '

Eze 12:21 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 12:22 'Son of man, what do you understand by the saying pronounced over the land of Israel, "Days go by and visions fade"?

Eze 12:23 'Very well, tell them, "The Lord Yahweh says this: I shall put an end to this saying; it will never be used in Israel again." Instead, tell them: "The days are coming when every vision will come true,

Eze 12:24 for there will be no more futile visions or deceptive prophecy in the House of Israel,

Eze 12:25 since I, Yahweh, shall speak. And what I shall say will come true without delay; for what I shall say, I shall perform in your own lifetime, you tribe of rebels -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 12:26 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 12:27 'Son of man, the House of Israel is now saying, "The vision that this man sees concerns the distant future; he is prophesying for times far ahead."

Eze 12:28 Very well, tell them, "The Lord Yahweh says this: There will be no further delay in the fulfilling of any of my words. What I have said shall be done now -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 13:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 13:2 'Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel; prophesy, and say to those who make up prophecies out of their own heads, "Hear what Yahweh says:

Eze 13:3 The Lord Yahweh says this: Disaster is in store for the foolish prophets who follow their own spirit and have seen nothing!

Eze 13:4 Your prophets, Israel, are like ruin-haunting jackals!

Eze 13:5 "You have not ventured into the breach; you have not built up the wall round the House of Israel, to hold fast in battle on the Day of Yahweh.

Eze 13:6 Theirs are futile visions and false predictions, who say: A prophecy from Yahweh, when Yahweh has not sent them; yet they expect their words to come true.

Eze 13:7 Have not the visions you see been futile, have not the predictions you make been false, although you say: A prophecy of Yahweh, when I have not spoken?

Eze 13:8 "Very well, the Lord Yahweh says this: Because of your futile words and false predictions, I am now against you -- declares Lord Yahweh.

Eze 13:9 My hand will be against the prophets who have futile visions and give false predictions; they will not be admitted to the council of my people, their names will not be entered in the roll of the House of Israel, they will not set foot on the soil of Israel; and they will know that I am the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 13:10 This is because they have misled my people by saying Peace! when there is no peace. When my people were repairing a wall, these men came and plastered it over!

Eze 13:11 Tell these plasterers: It will rain hard, it will hail, it will blow a gale, Eze 13:12 and down will come the wall! Will not people ask you: What has become of the plaster you slapped on it?

Eze 13:13 Well then, the Lord Yahweh says this: I am going to unleash a stormy wind in my fury, torrential rain in my anger, hailstones in my destructive fury,

Eze 13:14 and I shall shatter the wall you plastered and knock it down and lay its foundations bare. It will fall and you will perish under it; then you will know that I am Yahweh."

Eze 13:15 "When I have sated my anger on the wall and those who plastered it, I shall say to you, "The wall is gone, and so are those who plastered over it,

Eze 13:16 the prophets of Israel who prophesy about Jerusalem and have visions of peace for her when there is no peace -- declares the Lord Yahweh."

Eze 13:17 'Also, son of man, turn to the women of your people who make up prophecies out of their own heads; prophesy against them.

Eze 13:18 Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Disaster is in store for women who sew ribbons round each wrist and make head-cloths for people of all sizes, in their hunt for souls! Are you to hunt the souls of my people and keep your own souls safe?"

Eze 13:19 You dishonour me in front of my people for a few handfuls of barley, a few bits of bread, killing those who ought not to die and sparing those who ought not to live, lying to my people who love listening to lies.

Eze 13:20 "Very well, the Lord Yahweh says this: Look, I am now against your ribbons, with which you hunt souls like birds, and I shall tear them off your arms and free those souls whom you hunt like birds.

Eze 13:21 I shall tear your head-cloths to pieces and rescue my people from your clutches; no longer will they be fair game for you to ensnare. Then you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 13:22 "For having intimidated with lies the heart of the upright whom I had done nothing to alarm, and for having encouraged the wicked not to give up wicked ways and so be saved,

Eze 13:23 very well, you will have no more futile visions and make no more predictions, for I shall rescue my people from your clutches, and you will know that I am Yahweh." '

Eze 14:1 Next, some elders of Israel visited me and while they were sitting with me,

Eze 14:2 the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 14:3 'Son of man, these men have enshrined their foul idols in their hearts and placed the cause of their sinning right before their eyes. Why should I let myself be consulted by them?

Eze 14:4 So speak to them; tell them this, "Lord Yahweh says this: Every member of the House of Israel who enshrines his foul idols in his heart and places the cause of his sinning right before his eyes, and who then approaches the prophet, will get this answer from me, Yahweh, as the multiplicity of his idols deserves,

Eze 14:5 and in this way I hope to win back the hearts of the House of Israel who have all been estranged from me by their foul idols."

Eze 14:6 'So say to the House of Israel, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Come back, turn away from your foul idols, turn your backs on all your loathsome practices;

Eze 14:7 for if any member of the House of Israel -- or any foreigner living in Israel -- deserts me to enshrine his foul idols in his heart and places the cause of his sinning right before his eyes and then approaches a prophet to consult me through him, he will get his answer from me, Yahweh.

Eze 14:8 I shall set my face against that person; I shall make him an example and a byword; I shall rid my people of him, and you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 14:9 And if the prophet is seduced into saying something, I, Yahweh, shall have seduced that prophet; I shall point my finger at him and rid my people Israel of him.

Eze 14:10 Both will be punished for their guilt; the prophet's punishment will be the same as that of the person who consults him,

Eze 14:11 so that the House of Israel will never stray from me again or defile themselves again with these crimes, but be my people and I their God -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 14:12 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me:

Eze 14:13 'Son of man, when a country sins against me by being unfaithful and I point my finger at it and destroy its supply of food, inflicting famine on it and denuding it of human and animal,

Eze 14:14 even if the three men, Noah, Danel and Job, were living in it, they would save no one but themselves by their uprightness -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 14:15 Were I to unleash wild beasts on that country to rob it of its children and reduce it to a desert which no one would dare to cross because of the animals,

Eze 14:16 even if these three men were living there, as I live -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- they would not be able to save either son or daughter; they alone would be saved, and the country would become a desert.

Eze 14:17 Were I to bring the sword down on that country and say, "Sword, cross the country!" so as to denude it of human and animal,

Eze 14:18 even if these three men were living there, as I live -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- they would not be able to save either son or daughter; they alone would be saved.

Eze 14:19 If I were to send the plague on that country and vent my fury on it by bloodshed, so as to denude it of human and animal,

Eze 14:20 even if Noah and Danel and Job were living there, as I live -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- they would be able to save neither son nor daughter, only themselves by their uprightness.

Eze 14:21 'The Lord Yahweh says this, "Even if I send my four dreadful scourges on Jerusalem-sword, famine, wild beasts and plague -- to denude it of human and animal,

Eze 14:22 even so, there will be a remnant left, a few men and women who come through; when they come to you and you see their conduct and actions, you will take comfort in spite of the disaster which I have brought on Jerusalem, in spite of all I have brought on her.

Eze 14:23 They will comfort you, when you see their conduct and actions, and so you will know that I have not done in vain all I have done to her -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 15:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows:

Eze 15:2 Son of man, how is the wood of the vine better than wood from the branch of a forest tree?

Eze 15:3 Is its wood used for making anything? Are pegs on which to hang things made from it?

Eze 15:4 There it is, thrown on the fire for fuel. The fire burns off both ends; the middle is charred; can it be kept for anything now?

Eze 15:5 While it was intact, you could make nothing with it; burned and charred, is it any more useful now?

Eze 15:6 So, the Lord Yahweh says this: As the wood of the vine among the forest trees, which I have thrown on the fire for fuel, so shall I treat the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

Eze 15:7 I shall set my face against them. They have escaped one fire, but fire will devour them yet. And you will know that I am Yahweh, when I set my face against them.

Eze 15:8 I shall reduce the country to a desert, because of their infidelity- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 16:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 16:2 'Son of man, confront Jerusalem with her loathsome practices!

Eze 16:3 Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: By origin and birth you belong to the land of Canaan. Your father was an Amorite and your mother a Hittite.

Eze 16:4 At birth, the very day you were born, there was no one to cut your navel-string, or wash you in water to clean you, or rub you with salt, or wrap you in swaddling clothes.

Eze 16:5 No one looked at you with pity enough to do any of these things out of sympathy for you. You were exposed in the open fields in your own dirt on the day you were born.

Eze 16:6 "I saw you kicking on the ground in your blood as I was passing, and I said to you as you lay in your blood: Live!

Eze 16:7 and I made you grow like the grass of the fields. You developed, you grew, you reached marriageable age. Your breasts became firm and your hair grew richly, but you were stark naked.

Eze 16:8 Then I saw you as I was passing. Your time had come, the time for love. I spread my cloak over you and covered your nakedness; I gave you my oath, I made a covenant with you -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- and you became mine.

Eze 16:9 I bathed you in water, I washed the blood off you, I anointed you with oil.

Eze 16:10 I gave you embroidered dresses, fine leather shoes, a linen headband and a cloak of silk.

Eze 16:11 I loaded you with jewels, gave you bracelets for your wrists and a necklace for your throat.

Eze 16:12 I gave you nose-ring and earrings; I put a beautiful diadem on your head.

Eze 16:13 You were loaded with gold and silver and dressed in linen and silk and brocade. Your food was the finest flour, honey and oil. You grew more and more beautiful; and you rose to be queen.

Eze 16:14 The fame of your beauty spread through the nations, since it was perfect, because I had clothed you with my own splendour -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 16:15 "But you became infatuated with your own beauty and used your fame to play the whore, lavishing your debauchery on all comers.

Eze 16:16 You took some of your clothes to make for yourself high places bright with colours and there you played the whore.

Eze 16:17 You also took your jewellery, made with my gold and silver which I had given you, and made yourself male images to serve your whorings.

Eze 16:18 You took your embroidered clothes and used these to dress them up, and you offered them my oil and my incense.

Eze 16:19 And the bread I gave you, the finest flour, the oil and honey with which I fed you, you offered them as a pleasing smell. "What is more -- declares the Lord Yahweh-

Eze 16:20 you took the sons and daughters you had borne me and sacrificed them as food to the images. Was not your whoring enough in itself,
Eze 16:21 for you to slaughter my children and hand them over to be burnt in their honour?
Eze 16:22 And in all your loathsome practices and your whorings you never called your early days to mind, when you were stark naked, kicking on the ground in your own blood.
Eze 16:23 "To crown your wickedness -- disaster upon you, disaster! declares the Lord Yahweh-
Eze 16:24 you built yourself a mound and made yourself a high place in every open space.
Eze 16:25 At the entry to every alley you made yourself a high place, defiling your beauty and opening your legs to all comers in countless acts of fornication.
Eze 16:26 You have also fornicated with your big-membered neighbours, the Egyptians, provoking my anger with further acts of fornication.
Eze 16:27 So now I have raised my hand against you, I have cut down on your food, I have put you at the mercy of your enemies, the Philistine women, who blush at your lewd behaviour.
Eze 16:28 Still unsatisfied, you prostituted yourself to the Assyrians; you played the whore with them, but were not satisfied even then.
Eze 16:29 You committed further acts of fornication in the country of merchants, with the Chaldaeans, and these did not satisfy you either.
Eze 16:30 "How simple-minded you are!-declares the Lord Yahweh -- for although you do all the things that a professional prostitute would,
Eze 16:31 in building a mound and making yourself a high place in every street, you do not act like a proper prostitute because you disdain to take a fee.
Eze 16:32 An adulteress welcomes strangers instead of her husband.
Eze 16:33 All prostitutes accept presents, but you give presents to all your lovers, you bribe them to come from all over the place to fornicate with you!
Eze 16:34 In fornicating, you are the opposite of other women, since no one runs after you to fornicate with you; since you give the fee and do not get one, you are the very opposite!
Eze 16:35 "Very well, whore, hear the word of Yahweh!
Eze 16:36 The Lord Yahweh says this: For having squandered your money and let yourself be seen naked while whoring with your lovers and all the foul idols of your loathsome practices and for giving them your children's blood-
Eze 16:37 for all this, I shall assemble all the lovers to whom you have given pleasure, all the ones you liked and also all the ones you disliked; yes, I shall assemble them round you and strip you naked in front of them, and let them see you naked from head to foot.
Eze 16:38 I shall pass on you the sentence that adulteresses and murdereresses receive; I shall hand you over to their jealous fury;
Eze 16:39 I shall hand you over to them; they will destroy your mound and pull down your high place; they will tear off your clothes, take away your jewels and leave you stark naked.
Eze 16:40 Then they will call an assembly of citizens to deal with you, who will stone you to death and hack you to pieces with their swords,
Eze 16:41 and burn down your premises and execute justice on you, while many other women look on; and I shall put an end to your whoring: no more paid lovers for you!
Eze 16:42 Once my fury is exhausted with you, then my jealousy will leave you; I shall be calm and not angry any more.
Eze 16:43 Since you never called to mind your early days and have done nothing but provoke me, now I in my turn shall bring your conduct down on your own head -- declares the Lord Yahweh! "Have you not added this lewd behaviour to your other loathsome practices?
Eze 16:44 So now all dealers in proverbs will apply this one to you: Like mother, like daughter.
Eze 16:45 Yes; you are a true daughter of your mother, who hated her husband and her children; you are a true sister of your sisters, who hated their husbands and their children. Your mother was a Hittite and your father an Amorite.
Eze 16:46 Your elder sister is Samaria, who lives to the north of you with her daughters. Your younger sister is Sodom, who lives to the south of you with her daughters.
Eze 16:47 You never failed to imitate their behaviour and copy their loathsome practices, and soon your behaviour was more corrupt than theirs was.
Eze 16:48 As I live -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- your sister Sodom and her daughters never did what you and your daughters have done.
Eze 16:49 The crime of your sister Sodom was pride, gluttony, calm complacency; such were hers and her daughters' crimes. They never helped the poor and needy;
Eze 16:50 they were proud, and engaged in loathsome practices before me, and so I swept them away as you have seen.

Eze 16:51 And yet Samaria never committed half the crimes that you have. "You have done more loathsome things than they have. By all your loathsome practices you have made your sisters seem innocent, Eze 16:52 and now you bear the shame of which you have freed your sisters; since the sins which you have committed are more revolting than theirs, they are more upright than you are. So now, bear the disgrace and shame of having put your sisters in the right.

Eze 16:53 "I shall restore their fortunes, I shall restore Sodom and her daughters, I shall re-store Samaria and her daughters, and then I shall restore your fortune with theirs, Eze 16:54 so that you can bear your shame and disgrace for all you have done, and so console them.

Eze 16:55 When your sisters, Sodom and her daughters, are restored to what they were, and Samaria and her daughters are restored to what they were, then you too and your daughters will be restored to what you were.

Eze 16:56 Did you not gloat over your sister Sodom when you were so proud,

Eze 16:57 before you were stripped naked? Like her, you are now the laughing-stock of the women of Edom, of all the women round, of the women of Philistia, who pour out their contempt on you.

Eze 16:58 You have brought this on yourself, with your lewdness and your loathsome practices -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 16:59 "For the Lord Yahweh says this: I shall treat you as you have deserved for making light of an oath and breaking a covenant,

Eze 16:60 but I shall remember my covenant with you when you were a girl and shall conclude a covenant with you that will last for ever.

Eze 16:61 And you for your part will remember your behaviour and feel ashamed of it when you receive your elder and younger sisters and I make them your daughters, although this is not included in my covenant with you.

Eze 16:62 I shall renew my covenant with you; and you will know that I am Yahweh,

Eze 16:63 and so remember and feel ashamed and in your confusion be reduced to silence, when I forgive you for everything you have done -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 17:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 17:2 'Son of man, put a riddle, propound a parable to the House of Israel.

Eze 17:3 Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: A great eagle with great wings, long-pinioned, rich with many-coloured plumage, came to the Lebanon.

Eze 17:4 He took the top of the cedar tree, he plucked off the top branch, he carried it off to the country of merchants and set it down in a city of shopkeepers.

Eze 17:5 Next, he took one of the country's seeds and put it in a fertile field; by the side of a generous stream, like a willow tree, he placed it.

Eze 17:6 It grew and became a fruitful vine of modest size, grew up towards the eagle, its roots grew downwards. So it became a vine, branching out and sprouting new shoots.

Eze 17:7 But there was another great eagle with great wings and thick plumage. And now the vine twisted its roots towards him and stretched its branches towards him, for him to water it away from the bed where it was planted.

Eze 17:8 It was in a fertile field, by the side of a wide stream that the vine had been planted, to branch out and bear fruit and become a noble vine."

Eze 17:9 Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Will it succeed? Will the eagle not tear out its roots and strip off its fruit, so that all the new leaves it puts out will wither, and no great strength is needed nor many people to pull it up by the roots?

Eze 17:10 Planted it may be -- will it succeed? Will it not shrivel up when the east wind blows? It will wither in the bed where it was growing!" '

Eze 17:11 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows:

Eze 17:12 'Say to that tribe of rebels, "Do you not know what this means?" Say this, 'Look, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem; he carried away the king and the princes, and took them to his home in Babylon.

Eze 17:13 He took a member of the royal family and made a treaty with him, forcing him to swear loyalty, having already deported the leading men of the country,

Eze 17:14 so that the kingdom would remain modest and without ambitions, and would keep and honour his treaty.

Eze 17:15 But the prince rebelled against him and sent envoys to Egypt to procure himself horses and a large number of troops. Will he succeed? Will a man who has done this go unpunished? Can he break a treaty and go unpunished?

Eze 17:16 As I live, I swear it -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- in Babylon, in the country of the king who put him on the throne, whose oath he has disregarded and whose treaty he has broken, there he will die.

Eze 17:17 Despite the pharaoh's great army and hordes of men, he will not be able to save him by fighting, however many earthworks are raised, however many trenches dug to the loss of many lives.

Eze 17:18 He has disregarded the oath by breaking the treaty to which he had pledged himself and, having done all this, will not go unpunished.

Eze 17:19 "So, the Lord Yahweh says this: As I live, I swear it: my oath which he has disregarded, my treaty which he has broken, I shall make them both recoil on his own head.

Eze 17:20 I shall throw my net over him, he will be caught in my mesh; I shall take him to Babylon and punish him there for being unfaithful to me.

Eze 17:21 All the pick of all his troops will fall by the sword, and the survivors be scattered to all the winds. And you will know that I, Yahweh, have spoken.

Eze 17:22 "The Lord Yahweh says this: From the top of the tall cedar tree, from the highest branch I shall take a shoot and plant it myself on a high and lofty mountain.

Eze 17:23 I shall plant it on the highest mountain in Israel. It will put out branches and bear fruit and grow into a noble cedar tree. Every kind of bird will live beneath it, every kind of winged creature will rest in the shade of its branches.

Eze 17:24 And all the trees of the countryside will know that I, Yahweh, am the one who lays the tall tree low and raises the low tree high, who makes the green tree wither and makes the withered bear fruit. I, Yahweh, have spoken, and I will do it."

Eze 18:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 18:2 'Why do you keep repeating this proverb in the land of Israel: The parents have eaten unripe grapes; and the children's teeth are set on edge?

Eze 18:3 'As I live -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- you will have no further cause to repeat this proverb in Israel.

Eze 18:4 Look, all life belongs to me; the father's life and the son's life, both alike belong to me. The one who has sinned is the one to die.

Eze 18:5 'But if a man is upright, his actions law-abiding and upright,

Eze 18:6 and he does not eat on the mountains or raise his eyes to the foul idols of the House of Israel, does not defile his neighbour's wife or touch a woman during her periods,

Eze 18:7 oppresses no one, returns the pledge on a debt, does not rob, gives his own food to the hungry, his clothes to those who lack clothing,

Eze 18:8 does not lend for profit, does not charge interest, abstains from evil, gives honest judgement between one person and another,

Eze 18:9 keeps my laws and sincerely respects my judgements -- someone like this is truly upright and will live -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 18:10 'But if he has a son prone to violence and bloodshed, who commits one of these misdeeds-

Eze 18:11 even though the father never has -- a son who dares to eat on the mountains, who defiles his neighbour's wife,

Eze 18:12 who oppresses the poor and needy, robs, fails to return pledges, raises his eyes to foul idols, engages in loathsome practices,

Eze 18:13 lends for profit, or charges interest, such a person will by no means live; having committed all these appalling crimes he will die, and his blood be on his own head.

Eze 18:14 'But if he in turn has a son who, in spite of seeing all the sins that his father has committed, does not imitate him,

Eze 18:15 does not eat on the mountains or raise his eyes to the foul idols of the House of Israel, does not defile his neighbour's wife,

Eze 18:16 oppresses no one, takes no pledges, does not rob, gives his own food to the hungry, his clothes to those who lack clothing,

Eze 18:17 abstains from evil, does not lend for profit or charge interest, respects my judgements and keeps my laws, he will not die for his father's sins: he will most certainly live.

Eze 18:18 But his father, because he was violent, robbed others and never did good among his people, will most certainly die in his guilt.

Eze 18:19 'Now, you say, "Why doesn't the son bear his father's guilt?" If the son has been law-abiding and upright, has kept all my laws and followed them, most certainly he will live.

Eze 18:20 The one who has sinned is the one who must die; a son is not to bear his father's guilt, nor a father his son's guilt. The upright will be credited with his uprightness, and the wicked with his wickedness.

Eze 18:21 'If the wicked, however, renounces all the sins he has committed, respects my laws and is law-abiding and upright, he will most certainly live; he will not die.

Eze 18:22 None of the crimes he committed will be remembered against him from then on; he will most certainly live because of his upright actions.

Eze 18:23 Would I take pleasure in the death of the wicked -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- and not prefer to see him renounce his wickedness and live?

Eze 18:24 'But if the upright abandons uprightness and does wrong by copying all the loathsome practices of the wicked, is he to live? All his upright actions will be forgotten from then on; for the infidelity of which he is guilty and the sin which he has committed, he will most certainly die.'

Eze 18:25 'Now, you say, "What the Lord does is unjust." Now listen, House of Israel: is what I do unjust? Is it not what you do that is unjust?

Eze 18:26 When the upright abandons uprightness and does wrong and dies, he dies because of the wrong which he himself has done.

Eze 18:27 Similarly, when the wicked abandons wickedness to become law-abiding and upright, he saves his own life.

Eze 18:28 Having chosen to renounce all his previous crimes, he will most certainly live: he will not die.

Eze 18:29 And yet the House of Israel says, "What the Lord does is unjust." Is what I do unjust, House of Israel? Is it not what you do that is unjust?

Eze 18:30 So in future, House of Israel, I shall judge each of you by what that person does -- declares the Lord Yahweh. Repent, renounce all your crimes, avoid all occasions for guilt.

Eze 18:31 Shake off all the crimes you have committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why die, House of Israel?

Eze 18:32 I take no pleasure in the death of anyone -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- so repent and live!'

Eze 19:1 'Now, raise a lament for the princes of Israel.

Eze 19:2 Say: What was your mother? A lioness among lions; lying among the cubs she nursed her whelps.

Eze 19:3 She reared one of her whelps: he grew into a young lion; he learnt to tear his prey; he became a man-eater.

Eze 19:4 The nations came to hear of him; he was caught in their pit; they dragged him away with hooks to Egypt.

Eze 19:5 Her expectation thwarted, and seeing her hope dashed, she took another of her whelps and made a young lion of him.

Eze 19:6 He prowled among the lions, he grew into a young lion, he learnt to tear his prey; he became a man-eater.

Eze 19:7 He tore down their palaces, he destroyed their cities; the land and all its inhabitants were appalled by the sound of his roars.

Eze 19:8 The nations marched out against him from the surrounding provinces; they spread their net over him; he was caught in their pit.

Eze 19:9 They shackled him with hooks, they took him to the king of Babylon and threw him into a fortress, so that his voice could never again be heard on the mountains of Israel.

Eze 19:10 Your mother was like a vine planted beside the water, fruitful and leafy, because the water flowed so full.

Eze 19:11 She had stout stems which became kingly sceptres; she grew higher and higher, up into the clouds; she was admired for her height and the number of her branches.

Eze 19:12 But she was furiously uprooted and thrown on the ground; the east wind dried up her fruit, she was broken to pieces; her stout stem dried up, the fire devoured it.

Eze 19:13 Now she has been transplanted to the desert, to a dry and thirsty land.

Eze 19:14 Fire burst out of her stem devouring her branches and fruit. No more stout stem for her, no more kingly sceptre.' This is a lament; it was used as such.

Eze 20:1 In the seventh year, on the tenth day of the fifth month, some of the elders of Israel came to consult Yahweh and were sitting with me,

Eze 20:2 when the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 20:3 'Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel. Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Have you come to consult me? As I live, I will not be consulted by you -- declares the Lord Yahweh."

Eze 20:4 'Are you ready to judge them? Are you ready to judge them, son of man? Confront them with the loathsome practices of their ancestors.

Eze 20:5 Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: On the day when I chose Israel, when I pledged my word to the House of Jacob, I made myself known to them in Egypt; I pledged my word to them and said: I am Yahweh your God.

Eze 20:6 That day I pledged them my word that I would bring them out of Egypt to a country which I had reconnoitred for them, a country flowing with milk and honey, and the loveliest of them all.

Eze 20:7 And I said to them: Each of you must reject the horrors which attract you; do not pollute yourselves with the foul idols of Egypt; I am Yahweh your God.

Eze 20:8 But they rebelled against me and would not listen to me. Not one of them rejected the horrors which attracted them; they did not give up the foul idols of Egypt. I then resolved to vent my fury on them, to sate my anger on them in Egypt.

Eze 20:9 But respect for my own name kept me from letting it be profaned in the eyes of the nations among whom they were living, and before whom I had made myself known to them and promised to bring them out of Egypt.

Eze 20:10 So I brought them out of Egypt and led them into the desert.

Eze 20:11 I gave them my laws and taught them my judgements, in whose observance people find life.

Eze 20:12 And I also gave them my Sabbaths as a sign between me and them, so that they might know that I, Yahweh, am the one who sanctifies them.

Eze 20:13 The House of Israel, however, rebelled against me in the desert; they refused to keep my laws, they scorned my judgements, in whose observance people find life, and they grossly profaned my Sabbaths. I then resolved to vent my fury on them in the desert and destroy them.

Eze 20:14 But respect for my own name kept me from letting it be profaned in the eyes of the nations, before whom I had brought them out.

Eze 20:15 Even so, I pledged them my word in the desert that I would not lead them to the country which I had given them, a country flowing with milk and honey, and the loveliest of them all,

Eze 20:16 since they had scorned my judgements, had refused to keep my laws and had profaned my Sabbaths, their hearts being attached to foul idols.

Eze 20:17 In spite of this, I took pity on them; I refrained from destroying them and did not make an end of them in the desert.

Eze 20:18 "I said to their children in the desert: Do not follow the laws of your ancestors, do not practise their judgements, do not defile yourselves with their foul idols.

Eze 20:19 I am Yahweh your God. Keep my laws, respect my judgements and practise them.

Eze 20:20 Keep my Sabbaths holy; let them be a sign between me and you, so that people may know that I am Yahweh your God.

Eze 20:21 Their children, however, rebelled against me; they refused to keep my laws, they did not respect or practise my judgements, which must be practised by all who want to live; they profaned my Sabbaths. I then resolved to vent my fury on them, to sate my anger on them in the desert.

Eze 20:22 But I restrained my hand; respect for my own name kept me from letting it be profaned in the eyes of the nations, before whom I had brought them out.

Eze 20:23 Once again, however, I pledged them my word that I would scatter them throughout the nations and disperse them in foreign countries,

Eze 20:24 because they had not followed my judgements but had rejected my laws and profaned my Sabbaths, their eyes being fastened on the foul idols of their ancestors.

Eze 20:25 And for this reason I gave them laws that were not good and judgements by which they could never live;

Eze 20:26 and I polluted them with their own offerings, making them sacrifice every first-born son in order to fill them with revulsion, so that they would know that I am Yahweh."

Eze 20:27 'For this reason, son of man, speak to the House of Israel. Say to them, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Here is another way by which your ancestors outraged me by their infidelity.

Eze 20:28 Once I had brought them into the country which I had pledged my word to give them, they then saw all sorts of high hills, all kinds of leafy trees, and there they performed their sacrifices and made offerings that provoked my anger; there they set out their pleasing smell and poured their libations.

Eze 20:29 I then said to them: What is this high place where you go? And they gave, and still give it, the name of Bamah."

Eze 20:30 'So, say to the House of Israel, "The Lord Yahweh says this: If you are polluting yourselves as your ancestors did by fornicating with their horrors-

Eze 20:31 for by offering your gifts and by burning your children as sacrifices, you have been polluting yourselves with all your foul idols to this very day -- shall I let myself be consulted by you, House of Israel? As I live -- declares Lord Yahweh -- I shall not let myself be consulted by you.

Eze 20:32 And what you sometimes imagine will never be so, when you say: We shall be like the peoples, the tribes of foreign lands, worshipping wood and stone.

Eze 20:33 As I live I swear it -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- I am the one who will reign over you, with a strong hand and outstretched arm, once my fury is sated.

Eze 20:34 With a strong hand and outstretched arm, once my fury is sated, I shall bring you back from the peoples and gather you again from the countries throughout which you have been scattered.

Eze 20:35 I shall lead you into the desert of the nations and there I shall judge you face to face.

Eze 20:36 As I judged your ancestors in the desert of Egypt, so will I judge you -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 20:37 I shall make you pass under the crook, bring you to respect the covenant

Eze 20:38 and rid you of the rebels who have revolted against me; I shall bring them out of the country where they are staying, but they will not enter the country of Israel, and you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 20:39 House of Israel, Lord Yahweh says this: Go on, all of you, worship your foul idols, but later we shall see if you don't listen to me! Then you will stop profaning my holy name with your offerings and your foul idols.
Eze 20:40 For on my holy mountain, on the high mountain of Israel -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- is where the whole House of Israel, everyone in the country, will worship me. There I shall accept and there expect your presents, your choicest offering and all your consecrated gifts.

Eze 20:41 I shall welcome you like a pleasing smell when I bring you back from the peoples and gather you from the countries throughout which you have been scattered, and through you I shall display my holiness for all the nations to see;

Eze 20:42 and you will know that I am Yahweh, when I bring you back to the soil of Israel, to the country which I pledged my word to give to your ancestors.

Eze 20:43 There you will remember your past behaviour and all the actions by which you have defiled yourselves, and you will loathe yourselves for all the wrongs which you have committed.

Eze 20:44 And you will know that I am Yahweh, when I treat you as respect for my own name requires, and not as your wicked behaviour and corrupt actions deserve, House of Israel -- declares the Lord Yahweh."

Eze 21:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 21:2 'Son of man, turn to the right; utter your word towards the south, prophesy against the forest land of the Negeb.

Eze 21:3 Say to the forest of Negeb, "Hear the word of Yahweh! The Lord Yahweh says this: Listen; I am about to kindle a fire in you which will burn up every green tree in you as well as every dry one; it will be an unquenchable blaze and every face will be scorched by it from the Negeb to the north.

Eze 21:4 All humanity will see that it was I, Yahweh, who kindled it, and it will not be extinguished."

Eze 21:5 I said, 'Lord Yahweh, they say of me, "He does nothing but speak in riddles!"'

Eze 21:6 Then the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 21:7 'Son of man, turn towards Jerusalem, utter your word towards the sanctuary and prophesy against the land of Israel.

Eze 21:8 Say to the land of Israel, "Yahweh says this: Now I am against you; I am about to unsheathe my sword and rid you of the upright and the wicked alike.

Eze 21:9 Since I am going to rid you of upright and wicked alike, I shall unsheathe my sword against everyone alive, from the Negeb to the north,

Eze 21:10 so that everyone alive will know that I, Yahweh, am the one who has unsheathed my sword; it will not go back again."

Eze 21:11 'Son of man, groan as though your heart were breaking. Utter your bitter groans where they can see you.

Eze 21:12 And if they say, "Why these groans?" reply, "Because of the news which is about to come, all hearts will sink, all hands grow weak, all spirits grow faint and all knees turn to water. It is coming now, it is here!- declares Lord Yahweh."

Eze 21:13 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 21:14 'Son of man, prophesy. Say, "The Lord says this. Say: The sword, the sword has been sharpened and polished, Eze 21:15 sharpened for slaughter, polished to flash like lightning . . .

Eze 21:16 He has had it polished to be wielded, this sword sharpened and polished to put in the slaughterer's hand!

Eze 21:17 Shout and wail, son of man, for it will come on my people, on all the chief men of Israel doomed like my people to the sword! So beat your breast, Eze 21:18 for this will be an ordeal . . . declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 21:19 So prophesy, son of man, and clap your hands! Let the sword pass three times, that sword for victims, that sword for a great victim, threatening them from every side!

Eze 21:20 To make hearts sink and make sure many fall, I have posted the slaughtering sword at every gate to flash like lightning, polished for slaughter.

Eze 21:21 Be sharp, on the right, be ready on the left, whichever way your blade is needed!

Eze 21:22 I too shall clap my hands and sate my fury! I, Yahweh, have spoken."

Eze 21:23 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 21:24 'Son of man, mark out two roads for the sword of the king of Babylon to come along, making both of them begin from the same country. Then put up a signpost, put it where the road leaves for the city,

Eze 21:25 trace the route which the sword should take for Rabbah-of-the-Ammonites, and for Judah, to the fortress of Jerusalem.

Eze 21:26 For the king of Babylon has halted at the fork where these two roads diverge, to take the omens. He has shaken the arrows, questioned the household gods, inspected the liver.

Eze 21:27 The lot marked 'Jerusalem' is in his right hand: there to set up battering-rams, give the word for slaughter, raise the war cry, level battering-rams against the gates, cast up earthworks, build entrenchments.

Eze 21:28 The inhabitants will believe that these omens are idle, for they have received sworn guarantees, but he will bring their guilt to mind and capture them.

Eze 21:29 And so the Lord Yahweh says this, "Since you have brought your guilt to mind by parading your misdeeds and flaunting your sins in everything you do: because you have drawn attention to yourselves, you will be captured.

Eze 21:30 As for you, impious and wicked prince of Israel, whose doom is approaching to put an end to your crimes,

Eze 21:31 the Lord Yahweh says this: They will take away your diadem and remove your crown. Everything will be changed; the low will be raised and the high brought low!

Eze 21:32 Ruin, ruin, I shall bring such ruin as never was before, until the rightful ruler comes, on whom I shall bestow it."

Eze 21:33 'Son of man, prophesy and say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: In reply to the Ammonites and their jeers, say: The sword, the sword is drawn for slaughter, polished to devour, to flash like lightning-

Eze 21:34 while you have empty visions and consult lying omens-to cut the throats of the wicked, whose doom is approaching to put an end to their crimes.

Eze 21:35 Put it back in the scabbard. The place where you were created, the land of your origin, will be where I judge you.

Eze 21:36 I shall vent my fury on you, breathe the fire of my rage against you and hand you over to barbarous men whose trade is destruction.

Eze 21:37 You will be fuel for the fire, your blood will flow through the country, you will leave no memory behind you; for I, Yahweh, have spoken!" '

Eze 22:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 22:2 'Son of man, are you ready to judge? Are you ready to judge the blood-stained city? Confront her with all her loathsome practices!

Eze 22:3 Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: City shedding blood inside yourself to hasten your doom, making foul idols on your soil to defile yourself,

Eze 22:4 you have incurred guilt by the blood you have shed, you have defiled yourself with the foul idols you have made, you have shortened your days, you have come to the end of your years. This is why I have made you an object of scorn to the nations and a laughing-stock to every country.

Eze 22:5 From far and near they will taunt you with your infamous disorders.

Eze 22:6 "Look! In you the princes of Israel, one and all, have furthered their own interests at the cost of bloodshed;

Eze 22:7 in you people have despised their fathers and mothers; in you they have ill-treated the settler; in you they have oppressed the widow and orphan.

Eze 22:8 You have treated my sanctuary with contempt, you have profaned my Sabbaths.

Eze 22:9 In you informers incite to bloodshed; in you people eat on the mountains and act licentiously;

Eze 22:10 in you they have sexual intercourse with their fathers; in you they force themselves on women in their periods;

Eze 22:11 in you one man engages in loathsome practices with his neighbour's wife, another lewdly defiles his daughter-in-law, another violates his sister, his own father's daughter.

Eze 22:12 In you people take bribes for shedding blood; you lend for profit and charge interest, you profit from your fellow by extortion and have forgotten about me -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 22:13 "Now I shall clap my hands at your acts of banditry and the blood that flows in you.

Eze 22:14 Will your heart be able to resist, will your hands be steady, the day when I call you to account? I, Yahweh, have spoken and shall act.

Eze 22:15 I shall scatter you among the nations and disperse you in foreign countries, and so put an end to the filthiness now inside you;

Eze 22:16 through your own fault, you will be profaned in the eyes of the nations, and you will know that I am Yahweh!" '

Eze 22:17 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 22:18 'Son of man, for me, the House of Israel has become dross: copper, tin, iron, lead, all mixed up together in the melting-pot; they are dross.

Eze 22:19 And so, Lord Yahweh says this, "Since you have all become dross, right! I shall collect you inside Jerusalem.

Eze 22:20 As silver, copper, iron, lead and tin are collected in the melting-pot, and the fire is blown underneath to melt them down, so I shall collect you in my furious anger and have you melted down;

Eze 22:21 I shall collect you and blow up the fire of my rage for you and have you melted down inside the city.

Eze 22:22 As silver is melted in the melting-pot, so you will be melted down inside the city, and you will know that I, Yahweh, have vented my fury on you." '

Eze 22:23 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 22:24 'Son of man, say to her, "You are a land that has not received rain or shower on the day of anger.

Eze 22:25 In you, the princes are like a roaring lion tearing its prey. They have eaten the people, seized wealth and jewels and widowed many inside her.

Eze 22:26 Her priests have violated my law and desecrated my sanctuary; they have made no distinction between sacred and profane, they have not taught people the difference between clean and unclean; they have turned their eyes away from my Sabbaths and I have been dishonoured by them.

Eze 22:27 In her the leaders are wolves tearing their prey, shedding blood and killing people to steal their possessions.

Eze 22:28 Her prophets have plastered these things over with their empty visions and lying prophecies, saying: Yahweh says this, although Yahweh has not spoken.

Eze 22:29 The people of the country have taken to extortion and banditry; they have oppressed the poor and needy and ill-treated the settler in a way that is unjustifiable.

Eze 22:30 I have been looking for someone among them to build a barricade and oppose me in the breach, to defend the country and prevent me from destroying it; but I have found no one.

Eze 22:31 Hence I have vented my fury on them; I have put an end to them in the fire of my rage. I have made their conduct recoil on their own heads -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 23:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 23:2 'Son of man, there were once two women, daughters of the same mother.

Eze 23:3 They played the whore in Egypt; they played the whore when they were still girls. There their nipples were handled, there their virgin breasts were first fondled.

Eze 23:4 Their names were: Oholah the elder, Oholibah her sister. They belonged to me and bore sons and daughters. As regards their names, Samaria is Oholah, Jerusalem Oholibah.

Eze 23:5 Now Oholah played the whore, although she belonged to me; she lusted after her lovers, her neighbours the Assyrians,

Eze 23:6 dressed in purple, governors and magistrates, all of them young and desirable, and skilful horsemen.

Eze 23:7 She played the whore with all of them, the pick of Assyria, and defiled herself with all the foul idols of all those with whom she was in love,

Eze 23:8 nor did she give up the whoring begun in Egypt, where men had slept with her from her girlhood, fondling her virgin breasts, debauching her over and over again.

Eze 23:9 'That is why I have handed her over to her lovers, to the Assyrians with whom she was in love.

Eze 23:10 They stripped her naked, seized her sons and daughters and put her to the sword. She became notorious among women for the justice done on her.

Eze 23:11 'Her sister Oholibah saw all this, but she was even more depraved, and her whorings were worse than her sister's.

Eze 23:12 She fell in love with her neighbours the Assyrians, governors and magistrates, dressed in sumptuous clothes, skilful horsemen, all young and desirable.

Eze 23:13 Then I saw that she had defiled herself, that both sisters were equally bad.

Eze 23:14 She began whoring worse than ever; no sooner had she seen wall-carvings of men, pictures of Chaldaeans coloured vermilion,

Eze 23:15 men with sashes round their waists and elaborate turbans on their heads, all so lordly of bearing, depicting the Babylonians, natives of Chaldaea,

Eze 23:16 than she fell in love with them at first sight and sent messengers to them in Chaldaea.

Eze 23:17 The Babylonians came to her, shared her love-bed and defiled her with their whoring. Once defiled by them, she withdrew her affection from them.

Eze 23:18 Thus she flaunted her whoring, exposing her body, until I withdrew my affection from her as I had withdrawn it from her sister.

Eze 23:19 But she began whoring worse than ever, remembering her girlhood, when she had played the whore in Egypt,

Eze 23:20 when she had been in love with their profligates, big-membered as donkeys, ejaculating as violently as stallions.

Eze 23:21 'You were hankering for the debauchery of your girlhood, when they used to handle your nipples in Egypt and fondle your young breasts.

Eze 23:22 And so, Oholibah, Lord Yahweh says this, "I shall set all your lovers against you, from whom you have withdrawn your affection, and bring them to assault you from all directions:

Eze 23:23 the Babylonians and all the Chaldaeans, the men of Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them, young and desirable, all governors and magistrates, all famous lords and skilful horsemen.

Eze 23:24 From the north, they will advance on you with chariots and wagons and an international army and beset you with shield, buckler and helmet on all sides. I shall charge them to pass sentence on you and they will pass sentence on you as they think fit.

Eze 23:25 I shall direct my jealousy against you; they will treat you with fury; they will cut off your nose and ears, and what is left of your family will fall by the sword; they will seize your sons and daughters, and what is left will be burnt.

Eze 23:26 They will strip off your garments and rob you of your jewels.

Eze 23:27 I shall put an end to your debauchery and to the whorings you began in Egypt; you will not look to the Egyptians any more, you will never think of them again.

Eze 23:28 For the Lord Yahweh says this: Now, I shall hand you over to those you hate, to those for whom you no longer feel affection.

Eze 23:29 They will treat you with hatred, they will rob you of the entire fruit of your labours and leave you stark naked. And thus your shameful whorings will be exposed, your debauchery and your whorings.

Eze 23:30 This will happen to you because you have played the whore with the nations and have defiled yourself with their foul idols.

Eze 23:31 Since you have copied your sister's behaviour, I shall put her cup in your hand."

Eze 23:32 The Lord Yahweh says this: You will drink your sister's cup, a cup both deep and wide, leading to laughter and mockery, so ample the draught it holds.

Eze 23:33 You will be filled with drunkenness and sorrow. Cup of affliction and devastation, the cup of your sister Samaria, Eze 23:34 you will drink it, you will drain it; then you will break it in pieces and lacerate your own breasts. For I have spoken -- declared the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 23:35 "And so, the Lord Yahweh says this: Since you have forgotten me and have turned your back on me, you too will have to bear the weight of your debauchery and whorings." '

Eze 23:36 And Yahweh said to me, 'Son of man, are you ready to judge Oholah and Oholibah and charge them with their loathsome practices?

Eze 23:37 They have been adulteresses, their hands are dripping with blood, they have committed adultery with their foul idols. As for the children they had borne me, they have offered them as burnt sacrifices to feed them.

Eze 23:38 And here is something else they have done to me: they have defiled my sanctuary today and have profaned my Sabbaths.

Eze 23:39 The same day as sacrificing their children to their idols, they have been to my sanctuary and profaned it. Yes, this is what they have done in my own house.

Eze 23:40 'Worse still, they summoned men from far away, invited by messenger, and they came. For them you bathed, you painted your eyes, put on your jewels

Eze 23:41 and sat on a sumptuous bed, by which a table was laid out. On this you had put my incense and my oil.

Eze 23:42 The noise of the carefree company resounded, made by the crowd of men brought in from the desert; they put bracelets on the women's arms and magnificent crowns on their heads.

Eze 23:43 I thought, "That woman, worn out with adultery! Are they going to fornicate with her too?"

Eze 23:44 Yet they visit her like any common prostitute, just as they visited those profligate women Oholah and Oholibah.

Eze 23:45 All the same, there are upright men who will judge them as adulteresses and murderesses are judged, since they are adulteresses and their hands are dripping with blood."

Eze 23:46 'The Lord Yahweh says this, "Summon an assembly to deal with them, and hand them over to terror and pillage;

Eze 23:47 let the assembly stone them and dispatch them with their swords; let their sons and daughters be slaughtered and their houses set on fire.

Eze 23:48 This is how I shall purge the country of debauchery, so that all women will be taught the lesson never to ape your debauchery again.

Eze 23:49 Your debauchery will recoil on yourselves, and you will bear the weight of the sins committed with your foul idols and you will know that I am the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 24:1 In the ninth year, on the tenth day of the tenth month, the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 24:2 'Son of man, write down today's date, yes, today's, for this very day the king of Babylon began his attack on Jerusalem.

Eze 24:3 So pronounce a parable for this tribe of rebels. Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Put the pot on the fire; put it on; pour the water in!

Eze 24:4 Now put the cuts of meat all in together, all the best cuts, leg and shoulder. Fill it with the best bones.

Eze 24:5 Take the best of the flock, then heap wood underneath; boil it thoroughly until even the bones are cooked.

Eze 24:6 "For the Lord Yahweh says this: Disaster is in store for the bloody city, for that rusty cooking pot whose rust will not come off! Empty it, bit by bit, not bothering to draw lots;

Eze 24:7 for she is still full of bloodshed, she has put blood on the naked rock; she did not pour it on the ground so as to cover it with dust.

Eze 24:8 To make anger rise, to exact vengeance, I have put her blood on the naked rock, so that it should not be covered:

Eze 24:9 "So, the Lord Yahweh says this: Disaster is in store for the bloody city! I too plan to build a great fire.

Eze 24:10 Heap on the wood, light it, cook the meat, prepare the seasoning let the bones burn!

Eze 24:11 Put the empty pot on the coals to make it hot, until the bronze glows, the filth inside melts and the rust is burnt away!

Eze 24:12 "But all that rust would not come off in the fire.

Eze 24:13 Your filth is infamous. Since I have tried to purge you and you would not let yourself be purged of your filth, so now you will never be purged of your filth until I have sated my anger on you.

Eze 24:14 I, Yahweh, have spoken; this will happen; I shall act and not relent; I shall show no pity, no compassion. You will be judged as your conduct and actions deserve -- declares the Lord Yahweh." "

Eze 24:15 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 24:16 'Son of man, at a blow I am about to deprive you of the delight of your eyes. But you are not to lament, not to weep, not to let your tears run down.

Eze 24:17 Groan in silence, do not go into mourning for the dead, knot your turban round your head, put your sandals on your feet, do not cover your beard, do not eat the usual food.'

Eze 24:18 I told this to the people in the morning, and my wife died in the evening, and the next morning I did as I had been ordered.

Eze 24:19 The people then said to me, 'Will you not explain what meaning these actions have for us?'

Eze 24:20 I replied, 'The word of Yahweh has been addressed to me as follows,

Eze 24:21 "Say to the House of Israel, the Lord Yahweh says this: I am about to profane my sanctuary, the pride of your strength, the delight of your eyes, the joy of your hearts. Your sons and daughters whom you have left behind will fall by the sword.

Eze 24:22 Then you will do as I have done: you will not cover your beards or eat the usual food;

Eze 24:23 you will keep your turbans on your heads and your sandals on your feet; you will not lament or weep but will waste away for your crimes, groaning among yourselves.

Eze 24:24 Thus Ezekiel is a sign for you. You will do exactly what he has done. And when this happens, you will know that I am Lord Yahweh!"

Eze 24:25 'And, son of man, the day that I deprive them of their strength, their crowning joy, the delight of their eyes, the joy of their hearts, their sons and daughters,

Eze 24:26 that day a survivor will bring you the news.

Eze 24:27 That day your mouth will be opened to speak to the survivor; you will speak and no longer be dumb; you will be a sign for them, and they will know that I am Yahweh.'

Eze 25:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 25:2 'Son of man, turn towards the Ammonites and prophesy against them.

Eze 25:3 Say to the Ammonites, "Hear the word of the Lord Yahweh. The Lord Yahweh says this: "Since you gloated over my sanctuary when it was profaned, and over the land of Israel when it was ravaged, and over the House of Judah when it went into exile, Eze 25:4 I shall let the sons of the East take possession of you; they will pitch their camps inside you, they will make their home in you. They will be the ones to eat your produce and drink your milk.

Eze 25:5 I shall turn Rabbah into a camel yard and the towns of Ammon into sheepfolds. And so you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 25:6 "The Lord Yahweh says this: Since you have clapped your hands and danced for joy, full of malicious delight at Israel's fate,

Eze 25:7 my hand will be against you for this; I shall hand you over to be looted by the peoples, obliterate you as a nation and wipe you out as a country. I shall reduce you to nothing, and you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 25:8 "The Lord Yahweh says this: "Since Moab and Seir have said: Look at the House of Judah; it is no different from any other nation;

Eze 25:9 very well, I shall expose Moab's heights; its cities will no longer be cities throughout the land -- the jewels of the country, Beth-Jeshimoth, Baal-Meon and Kiriathaim.

Eze 25:10 I shall let the sons of the East and the Ammonites take possession of them, so that they will no longer be remembered by the nations.

Eze 25:11 I shall bring Moab to justice, and they will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 25:12 "The Lord Yahweh says this: "Since Edom has taken revenge on the House of Judah and committed great crimes in doing so,

Eze 25:13 very well, the Lord Yahweh says this: My hand will be against Edom and denude it of human and animal. I shall lay it waste, from Teman as far as Dedan they will be put to the sword.

Eze 25:14 I shall take vengeance on Edom by means of my people Israel. They will treat Edom as my anger and fury dictate, and they will know this is my vengeance -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 25:15 "The Lord Yahweh says this, "Since the Philistines have acted in revenge and, motivated by malice, have taken revenge, doing their best to destroy because of their long-standing hatred,

Eze 25:16 very well, the Lord Yahweh says this: My hand will be against the Philistines; I shall exterminate the Cherethites and destroy the rest of the coastal peoples.

Eze 25:17 I shall perform frightful acts of vengeance and inflict furious punishments on them; and they will know that I am Yahweh, when I exact my vengeance on them." '

Eze 26:1 In the eleventh year, on the first of the month, the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 26:2 'Son of man, since Tyre has said of Jerusalem: "Aha! She is shattered, the Gateway to the Nations; she now gives way to me. Her riches are ruined!"

Eze 26:3 Very well, the Lord Yahweh says this, "Now, Tyre, I am against you,

Eze 26:4 I shall raise many nations against you as the sea raises its waves. They will destroy the walls of Tyre, they will demolish her towers; I shall sweep the dust of her away and reduce her to a naked rock.

Eze 26:5 She will be a drying-ground out to sea for fishing-nets. For I have spoken- declares Lord Yahweh. She will be the prey of the nations.

Eze 26:6 As for her daughters on the mainland, these will be put to the sword, and they will know that I am Yahweh."

Eze 26:7 'For the Lord Yahweh says this, "From the north, I shall bring Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, king of kings, down on Tyre with horses, chariots, cavalry and an enormous army.

Eze 26:8 He will put your daughters on the mainland to the sword. He will build siege-works against you, cast up a siege-ramp against you, raise a screen against you;

Eze 26:9 he will pound your walls with his battering-rams, and demolish your towers with his siege-engines.

Eze 26:10 His horses are so many that their dust will hide you. The noise of his horsemen and his chariot-wheels will make your walls tremble as he enters your gates as though storming into a city through the breach.

Eze 26:11 With his horses' hoofs he will trample through all your streets; he will put your people to the sword, and throw your massive pillars to the ground.

Eze 26:12 Your wealth will be seized, your merchandise looted, your walls rased, your luxurious houses shattered, your stones, your timbers, your very dust, thrown into the sea.

Eze 26:13 I shall put an end to the sound of your songs; the sound of your harps will not be heard again.

Eze 26:14 I shall reduce you to a naked rock, and make you into a drying-ground for fishing-nets, never to be rebuilt; for I, Yahweh, have spoken -declares the Lord Yahweh."

Eze 26:15 'The Lord Yahweh says this to Tyre, "Will not the islands quake at the sound of your fall, while the wounded groan and the slaughter takes place inside you?

Eze 26:16 All the princes of the sea will leave their thrones, lay aside their cloaks, take off their embroidered robes. Dressed in terror they will sit on the ground trembling incessantly, stunned at your fate.

Eze 26:17 "They will raise the lament for you as follows: You are destroyed then, vanished from the seas, famous city, former sea-power, who with her citizens, used to spread terror all over the mainland!

Eze 26:18 Now the islands are trembling on the day of your fall; the islands of the sea are terrified by your end.

Eze 26:19 "For the Lord Yahweh says this: "When I make you a ruined city like other deserted cities, when I raise the deep against you and the ocean covers you,

Eze 26:20 when I fling you down with those who go down into the abyss, with the people of long ago, and put you deep in the underworld, in the ruins of long ago with those who sink into oblivion, so that you can never come back or be restored to the land of the living,

Eze 26:21 I will make you an object of terror; you will not exist. People will look for you but never find you again -- declares the Lord Yahweh!" '

Eze 27:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 27:2 'Son of man, raise the lament for Tyre.

Eze 27:3 Say to Tyre, "City enthroned at the gateway of the sea, agent between the peoples and the many islands, Lord Yahweh says this: Tyre, you used to say: I am a ship perfect in beauty.

Eze 27:4 Your frontiers were far out to sea; those who built you made you perfect in beauty.

Eze 27:5 Cypress from Senir they used for all your planking. They took a cedar from Lebanon to make a mast above you.

Eze 27:6 From oaks of Bashan they made your oars. They built you a deck of cedar inlaid with ivory from the Kittim isles.

Eze 27:7 Embroidered linen from Egypt was used for your sail and for your flag. Purple and scarlet from the Elishah islands formed your deck-tent.

Eze 27:8 The people of Sidon and Arvad were your oarsmen. The sages of Tyre were aboard, serving as sailors.

Eze 27:9 The elders and craftsmen of Gebal were there to caulk your seams. "Every sea-going ship and crew frequented you to guarantee your trade.

Eze 27:10 Men from Persia, Lud and Put served as warriors in your army; hanging up shield and helmet in you, they displayed your splendour.

Eze 27:11 The sons of Arvad with their army manned your walls all round, while the Gammadians manned your towers; hanging their shields all round your walls, they completed your beauty.

Eze 27:12 Tarshish traded with you because of your abundant resources and exchanged your merchandise for silver, iron, tin and lead.

Eze 27:13 Javan, Tubal and Meshech traded with you. For your merchandise they traded slaves and bronze artefacts.

Eze 27:14 The people of Beth-Togarmah traded your horses, chargers, mules.

Eze 27:15 The people of Dedan traded with you; many islands were your customers and paid you in ivory tusks and ebony.

Eze 27:16 Edom traded with you for the sake of your many manufactured goods, exchanging garnets, purple, embroideries, fine linen, coral and rubies for your goods.

Eze 27:17 Judah and the land of Israel also traded with you, bringing corn from Minnith, pannag, honey, oil and balm.

Eze 27:18 Damascus traded with you, for quantities of your manufactured goods and other goods of all kinds, furnishing you with wine from Helbon and wool from Zahar.

Eze 27:19 Dan and Javan, from Uzal onwards, supplied you with wrought iron, cassia and reeds in exchange for your goods.

Eze 27:20 Dedan traded with you in saddle-cloths.

Eze 27:21 Arabia and all the sheikhs of Kedar were your customers; they paid in lambs, rams and he-goats.

Eze 27:22 The merchants of Sheba and Raamah traded with you; they supplied you with the finest spices, precious stones and gold for your merchandise.

Eze 27:23 Haran, Canneh and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad traded with you.

Eze 27:24 They traded rich clothes, embroidered and purple cloaks, multi-coloured materials and strong plaited cords for your markets.

Eze 27:25 Ships of Tarshish sailed on your business; you were full and heavily loaded far out to sea.

Eze 27:26 Out to the open sea your oarsmen rowed you. The east wind has wrecked you far out to sea.

Eze 27:27 Your riches, your goods, your cargo, your seamen, your sailors, your caulkers, your commercial agents, all the warriors you carry, and all the passengers who are aboard will founder far out to sea on the day of your shipwreck.

Eze 27:28 When they hear the cries of your sailors the coasts will tremble.

Eze 27:29 Then the oarsmen will all desert their ships. The sailors and seafaring people will stay ashore.

Eze 27:30 They will raise their voices for you and weep bitterly. They will throw dust on their heads and roll in ashes;

Eze 27:31 they will shave their heads for you and put sackcloth round their waists. With heartfelt bitterness they will weep for you, bitterly wail.

Eze 27:32 Wailing, they will raise the lament for you, they will lament over you: Who is like Tyre, far out to sea?

Eze 27:33 When you unloaded your goods to satisfy so many peoples, you enriched the kings of the earth with your excess of wealth and goods.

Eze 27:34 Now you have been wrecked by the waves, by the depths of the sea. Your cargo and all your passengers have foundered with you.

Eze 27:35 All those who live in the islands will be stunned at your fate. Their kings will quake with horror, with downcast expressions.

Eze 27:36 The merchants of the nations will whistle at your fate. You will be an object of terror, gone for ever."

Eze 28:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 28:2 'Son of man, say to the ruler of Tyre, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Because your heart has grown proud, you thought: I am a god; I am divinely enthroned far out to sea. Though you are human, not divine, you have allowed yourself to think like God.

Eze 28:3 So, you are wiser than Daniel; no sage as wise as you!

Eze 28:4 By your wisdom and your intelligence you have made yourself a fortune, you have put gold and silver into your treasures.

Eze 28:5 Such is your skill in trading, your fortune has continued to increase, and your fortune has made your heart grow prouder.

Eze 28:6 "And so, the Lord Yahweh says this: Since you have allowed yourself to think like God,

Eze 28:7 very well, I am going to bring foreigners against you, the most barbarous of the nations. They will draw sword against your fine wisdom, they will desecrate your splendour,
Eze 28:8 they will throw you down into the grave and you will die a violent death far out to sea.
Eze 28:9 Will you still think: I am a god, when your slaughterers confront you? But you will be human, not divine, in the clutches of the ones who strike you down!
Eze 28:10 You will die like the uncircumcised at the hand of foreigners. "For I have spoken -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '
Eze 28:11 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,
Eze 28:12 'Son of man, raise a lament for the king of Tyre. Say to him, "The Lord Yahweh says this: You used to be a model of perfection, full of wisdom, perfect in beauty;
Eze 28:13 you were in Eden, in the garden of God. All kinds of gem formed your mantle: sard, topaz, diamond, chrysolite, onyx, jasper, sapphire, garnet, emerald, and your ear-pendants and spangles were made of gold; all was ready on the day you were created.
Eze 28:14 I made you a living creature with outstretched wings, as guardian, you were on the holy mountain of God; you walked amid red-hot coals.
Eze 28:15 Your behaviour was exemplary from the day you were created until guilt first appeared in you,
Eze 28:16 because your busy trading has filled you with violence and sin. I have thrown you down from the mountain of God and destroyed you, guardian winged creature, amid the coals.
Eze 28:17 Your heart has grown proud because of your beauty, your wisdom has been corrupted by your splendour. I have thrown you to the ground; I have made you a spectacle for kings.
Eze 28:18 By the immense number of your crimes, by the dishonesty of your trading, you have defiled your sanctuary. So I have brought fire out of you to devour you; I have reduced you to ashes on the ground before the eyes of all who saw you.
Eze 28:19 Of the nations, all who know you are stunned at your fate. You are an object of terror; gone for ever."
Eze 28:20 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,
Eze 28:21 'Son of man, turn towards Sidon and prophesy against her.
Eze 28:22 Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: I am against you, Sidon, I will show my glory in you! They will know I am Yahweh, once I execute sentence on her and display my holiness in her.
Eze 28:23 For I shall send her the plague, and there will be blood in her streets, and in her the dead will fall under the sword raised against her from all sides, and they will know that I am Yahweh.
Eze 28:24 "No more, for the House of Israel, shall any of the hostile nations surrounding them be a thorn that wounds or a briar that tears; and they will know that I am Yahweh.
Eze 28:25 "The Lord Yahweh says this: When I gather the House of Israel back from the peoples where they are dispersed, I shall display my glory in them for the nations to see. They will live on the soil which I gave to my servant Jacob.
Eze 28:26 They will live there in confidence, build houses, plant vineyards. They will live in safety, once I inflict punishments on all the hostile nations surrounding them, and they will know that I am Yahweh their God."
Eze 29:1 In the tenth year, on the twelfth day of the tenth month, the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,
Eze 29:2 'Son of man, turn towards Pharaoh king of Egypt and prophesy against him and against the whole of Egypt.
Eze 29:3 Speak and say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Look, I am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt- the great crocodile wallowing in his Niles who thought: My Nile is mine, I made it.
Eze 29:4 I shall put hooks through your jaws, make your Nile fish stick to your scales, and pull you out of your Niles with all your Nile fish sticking to your scales.
Eze 29:5 I shall drop you in the desert, with all your Nile fish. You will fall in the wilds and not be taken up or buried. I shall give you as food to the wild animals and the birds of heaven,
Eze 29:6 and all the inhabitants of Egypt will know that I am Yahweh, for they have given no more support than a reed to the House of Israel.
Eze 29:7 Wherever they grasped you, you broke in their hands and cut their hands all over. Whenever they leaned on you, you broke, making all their limbs give way.
Eze 29:8 "So, the Lord Yahweh says this: I shall send the sword against you to denude you of human and animal.
Eze 29:9 Egypt will become a desolate waste, and they will know that I am Yahweh. Because he thought: The Nile is mine, I made it,
Eze 29:10 very well, I am against you and your Niles. I shall make Egypt a waste and a desolation, from Migdol to Syene and beyond to the frontiers of Ethiopia.
Eze 29:11 No human foot will pass through it, no animal foot will pass through it. For forty years it will remain uninhabited.

Eze 29:12 I shall make Egypt the most desolate of countries; for forty years its cities will be the most desolate of wasted cities. And I shall scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them among the countries.

Eze 29:13 The Lord Yahweh, however, says this: After forty years have passed, I shall gather the Egyptians back from the nations where they were dispersed.

Eze 29:14 I shall bring the Egyptian captives back and re-install them in the land of Pathros, in the country of their origin. There they will constitute a modest kingdom.

Eze 29:15 Egypt will be the most modest of kingdoms and no longer dominate other nations; for I shall reduce it, so that it will not rule other nations ever again.

Eze 29:16 It will no longer be anything for the House of Israel to trust in, but will be a reminder of the guilt which lay in turning to it for help. And they will know that I am Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 29:17 In the twenty-seventh year, on the first day of the first month, the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows:

Eze 29:18 'Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has taken his army in a great expedition against Tyre. Their heads have all gone bald, their shoulders are all chafed, but even so he has derived no profit, either for himself or for his army, from the expedition mounted against Tyre.

Eze 29:19 Since this is so, the Lord Yahweh says this, "Look, I shall hand Egypt over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. He will carry off its riches, loot it, put it to the sack; that will be the wages for his army.

Eze 29:20 As wages for the trouble he has taken, I am giving him Egypt instead (for they have been working for me)-declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 29:21 "That day, I shall raise up a new stock for the House of Israel and allow you to open your mouth among them. And they will know that I am Yahweh." '

Eze 30:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 30:2 'Son of man, prophesy and say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Howl: Disaster day!

Eze 30:3 For the day is near, the day of Yahweh is near; it will be a day dark with cloud, a time of doom for the nations.

Eze 30:4 "The sword will come on Egypt, and anguish on the country of Cush when the slaughtered fall in Egypt, when her riches are carried away and her foundations are destroyed.

Eze 30:5 Cush, Put and Lud, all Arabia, Cub and the children of the country of the covenant will fall by the sword with them.

Eze 30:6 "Yahweh says this: "The supports of Egypt will fall; the pride of her strength will crumble; they will fall by the sword from Migdol to Syene -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 30:7 "They will be the most desolate of desolate countries, and its cities the most ruined of cities.

Eze 30:8 And they will know that I am Yahweh when I set fire to Egypt and all its supports are shattered.

Eze 30:9 "That day, I shall send messengers by ship to terrify the carefree Cushites, and anguish will overtake them on the day of Egypt -- it is coming now!

Eze 30:10 The Lord Yahweh says this: I shall destroy the huge population of Egypt at the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.

Eze 30:11 He and his people, the most barbarous of nations, will be brought to ravage the country. They will draw the sword against Egypt and fill the country with corpses.

Eze 30:12 I shall dry up the courses of the Nile and sell the country to the wicked. I shall lay the whole country waste and everything in it, at the hand of foreigners. I, Yahweh, have spoken.

Eze 30:13 "The Lord Yahweh says this: I shall destroy the foul idols and take the false gods away from Noph. Egypt will be left without a ruler. I shall spread fear through Egypt.

Eze 30:14 I shall lay Pathros waste, set Zoan on fire, inflict my punishments on No.

Eze 30:15 I shall vent my fury on Sin, the bastion of Egypt; I shall wipe out the throns of No.

Eze 30:16 I shall set fire to Egypt; Sin will be seized with convulsions; a breach will be opened at No and the waters flood out.

Eze 30:17 The young men of On and Pi-Beseth will fall by the sword and the cities themselves go into captivity.

Eze 30:18 At Tahpanhes day will turn to darkness when I shatter the sceptres of Egypt there, when the pride of her strength ceases. A cloud will cover Egypt itself, and its daughters will go into captivity.

Eze 30:19 Such will be the punishments I inflict on Egypt. And they will know that I am Yahweh." '

Eze 30:20 In the eleventh year, on the seventh day of the first month, the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 30:21 'Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; you can see that no one has dressed his wound by applying remedies to it, by bandaging it and by dressing it, to make it strong enough to wield the sword.

Eze 30:22 This being so, the Lord Yahweh says this, "Look, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt; I shall break his arms, the sound one and the broken one, and make the sword drop from his hand.

Eze 30:23 I shall scatter Egypt among the nations and disperse it among the countries.

Eze 30:24 I shall strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon and put my sword in his hand. I shall break Pharaoh's arms and, confronted with his enemy, he will groan like a dying man.

Eze 30:25 I shall strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh will fall. And they will know that I am Yahweh, when I put my sword into the hands of the king of Babylon and he wields it against Egypt.

Eze 30:26 I shall scatter Egypt among the nations and disperse it among the countries; and they will know that I am Yahweh." '

Eze 31:1 In the eleventh year, on the first day of the third month, the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 31:2 'Son of man, say to Pharaoh king of Egypt and his throng of subjects: "What can compare with you for greatness?"

Eze 31:3 I know: a cedar tree in the Lebanon with noble branches, dense foliage, lofty height. Its top pierces the clouds.

Eze 31:4 The waters have made it grow, the deep has made it tall, pouring its rivers round the place where it is planted, sending rivulets to all the wild trees.

Eze 31:5 This is why its height was greater than that of other wild trees, its branches increased in number, its boughs stretched wide, because of the plentiful waters making it grow.

Eze 31:6 All the birds of heaven nested in its branches; under its boughs all wild animals dropped their young; in its shade sat many, many people.

Eze 31:7 It was beautiful in its size, in the span of its boughs; for its roots were in plentiful waters.

Eze 31:8 There was no cedar like it in the garden of God, no cypress had branches such as these, no plane tree could match its boughs, no tree in the garden of God could rival its beauty.

Eze 31:9 I had made it so lovely with its many branches that it was the envy of every tree in Eden, in the garden of God.

Eze 31:10 "Very well, the Lord Yahweh says this: "Since it has raised itself to its full height, has lifted its top into the clouds, and has grown arrogant about its height,

Eze 31:11 I have handed it over to the prince of the nations, for him to treat as its wickedness deserves; I have rejected it.

Eze 31:12 Foreigners, the most barbarous of nations, have cut it down and deserted it. On the mountains, in all the valleys, lie its branches; its broken boughs are in every ravine throughout the country; everybody in the country has fled its shade and deserted it.

Eze 31:13 On its wreckage perch all the birds of heaven; all the wild animals have advanced on its branches.

Eze 31:14 "So in future let no tree rear its height beside the waters, none push its top into the clouds, no watered tree stretch its height towards them. For all of them are doomed to death, to the depths of the underworld, with the common run of humanity, with those who sink into oblivion.

Eze 31:15 "The Lord Yahweh says this: The day it went down to Sheol, I imposed mourning, I closed the deep over it. I stopped its rivers and the plentiful waters dried up; I made Lebanon dark because of it, and all the wild trees wilted because of it.

Eze 31:16 With the noise when it fell I made the nations quake, as I hurled it down to Sheol, with those who sink into oblivion. In the depths of the underworld all the trees of Eden took comfort, the pick of the loveliest trees of the Lebanon, all irrigated by the waters.

Eze 31:17 And its offspring among the nations, once living in its shade, went down to Sheol with it, to those who have been slaughtered by the sword.

Eze 31:18 "Which of the trees of Eden compares with you for glory and greatness? Yet you have been hurled down with the trees of Eden, to the depths of the underworld, among the uncircumcised, and there you lie with those who have been slaughtered by the sword. So much for Pharaoh and all his throng -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 32:1 In the twelfth year, on the first day of the twelfth month, the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 32:2 'Son of man, raise a lament for Pharaoh king of Egypt. Say to him: "Young lion of nations, you are destroyed! Once you were like a crocodile in the lagoons; emerging from your rivers, you churned up the water with your trampling and fouled their streams.

Eze 32:3 "The Lord Yahweh says this: I shall throw my net over you in a great concourse of nations; and they will trawl you up in my net. Then I shall leave you high and dry, Eze 32:4 I shall throw you out into the wilds and make all the birds of heaven settle on you, and glut all the beasts of the earth with you.

Eze 32:5 I shall strew your flesh on your mountains and fill the valleys with your corruption;

Eze 32:6 I shall water the country with what flows from you, with your blood, on the mountainsides, and you will fill the ravines.

Eze 32:7 When I extinguish you I shall cover the skies and darken the stars. I shall cover the sun with clouds and the moon will not give its light.

Eze 32:8 I shall dim every luminary in heaven because of you and cover your country in darkness -declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 32:9 "I shall grieve the heart of many peoples when I bring about your destruction among the nations, in countries unknown to you.

Eze 32:10 I shall stun many peoples with shock at your fate; their kings will tremble with horror at your fate, when I brandish my sword before their eyes. The day you fall, each will tremble in terror for his life.

Eze 32:11 For the Lord Yahweh says this: The sword of the king of Babylon will overtake you.

Eze 32:12 I shall make your throngs of subjects fall at the swords of my warriors. They are the most barbarous of nations. They will annihilate the pride of Egypt, and all its throngs will be destroyed.

Eze 32:13 I shall also destroy all its cattle beside the plentiful waters. No human foot will churn them, no animal foot will churn them up again;

Eze 32:14 then I shall let their waters settle and make their rivers glide like oil -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 32:15 "When I reduce Egypt to a ruin and the country is stripped of its contents, when I strike all those who live there, they will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 32:16 "Such is the lament which the daughters of the nations will raise. They will raise it over Egypt and all its throng. This is the lament they will raise -- declares the Lord Yahweh."

Eze 32:17 In the twelfth year, on the fifteenth day of the first month, the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 32:18 'Son of man, lament over the throng of Egypt, for down she must go with the daughters of majestic nations to the depths of the underworld with those who sink into oblivion.

Eze 32:19 'Whom do you surpass in beauty? Down with you, make your bed with the uncircumcised, Eze 32:20 with those who have been slaughtered by the sword. (The sword has been given, it has been drawn.) She and all her throngs have fallen.

Eze 32:21 From the depths of Sheol, the mightiest heroes, her allies, will say to her, "They have come down, they have lain down, uncircumcised, slaughtered by the sword."

Eze 32:22 'Assyria is there and all her hordes, with their graves all round her; all of them slaughtered, fallen by the sword;

Eze 32:23 their graves have been made in the deepest part of the abyss, and her hordes, with their graves all round her; all of them slaughtered, killed by the sword, who once spread terror through the world of the living.

Eze 32:24 'Elam is there and all her throng round her grave, all of them slaughtered, fallen by the sword; they have gone down uncircumcised to the depths of the underworld, who once spread terror throughout the world of the living. They have borne their shame with those who sink into oblivion.

Eze 32:25 Among the slaughtered, they have put a bed for her, among her throng with their tombs round her, all of them uncircumcised, slaughtered by the sword for having spread terror throughout the world of the living.

They have borne their shame with those who sink into oblivion. They have been put among the slaughtered.

Eze 32:26 'Meshech, Tubal are there and all her throng, with their graves round her, all of them uncircumcised, slaughtered by the sword for having spread terror through the world of the living.

Eze 32:27 They do not lie with the heroes who fell long ago, those who went down to Sheol fully armed, who had their swords laid under their heads and their shields put under their bones, since the heroes inspired the world of the living with terror.

Eze 32:28 But you will be broken with the uncircumcised and lie with those slaughtered by the sword.

Eze 32:29 'Edom is there, her kings and all her princes who, despite their valour, have been laid with those slaughtered by the sword. They lie with the uncircumcised, with those who sink into oblivion.

Eze 32:30 'All the princes of the north and all the Sidonians are there, who have gone down with the slaughtered, because of the terror which their power inspired. Ashamed, uncircumcised, they lie among those slaughtered by the sword and bear their shame with those who sink into oblivion.

Eze 32:31 'Pharaoh will see them and take comfort at the sight of all this throng slaughtered by the sword -- Pharaoh and all his throng -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 32:32 For having spread terror through the world of the living, he will be laid with the uncircumcised, with those slaughtered by the sword, Pharaoh and all his throng -- declares the Lord Yahweh.'

Eze 33:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 33:2 'Son of man, speak to the people of your country. Say to them, "When I send the sword against the people of that country, take one of their number and post him as a watchman;

Eze 33:3 if he sees the sword coming against the country, he must sound his horn to warn the people.

Eze 33:4 If someone hears the sound of the horn but pays no attention and the sword overtakes him and destroys him, he will have been responsible for his own death.

Eze 33:5 He has heard the sound of the horn and paid no attention; his death will be his own responsibility. But the life of someone who pays attention will be secure.

Eze 33:6 "If, however, the watchman has seen the sword coming but has not blown his horn, and so the people are not alerted and the sword overtakes them and destroys a single one of them, that person will indeed die for his guilt, but I shall hold the watchman responsible for his death."

Eze 33:7 'Son of man I have appointed you as watchman for the House of Israel. When you hear a word from my mouth, warn them from me.'

Eze 33:8 If I say to someone wicked, "Evil-doer, you are to die," and you do not speak to warn the wicked person to renounce such ways, the wicked person will die for this guilt, but I shall hold you responsible for the death.

Eze 33:9 If, however, you do warn someone wicked to renounce such ways and repent, and that person does not repent, then the culprit will die for this guilt, but you yourself will have saved your life.

Eze 33:10 'Son of man, say to the House of Israel, "You are continually saying: Our crimes and sins weigh heavily on us; we are wasting away because of them. How are we to go on living?"

Eze 33:11 Say to them, "As I live -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- I do not take pleasure in the death of the wicked but in the conversion of the wicked who changes his ways and saves his life. Repent, turn back from your evil ways. Why die, House of Israel?"

Eze 33:12 'Son of man, say to the members of your nation, "The uprightness of an upright person will not save him once he takes to wrong-doing; the wickedness of a wicked person will not ruin him once he renounces his wickedness. No one upright will be able to live on the strength of uprightness, having once taken to sinning."

Eze 33:13 If I say to someone upright: You are to live, and then, trusting in this uprightness, he does wrong, none of the uprightness will be remembered; because of the wrong-doing, he will die.

Eze 33:14 If, however, I say to someone wicked: You are to die, and he turns back from sin and does what is lawful and upright, Eze 33:15 if he returns pledges, restores what he has stolen, keeps the laws that give life and no longer does wrong, he will live and will not die.

Eze 33:16 None of his previous sins will be remembered against him; having done what is lawful and upright, he will live.

Eze 33:17 "But the members of your nation say: What the Lord does is unjust. But it is what you do that is unjust.

Eze 33:18 When an upright person gives up being upright and does wrong, he dies for it.

Eze 33:19 And when a wicked person gives up being wicked and does what is lawful and upright, because of this he lives.

Eze 33:20 But you say: What the Lord does is unjust! I shall judge each of you by what you do, House of Israel.'

Eze 33:21 In the twelfth year of our captivity, on the fifth day of the tenth month, a fugitive arrived from Jerusalem and said to me, 'The city has been taken.'

Eze 33:22 Now the hand of the Lord had been on me the evening before the fugitive arrived; he had opened my mouth before the fugitive came to me the next morning; my mouth had been opened and I was dumb no longer.

Eze 33:23 The word of Yahweh was then addressed to me as follows,

Eze 33:24 'Son of man, the people living in those ruins on the soil of Israel say this, "Abraham was alone when he was given possession of this country. But we are many; the country has been given us as our heritage."

Eze 33:25 'Very well, tell them, "The Lord Yahweh says this: You eat blood, you raise your eyes to your foul idols, you shed blood; are you to own the country?"

Eze 33:26 You rely on your swords, you engage in loathsome practices, each of you defiles his neighbour's wife; are you to own the country?"

Eze 33:27 Tell them this, "The Lord Yahweh says this: As I live, I swear it, those in the ruins will fall to the sword, those in the countryside I shall give to the wild animals for them to eat, and those among the crags and in caves will die of plague.

Eze 33:28 I shall make the country a desolate waste, and the pride of its strength will be at an end. The mountains of Israel will be deserted and no one will pass that way again.

Eze 33:29 Then they will know that I am Yahweh, when I make the country a desolate waste because of all the filthy things they have done."

Eze 33:30 'Son of man, the members of your nation are talking about you on the ramparts and in doorways. They keep saying to one another, "Come and hear the word that has come from Yahweh."

Eze 33:31 They throng towards you; my people sit down in front of you and listen to your words, but they do not act on them. What they act on is the lie in their mouths, and their hearts are set on dishonest gain.

Eze 33:32 As far as they are concerned, you are like a love song pleasantly sung to a good musical accompaniment. They listen to your words, but no one acts on them.'

Eze 33:33 When the thing takes place -- and it is beginning now -- they will know that there has been a prophet among them.'

Eze 34:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 34:2 'Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel; prophesy and say to them, "Shepherds, the Lord Yahweh says this: Disaster is in store for the shepherds of Israel who feed themselves! Are not shepherds meant to feed a flock?"

Eze 34:3 Yet you have fed on milk, you have dressed yourselves in wool, you have sacrificed the fattest sheep, but failed to feed the flock.

Eze 34:4 You have failed to make weak sheep strong, or to care for the sick ones, or bandage the injured ones. You have failed to bring back strays or look for the lost. On the contrary, you have ruled them cruelly and harshly.

Eze 34:5 For lack of a shepherd they have been scattered, to become the prey of all the wild animals; they have been scattered.

Eze 34:6 My flock is astray on every mountain and on every high hill; my flock has been scattered all over the world; no one bothers about them and no one looks for them.

Eze 34:7 "Very well, shepherds, hear the word of Yahweh:

Eze 34:8 As I live, I swear it -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- since my flock has been pillaged and for lack of a shepherd is now the prey of every wild animal, since my shepherds have ceased to bother about my flock, since my shepherds feed themselves rather than my flock,

Eze 34:9 very well, shepherds, hear the word of Yahweh:

Eze 34:10 The Lord Yahweh says this: Look, I am against the shepherds. I shall take my flock out of their charge and henceforth not allow them to feed my flock. And the shepherds will stop feeding themselves, because I shall rescue my sheep from their mouths to stop them from being food for them.

Eze 34:11 "For the Lord Yahweh says this: Look, I myself shall take care of my flock and look after it.

Eze 34:12 As a shepherd looks after his flock when he is with his scattered sheep, so shall I look after my sheep. I shall rescue them from wherever they have been scattered on the day of clouds and darkness.

Eze 34:13 I shall bring them back from the peoples where they are; I shall gather them back from the countries and bring them back to their own land. I shall pasture them on the mountains of Israel, in the ravines and in all the inhabited parts of the country.

Eze 34:14 I shall feed them in good pasturage; the highest mountains of Israel will be their grazing ground. There they will rest in good grazing grounds; they will browse in rich pastures on the mountains of Israel.

Eze 34:15 I myself shall pasture my sheep, I myself shall give them rest -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 34:16 I shall look for the lost one, bring back the stray, bandage the injured and make the sick strong. I shall watch over the fat and healthy. I shall be a true shepherd to them.

Eze 34:17 "As for you, my sheep, the Lord Yahweh says this: I shall judge between sheep and sheep, between rams and he-goats.

Eze 34:18 Not content to drink the clearest of the water, you foul the rest with your feet.

Eze 34:19 And my sheep must graze on what your feet have trampled and drink what your feet have fouled.

Eze 34:20 Very well, the Lord Yahweh says this: I myself shall judge between the fat sheep and the thin sheep.

Eze 34:21 Since you have jostled with flank and shoulder and butted all the ailing sheep with your horns, until you have scattered them outside,

Eze 34:22 I shall come and save my sheep and stop them from being victimised. I shall judge between sheep and sheep.

Eze 34:23 "I shall raise up one shepherd, my servant David, and put him in charge of them to pasture them; he will pasture them and be their shepherd.

Eze 34:24 I, Yahweh, shall be their God, and my servant David will be ruler among them. I, Yahweh, have spoken.

Eze 34:25 I shall make a covenant of peace with them; I shall rid the country of wild animals. They will be able to live secure in the desert and go to sleep in the woods.

Eze 34:26 I shall settle them round my hill; I shall send rain at the proper time; it will be a rain of blessings.

Eze 34:27 The trees of the countryside will yield their fruit and the soil will yield its produce; they will be secure on their soil. And they will know that I am Yahweh when I break the bars of their yoke and rescue them from the clutches of their slave-masters.

Eze 34:28 No more will they be a prey to the nations, no more will the wild animals of the country devour them. They will live secure, with no one to frighten them.

Eze 34:29 I shall make splendid vegetation grow for them; no more will they suffer from famine in the country; no more will they have to bear the insults of other nations.

Eze 34:30 So they will know that I, their God, am with them and that they, the House of Israel, are my people -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 34:31 And you, my sheep, are the flock of my human pasture, and I am your God -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 35:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 35:2 'Son of man, turn towards Mount Seir and prophesy against it.

Eze 35:3 Say to it, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Look, I am against you, Mount Seir; I shall stretch out my hand against you; I shall make you a desolate waste;

Eze 35:4 I shall lay your towns in ruins. You will become a waste and you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 35:5 Since, following a long-standing hatred, you betrayed the Israelites to the sword on the day of their distress, on the day when an end came for their guilt,

Eze 35:6 very well, as I live -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- I destine you to bloodshed, and bloodshed will pursue you. I swear it; you have incurred guilt by shedding blood, and bloodshed will pursue you.

Eze 35:7 I shall make Mount Seir a desolate waste and denude it of anyone travelling to and fro.

Eze 35:8 I shall fill its mountains with its slaughtered; on your hills, in your valleys and in all your ravines, those slaughtered by the sword will fall.

Eze 35:9 I shall make you a perpetual waste, your towns will never be inhabited again, and you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 35:10 "Since you said: The two nations and the two countries will be mine; we are going to take possession of it, although Yahweh was there,

Eze 35:11 very well, as I live -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- I shall act with the same anger and jealousy as you acted in your hatred for them. I shall make myself known for their sake, when I punish you,

Eze 35:12 and you will know that I, Yahweh, have heard all the blasphemies which you have uttered against the mountains of Israel, such as: They have been laid waste, they have been given to us for us to devour.

Eze 35:13 Great was your insolence towards me, many your speeches against me; I have heard!

Eze 35:14 Lord Yahweh says this: To the joy of the whole world, I shall make you a waste.

Eze 35:15 Since you rejoiced because the heritage of the House of Israel had been laid waste, I shall do the same to you, Mount Seir; and you will become a waste, and so will the whole of Edom; and they will know that I am Yahweh.' "

Eze 36:1 'Son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel. Say, "Mountains of Israel, hear the word of Yahweh.

Eze 36:2 The Lord Yahweh says this: Since the enemy has gloated over you by saying: Aha! These eternal heights are owned by us now,

Eze 36:3 very well, prophesy! Say: The Lord Yahweh says this: Since you have been ravaged and seized on from all sides, and have become the property of the rest of the nations, and become the subject of people's talk and gossip,

Eze 36:4 very well, mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord Yahweh! The Lord Yahweh says this to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys, to the devastated ruins and abandoned cities which have been put to the sack and have become a laughing-stock to the rest of the nations all round;

Eze 36:5 very well, the Lord Yahweh says this: I swear it in the heat of my jealousy; I am speaking to the rest of the nations and to the whole of Edom who so exultantly and contemptuously took possession of my country to despoil its pastureland."

Eze 36:6 'Because of this, prophesy about the land of Israel. Say to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys, "The Lord Yahweh says this: I am speaking in my jealousy and rage; because you are enduring the insults of the nations,

Eze 36:7 very well, the Lord Yahweh says this: I raise my hand and I swear that the nations all around you shall have their own insults to bear.

Eze 36:8 "Mountains of Israel, you will grow branches and bear fruit for my people Israel, who will soon return.

Eze 36:9 Yes, I am coming to you, I shall turn to you; you will be tilled and sown.

Eze 36:10 I shall increase your population, the whole House of Israel, yes, all. The cities will be inhabited and the ruins rebuilt.

Eze 36:11 I shall increase your population, both human and animal; they will be fertile and reproduce. I shall repopulate you as you were before; I shall make you more prosperous than you were before, and you will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 36:12 Thanks to me, men will tread your soil again, my people Israel; they will own you and you will be their heritage, and never again will you rob them of their children.

Eze 36:13 "The Lord Yahweh says this: Since people have said of you: You are a man-eater, you have robbed your nation of its children,

Eze 36:14 very well, you will eat no more men, never rob your nation of its children again -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 36:15 I shall never again let you hear the insults of the nations, you will never again have to bear the taunts of the peoples, you will never again rob the nation of its children -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 36:16 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 36:17 'Son of man, the members of the House of Israel used to live in their own territory, but they defiled it by their conduct and actions; to me their conduct was as unclean as a woman's menstruation.

Eze 36:18 I then vented my fury on them because of the blood they shed in the country and the foul idols with which they defiled it.

Eze 36:19 I scattered them among the nations and they were dispersed throughout the countries. I sentenced them as their conduct and actions deserved.

Eze 36:20 They have profaned my holy name among the nations where they have gone, so that people say of them, "These are the people of Yahweh; they have been exiled from his land."

Eze 36:21 But I have been concerned about my holy name, which the House of Israel has profaned among the nations where they have gone.

Eze 36:22 And so, say to the House of Israel, "The Lord Yahweh says this: I am acting not for your sake, House of Israel, but for the sake of my holy name, which you have profaned among the nations where you have gone.

Eze 36:23 I am going to display the holiness of my great name, which has been profaned among the nations, which you have profaned among them. And the nations will know that I am Yahweh -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- when in you I display my holiness before their eyes.

Eze 36:24 For I shall take you from among the nations and gather you back from all the countries, and bring you home to your own country.

Eze 36:25 I shall pour clean water over you and you will be cleansed; I shall cleanse you of all your filth and of all your foul idols.

Eze 36:26 I shall give you a new heart, and put a new spirit in you; I shall remove the heart of stone from your bodies and give you a heart of flesh instead.

Eze 36:27 I shall put my spirit in you, and make you keep my laws, and respect and practise my judgements.

Eze 36:28 You will live in the country which I gave your ancestors. You will be my people and I shall be your God.

Eze 36:29 I shall save you from everything that defiles you, I shall summon the wheat and make it plentiful and impose no more famines on you.

Eze 36:30 I shall increase the yield of tree and field, so that you will never again bear the ignominy of famine among the nations.

Eze 36:31 Then you will remember your evil conduct and actions. You will loathe yourselves for your guilt and your loathsome practices.

Eze 36:32 I assure you that I am not doing this for your sake -- declares the Lord Yahweh. Be ashamed and blush for your conduct, House of Israel.

Eze 36:33 "The Lord Yahweh says this: On the day I cleanse you from all your guilt, I shall repopulate the cities and cause the ruins to be rebuilt.

Eze 36:34 Waste land, once desolate for every passer-by to see, will now be farmed again.

Eze 36:35 And people will say: This land, so recently a waste, is now like a garden of Eden, and the ruined cities once abandoned and levelled to the ground are now strongholds with people living in them.

Eze 36:36 And the nations left round you will know that I, Yahweh, have rebuilt what was levelled and replanted what was ruined. I, Yahweh, have spoken and shall do it.

Eze 36:37 "The Lord Yahweh says this: As a further mark of favour, I shall let myself be consulted by the House of Israel; I shall increase their numbers like a human flock, Eze 36:38 like a flock of sacrificial animals, like the flock in Jerusalem on her solemn feasts. So your ruined cities will be filled with human flocks, and they will know that I am Yahweh." '

Eze 37:1 The hand of Yahweh was on me; he carried me away by the spirit of Yahweh and set me down in the middle of the valley, a valley full of bones.

Eze 37:2 He made me walk up and down and all around among them. There were vast quantities of these bones on the floor of the valley; and they were completely dry.

Eze 37:3 He said to me, 'Son of man, can these bones live?' I said, 'You know, Lord Yahweh.'

Eze 37:4 He said, 'Prophesy over these bones. Say, "Dry bones, hear the word of Yahweh.'

Eze 37:5 The Lord Yahweh says this to these bones: I am now going to make breath enter you, and you will live.

Eze 37:6 I shall put sinews on you, I shall make flesh grow on you, I shall cover you with skin and give you breath, and you will live; and you will know that I am Yahweh." '

Eze 37:7 I prophesied as I had been ordered. While I was prophesying, there was a noise, a clattering sound; it was the bones coming together.

Eze 37:8 And as I looked, they were covered with sinews; flesh was growing on them and skin was covering them, yet there was no breath in them.

Eze 37:9 He said to me, 'Prophesy to the breath; prophesy, son of man. Say to the breath, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Come from the four winds, breath; breathe on these dead, so that they come to life!" '

Eze 37:10 I prophesied as he had ordered me, and the breath entered them; they came to life and stood up on their feet, a great, an immense army.

Eze 37:11 Then he said, 'Son of man, these bones are the whole House of Israel. They keep saying, "Our bones are dry, our hope has gone; we are done for."

Eze 37:12 So, prophesy. Say to them, "The Lord Yahweh says this: I am now going to open your graves; I shall raise you from your graves, my people, and lead you back to the soil of Israel.

Eze 37:13 And you will know that I am Yahweh, when I open your graves and raise you from your graves, my people,

Eze 37:14 and put my spirit in you, and you revive, and I resettle you on your own soil. Then you will know that I, Yahweh, have spoken and done this -- declares the Lord Yahweh."

Eze 37:15 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 37:16 'Son of man, take a stick and write on it, "Judah and those Israelites loyal to him." Take another stick and write on it, "Joseph (Ephraim's wood) and all the House of Israel loyal to him."

Eze 37:17 'Join one to the other to make a single piece of wood, a single stick in your hand.

Eze 37:18 And when the members of your nation say, "Will you not tell us what you mean?"

Eze 37:19 say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: I am taking the stick of Joseph (now in Ephraim's hand) and those tribes of Israel loyal to him and shall join them to the stick of Judah. I shall make one stick out of the two, a single stick in my hand."

Eze 37:20 'When the pieces of wood you have written on are in your hand in full sight of them,

Eze 37:21 say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: I shall take the Israelites from the nations where they have gone. I shall gather them together from everywhere and bring them home to their own soil.

Eze 37:22 I shall make them into one nation in the country, on the mountains of Israel, and one king is to be king of them all; they will no longer form two nations, nor be two separate kingdoms.

Eze 37:23 They will no longer defile themselves with their foul idols, their horrors and any of their crimes. I shall save them from the acts of infidelity which they have committed and shall cleanse them; they will be my people and I shall be their God.

Eze 37:24 My servant David will reign over them, one shepherd for all; they will follow my judgements, respect my laws and practise them.

Eze 37:25 They will live in the country which I gave to my servant Jacob, the country in which your ancestors lived. They will live in it, they, their children, their children's children, for ever. David my servant is to be their prince for ever.

Eze 37:26 I shall make a covenant of peace with them, an eternal covenant with them. I shall resettle them and make them grow; I shall set my sanctuary among them for ever.

Eze 37:27 I shall make my home above them; I shall be their God, and they will be my people.

Eze 37:28 And the nations will know that I am Yahweh the sanctifier of Israel, when my sanctuary is with them for ever."

Eze 38:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Eze 38:2 'Son of man, turn towards Gog, to the country of Magog, towards the paramount prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him.

Eze 38:3 Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: I am against you, Gog, paramount prince of Meshech and Tubal.

Eze 38:4 I shall turn you about, I shall fix hooks in your jaws and bring you out with your entire army, horses and horsemen, all perfectly equipped, a huge array armed with shields and bucklers, and all wielding swords.

Eze 38:5 Persia and Cush and Put are with them, all with buckler and helmet;

Eze 38:6 Gomer and all its troops, Beth-Togarmah in the far north and all its troops, and many nations with you.

Eze 38:7 Be ready, be well prepared, you and all your troops and the others rallying to you, and hold yourself at my service.

Eze 38:8 "Many days will pass before you are given orders; in the final years you will march on this country, whose inhabitants will have been living in confidence, remote from other peoples, since they escaped the sword and were gathered in from various nations, here in the long-deserted mountains of Israel.

Eze 38:9 Like a storm you will approach, you will advance and cover the country like a cloud, you, all your troops and many nations with you.

Eze 38:10 "The Lord Yahweh says this: That day, a thought will enter your mind and you will form a sinister plan.

Eze 38:11 You will think: I shall attack this undefended country and march on this peaceful nation living secure, all living in towns without walls or bars or gates.

Eze 38:12 You will come to plunder and loot and turn your might against the ruins they live in, against this people gathered back from the nations, these stock-breeders and traders who live at the Navel of the World.

Eze 38:13 Sheba and Dedan, the merchants and all the magnates of Tarshish will ask you: Have you come for plunder? Are you massing your troops with a view to looting? To make off with gold and silver, seize cattle and goods, and come away with unlimited spoil?"

Eze 38:14 'So, son of man, prophesy. Say to Gog, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Is it not true that you will set out at a time when my people Israel is living secure?

Eze 38:15 You will leave your home in the far north, you and many nations with you, a great army of countless troops all mounted.

Eze 38:16 You will invade Israel, my people. You will be like a cloud covering the country. In the final days, I myself shall bring you to attack my country, so that the nations will know who I am, when I display my holiness to them, by means of you, Gog.

Eze 38:17 "The Lord Yahweh says this: It was of you that I spoke in the past through my servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days, foretelling your invasion.

Eze 38:18 The day Gog attacks the land of Israel -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- my furious wrath will boil up. In my anger,

Eze 38:19 in my jealousy, in the heat of my fury I say it: That day, I swear, there will be such a huge earthquake in the land of Israel,

Eze 38:20 that the fish in the sea and the birds of heaven, the wild beasts, all the reptiles creeping along the ground, and all people on the surface of the earth will quake before me. Mountains will fall, cliffs crumble, all walls collapse, and Eze 38:21 I shall summon every kind of sword against him -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- and each will turn his sword against his comrade.

Eze 38:22 I shall punish him with plague and bloodshed, and rain down torrential rain, hailstones, fire and brimstone on him, on his troops and on the many nations with him.

Eze 38:23 I shall display my greatness and holiness and bring the many nations to acknowledge me; and they will know that I am Yahweh." '

Eze 39:1 'So, son of man, prophesy against Gog. Say, "The Lord Yahweh says this: Look, I am against you, Gog, paramount prince of Meshech and Tubal.

Eze 39:2 I shall turn you about, lead you on, and bring you from the farthest north against the mountains of Israel.

Eze 39:3 I shall break the bow in your left hand and dash the arrows out of your right.

Eze 39:4 You will fall on the mountains of Israel, you, all your troops and the nations with you. I shall make you food for every kind of bird of prey and wild animals.

Eze 39:5 You will fall in the wilds, for I have spoken -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 39:6 I shall send down fire on Magog and on those living undisturbed in the islands, and they will know that I am Yahweh.

Eze 39:7 I shall see that my holy name is acknowledged by my people Israel, and no longer allow my holy name to be profaned; and the nations will know that I am Yahweh, holy in Israel.

Eze 39:8 "All this is to happen, all this is to take place -- declares the Lord Yahweh. This is the day I predicted.

Eze 39:9 "The inhabitants of the towns of Israel will go out and set fire to and burn the weapons, the shields and bucklers, bows and arrows, javelins and spears. They will burn these for seven years

Eze 39:10 and not fetch wood from the countryside or cut it in the forests, since they will be burning the weapons. They will plunder those who plundered them, and despoil those who despoiled them -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 39:11 "That day, I shall give Gog a famous spot in Israel for his grave, the valley of the Obarim, east of the Sea -- the valley that halts the traveller -- and there Gog and his whole throng will be buried, and it will be called the Valley of Hamon-Gog.

Eze 39:12 The House of Israel will take seven months to bury them and cleanse the country.

Eze 39:13 All the people of the country will dig their graves, thus winning themselves renown, the day when I display my glory -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 39:14 And men will be detailed to the permanent duty of going through the country and burying those left above ground and cleansing it. They will begin their search once the seven months are over,

Eze 39:15 and as they go through the country, if one of them sees any human bones, he will set up a marker beside them until the gravediggers have buried them in the valley of Hamon-Gog

Eze 39:16 (and Hamonah is also the name of a town) and have cleansed the country."

Eze 39:17 'Son of man, the Lord Yahweh says this, "Say to the birds of every kind and to all the wild animals: Muster, come, gather from everywhere around for the sacrifice I am making for you, a great sacrifice on the mountains of Israel, so that you can eat flesh and drink blood.

Eze 39:18 You will eat the flesh of heroes, you will drink the blood of the princes of the world. They are all rams and lambs, goats and fat bulls of Bashan.

Eze 39:19 You will glut yourselves on fat and drink yourselves drunk on blood at this sacrifice I am making for you.

Eze 39:20 You will glut yourselves at my table on horses and chargers, on heroes and every kind of warrior -- declares the Lord Yahweh."

Eze 39:21 'I shall display my glory to the nations, and all nations will see my sentence when I inflict it and my hand when I strike them.

Eze 39:22 The House of Israel will know that I am Yahweh their God, from that day forward for ever.

Eze 39:23 The nations too will know that the House of Israel were exiled for their guilt; because they were unfaithful to me, I hid my face from them and put them into the clutches of their enemies, so that they all fell by the sword.

Eze 39:24 I treated them as their loathsome acts of infidelity deserved and hid my face from them.

Eze 39:25 'So, the Lord Yahweh says this, "Now I shall bring Jacob's captives back and take pity on the whole House of Israel and show myself jealous for my holy name.

Eze 39:26 They will forget their disgrace and all the acts of infidelity which they committed against me when they were living safely in their own country, with no one to disturb them.

Eze 39:27 When I bring them home from the peoples, when I gather them back from the countries of their enemies, when I display my holiness in them for many nations to see,

Eze 39:28 they will know that I am Yahweh their God who, having sent them into exile among the nations, have reunited them in their own country, not leaving a single one behind.

Eze 39:29 I shall never hide my face from them again, since I shall pour out my spirit on the House of Israel -- declares the Lord Yahweh."

Eze 40:1 In the twenty-fifth year of our captivity, at the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, fourteen years to the day from the capture of the city, the hand of Yahweh was on me. He carried me away:

Eze 40:2 in divine visions, he carried me away to the land of Israel and put me down on a very high mountain, on the south of which there seemed to be built a city.

Eze 40:3 He took me to it, and there I saw a man, whose appearance was like brass. He had a flax cord and a measuring rod in his hand and was standing in the gateway.

Eze 40:4 The man said to me, 'Son of man, look carefully, listen closely and pay attention to everything I show you, since you have been brought here only for me to show it to you. Tell the House of Israel everything that you see.'

Eze 40:5 Now, the Temple was surrounded on all sides by an outer wall. The man was holding a measuring rod six cubits long, each cubit a forearm and a handsbreadth. He measured the thickness of this construction -- one rod; and its height -- one rod.

Eze 40:6 He went to the east gate, climbed the steps and measured its threshold: one rod deep.

Eze 40:7 Each guardroom one rod by one rod; and the piers between the guardrooms five cubits thick, and the threshold of the gate inwards from the porch of the gate: one rod.

Eze 40:8

Eze 40:9 He measured the porch of the gate: eight cubits; its piers: two cubits; the porch of the gate was at the inner end.

Eze 40:10 There were three guardrooms on each side of the east gate, all three of the same size; the piers between them all of the same thickness each side.

Eze 40:11 He measured the width of the entrance: ten cubits; and the width all down the gateway: thirteen cubits.

Eze 40:12 There was a rail in front of the guardrooms; each rail on either side was one cubit. And the guardrooms on either side were six cubits square.

Eze 40:13 He measured the width of the gate from the back wall of one guardroom to the back wall of the other; it was twenty-five cubits across, the openings being opposite each other.

Eze 40:14 He measured the porch: twenty cubits; the court surrounded the gate on all sides.

Eze 40:15 From the front of the entrance gate, to the far end of the porch of the inner gate: fifty cubits.

Eze 40:16 All round inside the gate there were trellised windows in the guardrooms and in their piers; similarly, in the porch there were windows all round and palm trees on the piers.

Eze 40:17 He then took me to the outer court, which had rooms and a paved terrace going all the way round; there were thirty rooms on this terrace.

Eze 40:18 This terrace, which came up to the sides of the gates and matched their depth, was the Lower Terrace. He measured the width of the court,

Eze 40:19 from the front of the lower gate to the facade of the inner court, outside: a hundred cubits (on the east and on the north).

Eze 40:20 He measured the length and breadth of the north gate of the outer court.

Eze 40:21 It had three guardrooms on each side; its piers and porch were of the same size as those of the first gate: fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.

Eze 40:22 Its windows, its porch and its palm trees were of the same size as those of the east gate. There were seven steps up to it, and its porch was at the inner end.

Eze 40:23 In the inner court there was, opposite the north gate, a gate like the one opposite the east gate. He measured the distance from one gate to the other: a hundred cubits.

Eze 40:24 He took me to the south side where there was a south gate; he measured its guardrooms, piers and porch; they were of the same size as the others.

Eze 40:25 The gateway, as well as its porch, had windows all round, like the windows of the others; it was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide,

Eze 40:26 and it had seven steps up to it; its porch was at the inner end and had palm trees on its piers, one on either side.

Eze 40:27 The inner court had a south gate; he measured the distance southwards from one gate to the other: a hundred cubits.

Eze 40:28 He then took me into the inner court by the south gate; he measured the south gate which was of the same size as the others.

Eze 40:29 Its guardrooms, piers and porch were of the same size as the others.

Eze 40:30 The gateway, as well as its porch, had windows all round; it was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.

Eze 40:31 The porch gave on to the outer court. It had palm trees on its piers and eight steps leading up to it.

Eze 40:32 He took me to the eastern part of the inner court and measured the gate. It was of the same size as the others.

Eze 40:33 Its guardrooms, piers and porch were of the same size as the others. The gateway, as well as its porch, had windows all round; it was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.

Eze 40:34 Its porch gave on to the outer court. There were palm trees on its piers on either side and eight steps leading up to it.

Eze 40:35 He then took me to the north gate and measured it.

Eze 40:36 Its guardrooms, piers and porch were of the same size as the others. The gateway had windows all round; it was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.

Eze 40:37 Its porch gave on to the outer court. There were palm trees on its piers on either side and eight steps leading up to it.

Eze 40:38 There was a room, the entrance to which was in the porch of the gateway, where they washed the burnt offerings.

Eze 40:39 And inside the porch of the gateway were slabs, two on either side, for slaughtering the burnt offerings, the sacrifice for sin and the sacrifice of reparation.

Eze 40:40 Outside, at the approach to the entrance of the north gate, were two slabs, and on the other side, at the porch end of the gate were two slabs.

Eze 40:41 There were four slabs on one side and four slabs on the other side of the gateway, eight slabs in all, on which the slaughtering was done.

Eze 40:42 There were also four slabs of dressed stone for the burnt offerings, a cubit and a half long, a cubit and a half wide and a cubit high, on which the instruments for slaughtering the burnt offerings and sacrifice were placed;

Eze 40:43 runnels a handsbreadth wide went all round the top, and on these slabs was put the sacrificial flesh.

Eze 40:44 Then he took me into the inner court; there were two rooms in the inner court, one on the side of the north gate, facing south, the other on the side of the south gate, facing north.

Eze 40:45 He told me, 'The room looking south is for the priests responsible for the service of the Temple,

Eze 40:46 and the room looking north is for the priests responsible for the service of the altar. These are the sons of Zadok, those of the sons of Levi who approach Yahweh to serve him.'

Eze 40:47 He measured the court; it was a hundred cubits long and a hundred cubits wide, a square with the altar standing in front of the Temple.

Eze 40:48 He took me to the Ulam of the Temple and measured the piers of the Ulam: five cubits either side; and the width of the entrance was three cubits either side.

Eze 40:49 The length of the Ulam was twenty cubits and its width twelve cubits. There were ten steps leading up to it, and there were columns by the piers, one on either side.

Eze 41:1 He took me to the Hekal and measured its piers: six cubits wide on the one side, six cubits wide on the other.

Eze 41:2 The width of the entrance was ten cubits, and the returns of the entrance were five cubits on the one side and five cubits on the other. He measured its length: forty cubits; and its width: twenty cubits.

Eze 41:3 He then went inside and measured the pier at the entrance: two cubits; then the entrance; six cubits; and the returns of the entrance: seven cubits.

Eze 41:4 He measured its length; twenty cubits; and its width against the Hekal: twenty cubits. He then said to me, 'This is the Holy of Holies.'

Eze 41:5 He then measured the wall of the Temple: six cubits. The width of the lateral structure was four cubits, all round the Temple.

Eze 41:6 The cells were one above the other in three tiers of thirty cells each. The cells were recessed into the wall, the wall of the structure comprising the cells, all round, forming offsets; but there were no offsets in the wall of the Temple itself.

Eze 41:7 The width of the cells increased, storey by storey, corresponding to the amount taken in from the wall from one storey to the next, all round the Temple.

Eze 41:8 Then I saw that there was a paved terrace all round the Temple. The height of this, which formed the base of the side cells, was one complete rod of six cubits.

Eze 41:9 The outer wall of the side cells was five cubits thick. There was a passage between the cells of the Temple

Eze 41:10 and the rooms, twenty cubits wide, all round the Temple.

Eze 41:11 As a way in to the lateral cells on the passage there was one entrance on the north side and one entrance on the south side. The width of the passage was five cubits right round.

Eze 41:12 The building on the west side of the court was seventy cubits wide, the wall of the building was five cubits thick all round and its length was ninety cubits.

Eze 41:13 He measured the length of the Temple: a hundred cubits.

Eze 41:14 The length of the court plus the building and its walls: a hundred cubits.

Eze 41:15 He measured the length of the building, along the court, at the back, and its galleries on either side: a hundred cubits. The inside of the Hekal and the porches of the court,

Eze 41:16 the thresholds, the windows, the galleries on three sides, facing the threshold, were panelled with wood all round from floor to windows, and the windows were screened with latticework.

Eze 41:17 From the door to the inner part of the Temple, as well as outside, and on the wall all round, both inside and out,

Eze 41:18 were carved great winged creatures and palm trees, one palm tree between two winged creatures; each winged creature had two faces:

Eze 41:19 a human face turned towards the palm tree on one side and the face of a lion towards the palm tree on the other side, throughout the Temple, all round.

Eze 41:20 Winged creatures and palm trees were carved on the wall from the floor to above the entrance.

Eze 41:21 The doorposts of the Temple were square. In front of the sanctuary there was something like

Eze 41:22 a wooden altar, three cubits high and two cubits square. Its corners, base and sides were of wood. He said to me, 'This is the table in the presence of Yahweh.'

Eze 41:23 The Hekal had double doors and the sanctuary

Eze 41:24 double doors. These doors had two hinged leaves, two leaves for the one door, two leaves for the other.

Eze 41:25 On them (on the doors of the Hekal), were carved great winged creatures and palm trees like those carved on the walls. There was a wooden porch roof on the front of the Ulam on the outside,

Eze 41:26 and windows with flanking palm trees on the sides of the Ulam, the cells to the side of the Temple and the porch-roofs.

Eze 42:1 He then took me out into the outer court on the north side and led me to the room facing the court, that is to say, to the front of the building on the north side.

Eze 42:2 Along the front, it was a hundred cubits long on the north side and fifty cubits wide.

Eze 42:3 Facing the gateways of the inner court and facing the paving of the outer court was a gallery in front of the triple gallery,

Eze 42:4 and in front of the rooms was a walk, ten cubits measured inwards and a hundred cubits long; their doors looked north.

Eze 42:5 The top-floor rooms were narrow because the galleries took up part of the width, being narrower than those on the ground floor or those on the middle floor of the building;

Eze 42:6 these were divided into three storeys and had no columns such as the court had. Hence they were narrower than the ground floor ones or the middle-floor ones (below them).

Eze 42:7 The outer wall parallel to the rooms, facing them and giving onto the outer court, was fifty cubits long,

Eze 42:8 the length of the rooms facing the outer court being fifty cubits, while for those facing the hall of the Temple it was a hundred cubits.

Eze 42:9 Beneath the rooms there was an entrance from the east, leading in from the outer court.

Eze 42:10 In the thickness of the wall of the court, on the south side fronting the court and the building, were rooms.

Eze 42:11 A walk ran in front of them, as with the rooms built on the north side; they were of the same length and breadth, and were of similar design with similar doors in and out.

Eze 42:12 Before the rooms on the south side there was an entrance at the end of each walk, opposite the corresponding wall on the east side, at their entries.

Eze 42:13 He said to me, 'The northern and southern rooms giving onto the court are the rooms of the sanctuary, in which the priests who approach Yahweh will eat the most holy things. In them will be placed the most holy things: the oblation, the sacrifice for sin and the sacrifice of reparation, since this is a holy place.'

Eze 42:14 Once the priests have entered, they will not go out of the holy place into the outer court without leaving their liturgical vestments there, since these vestments are holy; they will put on other clothes before going near places assigned to the people.'

Eze 42:15 When he had finished measuring the inside of the Temple, he took me out to the east gate and measured it right round the sides.

Eze 42:16 He measured the east side with his measuring rod: a total of five hundred cubits by the measuring rod.

Eze 42:17 He then measured the north side: a total of five hundred cubits by the measuring rod.

Eze 42:18 He then measured the south side: five hundred cubits by the measuring rod

Eze 42:19 was the total. On the west side he measured five hundred cubits by the measuring rod.

Eze 42:20 He measured the entire enclosing wall on all four sides: length five hundred, breadth five hundred, separating the sacred from the profane.

Eze 43:1 He took me to the gate, the one facing east.

Eze 43:2 I saw the glory of the God of Israel approaching from the east. A sound came with him like the sound of the ocean, and the earth shone with his glory.

Eze 43:3 This vision was like the one I had seen when I had come for the destruction of the city, and like the one I had seen by the River Chebar. Then I fell to the ground.

Eze 43:4 The glory of Yahweh arrived at the Temple by the east gate.

Eze 43:5 The Spirit lifted me up and brought me into the inner court; I saw the glory of Yahweh fill the Temple.

Eze 43:6 And I heard someone speaking to me from the Temple while the man stood beside me.

Eze 43:7 He said, 'Son of man, this is the dais of my throne, the step on which I rest my feet. I shall live here among the Israelites for ever; and the House of Israel, they and their kings, will never again defile my holy name with their whorings and the corpses of their kings, Eze 43:8 by putting their threshold beside my threshold and their doorposts beside my door-posts, with a party wall shared by them and me. They used to defile my holy name by their loathsome practices, and this is why I put an end to them in my anger.

Eze 43:9 From now on they will banish their whorings and the corpses of their kings from my presence and I shall live among them for ever.

Eze 43:10 'Son of man, describe this Temple to the House of Israel, to shame them out of their loathsome practices. (Let them draw up the plan of it.)

Eze 43:11 And, if they are ashamed of their behaviour, show them the design and plan of the Temple, its exits and entrances, its shape, how all of it is arranged, the entire design and all its principles. Give them all this in writing so that they can see and take note of its design and the way it is all arranged and carry it out.

Eze 43:12 This is the charter of the Temple: all the surrounding space on the mountain top is an especially holy area. (Such is the charter of the Temple.)'

Eze 43:13 These were the dimensions of the altar, in cubits each of a cubit plus a handsbreadth. The base: one cubit high and one cubit wide; the space by the runnel, all round the edge of the altar, one handsbreadth.

Eze 43:14 From the ground level of the base up to the lower plinth, two cubits high and one cubit wide; from the lesser plinth to the greater plinth, four cubits high and one cubit wide.

Eze 43:15 The altar hearth: four cubits high, with four horns projecting from the hearth,

Eze 43:16 the hearth was four-square: twelve cubits by twelve cubits;

Eze 43:17 and the square plinth: fourteen cubits by fourteen cubits; and the ledge all round: half a cubit; and the base: one cubit all round. The steps were on the east side.

Eze 43:18 He said to me, 'Son of man, the Lord Yahweh says this, "As regards the altar, this is how things must be done when it has been built for the sacrifice of the burnt offering and for the pouring of blood."

Eze 43:19 To the levitical priests -- those of the race of Zadok -- who approach me to serve me -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- you must give a young bull as a sacrifice for sin.

Eze 43:20 You must take some of its blood and put it on the four horns, on the four corners of the plinth and on the surrounding ledge. In this way you will purify it and make expiation on it.

Eze 43:21 Then take the bull of the sacrifice for sin and burn it in that part of the Temple which is cut off from the sanctuary.

Eze 43:22 On the second day, you must offer an unblemished he-goat as the sacrifice for sin, and the altar must be purified again as was done with the bull.

Eze 43:23 When you have finished the purification, you must offer a young, unblemished bull and an unblemished ram from the flock.

Eze 43:24 You must present them before Yahweh, and the priests will sprinkle salt on them and offer them as burnt offerings to Yahweh.

Eze 43:25 As a sacrifice for sin, every day for seven days you must offer a he-goat, a bull and an unblemished ram from the flock.

Eze 43:26 In this way the altar will be expiated and will be purified and inaugurated.

Eze 43:27 At the end of that time, on the eighth day and afterwards, the priest will offer your burnt offerings and your communion sacrifices on the altar, and I shall look favourably on you -- declares the Lord Yahweh."

Eze 44:1 He brought me back to the outer east gate of the sanctuary. It was shut.

Eze 44:2 Yahweh said to me, 'This gate will be kept shut. No one may open it or go through it, since Yahweh, God of Israel, has been through it. And so it must be kept shut.'

Eze 44:3 The prince himself, however, may sit there to take his meal in the presence of Yahweh. He must enter and leave through the porch of the gate.'

Eze 44:4 He led me through the north gate to the front of the Temple. And then I looked; I saw the glory of Yahweh filling the Temple of Yahweh; and I fell to the ground.

Eze 44:5 Yahweh said to me, 'Son of man, pay attention, look carefully and listen closely to everything I explain; these are all the arrangements of the Temple of Yahweh and all its laws. Be careful about who is admitted to the Temple and who is excluded from the sanctuary.'

Eze 44:6 And say to the rebels of the House of Israel, "The Lord Yahweh says this: You have gone beyond all bounds with all your loathsome practices, House of Israel,

Eze 44:7 by admitting aliens, uncircumcised in heart and body, to frequent my sanctuary and profane my Temple, while offering my food, the fat and the blood, and breaking my covenant with all your loathsome practices.

Eze 44:8 Instead of maintaining the service of my holy things, you have deputed someone else to maintain my service in my sanctuary.

Eze 44:9 The Lord Yahweh says this: No alien, uncircumcised in heart and body, may enter my sanctuary, none of the aliens living among the Israelites.

Eze 44:10 "As regards the Levites who abandoned me when Israel strayed far from me by following its idols, they must bear the weight of their own sin.

Eze 44:11 They must be servants in my sanctuary, responsible for guarding the Temple gates and serving the Temple. They will kill the burnt offerings and the sacrifice for the people, and hold themselves at the service of the people.

Eze 44:12 Since they used to be at their service in front of their idols and were an occasion of guilt for the House of Israel, very well, I stretch out my hand against them -- declares the Lord Yahweh -- they will bear the weight of their guilt.

Eze 44:13 They may never approach me again to perform the priestly office in my presence, nor touch my holy things and my most holy things; they must bear the disgrace of their loathsome practices.

Eze 44:14 I shall give them the responsibility of serving the Temple; I shall make them responsible for serving it and for everything to be done in it.

Eze 44:15 "As regards the levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who maintained the service of my sanctuary when the Israelites strayed far from me, they will approach me to serve me; they will stand in my presence to offer me the fat and blood -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 44:16 They will enter my sanctuary and approach my table to serve me; they will maintain my service.

Eze 44:17 Once they enter the gates of the inner court, they must wear linen vestments; they must wear no wool when they serve inside the gates of the inner court and in the Temple.

Eze 44:18 They must wear linen caps on their heads and linen breeches on their loins; they may not wear anything round their waists that makes them sweat.

Eze 44:19 When they go out to the people in the outer court, they must remove the vestments in which they have performed the liturgy and leave them in the rooms of the Holy Place, and put on other clothes, so as not to hallow the people with their vestments.

Eze 44:20 They may neither shave their heads nor let their hair grow long, but must cut their hair carefully.

Eze 44:21 No priest may drink wine on the day he enters the inner court.

Eze 44:22 They may not marry widows or divorced women, but only virgins of the race of Israel; they may, however, marry a widow, if she is the widow of a priest.

Eze 44:23 They must teach my people the difference between what is sacred and what is profane and make them understand the difference between what is clean and what is unclean.

Eze 44:24 They must be judges in law-suits; they must judge in the spirit of my judgements; they must follow my laws and ordinances at all my feasts and keep my Sabbaths holy.

Eze 44:25 They may not go near a dead person, in case they become unclean, except in these permissible cases, that is, for father, mother, daughter, son, brother or unmarried sister.

Eze 44:26 After one of them has been purified, seven days must elapse;

Eze 44:27 then, the day he enters the Holy Place in the inner court to minister in the Holy Place, he must offer his sacrifice for sin -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 44:28 They may have no heritage; I myself shall be their heritage. You may give them no patrimony in Israel; I myself shall be their patrimony.

Eze 44:29 Their food must be the oblation, the sacrifice for sin and the sacrifice of reparation. Everything dedicated by vow in Israel shall be for them.

Eze 44:30 The best of all your first-fruits and of all the dues and of everything you offer, must go to the priests; and the best of your dough you must also give to the priests, so that a blessing may rest on your house.

Eze 44:31 Priests must not eat the flesh of anything that has died a natural death or been savaged, be it bird or animal."

Eze 45:1 "When you draw lots to divide the country by heritage, you must set a sacred portion of the country aside for Yahweh: twenty-five thousand cubits long and twenty thousand wide. The whole of this land must be sacred,

Eze 45:2 and of this an area five hundred by five hundred cubits must be for the sanctuary, with a boundary fifty cubits wide right round.

Eze 45:3 Out of this area you must also measure a section twenty-five thousand by ten thousand cubits, in which will be the sanctuary, the Holy of Holies.

Eze 45:4 This will be the sacred portion of the country, belonging to the priests who officiate in the sanctuary and approach Yahweh to serve him. It will contain room for their houses and room for the sanctuary.

Eze 45:5 A portion twenty-five thousand by ten thousand cubits will be owned by the Levites serving the Temple, with towns for them to live in.

Eze 45:6 You must give the city possession of an area five thousand by twenty-five thousand cubits, near the land belonging to the sanctuary; this must be for the whole House of Israel.

Eze 45:7 "The prince must have a territory either side of the sacred portion and of the property of the city, adjacent to the sacred portion and the property of the city, stretching westwards from the west and eastwards from the east, its size equal to one of the portions between the west and the east frontiers

Eze 45:8 of the country. This will be his property in Israel. Then my princes will no longer oppress my people; they must leave the rest of the country for the House of Israel, for its tribes.

Eze 45:9 "The Lord Yahweh says this: Enough, princes of Israel! Give up your violence and plundering, do what is upright and just, stop crushing my people with taxation -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 45:10 Have fair scales, a fair ephah, a fair bat.

Eze 45:11 Let the ephah and bat be equal, let the bat hold one-tenth of a homer and the ephah one-tenth of a homer. Let the measures be based on the homer.

Eze 45:12 The shekel must be twenty gerah. Twenty shekels, twenty-five shekels and fifteen shekels must make one mina.

Eze 45:13 "This is the offering that you must levy: the sixth of an ephah for every homer of wheat, and the sixth of an ephah for every homer of barley.

Eze 45:14 The dues on oil: one bat of oil out of every ten bat or out of every kor (which is equal to ten bat or one homer, since ten bat equal one homer).

Eze 45:15 You must levy one sheep on every flock of two hundred from the pastures of Israel for the oblation, the burnt offerings and the communion sacrifice. This must form your expiation -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 45:16 Let all the people of the country be subject to this due for the prince of Israel.

Eze 45:17 The prince must make himself responsible for providing the burnt offerings, the oblation and the libations for feasts, New Moons, Sabbaths and all the solemn festivals of the House of Israel. He must provide the sacrifice for sin, the oblation, the burnt offerings and the communion sacrifices to make expiation for the House of Israel.

Eze 45:18 "The Lord Yahweh says this: On the first day of the first month, you must take a young bull without blemish, to purify the sanctuary.

Eze 45:19 The priest must take blood from the sacrifice for sin and put it on the doorposts of the Temple, on the four corners of the altar plinth and on the doorposts of the gates of the inner court.

Eze 45:20 You must do the same on the seventh of the month, on behalf of anyone who has sinned through inadvertence or ignorance. This is how you must make expiation for the Temple.

Eze 45:21 On the fourteenth day of the first month, you must celebrate the feast of the Passover. For seven days everyone must eat unleavened loaves.

Eze 45:22 On that day, the prince must offer a bull as a sacrifice for sin, for himself and all the people of the country.

Eze 45:23 For the seven days of the feast, he must offer Yahweh burnt offerings of seven bulls and seven rams without blemish, daily for a week, and one he-goat daily as a sacrifice for sin,

Eze 45:24 and as an oblation, one ephah for each bull and one ephah for each ram, and a hin of oil for every ephah.

Eze 45:25 "For the feast that falls on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, he must do the same for seven days, offering the sacrifice for sin, the burnt offerings, the oblation and the oil." '

Eze 46:1 'The Lord Yahweh says this: The east gate of the inner court must be kept shut for the six working days. On the Sabbath day, however, it must be opened, as also on the day of the New Moon;

Eze 46:2 and the prince must go in through the porch of the outer gate and take his position by the doorposts of the gate. The priests must then offer his burnt offerings and his communion sacrifice. He must prostrate himself on the threshold of the gate and go out, and the gate must not be shut again until the evening.

Eze 46:3 The people of the country must prostrate themselves in the presence of Yahweh at the entrance to the gate on Sabbaths and days of the New Moon.

Eze 46:4 The burnt offering offered to Yahweh by the prince on the Sabbath day must consist of six unblemished lambs and one unblemished ram,

Eze 46:5 with an oblation of one ephah for the ram, and such oblation as he pleases for the lambs, and a hin of oil for every ephah.

Eze 46:6 On the day of the New Moon it must consist of an unblemished young bull, six unblemished lambs and one unblemished ram,

Eze 46:7 when he must make an oblation of one ephah for the bull and one ephah for the ram, and what he pleases for the lambs, and a hin of oil for every ephah.

Eze 46:8 "When the prince goes in, he must enter by the porch of the gate, and he must leave by the same way.

Eze 46:9 When the people of the country come into the presence of Yahweh at the solemn festivals, those who have come in by the north gate to prostrate themselves must go out by the south gate, and those who have come in by the south gate must go out by the north gate; no one must turn back to leave through the gate by which he entered but must go out on the opposite side.

Eze 46:10 The prince will be with them, coming in like them and going out like them.

Eze 46:11 "On feast days and solemn festivals the oblation must be one ephah for every bull, one ephah for every ram, what he pleases for the lambs, and a hin of oil for every ephah.

Eze 46:12 When the prince offers Yahweh voluntary burnt offerings or a voluntary communion sacrifice, the east gate must be opened for him, and he must offer his burnt offerings and his communion sacrifice as he does on the Sabbath day; when he has gone out, the gate must be shut after him.

Eze 46:13 Every day he must offer an unblemished lamb one year old as a burnt offering to Yahweh; he must offer this every morning.

Eze 46:14 Every morning in addition he must offer an oblation of one-sixth of an ephah and one-third of a hin of oil, for mixing with the flour. This is the oblation to Yahweh, a perpetual decree, fixed for ever.

Eze 46:15 The lamb, the oblation and the oil must be offered morning after morning for ever.

Eze 46:16 "Lord Yahweh says this: If the prince presents part of his hereditary portion to one of his sons, the gift must pass into the ownership of his sons and become their hereditary property.

Eze 46:17 If, however, he presents part of his hereditary portion to one of his slaves, it will belong to the man only until the year of liberation and then must revert to the prince. Only his sons may retain his hereditary portion.

Eze 46:18 The prince may not take any part of the people's hereditary portion, thus robbing them of what is theirs; he must provide the patrimony of his sons out of his own property, so that no member of my people is robbed of what is his!" '

Eze 46:19 He took me through the entrance at the side of the north gate that leads to the rooms of the Holy Place set apart for the priests. And there before us, to the west, was a space at the end.

Eze 46:20 He said to me, 'This is where the priests must boil the slaughtered animals for the sacrifice for sin and the sacrifice of reparation, and where they must bake the oblation, without having to carry them into the outer court and so run the risk of hallowing the people.'

Eze 46:21 He then took me into the outer court and led me to each of its four corners; in each corner of the outer court was a compound;

Eze 46:22 in other words, the four corners of the court contained four small compounds, forty cubits by thirty, all four being the same size.

Eze 46:23 All four were enclosed by a wall, with hearths all round the bottom of the wall.

Eze 46:24 He said, 'These are the kitchens where the Temple servants must boil the sacrifices offered by the people.'

Eze 47:1 He brought me back to the entrance of the Temple, where a stream flowed eastwards from under the Temple threshold, for the Temple faced east. The water flowed from under the right side of the Temple, south of the altar.

Eze 47:2 He took me out by the north gate and led me right round outside as far as the outer east gate where the water flowed out on the right-hand side.

Eze 47:3 The man went off to the east holding his measuring line and measured off a thousand cubits; he then made me wade across the stream; the water reached my ankles.

Eze 47:4 He measured off another thousand and made me wade across the stream again; the water reached my knees. He measured off another thousand and made me wade across the stream again; the water reached my waist.

Eze 47:5 He measured off another thousand; it was now a river which I could not cross; the stream had swollen and was now deep water, a river impossible to cross.

Eze 47:6 He then said, 'Do you see, son of man?' He then took me and brought me back to the bank on the river.

Eze 47:7 Now, when I reached it, I saw an enormous number of trees on each bank of the river.

Eze 47:8 He said, 'This water flows east down to the Arabah and to the sea; and flowing into the sea it makes its waters wholesome.

Eze 47:9 Wherever the river flows, all living creatures teeming in it will live. Fish will be very plentiful, for wherever the water goes it brings health, and life teems wherever the river flows.

Eze 47:10 There will be fishermen on its banks. Fishing nets will be spread from En-Gedi to En-Eglaim. The species of fish will be the same as the fish of the Great Sea.

Eze 47:11 The marshes and lagoons, however, will not become wholesome, but will remain salt.

Eze 47:12 Along the river, on either bank, will grow every kind of fruit tree with leaves that never wither and fruit that never fails; they will bear new fruit every month, because this water comes from the sanctuary. And their fruit will be good to eat and the leaves medicinal.'

Eze 47:13 'The Lord Yahweh says this, "This will be the territory which you must distribute among the twelve tribes of Israel, with two portions for Joseph.

Eze 47:14 You will each have a fair share of it, since I swore to your fathers that I would give it to them, and this country now falls to you as your heritage.

Eze 47:15 These will be the frontiers of the country. On the north, from the Great Sea, the road from Hethlon to the Pass of Hamath, Zedad,

Eze 47:16 Berothah, Sibram lying between the territories of Damascus and Hamath, to Hazer-ha-Tikon on the borders of Hauran;

Eze 47:17 the frontier will extend from the sea to Hazer-Enon, with the territory of Damascus and the territory of Hamath to the north; that will be the northern frontier.

Eze 47:18 On the east, the Jordan will serve as frontier between Hauran and Damascus, between Gilead and Israel, down to the Eastern Sea as far as Tamar; that will be the eastern frontier.

Eze 47:19 On the south, from Tamar southward to the Waters of Meribah in Kadesh, to the Wadi and the Great Sea; that will be the southern frontier.

Eze 47:20 And to the west, the Great Sea will serve as frontier up to the point opposite the Pass of Hamath; that will be the western frontier.

Eze 47:21 You must distribute this country among yourselves, among the tribes of Israel.

Eze 47:22 You must distribute it as a heritage for yourselves and the aliens settled among you who have fathered children among you, since you must treat them as citizens of Israel. They must draw lots for their heritage with you, among the tribes of Israel.

Eze 47:23 You will give the alien his heritage in the tribe where he has settled -- declares the Lord Yahweh." '

Eze 48:1 ' "This is the list of the tribes. One portion in the far north by way of Hethlon to the Pass of Hamath, to Hazer-Enon, with the territory of Damascus to the north, and marching with Hamath, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Dan.

Eze 48:2 One portion bordering Dan, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Asher.

Eze 48:3 One portion bordering Asher, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Naphtali.

Eze 48:4 One portion bordering Naphtali, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Manasseh.

Eze 48:5 One portion bordering Manasseh, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Ephraim.

Eze 48:6 One portion bordering Ephraim, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Reuben.

Eze 48:7 One portion bordering Reuben, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Judah.

Eze 48:8 One portion bordering Judah, from the eastern limit to the western limit, is the portion which you must set aside, twenty-five thousand cubits wide, and as long as each of the other portions from the eastern limit to the western limit. The sanctuary will be in the centre of it.

Eze 48:9 "The portion which you must set aside for Yahweh must be twenty-five thousand cubits long and ten thousand cubits wide.

Eze 48:10 This sacred portion must belong to the priests, being, on the north side, twenty-five thousand cubits; on the west side ten thousand cubits wide, on the east side ten thousand cubits wide and on the south side twenty-five thousand cubits long; the sanctuary of Yahweh will be in the centre of it.

Eze 48:11 This will be for the consecrated priests, those of the sons of Zadok who maintained my liturgy and did not go astray with the straying Israelites, as the Levites went astray.

Eze 48:12 And so their portion must be taken out of the especially holy portion of the land, near the territory of the Levites.

Eze 48:13 The territory of the Levites, like the territory of the priests, must be twenty-five thousand cubits long and ten thousand wide -- the whole length being twenty-five thousand and the width ten thousand.

Eze 48:14 It will be illegal for them to sell or exchange any part of it, and the domain can never be alienated, since it is consecrated to Yahweh.

Eze 48:15 As regards the remainder, an area of five thousand cubits by twenty-five thousand, this must be for the common use of the city, for houses and pastures. In the middle will be the city.

Eze 48:16 These will be its dimensions: on the north side, four thousand five hundred cubits; on the south side, four thousand five hundred cubits; on the east side, four thousand five hundred cubits; on the west side, four thousand five hundred cubits.

Eze 48:17 The pasture land of the city must extend two hundred and fifty cubits to the north, two hundred and fifty to the south, two hundred and fifty to the east, two hundred and fifty to the west.

Eze 48:18 One strip, contiguous to the sacred portion, must be left over, consisting of ten thousand cubits to eastward and ten thousand to westward, marching with the sacred portion; this will bring in a revenue for feeding the municipal workmen.

Eze 48:19 And the municipal workmen, drawn from all the tribes of Israel, will farm it.

Eze 48:20 The portion must have a total area of twenty-five thousand cubits by twenty-five thousand. You must allocate a square area from the sacred portion to constitute the city.

Eze 48:21 What is left over will be for the prince, on either side of the sacred portion and of the property of the city, marching with the twenty-five thousand cubits to eastward to the eastern frontier, and marching with the twenty-five thousand cubits to westward to the western frontier -- running parallel with the other portions and belonging to the prince. In the centre will be the sacred portion and the sanctuary of the Temple.

Eze 48:22 Thus, apart from the property of the Levites and the property of the city which lie in the middle of the prince's portion, everything between the borders of Judah and the borders of Ben-jamin must belong to the prince.

Eze 48:23 "As regards the rest of the tribes: One portion from the eastern limit to the western limit: Benjamin.

Eze 48:24 One portion bordering Benjamin, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Simeon.

Eze 48:25 One portion bordering Simeon, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Issachar.

Eze 48:26 One portion bordering Issachar, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Zebulun.

Eze 48:27 One portion bordering Zebulun, from the eastern limit to the western limit: Gad.

Eze 48:28 On the southern border of Gad, on the south side, the border will run from Tamar to the Waters of Meribah in Kadesh, to the Wadi and the Great Sea.

Eze 48:29 This is how you must distribute the country to the tribes of Israel as their heritage, and these must be their portions -- declares the Lord Yahweh.

Eze 48:30 "Here are the exits from the city. On the north side, four thousand five hundred cubits are to be measured off.

Eze 48:31 The gates of the city are to be named after the tribes of Israel. Three gates to the north: one the gate of Reuben; one the gate of Judah; one the gate of Levi.

Eze 48:32 On the east side, there will be four thousand five hundred cubits and three gates: one the gate of Joseph; one the gate of Benjamin; one the gate of Dan.

Eze 48:33 On the south side, four thousand five hundred cubits are to be measured off, and there are to be three gates: one the gate of Simeon; one the gate of Issachar; one the gate of Zebulun.

Eze 48:34 On the west side, there will be four thousand five hundred cubits and three gates: one the gate of Gad; one the gate of Asher; one the gate of Naphtali.

Eze 48:35 Total perimeter: eighteen thousand cubits. "The name of the city in future must be: Yahweh-is-there."

Dan 1:1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon marched on Jerusalem and besieged it.

Dan 1:2 The Lord let Jehoiakim king of Judah fall into his power, as well as some of the vessels belonging to the Temple of God. These he took away to Shinar, putting the vessels into the treasury of his own gods.

Dan 1:3 From the Israelites, the king ordered Ashpenaz, his chief eunuch, to bring a certain number of boys of royal or noble descent;

Dan 1:4 they had to be without any physical defect, of good appearance, versed in every branch of wisdom, well-informed, discerning, suitable for service at the royal court. Ashpenaz was to teach them to speak and write the language of the Chaldaeans.

Dan 1:5 The king assigned them a daily allowance of food and wine from the royal table. They were to receive an education lasting for three years, after which they would enter the royal service.

Dan 1:6 Among them were the Judaeans Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah.

Dan 1:7 The chief eunuch gave them other names, calling Daniel Belteshazzar, Hananiah Shadrach, Mishael Meshach, and Azariah Abed-Nego.

Dan 1:8 Daniel, who was determined not to incur pollution by food and wine from the royal table, begged the chief eunuch to spare him this defilement.

Dan 1:9 God allowed Daniel to receive faithful love and sympathy from the chief eunuch.

Dan 1:10 But the eunuch warned Daniel, 'I am afraid of my lord the king: he has assigned you food and drink, and if he sees you looking thinner in the face than the other boys of your age, my head will be in danger with the king because of you.'

Dan 1:11 To the guard assigned to Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah by the chief eunuch, Daniel then said,

Dan 1:12 'Please allow your servants a ten days' trial, during which we are given only vegetables to eat and water to drink.

Dan 1:13 You can then compare our looks with those of the boys who eat the king's food; go by what you see, and treat your servants accordingly.'

Dan 1:14 The man agreed to do what they asked and put them on ten days' trial.

Dan 1:15 When the ten days were over, they looked better and fatter than any of the boys who had eaten their allowance from the royal table;

Dan 1:16 so the guard withdrew their allowance of food and the wine they were to drink, and gave them vegetables.

Dan 1:17 To these four boys God gave knowledge and skill in every aspect of literature and learning; Daniel also had the gift of interpreting every kind of vision and dream.

Dan 1:18 When the time stipulated by the king for the boys to be presented to him came round, the chief eunuch presented them to Nebuchadnezzar.

Dan 1:19 The king conversed with them, and among all the boys found none to equal Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah. So they became members of the king's court,

Dan 1:20 and on whatever point of wisdom or understanding he might question them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and soothsayers in his entire kingdom. Daniel remained there until the first year of King Cyrus.

Dan 2:1 In the second year of his reign, Nebuchadnezzar had a series of dreams; he was perturbed by this and sleep deserted him.

Dan 2:2 The king then had magicians and soothsayers, sorcerers and Chaldaeans summoned to tell him what his dreams meant. They arrived and stood in the king's presence.

Dan 2:3 The king said to them, 'I have had a dream, and my mind is troubled by a wish to understand it.'

Dan 2:4 The Chaldaeans answered the king: 'May your majesty live for ever! Tell your servants the dream, and we shall reveal its meaning for you.'

Dan 2:5 The king answered the Chaldaeans, 'This is my firm resolve: if you cannot tell me what I dreamt and what it means, I shall have you torn limb from limb and your houses turned into dunghills.

Dan 2:6 If, on the other hand, you can tell me what I dreamt and what it means, I shall give you presents, rewards and high honour. So tell me what I dreamt and what it means.'

Dan 2:7 A second time they said, 'Let the king tell his dream to his servants, and we shall reveal its meaning.'

Dan 2:8 But the king retorted, 'It is plain to me that you are trying to gain time, knowing my proclaimed resolve.

Dan 2:9 If you do not interpret my dream for me, there will be but one sentence passed on you all; you have agreed among yourselves to make me misleading and tortuous speeches while the time goes by. So tell me what my dream was, and then I shall know whether you can interpret it.'

Dan 2:10 The Chaldaeans answered the king, 'Nobody in the world could explain the king's problem; what is more, no other king, governor or chief would think of putting such a question to any magician, soothsayer or Chaldaean.

Dan 2:11 The question the king asks is difficult, and no one can find the king an answer to it, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with mortals.'

Dan 2:12 At this the king flew into a rage and ordered all the Babylonian sages to be put to death.

Dan 2:13 On publication of the decree to have the sages killed, search was made for Daniel and his companions to have them put to death.

Dan 2:14 Then, with shrewd and cautious words, Daniel approached Arioch, the king's chief executioner, when he was on his way to kill the Babylonian sages.

Dan 2:15 To this royal official Arioch he said, 'Why has the king issued such a harsh decree?' Arioch explained matters to Daniel,

Dan 2:16 and Daniel went off to ask the king for a stay of execution to give him the opportunity of revealing his interpretation to the king.

Dan 2:17 Daniel then went home and told his friends Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah what had happened,

Dan 2:18 urging them to beg the God of heaven to show his mercy and explain the mysterious secret, so that Daniel and his friends might be spared the fate of the other Babylonian sages.

Dan 2:19 The mystery was then revealed to Daniel in a night-vision, and Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

Dan 2:20 This is what Daniel said: May the name of God be blessed for ever and ever, since wisdom and power are his alone.

Dan 2:21 It is he who controls the procession of times and seasons, who makes and unmakes kings, who confers wisdom on the wise, and knowledge on those with discernment,

Dan 2:22 who uncovers depths and mysteries, who knows what lies in darkness; and light dwells with him.

Dan 2:23 To you, God of my fathers, I give thanks and praise for having given me wisdom and strength: to me you have explained what we asked you, to us you have explained the king's problem.

Dan 2:24 So Daniel went to see Arioch, whom the king had made responsible for putting the Babylonian sages to death. Going in, he said, 'Do not put the Babylonian sages to death. Take me into the king's presence and I will reveal the meaning to the king.'

Dan 2:25 Arioch lost no time in bringing Daniel to the king. 'Among the exiles from Judah,' he said, 'I have discovered a man who can reveal the meaning to the king.'

Dan 2:26 The king said to Daniel (who had been given the name Belteshazzar), 'Can you tell me what I dreamt and what it means?'

Dan 2:27 Facing the king, Daniel replied, 'None of the sages, soothsayers, magicians or exorcists has been able to tell the king the truth of the mystery which the king has propounded;

Dan 2:28 but there is a God in heaven who reveals mysteries and who has shown King Nebuchadnezzar what is to take place in the final days. These, then, are the dream and the visions that passed through your head as you lay in bed:

Dan 2:29 'Your Majesty, on your bed your thoughts turned to what would happen in the future, and the Revealer of Mysteries disclosed to you what is to take place.

Dan 2:30 This mystery has been revealed to me, not that I am wiser than anyone else, but for this sole purpose: that the king should learn what it means, and that you should understand your inmost thoughts.

Dan 2:31 'You have had a vision, Your Majesty; this is what you saw: a statue, a great statue of extreme brightness, stood before you, terrible to see.

Dan 2:32 The head of this statue was of fine gold, its chest and arms were of silver, its belly and thighs of bronze,

Dan 2:33 its legs of iron, its feet part iron, part clay.

Dan 2:34 While you were gazing, a stone broke away, untouched by any hand, and struck the statue, struck its feet of iron and clay and shattered them.

Dan 2:35 Then, iron and clay, bronze, silver and gold, all broke into pieces as fine as chaff on the threshing-floor in summer. The wind blew them away, leaving not a trace behind. And the stone that had struck the statue grew into a great mountain, filling the whole world.

Dan 2:36 This was the dream; we shall now explain to the king what it means.

Dan 2:37 'You, Your Majesty, king of kings, to whom the God of heaven has given sovereignty, power, strength and honour-

Dan 2:38 human beings, wild animals, birds of the air, wherever they live, he has entrusted to your rule, making you king of them all -- you are the golden head.

Dan 2:39 And, after you, another kingdom will rise, not as great as yours, and then a third, of bronze, which will rule the whole world.

Dan 2:40 There will be a fourth kingdom, hard as iron, as iron that pulverises and crushes all. Like iron that breaks everything to pieces, it will crush and break all the earlier kingdoms.

Dan 2:41 The feet you saw, part earthenware, part iron, are a kingdom which will be split in two, but which will retain something of the strength of iron, just as you saw the iron and the clay of the earthenware mixed together.

Dan 2:42 The feet were part iron, part potter's clay: the kingdom will be partly strong and partly brittle.

Dan 2:43 And just as you saw the iron and the clay of the earthenware mixed together, so the two will be mixed together in human seed; but they will not hold together any more than iron will blend with clay.

Dan 2:44 In the days of those kings, the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, and this kingdom will not pass into the hands of another race: it will shatter and absorb all the previous kingdoms and itself last for ever-

Dan 2:45 just as you saw a stone, untouched by hand, break away from the mountain and reduce iron, bronze, earthenware, silver and gold to powder. The Great God has shown the king what is to take place. The dream is true, the interpretation exact.'

Dan 2:46 At this, King Nebuchadnezzar fell prostrate before Daniel; he gave orders for Daniel to be offered an oblation and a fragrant sacrifice.

Dan 2:47 The king said to Daniel, 'Your god is indeed the God of gods, the Master of kings, and the Revealer of Mysteries, since you have been able to reveal this mystery.'

Dan 2:48 The king then conferred high rank on Daniel and gave him many handsome presents. He also made him governor of the whole province of Babylon and head of all the sages of Babylon.

Dan 2:49 At Daniel's request, the king entrusted the affairs of the province of Babylon to Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego; Daniel himself remained in attendance on the king.

Dan 3:1 King Nebuchadnezzar had a golden statue made, sixty cubits high and six cubits wide, which he set up on the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

Dan 3:2 King Nebuchadnezzar then summoned the satraps, magistrates, governors, counsellors, treasurers, judges, lawyers, and all the provincial authorities to assemble and attend the dedication of the statue set up by King Nebuchadnezzar.

Dan 3:3 Satraps, magistrates, governors, counsellors, treasurers, judges, lawyers and all the provincial authorities then assembled for the dedication of the statue set up by King Nebuchadnezzar and stood in front of the statue which King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

Dan 3:4 A herald then loudly proclaimed: 'Peoples, nations, languages! Thus are you commanded:

Dan 3:5 the moment you hear the sound of horn, pipe, lyre, zither, harp, bagpipe and every other kind of instrument, you will prostrate yourselves and worship the golden statue set up by King Nebuchadnezzar.

Dan 3:6 Anyone who does not prostrate himself and worship will immediately be thrown into the burning fiery furnace.'

Dan 3:7 And so, the instant all the peoples heard the sound of horn, pipe, lyre, zither, harp, bagpipe and all the other instruments, all the peoples, nations and languages prostrated themselves and worshipped the statue set up by King Nebuchadnezzar.

Dan 3:8 Some Chaldaeans then came forward and maliciously accused the Jews.

Dan 3:9 They said to King Nebuchadnezzar, 'May Your Majesty live for ever!

Dan 3:10 You have issued a decree, Your Majesty, to the effect that everyone on hearing the sound of horn, pipe, lyre, zither, harp, bagpipe and every other kind of instrument is to prostrate himself and worship the golden statue;

Dan 3:11 and that anyone who does not prostrate himself and worship is to be thrown into the burning fiery furnace.

Dan 3:12 Now, there are certain Jews to whom you have entrusted the affairs of the province of Babylon: Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego; these men have ignored your command, Your Majesty; they do not serve your gods, and refuse to worship the golden statue you have set up.'

Dan 3:13 Shaking with fury, Nebuchadnezzar sent for Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego. The men were immediately brought before the king.

Dan 3:14 Nebuchadnezzar addressed them, 'Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego, is it true that you do not serve my gods, and that you refuse to worship the golden statue I have set up?

Dan 3:15 When you hear the sound of horn, pipe, lyre, zither, harp, bagpipe and every other kind of instrument, are you prepared to prostrate yourselves and worship the statue I have made? If you refuse to worship it, you will be thrown forthwith into the burning fiery furnace; then which of the gods could save you from my power?'

Dan 3:16 Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego replied to King Nebuchadnezzar, 'Your question needs no answer from us:

Dan 3:17 if our God, the one we serve, is able to save us from the burning fiery furnace and from your power, Your Majesty, he will save us;

Dan 3:18 and even if he does not, then you must know, Your Majesty, that we will not serve your god or worship the statue you have set up.'

Dan 3:19 This infuriated King Nebuchadnezzar; his expression was changed now as he looked at Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego. He gave orders for the furnace to be made seven times hotter than usual

Dan 3:20 and commanded certain stalwarts from his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego and throw them into the burning fiery furnace.

Dan 3:21 They were then bound in their cloaks, trousers, headgear and other garments, and thrown into the burning fiery furnace.

Dan 3:22 The king's command was so urgent and the heat of the furnace was so fierce, that the men carrying Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego were burnt to death by the flames from the fire;

Dan 3:23 the three men, Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego fell, bound, into the burning fiery furnace.

Dan 3:24 And they walked in the heart of the flames, praising God and blessing the Lord.

Dan 3:25 Azariah stood in the heart of the fire, praying aloud thus:

Dan 3:26 May you be blessed and revered, Lord, God of our ancestors, may your name be held glorious for ever.

Dan 3:27 For you are upright in all that you have done for us, all your deeds are true, all your ways right, all your judgements true.

Dan 3:28 True is the sentence you have given in all that you have brought down on us and on Jerusalem, the holy city of our ancestors, for you have treated us rightly and truly, as our sins deserve.

Dan 3:29 Yes, we have sinned and committed a crime by deserting you, yes, we have greatly sinned; we have not listened to your commandments,

Dan 3:30 we have not observed them, we have not done what you commanded us to do for our own good.

Dan 3:31 Yes, all that you have brought down on us, all that you have done to us, you have been fully justified in doing.

Dan 3:32 You have handed us over to our enemies, to a lawless people, the worst of the godless, to an unjust king, the worst in the whole world;

Dan 3:33 today we have no right to open our mouths, shame and dishonour are the lot of those who serve and worship you.

Dan 3:34 Do not abandon us for ever, for the sake of your name; do not repudiate your covenant,

Dan 3:35 do not withdraw your favour from us, for the sake of Abraham, your friend, of Isaac, your servant, and of Israel, your holy one,

Dan 3:36 to whom you promised to make their descendants as many as the stars of heaven and as the grains of sand on the seashore.

Dan 3:37 Lord, we have become the least of all nations, we are put to shame today throughout the world, because of our sins.

Dan 3:38 We now have no leader, no prophet, no prince, no burnt offering, no sacrifice, no oblation, no incense, no place where we can make offerings to you

Dan 3:39 and win your favour. But may the contrite soul, the humbled spirit, be as acceptable to you

Dan 3:40 as burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, as thousands of fat lambs: such let our sacrifice be to you today, and may it please you that we follow you whole-heartedly, since those who trust in you will not be shamed.

Dan 3:41 And now we put our whole heart into following you, into fearing you and seeking your face once more.

Dan 3:42 Do not abandon us to shame but treat us in accordance with your gentleness, in accordance with the greatness of your mercy.

Dan 3:43 Rescue us in accordance with your wonderful deeds and win fresh glory for your name, O Lord.

Dan 3:44 Confusion seize all who ill-treat your servants: may they be covered with shame, deprived of all their power, and may their strength be broken.

Dan 3:45 Let them learn that you alone are God and Lord, glorious over the whole world.

Dan 3:46 All this time, the king's servants, who had thrown them into the furnace, had been stoking it with crude oil, pitch, tow and brushwood

Dan 3:47 until the flames rose forty-nine cubits above the furnace

Dan 3:48 and, leaping out, burnt those Chaldaeans to death who were standing round it.

Dan 3:49 But the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace beside Azariah and his companions; he drove the flames of the fire outwards from the furnace

Dan 3:50 and, in the heart of the furnace, wafted a coolness to them as of the breeze and dew, so that the fire did not touch them at all and caused them no pain or distress.

Dan 3:51 Then all three in unison began to sing, glorifying and blessing God in the furnace, with the words:

Dan 3:52 May you be blessed, Lord, God of our ancestors, be praised and extolled for ever. Blessed be your glorious and holy name, praised and extolled for ever.

Dan 3:53 May you be blessed in the Temple of your sacred glory, exalted and glorified above all for ever:

Dan 3:54 blessed on the throne of your kingdom, exalted above all, glorified for ever:

Dan 3:55 blessed are you who fathom the abyss, enthroned on the winged creatures, praised and exalted above all for ever:

Dan 3:56 blessed in the expanse of the heavens, exalted and glorified for ever.

Dan 3:57 Bless the Lord, all the Lord's creation: praise and glorify him for ever!

Dan 3:58 Bless the Lord, angels of the Lord, praise and glorify him for ever!

Dan 3:59 Bless the Lord, heavens, praise and glorify him for ever!

Dan 3:60 Bless the Lord, all the waters above the heavens, praise and glorify him for ever!

Dan 3:61 Bless the Lord, powers of the Lord, praise and glorify him for ever!

Dan 3:62 Bless the Lord, sun and moon, praise and glorify him for ever!

Dan 3:63 Bless the Lord, stars of heaven, praise and glorify him for ever!

Dan 3:64 Bless the Lord, all rain and dew, praise and glorify him for ever!

Dan 3:65 Bless the Lord, every wind, praise and glorify him for ever!

Dan 3:66 Bless the Lord, fire and heat, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:67 Bless the Lord, cold and warmth, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:68 Bless the Lord, dew and snow-storm, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:69 Bless the Lord, frost and cold, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:70 Bless the Lord, ice and snow, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:71 Bless the Lord, nights and days, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:72 Bless the Lord, light and darkness, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:73 Bless the Lord, lightning and cloud, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:74 Let the earth bless the Lord: praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:75 Bless the Lord, mountains and hills, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:76 Bless the Lord, every plant that grows, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:77 Bless the Lord, springs of water, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:78 Bless the Lord, seas and rivers, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:79 Bless the Lord, whales, and everything that moves in the waters, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:80 Bless the Lord, every kind of bird, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:81 Bless the Lord, all animals wild and tame, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:82 Bless the Lord, all the human race: praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:83 Bless the Lord, O Israel, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:84 Bless the Lord, priests, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:85 Bless the Lord, his servants, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:86 Bless the Lord, spirits and souls of the upright, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:87 Bless the Lord, faithful, humble-hearted people, praise and glorify him for ever!
Dan 3:88 Hananiah, Azariah and Mishael, bless the Lord, praise and glorify him for ever!-For he has rescued us from the Underworld, he has saved us from the hand of Death, he has snatched us from the burning fiery furnace, he has drawn us from the heart of the flame!
Dan 3:89 Give thanks to the Lord, for he is good, for his love is everlasting.
Dan 3:90 Bless the Lord, the God of gods, all who fear him, give praise and thanks to him, for his love is everlasting!
Dan 3:91 King Nebuchadnezzar sprang to his feet in amazement. He said to his advisers, 'Did we not have these three men thrown bound into the fire?' They answered the king, 'Certainly, Your Majesty'.
Dan 3:92 'But', he went on, 'I can see four men walking free in the heart of the fire and quite unharmed! And the fourth looks like a child of the gods!'
Dan 3:93 Nebuchadnezzar approached the mouth of the burning fiery furnace and said, 'Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego, servants of God Most High, come out, come here!' And from the heart of the fire out came Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego.
Dan 3:94 The satraps, magistrates, governors, and advisers of the king crowded round the three men to examine them: the fire had had no effect on their bodies: not a hair of their heads had been singed, their cloaks were not scorched, no smell of burning hung about them. Nebuchadnezzar said,
Dan 3:95 'Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego: he has sent his angel to rescue his servants who, putting their trust in him, defied the order of the king, and preferred to forfeit their bodies rather than serve or worship any god but their God.
Dan 3:96 I therefore decree as follows, "Peoples, nations, and languages! Let any of you speak disrespectfully of the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego, and I shall have him torn limb from limb and his house turned into a dunghill; for there is no other god who can save like this."
Dan 3:97 The king then showered favours on Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego in the province of Babylon.
Dan 3:98 'King Nebuchadnezzar, to all peoples, nations and languages dwelling throughout the world: may you prosper more and more!
Dan 3:99 'It is my pleasure to make known the signs and wonders with which the Most High God has favoured me.
Dan 3:100 How great his signs, how mighty his wonders! His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, his empire endures age after age!'
Dan 4:1 'I, Nebuchadnezzar, was living comfortably in my house, prosperously in my palace.
Dan 4:2 I had a dream; it appalled me. Dread assailed me as I lay in bed; the visions that passed through my head tormented me.
Dan 4:3 So I decreed that all the sages of Babylon be summoned to explain to me what the dream meant.
Dan 4:4 Magicians, soothsayers, Chaldaeans and exorcists came, and I told them what I had dreamt, but they could not interpret it for me.
Dan 4:5 Daniel, renamed Belteshazzar after my own god, and in whom the spirit of the holy gods resides, then came into my presence. I told him my dream:

Dan 4:6 ' "Belteshazzar, chief of magicians," I said, "I know that the spirit of the holy gods resides in you and that no mystery puts you at a loss. This is the dream I have had; tell me what it means.

Dan 4:7 ' "The visions that passed through my head as I lay in bed were these: I saw a tree in the middle of the world; it was very tall.

Dan 4:8 The tree grew taller and stronger, until its top reached the sky and it could be seen from the very ends of the earth.

Dan 4:9 Its foliage was beautiful, its fruit abundant, in it was food for all. For the wild animals it provided shade, the birds of heaven nested in its branches, all living creatures found their food on it.

Dan 4:10 ' "I watched the visions passing through my head as I lay in bed: Next, a Watchful One, a holy one, came down from heaven.

Dan 4:11 At the top of his voice he shouted: Cut the tree down, lop off its branches, strip off its leaves, throw away its fruit; let the animals flee from its shelter and the birds from its branches.

Dan 4:12 But leave the stump with its roots in the ground, bound with hoops of iron and bronze, in the grass of the countryside. Let it be drenched by the dew of heaven and have its lot with the animals, eating grass!

Dan 4:13 Let it cease to have a human heart, and be given the heart of a beast, and seven times shall pass over him!

Dan 4:14 Such is the sentence proclaimed by the Watchers, the verdict announced by the holy ones- so that every living thing may learn that the Most High rules over human sovereignty; he confers it on whom he pleases, and raises the lowest of humankind.

Dan 4:15 ' "This was the dream I had-I, Nebuchadnezzar the king. Now it is for you, Belteshazzar, to pronounce on its meaning, since not one of the sages in my kingdom has been able to interpret it for me; you, however, can do so, since the spirit of the holy gods resides in you."

Dan 4:16 Daniel, known as Belteshazzar, was confused for a time and upset. The king said, 'Belteshazzar, do not be upset at the dream and its meaning.' Belteshazzar answered, 'My lord, may the dream apply to those who hate you, and its meaning to your foes!

Dan 4:17 The tree you saw, so large and strong and tall that it reached the sky and could be seen throughout the world,

Dan 4:18 the tree with beautiful foliage and abundant fruit, with food for all in it, providing shade for the wild animals, with the birds of heaven nesting in its branches:

Dan 4:19 that tree is yourself, Your Majesty, for you have grown great and strong; your stature is now so great that it reaches the sky, and your empire extends to the ends of the earth.

Dan 4:20 'And the Watchful One seen by the king, the holy one coming down from heaven and saying, "Cut the tree down and destroy it, but leave stump and roots in the ground, bound with hoops of iron and bronze in the grass of the countryside; let it be drenched by the dew and have its lot with the wild animals until seven times have passed over it":

Dan 4:21 the meaning of this, Your Majesty, the verdict of the Most High passed on my lord the king, is this:

Dan 4:22 You will be driven from human society and will make your home with the wild animals, you will feed on grass, as oxen do, you will be drenched by the dew of heaven; seven times will pass over you until you have learnt that the Most High rules over human sovereignty and confers it on whom he pleases.

Dan 4:23 'And the order, "Leave the stump and roots of the tree", means that your kingdom will be kept for you until you come to understand that Heaven rules all.

Dan 4:24 May it please the king to accept my advice: by upright actions break with your sins, break with your crimes by showing mercy to the poor, and so live long and peacefully.'

Dan 4:25 This all happened to King Nebuchadnezzar.

Dan 4:26 At the end of twelve months, while strolling on the roof of the royal palace in Babylon,

Dan 4:27 the king was saying, 'Great Babylon! Was it not built by me as a royal residence, by the force of my might and for the majesty of my glory?'

Dan 4:28 The words were not out of his mouth when a voice came down from heaven: 'Of you, King Nebuchadnezzar, it is decreed: the empire has been taken from you,

Dan 4:29 you will be driven from human society and will make your home with the wild animals; you will feed on grass, as oxen do, and seven times will pass over you until you have learnt that the Most High rules over human sovereignty and gives it to whom he pleases.'

Dan 4:30 The words were immediately fulfilled: Nebuchadnezzar was driven from human society and ate grass as oxen do; he was drenched by the dew of heaven; his hair grew like an eagle's feathers, and his nails became like a bird's talons.

Dan 4:31 'When the time was over, I, Nebuchad- nezzar, raised my eyes to heaven: my reason returned. And I blessed the Most High, praising and glorifying him who lives for ever, for his empire is an everlasting empire, his kingship endures, age after age.

Dan 4:32 All who dwell on earth count for nothing; as he thinks fit, he disposes the army of heaven and those who dwell on earth. No one can arrest his hand or ask him, "What have you done?"

Dan 4:33 'At that moment my reason returned and, for the honour of my royal state, my glory and splendour returned too. My counsellors and noblemen acclaimed me; I was restored to my throne, and to my past greatness even more was added.'

Dan 4:34 And now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise, extol and glorify the King of heaven, all of whose deeds are true, all of whose ways are right, and who can humble those who walk in pride.'

Dan 5:1 King Belshazzar gave a great banquet for his noblemen, a thousand of them, and, in the presence of this thousand, he drank his wine.

Dan 5:2 Having tasted the wine, Belshazzar gave orders for the gold and silver vessels to be brought which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the sanctuary in Jerusalem, so that the king, his noblemen, his wives and the women who sang for him could drink out of them.

Dan 5:3 The gold and silver vessels taken from the sanctuary of the Temple of God in Jerusalem were brought in, and the king, his noblemen, his wives and the women who sang for him drank out of them.

Dan 5:4 They drank their wine and praised their idols of gold and silver, of bronze and iron, of wood and stone.

Dan 5:5 Suddenly, the fingers of a human hand appeared and began to write on the plaster of the palace wall, directly behind the lamp-stand; and the king could see the hand as it wrote.

Dan 5:6 The king turned pale with alarm: his hip-joints went slack and his knees began to knock.

Dan 5:7 He shouted for his soothsayers, Chaldaeans, and exorcists. And the king said to the Babylonian sages, 'Anyone who can read this writing and tell me what it means shall be dressed in purple, and have a chain of gold put round his neck, and be one of the three men who govern the kingdom.'

Dan 5:8 The king's sages all crowded forward, but they could neither read the writing nor explain to the king what it meant.

Dan 5:9 Greatly alarmed, King Belshazzar turned even paler, and his noblemen were equally disturbed.

Dan 5:10 Then the queen, attracted by the noise made by the king and his noblemen, came into the banqueting hall. 'May Your Majesty live for ever!' said the queen. 'Do not be alarmed, do not look so pale.'

Dan 5:11 In your kingdom there is a man in whom lives the spirit of the holy gods. In your father's days he was known for a perception, intelligence and wisdom comparable to that of the gods. King Nebuchadnezzar, your father, made him head of the magicians, soothsayers, Chaldaeans and exorcists.

Dan 5:12 Since this man Daniel, whom the king had renamed Belteshazzar, is filled with such a marvellous spirit and such knowledge and intelligence in interpreting dreams, solving enigmas and unravelling difficult problems, send for him; he will be able to tell you what this means.'

Dan 5:13 Daniel was brought into the king's presence; the king said to Daniel, 'Are you the Daniel who was one of the Judaean exiles brought by my father the king from Judah?

Dan 5:14 I am told that the spirit of the gods lives in you, and that you are known for your perception, intelligence and marvellous wisdom.

Dan 5:15 The sages and soothsayers have already been brought to me to read this writing and tell me what it means, but they have been unable to reveal its meaning.

Dan 5:16 I am told that you are able to give interpretations and to unravel difficult problems, so if you can read the writing and tell me what it means, you shall be dressed in purple, and have a chain of gold put round your neck, and be one of the three men who govern the kingdom.'

Dan 5:17 Then Daniel spoke up in the presence of the king. 'Keep your gifts for yourself,' he said, 'and give your rewards to others! I can certainly read the writing to the king and tell him what it means.'

Dan 5:18 Your Majesty, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father sovereignty, greatness, majesty and glory.

Dan 5:19 He made him so great that all peoples, nations and languages shook with dread before him: he killed whom he pleased, spared whom he pleased, promoted whom he pleased, degraded whom he pleased.

Dan 5:20 But because his heart grew swollen with pride, and his spirit stiff with arrogance, he was deposed from his sovereign throne and stripped of his glory.

Dan 5:21 He was driven from human society, his heart was more like an animal's than a man's; he lived with the wild donkeys; he fed on grass like oxen; his body was drenched by the dew of heaven, until he had learnt that the Most High rules over human sovereignty and appoints whom he pleases to rule it.

Dan 5:22 But you, Belshazzar, who are his son, you have not humbled your heart, in spite of knowing all this.

Dan 5:23 You have defied the Lord of heaven, you have had the vessels from his Temple brought to you, and you, your noblemen, your wives and the women singing for you have drunk your wine out of them. You have praised gods of gold and silver, of bronze and iron, of wood and stone, which can neither see, hear nor understand; but you have given no glory to the God in whose hands are your breath itself and all your fortunes.

Dan 5:24 That is why he has sent the hand which has written these words.

Dan 5:25 The writing reads: mene, mene, teqel and parsin.

Dan 5:26 The meaning of the words is this: mene: God has measured your sovereignty and put an end to it;

Dan 5:27 teqel: you have been weighed in the balance and found wanting;

Dan 5:28 parsin: your kingdom has been divided and given to the Medes and the Persians.'

Dan 5:29 At Belshazzar's order Daniel was dressed in purple, a chain of gold was put round his neck and he was proclaimed as one of the three men who governed the kingdom.

Dan 5:30 That same night, the Chaldaean king Belshazzar was murdered,

Dan 6:1 and Darius the Mede received the kingdom, at the age of sixty-two.

Dan 6:2 It pleased Darius to appoint a hundred and twenty satraps over his kingdom for the various parts,

Dan 6:3 and over them three presidents -- of whom Daniel was one -- to whom the satraps were to be responsible. This was to safeguard the king's interests.

Dan 6:4 This Daniel, by virtue of the marvellous spirit residing in him, was so evidently superior to the other presidents and satraps that the king considered appointing him to rule the whole kingdom.

Dan 6:5 The presidents and satraps, in consequence, started hunting for some affair of state by which they could discredit Daniel; but they could find nothing to his discredit, and no case of negligence; he was so punctilious that they could not find a single instance of maladministration or neglect.

Dan 6:6 These men then thought, 'We shall never find a way of discrediting Daniel unless we try something to do with the law of his God.'

Dan 6:7 The presidents and satraps then went in a body to the king. 'King Darius,' they said, 'live for ever!

Dan 6:8 We are all agreed, presidents of the realm, magistrates, satraps, councillors and governors, that the king should issue an edict enforcing the following regulation: Whoever within the next thirty days prays to anyone, divine or human, other than to yourself, Your Majesty, is to be thrown into the lions' den.

Dan 6:9 Your Majesty, ratify the edict at once by signing this document, making it unalterable, as befits the law of the Medes and the Persians, which cannot be revoked.'

Dan 6:10 King Darius accordingly signed the document embodying the edict.

Dan 6:11 When Daniel heard that the document had been signed, he retired to his house. The windows of his upstairs room faced towards Jerusalem. Three times each day, he went down on his knees, praying and giving praise to God as he had always done.

Dan 6:12 These men came along in a body and found Daniel praying and pleading with God.

Dan 6:13 They then went to the king and reminded him of the royal edict, 'Have you not signed an edict forbidding anyone for the next thirty days to pray to anyone, divine or human, other than to yourself, Your Majesty, on pain of being thrown into the lions' den?' 'The decision stands', the king replied, 'as befits the law of the Medes and the Persians, which cannot be revoked.'

Dan 6:14 They then said to the king, 'Your Majesty, this man Daniel, one of the exiles from Judah, disregards both you and the edict which you have signed: he is at his prayers three times each day.'

Dan 6:15 When the king heard these words he was deeply distressed and determined to save Daniel; he racked his brains until sunset to find some way to save him.

Dan 6:16 But the men kept pressing the king, 'Your Majesty, remember that in conformity with the law of the Medes and the Persians, no edict or decree can be altered when once issued by the king.'

Dan 6:17 The king then ordered Daniel to be brought and thrown into the lion pit. The king said to Daniel, 'Your God, whom you have served so faithfully, will have to save you.'

Dan 6:18 A stone was then brought and laid over the mouth of the pit; and the king sealed it with his own signet and with that of his noblemen, so that there could be no going back on the original decision about Daniel.

Dan 6:19 The king returned to his palace, spent the night in fasting and refused to receive any of his concubines. Sleep eluded him,

Dan 6:20 and at the first sign of dawn he got up and hurried to the lion pit.

Dan 6:21 As he approached the pit he called in anguished tones to Daniel, 'Daniel, servant of the living God! Has your God, whom you serve so faithfully, been able to save you from the lions?'

Dan 6:22 Daniel answered the king, 'May Your Majesty live for ever!'

Dan 6:23 My God sent his angel who sealed the lions' jaws; they did me no harm, since in his sight I am blameless; neither have I ever done you any wrong, Your Majesty.'

Dan 6:24 The king was overjoyed and ordered Daniel to be released from the pit. Daniel was released from the pit and found to be quite unhurt, because he had trusted in his God.

Dan 6:25 The king then sent for the men who had accused Daniel and had them thrown into the lion pit, and their wives and children too; and before they reached the floor of the pit the lions had seized them and crushed their bones to pieces.

Dan 6:26 King Darius then wrote to all nations, peoples and languages dwelling throughout the world: 'May you prosper more and more!'

Dan 6:27 This is my decree: Throughout every dominion of my realm, let all tremble with fear before the God of Daniel: He is the living God, he endures for ever, his kingdom will never be destroyed and his empire never come to an end.

Dan 6:28 He saves, sets free, and works signs and wonders in the heavens and on earth; he has saved Daniel from the power of the lions.'

Dan 6:29 This Daniel flourished in the reign of Darius and the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

Dan 7:1 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream and visions that passed through his head as he lay in bed. He wrote the dream down, and this is how the narrative began:

Dan 7:2 Daniel said, 'I have been seeing visions in the night. I saw that the four winds of heaven were stirring up the Great Sea;

Dan 7:3 four great beasts emerged from the sea, each different from the others.

Dan 7:4 The first was like a lion with eagle's wings and, as I looked, its wings were torn off, and it was lifted off the ground and set standing on its feet like a human; and it was given a human heart.

Dan 7:5 And there before me was a second beast, like a bear, rearing up on one side, with three ribs in its mouth, between its teeth. "Up!" came the command. "Eat quantities of flesh!"

Dan 7:6 After this I looked; and there before me was another beast, like a leopard, and with four bird's wings on its flanks; it had four heads and was granted authority.

Dan 7:7 Next, in the visions of the night, I saw another vision: there before me was a fourth beast, fearful, terrifying, very strong; it had great iron teeth, and it ate its victims, crushed them, and trampled their remains underfoot. It was different from the previous beasts and had ten horns.

Dan 7:8 'While I was looking at these horns, I saw another horn sprouting among them, a little one; three of the original horns were pulled out by the roots to make way for it; and in this horn I saw eyes like human eyes, and a mouth full of boasting.

Dan 7:9 While I was watching, thrones were set in place and one most venerable took his seat. His robe was white as snow, the hair of his head as pure as wool. His throne was a blaze of flames, its wheels were a burning fire.

Dan 7:10 A stream of fire poured out, issuing from his presence. A thousand thousand waited on him, ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him. The court was in session and the books lay open.

Dan 7:11 'I went on watching: then, because of the noise made by the boastings of the horn, as I watched, the beast was put to death, and its body destroyed and committed to the flames.

Dan 7:12 The other beasts were deprived of their empire, but received a lease of life for a season and a time.

Dan 7:13 I was gazing into the visions of the night, when I saw, coming on the clouds of heaven, as it were a son of man. He came to the One most venerable and was led into his presence.

Dan 7:14 On him was conferred rule, honour and kingship, and all peoples, nations and languages became his servants. His rule is an everlasting rule which will never pass away, and his kingship will never come to an end.

Dan 7:15 'I, Daniel, was deeply disturbed and the visions that passed through my head alarmed me.

Dan 7:16 So I approached one of those who were standing by and asked him about all this. And in reply he revealed to me what these things meant.

Dan 7:17 "These four great beasts are four kings who will rise up from the earth.

Dan 7:18 Those who receive royal power are the holy ones of the Most High, and kingship will be theirs for ever, for ever and ever."

Dan 7:19 Then I asked about the fourth beast, different from all the rest, very terrifying, with iron teeth and bronze claws; it ate its victims, crushed them, and trampled their remains underfoot;

Dan 7:20 and about the ten horns on its head -- and why the other horn sprouted and the three original horns fell, and why this horn had eyes and a mouth full of boasting, and why it looked more impressive than its fellows.

Dan 7:21 This was the horn I had watched making war on the holy ones and proving the stronger,

Dan 7:22 until the coming of the One most venerable who gave judgement in favour of the holy ones of the Most High, when the time came for the holy ones to assume kingship.

Dan 7:23 This is what he said: "The fourth beast is to be a fourth kingdom on earth, different from all other kingdoms. It will devour the whole world, trample it underfoot and crush it.

Dan 7:24 As for the ten horns: from this kingdom will rise ten kings, and another after them; this one will be different from the previous ones and will bring down three kings;

Dan 7:25 he will insult the Most High, and torment the holy ones of the Most High. He will plan to alter the seasons and the Law, and the Saints will be handed over to him for a time, two times, and half a time.

Dan 7:26 But the court will sit, and he will be stripped of his royal authority which will be finally destroyed and reduced to nothing.

Dan 7:27 And kingship and rule and the splendours of all the kingdoms under heaven will be given to the people of the holy ones of the Most High, whose royal power is an eternal power, whom every empire will serve and obey."

Dan 7:28 'Here the narrative ends. 'I, Daniel, was greatly disturbed in mind, and I grew pale; but I kept these things to myself.'

Dan 8:1 In the third year of King Belshazzar a vision appeared to me, Daniel, after the one that had originally appeared to me.

Dan 8:2 I gazed at the vision, and as I gazed I found myself in Susa, the citadel in the province of Elam; gazing at the vision, I found myself at the Ulai Gate.

Dan 8:3 I raised my eyes to look, and I saw a ram standing in front of the gate. It had two horns; both were tall, but one taller than the other, and the one that rose the higher was the second.

Dan 8:4 I saw the ram butting westwards, northwards and southwards. No animal could stand up to it, nothing could escape its power. It did as it pleased and became strong.

Dan 8:5 This is what I observed: a he-goat from the west, encroaching over the entire surface of the world though never touching the ground, and between its eyes the goat had one majestic horn.

Dan 8:6 It advanced on the two-horned ram, which I had seen standing in front of the gate, and charged at it in the full force of its fury.

Dan 8:7 I saw it reach the ram; it was enraged with the ram and struck it, breaking both its horns, so that the ram was not strong enough to hold its ground; it threw it to the ground and trampled it underfoot; no one was there to rescue the ram.

Dan 8:8 The he-goat then grew more powerful than ever; but at the height of its strength the great horn snapped, and in its place sprouted four majestic horns, pointing to the four winds of heaven.

Dan 8:9 From one of these, the small one, sprang a horn which grew to great size towards south and east and towards the Land of Splendour.

Dan 8:10 It grew right up to the armies of heaven and flung armies and stars to the ground, and trampled them underfoot.

Dan 8:11 It even challenged the power of the Prince of the army; it abolished the perpetual sacrifice and overthrew the foundation of his sanctuary,

Dan 8:12 and the army too; over the sacrifice it installed iniquity and flung truth to the ground; the horn was active and successful.

Dan 8:13 I heard a holy one speaking, and another holy one say to the speaker, 'How long is this vision to be -- of perpetual sacrifice, of horrifying iniquity, of sanctuary and army trampled underfoot?'

Dan 8:14 The first replied, 'Until two thousand three hundred evenings and mornings have gone by: then the sanctuary will have its rights restored.'

Dan 8:15 As I, Daniel, gazed at the vision and tried to understand it, I saw someone standing in front of me who looked like a man.

Dan 8:16 I heard a human voice cry over the Ulai, 'Gabriel, tell him the meaning of the vision!'

Dan 8:17 He approached the place where I was standing; as he approached, I was seized with terror and fell prostrate on the ground. 'Son of man,' he said to me, 'understand this: the vision shows the time of the End.'

Dan 8:18 He was still speaking, when I fainted, face downwards on the ground. He touched me, however, and raised me to my feet.

Dan 8:19 'Come,' he said, 'I shall tell you what is going to happen when the Retribution is over, about the final times.'

Dan 8:20 As for the ram which you saw, its two horns are the kings of Media and of Persia.

Dan 8:21 The hairy he-goat is the king of Greece, the large horn between its eyes is the first king.

Dan 8:22 The horn which snapped and the four horns which sprouted in its place are four kingdoms rising from his nation but not having his strength.

Dan 8:23 'And at the end of their reign, when the measure of their sins is full, a king will arise, a proud-faced, ingenious-minded man.

Dan 8:24 His power will grow greater and greater, though not through any power of his own; he will plot incredible schemes, he will succeed in whatever he undertakes, he will destroy powerful men and the holy ones, God's people.

Dan 8:25 Such will be his resourcefulness of mind that all his treacherous activities will succeed. He will grow arrogant of heart and destroy many people by taking them unawares. He will challenge the power of the Prince of princes but, without any human intervention, he will be broken.

Dan 8:26 The vision of the evenings and the mornings which has been revealed is true, but you must keep the vision secret, for there are still many days to go.'

Dan 8:27 At this I, Daniel, lost consciousness; I was ill for several days. Then I got up to discharge my duties in the king's service, keeping the vision a secret and still not understanding what it meant.

Dan 9:1 It was the first year of Darius son of Artaxerxes, a Mede by race who assumed the throne of Chaldaea.

Dan 9:2 In the first year of his reign I, Daniel, was studying the scriptures, counting over the number of years -- as revealed by Yahweh to the prophet Jeremiah -- that were to pass before the desolation of Jerusalem would come to an end, namely seventy years.

Dan 9:3 I turned my face to the Lord God begging for time to pray and to plead, with fasting, sackcloth and ashes.

Dan 9:4 I pleaded with Yahweh my God and made this confession: 'O my Lord, God great and to be feared, you keep the covenant and show faithful love towards those who love you and who observe your commandments:

Dan 9:5 we have sinned, we have done wrong, we have acted wickedly, we have betrayed your commandments and rulings and turned away from them.

Dan 9:6 We have not listened to your servants the prophets, who spoke in your name to our kings, our chief men, our ancestors and all people of the country.

Dan 9:7 Saving justice, Lord, is yours; we have only the look of shame we wear today, we, the people of Judah, the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the whole of Israel, near and far away, in every country to which you have dispersed us because of the treachery we have committed against you.

Dan 9:8 To us, our kings, our chief men and our ancestors, belongs the look of shame, O Yahweh, since we have sinned against you.

Dan 9:9 And it is for the Lord our God to have mercy and to pardon, since we have betrayed him,

Dan 9:10 and have not listened to the voice of Yahweh our God nor followed the laws he has given us through his servants the prophets.

Dan 9:11 The whole of Israel has flouted your Law and turned away, unwilling to listen to your voice; and the curse and imprecation written in the Law of Moses, the servant of God, have come pouring down on us, because we have sinned against him.

Dan 9:12 He has carried out the threats which he made against us and the chief men who governed us -- that he would bring so great a disaster down on us that the fate of Jerusalem would find no parallel under all heaven.

Dan 9:13 And now, as written in the Law of Moses, this whole calamity has befallen us; even so, we have not appeased Yahweh our God by renouncing our crimes and learning your truth.

Dan 9:14 Yahweh has watched for the right moment to bring disaster on us, since Yahweh our God is just in all his dealings with us, and we have not listened to his voice.

Dan 9:15 And now, Lord our God, who by your mighty hand brought us out of Egypt -- the renown you won then endures to this day -- we have sinned, we have done wrong.

Dan 9:16 Lord, by all your acts of saving justice, turn away your anger and your fury from Jerusalem, your city, your holy mountain, for as a result of our sins and the crimes of our ancestors, Jerusalem and your people are objects of scorn to all who surround us.

Dan 9:17 And now, our God, listen to the prayer and pleading of your servant. For your own sake, Lord, let your face smile again on your desolate sanctuary.

Dan 9:18 Listen, my God, listen to us; open your eyes and look at our plight and at the city that bears your name. Relying not on our upright deeds but on your great mercy, we pour out our plea to you.

Dan 9:19 Listen, Lord! Forgive, Lord! Hear, Lord, and act! For your own sake, my God, do not delay -- since your city and your people alike bear your name.'

Dan 9:20 I was still speaking, still at prayer, confessing my own sins and the sins of my people Israel, and placing my plea before Yahweh my God for the holy mountain of my God,

Dan 9:21 still speaking, still at prayer, when Gabriel, the being I had originally seen in vision, swooped on me in full flight at the hour of the evening sacrifice.

Dan 9:22 He came, he spoke, he said to me, 'Now, Daniel; I have come down to teach you how to understand.

Dan 9:23 When your pleading began, a word was uttered, and I have come to tell you. You are a man specially chosen. Grasp the meaning of the word, understand the vision:

Dan 9:24 'Seventy weeks are decreed for your people and your holy city, for putting an end to transgression, for placing the seal on sin, for expiating crime, for introducing everlasting uprightness for setting the seal on vision and on prophecy, for anointing the holy of holies.

Dan 9:25 Know this, then, and understand: From the time there went out this message: "Return and rebuild Jerusalem" to the coming of an Anointed Prince, seven weeks and sixty-two weeks, with squares and ramparts restored and rebuilt, but in a time of trouble.

Dan 9:26 And after the sixty-two weeks an Anointed One put to death without his . . . city and sanctuary ruined by a prince who is to come. The end of that prince will be catastrophe and, until the end, there will be war and all the devastation decreed.

Dan 9:27 He will strike a firm alliance with many people for the space of a week; and for the space of one half-week he will put a stop to sacrifice and oblation, and on the wing of the Temple will be the appalling abomination until the end, until the doom assigned to the devastator.'

Dan 10:1 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia, a revelation was made to Daniel known as Belteshazzar, a true revelation of a great conflict. He grasped the meaning of the revelation; what it meant was disclosed to him in a vision.

Dan 10:2 At that time, I, Daniel, was doing a three-week penance;

Dan 10:3 I ate no agreeable food, touched no meat or wine, and did not anoint myself, until these three weeks were over.

Dan 10:4 On the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I stood on the bank of that great river, the Tigris,
Dan 10:5 I raised my eyes to look about me, and this is what I saw: A man dressed in linen, with a belt of pure gold round his waist:
Dan 10:6 his body was like beryl, his face looked like lightning, his eyes were like fiery torches, his arms and his face had the gleam of burnished bronze, the sound of his voice was like the roar of a multitude.
Dan 10:7 I, Daniel, alone saw the apparition; the men who were with me did not see the vision, but so great a trembling overtook them that they fled to hide.
Dan 10:8 I was left alone, gazing on this great vision; I was powerless, my appearance was changed and contorted; my strength deserted me.
Dan 10:9 I heard a voice speaking, and at the sound of the voice I fell fainting, face downwards on the ground.
Dan 10:10 I felt a hand touching me, setting my knees and my hands trembling.
Dan 10:11 He said, 'Daniel, you are a man specially chosen; understand the words that I am about to say; stand up; I have been sent to you now.' He said this, and I stood up trembling.
Dan 10:12 He then said, 'Daniel, do not be afraid: from that first day when, the better to understand, you resolved to mortify yourself before God, your words have been heard; and your words are the reason why I have come.
Dan 10:13 The Prince of the kingdom of Persia has been resisting me for twenty-one days, but Michael, one of the Chief Princes, came to my assistance. I have left him confronting the kings of Persia
Dan 10:14 and have come to tell you what will happen to your people in the final days. For here is a new vision about those days.'
Dan 10:15 When he had said these things to me, I prostrated myself on the ground, without saying a word;
Dan 10:16 then someone looking like a man touched my lips. I opened my mouth to speak, and I said to the person standing in front of me, 'My lord, anguish overcomes me at this vision, and my strength deserts me.
Dan 10:17 How can your servant speak to my lord now that I have no strength left and my breath fails me?'
Dan 10:18 Once again, the person like a man touched me; he gave me strength.
Dan 10:19 'Do not be afraid,' he said, 'you are a man specially chosen; peace be with you; play the man, be strong!' And as he spoke to me I felt strong again and said, 'Let my lord speak, you have given me strength.'
Dan 10:20 He then said, 'Do you know why I have come to you?
Dan 10:21 It is to tell you what is written in the Book of Truth. I must go back to fight the Prince of Persia; when I have overcome him, the Prince of Javan will come next. In all this, there is no one to lend me support except Michael your Prince,
Dan 11:1 on whom I rely to give me support and to reinforce me.
Dan 11:2 And now I shall tell you the truth about these things. 'Three more kings are going to rise in Persia; a fourth will come and be richer than all the others, and when, thanks to his wealth, he has grown powerful, he will make war on all the kingdoms of Greece.
Dan 11:3 A mighty king will rise and govern a vast empire and do whatever he pleases.
Dan 11:4 But once he has come to power, his empire will be broken up and parcelled out to the four winds of heaven, though not to his descendants: it will not be ruled as he ruled it, for his sovereignty will be uprooted and will pass to others than his own descendants.
Dan 11:5 'The king of the south will grow powerful, but one of his princes will grow more powerful still, with an empire greater than his own.
Dan 11:6 Some years later, these will conclude a treaty and, to ratify the agreement, the daughter of the king of the south will go to the king of the north. Her arm will not, however, retain its strength, nor his posterity endure: she will be handed over, she, her escorts and her child, and he who has had authority over her. In due time
Dan 11:7 a sprig from her roots will rise in his place, will march on the defences, force the stronghold of the king of the north, and succeed in overcoming them.
Dan 11:8 He will even carry off all their gods, their statues, their precious gold and silver vessels as booty to Egypt. For some years he will leave the king of the north in peace,
Dan 11:9 but the latter will invade the kingdom of the king of the south, then retire to his own country.
Dan 11:10 His sons will next be on the march, mustering a host of powerful forces; and he will advance, deploy, break through and march on the southern stronghold once again.
Dan 11:11 The king of the south will fly into a rage and set out to give battle to the king of the north, who will have an immense army on his side, but this army will be defeated by him.
Dan 11:12 The army will be annihilated; he will be triumphant; he will overthrow tens of thousands; yet he will have no enduring strength.
Dan 11:13 The king of the north will come back, having recruited an even larger army than before, and finally, after some years, he will advance a second time with a great army and plentiful supplies.
Dan 11:14 At that time, many will take up arms against the king of the south, and the more violent of your own people will rebel in the hope of realising the vision; but they will fail.

Dan 11:15 The king of the north will then come and throw up siege-works to capture a strongly fortified city. The forces of the south will not stand their ground; the pick of the people will not be strong enough to resist.

Dan 11:16 The invader will do as he pleases, no one will be able to resist him: he will take his stand in the Land of Splendour, destruction in his hands.

Dan 11:17 He will set about conquering his entire kingdom, but will then make a treaty with him and, to overthrow the kingdom, give him a woman's hand; but this will not last or be to his advantage.

Dan 11:18 He will next turn to the coasts and islands and conquer many of them, but a magistrate will put a stop to his outrages in such a way that he will be unable to repay outrage for outrage.

Dan 11:19 'He will then turn on the strongholds of his own country, but will stumble, fall, and never be seen again.

Dan 11:20 In his place there will rise a man who will send an extortioner to despoil the royal splendour; in a few days he will be shattered, though neither publicly nor in battle.

Dan 11:21 'In his place will rise a wretch: royal honours will not be given to him, but rather he will insinuate himself into them at his pleasure and will gain possession of the kingdom by intrigue.

Dan 11:22 Armies will be utterly routed and crushed by him, the Prince of the covenant too.

Dan 11:23 Through his alliances he will act treacherously and, despite the smallness of his following, grow ever stronger.

Dan 11:24 At his pleasure, he will invade rich provinces, acting as his fathers or his fathers' fathers never acted, distributing among them plunder, spoil and wealth, plotting his stratagems against the fortresses -- for a time.

Dan 11:25 'He will summon up his might and courage against the king of the south with a great army. The king of the south will march to war with a huge and powerful army but will not succeed, since he will be outwitted by trickery.

Dan 11:26 Those who shared his food will ruin him; his army will be swept away, many will fall in the slaughter.

Dan 11:27 'The two kings, seated at one table, hearts bent on evil, will tell their lies; but they will not have their way, for the appointed time is still to come.

Dan 11:28 Then the wretch will return greatly enriched to his own country, his heart set against the holy covenant; he will take action and then return to his own country.

Dan 11:29 In due time, he will make his way southwards again, but this time the outcome will not be as before.

Dan 11:30 The ships of the Kittim will oppose him, and he will be worsted. He will retire and take furious action against the holy covenant and, as before, will favour those who forsake that holy covenant.

Dan 11:31 'Forces of his will come and profane the Citadel-Sanctuary; they will abolish the perpetual sacrifice and install the appalling abomination there.

Dan 11:32 Those who break the covenant he will seduce by his blandishments, but the people who know their God will stand firm and take action.

Dan 11:33 Those of the people who are wise leaders will instruct many; for some days, however, they will stumble from sword and flame, captivity and pillage.

Dan 11:34 And thus stumbling, little help will they receive, though many will be scheming in their support.

Dan 11:35 Of the wise leaders some will stumble, and so a number of them will be purged, purified and made clean -- until the time of the End, for the appointed time is still to come.

Dan 11:36 'The king will do as he pleases, growing more and more arrogant, considering himself greater than all the gods; he will utter incredible blasphemies against the God of gods, and he will thrive until the wrath reaches bursting point; for what has been decreed will certainly be fulfilled.

Dan 11:37 Heedless of his fathers' gods, heedless of the god whom women love, heedless of any god whatever, he will consider himself greatest of all.

Dan 11:38 Instead of them, he will honour the god of fortresses, will honour a god unknown to his ancestors with gold and silver, precious stones and valuable presents.

Dan 11:39 He will use the people of an alien god to defend the fortresses; he will confer great honours on those whom he acknowledges, by giving them wide authority and by parcelling the country out for rent.

Dan 11:40 'When the time comes for the End, the king of the south will try conclusions with him; but the king of the north will come storming down on him with chariots, cavalry, and a large fleet. He will invade countries, overrun them and drive on.

Dan 11:41 He will invade the Land of Splendour, and many will fall; but Edom, Moab, and what remains of the sons of Ammon will escape him.

Dan 11:42 'He will reach out to attack countries: Egypt will not escape him.

Dan 11:43 The gold and silver treasures and all the valuables of Egypt will lie in his power. Libyans and Cushites will be at his feet:

Dan 11:44 but reports coming from the East and the north will worry him, and in great fury he will set out to bring ruin and complete destruction to many.

Dan 11:45 He will pitch the tents of his royal headquarters between the sea and the mountains of the Holy Splendour. Yet he will come to his end -- there will be no help for him.'

Dan 12:1 'At that time Michael will arise -- the great Prince, defender of your people. That will be a time of great distress, unparalleled since nations first came into existence. When that time comes, your own people will be spared -- all those whose names are found written in the Book.'

Dan 12:2 'Of those who are sleeping in the Land of Dust, many will awaken, some to everlasting life, some to shame and everlasting disgrace.'

Dan 12:3 Those who are wise will shine as brightly as the expanse of the heavens, and those who have instructed many in uprightness, as bright as stars for all eternity.'

Dan 12:4 'But you, Daniel, must keep these words secret and keep the book sealed until the time of the End. Many will roam about, this way and that, and wickedness will continue to increase.'

Dan 12:5 I, Daniel, then looked and saw two other people standing, one on the near bank of the river, the other on the far.

Dan 12:6 One of them said to the man dressed in linen who was standing further up the stream, 'How long until these wonders take place?'

Dan 12:7 I heard the man speak who was dressed in linen, standing further up the stream: he raised his right hand and his left to heaven and swore by him who lives for ever, 'A time and two times, and half a time; and all these things will come true, once the crushing of the holy people's power is over.'

Dan 12:8 I listened but did not understand. I then said, 'My lord, what is to be the outcome?'

Dan 12:9 'Go, Daniel,' he said. 'These words are to remain secret and sealed until the time of the End.'

Dan 12:10 Many will be cleansed, made white and purged; the wicked will persist in doing wrong; the wicked will never understand; those who are wise will understand.'

Dan 12:11 From the moment that the perpetual sacrifice is abolished and the appalling abomination set up: a thousand two hundred and ninety days.

Dan 12:12 Blessed is he who perseveres and attains a thousand three hundred and thirty-five days.

Dan 12:13 But you, go away and rest; and you will rise for your reward at the end of time.'

Dan 13:1 In Babylon there lived a man named Joakim.

Dan 13:2 He was married to a woman called Susanna daughter of Hilkiah, a woman of great beauty; and she was God-fearing, for Dan 13:3 her parents were worthy people and had instructed their daughter in the Law of Moses.

Dan 13:4 Joakim was a very rich man and had a garden by his house; he used to be visited by a considerable number of the Jews, since he was held in greater respect than any other man.

Dan 13:5 Two elderly men had been selected from the people, that year, to act as judges. Of such the Lord had said, 'Wickedness has come to Babylon through the elders and judges posing as guides to the people.'

Dan 13:6 These men were often at Joakim's house, and all who were engaged in litigation used to come to them.

Dan 13:7 At midday, when the people had gone away, Susanna would take a walk in her husband's garden.

Dan 13:8 The two elders, who used to watch her every day as she came in to take her walk, gradually began to desire her.

Dan 13:9 They threw reason aside, making no effort to turn their eyes to Heaven, and forgetting the demands of virtue.

Dan 13:10 Both were inflamed by passion for her, but they hid their desire from each other,

Dan 13:11 for they were ashamed to admit the longing to sleep with her,

Dan 13:12 but they made sure of watching her every day.

Dan 13:13 One day, having parted with the words, 'Let us go home, then, it is time for the midday meal,' they went off in different directions,

Dan 13:14 only to retrace their steps and find themselves face to face again. Obliged then to explain, they admitted their desire and agreed to look for an opportunity of surprising her alone.

Dan 13:15 So they waited for a favourable moment; and one day Susanna came as usual, accompanied only by two young maidservants. The day was hot and she wanted to bathe in the garden.

Dan 13:16 There was no one about except the two elders, spying on her from their hiding place.

Dan 13:17 She said to the servants, 'Bring me some oil and balsam and shut the garden door while I bathe.'

Dan 13:18 They did as they were told, shutting the garden door and going back to the house by a side entrance to fetch what she had asked for; they knew nothing about the elders, for they had concealed themselves.

Dan 13:19 Hardly were the maids gone than the two elders sprang up and rushed upon her.

Dan 13:20 'Look,' they said, 'the garden door is shut, no one can see us. We want to have you, so give in and let us!'

Dan 13:21 Refuse, and we shall both give evidence that a young man was with you and that this was why you sent your maids away.'

Dan 13:22 Susanna sighed. 'I am trapped,' she said, 'whatever I do. If I agree, it means death for me; if I resist, I cannot get away from you.

Dan 13:23 But I prefer to fall innocent into your power than to sin in the eyes of the Lord.'

Dan 13:24 She then cried out as loud as she could. The two elders began shouting too, putting the blame on her,

Dan 13:25 and one of them ran to open the garden door.

Dan 13:26 The household, hearing the shouting in the garden, rushed out by the side entrance to see what had happened to her.

Dan 13:27 Once the elders had told their story, the servants were thoroughly taken aback, since nothing of this sort had ever been said of Susanna.

Dan 13:28 Next day a meeting was held at the house of her husband Joakim. The two elders arrived, full of their wicked plea against Susanna, to have her put to death.

Dan 13:29 They addressed the company, 'Summon Susanna daughter of Hilkiah and wife of Joakim.' She was sent for,

Dan 13:30 and came accompanied by her parents, her children and all her relations.

Dan 13:31 Susanna was very graceful and beautiful to look at;

Dan 13:32 she was veiled, so the wretches made her unveil in order to feast their eyes on her beauty.

Dan 13:33 All her own people were weeping, and so were all the others who saw her.

Dan 13:34 The two elders stood up, with all the people round them, and laid their hands on her head.

Dan 13:35 Tearfully she turned her eyes to Heaven, her heart confident in God.

Dan 13:36 The elders then spoke, 'While we were walking by ourselves in the garden, this woman arrived with two maids. She shut the garden door and then dismissed the servants.

Dan 13:37 A young man, who had been hiding, went over to her and they lay together.

Dan 13:38 From the end of the garden where we were, we saw this crime taking place and hurried towards them.

Dan 13:39 Though we saw them together, we were unable to catch the man: he was too strong for us; he opened the door and took to his heels.

Dan 13:40 We did, however, catch this woman and ask her who the young man was.

Dan 13:41 She refused to tell us. That is our evidence.' Since they were elders of the people and judges, the assembly accepted their word: Susanna was condemned to death.

Dan 13:42 She cried out as loud as she could, 'Eternal God, you know all secrets and everything before it happens;

Dan 13:43 you know that they have given false evidence against me. And now I must die, innocent as I am of everything their malice has invented against me!'

Dan 13:44 The Lord heard her cry

Dan 13:45 and, as she was being led away to die, he roused the holy spirit residing in a young boy called Daniel

Dan 13:46 who began to shout, 'I am innocent of this woman's death!'

Dan 13:47 At this all the people turned to him and asked, 'What do you mean by that?'

Dan 13:48 Standing in the middle of the crowd, he replied, 'Are you so stupid, children of Israel, as to condemn a daughter of Israel unheard, and without troubling to find out the truth?

Dan 13:49 Go back to the scene of the trial: these men have given false evidence against her.'

Dan 13:50 All the people hurried back, and the elders said to Daniel, 'Come and sit with us and tell us what you mean, since God has given you the gifts that elders have.'

Dan 13:51 Daniel said, 'Keep the men well apart from each other, for I want to question them.'

Dan 13:52 When the men had been separated, Daniel had one of them brought to him. 'You have grown old in wickedness,' he said, 'and now the sins of your earlier days have overtaken you,

Dan 13:53 you with your unjust judgements, your condemnation of the innocent, your acquittal of the guilty, although the Lord has said, "You must not put the innocent and upright to death."

Dan 13:54 Now then, since you saw her so clearly, tell me what sort of tree you saw them lying under.' He replied, 'Under an acacia tree.'

Dan 13:55 Daniel said, 'Indeed! Your lie recoils on your own head: the angel of God has already received from him your sentence and will cut you in half.'

Dan 13:56 He dismissed the man, ordered the other to be brought and said to him, 'Son of Canaan, not of Judah, beauty has seduced you, lust has led your heart astray!

Dan 13:57 This is how you have been behaving with the daughters of Israel, and they have been too frightened to resist; but here is a daughter of Judah who could not stomach your wickedness!'

Dan 13:58 Now then, tell me what sort of tree you surprised them under.' He replied, 'Under an aspen tree.'

Dan 13:59 Daniel said, 'Indeed! Your lie recoils on your own head: the angel of God is waiting with a sword to rend you in half, and destroy the pair of you.'

Dan 13:60 Then the whole assembly shouted, blessing God, the Saviour of those who trust in him.

Dan 13:61 And they turned on the two elders whom Daniel had convicted of false evidence out of their own mouths.

Dan 13:62 As the Law of Moses prescribes, they were given the same punishment as they had schemed to inflict on their neighbour. They were put to death. And thus, that day, an innocent life was saved.

Dan 13:63 Hilkiah and his wife gave thanks to God for their daughter Susanna, and so did her husband Joakim and all his relations, because she had been acquitted of anything dishonourable.

Dan 13:64 From that day onwards, Daniel's reputation stood high with the people.

Dan 14:1 When King Astyages joined his ancestors, Cyrus of Persia succeeded him.

Dan 14:2 Daniel was very close to the king, who respected him more than any of his other friends.

Dan 14:3 Now, in Babylon there was an idol called Bel, to which twelve bushels of the finest flour, forty sheep and six measures of wine were offered every day.

Dan 14:4 The king venerated this idol and used to go and worship it every day. Daniel, however, worshipped his own God.

Dan 14:5 'Why do you not worship Bel?' the king asked Daniel. 'I do not worship idols made by human hand,' Daniel replied, 'I worship the living God who made heaven and earth and who is lord over all living creatures.'

Dan 14:6 'Do you not believe, then,' said the king, 'that Bel is a living god? Can you not see how much he eats and drinks each day?'

Dan 14:7 Daniel laughed. 'Your Majesty,' he said, 'do not be taken in; he is clay inside, and bronze outside, and has never eaten or drunk anything.'

Dan 14:8 This made the king angry; he summoned his priests, 'Tell me who eats all this food,' he said, 'or die. Prove to me that Bel really eats it, and I will have Daniel put to death for blaspheming him.'

Dan 14:9 Daniel said to the king, 'Let it be as you say.'

Dan 14:10 There were seventy of these priests, to say nothing of their wives and children. The king went to the temple of Bel, taking Daniel with him.

Dan 14:11 The priests of Bel said to him, 'We shall now go out, and you, Your Majesty, will lay out the meal and mix the wine and set it out. Then, lock the door and seal it with your personal seal. If, when you return in the morning, you do not find that everything has been eaten by Bel, let us be put to death; otherwise let Daniel, that slanderer!'

Dan 14:12 They were thinking -- hence their confidence -- of a secret entrance which they had made under the table, and by which they came in regularly and took the offerings away.

Dan 14:13 When the priests had gone and the king had set out the food for Bel,

Dan 14:14 Daniel made his servants bring ashes and spread them all over the temple floor, with no other witness than the king. They then left the building, shut the door and, sealing it with the king's seal, went away.

Dan 14:15 That night, as usual, the priests came with their wives and children; they ate and drank everything.

Dan 14:16 The king was up very early next morning, and Daniel with him.

Dan 14:17 'Daniel,' said the king, 'are the seals intact?' 'They are intact, Your Majesty,' he replied.

Dan 14:18 The king then opened the door and, taking one look at the table, exclaimed, 'You are great, O Bel! There is no deception in you!'

Dan 14:19 But Daniel laughed; and, restraining the king from going in any further, he said, 'Look at the floor and take note whose footmarks these are!'

Dan 14:20 'I can see the footmarks of men, of women and of children,' said the king,

Dan 14:21 and angrily ordered the priests to be arrested, with their wives and children. They then showed him the secret door through which they used to come and take what was on the table.

Dan 14:22 The king had them put to death and handed Bel over to Daniel who destroyed both the idol and its temple.

Dan 14:23 There was a great dragon which the Babylonians worshipped too.

Dan 14:24 The king said to Daniel, 'Are you going to tell me that this is made of bronze? Look, it is alive; it eats and drinks; you cannot deny that this is a living god; worship it, then.'

Dan 14:25 Daniel replied, 'I will worship the Lord my God; he is the living God. With your permission, Your Majesty, without using either sword or club, I shall kill this dragon.'

Dan 14:26 'You have my permission,' said the king.

Dan 14:27 Whereupon, Daniel took some pitch, some fat and some hair and boiled them up together, rolled the mixture into balls and fed them to the dragon; the dragon swallowed them and burst. Daniel said, 'Now look at the sort of thing you worship!'

Dan 14:28 The Babylonians were furious when they heard about this and rose against the king. 'The king has turned Jew,' they said, 'he has allowed Bel to be overthrown, and the dragon to be killed, and he has put the priests to death.'

Dan 14:29 So they went to the king and said, 'Hand Daniel over to us or else we shall kill you and your family.'

Dan 14:30 They pressed him so hard that the king found himself forced to hand Daniel over to them.

Dan 14:31 They threw Daniel into the lion pit, and there he stayed for six days.

Dan 14:32 In the pit were seven lions, which were given two human bodies and two sheep every day; but for this period they were not given anything, to make sure they would eat Daniel.

Dan 14:33 Now, the prophet Habakkuk was in Judaea: he had been making a stew and breaking up bread into a basket. He was on his way to the fields, taking this to the harvesters,

Dan 14:34 when the angel of the Lord spoke to him, 'Take the meal you are carrying to Babylon, and give it to Daniel in the lion pit.'

Dan 14:35 'Lord,' replied Habakkuk, 'I have not even seen Babylon and know nothing about this pit.'

Dan 14:36 The angel of the Lord took hold of his head and carried him off by the hair to Babylon where, with a great blast of his breath, he set Habakkuk down on the edge of the pit.

Dan 14:37 'Daniel, Daniel,' Habakkuk shouted, 'take the meal that God has sent you.'

Dan 14:38 And Daniel said, 'You have kept me in mind, O God; you have not deserted those who love you.'

Dan 14:39 Rising to his feet, he ate the meal, while the angel of God carried Habakkuk back in a moment to his own country.

Dan 14:40 On the seventh day, the king came to lament over Daniel; on reaching the pit he looked inside, and there sat Daniel.

Dan 14:41 'You are great, O Lord, God of Daniel,' he exclaimed, 'there is no god but you!'

Dan 14:42 He then had Daniel released from the pit and the plotters of Daniel's ruin thrown in instead, where they were instantly eaten before his eyes.

Hos 1:1 The word of Yahweh which came to Hosea son of Beeri during the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah kings of Judah, and of Jeroboam son of Joash, king of Israel.

Hos 1:2 The beginning of what Yahweh said through Hosea: Yahweh said to Hosea, 'Go, marry a whore, and get children with a whore; for the country itself has become nothing but a whore by abandoning Yahweh.'

Hos 1:3 So he went and married Gomer daughter of Diblaim, who conceived and bore him a son.

Hos 1:4 Yahweh then said to him, 'Call him Jezreel, for in a little while I shall punish the House of Jehu for the bloodshed at Jezreel and put an end to the sovereignty of the House of Israel.'

Hos 1:5 When that day comes, I shall break the bow of Israel in the Valley of Jezreel.'

Hos 1:6 She conceived a second time and gave birth to a daughter. Yahweh then said to him, 'Call her Lo-Ruhamah, for I shall show no more pity for the House of Israel, I shall never forgive them again.'

Hos 1:7 (Instead, I shall take pity on the House of Judah and shall save them, not by bow or sword or force of arms, not by horses or horsemen, but by Yahweh their God.)'

Hos 1:8 After weaning Lo-Ruhamah, she conceived and gave birth to a son.

Hos 1:9 Yahweh said, 'Call him Lo-Ammi, for you are not my people and I do not exist for you.'

Hos 2:1 But the Israelites will become as numerous as the sands of the sea, which cannot be measured or counted. In the very place where they were told, 'You are not my people,' they will be told they are 'Children of the living God'.

Hos 2:2 The Judaeans and Israelites will be reunited and will choose themselves a single head, and will spread far beyond their country, for great will be the Day of Jezreel!

Hos 2:3 Then call your brothers, 'My people', and your sisters, 'You have been pitied'.

Hos 2:4 To court, take your mother to court! For she is no longer my wife nor am I her husband. She must either remove her whoring ways from her face and her adulteries from between her breasts,

Hos 2:5 or I shall strip her and expose her naked as the day she was born; I shall make her as bare as the desert, I shall make her as dry as arid country, and let her die of thirst.

Hos 2:6 And I shall feel no pity for her children since they are the children of her whorings.

Hos 2:7 Yes, their mother has played the whore, she who conceived them has disgraced herself by saying, 'I shall chase after my lovers; they will assure me my keep, my wool, my flax, my oil and my drinks.'

Hos 2:8 This is why I shall block her way with thorns, and wall her in to stop her in her tracks;

Hos 2:9 then if she chases her lovers she will not catch them, if she looks for them she will not find them, and then she will say, 'I shall go back to my first husband, I was better off then than I am now;'

Hos 2:10 she had never realised before that I was the one who was giving her the grain, new wine and oil, giving her more and more silver and gold which they have spent on Baal!

Hos 2:11 This is why I shall take back my grain when it is due and my new wine, when the season for it comes. I shall withdraw my wool and my flax which were to cover her naked body,

Hos 2:12 and then display her infamy before her lovers' eyes- no one will take her from me then!

Hos 2:13 I shall put an end to all her merrymaking, her festivals, her New Moons and her Sabbaths and all her solemn feasts.

Hos 2:14 I shall make her vines and fig trees derelict of which she used to say, 'These are the pay my lovers gave me.' I shall turn them into a jungle: wild animals will feed on them.

Hos 2:15 I mean to make her pay for the feast-days on which she burnt incense to the Baals, when she tricked herself out in her earrings and necklaces to chase after her lovers, and forget me! -declares Yahweh.

Hos 2:16 But look, I am going to seduce her and lead her into the desert and speak to her heart.

Hos 2:17 There I shall give her back her vineyards, and make the Vale of Achor a gateway of hope. There she will respond as when she was young, as on the day when she came up from Egypt.

Hos 2:18 When that day comes- declares Yahweh- you will call me, 'My husband', no more will you call me, 'My Baal'.

Hos 2:19 I shall banish the names of the Baals from her lips and their name will be mentioned no more.

Hos 2:20 When that day comes I shall make a treaty for them with the wild animals, with the birds of heaven and the creeping things of the earth; I shall break the bow and the sword and warfare, and banish them from the country, and I will let them sleep secure.

Hos 2:21 I shall betroth you to myself for ever, I shall betroth you in uprightness and justice, and faithful love and tenderness.

Hos 2:22 Yes, I shall betroth you to myself in loyalty and in the knowledge of Yahweh.

Hos 2:23 When that day comes, I shall respond -declares Yahweh- I shall respond to the heavens and they will respond to the earth

Hos 2:24 and the earth will respond to the grain, the new wine and oil, and they will respond to Jezreel.

Hos 2:25 I shall sow her in the country to be mine, I shall take pity on Lo-Ruhamah, I shall tell Lo-Ammi, 'You are my people,' and he will say, 'You are my God.'

Hos 3:1 Yahweh said to me, 'Go again, love a woman who loves another man, an adulteress, and love her as Yahweh loves the Israelites although they turn to other gods and love raisin cakes.'

Hos 3:2 So I bought her for fifteen shekels of silver, a homer of barley and a skin of wine,

Hos 3:3 and I said to her, 'You will have to spend a long time waiting for me without playing the whore and without giving yourself to any man, and I will behave in the same way towards you.'

Hos 3:4 For the Israelites will have to spend a long time without king or leader, without sacrifice or sacred pillar, without ephod or domestic images;

Hos 3:5 but after that, the Israelites will return and again seek Yahweh their God and David their king, and turn trembling to Yahweh for his bounty in the final days.

Hos 4:1 Israelites, hear what Yahweh says, for Yahweh indicts the citizens of the country: there is no loyalty, no faithful love, no knowledge of God in the country,

Hos 4:2 only perjury and lying, murder, theft, adultery and violence, bloodshed after bloodshed.

Hos 4:3 This is why the country is in mourning and all its citizens pining away, the wild animals also and birds of the sky, even the fish in the sea will disappear.

Hos 4:4 But let no one denounce, no one rebuke; it is you, priest, that I denounce.

Hos 4:5 Priest, you will stumble in broad daylight, and the prophet will stumble with you in the dark, and I will make your mother perish.

Hos 4:6 My people perish for want of knowledge. Since you yourself have rejected knowledge, so I shall reject you from my priesthood; since you have forgotten the teaching of your God, I in my turn shall forget your children.

Hos 4:7 The more of them there have been, the more they have sinned against me; they have bartered their Glory for Shame.

Hos 4:8 They feed on the sin of my people, they are greedy for their iniquity.

Hos 4:9 But as with the people, so with the priest, I shall punish them for their conduct, I shall pay them back for their deeds.

Hos 4:10 They will eat but never be satisfied, they will play the whore but not grow more prolific, since they have deserted Yahweh to give themselves up

Hos 4:11 to whoring. Old wine and new wine addle my people's wits,

Hos 4:12 they consult their block of wood, and their stick explains what they should do. For an urge to go whoring has led them astray and whoring they go and desert their God;

Hos 4:13 they offer sacrifice on the mountain tops, they burn incense on the hills, under oak and poplar and terebinth, for pleasant is their shade. So, although your daughters play the whore and your daughters-in-law commit adultery,

Hos 4:14 I shall not punish your daughters for playing the whore nor your daughters-in-law for committing adultery, when the men themselves are wandering off with whores and offering sacrifice with sacred prostitutes, for a people with no understanding is doomed.

Hos 4:15 Though you, Israel, play the whore, there is no need for Judah to sin too. Do not go to Gilgal, do not go up to Beth-Aven, do not swear oaths 'by Yahweh's life', Hos 4:16 for Israel is as stubborn as a stubborn heifer; so is Yahweh likely to pasture him like a lamb in a broad meadow?

Hos 4:17 Ephraim has made a pact with idols- let him alone!

Hos 4:18 Their drunken orgy over, they do nothing but play the whore, preferring Shame to their Pride;
Hos 4:19 the wind with its wings will carry them off and their sacrifices will bring them nothing but disgrace.
Hos 5:1 Hear this, you priests, listen, House of Israel, pay attention, royal House, for it is you who have justice in your care, but you have been a snare at Mizpah and a net outspread on Tabor.
Hos 5:2 They have dug the ditch deep at Shittim and so I am going to punish them all.
Hos 5:3 Ephraim have I known, Israel is not hidden from me; and yet, Ephraim, you have played the whore, Israel is befouled.
Hos 5:4 Their deeds do not allow them to return to their God, since an urge to play the whore possesses them and they no longer know Yahweh.
Hos 5:5 Israel's arrogance is his accuser, the guilt of Israel and Ephraim is their undoing, Judah too will be undone with them.
Hos 5:6 Though they go in search of Yahweh with their sheep and cattle, they will not find him; he has withdrawn from them.
Hos 5:7 They have betrayed Yahweh because they have fathered bastards; now the new moon will devour them and their fields.
Hos 5:8 Sound the horn in Gibeah, the trumpet in Ramah, raise the war cry in Beth-Aven, 'We are behind you, Benjamin!'
Hos 5:9 When the day of punishment comes, Ephraim will be a wasteland; on the tribes of Israel I have pronounced certain doom.
Hos 5:10 The rulers of Judah act like men who move the boundary stone; I shall pour my wrath out on them like a flood.
Hos 5:11 Ephraim is oppressed, crushed by the sentence, for having deliberately followed a Lie.
Hos 5:12 Because of this, I shall be like ringworm for Ephraim and like gangrene for the House of Judah.
Hos 5:13 Once Ephraim realised that he was sick and Judah that he had an ulcer, Ephraim then went to Assyria, he sent messengers to the Great King; but he has no power to cure you or to heal you of your sore;
Hos 5:14 for I shall be like a lion to Ephraim, like a young lion to the House of Judah; I myself shall rend them, then go my way, shall carry them off, beyond hope of rescue.
Hos 5:15 I shall go back to my place until they confess their guilt and seek me, seek me eagerly in their distress.
Hos 6:1 Come, let us return to Yahweh. He has rent us and he will heal us; he has struck us and he will bind up our wounds;
Hos 6:2 after two days he will revive us, on the third day he will raise us up and we shall live in his presence.
Hos 6:3 Let us know, let us strive to know Yahweh; that he will come is as certain as the dawn. He will come to us like a shower, like the rain of springtime to the earth.
Hos 6:4 What am I to do with you, Ephraim? What am I to do with you, Judah? For your love is like morning mist, like the dew that quickly disappears.
Hos 6:5 This is why I have hacked them to pieces by means of the prophets, why I have killed them with words from my mouth, why my sentence will blaze forth like the dawn-
Hos 6:6 for faithful love is what pleases me, not sacrifice; knowledge of God, not burnt offerings.
Hos 6:7 But they have broken the covenant at Adam, there they have betrayed me.
Hos 6:8 Gilead is a city of evil-doers, full of bloody footprints.
Hos 6:9 Like so many robbers in ambush, a gang of priests commits murder on the road to Shechem- what infamous behaviour!
Hos 6:10 At Bethel I have seen a horrible thing; there Ephraim plays the whore, Israel is befouled.
Hos 6:11 For you too, Judah, a harvest is in store, when I restore my people's fortunes.
Hos 7:1 Whenever I would heal Israel, I am confronted by the guilt of Ephraim and the evil-doings of Samaria; for deceit is their principle of behaviour; the thief breaks into the house, marauders raid in the open;
Hos 7:2 and they never pause to consider that I remember all their wicked deeds; and now their own deeds hem them in and stare me in the face.
Hos 7:3 They amuse the king with their wickedness and the chief men with their lies.
Hos 7:4 They are all adulterers, hot as an oven which the baker need not stoke from the time he has kneaded the dough until it rises.
Hos 7:5 At the holiday for our king, the ministers become inflamed with wine, while he accepts the homage of people
Hos 7:6 who laugh at him. Their hearts are like an oven as they plot, all night their passion slumbers, then in the morning it bursts into flame;
Hos 7:7 yes, all of them as hot as ovens, they consume their rulers. All their kings have fallen thus, not one of them has ever called on me.
Hos 7:8 Ephraim mixes with the nations. Ephraim is a half-baked cake.
Hos 7:9 Foreigners have eaten his strength away but he is unconscious of it; even his hair is turning grey but he is unconscious of it.

Hos 7:10 (Israel's arrogance is his own accuser; but they do not come back to Yahweh their God or seek him, despite all this.)

Hos 7:11 Ephraim is like a silly, witless pigeon calling on Egypt, turning to Assyria.

Hos 7:12 Wherever they turn, I shall spread my net over them, I shall bring them down like the birds of the sky, I shall punish them for their perversity.

Hos 7:13 Woe to them for having fled from me! Ruin seize them for having wronged me! I have rescued them again and again and they have only told lies about me.

Hos 7:14 Theirs is no heartfelt cry to me when they lament on their beds; when they gash themselves over the grain and new wine, they are still rebelling against me.

Hos 7:15 Though I supported and gave strength to their arms, they plan how to hurt me.

Hos 7:16 They turn to what does not exist, they are like a faulty bow. Their leaders will fall by the sword because of their arrogant talk; how they will be laughed at in Egypt!

Hos 8:1 Put the trumpet to your lips! Like an eagle, disaster is swooping on Yahweh's home! Because they have violated my covenant and been unfaithful to my Law,

Hos 8:2 in vain will they cry, 'My God!' In vain, 'We, Israel, know you!'

Hos 8:3 Israel has rejected the good, the enemy will pursue them.

Hos 8:4 They have set up kings, but without my consent, and appointed princes, but without my knowledge. With their silver and gold, they have made themselves idols, but only to be destroyed.

Hos 8:5 I spurn your calf, Samaria! My anger blazes against them! How long will it be before they recover their innocence?

Hos 8:6 For it is the product of Israel- a craftsman made the thing, it is no god at all! The calf of Samaria will be broken to pieces!

Hos 8:7 Since they sow the wind, they will reap the whirlwind; stalk without ear, it will never yield flour- or if it does, foreigners will swallow it.

Hos 8:8 Israel has himself been swallowed; now they are lost among the nations like something no one wants,

Hos 8:9 for having made approaches to Assyria- like a wild donkey, all alone. Ephraim has rented lovers

Hos 8:10 and because he has rented them from the nations I am now going to round them up; soon they will feel the weight of the king of princes!

Hos 8:11 Ephraim keeps building altars for his sins, these very altars are themselves a sin.

Hos 8:12 However much of my Law I write for him, Ephraim regards it as alien to him.

Hos 8:13 They offer sacrifices to me and eat the meat, they do not win Yahweh's favour. On the contrary, he will remember their guilt and punish their sins; they will have to go back to Egypt.

Hos 8:14 Israel has forgotten his Maker and has built palaces, while Judah keeps on building fortified towns; but I shall send fire down on his cities to devour their citadels.

Hos 9:1 No merrymaking, Israel, for you, no rejoicing like other peoples, for you have deserted your God to play the whore, you have loved the fee of prostitution on every threshing-floor.

Hos 9:2 The threshing-floor and wine-press will not feed them; they will be disappointed of new wine.

Hos 9:3 No more will they live in Yahweh's country; Ephraim will have to go back to Egypt, and eat polluted food in Assyria.

Hos 9:4 No more will they pour libations of wine to Yahweh, and their sacrifices will not win his favour but will be like funeral fare for them: whoever eats them will be polluted; for their food will be for themselves alone, not being offered in Yahweh's home.

Hos 9:5 What will you do on the solemn feast-day, on the day of Yahweh's festival?

Hos 9:6 What a scene of devastation they have left! Egypt will round them up, Memphis will bury them, nettles will inherit their fields and thorn-bushes invade their homesteads.

Hos 9:7 The days of punishment have come, the days of retribution are here; Israel knows it! 'The prophet is mad and the inspired man a fool!' Great has been your guilt- all the greater than the hostility!

Hos 9:8 The watchman of Ephraim is with my God: it is the prophet- and a fowler's trap is placed on all his paths; and in the shrine of his God there is enmity towards him.

Hos 9:9 They have become deeply corrupt as in the days of Gibeath; he will remember their guilt, he will punish their sins.

Hos 9:10 It was like finding grapes in the desert when I found Israel, like seeing early fruit on a fig tree when I saw your ancestors; but when they reached Baal-Peor they devoted themselves to Shame and became as loathsome as the thing they loved.

Hos 9:11 The glory of Ephraim will fly away like a bird: no giving birth, no pregnancy, no conceiving.

Hos 9:12 If they rear their children, I shall take them away before they grow up! Woe to them indeed when I leave them!

Hos 9:13 Ephraim looked to me like Tyre, planted in a meadow, so Ephraim will present his children to the slaughterer.

Hos 9:14 Give them, Yahweh- what are you to give? - give them wombs that miscarry and dried-up breasts.

Hos 9:15 Their wickedness appeared in full at Gilgal, there I came to hate them. Because of the wickedness of their deeds I shall drive them from my home, I shall love them no longer; all their princes are rebels.

Hos 9:16 Ephraim is blasted, their root has dried out, they will bear no more fruit. And even if they do bear children I shall slaughter the darlings of their womb.

Hos 9:17 Because they have not listened to him, my God will cast them off and they will become wanderers among the nations.

Hos 10:1 Israel was a luxuriant vine yielding plenty of fruit. The more his fruit increased, the more altars he built; the richer his land became, the richer he made the sacred pillars.

Hos 10:2 Theirs is a divided heart; now they will have to pay for it. He himself will hack down their altars and wreck their sacred pillars.

Hos 10:3 Then they will say, 'We have no king because we have not feared Yahweh, but what could the king do for us?'

Hos 10:4 Speeches are made, oaths sworn to no purpose, agreements concluded, and so-called justice spreads like a poisonous weed along the furrows of the fields!

Hos 10:5 Samaria's citizens will tremble for the calf of Beth-Aven; the people there will mourn for it, so will its idol-priests, as they exult in its glory once it has been carried away!

Hos 10:6 It will be carried off to Assyria as tribute to the Great King. Ephraim will reap the shame, and Israel blush for his intentions.

Hos 10:7 Samaria has had her day. Her king is like a straw drifting on the water.

Hos 10:8 The high places of Aven, the sin of Israel, will be destroyed; thorns and thistles will grow over their altars. Then they will say to the mountains, 'Cover us!' and to the hills, 'Fall on us!'

Hos 10:9 Since the days of Gibeah, Israel, you have sinned. There they have taken their stand, and will not war overtake the guilty at Gibeah?

Hos 10:10 I am coming to punish them; nations will muster against them to punish them for their two crimes.

Hos 10:11 Ephraim is a well-trained heifer that loves to tread the grain. But I have laid a yoke on her fine neck, I shall put Ephraim into harness, Judah will have to plough, Jacob must draw the harrow.

Hos 10:12 Sow saving justice for yourselves, reap a harvest of faithful love; break up your fallow ground: it is time to seek out Yahweh until he comes to rain saving justice down on you.

Hos 10:13 You have ploughed wickedness, you have reaped iniquity, you have eaten the fruit of falsehood. Because you have trusted in your chariots, in your great numbers of warriors,

Hos 10:14 turmoil is going to break out among your people, and all your fortresses will be laid waste. As Shalman laid Beth-Arbel waste on the day of battle, dashing mothers to pieces on their children,

Hos 10:15 so it shall be done to you, Bethel, because of your great wickedness; at dawn, the king of Israel will be no more.

Hos 11:1 When Israel was a child I loved him, and I called my son out of Egypt.

Hos 11:2 But the more I called, the further they went away from me; they offered sacrifice to Baal and burnt incense to idols.

Hos 11:3 I myself taught Ephraim to walk, I myself took them by the arm, but they did not know that I was the one caring for them,

Hos 11:4 that I was leading them with human ties, with leading-strings of love, that, with them, I was like someone lifting an infant to his cheek, and that I bent down to feed him.

Hos 11:5 He will not have to go back to Egypt, Assyria will be his king instead! Since he has refused to come back to me, Hos 11:6 the sword will rage through his cities, destroying the bars of his gates, devouring them because of their plots.

Hos 11:7 My people are bent on disregarding me; if they are summoned to come up, not one of them makes a move.

Hos 11:8 Ephraim, how could I part with you? Israel, how could I give you up? How could I make you like Admah or treat you like Zeboiim? My heart within me is overwhelmed, fever grips my inmost being.

Hos 11:9 I will not give rein to my fierce anger, I will not destroy Ephraim again, for I am God, not man, the Holy One in your midst, and I shall not come to you in anger.

Hos 11:10 They will follow Yahweh; he will roar like a lion, and when he roars, his children will come fluttering from the west, Hos 11:11 fluttering like sparrows from Egypt, like pigeons from Assyria, and I shall settle them in their homes -declares Yahweh.

Hos 12:1 Ephraim besieges me with lying, the House of Israel with duplicity. (But Judah still is on God's side, he is faithful to the Holy One.)

Hos 12:2 Ephraim feeds himself on wind, all day he chases the wind from the East, he heaps up cheating and violence; they make a treaty with Assyria, at the same time sending oil to Egypt.

Hos 12:3 Yahweh has a case against Judah, he will punish Jacob as his conduct merits, he will repay him as his deeds deserve.

Hos 12:4 In the very womb he overreached his brother, in maturity he wrestled against God.

Hos 12:5 He wrestled with the angel and beat him, he wept and pleaded with him. He met him at Bethel and there God spoke to us-

Hos 12:6 yes, Yahweh, God Sabaoth, Yahweh is his title!

Hos 12:7 So turn back with God's help, maintain faithful love and loyalty and always put your trust in your God.

Hos 12:8 Merchants use fraudulent scales. To defraud is his delight.

Hos 12:9 'How rich I have become!' says Ephraim, 'I have made a fortune.' But of all his gains he will keep nothing because of the sin of which he is guilty.

Hos 12:10 But I have been Yahweh your God since your days in Egypt and will make you live in tents again as in the days of Meeting.

Hos 12:11 I will speak through prophets, I will give vision after vision and through the ministry of prophets will speak in parables.

Hos 12:12 Is Gilead a sink of iniquity? Yes, they are a worthless lot! At Gilgal they sacrifice to bulls, that is why their altars are like heaps of stones in a ploughed field.

Hos 12:13 Jacob fled to the countryside of Aram, Israel slaved to win a wife, to win a wife he looked after sheep.

Hos 12:14 By a prophet Yahweh brought Israel out of Egypt and by a prophet Israel was preserved.

Hos 12:15 Ephraim gave bitter provocation- Yahweh will bring his bloodshed down on him, his Lord will repay him for his insult.

Hos 13:1 When Ephraim used to speak, all trembled; he was a power in Israel; but once he had incurred guilt with Baal, he died.

Hos 13:2 And now they compound their sins by casting images for themselves out of their silver, idols of their own invention, the work of craftsmen, all of it! 'Sacrifice to them,' they say! Men bestow kisses to calves!

Hos 13:3 That is why they will be like morning mist, like the dew that quickly disappears, like the chaff whirled from the threshing-floor, like smoke escaping through the window.

Hos 13:4 But I have been Yahweh your God since your days in Egypt when you knew no god but me, since you had no one else to save you.

Hos 13:5 I cared for you in the desert, in the land of dreadful drought.

Hos 13:6 I pastured them, and they were satisfied; once satisfied, their hearts grew proud, and therefore they forgot me.

Hos 13:7 So now I shall be like a lion to them, like a leopard I shall lurk beside the road,

Hos 13:8 like a bear robbed of her cubs I shall meet them and rend the membrane of their heart, and there like a lioness I shall eat them, like a wild beast tear them to shreds.

Hos 13:9 Israel, you have destroyed yourself though in me lies your help.

Hos 13:10 Your king, where is he now, to save you, or the governors in all your cities? - whom you once pleaded for, saying, 'Give me a king and princes!'

Hos 13:11 In my anger I gave you a king and in my wrath I have taken him away.

Hos 13:12 Ephraim's guilt is packed away, his sin is locked up.

Hos 13:13 Pangs as of childbirth overtake him, and a stupid child he is; his time is due, but he does not leave the womb.

Hos 13:14 Shall I save them from the clutches of Sheol? Shall I buy them back from Death? Where are your plagues, Death? Where are your scourges, Sheol? Compassion will be banished from my sight!

Hos 13:15 Though Ephraim bears more fruit than his brothers, the wind from the East will come, Yahweh's breath blowing up from the desert to dry his spring, to dry up his fountain, to strip his treasury of everything worth having.

Hos 14:1 Samaria will pay the penalty for having rebelled against her God. They will fall by the sword, their little children will be dashed to pieces and their pregnant women disembowelled.

Hos 14:2 Israel, come back to Yahweh your God your guilt was the cause of your downfall.

Hos 14:3 Provide yourself with words and come back to Yahweh. Say to him, 'Take all guilt away and give us what is good, instead of bulls we will dedicate to you our lips.'

Hos 14:4 Assyria cannot save us, we will not ride horses any more, or say, "Our God!" to our own handiwork, for you are the one in whom orphans find compassion.'

Hos 14:5 I shall cure them of their disloyalty, I shall love them with all my heart, for my anger has turned away from them.

Hos 14:6 I shall fall like dew on Israel, he will bloom like the lily and thrust out roots like the cedar of Lebanon;

Hos 14:7 he will put out new shoots, he will have the beauty of the olive tree and the fragrance of Lebanon.

Hos 14:8 They will come back to live in my shade; they will grow wheat again, they will make the vine flourish, their wine will be as famous as Lebanon's.

Hos 14:9 What has Ephraim to do with idols any more when I hear him and watch over him? I am like an evergreen cypress, you owe your fruitfulness to me.

Hos 14:10 Let the wise understand these words, let the intelligent grasp their meaning, for Yahweh's ways are straight and the upright will walk in them, but sinners will stumble.

Joe 1:1 The word of Yahweh that was addressed to Joel son of Pethuel.

Joe 1:2 Listen to this, you elders; everybody in the country, attend! Has anything like this ever happened in your day, or in your ancestors' days?

Joe 1:3 Tell your children about it and let your children tell their children, and their children the next generation!

Joe 1:4 What the nibbler has left, the grown locust has eaten, what the grown locust has left, the hopper has eaten, and what the hopper has left, the shearer has eaten.

Joe 1:5 Wake up, you drunkards, and weep! All you wine-bibbers, lament for the new wine: it has been snatched from your lips.

Joe 1:6 For a nation has invaded my country, mighty and innumerable, with teeth like a lion's teeth, with the fangs of a lioness.

Joe 1:7 It has reduced my vines to a desolation and my fig trees to splinters, stripped them and broken them down, leaving their branches white.

Joe 1:8 Mourn, as a virgin-bride in sackcloth for the bridegroom of her youth!

Joe 1:9 Cereal offering and libation are lost to Yahweh's Temple. The priests, the ministers of Yahweh, are in mourning.

Joe 1:10 The fields are ruined, the land is in mourning, for the grain has been ruined, the new wine has failed, of olive oil only a trickle.

Joe 1:11 Stand dismayed, you farmers, wail, you vinedressers, for the wheat, for the barley! The harvest of the fields has been lost!

Joe 1:12 The vine has withered, the fig tree wilts away; pomegranate, palm tree, apple tree, every tree in the countryside is dry, and for human beings joy has run dry too.

Joe 1:13 Priests, put on sackcloth and lament! You ministers of the altar, wail! Come here, lie in sackcloth all night long, you ministers of my God! For the Temple of your God has been deprived of cereal offering and libation.

Joe 1:14 Order a fast, proclaim a solemn assembly; you elders, summon everybody in the country to the Temple of Yahweh your God. Cry out to Yahweh:

Joe 1:15 'Alas for the day! For the Day of Yahweh is near, coming as destruction from Shaddai.'

Joe 1:16 Has not the food disappeared before our very eyes? Have not joy and gladness vanished from the Temple of our God?

Joe 1:17 The seeds shrivel under their clods; the granaries are deserted, the barns are in ruins, because the harvest has dried out.

Joe 1:18 Loudly the cattle groan! The herds of oxen are bewildered because they have no pasture. The flocks of sheep bear the punishment too.

Joe 1:19 Yahweh, to you I cry: for fire has devoured the desert pastures, flame has burnt up all the trees in the countryside.

Joe 1:20 Even the wild animals pant loudly for you, for the watercourses have run dry, and fire has devoured the desert pastures.

Joe 2:1 Blow the ram's-horn in Zion, sound the alarm on my holy mountain! Let everybody in the country tremble, for the Day of Yahweh is coming, yes, it is near.

Joe 2:2 Day of darkness and gloom, Day of cloud and blackness. Like the dawn, across the mountains spreads a vast and mighty people, such as has never been before, such as will never be again to the remotest ages.

Joe 2:3 In their van a fire devours, in their rear a flame consumes. The country is like a garden of Eden ahead of them and a desert waste behind them. Nothing escapes them.

Joe 2:4 They look like horses, like chargers they gallop on,

Joe 2:5 with a racket like that of chariots they spring over the mountain tops, with a crackling like a blazing fire devouring the stubble, a mighty army in battle array.

Joe 2:6 At the sight of them, people are appalled and every face grows pale.

Joe 2:7 Like fighting men they press forward, like warriors they scale the walls, each marching straight ahead, not turning from his path;

Joe 2:8 they never jostle each other, each marches straight ahead: arrows fly, they still press forward, never breaking ranks.

Joe 2:9 They hurl themselves at the city, they leap onto the walls, swarm up the houses, getting in through the windows like thieves.

Joe 2:10 As they come on, the earth quakes, the skies tremble, sun and moon grow dark, the stars lose their brilliance.

Joe 2:11 Yahweh's voice rings out at the head of his troops! For mighty indeed is his army, strong, the enforcer of his orders, for great is the Day of Yahweh, and very terrible -- who can face it?

Joe 2:12 'But now -- declares Yahweh- come back to me with all your heart, fasting, weeping, mourning.'

Joe 2:13 Tear your hearts and not your clothes, and come back to Yahweh your God, for he is gracious and compassionate, slow to anger, rich in faithful love, and he relents about inflicting disaster.

Joe 2:14 Who knows if he will not come back, relent and leave a blessing behind him, a cereal offering and a libation to be presented to Yahweh your God?

Joe 2:15 Blow the ram's-horn in Zion! Order a fast, proclaim a solemn assembly,

Joe 2:16 call the people together, summon the community, assemble the elders, gather the children, even infants at the breast! Call the bridegroom from his bedroom and the bride from her bower!

Joe 2:17 Let the priests, the ministers of Yahweh, stand weeping between portico and altar, saying, 'Spare your people, Yahweh! Do not expose your heritage to the contempt, to the sarcasm of the nations! Why give the peoples cause to say, "Where is their God?" '

Joe 2:18 Then, becoming jealous over his country, Yahweh took pity on his people.

Joe 2:19 Yahweh said in answer to his people, 'Now I shall send you wheat, wine and olive oil until you have enough. Never again will I expose you to the contempt of the nations.'

Joe 2:20 I shall take the northerner far away from you and drive him into an arid, desolate land, his vanguard to the eastern sea, his rearguard to the western sea. He will give off a stench, he will give off a foul stink (for what he made bold to do).'

Joe 2:21 Land, do not be afraid; be glad, rejoice, for Yahweh has done great things.

Joe 2:22 Wild animals, do not be afraid; the desert pastures are green again, the trees bear fruit, vine and fig tree yield their richness.

Joe 2:23 Sons of Zion, be glad, rejoice in Yahweh your God; for he has given you autumn rain as justice demands, and he will send the rains down for you, the autumn and spring rain as of old.

Joe 2:24 The threshing-floors will be full of grain, the vats overflow with wine and oil.

Joe 2:25 'I will make up to you for the years devoured by grown locust and hopper, by shearer and young locust, my great army which I sent to invade you.

Joe 2:26 'You will eat to your heart's content, and praise the name of Yahweh your God who has treated you so wonderfully. (My people will never be humiliated again!)

Joe 2:27 'And you will know that I am among you in Israel, I, Yahweh your God, and no one else. My people will never be humiliated again!'

Joe 3:1 'After this I shall pour out my spirit on all humanity. Your sons and daughters shall prophesy, your old people shall dream dreams, and your young people see visions.

Joe 3:2 Even on the slaves, men and women, shall I pour out my spirit in those days.

Joe 3:3 I shall show portents in the sky and on earth, blood and fire and columns of smoke.'

Joe 3:4 The sun will be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the Day comes, that great and terrible Day.

Joe 3:5 All who call on the name of Yahweh will be saved, for on Mount Zion will be those who have escaped, as Yahweh has said, and in Jerusalem a remnant whom Yahweh is calling.

Joe 4:1 'For in those days and at that time, when I restore the fortunes of Judah and Jerusalem,

Joe 4:2 I shall gather all the nations together and take them down to the Valley of Jehoshaphat; there I shall put them on trial because of Israel, my people and my heritage, for having scattered them among the nations and having divided my land among themselves.

Joe 4:3 They drew lots for my people, bartering a boy for a whore and selling a girl for wine to drink.

Joe 4:4 'And what are you to me, Tyre and Sidon and all you regions of Philistia? Can you take revenge on me? If you take revenge on me, I shall quickly, instantly, make your revenge recoil on your own heads

Joe 4:5 for having taken my silver and gold away and carried off my valuable treasures to your temples,

Joe 4:6 and for having sold the children of Judah and Jerusalem to the Ionians, to be taken far away from their own frontiers.

Joe 4:7 Look, I shall rouse them from the places to which you have sold them; I shall make your actions recoil on your own heads

Joe 4:8 by selling your sons and daughters to the sons of Judah, who in turn will sell them to the Sabeans, to a nation far away- Yahweh has spoken!'

Joe 4:9 Proclaim this among the nations. Prepare for war! Rouse the champions! All you troops, advance, march!

Joe 4:10 Hammer your ploughshares into swords, your bill-hooks into spears; let the weakling say, 'I am tough!'

Joe 4:11 Hurry and come, all the nations around, and assemble there! (Yahweh, send down your champions!)

Joe 4:12 'Let the nations rouse themselves and march to the Valley of Jehoshaphat, for there I shall sit in judgement on all the nations around.'

Joe 4:13 Ply the sickle, for the harvest is ripe; come and tread, for the winepress is full; the vats are overflowing, so great is their wickedness!'

Joe 4:14 Multitude on multitude in the Valley of Decision! For the Day of Yahweh is near in the Valley of the Verdict!

Joe 4:15 Sun and moon grow dark, the stars lose their brilliance.

Joe 4:16 Yahweh roars from Zion, he thunders from Jerusalem; heaven and earth tremble. But Yahweh will be a shelter for his people, a stronghold for the Israelites.

Joe 4:17 'Then you will know that I am Yahweh your God residing on Zion, my holy mountain. Jerusalem will then be a sanctuary, no foreigners will overrun it ever again.'

Joe 4:18 When that Day comes, the mountains will run with new wine and the hills will flow with milk, and all the stream-beds of Judah will run with water. A fountain will spring from Yahweh's Temple and water the Gorge of the Acacias.

Joe 4:19 Egypt will become a desolation, and Edom a desert waste on account of the violence done to the children of Judah whose innocent blood they shed in their country.

Joe 4:20 But Judah will be inhabited for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation!

Joe 4:21 'I shall avenge their blood and let none go unpunished,' and Yahweh will dwell in Zion.

Amo 1:1 Words of Amos one of the shepherds of Tekoa. The visions he had about Israel, in the time of Uzziah king of Judah and Jeroboam son of Joash, king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

Amo 1:2 He said: Yahweh roars from Zion, and makes himself heard from Jerusalem; the shepherds' pastures mourn, and the crown of Carmel dries up.

Amo 1:3 Yahweh says this: For the three crimes, the four crimes of Damascus, I have made my decree and will not relent: because they have threshed Gilead with iron threshing-sledges,

Amo 1:4 I shall send fire down on the House of Hazael to devour the palaces of Ben-Hadad;

Amo 1:5 I shall break the gate-bar of Damascus, I shall destroy the inhabitant of Bikath-Aven, the holder of the sceptre in Beth-Eden, and the people of Aram will be deported to Kir, Yahweh says.

Amo 1:6 Yahweh says this: For the three crimes, the four crimes of Gaza, I have made my decree and will not relent: because they have deported entire nations as slaves to Edom,

Amo 1:7 I shall send fire down on the walls of Gaza to devour its palaces;

Amo 1:8 I shall destroy the inhabitant of Ashdod, the holder of the sceptre in Ashkelon; I shall turn my hand against Ekron and the remnant of the Philistines will perish, says the Lord Yahweh.

Amo 1:9 Yahweh says this: For the three crimes, the four crimes of Tyre, I have made my decree and will not relent: because they have handed hosts of captives over to Edom, heedless of a covenant of brotherhood,

Amo 1:10 I shall send fire down on the walls of Tyre to devour its palaces.

Amo 1:11 Yahweh says this: For the three crimes, the four crimes of Edom, I have made my decree and will not relent: because he has pursued his brother with the sword, because he has stifled any sense of pity, and perpetually nursed his anger and constantly cherished his rage,

Amo 1:12 I shall send fire down on Teman to devour the palaces of Bozrah.

Amo 1:13 Yahweh says this: For the three crimes, the four crimes of the Ammonites, I have made my decree and will not relent: because they have disembowelled the pregnant women of Gilead in order to extend their own frontiers,

Amo 1:14 I shall light a fire against the walls of Rabbah to devour its palaces amid war cries on the day of battle, in a whirlwind on the day of storm,

Amo 1:15 and their king shall go into captivity, he and his chief men with him, says Yahweh.

Amo 2:1 Yahweh says this: For the three crimes, the four crimes of Moab, I have made my decree and will not relent: because they have burnt the bones of the king of Edom to ash,

Amo 2:2 I shall send fire down into Moab to devour the palaces of Kerioth, and Moab will die in the tumult, amid war cries and the blare of trumpets;

Amo 2:3 I shall destroy the ruler there and slaughter all the chief men there with him, says Yahweh.

Amo 2:4 Yahweh says this: For the three crimes, the four crimes of Judah, I have made my decree and will not relent: because they have despised Yahweh's law and not kept his commandments, since their Falsehoods, which their ancestors followed, have led them astray,

Amo 2:5 I shall send fire down on Judah to devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

Amo 2:6 Yahweh says this: For the three crimes, the four crimes of Israel, I have made my decree and will not relent: because they have sold the upright for silver and the poor for a pair of sandals,

Amo 2:7 because they have crushed the heads of the weak into the dust and thrust the rights of the oppressed to one side, father and son sleeping with the same girl and thus profaning my holy name,

Amo 2:8 lying down beside every altar on clothes acquired as pledges, and drinking the wine of the people they have fined in the house of their god.

Amo 2:9 Yet it was I who destroyed the Amorite before them, he who was as tall as the cedars, as strong as the oaks; I who destroyed his fruit above ground and his roots below.

Amo 2:10 It was I who brought you up from Egypt and for forty years led you through the desert to take possession of the Amorite's country;

Amo 2:11 I who raised up prophets from your sons and Nazirites from your young men. Israelites, is this not true? -declares Yahweh!

Amo 2:12 But you have made the Nazirite drink wine and given orders to the prophets, 'Do not prophesy.'

Amo 2:13 Very well! Like a cart overloaded with sheaves I shall crush you where you stand;

Amo 2:14 flight will be cut off for the swift, the strong will have no chance to exert his strength nor the warrior be able to save his life;

Amo 2:15 the archer will not stand his ground, the swift of foot will not escape, nor will the horseman save his life;

Amo 2:16 even the bravest of warriors will jettison his arms and run away, that day! -declares Yahweh!

Amo 3:1 Listen, Israelites, to this prophecy which Yahweh pronounces against you, against the whole family which I brought up from Egypt:

Amo 3:2 You alone have I intimately known of all the families of earth, that is why I shall punish you for all your wrong-doings.

Amo 3:3 Do two people travel together unless they have agreed to do so?

Amo 3:4 Does the lion roar in the forest if it has no prey? Does the young lion growl in his lair if it has caught nothing?

Amo 3:5 Does a bird fall on the ground in a net unless a trap has been set for it? Will the net spring up from the ground without catching something?

Amo 3:6 Does the trumpet sound in the city without the people being alarmed? Does misfortune come to a city if Yahweh has not caused it?

Amo 3:7 No indeed, Lord Yahweh does nothing without revealing his secret to his servants the prophets.

Amo 3:8 The lion roars: who is not afraid? Lord Yahweh has spoken: who will not prophesy?

Amo 3:9 From the palace roofs of Assyria and from the palace roofs of Egypt, proclaim aloud, 'Assemble on the hills of Samaria and observe the grave disorders inside her and the acts of oppression there!'

Amo 3:10 Little they know of right conduct -declares Yahweh- who cram their palaces with violence and extortion.

Amo 3:11 This is why -- Lord Yahweh says this- an enemy will soon besiege the land, he will bring down your strength and your palaces will be looted.

Amo 3:12 Yahweh says this: As the shepherd rescues two legs or the tip of an ear from the lion's mouth, so will the children of Israel be salvaged who now loll in Samaria in the corners of their beds, on their divans of Damascus.

Amo 3:13 Listen and testify against the House of Jacob -declares the Lord Yahweh, God Sabaoth-

Amo 3:14 the day when I punish Israel for his crimes I shall also punish the altars of Bethel; the horns of the altar will be hacked off and will fall to the ground.

Amo 3:15 I shall blast winter house with summer house, ivory houses will be destroyed and many mansions cease to be -declares Yahweh.

Amo 4:1 Listen to this saying, you cows of Bashan living on the hill of Samaria, exploiting the weak and ill-treating the poor, saying to your husbands, 'Bring us something to drink!'

Amo 4:2 The Lord God has sworn by his holiness: Look, the days will soon be on you when he will use hooks to drag you away and fish-hooks for the very last of you;

Amo 4:3 through the breaches in the wall you will leave, each one straight ahead, and be herded away towards Hermon -declares Yahweh.

Amo 4:4 Go to Bethel, and sin, to Gilgal, and sin even harder! Bring your sacrifices each morning, your tithes every third day,

Amo 4:5 burn your thank-offering of leaven and widely publicise your free-will offerings, for this, children of Israel, is what makes you happy -declares the Lord Yahweh.

Amo 4:6 I even gave you clean teeth in all your towns and a shortage of food in all your villages and still you would not come back to me -declares Yahweh.

Amo 4:7 I even withheld the rain from you full three months before harvest-time; I caused rain to fall in one town and caused no rain to fall in another; one field was rained on and the next for want of rain dried up;

Amo 4:8 two towns, three towns went tottering to one town for water to drink but went unsatisfied, and still you would not come back to me -declares Yahweh.

Amo 4:9 I struck you with blight and mildew, I dried up your gardens and vineyards; the locust devoured your fig trees and olive trees and still you would not come back to me -declares Yahweh.

Amo 4:10 I sent plague on you like Egypt's plague, I slaughtered your young men with the sword and at the same time your horses were captured; I filled your nostrils with the stench of your camps and still you would not come back to me -declares Yahweh.

Amo 4:11 I overturned you as God overturned Sodom and Gomorrah; you were like a brand snatched from the blaze and still you would not come back to me -declares Yahweh.

Amo 4:12 So this, Israel, is what I plan to do to you. Because I am going to do this to you, Israel, prepare to meet your God!

Amo 4:13 For look, he it is who forges the mountains, creates the wind, who reveals his mind to humankind, changes the dawn into darkness and strides on the heights of the world: Yahweh, God Sabaoth, is his name.

Amo 5:1 Listen to this word which I utter against you, it is a dirge, House of Israel:

Amo 5:2 She has fallen down, never to rise again, the virgin Israel. There she lies on her own soil, with no one to lift her up.

Amo 5:3 For Lord Yahweh says this: The town which used to put a thousand in the field will be left with a hundred, and the one which used to put a hundred will be left with ten, to fight for the House of Israel.

Amo 5:4 For Yahweh says this to the House of Israel: Seek me out and you will survive,

Amo 5:5 but do not seek out Bethel, do not go to Gilgal, do not journey to Beersheba, for Gilgal is going into captivity and Bethel will be brought to nothing.

Amo 5:6 Seek out Yahweh and you will survive or else he will sweep like fire upon the House of Joseph and burn it down, with no one at Bethel able to quench the flames.

Amo 5:7 They turn justice into wormwood and throw uprightness to the ground.

Amo 5:8 He it is who makes the Pleiades and Orion, who turns shadow dark as death into morning and day to darkest night, who summons the waters of the sea and pours them over the surface of the land. Yahweh is his name.

Amo 5:9 He brings destruction on the strong and ruin comes on the fortress.

Amo 5:10 They hate the man who teaches justice at the city gate and detest anyone who declares the truth.

Amo 5:11 For trampling on the poor man and for extorting levies on his wheat: although you have built houses of dressed stone, you will not live in them; although you have planted pleasant vineyards, you will not drink wine from them:

Amo 5:12 for I know how many your crimes are and how outrageous your sins, you oppressors of the upright, who hold people to ransom and thrust the poor aside at the gates.

Amo 5:13 That is why anyone prudent keeps silent now, since the time is evil.

Amo 5:14 Seek good and not evil so that you may survive, and Yahweh, God Sabaoth, be with you as you claim he is.

Amo 5:15 Hate evil, love good, let justice reign at the city gate: it may be that Yahweh, God Sabaoth, will take pity on the remnant of Joseph.

Amo 5:16 Therefore Yahweh Sabaoth, the Lord, says this: In every public square there will be lamentation, in every street they will cry out, 'Alas! Alas!' The farmer will be called on to mourn, the professional mourners to lament, Amo 5:17 and there will be wailing in every vineyard, for I mean to pass through among you, Yahweh says.

Amo 5:18 Disaster for you who long for the Day of Yahweh! What will the Day of Yahweh mean for you? It will mean darkness, not light, Amo 5:19 as when someone runs away from a lion, only to meet a bear; he goes into his house and puts his hand on the wall, only for a snake to bite him.

Amo 5:20 Will not the Day of Yahweh be darkness, not light, totally dark, without a ray of light?

Amo 5:21 I hate, I scorn your festivals, I take no pleasure in your solemn assemblies.

Amo 5:22 When you bring me burnt offerings . . . your oblations, I do not accept them and I do not look at your communion sacrifices of fat cattle.

Amo 5:23 Spare me the din of your chanting, let me hear none of your strumming on lyres,

Amo 5:24 but let justice flow like water, and uprightness like a never-failing stream!

Amo 5:25 Did you bring me sacrifices and oblations those forty years in the desert, House of Israel?

Amo 5:26 Now you must shoulder Sakkuth your king and the star of your God, Kaiwan, those idols you made for yourselves;

Amo 5:27 for I am about to drive you into captivity beyond Damascus, Yahweh says -- God Sabaoth is his name.

Amo 6:1 Disaster for those so comfortable in Zion and for those so confident on the hill of Samaria, the notables of this first of nations, those to whom the House of Israel has recourse!

Amo 6:2 Travel to Calneh and look, go on from there to Hamath the great, then go down to Gath in Philistia. Are they more powerful than these kingdoms? Is their territory larger than yours?

Amo 6:3 Thinking to defer the evil day, you are hastening the reign of violence.

Amo 6:4 Lying on ivory beds and sprawling on their divans, they dine on lambs from the flock, and stall-fattened veal;

Amo 6:5 they bawl to the sound of the lyre and, like David, they invent musical instruments;

Amo 6:6 they drink wine by the bowlful, and lard themselves with the finest oils, but for the ruin of Joseph they care nothing.

Amo 6:7 That is why they will now go into captivity, heading the column of captives. The sprawlers' revelry is over.

Amo 6:8 Lord Yahweh has sworn by his own self -declares Yahweh, God Sabaoth: I detest the pride of Jacob, I hate his palaces, I shall hand over the city and all in it.

Amo 6:9 If ten people are left in a single house, they will die

Amo 6:10 and a few will be left to carry the bones from the house, and they will say to anyone deep inside the house, 'Any more there?' and he will answer, 'No.' Then he will say, 'Hush!-Yahweh's name must not be mentioned.'

Amo 6:11 For look, Yahweh gives the command: as he strikes, the great house falls to pieces and the small house is in fragments.

Amo 6:12 Can horses gallop over rocks? Can the sea be ploughed with oxen? Yet you have changed justice into poison, and the fruit of uprightness into wormwood,

Amo 6:13 while rejoicing over Lo-Debar and saying, 'Wasn't it by our own strength that we captured Karnaim?'

Amo 6:14 But look, House of Israel, against you -declares Yahweh, God Sabaoth- I am raising a nation to oppress you from the Pass of Hamath to the Gorge of the Arabah.

Amo 7:1 This is what Lord Yahweh showed me: there was a swarm of locusts when the second crop was sprouting, full-grown locusts, after the king's hay had been cut.

Amo 7:2 When they had eaten all the grass in the land, I said, 'Lord Yahweh, forgive, I beg you. How can Jacob survive, being so small?'

Amo 7:3 Then Yahweh relented; 'It will not happen,' said Yahweh.

Amo 7:4 This is what Lord Yahweh showed me: Lord Yahweh summoning fire in punishment; it had devoured the great Abyss and was encroaching on the land,

Amo 7:5 when I said, 'Lord Yahweh, stop, I beg you. How can Jacob survive, being so small?'

Amo 7:6 Then Yahweh relented; 'This will not happen either,' said the Lord Yahweh.

Amo 7:7 This is what he showed me: the Lord standing by a wall, with a plumb-line in his hand.

Amo 7:8 'What do you see, Amos?' Yahweh asked me. 'A plumb-line,' I said. Then the Lord said, 'Look, I am going to put a plumb-line in among my people Israel; never again will I overlook their offences.

Amo 7:9 The high places of Isaac will be ruined and the sanctuaries of Israel laid waste, and, sword in hand, I will attack the House of Jeroboam.'

Amo 7:10 Amaziah the priest of Bethel then sent word to Jeroboam king of Israel as follows, 'Amos is plotting against you in the heart of the House of Israel; the country cannot tolerate his speeches.

Amo 7:11 For this is what Amos says, "Jeroboam is going to die by the sword, and Israel will go into captivity far from its native land." '

Amo 7:12 To Amos himself Amaziah said, 'Go away, seer, take yourself off to Judah, earn your living there, and there you can prophesy!

Amo 7:13 But never again will you prophesy at Bethel, for this is a royal sanctuary, a national temple.'

Amo 7:14 'I am not a prophet,' Amos replied to Amaziah, 'nor do I belong to a prophetic brotherhood. I am merely a herdsman and dresser of sycamore-figs.

Amo 7:15 But Yahweh took me as I followed the flock, and Yahweh said to me, "Go and prophesy to my people Israel."

Amo 7:16 So now listen to what Yahweh says: "You say: Do not prophesy against Israel, do not foretell doom on the House of Isaac!"

Amo 7:17 Very well, this is what Yahweh says, "Your wife will become a prostitute in the streets, your sons and daughters will fall by the sword, your land will be parcelled out by measuring line, and you yourself will die on polluted soil and Israel will go into captivity far from its own land!" '

Amo 8:1 This is what Lord Yahweh showed me: A basket of ripe fruit.

Amo 8:2 'What do you see, Amos?' he asked. 'A basket of ripe fruit,' I said. Then Yahweh said, 'The time is ripe for my people Israel; I will not continue to overlook their offences.

Amo 8:3 That day, the palace songs will turn to howls, -declares the Lord Yahweh- the corpses will be many that are thrown down everywhere. Keep silent!'

Amo 8:4 Listen to this, you who crush the needy and reduce the oppressed to nothing,

Amo 8:5 you who say, 'When will New Moon be over so that we can sell our corn, and Sabbath, so that we can market our wheat? Then, we can make the bushel-measure smaller and the shekel-weight bigger, by fraudulently tampering with the scales.

Amo 8:6 We can buy up the weak for silver and the poor for a pair of sandals, and even get a price for the sweepings of the wheat.'

Amo 8:7 Yahweh has sworn by the pride of Jacob, 'Never will I forget anything they have done.'

Amo 8:8 Will not the earth tremble for this and all who live on it lament, as it all rises together like the Nile in Egypt, it swells and then subsides like the Egyptian Nile?

Amo 8:9 'On that Day- declares the Lord Yahweh- I shall make the sun go down at noon and darken the earth in broad daylight.

Amo 8:10 I shall turn your festivals into mourning and all your singing into lamentation; I shall make you all wear sacking round your waists and have all your heads shaved. I shall make it like the mourning for an only child, and it will end like the bitterest of days.

Amo 8:11 'The days are coming- declares the Lord Yahweh- when I shall send a famine on the country, not hunger for food, not thirst for water, but famine for hearing Yahweh's word.'

Amo 8:12 People will stagger from sea to sea, will wander from the north to the east, searching for Yahweh's word, but will not find it.

Amo 8:13 'That Day, fine girls and stalwart youths will faint from thirst.'

Amo 8:14 The people who swear by the Sin of Samaria, who say, "Long live your god, Dan!" and "Hurrah for the pilgrimage to Beersheba!" will all fall, never to rise again.'

Amo 9:1 I saw the Lord standing by the altar, and he said, 'Strike the top of the pillar so that the thresholds shake! Smash their heads in, one and all! And I shall put any survivors to the sword; whoever runs away will not run far, whoever escapes will not make good his escape.'

Amo 9:2 Should they burrow into Sheol, my hand will haul them out; should they climb to heaven, I shall bring them down.

Amo 9:3 Should they hide on the top of Carmel, I shall track them down and catch them; should they hide from me on the sea bed, I shall order the Serpent there to bite them;

Amo 9:4 if their enemies herd them into captivity, I shall order the sword to kill them there, and I shall fix my eyes on them for evil and not for good.'

Amo 9:5 Lord Yahweh Sabaoth- he touches the earth and it melts, and all living things on it lament, as all rises together like the Nile in Egypt and then subsides like the Egyptian Nile.

Amo 9:6 He who builds his mansions in the heavens, supporting his vault on the earth; who summons the waters of the sea and pours them over the surface of the land: Yahweh is his name.

Amo 9:7 Are not you and the Cushites all the same to me, children of Israel? - declares Yahweh. Did I not bring Israel up from Egypt and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Aramaeans from Kir?

Amo 9:8 Look, Lord Yahweh's eyes are on the sinful kingdom, I shall wipe it off the face of the earth, although I shall not destroy the House of Jacob completely -declares Yahweh.

Amo 9:9 For look, I shall give the command and shall shake out the House of Israel among all nations as a sieve is shaken out without one grain falling on the ground.

Amo 9:10 All the sinners of my people will perish by the sword, who say, 'Disaster will never approach or overtake us.'

Amo 9:11 On that Day, I shall rebuild the tottering hut of David, make good the gaps in it, restore its ruins and rebuild it as it was in the days of old,

Amo 9:12 for them to be master of what is left of Edom and of all the nations once called mine -Yahweh declares, and he will perform it.

Amo 9:13 The days are coming- declares Yahweh- when the ploughman will tread on the heels of the reaper, and the treader of grapes on the heels of the sower of seed, and the mountains will run with new wine and the hills all flow with it.

Amo 9:14 I shall restore the fortunes of my people Israel; they will rebuild the ruined cities and live in them, they will plant vineyards and drink their wine, they will lay out gardens and eat their produce.

Amo 9:15 And I shall plant them in their own soil and they will never be uprooted again from the country which I have given them, declares Yahweh, your God.

Oba 1:1 Vision of Obadiah: about Edom. I have received a message from Yahweh, a herald has been sent throughout the nations: 'Up! Let us march against this people. Into battle!' The Lord Yahweh says this:

Oba 1:2 Look, I have reduced you to the smallest of nations, you are now beneath contempt.

Oba 1:3 Your proud heart has misled you, you whose home is in the crannies of the Rock, who make the heights your dwelling, who think to yourself, 'Who can bring me down to earth?'

Oba 1:4 Though you soar like an eagle, though you set your nest among the stars, I shall bring you down from there!-declares Yahweh.

Oba 1:5 If thieves were to come to you (or robbers during the night) surely they would steal only as much as they wanted? If grape-pickers were to come to you, surely they would leave a few gleanings? But how you have been pillaged!

Oba 1:6 How Esau has been looted, his hidden treasures routed out!

Oba 1:7 Your allies all pursued you right to the frontier, your confederates kept you in suspense, then got the better of you, your own guests laid a trap for you, 'He has quite lost his wits.'

Oba 1:8 When that day comes- declares Yahweh- shall I not eliminate sages from Edom and intelligence from Mount Esau?

Oba 1:9 Your warriors, Teman, will be so demoralised that the people of Mount Esau will be massacred to the last one. For the slaughter, Oba 1:10 for the violence done to your brother Jacob, shame will cover you and you will be annihilated for ever.

Oba 1:11 On the day, when you stood aloof while strangers carried off his riches, while foreigners passed through his gate and cast lots for Jerusalem, you were as bad as the rest of them.

Oba 1:12 Do not feast your eyes on your brother on the day of his misfortune. Do not gloat over the children of Judah on the day of their ruin. Do not play the braggart on the day of distress.

Oba 1:13 Do not enter my people's gate on their day of calamity. Do not, you especially, feast your eyes on their suffering on their day of calamity. Do not touch their possessions on their day of calamity.

Oba 1:14 Do not wait at the crossroads to annihilate their fugitives. Do not hand over their survivors on the day of distress.

Oba 1:15 For the Day of Yahweh is near for all the nations. As you have done, so will it be done to you: your deeds will recoil on your own head.

Oba 1:16 Just as you have drunk on my holy mountain, so will all the nations drink continually, they will drink, will drink greedily, but they will be as though they had never been!

Oba 1:17 But on Mount Zion will be those who have escaped -it will be a sanctuary- and the House of Jacob will recover what is rightfully theirs.

Oba 1:18 Then the House of Jacob will be a fire, the House of Joseph a flame, and the House of Esau like stubble. They will set it alight and burn it up, and no one of the House of Esau will survive. Yahweh has spoken.

Oba 1:19 People from the Negeb will occupy the Mount of Esau, people from the lowlands the country of the Philistines; they will occupy Ephraim and Samaria, and Benjamin will occupy Gilead.

Oba 1:20 The exiles of this army, the sons of Israel, will have the Canaanites' land as far as Zarephthah, while the exiles from Jerusalem now in Sepharad will have the cities of the Negeb.

Oba 1:21 Victorious, they will climb Mount Zion to rule over Mount Esau, and sovereignty will be Yahweh's!

Jon 1:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to Jonah son of Amitai:

Jon 1:2 'Up!' he said, 'Go to Nineveh, the great city, and proclaim to them that their wickedness has forced itself upon me.'

Jon 1:3 Jonah set about running away from Yahweh, and going to Tarshish. He went down to Jaffa and found a ship bound for Tarshish; he paid his fare and boarded it, to go with them to Tarshish, to get away from Yahweh.

Jon 1:4 But Yahweh threw a hurricane at the sea, and there was such a great storm at sea that the ship threatened to break up.

Jon 1:5 The sailors took fright, and each of them called on his own god, and to lighten the ship they threw the cargo overboard. Jonah, however, had gone below, had lain down in the hold and was fast asleep,

Jon 1:6 when the boatswain went up to him and said, 'What do you mean by sleeping? Get up! Call on your god! Perhaps he will spare us a thought and not leave us to die.'

Jon 1:7 Then they said to each other, 'Come on, let us draw lots to find out who is to blame for bringing us this bad luck.' So they cast lots, and the lot pointed to Jonah.

Jon 1:8 Then they said to him, 'Tell us, what is your business? Where do you come from? What is your country? What is your nationality?'

Jon 1:9 He replied, 'I am a Hebrew, and I worship Yahweh, God of Heaven, who made both sea and dry land.'

Jon 1:10 The sailors were seized with terror at this and said, 'Why ever did you do this?' since they knew that he was trying to escape from Yahweh, because he had told them so.

Jon 1:11 They then said, 'What are we to do with you, to make the sea calm down for us?' For the sea was growing rougher and rougher.

Jon 1:12 He replied, 'Take me and throw me into the sea, and then it will calm down for you. I know it is my fault that this great storm has struck you.'

Jon 1:13 The sailors rowed hard in an effort to reach the shore, but in vain, since the sea was growing rougher and rougher.

Jon 1:14 So at last they called on Yahweh and said, 'O, Yahweh, do not let us perish for the sake of this man's life, and do not hold us responsible for causing an innocent man's death; for you, Yahweh, have acted as you saw fit.'

Jon 1:15 And taking hold of Jonah they threw him into the sea; and the sea stopped raging.

Jon 1:16 At this, the men were seized with dread of Yahweh; they offered a sacrifice to Yahweh and made vows to him.

Jon 2:1 Now Yahweh ordained that a great fish should swallow Jonah; and Jonah remained in the belly of the fish for three days and three nights.

Jon 2:2 From the belly of the fish, Jonah prayed to Yahweh, his God; he said:

Jon 2:3 Out of my distress I cried to Yahweh and he answered me, from the belly of Sheol I cried out; you heard my voice!

Jon 2:4 For you threw me into the deep, into the heart of the seas, and the floods closed round me. All your waves and billows passed over me;

Jon 2:5 then I thought, 'I am banished from your sight; how shall I ever see your holy Temple again?'

Jon 2:6 The waters round me rose to my neck, the deep was closing round me, seaweed twining round my head.

Jon 2:7 To the roots of the mountains, I sank into the underworld, and its bars closed round me for ever. But you raised my life from the Pit, Yahweh my God!

Jon 2:8 When my soul was growing ever weaker, Yahweh, I remembered you, and my prayer reached you in your holy Temple.

Jon 2:9 Some abandon their faithful love by worshipping false gods,

Jon 2:10 but I shall sacrifice to you with songs of praise. The vow I have made I shall fulfil! Salvation comes from Yahweh!

Jon 2:11 Yahweh spoke to the fish, which then vomited Jonah onto the dry land.

Jon 3:1 The word of Yahweh was addressed to Jonah a second time.

Jon 3:2 'Up!' he said, 'Go to Nineveh, the great city, and preach to it as I shall tell you.'

Jon 3:3 Jonah set out and went to Nineveh in obedience to the word of Yahweh. Now Nineveh was a city great beyond compare; to cross it took three days.

Jon 3:4 Jonah began by going a day's journey into the city and then proclaimed, 'Only forty days more and Nineveh will be overthrown.'

Jon 3:5 And the people of Nineveh believed in God; they proclaimed a fast and put on sackcloth, from the greatest to the least.

Jon 3:6 When the news reached the king of Nineveh, he rose from his throne, took off his robe, put on sackcloth and sat down in ashes.

Jon 3:7 He then had it proclaimed throughout Nineveh, by decree of the king and his nobles, as follows: 'No person or animal, herd or flock, may eat anything; they may not graze, they may not drink any water.'

Jon 3:8 All must put on sackcloth and call on God with all their might; and let everyone renounce his evil ways and violent behaviour.

Jon 3:9 Who knows? Perhaps God will change his mind and relent and renounce his burning wrath, so that we shall not perish.'

Jon 3:10 God saw their efforts to renounce their evil ways. And God relented about the disaster which he had threatened to bring on them, and did not bring it.

Jon 4:1 This made Jonah very indignant; he fell into a rage.

Jon 4:2 He prayed to Yahweh and said, 'Please, Yahweh, isn't this what I said would happen when I was still in my own country? That was why I first tried to flee to Tarshish, since I knew you were a tender, compassionate God, slow to anger, rich in faithful love, who relents about inflicting disaster.'

Jon 4:3 So now, Yahweh, please take my life, for I might as well be dead as go on living.'

Jon 4:4 Yahweh replied, 'Are you right to be angry?'

Jon 4:5 Jonah then left the city and sat down to the east of the city. There he made himself a shelter and sat under it in the shade, to see what would happen to the city.

Jon 4:6 Yahweh God then ordained that a castor-oil plant should grow up over Jonah to give shade for his head and soothe his ill-humour; Jonah was delighted with the castor-oil plant.

Jon 4:7 But at dawn the next day, God ordained that a worm should attack the castor-oil plant -- and it withered.

Jon 4:8 Next, when the sun rose, God ordained that there should be a scorching east wind; the sun beat down so hard on Jonah's head that he was overcome and begged for death, saying, 'I might as well be dead as go on living.'

Jon 4:9 God said to Jonah, 'Are you right to be angry about the castor-oil plant?' He replied, 'I have every right to be angry, mortally angry!'

Jon 4:10 Yahweh replied, 'You are concerned for the castor-oil plant which has not cost you any effort and which you did not grow, which came up in a night and has perished in a night.'

Jon 4:11 So why should I not be concerned for Nineveh, the great city, in which there are more than a hundred and twenty thousand people who cannot tell their right hand from their left, to say nothing of all the animals?'

Mic 1:1 The word of Yahweh which came to Micah of Moresheth during the reigns of Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah kings of Judah. His visions about Samaria and Jerusalem.

Mic 1:2 Listen, all you peoples, attend, earth and everyone on it! Yahweh intends to give evidence against you, the Lord, from his holy temple.

Mic 1:3 For look, Yahweh is leaving his home, down he comes, he treads the heights of earth.

Mic 1:4 Beneath him, the mountains melt, and valleys are torn open, like wax near a fire, like water pouring down a slope.

Mic 1:5 All this is because of the crime of Jacob, the sin of the House of Israel. What is the crime of Jacob? Is it not Samaria? What is the sin of the House of Judah? Is it not Jerusalem?

Mic 1:6 So I shall make Samaria a ruin in the open country, a place for planting vines. I shall send her stones rolling into the valley, until I have laid her foundations bare.

Mic 1:7 All her images will be shattered, all her earnings consumed by fire. I shall leave all her idols derelict-they were amassed out of prostitutes' earnings and prostitutes' earnings once more they will be.

Mic 1:8 This is why I shall howl and wail, why I shall go barefoot and naked, why I shall howl like the jackals, why I shall shriek like the owls;

Mic 1:9 for there is no cure for the wounds that Yahweh inflicts: the blow falls on Judah, it falls on the gateway of my people, on Jerusalem itself.

Mic 1:10 Do not announce it in Gath, in . . . shed no tears! In Beth-Leaphrah roll in the dust!

Mic 1:11 Sound the horn, inhabitant of Shaphir! She has not left her city, she who lives in Zaanan. Beth-Ezel is torn from its foundations, from its strong supports.

Mic 1:12 What hope has she of happiness, she who lives in Maroth? Instead Yahweh sent down disaster on the gateway of Jerusalem itself!

Mic 1:13 Harness the horse to the chariot, you inhabitant of Lachish! That is where the sin of the daughter of Zion began; the crimes of Israel can be traced to you!

Mic 1:14 And so you must provide a dowry for Moresheth-Gath. Beth-Achzib will prove a disappointment for the kings of Israel.

Mic 1:15 The plunderer will come to you again, you citizen of Mareshah! And into Adullam will vanish the glory of Israel.

Mic 1:16 Off with your hair, shave your head, for the children that were your joy. Make yourselves bald like the vulture, for they have left you for exile.

Mic 2:1 Disaster for those who plot evil, who lie in bed planning mischief! No sooner is it dawn than they do it, since they have the power to do so.

Mic 2:2 Seizing the fields that they covet, they take over houses as well, owner and house they seize alike, the man himself as well as his inheritance.

Mic 2:3 So Yahweh says this: Look, I am now plotting a disaster for this breed from which you will not extricate your necks; you will not hold your heads up then, for the times will be disastrous indeed.

Mic 2:4 That day they will make a satire on you, they will strike up a dirge and say, 'We have been stripped of everything; my people's land has been divided up, no one else can restore it to them, our fields have been awarded to our despoiler.'

Mic 2:5 Because of this, you will have no one to measure out a share in Yahweh's community.

Mic 2:6 'Do not drivel,' they drivel, 'do not drivel like this! Disgrace will not overtake us!'

Mic 2:7 'Can the House of Jacob be accursed? Has Yahweh grown short-tempered? Is that his way of going to work? His prophecies can only be favourable for his people Israel!'

Mic 2:8 But you are the ones who play the enemy to my people. From the inoffensive man you snatch his cloak, on those who feel safe you inflict the damage of war.

Mic 2:9 My people's women you evict from the homes they love, and deprive the children of my glory for ever,

Mic 2:10 saying, 'Up and off with you! You can't stay here!' For a worthless thing you exact an extortionate pledge.

Mic 2:11 If a man of the spirit came and invented this lie, 'I prophesy wine and liquor for you,' he would be the prophet for a people like this.

Mic 2:12 I shall assemble the whole of Jacob, I shall gather the remnant of Israel, I shall gather them together like sheep in an enclosure. And like a flock within their fold, they will bleat far away from anyone, Mic 2:13 their leader will break out first, then all break out through the gate and escape, with their king leading the way and with Yahweh at their head.

Mic 3:1 Then I said, 'Kindly listen, you leaders of the House of Jacob, you princes of the House of Israel. Surely you are the ones who ought to know what is right,

Mic 3:2 and yet you hate what is good and love what is evil, skinning people alive, pulling the flesh off their bones,

Mic 3:3 eating my people's flesh, stripping off their skin, breaking up their bones, chopping them up small like flesh for the pot, like meat in the stew-pan?'

Mic 3:4 Then they will call to Yahweh, but he will not answer them. When the time comes he will hide his face from them because of the crimes they have committed.

Mic 3:5 Yahweh says this against the prophets who lead my people astray: So long as they have something to eat they cry 'Peace'. But on anyone who puts nothing into their mouths they declare war.

Mic 3:6 And so, for you, night will be without vision and for you the darkness without divination. The sun will set for the prophets, the daylight will go black above them.

Mic 3:7 Then the seers will be covered with shame, the diviners with confusion; they will all put their hands over their mouths because there is no answer from God.

Mic 3:8 Not so with me, I am full of strength (full of Yahweh's spirit), of the sense of right, of energy to accuse Jacob of his crime and Israel of his sin.

Mic 3:9 Kindly listen to this, you leaders of the House of Jacob, you princes of the House of Israel, who detest justice, wresting it from its honest course, Mic 3:10 who build Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity!

Mic 3:11 Her leaders give verdicts for presents, her priests take a fee for their rulings, her prophets divine for money and yet they rely on Yahweh! 'Isn't Yahweh among us?' they say, 'No disaster is going to overtake us.'

Mic 3:12 That is why, thanks to you, Zion will become ploughland, Jerusalem a heap of rubble and the Temple Mount a wooded height.

Mic 4:1 But in days to come Yahweh's Temple Mountain will tower above the mountains, rise higher than the hills.

Mic 4:2 Then the peoples will stream to it, then many nations will come and say, 'Come, we will go up to Yahweh's mountain, to the Temple of the God of Jacob, so that he may teach us his ways and we may walk in his paths; for the Law issues from Zion and Yahweh's word from Jerusalem.'

Mic 4:3 He will judge between many peoples and arbitrate between mighty nations. They will hammer their swords into ploughshares and their spears into bill-hooks. Nation will not lift sword against nation or ever again be trained to make war.

Mic 4:4 But each man will sit under his vine and fig tree with no one to trouble him. The mouth of Yahweh Sabaoth has spoken.

Mic 4:5 For all peoples go forward, each in the name of its god, while we go forward in the name of Yahweh our God for ever and ever.

Mic 4:6 That day -- declares Yahweh- I shall gather in the lame and bring together the strays and those whom I have treated harshly.

Mic 4:7 From the footsore I shall make a remnant, and from the far-flung a mighty nation. And Yahweh will reign over them on Mount Zion thenceforth and for ever.

Mic 4:8 And to you, Tower of the Flock, Ophel of the daughter of Zion, to you your former sovereignty will return, the royal power of the daughter of Jerusalem.

Mic 4:9 Why are you crying out now? Have you no king? Has your counsellor perished, for pangs to grip you like those of a woman in labour?

Mic 4:10 Writhe in pain and cry aloud, daughter of Zion, like a woman in labour, for now you must leave the city and camp in the open country; to Babylon you must go, and there you will be rescued; there Yahweh will ransom you from the clutches of your enemies.

Mic 4:11 Now many nations have mustered against you. They say, 'Let us desecrate her, let us gloat over Zion!'

Mic 4:12 But they do not know Yahweh's thoughts, they do not understand his design: he has collected them like sheaves on the threshing-floor.

Mic 4:13 Start your threshing, daughter of Zion, for I shall make your horn like iron, I shall make your hooves like bronze, so that you can crush many peoples. And you will devote what they have stolen to Yahweh, their wealth to the Lord of the whole earth.

Mic 4:14 Now look to your fortifications, Fortress! They have laid siege to us; the ruler of Israel will be struck on the cheek with a rod.

Mic 5:1 But you (Bethlehem) Ephrathah, the least of the clans of Judah, from you will come for me a future ruler of Israel whose origins go back to the distant past, to the days of old.

Mic 5:2 Hence Yahweh will abandon them only until she who is in labour gives birth, and then those who survive of his race will be reunited to the Israelites.

Mic 5:3 He will take his stand and he will shepherd them with the power of Yahweh, with the majesty of the name of his God, and they will be secure, for his greatness will extend henceforth to the most distant parts of the country.

Mic 5:4 He himself will be peace! Should the Assyrian invade our country, should he set foot in our land, we shall raise seven shepherds against him, eight leaders of men;

Mic 5:5 they will shepherd Assyria with the sword, the country of Nimrod with naked blade. He will save us from the Assyrian, should he invade our country, should he set foot inside our frontiers.

Mic 5:6 Then what is left of Jacob, surrounded by many peoples, will be like a dew from Yahweh, like showers on the grass, which do not depend on human agency and are beyond human control.

Mic 5:7 Then what is left of Jacob, surrounded by many peoples, will be like a lion among the forest beasts, like a fierce lion among flocks of sheep trampling as he goes, mangling his prey which no one takes from him.

Mic 5:8 You will be victorious over your foes and all your enemies will be torn to pieces.

Mic 5:9 When that day comes- declares Yahweh- I shall tear your horses away from you, I shall destroy your chariots;

Mic 5:10 I shall tear the cities from your country, I shall overthrow all your fortresses;

Mic 5:11 I shall tear the spells out of your hands and you will have no more soothsayers;

Mic 5:12 I shall tear away your images and your sacred pillars from among you, and no longer will you worship things which your own hands have made!

Mic 5:13 I shall uproot your sacred poles and shall destroy your cities!

Mic 5:14 In furious anger I shall wreak vengeance on the nations who have disobeyed me!

Mic 6:1 Now listen to what Yahweh says: 'Stand up, state your case to the mountains and let the hills hear what you have to say!'

Mic 6:2 Listen, mountains, to the case as Yahweh puts it, give ear, you foundations of the earth, for Yahweh has a case against his people and he will argue it with Israel.

Mic 6:3 'My people, what have I done to you, how have I made you tired of me? Answer me!

Mic 6:4 For I brought you up from Egypt, I ransomed you from the place of slave-labour and sent Moses, Aaron and Miriam to lead you.

Mic 6:5 My people, please remember: what was Balak king of Moab's plan and how did Balaam son of Beor answer him? . . . from Shittim to Gilgal, for you to know Yahweh's saving justice.

Mic 6:6 'With what shall I enter Yahweh's presence and bow down before God All-high? Shall I enter with burnt offerings, with calves one year old?

Mic 6:7 Will he be pleased with rams by the thousand, with ten thousand streams of oil? Shall I offer my eldest son for my wrong-doing, the child of my own body for my sin?

Mic 6:8 'You have already been told what is right and what Yahweh wants of you. Only this, to do what is right, to love loyalty and to walk humbly with your God.'

Mic 6:9 Yahweh's voice! He thunders to the city, 'Listen, tribe of assembled citizens!'

Mic 6:10 Can I overlook the false measure, that abomination, the short bushel?

Mic 6:11 Can I connive at rigged scales and at the bag of fraudulent weights?

Mic 6:12 For the rich there are steeped in violence, and the citizens there are habitual liars.

Mic 6:13 'I myself have therefore begun to strike you down, to bring you to ruin for your sins.

Mic 6:14 You will eat but not be satisfied; you will store up but never keep safe; what you do keep safe I shall hand over to the sword;

Mic 6:15 you will sow but will not reap, press the olive but will not rub yourself with oil, tread the grape but will not drink the wine.

Mic 6:16 'For you keep the laws of Omri; what the House of Ahab did, you have done; by modelling yourselves on their standards, you force me to make an appalling example of you and reduce your citizens to a laughing-stock; hence you will endure the scorn of other peoples.'

Mic 7:1 How wretched I am, a harvester in summer time, like a gleaner at the vintage: not a single cluster to eat, none of those early figs I love!

Mic 7:2 The faithful have vanished from the land: there is no one honest left. All of them are on the alert for blood, every man hunting his brother with a net.

Mic 7:3 Their hands are adept at wrong-doing: the official makes his demands, the judge gives judgement for a bribe, the man in power pronounces as he pleases.

Mic 7:4 The best of them is like a briar, the most honest of them like a thorn-hedge. Now from the north their punishment approaches! That will be when they are confounded!

Mic 7:5 Trust no neighbour, put no confidence in a friend; do not open your mouth to the wife who shares your bed.

Mic 7:6 For son insults father, daughter rebels against mother, daughter-in-law against mother-in-law; a person's enemies come from within the household itself.

Mic 7:7 But I shall look to Yahweh, my hope is in the God who will save me; my God will hear me.

Mic 7:8 Do not gloat over me, my enemy: though I have fallen, I shall rise; though I live in darkness, Yahweh is my light.

Mic 7:9 I must endure Yahweh's anger for I have sinned against him, until he takes up my cause and rights my wrongs; he will bring me out into the light, and then I shall contemplate his saving justice.

Mic 7:10 When my enemy sees this, she will be covered with shame, having sneered, 'Where is Yahweh your God?' This time, I shall be watching as she is trampled underfoot like mud in the streets.

Mic 7:11 That will be the day for rebuilding your walls! The day for expanding your frontiers!

Mic 7:12 The day when others come to you all the way from Assyria, from Egypt, from Tyre and all the way from the Euphrates, from sea to sea, from the mountains to the mountains!

Mic 7:13 The earth will become a desert by reason of its inhabitants, in return for what they have done.

Mic 7:14 With shepherd's crook lead your people to pasture, the flock that is your heritage, living confined in a forest with meadow land all round. Let them graze in Bashan and Gilead as in the days of old!

Mic 7:15 As in the days when you came out of Egypt, grant us to see wonders!

Mic 7:16 The nations will see and be confounded in spite of all their power; they will put their hands over their mouths, their ears will be deafened.

Mic 7:17 They will lick the dust like snakes, like reptiles that crawl on the earth. They will creep trembling out of their lairs, in terror before you.

Mic 7:18 What god can compare with you for pardoning guilt and for overlooking crime? He does not harbour anger for ever, since he delights in showing faithful love.

Mic 7:19 Once more have pity on us, tread down our faults; throw all our sins to the bottom of the sea.

Mic 7:20 Grant Jacob your faithfulness, and Abraham your faithful love, as you swore to our ancestors from the days of long ago.

Nah 1:1 Prophecy about Nineveh. Book of the vision of Nahum of Elkosh.

Nah 1:2 Yahweh is a jealous and vengeful God, Yahweh takes vengeance, he is rich in wrath; Yahweh takes vengeance on his foes, he stores up fury for his enemies.

Nah 1:3 Yahweh is slow to anger but great in power, Yahweh never lets evil go unpunished. In storm and whirlwind he takes his way, the clouds are the dust stirred up by his feet.

Nah 1:4 He rebukes the sea, dries it up, and makes all the rivers run dry. . . . Bashan and Carmel wither, the greenery of the Lebanon withers too.

Nah 1:5 The mountains tremble before him, the hills reel; the earth collapses before him, the world and all who live in it.

Nah 1:6 His fury -- who can withstand it? Who can endure his burning wrath? His anger pours out like fire and the rocks break apart before him.

Nah 1:7 Yahweh is better than a fortress in time of distress; he recognises those who trust in him

Nah 1:8 even when the flood rushes on; he will make an end once and for all of those who defy him, and pursue his foes into darkness.

Nah 1:9 What are your thoughts about Yahweh? He it is who makes a final end: his adversaries will not rise up a second time;

Nah 1:10 like a thicket of tangled brambles, like dry straw, they will be burnt up completely. To Assyria

Nah 1:11 From you has emerged someone plotting evil against Yahweh, one of Belial's counsellors. To Judah

Nah 1:12 Yahweh says this: Unopposed and many though they be, they will be cut down and pass away.

Though I have made you suffer, I shall make you suffer no more,

Nah 1:13 for now I shall break his yoke which presses hard on you and snap your chains. To the king of Nineveh

Nah 1:14 As for you, this is Yahweh's decree: You will have no heirs to your name, from the temple of your gods I shall remove carved image and cast image, and I shall devastate your tomb, for you are accursed!

Nah 2:1 To Judah See on the mountains the feet of the herald! 'Peace!' he proclaims. Judah, celebrate your feasts, carry out your vows, for Belial will never pass through you again; he has been utterly destroyed.

Nah 2:2 The destroyer has advanced on you, guarding the siege-works, watching the road, bracing himself, mustering great strength!

Nah 2:3 (For Yahweh has restored the vine of Jacob, yes, the vine of Israel, although the plunderers had plundered them, although they had snapped off their vine-shoots!)

Nah 2:4 The shields of his fighting men show red, his warriors are dressed in scarlet; the metal of the chariots sparkles as he prepares for battle; the horsemen are impatient for action;

Nah 2:5 the chariots storm through the streets, jostling one another in the squares; they look like blazing flames, like lightning they dash to and fro.

Nah 2:6 His captains are called out; stumbling as they go, they speed towards the wall, and the mantelet is put in position.

Nah 2:7 The sluices of the River are opened, and the palace melts in terror.

Nah 2:8 Beauty is taken captive, carried away, her slave-girls moaning like doves

Nah 2:9 and beating their breasts. Nineveh is like a lake, whose waters are draining away. 'Stop! Stop!' But no one turns back.

Nah 2:10 'Plunder the silver! Plunder the gold!' There is no end to the treasure, a mass of everything you could desire!

Nah 2:11 Ravaged, wrecked, ruined! Heart fails and knees give way, anguish is in the loins of all, and every face grows pale!

Nah 2:12 Where is the lions' den now, the cave of the lion's whelps, where the lion and lioness walked with their cubs and no one molested them,

Nah 2:13 where the lion would tear up food for his whelps and strangle the kill for his mates, where he filled his caverns with prey and his lairs with spoil?

Nah 2:14 Look, I am against you!- declares Yahweh Sabaoth- I shall send your chariots up in smoke, and the sword will devour your whelps; I shall cut short your depredations on earth, and the voices of your envoys will be heard no more.

Nah 3:1 Disaster to the city of blood, packed throughout with lies, stuffed with booty, where plundering has no end!

Nah 3:2 The crack of the whip! The rumble of wheels! Galloping horse, jolting chariot,

Nah 3:3 charging cavalry, flashing swords, gleaming spears, a mass of wounded, hosts of dead, countless corpses; they stumble over corpses-

Nah 3:4 because of the countless whorings of the harlot, the graceful beauty, the cunning witch, who enslaved nations by her harlotries and tribes by her spells.

Nah 3:5 Look, I am against you!- declares Yahweh Sabaoth- I shall lift your skirts as high as your face and show your nakedness to the nations, your shame to the kingdoms.

Nah 3:6 I shall pelt you with filth, I shall shame you and put you in the pillory.

Nah 3:7 Then all who look at you will shrink from you and say, 'Nineveh has been ruined!' Who will mourn for her? Where would I find people to comfort you?

Nah 3:8 Are you better off than No-Amon situated among rivers, her defences the seas, her rampart the waters?

Nah 3:9 In Ethiopia and Egypt lay her strength, and it was boundless; Put and the Libyans served in her army.

Nah 3:10 But she too went into exile, into captivity; her little ones too were dashed to pieces at every crossroad; lots were drawn for her nobles, all her great men were put in chains.

Nah 3:11 You too will become drunk, you will go into hiding; you too will have to search for a refuge from the enemy.

Nah 3:12 Your fortifications are all fig trees, with early ripening figs: as soon as they are shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

Nah 3:13 Look at your people: you are a nation of women! The gates of your country gape open to your enemies; fire has devoured their bars!

Nah 3:14 Draw yourselves water for the siege, strengthen your fortifications! Into the mud with you, puddle the clay, repair the brick-kiln!

Nah 3:15 There the fire will burn you up, the sword will cut you down. Make yourselves as numerous as locusts, make yourselves as numerous as the hoppers,

Nah 3:16 let your commercial agents outnumber the stars of heaven,

Nah 3:17 your garrisons, like locusts, and your marshals, like swarms of hoppers! They settle on the walls when the day is cold. The sun appears, the locusts spread their wings, they fly away,away they fly, no one knows where. Alas,

Nah 3:18 your shepherds are asleep, king of Assyria, your bravest men slumber; your people are scattered on the mountains with no one to gather them.

Nah 3:19 There is no remedy for your wound, your injury is past healing. All who hear the news of you clap their hands at your downfall. For who has not felt your unrelenting cruelty?

Hab 1:1 The charge that Habakkuk the prophet received in a vision.

Hab 1:2 How long, Yahweh, am I to cry for help while you will not listen; to cry, 'Violence!' in your ear while you will not save?

Hab 1:3 Why do you make me see wrong-doing, why do you countenance oppression? Plundering and violence confront me, contention and discord flourish.

Hab 1:4 And so the law loses its grip and justice never emerges, since the wicked outwits the upright and so justice comes out perverted.

Hab 1:5 Cast your eyes over the nations, look, and be amazed, astounded. For I am doing something in your own days which you will not believe if you are told of it.

Hab 1:6 For look, I am stirring up the Chaldaeans, that fierce and fiery nation who march miles across country to seize the homes of others.

Hab 1:7 They are dreadful and awesome, a law and authority to themselves.

Hab 1:8 Their horses are swifter than leopards, fiercer than wolves at night; their horsemen gallop on, their horsemen advance from afar, swooping like an eagle anxious to feed.

Hab 1:9 They are all bent on violence, their faces scorching like an east wind; they scoop up prisoners like sand.

Hab 1:10 They scoff at kings, they despise princes. They make light of all fortresses: they heap up earth and take them.

Hab 1:11 Then the wind changes and is gone . . . Guilty is he who makes his strength his god.

Hab 1:12 Surely you, Yahweh, are from ancient times, my holy God, who never dies! Yahweh, you have appointed him to execute judgement; O Rock, you have set him firm to punish.

Hab 1:13 Your eyes are too pure to rest on evil, you cannot look on at oppression. Why do you look on at those who play the traitor, why say nothing while the wicked swallows someone more upright than himself?

Hab 1:14 Why treat people like fish of the sea, like gliding creatures who have no leader?

Hab 1:15 They haul them all up on their hook, they catch them in their net, they sweep them up in their dragnet and then make merry and rejoice.

Hab 1:16 And so they offer a sacrifice to their net, and burn incense to their dragnet, for by these they get a rich living and live off the fat of the land.

Hab 1:17 Are they to go on emptying their net unceasingly, slaughtering the nations without pity?

Hab 2:1 I shall stand at my post, I shall station myself on my watch-tower, watching to see what he will say to me, what answer he will make to my complaints.

Hab 2:2 Then Yahweh answered me and said, 'Write the vision down, inscribe it on tablets to be easily read.'

Hab 2:3 For the vision is for its appointed time, it hastens towards its end and it will not lie; although it may take some time, wait for it, for come it certainly will before too long.

Hab 2:4 'You see, anyone whose heart is not upright will succumb, but the upright will live through faithfulness.'

Hab 2:5 Now, surely, wealth is treacherous! He is arrogant, for ever on the move, with appetite as large as Sheol and as insatiable as Death, gathering in all the nations, and making a harvest of all peoples.

Hab 2:6 Are not the peoples all bound to satirise and make up cryptic riddles about him? As for instance: Disaster to anyone who amasses goods not his (for how long?) and to anyone who weighs himself down with goods taken in pledge!

Hab 2:7 Will not your creditors suddenly stand up, will not those who make you shiver wake up, and you will fall a prey to them?

Hab 2:8 Since you have plundered many nations, all the nations that remain will plunder you, because of the bloodshed and violence done to the country, to the city and to all who live in it.

Hab 2:9 Disaster to anyone who amasses ill-gotten gains for his house, so as to fix his nest on high and so evade the reach of misfortune!

Hab 2:10 You have conspired to bring shame on your house: by overthrowing many peoples you have worked your own ruin.

Hab 2:11 For the very stone will protest from the wall, and the beam will respond from the framework.

Hab 2:12 Disaster to anyone who builds a town with bloodshed and founds a city on wrong-doing!

Hab 2:13 Is it not thanks to Yahweh Sabaoth that the peoples' toil is fuel for the fire, and the nations' labour came to nothing?

Hab 2:14 But the earth will be full of the knowledge of the glory of Yahweh as the waters cover the depths of the sea.

Hab 2:15 Disaster to anyone who makes his neighbours drink, pouring out his poison until they are drunk, so that he can see them naked!

Hab 2:16 You are full of shame, not glory! Your turn now to drink and show your foreskin. The cup in Yahweh's right hand comes round to you, and disgrace will overshadow your glory.

Hab 2:17 For the violence done to the Lebanon will overwhelm you and the massacre of animals will terrify you, because of the bloodshed and violence done to the country, to the city and to all who live in it. Disaster to anyone who says to the log, 'Wake up!', to the dumb stone, 'On your feet!' (This is the prophecy!) Look, he is encased in gold and silver, -but not a breath of life inside it!

Hab 2:18 What use is a sculpted image that a sculptor should make it? - a metal image, a lying instructor! And why does the image-maker put his trust in it, that he should make dumb idols?

Hab 2:19

Hab 2:20 But Yahweh is in his holy Temple: let the whole earth be silent before him.

Hab 3:1 A prayer of the prophet Habakkuk; tone as for dirges.

Hab 3:2 Yahweh, I have heard of your renown; your work, Yahweh, inspires me with dread. Make it live again in our time, make it known in our time; in wrath remember mercy.

Hab 3:3 Eloah comes from Teman, and the Holy One from Mount Paran. Pause His majesty covers the heavens, and his glory fills the earth.

Hab 3:4 His brightness is like the day, rays flash from his hands, that is where his power lies hidden.

Hab 3:5 Pestilence goes before him and Plague follows close behind.

Hab 3:6 When he stands up, he makes the earth tremble, with his glance he makes the nations quake. And the eternal mountains are dislodged, the everlasting hills sink down, his pathway from of old.

Hab 3:7 I saw the tents of Cushan in trouble, the tent-curtains of Midian shuddering.

Hab 3:8 Yahweh, are you enraged with the rivers, are you angry with the sea, that you should mount your chargers, your rescuing chariots?

Hab 3:9 You uncover your bow, and give the string its fill of arrows. Pause
Hab 3:10 the mountains see you and tremble, great floods sweep by, the abyss roars aloud, lifting high its waves.

Hab 3:11 Sun and moon stay inside their dwellings, they flee at the light of your arrows, at the flash of your lightning-spear.

Hab 3:12 In rage you stride across the land, in anger you trample the nations.

Hab 3:13 You marched to save your people, to save your anointed one; you wounded the head of the house of the wicked, laid bare the foundation to the rock. Pause

Hab 3:14 With your shafts you pierced the leader of his warriors who stormed out with shouts of joy to scatter us, as if they meant to devour some poor wretch in their lair.

Hab 3:15 With your horses you trampled through the sea, through the surging abyss!

Hab 3:16 When I heard, I trembled to the core, my lips quivered at the sound; my bones became disjointed and my legs gave way beneath me. Calmly I await the day of anguish which is dawning on the people now attacking us.

Hab 3:17 (For the fig tree is not to blossom, nor will the vines bear fruit, the olive crop will disappoint and the fields will yield no food; the sheep will vanish from the fold; no cattle in the stalls.)

Hab 3:18 But I shall rejoice in Yahweh, I shall exult in God my Saviour.

Hab 3:19 Yahweh my Lord is my strength, he will make my feet as light as a doe's, and set my steps on the heights. For the choirmaster; on stringed instruments.

Zep 1:1 The word of Yahweh which was addressed to Zephaniah son of Cushi, son of Gedaliah, son of Amariah, son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah son of Amon king of Judah.

Zep 1:2 I shall sweep away everything off the face of the earth, declares Yahweh.

Zep 1:3 I shall sweep away humans and animals, the birds of the air and the fish of the sea, I shall topple the wicked and wipe all people off the face of the earth -declares Yahweh.

Zep 1:4 I shall raise my hand against Judah and against all who live in Jerusalem, and from this place I will wipe out Baal's remnant, the very name of his priests,

Zep 1:5 and those who prostrate themselves on the roofs before the array of heaven, and those who prostrate themselves before Yahweh but swear by Milcom,

Zep 1:6 and those who have turned their back on Yahweh, who do not seek Yahweh and do not consult him.

Zep 1:7 Silence before Lord Yahweh, for the Day of Yahweh is near! Yahweh has prepared a sacrifice, he has consecrated his guests.

Zep 1:8 On the Day of Yahweh's sacrifice, I shall punish the courtiers, the royal princes and all who dress in outlandish clothes.

Zep 1:9 On that day I shall punish all who go up the Step and fill the Temple of their lords, with violence and deceit.

Zep 1:10 On that Day -- declares Yahweh -- uproar will be heard from the Fish Gate, wailing from the New Quarter and a great crash from the hills.

Zep 1:11 Wail, you who live in the Hollow, for it is all over with the merchants, all the money-bags have been wiped out!

Zep 1:12 When that time comes I shall search Jerusalem by lamplight and punish the men stagnating over the remains of their wine, who say in their hearts, 'Yahweh can do nothing, either good or bad.'

Zep 1:13 For this, their wealth will be looted and their houses laid in ruins; they will build houses but not live in them, they will plant vineyards but not drink their wine.

Zep 1:14 The great Day of Yahweh is near, near, and coming with great speed. How bitter the sound of the Day of Yahweh, the Day when the warrior shouts his cry of war.

Zep 1:15 That Day is a day of retribution, a day of distress and tribulation, a day of ruin and of devastation, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of cloud and thick fog,

Zep 1:16 a day of trumpet blast and battle cry against fortified town and high corner-tower.

Zep 1:17 I shall bring such distress on humanity that they will grope their way like the blind for having sinned against Yahweh. Their blood will be poured out like mud, yes, their corpses like dung;

Zep 1:18 nor will their silver or gold be able to save them. On the Day of Yahweh's anger, by the fire of his jealousy, the whole earth will be consumed. For he will destroy, yes, annihilate everyone living on earth.

Zep 2:1 Gather together, gather together, nations without shame,

Zep 2:2 before you are dispersed like chaff which disappears in a day; before Yahweh's burning anger overtakes you (before the Day of Yahweh's anger overtakes you).

Zep 2:3 Seek Yahweh, all you humble of the earth, who obey his commands. Seek uprightness, seek humility: you may perhaps find shelter on the Day of Yahweh's anger.

Zep 2:4 For Gaza will be abandoned and Ashkelon reduced to ruins; Ashdod will be driven out in broad daylight and Ekron uprooted.

Zep 2:5 Disaster to the members of the coastal league, to the nation of the Cherethites! This is the word of Yahweh against you: I shall subdue you, land of the Philistines, I shall destroy you till there are no inhabitants left;

Zep 2:6 and the coastal league will be reduced to pasture land, to grazing grounds for shepherds and folds for sheep;

Zep 2:7 and the league will belong to the remnant of the House of Judah; they will pasture their flocks there, at night they will rest in the houses of Ashkelon; for, when Yahweh their God has punished them, he will restore their fortunes.

Zep 2:8 I have heard the taunt of Moab and the insults of the Ammonites, as they taunted my people and boasted of their own domains.

Zep 2:9 For this, as I live -- declares Yahweh Sabaoth, God of Israel -- Moab will become like Sodom and the Ammonites like Gomorrah: a realm of nettles, a heap of salt, a desolation for ever. What is left of my people will plunder them, the survivors of my nation will take their heritage.

Zep 2:10 This will be the price of their pride for having taunted and boasted over the people of Yahweh Sabaoth.

Zep 2:11 Yahweh will be fearsome to them, for he will scatter all the gods of the earth, and they will bow down to him, each from his own place -- all the islands of the nations.

Zep 2:12 You Ethiopians too will be run through by my sword.

Zep 2:13 He will raise his hand against the north and bring Assyria down in ruins; he will make Nineveh a waste, as dry as a desert.

Zep 2:14 Flocks will rest inside there, so will wild animals; pelican and porcupine will nest round her cornices at night; the owl will hoot at the window and the raven croak on the doorstep -- for the cedar has been torn down.

Zep 2:15 This is what the city will be like, once living happy and carefree and thinking to itself, 'I have no rival -- not I!' And what will it be now? A ruin, a lair for wild beasts to rest in, and everyone who passes by will whistle and throw up his hands.

Zep 3:1 Disaster to the rebellious, the befooled, the tyrannical city!

Zep 3:2 She has not listened to the call, she has not bowed to correction, she has not trusted in Yahweh, she has not drawn near to her God.

Zep 3:3 The rulers she has are roaring lions, her judges are wolves of the wastelands which leave nothing over for the morning,

Zep 3:4 her prophets are braggarts, impostors, her priests have profaned what is holy and violated the Law.

Zep 3:5 Yahweh the Upright is in her, he does no wrong; morning by morning he gives judgement, each dawn unfailingly (but the wrong-doer knows no shame).

Zep 3:6 I have exterminated the nations, their corner-towers lie in ruins; I have emptied their streets, no one walks through them; their cities have been destroyed and are now deserted and unpeopled.

Zep 3:7 I thought, 'At least you will fear me, at least you will bow to correction,' and none of the punishments I brought on them will disappear from their view. But no, it only made them more anxious to do whatever was corrupt.

Zep 3:8 So wait for me -- declares Yahweh -- for the day when I rise as accuser, for I am determined to gather the nations, to assemble the kingdoms, and on you to vent my fury, the whole heat of my anger (for the whole earth will be devoured by the fire of my jealousy).

Zep 3:9 Yes, then I shall purge the lips of the peoples, so that all may invoke the name of Yahweh and serve him shoulder to shoulder.

Zep 3:10 From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia, my suppliants will bring me tribute.

Zep 3:11 When that Day comes you will never again be ashamed of all the deeds with which you once rebelled against me, for I shall rid you of those who exult in your pride; never again will you strut on my holy mountain.

Zep 3:12 But in you I shall leave surviving a humble and lowly people,

Zep 3:13 and those who are left in Israel will take refuge in the name of Yahweh. They will do no wrong, will tell no lies; nor will a deceitful tongue be found in their mouths. But they will be able to graze and rest with no one to alarm them.

Zep 3:14 Shout for joy, daughter of Zion, Israel, shout aloud! Rejoice, exult with all your heart, daughter of Jerusalem!

Zep 3:15 Yahweh has repealed your sentence; he has turned your enemy away. Yahweh is king among you, Israel, you have nothing more to fear.

Zep 3:16 When that Day comes, the message for Jerusalem will be: Zion, have no fear, do not let your hands fall limp.

Zep 3:17 Yahweh your God is there with you, the warrior-Saviour. He will rejoice over you with happy song, he will renew you by his love, he will dance with shouts of joy for you, Zep 3:18 as on a day of festival. I have taken away your misfortune, no longer need you bear the disgrace of it.

Zep 3:19 I am taking action here and now against your oppressors. When that time comes I will rescue the lame, and gather the strays, and I will win them praise and renown when I restore their fortunes.

Zep 3:20 At that time I shall be your guide, at the time when I gather you in, I shall give you praise and renown among all the peoples of the earth when I restore your fortunes under your own eyes, declares Yahweh.

Hag 1:1 In the second year of King Darius, on the first day of the sixth month, the word of Yahweh was addressed through the prophet Haggai to Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel governor of Judah and to Joshua son of Jehozadak the high priest as follows,

Hag 1:2 'Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "This people says: The time has not yet come to rebuild the Temple of Yahweh."

Hag 1:3 (And the word of Yahweh was addressed through the prophet Haggai, as follows.)

Hag 1:4 'Is this a time for you to live in your panelled houses, when this House lies in ruins?

Hag 1:5 So now, Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "Think carefully about your behaviour.

Hag 1:6 You have sown much and harvested little; you eat but never have enough, drink but never have your fill, put on clothes but feel no warmth. The wage-earner gets his wages only to put them in a bag with a hole in it."

Hag 1:7 Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "Think carefully about your behaviour.

Hag 1:8 Go up into the hills, fetch timber and rebuild the House; and I shall take pleasure in it and manifest my glory there -- Yahweh says.

Hag 1:9 The abundance you expected proved to be little. When you brought the harvest in, I blasted it. And why? - Yahweh Sabaoth declares. Because while my House lies in ruins, each of you is busy with his own house.

Hag 1:10 That is why the sky has withheld the rain and the earth withheld its yield.

Hag 1:11 I have called down drought on land and hills, on grain, on new wine, on olive oil and on all the produce of the ground, on humans and animals and all your labours."

Hag 1:12 Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, Joshua son of Jehozadak the high priest and the entire remnant of the people, paid attention to the voice of Yahweh their God and to the words of the prophet Haggai, which Yahweh their God had sent him to deliver. And the people were filled with fear before Yahweh.

Hag 1:13 Haggai, the messenger of Yahweh, then passed on Yahweh's message to the people, 'I am with you -- declares Yahweh.'

Hag 1:14 And Yahweh roused the spirit of Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel governor of Judah, the spirit of Joshua son of Jehozadak the high priest and the spirit of the entire remnant of the people; they came and set to work in the Temple of Yahweh Sabaoth, their God.

Hag 1:15 This was on the twenty-fourth day of the sixth month. In the second year of King Darius,

Hag 2:1 on the twenty-first day of the seventh month, the word of Yahweh was addressed through the prophet Haggai, as follows,

Hag 2:2 'You are to speak to Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel governor of Judah, to Joshua son of Jehozadak the high priest and to the remnant of the people. Say this,

Hag 2:3 "Is there anyone left among you who saw this Temple in its former glory? And how does it look to you now? Does it not seem as though there is nothing there?

Hag 2:4 But take courage now, Zerubbabel!-Yahweh declares. Courage, Joshua son of Jehozadak high priest! Courage, all you people of the country!-Yahweh declares. To work! I am with you -- Yahweh Sabaoth declares-

Hag 2:5 and my spirit is present among you. Do not be afraid!

Hag 2:6 For Yahweh Sabaoth says this: A little while now, and I shall shake the heavens and the earth, the sea and the dry land.

Hag 2:7 I shall shake all the nations, and the treasures of all the nations will flow in, and I shall fill this Temple with glory, says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Hag 2:8 Mine is the silver, mine the gold!-Yahweh Sabaoth declares.

Hag 2:9 The glory of this new Temple will surpass that of the old, says Yahweh Sabaoth, and in this place I shall give peace -- Yahweh Sabaoth declares."

Hag 2:10 On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of Yahweh was addressed to the prophet Haggai as follows,

Hag 2:11 'Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "Ask the priests to give a ruling on this:

Hag 2:12 If someone is carrying consecrated meat in the fold of his gown and allows the fold to touch bread, broth, wine, oil or food of any kind, will that become holy?" ' The priests replied, 'No.'

Hag 2:13 Haggai then said, 'If anyone rendered unclean by contact with a corpse touches any of these things, will that become unclean?' The priests replied, 'It will become unclean.'

Hag 2:14 Haggai then spoke out. 'It is the same with this people,' he said, 'the same with this nation, in my view -- Yahweh declares -- the same with everything they turn their hands to; and whatever they offer here is unclean.

Hag 2:15 'So now think carefully, today and henceforth: before one stone had been laid on another in the sanctuary of Yahweh,

Hag 2:16 what state were you in? You would come to a twenty-measure heap and find only ten; you would come to a vat to draw fifty measures and find only twenty.

Hag 2:17 Everything you turned your hands to, I struck with wind-blast, mildew and hail, and still you would not return to me -- Yahweh declares.

Hag 2:18 So think carefully, today and henceforth (from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, from the day the foundation of the sanctuary of Yahweh was laid, think carefully)

Hag 2:19 if seed-corn is still short in the barn, and if vine and fig tree, pomegranate and olive tree still bear no fruit. 'From today onwards I intend to bless you.'

Hag 2:20 On the twenty-fourth day of the month the word of Yahweh was addressed a second time to Haggai, as follows,

Hag 2:21 'Speak to Zerubbabel governor of Judah. Say this, "I am going to shake the heavens and the earth.

Hag 2:22 I shall overturn the thrones of kingdoms and destroy the power of the kings of the nations. I shall overthrow the chariots and their crews; horses and their riders will fall, every one to the sword of his comrade.

Hag 2:23 When that day comes -- Yahweh Sabaoth declares -- I shall take you, Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel my servant -- Yahweh declares -- and make you like a signet ring. For I have chosen you -- Yahweh Sabaoth declares.' '

Zec 1:1 In the second year of Darius, in the eighth month, the word of Yahweh was addressed to the prophet Zechariah (son of Berechiah), son of Iddo, as follows,

Zec 1:2 'Yahweh was deeply angry with your ancestors.

Zec 1:3 So say this to them, "Yahweh Sabaoth says this: Return to me -- Yahweh Sabaoth declares -- and I will return to you, says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Zec 1:4 Do not be like your ancestors when the prophets in the past cried to them: Yahweh Sabaoth says this: Turn back from your evil ways and evil deeds -- they would not listen or pay attention to me -- Yahweh declares.

Zec 1:5 Where are your ancestors now? And the prophets, do they live for ever?

Zec 1:6 But did not my words and statutes, with which I had charged my servants the prophets, overtake your ancestors just the same?" ' So they repented and said, 'Yahweh Sabaoth has treated us as he resolved to do, and as our ways and deeds deserved.'

Zec 1:7 On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month (the month of Shebat), in the second year of Darius, the word of Yahweh was addressed to the prophet Zechariah (son of Berechiah), son of Iddo, as follows,

Zec 1:8 'I had a vision during the night. There was a man riding a red horse standing among the deep-rooted myrtles; behind him were other horses-red, chestnut and white.

Zec 1:9 I said, "What are these, my lord?" And the angel who was talking to me said, "I will show you what they are."

Zec 1:10 The man standing among the myrtles then replied, "Those are they whom Yahweh has sent to patrol the world."

Zec 1:11 They reported to the angel of Yahweh as he stood among the myrtles, "We have been patrolling the world, and indeed the whole world is still and at peace."

Zec 1:12 The angel of Yahweh then spoke and said, "Yahweh Sabaoth, how long will you wait before taking pity on Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, on which you have inflicted your anger for the past seventy years?"

Zec 1:13 Yahweh then replied with kind and comforting words to the angel who was talking to me.

Zec 1:14 The angel who was talking to me then said to me, "Make this proclamation: Yahweh Sabaoth says this: I am burning with jealousy for Jerusalem and Zion

Zec 1:15 but am deeply angry with the nations now at ease; before, I was only mildly angry, but they contributed to the disaster.

Zec 1:16 So now Yahweh says this: In compassion I have returned to Jerusalem; my Temple will be rebuilt there -- Yahweh Sabaoth declares -- and the measuring line will be stretched over Jerusalem.

Zec 1:17 Make this proclamation too: Yahweh Sabaoth says this: My cities are once more to be very prosperous. Yahweh will comfort Zion once again, and again make Jerusalem his choice." '

Zec 2:1 Then, raising my eyes, I had a vision. It was this: There were four horns.

Zec 2:2 I said to the angel who was talking to me, 'What are these?' He said to me, 'These are the horns which scattered Judah (Israel) and Jerusalem.'

Zec 2:3 Yahweh then showed me four smiths.

Zec 2:4 And I said, 'What are these coming to do?' He said to me, '(Those horns scattered Judah so completely that no one dared to raise his head; but) these have come to terrify them, to throw down the horns of the nations who raised their horns over the land of Judah to scatter it.'

Zec 2:5 Then, raising my eyes, I had a vision. There was a man with a measuring line in his hand.

Zec 2:6 I asked him, 'Where are you going?' He said, 'To measure Jerusalem, to calculate her width and length.'

Zec 2:7 And then, while the angel who was talking to me walked away, another angel came out to meet him.

Zec 2:8 He said to him, 'Run, and tell that young man this, "Jerusalem is to remain unwalled, because of the great number of men and cattle inside."

Zec 2:9 For I -- Yahweh declares -- shall be a wall of fire all round her and I shall be the Glory within her." '

Zec 2:10 Look out! Look out! Flee from the land of the north -- Yahweh declares- for I have scattered you to the four winds of heaven -- Yahweh declares.

Zec 2:11 Look out! Make your escape, Zion, now living with the daughter of Babylon!

Zec 2:12 For Yahweh Sabaoth says this, since the Glory commissioned me, about the nations who plundered you, 'Whoever touches you touches the apple of my eye.'

Zec 2:13 Now look, I shall wave my hand over them and they will be plundered by those whom they have enslaved.' Then you will know that Yahweh Sabaoth has sent me!

Zec 2:14 Sing, rejoice, daughter of Zion, for now I am coming to live among you -Yahweh declares!

Zec 2:15 And on that day many nations will be converted to Yahweh. Yes, they will become his people, and they will live among you. Then you will know that Yahweh Sabaoth has sent me to you!

Zec 2:16 Yahweh will take possession of Judah, his portion in the Holy Land, and again make Jerusalem his choice.

Zec 2:17 Let all people be silent before Yahweh, now that he is stirring from his holy Dwelling!

Zec 3:1 He then showed me the high priest Joshua, standing before the angel of Yahweh, with Satan standing on his right to accuse him.

Zec 3:2 The angel of Yahweh said to Satan, 'May Yahweh rebuke you, Satan! May Yahweh rebuke you, since he has made Jerusalem his choice. Is not this man a brand snatched from the fire?'

Zec 3:3 Now Joshua was dressed in dirty clothes as he stood before the angel.

Zec 3:4 The latter then spoke as follows to those who were standing before him, 'Take off his dirty clothesand dress him in splendid robes

Zec 3:5 and put a clean turban on his head.' So they put a clean turban on his head and dressed him in clean clothes, while the angel of Yahweh stood byand said, 'You see, I have taken your guilt away.'

Zec 3:6 The angel of Yahweh then made this declaration to Joshua,

Zec 3:7 'Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "If you walk in my ways and keep my ordinances, you shall govern my house, you shall watch over my courts, and I will give you free access among those in attendance here.

Zec 3:8 'So listen, High Priest Joshua, you and the colleagues over whom you preside -- for they are an omen of things to come -- for now I shall bring in my servant the Branch, and I shall remove this country's guilt in a single day.

Zec 3:9 For this is the stone which I have put before Joshua, a stone on which are seven eyes; and I myself shall cut the inscription on it -- Yahweh Sabaoth declares."

Zec 3:10 On that day -- Yahweh Sabaoth declares -- invite each other to come under your vine and your fig tree."

Zec 4:1 The angel who was talking to me came back and roused me as though rousing someone who was asleep.

Zec 4:2 And he asked me, 'What do you see?' I replied, 'As I look, there is a lamp-stand entirely of gold with a bowl at the top of it; it holds seven lamps, with seven openings for the lamps on it.'

Zec 4:3 By it are two olive trees, one to the right and the other to the left.'

Zec 4:4 I then said to the angel who was talking to me, 'What are those things, my lord?'

Zec 4:5 The angel who was talking to me replied, 'Do you not know what they are?' I said, 'No, my lord.'

Zec 4:6 He then gave me this answer,'These seven are the eyes of Yahweh, which range over the whole world.'

Zec 4:7 'What are you, great mountain? Beside Zerubbabel you shall become a plain! He will bring out the keystone while it is cheered with Hurrah! Hurrah!'

Zec 4:8 The word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Zec 4:9 'The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this Temple; his hands will finish it. (Then you will know that Yahweh Sabaoth has sent me to you.)

Zec 4:10 A day of little things, no doubt, but who would dare despise it? How they will rejoice when they see the chosen stone in the hands of Zerubbabel!'

Zec 4:11 Then I went on to ask him, 'What is the meaning of these two olive trees, to right and left of the lamp-stand?'

Zec 4:12 (And I went on to ask him further, 'What is the meaning of the two olive branches discharging oil through the two golden openings?')

Zec 4:13 He replied, 'Do you not know what they are?' I said, 'No, my lord.'

Zec 4:14 He said, 'These are the two anointed ones in attendance on the Lord of the whole world. This is the word of Yahweh with regard to Zerubbabel, 'Not by might and not by power, but by my spirit' -- says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Zec 5:1 Again raising my eyes, I had a vision. There was a flying scroll.

Zec 5:2 The angel who was talking to me said, 'What do you see?' I replied, 'I see a flying scroll; it is twenty cubits long and ten cubits wide.'

Zec 5:3 He then said to me, 'This is God's curse sweeping across the face of the whole country; for, according to what it says on one side, every thief will be banished and, according to what it says on the other, everyone who commits perjury in my name will be banished from it.

Zec 5:4 I am going to release it -- Yahweh Sabaoth declares -- for it to enter the house of the thief and of anyone who commits perjury in my name, for it to settle deep within his house and consume it, timber, stone and all.'

Zec 5:5 The angel who was talking to me appeared and said to me, 'Raise your eyes, and see what this is, going along.'

Zec 5:6 I said, 'What is it?' He said, 'It is a bushel measure going along.' He went on, 'This is their guilt throughout the country.'

Zec 5:7 At this, a disc of lead was raised, and I saw a woman sitting inside the barrel.

Zec 5:8 He said, 'This is Wickedness.' And he rammed her back into the barrel and jammed its mouth shut with the mass of lead.

Zec 5:9 I raised my eyes, and there were two women appearing. The wind caught their wings -- they had wings like a stork's; they raised the barrel midway between earth and heaven.

Zec 5:10 I then said to the angel who was talking to me, 'Where are they taking the barrel?'

Zec 5:11 He replied, 'To build a temple for it in the land of Shinar and make a pedestal on which to put it.'

Zec 6:1 Again I raised my eyes, and this is what I saw: four chariots coming out between two mountains, and the mountains were mountains of bronze.

Zec 6:2 The first chariot had red horses, the second chariot had black horses,

Zec 6:3 the third chariot had white horses and the fourth chariot had vigorous, piebald horses.

Zec 6:4 I asked the angel who was talking to me, 'What are these, my lord?'

Zec 6:5 The angel replied, 'They are the four winds of heaven now leaving, after attending the Lord of the whole world.'

Zec 6:6 The black horses are leaving for the land of the north; the white are following them, and the piebald are leaving for the land of the south.'

Zec 6:7 They came out vigorously, eager to patrol the world. He said to them, 'Go and patrol the world.' And they patrolled the world.

Zec 6:8 He called to me and said, 'Look, the ones going to the land of the north brought my spirit to rest on the land of the north.'

Zec 6:9 Then the word of Yahweh was addressed to me as follows,

Zec 6:10 'Collect silver and gold from the exiles, from Heldai, Tobijah and Jedaiah, then (you yourself go the same day) go to the house of Josiah son of Zephaniah, who has arrived from Babylon.'

Zec 6:11 Then, taking the silver and gold, make a crown and place it on the head of the high priest Joshua son of Jehozadak.

Zec 6:12 And say this to him, "Yahweh Sabaoth says this: Here is a man whose name is Branch; where he is, there will be a branching out (and he will rebuild Yahweh's sanctuary).

Zec 6:13 Yes, he is the one who will rebuild Yahweh's sanctuary; he will wear the royal insignia and sit on his throne and govern, with a priest on his right. Perfect peace will reign between these two.

Zec 6:14 And the crown will serve Heldai, Tobijah, Jedaiah and the son of Zephaniah as a memorial of favour in Yahweh's sanctuary.

Zec 6:15 And those now far away will come and work on the building of Yahweh's sanctuary." 'Then you will know that Yahweh Sabaoth has sent me to you. It will happen if you diligently obey the voice of Yahweh your God.'

Zec 7:1 In the fourth year of King Darius, the word of Yahweh was addressed to Zechariah on the fourth day of the ninth month, the month of Chislev.

Zec 7:2 Bethel sent Sharezer with a deputation to entreat Yahweh's favour

Zec 7:3 and to ask the priests in the Temple of Yahweh Sabaoth and the prophets, 'Ought I to go on mourning and fasting in the fifth month as I have been doing for so many years past?'

Zec 7:4 Then the word of Yahweh Sabaoth was addressed to me as follows,

Zec 7:5 'Say to all the people of the country and to the priests, "While you have been fasting and mourning in the fifth and seventh months for the past seventy years, have you really been fasting for my sake?"

Zec 7:6 And when you were eating and drinking, were you not eating and drinking for your own sake?

Zec 7:7 Do you not know the words which Yahweh proclaimed through the prophets in the past, when Jerusalem was inhabited and secure, as were her surrounding towns, and when the Negeb and the lowlands were inhabited?"'

Zec 7:8 The word of Yahweh was addressed to Zechariah as follows,

Zec 7:9 'Yahweh Sabaoth says this.) He said, "Apply the law fairly, and show faithful love and compassion towards one another.

Zec 7:10 Do not oppress the widow and the orphan, the foreigner and the poor, and do not secretly plan evil against one another."

Zec 7:11 But they would not listen; they turned a rebellious shoulder; they stopped their ears rather than hear; Zec 7:12 they made their hearts adamant rather than listen to the teaching and the words that Yahweh Sabaoth had sent -- by his spirit -- through the prophets in the past; and consequently the fury of Yahweh Sabaoth overtook them.

Zec 7:13 And so, since when he called they would not listen, "I would not listen when they called", says Yahweh Sabaoth,

Zec 7:14 "but scattered them among all the nations unknown to them. Hence, after they had gone, the country was deserted, and no one came or went. They had turned a land of delights into a desert." '

Zec 8:1 The word of Yahweh Sabaoth came as follows:

Zec 8:2 Yahweh Sabaoth says this: I have been burning with jealousy for Zion, with furious jealousy for her sake.

Zec 8:3 Yahweh says this: I am coming back to Zion and shall live in the heart of Jerusalem. Jerusalem will be called Faithful City and the mountain of Yahweh Sabaoth, the Holy Mountain.

Zec 8:4 Yahweh Sabaoth says this: Aged men and women once again will sit in the squares of Jerusalem, each with a stick to lean on because of their great age.

Zec 8:5 And the squares of the city will be full of boys and girls playing there.

Zec 8:6 Yahweh Sabaoth says this: If this seems a miracle to the remnant of this people (in those days), will it seem one to me? declares Yahweh.

Zec 8:7 Yahweh Sabaoth says this: Look, I shall rescue my people from the countries of the east and from the countries of the west.

Zec 8:8 I shall bring them back to live in the heart of Jerusalem, and they will be my people and I shall be their God, faithful and just.

Zec 8:9 Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "Take heart, you who today hear these promises uttered by the prophets since the day when the foundations of the Temple of Yahweh Sabaoth were laid, that the sanctuary would indeed be rebuilt.

Zec 8:10 For up to now, men were not paid their wages and nothing was paid for the animals either; and it has not been safe for anyone to come and go, because of the enemy, since I had set each one against everyone else.

Zec 8:11 But from now on, I shall not treat the remnant of this people as I have treated them in time past -- declares Yahweh Sabaoth.

Zec 8:12 Now they will sow in peace; the vine will give its fruit, the soil will give its produce and heaven will give its dew. I shall bestow all these on the remnant of this people.

Zec 8:13 Just as once you were a curse among the nations, House of Judah and House of Israel, so now I shall save you, and you will be a blessing. Do not be afraid. Take heart!"

Zec 8:14 'For Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "Just as I resolved to ill-treat you when your ancestors provoked me to anger and did not relent -- says Yahweh Sabaoth-

Zec 8:15 so now I have changed my mind and intend to treat Jerusalem and the House of Judah well. Do not be afraid!

Zec 8:16 "These are the things that you must do. Speak the truth to one another; at your gates, administer fair judgement conducive to peace;

Zec 8:17 do not secretly plot evil against one another; do not love perjury; since I hate all this -- Yahweh declares." '

Zec 8:18 The word of Yahweh Sabaoth was addressed to me as follows:

Zec 8:19 'Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "The fast of the fourth month, the fast of the fifth, the fast of the seventh and the fast of the tenth are to become glad, joyful, happy festivals for the House of Judah. So love truth and peace!" '

Zec 8:20 'Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "In the future, peoples and citizens of many cities will come;

Zec 8:21 and citizens of one city will go to the next and say: We must certainly go to entreat Yahweh's favour and seek out Yahweh Sabaoth; I am going myself.

Zec 8:22 Yes, many peoples and great nations will seek out Yahweh Sabaoth in Jerusalem and entreat Yahweh's favour."

Zec 8:23 'Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "In those days, ten men from nations of every language will take a Jew by the sleeve and say: We want to go with you, since we have learnt that God is with you." '

Zec 9:1 A proclamation. The word of Yahweh is against Hadach, it has come to rest on Damascus, for the source of Aram belongs to Yahweh no less than all the tribes of Israel;

Zec 9:2 on Hamath too, which borders on it, and on (Tyre and) Sidon, despite her acumen.

Zec 9:3 Tyre has built herself a fortress, has heaped up silver like dust and gold like the dirt of the streets.

Zec 9:4 And now the Lord is going to dispossess her; at sea he will break her power, and she herself will go up in flames.

Zec 9:5 Seeing this, Ashkelon will be terrified, Gaza too, and writhe with grief, Ekron too, at the ruin of her prospects; the king will vanish from Gaza and Ashkelon be unpeopled,

Zec 9:6 while a half-breed will live in Ashdod! Yes, I shall destroy the pride of the Philistine;

Zec 9:7 I shall snatch his blood from his mouth, his abominations from between his teeth. But his remnant too will belong to our God, becoming like a clan in Judah, and Ekron will become like a Jebusite.

Zec 9:8 I shall stand guard before my home to defend it against all comers, and no oppressor will overrun them ever again, for now I am on the alert.

Zec 9:9 Rejoice heart and soul, daughter of Zion! Shout for joy, daughter of Jerusalem! Look, your king is approaching, he is vindicated and victorious, humble and riding on a donkey, on a colt, the foal of a donkey.

Zec 9:10 He will banish chariots from Ephraim and horses from Jerusalem; the bow of war will be banished. He will proclaim peace to the nations, his empire will stretch from sea to sea, from the River to the limits of the earth.

Zec 9:11 As for you, because of the blood of your covenant I have released your prisoners from the pit in which there is no water.

Zec 9:12 Come back to the fortress, you prisoners waiting in hope. This very day, I vow, I shall make it up to you twice over.

Zec 9:13 For I have strung Judah as a bow for myself, laid Ephraim on the string as an arrow, have roused your sons, Zion, against your sons, Javan, and have made you like a warrior's sword.

Zec 9:14 Then Yahweh will appear above them and his arrow will flash out like lightning. (The Lord) Yahweh will sound the trumpet and advance in the storm-winds of the south.

Zec 9:15 Yahweh Sabaoth will protect them! They will devour, will trample on the sling-stones, they will drink blood like wine, awash like bowls, like the corners of the altar.

Zec 9:16 Yahweh their God will give them victory when that day comes, like the sheep who are his people; yes, the stones of a diadem will sparkle over his country.

Zec 9:17 How fine, how splendid that will be, with wheat to make the young men flourish, and new wine the maidens!

Zec 10:1 Ask Yahweh for rain in autumn and at the time of the spring rains. Yahweh is the one to make the storm-clouds. He will give them showers of rain; to each, grass in his field.

Zec 10:2 Since the domestic idols have talked nonsense, and the diviners have seen false signs, and dreams have purveyed delusions, affording empty comfort, that is why they have strayed like sheep, in distress for want of a shepherd.

Zec 10:3 My anger has been roused by the shepherds, and I shall vent it on the he-goats. When Yahweh Sabaoth comes to visit his flock, the House of Judah, he will make it his royal war-horse.

Zec 10:4 From it will emerge Cornerstone and Tent-peg, from it, Bow-ready-for-Battle, from it, every type of leader. Together

Zec 10:5 they will be like warriors trampling the dirt of the streets in battle; when they fight, because Yahweh is with them, they will put mounted men to rout.

Zec 10:6 Then I shall make the House of Judah mighty and the House of Joseph victorious. I shall restore them, because I have taken pity on them, and they will be as though I had never cast them off, for I am Yahweh their God and shall answer their prayer.

Zec 10:7 Ephraim will be like a warrior. Their hearts will be cheered as though by wine. Their children will see this and rejoice, their hearts will exult in Yahweh.

Zec 10:8 I shall whistle to them and gather them in, for I have redeemed them; they will be as numerous as they used to be.

Zec 10:9 I shall scatter them among the peoples but in distant countries they will remember me, they will instruct their children and then return.

Zec 10:10 I shall bring them home from Egypt and gather them back from Assyria; I shall lead them into Gilead and the Lebanon, and even that will not be large enough for them.

Zec 10:11 They will cross the sea of Egypt (and the waves of the sea will be struck); all the depths of the River will be dried up. The arrogance of Assyria will be cast down and the sceptre of Egypt taken away.

Zec 10:12 I shall make them mighty in Yahweh, and they will march in my name -- Yahweh declares.

Zec 11:1 Open your gateways, Lebanon, and the fire shall burn down your cedar trees!

Zec 11:2 Wail, juniper, for the cedar tree has fallen, the majestic ones have been ravaged! Wail, oaks of Bashan, for the impenetrable forest has been felled!

Zec 11:3 The sound of the wailing of shepherds! Their majesty has been ravaged. The sound of the roaring of young lions! The pride of the Jordan has been ravaged.

Zec 11:4 Yahweh my God says this, 'Pasture the sheep for slaughter,
Zec 11:5 whose buyers kill them and go unpunished, whose sellers say of them, "Blessed be Yahweh; now I am rich!" and whose own shepherds show them no pity.
Zec 11:6 For I shall show no further pity for the inhabitants of the country -- Yahweh declares! Instead, I shall put everyone into the clutches of a neighbour, into the clutches of the king. They will crush the country and I shall not rescue anyone from their clutches.'
Zec 11:7 Then I pastured for slaughter the sheep belonging to the sheep-dealers. I took two staves: the one I called 'Goodwill', the other 'Coupplers'; and I pastured the sheep myself,
Zec 11:8 getting rid of three shepherds in one month. But I lost patience with them, and they equally detested me.
Zec 11:9 I then said, 'I am not going to pasture you any more; the one doomed to die can die; the one doomed to perish can perish; and the rest can devour one another.'
Zec 11:10 I then took my staff, 'Goodwill', and broke it in half, to break my covenant, which I had made with all the peoples.
Zec 11:11 When it was broken, that day the sheep-dealers, who were watching me, realised that this had been a word of Yahweh.
Zec 11:12 I then said to them, 'If you see fit, give me my wages; if not, never mind.' So they weighed out my wages: thirty shekels of silver.
Zec 11:13 Yahweh said to me, 'Throw it to the smelter, this princely sum at which they have valued me!' Taking the thirty shekels of silver, I threw them into the Temple of Yahweh, for the smelter.
Zec 11:14 I then broke my second staff, 'Coupplers,' in half, to rupture the brotherly relationship between Judah and Israel.
Zec 11:15 Next, Yahweh said to me, 'This time, take the gear of a good-for-nothing shepherd.
Zec 11:16 For I am now going to raise a shepherd in this country, who will not bother about the lost, who will not go in search of the stray, who will not heal the injured, who will not support the swollen, but who will eat the meat of the fat ones, tearing off their very hoofs.
Zec 11:17 Disaster to the shepherd who deserts his flock! May the sword attack his arm and his right eye! May his arm shrivel completely and his right eye be totally blinded!'
Zec 12:1 A proclamation. The word of Yahweh about Israel (and also about Judah). Yahweh, who spread out the heaven and founded the earth and formed the human spirit within, declares:
Zec 12:2 'Look, I shall make Jerusalem a cup to set all the surrounding peoples reeling. (That will be at the time of the siege of Jerusalem.)
Zec 12:3 'When that day comes, I shall make Jerusalem a stone too heavy for all the peoples to lift; all those who try to lift it will hurt themselves severely, although all the nations of the world will be massed against her.
Zec 12:4 When that day comes -- declares Yahweh -- I shall strike all the horses with panic and their riders with madness. And I shall strike all the peoples with blindness. (But I shall keep watch over Judah.)
Zec 12:5 Then the rulers of Judah will say to themselves, "The strength of the inhabitants of Jerusalem lies in Yahweh Sabaoth their God."
Zec 12:6 When that day comes, I shall make the rulers of Judah like a brazier burning in a pile of wood, like a torch flaming in a sheaf; and they will devour all the peoples round them to right and left. And Jerusalem will be full of people as before, where she stands (in Jerusalem).
Zec 12:7 Yahweh will first save the tents of Judah, so that the glory of the House of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem do not increase at Judah's expense.
Zec 12:8 When that day comes, Yahweh will protect the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and the frailest of them will be like David when that day comes, and the House of David will be like God, like the angel of Yahweh, at their head.
Zec 12:9 'When that day comes, I shall set about destroying all the nations who advance against Jerusalem.
Zec 12:10 But over the House of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem I shall pour out a spirit of grace and prayer, and they will look to me. They will mourn for the one whom they have pierced as though for an only child, and weep for him as people weep for a first-born child.
Zec 12:11 When that day comes, the mourning in Jerusalem will be as great as the mourning for Hadad Rimmon in the Plain of Megiddo.
Zec 12:12 And the country will mourn clan by clan: The clan of the House of David by itself, and their women by themselves; the clan of the House of Nathan by itself, and their women by themselves;
Zec 12:13 the clan of the House of Levi by itself, and their women by themselves; the clan of the House of Shimei by itself, and their women by themselves;
Zec 12:14 all the rest of the clans, every clan by itself, and their women by themselves.'
Zec 13:1 'When that day comes, a fountain will be opened for the House of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, to wash sin and impurity away.

Zec 13:2 'When that day comes -- Yahweh declares -- I shall cut off the names of the idols from the country, and they will never be remembered again; I shall also rid the country of the prophets, and of the spirit of impurity.

Zec 13:3 Then, if anyone still goes on prophesying, his parents, his own father and mother will say to him, "You shall not live, since you utter lies in Yahweh's name." And even while he is prophesying, his parents, his own father and mother will pierce him through.

Zec 13:4 When that day comes, the prophets will all be ashamed to relate their visions when they prophesy and no longer put on their hair cloaks with intent to deceive.

Zec 13:5 Instead, they will say, "I am no prophet. I am a man who tills the soil, for the land has been my living since I was a boy."

Zec 13:6 And if anyone asks him, "What are those gashes on your chest?" he will reply, "I got them when I was with my friends."

Zec 13:7 Awake, sword, against my shepherd, against the man who is close to me- declares Yahweh Sabaoth! Strike the shepherd, scatter the sheep! And I shall turn my hand against the young!

Zec 13:8 So it will be, throughout the country- declares Yahweh Sabaoth- two-thirds in it will be cut off (be killed) and the other third will be left.

Zec 13:9 I shall pass this third through the fire, refine them as silver is refined, test them as gold is tested. He will call on my name and I shall answer him; I shall say, 'He is my people,' and he will say, 'Yahweh is my God!'

Zec 14:1 Look, the Day of Yahweh is coming, when the spoils taken from you will be shared out among you.

Zec 14:2 For I shall gather all the nations to Jerusalem for battle. The city will be taken, the houses plundered, the women ravished. Half the city will go into exile, but the rest of the people will not be ejected from the city.

Zec 14:3 Then Yahweh will sally out and fight those nations as once he fought on the day of battle.

Zec 14:4 When that day comes, his feet will rest on the Mount of Olives, which faces Jerusalem on the east, and the Mount of Olives will be split in half from east to west, forming a huge valley; half the Mount will recede northwards, the other half southwards.

Zec 14:5 The valley between the hills will be filled in, yes, it will be blocked as far as Jasol, it will be filled in as it was by the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah. And Yahweh my God will come, and all the holy ones with him.

Zec 14:6 That Day, there will be no light, but only cold and frost.

Zec 14:7 And it will be one continuous day -- Yahweh knows -- there will be no more day and night, and it will remain light right into the time of evening.

Zec 14:8 When that Day comes, living waters will issue from Jerusalem, half towards the eastern sea, half towards the western sea; they will flow summer and winter.

Zec 14:9 Then Yahweh will become king of the whole world. When that Day comes, Yahweh will be the one and only and his name the one name.

Zec 14:10 The entire country will be transformed into plain, from Geba to Rimmon in the Negeb, but Jerusalem will stand high in her place and be full of people from the Benjamin Gate to the site of the earlier gate, to the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hananel to the king's wine-presses.

Zec 14:11 People will make their homes there. The curse of destruction will be lifted; Jerusalem will be safe to live in.

Zec 14:12 And this is the plague with which Yahweh will strike all the nations who have fought against Jerusalem; their flesh will rot while they are still standing on their feet; their eyes will rot in their sockets; their tongues will rot in their mouths.

Zec 14:13 When that Day comes, a great terror will fall on them from Yahweh; each man will grab his neighbour's hand and they will fall to fighting among themselves.

Zec 14:14 Even Judah will fight against Jerusalem. The wealth of all the surrounding nations will be heaped together: gold, silver, clothing, in vast quantity.

Zec 14:15 And the plague afflicting the horses, mules, camels, donkeys and all the other animals in those armies will be the same.

Zec 14:16 After this, all the survivors of all the nations which have attacked Jerusalem will come up year after year to worship the King, Yahweh Sabaoth, and to keep the feast of Shelters.

Zec 14:17 Should one of the races of the world fail to come up to Jerusalem to worship the King, Yahweh Sabaoth, there will be no rain for that one.

Zec 14:18 Should the race of Egypt fail to come up and pay its visit, on it will fall the plague which Yahweh will inflict on each of those nations which fail to come up to keep the feast of Shelters.

Zec 14:19 Such will be the punishment for Egypt and the punishment for all the nations which fail to come up to keep the feast of Shelters.

Zec 14:20 When that Day comes, the very bells on the horses will be inscribed with the words, 'Sacred to Yahweh', and the cooking pots of the house of Yahweh will be as holy as the sprinkling bowls before the altar.

Zec 14:21 Yes, every cooking pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be sacred to Yahweh Sabaoth, and all who come to offer sacrifice will help themselves and do their cooking in them, and there will be no more traders in the Temple of Yahweh Sabaoth, when that Day comes.

Mal 1:1 A message. The word of Yahweh to Israel through Malachi.

Mal 1:2 'I have loved you, says Yahweh. But you ask, "How have you shown your love?" Was not Esau Jacob's brother? declares Yahweh; even so, I loved Jacob Mal 1:3 but I hated Esau. I turned his mountains into a desert and his heritage into dwellings in the wastelands.

Mal 1:4 If Edom says, "We have been struck down but we shall rebuild our ruins," Yahweh Sabaoth says this, "Let them build, but I shall pull down! They will be known as Land of Wickedness and Nation-with-which-Yahweh-is-angry-for-ever.

Mal 1:5 You will see this yourselves and you will say: Yahweh is mighty beyond the borders of Israel."

Mal 1:6 'The son honours his father, the slave stands in awe of his master. But if I am indeed father, where is the honour due to me? And if I am indeed master, where is the awe due to me? says Yahweh Sabaoth to you priests who despise my name. You ask, "How have we despised your name?"

Mal 1:7 By putting polluted food on my altar. You ask, "How have we polluted you?" By saying, "The table of Yahweh deserves no respect."

Mal 1:8 When you bring blind animals for sacrifice, is this not wrong? When you bring the lame and the diseased, is this not wrong? If you offer them to your governor, see if he is pleased with them or receives you graciously, says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Mal 1:9 In that case, try pleading with God to take pity on us (that is what you have done), and will he take any notice? says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Mal 1:10 Why does one of you not close the doors and so stop the pointless lighting of fires on my altar? I am not pleased with you, says Yahweh Sabaoth; from your hands I find no offerings acceptable.

Mal 1:11 But from farthest east to farthest west my name is great among the nations, and everywhere incense and a pure gift are offered to my name, since my name is great among the nations, says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Mal 1:12 'But you have profaned it by saying, "The table of the Lord is polluted, hence the food offered on it deserves no respect."

Mal 1:13 You say, "How tiresome it all is!" and sniff disdainfully at me, says Yahweh Sabaoth. You bring a stolen, lame or diseased animal, you bring that as an offering! Am I to accept this from you? says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Mal 1:14 Cursed be the rogue who has a male in his flock but pays his vow by sacrificing a blemished animal to me! For I am a great king, says Yahweh Sabaoth, and among the nations my name inspires awe.'

Mal 2:1 'And now, priests, this commandment is for you.

Mal 2:2 If you will not listen, if you will not sincerely resolve to glorify my name, says Yahweh Sabaoth, I shall certainly lay a curse on you and I shall curse your blessing. Indeed I will lay a curse, for none of you makes this resolve.

Mal 2:3 Now, I am going to break your arm and throw offal in your faces -- the offal of your solemn feasts -- and sweep you away with it.

Mal 2:4 Then you will know that I sent this commandment to you, to affirm my intention to maintain my covenant with Levi, says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Mal 2:5 My covenant was with him -- a covenant of life and peace, and these were what I gave him -- a covenant of respect, and he respected me and held my name in awe.

Mal 2:6 The law of truth was in his mouth and guilt was not found on his lips; he walked in peace and justice with me and he converted many from sinning.

Mal 2:7 The priest's lips ought to safeguard knowledge; his mouth is where the law should be sought, since he is Yahweh Sabaoth's messenger.

Mal 2:8 But you yourselves have turned aside from the way; you have caused many to lapse by your teaching. Since you have destroyed the covenant of Levi, says Yahweh Sabaoth,

Mal 2:9 so I in my turn have made you contemptible and vile to the whole people, for not having kept my ways and for being partial in applying the law.

Mal 2:10 'Is there not one Father of us all? Did not one God create us? Why, then, do we break faith with one another, profaning the covenant of our ancestors?

Mal 2:11 Judah has broken faith; a detestable thing has been done in Israel and in Jerusalem. For Judah has profaned Yahweh's beloved sanctuary; he has married the daughter of an alien god.

Mal 2:12 May Yahweh deprive such an offender of witness and advocate in the tents of Jacob among those who present offerings to Yahweh Sabaoth!

Mal 2:13 'And here is something else you do: you cover the altar of Yahweh with tears, with weeping and wailing, because he now refuses to consider the offering or to accept it from you.

Mal 2:14 And you ask, "Why?" Because Yahweh stands as witness between you and the wife of your youth, with whom you have broken faith, even though she was your partner and your wife by covenant.

Mal 2:15 Did he not create a single being, having flesh and the breath of life? And what does this single being seek? God -- given offspring! Have respect for your own life then, and do not break faith with the wife of your youth.

Mal 2:16 For I hate divorce, says Yahweh, God of Israel, and people concealing their cruelty under a cloak, says Yahweh Sabaoth. Have respect for your own life then, and do not break faith.

Mal 2:17 'You have wearied Yahweh with your talk. You ask, "How have we wearied him?" When you say, "Any evil-doer is good as far as Yahweh is concerned; indeed he is delighted with them"; or when you say, "Where is the God of fair judgement now?"

Mal 3:1 'Look, I shall send my messenger to clear a way before me. And suddenly the Lord whom you seek will come to his Temple; yes, the angel of the covenant, for whom you long, is on his way, says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Mal 3:2 Who will be able to resist the day of his coming? Who will remain standing when he appears? For he will be like a refiner's fire, like fullers' alkali.

Mal 3:3 He will take his seat as refiner and purifier; he will purify the sons of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, so that they can make the offering to Yahweh with uprightness.

Mal 3:4 The offering of Judah and Jerusalem will then be acceptable to Yahweh as in former days, as in the years of old.

Mal 3:5 I am coming to put you on trial and I shall be a ready witness against sorcerers, adulterers, perjurers, and against those who oppress the wage-earner, the widow and the orphan, and who rob the foreigner of his rights and do not respect me, says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Mal 3:6 'No; I, Yahweh, do not change; and you have not ceased to be children of Jacob!

Mal 3:7 Ever since the days of your ancestors, you have evaded my statutes and not observed them. Return to me and I will return to you, says Yahweh Sabaoth. You ask, "How are we to return?

Mal 3:8 Can a human being cheat God?" Yet you try to cheat me! You ask, "How do we try to cheat you?" Over tithes and contributions.

Mal 3:9 A curse lies on you because you, this whole nation, try to cheat me.

Mal 3:10 Bring the tithes in full to the treasury, so that there is food in my house; put me to the test now like this, says Yahweh Sabaoth, and see if I do not open the floodgates of heaven for you and pour out an abundant blessing for you.

Mal 3:11 For your sakes, I shall forbid the locust to destroy the produce of your soil or prevent the vine from bearing fruit in your field, says Yahweh Sabaoth,

Mal 3:12 and all the nations will call you blessed, for you will be a land of delights, says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Mal 3:13 'You have said harsh things about me, says Yahweh. And yet you say, "What have we said against you?"

Mal 3:14 You have said, "It is useless to serve God; what is the good of keeping his commands or of walking mournfully before Yahweh Sabaoth?

Mal 3:15 In fact, we now call the proud the happy ones; the evil-doers are the ones who prosper; they put God to the test, yet come to no harm!"'

Mal 3:16 Then those who feared Yahweh talked to one another about this, and Yahweh took note and listened; and a book of remembrance was written in his presence recording those who feared him and kept his name in mind.

Mal 3:17 'On the day when I act, says Yahweh Sabaoth, they will be my most prized possession, and I shall spare them in the way a man spares the son who serves him.

Mal 3:18 Then once again you will see the difference between the upright person and the wicked one, between the one who serves God and the one who does not serve him.

Mal 3:19 'For look, the Day is coming, glowing like a furnace. All the proud and all the evil-doers will be the stubble, and the Day, when it comes, will set them ablaze, says Yahweh Sabaoth, leaving them neither root nor branch.

Mal 3:20 But for you who fear my name, the Sun of justice will rise with healing in his rays, and you will come out leaping like calves from the stall,

Mal 3:21 and trample on the wicked, who will be like ashes under the soles of your feet on the day when I act, says Yahweh Sabaoth.

Mal 3:22 'Remember the Law of my servant Moses to whom at Horeb I prescribed decrees and rulings for all Israel.

Mal 3:23 'Look, I shall send you the prophet Elijah before the great and awesome Day of Yahweh comes.

Mal 3:24 He will reconcile parents to their children and children to their parents, to forestall my putting the country under the curse of destruction.'

Mat 1:1 Roll of the genealogy of Jesus Christ, son of David, son of Abraham:

Mat 1:2 Abraham fathered Isaac, Isaac fathered Jacob, Jacob fathered Judah and his brothers,

Mat 1:3 Judah fathered Perez and Zerah, whose mother was Tamar, Perez fathered Hezron, Hezron fathered

Ram,

- Mat 1:4 Ram fathered Amminadab, Amminadab fathered Nahshon, Nahshon fathered Salmon, Mat 1:5 Salmon fathered Boaz, whose mother was Rahab, Boaz fathered Obed, whose mother was Ruth, Obed fathered Jesse;
Mat 1:6 and Jesse fathered King David. David fathered Solomon, whose mother had been Uriah's wife,
Mat 1:7 Solomon fathered Rehoboam, Rehoboam fathered Abijah, Abijah fathered Asa,
Mat 1:8 Asa fathered Jehoshaphat, Jehoshaphat fathered Joram, Joram fathered Uzziah,
Mat 1:9 Uzziah fathered Jotham, Jotham fathered Ahaz, Ahaz fathered Hezekiah,
Mat 1:10 Hezekiah fathered Manasseh, Manasseh fathered Amon, Amon fathered Josiah;
Mat 1:11 and Josiah fathered Jechoniah and his brothers. Then the deportation to Babylon took place.
Mat 1:12 After the deportation to Babylon: Jechoniah fathered Shealtiel, Shealtiel fathered Zerubbabel,
Mat 1:13 Zerubbabel fathered Abiud, Abiud fathered Eliakim, Eliakim fathered Azor,
Mat 1:14 Azor fathered Zadok, Zadok fathered Achim, Achim fathered Eliud,
Mat 1:15 Eliud fathered Eleazar, Eleazar fathered Mattthan, Mattthan fathered Jacob;
Mat 1:16 and Jacob fathered Joseph the husband of Mary; of her was born Jesus who is called Christ.
Mat 1:17 The sum of generations is therefore: fourteen from Abraham to David; fourteen from David to the Babylonian deportation; and fourteen from the Babylonian deportation to Christ.
Mat 1:18 This is how Jesus Christ came to be born. His mother Mary was betrothed to Joseph; but before they came to live together she was found to be with child through the Holy Spirit.
Mat 1:19 Her husband Joseph, being an upright man and wanting to spare her disgrace, decided to divorce her informally.
Mat 1:20 He had made up his mind to do this when suddenly the angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream and said, 'Joseph son of David, do not be afraid to take Mary home as your wife, because she has conceived what is in her by the Holy Spirit.
Mat 1:21 She will give birth to a son and you must name him Jesus, because he is the one who is to save his people from their sins.'
Mat 1:22 Now all this took place to fulfil what the Lord had spoken through the prophet:
Mat 1:23 Look! the virgin is with child and will give birth to a son whom they will call Immanuel, a name which means 'God-is-with-us'.
Mat 1:24 When Joseph woke up he did what the angel of the Lord had told him to do: he took his wife to his home;
Mat 1:25 he had not had intercourse with her when she gave birth to a son; and he named him Jesus.
Mat 2:1 After Jesus had been born at Bethlehem in Judaea during the reign of King Herod, suddenly some wise men came to Jerusalem from the east
Mat 2:2 asking, 'Where is the infant king of the Jews? We saw his star as it rose and have come to do him homage.'
Mat 2:3 When King Herod heard this he was perturbed, and so was the whole of Jerusalem.
Mat 2:4 He called together all the chief priests and the scribes of the people, and enquired of them where the Christ was to be born.
Mat 2:5 They told him, 'At Bethlehem in Judaea, for this is what the prophet wrote:
Mat 2:6 And you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, you are by no means the least among the leaders of Judah, for from you will come a leader who will shepherd my people Israel.'
- Mat 2:7 Then Herod summoned the wise men to see him privately. He asked them the exact date on which the star had appeared
- Mat 2:8 and sent them on to Bethlehem with the words, 'Go and find out all about the child, and when you have found him, let me know, so that I too may go and do him homage.'
- Mat 2:9 Having listened to what the king had to say, they set out. And suddenly the star they had seen rising went forward and halted over the place where the child was.
- Mat 2:10 The sight of the star filled them with delight,
- Mat 2:11 and going into the house they saw the child with his mother Mary, and falling to their knees they did him homage. Then, opening their treasures, they offered him gifts of gold and frankincense and myrrh.
- Mat 2:12 But they were given a warning in a dream not to go back to Herod, and returned to their own country by a different way.
- Mat 2:13 After they had left, suddenly the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream and said, 'Get up, take the child and his mother with you, and escape into Egypt, and stay there until I tell you, because Herod intends to search for the child and do away with him.'
- Mat 2:14 So Joseph got up and, taking the child and his mother with him, left that night for Egypt,
- Mat 2:15 where he stayed until Herod was dead. This was to fulfil what the Lord had spoken through the prophet: I called my son out of Egypt.

Mat 2:16 Herod was furious on realising that he had been fooled by the wise men, and in Bethlehem and its surrounding district he had all the male children killed who were two years old or less, reckoning by the date he had been careful to ask the wise men.

Mat 2:17 Then were fulfilled the words spoken through the prophet Jeremiah:

Mat 2:18 A voice is heard in Ramah, lamenting and weeping bitterly: it is Rachel weeping for her children, refusing to be comforted because they are no more.

Mat 2:19 After Herod's death, suddenly the angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt

Mat 2:20 and said, 'Get up, take the child and his mother with you and go back to the land of Israel, for those who wanted to kill the child are dead.'

Mat 2:21 So Joseph got up and, taking the child and his mother with him, went back to the land of Israel.

Mat 2:22 But when he learnt that Archelaus had succeeded his father Herod as ruler of Judaea he was afraid to go there, and being warned in a dream he withdrew to the region of Galilee.

Mat 2:23 There he settled in a town called Nazareth. In this way the words spoken through the prophets were to be fulfilled: He will be called a Nazarene.

Mat 3:1 In due course John the Baptist appeared; he proclaimed this message in the desert of Judaea,

Mat 3:2 'Repent, for the kingdom of Heaven is close at hand.'

Mat 3:3 This was the man spoken of by the prophet Isaiah when he said: A voice of one that cries in the desert, 'Prepare a way for the Lord, make his paths straight.'

Mat 3:4 This man John wore a garment made of camel-hair with a leather loin-cloth round his waist, and his food was locusts and wild honey.

Mat 3:5 Then Jerusalem and all Judaea and the whole Jordan district made their way to him,

Mat 3:6 and as they were baptised by him in the river Jordan they confessed their sins.

Mat 3:7 But when he saw a number of Pharisees and Sadducees coming for baptism he said to them, 'Brood of vipers, who warned you to flee from the coming retribution?

Mat 3:8 Produce fruit in keeping with repentance,

Mat 3:9 and do not presume to tell yourselves, "We have Abraham as our father," because, I tell you, God can raise children for Abraham from these stones.

Mat 3:10 Even now the axe is being laid to the root of the trees, so that any tree failing to produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown on the fire.

Mat 3:11 I baptise you in water for repentance, but the one who comes after me is more powerful than I, and I am not fit to carry his sandals; he will baptise you with the Holy Spirit and fire.

Mat 3:12 His winnowing-fan is in his hand; he will clear his threshing-floor and gather his wheat into his barn; but the chaff he will burn in a fire that will never go out.'

Mat 3:13 Then Jesus appeared: he came from Galilee to the Jordan to be baptised by John.

Mat 3:14 John tried to dissuade him, with the words, 'It is I who need baptism from you, and yet you come to me!'

Mat 3:15 But Jesus replied, 'Leave it like this for the time being; it is fitting that we should, in this way, do all that uprightness demands.' Then John gave in to him.

Mat 3:16 And when Jesus had been baptised he at once came up from the water, and suddenly the heavens opened and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming down on him.

Mat 3:17 And suddenly there was a voice from heaven, 'This is my Son, the Beloved; my favour rests on him.'

Mat 4:1 Then Jesus was led by the Spirit out into the desert to be put to the test by the devil.

Mat 4:2 He fasted for forty days and forty nights, after which he was hungry,

Mat 4:3 and the tester came and said to him, 'If you are Son of God, tell these stones to turn into loaves.'

Mat 4:4 But he replied, 'Scripture says: Human beings live not on bread alone but on every word that comes from the mouth of God.'

Mat 4:5 The devil then took him to the holy city and set him on the parapet of the Temple.

Mat 4:6 'If you are Son of God,' he said, 'throw yourself down; for scripture says: He has given his angels orders about you, and they will carry you in their arms in case you trip over a stone.'

Mat 4:7 Jesus said to him, 'Scripture also says: Do not put the Lord your God to the test.'

Mat 4:8 Next, taking him to a very high mountain, the devil showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their splendour.

Mat 4:9 And he said to him, 'I will give you all these, if you fall at my feet and do me homage.'

Mat 4:10 Then Jesus replied, 'Away with you, Satan! For scripture says: The Lord your God is the one to whom you must do homage, him alone you must serve.'

Mat 4:11 Then the devil left him, and suddenly angels appeared and looked after him.

Mat 4:12 Hearing that John had been arrested he withdrew to Galilee,

Mat 4:13 and leaving Nazara he went and settled in Capernaum, beside the lake, on the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali.

Mat 4:14 This was to fulfil what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah:

Mat 4:15 Land of Zebulun! Land of Naphtali! Way of the sea beyond Jordan. Galilee of the nations!

Mat 4:16 The people that lived in darkness have seen a great light; on those who lived in a country of shadow dark as death a light has dawned.

Mat 4:17 From then onwards Jesus began his proclamation with the message, 'Repent, for the kingdom of Heaven is close at hand.'

Mat 4:18 As he was walking by the Lake of Galilee he saw two brothers, Simon, who was called Peter, and his brother Andrew; they were making a cast into the lake with their net, for they were fishermen.

Mat 4:19 And he said to them, 'Come after me and I will make you fishers of people.'

Mat 4:20 And at once they left their nets and followed him.

Mat 4:21 Going on from there he saw another pair of brothers, James son of Zebedee and his brother John; they were in their boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets, and he called them.

Mat 4:22 And at once, leaving the boat and their father, they followed him.

Mat 4:23 He went round the whole of Galilee teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the good news of the kingdom and curing all kinds of disease and illness among the people.

Mat 4:24 His fame spread throughout Syria, and those who were suffering from diseases and painful complaints of one kind or another, the possessed, epileptics, the paralysed, were all brought to him, and he cured them.

Mat 4:25 Large crowds followed him, coming from Galilee, the Decapolis, Jerusalem, Judaea and Transjordan.

Mat 5:1 Seeing the crowds, he went onto the mountain. And when he was seated his disciples came to him.

Mat 5:2 Then he began to speak. This is what he taught them:

Mat 5:3 How blessed are the poor in spirit: the kingdom of Heaven is theirs.

Mat 5:4 Blessed are the gentle: they shall have the earth as inheritance.

Mat 5:5 Blessed are those who mourn: they shall be comforted.

Mat 5:6 Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for uprightness: they shall have their fill.

Mat 5:7 Blessed are the merciful: they shall have mercy shown them.

Mat 5:8 Blessed are the pure in heart: they shall see God.

Mat 5:9 Blessed are the peacemakers: they shall be recognised as children of God.

Mat 5:10 Blessed are those who are persecuted in the cause of uprightness: the kingdom of Heaven is theirs.

Mat 5:11 'Blessed are you when people abuse you and persecute you and speak all kinds of calumny against you falsely on my account.

Mat 5:12 Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven; this is how they persecuted the prophets before you.

Mat 5:13 'You are salt for the earth. But if salt loses its taste, what can make it salty again? It is good for nothing, and can only be thrown out to be trampled under people's feet.

Mat 5:14 'You are light for the world. A city built on a hill-top cannot be hidden.

Mat 5:15 No one lights a lamp to put it under a tub; they put it on the lamp-stand where it shines for everyone in the house.

Mat 5:16 In the same way your light must shine in people's sight, so that, seeing your good works, they may give praise to your Father in heaven.

Mat 5:17 'Do not imagine that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets. I have come not to abolish but to complete them.

Mat 5:18 In truth I tell you, till heaven and earth disappear, not one dot, not one little stroke, is to disappear from the Law until all its purpose is achieved.

Mat 5:19 Therefore, anyone who infringes even one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be considered the least in the kingdom of Heaven; but the person who keeps them and teaches them will be considered great in the kingdom of Heaven.

Mat 5:20 'For I tell you, if your uprightness does not surpass that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never get into the kingdom of Heaven.

Mat 5:21 'You have heard how it was said to our ancestors, You shall not kill; and if anyone does kill he must answer for it before the court.

Mat 5:22 But I say this to you, anyone who is angry with a brother will answer for it before the court; anyone who calls a brother "Fool" will answer for it before the Sanhedrin; and anyone who calls him "Traitor" will answer for it in hell fire.

Mat 5:23 So then, if you are bringing your offering to the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you,

Mat 5:24 leave your offering there before the altar, go and be reconciled with your brother first, and then come back and present your offering.

Mat 5:25 Come to terms with your opponent in good time while you are still on the way to the court with him, or he may hand you over to the judge and the judge to the officer, and you will be thrown into prison.

Mat 5:26 In truth I tell you, you will not get out till you have paid the last penny.

Mat 5:27 'You have heard how it was said, You shall not commit adultery.

Mat 5:28 But I say this to you, if a man looks at a woman lustfully, he has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

Mat 5:29 If your right eye should be your downfall, tear it out and throw it away; for it will do you less harm to lose one part of yourself than to have your whole body thrown into hell.

Mat 5:30 And if your right hand should be your downfall, cut it off and throw it away; for it will do you less harm to lose one part of yourself than to have your whole body go to hell.

Mat 5:31 'It has also been said, Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a writ of dismissal.

Mat 5:32 But I say this to you, everyone who divorces his wife, except for the case of an illicit marriage, makes her an adulteress; and anyone who marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

Mat 5:33 'Again, you have heard how it was said to our ancestors, You must not break your oath, but must fulfil your oaths to the Lord.

Mat 5:34 But I say this to you, do not swear at all, either by heaven, since that is God's throne;

Mat 5:35 or by earth, since that is his footstool; or by Jerusalem, since that is the city of the great King.

Mat 5:36 Do not swear by your own head either, since you cannot turn a single hair white or black.

Mat 5:37 All you need say is "Yes" if you mean yes, "No" if you mean no; anything more than this comes from the Evil One.

Mat 5:38 'You have heard how it was said: Eye for eye and tooth for tooth.

Mat 5:39 But I say this to you: offer no resistance to the wicked. On the contrary, if anyone hits you on the right cheek, offer him the other as well;

Mat 5:40 if someone wishes to go to law with you to get your tunic, let him have your cloak as well.

Mat 5:41 And if anyone requires you to go one mile, go two miles with him.

Mat 5:42 Give to anyone who asks you, and if anyone wants to borrow, do not turn away.

Mat 5:43 'You have heard how it was said, You will love your neighbour and hate your enemy.

Mat 5:44 But I say this to you, love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you;

Mat 5:45 so that you may be children of your Father in heaven, for he causes his sun to rise on the bad as well as the good, and sends down rain to fall on the upright and the wicked alike.

Mat 5:46 For if you love those who love you, what reward will you get? Do not even the tax collectors do as much?

Mat 5:47 And if you save your greetings for your brothers, are you doing anything exceptional?

Mat 5:48 Do not even the gentiles do as much? You must therefore be perfect, just as your heavenly Father is perfect.'

Mat 6:1 'Be careful not to parade your uprightness in public to attract attention; otherwise you will lose all reward from your Father in heaven.

Mat 6:2 So when you give alms, do not have it trumpeted before you; this is what the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets to win human admiration. In truth I tell you, they have had their reward.

Mat 6:3 But when you give alms, your left hand must not know what your right is doing;

Mat 6:4 your almsgiving must be secret, and your Father who sees all that is done in secret will reward you.

Mat 6:5 'And when you pray, do not imitate the hypocrites: they love to say their prayers standing up in the synagogues and at the street corners for people to see them. In truth I tell you, they have had their reward.

Mat 6:6 But when you pray, go to your private room, shut yourself in, and so pray to your Father who is in that secret place, and your Father who sees all that is done in secret will reward you.

Mat 6:7 'In your prayers do not babble as the gentiles do, for they think that by using many words they will make themselves heard.

Mat 6:8 Do not be like them; your Father knows what you need before you ask him.

Mat 6:9 So you should pray like this: Our Father in heaven, may your name be held holy,

Mat 6:10 your kingdom come, your will be done, on earth as in heaven.

Mat 6:11 Give us today our daily bread.

Mat 6:12 And forgive us our debts, as we have forgiven those who are in debt to us.

Mat 6:13 And do not put us to the test, but save us from the Evil One.

Mat 6:14 'Yes, if you forgive others their failings, your heavenly Father will forgive you yours;

Mat 6:15 but if you do not forgive others, your Father will not forgive your failings either.

Mat 6:16 'When you are fasting, do not put on a gloomy look as the hypocrites do: they go about looking unsightly to let people know they are fasting. In truth I tell you, they have had their reward.

Mat 6:17 But when you fast, put scent on your head and wash your face,

Mat 6:18 so that no one will know you are fasting except your Father who sees all that is done in secret; and your Father who sees all that is done in secret will reward you.

Mat 6:19 'Do not store up treasures for yourselves on earth, where moth and woodworm destroy them and thieves can break in and steal.

Mat 6:20 But store up treasures for yourselves in heaven, where neither moth nor woodworm destroys them and thieves cannot break in and steal.

Mat 6:21 For wherever your treasure is, there will your heart be too.

Mat 6:22 'The lamp of the body is the eye. It follows that if your eye is clear, your whole body will be filled with light.

Mat 6:23 But if your eye is diseased, your whole body will be darkness. If then, the light inside you is darkened, what darkness that will be!

Mat 6:24 'No one can be the slave of two masters: he will either hate the first and love the second, or be attached to the first and despise the second. You cannot be the slave both of God and of money.

Mat 6:25 'That is why I am telling you not to worry about your life and what you are to eat, nor about your body and what you are to wear. Surely life is more than food, and the body more than clothing!

Mat 6:26 Look at the birds in the sky. They do not sow or reap or gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not worth much more than they are?

Mat 6:27 Can any of you, however much you worry, add one single cubit to your span of life?

Mat 6:28 And why worry about clothing? Think of the flowers growing in the fields; they never have to work or spin;

Mat 6:29 yet I assure you that not even Solomon in all his royal robes was clothed like one of these.

Mat 6:30 Now if that is how God clothes the wild flowers growing in the field which are there today and thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will he not much more look after you, you who have so little faith?

Mat 6:31 So do not worry; do not say, "What are we to eat? What are we to drink? What are we to wear?"

Mat 6:32 It is the gentiles who set their hearts on all these things. Your heavenly Father knows you need them all.

Mat 6:33 Set your hearts on his kingdom first, and on God's saving justice, and all these other things will be given you as well.

Mat 6:34 So do not worry about tomorrow: tomorrow will take care of itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.'

Mat 7:1 'Do not judge, and you will not be judged;

Mat 7:2 because the judgements you give are the judgements you will get, and the standard you use will be the standard used for you.

Mat 7:3 Why do you observe the splinter in your brother's eye and never notice the great log in your own?

Mat 7:4 And how dare you say to your brother, "Let me take that splinter out of your eye," when, look, there is a great log in your own?

Mat 7:5 Hypocrite! Take the log out of your own eye first, and then you will see clearly enough to take the splinter out of your brother's eye.

Mat 7:6 'Do not give dogs what is holy; and do not throw your pearls in front of pigs, or they may trample them and then turn on you and tear you to pieces.

Mat 7:7 'Ask, and it will be given to you; search, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened to you.

Mat 7:8 Everyone who asks receives; everyone who searches finds; everyone who knocks will have the door opened.

Mat 7:9 Is there anyone among you who would hand his son a stone when he asked for bread?

Mat 7:10 Or would hand him a snake when he asked for a fish?

Mat 7:11 If you, then, evil as you are, know how to give your children what is good, how much more will your Father in heaven give good things to those who ask him!

Mat 7:12 'So always treat others as you would like them to treat you; that is the Law and the Prophets.

Mat 7:13 'Enter by the narrow gate, since the road that leads to destruction is wide and spacious, and many take it;

Mat 7:14 but it is a narrow gate and a hard road that leads to life, and only a few find it.

Mat 7:15 'Beware of false prophets who come to you disguised as sheep but underneath are ravenous wolves.

Mat 7:16 You will be able to tell them by their fruits. Can people pick grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles?

Mat 7:17 In the same way, a sound tree produces good fruit but a rotten tree bad fruit.

Mat 7:18 A sound tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor a rotten tree bear good fruit.

Mat 7:19 Any tree that does not produce good fruit is cut down and thrown on the fire.

Mat 7:20 I repeat, you will be able to tell them by their fruits.

Mat 7:21 'It is not anyone who says to me, "Lord, Lord," who will enter the kingdom of Heaven, but the person who does the will of my Father in heaven.

Mat 7:22 When the day comes many will say to me, "Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, drive out demons in your name, work many miracles in your name?"

Mat 7:23 Then I shall tell them to their faces: I have never known you; away from me, all evil doers!

- Mat 7:24 'Therefore, everyone who listens to these words of mine and acts on them will be like a sensible man who built his house on rock.
- Mat 7:25 Rain came down, floods rose, gales blew and hurled themselves against that house, and it did not fall: it was founded on rock.
- Mat 7:26 But everyone who listens to these words of mine and does not act on them will be like a stupid man who built his house on sand.
- Mat 7:27 Rain came down, floods rose, gales blew and struck that house, and it fell; and what a fall it had!
- Mat 7:28 Jesus had now finished what he wanted to say, and his teaching made a deep impression on the people
- Mat 7:29 because he taught them with authority, unlike their own scribes.
- Mat 8:1 After he had come down from the mountain large crowds followed him.
- Mat 8:2 Suddenly a man with a virulent skin-disease came up and bowed low in front of him, saying, 'Lord, if you are willing, you can cleanse me.'
- Mat 8:3 Jesus stretched out his hand and touched him saying, 'I am willing. Be cleansed.' And his skin-disease was cleansed at once.
- Mat 8:4 Then Jesus said to him, 'Mind you tell no one, but go and show yourself to the priest and make the offering prescribed by Moses, as evidence to them.'
- Mat 8:5 When he went into Capernaum a centurion came up and pleaded with him.
- Mat 8:6 'Sir,' he said, 'my servant is lying at home paralysed and in great pain.'
- Mat 8:7 Jesus said to him, 'I will come myself and cure him.'
- Mat 8:8 The centurion replied, 'Sir, I am not worthy to have you under my roof; just give the word and my servant will be cured.
- Mat 8:9 For I am under authority myself and have soldiers under me; and I say to one man, "Go," and he goes; to another, "Come here," and he comes; to my servant, "Do this," and he does it.'
- Mat 8:10 When Jesus heard this he was astonished and said to those following him, 'In truth I tell you, in no one in Israel have I found faith as great as this.
- Mat 8:11 And I tell you that many will come from east and west and sit down with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob at the feast in the kingdom of Heaven;
- Mat 8:12 but the children of the kingdom will be thrown out into the darkness outside, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.'
- Mat 8:13 And to the centurion Jesus said, 'Go back, then; let this be done for you, as your faith demands.' And the servant was cured at that moment.
- Mat 8:14 And going into Peter's house Jesus found Peter's mother-in-law in bed and feverish.
- Mat 8:15 He touched her hand and the fever left her, and she got up and began to serve him.
- Mat 8:16 That evening they brought him many who were possessed by devils. He drove out the spirits with a command and cured all who were sick.
- Mat 8:17 This was to fulfil what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah: He himself bore our sicknesses away and carried our diseases.
- Mat 8:18 When Jesus saw the crowd all about him he gave orders to leave for the other side.
- Mat 8:19 One of the scribes then came up and said to him, 'Master, I will follow you wherever you go.'
- Mat 8:20 Jesus said, 'Foxes have holes and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of man has nowhere to lay his head.'
- Mat 8:21 Another man, one of the disciples, said to him, 'Lord, let me go and bury my father first.'
- Mat 8:22 But Jesus said, 'Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their dead.'
- Mat 8:23 Then he got into the boat followed by his disciples.
- Mat 8:24 Suddenly a storm broke over the lake, so violent that the boat was being swamped by the waves. But he was asleep.
- Mat 8:25 So they went to him and woke him saying, 'Save us, Lord, we are lost!'
- Mat 8:26 And he said to them, 'Why are you so frightened, you who have so little faith?' And then he stood up and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.
- Mat 8:27 They were astounded and said, 'Whatever kind of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?'
- Mat 8:28 When he reached the territory of the Gadarenes on the other side, two demoniacs came towards him out of the tombs -- they were so dangerously violent that nobody could use that path.
- Mat 8:29 Suddenly they shouted, 'What do you want with us, Son of God? Have you come here to torture us before the time?'
- Mat 8:30 Now some distance away there was a large herd of pigs feeding,
- Mat 8:31 and the devils pleaded with Jesus, 'If you drive us out, send us into the herd of pigs.'
- Mat 8:32 And he said to them, 'Go then,' and they came out and made for the pigs; and at that the whole herd charged down the cliff into the lake and perished in the water.

Mat 8:33 The herdsmen ran off and made for the city, where they told the whole story, including what had happened to the demoniacs.

Mat 8:34 Suddenly the whole city set out to meet Jesus; and as soon as they saw him they implored him to leave their neighbourhood.

Mat 9:1 He got back in the boat, crossed the water and came to his home town.

Mat 9:2 And suddenly some people brought him a paralytic stretched out on a bed. Seeing their faith, Jesus said to the paralytic, 'Take comfort, my child, your sins are forgiven.'

Mat 9:3 And now some scribes said to themselves, 'This man is being blasphemous.'

Mat 9:4 Knowing what was in their minds Jesus said, 'Why do you have such wicked thoughts in your hearts?

Mat 9:5 Now, which of these is easier: to say, "Your sins are forgiven," or to say, "Get up and walk"?

Mat 9:6 But to prove to you that the Son of man has authority on earth to forgive sins,' -- then he said to the paralytic-'get up, pick up your bed and go off home.'

Mat 9:7 And the man got up and went home.

Mat 9:8 A feeling of awe came over the crowd when they saw this, and they praised God for having given such authority to human beings.

Mat 9:9 As Jesus was walking on from there he saw a man named Matthew sitting at the tax office, and he said to him, 'Follow me.' And he got up and followed him.

Mat 9:10 Now while he was at table in the house it happened that a number of tax collectors and sinners came to sit at the table with Jesus and his disciples.

Mat 9:11 When the Pharisees saw this, they said to his disciples, 'Why does your master eat with tax collectors and sinners?'

Mat 9:12 When he heard this he replied, 'It is not the healthy who need the doctor, but the sick.'

Mat 9:13 Go and learn the meaning of the words: Mercy is what pleases me, not sacrifice. And indeed I came to call not the upright, but sinners.'

Mat 9:14 Then John's disciples came to him and said, 'Why is it that we and the Pharisees fast, but your disciples do not?'

Mat 9:15 Jesus replied, 'Surely the bridegroom's attendants cannot mourn as long as the bridegroom is still with them? But the time will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them, and then they will fast.'

Mat 9:16 No one puts a piece of unshrunken cloth onto an old cloak, because the patch pulls away from the cloak and the tear gets worse.

Mat 9:17 Nor do people put new wine into old wineskins; otherwise, the skins burst, the wine runs out, and the skins are lost. No; they put new wine in fresh skins and both are preserved.'

Mat 9:18 While he was speaking to them, suddenly one of the officials came up, who bowed low in front of him and said, 'My daughter has just died, but come and lay your hand on her and her life will be saved.'

Mat 9:19 Jesus rose and, with his disciples, followed him.

Mat 9:20 Then suddenly from behind him came a woman, who had been suffering from a haemorrhage for twelve years, and she touched the fringe of his cloak,

Mat 9:21 for she was thinking, 'If only I can touch his cloak I shall be saved.'

Mat 9:22 Jesus turned round and saw her; and he said to her, 'Courage, my daughter, your faith has saved you.' And from that moment the woman was saved.

Mat 9:23 When Jesus reached the official's house and saw the flute-players, with the crowd making a commotion, he said,

Mat 9:24 'Get out of here; the little girl is not dead; she is asleep.' And they ridiculed him.

Mat 9:25 But when the people had been turned out he went inside and took her by the hand; and she stood up.

Mat 9:26 And the news of this spread all round the countryside.

Mat 9:27 As Jesus went on his way two blind men followed him shouting, 'Take pity on us, son of David.'

Mat 9:28 And when Jesus reached the house the blind men came up to him and he said to them, 'Do you believe I can do this?' They said, 'Lord, we do.'

Mat 9:29 Then he touched their eyes saying, 'According to your faith, let it be done to you.'

Mat 9:30 And their sight returned. Then Jesus sternly warned them, 'Take care that no one learns about this.'

Mat 9:31 But when they had gone away, they talked about him all over the countryside.

Mat 9:32 They had only just left when suddenly a man was brought to him, a dumb demoniac.

Mat 9:33 And when the devil was driven out, the dumb man spoke and the people were amazed and said, 'Nothing like this has ever been seen in Israel.'

Mat 9:34 But the Pharisees said, 'It is through the prince of devils that he drives out devils.'

Mat 9:35 Jesus made a tour through all the towns and villages, teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the good news of the kingdom and curing all kinds of disease and all kinds of illness.

Mat 9:36 And when he saw the crowds he felt sorry for them because they were harassed and dejected, like sheep without a shepherd.

Mat 9:37 Then he said to his disciples, 'The harvest is rich but the labourers are few, so ask the Lord of the harvest to send out labourers to his harvest.'

Mat 10:1 He summoned his twelve disciples and gave them authority over unclean spirits with power to drive them out and to cure all kinds of disease and all kinds of illness.

Mat 10:2 These are the names of the twelve apostles: first, Simon who is known as Peter, and his brother Andrew; James the son of Zebedee, and his brother John;

Mat 10:3 Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the tax collector; James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus;

Mat 10:4 Simon the Zealot and Judas Iscariot, who was also his betrayer.

Mat 10:5 These twelve Jesus sent out, instructing them as follows: 'Do not make your way to gentile territory, and do not enter any Samaritan town;

Mat 10:6 go instead to the lost sheep of the House of Israel.

Mat 10:7 And as you go, proclaim that the kingdom of Heaven is close at hand.

Mat 10:8 Cure the sick, raise the dead, cleanse those suffering from virulent skin-diseases, drive out devils. You received without charge, give without charge.

Mat 10:9 Provide yourselves with no gold or silver, not even with coppers for your purses,

Mat 10:10 with no haversack for the journey or spare tunic or footwear or a staff, for the labourer deserves his keep.

Mat 10:11 'Whatever town or village you go into, seek out someone worthy and stay with him until you leave.

Mat 10:12 As you enter his house, salute it,

Mat 10:13 and if the house deserves it, may your peace come upon it; if it does not, may your peace come back to you.

Mat 10:14 And if anyone does not welcome you or listen to what you have to say, as you walk out of the house or town shake the dust from your feet.

Mat 10:15 In truth I tell you, on the Day of Judgement it will be more bearable for Sodom and Gomorrah than for that town.

Mat 10:16 Look, I am sending you out like sheep among wolves; so be cunning as snakes and yet innocent as doves.

Mat 10:17 'Be prepared for people to hand you over to sanhedrins and scourge you in their synagogues.

Mat 10:18 You will be brought before governors and kings for my sake, as evidence to them and to the gentiles.

Mat 10:19 But when you are handed over, do not worry about how to speak or what to say; what you are to say will be given to you when the time comes,

Mat 10:20 because it is not you who will be speaking; the Spirit of your Father will be speaking in you.

Mat 10:21 'Brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child; children will come forward against their parents and have them put to death.

Mat 10:22 You will be universally hated on account of my name; but anyone who stands firm to the end will be saved.

Mat 10:23 If they persecute you in one town, take refuge in the next; and if they persecute you in that, take refuge in another. In truth I tell you, you will not have gone the round of the towns of Israel before the Son of man comes.

Mat 10:24 'Disciple is not superior to teacher, nor slave to master.

Mat 10:25 It is enough for disciple to grow to be like teacher, and slave like master. If they have called the master of the house "Beelzebul", how much more the members of his household?

Mat 10:26 'So do not be afraid of them. Everything now covered up will be uncovered, and everything now hidden will be made clear.

Mat 10:27 What I say to you in the dark, tell in the daylight; what you hear in whispers, proclaim from the housetops.

Mat 10:28 'Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul; fear him rather who can destroy both body and soul in hell.

Mat 10:29 Can you not buy two sparrows for a penny? And yet not one falls to the ground without your Father knowing.

Mat 10:30 Why, every hair on your head has been counted.

Mat 10:31 So there is no need to be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows.

Mat 10:32 'So if anyone declares himself for me in the presence of human beings, I will declare myself for him in the presence of my Father in heaven.

Mat 10:33 But the one who disowns me in the presence of human beings, I will disown in the presence of my Father in heaven.

Mat 10:34 'Do not suppose that I have come to bring peace to the earth: it is not peace I have come to bring, but a sword.

Mat 10:35 For I have come to set son against father, daughter against mother, daughter-in-law against mother-in-law;

Mat 10:36 a person's enemies will be the members of his own household.

Mat 10:37 'No one who prefers father or mother to me is worthy of me. No one who prefers son or daughter to me is worthy of me.

Mat 10:38 Anyone who does not take his cross and follow in my footsteps is not worthy of me.

Mat 10:39 Anyone who finds his life will lose it; anyone who loses his life for my sake will find it.

Mat 10:40 'Anyone who welcomes you welcomes me; and anyone who welcomes me welcomes the one who sent me.

Mat 10:41 'Anyone who welcomes a prophet because he is a prophet will have a prophet's reward; and anyone who welcomes an upright person because he is upright will have the reward of an upright person.

Mat 10:42 'If anyone gives so much as a cup of cold water to one of these little ones because he is a disciple, then in truth I tell you, he will most certainly not go without his reward.'

Mat 11:1 When Jesus had finished instructing his twelve disciples he moved on from there to teach and preach in their towns.

Mat 11:2 Now John had heard in prison what Christ was doing and he sent his disciples to ask him,

Mat 11:3 'Are you the one who is to come, or are we to expect someone else?'

Mat 11:4 Jesus answered, 'Go back and tell John what you hear and see;

Mat 11:5 the blind see again, and the lame walk, those suffering from virulent skin-diseases are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised to life and the good news is proclaimed to the poor;

Mat 11:6 and blessed is anyone who does not find me a cause of falling.'

Mat 11:7 As the men were leaving, Jesus began to talk to the people about John, 'What did you go out into the desert to see? A reed swaying in the breeze? No?

Mat 11:8 Then what did you go out to see? A man wearing fine clothes? Look, those who wear fine clothes are to be found in palaces.

Mat 11:9 Then what did you go out for? To see a prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a prophet:

Mat 11:10 he is the one of whom scripture says: Look, I am going to send my messenger in front of you to prepare your way before you.

Mat 11:11 'In truth I tell you, of all the children born to women, there has never been anyone greater than John the Baptist; yet the least in the kingdom of Heaven is greater than he.

Mat 11:12 Since John the Baptist came, up to this present time, the kingdom of Heaven has been subjected to violence and the violent are taking it by storm.

Mat 11:13 Because it was towards John that all the prophecies of the prophets and of the Law were leading;

Mat 11:14 and he, if you will believe me, is the Elijah who was to return.

Mat 11:15 Anyone who has ears should listen!

Mat 11:16 'What comparison can I find for this generation? It is like children shouting to each other as they sit in the market place:

Mat 11:17 We played the pipes for you, and you wouldn't dance; we sang dirges, and you wouldn't be mourners.

Mat 11:18 'For John came, neither eating nor drinking, and they say, "He is possessed."

Mat 11:19 The Son of man came, eating and drinking, and they say, "Look, a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners." Yet wisdom is justified by her deeds.'

Mat 11:20 Then he began to reproach the towns in which most of his miracles had been worked, because they refused to repent.

Mat 11:21 'Alas for you, Chorazin! Alas for you, Bethsaida! For if the miracles done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

Mat 11:22 Still, I tell you that it will be more bearable for Tyre and Sidon on Judgement Day than for you.

Mat 11:23 And as for you, Capernaum, did you want to be raised as high as heaven? You shall be flung down to hell. For if the miracles done in you had been done in Sodom, it would have been standing yet.

Mat 11:24 Still, I tell you that it will be more bearable for Sodom on Judgement Day than for you.'

Mat 11:25 At that time Jesus exclaimed, 'I bless you, Father, Lord of heaven and of earth, for hiding these things from the learned and the clever and revealing them to little children.

Mat 11:26 Yes, Father, for that is what it pleased you to do.

Mat 11:27 Everything has been entrusted to me by my Father; and no one knows the Son except the Father, just as no one knows the Father except the Son and those to whom the Son chooses to reveal him.

Mat 11:28 'Come to me, all you who labour and are overburdened, and I will give you rest.

Mat 11:29 Shoulder my yoke and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls.

Mat 11:30 Yes, my yoke is easy and my burden light.'

Mat 12:1 At that time Jesus went through the cornfields one Sabbath day. His disciples were hungry and began to pick ears of corn and eat them.

Mat 12:2 The Pharisees noticed it and said to him, 'Look, your disciples are doing something that is forbidden on the Sabbath.'

Mat 12:3 But he said to them, 'Have you not read what David did when he and his followers were hungry-

Mat 12:4 how he went into the house of God and they ate the loaves of the offering although neither he nor his followers were permitted to eat them, but only the priests?

Mat 12:5 Or again, have you not read in the Law that on the Sabbath day the Temple priests break the Sabbath without committing any fault?

Mat 12:6 Now here, I tell you, is something greater than the Temple.

Mat 12:7 And if you had understood the meaning of the words: Mercy is what pleases me, not sacrifice, you would not have condemned the blameless.

Mat 12:8 For the Son of man is master of the Sabbath.'

Mat 12:9 He moved on from there and went to their synagogue;

Mat 12:10 now a man was there with a withered hand. They asked him, 'Is it permitted to cure somebody on the Sabbath day?' hoping for something to charge him with.

Mat 12:11 But he said to them, 'If any one of you here had only one sheep and it fell down a hole on the Sabbath day, would he not get hold of it and lift it out?

Mat 12:12 Now a man is far more important than a sheep, so it follows that it is permitted on the Sabbath day to do good.'

Mat 12:13 Then he said to the man, 'Stretch out your hand.' He stretched it out and his hand was restored, as sound as the other one.

Mat 12:14 At this the Pharisees went out and began to plot against him, discussing how to destroy him.

Mat 12:15 Jesus knew this and withdrew from the district. Many followed him and he cured them all

Mat 12:16 but warned them not to make him known.

Mat 12:17 This was to fulfil what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah:

Mat 12:18 Look! My servant whom I have chosen, my beloved, in whom my soul delights, I will send my Spirit upon him, and he will present judgement to the nations;

Mat 12:19 he will not brawl or cry out, his voice is not heard in the streets,

Mat 12:20 he will not break the crushed reed, or snuff the faltering wick,

Mat 12:21 until he has made judgement victorious; in him the nations will put their hope.

Mat 12:22 Then they brought to him a blind and dumb demoniac; and he cured him, so that the dumb man could speak and see.

Mat 12:23 All the people were astounded and said, 'Can this be the son of David?'

Mat 12:24 But when the Pharisees heard this they said, 'The man drives out devils only through Beelzebul, the chief of the devils.'

Mat 12:25 Knowing what was in their minds he said to them, 'Every kingdom divided against itself is heading for ruin; and no town, no household divided against itself can last.'

Mat 12:26 Now if Satan drives out Satan, he is divided against himself; so how can his kingdom last?

Mat 12:27 And if it is through Beelzebul that I drive devils out, through whom do your own experts drive them out? They shall be your judges, then.

Mat 12:28 But if it is through the Spirit of God that I drive out devils, then be sure that the kingdom of God has caught you unawares.

Mat 12:29 'Or again, how can anyone make his way into a strong man's house and plunder his property unless he has first tied up the strong man? Only then can he plunder his house.'

Mat 12:30 'Anyone who is not with me is against me, and anyone who does not gather in with me throws away.'

Mat 12:31 And so I tell you, every human sin and blasphemy will be forgiven, but blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven.

Mat 12:32 And anyone who says a word against the Son of man will be forgiven; but no one who speaks against the Holy Spirit will be forgiven either in this world or in the next.

Mat 12:33 'Make a tree sound and its fruit will be sound; make a tree rotten and its fruit will be rotten. For the tree can be told by its fruit.'

Mat 12:34 You brood of vipers, how can your speech be good when you are evil? For words flow out of what fills the heart.

Mat 12:35 Good people draw good things from their store of goodness; bad people draw bad things from their store of badness.'

Mat 12:36 So I tell you this, that for every unfounded word people utter they will answer on Judgement Day,

Mat 12:37 since it is by your words you will be justified, and by your words condemned.'

Mat 12:38 Then some of the scribes and Pharisees spoke up. 'Master,' they said, 'we should like to see a sign from you.'

Mat 12:39 He replied, 'It is an evil and unfaithful generation that asks for a sign! The only sign it will be given is the sign of the prophet Jonah.

Mat 12:40 For as Jonah remained in the belly of the sea-monster for three days and three nights, so will the Son of man be in the heart of the earth for three days and three nights.

Mat 12:41 On Judgement Day the men of Nineveh will appear against this generation and they will be its condemnation, because when Jonah preached they repented; and look, there is something greater than Jonah here.

Mat 12:42 On Judgement Day the Queen of the South will appear against this generation and be its condemnation, because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and look, there is something greater than Solomon here.

Mat 12:43 'When an unclean spirit goes out of someone it wanders through waterless country looking for a place to rest, and cannot find one.'

Mat 12:44 Then it says, "I will return to the home I came from." But on arrival, finding it unoccupied, swept and tidied,

Mat 12:45 it then goes off and collects seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they go in and set up house there, and so that person ends up worse off than before. That is what will happen to this wicked generation.'

Mat 12:46 He was still speaking to the crowds when suddenly his mother and his brothers were standing outside and were anxious to have a word with him.

Mat 12:47 still speaking to the crowds when suddenly his mother and his brothers were standing outside and were anxious to have a word with him.

Mat 12:48 But to the man who told him this Jesus replied, 'Who is my mother? Who are my brothers?'

Mat 12:49 And stretching out his hand towards his disciples he said, 'Here are my mother and my brothers.'

Mat 12:50 Anyone who does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother.'

Mat 13:1 That same day, Jesus left the house and sat by the lakeside,

Mat 13:2 but such large crowds gathered round him that he got into a boat and sat there. The people all stood on the shore,

Mat 13:3 and he told them many things in parables. He said, 'Listen, a sower went out to sow.

Mat 13:4 As he sowed, some seeds fell on the edge of the path, and the birds came and ate them up.

Mat 13:5 Others fell on patches of rock where they found little soil and sprang up at once, because there was no depth of earth;

Mat 13:6 but as soon as the sun came up they were scorched and, not having any roots, they withered away.

Mat 13:7 Others fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them.

Mat 13:8 Others fell on rich soil and produced their crop, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

Mat 13:9 Anyone who has ears should listen!'

Mat 13:10 Then the disciples went up to him and asked, 'Why do you talk to them in parables?'

Mat 13:11 In answer, he said, 'Because to you is granted to understand the mysteries of the kingdom of Heaven, but to them it is not granted.'

Mat 13:12 Anyone who has will be given more and will have more than enough; but anyone who has not will be deprived even of what he has.

Mat 13:13 The reason I talk to them in parables is that they look without seeing and listen without hearing or understanding.

Mat 13:14 So in their case what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah is being fulfilled: Listen and listen, but never understand! Look and look, but never perceive!

Mat 13:15 This people's heart has grown coarse, their ears dulled, they have shut their eyes tight to avoid using their eyes to see, their ears to hear, their heart to understand, changing their ways and being healed by me.

Mat 13:16 'But blessed are your eyes because they see, your ears because they hear!'

Mat 13:17 In truth I tell you, many prophets and upright people longed to see what you see, and never saw it; to hear what you hear, and never heard it.

Mat 13:18 'So pay attention to the parable of the sower.'

Mat 13:19 When anyone hears the word of the kingdom without understanding, the Evil One comes and carries off what was sown in his heart: this is the seed sown on the edge of the path.

Mat 13:20 The seed sown on patches of rock is someone who hears the word and welcomes it at once with joy.

Mat 13:21 But such a person has no root deep down and does not last; should some trial come, or some persecution on account of the word, at once he falls away.

Mat 13:22 The seed sown in thorns is someone who hears the word, but the worry of the world and the lure of riches choke the word and so it produces nothing.

Mat 13:23 And the seed sown in rich soil is someone who hears the word and understands it; this is the one who yields a harvest and produces now a hundredfold, now sixty, now thirty.'

Mat 13:24 He put another parable before them, 'The kingdom of Heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field.

Mat 13:25 While everybody was asleep his enemy came, sowed darnel all among the wheat, and made off.

Mat 13:26 When the new wheat sprouted and ripened, then the darnel appeared as well.

Mat 13:27 The owner's labourers went to him and said, "Sir, was it not good seed that you sowed in your field? If so, where does the darnel come from?"

Mat 13:28 He said to them, "Some enemy has done this." And the labourers said, "Do you want us to go and weed it out?"

Mat 13:29 But he said, "No, because when you weed out the darnel you might pull up the wheat with it.

Mat 13:30 Let them both grow till the harvest; and at harvest time I shall say to the reapers: First collect the darnel and tie it in bundles to be burnt, then gather the wheat into my barn."

Mat 13:31 He put another parable before them, 'The kingdom of Heaven is like a mustard seed which a man took and sowed in his field.

Mat 13:32 It is the smallest of all the seeds, but when it has grown it is the biggest of shrubs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air can come and shelter in its branches.'

Mat 13:33 He told them another parable, 'The kingdom of Heaven is like the yeast a woman took and mixed in with three measures of flour till it was leavened all through.'

Mat 13:34 In all this Jesus spoke to the crowds in parables; indeed, he would never speak to them except in parables.

Mat 13:35 This was to fulfil what was spoken by the prophet: I will speak to you in parables, unfold what has been hidden since the foundation of the world.

Mat 13:36 Then, leaving the crowds, he went to the house; and his disciples came to him and said, 'Explain to us the parable about the darnel in the field.'

Mat 13:37 He said in reply, 'The sower of the good seed is the Son of man.

Mat 13:38 The field is the world; the good seed is the subjects of the kingdom; the darnel, the subjects of the Evil One;

Mat 13:39 the enemy who sowed it, the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; the reapers are the angels.

Mat 13:40 Well then, just as the darnel is gathered up and burnt in the fire, so it will be at the end of time.

Mat 13:41 The Son of man will send his angels and they will gather out of his kingdom all causes of falling and all who do evil,

Mat 13:42 and throw them into the blazing furnace, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

Mat 13:43 Then the upright will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Anyone who has ears should listen!

Mat 13:44 'The kingdom of Heaven is like treasure hidden in a field which someone has found; he hides it again, goes off in his joy, sells everything he owns and buys the field.

Mat 13:45 'Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like a merchant looking for fine pearls;

Mat 13:46 when he finds one of great value he goes and sells everything he owns and buys it.

Mat 13:47 'Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like a dragnet that is cast in the sea and brings in a haul of all kinds of fish.

Mat 13:48 When it is full, the fishermen bring it ashore; then, sitting down, they collect the good ones in baskets and throw away those that are no use.

Mat 13:49 This is how it will be at the end of time: the angels will appear and separate the wicked from the upright,

Mat 13:50 to throw them into the blazing furnace, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

Mat 13:51 'Have you understood all these?' They said, 'Yes.'

Mat 13:52 And he said to them, 'Well then, every scribe who becomes a disciple of the kingdom of Heaven is like a householder who brings out from his storeroom new things as well as old.'

Mat 13:53 When Jesus had finished these parables he left the district;

Mat 13:54 and, coming to his home town, he taught the people in their synagogue in such a way that they were astonished and said, 'Where did the man get this wisdom and these miraculous powers?

Mat 13:55 This is the carpenter's son, surely? Is not his mother the woman called Mary, and his brothers James and Joseph and Simon and Jude?

Mat 13:56 His sisters, too, are they not all here with us? So where did the man get it all?'

Mat 13:57 And they would not accept him. But Jesus said to them, 'A prophet is despised only in his own country and in his own house,'

Mat 13:58 and he did not work many miracles there because of their lack of faith.

Mat 14:1 At that time Herod the tetrarch heard about the reputation of Jesus

Mat 14:2 and said to his court, 'This is John the Baptist himself; he has risen from the dead, and that is why miraculous powers are at work in him.'

Mat 14:3 Now it was Herod who had arrested John, chained him up and put him in prison because of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife.

Mat 14:4 For John had told him, 'It is against the Law for you to have her.'

Mat 14:5 He had wanted to kill him but was afraid of the people, who regarded John as a prophet.

Mat 14:6 Then, during the celebrations for Herod's birthday, the daughter of Herodias danced before the company and so delighted Herod

Mat 14:7 that he promised on oath to give her anything she asked.

Mat 14:8 Prompted by her mother she said, 'Give me John the Baptist's head, here, on a dish.'

Mat 14:9 The king was distressed but, thinking of the oaths he had sworn and of his guests, he ordered it to be given her,

Mat 14:10 and sent and had John beheaded in the prison.

Mat 14:11 The head was brought in on a dish and given to the girl, who took it to her mother.

Mat 14:12 John's disciples came and took the body and buried it; then they went off to tell Jesus.

Mat 14:13 When Jesus received this news he withdrew by boat to a lonely place where they could be by themselves. But the crowds heard of this and, leaving the towns, went after him on foot.

Mat 14:14 So as he stepped ashore he saw a large crowd; and he took pity on them and healed their sick.

Mat 14:15 When evening came, the disciples went to him and said, 'This is a lonely place, and time has slipped by; so send the people away, and they can go to the villages to buy themselves some food.'

Mat 14:16 Jesus replied, 'There is no need for them to go: give them something to eat yourselves.'

Mat 14:17 But they answered, 'All we have with us is five loaves and two fish.'

Mat 14:18 So he said, 'Bring them here to me.'

Mat 14:19 He gave orders that the people were to sit down on the grass; then he took the five loaves and the two fish, raised his eyes to heaven and said the blessing. And breaking the loaves he handed them to his disciples, who gave them to the crowds.

Mat 14:20 They all ate as much as they wanted, and they collected the scraps left over, twelve baskets full.

Mat 14:21 Now about five thousand men had eaten, to say nothing of women and children.

Mat 14:22 And at once he made the disciples get into the boat and go on ahead to the other side while he sent the crowds away.

Mat 14:23 After sending the crowds away he went up into the hills by himself to pray. When evening came, he was there alone,

Mat 14:24 while the boat, by now some furlongs from land, was hard pressed by rough waves, for there was a head-wind.

Mat 14:25 In the fourth watch of the night he came towards them, walking on the sea,

Mat 14:26 and when the disciples saw him walking on the sea they were terrified. 'It is a ghost,' they said, and cried out in fear.

Mat 14:27 But at once Jesus called out to them, saying, 'Courage! It's me! Don't be afraid.'

Mat 14:28 It was Peter who answered. 'Lord,' he said, 'if it is you, tell me to come to you across the water.'

Mat 14:29 Jesus said, 'Come.' Then Peter got out of the boat and started walking towards Jesus across the water,

Mat 14:30 but then noticing the wind, he took fright and began to sink. 'Lord,' he cried, 'save me!'

Mat 14:31 Jesus put out his hand at once and held him. 'You have so little faith,' he said, 'why did you doubt?'

Mat 14:32 And as they got into the boat the wind dropped.

Mat 14:33 The men in the boat bowed down before him and said, 'Truly, you are the Son of God.'

Mat 14:34 Having made the crossing, they came to land at Gennesaret.

Mat 14:35 When the local people recognised him they spread the news through the whole neighbourhood and took all that were sick to him,

Mat 14:36 begging him just to let them touch the fringe of his cloak. And all those who touched it were saved.

Mat 15:1 Then Pharisees and scribes from Jerusalem came to Jesus and said,

Mat 15:2 'Why do your disciples break away from the tradition of the elders? They eat without washing their hands.'

Mat 15:3 He answered, 'And why do you break away from the commandment of God for the sake of your tradition?

Mat 15:4 For God said, "Honour your father and your mother" and "Anyone who curses his father or mother will be put to death."

Mat 15:5 But you say, "If anyone says to his father or mother: Anything I might have used to help you is dedicated to God,"

Mat 15:6 he is rid of his duty to father or mother." In this way you have made God's word ineffective by means of your tradition.

Mat 15:7 Hypocrites! How rightly Isaiah prophesied about you when he said:

Mat 15:8 This people honours me only with lip-service, while their hearts are far from me.

Mat 15:9 Their reverence of me is worthless; the lessons they teach are nothing but human commandments.'

Mat 15:10 He called the people to him and said, 'Listen, and understand.

Mat 15:11 What goes into the mouth does not make anyone unclean; it is what comes out of the mouth that makes someone unclean.'

Mat 15:12 Then the disciples came to him and said, 'Do you know that the Pharisees were shocked when they heard what you said?'

Mat 15:13 He replied, 'Any plant my heavenly Father has not planted will be pulled up by the roots.

Mat 15:14 Leave them alone. They are blind leaders of the blind; and if one blind person leads another, both will fall into a pit.'

Mat 15:15 At this, Peter said to him, 'Explain the parable for us.'

Mat 15:16 Jesus replied, 'Even you -- don't you yet understand?

Mat 15:17 Can't you see that whatever goes into the mouth passes through the stomach and is discharged into the sewer?

Mat 15:18 But whatever comes out of the mouth comes from the heart, and it is this that makes someone unclean.

Mat 15:19 For from the heart come evil intentions: murder, adultery, fornication, theft, perjury, slander.

Mat 15:20 These are the things that make a person unclean. But eating with unwashed hands does not make anyone unclean.'

Mat 15:21 Jesus left that place and withdrew to the region of Tyre and Sidon.

Mat 15:22 And suddenly out came a Canaanite woman from that district and started shouting, 'Lord, Son of David, take pity on me. My daughter is tormented by a devil.'

Mat 15:23 But he said not a word in answer to her. And his disciples went and pleaded with him, saying, 'Give her what she wants, because she keeps shouting after us.'

Mat 15:24 He said in reply, 'I was sent only to the lost sheep of the House of Israel.'

Mat 15:25 But the woman had come up and was bowing low before him. 'Lord,' she said, 'help me.'

Mat 15:26 He replied, 'It is not fair to take the children's food and throw it to little dogs.'

Mat 15:27 She retorted, 'Ah yes, Lord; but even little dogs eat the scraps that fall from their masters' table.'

Mat 15:28 Then Jesus answered her, 'Woman, you have great faith. Let your desire be granted.' And from that moment her daughter was well again.

Mat 15:29 Jesus went on from there and reached the shores of the Lake of Galilee, and he went up onto the mountain. He took his seat,

Mat 15:30 and large crowds came to him bringing the lame, the crippled, the blind, the dumb and many others; these they put down at his feet, and he cured them.

Mat 15:31 The crowds were astonished to see the dumb speaking, the cripples whole again, the lame walking and the blind with their sight, and they praised the God of Israel.

Mat 15:32 But Jesus called his disciples to him and said, 'I feel sorry for all these people; they have been with me for three days now and have nothing to eat. I do not want to send them off hungry, or they might collapse on the way.'

Mat 15:33 The disciples said to him, 'Where in a deserted place could we get sufficient bread for such a large crowd to have enough to eat?'

Mat 15:34 Jesus said to them, 'How many loaves have you?' They said, 'Seven, and a few small fish.'

Mat 15:35 Then he instructed the crowd to sit down on the ground,

Mat 15:36 and he took the seven loaves and the fish, and after giving thanks he broke them and began handing them to the disciples, who gave them to the crowds.

Mat 15:37 They all ate as much as they wanted, and they collected what was left of the scraps, seven baskets full.

Mat 15:38 Now four thousand men had eaten, to say nothing of women and children.

Mat 15:39 And when he had sent the crowds away he got into the boat and went to the territory of Magadan.

Mat 16:1 The Pharisees and Sadducees came, and to put him to the test they asked if he would show them a sign from heaven.

Mat 16:2 He replied, 'In the evening you say, "It will be fine; there's a red sky,"

Mat 16:3 and in the morning, "Stormy weather today; the sky is red and overcast." You know how to read the face of the sky, but you cannot read the signs of the times.

Mat 16:4 It is an evil and unfaithful generation asking for a sign, and the only sign it will be given is the sign of Jonah.' And he left them and went off.

Mat 16:5 The disciples, having crossed to the other side, had forgotten to take any food.

Mat 16:6 Jesus said to them, 'Keep your eyes open, and be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees.'

Mat 16:7 And they said among themselves, 'It is because we have not brought any bread.'

Mat 16:8 Jesus knew it, and he said, 'You have so little faith, why are you talking among yourselves about having no bread?

Mat 16:9 Do you still not understand? Do you not remember the five loaves for the five thousand and the number of baskets you collected?

Mat 16:10 Or the seven loaves for the four thousand and the number of baskets you collected?

Mat 16:11 How could you fail to understand that I was not talking about bread? What I said was: Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees.'

Mat 16:12 Then they understood that he was telling them to be on their guard, not against yeast for making bread, but against the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

Mat 16:13 When Jesus came to the region of Caesarea Philippi he put this question to his disciples, 'Who do people say the Son of man is?'

Mat 16:14 And they said, 'Some say John the Baptist, some Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets.'

Mat 16:15 'But you,' he said, 'who do you say I am?'

Mat 16:16 Then Simon Peter spoke up and said, 'You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.'

Mat 16:17 Jesus replied, 'Simon son of Jonah, you are a blessed man! Because it was no human agency that revealed this to you but my Father in heaven.'

Mat 16:18 So I now say to you: You are Peter and on this rock I will build my community. And the gates of the underworld can never overpower it.

Mat 16:19 I will give you the keys of the kingdom of Heaven: whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven; whatever you loose on earth will be loosed in heaven.'

Mat 16:20 Then he gave the disciples strict orders not to say to anyone that he was the Christ.

Mat 16:21 From then onwards Jesus began to make it clear to his disciples that he was destined to go to Jerusalem and suffer grievously at the hands of the elders and chief priests and scribes and to be put to death and to be raised up on the third day.

Mat 16:22 Then, taking him aside, Peter started to rebuke him. 'Heaven preserve you, Lord,' he said, 'this must not happen to you.'

Mat 16:23 But he turned and said to Peter, 'Get behind me, Satan! You are an obstacle in my path, because you are thinking not as God thinks but as human beings do.'

Mat 16:24 Then Jesus said to his disciples, 'If anyone wants to be a follower of mine, let him renounce himself and take up his cross and follow me.'

Mat 16:25 Anyone who wants to save his life will lose it; but anyone who loses his life for my sake will find it.

Mat 16:26 What, then, will anyone gain by winning the whole world and forfeiting his life? Or what can anyone offer in exchange for his life?

Mat 16:27 'For the Son of man is going to come in the glory of his Father with his angels, and then he will reward each one according to his behaviour.'

Mat 16:28 In truth I tell you, there are some standing here who will not taste death before they see the Son of man coming with his kingdom.'

Mat 17:1 Six days later, Jesus took with him Peter and James and his brother John and led them up a high mountain by themselves.

Mat 17:2 There in their presence he was transfigured: his face shone like the sun and his clothes became as dazzling as light.

Mat 17:3 And suddenly Moses and Elijah appeared to them; they were talking with him.

Mat 17:4 Then Peter spoke to Jesus. 'Lord,' he said, 'it is wonderful for us to be here; if you want me to, I will make three shelters here, one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah.'

Mat 17:5 He was still speaking when suddenly a bright cloud covered them with shadow, and suddenly from the cloud there came a voice which said, 'This is my Son, the Beloved; he enjoys my favour. Listen to him.'

Mat 17:6 When they heard this, the disciples fell on their faces, overcome with fear.

Mat 17:7 But Jesus came up and touched them, saying, 'Stand up, do not be afraid.'

Mat 17:8 And when they raised their eyes they saw no one but Jesus.

Mat 17:9 As they came down from the mountain Jesus gave them this order, 'Tell no one about this vision until the Son of man has risen from the dead.'

Mat 17:10 And the disciples put this question to him, 'Why then do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?'

Mat 17:11 He replied, 'Elijah is indeed coming, and he will set everything right again;

Mat 17:12 however, I tell you that Elijah has come already and they did not recognise him but treated him as they pleased; and the Son of man will suffer similarly at their hands.'

Mat 17:13 Then the disciples understood that he was speaking of John the Baptist.

Mat 17:14 As they were rejoining the crowd a man came up to him and went down on his knees before him.

Mat 17:15 'Lord,' he said, 'take pity on my son: he is demented and in a wretched state; he is always falling into fire and into water.'

Mat 17:16 I took him to your disciples and they were unable to cure him.'

Mat 17:17 In reply, Jesus said, 'Faithless and perverse generation! How much longer must I be with you? How much longer must I put up with you? Bring him here to me.'

Mat 17:18 And when Jesus rebuked it the devil came out of the boy, who was cured from that moment.

Mat 17:19 Then the disciples came privately to Jesus. 'Why were we unable to drive it out?' they asked.

Mat 17:20 He answered, 'Because you have so little faith. In truth I tell you, if your faith is the size of a mustard seed you will say to this mountain, "Move from here to there," and it will move; nothing will be impossible for you.'

Mat 17:21

Mat 17:22 When they were together in Galilee, Jesus said to them, 'The Son of man is going to be delivered into the power of men;

Mat 17:23 they will put him to death, and on the third day he will be raised up again.' And a great sadness came over them.

Mat 17:24 When they reached Capernaum, the collectors of the half-shekel came to Peter and said, 'Does your master not pay the half-shekel?'

Mat 17:25 'Yes,' he replied, and went into the house. But before he could speak, Jesus said, 'Simon, what is your opinion? From whom do earthly kings take toll or tribute? From their sons or from foreigners?'

Mat 17:26 And when he replied, 'From foreigners,' Jesus said, 'Well then, the sons are exempt.'

Mat 17:27 However, so that we shall not be the downfall of others, go to the lake and cast a hook; take the first fish that rises, open its mouth and there you will find a shekel; take it and give it to them for me and for yourself.'

Mat 18:1 At this time the disciples came to Jesus and said, 'Who is the greatest in the kingdom of Heaven?'

Mat 18:2 So he called a little child to him whom he set among them.

Mat 18:3 Then he said, 'In truth I tell you, unless you change and become like little children you will never enter the kingdom of Heaven.'

Mat 18:4 And so, the one who makes himself as little as this little child is the greatest in the kingdom of Heaven.

Mat 18:5 'Anyone who welcomes one little child like this in my name welcomes me.'

Mat 18:6 But anyone who is the downfall of one of these little ones who have faith in me would be better drowned in the depths of the sea with a great millstone round his neck.

Mat 18:7 Alas for the world that there should be such causes of falling! Causes of falling indeed there must be, but alas for anyone who provides them!

Mat 18:8 'If your hand or your foot should be your downfall, cut it off and throw it away: it is better for you to enter into life crippled or lame, than to have two hands or two feet and be thrown into eternal fire.'

Mat 18:9 And if your eye should be your downfall, tear it out and throw it away: it is better for you to enter into life with one eye, than to have two eyes and be thrown into the hell of fire.'

Mat 18:10 'See that you never despise any of these little ones, for I tell you that theirin heaven are continually in the presence of my Father in heaven.'

Mat 18:11

Mat 18:12 'Tell me. Suppose a man has a hundred sheep and one of them strays; will he not leave the ninety-nine on the hillside and go in search of the stray?'

Mat 18:13 In truth I tell you, if he finds it, it gives him more joy than do the ninety-nine that did not stray at all.

Mat 18:14 Similarly, it is never the will of your Father in heaven that one of these little ones should be lost.

Mat 18:15 'If your brother does something wrong, go and have it out with him alone, between your two selves. If he listens to you, you have won back your brother.'

Mat 18:16 If he does not listen, take one or two others along with you: whatever the misdemeanour, the evidence of two or three witnesses is required to sustain the charge.

Mat 18:17 But if he refuses to listen to these, report it to the community; and if he refuses to listen to the community, treat him like a gentile or a tax collector.

Mat 18:18 'In truth I tell you, whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven; whatever you loose on earth will be loosed in heaven.'

Mat 18:19 'In truth I tell you once again, if two of you on earth agree to ask anything at all, it will be granted to you by my Father in heaven.'

Mat 18:20 For where two or three meet in my name, I am there among them.'

Mat 18:21 Then Peter went up to him and said, 'Lord, how often must I forgive my brother if he wrongs me? As often as seven times?'

Mat 18:22 Jesus answered, 'Not seven, I tell you, but seventy-seven times.'

Mat 18:23 'And so the kingdom of Heaven may be compared to a king who decided to settle his accounts with his servants.

Mat 18:24 When the reckoning began, they brought him a man who owed ten thousand talents;

Mat 18:25 he had no means of paying, so his master gave orders that he should be sold, together with his wife and children and all his possessions, to meet the debt.

Mat 18:26 At this, the servant threw himself down at his master's feet, with the words, "Be patient with me and I will pay the whole sum."

Mat 18:27 And the servant's master felt so sorry for him that he let him go and cancelled the debt.

Mat 18:28 Now as this servant went out, he happened to meet a fellow-servant who owed him one hundred denarii; and he seized him by the throat and began to throttle him, saying, "Pay what you owe me."

Mat 18:29 His fellow-servant fell at his feet and appealed to him, saying, "Be patient with me and I will pay you."

Mat 18:30 But the other would not agree; on the contrary, he had him thrown into prison till he should pay the debt.

Mat 18:31 His fellow-servants were deeply distressed when they saw what had happened, and they went to their master and reported the whole affair to him.

Mat 18:32 Then the master sent for the man and said to him, "You wicked servant, I cancelled all that debt of yours when you appealed to me.

Mat 18:33 Were you not bound, then, to have pity on your fellow-servant just as I had pity on you?"

Mat 18:34 And in his anger the master handed him over to the torturers till he should pay all his debt.

Mat 18:35 And that is how my heavenly Father will deal with you unless you each forgive your brother from your heart.'

Mat 19:1 Jesus had now finished what he wanted to say, and he left Galilee and came into the territory of Judaea on the far side of the Jordan.

Mat 19:2 Large crowds followed him and he healed them there.

Mat 19:3 Some Pharisees approached him, and to put him to the test they said, 'Is it against the Law for a man to divorce his wife on any pretext whatever?'

Mat 19:4 He answered, 'Have you not read that the Creator from the beginning made them male and female

Mat 19:5 and that he said: This is why a man leaves his father and mother and becomes attached to his wife, and the two become one flesh?

Mat 19:6 They are no longer two, therefore, but one flesh. So then, what God has united, human beings must not divide.'

Mat 19:7 They said to him, 'Then why did Moses command that a writ of dismissal should be given in cases of divorce?'

Mat 19:8 He said to them, 'It was because you were so hard-hearted, that Moses allowed you to divorce your wives, but it was not like this from the beginning.'

Mat 19:9 Now I say this to you: anyone who divorces his wife -- I am not speaking of an illicit marriage -- and marries another, is guilty of adultery.'

Mat 19:10 The disciples said to him, 'If that is how things are between husband and wife, it is advisable not to marry.'

Mat 19:11 But he replied, 'It is not everyone who can accept what I have said, but only those to whom it is granted.'

Mat 19:12 There are eunuchs born so from their mother's womb, there are eunuchs made so by human agency and there are eunuchs who have made themselves so for the sake of the kingdom of Heaven. Let anyone accept this who can.'

Mat 19:13 Then people brought little children to him, for him to lay his hands on them and pray. The disciples scolded them,

Mat 19:14 but Jesus said, 'Let the little children alone, and do not stop them from coming to me; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of Heaven belongs.'

Mat 19:15 Then he laid his hands on them and went on his way.

Mat 19:16 And now a man came to him and asked, 'Master, what good deed must I do to possess eternal life?'

Mat 19:17 Jesus said to him, 'Why do you ask me about what is good? There is one alone who is good. But if you wish to enter into life, keep the commandments.'

Mat 19:18 He said, 'Which ones?' Jesus replied, 'These: You shall not kill. You shall not commit adultery. You shall not steal. You shall not give false witness.'

Mat 19:19 Honour your father and your mother. You shall love your neighbour as yourself.'

Mat 19:20 The young man said to him, 'I have kept all these. What more do I need to do?'

Mat 19:21 Jesus said, 'If you wish to be perfect, go and sell your possessions and give the money to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me.'

Mat 19:22 But when the young man heard these words he went away sad, for he was a man of great wealth.

Mat 19:23 Then Jesus said to his disciples, 'In truth I tell you, it is hard for someone rich to enter the kingdom of Heaven.

Mat 19:24 Yes, I tell you again, it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for someone rich to enter the kingdom of Heaven.'

Mat 19:25 When the disciples heard this they were astonished. 'Who can be saved, then?' they said.

Mat 19:26 Jesus gazed at them. 'By human resources', he told them, 'this is impossible; for God everything is possible.'

Mat 19:27 Then Peter answered and said, 'Look, we have left everything and followed you. What are we to have, then?'

Mat 19:28 Jesus said to them, 'In truth I tell you, when everything is made new again and the Son of man is seated on his throne of glory, you yourselves will sit on twelve thrones to judge the twelve tribes of Israel.'

Mat 19:29 And everyone who has left houses, brothers, sisters, father, mother, children or land for the sake of my name will receive a hundred times as much, and also inherit eternal life.

Mat 19:30 'Many who are first will be last, and the last, first.'

Mat 20:1 'Now the kingdom of Heaven is like a landowner going out at daybreak to hire workers for his vineyard.'

Mat 20:2 He made an agreement with the workers for one denarius a day and sent them to his vineyard.

Mat 20:3 Going out at about the third hour he saw others standing idle in the market place

Mat 20:4 and said to them, "You go to my vineyard too and I will give you a fair wage."

Mat 20:5 So they went. At about the sixth hour and again at about the ninth hour, he went out and did the same.

Mat 20:6 Then at about the eleventh hour he went out and found more men standing around, and he said to them, "Why have you been standing here idle all day?"

Mat 20:7 "Because no one has hired us," they answered. He said to them, "You go into my vineyard too."

Mat 20:8 In the evening, the owner of the vineyard said to his bailiff, "Call the workers and pay them their wages, starting with the last arrivals and ending with the first."

Mat 20:9 So those who were hired at about the eleventh hour came forward and received one denarius each.

Mat 20:10 When the first came, they expected to get more, but they too received one denarius each.

Mat 20:11 They took it, but grumbled at the landowner saying,

Mat 20:12 "The men who came last have done only one hour, and you have treated them the same as us, though we have done a heavy day's work in all the heat."

Mat 20:13 He answered one of them and said, "My friend, I am not being unjust to you; did we not agree on one denarius?

Mat 20:14 Take your earnings and go. I choose to pay the lastcomer as much as I pay you.

Mat 20:15 Have I no right to do what I like with my own? Why should you be envious because I am generous?"

Mat 20:16 Thus the last will be first, and the first, last.'

Mat 20:17 Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, and on the road he took the Twelve aside by themselves and said to them,

Mat 20:18 'Look, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man is about to be handed over to the chief priests and scribes. They will condemn him to death

Mat 20:19 and will hand him over to the gentiles to be mocked and scourged and crucified; and on the third day he will be raised up again.'

Mat 20:20 Then the mother of Zebedee's sons came with her sons to make a request of him, and bowed low;

Mat 20:21 and he said to her, 'What is it you want?' She said to him, 'Promise that these two sons of mine may sit one at your right hand and the other at your left in your kingdom.'

Mat 20:22 Jesus answered, 'You do not know what you are asking. Can you drink the cup that I am going to drink?' They replied, 'We can.'

Mat 20:23 He said to them, 'Very well; you shall drink my cup, but as for seats at my right hand and my left, these are not mine to grant; they belong to those to whom they have been allotted by my Father.'

Mat 20:24 When the other ten heard this they were indignant with the two brothers.

Mat 20:25 But Jesus called them to him and said, 'You know that among the gentiles the rulers lord it over them, and great men make their authority felt.'

Mat 20:26 Among you this is not to happen. No; anyone who wants to become great among you must be your servant,

Mat 20:27 and anyone who wants to be first among you must be your slave,

Mat 20:28 just as the Son of man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.'

Mat 20:29 As they left Jericho a large crowd followed him.

Mat 20:30 And now there were two blind men sitting at the side of the road. When they heard that it was Jesus who was passing by, they shouted, 'Lord! Have pity on us, son of David.'

Mat 20:31 And the crowd scolded them and told them to keep quiet, but they only shouted the louder, 'Lord! Have pity on us, son of David.'

Mat 20:32 Jesus stopped, called them over and said, 'What do you want me to do for you?'

Mat 20:33 They said to him, 'Lord, let us have our sight back.'

Mat 20:34 Jesus felt pity for them and touched their eyes, and at once their sight returned and they followed him.

Mat 21:1 When they were near Jerusalem and had come to Bethphage on the Mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples,

Mat 21:2 saying to them, 'Go to the village facing you, and you will at once find a tethered donkey and a colt with her. Untie them and bring them to me.'

Mat 21:3 If anyone says anything to you, you are to say, "The Master needs them and will send them back at once."

Mat 21:4 This was to fulfil what was spoken by the prophet:

Mat 21:5 Say to the daughter of Zion: Look, your king is approaching, humble and riding on a donkey and on a colt, the foal of a beast of burden.

Mat 21:6 So the disciples went and did as Jesus had told them.

Mat 21:7 They brought the donkey and the colt, then they laid their cloaks on their backs and he took his seat on them.

Mat 21:8 Great crowds of people spread their cloaks on the road, while others were cutting branches from the trees and spreading them in his path.

Mat 21:9 The crowds who went in front of him and those who followed were all shouting: Hosanna to the son of David! Blessed is he who is coming in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest heavens!

Mat 21:10 And when he entered Jerusalem, the whole city was in turmoil as people asked, 'Who is this?'

Mat 21:11 and the crowds answered, 'This is the prophet Jesus from Nazareth in Galilee.'

Mat 21:12 Jesus then went into the Temple and drove out all those who were selling and buying there; he upset the tables of the money-changers and the seats of the dove-sellers.

Mat 21:13 He said to them, 'According to scripture, my house will be called a house of prayer; but you are turning it into a bandits' den.'

Mat 21:14 There were also blind and lame people who came to him in the Temple, and he cured them.

Mat 21:15 At the sight of the wonderful things he did and of the children shouting, 'Hosanna to the son of David' in the Temple, the chief priests and the scribes were indignant and said to him,

Mat 21:16 'Do you hear what they are saying?' Jesus answered, 'Yes. Have you never read this: By the mouths of children, babes in arms, you have made sure of praise?'

Mat 21:17 With that he left them and went out of the city to Bethany, where he spent the night.

Mat 21:18 As he was returning to the city in the early morning, he felt hungry.

Mat 21:19 Seeing a fig tree by the road, he went up to it and found nothing on it but leaves. And he said to it, 'May you never bear fruit again,' and instantly the fig tree withered.

Mat 21:20 The disciples were amazed when they saw it and said, 'How is it that the fig tree withered instantly?'

Mat 21:21 Jesus answered, 'In truth I tell you, if you have faith and do not doubt at all, not only will you do what I have done to the fig tree, but even if you say to this mountain, "Be pulled up and thrown into the sea," it will be done.'

Mat 21:22 And if you have faith, everything you ask for in prayer, you will receive.'

Mat 21:23 He had gone into the Temple and was teaching, when the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him and said, 'What authority have you for acting like this? And who gave you this authority?'

Mat 21:24 In reply Jesus said to them, 'And I will ask you a question, just one; if you tell me the answer to it, then I will tell you my authority for acting like this.'

Mat 21:25 John's baptism: what was its origin, heavenly or human? And they argued this way among themselves, 'If we say heavenly, he will retort to us, "Then why did you refuse to believe him?";'

Mat 21:26 but if we say human, we have the people to fear, for they all hold that John was a prophet.'

Mat 21:27 So their reply to Jesus was, 'We do not know.' And he retorted to them, 'Nor will I tell you my authority for acting like this.'

Mat 21:28 'What is your opinion? A man had two sons. He went and said to the first, "My boy, go and work in the vineyard today."

Mat 21:29 He answered, "I will not go," but afterwards thought better of it and went.

Mat 21:30 The man then went and said the same thing to the second who answered, "Certainly, sir," but did not go.

Mat 21:31 Which of the two did the father's will? They said, 'The first.' Jesus said to them, 'In truth I tell you, tax collectors and prostitutes are making their way into the kingdom of God before you.'

Mat 21:32 For John came to you, showing the way of uprightness, but you did not believe him, and yet the tax collectors and prostitutes did. Even after seeing that, you refused to think better of it and believe in him.'

Mat 21:33 'Listen to another parable. There was a man, a landowner, who planted a vineyard; he fenced it round, dug a winepress in it and built a tower; then he leased it to tenants and went abroad.

Mat 21:34 When vintage time drew near he sent his servants to the tenants to collect his produce.

Mat 21:35 But the tenants seized his servants, thrashed one, killed another and stoned a third.

Mat 21:36 Next he sent some more servants, this time a larger number, and they dealt with them in the same way.

Mat 21:37 Finally he sent his son to them thinking, "They will respect my son."

Mat 21:38 But when the tenants saw the son, they said to each other, "This is the heir. Come on, let us kill him and take over his inheritance."

Mat 21:39 So they seized him and threw him out of the vineyard and killed him.

Mat 21:40 Now when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?"

Mat 21:41 They answered, 'He will bring those wretches to a wretched end and lease the vineyard to other tenants who will deliver the produce to him at the proper time.'

Mat 21:42 Jesus said to them, 'Have you never read in the scriptures: The stone which the builders rejected has become the cornerstone; this is the Lord's doing and we marvel at it?

Mat 21:43 'I tell you, then, that the kingdom of God will be taken from you and given to a people who will produce its fruit.'

Mat 21:44

Mat 21:45 When they heard his parables, the chief priests and the scribes realised he was speaking about them,

Mat 21:46 but though they would have liked to arrest him they were afraid of the crowds, who looked on him as a prophet.

Mat 22:1 Jesus began to speak to them in parables once again,

Mat 22:2 'The kingdom of Heaven may be compared to a king who gave a feast for his son's wedding.

Mat 22:3 He sent his servants to call those who had been invited, but they would not come.

Mat 22:4 Next he sent some more servants with the words, "Tell those who have been invited: Look, my banquet is all prepared, my oxen and fattened cattle have been slaughtered, everything is ready. Come to the wedding."

Mat 22:5 But they were not interested: one went off to his farm, another to his business,

Mat 22:6 and the rest seized his servants, maltreated them and killed them.

Mat 22:7 The king was furious. He despatched his troops, destroyed those murderers and burnt their town.

Mat 22:8 Then he said to his servants, "The wedding is ready; but as those who were invited proved to be unworthy, Mat 22:9 go to the main crossroads and invite everyone you can find to come to the wedding."

Mat 22:10 So these servants went out onto the roads and collected together everyone they could find, bad and good alike; and the wedding hall was filled with guests.

Mat 22:11 When the king came in to look at the guests he noticed one man who was not wearing a wedding garment,

Mat 22:12 and said to him, "How did you get in here, my friend, without a wedding garment?" And the man was silent.

Mat 22:13 Then the king said to the attendants, "Bind him hand and foot and throw him into the darkness outside, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth."

Mat 22:14 For many are invited but not all are chosen.'

Mat 22:15 Then the Pharisees went away to work out between them how to trap him in what he said.

Mat 22:16 And they sent their disciples to him, together with some Herodians, to say, 'Master, we know that you are an honest man and teach the way of God in all honesty, and that you are not afraid of anyone, because human rank means nothing to you.'

Mat 22:17 Give us your opinion, then. Is it permissible to pay taxes to Caesar or not?'

Mat 22:18 But Jesus was aware of their malice and replied, 'You hypocrites! Why are you putting me to the test?

Mat 22:19 Show me the money you pay the tax with.' They handed him a denarius,

Mat 22:20 and he said, 'Whose portrait is this? Whose title?'

Mat 22:21 They replied, 'Caesar's.' Then he said to them, 'Very well, pay Caesar what belongs to Caesar -- and God what belongs to God.'

Mat 22:22 When they heard this they were amazed; they left him alone and went away.

Mat 22:23 That day some Sadducees -- who deny that there is a resurrection -- approached him and they put this question to him,

Mat 22:24 'Master, Moses said that if a man dies childless, his brother is to marry the widow, his sister-in-law, to raise children for his brother.

Mat 22:25 Now we had a case involving seven brothers; the first married and then died without children, leaving his wife to his brother;

Mat 22:26 the same thing happened with the second and third and so on to the seventh,
Mat 22:27 and then last of all the woman herself died.
Mat 22:28 Now at the resurrection, whose wife among the seven will she be, since she had been married to them all?'
Mat 22:29 Jesus answered them, 'You are wrong, because you understand neither the scriptures nor the power of God.
Mat 22:30 For at the resurrection men and women do not marry; no, they are like the angels in heaven.
Mat 22:31 And as for the resurrection of the dead, have you never read what God himself said to you:
Mat 22:32 I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob? He is God, not of the dead, but of the living.'
Mat 22:33 And his teaching made a deep impression on the people who heard it.
Mat 22:34 But when the Pharisees heard that he had silenced the Sadducees they got together
Mat 22:35 and, to put him to the test, one of them put a further question,
Mat 22:36 'Master, which is the greatest commandment of the Law?'
Mat 22:37 Jesus said to him, 'You must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.
Mat 22:38 This is the greatest and the first commandment.
Mat 22:39 The second resembles it: You must love your neighbour as yourself.
Mat 22:40 On these two commandments hang the whole Law, and the Prophets too.'
Mat 22:41 While the Pharisees were gathered round, Jesus put to them this question,
Mat 22:42 'What is your opinion about the Christ? Whose son is he?' They told him, 'David's.'
Mat 22:43 He said to them, 'Then how is it that David, moved by the Spirit, calls him Lord, where he says:
Mat 22:44 The Lord declared to my Lord, take your seat at my right hand, till I have made your enemies your footstool?
Mat 22:45 'If David calls him Lord, how then can he be his son?'
Mat 22:46 No one could think of anything to say in reply, and from that day no one dared to ask him any further questions.
Mat 23:1 Then addressing the crowds and his disciples Jesus said,
Mat 23:2 'The scribes and the Pharisees occupy the chair of Moses.
Mat 23:3 You must therefore do and observe what they tell you; but do not be guided by what they do, since they do not practise what they preach.
Mat 23:4 They tie up heavy burdens and lay them on people's shoulders, but will they lift a finger to move them? Not they!
Mat 23:5 Everything they do is done to attract attention, like wearing broader headbands and longer tassels,
Mat 23:6 like wanting to take the place of honour at banquets and the front seats in the synagogues,
Mat 23:7 being greeted respectfully in the market squares and having people call them Rabbi.
Mat 23:8 'You, however, must not allow yourselves to be called Rabbi, since you have only one Master, and you are all brothers.
Mat 23:9 You must call no one on earth your father, since you have only one Father, and he is in heaven.
Mat 23:10 Nor must you allow yourselves to be called teachers, for you have only one Teacher, the Christ.
Mat 23:11 The greatest among you must be your servant.
Mat 23:12 Anyone who raises himself up will be humbled, and anyone who humbles himself will be raised up.
Mat 23:13 'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You shut up the kingdom of Heaven in people's faces, neither going in yourselves nor allowing others to go who want to.
Mat 23:14
Mat 23:15 'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You travel over sea and land to make a single proselyte, and anyone who becomes one you make twice as fit for hell as you are.
Mat 23:16 'Alas for you, blind guides! You say, "If anyone swears by the Temple, it has no force; but anyone who swears by the gold of the Temple is bound."
Mat 23:17 Fools and blind! For which is of greater value, the gold or the Temple that makes the gold sacred?
Mat 23:18 Again, "If anyone swears by the altar it has no force; but anyone who swears by the offering on the altar, is bound."
Mat 23:19 You blind men! For which is of greater worth, the offering or the altar that makes the offering sacred?
Mat 23:20 Therefore, someone who swears by the altar is swearing by that and by everything on it.
Mat 23:21 And someone who swears by the Temple is swearing by that and by the One who dwells in it.
Mat 23:22 And someone who swears by heaven is swearing by the throne of God and by the One who is seated there.
Mat 23:23 'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You pay your tithe of mint and dill and cummin and have neglected the weightier matters of the Law-justice, mercy, good faith! These you should have practised, those not neglected.

Mat 23:24 You blind guides, straining out gnats and swallowing camels!

Mat 23:25 'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You clean the outside of cup and dish and leave the inside full of extortion and intemperance.

Mat 23:26 Blind Pharisee! Clean the inside of cup and dish first so that it and the outside are both clean.

Mat 23:27 'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You are like whitewashed tombs that look handsome on the outside, but inside are full of the bones of the dead and every kind of corruption.

Mat 23:28 In just the same way, from the outside you look upright, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

Mat 23:29 'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You build the sepulchres of the prophets and decorate the tombs of the upright,

Mat 23:30 saying, "We would never have joined in shedding the blood of the prophets, had we lived in our ancestors' day."

Mat 23:31 So! Your own evidence tells against you! You are the children of those who murdered the prophets!

Mat 23:32 Very well then, finish off the work that your ancestors began.

Mat 23:33 'You serpents, brood of vipers, how can you escape being condemned to hell?

Mat 23:34 This is why -- look -- I am sending you prophets and wise men and scribes; some you will slaughter and crucify, some you will scourge in your synagogues and hunt from town to town;

Mat 23:35 and so you will draw down on yourselves the blood of every upright person that has been shed on earth, from the blood of Abel the holy to the blood of Zechariah son of Barachiah whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar.

Mat 23:36 In truth I tell you, it will all recoil on this generation.

Mat 23:37 'Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you that kill the prophets and stone those who are sent to you! How often have I longed to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, and you refused!

Mat 23:38 Look! Your house will be deserted,

Mat 23:39 for, I promise, you shall not see me any more until you are saying: Blessed is he who is coming in the name of the Lord!"

Mat 24:1 Jesus left the Temple, and as he was going away his disciples came up to draw his attention to the Temple buildings.

Mat 24:2 He said to them in reply, 'You see all these? In truth I tell you, not a single stone here will be left on another: everything will be pulled down.'

Mat 24:3 And while he was sitting on the Mount of Olives the disciples came and asked him when they were by themselves, 'Tell us, when is this going to happen, and what sign will there be of your coming and of the end of the world?"

Mat 24:4 And Jesus answered them, 'Take care that no one deceives you,

Mat 24:5 because many will come using my name and saying, "I am the Christ," and they will deceive many.

Mat 24:6 You will hear of wars and rumours of wars; see that you are not alarmed, for this is something that must happen, but the end will not be yet.

Mat 24:7 For nation will fight against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines and earthquakes in various places.

Mat 24:8 All this is only the beginning of the birthpangs.

Mat 24:9 'Then you will be handed over to be tortured and put to death; and you will be hated by all nations on account of my name.

Mat 24:10 And then many will fall away; people will betray one another and hate one another.

Mat 24:11 Many false prophets will arise; they will deceive many,

Mat 24:12 and with the increase of lawlessness, love in most people will grow cold;

Mat 24:13 but anyone who stands firm to the end will be saved.

Mat 24:14 'This good news of the kingdom will be proclaimed to the whole world as evidence to the nations. And then the end will come.

Mat 24:15 'So when you see the appalling abomination, of which the prophet Daniel spoke, set up in the holy place (let the reader understand),

Mat 24:16 then those in Judaea must escape to the mountains;

Mat 24:17 if anyone is on the housetop, he must not come down to collect his belongings from the house;

Mat 24:18 if anyone is in the fields, he must not turn back to fetch his cloak.

Mat 24:19 Alas for those with child, or with babies at the breast, when those days come!

Mat 24:20 Pray that you will not have to make your escape in winter or on a Sabbath.

Mat 24:21 For then there will be great distress, unparalleled since the world began, and such as will never be again.

Mat 24:22 And if that time had not been shortened, no human being would have survived; but shortened that time shall be, for the sake of those who are chosen.

Mat 24:23 'If anyone says to you then, "Look, here is the Christ," or "Over here," do not believe it;

Mat 24:24 for false Christs and false prophets will arise and provide great signs and portents, enough to deceive even the elect, if that were possible.

Mat 24:25 Look! I have given you warning.

Mat 24:26 'If, then, they say to you, "Look, he is in the desert," do not go there; "Look, he is in some hiding place," do not believe it;

Mat 24:27 because the coming of the Son of man will be like lightning striking in the east and flashing far into the west.

Mat 24:28 Wherever the corpse is, that is where the vultures will gather.

Mat 24:29 'Immediately after the distress of those days the sun will be darkened, the moon will not give its light, the stars will fall from the sky and the powers of the heavens will be shaken.

Mat 24:30 And then the sign of the Son of man will appear in heaven; then, too, all the peoples of the earth will beat their breasts; and they will see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

Mat 24:31 And he will send his angels with a loud trumpet to gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

Mat 24:32 'Take the fig tree as a parable: as soon as its twigs grow supple and its leaves come out, you know that summer is near.

Mat 24:33 So with you when you see all these things: know that he is near, right at the gates.

Mat 24:34 In truth I tell you, before this generation has passed away, all these things will have taken place.

Mat 24:35 Sky and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away.

Mat 24:36 But as for that day and hour, nobody knows it, neither the angels of heaven, nor the Son, no one but the Father alone.

Mat 24:37 'As it was in Noah's day, so will it be when the Son of man comes.

Mat 24:38 For in those days before the Flood people were eating, drinking, taking wives, taking husbands, right up to the day Noah went into the ark,

Mat 24:39 and they suspected nothing till the Flood came and swept them all away. This is what it will be like when the Son of man comes.

Mat 24:40 Then of two men in the fields, one is taken, one left;

Mat 24:41 of two women grinding at the mill, one is taken, one left.

Mat 24:42 'So stay awake, because you do not know the day when your master is coming.

Mat 24:43 You may be quite sure of this, that if the householder had known at what time of the night the burglar would come, he would have stayed awake and would not have allowed anyone to break through the wall of his house.

Mat 24:44 Therefore, you too must stand ready because the Son of man is coming at an hour you do not expect.

Mat 24:45 'Who, then, is the wise and trustworthy servant whom the master placed over his household to give them their food at the proper time?

Mat 24:46 Blessed that servant if his master's arrival finds him doing exactly that.

Mat 24:47 In truth I tell you, he will put him in charge of everything he owns.

Mat 24:48 But if the servant is dishonest and says to himself, "My master is taking his time,"

Mat 24:49 and sets about beating his fellow-servants and eating and drinking with drunkards,

Mat 24:50 his master will come on a day he does not expect and at an hour he does not know.

Mat 24:51 The master will cut him off and send him to the same fate as the hypocrites, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.'

Mat 25:1 'Then the kingdom of Heaven will be like this: Ten wedding attendants took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom.

Mat 25:2 Five of them were foolish and five were sensible:

Mat 25:3 the foolish ones, though they took their lamps, took no oil with them,

Mat 25:4 whereas the sensible ones took flasks of oil as well as their lamps.

Mat 25:5 The bridegroom was late, and they all grew drowsy and fell asleep.

Mat 25:6 But at midnight there was a cry, "Look! The bridegroom! Go out and meet him."

Mat 25:7 Then all those wedding attendants woke up and trimmed their lamps,

Mat 25:8 and the foolish ones said to the sensible ones, "Give us some of your oil: our lamps are going out."

Mat 25:9 But they replied, "There may not be enough for us and for you; you had better go to those who sell it and buy some for yourselves."

Mat 25:10 They had gone off to buy it when the bridegroom arrived. Those who were ready went in with him to the wedding hall and the door was closed.

Mat 25:11 The other attendants arrived later. "Lord, Lord," they said, "open the door for us."

Mat 25:12 But he replied, "In truth I tell you, I do not know you."

Mat 25:13 So stay awake, because you do not know either the day or the hour.

Mat 25:14 It is like a man about to go abroad who summoned his servants and entrusted his property to them.

Mat 25:15 To one he gave five talents, to another two, to a third one, each in proportion to his ability. Then he set out on his journey.

Mat 25:16 The man who had received the five talents promptly went and traded with them and made five more.

Mat 25:17 The man who had received two made two more in the same way.

Mat 25:18 But the man who had received one went off and dug a hole in the ground and hid his master's money.

Mat 25:19 Now a long time afterwards, the master of those servants came back and went through his accounts with them.

Mat 25:20 The man who had received the five talents came forward bringing five more. "Sir," he said, "you entrusted me with five talents; here are five more that I have made."

Mat 25:21 His master said to him, "Well done, good and trustworthy servant; you have shown you are trustworthy in small things; I will trust you with greater; come and join in your master's happiness."

Mat 25:22 Next the man with the two talents came forward. "Sir," he said, "you entrusted me with two talents; here are two more that I have made."

Mat 25:23 His master said to him, "Well done, good and trustworthy servant; you have shown you are trustworthy in small things; I will trust you with greater; come and join in your master's happiness."

Mat 25:24 Last came forward the man who had the single talent. "Sir," said he, "I had heard you were a hard man, reaping where you had not sown and gathering where you had not scattered;

Mat 25:25 so I was afraid, and I went off and hid your talent in the ground. Here it is; it was yours, you have it back."

Mat 25:26 But his master answered him, "You wicked and lazy servant! So you knew that I reap where I have not sown and gather where I have not scattered?

Mat 25:27 Well then, you should have deposited my money with the bankers, and on my return I would have got my money back with interest.

Mat 25:28 So now, take the talent from him and give it to the man who has the ten talents.

Mat 25:29 For to everyone who has will be given more, and he will have more than enough; but anyone who has not, will be deprived even of what he has.

Mat 25:30 As for this good-for-nothing servant, throw him into the darkness outside, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth."

Mat 25:31 'When the Son of man comes in his glory, escorted by all the angels, then he will take his seat on his throne of glory.

Mat 25:32 All nations will be assembled before him and he will separate people one from another as the shepherd separates sheep from goats.

Mat 25:33 He will place the sheep on his right hand and the goats on his left.

Mat 25:34 Then the King will say to those on his right hand, "Come, you whom my Father has blessed, take as your heritage the kingdom prepared for you since the foundation of the world.

Mat 25:35 For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you made me welcome,

Mat 25:36 lacking clothes and you clothed me, sick and you visited me, in prison and you came to see me."

Mat 25:37 Then the upright will say to him in reply, "Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink?

Mat 25:38 When did we see you a stranger and make you welcome, lacking clothes and clothe you?

Mat 25:39 When did we find you sick or in prison and go to see you?"

Mat 25:40 And the King will answer, "In truth I tell you, in so far as you did this to one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did it to me."

Mat 25:41 Then he will say to those on his left hand, "Go away from me, with your curse upon you, to the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels.

Mat 25:42 For I was hungry and you never gave me food, I was thirsty and you never gave me anything to drink,

Mat 25:43 I was a stranger and you never made me welcome, lacking clothes and you never clothed me, sick and in prison and you never visited me."

Mat 25:44 Then it will be their turn to ask, "Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty, a stranger or lacking clothes, sick or in prison, and did not come to your help?"

Mat 25:45 Then he will answer, "In truth I tell you, in so far as you neglected to do this to one of the least of these, you neglected to do it to me."

Mat 25:46 And they will go away to eternal punishment, and the upright to eternal life.'

Mat 26:1 Jesus had now finished all he wanted to say, and he told his disciples,

Mat 26:2 'It will be Passover, as you know, in two days' time, and the Son of man will be handed over to be crucified.'

Mat 26:3 Then the chief priests and the elders of the people assembled in the palace of the high priest, whose name was Caiaphas,

Mat 26:4 and made plans to arrest Jesus by some trick and have him put to death.

Mat 26:5 They said, however, 'It must not be during the festivities; there must be no disturbance among the people.'

Mat 26:6 Jesus was at Bethany in the house of Simon, a man who had suffered from a virulent skin-disease, when

Mat 26:7 a woman came to him with an alabaster jar of very expensive ointment, and poured it on his head as he was at table.

Mat 26:8 When they saw this, the disciples said indignantly, 'Why this waste?

Mat 26:9 This could have been sold for a high price and the money given to the poor.'

Mat 26:10 But Jesus noticed this and said, 'Why are you upsetting the woman? What she has done for me is indeed a good work!

Mat 26:11 You have the poor with you always, but you will not always have me.

Mat 26:12 When she poured this ointment on my body, she did it to prepare me for burial.

Mat 26:13 In truth I tell you, wherever in all the world this gospel is proclaimed, what she has done will be told as well, in remembrance of her.'

Mat 26:14 Then one of the Twelve, the man called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests

Mat 26:15 and said, 'What are you prepared to give me if I hand him over to you?' They paid him thirty silver pieces,

Mat 26:16 and from then onwards he began to look for an opportunity to betray him.

Mat 26:17 Now on the first day of Unleavened Bread the disciples came to Jesus to say, 'Where do you want us to make the preparations for you to eat the Passover?'

Mat 26:18 He said, 'Go to a certain man in the city and say to him, "The Master says: My time is near. It is at your house that I am keeping Passover with my disciples." '

Mat 26:19 The disciples did what Jesus told them and prepared the Passover.

Mat 26:20 When evening came he was at table with the Twelve.

Mat 26:21 And while they were eating he said, 'In truth I tell you, one of you is about to betray me.'

Mat 26:22 They were greatly distressed and started asking him in turn, 'Not me, Lord, surely?'

Mat 26:23 He answered, 'Someone who has dipped his hand into the dish with me will betray me.

Mat 26:24 The Son of man is going to his fate, as the scriptures say he will, but alas for that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! Better for that man if he had never been born!'

Mat 26:25 Judas, who was to betray him, asked in his turn, 'Not me, Rabbi, surely?' Jesus answered, 'It is you who say it.'

Mat 26:26 Now as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and when he had said the blessing he broke it and gave it to the disciples. 'Take it and eat,' he said, 'this is my body.'

Mat 26:27 Then he took a cup, and when he had given thanks he handed it to them saying, 'Drink from this, all of you,

Mat 26:28 for this is my blood, the blood of the covenant, poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins.

Mat 26:29 From now on, I tell you, I shall never again drink wine until the day I drink the new wine with you in the kingdom of my Father.'

Mat 26:30 After the psalms had been sung they left for the Mount of Olives.

Mat 26:31 Then Jesus said to them, 'You will all fall away from me tonight, for the scripture says: I shall strike the shepherd and the sheep of the flock will be scattered,

Mat 26:32 but after my resurrection I shall go ahead of you to Galilee.'

Mat 26:33 At this, Peter said to him, 'Even if all fall away from you, I will never fall away.'

Mat 26:34 Jesus answered him, 'In truth I tell you, this very night, before the cock crows, you will have disowned me three times.'

Mat 26:35 Peter said to him, 'Even if I have to die with you, I will never disown you.' And all the disciples said the same.

Mat 26:36 Then Jesus came with them to a plot of land called Gethsemane; and he said to his disciples, 'Stay here while I go over there to pray.'

Mat 26:37 He took Peter and the two sons of Zebedee with him. And he began to feel sadness and anguish.

Mat 26:38 Then he said to them, 'My soul is sorrowful to the point of death. Wait here and stay awake with me.'

Mat 26:39 And going on a little further he fell on his face and prayed. 'My Father,' he said, 'if it is possible, let this cup pass me by. Nevertheless, let it be as you, not I, would have it.'

Mat 26:40 He came back to the disciples and found them sleeping, and he said to Peter, 'So you had not the strength to stay awake with me for one hour?

Mat 26:41 Stay awake, and pray not to be put to the test. The spirit is willing enough, but human nature is weak.'

Mat 26:42 Again, a second time, he went away and prayed: 'My Father,' he said, 'if this cup cannot pass by, but I must drink it, your will be done!'

Mat 26:43 And he came back again and found them sleeping, their eyes were so heavy.

Mat 26:44 Leaving them there, he went away again and prayed for the third time, repeating the same words.

Mat 26:45 Then he came back to the disciples and said to them, 'You can sleep on now and have your rest.

Look, the hour has come when the Son of man is to be betrayed into the hands of sinners.

Mat 26:46 Get up! Let us go! Look, my betrayer is not far away.'

Mat 26:47 And suddenly while he was still speaking, Judas, one of the Twelve, appeared, and with him a large number of men armed with swords and clubs, sent by the chief priests and elders of the people.

Mat 26:48 Now the traitor had arranged a sign with them saying, 'The one I kiss, he is the man. Arrest him.'

Mat 26:49 So he went up to Jesus at once and said, 'Greetings, Rabbi,' and kissed him.

Mat 26:50 Jesus said to him, 'My friend, do what you are here for.' Then they came forward, seized Jesus and arrested him.

Mat 26:51 And suddenly, one of the followers of Jesus grasped his sword and drew it; he struck the high priest's servant and cut off his ear.

Mat 26:52 Jesus then said, 'Put your sword back, for all who draw the sword will die by the sword.

Mat 26:53 Or do you think that I cannot appeal to my Father, who would promptly send more than twelve legions of angels to my defence?

Mat 26:54 But then, how would the scriptures be fulfilled that say this is the way it must be?'

Mat 26:55 It was at this time that Jesus said to the crowds, 'Am I a bandit, that you had to set out to capture me with swords and clubs? I sat teaching in the Temple day after day and you never laid a hand on me.'

Mat 26:56 Now all this happened to fulfil the prophecies in scripture. Then all the disciples deserted him and ran away.

Mat 26:57 The men who had arrested Jesus led him off to the house of Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

Mat 26:58 Peter followed him at a distance right to the high priest's palace, and he went in and sat down with the attendants to see what the end would be.

Mat 26:59 The chief priests and the whole Sanhedrin were looking for evidence against Jesus, however false, on which they might have him executed.

Mat 26:60 But they could not find any, though several lying witnesses came forward. Eventually two came forward

Mat 26:61 and made a statement, 'This man said, "I have power to destroy the Temple of God and in three days build it up."'

Mat 26:62 The high priest then rose and said to him, 'Have you no answer to that? What is this evidence these men are bringing against you?'

Mat 26:63 But Jesus was silent. And the high priest said to him, 'I put you on oath by the living God to tell us if you are the Christ, the Son of God.'

Mat 26:64 Jesus answered him, 'It is you who say it. But, I tell you that from this time onward you will see the Son of man seated at the right hand of the Power and coming on the clouds of heaven.'

Mat 26:65 Then the high priest tore his clothes and said, 'He has blasphemed. What need of witnesses have we now? There! You have just heard the blasphemy.'

Mat 26:66 What is your opinion?' They answered, 'He deserves to die.'

Mat 26:67 Then they spat in his face and hit him with their fists; others said as they struck him,

Mat 26:68 'Prophesy to us, Christ! Who hit you then?'

Mat 26:69 Meanwhile Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard, and a servant-girl came up to him saying, 'You, too, were with Jesus the Galilean.'

Mat 26:70 But he denied it in front of them all. 'I do not know what you are talking about,' he said.

Mat 26:71 When he went out to the gateway another servant-girl saw him and said to the people there, 'This man was with Jesus the Nazarene.'

Mat 26:72 And again, with an oath, he denied it, 'I do not know the man.'

Mat 26:73 A little later the bystanders came up and said to Peter, 'You are certainly one of them too! Why, your accent gives you away.'

Mat 26:74 Then he started cursing and swearing, 'I do not know the man.' And at once the cock crowed,

Mat 26:75 and Peter remembered what Jesus had said, 'Before the cock crows you will have disowned me three times.' And he went outside and wept bitterly.

Mat 27:1 When morning came, all the chief priests and the elders of the people met in council to bring about the death of Jesus.

Mat 27:2 They had him bound and led him away to hand him over to Pilate, the governor.

Mat 27:3 When he found that Jesus had been condemned, then Judas, his betrayer, was filled with remorse and took the thirty silver pieces back to the chief priests and elders

Mat 27:4 saying, 'I have sinned. I have betrayed innocent blood.' They replied, 'What is that to us? That is your concern.'

Mat 27:5 And flinging down the silver pieces in the sanctuary he made off, and went and hanged himself.

Mat 27:6 The chief priests picked up the silver pieces and said, 'It is against the Law to put this into the treasury; it is blood-money.'

Mat 27:7 So they discussed the matter and with it bought the potter's field as a graveyard for foreigners,

Mat 27:8 and this is why the field is still called the Field of Blood.

Mat 27:9 The word spoken through the prophet Jeremiah was then fulfilled: And they took the thirty silver pieces, the sum at which the precious One was priced by the children of Israel,

Mat 27:10 and they gave them for the potter's field, just as the Lord directed me.

Mat 27:11 Jesus, then, was brought before the governor, and the governor put to him this question, 'Are you the king of the Jews?' Jesus replied, 'It is you who say it.'

Mat 27:12 But when he was accused by the chief priests and the elders he refused to answer at all.

Mat 27:13 Pilate then said to him, 'Do you not hear how many charges they have made against you?'

Mat 27:14 But to the governor's amazement, he offered not a word in answer to any of the charges.

Mat 27:15 At festival time it was the governor's practice to release a prisoner for the people, anyone they chose.

Mat 27:16 Now there was then a notorious prisoner whose name was Barabbas.

Mat 27:17 So when the crowd gathered, Pilate said to them, 'Which do you want me to release for you: Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ?'

Mat 27:18 For Pilate knew it was out of jealousy that they had handed him over.

Mat 27:19 Now as he was seated in the chair of judgement, his wife sent him a message, 'Have nothing to do with that upright man; I have been extremely upset today by a dream that I had about him.'

Mat 27:20 The chief priests and the elders, however, had persuaded the crowd to demand the release of Barabbas and the execution of Jesus.

Mat 27:21 So when the governor spoke and asked them, 'Which of the two do you want me to release for you?' they said, 'Barabbas.'

Mat 27:22 Pilate said to them, 'But in that case, what am I to do with Jesus who is called Christ?' They all said, 'Let him be crucified!'

Mat 27:23 He asked, 'But what harm has he done?' But they shouted all the louder, 'Let him be crucified!'

Mat 27:24 Then Pilate saw that he was making no impression, that in fact a riot was imminent. So he took some water, washed his hands in front of the crowd and said, 'I am innocent of this man's blood. It is your concern.'

Mat 27:25 And the people, every one of them, shouted back, 'Let his blood be on us and on our children!'

Mat 27:26 Then he released Barabbas for them. After having Jesus scourged he handed him over to be crucified.

Mat 27:27 Then the governor's soldiers took Jesus with them into the Praetorium and collected the whole cohort round him.

Mat 27:28 And they stripped him and put a scarlet cloak round him,

Mat 27:29 and having twisted some thorns into a crown they put this on his head and placed a reed in his right hand. To make fun of him they knelt to him saying, 'Hail, King of the Jews!'

Mat 27:30 And they spat on him and took the reed and struck him on the head with it.

Mat 27:31 And when they had finished making fun of him, they took off the cloak and dressed him in his own clothes and led him away to crucifixion.

Mat 27:32 On their way out, they came across a man from Cyrene, called Simon, and enlisted him to carry his cross.

Mat 27:33 When they had reached a place called Golgotha, that is, the place of the skull,

Mat 27:34 they gave him wine to drink mixed with gall, which he tasted but refused to drink.

Mat 27:35 When they had finished crucifying him they shared out his clothing by casting lots,

Mat 27:36 and then sat down and stayed there keeping guard over him.

Mat 27:37 Above his head was placed the charge against him; it read: 'This is Jesus, the King of the Jews.'

Mat 27:38 Then two bandits were crucified with him, one on the right and one on the left.

Mat 27:39 The passers-by jeered at him; they shook their heads

Mat 27:40 and said, 'So you would destroy the Temple and in three days rebuild it! Then save yourself if you are God's son and come down from the cross!'

Mat 27:41 The chief priests with the scribes and elders mocked him in the same way,

Mat 27:42 with the words, 'He saved others; he cannot save himself. He is the king of Israel; let him come down from the cross now, and we will believe in him.

Mat 27:43 He has put his trust in God; now let God rescue him if he wants him. For he did say, "I am God's son."

Mat 27:44 Even the bandits who were crucified with him taunted him in the same way.

Mat 27:45 From the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour.

Mat 27:46 And about the ninth hour, Jesus cried out in a loud voice, 'Eli, eli, lama sabachthani?' that is, 'My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?'

Mat 27:47 When some of those who stood there heard this, they said, 'The man is calling on Elijah,'

Mat 27:48 and one of them quickly ran to get a sponge which he filled with vinegar and, putting it on a reed, gave it him to drink.

Mat 27:49 But the rest of them said, 'Wait! And see if Elijah will come to save him.'

Mat 27:50 But Jesus, again crying out in a loud voice, yielded up his spirit.

Mat 27:51 And suddenly, the veil of the Sanctuary was torn in two from top to bottom, the earth quaked, the rocks were split,

Mat 27:52 the tombs opened and the bodies of many holy people rose from the dead,

Mat 27:53 and these, after his resurrection, came out of the tombs, entered the holy city and appeared to a number of people.

Mat 27:54 The centurion, together with the others guarding Jesus, had seen the earthquake and all that was taking place, and they were terrified and said, 'In truth this man was son of God.'

Mat 27:55 And many women were there, watching from a distance, the same women who had followed Jesus from Galilee and looked after him.

Mat 27:56 Among them were Mary of Magdala, Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of Zebedee's sons.

Mat 27:57 When it was evening, there came a rich man of Arimathaea, called Joseph, who had himself become a disciple of Jesus.

Mat 27:58 This man went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate ordered it to be handed over.

Mat 27:59 So Joseph took the body, wrapped it in a clean shroud

Mat 27:60 and put it in his own new tomb which he had hewn out of the rock. He then rolled a large stone across the entrance of the tomb and went away.

Mat 27:61 Now Mary of Magdala and the other Mary were there, sitting opposite the sepulchre.

Mat 27:62 Next day, that is, when Preparation Day was over, the chief priests and the Pharisees went in a body to Pilate

Mat 27:63 and said to him, 'Your Excellency, we recall that this impostor said, while he was still alive, "After three days I shall rise again."

Mat 27:64 Therefore give the order to have the sepulchre kept secure until the third day, for fear his disciples come and steal him away and tell the people, "He has risen from the dead." This last piece of fraud would be worse than what went before.'

Mat 27:65 Pilate said to them, 'You may have your guard; go and make all as secure as you know how.'

Mat 27:66 So they went and made the sepulchre secure, putting seals on the stone and mounting a guard.

Mat 28:1 After the Sabbath, and towards dawn on the first day of the week, Mary of Magdala and the other Mary went to visit the sepulchre.

Mat 28:2 And suddenly there was a violent earthquake, for an angel of the Lord, descending from heaven, came and rolled away the stone and sat on it.

Mat 28:3 His face was like lightning, his robe white as snow.

Mat 28:4 The guards were so shaken by fear of him that they were like dead men.

Mat 28:5 But the angel spoke; and he said to the women, 'There is no need for you to be afraid. I know you are looking for Jesus, who was crucified.

Mat 28:6 He is not here, for he has risen, as he said he would. Come and see the place where he lay,

Mat 28:7 then go quickly and tell his disciples, "He has risen from the dead and now he is going ahead of you to Galilee; that is where you will see him." Look! I have told you.'

Mat 28:8 Filled with awe and great joy the women came quickly away from the tomb and ran to tell his disciples.

Mat 28:9 And suddenly, coming to meet them, was Jesus. 'Greetings,' he said. And the women came up to him and, clasping his feet, they did him homage.

Mat 28:10 Then Jesus said to them, 'Do not be afraid; go and tell my brothers that they must leave for Galilee; there they will see me.'

Mat 28:11 Now while they were on their way, some of the guards went off into the city to tell the chief priests all that had happened.

Mat 28:12 These held a meeting with the elders and, after some discussion, handed a considerable sum of money to the soldiers

Mat 28:13 with these instructions, 'This is what you must say, "His disciples came during the night and stole him away while we were asleep."

Mat 28:14 And should the governor come to hear of this, we undertake to put things right with him ourselves and to see that you do not get into trouble.'

Mat 28:15 So they took the money and carried out their instructions, and to this day that is the story among the Jews.

Mat 28:16 Meanwhile the eleven disciples set out for Galilee, to the mountain where Jesus had arranged to meet them.

Mat 28:17 When they saw him they fell down before him, though some hesitated.

Mat 28:18 Jesus came up and spoke to them. He said, 'All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me.'

Mat 28:19 Go, therefore, make disciples of all nations; baptise them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit,

Mat 28:20 and teach them to observe all the commands I gave you. And look, I am with you always; yes, to the end of time.'

Mar 1:1 The beginning of the gospel about Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

Mar 1:2 It is written in the prophet Isaiah: Look, I am going to send my messenger in front of you to prepare your way before you.

Mar 1:3 A voice of one that cries in the desert: Prepare a way for the Lord, make his paths straight.

Mar 1:4 John the Baptist was in the desert, proclaiming a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins.

Mar 1:5 All Judaea and all the people of Jerusalem made their way to him, and as they were baptised by him in the river Jordan they confessed their sins.

Mar 1:6 John wore a garment of camel-skin, and he lived on locusts and wild honey.

Mar 1:7 In the course of his preaching he said, 'After me is coming someone who is more powerful than me, and I am not fit to kneel down and undo the strap of his sandals.'

Mar 1:8 I have baptised you with water, but he will baptise you with the Holy Spirit.'

Mar 1:9 It was at this time that Jesus came from Nazareth in Galilee and was baptised in the Jordan by John.

Mar 1:10 And at once, as he was coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens torn apart and the Spirit, like a dove, descending on him.

Mar 1:11 And a voice came from heaven, 'You are my Son, the Beloved; my favour rests on you.'

Mar 1:12 And at once the Spirit drove him into the desert

Mar 1:13 and he remained there for forty days, and was put to the test by Satan. He was with the wild animals, and the angels looked after him.

Mar 1:14 After John had been arrested, Jesus went into Galilee. There he proclaimed the gospel from God saying,

Mar 1:15 'The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is close at hand. Repent, and believe the gospel.'

Mar 1:16 As he was walking along by the Lake of Galilee he saw Simon and Simon's brother Andrew casting a net in the lake -- for they were fishermen.

Mar 1:17 And Jesus said to them, 'Come after me and I will make you into fishers of people.'

Mar 1:18 And at once they left their nets and followed him.

Mar 1:19 Going on a little further, he saw James son of Zebedee and his brother John; they too were in their boat, mending the nets.

Mar 1:20 At once he called them and, leaving their father Zebedee in the boat with the men he employed, they went after him.

Mar 1:21 They went as far as Capernaum, and at once on the Sabbath he went into the synagogue and began to teach.

Mar 1:22 And his teaching made a deep impression on them because, unlike the scribes, he taught them with authority.

Mar 1:23 And at once in their synagogue there was a man with an unclean spirit, and he shouted,

Mar 1:24 'What do you want with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are: the Holy One of God.'

Mar 1:25 But Jesus rebuked it saying, 'Be quiet! Come out of him!'

Mar 1:26 And the unclean spirit threw the man into convulsions and with a loud cry went out of him.

Mar 1:27 The people were so astonished that they started asking one another what it all meant, saying, 'Here is a teaching that is new, and with authority behind it: he gives orders even to unclean spirits and they obey him.'

Mar 1:28 And his reputation at once spread everywhere, through all the surrounding Galilean countryside.

Mar 1:29 And at once on leaving the synagogue, he went with James and John straight to the house of Simon and Andrew.

Mar 1:30 Now Simon's mother-in-law was in bed and feverish, and at once they told him about her.

Mar 1:31 He went in to her, took her by the hand and helped her up. And the fever left her and she began to serve them.

Mar 1:32 That evening, after sunset, they brought to him all who were sick and those who were possessed by devils.

Mar 1:33 The whole town came crowding round the door,

Mar 1:34 and he cured many who were sick with diseases of one kind or another; he also drove out many devils, but he would not allow them to speak, because they knew who he was.

Mar 1:35 In the morning, long before dawn, he got up and left the house and went off to a lonely place and prayed there.

Mar 1:36 Simon and his companions set out in search of him,

Mar 1:37 and when they found him they said, 'Everybody is looking for you.'

Mar 1:38 He answered, 'Let us go elsewhere, to the neighbouring country towns, so that I can proclaim the message there too, because that is why I came.'

Mar 1:39 And he went all through Galilee, preaching in their synagogues and driving out devils.

Mar 1:40 A man suffering from a virulent skin-disease came to him and pleaded on his knees saying, 'If you are willing, you can cleanse me.'

Mar 1:41 Feeling sorry for him, Jesus stretched out his hand, touched him and said to him, 'I am willing. Be cleansed.'

Mar 1:42 And at once the skin-disease left him and he was cleansed.

Mar 1:43 And at once Jesus sternly sent him away and said to him,

Mar 1:44 'Mind you tell no one anything, but go and show yourself to the priest, and make the offering for your cleansing prescribed by Moses as evidence to them.'

Mar 1:45 The man went away, but then started freely proclaiming and telling the story everywhere, so that Jesus could no longer go openly into any town, but stayed outside in deserted places. Even so, people from all around kept coming to him.

Mar 2:1 When he returned to Capernaum, some time later word went round that he was in the house;

Mar 2:2 and so many people collected that there was no room left, even in front of the door. He was preaching the word to them

Mar 2:3 when some people came bringing him a paralytic carried by four men,

Mar 2:4 but as they could not get the man to him through the crowd, they stripped the roof over the place where Jesus was; and when they had made an opening, they lowered the stretcher on which the paralytic lay.

Mar 2:5 Seeing their faith, Jesus said to the paralytic, 'My child, your sins are forgiven.'

Mar 2:6 Now some scribes were sitting there, and they thought to themselves,

Mar 2:7 'How can this man talk like that? He is being blasphemous. Who but God can forgive sins?'

Mar 2:8 And at once, Jesus, inwardly aware that this is what they were thinking, said to them, 'Why do you have these thoughts in your hearts?

Mar 2:9 Which of these is easier: to say to the paralytic, "Your sins are forgiven" or to say, "Get up, pick up your stretcher and walk"?

Mar 2:10 But to prove to you that the Son of man has authority to forgive sins on earth' --

Mar 2:11 he said to the paralytic-'I order you: get up, pick up your stretcher, and go off home.'

Mar 2:12 And the man got up, and at once picked up his stretcher and walked out in front of everyone, so that they were all astonished and praised God saying, 'We have never seen anything like this.'

Mar 2:13 He went out again to the shore of the lake; and all the people came to him, and he taught them.

Mar 2:14 As he was walking along he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the tax office, and he said to him, 'Follow me.' And he got up and followed him.

Mar 2:15 When Jesus was at dinner in his house, a number of tax collectors and sinners were also sitting at table with Jesus and his disciples; for there were many of them among his followers.

Mar 2:16 When the scribes of the Pharisee party saw him eating with sinners and tax collectors, they said to his disciples, 'Why does he eat with tax collectors and sinners?'

Mar 2:17 When Jesus heard this he said to them, 'It is not the healthy who need the doctor, but the sick. I came to call not the upright, but sinners.'

Mar 2:18 John's disciples and the Pharisees were keeping a fast, when some people came to him and said to him, 'Why is it that John's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but your disciples do not?'

Mar 2:19 Jesus replied, 'Surely the bridegroom's attendants cannot fast while the bridegroom is still with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.'

Mar 2:20 But the time will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them, and then, on that day, they will fast.

Mar 2:21 No one sews a piece of unshrunken cloth on an old cloak; otherwise, the patch pulls away from it, the new from the old, and the tear gets worse.

Mar 2:22 And nobody puts new wine into old wineskins; otherwise, the wine will burst the skins, and the wine is lost and the skins too. No! New wine into fresh skins!"

Mar 2:23 It happened that one Sabbath day he was taking a walk through the cornfields, and his disciples began to make a path by plucking ears of corn.

Mar 2:24 And the Pharisees said to him, 'Look, why are they doing something on the Sabbath day that is forbidden?"

Mar 2:25 And he replied, 'Have you never read what David did in his time of need when he and his followers were hungry-

Mar 2:26 how he went into the house of God when Abiathar was high priest, and ate the loaves of the offering which only the priests are allowed to eat, and how he also gave some to the men with him?"

Mar 2:27 And he said to them, 'The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath;

Mar 2:28 so the Son of man is master even of the Sabbath.'

Mar 3:1 Another time he went into the synagogue, and there was a man present whose hand was withered.

Mar 3:2 And they were watching him to see if he would cure him on the Sabbath day, hoping for something to charge him with.

Mar 3:3 He said to the man with the withered hand, 'Get up and stand in the middle!'

Mar 3:4 Then he said to them, 'Is it permitted on the Sabbath day to do good, or to do evil; to save life, or to kill?' But they said nothing.

Mar 3:5 Then he looked angrily round at them, grieved to find them so obstinate, and said to the man, 'Stretch out your hand.' He stretched it out and his hand was restored.

Mar 3:6 The Pharisees went out and began at once to plot with the Herodians against him, discussing how to destroy him.

Mar 3:7 Jesus withdrew with his disciples to the lakeside, and great crowds from Galilee followed him. From Judaea,

Mar 3:8 and from Jerusalem, and from Idumaea and Transjordan and the region of Tyre and Sidon, great numbers who had heard of all he was doing came to him.

Mar 3:9 And he asked his disciples to have a boat ready for him because of the crowd, to keep him from being crushed.

Mar 3:10 For he had cured so many that all who were afflicted in any way were crowding forward to touch him.

Mar 3:11 And the unclean spirits, whenever they saw him, would fall down before him and shout, 'You are the Son of God!'

Mar 3:12 But he warned them strongly not to make him known.

Mar 3:13 He now went up onto the mountain and summoned those he wanted. So they came to him

Mar 3:14 and he appointed twelve; they were to be his companions and to be sent out to proclaim the message,

Mar 3:15 with power to drive out devils.

Mar 3:16 And so he appointed the Twelve, Simon to whom he gave the name Peter,

Mar 3:17 James the son of Zebedee and John the brother of James, to whom he gave the name Boanerges or 'Sons of Thunder';

Mar 3:18 Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, Thaddaeus, Simon the Zealot

Mar 3:19 and Judas Iscariot, the man who was to betray him.

Mar 3:20 He went home again, and once more such a crowd collected that they could not even have a meal.

Mar 3:21 When his relations heard of this, they set out to take charge of him; they said, 'He is out of his mind.'

Mar 3:22 The scribes who had come down from Jerusalem were saying, 'Beelzebul is in him,' and, 'It is through the prince of devils that he drives devils out.'

Mar 3:23 So he called them to him and spoke to them in parables,

Mar 3:24 'How can Satan drive out Satan? If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot last.

Mar 3:25 And if a household is divided against itself, that household can never last.

Mar 3:26 Now if Satan has rebelled against himself and is divided, he cannot last either -- it is the end of him.

Mar 3:27 But no one can make his way into a strong man's house and plunder his property unless he has first tied up the strong man. Only then can he plunder his house.

Mar 3:28 'In truth I tell you, all human sins will be forgiven, and all the blasphemies ever uttered;

Mar 3:29 but anyone who blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will never be forgiven, but is guilty of an eternal sin.'

Mar 3:30 This was because they were saying, 'There is an unclean spirit in him.'

Mar 3:31 Now his mother and his brothers arrived and, standing outside, sent in a message asking for him.

Mar 3:32 A crowd was sitting round him at the time the message was passed to him, 'Look, your mother and brothers and sisters are outside asking for you.'

Mar 3:33 He replied, 'Who are my mother and my brothers?'

Mar 3:34 And looking at those sitting in a circle round him, he said, 'Here are my mother and my brothers.'

Mar 3:35 Anyone who does the will of God, that person is my brother and sister and mother.'

Mar 4:1 Again he began to teach them by the lakeside, but such a huge crowd gathered round him that he got into a boat on the water and sat there. The whole crowd were at the lakeside on land.

Mar 4:2 He taught them many things in parables, and in the course of his teaching he said to them,

Mar 4:3 'Listen! Imagine a sower going out to sow.'

Mar 4:4 Now it happened that, as he sowed, some of the seed fell on the edge of the path, and the birds came and ate it up.

Mar 4:5 Some seed fell on rocky ground where it found little soil and at once sprang up, because there was no depth of earth;

Mar 4:6 and when the sun came up it was scorched and, not having any roots, it withered away.

Mar 4:7 Some seed fell into thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it produced no crop.

Mar 4:8 And some seeds fell into rich soil, grew tall and strong, and produced a good crop; the yield was thirty, sixty, even a hundredfold.'

Mar 4:9 And he said, 'Anyone who has ears for listening should listen!'

Mar 4:10 When he was alone, the Twelve, together with the others who formed his company, asked what the parables meant.

Mar 4:11 He told them, 'To you is granted the secret of the kingdom of God, but to those who are outside everything comes in parables,

Mar 4:12 so that they may look and look, but never perceive; listen and listen, but never understand; to avoid changing their ways and being healed.'

Mar 4:13 He said to them, 'Do you not understand this parable? Then how will you understand any of the parables?

Mar 4:14 What the sower is sowing is the word.

Mar 4:15 Those on the edge of the path where the word is sown are people who have no sooner heard it than Satan at once comes and carries away the word that was sown in them.

Mar 4:16 Similarly, those who are sown on patches of rock are people who, when first they hear the word, welcome it at once with joy.

Mar 4:17 But they have no root deep down and do not last; should some trial come, or some persecution on account of the word, at once they fall away.

Mar 4:18 Then there are others who are sown in thorns. These have heard the word,

Mar 4:19 but the worries of the world, the lure of riches and all the other passions come in to choke the word, and so it produces nothing.

Mar 4:20 And there are those who have been sown in rich soil; they hear the word and accept it and yield a harvest, thirty and sixty and a hundredfold.'

Mar 4:21 He also said to them, 'Is a lamp brought in to be put under a tub or under the bed? Surely to be put on the lamp-stand?

Mar 4:22 For there is nothing hidden, but it must be disclosed, nothing kept secret except to be brought to light.

Mar 4:23 Anyone who has ears for listening should listen!'

Mar 4:24 He also said to them, 'Take notice of what you are hearing. The standard you use will be used for you -- and you will receive more besides;

Mar 4:25 anyone who has, will be given more; anyone who has not, will be deprived even of what he has.'

Mar 4:26 He also said, 'This is what the kingdom of God is like. A man scatters seed on the land.

Mar 4:27 Night and day, while he sleeps, when he is awake, the seed is sprouting and growing; how, he does not know.

Mar 4:28 Of its own accord the land produces first the shoot, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear.

Mar 4:29 And when the crop is ready, at once he starts to reap because the harvest has come.'

Mar 4:30 He also said, 'What can we say that the kingdom is like? What parable can we find for it?

Mar 4:31 It is like a mustard seed which, at the time of its sowing, is the smallest of all the seeds on earth.

Mar 4:32 Yet once it is sown it grows into the biggest shrub of them all and puts out big branches so that the birds of the air can shelter in its shade.'

Mar 4:33 Using many parables like these, he spoke the word to them, so far as they were capable of understanding it.

Mar 4:34 He would not speak to them except in parables, but he explained everything to his disciples when they were by themselves.

Mar 4:35 With the coming of evening that same day, he said to them, 'Let us cross over to the other side.'

Mar 4:36 And leaving the crowd behind they took him, just as he was, in the boat; and there were other boats with him.

Mar 4:37 Then it began to blow a great gale and the waves were breaking into the boat so that it was almost swamped.

Mar 4:38 But he was in the stern, his head on the cushion, asleep.

Mar 4:39 They woke him and said to him, 'Master, do you not care? We are lost!' And he woke up and rebuked the wind and said to the sea, 'Quiet now! Be calm!' And the wind dropped, and there followed a great calm.

Mar 4:40 Then he said to them, 'Why are you so frightened? Have you still no faith?'

Mar 4:41 They were overcome with awe and said to one another, 'Who can this be? Even the wind and the sea obey him.'

Mar 5:1 They reached the territory of the Gerasenes on the other side of the lake,

Mar 5:2 and when he disembarked, a man with an unclean spirit at once came out from the tombs towards him.

Mar 5:3 The man lived in the tombs and no one could secure him any more, even with a chain,

Mar 5:4 because he had often been secured with fetters and chains but had snapped the chains and broken the fetters, and no one had the strength to control him.

Mar 5:5 All night and all day, among the tombs and in the mountains, he would howl and gash himself with stones.

Mar 5:6 Catching sight of Jesus from a distance, he ran up and fell at his feet

Mar 5:7 and shouted at the top of his voice, 'What do you want with me, Jesus, son of the Most High God? In God's name do not torture me!'

Mar 5:8 For Jesus had been saying to him, 'Come out of the man, unclean spirit.'

Mar 5:9 Then he asked, 'What is your name?' He answered, 'My name is Legion, for there are many of us.'

Mar 5:10 And he begged him earnestly not to send them out of the district.

Mar 5:11 Now on the mountainside there was a great herd of pigs feeding,

Mar 5:12 and the unclean spirits begged him, 'Send us to the pigs, let us go into them.'

Mar 5:13 So he gave them leave. With that, the unclean spirits came out and went into the pigs, and the herd of about two thousand pigs charged down the cliff into the lake, and there they were drowned.

Mar 5:14 The men looking after them ran off and told their story in the city and in the country round about; and the people came to see what had really happened.

Mar 5:15 They came to Jesus and saw the demoniac sitting there -- the man who had had the legion in him -- properly dressed and in his full senses, and they were afraid.

Mar 5:16 And those who had witnessed it reported what had happened to the demoniac and what had become of the pigs.

Mar 5:17 Then they began to implore Jesus to leave their neighbourhood.

Mar 5:18 As he was getting into the boat, the man who had been possessed begged to be allowed to stay with him.

Mar 5:19 Jesus would not let him but said to him, 'Go home to your people and tell them all that the Lord in his mercy has done for you.'

Mar 5:20 So the man went off and proceeded to proclaim in the Decapolis all that Jesus had done for him. And everyone was amazed.

Mar 5:21 When Jesus had crossed again in the boat to the other side, a large crowd gathered round him and he stayed by the lake.

Mar 5:22 Then the president of the synagogue came up, named Jairus, and seeing him, fell at his feet

Mar 5:23 and begged him earnestly, saying, 'My little daughter is desperately sick. Do come and lay your hands on her that she may be saved and may live.'

Mar 5:24 Jesus went with him and a large crowd followed him; they were pressing all round him.

Mar 5:25 Now there was a woman who had suffered from a haemorrhage for twelve years;

Mar 5:26 after long and painful treatment under various doctors, she had spent all she had without being any the better for it; in fact, she was getting worse.

Mar 5:27 She had heard about Jesus, and she came up through the crowd and touched his cloak from behind, thinking,

Mar 5:28 'If I can just touch his clothes, I shall be saved.'

Mar 5:29 And at once the source of the bleeding dried up, and she felt in herself that she was cured of her complaint.

Mar 5:30 And at once aware of the power that had gone out from him, Jesus turned round in the crowd and said, 'Who touched my clothes?'

Mar 5:31 His disciples said to him, 'You see how the crowd is pressing round you; how can you ask, "Who touched me?"'

Mar 5:32 But he continued to look all round to see who had done it.

Mar 5:33 Then the woman came forward, frightened and trembling because she knew what had happened to her, and she fell at his feet and told him the whole truth.

Mar 5:34 'My daughter,' he said, 'your faith has restored you to health; go in peace and be free of your complaint.'

Mar 5:35 While he was still speaking some people arrived from the house of the president of the synagogue to say, 'Your daughter is dead; why put the Master to any further trouble?'

Mar 5:36 But Jesus overheard what they said and he said to the president of the synagogue, 'Do not be afraid; only have faith.'

Mar 5:37 And he allowed no one to go with him except Peter and James and John the brother of James.

Mar 5:38 So they came to the house of the president of the synagogue, and Jesus noticed all the commotion, with people weeping and wailing unrestrainedly.

Mar 5:39 He went in and said to them, 'Why all this commotion and crying? The child is not dead, but asleep.'

Mar 5:40 But they ridiculed him. So he turned them all out and, taking with him the child's father and mother and his own companions, he went into the place where the child lay.

Mar 5:41 And taking the child by the hand he said to her, 'Talitha kum!' which means, 'Little girl, I tell you to get up.'

Mar 5:42 The little girl got up at once and began to walk about, for she was twelve years old. At once they were overcome with astonishment,

Mar 5:43 and he gave them strict orders not to let anyone know about it, and told them to give her something to eat.

Mar 6:1 Leaving that district, he went to his home town, and his disciples accompanied him.

Mar 6:2 With the coming of the Sabbath he began teaching in the synagogue, and most of them were astonished when they heard him. They said, 'Where did the man get all this? What is this wisdom that has been granted him, and these miracles that are worked through him?'

Mar 6:3 This is the carpenter, surely, the son of Mary, the brother of James and Joset and Jude and Simon? His sisters, too, are they not here with us?' And they would not accept him.

Mar 6:4 And Jesus said to them, 'A prophet is despised only in his own country, among his own relations and in his own house';

Mar 6:5 and he could work no miracle there, except that he cured a few sick people by laying his hands on them.

Mar 6:6 He was amazed at their lack of faith. He made a tour round the villages, teaching.

Mar 6:7 Then he summoned the Twelve and began to send them out in pairs, giving them authority over unclean spirits.

Mar 6:8 And he instructed them to take nothing for the journey except a staff -- no bread, no haversack, no coppers for their purses.

Mar 6:9 They were to wear sandals but, he added, 'Don't take a spare tunic.'

Mar 6:10 And he said to them, 'If you enter a house anywhere, stay there until you leave the district.

Mar 6:11 And if any place does not welcome you and people refuse to listen to you, as you walk away shake off the dust under your feet as evidence to them.'

Mar 6:12 So they set off to proclaim repentance;

Mar 6:13 and they cast out many devils, and anointed many sick people with oil and cured them.

Mar 6:14 King Herod had heard about him, since by now his name was well known. Some were saying, 'John the Baptist has risen from the dead, and that is why miraculous powers are at work in him.'

Mar 6:15 Others said, 'He is Elijah,' others again, 'He is a prophet, like the prophets we used to have.'

Mar 6:16 But when Herod heard this he said, 'It is John whose head I cut off; he has risen from the dead.'

Mar 6:17 Now it was this same Herod who had sent to have John arrested, and had had him chained up in prison because of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife whom he had married.

Mar 6:18 For John had told Herod, 'It is against the law for you to have your brother's wife.'

Mar 6:19 As for Herodias, she was furious with him and wanted to kill him, but she was not able to do so,

Mar 6:20 because Herod was in awe of John, knowing him to be a good and upright man, and gave him his protection. When he had heard him speak he was greatly perplexed, and yet he liked to listen to him.

Mar 6:21 An opportunity came on Herod's birthday when he gave a banquet for the nobles of his court, for his army officers and for the leading figures in Galilee.

Mar 6:22 When the daughter of this same Herodias came in and danced, she delighted Herod and his guests; so the king said to the girl, 'Ask me anything you like and I will give it you.'

Mar 6:23 And he swore her an oath, 'I will give you anything you ask, even half my kingdom.'

Mar 6:24 She went out and said to her mother, 'What shall I ask for?' She replied, 'The head of John the Baptist.'

Mar 6:25 The girl at once rushed back to the king and made her request, 'I want you to give me John the Baptist's head, immediately, on a dish.'

Mar 6:26 The king was deeply distressed but, thinking of the oaths he had sworn and of his guests, he was reluctant to break his word to her.

Mar 6:27 At once the king sent one of the bodyguard with orders to bring John's head.

Mar 6:28 The man went off and beheaded him in the prison; then he brought the head on a dish and gave it to the girl, and the girl gave it to her mother.

Mar 6:29 When John's disciples heard about this, they came and took his body and laid it in a tomb.

Mar 6:30 The apostles rejoined Jesus and told him all they had done and taught.

Mar 6:31 And he said to them, 'Come away to some lonely place all by yourselves and rest for a while'; for there were so many coming and going that there was no time for them even to eat.

Mar 6:32 So they went off in the boat to a lonely place where they could be by themselves.

Mar 6:33 But people saw them going, and many recognised them; and from every town they all hurried to the place on foot and reached it before them.

Mar 6:34 So as he stepped ashore he saw a large crowd; and he took pity on them because they were like sheep without a shepherd, and he set himself to teach them at some length.

Mar 6:35 By now it was getting very late, and his disciples came up to him and said, 'This is a lonely place and it is getting very late,

Mar 6:36 so send them away, and they can go to the farms and villages round about, to buy themselves something to eat.'

Mar 6:37 He replied, 'Give them something to eat yourselves.' They answered, 'Are we to go and spend two hundred denarii on bread for them to eat?'

Mar 6:38 He asked, 'How many loaves have you? Go and see.' And when they had found out they said, 'Five, and two fish.'

Mar 6:39 Then he ordered them to get all the people to sit down in groups on the green grass,

Mar 6:40 and they sat down on the ground in squares of hundreds and fifties.

Mar 6:41 Then he took the five loaves and the two fish, raised his eyes to heaven and said the blessing; then he broke the loaves and began handing them to his disciples to distribute among the people. He also shared out the two fish among them all.

Mar 6:42 They all ate as much as they wanted.

Mar 6:43 They collected twelve basketfuls of scraps of bread and pieces of fish.

Mar 6:44 Those who had eaten the loaves numbered five thousand men.

Mar 6:45 And at once he made his disciples get into the boat and go on ahead to the other side near Bethsaida, while he himself sent the crowd away.

Mar 6:46 After saying goodbye to them he went off into the hills to pray.

Mar 6:47 When evening came, the boat was far out on the sea, and he was alone on the land.

Mar 6:48 He could see that they were hard pressed in their rowing, for the wind was against them; and about the fourth watch of the night he came towards them, walking on the sea. He was going to pass them by,

Mar 6:49 but when they saw him walking on the sea they thought it was a ghost and cried out;

Mar 6:50 for they had all seen him and were terrified. But at once he spoke to them and said, 'Courage! It's me! Don't be afraid.'

Mar 6:51 Then he got into the boat with them and the wind dropped. They were utterly and completely dumbfounded,

Mar 6:52 because they had not seen what the miracle of the loaves meant; their minds were closed.

Mar 6:53 Having made the crossing, they came to land at Gennesaret and moored there.

Mar 6:54 When they disembarked people at once recognised him,

Mar 6:55 and started hurrying all through the countryside and brought the sick on stretchers to wherever they heard he was.

Mar 6:56 And wherever he went, to village or town or farm, they laid down the sick in the open spaces, begging him to let them touch even the fringe of his cloak. And all those who touched him were saved.

Mar 7:1 The Pharisees and some of the scribes who had come from Jerusalem gathered round him,

Mar 7:2 and they noticed that some of his disciples were eating with unclean hands, that is, without washing them.

Mar 7:3 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, keep the tradition of the elders and never eat without washing their arms as far as the elbow;

Mar 7:4 and on returning from the market place they never eat without first sprinkling themselves. There are also many other observances which have been handed down to them to keep, concerning the washing of cups and pots and bronze dishes.

Mar 7:5 So the Pharisees and scribes asked him, 'Why do your disciples not respect the tradition of the elders but eat their food with unclean hands?'

Mar 7:6 He answered, 'How rightly Isaiah prophesied about you hypocrites in the passage of scripture: This people honours me only with lip-service, while their hearts are far from me.'

Mar 7:7 Their reverence of me is worthless; the lessons they teach are nothing but human commandments.

Mar 7:8 You put aside the commandment of God to observe human traditions.'

Mar 7:9 And he said to them, 'How ingeniously you get round the commandment of God in order to preserve your own tradition!

Mar 7:10 For Moses said: Honour your father and your mother, and, Anyone who curses father or mother must be put to death.

Mar 7:11 But you say, "If a man says to his father or mother: Anything I have that I might have used to help you is Korban (that is, dedicated to God),"

Mar 7:12 then he is forbidden from that moment to do anything for his father or mother.

Mar 7:13 In this way you make God's word ineffective for the sake of your tradition which you have handed down. And you do many other things like this.'

Mar 7:14 He called the people to him again and said, 'Listen to me, all of you, and understand.

Mar 7:15 Nothing that goes into someone from outside can make that person unclean; it is the things that come out of someone that make that person unclean.

Mar 7:16 Anyone who has ears for listening should listen!'

Mar 7:17 When he had gone into the house, away from the crowd, his disciples questioned him about the parable.

Mar 7:18 He said to them, 'Even you -- don't you understand? Can't you see that nothing that goes into someone from outside can make that person unclean,

Mar 7:19 because it goes not into the heart but into the stomach and passes into the sewer?' (Thus he pronounced all foods clean.)

Mar 7:20 And he went on, 'It is what comes out of someone that makes that person unclean.

Mar 7:21 For it is from within, from the heart, that evil intentions emerge: fornication, theft, murder,

Mar 7:22 adultery, avarice, malice, deceit, indecency, envy, slander, pride, folly.

Mar 7:23 All these evil things come from within and make a person unclean.'

Mar 7:24 He left that place and set out for the territory of Tyre. There he went into a house and did not want anyone to know he was there; but he could not pass unrecognised.

Mar 7:25 At once a woman whose little daughter had an unclean spirit heard about him and came and fell at his feet.

Mar 7:26 Now this woman was a gentile, by birth a Syro-Phoenician, and she begged him to drive the devil out of her daughter.

Mar 7:27 And he said to her, 'The children should be fed first, because it is not fair to take the children's food and throw it to little dogs.'

Mar 7:28 But she spoke up, 'Ah yes, sir,' she replied, 'but little dogs under the table eat the scraps from the children.'

Mar 7:29 And he said to her, 'For saying this you may go home happy; the devil has gone out of your daughter.'

Mar 7:30 So she went off home and found the child lying on the bed and the devil gone.

Mar 7:31 Returning from the territory of Tyre, he went by way of Sidon towards the Lake of Galilee, right through the Decapolis territory.

Mar 7:32 And they brought him a deaf man who had an impediment in his speech; and they asked him to lay his hand on him.

Mar 7:33 He took him aside to be by themselves, away from the crowd, put his fingers into the man's ears and touched his tongue with spittle.

Mar 7:34 Then looking up to heaven he sighed; and he said to him, 'Ephphatha,' that is, 'Be opened.'

Mar 7:35 And his ears were opened, and at once the impediment of his tongue was loosened and he spoke clearly.

Mar 7:36 And Jesus ordered them to tell no one about it, but the more he insisted, the more widely they proclaimed it.

Mar 7:37 Their admiration was unbounded, and they said, 'Everything he does is good, he makes the deaf hear and the dumb speak.'

Mar 8:1 And now once again a great crowd had gathered, and they had nothing to eat. So he called his disciples to him and said to them,

Mar 8:2 'I feel sorry for all these people; they have been with me for three days now and have nothing to eat.

Mar 8:3 If I send them off home hungry they will collapse on the way; some have come a great distance.'

Mar 8:4 His disciples replied, 'Where could anyone get these people enough bread to eat in a deserted place?'

Mar 8:5 He asked them, 'How many loaves have you?' And they said to him, 'Seven.'

Mar 8:6 Then he instructed the crowd to sit down on the ground, and he took the seven loaves, and after giving thanks he broke them and began handing them to his disciples to distribute; and they distributed them among the crowd.

Mar 8:7 They had a few small fishes as well, and over these he said a blessing and ordered them to be distributed too.

Mar 8:8 They ate as much as they wanted, and they collected seven basketfuls of the scraps left over.

Mar 8:9 Now there had been about four thousand people. He sent them away

Mar 8:10 and at once, getting into the boat with his disciples, went to the region of Dalmanutha.

Mar 8:11 The Pharisees came up and started a discussion with him; they demanded of him a sign from heaven, to put him to the test.

Mar 8:12 And with a profound sigh he said, 'Why does this generation demand a sign? In truth I tell you, no sign shall be given to this generation.'

Mar 8:13 And, leaving them again, he re-embarked and went away to the other side.

Mar 8:14 The disciples had forgotten to take any bread and they had only one loaf with them in the boat.

Mar 8:15 Then he gave them this warning, 'Keep your eyes open; look out for the yeast of the Pharisees and the yeast of Herod.'

Mar 8:16 And they said to one another, 'It is because we have no bread.'

Mar 8:17 And Jesus knew it, and he said to them, 'Why are you talking about having no bread? Do you still not understand, still not realise? Are your minds closed?

Mar 8:18 Have you eyes and do not see, ears and do not hear? Or do you not remember?

Mar 8:19 When I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many baskets full of scraps did you collect?' They answered, 'Twelve.'

Mar 8:20 'And when I broke the seven loaves for the four thousand, how many baskets full of scraps did you collect?' And they answered, 'Seven.'

Mar 8:21 Then he said to them, 'Do you still not realise?'

Mar 8:22 They came to Bethsaida, and some people brought to him a blind man whom they begged him to touch.

Mar 8:23 He took the blind man by the hand and led him outside the village. Then, putting spittle on his eyes and laying his hands on him, he asked, 'Can you see anything?'

Mar 8:24 The man, who was beginning to see, replied, 'I can see people; they look like trees as they walk around.'

Mar 8:25 Then he laid his hands on the man's eyes again and he saw clearly; he was cured, and he could see everything plainly and distinctly.

Mar 8:26 And Jesus sent him home, saying, 'Do not even go into the village.'

Mar 8:27 Jesus and his disciples left for the villages round Caesarea Philippi. On the way he put this question to his disciples, 'Who do people say I am?'

Mar 8:28 And they told him, 'John the Baptist, others Elijah, others again, one of the prophets.'

Mar 8:29 'But you,' he asked them, 'who do you say I am?' Peter spoke up and said to him, 'You are the Christ.'

Mar 8:30 And he gave them strict orders not to tell anyone about him.

Mar 8:31 Then he began to teach them that the Son of man was destined to suffer grievously, and to be rejected by the elders and the chief priests and the scribes, and to be put to death, and after three days to rise again;

Mar 8:32 and he said all this quite openly. Then, taking him aside, Peter tried to rebuke him.

Mar 8:33 But, turning and seeing his disciples, he rebuked Peter and said to him, 'Get behind me, Satan! You are thinking not as God thinks, but as human beings do.'

Mar 8:34 He called the people and his disciples to him and said, 'If anyone wants to be a follower of mine, let him renounce himself and take up his cross and follow me.'

Mar 8:35 Anyone who wants to save his life will lose it; but anyone who loses his life for my sake, and for the sake of the gospel, will save it.

Mar 8:36 What gain, then, is it for anyone to win the whole world and forfeit his life?

Mar 8:37 And indeed what can anyone offer in exchange for his life?

Mar 8:38 For if anyone in this sinful and adulterous generation is ashamed of me and of my words, the Son of man will also be ashamed of him when he comes in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.'

Mar 9:1 And he said to them, 'In truth I tell you, there are some standing here who will not taste death before they see the kingdom of God come with power.'

Mar 9:2 Six days later, Jesus took with him Peter and James and John and led them up a high mountain on their own by themselves. There in their presence he was transfigured:

Mar 9:3 his clothes became brilliantly white, whiter than any earthly bleacher could make them.

Mar 9:4 Elijah appeared to them with Moses; and they were talking to Jesus.

Mar 9:5 Then Peter spoke to Jesus, 'Rabbi,' he said, 'it is wonderful for us to be here; so let us make three shelters, one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah.'

Mar 9:6 He did not know what to say; they were so frightened.

Mar 9:7 And a cloud came, covering them in shadow; and from the cloud there came a voice, 'This is my Son, the Beloved. Listen to him.'

Mar 9:8 Then suddenly, when they looked round, they saw no one with them any more but only Jesus.

Mar 9:9 As they were coming down from the mountain he warned them to tell no one what they had seen, until after the Son of man had risen from the dead.

Mar 9:10 They observed the warning faithfully, though among themselves they discussed what 'rising from the dead' could mean.

Mar 9:11 And they put this question to him, 'Why do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?'

Mar 9:12 He said to them, 'Elijah is indeed first coming to set everything right again; yet how is it that the scriptures say about the Son of man that he must suffer grievously and be treated with contempt?

Mar 9:13 But I tell you that Elijah has come and they have treated him as they pleased, just as the scriptures say about him.'

Mar 9:14 As they were rejoining the disciples they saw a large crowd round them and some scribes arguing with them.

Mar 9:15 At once, when they saw him, the whole crowd were struck with amazement and ran to greet him.

Mar 9:16 And he asked them, 'What are you arguing about with them?'

Mar 9:17 A man answered him from the crowd, 'Master, I have brought my son to you; there is a spirit of dumbness in him,

Mar 9:18 and when it takes hold of him it throws him to the ground, and he foams at the mouth and grinds his teeth and goes rigid. And I asked your disciples to drive it out and they were unable to.'

Mar 9:19 In reply he said to them, 'Faithless generation, how much longer must I be among you? How much longer must I put up with you? Bring him to me.'

Mar 9:20 They brought the boy to him, and at once the spirit of dumbness threw the boy into convulsions, and he fell to the ground and lay writhing there, foaming at the mouth.

Mar 9:21 Jesus asked the father, 'How long has this been happening to him?' 'From childhood,' he said,

Mar 9:22 'and it has often thrown him into fire and into water, in order to destroy him.

Mar 9:23 But if you can do anything, have pity on us and help us.'

Mar 9:24 'If you can?' retorted Jesus. 'Everything is possible for one who has faith.' At once the father of the boy cried out, 'I have faith. Help my lack of faith!'

Mar 9:25 And when Jesus saw that a crowd was gathering, he rebuked the unclean spirit. 'Deaf and dumb spirit,' he said, 'I command you: come out of him and never enter him again.'

Mar 9:26 Then it threw the boy into violent convulsions and came out shouting, and the boy lay there so like a corpse that most of them said, 'He is dead.'

Mar 9:27 But Jesus took him by the hand and helped him up, and he was able to stand.

Mar 9:28 When he had gone indoors, his disciples asked him when they were by themselves, 'Why were we unable to drive it out?'

Mar 9:29 He answered, 'This is the kind that can be driven out only by prayer.'

Mar 9:30 After leaving that place they made their way through Galilee; and he did not want anyone to know,

Mar 9:31 because he was instructing his disciples; he was telling them, 'The Son of man will be delivered into the power of men; they will put him to death; and three days after he has been put to death he will rise again.'

Mar 9:32 But they did not understand what he said and were afraid to ask him.

Mar 9:33 They came to Capernaum, and when he got into the house he asked them, 'What were you arguing about on the road?'

Mar 9:34 They said nothing, because on the road they had been arguing which of them was the greatest.

Mar 9:35 So he sat down, called the Twelve to him and said, 'If anyone wants to be first, he must make himself last of all and servant of all.'

Mar 9:36 He then took a little child whom he set among them and embraced, and he said to them,

Mar 9:37 'Anyone who welcomes a little child such as this in my name, welcomes me; and anyone who welcomes me, welcomes not me but the one who sent me.'

Mar 9:38 John said to him, 'Master, we saw someone who is not one of us driving out devils in your name, and because he was not one of us we tried to stop him.'

Mar 9:39 But Jesus said, 'You must not stop him; no one who works a miracle in my name could soon afterwards speak evil of me.'

Mar 9:40 Anyone who is not against us is for us.

Mar 9:41 'If anyone gives you a cup of water to drink because you belong to Christ, then in truth I tell you, he will most certainly not lose his reward.'

Mar 9:42 'But anyone who is the downfall of one of these little ones who have faith, would be better thrown into the sea with a great millstone hung round his neck.'

Mar 9:43 And if your hand should be your downfall, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life crippled, than to have two hands and go to hell, into the fire that never be put out.'

Mar 9:44

Mar 9:45 And if your foot should be your downfall, cut it off; it is better for you enter into life lame, than to have two feet and be thrown into hell.

Mar 9:46

Mar 9:47 And if your eye should be your downfall, tear it out; it is better for you to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than to have two eyes and be thrown into hell

Mar 9:48 where their worm will never die nor their fire be put out.

Mar 9:49 For everyone will be salted with fire.

Mar 9:50 Salt is a good thing, but if salt has become insipid, how can you make it salty again? Have salt in yourselves and be at peace with one another.'

Mar 10:1 After leaving there, he came into the territory of Judaea and Transjordan. And again crowds gathered round him, and again he taught them, as his custom was.

Mar 10:2 Some Pharisees approached him and asked, 'Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife?' They were putting him to the test.

Mar 10:3 He answered them, 'What did Moses command you?'

Mar 10:4 They replied, 'Moses allowed us to draw up a writ of dismissal in cases of divorce.'

Mar 10:5 Then Jesus said to them, 'It was because you were so hard hearted that he wrote this commandment for you.

Mar 10:6 But from the beginning of creation he made them male and female.

Mar 10:7 This is why a man leaves his father and mother,

Mar 10:8 and the two become one flesh. They are no longer two, therefore, but one flesh.

Mar 10:9 So then, what God has united, human beings must not divide.'

Mar 10:10 Back in the house the disciples questioned him again about this,

Mar 10:11 and he said to them, 'Whoever divorces his wife and marries another is guilty of adultery against her.

Mar 10:12 And if a woman divorces her husband and marries another she is guilty of adultery too.'

Mar 10:13 People were bringing little children to him, for him to touch them. The disciples scolded them,

Mar 10:14 but when Jesus saw this he was indignant and said to them, 'Let the little children come to me; do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs.

Mar 10:15 In truth I tell you, anyone who does not welcome the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it.'

Mar 10:16 Then he embraced them, laid his hands on them and gave them his blessing.

Mar 10:17 He was setting out on a journey when a man ran up, knelt before him and put this question to him, 'Good master, what must I do to inherit eternal life?'

Mar 10:18 Jesus said to him, 'Why do you call me good? No one is good but God alone.

Mar 10:19 You know the commandments: You shall not kill; You shall not commit adultery; You shall not steal; You shall not give false witness; You shall not defraud; Honour your father and mother.'

Mar 10:20 And he said to him, 'Master, I have kept all these since my earliest days.'

Mar 10:21 Jesus looked steadily at him and he was filled with love for him, and he said, 'You need to do one thing more. Go and sell what you own and give the money to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me.'

Mar 10:22 But his face fell at these words and he went away sad, for he was a man of great wealth.

Mar 10:23 Jesus looked round and said to his disciples, 'How hard it is for those who have riches to enter the kingdom of God!'

Mar 10:24 The disciples were astounded by these words, but Jesus insisted, 'My children,' he said to them, 'how hard it is to enter the kingdom of God!'

Mar 10:25 It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for someone rich to enter the kingdom of God.'

Mar 10:26 They were more astonished than ever, saying to one another, 'In that case, who can be saved?'

Mar 10:27 Jesus gazed at them and said, 'By human resources it is impossible, but not for God: because for God everything is possible.'

Mar 10:28 Peter took this up. 'Look,' he said to him, 'we have left everything and followed you.'

Mar 10:29 Jesus said, 'In truth I tell you, there is no one who has left house, brothers, sisters, mother, father, children or land for my sake and for the sake of the gospel

Mar 10:30 who will not receive a hundred times as much, houses, brothers, sisters, mothers, children and land -- and persecutions too -- now in this present time and, in the world to come, eternal life.

Mar 10:31 Many who are first will be last, and the last, first.'

Mar 10:32 They were on the road, going up to Jerusalem; Jesus was walking on ahead of them; they were in a daze, and those who followed were apprehensive. Once more taking the Twelve aside he began to tell them what was going to happen to him,

Mar 10:33 'Now we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man is about to be handed over to the chief priests and the scribes. They will condemn him to death and will hand him over to the gentiles,

Mar 10:34 who will mock him and spit at him and scourge him and put him to death; and after three days he will rise again.'

Mar 10:35 James and John, the sons of Zebedee, approached him. 'Master,' they said to him, 'We want you to do us a favour.'

Mar 10:36 He said to them, 'What is it you want me to do for you?'

Mar 10:37 They said to him, 'Allow us to sit one at your right hand and the other at your left in your glory.'

Mar 10:38 But Jesus said to them, 'You do not know what you are asking. Can you drink the cup that I shall drink, or be baptised with the baptism with which I shall be baptised?'

Mar 10:39 They replied, 'We can.' Jesus said to them, 'The cup that I shall drink you shall drink, and with the baptism with which I shall be baptised you shall be baptised,

Mar 10:40 but as for seats at my right hand or my left, these are not mine to grant; they belong to those to whom they have been allotted.'

Mar 10:41 When the other ten heard this they began to feel indignant with James and John,

Mar 10:42 so Jesus called them to him and said to them, 'You know that among the gentiles those they call their rulers lord it over them, and their great men make their authority felt.

Mar 10:43 Among you this is not to happen. No; anyone who wants to become great among you must be your servant,

Mar 10:44 and anyone who wants to be first among you must be slave to all.

Mar 10:45 For the Son of man himself came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.'

Mar 10:46 They reached Jericho; and as he left Jericho with his disciples and a great crowd, Bartimaeus -- that is, the son of Timaeus -- a blind beggar, was sitting at the side of the road.

Mar 10:47 When he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to shout and cry out, 'Son of David, Jesus, have pity on me.'

Mar 10:48 And many of them scolded him and told him to keep quiet, but he only shouted all the louder, 'Son of David, have pity on me.'

Mar 10:49 Jesus stopped and said, 'Call him here.' So they called the blind man over. 'Courage,' they said, 'get up; he is calling you.'

Mar 10:50 So throwing off his cloak, he jumped up and went to Jesus.

Mar 10:51 Then Jesus spoke, 'What do you want me to do for you?' The blind man said to him, 'Rabbuni, let me see again.'

Mar 10:52 Jesus said to him, 'Go; your faith has saved you.' And at once his sight returned and he followed him along the road.

Mar 11:1 When they were approaching Jerusalem, at Bethphage and Bethany, close by the Mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples

Mar 11:2 and said to them, 'Go to the village facing you, and as you enter it you will at once find a tethered colt that no one has yet ridden. Untie it and bring it here.'

Mar 11:3 If anyone says to you, "What are you doing?" say, "The Master needs it and will send it back here at once."

Mar 11:4 They went off and found a colt tethered near a door in the open street. As they untied it,

Mar 11:5 some men standing there said, 'What are you doing, untying that colt?'

Mar 11:6 They gave the answer Jesus had told them, and the men let them go.

Mar 11:7 Then they took the colt to Jesus and threw their cloaks on its back, and he mounted it.

Mar 11:8 Many people spread their cloaks on the road, and others greenery which they had cut in the fields.

Mar 11:9 And those who went in front and those who followed were all shouting, 'Hosanna! Blessed is he who is coming in the name of the Lord!

Mar 11:10 Blessed is the coming kingdom of David our father! Hosanna in the highest heavens!'

Mar 11:11 He entered Jerusalem and went into the Temple; and when he had surveyed it all, as it was late by now, he went out to Bethany with the Twelve.

Mar 11:12 Next day as they were leaving Bethany, he felt hungry.

Mar 11:13 Seeing a fig tree in leaf some distance away, he went to see if he could find any fruit on it, but when he came up to it he found nothing but leaves; for it was not the season for figs.

Mar 11:14 And he addressed the fig tree, 'May no one ever eat fruit from you again.' And his disciples heard him say this.

Mar 11:15 So they reached Jerusalem and he went into the Temple and began driving out the men selling and buying there; he upset the tables of the money changers and the seats of the dove sellers.

Mar 11:16 Nor would he allow anyone to carry anything through the Temple.

Mar 11:17 And he taught them and said, 'Does not scripture say: My house will be called a house of prayer for all peoples? But you have turned it into a bandits' den.'

Mar 11:18 This came to the ears of the chief priests and the scribes, and they tried to find some way of doing away with him; they were afraid of him because the people were carried away by his teaching.

Mar 11:19 And when evening came he went out of the city.

Mar 11:20 Next morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree withered to the roots.

Mar 11:21 Peter remembered. 'Look, Rabbi,' he said to Jesus, 'the fig tree that you cursed has withered away.'

Mar 11:22 Jesus answered, 'Have faith in God.'

Mar 11:23 In truth I tell you, if anyone says to this mountain, "Be pulled up and thrown into the sea," with no doubt in his heart, but believing that what he says will happen, it will be done for him.

Mar 11:24 I tell you, therefore, everything you ask and pray for, believe that you have it already, and it will be yours.

Mar 11:25 And when you stand in prayer, forgive whatever you have against anybody, so your Father in heaven may forgive your failings too.'

Mar 11:26

Mar 11:27 They came to Jerusalem again, and as Jesus was walking in the Temple, the chief priests and the scribes and the elders came to him,

Mar 11:28 and they said to him, 'What authority have you for acting like this? Or who gave you authority to act like this?'

Mar 11:29 Jesus said to them, 'And I will ask you a question, just one; answer me and I will tell you my authority for acting like this.'

Mar 11:30 John's baptism, what was its origin, heavenly or human? Answer me that.'

Mar 11:31 And they argued this way among themselves, 'If we say heavenly, he will say, "Then why did you refuse to believe him?"'

Mar 11:32 But dare we say human?' -- they had the people to fear, for everyone held that John had been a real prophet.

Mar 11:33 So their reply to Jesus was, 'We do not know.' And Jesus said to them, 'Nor will I tell you my authority for acting like this.'

Mar 12:1 He went on to speak to them in parables, 'A man planted a vineyard; he fenced it round, dug out a trough for the winepress and built a tower; then he leased it to tenants and went abroad.

Mar 12:2 When the time came, he sent a servant to the tenants to collect from them his share of the produce of the vineyard.

Mar 12:3 But they seized the man, thrashed him and sent him away empty handed.

Mar 12:4 Next he sent another servant to them; him they beat about the head and treated shamefully.

Mar 12:5 And he sent another and him they killed; then a number of others, and they thrashed some and killed the rest.

Mar 12:6 He had still someone left: his beloved son. He sent him to them last of all, thinking, "They will respect my son."

Mar 12:7 But those tenants said to each other, "This is the heir. Come on, let us kill him, and the inheritance will be ours."

Mar 12:8 So they seized him and killed him and threw him out of the vineyard.

Mar 12:9 Now what will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and make an end of the tenants and give the vineyard to others.

Mar 12:10 Have you not read this text of scripture: The stone which the builders rejected has become the cornerstone;

Mar 12:11 this is the Lord's doing, and we marvel at it?'

Mar 12:12 And they would have liked to arrest him, because they realised that the parable was aimed at them, but they were afraid of the crowds. So they left him alone and went away.

Mar 12:13 Next they sent to him some Pharisees and some Herodians to catch him out in what he said.

Mar 12:14 These came and said to him, 'Master, we know that you are an honest man, that you are not afraid of anyone, because human rank means nothing to you, and that you teach the way of God in all honesty. Is it permissible to pay taxes to Caesar or not? Should we pay or not?'

Mar 12:15 Recognising their hypocrisy he said to them, 'Why are you putting me to the test? Hand me a denarius and let me see it.'

Mar 12:16 They handed him one and he said to them, 'Whose portrait is this? Whose title?' They said to him, 'Caesar's.'

Mar 12:17 Jesus said to them, 'Pay Caesar what belongs to Caesar -- and God what belongs to God.' And they were amazed at him.

Mar 12:18 Then some Sadducees -- who deny that there is a resurrection -- came to him and they put this question to him,

Mar 12:19 'Master, Moses prescribed for us that if a man's brother dies leaving a wife but no child, the man must marry the widow to raise up children for his brother.

Mar 12:20 Now there were seven brothers; the first married a wife and then died leaving no children.

Mar 12:21 The second married the widow, and he too died leaving no children; with the third it was the same,

Mar 12:22 and none of the seven left any children. Last of all the woman herself died.

Mar 12:23 Now at the resurrection, when they rise again, whose wife will she be, since she had been married to all seven?'

Mar 12:24 Jesus said to them, 'Surely the reason why you are wrong is that you understand neither the scriptures nor the power of God.'

Mar 12:25 For when they rise from the dead, men and women do not marry; no, they are like the angels in heaven.

Mar 12:26 Now about the dead rising again, have you never read in the Book of Moses, in the passage about the bush, how God spoke to him and said: I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob?

Mar 12:27 He is God, not of the dead, but of the living. You are very much mistaken.'

Mar 12:28 One of the scribes who had listened to them debating appreciated that Jesus had given a good answer and put a further question to him, 'Which is the first of all the commandments?'

Mar 12:29 Jesus replied, 'This is the first: Listen, Israel, the Lord our God is the one, only Lord,

Mar 12:30 and you must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your mind and with all your strength.

Mar 12:31 The second is this: You must love your neighbour as yourself. There is no commandment greater than these.'

Mar 12:32 The scribe said to him, 'Well spoken, Master; what you have said is true, that he is one and there is no other.'

Mar 12:33 To love him with all your heart, with all your understanding and strength, and to love your neighbour as yourself, this is far more important than any burnt offering or sacrifice.'

Mar 12:34 Jesus, seeing how wisely he had spoken, said, 'You are not far from the kingdom of God.' And after that no one dared to question him any more.

Mar 12:35 While teaching in the Temple, Jesus said, 'How can the scribes maintain that the Christ is the son of David?'

Mar 12:36 David himself, moved by the Holy Spirit, said: The Lord declared to my Lord, take your seat at my right hand till I have made your enemies your footstool.

Mar 12:37 David himself calls him Lord; in what way then can he be his son?' And the great crowd listened to him with delight.

Mar 12:38 In his teaching he said, 'Beware of the scribes who like to walk about in long robes, to be greeted respectfully in the market squares,

Mar 12:39 to take the front seats in the synagogues and the places of honour at banquets;

Mar 12:40 these are the men who devour the property of widows and for show offer long prayers. The more severe will be the sentence they receive.'

Mar 12:41 He sat down opposite the treasury and watched the people putting money into the treasury, and many of the rich put in a great deal.

Mar 12:42 A poor widow came and put in two small coins, the equivalent of a penny.

Mar 12:43 Then he called his disciples and said to them, 'In truth I tell you, this poor widow has put more in than all who have contributed to the treasury;

Mar 12:44 for they have all put in money they could spare, but she in her poverty has put in everything she possessed, all she had to live on.'

Mar 13:1 As he was leaving the Temple one of his disciples said to him, 'Master, look at the size of those stones! Look at the size of those buildings!'

Mar 13:2 And Jesus said to him, 'You see these great buildings? Not a single stone will be left on another; everything will be pulled down.'

Mar 13:3 And while he was sitting on the Mount of Olives, facing the Temple, Peter, James, John and Andrew questioned him when they were by themselves,

Mar 13:4 'Tell us, when is this going to happen, and what sign will there be that it is all about to take place?'

Mar 13:5 Then Jesus began to tell them, 'Take care that no one deceives you.

Mar 13:6 Many will come using my name and saying, "I am he," and they will deceive many.

Mar 13:7 When you hear of wars and rumours of wars, do not be alarmed; this is something that must happen, but the end will not be yet.

Mar 13:8 For nation will fight against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places; there will be famines. This is the beginning of the birth-pangs.

Mar 13:9 'Be on your guard: you will be handed over to sanhedrins; you will be beaten in synagogues; and you will be brought before governors and kings for my sake, as evidence to them,

Mar 13:10 since the gospel must first be proclaimed to all nations.

Mar 13:11 'And when you are taken to be handed over, do not worry beforehand about what to say; no, say whatever is given to you when the time comes, because it is not you who will be speaking; it is the Holy Spirit.

Mar 13:12 Brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child; children will come forward against their parents and have them put to death.

Mar 13:13 You will be universally hated on account of my name; but anyone who stands firm to the end will be saved.

Mar 13:14 'When you see the appalling abomination set up where it ought not to be (let the reader understand), then those in Judaea must escape to the mountains;

Mar 13:15 if a man is on the housetop, he must not come down or go inside to collect anything from his house;

Mar 13:16 if a man is in the fields, he must not turn back to fetch his cloak.

Mar 13:17 Alas for those with child, or with babies at the breast, when those days come!

Mar 13:18 Pray that this may not be in winter.

Mar 13:19 For in those days there will be great distress, unparalleled since God created the world, and such as will never be again.

Mar 13:20 And if the Lord had not shortened that time, no human being would have survived; but he did shorten the time, for the sake of the elect whom he chose.

Mar 13:21 'And if anyone says to you then, "Look, here is the Christ" or, "Look, he is there," do not believe it;

Mar 13:22 for false Christs and false prophets will arise and produce signs and portents to deceive the elect, if that were possible.

Mar 13:23 You, therefore, must be on your guard. I have given you full warning.

Mar 13:24 'But in those days, after that time of distress, the sun will be darkened, the moon will not give its light,

Mar 13:25 the stars will come falling out of the sky and the powers in the heavens will be shaken.

Mar 13:26 And then they will see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory.

Mar 13:27 And then he will send the angels to gather his elect from the four winds, from the ends of the world to the ends of the sky.

Mar 13:28 'Take the fig tree as a parable: as soon as its twigs grow supple and its leaves come out, you know that summer is near.

Mar 13:29 So with you when you see these things happening: know that he is near, right at the gates.

Mar 13:30 In truth I tell you, before this generation has passed away all these things will have taken place.

Mar 13:31 Sky and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away.

Mar 13:32 'But as for that day or hour, nobody knows it, neither the angels in heaven, nor the Son; no one but the Father.

Mar 13:33 'Be on your guard, stay awake, because you never know when the time will come.

Mar 13:34 It is like a man travelling abroad: he has gone from his home, and left his servants in charge, each with his own work to do; and he has told the doorkeeper to stay awake.

Mar 13:35 So stay awake, because you do not know when the master of the house is coming, evening, midnight, cockcrow or dawn;

Mar 13:36 if he comes unexpectedly, he must not find you asleep.

Mar 13:37 And what I am saying to you I say to all: Stay awake!'

Mar 14:1 It was two days before the Passover and the feast of Unleavened Bread, and the chief priests and the scribes were looking for a way to arrest Jesus by some trick and have him put to death.

Mar 14:2 For they said, 'It must not be during the festivities, or there will be a disturbance among the people.'

Mar 14:3 He was at Bethany in the house of Simon, a man who had suffered from a virulent skin-disease; he was at table when a woman came in with an alabaster jar of very costly ointment, pure nard. She broke the jar and poured the ointment on his head.

Mar 14:4 Some who were there said to one another indignantly, 'Why this waste of ointment?

Mar 14:5 Ointment like this could have been sold for over three hundred denarii and the money given to the poor'; and they were angry with her.

Mar 14:6 But Jesus said, 'Leave her alone. Why are you upsetting her? What she has done for me is a good work.

Mar 14:7 You have the poor with you always, and you can be kind to them whenever you wish, but you will not always have me.

Mar 14:8 She has done what she could: she has anointed my body beforehand for its burial.

Mar 14:9 In truth I tell you, wherever throughout all the world the gospel is proclaimed, what she has done will be told as well, in remembrance of her.'

Mar 14:10 Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve, approached the chief priests with an offer to hand Jesus over to them.

Mar 14:11 They were delighted to hear it, and promised to give him money; and he began to look for a way of betraying him when the opportunity should occur.

Mar 14:12 On the first day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover lamb was sacrificed, his disciples said to him, 'Where do you want us to go and make the preparations for you to eat the Passover?'

Mar 14:13 So he sent two of his disciples, saying to them, 'Go into the city and you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him,

Mar 14:14 and say to the owner of the house which he enters, "The Master says: Where is the room for me to eat the Passover with my disciples?"

Mar 14:15 He will show you a large upper room furnished with couches, all prepared. Make the preparations for us there.'

Mar 14:16 The disciples set out and went to the city and found everything as he had told them, and prepared the Passover.

Mar 14:17 When evening came he arrived with the Twelve.

Mar 14:18 And while they were at table eating, Jesus said, 'In truth I tell you, one of you is about to betray me, one of you eating with me.'

Mar 14:19 They were distressed and said to him, one after another, 'Not me, surely?'

Mar 14:20 He said to them, 'It is one of the Twelve, one who is dipping into the same dish with me.

Mar 14:21 Yes, the Son of man is going to his fate, as the scriptures say he will, but alas for that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! Better for that man if he had never been born.'

Mar 14:22 And as they were eating he took bread, and when he had said the blessing he broke it and gave it to them. 'Take it,' he said, 'this is my body.'

Mar 14:23 Then he took a cup, and when he had given thanks he handed it to them, and all drank from it,

Mar 14:24 and he said to them, 'This is my blood, the blood of the covenant, poured out for many.

Mar 14:25 In truth I tell you, I shall never drink wine any more until the day I drink the new wine in the kingdom of God.'

Mar 14:26 After the psalms had been sung they left for the Mount of Olives.

Mar 14:27 And Jesus said to them, 'You will all fall away, for the scripture says: I shall strike the shepherd and the sheep will be scattered;

Mar 14:28 however, after my resurrection I shall go before you into Galilee.'

Mar 14:29 Peter said, 'Even if all fall away, I will not.'

Mar 14:30 And Jesus said to him, 'In truth I tell you, this day, this very night, before the cock crows twice, you will have disowned me three times.'

Mar 14:31 But he repeated still more earnestly, 'If I have to die with you, I will never disown you.' And they all said the same.

Mar 14:32 They came to a plot of land called Gethsemane, and he said to his disciples, 'Stay here while I pray.'

Mar 14:33 Then he took Peter and James and John with him.

Mar 14:34 And he began to feel terror and anguish. And he said to them, 'My soul is sorrowful to the point of death. Wait here, and stay awake.'

Mar 14:35 And going on a little further he threw himself on the ground and prayed that, if it were possible, this hour might pass him by.

Mar 14:36 'Abba, Father!' he said, 'For you everything is possible. Take this cup away from me. But let it be as you, not I, would have it.'

Mar 14:37 He came back and found them sleeping, and he said to Peter, 'Simon, are you asleep? Had you not the strength to stay awake one hour?

Mar 14:38 Stay awake and pray not to be put to the test. The spirit is willing enough, but human nature is weak.'

Mar 14:39 Again he went away and prayed, saying the same words.

Mar 14:40 And once more he came back and found them sleeping, their eyes were so heavy; and they could find no answer for him.

Mar 14:41 He came back a third time and said to them, 'You can sleep on now and have your rest. It is all over. The hour has come. Now the Son of man is to be betrayed into the hands of sinners.'

Mar 14:42 Get up! Let us go! My betrayer is not far away.'

Mar 14:43 And at once, while he was still speaking, Judas, one of the Twelve, came up and with him a number of men armed with swords and clubs, sent by the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

Mar 14:44 Now the traitor had arranged a signal with them saying, 'The one I kiss, he is the man. Arrest him, and see he is well guarded when you lead him away.'

Mar 14:45 So when the traitor came, he went up to Jesus at once and said, 'Rabbi!' and kissed him.

Mar 14:46 The others seized him and arrested him.

Mar 14:47 Then one of the bystanders drew his sword and struck out at the high priest's servant and cut off his ear.

Mar 14:48 Then Jesus spoke. 'Am I a bandit,' he said, 'that you had to set out to capture me with swords and clubs?

Mar 14:49 I was among you teaching in the Temple day after day and you never laid a hand on me. But this is to fulfil the scriptures.'

Mar 14:50 And they all deserted him and ran away.

Mar 14:51 A young man followed with nothing on but a linen cloth. They caught hold of him,

Mar 14:52 but he left the cloth in their hands and ran away naked.

Mar 14:53 They led Jesus off to the high priest; and all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes assembled there.

Mar 14:54 Peter had followed him at a distance, right into the high priest's palace, and was sitting with the attendants warming himself at the fire.

Mar 14:55 The chief priests and the whole Sanhedrin were looking for evidence against Jesus in order to have him executed. But they could not find any.

Mar 14:56 Several, indeed, brought false witness against him, but their evidence was conflicting.

Mar 14:57 Some stood up and submitted this false evidence against him,

Mar 14:58 'We heard him say, "I am going to destroy this Temple made by human hands, and in three days build another, not made by human hands."

Mar 14:59 But even on this point their evidence was conflicting.

Mar 14:60 The high priest then rose before the whole assembly and put this question to Jesus, 'Have you no answer to that? What is this evidence these men are bringing against you?'

Mar 14:61 But he was silent and made no answer at all. The high priest put a second question to him saying, 'Are you the Christ, the Son of the Blessed One?'

Mar 14:62 'I am,' said Jesus, 'and you will see the Son of man seated at the right hand of the Power and coming with the clouds of heaven.'

Mar 14:63 The high priest tore his robes and said, 'What need of witnesses have we now?

Mar 14:64 You heard the blasphemy. What is your finding?' Their verdict was unanimous: he deserved to die.

Mar 14:65 Some of them started spitting at his face, hitting him and saying, 'Play the prophet!' And the attendants struck him too.

Mar 14:66 While Peter was down below in the courtyard, one of the high priest's servant-girls came up.

Mar 14:67 She saw Peter warming himself there, looked closely at him and said, 'You too were with Jesus, the man from Nazareth.'

Mar 14:68 But he denied it. 'I do not know, I do not understand what you are talking about,' he said. And he went out into the forecourt, and a cock crowed.

Mar 14:69 The servant-girl saw him and again started telling the bystanders, 'This man is one of them.'

Mar 14:70 But again he denied it. A little later the bystanders themselves said to Peter, 'You are certainly one of them! Why, you are a Galilean.'

Mar 14:71 But he started cursing and swearing, 'I do not know the man you speak of.'

Mar 14:72 And at once the cock crowed for the second time, and Peter recalled what Jesus had said to him, 'Before the cock crows twice, you will have disowned me three times.' And he burst into tears.

Mar 15:1 First thing in the morning, the chief priests, together with the elders and scribes and the rest of the Sanhedrin, had their plan ready. They had Jesus bound and took him away and handed him over to Pilate.

Mar 15:2 Pilate put to him this question, 'Are you the king of the Jews?' He replied, 'It is you who say it.'

Mar 15:3 And the chief priests brought many accusations against him.

Mar 15:4 Pilate questioned him again, 'Have you no reply at all? See how many accusations they are bringing against you!'

Mar 15:5 But, to Pilate's surprise, Jesus made no further reply.

Mar 15:6 At festival time Pilate used to release a prisoner for them, any one they asked for.

Mar 15:7 Now a man called Barabbas was then in prison with the rebels who had committed murder during the uprising.

Mar 15:8 When the crowd went up and began to ask Pilate the customary favour,

Mar 15:9 Pilate answered them, 'Do you want me to release for you the king of the Jews?'

Mar 15:10 For he realised it was out of jealousy that the chief priests had handed Jesus over.

Mar 15:11 The chief priests, however, had incited the crowd to demand that he should release Barabbas for them instead.

Mar 15:12 Then Pilate spoke again, 'But in that case, what am I to do with the man you call king of the Jews?'

Mar 15:13 They shouted back, 'Crucify him!'

Mar 15:14 Pilate asked them, 'What harm has he done?' But they shouted all the louder, 'Crucify him!'

Mar 15:15 So Pilate, anxious to placate the crowd, released Barabbas for them and, after having Jesus scourged, he handed him over to be crucified.

Mar 15:16 The soldiers led him away to the inner part of the palace, that is, the Praetorium, and called the whole cohort together.

Mar 15:17 They dressed him up in purple, twisted some thorns into a crown and put it on him.

Mar 15:18 And they began saluting him, 'Hail, king of the Jews!'

Mar 15:19 They struck his head with a reed and spat on him; and they went down on their knees to do him homage.

Mar 15:20 And when they had finished making fun of him, they took off the purple and dressed him in his own clothes. They led him out to crucify him.

Mar 15:21 They enlisted a passer-by, Simon of Cyrene, father of Alexander and Rufus, who was coming in from the country, to carry his cross.

Mar 15:22 They brought Jesus to the place called Golgotha, which means the place of the skull.

Mar 15:23 They offered him wine mixed with myrrh, but he refused it.

Mar 15:24 Then they crucified him, and shared out his clothing, casting lots to decide what each should get.

Mar 15:25 It was the third hour when they crucified him.

Mar 15:26 The inscription giving the charge against him read, 'The King of the Jews'.

Mar 15:27 And they crucified two bandits with him, one on his right and one on his left.

Mar 15:28

Mar 15:29 The passers-by jeered at him; they shook their heads and said, 'Aha! So you would destroy the Temple and rebuild it in three days!

Mar 15:30 Then save yourself; come down from the cross!'

Mar 15:31 The chief priests and the scribes mocked him among themselves in the same way with the words, 'He saved others, he cannot save himself.'

Mar 15:32 Let the Christ, the king of Israel, come down from the cross now, for us to see it and believe.' Even those who were crucified with him taunted him.

Mar 15:33 When the sixth hour came there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.

Mar 15:34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried out in a loud voice, 'Eloi, eloi, lama sabachthani?' which means, 'My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?'

Mar 15:35 When some of those who stood by heard this, they said, 'Listen, he is calling on Elijah.'

Mar 15:36 Someone ran and soaked a sponge in vinegar and, putting it on a reed, gave it to him to drink saying, 'Wait! And see if Elijah will come to take him down.'

Mar 15:37 But Jesus gave a loud cry and breathed his last.

Mar 15:38 And the veil of the Sanctuary was torn in two from top to bottom.

Mar 15:39 The centurion, who was standing in front of him, had seen how he had died, and he said, 'In truth this man was Son of God.'

Mar 15:40 There were some women watching from a distance. Among them were Mary of Magdala, Mary who was the mother of James the younger and Joset, and Salome.

Mar 15:41 These used to follow him and look after him when he was in Galilee. And many other women were there who had come up to Jerusalem with him.

Mar 15:42 It was now evening, and since it was Preparation Day -- that is, the day before the Sabbath-

Mar 15:43 there came Joseph of Arimathaea, a prominent member of the Council, who himself lived in the hope of seeing the kingdom of God, and he boldly went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus.

Mar 15:44 Pilate, astonished that he should have died so soon, summoned the centurion and enquired if he had been dead for some time.

Mar 15:45 Having been assured of this by the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph

Mar 15:46 who bought a shroud, took Jesus down from the cross, wrapped him in the shroud and laid him in a tomb which had been hewn out of the rock. He then rolled a stone against the entrance to the tomb.

Mar 15:47 Mary of Magdala and Mary the mother of Joset took note of where he was laid.

Mar 16:1 When the Sabbath was over, Mary of Magdala, Mary the mother of James, and Salome, bought spices with which to go and anoint him.

Mar 16:2 And very early in the morning on the first day of the week they went to the tomb when the sun had risen.

Mar 16:3 They had been saying to one another, 'Who will roll away the stone for us from the entrance to the tomb?'

Mar 16:4 But when they looked they saw that the stone -- which was very big -- had already been rolled back.

Mar 16:5 On entering the tomb they saw a young man in a white robe seated on the right-hand side, and they were struck with amazement.

Mar 16:6 But he said to them, 'There is no need to be so amazed. You are looking for Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified: he has risen, he is not here. See, here is the place where they laid him.'

Mar 16:7 But you must go and tell his disciples and Peter, "He is going ahead of you to Galilee; that is where you will see him, just as he told you."

Mar 16:8 And the women came out and ran away from the tomb because they were frightened out of their wits; and they said nothing to anyone, for they were afraid.

Mar 16:9 Having risen in the morning on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary of Magdala from whom he had cast out seven devils.

Mar 16:10 She then went to those who had been his companions, and who were mourning and in tears, and told them.

Mar 16:11 But they did not believe her when they heard her say that he was alive and that she had seen him.

Mar 16:12 After this, he showed himself under another form to two of them as they were on their way into the country.

Mar 16:13 These went back and told the others, who did not believe them either.

Mar 16:14 Lastly, he showed himself to the Eleven themselves while they were at table. He reproached them for their incredulity and obstinacy, because they had refused to believe those who had seen him after he had risen.

Mar 16:15 And he said to them, 'Go out to the whole world; proclaim the gospel to all creation.

Mar 16:16 Whoever believes and is baptised will be saved; whoever does not believe will be condemned.

Mar 16:17 These are the signs that will be associated with believers: in my name they will cast out devils; they will have the gift of tongues;

Mar 16:18 they will pick up snakes in their hands and be unharmed should they drink deadly poison; they will lay their hands on the sick, who will recover.'

Mar 16:19 And so the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven; there at the right hand of God he took his place,

Mar 16:20 while they, going out, preached everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming the word by the signs that accompanied it.

Luk 1:1 Seeing that many others have undertaken to draw up accounts of the events that have reached their fulfilment among us,

Luk 1:2 as these were handed down to us by those who from the outset were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word,

Luk 1:3 I in my turn, after carefully going over the whole story from the beginning, have decided to write an ordered account for you, Theophilus,

Luk 1:4 so that your Excellency may learn how well founded the teaching is that you have received.

Luk 1:5 In the days of King Herod of Judaea there lived a priest called Zechariah who belonged to the Abijah section of the priesthood, and he had a wife, Elizabeth by name, who was a descendant of Aaron.

Luk 1:6 Both were upright in the sight of God and impeccably carried out all the commandments and observances of the Lord.

Luk 1:7 But they were childless: Elizabeth was barren and they were both advanced in years.

Luk 1:8 Now it happened that it was the turn of his section to serve, and he was exercising his priestly office before God

Luk 1:9 when it fell to him by lot, as the priestly custom was, to enter the Lord's sanctuary and burn incense there.

Luk 1:10 And at the hour of incense all the people were outside, praying.

Luk 1:11 Then there appeared to him the angel of the Lord, standing on the right of the altar of incense.

Luk 1:12 The sight disturbed Zechariah and he was overcome with fear.

Luk 1:13 But the angel said to him, 'Zechariah, do not be afraid, for your prayer has been heard. Your wife Elizabeth is to bear you a son and you shall name him John.

Luk 1:14 He will be your joy and delight and many will rejoice at his birth,

Luk 1:15 for he will be great in the sight of the Lord; he must drink no wine, no strong drink; even from his mother's womb he will be filled with the Holy Spirit,

Luk 1:16 and he will bring back many of the Israelites to the Lord their God.

Luk 1:17 With the spirit and power of Elijah, he will go before him to reconcile fathers to their children and the disobedient to the good sense of the upright, preparing for the Lord a people fit for him.'

Luk 1:18 Zechariah said to the angel, 'How can I know this? I am an old man and my wife is getting on in years.'

Luk 1:19 The angel replied, 'I am Gabriel, who stand in God's presence, and I have been sent to speak to you and bring you this good news.'

Luk 1:20 Look! Since you did not believe my words, which will come true at their appointed time, you will be silenced and have no power of speech until this has happened.'

Luk 1:21 Meanwhile the people were waiting for Zechariah and were surprised that he stayed in the sanctuary so long.

Luk 1:22 When he came out he could not speak to them, and they realised that he had seen a vision in the sanctuary. But he could only make signs to them and remained dumb.

Luk 1:23 When his time of service came to an end he returned home.

Luk 1:24 Some time later his wife Elizabeth conceived and for five months she kept to herself, saying,

Luk 1:25 'The Lord has done this for me, now that it has pleased him to take away the humiliation I suffered in public.'

Luk 1:26 In the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent by God to a town in Galilee called Nazareth,

Luk 1:27 to a virgin betrothed to a man named Joseph, of the House of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

Luk 1:28 He went in and said to her, 'Rejoice, you who enjoy God's favour! The Lord is with you.'

Luk 1:29 She was deeply disturbed by these words and asked herself what this greeting could mean,

Luk 1:30 but the angel said to her, 'Mary, do not be afraid; you have won God's favour.

Luk 1:31 Look! You are to conceive in your womb and bear a son, and you must name him Jesus.

Luk 1:32 He will be great and will be called Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his ancestor David;

Luk 1:33 he will rule over the House of Jacob for ever and his reign will have no end.'

Luk 1:34 Mary said to the angel, 'But how can this come about, since I have no knowledge of man?'

Luk 1:35 The angel answered, 'The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will cover you with its shadow. And so the child will be holy and will be called Son of God.'

Luk 1:36 And I tell you this too: your cousin Elizabeth also, in her old age, has conceived a son, and she whom people called barren is now in her sixth month,

Luk 1:37 for nothing is impossible to God.'

Luk 1:38 Mary said, 'You see before you the Lord's servant, let it happen to me as you have said.' And the angel left her.

Luk 1:39 Mary set out at that time and went as quickly as she could into the hill country to a town in Judah.

Luk 1:40 She went into Zechariah's house and greeted Elizabeth.

Luk 1:41 Now it happened that as soon as Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, the child leapt in her womb and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit.

Luk 1:42 She gave a loud cry and said, 'Of all women you are the most blessed, and blessed is the fruit of your womb.

Luk 1:43 Why should I be honoured with a visit from the mother of my Lord?

Luk 1:44 Look, the moment your greeting reached my ears, the child in my womb leapt for joy.

Luk 1:45 Yes, blessed is she who believed that the promise made her by the Lord would be fulfilled.'

Luk 1:46 And Mary said: My soul proclaims the greatness of the Lord

Luk 1:47 and my spirit rejoices in God my Saviour;

Luk 1:48 because he has looked upon the humiliation of his servant. Yes, from now onwards all generations will call me blessed,

Luk 1:49 for the Almighty has done great things for me. Holy is his name,

Luk 1:50 and his faithful love extends age after age to those who fear him.

Luk 1:51 He has used the power of his arm, he has routed the arrogant of heart.

Luk 1:52 He has pulled down princes from their thrones and raised high the lowly.

Luk 1:53 He has filled the starving with good things, sent the rich away empty.

Luk 1:54 He has come to the help of Israel his servant, mindful of his faithful love

Luk 1:55 -according to the promise he made to our ancestors -- of his mercy to Abraham and to his descendants for ever.

Luk 1:56 Mary stayed with her some three months and then went home.

Luk 1:57 The time came for Elizabeth to have her child, and she gave birth to a son;

Luk 1:58 and when her neighbours and relations heard that the Lord had lavished on her his faithful love, they shared her joy.

Luk 1:59 Now it happened that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; they were going to call him Zechariah after his father,

Luk 1:60 but his mother spoke up. 'No,' she said, 'he is to be called John.'

Luk 1:61 They said to her, 'But no one in your family has that name.'

Luk 1:62 and made signs to his father to find out what he wanted him called.

Luk 1:63 The father asked for a writing-tablet and wrote, 'His name is John.' And they were all astonished.

Luk 1:64 At that instant his power of speech returned and he spoke and praised God.

Luk 1:65 All their neighbours were filled with awe and the whole affair was talked about throughout the hill country of Judaea.

Luk 1:66 All those who heard of it treasured it in their hearts. 'What will this child turn out to be?' they wondered. And indeed the hand of the Lord was with him.

Luk 1:67 His father Zechariah was filled with the Holy Spirit and spoke this prophecy:

Luk 1:68 Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, for he has visited his people, he has set them free,
Luk 1:69 and he has established for us a saving power in the House of his servant David,
Luk 1:70 just as he proclaimed, by the mouth of his holy prophets from ancient times,
Luk 1:71 that he would save us from our enemies and from the hands of all those who hate us,
Luk 1:72 and show faithful love to our ancestors, and so keep in mind his holy covenant.
Luk 1:73 This was the oath he swore to our father Abraham,
Luk 1:74 that he would grant us, free from fear, to be delivered from the hands of our enemies,
Luk 1:75 to serve him in holiness and uprightness in his presence, all our days.
Luk 1:76 And you, little child, you shall be called Prophet of the Most High, for you will go before the Lord to prepare a way for him,
Luk 1:77 to give his people knowledge of salvation through the forgiveness of their sins,
Luk 1:78 because of the faithful love of our God in which the rising Sun has come from on high to visit us,
Luk 1:79 to give light to those who live in darkness and the shadow dark as death, and to guide our feet into the way of peace.
Luk 1:80 Meanwhile the child grew up and his spirit grew strong. And he lived in the desert until the day he appeared openly to Israel.
Luk 2:1 Now it happened that at this time Caesar Augustus issued a decree that a census should be made of the whole inhabited world.
Luk 2:2 This census -- the first -- took place while Quirinius was governor of Syria,
Luk 2:3 and everyone went to be registered, each to his own town.
Luk 2:4 So Joseph set out from the town of Nazareth in Galilee for Judaea, to David's town called Bethlehem, since he was of David's House and line,
Luk 2:5 in order to be registered together with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child.
Luk 2:6 Now it happened that, while they were there, the time came for her to have her child,
Luk 2:7 and she gave birth to a son, her first-born. She wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger because there was no room for them in the living-space.
Luk 2:8 In the countryside close by there were shepherds out in the fields keeping guard over their sheep during the watches of the night.
Luk 2:9 An angel of the Lord stood over them and the glory of the Lord shone round them. They were terrified, Luk 2:10 but the angel said, 'Do not be afraid. Look, I bring you news of great joy, a joy to be shared by the whole people.
Luk 2:11 Today in the town of David a Saviour has been born to you; he is Christ the Lord.
Luk 2:12 And here is a sign for you: you will find a baby wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger.'
Luk 2:13 And all at once with the angel there was a great throng of the hosts of heaven, praising God with the words:
Luk 2:14 Glory to God in the highest heaven, and on earth peace for those he favours.
Luk 2:15 Now it happened that when the angels had gone from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, 'Let us go to Bethlehem and see this event which the Lord has made known to us.'
Luk 2:16 So they hurried away and found Mary and Joseph, and the baby lying in the manger.
Luk 2:17 When they saw the child they repeated what they had been told about him,
Luk 2:18 and everyone who heard it was astonished at what the shepherds said to them.
Luk 2:19 As for Mary, she treasured all these things and pondered them in her heart.
Luk 2:20 And the shepherds went back glorifying and praising God for all they had heard and seen, just as they had been told.
Luk 2:21 When the eighth day came and the child was to be circumcised, they gave him the name Jesus, the name the angel had given him before his conception.
Luk 2:22 And when the day came for them to be purified in keeping with the Law of Moses, they took him up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord-
Luk 2:23 observing what is written in the Law of the Lord: Every first-born male must be consecrated to the Lord-
Luk 2:24 and also to offer in sacrifice, in accordance with what is prescribed in the Law of the Lord, a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons.
Luk 2:25 Now in Jerusalem there was a man named Simeon. He was an upright and devout man; he looked forward to the restoration of Israel and the Holy Spirit rested on him.
Luk 2:26 It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not see death until he had set eyes on the Christ of the Lord.
Luk 2:27 Prompted by the Spirit he came to the Temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus to do for him what the Law required,
Luk 2:28 he took him into his arms and blessed God; and he said:

Luk 2:29 Now, Master, you are letting your servant go in peace as you promised;
Luk 2:30 for my eyes have seen the salvation
Luk 2:31 which you have made ready in the sight of the nations;
Luk 2:32 a light of revelation for the gentiles and glory for your people Israel.
Luk 2:33 As the child's father and mother were wondering at the things that were being said about him,
Luk 2:34 Simeon blessed them and said to Mary his mother, 'Look, he is destined for the fall and for the rise of many in Israel, destined to be a sign that is opposed-
Luk 2:35 and a sword will pierce your soul too -- so that the secret thoughts of many may be laid bare.'
Luk 2:36 There was a prophetess, too, Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. She was well on in years. Her days of girlhood over, she had been married for seven years
Luk 2:37 before becoming a widow. She was now eighty-four years old and never left the Temple, serving God night and day with fasting and prayer.
Luk 2:38 She came up just at that moment and began to praise God; and she spoke of the child to all who looked forward to the deliverance of Jerusalem.
Luk 2:39 When they had done everything the Law of the Lord required, they went back to Galilee, to their own town of Nazareth.
Luk 2:40 And as the child grew to maturity, he was filled with wisdom; and God's favour was with him.
Luk 2:41 Every year his parents used to go to Jerusalem for the feast of the Passover.
Luk 2:42 When he was twelve years old, they went up for the feast as usual.
Luk 2:43 When the days of the feast were over and they set off home, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem without his parents knowing it.
Luk 2:44 They assumed he was somewhere in the party, and it was only after a day's journey that they went to look for him among their relations and acquaintances.
Luk 2:45 When they failed to find him they went back to Jerusalem looking for him everywhere.
Luk 2:46 It happened that, three days later, they found him in the Temple, sitting among the teachers, listening to them, and asking them questions;
Luk 2:47 and all those who heard him were astounded at his intelligence and his replies.
Luk 2:48 They were overcome when they saw him, and his mother said to him, 'My child, why have you done this to us? See how worried your father and I have been, looking for you.'Luk 2:49 He replied, 'Why were you looking for me? Did you not know that I must be in my Father's house?'
Luk 2:50 But they did not understand what he meant.
Luk 2:51 He went down with them then and came to Nazareth and lived under their authority. His mother stored up all these things in her heart.
Luk 2:52 And Jesus increased in wisdom, in stature, and in favour with God and with people.
Luk 3:1 In the fifteenth year of Tiberius Caesar's reign, when Pontius Pilate was governor of Judaea, Herod tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip tetrarch of the territories of Ituraea and Trachonitis, Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene,
Luk 3:2 and while the high-priesthood was held by Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came to John the son of Zechariah, in the desert.
Luk 3:3 He went through the whole Jordan area proclaiming a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins,
Luk 3:4 as it is written in the book of the sayings of Isaiah the prophet: A voice of one that cries in the desert:
Prepare a way for the Lord, make his paths straight!
Luk 3:5 Let every valley be filled in, every mountain and hill be levelled, winding ways be straightened and rough roads made smooth,
Luk 3:6 and all humanity will see the salvation of God.
Luk 3:7 He said, therefore, to the crowds who came to be baptised by him, 'Brood of vipers, who warned you to flee from the coming retribution?
Luk 3:8 Produce fruit in keeping with repentance, and do not start telling yourselves, "We have Abraham as our father," because, I tell you, God can raise children for Abraham from these stones.
Luk 3:9 Yes, even now the axe is being laid to the root of the trees, so that any tree failing to produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown on the fire.'
Luk 3:10 When all the people asked him, 'What must we do, then?'
Luk 3:11 he answered, 'Anyone who has two tunics must share with the one who has none, and anyone with something to eat must do the same.'Luk 3:12 There were tax collectors, too, who came for baptism, and these said to him, 'Master, what must we do?'
Luk 3:13 He said to them, 'Exact no more than the appointed rate.'
Luk 3:14 Some soldiers asked him in their turn, 'What about us? What must we do?' He said to them, 'No intimidation! No extortion! Be content with your pay!'

Luk 3:15 A feeling of expectancy had grown among the people, who were beginning to wonder whether John might be the Christ,

Luk 3:16 so John declared before them all, 'I baptise you with water, but someone is coming, who is more powerful than me, and I am not fit to undo the strap of his sandals; he will baptise you with the Holy Spirit and fire.'

Luk 3:17 His winnowing-fan is in his hand, to clear his threshing-floor and to gather the wheat into his barn; but the chaff he will burn in a fire that will never go out.'

Luk 3:18 And he proclaimed the good news to the people with many other exhortations too.

Luk 3:19 But Herod the tetrarch, censured by John for his relations with his brother's wife Herodias and for all the other crimes he had committed,

Luk 3:20 added a further crime to all the rest by shutting John up in prison.

Luk 3:21 Now it happened that when all the people had been baptised and while Jesus after his own baptism was at prayer, heaven opened

Luk 3:22 and the Holy Spirit descended on him in a physical form, like a dove. And a voice came from heaven, 'You are my Son; today have I fathered you.'

Luk 3:23 When he began, Jesus was about thirty years old, being the son, as it was thought, of Joseph son of Heli,

Luk 3:24 son of Matthat, son of Levi, son of Melchi, son of Jannai, son of Joseph,

Luk 3:25 son of Mattathias, son of Amos, son of Nahum, son of Esli, son of Naggai,

Luk 3:26 son of Maath, son of Mattathias, son of Semein, son of Josech, son of Joda,

Luk 3:27 son of Joanan, son of Rhesa, son of Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel, son of Neri,

Luk 3:28 son of Melchi, son of Addi, son of Cosam, son of Elmadam, son of Er,

Luk 3:29 son of Jesus, son of Eliezer, son of Joram, son of Matthat, son of Levi,

Luk 3:30 son of Symeon, son of Judah, son of Joseph, son of Jonam, son of Eliakim,

Luk 3:31 son of Melea, son of Menna, son of Mattatha, son of Nathan, son of David,

Luk 3:32 son of Jesse, son of Obed, son of Boaz, son of Sala, son of Nahshon,

Luk 3:33 son of Amminadab, son of Admin, son of Arni, son of Hezron, son of Perez, son of Judah,

Luk 3:34 son of Jacob, son of Isaac, son of Abraham, son of Terah, son of Nahor,

Luk 3:35 son of Serug, son of Reu, son of Peleg, son of Eber, son of Shelah,

Luk 3:36 son of Cainan, son of Arphaxad, son of Shem, son of Noah, son of Lamech,

Luk 3:37 son of Methuselah, son of Enoch, son of Jared, son of Mahalaleel, son of Cainan, Luk 3:38 son of Enos, son of Seth, son of Adam, son of God.

Luk 4:1 Filled with the Holy Spirit, Jesus left the Jordan and was led by the Spirit into the desert,

Luk 4:2 for forty days being put to the test by the devil. During that time he ate nothing and at the end he was hungry.

Luk 4:3 Then the devil said to him, 'If you are Son of God, tell this stone to turn into a loaf.'

Luk 4:4 But Jesus replied, 'Scripture says: Human beings live not on bread alone.'

Luk 4:5 Then leading him to a height, the devil showed him in a moment of time all the kingdoms of the world

Luk 4:6 and said to him, 'I will give you all this power and their splendour, for it has been handed over to me, for me to give it to anyone I choose.'

Luk 4:7 Do homage, then, to me, and it shall all be yours.'

Luk 4:8 But Jesus answered him, 'Scripture says: You must do homage to the Lord your God, him alone you must serve.'

Luk 4:9 Then he led him to Jerusalem and set him on the parapet of the Temple. 'If you are Son of God,' he said to him, 'throw yourself down from here,

Luk 4:10 for scripture says: He has given his angels orders about you, to guard you, and again:

Luk 4:11 They will carry you in their arms in case you trip over a stone.'

Luk 4:12 But Jesus answered him, 'Scripture says: Do not put the Lord your God to the test.'

Luk 4:13 Having exhausted every way of putting him to the test, the devil left him, until the opportune moment.

Luk 4:14 Jesus, with the power of the Spirit in him, returned to Galilee; and his reputation spread throughout the countryside.

Luk 4:15 He taught in their synagogues and everyone glorified him.

Luk 4:16 He came to Nazara, where he had been brought up, and went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day as he usually did. He stood up to read,

Luk 4:17 and they handed him the scroll of the prophet Isaiah. Unrolling the scroll he found the place where it is written:

Luk 4:18 The spirit of the Lord is on me, for he has anointed me to bring the good news to the afflicted. He has sent me to proclaim liberty to captives, sight to the blind, to let the oppressed go free,

Luk 4:19 to proclaim a year of favour from the Lord.

Luk 4:20 He then rolled up the scroll, gave it back to the assistant and sat down. And all eyes in the synagogue were fixed on him.

Luk 4:21 Then he began to speak to them, 'This text is being fulfilled today even while you are listening.'

Luk 4:22 And he won the approval of all, and they were astonished by the gracious words that came from his lips. They said, 'This is Joseph's son, surely?'

Luk 4:23 But he replied, 'No doubt you will quote me the saying, "Physician, heal yourself," and tell me, "We have heard all that happened in Capernaum, do the same here in your own country." '

Luk 4:24 And he went on, 'In truth I tell you, no prophet is ever accepted in his own country.'

Luk 4:25 'There were many widows in Israel, I can assure you, in Elijah's day, when heaven remained shut for three years and six months and a great famine raged throughout the land,

Luk 4:26 but Elijah was not sent to any one of these: he was sent to a widow at Zarephath, a town in Sidonia.

Luk 4:27 And in the prophet Elisha's time there were many suffering from virulent skin-diseases in Israel, but none of these was cured -- only Naaman the Syrian.'

Luk 4:28 When they heard this everyone in the synagogue was enraged.

Luk 4:29 They sprang to their feet and hustled him out of the town; and they took him up to the brow of the hill their town was built on, intending to throw him off the cliff,

Luk 4:30 but he passed straight through the crowd and walked away.

Luk 4:31 He went down to Capernaum, a town in Galilee, and taught them on the Sabbath.

Luk 4:32 And his teaching made a deep impression on them because his word carried authority.

Luk 4:33 In the synagogue there was a man possessed by the spirit of an unclean devil, and he shouted at the top of his voice,

Luk 4:34 'Ha! What do you want with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are: the Holy One of God.'

Luk 4:35 But Jesus rebuked it, saying, 'Be quiet! Come out of him!' And the devil, throwing the man into the middle, went out of him without hurting him at all.

Luk 4:36 Astonishment seized them and they were all saying to one another, 'What is it in his words? He gives orders to unclean spirits with authority and power and they come out.'

Luk 4:37 And the news of him travelled all through the surrounding countryside.

Luk 4:38 Leaving the synagogue he went to Simon's house. Now Simon's mother-in-law was in the grip of a high fever and they asked him to do something for her.

Luk 4:39 Standing over her he rebuked the fever and it left her. And she immediately got up and began to serve them.

Luk 4:40 At sunset all those who had friends suffering from diseases of one kind or another brought them to him, and laying his hands on each he cured them.

Luk 4:41 Devils too came out of many people, shouting, 'You are the Son of God.' But he warned them and would not allow them to speak because they knew that he was the Christ.

Luk 4:42 When daylight came he left the house and made his way to a lonely place. The crowds went to look for him, and when they had caught up with him they wanted to prevent him leaving them,

Luk 4:43 but he answered, 'I must proclaim the good news of the kingdom of God to the other towns too, because that is what I was sent to do.'

Luk 4:44 And he continued his proclamation in the synagogues of Judaea.

Luk 5:1 Now it happened that he was standing one day by the Lake of Gennesaret, with the crowd pressing round him listening to the word of God,

Luk 5:2 when he caught sight of two boats at the water's edge. The fishermen had got out of them and were washing their nets.

Luk 5:3 He got into one of the boats -- it was Simon's -- and asked him to put out a little from the shore. Then he sat down and taught the crowds from the boat.

Luk 5:4 When he had finished speaking he said to Simon, 'Put out into deep water and pay out your nets for a catch.'

Luk 5:5 Simon replied, 'Master, we worked hard all night long and caught nothing, but if you say so, I will pay out the nets.'

Luk 5:6 And when they had done this they netted such a huge number of fish that their nets began to tear,

Luk 5:7 so they signalled to their companions in the other boat to come and help them; when these came, they filled both boats to sinking point.

Luk 5:8 When Simon Peter saw this he fell at the knees of Jesus saying, 'Leave me, Lord; I am a sinful man.'

Luk 5:9 For he and all his companions were completely awestruck at the catch they had made;

Luk 5:10 so also were James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were Simon's partners. But Jesus said to Simon, 'Do not be afraid; from now on it is people you will be catching.'

Luk 5:11 Then, bringing their boats back to land they left everything and followed him.

Luk 5:12 Now it happened that Jesus was in one of the towns when suddenly a man appeared, covered with a skin-disease. Seeing Jesus he fell on his face and implored him saying, 'Sir, if you are willing you can cleanse me.'

Luk 5:13 He stretched out his hand, and touched him saying, 'I am willing. Be cleansed.' At once the skin-disease left him.

Luk 5:14 He ordered him to tell no one, 'But go and show yourself to the priest and make the offering for your cleansing just as Moses prescribed, as evidence to them.'

Luk 5:15 But the news of him kept spreading, and large crowds would gather to hear him and to have their illnesses cured,

Luk 5:16 but he would go off to some deserted place and pray.

Luk 5:17 Now it happened that he was teaching one day, and Pharisees and teachers of the Law, who had come from every village in Galilee, from Judaea and from Jerusalem, were sitting there. And the power of the Lord was there so that he should heal.

Luk 5:18 And now some men appeared, bringing on a bed a paralysed man whom they were trying to bring in and lay down in front of him.

Luk 5:19 But as they could find no way of getting the man through the crowd, they went up onto the top of the house and lowered him and his stretcher down through the tiles into the middle of the gathering, in front of Jesus.

Luk 5:20 Seeing their faith he said, 'My friend, your sins are forgiven you.'

Luk 5:21 The scribes and the Pharisees began to think this over. 'Who is this man, talking blasphemy? Who but God alone can forgive sins?'

Luk 5:22 But Jesus, aware of their thoughts, made them this reply, 'What are these thoughts you have in your hearts?

Luk 5:23 Which of these is easier: to say, "Your sins are forgiven you," or to say, "Get up and walk"?

Luk 5:24 But to prove to you that the Son of man has authority on earth to forgive sins,' -- he said to the paralysed man-'I order you: get up, and pick up your stretcher and go home.'

Luk 5:25 And immediately before their very eyes he got up, picked up what he had been lying on and went home praising God.

Luk 5:26 They were all astounded and praised God and were filled with awe, saying, 'We have seen strange things today.'

Luk 5:27 When he went out after this, he noticed a tax collector, Levi by name, sitting at the tax office, and said to him, 'Follow me.'

Luk 5:28 And leaving everything Levi got up and followed him.

Luk 5:29 In his honour Levi held a great reception in his house, and with them at table was a large gathering of tax collectors and others.

Luk 5:30 The Pharisees and their scribes complained to his disciples and said, 'Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?'

Luk 5:31 Jesus said to them in reply, 'It is not those that are well who need the doctor, but the sick.'

Luk 5:32 I have come to call not the upright but sinners to repentance.'

Luk 5:33 They then said to him, 'John's disciples are always fasting and saying prayers, and the disciples of the Pharisees, too, but yours go on eating and drinking.'

Luk 5:34 Jesus replied, 'Surely you cannot make the bridegroom's attendants fast while the bridegroom is still with them?

Luk 5:35 But the time will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them; then, in those days, they will fast.'

Luk 5:36 He also told them a parable, 'No one tears a piece from a new cloak to put it on an old cloak; otherwise, not only will the new one be torn, but the piece taken from the new will not match the old.'

Luk 5:37 'And nobody puts new wine in old wineskins; otherwise, the new wine will burst the skins and run to waste, and the skins will be ruined.

Luk 5:38 No; new wine must be put in fresh skins.

Luk 5:39 And nobody who has been drinking old wine wants new. "The old is good," he says.'

Luk 6:1 It happened that one Sabbath he was walking through the cornfields, and his disciples were picking ears of corn, rubbing them in their hands and eating them.

Luk 6:2 Some of the Pharisees said, 'Why are you doing something that is forbidden on the Sabbath day?'

Luk 6:3 Jesus answered them, 'So you have not read what David did when he and his followers were hungry-

Luk 6:4 how he went into the house of God and took the loaves of the offering and ate them and gave them to his followers, loaves which the priests alone are allowed to eat?'

Luk 6:5 And he said to them, 'The Son of man is master of the Sabbath.'

Luk 6:6 Now on another Sabbath he went into the synagogue and began to teach, and a man was present, and his right hand was withered.

Luk 6:7 The scribes and the Pharisees were watching him to see if he would cure somebody on the Sabbath, hoping to find something to charge him with.

Luk 6:8 But he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man with the withered hand, 'Get up and stand out in the middle!' And he came forward and stood there.

Luk 6:9 Then Jesus said to them, 'I put it to you: is it permitted on the Sabbath to do good, or to do evil; to save life, or to destroy it?'

Luk 6:10 Then he looked round at them all and said to the man, 'Stretch out your hand.' He did so, and his hand was restored.

Luk 6:11 But they were furious and began to discuss the best way of dealing with Jesus.

Luk 6:12 Now it happened in those days that he went onto the mountain to pray; and he spent the whole night in prayer to God.

Luk 6:13 When day came he summoned his disciples and picked out twelve of them; he called them 'apostles':

Luk 6:14 Simon whom he called Peter, and his brother Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew,

Luk 6:15 Matthew, Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Simon called the Zealot,

Luk 6:16 Judas son of James, and Judas Iscariot who became a traitor.

Luk 6:17 He then came down with them and stopped at a piece of level ground where there was a large gathering of his disciples, with a great crowd of people from all parts of Judaea and Jerusalem and the coastal region of Tyre and Sidon

Luk 6:18 who had come to hear him and to be cured of their diseases. People tormented by unclean spirits were also cured,

Luk 6:19 and everyone in the crowd was trying to touch him because power came out of him that cured them all.

Luk 6:20 Then fixing his eyes on his disciples he said: How blessed are you who are poor: the kingdom of God is yours.

Luk 6:21 Blessed are you who are hungry now: you shall have your fill. Blessed are you who are weeping now: you shall laugh.

Luk 6:22 'Blessed are you when people hate you, drive you out, abuse you, denounce your name as criminal, on account of the Son of man.

Luk 6:23 Rejoice when that day comes and dance for joy, look!-your reward will be great in heaven. This was the way their ancestors treated the prophets.

Luk 6:24 But alas for you who are rich: you are having your consolation now.

Luk 6:25 Alas for you who have plenty to eat now: you shall go hungry. Alas for you who are laughing now: you shall mourn and weep.

Luk 6:26 'Alas for you when everyone speaks well of you! This was the way their ancestors treated the false prophets.

Luk 6:27 'But I say this to you who are listening: Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you,

Luk 6:28 bless those who curse you, pray for those who treat you badly.

Luk 6:29 To anyone who slaps you on one cheek, present the other cheek as well; to anyone who takes your cloak from you, do not refuse your tunic.

Luk 6:30 Give to everyone who asks you, and do not ask for your property back from someone who takes it.

Luk 6:31 Treat others as you would like people to treat you.

Luk 6:32 If you love those who love you, what credit can you expect? Even sinners love those who love them.

Luk 6:33 And if you do good to those who do good to you, what credit can you expect? For even sinners do that much.

Luk 6:34 And if you lend to those from whom you hope to get money back, what credit can you expect? Even sinners lend to sinners to get back the same amount.

Luk 6:35 Instead, love your enemies and do good to them, and lend without any hope of return. You will have a great reward, and you will be children of the Most High, for he himself is kind to the ungrateful and the wicked.

Luk 6:36 'Be compassionate just as your Father is compassionate.

Luk 6:37 Do not judge, and you will not be judged; do not condemn, and you will not be condemned; forgive, and you will be forgiven.

Luk 6:38 Give, and there will be gifts for you: a full measure, pressed down, shaken together, and overflowing, will be poured into your lap; because the standard you use will be the standard used for you.'

Luk 6:39 He also told them a parable, 'Can one blind person guide another? Surely both will fall into a pit?

Luk 6:40 Disciple is not superior to teacher; but fully trained disciple will be like teacher.

Luk 6:41 Why do you observe the splinter in your brother's eye and never notice the great log in your own?

Luk 6:42 How can you say to your brother, "Brother, let me take out that splinter in your eye," when you cannot see the great log in your own? Hypocrite! Take the log out of your own eye first, and then you will see clearly enough to take out the splinter in your brother's eye.

Luk 6:43 'There is no sound tree that produces rotten fruit, nor again a rotten tree that produces sound fruit.

Luk 6:44 Every tree can be told by its own fruit: people do not pick figs from thorns, nor gather grapes from brambles.

Luk 6:45 Good people draw what is good from the store of goodness in their hearts; bad people draw what is bad from the store of badness. For the words of the mouth flow out of what fills the heart.

Luk 6:46 'Why do you call me, "Lord, Lord" and not do what I say?

Luk 6:47 'Everyone who comes to me and listens to my words and acts on them -- I will show you what such a person is like.

Luk 6:48 Such a person is like the man who, when he built a house, dug, and dug deep, and laid the foundations on rock; when the river was in flood it bore down on that house but could not shake it, it was so well built.

Luk 6:49 But someone who listens and does nothing is like the man who built a house on soil, with no foundations; as soon as the river bore down on it, it collapsed; and what a ruin that house became!

Luk 7:1 When he had come to the end of all he wanted the people to hear, he went into Capernaum.

Luk 7:2 A centurion there had a servant, a favourite of his, who was sick and near death.

Luk 7:3 Having heard about Jesus he sent some Jewish elders to him to ask him to come and heal his servant.

Luk 7:4 When they came to Jesus they pleaded earnestly with him saying, 'He deserves this of you,

Luk 7:5 because he is well disposed towards our people; he built us our synagogue himself.'

Luk 7:6 So Jesus went with them, and was not very far from the house when the centurion sent word to him by some friends to say to him, 'Sir, do not put yourself to any trouble because I am not worthy to have you under my roof;

Luk 7:7 and that is why I did not presume to come to you myself; let my boy be cured by your giving the word.

Luk 7:8 For I am under authority myself, and have soldiers under me; and I say to one man, "Go," and he goes; to another, "Come here," and he comes; to my servant, "Do this," and he does it.'

Luk 7:9 When Jesus heard these words he was astonished at him and, turning round, said to the crowd following him, 'I tell you, not even in Israel have I found faith as great as this.'

Luk 7:10 And when the messengers got back to the house they found the servant in perfect health.

Luk 7:11 It happened that soon afterwards he went to a town called Nain, accompanied by his disciples and a great number of people.

Luk 7:12 Now when he was near the gate of the town there was a dead man being carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow. And a considerable number of the townspeople was with her.

Luk 7:13 When the Lord saw her he felt sorry for her and said to her, 'Don't cry.'

Luk 7:14 Then he went up and touched the bier and the bearers stood still, and he said, 'Young man, I tell you: get up.'

Luk 7:15 And the dead man sat up and began to talk, and Jesus gave him to his mother.

Luk 7:16 Everyone was filled with awe and glorified God saying, 'A great prophet has risen up among us; God has visited his people.'

Luk 7:17 And this view of him spread throughout Judaea and all over the countryside.

Luk 7:18 The disciples of John gave him all this news, and John, summoning two of his disciples,

Luk 7:19 sent them to the Lord to ask, 'Are you the one who is to come, or are we to expect someone else?'

Luk 7:20 When the men reached Jesus they said, 'John the Baptist has sent us to you to ask, "Are you the one who is to come or are we to expect someone else?"'

Luk 7:21 At that very time he cured many people of diseases and afflictions and of evil spirits, and gave the gift of sight to many who were blind.

Luk 7:22 Then he gave the messengers their answer, 'Go back and tell John what you have seen and heard: the blind see again, the lame walk, those suffering from virulent skin-diseases are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised to life, the good news is proclaimed to the poor;

Luk 7:23 and blessed is anyone who does not find me a cause of falling.'

Luk 7:24 When John's messengers had gone he began to talk to the people about John,

Luk 7:25 'What did you go out into the desert to see? A reed swaying in the breeze? No! Then what did you go out to see? A man dressed in fine clothes? Look, those who go in magnificent clothes and live luxuriously are to be found at royal courts!

Luk 7:26 Then what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a prophet:

Luk 7:27 he is the one of whom scripture says: Look, I am going to send my messenger in front of you to prepare your way before you.

Luk 7:28 'I tell you, of all the children born to women, there is no one greater than John; yet the least in the kingdom of God is greater than he.'

Luk 7:29 All the people who heard him, and the tax collectors too, acknowledged God's saving justice by accepting baptism from John;

Luk 7:30 but by refusing baptism from him the Pharisees and the lawyers thwarted God's plan for them.

Luk 7:31 'What comparison, then, can I find for the people of this generation? What are they like?

Luk 7:32 They are like children shouting to one another while they sit in the market place: We played the pipes for you, and you wouldn't dance; we sang dirges, and you wouldn't cry.

Luk 7:33 'For John the Baptist has come, not eating bread, not drinking wine, and you say, "He is possessed."

Luk 7:34 The Son of man has come, eating and drinking, and you say, "Look, a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners."

Luk 7:35 Yet wisdom is justified by all her children.'

Luk 7:36 One of the Pharisees invited him to a meal. When he arrived at the Pharisee's house and took his place at table,

Luk 7:37 suddenly a woman came in, who had a bad name in the town. She had heard he was dining with the Pharisee and had brought with her an alabaster jar of ointment.

Luk 7:38 She waited behind him at his feet, weeping, and her tears fell on his feet, and she wiped them away with her hair; then she covered his feet with kisses and anointed them with the ointment.

Luk 7:39 When the Pharisee who had invited him saw this, he said to himself, 'If this man were a prophet, he would know who this woman is and what sort of person it is who is touching him and what a bad name she has.'

Luk 7:40 Then Jesus took him up and said, 'Simon, I have something to say to you.' He replied, 'Say on, Master.'

Luk 7:41 'There was once a creditor who had two men in his debt; one owed him five hundred denarii, the other fifty.

Luk 7:42 They were unable to pay, so he let them both off. Which of them will love him more?'

Luk 7:43 Simon answered, 'The one who was let off more, I suppose.' Jesus said, 'You are right.'

Luk 7:44 Then he turned to the woman and said to Simon, 'You see this woman? I came into your house, and you poured no water over my feet, but she has poured out her tears over my feet and wiped them away with her hair.

Luk 7:45 You gave me no kiss, but she has been covering my feet with kisses ever since I came in.

Luk 7:46 You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment.

Luk 7:47 For this reason I tell you that her sins, many as they are, have been forgiven her, because she has shown such great love. It is someone who is forgiven little who shows little love.'

Luk 7:48 Then he said to her, 'Your sins are forgiven.'

Luk 7:49 Those who were with him at table began to say to themselves, 'Who is this man, that even forgives sins?'

Luk 7:50 But he said to the woman, 'Your faith has saved you; go in peace.'

Luk 8:1 Now it happened that after this he made his way through towns and villages preaching and proclaiming the good news of the kingdom of God. With him went the Twelve,

Luk 8:2 as well as certain women who had been cured of evil spirits and ailments: Mary surnamed the Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out,

Luk 8:3 Joanna the wife of Herod's steward Chuza, Susanna, and many others who provided for them out of their own resources.

Luk 8:4 With a large crowd gathering and people from every town finding their way to him, he told this parable:

Luk 8:5 'A sower went out to sow his seed. Now as he sowed, some fell on the edge of the path and was trampled on; and the birds of the air ate it up.

Luk 8:6 Some seed fell on rock, and when it came up it withered away, having no moisture.

Luk 8:7 Some seed fell in the middle of thorns and the thorns grew with it and choked it.

Luk 8:8 And some seed fell into good soil and grew and produced its crop a hundredfold.' Saying this he cried, 'Anyone who has ears for listening should listen!'

Luk 8:9 His disciples asked him what this parable might mean,

Luk 8:10 and he said, 'To you is granted to understand the secrets of the kingdom of God; for the rest it remains in parables, so that they may look but not perceive, listen but not understand.'

Luk 8:11 'This, then, is what the parable means: the seed is the word of God.'

Luk 8:12 Those on the edge of the path are people who have heard it, and then the devil comes and carries away the word from their hearts in case they should believe and be saved.

Luk 8:13 Those on the rock are people who, when they first hear it, welcome the word with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of trial they give up.

Luk 8:14 As for the part that fell into thorns, this is people who have heard, but as they go on their way they are choked by the worries and riches and pleasures of life and never produce any crops.

Luk 8:15 As for the part in the rich soil, this is people with a noble and generous heart who have heard the word and take it to themselves and yield a harvest through their perseverance.

Luk 8:16 'No one lights a lamp to cover it with a bowl or to put it under a bed. No, it is put on a lamp-stand so that people may see the light when they come in.

Luk 8:17 For nothing is hidden but it will be made clear, nothing secret but it will be made known and brought to light.

Luk 8:18 So take care how you listen; anyone who has, will be given more; anyone who has not, will be deprived even of what he thinks he has.'

Luk 8:19 His mother and his brothers came looking for him, but they could not get to him because of the crowd.

Luk 8:20 He was told, 'Your mother and brothers are standing outside and want to see you.'

Luk 8:21 But he said in answer, 'My mother and my brothers are those who hear the word of God and put it into practice.'

Luk 8:22 It happened that one day he got into a boat with his disciples and said to them, 'Let us cross over to the other side of the lake.' So they set out,

Luk 8:23 and as they sailed he fell asleep. When a squall of wind came down on the lake the boat started shipping water and they found themselves in danger.

Luk 8:24 So they went to rouse him saying, 'Master! Master! We are lost!' Then he woke up and rebuked the wind and the rough water; and they subsided and it was calm again.

Luk 8:25 He said to them, 'Where is your faith?' They were awestruck and astounded and said to one another, 'Who can this be, that gives orders even to winds and waves and they obey him?'

Luk 8:26 They came to land in the territory of the Gerasenes, which is opposite Galilee.

Luk 8:27 He was stepping ashore when a man from the city who was possessed by devils came towards him; for a long time the man had been living with no clothes on, not in a house, but in the tombs.

Luk 8:28 Catching sight of Jesus he gave a shout, fell at his feet and cried out at the top of his voice, 'What do you want with me, Jesus, son of the Most High God? I implore you, do not torture me.'

Luk 8:29 For Jesus had been telling the unclean spirit to come out of the man. It had seized on him a great many times, and then they used to secure him with chains and fetters to restrain him, but he would always break the fastenings, and the devil would drive him out into the wilds.

Luk 8:30 Jesus asked him, 'What is your name?' He said, 'Legion' -- because many devils had gone into him.

Luk 8:31 And these begged him not to order them to depart into the Abyss.

Luk 8:32 Now there was a large herd of pigs feeding there on the mountain, and the devils begged him to let them go into these. So he gave them leave.

Luk 8:33 The devils came out of the man and went into the pigs, and the herd charged down the cliff into the lake and was drowned.

Luk 8:34 When the swineherds saw what had happened they ran off and told their story in the city and in the country round about;

Luk 8:35 and the people went out to see what had happened. When they came to Jesus they found the man from whom the devils had gone out sitting at the feet of Jesus, wearing clothes and in his right mind; and they were afraid.

Luk 8:36 Those who had witnessed it told them how the man who had been possessed came to be saved.

Luk 8:37 The entire population of the Gerasene territory was in great fear and asked Jesus to leave them. So he got into the boat and went back.

Luk 8:38 The man from whom the devils had gone out asked to be allowed to stay with him, but he sent him away saying,

Luk 8:39 'Go back home and report all that God has done for you.' So the man went off and proclaimed throughout the city all that Jesus had done for him.

Luk 8:40 On his return Jesus was welcomed by the crowd, for they were all there waiting for him.

Luk 8:41 And suddenly there came a man named Jairus, who was president of the synagogue. He fell at Jesus' feet and pleaded with him to come to his house,

Luk 8:42 because he had an only daughter about twelve years old, who was dying. And the crowds were almost stifling Jesus as he went.

Luk 8:43 Now there was a woman suffering from a haemorrhage for the past twelve years, whom no one had been able to cure.

Luk 8:44 She came up behind him and touched the fringe of his cloak; and the haemorrhage stopped at that very moment.

Luk 8:45 Jesus said, 'Who was it that touched me?' When they all denied it, Peter said, 'Master, it is the crowds round you, pushing.'

Luk 8:46 But Jesus said, 'Somebody touched me. I felt that power had gone out from me.'

Luk 8:47 Seeing herself discovered, the woman came forward trembling, and falling at his feet explained in front of all the people why she had touched him and how she had been cured at that very moment.

Luk 8:48 'My daughter,' he said, 'your faith has saved you; go in peace.'

Luk 8:49 While he was still speaking, someone arrived from the house of the president of the synagogue to say,

'Your daughter has died. Do not trouble the Master any further.'

Luk 8:50 But Jesus heard this, and he spoke to the man, 'Do not be afraid, only have faith and she will be saved.'

Luk 8:51 When he came to the house he allowed no one to go in with him except Peter and John and James, and the child's father and mother.

Luk 8:52 They were all crying and mourning for her, but Jesus said, 'Stop crying; she is not dead, but asleep.'

Luk 8:53 But they ridiculed him, knowing she was dead.

Luk 8:54 But taking her by the hand himself he spoke to her, 'Child, get up.'

Luk 8:55 And her spirit returned and she got up at that very moment. Then he told them to give her something to eat.

Luk 8:56 Her parents were astonished, but he ordered them not to tell anyone what had happened.

Luk 9:1 He called the Twelve together and gave them power and authority over all devils and to cure diseases,

Luk 9:2 and he sent them out to proclaim the kingdom of God and to heal.

Luk 9:3 He said to them, 'Take nothing for the journey: neither staff, nor haversack, nor bread, nor money; and do not have a spare tunic.'

Luk 9:4 Whatever house you enter, stay there; and when you leave let your departure be from there.

Luk 9:5 As for those who do not welcome you, when you leave their town shake the dust from your feet as evidence against them.'

Luk 9:6 So they set out and went from village to village proclaiming the good news and healing everywhere.

Luk 9:7 Meanwhile Herod the tetrarch had heard about all that was going on; and he was puzzled, because some people were saying that John had risen from the dead,

Luk 9:8 others that Elijah had reappeared, still others that one of the ancient prophets had come back to life.

Luk 9:9 But Herod said, 'John? I beheaded him. So who is this I hear such reports about?' And he was anxious to see him.

Luk 9:10 On their return the apostles gave him an account of all they had done. Then he took them with him and withdrew towards a town called Bethsaida where they could be by themselves.

Luk 9:11 But the crowds got to know and they went after him. He made them welcome and talked to them about the kingdom of God; and he cured those who were in need of healing.

Luk 9:12 It was late afternoon when the Twelve came up to him and said, 'Send the people away, and they can go to the villages and farms round about to find lodging and food; for we are in a lonely place here.'

Luk 9:13 He replied, 'Give them something to eat yourselves.' But they said, 'We have no more than five loaves and two fish, unless we are to go ourselves and buy food for all these people.'

Luk 9:14 For there were about five thousand men. But he said to his disciples, 'Get them to sit down in parties of about fifty.'

Luk 9:15 They did so and made them all sit down.

Luk 9:16 Then he took the five loaves and the two fish, raised his eyes to heaven, and said the blessing over them; then he broke them and handed them to his disciples to distribute among the crowd.

Luk 9:17 They all ate as much as they wanted, and when the scraps left over were collected they filled twelve baskets.

Luk 9:18 Now it happened that he was praying alone, and his disciples came to him and he put this question to them, 'Who do the crowds say I am?'

Luk 9:19 And they answered, 'Some say John the Baptist; others Elijah; others again one of the ancient prophets come back to life.'

Luk 9:20 'But you,' he said to them, 'who do you say I am?' It was Peter who spoke up. 'The Christ of God,' he said.

Luk 9:21 But he gave them strict orders and charged them not to say this to anyone.

Luk 9:22 He said, 'The Son of man is destined to suffer grievously, to be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes and to be put to death, and to be raised up on the third day.'

Luk 9:23 Then, speaking to all, he said, 'If anyone wants to be a follower of mine, let him renounce himself and take up his cross every day and follow me.'

Luk 9:24 Anyone who wants to save his life will lose it; but anyone who loses his life for my sake, will save it.

Luk 9:25 What benefit is it to anyone to win the whole world and forfeit or lose his very self?

Luk 9:26 For if anyone is ashamed of me and of my words, of him the Son of man will be ashamed when he comes in his own glory and in the glory of the Father and the holy angels.

Luk 9:27 'I tell you truly, there are some standing here who will not taste death before they see the kingdom of God.'

Luk 9:28 Now about eight days after this had been said, he took with him Peter, John and James and went up the mountain to pray.

Luk 9:29 And it happened that, as he was praying, the aspect of his face was changed and his clothing became sparkling white.

Luk 9:30 And suddenly there were two men talking to him; they were Moses and Elijah

Luk 9:31 appearing in glory, and they were speaking of his passing which he was to accomplish in Jerusalem.

Luk 9:32 Peter and his companions were heavy with sleep, but they woke up and saw his glory and the two men standing with him.

Luk 9:33 As these were leaving him, Peter said to Jesus, 'Master, it is wonderful for us to be here; so let us make three shelters, one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah.' He did not know what he was saying.

Luk 9:34 As he was saying this, a cloud came and covered them with shadow; and when they went into the cloud the disciples were afraid.

Luk 9:35 And a voice came from the cloud saying, 'This is my Son, the Chosen One. Listen to him.'

Luk 9:36 And after the voice had spoken, Jesus was found alone. The disciples kept silence and, at that time, told no one what they had seen.

Luk 9:37 Now it happened that on the following day when they were coming down from the mountain a large crowd came to meet him.

Luk 9:38 And suddenly a man in the crowd cried out. 'Master,' he said, 'I implore you to look at my son: he is my only child.'

Luk 9:39 A spirit will suddenly take hold of him, and all at once it gives a sudden cry and throws the boy into convulsions with foaming at the mouth; it is slow to leave him, but when it does, it leaves the boy worn out.

Luk 9:40 I begged your disciples to drive it out, and they could not.'

Luk 9:41 In reply Jesus said, 'Faithless and perverse generation! How much longer must I be among you and put up with you? Bring your son here.'

Luk 9:42 Even while the boy was coming, the devil threw him to the ground in convulsions. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit and cured the boy and gave him back to his father,

Luk 9:43 and everyone was awestruck by the greatness of God. But while everyone was full of admiration for all he did, he said to his disciples,

Luk 9:44 'For your part, you must have these words constantly in mind: The Son of man is going to be delivered into the power of men.'

Luk 9:45 But they did not understand what he said; it was hidden from them so that they should not see the meaning of it, and they were afraid to ask him about it.

Luk 9:46 An argument started between them about which of them was the greatest.

Luk 9:47 Jesus knew what thoughts were going through their minds, and he took a little child whom he set by his side

Luk 9:48 and then he said to them, 'Anyone who welcomes this little child in my name welcomes me; and anyone who welcomes me, welcomes the one who sent me. The least among you all is the one who is the greatest.'

Luk 9:49 John spoke up. 'Master,' he said, 'we saw someone driving out devils in your name, and because he is not with us we tried to stop him.'

Luk 9:50 But Jesus said to him, 'You must not stop him: anyone who is not against you is for you.'

Luk 9:51 Now it happened that as the time drew near for him to be taken up, he resolutely turned his face towards Jerusalem

Luk 9:52 and sent messengers ahead of him. These set out, and they went into a Samaritan village to make preparations for him,

Luk 9:53 but the people would not receive him because he was making for Jerusalem.

Luk 9:54 Seeing this, the disciples James and John said, 'Lord, do you want us to call down fire from heaven to burn them up?'

Luk 9:55 But he turned and rebuked them,

Luk 9:56 and they went on to another village.

Luk 9:57 As they travelled along they met a man on the road who said to him, 'I will follow you wherever you go.'

Luk 9:58 Jesus answered, 'Foxes have holes and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of man has nowhere to lay his head.'

Luk 9:59 Another to whom he said, 'Follow me,' replied, 'Let me go and bury my father first.'

Luk 9:60 But he answered, 'Leave the dead to bury their dead; your duty is to go and spread the news of the kingdom of God.'

Luk 9:61 Another said, 'I will follow you, sir, but first let me go and say good -- bye to my people at home.'

Luk 9:62 Jesus said to him, 'Once the hand is laid on the plough, no one who looks back is fit for the kingdom of God.'

Luk 10:1 After this the Lord appointed seventy-two others and sent them out ahead of him in pairs, to all the towns and places he himself would be visiting.

Luk 10:2 And he said to them, 'The harvest is rich but the labourers are few, so ask the Lord of the harvest to send labourers to do his harvesting.

Luk 10:3 Start off now, but look, I am sending you out like lambs among wolves.

Luk 10:4 Take no purse with you, no haversack, no sandals. Salute no one on the road.

Luk 10:5 Whatever house you enter, let your first words be, "Peace to this house!"

Luk 10:6 And if a man of peace lives there, your peace will go and rest on him; if not, it will come back to you.

Luk 10:7 Stay in the same house, taking what food and drink they have to offer, for the labourer deserves his wages; do not move from house to house.

Luk 10:8 Whenever you go into a town where they make you welcome, eat what is put before you.

Luk 10:9 Cure those in it who are sick, and say, "The kingdom of God is very near to you."

Luk 10:10 But whenever you enter a town and they do not make you welcome, go out into its streets and say,

Luk 10:11 "We wipe off the very dust of your town that clings to our feet, and leave it with you. Yet be sure of this: the kingdom of God is very near."

Luk 10:12 I tell you, on the great Day it will be more bearable for Sodom than for that town.

Luk 10:13 'Alas for you, Chorazin! Alas for you, Bethsaida! For if the miracles done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

Luk 10:14 And still, it will be more bearable for Tyre and Sidon at the Judgement than for you.

Luk 10:15 And as for you, Capernaum, did you want to be raised high as heaven? You shall be flung down to hell.

Luk 10:16 'Anyone who listens to you listens to me; anyone who rejects you rejects me, and those who reject me reject the one who sent me.'

Luk 10:17 The seventy-two came back rejoicing. 'Lord,' they said, 'even the devils submit to us when we use your name.'

Luk 10:18 He said to them, 'I watched Satan fall like lightning from heaven.

Luk 10:19 Look, I have given you power to tread down serpents and scorpions and the whole strength of the enemy; nothing shall ever hurt you.

Luk 10:20 Yet do not rejoice that the spirits submit to you; rejoice instead that your names are written in heaven.'

Luk 10:21 Just at this time, filled with joy by the Holy Spirit, he said, 'I bless you, Father, Lord of heaven and of earth, for hiding these things from the learned and the clever and revealing them to little children. Yes, Father, for that is what it has pleased you to do.'

Luk 10:22 Everything has been entrusted to me by my Father; and no one knows who the Son is except the Father, and who the Father is except the Son and those to whom the Son chooses to reveal him.'

Luk 10:23 Then turning to his disciples he spoke to them by themselves, 'Blessed are the eyes that see what you see,

Luk 10:24 for I tell you that many prophets and kings wanted to see what you see, and never saw it; to hear what you hear, and never heard it.'

Luk 10:25 And now a lawyer stood up and, to test him, asked, 'Master, what must I do to inherit eternal life?'

Luk 10:26 He said to him, 'What is written in the Law? What is your reading of it?'

Luk 10:27 He replied, 'You must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your strength, and with all your mind, and your neighbour as yourself.'

Luk 10:28 Jesus said to him, 'You have answered right, do this and life is yours.'

Luk 10:29 But the man was anxious to justify himself and said to Jesus, 'And who is my neighbour?'

Luk 10:30 In answer Jesus said, 'A man was once on his way down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell into the hands of bandits; they stripped him, beat him and then made off, leaving him half dead.

Luk 10:31 Now a priest happened to be travelling down the same road, but when he saw the man, he passed by on the other side.

Luk 10:32 In the same way a Levite who came to the place saw him, and passed by on the other side.

Luk 10:33 But a Samaritan traveller who came on him was moved with compassion when he saw him.

Luk 10:34 He went up to him and bandaged his wounds, pouring oil and wine on them. He then lifted him onto his own mount and took him to an inn and looked after him.

Luk 10:35 Next day, he took out two denarii and handed them to the innkeeper and said, "Look after him, and on my way back I will make good any extra expense you have."

Luk 10:36 Which of these three, do you think, proved himself a neighbour to the man who fell into the bandits' hands?'

Luk 10:37 He replied, 'The one who showed pity towards him.' Jesus said to him, 'Go, and do the same yourself.'

Luk 10:38 In the course of their journey he came to a village, and a woman named Martha welcomed him into her house.

Luk 10:39 She had a sister called Mary, who sat down at the Lord's feet and listened to him speaking.

Luk 10:40 Now Martha, who was distracted with all the serving, came to him and said, 'Lord, do you not care that my sister is leaving me to do the serving all by myself? Please tell her to help me.'

Luk 10:41 But the Lord answered, 'Martha, Martha,' he said, 'you worry and fret about so many things,

Luk 10:42 and yet few are needed, indeed only one. It is Mary who has chosen the better part, and it is not to be taken from her.'

Luk 11:1 Now it happened that he was in a certain place praying, and when he had finished, one of his disciples said, 'Lord, teach us to pray, as John taught his disciples.'

Luk 11:2 He said to them, 'When you pray, this is what to say: Father, may your name be held holy, your kingdom come;

Luk 11:3 give us each day our daily bread, and forgive us our sins,

Luk 11:4 for we ourselves forgive each one who is in debt to us. And do not put us to the test.'

Luk 11:5 He also said to them, 'Suppose one of you has a friend and goes to him in the middle of the night to say, "My friend, lend me three loaves,

Luk 11:6 because a friend of mine on his travels has just arrived at my house and I have nothing to offer him;"

Luk 11:7 and the man answers from inside the house, "Do not bother me. The door is bolted now, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot get up to give it to you."

Luk 11:8 I tell you, if the man does not get up and give it to him for friendship's sake, persistence will make him get up and give his friend all he wants.

Luk 11:9 'So I say to you: Ask, and it will be given to you; search, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened to you.

Luk 11:10 For everyone who asks receives; everyone who searches finds; everyone who knocks will have the door opened.

Luk 11:11 What father among you, if his son asked for a fish, would hand him a snake?

Luk 11:12 Or if he asked for an egg, hand him a scorpion?

Luk 11:13 If you then, evil as you are, know how to give your children what is good, how much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him!"

Luk 11:14 He was driving out a devil and it was dumb; and it happened that when the devil had gone out the dumb man spoke, and the people were amazed.

Luk 11:15 But some of them said, 'It is through Beelzebul, the prince of devils, that he drives devils out.'

Luk 11:16 Others asked him, as a test, for a sign from heaven;

Luk 11:17 but, knowing what they were thinking, he said to them, 'Any kingdom which is divided against itself is heading for ruin, and house collapses against house.

Luk 11:18 So, too, with Satan: if he is divided against himself, how can his kingdom last? - since you claim that it is through Beelzebul that I drive devils out.

Luk 11:19 Now if it is through Beelzebul that I drive devils out, through whom do your own sons drive them out? They shall be your judges, then.

Luk 11:20 But if it is through the finger of God that I drive devils out, then the kingdom of God has indeed caught you unawares.

Luk 11:21 So long as a strong man fully armed guards his own home, his goods are undisturbed;

Luk 11:22 but when someone stronger than himself attacks and defeats him, the stronger man takes away all the weapons he relied on and shares out his spoil.

Luk 11:23 'Anyone who is not with me is against me; and anyone who does not gather in with me throws away.

Luk 11:24 'When an unclean spirit goes out of someone it wanders through waterless country looking for a place to rest, and not finding one it says, "I will go back to the home I came from."

Luk 11:25 But on arrival, finding it swept and tidied,

Luk 11:26 it then goes off and brings seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they go in and set up house there, and so that person ends up worse off than before.'

Luk 11:27 It happened that as he was speaking, a woman in the crowd raised her voice and said, 'Blessed the womb that bore you and the breasts that fed you!'

Luk 11:28 But he replied, 'More blessed still are those who hear the word of God and keep it!'

Luk 11:29 The crowds got even bigger and he addressed them, 'This is an evil generation; it is asking for a sign. The only sign it will be given is the sign of Jonah.

Luk 11:30 For just as Jonah became a sign to the people of Nineveh, so will the Son of man be a sign to this generation.

Luk 11:31 On Judgement Day the Queen of the South will stand up against the people of this generation and be their condemnation, because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, look, there is something greater than Solomon here.

Luk 11:32 On Judgement Day the men of Nineveh will appear against this generation and be its condemnation, because when Jonah preached they repented; and, look, there is something greater than Jonah here.

Luk 11:33 'No one lights a lamp and puts it in some hidden place or under a tub; they put it on the lamp-stand so that people may see the light when they come in.'

Luk 11:34 The lamp of the body is your eye. When your eye is clear, your whole body, too, is filled with light; but when it is diseased your body, too, will be darkened.

Luk 11:35 See to it then that the light inside you is not darkness.

Luk 11:36 If, therefore, your whole body is filled with light, and not darkened at all, it will be light entirely, as when the lamp shines on you with its rays.'

Luk 11:37 He had just finished speaking when a Pharisee invited him to dine at his house. He went in and sat down at table.

Luk 11:38 The Pharisee saw this and was surprised that he had not first washed before the meal.

Luk 11:39 But the Lord said to him, 'You Pharisees! You clean the outside of cup and plate, while inside yourselves you are filled with extortion and wickedness.'

Luk 11:40 Fools! Did not he who made the outside make the inside too?

Luk 11:41 Instead, give alms from what you have and, look, everything will be clean for you.

Luk 11:42 But alas for you Pharisees, because you pay your tithe of mint and rue and all sorts of garden herbs and neglect justice and the love of God! These you should have practised, without neglecting the others.

Luk 11:43 Alas for you Pharisees, because you like to take the seats of honour in the synagogues and to be greeted respectfully in the market squares!

Luk 11:44 Alas for you, because you are like the unmarked tombs that people walk on without knowing it!'

Luk 11:45 A lawyer then spoke up. 'Master,' he said, 'when you speak like this you insult us too.'

Luk 11:46 But he said, 'Alas for you lawyers as well, because you load on people burdens that are unendurable, burdens that you yourselves do not touch with your fingertips.'

Luk 11:47 'Alas for you because you build tombs for the prophets, the people your ancestors killed!

Luk 11:48 In this way you both witness to what your ancestors did and approve it; they did the killing, you do the building.

Luk 11:49 'And that is why the Wisdom of God said, "I will send them prophets and apostles; some they will slaughter and persecute,

Luk 11:50 so that this generation will have to answer for every prophet's blood that has been shed since the foundation of the world,

Luk 11:51 from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zechariah, who perished between the altar and the Temple." Yes, I tell you, this generation will have to answer for it all.

Luk 11:52 'Alas for you lawyers who have taken away the key of knowledge! You have not gone in yourselves and have prevented others from going in who wanted to.'

Luk 11:53 When he left there, the scribes and the Pharisees began a furious attack on him and tried to force answers from him on innumerable questions,

Luk 11:54 lying in wait to catch him out in something he might say.

Luk 12:1 Meanwhile the people had gathered in their thousands so that they were treading on one another. And he began to speak, first of all to his disciples. 'Be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees -- their hypocrisy.'

Luk 12:2 Everything now covered up will be uncovered, and everything now hidden will be made clear.

Luk 12:3 For this reason, whatever you have said in the dark will be heard in the daylight, and what you have whispered in hidden places will be proclaimed from the housetops.

Luk 12:4 'To you my friends I say: Do not be afraid of those who kill the body and after that can do no more.

Luk 12:5 I will tell you whom to fear: fear him who, after he has killed, has the power to cast into hell. Yes, I tell you, he is the one to fear.

Luk 12:6 Can you not buy five sparrows for two pennies? And yet not one is forgotten in God's sight.

Luk 12:7 Why, every hair on your head has been counted. There is no need to be afraid: you are worth more than many sparrows.

Luk 12:8 'I tell you, if anyone openly declares himself for me in the presence of human beings, the Son of man will declare himself for him in the presence of God's angels.

Luk 12:9 But anyone who disowns me in the presence of human beings will be disowned in the presence of God's angels.

Luk 12:10 'Everyone who says a word against the Son of man will be forgiven, but no one who blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will be forgiven.

Luk 12:11 'When they take you before synagogues and magistrates and authorities, do not worry about how to defend yourselves or what to say.'

Luk 12:12 because when the time comes, the Holy Spirit will teach you what you should say.'

Luk 12:13 A man in the crowd said to him, 'Master, tell my brother to give me a share of our inheritance.'

Luk 12:14 He said to him, 'My friend, who appointed me your judge, or the arbitrator of your claims?'

Luk 12:15 Then he said to them, 'Watch, and be on your guard against avarice of any kind, for life does not consist in possessions, even when someone has more than he needs.'

Luk 12:16 Then he told them a parable, 'There was once a rich man who, having had a good harvest from his land,

Luk 12:17 thought to himself, "What am I to do? I have not enough room to store my crops."

Luk 12:18 Then he said, "This is what I will do: I will pull down my barns and build bigger ones, and store all my grain and my goods in them,

Luk 12:19 and I will say to my soul: My soul, you have plenty of good things laid by for many years to come; take things easy, eat, drink, have a good time."

Luk 12:20 But God said to him, "Fool! This very night the demand will be made for your soul; and this hoard of yours, whose will it be then?"

Luk 12:21 So it is when someone stores up treasure for himself instead of becoming rich in the sight of God.'

Luk 12:22 Then he said to his disciples, 'That is why I am telling you not to worry about your life and what you are to eat, nor about your body and how you are to clothe it.

Luk 12:23 For life is more than food, and the body more than clothing.

Luk 12:24 Think of the ravens. They do not sow or reap; they have no storehouses and no barns; yet God feeds them. And how much more you are worth than the birds!

Luk 12:25 Can any of you, however much you worry, add a single cubit to your span of life?

Luk 12:26 If a very small thing is beyond your powers, why worry about the rest?

Luk 12:27 Think how the flowers grow; they never have to spin or weave; yet, I assure you, not even Solomon in all his royal robes was clothed like one of them.

Luk 12:28 Now if that is how God clothes a flower which is growing wild today and is thrown into the furnace tomorrow, how much more will he look after you, who have so little faith!

Luk 12:29 But you must not set your hearts on things to eat and things to drink; nor must you worry.

Luk 12:30 It is the gentiles of this world who set their hearts on all these things. Your Father well knows you need them.

Luk 12:31 No; set your hearts on his kingdom, and these other things will be given you as well.

Luk 12:32 'There is no need to be afraid, little flock, for it has pleased your Father to give you the kingdom.

Luk 12:33 'Sell your possessions and give to those in need. Get yourselves purses that do not wear out, treasure that will not fail you, in heaven where no thief can reach it and no moth destroy it.

Luk 12:34 For wherever your treasure is, that is where your heart will be too.

Luk 12:35 'See that you have your belts done up and your lamps lit.

Luk 12:36 Be like people waiting for their master to return from the wedding feast, ready to open the door as soon as he comes and knocks.

Luk 12:37 Blessed those servants whom the master finds awake when he comes. In truth I tell you, he will do up his belt, sit them down at table and wait on them.

Luk 12:38 It may be in the second watch that he comes, or in the third, but blessed are those servants if he finds them ready.

Luk 12:39 You may be quite sure of this, that if the householder had known at what time the burglar would come, he would not have let anyone break through the wall of his house.

Luk 12:40 You too must stand ready, because the Son of man is coming at an hour you do not expect.'

Luk 12:41 Peter said, 'Lord, do you mean this parable for us, or for everyone?'

Luk 12:42 The Lord replied, 'Who, then, is the wise and trustworthy steward whom the master will place over his household to give them at the proper time their allowance of food?

Luk 12:43 Blessed that servant if his master's arrival finds him doing exactly that.

Luk 12:44 I tell you truly, he will put him in charge of everything that he owns.

Luk 12:45 But if the servant says to himself, "My master is taking his time coming," and sets about beating the menservants and the servant-girls, and eating and drinking and getting drunk,

Luk 12:46 his master will come on a day he does not expect and at an hour he does not know. The master will cut him off and send him to the same fate as the unfaithful.

Luk 12:47 'The servant who knows what his master wants, but has got nothing ready and done nothing in accord with those wishes, will be given a great many strokes of the lash.

Luk 12:48 The one who did not know, but has acted in such a way that he deserves a beating, will be given fewer strokes. When someone is given a great deal, a great deal will be demanded of that person; when someone is entrusted with a great deal, of that person even more will be expected.

Luk 12:49 'I have come to bring fire to the earth, and how I wish it were blazing already!

Luk 12:50 There is a baptism I must still receive, and what constraint I am under until it is completed!

Luk 12:51 'Do you suppose that I am here to bring peace on earth? No, I tell you, but rather division.

Luk 12:52 For from now on, a household of five will be divided: three against two and two against three;

Luk 12:53 father opposed to son, son to father, mother to daughter, daughter to mother, mother-in-law to daughter-in-law, daughter-in-law to mother-in-law.'

Luk 12:54 He said again to the crowds, "When you see a cloud looming up in the west you say at once that rain is coming, and so it does.

Luk 12:55 And when the wind is from the south you say it's going to be hot, and it is.

Luk 12:56 Hypocrites! You know how to interpret the face of the earth and the sky. How is it you do not know how to interpret these times?

Luk 12:57 'Why not judge for yourselves what is upright?

Luk 12:58 For example: when you are going to court with your opponent, make an effort to settle with him on the way, or he may drag you before the judge and the judge hand you over to the officer and the officer have you thrown into prison.

Luk 12:59 I tell you, you will not get out till you have paid the very last penny.'

Luk 13:1 It was just about this time that some people arrived and told him about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mingled with that of their sacrifices. At this he said to them,

Luk 13:2 'Do you suppose that these Galileans were worse sinners than any others, that this should have happened to them?

Luk 13:3 They were not, I tell you. No; but unless you repent you will all perish as they did.

Luk 13:4 Or those eighteen on whom the tower at Siloam fell, killing them all? Do you suppose that they were more guilty than all the other people living in Jerusalem?

Luk 13:5 They were not, I tell you. No; but unless you repent you will all perish as they did.'

Luk 13:6 He told this parable, 'A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came looking for fruit on it but found none.

Luk 13:7 He said to his vinedresser, "For three years now I have been coming to look for fruit on this fig tree and finding none. Cut it down: why should it be taking up the ground?"

Luk 13:8 "Sir," the man replied, "leave it one more year and give me time to dig round it and manure it:

Luk 13:9 it may bear fruit next year; if not, then you can cut it down."

Luk 13:10 One Sabbath day he was teaching in one of the synagogues,

Luk 13:11 and there before him was a woman who for eighteen years had been possessed by a spirit that crippled her; she was bent double and quite unable to stand upright.

Luk 13:12 When Jesus saw her he called her over and said, 'Woman, you are freed from your disability,'

Luk 13:13 and he laid his hands on her. And at once she straightened up, and she glorified God.

Luk 13:14 But the president of the synagogue was indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, and he addressed all those present saying, 'There are six days when work is to be done. Come and be healed on one of those days and not on the Sabbath.'

Luk 13:15 But the Lord answered him and said, 'Hypocrites! Is there one of you who does not untie his ox or his donkey from the manger on the Sabbath and take it out for watering?

Luk 13:16 And this woman, a daughter of Abraham whom Satan has held bound these eighteen years -- was it not right to untie this bond on the Sabbath day?'

Luk 13:17 When he said this, all his adversaries were covered with confusion, and all the people were overjoyed at all the wonders he worked.

Luk 13:18 He went on to say, 'What is the kingdom of God like? What shall I compare it with?

Luk 13:19 It is like a mustard seed which a man took and threw into his garden: it grew and became a tree, and the birds of the air sheltered in its branches.'

Luk 13:20 Again he said, 'What shall I compare the kingdom of God with?

Luk 13:21 It is like the yeast a woman took and mixed in with three measures of flour till it was leavened all through.'

Luk 13:22 Through towns and villages he went teaching, making his way to Jerusalem.

Luk 13:23 Someone said to him, 'Sir, will there be only a few saved?' He said to them,

Luk 13:24 'Try your hardest to enter by the narrow door, because, I tell you, many will try to enter and will not succeed.

Luk 13:25 'Once the master of the house has got up and locked the door, you may find yourself standing outside knocking on the door, saying, "Lord, open to us," but he will answer, "I do not know where you come from."

Luk 13:26 Then you will start saying, "We once ate and drank in your company; you taught in our streets,"

Luk 13:27 but he will reply, "I do not know where you come from; away from me, all evil doers!"

Luk 13:28 'Then there will be weeping and grinding of teeth, when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, and yourselves thrown out.

Luk 13:29 And people from east and west, from north and south, will come and sit down at the feast in the kingdom of God.

Luk 13:30 'Look, there are those now last who will be first, and those now first who will be last.'

Luk 13:31 Just at this time some Pharisees came up. 'Go away,' they said. 'Leave this place, because Herod means to kill you.'

Luk 13:32 He replied, 'You may go and give that fox this message: Look! Today and tomorrow I drive out devils and heal, and on the third day I attain my end.'

Luk 13:33 But for today and tomorrow and the next day I must go on, since it would not be right for a prophet to die outside Jerusalem.

Luk 13:34 'Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you that kill the prophets and stone those who are sent to you! How often have I longed to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you refused!

Luk 13:35 Look! Your house will be left to you. Yes, I promise you, you shall not see me till the time comes when you are saying: Blessed is he who is coming in the name of the Lord!'

Luk 14:1 Now it happened that on a Sabbath day he had gone to share a meal in the house of one of the leading Pharisees; and they watched him closely.

Luk 14:2 Now there in front of him was a man with dropsy,

Luk 14:3 and Jesus addressed the lawyers and Pharisees with the words, 'Is it against the law to cure someone on the Sabbath, or not?'

Luk 14:4 But they remained silent, so he took the man and cured him and sent him away.

Luk 14:5 Then he said to them, 'Which of you here, if his son falls into a well, or his ox, will not pull him out on a Sabbath day without any hesitation?'

Luk 14:6 And to this they could find no answer.

Luk 14:7 He then told the guests a parable, because he had noticed how they picked the places of honour. He said this,

Luk 14:8 'When someone invites you to a wedding feast, do not take your seat in the place of honour. A more distinguished person than you may have been invited,

Luk 14:9 and the person who invited you both may come and say, "Give up your place to this man." And then, to your embarrassment, you will have to go and take the lowest place.

Luk 14:10 No; when you are a guest, make your way to the lowest place and sit there, so that, when your host comes, he may say, "My friend, move up higher." Then, everyone with you at the table will see you honoured.

Luk 14:11 For everyone who raises himself up will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be raised up.'

Luk 14:12 Then he said to his host, 'When you give a lunch or a dinner, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your relations or rich neighbours, in case they invite you back and so repay you.

Luk 14:13 No; when you have a party, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind;

Luk 14:14 then you will be blessed, for they have no means to repay you and so you will be repaid when the upright rise again.'

Luk 14:15 On hearing this, one of those gathered round the table said to him, 'Blessed is anyone who will share the meal in the kingdom of God!'

Luk 14:16 But he said to him, 'There was a man who gave a great banquet, and he invited a large number of people.

Luk 14:17 When the time for the banquet came, he sent his servant to say to those who had been invited, "Come along: everything is ready now."

Luk 14:18 But all alike started to make excuses. The first said, "I have bought a piece of land and must go and see it. Please accept my apologies."

Luk 14:19 Another said, "I have bought five yoke of oxen and am on my way to try them out. Please accept my apologies."

Luk 14:20 Yet another said, "I have just got married and so am unable to come."

Luk 14:21 'The servant returned and reported this to his master. Then the householder, in a rage, said to his servant, "Go out quickly into the streets and alleys of the town and bring in here the poor, the crippled, the blind and the lame."

Luk 14:22 "Sir," said the servant, "your orders have been carried out and there is still room."

Luk 14:23 Then the master said to his servant, "Go to the open roads and the hedgerows and press people to come in, to make sure my house is full;

Luk 14:24 because, I tell you, not one of those who were invited shall have a taste of my banquet."

Luk 14:25 Great crowds accompanied him on his way and he turned and spoke to them.

Luk 14:26 'Anyone who comes to me without hating father, mother, wife, children, brothers, sisters, yes and his own life too, cannot be my disciple.'

Luk 14:27 No one who does not carry his cross and come after me can be my disciple.

Luk 14:28 'And indeed, which of you here, intending to build a tower, would not first sit down and work out the cost to see if he had enough to complete it?

Luk 14:29 Otherwise, if he laid the foundation and then found himself unable to finish the work, anyone who saw it would start making fun of him and saying,

Luk 14:30 "Here is someone who started to build and was unable to finish."

Luk 14:31 Or again, what king marching to war against another king would not first sit down and consider whether with ten thousand men he could stand up to the other who was advancing against him with twenty thousand?

Luk 14:32 If not, then while the other king was still a long way off, he would send envoys to sue for peace.

Luk 14:33 So in the same way, none of you can be my disciple without giving up all that he owns.

Luk 14:34 'Salt is a good thing. But if salt itself loses its taste, what can make it salty again?

Luk 14:35 It is good for neither soil nor manure heap. People throw it away. Anyone who has ears for listening should listen!'

Luk 15:1 The tax collectors and sinners, however, were all crowding round to listen to him,

Luk 15:2 and the Pharisees and scribes complained saying, 'This man welcomes sinners and eats with them.'

Luk 15:3 So he told them this parable:

Luk 15:4 'Which one of you with a hundred sheep, if he lost one, would fail to leave the ninety-nine in the desert and go after the missing one till he found it?

Luk 15:5 And when he found it, would he not joyfully take it on his shoulders

Luk 15:6 and then, when he got home, call together his friends and neighbours, saying to them, "Rejoice with me, I have found my sheep that was lost."

Luk 15:7 In the same way, I tell you, there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner repenting than over ninety-nine upright people who have no need of repentance.

Luk 15:8 'Or again, what woman with ten drachmas would not, if she lost one, light a lamp and sweep out the house and search thoroughly till she found it?

Luk 15:9 And then, when she had found it, call together her friends and neighbours, saying to them, "Rejoice with me, I have found the drachma I lost."

Luk 15:10 In the same way, I tell you, there is rejoicing among the angels of God over one repentant sinner.'

Luk 15:11 Then he said, 'There was a man who had two sons.

Luk 15:12 The younger one said to his father, "Father, let me have the share of the estate that will come to me." So the father divided the property between them.

Luk 15:13 A few days later, the younger son got together everything he had and left for a distant country where he squandered his money on a life of debauchery.

Luk 15:14 'When he had spent it all, that country experienced a severe famine, and now he began to feel the pinch;

Luk 15:15 so he hired himself out to one of the local inhabitants who put him on his farm to feed the pigs.

Luk 15:16 And he would willingly have filled himself with the husks the pigs were eating but no one would let him have them.

Luk 15:17 Then he came to his senses and said, "How many of my father's hired men have all the food they want and more, and here am I dying of hunger!"

Luk 15:18 I will leave this place and go to my father and say: Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you;

Luk 15:19 I no longer deserve to be called your son; treat me as one of your hired men."

Luk 15:20 So he left the place and went back to his father. 'While he was still a long way off, his father saw him and was moved with pity. He ran to the boy, clasped him in his arms and kissed him.

Luk 15:21 Then his son said, "Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. I no longer deserve to be called your son."

Luk 15:22 But the father said to his servants, "Quick! Bring out the best robe and put it on him; put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet.

Luk 15:23 Bring the calf we have been fattening, and kill it; we will celebrate by having a feast, Luk 15:24 because this son of mine was dead and has come back to life; he was lost and is found." And they began to celebrate.

Luk 15:25 'Now the elder son was out in the fields, and on his way back, as he drew near the house, he could hear music and dancing.

Luk 15:26 Calling one of the servants he asked what it was all about.

Luk 15:27 The servant told him, "Your brother has come, and your father has killed the calf we had been fattening because he has got him back safe and sound."

Luk 15:28 He was angry then and refused to go in, and his father came out and began to urge him to come in;

Luk 15:29 but he retorted to his father, "All these years I have slaved for you and never once disobeyed any orders of yours, yet you never offered me so much as a kid for me to celebrate with my friends.

Luk 15:30 But, for this son of yours, when he comes back after swallowing up your property -- he and his loose women -- you kill the calf we had been fattening."

Luk 15:31 'The father said, "My son, you are with me always and all I have is yours.

Luk 15:32 But it was only right we should celebrate and rejoice, because your brother here was dead and has come to life; he was lost and is found." '

Luk 16:1 He also said to his disciples, 'There was a rich man and he had a steward who was denounced to him for being wasteful with his property.

Luk 16:2 He called for the man and said, "What is this I hear about you? Draw me up an account of your stewardship because you are not to be my steward any longer."

Luk 16:3 Then the steward said to himself, "Now that my master is taking the stewardship from me, what am I to do? Dig? I am not strong enough. Go begging? I should be too ashamed.

Luk 16:4 Ah, I know what I will do to make sure that when I am dismissed from office there will be some to welcome me into their homes."

Luk 16:5 'Then he called his master's debtors one by one. To the first he said, "How much do you owe my master?"

Luk 16:6 "One hundred measures of oil," he said. The steward said, "Here, take your bond; sit down and quickly write fifty."

Luk 16:7 To another he said, "And you, sir, how much do you owe?" "One hundred measures of wheat," he said. The steward said, "Here, take your bond and write eighty."

Luk 16:8 'The master praised the dishonest steward for his astuteness. For the children of this world are more astute in dealing with their own kind than are the children of light.'

Luk 16:9 'And so I tell you this: use money, tainted as it is, to win you friends, and thus make sure that when it fails you, they will welcome you into eternal dwellings.

Luk 16:10 Anyone who is trustworthy in little things is trustworthy in great; anyone who is dishonest in little things is dishonest in great.

Luk 16:11 If then you are not trustworthy with money, that tainted thing, who will trust you with genuine riches?

Luk 16:12 And if you are not trustworthy with what is not yours, who will give you what is your very own?

Luk 16:13 'No servant can be the slave of two masters: he will either hate the first and love the second, or be attached to the first and despise the second. You cannot be the slave both of God and of money.'

Luk 16:14 The Pharisees, who loved money, heard all this and jeered at him.

Luk 16:15 He said to them, 'You are the very ones who pass yourselves off as upright in people's sight, but God knows your hearts. For what is highly esteemed in human eyes is loathsome in the sight of God.'

Luk 16:16 'Up to the time of John it was the Law and the Prophets; from then onwards, the kingdom of God has been preached, and everyone is forcing their way into it.

Luk 16:17 'It is easier for heaven and earth to disappear than for one little stroke to drop out of the Law.

Luk 16:18 'Everyone who divorces his wife and marries another is guilty of adultery, and the man who marries a woman divorced by her husband commits adultery.

Luk 16:19 'There was a rich man who used to dress in purple and fine linen and feast magnificently every day.

Luk 16:20 And at his gate there used to lie a poor man called Lazarus, covered with sores, Luk 16:21 who longed to fill himself with what fell from the rich man's table. Even dogs came and licked his sores.

Luk 16:22 Now it happened that the poor man died and was carried away by the angels into Abraham's embrace. The rich man also died and was buried.

Luk 16:23 'In his torment in Hades he looked up and saw Abraham a long way off with Lazarus in his embrace.

Luk 16:24 So he cried out, "Father Abraham, pity me and send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am in agony in these flames."

Luk 16:25 Abraham said, "My son, remember that during your life you had your fill of good things, just as Lazarus his fill of bad. Now he is being comforted here while you are in agony.

Luk 16:26 But that is not all: between us and you a great gulf has been fixed, to prevent those who want to cross from our side to yours or from your side to ours."

Luk 16:27 'So he said, "Father, I beg you then to send Lazarus to my father's house, Luk 16:28 since I have five brothers, to give them warning so that they do not come to this place of torment too."

Luk 16:29 Abraham said, "They have Moses and the prophets, let them listen to them."

Luk 16:30 The rich man replied, "Ah no, father Abraham, but if someone comes to them from the dead, they will repent."

Luk 16:31 Then Abraham said to him, "If they will not listen either to Moses or to the prophets, they will not be convinced even if someone should rise from the dead."

Luk 17:1 He said to his disciples, 'Causes of falling are sure to come, but alas for the one through whom they occur!

Luk 17:2 It would be better for such a person to be thrown into the sea with a millstone round the neck than to be the downfall of a single one of these little ones.

Luk 17:3 Keep watch on yourselves! 'If your brother does something wrong, rebuke him and, if he is sorry, forgive him.'

Luk 17:4 And if he wrongs you seven times a day and seven times comes back to you and says, "I am sorry," you must forgive him.'

Luk 17:5 The apostles said to the Lord, 'Increase our faith.'

Luk 17:6 The Lord replied, 'If you had faith like a mustard seed you could say to this mulberry tree, "Be uprooted and planted in the sea," and it would obey you.'

Luk 17:7 'Which of you, with a servant ploughing or minding sheep, would say to him when he returned from the fields, "Come and have your meal at once"?

Luk 17:8 Would he not be more likely to say, "Get my supper ready; fasten your belt and wait on me while I eat and drink. You yourself can eat and drink afterwards"?

Luk 17:9 Must he be grateful to the servant for doing what he was told?

Luk 17:10 So with you: when you have done all you have been told to do, say, "We are useless servants: we have done no more than our duty."

Luk 17:11 Now it happened that on the way to Jerusalem he was travelling in the borderlands of Samaria and Galilee.

Luk 17:12 As he entered one of the villages, ten men suffering from a virulent skin-disease came to meet him. They stood some way off

Luk 17:13 and called to him, 'Jesus! Master! Take pity on us.'

Luk 17:14 When he saw them he said, 'Go and show yourselves to the priests.' Now as they were going away they were cleansed.

Luk 17:15 Finding himself cured, one of them turned back praising God at the top of his voice

Luk 17:16 and threw himself prostrate at the feet of Jesus and thanked him. The man was a Samaritan.

Luk 17:17 This led Jesus to say, 'Were not all ten made clean? The other nine, where are they?

Luk 17:18 It seems that no one has come back to give praise to God, except this foreigner.'

Luk 17:19 And he said to the man, 'Stand up and go on your way. Your faith has saved you.'

Luk 17:20 Asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God was to come, he gave them this answer, 'The coming of the kingdom of God does not admit of observation

Luk 17:21 and there will be no one to say, "Look, it is here! Look, it is there!" For look, the kingdom of God is among you.'

Luk 17:22 He said to the disciples, 'A time will come when you will long to see one of the days of the Son of man and will not see it.'

Luk 17:23 They will say to you, "Look, it is there!" or, "Look, it is here!" Make no move; do not set off in pursuit;

Luk 17:24 for as the lightning flashing from one part of heaven lights up the other, so will be the Son of man when his Day comes.

Luk 17:25 But first he is destined to suffer grievously and be rejected by this generation.

Luk 17:26 'As it was in Noah's day, so will it also be in the days of the Son of man.

Luk 17:27 People were eating and drinking, marrying wives and husbands, right up to the day Noah went into the ark, and the Flood came and destroyed them all.

Luk 17:28 It will be the same as it was in Lot's day: people were eating and drinking, buying and selling, planting and building,

Luk 17:29 but the day Lot left Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heaven and it destroyed them all.

Luk 17:30 It will be the same when the day comes for the Son of man to be revealed.

Luk 17:31 'When that Day comes, no one on the housetop, with his possessions in the house, must come down to collect them, nor must anyone in the fields turn back.

Luk 17:32 Remember Lot's wife.

Luk 17:33 Anyone who tries to preserve his life will lose it; and anyone who loses it will keep it safe.

Luk 17:34 I tell you, on that night, when two are in one bed, one will be taken, the other left;

Luk 17:35 when two women are grinding corn together, one will be taken, the other left.'

Luk 17:36

Luk 17:37 The disciples spoke up and asked, 'Where, Lord?' He said, 'Where the body is, there too will the vultures gather.'

Luk 18:1 Then he told them a parable about the need to pray continually and never lose heart.

Luk 18:2 'There was a judge in a certain town,' he said, 'who had neither fear of God nor respect for anyone.

Luk 18:3 In the same town there was also a widow who kept on coming to him and saying, "I want justice from you against my enemy!"

Luk 18:4 For a long time he refused, but at last he said to himself, "Even though I have neither fear of God nor respect for any human person,

Luk 18:5 I must give this widow her just rights since she keeps pestering me, or she will come and slap me in the face." '

Luk 18:6 And the Lord said, 'You notice what the unjust judge has to say?

Luk 18:7 Now, will not God see justice done to his elect if they keep calling to him day and night even though he still delays to help them?

Luk 18:8 I promise you, he will see justice done to them, and done speedily. But when the Son of man comes, will he find any faith on earth?

Luk 18:9 He spoke the following parable to some people who prided themselves on being upright and despised everyone else,

Luk 18:10 'Two men went up to the Temple to pray, one a Pharisee, the other a tax collector.

Luk 18:11 The Pharisee stood there and said this prayer to himself, "I thank you, God, that I am not grasping, unjust, adulterous like everyone else, and particularly that I am not like this tax collector here.

Luk 18:12 I fast twice a week; I pay tithes on all I get."

Luk 18:13 The tax collector stood some distance away, not daring even to raise his eyes to heaven; but he beat his breast and said, "God, be merciful to me, a sinner."

Luk 18:14 This man, I tell you, went home again justified; the other did not. For everyone who raises himself up will be humbled, but anyone who humbles himself will be raised up.'

Luk 18:15 People even brought babies to him, for him to touch them; but when the disciples saw this they scolded them.

Luk 18:16 But Jesus called the children to him and said, 'Let the little children come to me, and do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs.'

Luk 18:17 In truth I tell you, anyone who does not welcome the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it.'

Luk 18:18 One of the rulers put this question to him, 'Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?'

Luk 18:19 Jesus said to him, 'Why do you call me good? No one is good but God alone.'

Luk 18:20 You know the commandments: You shall not commit adultery; You shall not kill; You shall not steal; You shall not give false witness; Honour your father and your mother.'

Luk 18:21 He replied, 'I have kept all these since my earliest days.'

Luk 18:22 And when Jesus heard this he said, 'There is still one thing you lack. Sell everything you own and distribute the money to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me.'

Luk 18:23 But when he heard this he was overcome with sadness, for he was very rich.

Luk 18:24 Jesus looked at him and said, 'How hard it is for those who have riches to make their way into the kingdom of God!

Luk 18:25 Yes, it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for someone rich to enter the kingdom of God.'

Luk 18:26 Those who were listening said, 'In that case, who can be saved?'

Luk 18:27 He replied, 'Things that are impossible by human resources, are possible for God.'

Luk 18:28 But Peter said, 'Look, we left all we had to follow you.'

Luk 18:29 He said to them, 'In truth I tell you, there is no one who has left house, wife, brothers, parents or children for the sake of the kingdom of God

Luk 18:30 who will not receive many times as much in this present age and, in the world to come, eternal life.'

Luk 18:31 Then taking the Twelve aside he said to them, 'Look, we are going up to Jerusalem, and everything that is written by the prophets about the Son of man is to come true.'

Luk 18:32 For he will be handed over to the gentiles and will be mocked, maltreated and spat on,

Luk 18:33 and when they have scourged him they will put him to death; and on the third day he will rise again.'

Luk 18:34 But they could make nothing of this; what he said was quite obscure to them, they did not understand what he was telling them.

Luk 18:35 Now it happened that as he drew near to Jericho there was a blind man sitting at the side of the road begging.

Luk 18:36 When he heard the crowd going past he asked what it was all about,

Luk 18:37 and they told him that Jesus the Nazarene was passing by.

Luk 18:38 So he called out, 'Jesus, Son of David, have pity on me.'

Luk 18:39 The people in front scolded him and told him to keep quiet, but he only shouted all the louder, 'Son of David, have pity on me.'

Luk 18:40 Jesus stopped and ordered them to bring the man to him, and when he came up, asked him,

Luk 18:41 'What do you want me to do for you?' 'Sir,' he replied, 'let me see again.'

Luk 18:42 Jesus said to him, 'Receive your sight. Your faith has saved you.'

Luk 18:43 And instantly his sight returned and he followed him praising God, and all the people who saw it gave praise to God.

Luk 19:1 He entered Jericho and was going through the town

Luk 19:2 and suddenly a man whose name was Zacchaeus made his appearance; he was one of the senior tax collectors and a wealthy man.

Luk 19:3 He kept trying to see which Jesus was, but he was too short and could not see him for the crowd;

Luk 19:4 so he ran ahead and climbed a sycamore tree to catch a glimpse of Jesus who was to pass that way.

Luk 19:5 When Jesus reached the spot he looked up and spoke to him, 'Zacchaeus, come down. Hurry, because I am to stay at your house today.'

Luk 19:6 And he hurried down and welcomed him joyfully.

Luk 19:7 They all complained when they saw what was happening. 'He has gone to stay at a sinner's house,' they said.

Luk 19:8 But Zacchaeus stood his ground and said to the Lord, 'Look, sir, I am going to give half my property to the poor, and if I have cheated anybody I will pay him back four times the amount.'

Luk 19:9 And Jesus said to him, 'Today salvation has come to this house, because this man too is a son of Abraham;

Luk 19:10 for the Son of man has come to seek out and save what was lost.'

Luk 19:11 While the people were listening to this he went on to tell a parable, because he was near Jerusalem and they thought that the kingdom of God was going to show itself then and there.

Luk 19:12 Accordingly he said, 'A man of noble birth went to a distant country to be appointed king and then return.

Luk 19:13 He summoned ten of his servants and gave them ten pounds, telling them, "Trade with these, until I get back."

Luk 19:14 But his compatriots detested him and sent a delegation to follow him with this message, "We do not want this man to be our king."

Luk 19:15 'Now it happened that on his return, having received his appointment as king, he sent for those servants to whom he had given the money, to find out what profit each had made by trading.

Luk 19:16 The first came in, "Sir," he said, "your one pound has brought in ten."

Luk 19:17 He replied, "Well done, my good servant! Since you have proved yourself trustworthy in a very small thing, you shall have the government of ten cities."

Luk 19:18 Then came the second, "Sir," he said, "your one pound has made five."

Luk 19:19 To this one also he said, "And you shall be in charge of five cities."

Luk 19:20 Next came the other, "Sir," he said, "here is your pound. I put it away safely wrapped up in a cloth

Luk 19:21 because I was afraid of you; for you are an exacting man: you gather in what you have not laid out and reap what you have not sown."

Luk 19:22 He said to him, "You wicked servant! Out of your own mouth I condemn you. So you knew that I was an exacting man, gathering in what I have not laid out and reaping what I have not sown?

Luk 19:23 Then why did you not put my money in the bank? On my return I could have drawn it out with interest."

Luk 19:24 And he said to those standing by, "Take the pound from him and give it to the man who has ten pounds."

Luk 19:25 And they said to him, "But, sir, he has ten pounds . . ."

Luk 19:26 "I tell you, to everyone who has will be given more; but anyone who has not will be deprived even of what he has.

Luk 19:27 "As for my enemies who did not want me for their king, bring them here and execute them in my presence."

Luk 19:28 When he had said this he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem.

Luk 19:29 Now it happened that when he was near Bethphage and Bethany, close by the Mount of Olives as it is called, he sent two of the disciples, saying,

Luk 19:30 'Go to the village opposite, and as you enter it you will find a tethered colt that no one has ever yet ridden. Untie it and bring it here.'

Luk 19:31 If anyone asks you, "Why are you untying it?" you are to say this, "The Master needs it."

Luk 19:32 The messengers went off and found everything just as he had told them.

Luk 19:33 As they were untying the colt, its owners said, 'Why are you untying it?'

Luk 19:34 and they answered, 'The Master needs it.'

Luk 19:35 So they took the colt to Jesus and, throwing their cloaks on its back, they lifted Jesus on to it.

Luk 19:36 As he moved off, they spread their cloaks in the road,

Luk 19:37 and now, as he was approaching the downward slope of the Mount of Olives, the whole group of disciples joyfully began to praise God at the top of their voices for all the miracles they had seen.

Luk 19:38 They cried out: Blessed is he who is coming as King in the name of the Lord! Peace in heaven and glory in the highest heavens!

Luk 19:39 Some Pharisees in the crowd said to him, 'Master, reprove your disciples,'
Luk 19:40 but he answered, 'I tell you, if these keep silence, the stones will cry out.'
Luk 19:41 As he drew near and came in sight of the city he shed tears over it
Luk 19:42 and said, 'If you too had only recognised on this day the way to peace! But in fact it is hidden from your eyes!
Luk 19:43 Yes, a time is coming when your enemies will raise fortifications all round you, when they will encircle you and hem you in on every side;
Luk 19:44 they will dash you and the children inside your walls to the ground; they will leave not one stone standing on another within you, because you did not recognise the moment of your visitation.'
Luk 19:45 Then he went into the Temple and began driving out those who were busy trading, saying to them,
Luk 19:46 'According to scripture, my house shall be a house of prayer but you have turned it into a bandits' den.'
Luk 19:47 He taught in the Temple every day. The chief priests and the scribes, in company with the leading citizens, tried to do away with him,
Luk 19:48 but they could not find a way to carry this out because the whole people hung on his words.
Luk 20:1 Now it happened that one day while he was teaching the people in the Temple and proclaiming the good news, the chief priests and the scribes came up, together with the elders,
Luk 20:2 and spoke to him. 'Tell us,' they said, 'what authority have you for acting like this? Or who gives you this authority?'
Luk 20:3 In reply he said to them, 'And I will ask you a question, just one. Tell me:
Luk 20:4 John's baptism: what was its origin, heavenly or human?'
Luk 20:5 And they debated this way among themselves, 'If we say heavenly, he will retort, "Why did you refuse to believe him?"';
Luk 20:6 and if we say human, the whole people will stone us, for they are convinced that John was a prophet.'
Luk 20:7 So their reply was that they did not know where it came from.
Luk 20:8 And Jesus said to them, 'Nor will I tell you my authority for acting like this.'

Luk 20:9 And he went on to tell the people this parable, 'A man planted a vineyard and leased it to tenants, and went abroad for a long while.
Luk 20:10 When the right time came, he sent a servant to the tenants to get his share of the produce of the vineyard. But the tenants thrashed him, and sent him away empty-handed.
Luk 20:11 But he went on to send a second servant; they thrashed him too and treated him shamefully and sent him away empty-handed.
Luk 20:12 He still went on to send a third; they wounded this one too, and threw him out.
Luk 20:13 Then the owner of the vineyard thought, "What am I to do? I will send them my own beloved son. Perhaps they will respect him."
Luk 20:14 But when the tenants saw him they put their heads together saying, "This is the heir, let us kill him so that the inheritance will be ours."
Luk 20:15 So they threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. 'Now what will the owner of the vineyard do to them?
Luk 20:16 He will come and make an end of these tenants and give the vineyard to others.' Hearing this they said, 'God forbid!'
Luk 20:17 But he looked hard at them and said, 'Then what does this text in the scriptures mean: The stone which the builders rejected has become the cornerstone?
Luk 20:18 Anyone who falls on that stone will be dashed to pieces; anyone it falls on will be crushed.'
Luk 20:19 And the scribes and the chief priests would have liked to lay hands on him that very moment, because they realised that this parable was aimed at them, but they were afraid of the people.
Luk 20:20 So they awaited their opportunity and sent agents to pose as upright men, and to catch him out in something he might say and so enable them to hand him over to the jurisdiction and authority of the governor.
Luk 20:21 They put to him this question, 'Master, we know that you say and teach what is right; you favour no one, but teach the way of God in all honesty.
Luk 20:22 Is it permissible for us to pay taxes to Caesar or not?'
Luk 20:23 But he was aware of their cunning and said,
Luk 20:24 'Show me a denarius. Whose portrait and title are on it?' They said, 'Caesar's.'
Luk 20:25 He said to them, 'Well then, pay Caesar what belongs to Caesar -- and God what belongs to God.'
Luk 20:26 They were unable to catch him out in anything he had to say in public; they were amazed at his answer and were silenced.
Luk 20:27 Some Sadducees -- those who argue that there is no resurrection -- approached him and they put this question to him,
Luk 20:28 'Master, Moses prescribed for us, if a man's married brother dies childless, the man must marry the widow to raise up children for his brother.

Luk 20:29 Well then, there were seven brothers; the first, having married a wife, died childless.

Luk 20:30 The second

Luk 20:31 and then the third married the widow. And the same with all seven, they died leaving no children.

Luk 20:32 Finally the woman herself died.

Luk 20:33 Now, at the resurrection, whose wife will she be, since she had been married to all seven?

Luk 20:34 Jesus replied, 'The children of this world take wives and husbands,

Luk 20:35 but those who are judged worthy of a place in the other world and in the resurrection from the dead do not marry

Luk 20:36 because they can no longer die, for they are the same as the angels, and being children of the resurrection they are children of God.

Luk 20:37 And Moses himself implies that the dead rise again, in the passage about the bush where he calls the Lord the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob.

Luk 20:38 Now he is God, not of the dead, but of the living; for to him everyone is alive.'

Luk 20:39 Some scribes then spoke up. They said, 'Well put, Master.'

Luk 20:40 They did not dare to ask him any more questions.

Luk 20:41 He then said to them, 'How can people maintain that the Christ is son of David?

Luk 20:42 Why, David himself says in the Book of Psalms: The Lord declared to my Lord, take your seat at my right hand,

Luk 20:43 till I have made your enemies your footstool.

Luk 20:44 David here calls him Lord; how then can he be his son?'

Luk 20:45 While all the people were listening he said to the disciples,

Luk 20:46 'Beware of the scribes who like to walk about in long robes and love to be greeted respectfully in the market squares, to take the front seats in the synagogues and the places of honour at banquets,

Luk 20:47 who devour the property of widows, and for show offer long prayers. The more severe will be the sentence they receive.'

Luk 21:1 Looking up, he saw rich people putting their offerings into the treasury;

Luk 21:2 and he noticed a poverty-stricken widow putting in two small coins,

Luk 21:3 and he said, 'I tell you truly, this poor widow has put in more than any of them;

Luk 21:4 for these have all put in money they could spare, but she in her poverty has put in all she had to live on.'

Luk 21:5 When some were talking about the Temple, remarking how it was adorned with fine stonework and votive offerings, he said,

Luk 21:6 'All these things you are staring at now -- the time will come when not a single stone will be left on another; everything will be destroyed.'

Luk 21:7 And they put to him this question, 'Master,' they said, 'when will this happen, then, and what sign will there be that it is about to take place?'

Luk 21:8 But he said, 'Take care not to be deceived, because many will come using my name and saying, "I am the one" and "The time is near at hand." Refuse to join them.'

Luk 21:9 And when you hear of wars and revolutions, do not be terrified, for this is something that must happen first, but the end will not come at once.'

Luk 21:10 Then he said to them, 'Nation will fight against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.

Luk 21:11 There will be great earthquakes and plagues and famines in various places; there will be terrifying events and great signs from heaven.

Luk 21:12 'But before all this happens, you will be seized and persecuted; you will be handed over to the synagogues and to imprisonment, and brought before kings and governors for the sake of my name

Luk 21:13 -and that will be your opportunity to bear witness.

Luk 21:14 Make up your minds not to prepare your defence,

Luk 21:15 because I myself shall give you an eloquence and a wisdom that none of your opponents will be able to resist or contradict.

Luk 21:16 You will be betrayed even by parents and brothers, relations and friends; and some of you will be put to death.

Luk 21:17 You will be hated universally on account of my name,

Luk 21:18 but not a hair of your head will be lost.

Luk 21:19 Your perseverance will win you your lives.

Luk 21:20 'When you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then you must realise that it will soon be laid desolate.

Luk 21:21 Then those in Judaea must escape to the mountains, those inside the city must leave it, and those in country districts must not take refuge in it.

Luk 21:22 For this is the time of retribution when all that scripture says must be fulfilled.

Luk 21:23 Alas for those with child, or with babies at the breast, when those days come!

Luk 21:24 'For great misery will descend on the land and retribution on this people. They will fall by the edge of the sword and be led captive to every gentile country; and Jerusalem will be trampled down by the gentiles until their time is complete.

Luk 21:25 'There will be signs in the sun and moon and stars; on earth nations in agony, bewildered by the turmoil of the ocean and its waves;

Luk 21:26 men fainting away with terror and fear at what menaces the world, for the powers of heaven will be shaken.

Luk 21:27 And then they will see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

Luk 21:28 When these things begin to take place, stand erect, hold your heads high, because your liberation is near at hand.'

Luk 21:29 And he told them a parable, 'Look at the fig tree and indeed every tree.

Luk 21:30 As soon as you see them bud, you can see for yourselves that summer is now near.

Luk 21:31 So with you when you see these things happening: know that the kingdom of God is near.

Luk 21:32 In truth I tell you, before this generation has passed away all will have taken place.

Luk 21:33 Sky and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away.

Luk 21:34 'Watch yourselves, or your hearts will be coarsened by debauchery and drunkenness and the cares of life, and that day will come upon you unexpectedly,

Luk 21:35 like a trap. For it will come down on all those living on the face of the earth.

Luk 21:36 Stay awake, praying at all times for the strength to survive all that is going to happen, and to hold your ground before the Son of man.'

Luk 21:37 All day long he would be in the Temple teaching, but would spend the night in the open on the hill called the Mount of Olives.

Luk 21:38 And from early morning the people thronged to him in the Temple to listen to him.

Luk 22:1 The feast of Unleavened Bread, called the Passover, was now drawing near,

Luk 22:2 and the chief priests and the scribes were looking for some way of doing away with him, because they were afraid of the people.

Luk 22:3 Then Satan entered into Judas, surnamed Iscariot, who was one of the Twelve.

Luk 22:4 He approached the chief priests and the officers of the guard to discuss some way of handing Jesus over to them.

Luk 22:5 They were delighted and agreed to give him money.

Luk 22:6 He accepted and began to look for an opportunity to betray him to them without people knowing about it.

Luk 22:7 The day of Unleavened Bread came round, on which the Passover had to be sacrificed,

Luk 22:8 and he sent Peter and John, saying, 'Go and make the preparations for us to eat the Passover.'

Luk 22:9 They asked him, 'Where do you want us to prepare it?'

Luk 22:10 He said to them, 'Look, as you go into the city you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him into the house he enters

Luk 22:11 and tell the owner of the house, "The Master says this to you: Where is the room for me to eat the Passover with my disciples?"

Luk 22:12 The man will show you a large upper room furnished with couches. Make the preparations there.'

Luk 22:13 They set off and found everything as he had told them and prepared the Passover.

Luk 22:14 When the time came he took his place at table, and the apostles with him.

Luk 22:15 And he said to them, 'I have ardently longed to eat this Passover with you before I suffer;

Luk 22:16 because, I tell you, I shall not eat it until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God.'

Luk 22:17 Then, taking a cup, he gave thanks and said, 'Take this and share it among you,

Luk 22:18 because from now on, I tell you, I shall never again drink wine until the kingdom of God comes.'

Luk 22:19 Then he took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and gave it to them, saying, 'This is my body given for you; do this in remembrance of me.'

Luk 22:20 He did the same with the cup after supper, and said, 'This cup is the new covenant in my blood poured out for you.

Luk 22:21 'But look, here with me on the table is the hand of the man who is betraying me.

Luk 22:22 The Son of man is indeed on the path which was decreed, but alas for that man by whom he is betrayed!'

Luk 22:23 And they began to ask one another which of them it could be who was to do this.

Luk 22:24 An argument also began between them about who should be reckoned the greatest;

Luk 22:25 but he said to them, 'Among the gentiles it is the kings who lord it over them, and those who have authority over them are given the title Benefactor.

Luk 22:26 With you this must not happen. No; the greatest among you must behave as if he were the youngest, the leader as if he were the one who serves.

Luk 22:27 For who is the greater: the one at table or the one who serves? The one at table, surely? Yet here am I among you as one who serves!

Luk 22:28 'You are the men who have stood by me faithfully in my trials;

Luk 22:29 and now I confer a kingdom on you, just as my Father conferred one on me:

Luk 22:30 you will eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and you will sit on thrones to judge the twelve tribes of Israel.

Luk 22:31 'Simon, Simon! Look, Satan has got his wish to sift you all like wheat;

Luk 22:32 but I have prayed for you, Simon, that your faith may not fail, and once you have recovered, you in your turn must strengthen your brothers.'

Luk 22:33 'Lord,' he answered, 'I would be ready to go to prison with you, and to death.'

Luk 22:34 Jesus replied, 'I tell you, Peter, by the time the cock crows today you will have denied three times that you know me.'

Luk 22:35 He said to them, 'When I sent you out without purse or haversack or sandals, were you short of anything?'

Luk 22:36 'No, nothing,' they said. He said to them, 'But now if you have a purse, take it, and the same with a haversack; if you have no sword, sell your cloak and buy one,

Luk 22:37 because I tell you these words of scripture are destined to be fulfilled in me: He was counted as one of the rebellious. Yes, what it says about me is even now reaching its fulfilment.'

Luk 22:38 They said, 'Lord, here are two swords.' He said to them, 'That is enough!'

Luk 22:39 He then left to make his way as usual to the Mount of Olives, with the disciples following.

Luk 22:40 When he reached the place he said to them, 'Pray not to be put to the test.'

Luk 22:41 Then he withdrew from them, about a stone's throw away, and knelt down and prayed.

Luk 22:42 'Father,' he said, 'if you are willing, take this cup away from me. Nevertheless, let your will be done, not mine.'

Luk 22:43 Then an angel appeared to him, coming from heaven to give him strength.

Luk 22:44 In his anguish he prayed even more earnestly, and his sweat fell to the ground like great drops of blood.

Luk 22:45 When he rose from prayer he went to the disciples and found them sleeping for sheer grief.

Luk 22:46 And he said to them, 'Why are you asleep? Get up and pray not to be put to the test.'

Luk 22:47 Suddenly, while he was still speaking, a number of men appeared, and at the head of them the man called Judas, one of the Twelve, who went up to Jesus to kiss him.

Luk 22:48 Jesus said, 'Judas, are you betraying the Son of man with a kiss?'

Luk 22:49 His followers, seeing what was about to happen, said, 'Lord, shall we use our swords?'

Luk 22:50 And one of them struck the high priest's servant and cut off his right ear.

Luk 22:51 But at this Jesus said, 'That is enough.' And touching the man's ear he healed him.

Luk 22:52 Then Jesus said to the chief priests and captains of the Temple guard and elders who had come for him, 'Am I a bandit, that you had to set out with swords and clubs?

Luk 22:53 When I was among you in the Temple day after day you never made a move to lay hands on me. But this is your hour; this is the reign of darkness.'

Luk 22:54 They seized him then and led him away, and they took him to the high priest's house. Peter followed at a distance.

Luk 22:55 They had lit a fire in the middle of the courtyard and Peter sat down among them,

Luk 22:56 and as he was sitting there by the blaze a servant-girl saw him, peered at him, and said, 'This man was with him too.'

Luk 22:57 But he denied it. 'Woman, I do not know him,' he said.

Luk 22:58 Shortly afterwards someone else saw him and said, 'You are one of them too.' But Peter replied, 'I am not, my friend.'

Luk 22:59 About an hour later another man insisted, saying, 'This fellow was certainly with him. Why, he is a Galilean.'

Luk 22:60 Peter said, 'My friend, I do not know what you are talking about.' At that instant, while he was still speaking, the cock crowed,

Luk 22:61 and the Lord turned and looked straight at Peter, and Peter remembered the Lord's words when he had said to him, 'Before the cock crows today, you will have disowned me three times.'

Luk 22:62 And he went outside and wept bitterly.

Luk 22:63 Meanwhile the men who guarded Jesus were mocking and beating him.

Luk 22:64 They blindfolded him and questioned him, saying, 'Prophesy! Who hit you then?'

Luk 22:65 And they heaped many other insults on him.

Luk 22:66 When day broke there was a meeting of the elders of the people, the chief priests and scribes. He was brought before their council,

Luk 22:67 and they said to him, 'If you are the Christ, tell us.' He replied, 'If I tell you, you will not believe,

Luk 22:68 and if I question you, you will not answer.

Luk 22:69 But from now on, the Son of man will be seated at the right hand of the Power of God.'

Luk 22:70 They all said, 'So you are the Son of God then?' He answered, 'It is you who say I am.'

Luk 22:71 Then they said, 'Why do we need any evidence? We have heard it for ourselves from his own lips.'

Luk 23:1 The whole assembly then rose, and they brought him before Pilate.

Luk 23:2 They began their accusation by saying, 'We found this man inciting our people to revolt, opposing payment of the tribute to Caesar, and claiming to be Christ, a king.'

Luk 23:3 Pilate put to him this question, 'Are you the king of the Jews?' He replied, 'It is you who say it.'

Luk 23:4 Pilate then said to the chief priests and the crowd, 'I find no case against this man.'

Luk 23:5 But they persisted, 'He is inflaming the people with his teaching all over Judaea and all the way from Galilee, where he started, down to here.'

Luk 23:6 When Pilate heard this, he asked if the man were a Galilean;

Luk 23:7 and finding that he came under Herod's jurisdiction, he passed him over to Herod, who was also in Jerusalem at that time.

Luk 23:8 Herod was delighted to see Jesus; he had heard about him and had been wanting for a long time to set eyes on him; moreover, he was hoping to see some miracle worked by him.

Luk 23:9 So he questioned him at some length, but without getting any reply.

Luk 23:10 Meanwhile the chief priests and the scribes were there, vigorously pressing their accusations.

Luk 23:11 Then Herod, together with his guards, treated him with contempt and made fun of him; he put a rich cloak on him and sent him back to Pilate.

Luk 23:12 And though Herod and Pilate had been enemies before, they were reconciled that same day.

Luk 23:13 Pilate then summoned the chief priests and the leading men and the people.

Luk 23:14 He said to them, 'You brought this man before me as a popular agitator. Now I have gone into the matter myself in your presence and found no grounds in the man for any of the charges you bring against him.

Luk 23:15 Nor has Herod either, since he has sent him back to us. As you can see, the man has done nothing that deserves death,

Luk 23:16 so I shall have him flogged and then let him go.'

Luk 23:17

Luk 23:18 But as one man they howled, 'Away with him! Give us Barabbas!'

Luk 23:19 (This man had been thrown into prison because of a riot in the city and murder.)

Luk 23:20 In his desire to set Jesus free, Pilate addressed them again,

Luk 23:21 but they shouted back, 'Crucify him! Crucify him!'

Luk 23:22 And for the third time he spoke to them, 'But what harm has this man done? I have found no case against him that deserves death, so I shall have him flogged and then let him go.'

Luk 23:23 But they kept on shouting at the top of their voices, demanding that he should be crucified. And their shouts kept growing louder.

Luk 23:24 Pilate then gave his verdict: their demand was to be granted.

Luk 23:25 He released the man they asked for, who had been imprisoned because of rioting and murder, and handed Jesus over to them to deal with as they pleased.

Luk 23:26 As they were leading him away they seized on a man, Simon from Cyrene, who was coming in from the country, and made him shoulder the cross and carry it behind Jesus.

Luk 23:27 Large numbers of people followed him, and women too, who mourned and lamented for him.

Luk 23:28 But Jesus turned to them and said, 'Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for me; weep rather for yourselves and for your children.'

Luk 23:29 For look, the days are surely coming when people will say, "Blessed are those who are barren, the wombs that have never borne children, the breasts that have never suckled!"

Luk 23:30 Then they will begin to say to the mountains, "Fall on us!"; to the hills, "Cover us!"

Luk 23:31 For if this is what is done to green wood, what will be done when the wood is dry?

Luk 23:32 Now they were also leading out two others, criminals, to be executed with him.

Luk 23:33 When they reached the place called The Skull, there they crucified him and the two criminals, one on his right, the other on his left.

Luk 23:34 Jesus said, 'Father, forgive them; they do not know what they are doing.' Then they cast lots to share out his clothing.

Luk 23:35 The people stayed there watching. As for the leaders, they jeered at him with the words, 'He saved others, let him save himself if he is the Christ of God, the Chosen One.'

Luk 23:36 The soldiers mocked him too, coming up to him, offering him vinegar,

Luk 23:37 and saying, 'If you are the king of the Jews, save yourself.'

Luk 23:38 Above him there was an inscription: 'This is the King of the Jews'.

Luk 23:39 One of the criminals hanging there abused him: 'Are you not the Christ? Save yourself and us as well.'

Luk 23:40 But the other spoke up and rebuked him. 'Have you no fear of God at all?' he said. 'You got the same sentence as he did,

Luk 23:41 but in our case we deserved it: we are paying for what we did. But this man has done nothing wrong.'

Luk 23:42 Then he said, 'Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom.'

Luk 23:43 He answered him, 'In truth I tell you, today you will be with me in paradise.'

Luk 23:44 It was now about the sixth hour and the sun's light failed, so that darkness came over the whole land until the ninth hour.

Luk 23:45 The veil of the Sanctuary was torn right down the middle.

Luk 23:46 Jesus cried out in a loud voice saying, 'Father, into your hands I commit my spirit.' With these words he breathed his last.

Luk 23:47 When the centurion saw what had taken place, he gave praise to God and said, 'Truly, this was an upright man.'

Luk 23:48 And when all the crowds who had gathered for the spectacle saw what had happened, they went home beating their breasts.

Luk 23:49 All his friends stood at a distance; so also did the women who had accompanied him from Galilee and saw all this happen.

Luk 23:50 And now a member of the Council arrived, a good and upright man named Joseph.

Luk 23:51 He had not consented to what the others had planned and carried out. He came from Arimathea, a Jewish town, and he lived in the hope of seeing the kingdom of God.

Luk 23:52 This man went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus.

Luk 23:53 He then took it down, wrapped it in a shroud and put it in a tomb which was hewn in stone and which had never held a body.

Luk 23:54 It was Preparation day and the Sabbath was beginning to grow light.

Luk 23:55 Meanwhile the women who had come from Galilee with Jesus were following behind. They took note of the tomb and how the body had been laid.

Luk 23:56 Then they returned and prepared spices and ointments. And on the Sabbath day they rested, as the Law required.

Luk 24:1 On the first day of the week, at the first sign of dawn, they went to the tomb with the spices they had prepared.

Luk 24:2 They found that the stone had been rolled away from the tomb,

Luk 24:3 but on entering they could not find the body of the Lord Jesus.

Luk 24:4 As they stood there puzzled about this, two men in brilliant clothes suddenly appeared at their side.

Luk 24:5 Terrified, the women bowed their heads to the ground. But the two said to them, 'Why look among the dead for someone who is alive?

Luk 24:6 He is not here; he has risen. Remember what he told you when he was still in Galilee:

Luk 24:7 that the Son of man was destined to be handed over into the power of sinful men and be crucified, and rise again on the third day.'

Luk 24:8 And they remembered his words.

Luk 24:9 And they returned from the tomb and told all this to the Eleven and to all the others.

Luk 24:10 The women were Mary of Magdala, Joanna, and Mary the mother of James. And the other women with them also told the apostles, Luk 24:11 but this story of theirs seemed pure nonsense, and they did not believe them.

Luk 24:12 Peter, however, went off to the tomb, running. He bent down and looked in and saw the linen cloths but nothing else; he then went back home, amazed at what had happened.

Luk 24:13 Now that very same day, two of them were on their way to a village called Emmaus, seven miles from Jerusalem,

Luk 24:14 and they were talking together about all that had happened.

Luk 24:15 And it happened that as they were talking together and discussing it, Jesus himself came up and walked by their side;

Luk 24:16 but their eyes were prevented from recognising him.

Luk 24:17 He said to them, 'What are all these things that you are discussing as you walk along?' They stopped, their faces downcast.

Luk 24:18 Then one of them, called Cleopas, answered him, 'You must be the only person staying in Jerusalem who does not know the things that have been happening there these last few days.'

Luk 24:19 He asked, 'What things?' They answered, 'All about Jesus of Nazareth, who showed himself a prophet powerful in action and speech before God and the whole people;

Luk 24:20 and how our chief priests and our leaders handed him over to be sentenced to death, and had him crucified.

Luk 24:21 Our own hope had been that he would be the one to set Israel free. And this is not all: two whole days have now gone by since it all happened;

Luk 24:22 and some women from our group have astounded us: they went to the tomb in the early morning,

Luk 24:23 and when they could not find the body, they came back to tell us they had seen a vision of angels who declared he was alive.

Luk 24:24 Some of our friends went to the tomb and found everything exactly as the women had reported, but of him they saw nothing.'

Luk 24:25 Then he said to them, 'You foolish men! So slow to believe all that the prophets have said!

Luk 24:26 Was it not necessary that the Christ should suffer before entering into his glory?'

Luk 24:27 Then, starting with Moses and going through all the prophets, he explained to them the passages throughout the scriptures that were about himself.

Luk 24:28 When they drew near to the village to which they were going, he made as if to go on;

Luk 24:29 but they pressed him to stay with them saying, 'It is nearly evening, and the day is almost over.' So he went in to stay with them.

Luk 24:30 Now while he was with them at table, he took the bread and said the blessing; then he broke it and handed it to them.

Luk 24:31 And their eyes were opened and they recognised him; but he had vanished from their sight.

Luk 24:32 Then they said to each other, 'Did not our hearts burn within us as he talked to us on the road and explained the scriptures to us?'

Luk 24:33 They set out that instant and returned to Jerusalem. There they found the Eleven assembled together with their companions,

Luk 24:34 who said to them, 'The Lord has indeed risen and has appeared to Simon.'

Luk 24:35 Then they told their story of what had happened on the road and how they had recognised him at the breaking of bread.

Luk 24:36 They were still talking about all this when he himself stood among them and said to them, 'Peace be with you!'

Luk 24:37 In a state of alarm and fright, they thought they were seeing a ghost.

Luk 24:38 But he said, 'Why are you so agitated, and why are these doubts stirring in your hearts?

Luk 24:39 See by my hands and my feet that it is I myself. Touch me and see for yourselves; a ghost has no flesh and bones as you can see I have.'

Luk 24:40 And as he said this he showed them his hands and his feet.

Luk 24:41 Their joy was so great that they still could not believe it, as they were dumbfounded; so he said to them, 'Have you anything here to eat?'

Luk 24:42 And they offered him a piece of grilled fish,

Luk 24:43 which he took and ate before their eyes.

Luk 24:44 Then he told them, 'This is what I meant when I said, while I was still with you, that everything written about me in the Law of Moses, in the Prophets and in the Psalms, was destined to be fulfilled.'

Luk 24:45 He then opened their minds to understand the scriptures,

Luk 24:46 and he said to them, 'So it is written that the Christ would suffer and on the third day rise from the dead,

Luk 24:47 and that, in his name, repentance for the forgiveness of sins would be preached to all nations, beginning from Jerusalem.

Luk 24:48 You are witnesses to this.

Luk 24:49 'And now I am sending upon you what the Father has promised. Stay in the city, then, until you are clothed with the power from on high.'

Luk 24:50 Then he took them out as far as the outskirts of Bethany, and raising his hands he blessed them.

Luk 24:51 Now as he blessed them, he withdrew from them and was carried up to heaven.

Luk 24:52 They worshipped him and then went back to Jerusalem full of joy;

Luk 24:53 and they were continually in the Temple praising God.

Joh 1:1 In the beginning was the Word: the Word was with God and the Word was God.

Joh 1:2 He was with God in the beginning.

Joh 1:3 Through him all things came into being, not one thing came into being except through him.

Joh 1:4 What has come into being in him was life, life that was the light of men;

Joh 1:5 and light shines in darkness, and darkness could not overpower it.

Joh 1:6 A man came, sent by God. His name was John.

Joh 1:7 He came as a witness, to bear witness to the light, so that everyone might believe through him.

Joh 1:8 He was not the light, he was to bear witness to the light.
Joh 1:9 The Word was the real light that gives light to everyone; he was coming into the world.
Joh 1:10 He was in the world that had come into being through him, and the world did not recognise him.
Joh 1:11 He came to his own and his own people did not accept him.
Joh 1:12 But to those who did accept him he gave power to become children of God, to those who believed in his name
Joh 1:13 who were born not from human stock or human desire or human will but from God himself.
Joh 1:14 The Word became flesh, he lived among us, and we saw his glory, the glory that he has from the Father as only Son of the Father, full of grace and truth.
Joh 1:15 John witnesses to him. He proclaims: 'This is the one of whom I said: He who comes after me has passed ahead of me because he existed before me.'
Joh 1:16 Indeed, from his fullness we have, all of us, received -- one gift replacing another,
Joh 1:17 for the Law was given through Moses, grace and truth have come through Jesus Christ.
Joh 1:18 No one has ever seen God; it is the only Son, who is close to the Father's heart, who has made him known.
Joh 1:19 This was the witness of John, when the Jews sent to him priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, 'Who are you?'
Joh 1:20 He declared, he did not deny but declared, 'I am not the Christ.'
Joh 1:21 So they asked, 'Then are you Elijah?' He replied, 'I am not.' 'Are you the Prophet?' He answered, 'No.'
Joh 1:22 So they said to him, 'Who are you? We must take back an answer to those who sent us. What have you to say about yourself?'
Joh 1:23 So he said, 'I am, as Isaiah prophesied: A voice of one that cries in the desert: Prepare a way for the Lord. Make his paths straight!'
Joh 1:24 Now those who had been sent were Pharisees,
Joh 1:25 and they put this question to him, 'Why are you baptising if you are not the Christ, and not Elijah, and not the Prophet?'
Joh 1:26 John answered them, 'I baptise with water; but standing among you -- unknown to you-
Joh 1:27 is the one who is coming after me; and I am not fit to undo the strap of his sandal.'
Joh 1:28 This happened at Bethany, on the far side of the Jordan, where John was baptising.
Joh 1:29 The next day, he saw Jesus coming towards him and said, 'Look, there is the lamb of God that takes away the sin of the world.
Joh 1:30 It was of him that I said, "Behind me comes one who has passed ahead of me because he existed before me."
Joh 1:31 I did not know him myself, and yet my purpose in coming to baptise with water was so that he might be revealed to Israel.'
Joh 1:32 And John declared, 'I saw the Spirit come down on him like a dove from heaven and rest on him.
Joh 1:33 I did not know him myself, but he who sent me to baptise with water had said to me, "The man on whom you see the Spirit come down and rest is the one who is to baptise with the Holy Spirit."
Joh 1:34 I have seen and I testify that he is the Chosen One of God.'
Joh 1:35 The next day as John stood there again with two of his disciples, Jesus went past,
Joh 1:36 and John looked towards him and said, 'Look, there is the lamb of God.'
Joh 1:37 And the two disciples heard what he said and followed Jesus.
Joh 1:38 Jesus turned round, saw them following and said, 'What do you want?' They answered, 'Rabbi' -- which means Teacher-'where do you live?'
Joh 1:39 He replied, 'Come and see'; so they went and saw where he lived, and stayed with him that day. It was about the tenth hour.
Joh 1:40 One of these two who became followers of Jesus after hearing what John had said was Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter.
Joh 1:41 The first thing Andrew did was to find his brother and say to him, 'We have found the Messiah' -- which means the Christ-
Joh 1:42 and he took Simon to Jesus. Jesus looked at him and said, 'You are Simon son of John; you are to be called Cephas' -- which means Rock.
Joh 1:43 The next day, after Jesus had decided to leave for Galilee, he met Philip and said, 'Follow me.'
Joh 1:44 Philip came from the same town, Bethsaida, as Andrew and Peter.
Joh 1:45 Philip found Nathanael and said to him, 'We have found him of whom Moses in the Law and the prophets wrote, Jesus son of Joseph, from Nazareth.'
Joh 1:46 Nathanael said to him, 'From Nazareth? Can anything good come from that place?' Philip replied, 'Come and see.'
Joh 1:47 When Jesus saw Nathanael coming he said of him, 'There, truly, is an Israelite in whom there is no deception.'

Joh 1:48 Nathanael asked, 'How do you know me?' Jesus replied, 'Before Philip came to call you, I saw you under the fig tree.'

Joh 1:49 Nathanael answered, 'Rabbi, you are the Son of God, you are the king of Israel.'

Joh 1:50 Jesus replied, 'You believe that just because I said: I saw you under the fig tree. You are going to see greater things than that.'

Joh 1:51 And then he added, 'In all truth I tell you, you will see heaven open and the angels of God ascending and descending over the Son of man.'

Joh 2:1 On the third day there was a wedding at Cana in Galilee. The mother of Jesus was there,

Joh 2:2 and Jesus and his disciples had also been invited.

Joh 2:3 And they ran out of wine, since the wine provided for the feast had all been used, and the mother of Jesus said to him, 'They have no wine.'

Joh 2:4 Jesus said, 'Woman, what do you want from me? My hour has not come yet.'

Joh 2:5 His mother said to the servants, 'Do whatever he tells you.'

Joh 2:6 There were six stone water jars standing there, meant for the ablutions that are customary among the Jews: each could hold twenty or thirty gallons.

Joh 2:7 Jesus said to the servants, 'Fill the jars with water,' and they filled them to the brim.

Joh 2:8 Then he said to them, 'Draw some out now and take it to the president of the feast.'

Joh 2:9 They did this; the president tasted the water, and it had turned into wine. Having no idea where it came from -- though the servants who had drawn the water knew -- the president of the feast called the bridegroom

Joh 2:10 and said, 'Everyone serves good wine first and the worse wine when the guests are well wined; but you have kept the best wine till now.'

Joh 2:11 This was the first of Jesus' signs: it was at Cana in Galilee. He revealed his glory, and his disciples believed in him.

Joh 2:12 After this he went down to Capernaum with his mother and his brothers and his disciples, but they stayed there only a few days.

Joh 2:13 When the time of the Jewish Passover was near Jesus went up to Jerusalem,

Joh 2:14 and in the Temple he found people selling cattle and sheep and doves, and the money changers sitting there.

Joh 2:15 Making a whip out of cord, he drove them all out of the Temple, sheep and cattle as well, scattered the money changers' coins, knocked their tables over

Joh 2:16 and said to the dove sellers, 'Take all this out of here and stop using my Father's house as a market.'

Joh 2:17 Then his disciples remembered the words of scripture: I am eaten up with zeal for your house.

Joh 2:18 The Jews intervened and said, 'What sign can you show us that you should act like this?'

Joh 2:19 Jesus answered, 'Destroy this Temple, and in three days I will raise it up.'

Joh 2:20 The Jews replied, 'It has taken forty-six years to build this Temple: are you going to raise it up again in three days?'

Joh 2:21 But he was speaking of the Temple that was his body,

Joh 2:22 and when Jesus rose from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this, and they believed the scripture and what he had said.

Joh 2:23 During his stay in Jerusalem for the feast of the Passover many believed in his name when they saw the signs that he did,

Joh 2:24 but Jesus knew all people and did not trust himself to them;

Joh 2:25 he never needed evidence about anyone; he could tell what someone had within.

Joh 3:1 There was one of the Pharisees called Nicodemus, a leader of the Jews,

Joh 3:2 who came to Jesus by night and said, 'Rabbi, we know that you have come from God as a teacher; for no one could perform the signs that you do unless God were with him.'

Joh 3:3 Jesus answered: In all truth I tell you, no one can see the kingdom of God without being born from above.

Joh 3:4 Nicodemus said, 'How can anyone who is already old be born? Is it possible to go back into the womb again and be born?'

Joh 3:5 Jesus replied: In all truth I tell you, no one can enter the kingdom of God without being born through water and the Spirit;

Joh 3:6 what is born of human nature is human; what is born of the Spirit is spirit.

Joh 3:7 Do not be surprised when I say: You must be born from above.

Joh 3:8 The wind blows where it pleases; you can hear its sound, but you cannot tell where it comes from or where it is going. So it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit.

Joh 3:9 'How is that possible?' asked Nicodemus.

Joh 3:10 Jesus replied, 'You are the Teacher of Israel, and you do not know these things!'

Joh 3:11 'In all truth I tell you, we speak only about what we know and witness only to what we have seen and yet you people reject our evidence.'

Joh 3:12 If you do not believe me when I speak to you about earthly things, how will you believe me when I speak to you about heavenly things?

Joh 3:13 No one has gone up to heaven except the one who came down from heaven, the Son of man;

Joh 3:14 as Moses lifted up the snake in the desert, so must the Son of man be lifted up

Joh 3:15 so that everyone who believes may have eternal life in him.

Joh 3:16 For this is how God loved the world: he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him may not perish but may have eternal life.

Joh 3:17 For God sent his Son into the world not to judge the world, but so that through him the world might be saved.

Joh 3:18 No one who believes in him will be judged; but whoever does not believe is judged already, because that person does not believe in the Name of God's only Son.

Joh 3:19 And the judgement is this: though the light has come into the world people have preferred darkness to the light because their deeds were evil.

Joh 3:20 And indeed, everybody who does wrong hates the light and avoids it, to prevent his actions from being shown up;

Joh 3:21 but whoever does the truth comes out into the light, so that what he is doing may plainly appear as done in God.'

Joh 3:22 After this, Jesus went with his disciples into the Judaean countryside and stayed with them there and baptised.

Joh 3:23 John also was baptising at Aenon near Salim, where there was plenty of water, and people were going there and were being baptised.

Joh 3:24 For John had not yet been put in prison.

Joh 3:25 Now a discussion arose between some of John's disciples and a Jew about purification,

Joh 3:26 so they went to John and said, 'Rabbi, the man who was with you on the far side of the Jordan, the man to whom you bore witness, is baptising now, and everyone is going to him.'

Joh 3:27 John replied: 'No one can have anything except what is given him from heaven.'

Joh 3:28 'You yourselves can bear me out. I said, "I am not the Christ; I am the one who has been sent to go in front of him."

Joh 3:29 'It is the bridegroom who has the bride; and yet the bridegroom's friend, who stands there and listens to him, is filled with joy at the bridegroom's voice. This is the joy I feel, and it is complete.

Joh 3:30 He must grow greater, I must grow less.

Joh 3:31 He who comes from above is above all others; he who is of the earth is earthly himself and speaks in an earthly way. He who comes from heaven

Joh 3:32 bears witness to the things he has seen and heard, but his testimony is not accepted by anybody;

Joh 3:33 though anyone who does accept his testimony is attesting that God is true,

Joh 3:34 since he whom God has sent speaks God's own words, for God gives him the Spirit without reserve.

Joh 3:35 The Father loves the Son and has entrusted everything to his hands.

Joh 3:36 Anyone who believes in the Son has eternal life, but anyone who refuses to believe in the Son will never see life: God's retribution hangs over him.'

Joh 4:1 When Jesus heard that the Pharisees had found out that he was making and baptising more disciples than John-

Joh 4:2 though in fact it was his disciples who baptised, not Jesus himself-

Joh 4:3 he left Judaea and went back to Galilee.

Joh 4:4 He had to pass through Samaria.

Joh 4:5 On the way he came to the Samaritan town called Sychar near the land that Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

Joh 4:6 Jacob's well was there and Jesus, tired by the journey, sat down by the well. It was about the sixth hour.

Joh 4:7 When a Samaritan woman came to draw water, Jesus said to her, 'Give me something to drink.'

Joh 4:8 His disciples had gone into the town to buy food.

Joh 4:9 The Samaritan woman said to him, 'You are a Jew. How is it that you ask me, a Samaritan, for something to drink?' -- Jews, of course, do not associate with Samaritans.

Joh 4:10 Jesus replied to her: If you only knew what God is offering and who it is that is saying to you, 'Give me something to drink,' you would have been the one to ask, and he would have given you living water.

Joh 4:11 'You have no bucket, sir,' she answered, 'and the well is deep: how do you get this living water?'

Joh 4:12 Are you a greater man than our father Jacob, who gave us this well and drank from it himself with his sons and his cattle?'

Joh 4:13 Jesus replied: Whoever drinks this water will be thirsty again;

Joh 4:14 but no one who drinks the water that I shall give will ever be thirsty again: the water that I shall give will become a spring of water within, welling up for eternal life.

Joh 4:15 'Sir,' said the woman, 'give me some of that water, so that I may never be thirsty or come here again to draw water.'

Joh 4:16 'Go and call your husband,' said Jesus to her, 'and come back here.'

Joh 4:17 The woman answered, 'I have no husband.' Jesus said to her, 'You are right to say, "I have no husband";

Joh 4:18 for although you have had five, the one you now have is not your husband. You spoke the truth there.'

Joh 4:19 'I see you are a prophet, sir,' said the woman.

Joh 4:20 'Our fathers worshipped on this mountain, though you say that Jerusalem is the place where one ought to worship.'

Joh 4:21 Jesus said: Believe me, woman, the hour is coming when you will worship the Father neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem.

Joh 4:22 You worship what you do not know; we worship what we do know; for salvation comes from the Jews.

Joh 4:23 But the hour is coming -- indeed is already here -- when true worshippers will worship the Father in spirit and truth: that is the kind of worshipper the Father seeks.

Joh 4:24 God is spirit, and those who worship must worship in spirit and truth.

Joh 4:25 The woman said to him, 'I know that Messiah -- that is, Christ -- is coming; and when he comes he will explain everything.'

Joh 4:26 Jesus said, 'That is who I am, I who speak to you.'

Joh 4:27 At this point his disciples returned and were surprised to find him speaking to a woman, though none of them asked, 'What do you want from her?' or, 'What are you talking to her about?'

Joh 4:28 The woman put down her water jar and hurried back to the town to tell the people,

Joh 4:29 'Come and see a man who has told me everything I have done; could this be the Christ?'

Joh 4:30 This brought people out of the town and they made their way towards him.

Joh 4:31 Meanwhile, the disciples were urging him, 'Rabbi, do have something to eat';

Joh 4:32 but he said, 'I have food to eat that you do not know about.'

Joh 4:33 So the disciples said to one another, 'Has someone brought him food?'

Joh 4:34 But Jesus said: My food is to do the will of the one who sent me, and to complete his work.

Joh 4:35 Do you not have a saying: Four months and then the harvest? Well, I tell you, look around you, look at the fields; already they are white, ready for harvest!

Joh 4:36 Already the reaper is being paid his wages, already he is bringing in the grain for eternal life, so that sower and reaper can rejoice together.

Joh 4:37 For here the proverb holds true: one sows, another reaps;

Joh 4:38 I sent you to reap a harvest you have not laboured for. Others have laboured for it; and you have come into the rewards of their labour.

Joh 4:39 Many Samaritans of that town believed in him on the strength of the woman's words of testimony, 'He told me everything I have done.'

Joh 4:40 So, when the Samaritans came up to him, they begged him to stay with them. He stayed for two days, and

Joh 4:41 many more came to believe on the strength of the words he spoke to them;

Joh 4:42 and they said to the woman, 'Now we believe no longer because of what you told us; we have heard him ourselves and we know that he is indeed the Saviour of the world.'

Joh 4:43 When the two days were over Jesus left for Galilee.

Joh 4:44 He himself had declared that a prophet is not honoured in his own home town.

Joh 4:45 On his arrival the Galileans received him well, having seen all that he had done at Jerusalem during the festival which they too had attended.

Joh 4:46 He went again to Cana in Galilee, where he had changed the water into wine. And there was a royal official whose son was ill at Capernaum;

Joh 4:47 hearing that Jesus had arrived in Galilee from Judaea, he went and asked him to come and cure his son, as he was at the point of death.

Joh 4:48 Jesus said to him, 'Unless you see signs and portents you will not believe!'

Joh 4:49 'Sir,' answered the official, 'come down before my child dies.'

Joh 4:50 'Go home,' said Jesus, 'your son will live.' The man believed what Jesus had said and went on his way home;

Joh 4:51 and while he was still on the way his servants met him with the news that his boy was alive.

Joh 4:52 He asked them when the boy had begun to recover. They replied, 'The fever left him yesterday at the seventh hour.'

Joh 4:53 The father realised that this was exactly the time when Jesus had said, 'Your son will live'; and he and all his household believed.

Joh 4:54 This new sign, the second, Jesus performed on his return from Judaea to Galilee.

Joh 5:1 After this there was a Jewish festival, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

Joh 5:2 Now in Jerusalem next to the Sheep Pool there is a pool called Bethesda in Hebrew, which has five porticos;

Joh 5:3 and under these were crowds of sick people, blind, lame, paralysed.

Joh 5:4

Joh 5:5 One man there had an illness which had lasted thirty-eight years,

Joh 5:6 and when Jesus saw him lying there and knew he had been in that condition for a long time, he said, 'Do you want to be well again?'

Joh 5:7 'Sir,' replied the sick man, 'I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is disturbed; and while I am still on the way, someone else gets down there before me.'

Joh 5:8 Jesus said, 'Get up, pick up your sleeping-mat and walk around.'

Joh 5:9 The man was cured at once, and he picked up his mat and started to walk around. Now that day happened to be the Sabbath,

Joh 5:10 so the Jews said to the man who had been cured, 'It is the Sabbath; you are not allowed to carry your sleeping-mat.'

Joh 5:11 He replied, 'But the man who cured me told me, "Pick up your sleeping-mat and walk around."

Joh 5:12 They asked, 'Who is the man who said to you, "Pick up your sleeping-mat and walk around"?'

Joh 5:13 The man had no idea who it was, since Jesus had disappeared, as the place was crowded.

Joh 5:14 After a while Jesus met him in the Temple and said, 'Now you are well again, do not sin any more, or something worse may happen to you.'

Joh 5:15 The man went back and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had cured him.

Joh 5:16 It was because he did things like this on the Sabbath that the Jews began to harass Jesus.

Joh 5:17 His answer to them was, 'My Father still goes on working, and I am at work, too.'

Joh 5:18 But that only made the Jews even more intent on killing him, because not only was he breaking the Sabbath, but he spoke of God as his own Father and so made himself God's equal.

Joh 5:19 To this Jesus replied: In all truth I tell you, by himself the Son can do nothing; he can do only what he sees the Father doing: and whatever the Father does the Son does too.

Joh 5:20 For the Father loves the Son and shows him everything he himself does, and he will show him even greater things than these, works that will astonish you.

Joh 5:21 Thus, as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so the Son gives life to anyone he chooses;

Joh 5:22 for the Father judges no one; he has entrusted all judgement to the Son,

Joh 5:23 so that all may honour the Son as they honour the Father. Whoever refuses honour to the Son refuses honour to the Father who sent him.

Joh 5:24 In all truth I tell you, whoever listens to my words, and believes in the one who sent me, has eternal life; without being brought to judgement such a person has passed from death to life.

Joh 5:25 In all truth I tell you, the hour is coming -- indeed it is already here -- when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and all who hear it will live.

Joh 5:26 For as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son also to have life in himself;

Joh 5:27 and, because he is the Son of man, has granted him power to give judgement.

Joh 5:28 Do not be surprised at this, for the hour is coming when the dead will leave their graves at the sound of his voice:

Joh 5:29 those who did good will come forth to life; and those who did evil will come forth to judgement.

Joh 5:30 By myself I can do nothing; I can judge only as I am told to judge, and my judging is just, because I seek to do not my own will but the will of him who sent me.

Joh 5:31 Were I to testify on my own behalf, my testimony would not be true;

Joh 5:32 but there is another witness who speaks on my behalf, and I know that his testimony is true.

Joh 5:33 You sent messengers to John, and he gave his testimony to the truth-

Joh 5:34 not that I depend on human testimony; no, it is for your salvation that I mention it.

Joh 5:35 John was a lamp lit and shining and for a time you were content to enjoy the light that he gave.

Joh 5:36 But my testimony is greater than John's: the deeds my Father has given me to perform, these same deeds of mine testify that the Father has sent me.

Joh 5:37 Besides, the Father who sent me bears witness to me himself. You have never heard his voice, you have never seen his shape,

Joh 5:38 and his word finds no home in you because you do not believe in the one whom he has sent.

Joh 5:39 You pore over the scriptures, believing that in them you can find eternal life; it is these scriptures that testify to me,

Joh 5:40 and yet you refuse to come to me to receive life!

Joh 5:41 Human glory means nothing to me.

Joh 5:42 Besides, I know you too well: you have no love of God in you.

Joh 5:43 I have come in the name of my Father and you refuse to accept me; if someone else should come in his own name you would accept him.

Joh 5:44 How can you believe, since you look to each other for glory and are not concerned with the glory that comes from the one God?

Joh 5:45 Do not imagine that I am going to accuse you before the Father: you have placed your hopes on Moses, and Moses will be the one who accuses you.

Joh 5:46 If you really believed him you would believe me too, since it was about me that he was writing;

Joh 5:47 but if you will not believe what he wrote, how can you believe what I say?

Joh 6:1 After this, Jesus crossed the Sea of Galilee -- or of Tiberias-

Joh 6:2 and a large crowd followed him, impressed by the signs he had done in curing the sick.

Joh 6:3 Jesus climbed the hillside and sat down there with his disciples.

Joh 6:4 The time of the Jewish Passover was near.

Joh 6:5 Looking up, Jesus saw the crowds approaching and said to Philip, 'Where can we buy some bread for these people to eat?'

Joh 6:6 He said this only to put Philip to the test; he himself knew exactly what he was going to do.

Joh 6:7 Philip answered, 'Two hundred denarii would not buy enough to give them a little piece each.'

Joh 6:8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, said,

Joh 6:9 'Here is a small boy with five barley loaves and two fish; but what is that among so many?'

Joh 6:10 Jesus said to them, 'Make the people sit down.' There was plenty of grass there, and as many as five thousand men sat down.

Joh 6:11 Then Jesus took the loaves, gave thanks, and distributed them to those who were sitting there; he then did the same with the fish, distributing as much as they wanted.

Joh 6:12 When they had eaten enough he said to the disciples, 'Pick up the pieces left over, so that nothing is wasted.'

Joh 6:13 So they picked them up and filled twelve large baskets with scraps left over from the meal of five barley loaves.

Joh 6:14 Seeing the sign that he had done, the people said, 'This is indeed the prophet who is to come into the world.'

Joh 6:15 Jesus, as he realised they were about to come and take him by force and make him king, fled back to the hills alone.

Joh 6:16 That evening the disciples went down to the shore of the sea

Joh 6:17 and got into a boat to make for Capernaum on the other side of the sea. It was getting dark by now and Jesus had still not rejoined them.

Joh 6:18 The wind was strong, and the sea was getting rough.

Joh 6:19 They had rowed three or four miles when they saw Jesus walking on the sea and coming towards the boat. They were afraid,

Joh 6:20 but he said, 'It's me. Don't be afraid.'

Joh 6:21 They were ready to take him into the boat, and immediately it reached the shore at the place they were making for.

Joh 6:22 Next day, the crowd that had stayed on the other side saw that only one boat had been there, and that Jesus had not got into the boat with his disciples, but that the disciples had set off by themselves.

Joh 6:23 Other boats, however, had put in from Tiberias, near the place where the bread had been eaten.

Joh 6:24 When the people saw that neither Jesus nor his disciples were there, they got into those boats and crossed to Capernaum to look for Jesus.

Joh 6:25 When they found him on the other side, they said to him, 'Rabbi, when did you come here?'

Joh 6:26 Jesus answered: In all truth I tell you, you are looking for me not because you have seen the signs but because you had all the bread you wanted to eat.

Joh 6:27 Do not work for food that goes bad, but work for food that endures for eternal life, which the Son of man will give you, for on him the Father, God himself, has set his seal.

Joh 6:28 Then they said to him, 'What must we do if we are to carry out God's work?'

Joh 6:29 Jesus gave them this answer, 'This is carrying out God's work: you must believe in the one he has sent.'

Joh 6:30 So they said, 'What sign will you yourself do, the sight of which will make us believe in you? What work will you do?'

Joh 6:31 Our fathers ate manna in the desert; as scripture says: He gave them bread from heaven to eat.'

Joh 6:32 Jesus answered them: In all truth I tell you, it was not Moses who gave you the bread from heaven, it is my Father who gives you the bread from heaven, the true bread;

Joh 6:33 for the bread of God is the bread which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world.

Joh 6:34 'Sir,' they said, 'give us that bread always.'

Joh 6:35 Jesus answered them: I am the bread of life. No one who comes to me will ever hunger; no one who believes in me will ever thirst.

Joh 6:36 But, as I have told you, you can see me and still you do not believe.

Joh 6:37 Everyone whom the Father gives me will come to me; I will certainly not reject anyone who comes to me,

Joh 6:38 because I have come from heaven, not to do my own will, but to do the will of him who sent me.

Joh 6:39 Now the will of him who sent me is that I should lose nothing of all that he has given to me, but that I should raise it up on the last day.

Joh 6:40 It is my Father's will that whoever sees the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and that I should raise that person up on the last day.

Joh 6:41 Meanwhile the Jews were complaining to each other about him, because he had said, 'I am the bread that has come down from heaven.'

Joh 6:42 They were saying, 'Surely this is Jesus son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know. How can he now say, "I have come down from heaven?"'

Joh 6:43 Jesus said in reply to them, 'Stop complaining to each other.

Joh 6:44 'No one can come to me unless drawn by the Father who sent me, and I will raise that person up on the last day.

Joh 6:45 It is written in the prophets: They will all be taught by God; everyone who has listened to the Father, and learnt from him, comes to me.

Joh 6:46 Not that anybody has seen the Father, except him who has his being from God: he has seen the Father.

Joh 6:47 In all truth I tell you, everyone who believes has eternal life.

Joh 6:48 I am the bread of life.

Joh 6:49 Your fathers ate manna in the desert and they are dead;

Joh 6:50 but this is the bread which comes down from heaven, so that a person may eat it and not die.

Joh 6:51 I am the living bread which has come down from heaven. Anyone who eats this bread will live for ever; and the bread that I shall give is my flesh, for the life of the world.'

Joh 6:52 Then the Jews started arguing among themselves, 'How can this man give us his flesh to eat?'

Joh 6:53 Jesus replied to them: In all truth I tell you, if you do not eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you.

Joh 6:54 Anyone who does eat my flesh and drink my blood has eternal life, and I shall raise that person up on the last day.

Joh 6:55 For my flesh is real food and my blood is real drink.

Joh 6:56 Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood lives in me and I live in that person.

Joh 6:57 As the living Father sent me and I draw life from the Father, so whoever eats me will also draw life from me.

Joh 6:58 This is the bread which has come down from heaven; it is not like the bread our ancestors ate: they are dead, but anyone who eats this bread will live for ever.

Joh 6:59 This is what he taught at Capernaum in the synagogue.

Joh 6:60 After hearing it, many of his followers said, 'This is intolerable language. How could anyone accept it?'

Joh 6:61 Jesus was aware that his followers were complaining about it and said, 'Does this disturb you?

Joh 6:62 What if you should see the Son of man ascend to where he was before?

Joh 6:63 'It is the spirit that gives life, the flesh has nothing to offer. The words I have spoken to you are spirit and they are life.'

Joh 6:64 'But there are some of you who do not believe.' For Jesus knew from the outset who did not believe and who was to betray him.

Joh 6:65 He went on, 'This is why I told you that no one could come to me except by the gift of the Father.'

Joh 6:66 After this, many of his disciples went away and accompanied him no more.

Joh 6:67 Then Jesus said to the Twelve, 'What about you, do you want to go away too?'

Joh 6:68 Simon Peter answered, 'Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the message of eternal life,

Joh 6:69 and we believe; we have come to know that you are the Holy One of God.'

Joh 6:70 Jesus replied to them, 'Did I not choose the Twelve of you? Yet one of you is a devil.'

Joh 6:71 He meant Judas son of Simon Iscariot, since this was the man, one of the Twelve, who was to betray him.

Joh 7:1 After this Jesus travelled round Galilee; he could not travel round Judaea, because the Jews were seeking to kill him.

Joh 7:2 As the Jewish feast of Shelters drew near,

Joh 7:3 his brothers said to him, 'Leave this place and go to Judaea, so that your disciples, too, can see the works you are doing;

Joh 7:4 no one who wants to be publicly known acts in secret; if this is what you are doing, you should reveal yourself to the world.'

Joh 7:5 Not even his brothers had faith in him.

Joh 7:6 Jesus answered, 'For me the right time has not come yet, but for you any time is the right time.

Joh 7:7 The world cannot hate you, but it does hate me, because I give evidence that its ways are evil.'

Joh 7:8 Go up to the festival yourselves: I am not going to this festival, because for me the time is not ripe yet.'

Joh 7:9 Having said that, he stayed behind in Galilee.

Joh 7:10 However, after his brothers had left for the festival, he went up as well, not publicly but secretly.

Joh 7:11 At the festival the Jews were on the look-out for him: 'Where is he?' they said.

Joh 7:12 There was a great deal of talk about him in the crowds. Some said, 'He is a good man'; others, 'No, he is leading the people astray.'

Joh 7:13 Yet no one spoke about him openly, for fear of the Jews.

Joh 7:14 When the festival was half over, Jesus went to the Temple and began to teach.

Joh 7:15 The Jews were astonished and said, 'How did he learn to read? He has not been educated.'

Joh 7:16 Jesus answered them: 'My teaching is not from myself: it comes from the one who sent me;

Joh 7:17 anyone who is prepared to do his will, will know whether my teaching is from God or whether I speak on my own account.

Joh 7:18 When someone speaks on his own account, he is seeking honour for himself; but when he is seeking the honour of the person who sent him, then he is true and altogether without dishonesty.

Joh 7:19 Did not Moses give you the Law? And yet not one of you keeps the Law!

Joh 7:20 The crowd replied, 'You are mad! Who wants to kill you?'

Joh 7:21 Jesus answered, 'One work I did, and you are all amazed at it.

Joh 7:22 Moses ordered you to practise circumcision -- not that it began with him, it goes back to the patriarchs -- and you circumcise on the Sabbath.

Joh 7:23 Now if someone can be circumcised on the Sabbath so that the Law of Moses is not broken, why are you angry with me for making someone completely healthy on a Sabbath?

Joh 7:24 Do not keep judging according to appearances; let your judgement be according to what is right.'

Joh 7:25 Meanwhile some of the people of Jerusalem were saying, 'Isn't this the man they want to kill?'

Joh 7:26 And here he is, speaking openly, and they have nothing to say to him! Can it be true the authorities have recognised that he is the Christ?

Joh 7:27 Yet we all know where he comes from, but when the Christ appears no one will know where he comes from.'

Joh 7:28 Then, as Jesus was teaching in the Temple, he cried out: You know me and you know where I came from. Yet I have not come of my own accord: but he who sent me is true; You do not know him,

Joh 7:29 but I know him because I have my being from him and it was he who sent me.

Joh 7:30 They wanted to arrest him then, but because his hour had not yet come no one laid a hand on him.

Joh 7:31 There were many people in the crowds, however, who believed in him; they were saying, 'When the Christ comes, will he give more signs than this man has?'

Joh 7:32 Hearing that talk like this about him was spreading among the people, the Pharisees sent the Temple guards to arrest him.

Joh 7:33 Then Jesus said: For a short time I am with you still; then I shall go back to the one who sent me.

Joh 7:34 You will look for me and will not find me; where I am you cannot come.

Joh 7:35 So the Jews said to one another, 'Where is he intending to go that we shall not be able to find him? Is he intending to go abroad to the people who are dispersed among the Greeks and to teach the Greeks?'

Joh 7:36 'Why do you want to kill me?' What does he mean when he says: "You will look for me and will not find me; where I am, you cannot come?"'

Joh 7:37 On the last day, the great day of the festival, Jesus stood and cried out: 'Let anyone who is thirsty come to me!'

Joh 7:38 Let anyone who believes in me come and drink! As scripture says, "From his heart shall flow streams of living water."

Joh 7:39 He was speaking of the Spirit which those who believed in him were to receive; for there was no Spirit as yet because Jesus had not yet been glorified.

Joh 7:40 Some of the crowd who had been listening said, 'He is indeed the prophet,'

Joh 7:41 and some said, 'He is the Christ,' but others said, 'Would the Christ come from Galilee?'

Joh 7:42 Does not scripture say that the Christ must be descended from David and come from Bethlehem, the village where David was?'

Joh 7:43 So the people could not agree about him.

Joh 7:44 Some wanted to arrest him, but no one actually laid a hand on him.

Joh 7:45 The guards went back to the chief priests and Pharisees who said to them, 'Why haven't you brought him?'

Joh 7:46 The guards replied, 'No one has ever spoken like this man.'

Joh 7:47 'So,' the Pharisees answered, 'you, too, have been led astray?

Joh 7:48 Have any of the authorities come to believe in him? Any of the Pharisees?

Joh 7:49 This rabble knows nothing about the Law -- they are damned.'

Joh 7:50 One of them, Nicodemus -- the same man who had come to Jesus earlier -- said to them,

Joh 7:51 'But surely our Law does not allow us to pass judgement on anyone without first giving him a hearing and discovering what he is doing?'

Joh 7:52 To this they answered, 'Are you a Galilean too? Go into the matter, and see for yourself: prophets do not arise in Galilee.'

Joh 7:53 They all went home,

Joh 8:1 and Jesus went to the Mount of Olives.

Joh 8:2 At daybreak he appeared in the Temple again; and as all the people came to him, he sat down and began to teach them.

Joh 8:3 The scribes and Pharisees brought a woman along who had been caught committing adultery; and making her stand there in the middle

Joh 8:4 they said to Jesus, 'Master, this woman was caught in the very act of committing adultery,

Joh 8:5 and in the Law Moses has ordered us to stone women of this kind. What have you got to say?'

Joh 8:6 They asked him this as a test, looking for an accusation to use against him. But Jesus bent down and started writing on the ground with his finger.

Joh 8:7 As they persisted with their question, he straightened up and said, 'Let the one among you who is guiltless be the first to throw a stone at her.'

Joh 8:8 Then he bent down and continued writing on the ground.

Joh 8:9 When they heard this they went away one by one, beginning with the eldest, until the last one had gone and Jesus was left alone with the woman, who remained in the middle.

Joh 8:10 Jesus again straightened up and said, 'Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?'

Joh 8:11 'No one, sir,' she replied. 'Neither do I condemn you,' said Jesus. 'Go away, and from this moment sin no more.'

Joh 8:12 When Jesus spoke to the people again, he said: I am the light of the world; anyone who follows me will not be walking in the dark, but will have the light of life.

Joh 8:13 At this the Pharisees said to him, 'You are testifying on your own behalf; your testimony is not true.'

Joh 8:14 Jesus replied: Even though I am testifying on my own behalf, my testimony is still true, because I know where I have come from and where I am going; but you do not know where I come from or where I am going.

Joh 8:15 You judge by human standards; I judge no one,

Joh 8:16 but if I judge, my judgement will be true, because I am not alone: the one who sent me is with me;

Joh 8:17 and in your Law it is written that the testimony of two witnesses is true.

Joh 8:18 I testify on my own behalf, but the Father who sent me testifies on my behalf, too.

Joh 8:19 They asked him, 'Where is your Father then?' Jesus answered: You do not know me, nor do you know my Father; if you did know me, you would know my Father as well.

Joh 8:20 He spoke these words in the Treasury, while teaching in the Temple. No one arrested him, because his hour had not yet come.

Joh 8:21 Again he said to them: I am going away; you will look for me and you will die in your sin. Where I am going, you cannot come.

Joh 8:22 So the Jews said to one another, 'Is he going to kill himself, that he says, "Where I am going, you cannot come?"'

Joh 8:23 Jesus went on: You are from below; I am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world.

Joh 8:24 I have told you already: You will die in your sins. Yes, if you do not believe that I am He, you will die in your sins.

Joh 8:25 So they said to him, 'Who are you?' Jesus answered: What I have told you from the outset.

Joh 8:26 About you I have much to say and much to judge; but the one who sent me is true, and what I declare to the world I have learnt from him.

Joh 8:27 They did not recognise that he was talking to them about the Father.

Joh 8:28 So Jesus said: When you have lifted up the Son of man, then you will know that I am He and that I do nothing of my own accord. What I say is what the Father has taught me;

Joh 8:29 he who sent me is with me, and has not left me to myself, for I always do what pleases him.

Joh 8:30 As he was saying this, many came to believe in him.

Joh 8:31 To the Jews who believed in him Jesus said: If you make my word your home you will indeed be my disciples;

Joh 8:32 you will come to know the truth, and the truth will set you free.

Joh 8:33 They answered, 'We are descended from Abraham and we have never been the slaves of anyone; what do you mean, "You will be set free?" '

Joh 8:34 Jesus replied: In all truth I tell you, everyone who commits sin is a slave.

Joh 8:35 Now a slave has no permanent standing in the household, but a son belongs to it for ever.

Joh 8:36 So if the Son sets you free, you will indeed be free.

Joh 8:37 I know that you are descended from Abraham; but you want to kill me because my word finds no place in you.

Joh 8:38 What I speak of is what I have seen at my Father's side, and you too put into action the lessons you have learnt from your father.

Joh 8:39 They repeated, 'Our father is Abraham.' Jesus said to them: If you are Abraham's children, do as Abraham did.

Joh 8:40 As it is, you want to kill me, a man who has told you the truth as I have learnt it from God; that is not what Abraham did.

Joh 8:41 You are doing your father's work. They replied, 'We were not born illegitimate, the only father we have is God.'

Joh 8:42 Jesus answered: If God were your father, you would love me, since I have my origin in God and have come from him; I did not come of my own accord, but he sent me.

Joh 8:43 Why do you not understand what I say? Because you cannot bear to listen to my words.

Joh 8:44 You are from your father, the devil, and you prefer to do what your father wants. He was a murderer from the start; he was never grounded in the truth; there is no truth in him at all. When he lies he is speaking true to his nature, because he is a liar, and the father of lies.

Joh 8:45 But it is because I speak the truth that you do not believe me.

Joh 8:46 Can any of you convict me of sin? If I speak the truth, why do you not believe me?

Joh 8:47 Whoever comes from God listens to the words of God; the reason why you do not listen is that you are not from God.

Joh 8:48 The Jews replied, 'Are we not right in saying that you are a Samaritan and possessed by a devil?'

Jesus answered:

Joh 8:49 I am not possessed; but I honour my Father, and you deny me honour.

Joh 8:50 I do not seek my own glory; there is someone who does seek it and is the judge of it.

Joh 8:51 In all truth I tell you, whoever keeps my word will never see death.

Joh 8:52 The Jews said, 'Now we know that you are possessed. Abraham is dead, and the prophets are dead, and yet you say, "Whoever keeps my word will never know the taste of death."

Joh 8:53 Are you greater than our father Abraham, who is dead? The prophets are dead too. Who are you claiming to be?'

Joh 8:54 Jesus answered: If I were to seek my own glory my glory would be worth nothing; in fact, my glory is conferred by the Father, by the one of whom you say, 'He is our God.'

Joh 8:55 although you do not know him. But I know him, and if I were to say, 'I do not know him,' I should be a liar, as you yourselves are. But I do know him, and I keep his word.

Joh 8:56 Your father Abraham rejoiced to think that he would see my Day; he saw it and was glad.

Joh 8:57 The Jews then said, 'You are not fifty yet, and you have seen Abraham!'

Joh 8:58 Jesus replied: In all truth I tell you, before Abraham ever was, I am.

Joh 8:59 At this they picked up stones to throw at him; but Jesus hid himself and left the Temple.

Joh 9:1 As he went along, he saw a man who had been blind from birth.

Joh 9:2 His disciples asked him, 'Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he should have been born blind?'

Joh 9:3 'Neither he nor his parents sinned,' Jesus answered, 'he was born blind so that the works of God might be revealed in him.'

Joh 9:4 'As long as day lasts we must carry out the work of the one who sent me; the night will soon be here when no one can work.'

Joh 9:5 As long as I am in the world I am the light of the world.'

Joh 9:6 Having said this, he spat on the ground, made a paste with the spittle, put this over the eyes of the blind man,

Joh 9:7 and said to him, 'Go and wash in the Pool of Siloam' (the name means 'one who has been sent'). So he went off and washed and came back able to see.

Joh 9:8 His neighbours and the people who used to see him before (for he was a beggar) said, 'Isn't this the man who used to sit and beg?'

Joh 9:9 Some said, 'Yes, it is the same one.' Others said, 'No, but he looks just like him.' The man himself said,

'Yes, I am the one.'

Joh 9:10 So they said to him, 'Then how is it that your eyes were opened?'

Joh 9:11 He answered, 'The man called Jesus made a paste, daubed my eyes with it and said to me, "Go off and wash at Siloam"; so I went, and when I washed I gained my sight.'

Joh 9:12 They asked, 'Where is he?' He answered, 'I don't know.'

Joh 9:13 They brought to the Pharisees the man who had been blind.

Joh 9:14 It had been a Sabbath day when Jesus made the paste and opened the man's eyes,

Joh 9:15 so when the Pharisees asked him how he had gained his sight, he said, 'He put a paste on my eyes, and I washed, and I can see.'

Joh 9:16 Then some of the Pharisees said, 'That man cannot be from God: he does not keep the Sabbath.'

Others said, 'How can a sinner produce signs like this?' And there was division among them.

Joh 9:17 So they spoke to the blind man again, 'What have you to say about him yourself, now that he has opened your eyes?' The man answered, 'He is a prophet.'

Joh 9:18 However, the Jews would not believe that the man had been blind without first sending for the parents of the man who had gained his sight and

Joh 9:19 asking them, 'Is this man really the son of yours who you say was born blind? If so, how is it that he is now able to see?'

Joh 9:20 His parents answered, 'We know he is our son and we know he was born blind,

Joh 9:21 but how he can see, we don't know, nor who opened his eyes. Ask him. He is old enough: let him speak for himself.'

Joh 9:22 His parents spoke like this out of fear of the Jews, who had already agreed to ban from the synagogue anyone who should acknowledge Jesus as the Christ.

Joh 9:23 This was why his parents said, 'He is old enough; ask him.'

Joh 9:24 So the Jews sent for the man again and said to him, 'Give glory to God! We are satisfied that this man is a sinner.'

Joh 9:25 The man answered, 'Whether he is a sinner I don't know; all I know is that I was blind and now I can see.'

Joh 9:26 They said to him, 'What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?'

Joh 9:27 He replied, 'I have told you once and you wouldn't listen. Why do you want to hear it all again? Do you want to become his disciples yourselves?'

Joh 9:28 At this they hurled abuse at him, 'It is you who are his disciple, we are disciples of Moses:

Joh 9:29 we know that God spoke to Moses, but as for this man, we don't know where he comes from.'

Joh 9:30 The man replied, 'That is just what is so amazing! You don't know where he comes from and he has opened my eyes!

Joh 9:31 We know that God doesn't listen to sinners, but God does listen to people who are devout and do his will.

Joh 9:32 Ever since the world began it is unheard of for anyone to open the eyes of someone born blind;

Joh 9:33 if this man were not from God, he wouldn't have been able to do anything.'

Joh 9:34 They retorted, 'Are you trying to teach us, and you a sinner through and through ever since you were born!' And they ejected him.

Joh 9:35 Jesus heard they had ejected him, and when he found him he said to him, 'Do you believe in the Son of man?'

Joh 9:36 'Sir,' the man replied, 'tell me who he is so that I may believe in him.'

Joh 9:37 Jesus said, 'You have seen him; he is speaking to you.'

Joh 9:38 The man said, 'Lord, I believe,' and worshipped him.

Joh 9:39 Jesus said: It is for judgement that I have come into this world, so that those without sight may see and those with sight may become blind.

Joh 9:40 Hearing this, some Pharisees who were present said to him, 'So we are blind, are we?'

Joh 9:41 Jesus replied: If you were blind, you would not be guilty, but since you say, 'We can see,' your guilt remains.

Joh 10:1 'In all truth I tell you, anyone who does not enter the sheepfold through the gate, but climbs in some other way, is a thief and a bandit.

Joh 10:2 He who enters through the gate is the shepherd of the flock;

Joh 10:3 the gatekeeper lets him in, the sheep hear his voice, one by one he calls his own sheep and leads them out.

Joh 10:4 When he has brought out all those that are his, he goes ahead of them, and the sheep follow because they know his voice.

Joh 10:5 They will never follow a stranger, but will run away from him because they do not recognise the voice of strangers.'

Joh 10:6 Jesus told them this parable but they failed to understand what he was saying to them.

Joh 10:7 So Jesus spoke to them again: In all truth I tell you, I am the gate of the sheepfold.

Joh 10:8 All who have come before me are thieves and bandits, but the sheep took no notice of them.

Joh 10:9 I am the gate. Anyone who enters through me will be safe: such a one will go in and out and will find pasture.

Joh 10:10 The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy. I have come so that they may have life and have it to the full.

Joh 10:11 I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd lays down his life for his sheep.

Joh 10:12 The hired man, since he is not the shepherd and the sheep do not belong to him, abandons the sheep as soon as he sees a wolf coming, and runs away, and then the wolf attacks and scatters the sheep;

Joh 10:13 he runs away because he is only a hired man and has no concern for the sheep.

Joh 10:14 I am the good shepherd; I know my own and my own know me,

Joh 10:15 just as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for my sheep.

Joh 10:16 And there are other sheep I have that are not of this fold, and I must lead these too. They too will listen to my voice, and there will be only one flock, one shepherd.

Joh 10:17 The Father loves me, because I lay down my life in order to take it up again.

Joh 10:18 No one takes it from me; I lay it down of my own free will, and as I have power to lay it down, so I have power to take it up again; and this is the command I have received from my Father.

Joh 10:19 These words caused a fresh division among the Jews.

Joh 10:20 Many said, 'He is possessed, he is raving; why do you listen to him?'

Joh 10:21 Others said, 'These are not the words of a man possessed by a devil: could a devil open the eyes of the blind?'

Joh 10:22 It was the time of the feast of Dedication in Jerusalem. It was winter,

Joh 10:23 and Jesus was in the Temple walking up and down in the Portico of Solomon.

Joh 10:24 The Jews gathered round him and said, 'How much longer are you going to keep us in suspense? If you are the Christ, tell us openly.'

Joh 10:25 Jesus replied: I have told you, but you do not believe. The works I do in my Father's name are my witness;

Joh 10:26 but you do not believe, because you are no sheep of mine.

Joh 10:27 The sheep that belong to me listen to my voice; I know them and they follow me.

Joh 10:28 I give them eternal life; they will never be lost and no one will ever steal them from my hand.

Joh 10:29 The Father, for what he has given me, is greater than anyone, and no one can steal anything from the Father's hand.

Joh 10:30 The Father and I are one.

Joh 10:31 The Jews fetched stones to stone him,

Joh 10:32 so Jesus said to them, 'I have shown you many good works from my Father; for which of these are you stoning me?'

Joh 10:33 The Jews answered him, 'We are stoning you, not for doing a good work, but for blasphemy; though you are only a man, you claim to be God.'

Joh 10:34 Jesus answered: Is it not written in your Law: I said, you are gods?

Joh 10:35 So it uses the word 'gods' of those people to whom the word of God was addressed -- and scripture cannot be set aside.

Joh 10:36 Yet to someone whom the Father has consecrated and sent into the world you say, 'You are blaspheming' because I said, 'I am Son of God.'

Joh 10:37 If I am not doing my Father's work, there is no need to believe me;

Joh 10:38 but if I am doing it, then even if you refuse to believe in me, at least believe in the work I do; then you will know for certain that the Father is in me and I am in the Father.

Joh 10:39 They again wanted to arrest him then, but he eluded their clutches.

Joh 10:40 He went back again to the far side of the Jordan to the district where John had been baptising at first and he stayed there.

Joh 10:41 Many people who came to him said, 'John gave no signs, but all he said about this man was true';

Joh 10:42 and many of them believed in him.

Joh 11:1 There was a man named Lazarus of Bethany, the village of Mary and her sister, Martha, and he was ill.

Joh 11:2 It was the same Mary, the sister of the sick man Lazarus, who anointed the Lord with ointment and wiped his feet with her hair.

Joh 11:3 The sisters sent this message to Jesus, 'Lord, the man you love is ill.'

Joh 11:4 On receiving the message, Jesus said, 'This sickness will not end in death, but it is for God's glory so that through it the Son of God may be glorified.'

Joh 11:5 Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus,
Joh 11:6 yet when he heard that he was ill he stayed where he was for two more days
Joh 11:7 before saying to the disciples, 'Let us go back to Judaea.'
Joh 11:8 The disciples said, 'Rabbi, it is not long since the Jews were trying to stone you; are you going back there again?'
Joh 11:9 Jesus replied: Are there not twelve hours in the day? No one who walks in the daytime stumbles, having the light of this world to see by;
Joh 11:10 anyone who walks around at night stumbles, having no light as a guide.
Joh 11:11 He said that and then added, 'Our friend Lazarus is at rest; I am going to wake him.'
Joh 11:12 The disciples said to him, 'Lord, if he is at rest he will be saved.'
Joh 11:13 Jesus was speaking of the death of Lazarus, but they thought that by 'rest' he meant 'sleep';
Joh 11:14 so Jesus put it plainly, 'Lazarus is dead;
Joh 11:15 and for your sake I am glad I was not there because now you will believe. But let us go to him.'
Joh 11:16 Then Thomas -- known as the Twin -- said to the other disciples, 'Let us also go to die with him.'
Joh 11:17 On arriving, Jesus found that Lazarus had been in the tomb for four days already.
Joh 11:18 Bethany is only about two miles from Jerusalem,
Joh 11:19 and many Jews had come to Martha and Mary to comfort them about their brother.
Joh 11:20 When Martha heard that Jesus was coming she went to meet him. Mary remained sitting in the house.
Joh 11:21 Martha said to Jesus, 'Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died,
Joh 11:22 but even now I know that God will grant whatever you ask of him.'

Joh 11:23 Jesus said to her, 'Your brother will rise again.'

Joh 11:24 Martha said, 'I know he will rise again at the resurrection on the last day.'

Joh 11:25 Jesus said: I am the resurrection. Anyone who believes in me, even though that person dies, will live,
Joh 11:26 and whoever lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?

Joh 11:27 'Yes, Lord,' she said, 'I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, the one who was to come into this world.'

Joh 11:28 When she had said this, she went and called her sister Mary, saying in a low voice, 'The Master is here and wants to see you.'

Joh 11:29 Hearing this, Mary got up quickly and went to him.

Joh 11:30 Jesus had not yet come into the village; he was still at the place where Martha had met him.

Joh 11:31 When the Jews who were in the house comforting Mary saw her get up so quickly and go out, they followed her, thinking that she was going to the tomb to weep there.

Joh 11:32 Mary went to Jesus, and as soon as she saw him she threw herself at his feet, saying, 'Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died.'

Joh 11:33 At the sight of her tears, and those of the Jews who had come with her, Jesus was greatly distressed, and with a profound sigh he said,

Joh 11:34 'Where have you put him?' They said, 'Lord, come and see.'

Joh 11:35 Jesus wept;

Joh 11:36 and the Jews said, 'See how much he loved him!'

Joh 11:37 But there were some who remarked, 'He opened the eyes of the blind man. Could he not have prevented this man's death?'

Joh 11:38 Sighing again, Jesus reached the tomb: it was a cave with a stone to close the opening.

Joh 11:39 Jesus said, 'Take the stone away.' Martha, the dead man's sister, said to him, 'Lord, by now he will smell; this is the fourth day since he died.'

Joh 11:40 Jesus replied, 'Have I not told you that if you believe you will see the glory of God?'

Joh 11:41 So they took the stone away. Then Jesus lifted up his eyes and said: Father, I thank you for hearing my prayer.

Joh 11:42 I myself knew that you hear me always, but I speak for the sake of all these who are standing around me, so that they may believe it was you who sent me.

Joh 11:43 When he had said this, he cried in a loud voice, 'Lazarus, come out!'

Joh 11:44 The dead man came out, his feet and hands bound with strips of material, and a cloth over his face. Jesus said to them, 'Unbind him, let him go free.'

Joh 11:45 Many of the Jews who had come to visit Mary, and had seen what he did, believed in him,

Joh 11:46 but some of them went to the Pharisees to tell them what Jesus had done.

Joh 11:47 Then the chief priests and Pharisees called a meeting. 'Here is this man working all these signs,' they said, 'and what action are we taking?'

Joh 11:48 If we let him go on in this way everybody will believe in him, and the Romans will come and suppress the Holy Place and our nation.'

Joh 11:49 One of them, Caiaphas, the high priest that year, said, 'You do not seem to have grasped the situation at all;

Joh 11:50 you fail to see that it is to your advantage that one man should die for the people, rather than that the whole nation should perish.'

Joh 11:51 He did not speak in his own person, but as high priest of that year he was prophesying that Jesus was to die for the nation-

Joh 11:52 and not for the nation only, but also to gather together into one the scattered children of God.

Joh 11:53 From that day onwards they were determined to kill him.

Joh 11:54 So Jesus no longer went about openly among the Jews, but left the district for a town called Ephraim, in the country bordering on the desert, and stayed there with his disciples.

Joh 11:55 The Jewish Passover was drawing near, and many of the country people who had gone up to Jerusalem before the Passover to purify themselves

Joh 11:56 were looking out for Jesus, saying to one another as they stood about in the Temple, 'What do you think? Will he come to the festival or not?'

Joh 11:57 The chief priests and Pharisees had by now given their orders: anyone who knew where he was must inform them so that they could arrest him.

Joh 12:1 Six days before the Passover, Jesus went to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom he had raised from the dead.

Joh 12:2 They gave a dinner for him there; Martha waited on them and Lazarus was among those at table.

Joh 12:3 Mary brought in a pound of very costly ointment, pure nard, and with it anointed the feet of Jesus, wiping them with her hair; the house was filled with the scent of the ointment.

Joh 12:4 Then Judas Iscariot -- one of his disciples, the man who was to betray him--said,

Joh 12:5 'Why was this ointment not sold for three hundred denarii and the money given to the poor?'

Joh 12:6 He said this, not because he cared about the poor, but because he was a thief; he was in charge of the common fund and used to help himself to the contents.

Joh 12:7 So Jesus said, 'Leave her alone; let her keep it for the day of my burial.'

Joh 12:8 You have the poor with you always, you will not always have me.'

Joh 12:9 Meanwhile a large number of Jews heard that he was there and came not only on account of Jesus but also to see Lazarus whom he had raised from the dead.

Joh 12:10 Then the chief priests decided to kill Lazarus as well,

Joh 12:11 since it was on his account that many of the Jews were leaving them and believing in Jesus.

Joh 12:12 The next day the great crowd of people who had come up for the festival heard that Jesus was on his way to Jerusalem.

Joh 12:13 They took branches of palm and went out to receive him, shouting: 'Hosanna! Blessed is he who is coming in the name of the Lord, the king of Israel.'

Joh 12:14 Jesus found a young donkey and mounted it -- as scripture says:

Joh 12:15 Do not be afraid, daughter of Zion; look, your king is approaching, riding on the foal of a donkey.

Joh 12:16 At first his disciples did not understand this, but later, after Jesus had been glorified, they remembered that this had been written about him and that this was what had happened to him.

Joh 12:17 The crowd who had been with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb and raised him from the dead kept bearing witness to it;

Joh 12:18 this was another reason why the crowd came out to receive him: they had heard that he had given this sign.

Joh 12:19 Then the Pharisees said to one another, 'You see, you are making no progress; look, the whole world has gone after him!'

Joh 12:20 Among those who went up to worship at the festival were some Greeks.

Joh 12:21 These approached Philip, who came from Bethsaida in Galilee, and put this request to him, 'Sir, we should like to see Jesus.'

Joh 12:22 Philip went to tell Andrew, and Andrew and Philip together went to tell Jesus.

Joh 12:23 Jesus replied to them: Now the hour has come for the Son of man to be glorified.

Joh 12:24 In all truth I tell you, unless a wheat grain falls into the earth and dies, it remains only a single grain; but if it dies it yields a rich harvest.

Joh 12:25 Anyone who loves his life loses it; anyone who hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life.

Joh 12:26 Whoever serves me, must follow me, and my servant will be with me wherever I am. If anyone serves me, my Father will honour him.

Joh 12:27 Now my soul is troubled. What shall I say: Father, save me from this hour? But it is for this very reason that I have come to this hour.

Joh 12:28 Father, glorify your name! A voice came from heaven, 'I have glorified it, and I will again glorify it.'

Joh 12:29 The crowd standing by, who heard this, said it was a clap of thunder; others said, 'It was an angel speaking to him.'

Joh 12:30 Jesus answered, 'It was not for my sake that this voice came, but for yours.

Joh 12:31 'Now sentence is being passed on this world; now the prince of this world is to be driven out.

Joh 12:32 And when I am lifted up from the earth, I shall draw all people to myself.'

Joh 12:33 By these words he indicated the kind of death he would die.

Joh 12:34 The crowd answered, 'The Law has taught us that the Christ will remain for ever. So how can you say, "The Son of man must be lifted up"? Who is this Son of man?'

Joh 12:35 Jesus then said: The light will be with you only a little longer now. Go on your way while you have the light, or darkness will overtake you, and nobody who walks in the dark knows where he is going.

Joh 12:36 While you still have the light, believe in the light so that you may become children of light. Having said this, Jesus left them and was hidden from their sight.

Joh 12:37 Though they had been present when he gave so many signs, they did not believe in him;

Joh 12:38 this was to fulfil the words of the prophet Isaiah: Lord, who has given credence to what they have heard from us, and who has seen in it a revelation of the Lord's arm?

Joh 12:39 Indeed, they were unable to believe because, as Isaiah says again:

Joh 12:40 He has blinded their eyes, he has hardened their heart, to prevent them from using their eyes to see, using their heart to understand, changing their ways and being healed by me.

Joh 12:41 Isaiah said this because he saw his glory, and his words referred to Jesus.

Joh 12:42 And yet there were many who did believe in him, even among the leading men, but they did not admit it, because of the Pharisees and for fear of being banned from the synagogue:

Joh 12:43 they put human glory before God's glory.

Joh 12:44 Jesus declared publicly: Whoever believes in me believes not in me but in the one who sent me,

Joh 12:45 and whoever sees me, sees the one who sent me.

Joh 12:46 I have come into the world as light, to prevent anyone who believes in me from staying in the dark any more.

Joh 12:47 If anyone hears my words and does not keep them faithfully, it is not I who shall judge such a person, since I have come not to judge the world, but to save the world:

Joh 12:48 anyone who rejects me and refuses my words has his judge already: the word itself that I have spoken will be his judge on the last day.

Joh 12:49 For I have not spoken of my own accord; but the Father who sent me commanded me what to say and what to speak,

Joh 12:50 and I know that his commands mean eternal life. And therefore what the Father has told me is what I speak.

Joh 13:1 Before the festival of the Passover, Jesus, knowing that his hour had come to pass from this world to the Father, having loved those who were his in the world, loved them to the end.

Joh 13:2 They were at supper, and the devil had already put it into the mind of Judas Iscariot son of Simon, to betray him.

Joh 13:3 Jesus knew that the Father had put everything into his hands, and that he had come from God and was returning to God,

Joh 13:4 and he got up from table, removed his outer garments and, taking a towel, wrapped it round his waist;

Joh 13:5 he then poured water into a basin and began to wash the disciples' feet and to wipe them with the towel he was wearing.

Joh 13:6 He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, 'Lord, are you going to wash my feet?'

Joh 13:7 Jesus answered, 'At the moment you do not know what I am doing, but later you will understand.'

Joh 13:8 'Never!' said Peter. 'You shall never wash my feet.' Jesus replied, 'If I do not wash you, you can have no share with me.' Simon Peter said,

Joh 13:9 'Well then, Lord, not only my feet, but my hands and my head as well!'

Joh 13:10 Jesus said, 'No one who has had a bath needs washing, such a person is clean all over. You too are clean, though not all of you are.'

Joh 13:11 He knew who was going to betray him, and that was why he said, 'though not all of you are'.

Joh 13:12 When he had washed their feet and put on his outer garments again he went back to the table. 'Do you understand', he said, 'what I have done to you?'

Joh 13:13 You call me Master and Lord, and rightly; so I am.

Joh 13:14 If I, then, the Lord and Master, have washed your feet, you must wash each other's feet.

Joh 13:15 I have given you an example so that you may copy what I have done to you.

Joh 13:16 'In all truth I tell you, no servant is greater than his master, no messenger is greater than the one who sent him.

Joh 13:17 'Now that you know this, blessed are you if you behave accordingly.'

Joh 13:18 I am not speaking about all of you: I know the ones I have chosen; but what scripture says must be fulfilled: 'He who shares my table takes advantage of me.

Joh 13:19 I tell you this now, before it happens, so that when it does happen you may believe that I am He.

Joh 13:20 In all truth I tell you, whoever welcomes the one I send, welcomes me, and whoever welcomes me, welcomes the one who sent me.'

Joh 13:21 Having said this, Jesus was deeply disturbed and declared, 'In all truth I tell you, one of you is going to betray me.'

Joh 13:22 The disciples looked at each other, wondering whom he meant.

Joh 13:23 The disciple Jesus loved was reclining next to Jesus;

Joh 13:24 Simon Peter signed to him and said, 'Ask who it is he means.'

Joh 13:25 so leaning back close to Jesus' chest he said, 'Who is it, Lord?'

Joh 13:26 Jesus answered, 'It is the one to whom I give the piece of bread that I dip in the dish.' And when he had dipped the piece of bread he gave it to Judas son of Simon Iscariot.

Joh 13:27 At that instant, after Judas had taken the bread, Satan entered him. Jesus then said, 'What you are going to do, do quickly.'

Joh 13:28 None of the others at table understood why he said this.

Joh 13:29 Since Judas had charge of the common fund, some of them thought Jesus was telling him, 'Buy what we need for the festival,' or telling him to give something to the poor.

Joh 13:30 As soon as Judas had taken the piece of bread he went out. It was night.

Joh 13:31 When he had gone, Jesus said: Now has the Son of man been glorified, and in him God has been glorified.

Joh 13:32 If God has been glorified in him, God will in turn glorify him in himself, and will glorify him very soon.

Joh 13:33 Little children, I shall be with you only a little longer. You will look for me, and, as I told the Jews, where I am going, you cannot come.

Joh 13:34 I give you a new commandment: love one another; you must love one another just as I have loved you.

Joh 13:35 It is by your love for one another, that everyone will recognise you as my disciples.

Joh 13:36 Simon Peter said, 'Lord, where are you going?' Jesus replied, 'Now you cannot follow me where I am going, but later you shall follow me.'

Joh 13:37 Peter said to him, 'Why can I not follow you now? I will lay down my life for you.'

Joh 13:38 'Lay down your life for me?' answered Jesus. 'In all truth I tell you, before the cock crows you will have disowned me three times.'

Joh 14:1 Do not let your hearts be troubled. You trust in God, trust also in me.

Joh 14:2 In my Father's house there are many places to live in; otherwise I would have told you. I am going now to prepare a place for you,

Joh 14:3 and after I have gone and prepared you a place, I shall return to take you to myself, so that you may be with me where I am.

Joh 14:4 You know the way to the place where I am going.

Joh 14:5 Thomas said, 'Lord, we do not know where you are going, so how can we know the way?'

Joh 14:6 Jesus said: I am the Way; I am Truth and Life. No one can come to the Father except through me.

Joh 14:7 If you know me, you will know my Father too. From this moment you know him and have seen him.

Joh 14:8 Philip said, 'Lord, show us the Father and then we shall be satisfied.' Jesus said to him,

Joh 14:9 'Have I been with you all this time, Philip, and you still do not know me? Anyone who has seen me has seen the Father, so how can you say, "Show us the Father"?

Joh 14:10 Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father is in me? What I say to you I do not speak of my own accord: it is the Father, living in me, who is doing his works.

Joh 14:11 You must believe me when I say that I am in the Father and the Father is in me; or at least believe it on the evidence of these works.

Joh 14:12 In all truth I tell you, whoever believes in me will perform the same works as I do myself, and will perform even greater works, because I am going to the Father.

Joh 14:13 Whatever you ask in my name I will do, so that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

Joh 14:14 If you ask me anything in my name, I will do it.

Joh 14:15 If you love me you will keep my commandments.

Joh 14:16 I shall ask the Father, and he will give you another Paraclete to be with you for ever,

Joh 14:17 the Spirit of truth whom the world can never accept since it neither sees nor knows him; but you know him, because he is with you, he is in you.

Joh 14:18 I shall not leave you orphans; I shall come to you.

Joh 14:19 In a short time the world will no longer see me; but you will see that I live and you also will live.

Joh 14:20 On that day you will know that I am in my Father and you in me and I in you.

Joh 14:21 Whoever holds to my commandments and keeps them is the one who loves me; and whoever loves me will be loved by my Father, and I shall love him and reveal myself to him.'

Joh 14:22 Judas -- not Judas Iscariot -- said to him, 'Lord, what has happened, that you intend to show yourself to us and not to the world?'

Joh 14:23 Jesus replied: Anyone who loves me will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we shall come to him and make a home in him.

Joh 14:24 Anyone who does not love me does not keep my words. And the word that you hear is not my own: it is the word of the Father who sent me.

Joh 14:25 I have said these things to you while still with you;

Joh 14:26 but the Paraclete, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all I have said to you.

Joh 14:27 Peace I bequeath to you, my own peace I give you, a peace which the world cannot give, this is my gift to you. Do not let your hearts be troubled or afraid.

Joh 14:28 You heard me say: I am going away and shall return. If you loved me you would be glad that I am going to the Father, for the Father is greater than I.

Joh 14:29 I have told you this now, before it happens, so that when it does happen you may believe.

Joh 14:30 I shall not talk to you much longer, because the prince of this world is on his way. He has no power over me,

Joh 14:31 but the world must recognise that I love the Father and that I act just as the Father commanded. Come now, let us go.

Joh 15:1 I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser.

Joh 15:2 Every branch in me that bears no fruit he cuts away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes to make it bear even more.

Joh 15:3 You are clean already, by means of the word that I have spoken to you.

Joh 15:4 Remain in me, as I in you. As a branch cannot bear fruit all by itself, unless it remains part of the vine, neither can you unless you remain in me.

Joh 15:5 I am the vine, you are the branches. Whoever remains in me, with me in him, bears fruit in plenty; for cut off from me you can do nothing.

Joh 15:6 Anyone who does not remain in me is thrown away like a branch -- and withers; these branches are collected and thrown on the fire and are burnt.

Joh 15:7 If you remain in me and my words remain in you, you may ask for whatever you please and you will get it.

Joh 15:8 It is to the glory of my Father that you should bear much fruit and be my disciples.

Joh 15:9 I have loved you just as the Father has loved me. Remain in my love.

Joh 15:10 If you keep my commandments you will remain in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and remain in his love.

Joh 15:11 I have told you this so that my own joy may be in you and your joy be complete.

Joh 15:12 This is my commandment: love one another, as I have loved you.

Joh 15:13 No one can have greater love than to lay down his life for his friends.

Joh 15:14 You are my friends, if you do what I command you.

Joh 15:15 I shall no longer call you servants, because a servant does not know the master's business; I call you friends, because I have made known to you everything I have learnt from my Father.

Joh 15:16 You did not choose me, no, I chose you; and I commissioned you to go out and to bear fruit, fruit that will last; so that the Father will give you anything you ask him in my name.

Joh 15:17 My command to you is to love one another.

Joh 15:18 If the world hates you, you must realise that it hated me before it hated you.

Joh 15:19 If you belonged to the world, the world would love you as its own; but because you do not belong to the world, because my choice of you has drawn you out of the world, that is why the world hates you.

Joh 15:20 Remember the words I said to you: A servant is not greater than his master. If they persecuted me, they will persecute you too; if they kept my word, they will keep yours as well.

Joh 15:21 But it will be on my account that they will do all this to you, because they do not know the one who sent me.

Joh 15:22 If I had not come, if I had not spoken to them, they would have been blameless; but as it is they have no excuse for their sin.

Joh 15:23 Anyone who hates me hates my Father.

Joh 15:24 If I had not performed such works among them as no one else has ever done, they would be blameless; but as it is, in spite of what they have seen, they hate both me and my Father.

Joh 15:25 But all this was only to fulfil the words written in their Law: They hated me without reason.

Joh 15:26 When the Paraclete comes, whom I shall send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth who issues from the Father, he will be my witness.

Joh 15:27 And you too will be witnesses, because you have been with me from the beginning.

Joh 16:1 I have told you all this so that you may not fall away.

Joh 16:2 They will expel you from the synagogues, and indeed the time is coming when anyone who kills you will think he is doing a holy service to God.

Joh 16:3 They will do these things because they have never known either the Father or me.

Joh 16:4 But I have told you all this, so that when the time for it comes you may remember that I told you. I did not tell you this from the beginning, because I was with you;

Joh 16:5 but now I am going to the one who sent me. Not one of you asks, 'Where are you going?'

Joh 16:6 Yet you are sad at heart because I have told you this.

Joh 16:7 Still, I am telling you the truth: it is for your own good that I am going, because unless I go, the Paraclete will not come to you; but if I go, I will send him to you.

Joh 16:8 And when he comes, he will show the world how wrong it was, about sin, and about who was in the right, and about judgement:

Joh 16:9 about sin: in that they refuse to believe in me;

Joh 16:10 about who was in the right: in that I am going to the Father and you will see me no more;

Joh 16:11 about judgement: in that the prince of this world is already condemned.

Joh 16:12 I still have many things to say to you but they would be too much for you to bear now.

Joh 16:13 However, when the Spirit of truth comes he will lead you to the complete truth, since he will not be speaking of his own accord, but will say only what he has been told; and he will reveal to you the things to come.

Joh 16:14 He will glorify me, since all he reveals to you will be taken from what is mine.

Joh 16:15 Everything the Father has is mine; that is why I said: all he reveals to you will be taken from what is mine.

Joh 16:16 In a short time you will no longer see me, and then a short time later you will see me again.

Joh 16:17 Then some of his disciples said to one another, 'What does he mean, "In a short time you will no longer see me, and then a short time later you will see me again," and, "I am going to the Father"?'

Joh 16:18 What is this "short time"? We don't know what he means.'

Joh 16:19 Jesus knew that they wanted to question him, so he said, 'You are asking one another what I meant by saying, "In a short time you will no longer see me, and then a short time later you will see me again."

Joh 16:20 'In all truth I tell you, you will be weeping and wailing while the world will rejoice; you will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will turn to joy.

Joh 16:21 A woman in childbirth suffers, because her time has come; but when she has given birth to the child she forgets the suffering in her joy that a human being has been born into the world.

Joh 16:22 So it is with you: you are sad now, but I shall see you again, and your hearts will be full of joy, and that joy no one shall take from you.

Joh 16:23 When that day comes, you will not ask me any questions. In all truth I tell you, anything you ask from the Father he will grant in my name.

Joh 16:24 Until now you have not asked anything in my name. Ask and you will receive, and so your joy will be complete.

Joh 16:25 I have been telling you these things in veiled language. The hour is coming when I shall no longer speak to you in veiled language but tell you about the Father in plain words.

Joh 16:26 When that day comes you will ask in my name; and I do not say that I shall pray to the Father for you,

Joh 16:27 because the Father himself loves you for loving me, and believing that I came from God.

Joh 16:28 I came from the Father and have come into the world and now I am leaving the world to go to the Father.'

Joh 16:29 His disciples said, 'Now you are speaking plainly and not using veiled language.

Joh 16:30 Now we see that you know everything and need not wait for questions to be put into words; because of this we believe that you came from God.'

Joh 16:31 Jesus answered them: Do you believe at last?

Joh 16:32 Listen; the time will come -- indeed it has come already -- when you are going to be scattered, each going his own way and leaving me alone. And yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

Joh 16:33 I have told you all this so that you may find peace in me. In the world you will have hardship, but be courageous: I have conquered the world.

Joh 17:1 After saying this, Jesus raised his eyes to heaven and said: Father, the hour has come: glorify your Son so that your Son may glorify you;

Joh 17:2 so that, just as you have given him power over all humanity, he may give eternal life to all those you have entrusted to him.

Joh 17:3 And eternal life is this: to know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent.

Joh 17:4 I have glorified you on earth by finishing the work that you gave me to do.

Joh 17:5 Now, Father, glorify me with that glory I had with you before ever the world existed.

Joh 17:6 I have revealed your name to those whom you took from the world to give me. They were yours and you gave them to me, and they have kept your word.

Joh 17:7 Now at last they have recognised that all you have given me comes from you

Joh 17:8 for I have given them the teaching you gave to me, and they have indeed accepted it and know for certain that I came from you, and have believed that it was you who sent me.

Joh 17:9 It is for them that I pray. I am not praying for the world but for those you have given me, because they belong to you.

Joh 17:10 All I have is yours and all you have is mine, and in them I am glorified.

Joh 17:11 I am no longer in the world, but they are in the world, and I am coming to you. Holy Father, keep those you have given me true to your name, so that they may be one like us.

Joh 17:12 While I was with them, I kept those you had given me true to your name. I have watched over them and not one is lost except one who was destined to be lost, and this was to fulfil the scriptures.

Joh 17:13 But now I am coming to you and I say these things in the world to share my joy with them to the full.

Joh 17:14 I passed your word on to them, and the world hated them, because they belong to the world no more than I belong to the world.

Joh 17:15 I am not asking you to remove them from the world, but to protect them from the Evil One.

Joh 17:16 They do not belong to the world any more than I belong to the world.

Joh 17:17 Consecrate them in the truth; your word is truth.

Joh 17:18 As you sent me into the world, I have sent them into the world,

Joh 17:19 and for their sake I consecrate myself so that they too may be consecrated in truth.

Joh 17:20 I pray not only for these but also for those who through their teaching will come to believe in me.

Joh 17:21 May they all be one, just as, Father, you are in me and I am in you, so that they also may be in us, so that the world may believe it was you who sent me.

Joh 17:22 I have given them the glory you gave to me, that they may be one as we are one.

Joh 17:23 With me in them and you in me, may they be so perfected in unity that the world will recognise that it was you who sent me and that you have loved them as you have loved me.

Joh 17:24 Father, I want those you have given me to be with me where I am, so that they may always see my glory which you have given me because you loved me before the foundation of the world.

Joh 17:25 Father, Upright One, the world has not known you, but I have known you, and these have known that you have sent me.

Joh 17:26 I have made your name known to them and will continue to make it known, so that the love with which you loved me may be in them, and so that I may be in them.

Joh 18:1 After he had said all this, Jesus left with his disciples and crossed the Kidron valley where there was a garden into which he went with his disciples.

Joh 18:2 Judas the traitor knew the place also, since Jesus had often met his disciples there,

Joh 18:3 so Judas brought the cohort to this place together with guards sent by the chief priests and the Pharisees, all with lanterns and torches and weapons.

Joh 18:4 Knowing everything that was to happen to him, Jesus came forward and said, 'Who are you looking for?'

Joh 18:5 They answered, 'Jesus the Nazarene.' He said, 'I am he.' Now Judas the traitor was standing among them.

Joh 18:6 When Jesus said to them, 'I am he,' they moved back and fell on the ground.

Joh 18:7 He asked them a second time, 'Who are you looking for?' They said, 'Jesus the Nazarene.'

Joh 18:8 Jesus replied, 'I have told you that I am he. If I am the one you are looking for, let these others go.'

Joh 18:9 This was to fulfil the words he had spoken, 'Not one of those you gave me have I lost.'

Joh 18:10 Simon Peter, who had a sword, drew it and struck the high priest's servant, cutting off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus.

Joh 18:11 Jesus said to Peter, 'Put your sword back in its scabbard; am I not to drink the cup that the Father has given me?'

Joh 18:12 The cohort and its tribune and the Jewish guards seized Jesus and bound him.

Joh 18:13 They took him first to Annas, because Annas was the father-in-law of Caiaphas, who was high priest that year.

Joh 18:14 It was Caiaphas who had counselled the Jews, 'It is better for one man to die for the people.'

Joh 18:15 Simon Peter, with another disciple, followed Jesus. This disciple, who was known to the high priest, went with Jesus into the high priest's palace,

Joh 18:16 but Peter stayed outside the door. So the other disciple, the one known to the high priest, went out, spoke to the door-keeper and brought Peter in.

Joh 18:17 The girl on duty at the door said to Peter, 'Aren't you another of that man's disciples?' He answered, 'I am not.'

Joh 18:18 Now it was cold, and the servants and guards had lit a charcoal fire and were standing there warming themselves; so Peter stood there too, warming himself with the others.

Joh 18:19 The high priest questioned Jesus about his disciples and his teaching.

Joh 18:20 Jesus answered, 'I have spoken openly for all the world to hear; I have always taught in the synagogue and in the Temple where all the Jews meet together; I have said nothing in secret.'

Joh 18:21 Why ask me? Ask my hearers what I taught; they know what I said.'

Joh 18:22 At these words, one of the guards standing by gave Jesus a slap in the face, saying, 'Is that the way you answer the high priest?'

Joh 18:23 Jesus replied, 'If there is some offence in what I said, point it out; but if not, why do you strike me?'

Joh 18:24 Then Annas sent him, bound, to Caiaphas the high priest.

Joh 18:25 As Simon Peter stood there warming himself, someone said to him, 'Aren't you another of his disciples?' He denied it saying, 'I am not.'

Joh 18:26 One of the high priest's servants, a relation of the man whose ear Peter had cut off, said, 'Didn't I see you in the garden with him?'

Joh 18:27 Again Peter denied it; and at once a cock crowed.

Joh 18:28 They then led Jesus from the house of Caiaphas to the Praetorium. It was now morning. They did not go into the Praetorium themselves to avoid becoming defiled and unable to eat the Passover.

Joh 18:29 So Pilate came outside to them and said, 'What charge do you bring against this man?' They replied,

Joh 18:30 'If he were not a criminal, we should not have handed him over to you.'

Joh 18:31 Pilate said, 'Take him yourselves, and try him by your own Law.' The Jews answered, 'We are not allowed to put anyone to death.'

Joh 18:32 This was to fulfil the words Jesus had spoken indicating the way he was going to die.

Joh 18:33 So Pilate went back into the Praetorium and called Jesus to him and asked him, 'Are you the king of the Jews?'

Joh 18:34 Jesus replied, 'Do you ask this of your own accord, or have others said it to you about me?'

Joh 18:35 Pilate answered, 'Am I a Jew? It is your own people and the chief priests who have handed you over to me: what have you done?'

Joh 18:36 Jesus replied, 'Mine is not a kingdom of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, my men would have fought to prevent my being surrendered to the Jews. As it is, my kingdom does not belong here.'

Joh 18:37 Pilate said, 'So, then you are a king?' Jesus answered, 'It is you who say that I am a king. I was born for this, I came into the world for this, to bear witness to the truth; and all who are on the side of truth listen to my voice.'

Joh 18:38 'Truth?' said Pilate. 'What is that?' And so saying he went out again to the Jews and said, 'I find no case against him.'

Joh 18:39 But according to a custom of yours I should release one prisoner at the Passover; would you like me, then, to release for you the king of the Jews?'

Joh 18:40 At this they shouted, 'Not this man,' they said, 'but Barabbas.' Barabbas was a bandit.

Joh 19:1 Pilate then had Jesus taken away and scourged;

Joh 19:2 and after this, the soldiers twisted some thorns into a crown and put it on his head and dressed him in a purple robe.

Joh 19:3 They kept coming up to him and saying, 'Hail, king of the Jews!' and slapping him in the face.

Joh 19:4 Pilate came outside again and said to them, 'Look, I am going to bring him out to you to let you see that I find no case against him.'

Joh 19:5 Jesus then came out wearing the crown of thorns and the purple robe. Pilate said, 'Here is the man.'

Joh 19:6 When they saw him, the chief priests and the guards shouted, 'Crucify him! Crucify him!' Pilate said, 'Take him yourselves and crucify him: I find no case against him.'

Joh 19:7 The Jews replied, 'We have a Law, and according to that Law he ought to be put to death, because he has claimed to be Son of God.'

Joh 19:8 When Pilate heard them say this his fears increased.

Joh 19:9 Re-entering the Praetorium, he said to Jesus, 'Where do you come from?' But Jesus made no answer.

Joh 19:10 Pilate then said to him, 'Are you refusing to speak to me? Surely you know I have power to release you and I have power to crucify you?'

Joh 19:11 Jesus replied, 'You would have no power over me at all if it had not been given you from above; that is why the man who handed me over to you has the greater guilt.'

Joh 19:12 From that moment Pilate was anxious to set him free, but the Jews shouted, 'If you set him free you are no friend of Caesar's; anyone who makes himself king is defying Caesar.'

Joh 19:13 Hearing these words, Pilate had Jesus brought out, and seated him on the chair of judgement at a place called the Pavement, in Hebrew Gabbatha.

Joh 19:14 It was the Day of Preparation, about the sixth hour. 'Here is your king,' said Pilate to the Jews.

Joh 19:15 But they shouted, 'Away with him, away with him, crucify him.' Pilate said, 'Shall I crucify your king?' The chief priests answered, 'We have no king except Caesar.'

Joh 19:16 So at that Pilate handed him over to them to be crucified. They then took charge of Jesus,

Joh 19:17 and carrying his own cross he went out to the Place of the Skull or, as it is called in Hebrew, Golgotha,

Joh 19:18 where they crucified him with two others, one on either side, Jesus being in the middle.

Joh 19:19 Pilate wrote out a notice and had it fixed to the cross; it ran: 'Jesus the Nazarene, King of the Jews'.

Joh 19:20 This notice was read by many of the Jews, because the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city, and the writing was in Hebrew, Latin and Greek.

Joh 19:21 So the Jewish chief priests said to Pilate, 'You should not write "King of the Jews", but that the man said, "I am King of the Jews".'

Joh 19:22 Pilate answered, 'What I have written, I have written.'

Joh 19:23 When the soldiers had finished crucifying Jesus they took his clothing and divided it into four shares, one for each soldier. His undergarment was seamless, woven in one piece from neck to hem;

Joh 19:24 so they said to one another, 'Instead of tearing it, let's throw dice to decide who is to have it.' In this way the words of scripture were fulfilled: They divide my garments among them and cast lots for my clothes. That is what the soldiers did.

Joh 19:25 Near the cross of Jesus stood his mother and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary of Magdala.

Joh 19:26 Seeing his mother and the disciple whom he loved standing near her, Jesus said to his mother, 'Woman, this is your son.'

Joh 19:27 Then to the disciple he said, 'This is your mother.' And from that hour the disciple took her into his home.

Joh 19:28 After this, Jesus knew that everything had now been completed and, so that the scripture should be completely fulfilled, he said: I am thirsty.

Joh 19:29 A jar full of sour wine stood there; so, putting a sponge soaked in the wine on a hyssop stick, they held it up to his mouth.

Joh 19:30 After Jesus had taken the wine he said, 'It is fulfilled'; and bowing his head he gave up his spirit.

Joh 19:31 It was the Day of Preparation, and to avoid the bodies' remaining on the cross during the Sabbath -- since that Sabbath was a day of special solemnity -- the Jews asked Pilate to have the legs broken and the bodies taken away.

Joh 19:32 Consequently the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first man who had been crucified with him and then of the other.

Joh 19:33 When they came to Jesus, they saw he was already dead, and so instead of breaking his legs

Joh 19:34 one of the soldiers pierced his side with a lance; and immediately there came out blood and water.

Joh 19:35 This is the evidence of one who saw it -- true evidence, and he knows that what he says is true -- and he gives it so that you may believe as well.

Joh 19:36 Because all this happened to fulfil the words of scripture: Not one bone of his will be broken;

Joh 19:37 and again, in another place scripture says: They will look to the one whom they have pierced.

Joh 19:38 After this, Joseph of Arimathaea, who was a disciple of Jesus -- though a secret one because he was afraid of the Jews -- asked Pilate to let him remove the body of Jesus. Pilate gave permission, so they came and took it away.

Joh 19:39 Nicodemus came as well -- the same one who had first come to Jesus at night-time -- and he brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, weighing about a hundred pounds.

Joh 19:40 They took the body of Jesus and bound it in linen cloths with the spices, following the Jewish burial custom.

Joh 19:41 At the place where he had been crucified there was a garden, and in this garden a new tomb in which no one had yet been buried.

Joh 19:42 Since it was the Jewish Day of Preparation and the tomb was nearby, they laid Jesus there.

Joh 20:1 It was very early on the first day of the week and still dark, when Mary of Magdala came to the tomb. She saw that the stone had been moved away from the tomb

Joh 20:2 and came running to Simon Peter and the other disciple, the one whom Jesus loved. 'They have taken the Lord out of the tomb,' she said, 'and we don't know where they have put him.'

Joh 20:3 So Peter set out with the other disciple to go to the tomb.

Joh 20:4 They ran together, but the other disciple, running faster than Peter, reached the tomb first;

Joh 20:5 he bent down and saw the linen cloths lying on the ground, but did not go in.

Joh 20:6 Simon Peter, following him, also came up, went into the tomb, saw the linen cloths lying on the ground

Joh 20:7 and also the cloth that had been over his head; this was not with the linen cloths but rolled up in a place by itself.

Joh 20:8 Then the other disciple who had reached the tomb first also went in; he saw and he believed.

Joh 20:9 Till this moment they had still not understood the scripture, that he must rise from the dead.

Joh 20:10 The disciples then went back home.

Joh 20:11 But Mary was standing outside near the tomb, weeping. Then, as she wept, she stooped to look inside,

Joh 20:12 and saw two angels in white sitting where the body of Jesus had been, one at the head, the other at the feet.

Joh 20:13 They said, 'Woman, why are you weeping?' 'They have taken my Lord away,' she replied, 'and I don't know where they have put him.'

Joh 20:14 As she said this she turned round and saw Jesus standing there, though she did not realise that it was Jesus.

Joh 20:15 Jesus said to her, 'Woman, why are you weeping? Who are you looking for?' Supposing him to be the gardener, she said, 'Sir, if you have taken him away, tell me where you have put him, and I will go and remove him.'

Joh 20:16 Jesus said, 'Mary!' She turned round then and said to him in Hebrew, 'Rabbuni!' -- which means Master.

Joh 20:17 Jesus said to her, 'Do not cling to me, because I have not yet ascended to the Father. But go to the brothers, and tell them: I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God.'

Joh 20:18 So Mary of Magdala told the disciples, 'I have seen the Lord,' and that he had said these things to her.

Joh 20:19 In the evening of that same day, the first day of the week, the doors were closed in the room where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews. Jesus came and stood among them. He said to them, 'Peace be with you.'

Joh 20:20 and, after saying this, he showed them his hands and his side. The disciples were filled with joy at seeing the Lord,

Joh 20:21 and he said to them again, 'Peace be with you. As the Father sent me, so am I sending you.'

Joh 20:22 After saying this he breathed on them and said: Receive the Holy Spirit.

Joh 20:23 If you forgive anyone's sins, they are forgiven; if you retain anyone's sins, they are retained.

Joh 20:24 Thomas, called the Twin, who was one of the Twelve, was not with them when Jesus came.

Joh 20:25 So the other disciples said to him, 'We have seen the Lord,' but he answered, 'Unless I can see the holes that the nails made in his hands and can put my finger into the holes they made, and unless I can put my hand into his side, I refuse to believe.'

Joh 20:26 Eight days later the disciples were in the house again and Thomas was with them. The doors were closed, but Jesus came in and stood among them. 'Peace be with you,' he said.

Joh 20:27 Then he spoke to Thomas, 'Put your finger here; look, here are my hands. Give me your hand; put it into my side. Do not be unbelieving any more but believe.'

Joh 20:28 Thomas replied, 'My Lord and my God!'

Joh 20:29 Jesus said to him: You believe because you can see me. Blessed are those who have not seen and yet believe.

Joh 20:30 There were many other signs that Jesus worked in the sight of the disciples, but they are not recorded in this book.

Joh 20:31 These are recorded so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing this you may have life through his name.

Joh 21:1 Later on, Jesus revealed himself again to the disciples. It was by the Sea of Tiberias, and it happened like this:

Joh 21:2 Simon Peter, Thomas called the Twin, Nathanael from Cana in Galilee, the sons of Zebedee and two more of his disciples were together.

Joh 21:3 Simon Peter said, 'I'm going fishing.' They replied, 'We'll come with you.' They went out and got into the boat but caught nothing that night.

Joh 21:4 When it was already light, there stood Jesus on the shore, though the disciples did not realise that it was Jesus.

Joh 21:5 Jesus called out, 'Haven't you caught anything, friends?' And when they answered, 'No,'

Joh 21:6 he said, 'Throw the net out to starboard and you'll find something.' So they threw the net out and could not haul it in because of the quantity of fish.

Joh 21:7 The disciple whom Jesus loved said to Peter, 'It is the Lord.' At these words, 'It is the Lord,' Simon Peter tied his outer garment round him (for he had nothing on) and jumped into the water.

Joh 21:8 The other disciples came on in the boat, towing the net with the fish; they were only about a hundred yards from land.

Joh 21:9 As soon as they came ashore they saw that there was some bread there and a charcoal fire with fish cooking on it.

Joh 21:10 Jesus said, 'Bring some of the fish you have just caught.'

Joh 21:11 Simon Peter went aboard and dragged the net ashore, full of big fish, one hundred and fifty-three of them; and in spite of there being so many the net was not broken.

Joh 21:12 Jesus said to them, 'Come and have breakfast.' None of the disciples was bold enough to ask, 'Who are you?'. They knew quite well it was the Lord.

Joh 21:13 Jesus then stepped forward, took the bread and gave it to them, and the same with the fish.

Joh 21:14 This was the third time that Jesus revealed himself to the disciples after rising from the dead.

Joh 21:15 When they had eaten, Jesus said to Simon Peter, 'Simon son of John, do you love me more than these others do?' He answered, 'Yes, Lord, you know I love you.' Jesus said to him, 'Feed my lambs.'

Joh 21:16 A second time he said to him, 'Simon son of John, do you love me?' He replied, 'Yes, Lord, you know I love you.' Jesus said to him, 'Look after my sheep.'

Joh 21:17 Then he said to him a third time, 'Simon son of John, do you love me?' Peter was hurt that he asked him a third time, 'Do you love me?' and said, 'Lord, you know everything; you know I love you.' Jesus said to him, 'Feed my sheep.'

Joh 21:18 In all truth I tell you, when you were young you put on your own belt and walked where you liked; but when you grow old you will stretch out your hands, and somebody else will put a belt round you and take you where you would rather not go.'

Joh 21:19 In these words he indicated the kind of death by which Peter would give glory to God. After this he said, 'Follow me.'

Joh 21:20 Peter turned and saw the disciple whom Jesus loved following them -- the one who had leant back close to his chest at the supper and had said to him, 'Lord, who is it that will betray you?'

Joh 21:21 Seeing him, Peter said to Jesus, 'What about him, Lord?'

Joh 21:22 Jesus answered, 'If I want him to stay behind till I come, what does it matter to you? You are to follow me.'

Joh 21:23 The rumour then went out among the brothers that this disciple would not die. Yet Jesus had not said to Peter, 'He will not die,' but, 'If I want him to stay behind till I come.'

Joh 21:24 This disciple is the one who vouches for these things and has written them down, and we know that his testimony is true.

Joh 21:25 There was much else that Jesus did; if it were written down in detail, I do not suppose the world itself would hold all the books that would be written.

Act 1:1 In my earlier work, Theophilus, I dealt with everything Jesus had done and taught from the beginning

Act 1:2 until the day he gave his instructions to the apostles he had chosen through the Holy Spirit, and was taken up to heaven.

Act 1:3 He had shown himself alive to them after his Passion by many demonstrations: for forty days he had continued to appear to them and tell them about the kingdom of God.

Act 1:4 While at table with them, he had told them not to leave Jerusalem, but to wait there for what the Father had promised. 'It is', he had said, 'what you have heard me speak about:

Act 1:5 John baptised with water but, not many days from now, you are going to be baptised with the Holy Spirit.'

Act 1:6 Now having met together, they asked him, 'Lord, has the time come for you to restore the kingdom to Israel?'

Act 1:7 He replied, 'It is not for you to know times or dates that the Father has decided by his own authority,

Act 1:8 but you will receive the power of the Holy Spirit which will come on you, and then you will be my witnesses not only in Jerusalem but throughout Judaea and Samaria, and indeed to earth's remotest end.'

Act 1:9 As he said this he was lifted up while they looked on, and a cloud took him from their sight.

Act 1:10 They were still staring into the sky as he went, when suddenly two men in white were standing beside them,

Act 1:11 and they said, 'Why are you Galileans standing here looking into the sky? This Jesus who has been taken up from you into heaven will come back in the same way as you have seen him go to heaven.'

Act 1:12 So from the Mount of Olives, as it is called, they went back to Jerusalem, a short distance away, no more than a Sabbath walk;

Act 1:13 and when they reached the city they went to the upper room where they were staying; there were Peter and John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James son of Alphaeus and Simon the Zealot, and Jude son of James.

Act 1:14 With one heart all these joined constantly in prayer, together with some women, including Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brothers.

Act 1:15 One day Peter stood up to speak to the brothers -- there were about a hundred and twenty people in the congregation,

Act 1:16 'Brothers,' he said, 'the passage of scripture had to be fulfilled in which the Holy Spirit, speaking through David, foretells the fate of Judas, who acted as guide to the men who arrested Jesus-

Act 1:17 after being one of our number and sharing our ministry.

Act 1:18 As you know, he bought a plot of land with the money he was paid for his crime. He fell headlong and burst open, and all his entrails poured out.

Act 1:19 Everybody in Jerusalem heard about it and the plot came to be called "Bloody Acre", in their language Hakeldama.

Act 1:20 Now in the Book of Psalms it says: Reduce his encampment to ruin and leave his tent unoccupied. And again: Let someone else take over his office.

Act 1:21 'Out of the men who have been with us the whole time that the Lord Jesus was living with us,

Act 1:22 from the time when John was baptising until the day when he was taken up from us, one must be appointed to serve with us as a witness to his resurrection.'

Act 1:23 Having nominated two candidates, Joseph known as Barsabbas, whose surname was Justus, and Matthias,

Act 1:24 they prayed, 'Lord, you can read everyone's heart; show us therefore which of these two you have chosen

Act 1:25 to take over this ministry and apostolate, which Judas abandoned to go to his proper place.'

Act 1:26 They then drew lots for them, and as the lot fell to Matthias, he was listed as one of the twelve apostles.

Act 2:1 When Pentecost day came round, they had all met together,

Act 2:2 when suddenly there came from heaven a sound as of a violent wind which filled the entire house in which they were sitting;

Act 2:3 and there appeared to them tongues as of fire; these separated and came to rest on the head of each of them.

Act 2:4 They were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak different languages as the Spirit gave them power to express themselves.

Act 2:5 Now there were devout men living in Jerusalem from every nation under heaven,

Act 2:6 and at this sound they all assembled, and each one was bewildered to hear these men speaking his own language.

Act 2:7 They were amazed and astonished. 'Surely,' they said, 'all these men speaking are Galileans?

Act 2:8 How does it happen that each of us hears them in his own native language?

Act 2:9 Parthians, Medes and Elamites; people from Mesopotamia, Judaea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia,

Act 2:10 Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya round Cyrene; residents of Rome-

Act 2:11 Jews and proselytes alike -- Cretans and Arabs, we hear them preaching in our own language about the marvels of God.'

Act 2:12 Everyone was amazed and perplexed; they asked one another what it all meant.

Act 2:13 Some, however, laughed it off. 'They have been drinking too much new wine,' they said.

Act 2:14 Then Peter stood up with the Eleven and addressed them in a loud voice: 'Men of Judaea, and all you who live in Jerusalem, make no mistake about this, but listen carefully to what I say.

Act 2:15 These men are not drunk, as you imagine; why, it is only the third hour of the day.

Act 2:16 On the contrary, this is what the prophet was saying:

Act 2:17 In the last days -- the Lord declares -- I shall pour out my Spirit on all humanity. Your sons and daughters shall prophesy, your young people shall see visions, your old people dream dreams.

Act 2:18 Even on the slaves, men and women, shall I pour out my Spirit.

Act 2:19 I will show portents in the sky above and signs on the earth below.

Act 2:20 The sun will be turned into darkness and the moon into blood before the day of the Lord comes, that great and terrible Day.

Act 2:21 And all who call on the name of the Lord will be saved.

Act 2:22 'Men of Israel, listen to what I am going to say: Jesus the Nazarene was a man commended to you by God by the miracles and portents and signs that God worked through him when he was among you, as you know.'

Act 2:23 This man, who was put into your power by the deliberate intention and foreknowledge of God, you took and had crucified and killed by men outside the Law.

Act 2:24 But God raised him to life, freeing him from the pangs of Hades; for it was impossible for him to be held in its power since,

Act 2:25 as David says of him: I kept the Lord before my sight always, for with him at my right hand nothing can shake me.

Act 2:26 So my heart rejoiced my tongue delighted; my body, too, will rest secure,

Act 2:27 for you will not abandon me to Hades or allow your holy one to see corruption.

Act 2:28 You have taught me the way of life, you will fill me with joy in your presence.

Act 2:29 'Brothers, no one can deny that the patriarch David himself is dead and buried: his tomb is still with us.

Act 2:30 But since he was a prophet, and knew that God had sworn him an oath to make one of his descendants succeed him on the throne,

Act 2:31 he spoke with foreknowledge about the resurrection of the Christ: he is the one who was not abandoned to Hades, and whose body did not see corruption.

Act 2:32 God raised this man Jesus to life, and of that we are all witnesses.

Act 2:33 Now raised to the heights by God's right hand, he has received from the Father the Holy Spirit, who was promised, and what you see and hear is the outpouring of that Spirit.

Act 2:34 For David himself never went up to heaven, but yet he said: The Lord declared to my Lord, take your seat at my right hand, Act 2:35 till I have made your enemies your footstool.

Act 2:36 'For this reason the whole House of Israel can be certain that the Lord and Christ whom God has made is this Jesus whom you crucified.'

Act 2:37 Hearing this, they were cut to the heart and said to Peter and the other apostles, 'What are we to do, brothers?'

Act 2:38 'You must repent,' Peter answered, 'and every one of you must be baptised in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.'

Act 2:39 The promise that was made is for you and your children, and for all those who are far away, for all those whom the Lord our God is calling to himself.'

Act 2:40 He spoke to them for a long time using many other arguments, and he urged them, 'Save yourselves from this perverse generation.'

Act 2:41 They accepted what he said and were baptised. That very day about three thousand were added to their number.

Act 2:42 These remained faithful to the teaching of the apostles, to the brotherhood, to the breaking of bread and to the prayers.

Act 2:43 And everyone was filled with awe; the apostles worked many signs and miracles.

Act 2:44 And all who shared the faith owned everything in common;

Act 2:45 they sold their goods and possessions and distributed the proceeds among themselves according to what each one needed.

Act 2:46 Each day, with one heart, they regularly went to the Temple but met in their houses for the breaking of bread; they shared their food gladly and generously;

Act 2:47 they praised God and were looked up to by everyone. Day by day the Lord added to their community those destined to be saved.

Act 3:1 Once, when Peter and John were going up to the Temple for the prayers at the ninth hour, Act 3:2 it happened that there was a man being carried along. He was a cripple from birth; and they used to put him down every day near the Temple entrance called the Beautiful Gate so that he could beg from the people going in.

Act 3:3 When this man saw Peter and John on their way into the Temple he begged from them.

Act 3:4 Peter, and John too, looked straight at him and said, 'Look at us.'

Act 3:5 He turned to them expectantly, hoping to get something from them,

Act 3:6 but Peter said, 'I have neither silver nor gold, but I will give you what I have: in the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, walk!'

Act 3:7 Then he took him by the right hand and helped him to stand up. Instantly his feet and ankles became firm,

Act 3:8 he jumped up, stood, and began to walk, and he went with them into the Temple, walking and jumping and praising God.

Act 3:9 Everyone could see him walking and praising God,

Act 3:10 and they recognised him as the man who used to sit begging at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple. They were all astonished and perplexed at what had happened to him.

Act 3:11 Everyone came running towards them in great excitement, to the Portico of Solomon, as it is called, where the man was still clinging to Peter and John.

Act 3:12 When Peter saw the people he addressed them, 'Men of Israel, why are you so surprised at this? Why are you staring at us as though we had made this man walk by our own power or holiness?

Act 3:13 It is the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the God of our ancestors, who has glorified his servant Jesus whom you handed over and then disowned in the presence of Pilate after he had given his verdict to release him.

Act 3:14 It was you who accused the Holy and Upright One, you who demanded that a murderer should be released to you

Act 3:15 while you killed the prince of life. God, however, raised him from the dead, and to that fact we are witnesses;

Act 3:16 and it is the name of Jesus which, through faith in him, has brought back the strength of this man whom you see here and who is well known to you. It is faith in him that has restored this man to health, as you can all see.

Act 3:17 'Now I know, brothers, that neither you nor your leaders had any idea what you were really doing;

Act 3:18 but this was the way God carried out what he had foretold, when he said through all his prophets that his Christ would suffer.

Act 3:19 Now you must repent and turn to God, so that your sins may be wiped out,

Act 3:20 and so that the Lord may send the time of comfort. Then he will send you the Christ he has predestined, that is Jesus,

Act 3:21 whom heaven must keep till the universal restoration comes which God proclaimed, speaking through his holy prophets.

Act 3:22 Moses, for example, said, "From among your brothers the Lord God will raise up for you a prophet like me; you will listen to whatever he tells you."

Act 3:23 Anyone who refuses to listen to that prophet shall be cut off from the people."

Act 3:24 In fact, all the prophets that have ever spoken, from Samuel onwards, have predicted these days.

Act 3:25 'You are the heirs of the prophets, the heirs of the covenant God made with your ancestors when he told Abraham, "All the nations of the earth will be blessed in your descendants".

Act 3:26 It was for you in the first place that God raised up his servant and sent him to bless you as every one of you turns from his wicked ways.'

Act 4:1 While they were still talking to the people the priests came up to them, accompanied by the captain of the Temple and the Sadducees.

Act 4:2 They were extremely annoyed at their teaching the people the resurrection from the dead by proclaiming the resurrection of Jesus.

Act 4:3 They arrested them, and, as it was already late, they kept them in prison till the next day.

Act 4:4 But many of those who had listened to their message became believers; the total number of men had now risen to something like five thousand.

Act 4:5 It happened that the next day the rulers, elders and scribes held a meeting in Jerusalem

Act 4:6 with Annas the high priest, Caiaphas, Jonathan, Alexander and all the members of the high-priestly families.

Act 4:7 They made the prisoners stand in the middle and began to interrogate them, 'By what power, and by whose name have you men done this?'

Act 4:8 Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, addressed them, 'Rulers of the people, and elders!

Act 4:9 If you are questioning us today about an act of kindness to a cripple and asking us how he was healed,

Act 4:10 you must know, all of you, and the whole people of Israel, that it is by the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, whom you crucified, and God raised from the dead, by this name and by no other that this man stands before you cured.

Act 4:11 This is the stone which you, the builders, rejected but which has become the cornerstone. Only in him is there salvation;

Act 4:12 for of all the names in the world given to men, this is the only one by which we can be saved.'

Act 4:13 They were astonished at the fearlessness shown by Peter and John, considering that they were uneducated laymen; and they recognised them as associates of Jesus;

Act 4:14 but when they saw the man who had been cured standing by their side, they could find no answer.

Act 4:15 So they ordered them to stand outside while the Sanhedrin had a private discussion.

Act 4:16 'What are we going to do with these men?' they asked. 'It is obvious to everybody in Jerusalem that a notable miracle has been worked through them, and we cannot deny it.'

Act 4:17 But to stop the whole thing spreading any further among the people, let us threaten them against ever speaking to anyone in this name again.'

Act 4:18 So they called them in and gave them a warning on no account to make statements or to teach in the name of Jesus.

Act 4:19 But Peter and John retorted, 'You must judge whether in God's eyes it is right to listen to you and not to God.'

Act 4:20 We cannot stop proclaiming what we have seen and heard.'

Act 4:21 The court repeated the threats and then released them; they could not think of any way to punish them, since all the people were giving glory to God for what had happened.

Act 4:22 The man who had been miraculously cured was over forty years old.

Act 4:23 As soon as they were released they went to the community and told them everything the chief priests and elders had said to them.

Act 4:24 When they heard it they lifted up their voice to God with one heart. 'Master,' they prayed, 'it is you who made sky and earth and sea, and everything in them;

Act 4:25 it is you who said through the Holy Spirit and speaking through our ancestor David, your servant: Why this uproar among the nations, this impotent muttering of the peoples?

Act 4:26 Kings on earth take up position, princes plot together against the Lord and his Anointed.

Act 4:27 'This is what has come true: in this very city Herod and Pontius Pilate plotted together with the gentile nations and the peoples of Israel, against your holy servant Jesus whom you anointed, Act 4:28 to bring about the very thing that you in your strength and your wisdom had predetermined should happen.

Act 4:29 And now, Lord, take note of their threats and help your servants to proclaim your message with all fearlessness,

Act 4:30 by stretching out your hand to heal and to work miracles and marvels through the name of your holy servant Jesus.'

Act 4:31 As they prayed, the house where they were assembled rocked. From this time they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to proclaim the word of God fearlessly.

Act 4:32 The whole group of believers was united, heart and soul; no one claimed private ownership of any possessions, as everything they owned was held in common.

Act 4:33 The apostles continued to testify to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus with great power, and they were all accorded great respect.

Act 4:34 None of their members was ever in want, as all those who owned land or houses would sell them, and bring the money from the sale of them,

Act 4:35 to present it to the apostles; it was then distributed to any who might be in need.

Act 4:36 There was a Levite of Cypriot origin called Joseph whom the apostles surnamed Barnabas (which means 'son of encouragement').

Act 4:37 He owned a piece of land and he sold it and brought the money and presented it to the apostles.

Act 5:1 There was also a man called Ananias. He and his wife, Sapphira, agreed to sell a property;

Act 5:2 but with his wife's connivance he kept back part of the price and brought the rest and presented it to the apostles.

Act 5:3 Peter said, 'Ananias, how can Satan have so possessed you that you should lie to the Holy Spirit and keep back part of the price of the land?

Act 5:4 While you still owned the land, wasn't it yours to keep, and after you had sold it wasn't the money yours to do with as you liked? What put this scheme into your mind? You have been lying not to men, but to God.'

Act 5:5 When he heard this Ananias fell down dead. And a great fear came upon everyone present.

Act 5:6 The younger men got up, wrapped up the body, carried it out and buried it.

Act 5:7 About three hours later his wife came in, not knowing what had taken place.

Act 5:8 Peter challenged her, 'Tell me, was this the price you sold the land for?' 'Yes,' she said, 'that was the price.'

Act 5:9 Peter then said, 'Why did you and your husband agree to put the Spirit of the Lord to the test? Listen! At the door are the footsteps of those who have buried your husband; they will carry you out, too.'

Act 5:10 Instantly she dropped dead at his feet. When the young men came in they found she was dead, and they carried her out and buried her by the side of her husband.

Act 5:11 And a great fear came upon the whole church and on all who heard it.

Act 5:12 The apostles worked many signs and miracles among the people. One in heart, they all used to meet in the Portico of Solomon.

Act 5:13 No one else dared to join them, but the people were loud in their praise

Act 5:14 and the numbers of men and women who came to believe in the Lord increased steadily. Many signs and wonders were worked among the people at the hands of the apostles

Act 5:15 so that the sick were even taken out into the streets and laid on beds and sleeping-mats in the hope that at least the shadow of Peter might fall across some of them as he went past.

Act 5:16 People even came crowding in from the towns round about Jerusalem, bringing with them their sick and those tormented by unclean spirits, and all of them were cured.

Act 5:17 Then the high priest intervened with all his supporters from the party of the Sadducees. Filled with jealousy, Act 5:18 they arrested the apostles and had them put in the public gaol.

Act 5:19 But at night the angel of the Lord opened the prison gates and said as he led them out,

Act 5:20 'Go and take up position in the Temple, and tell the people all about this new Life.'

Act 5:21 They did as they were told; they went into the Temple at dawn and began to preach. When the high priest arrived, he and his supporters convened the Sanhedrin -- this was the full Senate of Israel -- and sent to the gaol for them to be brought.

Act 5:22 But when the officials arrived at the prison they found they were not inside, so they went back and reported,

Act 5:23 'We found the gaol securely locked and the warders on duty at the gates, but when we unlocked the door we found no one inside.'

Act 5:24 When the captain of the Temple and the chief priests heard this news they wondered what could be happening.

Act 5:25 Then a man arrived with fresh news. 'Look!' he said, 'the men you imprisoned are in the Temple. They are standing there preaching to the people.'

Act 5:26 The captain went with his men and fetched them -- though not by force, for they were afraid that the people might stone them.

Act 5:27 When they had brought them in to face the Sanhedrin, the high priest demanded an explanation.

Act 5:28 'We gave you a strong warning', he said, 'not to preach in this name, and what have you done? You have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and seem determined to fix the guilt for this man's death on us.'

Act 5:29 In reply Peter and the apostles said, 'Obedience to God comes before obedience to men;

Act 5:30 it was the God of our ancestors who raised up Jesus, whom you executed by hanging on a tree.

Act 5:31 By his own right hand God has now raised him up to be leader and Saviour, to give repentance and forgiveness of sins through him to Israel.

Act 5:32 We are witnesses to this, we and the Holy Spirit whom God has given to those who obey him.'

Act 5:33 This so infuriated them that they wanted to put them to death.

Act 5:34 One member of the Sanhedrin, however, a Pharisee called Gamaliel, who was a teacher of the Law respected by the whole people, stood up and asked to have the men taken outside for a time.

Act 5:35 Then he addressed the Sanhedrin, 'Men of Israel, be careful how you deal with these people.

Act 5:36 Some time ago there arose Theudas. He claimed to be someone important, and collected about four hundred followers; but when he was killed, all his followers scattered and that was the end of them.

Act 5:37 And then there was Judas the Galilean, at the time of the census, who attracted crowds of supporters; but he was killed too, and all his followers dispersed.

Act 5:38 What I suggest, therefore, is that you leave these men alone and let them go. If this enterprise, this movement of theirs, is of human origin it will break up of its own accord;

Act 5:39 but if it does in fact come from God you will be unable to destroy them. Take care not to find yourselves fighting against God.' His advice was accepted;

Act 5:40 and they had the apostles called in, gave orders for them to be flogged, warned them not to speak in the name of Jesus and released them.

Act 5:41 And so they left the presence of the Sanhedrin, glad to have had the honour of suffering humiliation for the sake of the name.

Act 5:42 Every day they went on ceaselessly teaching and proclaiming the good news of Christ Jesus, both in the temple and in private houses.

Act 6:1 About this time, when the number of disciples was increasing, the Hellenists made a complaint against the Hebrews: in the daily distribution their own widows were being overlooked.

Act 6:2 So the Twelve called a full meeting of the disciples and addressed them, 'It would not be right for us to neglect the word of God so as to give out food;

Act 6:3 you, brothers, must select from among yourselves seven men of good reputation, filled with the Spirit and with wisdom, to whom we can hand over this duty.

Act 6:4 We ourselves will continue to devote ourselves to prayer and to the service of the word.'

Act 6:5 The whole assembly approved of this proposal and elected Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, together with Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolaus of Antioch, a convert to Judaism.

Act 6:6 They presented these to the apostles, and after prayer they laid their hands on them.

Act 6:7 The word of the Lord continued to spread: the number of disciples in Jerusalem was greatly increased, and a large group of priests made their submission to the faith.

Act 6:8 Stephen was filled with grace and power and began to work miracles and great signs among the people.

Act 6:9 Then certain people came forward to debate with Stephen, some from Cyrene and Alexandria who were members of the synagogue called the Synagogue of Freedmen, and others from Cilicia and Asia.

Act 6:10 They found they could not stand up against him because of his wisdom, and the Spirit that prompted what he said.

Act 6:11 So they procured some men to say, 'We heard him using blasphemous language against Moses and against God.'

Act 6:12 Having turned the people against him as well as the elders and scribes, they took Stephen by surprise, and arrested him and brought him before the Sanhedrin.

Act 6:13 There they put up false witnesses to say, 'This man is always making speeches against this Holy Place and the Law.

Act 6:14 We have heard him say that Jesus, this Nazarene, is going to destroy this Place and alter the traditions that Moses handed down to us.'

Act 6:15 The members of the Sanhedrin all looked intently at Stephen, and his face appeared to them like the face of an angel.

Act 7:1 The high priest asked, 'Is this true?'

Act 7:2 He replied, 'My brothers, my fathers, listen to what I have to say. The God of glory appeared to our ancestor Abraham, while he was in Mesopotamia before settling in Haran,

Act 7:3 and said to him, "Leave your country, your kindred and your father's house for this country which I shall show you."

Act 7:4 So he left Chaldaea and settled in Haran; and after his father died God made him leave that place and come to this land where you are living today.

Act 7:5 God did not give him any property in this land or even a foothold, yet he promised to give it to him and after him to his descendants, childless though he was.

Act 7:6 The actual words God used when he spoke to him are that his descendants would be exiles in a land not their own, where they would be enslaved and oppressed for four hundred years.

Act 7:7 "But I will bring judgement on the nation that enslaves them," God said, "and after this they will leave, and worship me in this place."

Act 7:8 Then he made the covenant of circumcision with him: and so when his son Isaac was born Abraham circumcised him on the eighth day; similarly Isaac circumcised Jacob, and Jacob the twelve patriarchs.

Act 7:9 'The patriarchs were jealous of Joseph and sold him into slavery in Egypt. But God was with him,

Act 7:10 and rescued him from all his miseries by making him so wise that he won the favour of Pharaoh king of Egypt, who made him governor of Egypt and put him in charge of his household.

Act 7:11 Then a famine set in that caused much suffering throughout Egypt and Canaan, and our ancestors could find nothing to eat.

Act 7:12 When Jacob heard that there were supplies in Egypt, he sent our ancestors there on a first visit;

Act 7:13 and on the second Joseph made himself known to his brothers, and Pharaoh came to know his origin.

Act 7:14 Joseph then sent for his father Jacob and his whole family, a total of seventy-five people.

Act 7:15 Jacob went down into Egypt and after he and our ancestors had died there,

Act 7:16 their bodies were brought back to Shechem and buried in the tomb that Abraham had bought for money from the sons of Hamor, the father of Shechem.

Act 7:17 'As the time drew near for God to fulfil the promise he had solemnly made to Abraham, our nation in Egypt became very powerful and numerous,

Act 7:18 there came to power in Egypt a new king who had never heard of Joseph.

Act 7:19 He took precautions and wore down our race, forcing our ancestors to expose their babies rather than letting them live.

Act 7:20 It was at this time that Moses was born, a fine child before God. He was looked after for three months in his father's house,

Act 7:21 and after he had been exposed, Pharaoh's daughter adopted him and brought him up like a son.

Act 7:22 So Moses was taught all the wisdom of the Egyptians and became a man with power both in his speech and in his actions.

Act 7:23 'At the age of forty he decided to visit his kinsmen, the Israelites.

Act 7:24 When he saw one of them being ill-treated he went to his defence and rescued the man by killing the Egyptian.

Act 7:25 He thought his brothers would realise that through him God would liberate them, but they did not.

Act 7:26 The next day, when he came across some of them fighting, he tried to reconcile them, and said, "Friends, you are brothers; why are you hurting each other?"

Act 7:27 But the man who was attacking his kinsman pushed him aside, saying, "And who appointed you to be prince over us and judge?

Act 7:28 Do you intend to kill me as you killed the Egyptian yesterday?"

Act 7:29 Moses fled when he heard this and he went to dwell in the land of Midian, where he fathered two sons.

Act 7:30 'When forty years were fulfilled, in the desert near Mount Sinai, an angel appeared to him in a flame blazing from a bush that was on fire.

Act 7:31 Moses was amazed by what he saw. As he went nearer to look at it, the voice of the Lord was heard, Act 7:32 "I am the God of your ancestors, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob." Moses trembled and was afraid to look.

Act 7:33 The Lord said to him, "Take off your sandals, for the place where you are standing is holy ground.

Act 7:34 I have seen the misery of my people in Egypt, I have heard them crying for help, and I have come down to rescue them. So come here; I am sending you into Egypt."

Act 7:35 'It was the same Moses that they had disowned when they said, "Who appointed you to be our leader and judge?" whom God sent to be both leader and redeemer through the angel who had appeared to him in the bush.'

Act 7:36 It was this man who led them out, after performing miracles and signs in Egypt and at the Red Sea and in the desert for forty years.

Act 7:37 It was this Moses who told the sons of Israel, "From among your own brothers God will raise up a prophet like me."

Act 7:38 When they held the assembly in the desert it was he who was with our ancestors and the angel who had spoken to him on Mount Sinai; it was he who was entrusted with words of life to hand on to us.

Act 7:39 This is the man that our ancestors refused to listen to; they pushed him aside, went back to Egypt in their thoughts,

Act 7:40 and said to Aaron, "Make us a god to go at our head; for that Moses, the man who brought us here from Egypt, we do not know what has become of him."

Act 7:41 It was then that they made the statue of a calf and offered sacrifice to the idol. They were perfectly happy with something they had made for themselves.

Act 7:42 God turned away from them and abandoned them to the worship of the army of heaven, as scripture says in the book of the prophets: Did you bring me sacrifices and oblations those forty years in the desert, House of Israel?

Act 7:43 No, you carried the tent of Moloch on your shoulders and the star of the god Rephan, the idols you made for yourselves to adore, and so now I am about to drive you into captivity beyond Babylon.

Act 7:44 'While they were in the desert our ancestors possessed the Tent of Testimony that had been constructed according to the instructions God gave Moses, telling him to work to the design he had been shown.

Act 7:45 It was handed down from one ancestor of ours to another until Joshua brought it into the country that had belonged to the nations which were driven out by God before us. Here it stayed until the time of David.

Act 7:46 He won God's favour and asked permission to find a dwelling for the House of Jacob, Act 7:47 though it was Solomon who actually built a house for God.

Act 7:48 Even so the Most High does not live in a house that human hands have built: for as the prophet says:

Act 7:49 With heaven my throne and earth my footstool, what house could you build me, says the Lord, what place for me to rest,

Act 7:50 when all these things were made by me?

Act 7:51 'You stubborn people, with uncircumcised hearts and ears. You are always resisting the Holy Spirit, just as your ancestors used to do.

Act 7:52 Can you name a single prophet your ancestors never persecuted? They killed those who foretold the coming of the Upright One, and now you have become his betrayers, his murderers.

Act 7:53 In spite of being given the Law through angels, you have not kept it.'

Act 7:54 They were infuriated when they heard this, and ground their teeth at him.

Act 7:55 But Stephen, filled with the Holy Spirit, gazed into heaven and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at God's right hand.

Act 7:56 'Look! I can see heaven thrown open,' he said, 'and the Son of man standing at the right hand of God.'

Act 7:57 All the members of the council shouted out and stopped their ears with their hands; then they made a concerted rush at him,

Act 7:58 thrust him out of the city and stoned him. The witnesses put down their clothes at the feet of a young man called Saul.

Act 7:59 As they were stoning him, Stephen said in invocation, 'Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.'

Act 7:60 Then he knelt down and said aloud, 'Lord, do not hold this sin against them.' And with these words he fell asleep.

Act 8:1 Saul approved of the killing. That day a bitter persecution started against the church in Jerusalem, and everyone except the apostles scattered to the country districts of Judaea and Samaria.

Act 8:2 There were some devout people, however, who buried Stephen and made great mourning for him.

Act 8:3 Saul then began doing great harm to the church; he went from house to house arresting both men and women and sending them to prison.

Act 8:4 Once they had scattered, they went from place to place preaching the good news.

Act 8:5 And Philip went to a Samaritan town and proclaimed the Christ to them.

Act 8:6 The people unanimously welcomed the message Philip preached, because they had heard of the miracles he worked and because they saw them for themselves.

Act 8:7 For unclean spirits came shrieking out of many who were possessed, and several paralytics and cripples were cured.

Act 8:8 As a result there was great rejoicing in that town.

Act 8:9 Now a man called Simon had for some time been practising magic arts in the town and astounded the Samaritan people. He had given it out that he was someone momentous,

Act 8:10 and everyone believed in him; eminent citizens and ordinary people alike had declared, 'He is the divine power that is called Great.'

Act 8:11 He had this following because for a considerable period they had been astounded by his wizardry.
Act 8:12 But when they came to accept Philip's preaching of the good news about the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptised, both men and women,
Act 8:13 and even Simon himself became a believer. After his baptism Simon went round constantly with Philip and was astonished when he saw the wonders and great miracles that took place.
Act 8:14 When the apostles in Jerusalem heard that Samaria had accepted the word of God, they sent Peter and John to them,
Act 8:15 and they went down there and prayed for them to receive the Holy Spirit,
Act 8:16 for as yet he had not come down on any of them: they had only been baptised in the name of the Lord Jesus.
Act 8:17 Then they laid hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit.
Act 8:18 When Simon saw that the Spirit was given through the laying on of the apostles' hands, he offered them money,
Act 8:19 with the words, 'Give me the same power so that anyone I lay my hands on will receive the Holy Spirit.'
Act 8:20 Peter answered, 'May your silver be lost for ever, and you with it, for thinking that money could buy what God has given for nothing!'
Act 8:21 You have no share, no part, in this: God can see how your heart is warped.
Act 8:22 Repent of this wickedness of yours, and pray to the Lord that this scheme of yours may be forgiven;
Act 8:23 it is plain to me that you are held in the bitterness of gall and the chains of sin.'
Act 8:24 Simon replied, 'Pray to the Lord for me yourselves so that none of the things you have spoken about may happen to me.'
Act 8:25 Having given their testimony and proclaimed the word of the Lord, they went back to Jerusalem, preaching the good news to a number of Samaritan villages.
Act 8:26 The angel of the Lord spoke to Philip saying, 'Set out at noon and go along the road that leads from Jerusalem down to Gaza, the desert road.'
Act 8:27 So he set off on his journey. Now an Ethiopian had been on pilgrimage to Jerusalem; he was a eunuch and an officer at the court of the kandake, or queen, of Ethiopia; he was her chief treasurer.
Act 8:28 He was now on his way home; and as he sat in his chariot he was reading the prophet Isaiah.
Act 8:29 The Spirit said to Philip, 'Go up and join that chariot.'
Act 8:30 When Philip ran up, he heard him reading Isaiah the prophet and asked, 'Do you understand what you are reading?'
Act 8:31 He replied, 'How could I, unless I have someone to guide me?' So he urged Philip to get in and sit by his side.
Act 8:32 Now the passage of scripture he was reading was this: Like a lamb led to the slaughter-house, like a sheep dumb in front of its shearers, he never opens his mouth.
Act 8:33 In his humiliation fair judgement was denied him. Who will ever talk about his descendants, since his life on earth has been cut short?
Act 8:34 The eunuch addressed Philip and said, 'Tell me, is the prophet referring to himself or someone else?'
Act 8:35 Starting, therefore, with this text of scripture Philip proceeded to explain the good news of Jesus to him.
Act 8:36 Further along the road they came to some water, and the eunuch said, 'Look, is some water; is there anything to prevent my being baptised?'
Act 8:37
Act 8:38 He ordered the chariot to stop, then Philip and the eunuch both went down into the water and he baptised him.
Act 8:39 But after they had come up out of the water again Philip was taken away by the Spirit of the Lord, and the eunuch never saw him again but went on his way rejoicing.
Act 8:40 Philip appeared in Azotus and continued his journey, proclaiming the good news in every town as far as Caesarea.
Act 9:1 Meanwhile Saul was still breathing threats to slaughter the Lord's disciples. He went to the high priest Act 9:2 and asked for letters addressed to the synagogues in Damascus, that would authorise him to arrest and take to Jerusalem any followers of the Way, men or women, that he might find.
Act 9:3 It happened that while he was travelling to Damascus and approaching the city, suddenly a light from heaven shone all round him.
Act 9:4 He fell to the ground, and then he heard a voice saying, 'Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?'
Act 9:5 'Who are you, Lord?' he asked, and the answer came, 'I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting.
Act 9:6 Get up and go into the city, and you will be told what you are to do.'

Act 9:7 The men travelling with Saul stood there speechless, for though they heard the voice they could see no one.

Act 9:8 Saul got up from the ground, but when he opened his eyes he could see nothing at all, and they had to lead him into Damascus by the hand.

Act 9:9 For three days he was without his sight and took neither food nor drink.

Act 9:10 There was a disciple in Damascus called Ananias, and he had a vision in which the Lord said to him, 'Ananias!' When he replied, 'Here I am, Lord,'

Act 9:11 the Lord said, 'Get up and go to Straight Street and ask at the house of Judas for someone called Saul, who comes from Tarsus. At this moment he is praying,

Act 9:12 and has seen a man called Ananias coming in and laying hands on him to give him back his sight.'

Act 9:13 But in response, Ananias said, 'Lord, I have heard from many people about this man and all the harm he has been doing to your holy people in Jerusalem.

Act 9:14 He has come here with a warrant from the chief priests to arrest everybody who invokes your name.'

Act 9:15 The Lord replied, 'Go, for this man is my chosen instrument to bring my name before gentiles and kings and before the people of Israel;

Act 9:16 I myself will show him how much he must suffer for my name.'

Act 9:17 Then Ananias went. He entered the house, and laid his hands on Saul and said, 'Brother Saul, I have been sent by the Lord Jesus, who appeared to you on your way here, so that you may recover your sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit.'

Act 9:18 It was as though scales fell away from his eyes and immediately he was able to see again. So he got up and was baptised,

Act 9:19 and after taking some food he regained his strength. After he had spent only a few days with the disciples in Damascus,

Act 9:20 he began preaching in the synagogues, 'Jesus is the Son of God.'

Act 9:21 All his hearers were amazed, and said, 'Surely, this is the man who did such damage in Jerusalem to the people who invoke this name, and who came here for the sole purpose of arresting them to have them tried by the chief priests?'

Act 9:22 Saul's power increased steadily, and he was able to throw the Jewish colony at Damascus into complete confusion by the way he demonstrated that Jesus was the Christ.

Act 9:23 Some time passed, and the Jews worked out a plot to kill him,

Act 9:24 but news of it reached Saul. They were keeping watch at the gates day and night in order to kill him,

Act 9:25 but the disciples took him by night and let him down from the wall, lowering him in a basket.

Act 9:26 When he got to Jerusalem he tried to join the disciples, but they were all afraid of him: they could not believe he was really a disciple.

Act 9:27 Barnabas, however, took charge of him, introduced him to the apostles, and explained how the Lord had appeared to him and spoken to him on his journey, and how he had preached fearlessly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

Act 9:28 Saul now started to go round with them in Jerusalem, preaching fearlessly in the name of the Lord.

Act 9:29 But after he had spoken to the Hellenists and argued with them, they became determined to kill him.

Act 9:30 When the brothers got to know of this, they took him to Caesarea and sent him off from there to Tarsus.

Act 9:31 The churches throughout Judaea, Galilee and Samaria were now left in peace, building themselves up and living in the fear of the Lord; encouraged by the Holy Spirit, they continued to grow.

Act 9:32 It happened that Peter visited one place after another and eventually came to God's holy people living down in Lydda.

Act 9:33 There he found a man called Aeneas, a paralytic who had been bedridden for eight years.

Act 9:34 Peter said to him, 'Aeneas, Jesus Christ cures you: get up and make your bed.' Aeneas got up immediately;

Act 9:35 everybody who lived in Lydda and Sharon saw him, and they were converted to the Lord.

Act 9:36 At Jaffa there was a disciple called Tabitha, or in Greek, Dorcas, who never tired of doing good or giving to those in need.

Act 9:37 But it happened that at this time she became ill and died, and they washed her and laid her out in an upper room.

Act 9:38 Lydda is not far from Jaffa, so when the disciples heard that Peter was there, they sent two men to urge him, 'Come to us without delay.'

Act 9:39 Peter went back with them immediately, and on his arrival they took him to the upper room, where all the widows stood round him in tears, showing him tunics and other clothes Dorcas had made when she was with them.

Act 9:40 Peter sent everyone out of the room and knelt down and prayed. Then he turned to the dead woman and said, 'Tabitha, stand up.' She opened her eyes, looked at Peter and sat up.

Act 9:41 Peter helped her to her feet, then he called in the members of the congregation and widows and showed them she was alive.

Act 9:42 The whole of Jaffa heard about it and many believed in the Lord.

Act 9:43 Peter stayed on some time in Jaffa, lodging with a leather-tanner called Simon.

Act 10:1 One of the centurions of the Italica cohort stationed in Caesarea was called Cornelius.

Act 10:2 He and the whole of his household were devout and God-fearing, and he gave generously to Jewish causes and prayed constantly to God.

Act 10:3 One day at about the ninth hour he had a vision in which he distinctly saw the angel of God come into his house and call out to him, 'Cornelius!'

Act 10:4 He stared at the vision in terror and exclaimed, 'What is it, Lord?' The angel answered, 'Your prayers and charitable gifts have been accepted by God.'

Act 10:5 Now you must send some men to Jaffa and fetch a man called Simon, known as Peter,

Act 10:6 who is lodging with Simon the tanner whose house is by the sea.'

Act 10:7 When the angel who said this had gone, Cornelius called two of the slaves and a devout soldier of his staff,

Act 10:8 told them all that had happened, and sent them off to Jaffa.

Act 10:9 Next day, while they were still on their journey and had only a short distance to go before reaching the town, Peter went to the housetop at about the sixth hour to say his prayers.

Act 10:10 He felt hungry and was looking forward to his meal, but before it was ready he fell into a trance

Act 10:11 and saw heaven thrown open and something like a big sheet being let down to earth by its four corners;

Act 10:12 it contained every kind of animal, reptile and bird.

Act 10:13 A voice then said to him, 'Now, Peter, kill and eat!'

Act 10:14 But Peter answered, 'Certainly not, Lord; I have never yet eaten anything profane or unclean.'

Act 10:15 Again, a second time, the voice spoke to him, 'What God has made clean, you have no right to call profane.'

Act 10:16 This was repeated three times, and then suddenly the container was drawn up to heaven again.

Act 10:17 Peter was still at a loss over the meaning of the vision he had seen, when the men sent by Cornelius arrived. They had asked where Simon's house was and they were now standing at the door, Act 10:18 calling out to know if the Simon known as Peter was lodging there.

Act 10:19 While Peter's mind was still on the vision, the Spirit told him, 'Look! Some men have come to see you.'

Act 10:20 Hurry down, and do not hesitate to return with them; it was I who told them to come.'

Act 10:21 Peter went down and said to them, 'I am the man you are looking for; why have you come?'

Act 10:22 They said, 'The centurion Cornelius, who is an upright and God-fearing man, highly regarded by the entire Jewish people, was told by God through a holy angel to send for you and bring you to his house and to listen to what you have to say.'

Act 10:23 So Peter asked them in and gave them lodging. Next day, he was ready to go off with them, accompanied by some of the brothers from Jaffa.

Act 10:24 They reached Caesarea the following day, and Cornelius was waiting for them. He had asked his relations and close friends to be there,

Act 10:25 and as Peter reached the house Cornelius went out to meet him, fell at his feet and did him reverence.

Act 10:26 But Peter helped him up. 'Stand up,' he said, 'after all, I am only a man!'

Act 10:27 Talking together they went in to meet all the people assembled there,

Act 10:28 and Peter said to them, 'You know it is forbidden for Jews to mix with people of another race and visit them; but God has made it clear to me that I must not call anyone profane or unclean.'

Act 10:29 That is why I made no objection to coming when I was sent for; but I should like to know exactly why you sent for me.'

Act 10:30 Cornelius replied, 'At this time three days ago I was in my house saying the prayers for the ninth hour, when I suddenly saw a man in front of me in shining robes.'

Act 10:31 He said, "Cornelius, your prayer has been heard and your charitable gifts have not been forgotten by God;

Act 10:32 so now you must send to Jaffa and fetch Simon known as Peter who is lodging in the house of Simon the tanner, by the sea."

Act 10:33 So I sent for you at once, and you have been kind enough to come. Here we all are, assembled in front of you to hear all the instructions God has given you.'

Act 10:34 Then Peter addressed them, 'I now really understand', he said, 'that God has no favourites,

Act 10:35 but that anybody of any nationality who fears him and does what is right is acceptable to him.'

Act 10:36 'God sent his word to the people of Israel, and it was to them that the good news of peace was brought by Jesus Christ -- he is the Lord of all.'

Act 10:37 You know what happened all over Judaea, how Jesus of Nazareth began in Galilee, after John had been preaching baptism.

Act 10:38 God had anointed him with the Holy Spirit and with power, and because God was with him, Jesus went about doing good and curing all who had fallen into the power of the devil.

Act 10:39 Now we are witnesses to everything he did throughout the countryside of Judaea and in Jerusalem itself: and they killed him by hanging him on a tree,

Act 10:40 yet on the third day God raised him to life and allowed him to be seen,

Act 10:41 not by the whole people but only by certain witnesses that God had chosen beforehand. Now we are those witnesses -- we have eaten and drunk with him after his resurrection from the dead-

Act 10:42 and he has ordered us to proclaim this to his people and to bear witness that God has appointed him to judge everyone, alive or dead.

Act 10:43 It is to him that all the prophets bear this witness: that all who believe in Jesus will have their sins forgiven through his name.'

Act 10:44 While Peter was still speaking the Holy Spirit came down on all the listeners.

Act 10:45 Jewish believers who had accompanied Peter were all astonished that the gift of the Holy Spirit should be poured out on gentiles too,

Act 10:46 since they could hear them speaking strange languages and proclaiming the greatness of God. Peter himself then said,

Act 10:47 'Could anyone refuse the water of baptism to these people, now they have received the Holy Spirit just as we have?'

Act 10:48 He then gave orders for them to be baptised in the name of Jesus Christ. Afterwards they begged him to stay on for some days.

Act 11:1 The apostles and the brothers in Judaea heard that gentiles too had accepted the word of God,

Act 11:2 and when Peter came up to Jerusalem the circumcised believers protested to him

Act 11:3 and said, 'So you have been visiting the uncircumcised and eating with them!'

Act 11:4 Peter in reply gave them the details point by point,

Act 11:5 'One day, when I was in the town of Jaffa,' he began, 'I fell into a trance as I was praying and had a vision of something like a big sheet being let down from heaven by its four corners. This sheet came right down beside me.'

Act 11:6 I looked carefully into it and saw four-footed animals of the earth, wild beasts, reptiles, and birds of heaven.

Act 11:7 Then I heard a voice that said to me, "Now, Peter, kill and eat!"

Act 11:8 But I answered, "Certainly not, Lord; nothing profane or unclean has ever crossed my lips."

Act 11:9 And a second time the voice spoke from heaven, "What God has made clean, you have no right to call profane."

Act 11:10 This was repeated three times, before the whole of it was drawn up to heaven again.

Act 11:11 'Just at that moment, three men stopped outside the house where we were staying; they had been sent from Caesarea to fetch me,

Act 11:12 and the Spirit told me to have no hesitation about going back with them. The six brothers here came with me as well, and we entered the man's house.

Act 11:13 He told us he had seen an angel standing in his house who said, "Send to Jaffa and fetch Simon known as Peter;

Act 11:14 he has a message for you that will save you and your entire household."

Act 11:15 I had scarcely begun to speak when the Holy Spirit came down on them in the same way as it came on us at the beginning,

Act 11:16 and I remembered that the Lord had said, "John baptised with water, but you will be baptised with the Holy Spirit."

Act 11:17 I realised then that God was giving them the identical gift he gave to us when we believed in the Lord Jesus Christ; and who was I to stand in God's way?'

Act 11:18 This account satisfied them, and they gave glory to God, saying, 'God has clearly granted to the gentiles too the repentance that leads to life.'

Act 11:19 Those who had scattered because of the persecution that arose over Stephen travelled as far as Phoenicia and Cyprus and Antioch, but they proclaimed the message only to Jews.

Act 11:20 Some of them, however, who came from Cyprus and Cyrene, went to Antioch where they started preaching also to the Greeks, proclaiming the good news of the Lord Jesus to them.

Act 11:21 The Lord helped them, and a great number believed and were converted to the Lord.

Act 11:22 The news of them came to the ears of the church in Jerusalem and they sent Barnabas out to Antioch.

Act 11:23 There he was glad to see for himself that God had given grace, and he urged them all to remain faithful to the Lord with heartfelt devotion;

Act 11:24 for he was a good man, filled with the Holy Spirit and with faith. And a large number of people were won over to the Lord.

Act 11:25 Barnabas then left for Tarsus to look for Saul,

Act 11:26 and when he found him he brought him to Antioch. And it happened that they stayed together in that church a whole year, instructing a large number of people. It was at Antioch that the disciples were first called 'Christians'.

Act 11:27 While they were there some prophets came down to Antioch from Jerusalem, Act 11:28 and one of them whose name was Agabus, seized by the Spirit, stood up and predicted that a severe and universal famine was going to happen. This in fact happened while Claudius was emperor.

Act 11:29 The disciples decided to send relief, each to contribute what he could afford, to the brothers living in Judaea.

Act 11:30 They did this and delivered their contributions to the elders through the agency of Barnabas and Saul.

Act 12:1 It was about this time that King Herod started persecuting certain members of the church.

Act 12:2 He had James the brother of John beheaded,

Act 12:3 and when he saw that this pleased the Jews he went on to arrest Peter as well.

Act 12:4 As it was during the days of Unleavened Bread that he had arrested him, he put him in prison, assigning four sections of four soldiers each to guard him, meaning to try him in public after the Passover.

Act 12:5 All the time Peter was under guard the church prayed to God for him unremittingly.

Act 12:6 On the night before Herod was to try him, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, fastened with two chains, while guards kept watch at the main entrance to the prison.

Act 12:7 Then suddenly an angel of the Lord stood there, and the cell was filled with light. He tapped Peter on the side and woke him. 'Get up!' he said, 'Hurry!' -- and the chains fell from his hands.

Act 12:8 The angel then said, 'Put on your belt and sandals.' After he had done this, the angel next said, 'Wrap your cloak round you and follow me.'

Act 12:9 He followed him out, but had no idea that what the angel did was all happening in reality; he thought he was seeing a vision.

Act 12:10 They passed through the first guard post and then the second and reached the iron gate leading to the city. This opened of its own accord; they went through it and had walked the whole length of one street when suddenly the angel left him.

Act 12:11 It was only then that Peter came to himself. And he said, 'Now I know it is all true. The Lord really did send his angel and save me from Herod and from all that the Jewish people were expecting.'

Act 12:12 As soon as he realised this he went straight to the house of Mary the mother of John Mark, where a number of people had assembled and were praying.

Act 12:13 He knocked at the outside door and a servant called Rhoda came to answer it.

Act 12:14 She recognised Peter's voice and was so overcome with joy that, instead of opening the door, she ran inside with the news that Peter was standing at the main entrance.

Act 12:15 They said to her, 'You are out of your mind,' but she insisted that it was true. Then they said, 'It must be his angel!'

Act 12:16 Peter, meanwhile, was still knocking. When they opened the door, they were amazed to see that it really was Peter himself.

Act 12:17 He raised his hand for silence and described to them how the Lord had led him out of prison. He added, 'Tell James and the brothers.' Then he left and went elsewhere.

Act 12:18 When daylight came there was a great commotion among the soldiers, who could not imagine what had become of Peter.

Act 12:19 Herod put out an unsuccessful search for him; he had the guards questioned, and before leaving Judaea to take up residence in Caesarea he gave orders for their execution.

Act 12:20 Now Herod was on bad terms with the Tyrians and Sidonians. Yet they sent a joint deputation which managed to enlist the support of Blastus, the king's chamberlain, and through him negotiated a treaty, since their country depended for its food supply on the king's territory.

Act 12:21 A day was fixed, and Herod, wearing his robes of state and seated on a throne, began to make a speech to them.

Act 12:22 The people acclaimed him with, 'It is a god speaking, not a man!'

Act 12:23 and at that moment the angel of the Lord struck him down, because he had not given the glory to God. He was eaten away by worms and died.

Act 12:24 The word of God continued to spread and to gain followers.

Act 12:25 Barnabas and Saul completed their task at Jerusalem and came back, bringing John Mark with them.

Act 13:1 In the church at Antioch the following were prophets and teachers: Barnabas, Simeon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen, who had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

Act 13:2 One day while they were offering worship to the Lord and keeping a fast, the Holy Spirit said, 'I want Barnabas and Saul set apart for the work to which I have called them.'

Act 13:3 So it was that after fasting and prayer they laid their hands on them and sent them off.

Act 13:4 So these two, sent on their mission by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia and from there set sail for Cyprus.

Act 13:5 They landed at Salamis and proclaimed the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews; John acted as their assistant.

Act 13:6 They travelled the whole length of the island, and at Paphos they came in contact with a Jewish magician and false prophet called Bar-Jesus.

Act 13:7 He was one of the attendants of the proconsul Sergius Paulus, who was an extremely intelligent man. The proconsul summoned Barnabas and Saul and asked to hear the word of God,

Act 13:8 but Elymas the magician (this is what his name means in Greek) tried to stop them so as to prevent the proconsul's conversion to the faith.

Act 13:9 Then Saul, whose other name is Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, looked at him intently Act 13:10 and said, 'You utter fraud, you impostor, you son of the devil, you enemy of all uprightness, will you not stop twisting the straightforward ways of the Lord?

Act 13:11 Now watch how the hand of the Lord will strike you: you will be blind, and for a time you will not see the sun.' That instant, everything went misty and dark for him, and he groped about to find someone to lead him by the hand.

Act 13:12 The proconsul, who had watched everything, became a believer, being much struck by what he had learnt about the Lord.

Act 13:13 Paul and his companions went by sea from Paphos to Perga in Pamphylia where John left them to go back to Jerusalem.

Act 13:14 The others carried on from Perga till they reached Antioch in Pisidia. Here they went to synagogue on the Sabbath and took their seats.

Act 13:15 After the passages from the Law and the Prophets had been read, the presidents of the synagogue sent them a message, 'Brothers, if you would like to address some words of encouragement to the congregation, please do so.'

Act 13:16 Paul stood up, raised his hand for silence and began to speak: 'Men of Israel, and fearers of God, listen!

Act 13:17 The God of our nation Israel chose our ancestors and made our people great when they were living in Egypt, a land not their own; then by divine power he led them out

Act 13:18 and for about forty years took care of them in the desert.

Act 13:19 When he had destroyed seven nations in Canaan, he put them in possession of their land

Act 13:20 for about four hundred and fifty years. After this he gave them judges, down to the prophet Samuel.

Act 13:21 Then they demanded a king, and God gave them Saul son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin. After forty years,

Act 13:22 he deposed him and raised up David to be king, whom he attested in these words, "I have found David son of Jesse, a man after my own heart, who will perform my entire will."

Act 13:23 To keep his promise, God has raised up for Israel one of David's descendants, Jesus, as Saviour,

Act 13:24 whose coming was heralded by John when he proclaimed a baptism of repentance for the whole people of Israel.

Act 13:25 Before John ended his course he said, "I am not the one you imagine me to be; there is someone coming after me whose sandal I am not fit to undo."

Act 13:26 'My brothers, sons of Abraham's race, and all you godfearers, this message of salvation is meant for you.

Act 13:27 What the people of Jerusalem and their rulers did, though they did not realise it, was in fact to fulfil the prophecies read on every Sabbath.

Act 13:28 Though they found nothing to justify his execution, they condemned him and asked Pilate to have him put to death.

Act 13:29 When they had carried out everything that scripture foretells about him they took him down from the tree and buried him in a tomb.

Act 13:30 But God raised him from the dead,

Act 13:31 and for many days he appeared to those who had accompanied him from Galilee to Jerusalem: and it is these same companions of his who are now his witnesses before our people.

Act 13:32 'We have come here to tell you the good news that the promise made to our ancestors has come about.

Act 13:33 God has fulfilled it to their children by raising Jesus from the dead. As scripture says in the psalms: You are my son: today I have fathered you.

Act 13:34 The fact that God raised him from the dead, never to return to corruption, is no more than what he had declared: To you I shall give the holy things promised to David which can be relied upon.

Act 13:35 This is also why it says in another text: You will not allow your Holy One to see corruption.

Act 13:36 Now when David in his own time had served God's purposes he died; he was buried with his ancestors and has certainly seen corruption.

Act 13:37 The one whom God has raised up, however, has not seen corruption.

Act 13:38 'My brothers, I want you to realise that it is through him that forgiveness of sins is being proclaimed to you. Through him justification from all sins from which the Law of Moses was unable to justify

Act 13:39 is being offered to every believer.'

Act 13:40 'So be careful -- or what the prophets say will happen to you.'

Act 13:41 Cast your eyes around you, mockers; be amazed, and perish! For I am doing something in your own days that you would never believe if you were told of it.'

Act 13:42 As they left they were urged to continue this preaching the following Sabbath.

Act 13:43 When the meeting broke up many Jews and devout converts followed Paul and Barnabas, and in their talks with them Paul and Barnabas urged them to remain faithful to the grace God had given them.

Act 13:44 The next Sabbath almost the whole town assembled to hear the word of God.

Act 13:45 When they saw the crowds, the Jews, filled with jealousy, used blasphemies to contradict everything Paul said.

Act 13:46 Then Paul and Barnabas spoke out fearlessly. 'We had to proclaim the word of God to you first, but since you have rejected it, since you do not think yourselves worthy of eternal life, here and now we turn to the gentiles.'

Act 13:47 For this is what the Lord commanded us to do when he said: I have made you a light to the nations, so that my salvation may reach the remotest parts of the earth.'

Act 13:48 It made the gentiles very happy to hear this and they gave thanks to the Lord for his message; all who were destined for eternal life became believers.

Act 13:49 Thus the word of the Lord spread through the whole countryside.

Act 13:50 But the Jews worked on some of the devout women of the upper classes and the leading men of the city; they stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas and expelled them from their territory.

Act 13:51 So they shook the dust from their feet in protest against them and went off to Iconium; but the converts were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit.

Act 14:1 It happened that at Iconium they went to the Jewish synagogue, in the same way, and they spoke so effectively that a great many Jews and Greeks became believers.

Act 14:2 (However, the Jews who refused to believe stirred up the gentiles against the brothers and set them in opposition.)

Act 14:3 Accordingly Paul and Barnabas stayed on for some time, preaching fearlessly in the Lord; and he attested all they said about his gift of grace, allowing signs and wonders to be performed by them.

Act 14:4 The people in the city were divided; some supported the Jews, others the apostles,

Act 14:5 but eventually with the connivance of the authorities a move was made by gentiles as well as Jews to make attacks on them and to stone them.

Act 14:6 When they came to hear of this, they went off for safety to Lycaonia where, in the towns of Lystra and Derbe and in the surrounding country,

Act 14:7 they preached the good news.

Act 14:8 There was a man sitting there who had never walked in his life, because his feet were crippled from birth;

Act 14:9 he was listening to Paul preaching, and Paul looked at him intently and saw that he had the faith to be cured.

Act 14:10 Paul said in a loud voice, 'Get to your feet-stand up,' and the cripple jumped up and began to walk.

Act 14:11 When the crowds saw what Paul had done they shouted in the language of Lycaonia, 'The gods have come down to us in human form.'

Act 14:12 They addressed Barnabas as Zeus, and since Paul was the principal speaker they called him Hermes.

Act 14:13 The priests of Zeus-outside-the-Gate, proposing that all the people should offer sacrifice with them, brought garlanded oxen to the gates.

Act 14:14 When the apostles Barnabas and Paul heard what was happening they tore their clothes, and rushed into the crowd, shouting,

Act 14:15 'Friends, what do you think you are doing? We are only human beings, mortal like yourselves. We have come with good news to make you turn from these empty idols to the living God who made sky and earth and the sea and all that these hold.

Act 14:16 In the past he allowed all the nations to go their own way;

Act 14:17 but even then he did not leave you without evidence of himself in the good things he does for you: he sends you rain from heaven and seasons of fruitfulness; he fills you with food and your hearts with merriment.'

Act 14:18 With this speech they just managed to prevent the crowd from offering them sacrifice.

Act 14:19 Then some Jews arrived from Antioch and Iconium and turned the people against them. They stoned Paul and dragged him outside the town, thinking he was dead.

Act 14:20 The disciples came crowding round him but, as they did so, he stood up and went back to the town.

The next day he and Barnabas left for Derbe.

Act 14:21 Having preached the good news in that town and made a considerable number of disciples, they went back through Lystra, Iconium and Antioch.

Act 14:22 They put fresh heart into the disciples, encouraging them to persevere in the faith, saying, 'We must all experience many hardships before we enter the kingdom of God.'

Act 14:23 In each of these churches they appointed elders, and with prayer and fasting they commended them to the Lord in whom they had come to believe.

Act 14:24 They passed through Pisidia and reached Pamphylia.

Act 14:25 Then after proclaiming the word at Perga they went down to Attalia

Act 14:26 and from there sailed for Antioch, where they had originally been commended to the grace of God for the work they had now completed.

Act 14:27 On their arrival they assembled the church and gave an account of all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith to the gentiles.

Act 14:28 They stayed there with the disciples for some time.

Act 15:1 Then some men came down from Judaea and taught the brothers, 'Unless you have yourselves circumcised in the tradition of Moses you cannot be saved.'

Act 15:2 This led to disagreement, and after Paul and Barnabas had had a long argument with these men it was decided that Paul and Barnabas and others of the church should go up to Jerusalem and discuss the question with the apostles and elders.

Act 15:3 The members of the church saw them off, and as they passed through Phoenicia and Samaria they told how the gentiles had been converted, and this news was received with the greatest satisfaction by all the brothers.

Act 15:4 When they arrived in Jerusalem they were welcomed by the church and by the apostles and elders, and gave an account of all that God had done through them.

Act 15:5 But certain members of the Pharisees' party who had become believers objected, insisting that gentiles should be circumcised and instructed to keep the Law of Moses.

Act 15:6 The apostles and elders met to look into the matter,

Act 15:7 and after a long discussion, Peter stood up and addressed them. 'My brothers,' he said, 'you know perfectly well that in the early days God made his choice among you: the gentiles were to learn the good news from me and so become believers.'

Act 15:8 And God, who can read everyone's heart, showed his approval of them by giving the Holy Spirit to them just as he had to us.

Act 15:9 God made no distinction between them and us, since he purified their hearts by faith.

Act 15:10 Why do you put God to the test now by imposing on the disciples the very burden that neither our ancestors nor we ourselves were strong enough to support?

Act 15:11 But we believe that we are saved in the same way as they are: through the grace of the Lord Jesus.'

Act 15:12 The entire assembly fell silent, and they listened to Barnabas and Paul describing all the signs and wonders God had worked through them among the gentiles.

Act 15:13 When they had finished it was James who spoke. 'My brothers,' he said, 'listen to me.'

Act 15:14 Simeon has described how God first arranged to enlist a people for his name out of the gentiles.

Act 15:15 This is entirely in harmony with the words of the prophets, since the scriptures say:

Act 15:16 After that I shall return and rebuild the fallen hut of David; I shall make good the gaps in it and restore it.

Act 15:17 Then the rest of humanity, and of all the nations once called mine, will look for the Lord, says the Lord who made this Act 15:18 known so long ago.

Act 15:19 'My verdict is, then, that instead of making things more difficult for gentiles who turn to God,

Act 15:20 we should send them a letter telling them merely to abstain from anything polluted by idols, from illicit marriages, from the meat of strangled animals and from blood.'

Act 15:21 For Moses has always had his preachers in every town and is read aloud in the synagogues every Sabbath.'

Act 15:22 Then the apostles and elders, with the whole church, decided to choose delegates from among themselves to send to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas. They chose Judas, known as Barsabbas, and Silas, both leading men in the brotherhood, Act 15:23 and gave them this letter to take with them: 'The apostles and elders, your brothers, send greetings to the brothers of gentile birth in Antioch, Syria and Cilicia.

Act 15:24 We hear that some people coming from here, but acting without any authority from ourselves, have disturbed you with their demands and have unsettled your minds;

Act 15:25 and so we have decided unanimously to elect delegates and to send them to you with our well-beloved Barnabas and Paul,

Act 15:26 who have committed their lives to the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Act 15:27 Accordingly we are sending you Judas and Silas, who will confirm by word of mouth what we have written.

Act 15:28 It has been decided by the Holy Spirit and by ourselves not to impose on you any burden beyond these essentials:

Act 15:29 you are to abstain from food sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from illicit marriages. Avoid these, and you will do what is right. Farewell.'

Act 15:30 The party left and went down to Antioch, where they summoned the whole community and delivered the letter.

Act 15:31 The community read it and were delighted with the encouragement it gave them.

Act 15:32 Judas and Silas, being themselves prophets, spoke for a long time, encouraging and strengthening the brothers.

Act 15:33 These two spent some time there, and then the brothers wished them peace and went back to those who had sent them.

Act 15:34

Act 15:35 Paul and Barnabas, however, stayed on in Antioch, and there with many others they taught and proclaimed the good news, the word of the Lord.

Act 15:36 On a later occasion Paul said to Barnabas, 'Let us go back and visit the brothers in all the towns where we preached the word of the Lord, so that we can see how they are doing.'

Act 15:37 Barnabas suggested taking John Mark,

Act 15:38 but Paul was not in favour of taking along the man who had deserted them in Pamphylia and had refused to share in their work.

Act 15:39 There was sharp disagreement so that they parted company, and Barnabas sailed off with Mark to Cyprus.

Act 15:40 Before Paul left, he chose Silas to accompany him and was commended by the brothers to the grace of God.

Act 15:41 He travelled through Syria and Cilicia, consolidating the churches.

Act 16:1 From there he went to Derbe, and then on to Lystra, where there was a disciple called Timothy, whose mother was Jewish and had become a believer; but his father was a Greek.

Act 16:2 The brothers at Lystra and Iconium spoke well of him,

Act 16:3 and Paul, who wanted to have him as a travelling companion, had him circumcised. This was on account of the Jews in the locality where everyone knew his father was a Greek.

Act 16:4 As they visited one town after another, they passed on the decisions reached by the apostles and elders in Jerusalem, with instructions to observe them.

Act 16:5 So the churches grew strong in the faith, as well as growing daily in numbers.

Act 16:6 They travelled through Phrygia and the Galatian country, because they had been told by the Holy Spirit not to preach the word in Asia.

Act 16:7 When they reached the frontier of Mysia they tried to go into Bithynia, but as the Spirit of Jesus would not allow them, Act 16:8 they went through Mysia and came down to Troas.

Act 16:9 One night Paul had a vision: a Macedonian appeared and kept urging him in these words, 'Come across to Macedonia and help us.'

Act 16:10 Once he had seen this vision we lost no time in arranging a passage to Macedonia, convinced that God had called us to bring them the good news.

Act 16:11 Sailing from Troas we made a straight run for Samothrace; the next day for Neapolis, Act 16:12 and from there for Philippi, a Roman colony and the principal city of that district of Macedonia.

Act 16:13 After a few days in this city we went outside the gates beside a river as it was the Sabbath and this was a customary place for prayer. We sat down and preached to the women who had come to the meeting.

Act 16:14 One of these women was called Lydia, a woman from the town of Thyatira who was in the purple-dye trade, and who revered God. She listened to us, and the Lord opened her heart to accept what Paul was saying.

Act 16:15 After she and her household had been baptised she kept urging us, 'If you judge me a true believer in the Lord,' she said, 'come and stay with us.' And she would take no refusal.

Act 16:16 It happened one day that as we were going to prayer, we were met by a slave-girl who was a soothsayer and made a lot of money for her masters by foretelling the future.

Act 16:17 This girl started following Paul and the rest of us and shouting, 'Here are the servants of the Most High God; they have come to tell you how to be saved!'

Act 16:18 She did this day after day until Paul was exasperated and turned round and said to the spirit, 'I order you in the name of Jesus Christ to leave that woman.' The spirit went out of her then and there.

Act 16:19 When her masters saw that there was no hope of making any more money out of her, they seized Paul and Silas and dragged them into the market place before the authorities.

Act 16:20 Taking them before the magistrates they said, 'These people are causing a disturbance in our city. They are Jews

Act 16:21 and are advocating practices which it is unlawful for us as Romans to accept or follow.'

Act 16:22 The crowd joined in and showed its hostility to them, so the magistrates had them stripped and ordered them to be flogged.

Act 16:23 They were given many lashes and then thrown into prison, and the gaoler was told to keep a close watch on them.

Act 16:24 So, following such instructions, he threw them into the inner prison and fastened their feet in the stocks.

Act 16:25 In the middle of the night Paul and Silas were praying and singing God's praises, while the other prisoners listened.

Act 16:26 Suddenly there was an earthquake that shook the prison to its foundations. All the doors flew open and the chains fell from all the prisoners.

Act 16:27 When the gaoler woke and saw the doors wide open he drew his sword and was about to commit suicide, presuming that the prisoners had escaped.

Act 16:28 But Paul shouted at the top of his voice, 'Do yourself no harm; we are all here.'

Act 16:29 He called for lights, then rushed in, threw himself trembling at the feet of Paul and Silas,

Act 16:30 and escorted them out, saying, 'Sirs, what must I do to be saved?'

Act 16:31 They told him, 'Become a believer in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved, and your household too.'

Act 16:32 Then they preached the word of the Lord to him and to all his household.

Act 16:33 Late as it was, he took them to wash their wounds, and was baptised then and there with all his household.

Act 16:34 Afterwards he took them into his house and gave them a meal, and the whole household celebrated their conversion to belief in God.

Act 16:35 When it was daylight the magistrates sent the lictors with the order: 'Release those men.'

Act 16:36 The gaoler reported the message to Paul, 'The magistrates have sent an order for your release; you can go now and be on your way.'

Act 16:37 'What!' Paul replied. 'Without trial they gave us a public flogging, though we are Roman citizens, and threw us into prison, and now they want to send us away on the quiet! Oh no! They must come and escort us out themselves.'

Act 16:38 The lictors reported this to the magistrates, who were terrified when they heard they were Roman citizens.

Act 16:39 They came and urged them to leave the town.

Act 16:40 From the prison they went to Lydia's house where they saw all the brothers and gave them some encouragement; then they left.

Act 17:1 Passing through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they eventually reached Thessalonica, where there was a Jewish synagogue.

Act 17:2 Paul as usual went in and for three consecutive Sabbaths developed the arguments from scripture for them,

Act 17:3 explaining and proving how it was ordained that the Christ should suffer and rise from the dead. 'And the Christ', he said, 'is this Jesus whom I am proclaiming to you.'

Act 17:4 Some of them were convinced and joined Paul and Silas, and so did a great many godfearing people and Greeks, as well as a number of the leading women.

Act 17:5 The Jews, full of resentment, enlisted the help of a gang from the market place, stirred up a crowd, and soon had the whole city in an uproar. They made for Jason's house, hoping to bring them before the People's Assembly;

Act 17:6 however, they found only Jason and some of the brothers, and these they dragged before the city council, shouting, 'The people who have been turning the whole world upside down have come here now;

Act 17:7 they have been staying at Jason's. They have broken Caesar's edicts by claiming that there is another king, Jesus.'

Act 17:8 Hearing this, the citizens and the city councillors were alarmed, Act 17:9 and they made Jason and the rest give security before setting them free.

Act 17:10 When it was dark the brothers immediately sent Paul and Silas away to Beroea, where they went to the Jewish synagogue as soon as they arrived.

Act 17:11 Here the Jews were more noble-minded than those in Thessalonica, and they welcomed the word very readily; every day they studied the scriptures to check whether it was true.

Act 17:12 Many of them became believers, and so did many Greek women of high standing and a number of the men.

Act 17:13 When the Jews of Thessalonica came to learn that the word of God was being preached by Paul in Beroea as well, they went there to make trouble and stir up the people.

Act 17:14 So the brothers arranged for Paul to go immediately as far as the coast, leaving Silas and Timothy behind.

Act 17:15 Paul's escort took him as far as Athens, and went back with instructions for Silas and Timothy to rejoin Paul as soon as they could.

Act 17:16 Paul waited for them in Athens and there his whole soul was revolted at the sight of a city given over to idolatry.

Act 17:17 In the synagogue he debated with the Jews and the godfearing, and in the market place he debated every day with anyone whom he met.

Act 17:18 Even a few Epicurean and Stoic philosophers argued with him. Some said, 'What can this parrot mean?' And, because he was preaching about Jesus and Resurrection, others said, 'He seems to be a propagandist for some outlandish gods.'

Act 17:19 They got him to accompany them to the Areopagus, where they said to him, 'Can we know what this new doctrine is that you are teaching?

Act 17:20 Some of the things you say seemed startling to us and we would like to find out what they mean.'

Act 17:21 The one amusement the Athenians and the foreigners living there seem to have is to discuss and listen to the latest ideas.

Act 17:22 So Paul stood before the whole council of the Areopagus and made this speech: 'Men of Athens, I have seen for myself how extremely scrupulous you are in all religious matters,

Act 17:23 because, as I strolled round looking at your sacred monuments, I noticed among other things an altar inscribed: To An Unknown God. In fact, the unknown God you revere is the one I proclaim to you.

Act 17:24 'Since the God who made the world and everything in it is himself Lord of heaven and earth, he does not make his home in shrines made by human hands.

Act 17:25 Nor is he in need of anything, that he should be served by human hands; on the contrary, it is he who gives everything -- including life and breath -- to everyone.

Act 17:26 From one single principle he not only created the whole human race so that they could occupy the entire earth, but he decreed the times and limits of their habitation.

Act 17:27 And he did this so that they might seek the deity and, by feeling their way towards him, succeed in finding him; and indeed he is not far from any of us,

Act 17:28 since it is in him that we live, and move, and exist, as indeed some of your own writers have said: We are all his children.

Act 17:29 'Since we are the children of God, we have no excuse for thinking that the deity looks like anything in gold, silver or stone that has been carved and designed by a man.

Act 17:30 'But now, overlooking the times of ignorance, God is telling everyone everywhere that they must repent,

Act 17:31 because he has fixed a day when the whole world will be judged in uprightness by a man he has appointed. And God has publicly proved this by raising him from the dead.'

Act 17:32 At this mention of rising from the dead, some of them burst out laughing; others said, 'We would like to hear you talk about this another time.'

Act 17:33 After that Paul left them,

Act 17:34 but there were some who attached themselves to him and became believers, among them Dionysius the Aeropagite and a woman called Damaris, and others besides.

Act 18:1 After this Paul left Athens and went to Corinth,

Act 18:2 where he met a Jew called Aquila whose family came from Pontus. He and his wife Priscilla had recently left Italy because an edict of Claudius had expelled all the Jews from Rome. Paul went to visit them,

Act 18:3 and when he found they were tentmakers, of the same trade as himself, he lodged with them, and they worked together.

Act 18:4 Every Sabbath he used to hold debates in the synagogues, trying to convert Jews as well as Greeks.

Act 18:5 After Silas and Timothy had arrived from Macedonia, Paul devoted all his time to preaching, declaring to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ.

Act 18:6 When they turned against him and started to insult him, he took his cloak and shook it out in front of them, saying, 'Your blood be on your own heads; from now on I will go to the gentiles with a clear conscience.'

Act 18:7 Then he left the synagogue and moved to the house next door that belonged to a worshipper of God called Justus.

Act 18:8 Crispus, president of the synagogue, and his whole household, all became believers in the Lord. Many Corinthians when they heard this became believers and were baptised.

Act 18:9 One night the Lord spoke to Paul in a vision, 'Be fearless; speak out and do not keep silence:

Act 18:10 I am with you. I have so many people that belong to me in this city that no one will attempt to hurt you.'

Act 18:11 So Paul stayed there preaching the word of God among them for eighteen months.

Act 18:12 But while Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews made a concerted attack on Paul and brought him before the tribunal, saying,

Act 18:13 'We accuse this man of persuading people to worship God in a way that breaks the Law.'

Act 18:14 Before Paul could open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, 'Listen, you Jews. If this were a misdemeanour or a crime, it would be in order for me to listen to your plea;

Act 18:15 but if it is only quibbles about words and names, and about your own Law, then you must deal with it yourselves -- I have no intention of making legal decisions about these things.'

Act 18:16 Then he began to hustle them out of the court,

Act 18:17 and at once they all turned on Sosthenes, the synagogue president, and beat him in front of the tribunal. Gallio refused to take any notice at all.

Act 18:18 After staying on for some time, Paul took leave of the brothers and sailed for Syria, accompanied by Priscilla and Aquila. At Cenchreae he had his hair cut off, because of a vow he had made.

Act 18:19 When they reached Ephesus, he left them, but first he went alone to the synagogue to debate with the Jews.

Act 18:20 They asked him to stay longer, but he declined,

Act 18:21 though when he took his leave he said, 'I will come back another time, God willing.' Then he sailed from Ephesus.

Act 18:22 He landed at Caesarea and went up to greet the church. Then he came down to Antioch

Act 18:23 where he spent a short time before continuing his journey through the Galatian country and then through Phrygia, encouraging all the followers.

Act 18:24 An Alexandrian Jew named Apollos now arrived in Ephesus. He was an eloquent man, with a sound knowledge of the scriptures, and yet, Act 18:25 though he had been given instruction in the Way of the Lord and preached with great spiritual fervour and was accurate in all the details he taught about Jesus, he had experienced only the baptism of John.

Act 18:26 He began to teach fearlessly in the synagogue and, when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they attached themselves to him and gave him more detailed instruction about the Way.

Act 18:27 When Apollos thought of crossing over to Achaia, the brothers encouraged him and wrote asking the disciples to welcome him. When he arrived there he was able by God's grace to help the believers considerably

Act 18:28 by the energetic way he refuted the Jews in public, demonstrating from the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

Act 19:1 It happened that while Apollos was in Corinth, Paul made his way overland as far as Ephesus, where he found a number of disciples.

Act 19:2 When he asked, 'Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you became believers?' they answered, 'No, we were never even told there was such a thing as a Holy Spirit.'

Act 19:3 He asked, 'Then how were you baptised?' They replied, 'With John's baptism.'

Act 19:4 Paul said, 'John's baptism was a baptism of repentance; but he insisted that the people should believe in the one who was to come after him -- namely Jesus.'

Act 19:5 When they heard this, they were baptised in the name of the Lord Jesus,

Act 19:6 and the moment Paul had laid hands on them the Holy Spirit came down on them, and they began to speak with tongues and to prophesy.

Act 19:7 There were about twelve of these men in all.

Act 19:8 He began by going to the synagogue, where he spoke out fearlessly and argued persuasively about the kingdom of God. He did this for three months,

Act 19:9 till the attitude of some of the congregation hardened into unbelief. As soon as they began attacking the Way in public, he broke with them and took his disciples apart to hold daily discussions in the lecture room of Tyrannus.

Act 19:10 This went on for two years, with the result that all the inhabitants of Asia, both Jews and Greeks, were able to hear the word of the Lord.

Act 19:11 So remarkable were the miracles worked by God at Paul's hands

Act 19:12 that handkerchiefs or aprons which had touched him were taken to the sick, and they were cured of their illnesses, and the evil spirits came out of them.

Act 19:13 But some itinerant Jewish exorcists too tried pronouncing the name of the Lord Jesus over people who were possessed by evil spirits; they used to say, 'I adjure you by the Jesus whose spokesman is Paul.'

Act 19:14 Among those who did this were seven sons of Sceva, a Jewish chief priest.

Act 19:15 The evil spirit replied, 'Jesus I recognise, and Paul I know, but who are you?'

Act 19:16 and the man with the evil spirit hurled himself at them and overpowered first one and then another, and handled them so violently that they fled from that house stripped of clothing and badly mauled.

Act 19:17 Everybody in Ephesus, both Jews and Greeks, heard about this episode; everyone was filled with awe, and the name of the Lord Jesus came to be held in great honour.

Act 19:18 Some believers, too, came forward to admit in detail how they had used spells

Act 19:19 and a number of them who had practised magic collected their books and made a bonfire of them in public. The value of these was calculated to be fifty thousand silver pieces.

Act 19:20 In this powerful way the word of the Lord spread more and more widely and successfully.

Act 19:21 When all this was over Paul made up his mind to go back to Jerusalem through Macedonia and Achaia. 'After I have been there,' he said, 'I must go on to see Rome as well.'

Act 19:22 So he sent two of his helpers, Timothy and Erastus, ahead of him to Macedonia, while he remained for a time in Asia.

Act 19:23 It was during this time that a serious disturbance broke out in connection with the Way.

Act 19:24 A silversmith called Demetrius, who provided work for a large number of craftsmen making silver shrines of Diana,

Act 19:25 called a general meeting of them with others in the same trade. 'As you know,' he said, 'it is on this industry that we depend for our prosperity.'

Act 19:26 Now you must have seen and heard how, not just in Ephesus but nearly everywhere in Asia, this man Paul has persuaded and converted a great number of people with his argument that gods made by hand are not gods at all.

Act 19:27 This threatens not only to discredit our trade, but also to reduce the sanctuary of the great goddess Diana to unimportance. It could end up by taking away the prestige of a goddess venerated all over Asia, and indeed all over the world.'

Act 19:28 This speech roused them to fury, and they started to shout, 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians!'

Act 19:29 The whole town was filled with the uproar and the mob made a concerted rush to the theatre, dragging along two of Paul's Macedonian travelling companions, Gaius and Aristarchus.

Act 19:30 Paul wanted to make an appeal to the people, but the disciples refused to let him;

Act 19:31 in fact, some of the Asiarchs, who were friends of his, sent messages urging him not to take the risk of going into the theatre.

Act 19:32 By now everybody was shouting different things, till the assembly itself had no idea what was going on; most of them did not even know why they had gathered together.

Act 19:33 Some of the crowd prevailed upon Alexander, whom the Jews pushed forward; he raised his hand for silence with the intention of explaining things to the people.

Act 19:34 As soon as they realised he was a Jew, they all started shouting in unison, 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians!' and they kept this up for two hours.

Act 19:35 When the town clerk eventually succeeded in calming the crowd, he said, 'Citizens of Ephesus! Is there anybody who does not know that the city of the Ephesians is the guardian of the temple of great Diana and of her statue that fell from heaven?'

Act 19:36 Nobody can contradict this and there is no need for you to get excited or do anything rash.

Act 19:37 These men you have brought here are not guilty of any sacrilege or blasphemy against our goddess.

Act 19:38 If Demetrius and the craftsmen he has with him want to complain about anyone, there are the assizes and the proconsuls; let them take the case to court.

Act 19:39 And if you want to ask any more questions you must raise them in the regular assembly.

Act 19:40 We could easily be charged with rioting for today's happenings: there is no ground for it all, and we can give no justification for this gathering.' When he had finished this speech he dismissed the assembly.

Act 20:1 When the disturbance was over, Paul sent for the disciples and, after speaking words of encouragement to them, said good -- bye and set out for Macedonia.

Act 20:2 On his way through those areas he said many words of encouragement to them and then made his way into Greece,

Act 20:3 where he spent three months. He was leaving by ship for Syria when a plot organised against him by the Jews made him decide to go back by way of Macedonia.

Act 20:4 He was accompanied by Sopater, son of Pyrrhus, who came from Beroea; Aristarchus and Secundus who came from Thessalonica; Gaius from Derbe, and Timothy, as well as Tychicus and Trophimus who were from Asia.

Act 20:5 They all went on to Troas where they waited for us.

Act 20:6 We ourselves left Philippi by ship after the days of Unleavened Bread and joined them five days later at Troas, where we stayed for a week.

Act 20:7 On the first day of the week we met for the breaking of bread. Paul was due to leave the next day, and he preached a sermon that went on till the middle of the night.

Act 20:8 A number of lamps were lit in the upstairs room where we were assembled,

Act 20:9 and as Paul went on and on, a young man called Eutychus who was sitting on the window-sill grew drowsy and was overcome by sleep and fell to the ground three floors below. He was picked up dead.

Act 20:10 Paul went down and stooped to clasp the boy to him, saying, 'There is no need to worry, there is still life in him.'

Act 20:11 Then he went back upstairs where he broke the bread and ate and carried on talking till he left at daybreak.

Act 20:12 They took the boy away alive, and were greatly encouraged.

Act 20:13 We were now to go on ahead by sea, so we set sail for Assos, where we were to take Paul on board; this was what he had arranged, for he wanted to go overland.

Act 20:14 When he rejoined us at Assos we took him aboard and went on to Mitylene.

Act 20:15 The next day we sailed from there and arrived opposite Chios. The second day we touched at Samos and, after stopping at Trogyllium, made Miletus the next day.

Act 20:16 Paul had decided to pass wide of Ephesus so as to avoid spending time in Asia, since he was anxious to be in Jerusalem, if possible, for the day of Pentecost.

Act 20:17 From Miletus he sent for the elders of the church of Ephesus.

Act 20:18 When they arrived he addressed these words to them: 'You know what my way of life has been ever since the first day I set foot among you in Asia,

Act 20:19 how I have served the Lord in all humility, with all the sorrows and trials that came to me through the plots of the Jews.

Act 20:20 I have not hesitated to do anything that would be helpful to you; I have preached to you and instructed you both in public and in your homes,

Act 20:21 urging both Jews and Greeks to turn to God and to believe in our Lord Jesus.

Act 20:22 'And now you see me on my way to Jerusalem in captivity to the Spirit; I have no idea what will happen to me there,

Act 20:23 except that the Holy Spirit, in town after town, has made it clear to me that imprisonment and persecution await me.

Act 20:24 But I do not place any value on my own life, provided that I complete the mission the Lord Jesus gave me -- to bear witness to the good news of God's grace.

Act 20:25 'I now feel sure that none of you among whom I have gone about proclaiming the kingdom will ever see my face again.

Act 20:26 And so on this very day I swear that my conscience is clear as far as all of you are concerned,

Act 20:27 for I have without faltering put before you the whole of God's purpose.

Act 20:28 'Be on your guard for yourselves and for all the flock of which the Holy Spirit has made you the guardians, to feed the Church of God which he bought with the blood of his own Son.

Act 20:29 'I know quite well that when I have gone fierce wolves will invade you and will have no mercy on the flock.

Act 20:30 Even from your own ranks there will be men coming forward with a travesty of the truth on their lips to induce the disciples to follow them.

Act 20:31 So be on your guard, remembering how night and day for three years I never slackened in counselling each one of you with tears.

Act 20:32 And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace that has power to build you up and to give you your inheritance among all the sanctified.

Act 20:33 'I have never asked anyone for money or clothes;

Act 20:34 you know for yourselves that these hands of mine earned enough to meet my needs and those of my companions.

Act 20:35 By every means I have shown you that we must exert ourselves in this way to support the weak, remembering the words of the Lord Jesus, who himself said, "There is more happiness in giving than in receiving."

Act 20:36 When he had finished speaking he knelt down with them all and prayed.

Act 20:37 By now they were all in tears; they put their arms round Paul's neck and kissed him;

Act 20:38 what saddened them most was his saying they would never see his face again. Then they escorted him to the ship.

Act 21:1 When we had at last torn ourselves away from them and put to sea, we set a straight course and arrived at Cos; the next day we reached Rhodes, and from there went on to Patara.

Act 21:2 Here we found a ship bound for Phoenicia, so we went on board and sailed in her.

Act 21:3 After sighting Cyprus and leaving it to port, we sailed to Syria and put in at Tyre, since the ship was to unload her cargo there.

Act 21:4 We sought out the disciples and stayed there a week. Speaking in the Spirit, they kept telling Paul not to go on to Jerusalem,

Act 21:5 but when our time was up we set off. Together with the women and children they all escorted us on our way till we were out of the town. When we reached the beach, we knelt down and prayed;

Act 21:6 then, after saying good -- bye to each other, we went aboard and they returned home.

Act 21:7 The end of our voyage from Tyre came when we landed at Ptolemais, where we greeted the brothers and stayed one day with them.

Act 21:8 The next day we left and came to Caesarea. Here we called on Philip the evangelist, one of the Seven, and stayed with him.

Act 21:9 He had four unmarried daughters who were prophets.

Act 21:10 When we had been there several days a prophet called Agabus arrived from Judaea.

Act 21:11 He came up to us, took Paul's belt and tied up his own feet and hands, and said, 'This is what the Holy Spirit says, "The man to whom this girdle belongs will be tied up like this by the Jews in Jerusalem and handed over to the gentiles." '

Act 21:12 When we heard this, we and all the local people urged Paul not to go on to Jerusalem.

Act 21:13 To this he replied, 'What are you doing, weeping and breaking my heart? For my part, I am ready not only to be bound but even to die in Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.'

Act 21:14 And so, as he would not be persuaded, we gave up the attempt, saying, 'The Lord's will be done.'

Act 21:15 After this we made our preparations and went on up to Jerusalem.

Act 21:16 Some of the disciples from Caesarea accompanied us and took us to the house of a Cypriot with whom we were to lodge; he was called Mnason and had been one of the earliest disciples.

Act 21:17 On our arrival in Jerusalem the brothers gave us a very warm welcome.

Act 21:18 The next day Paul went with us to visit James, and all the elders were present.

Act 21:19 After greeting them he gave a detailed account of all that God had done among the gentiles through his ministry.

Act 21:20 They gave glory to God when they heard this. Then they said, 'You see, brother, how thousands of Jews have now become believers, all of them staunch upholders of the Law;

Act 21:21 and what they have heard about you is that you instruct all Jews living among the gentiles to break away from Moses, authorising them not to circumcise their children or to follow the customary practices.

Act 21:22 What is to be done? A crowd is sure to gather, for they will hear that you have come.

Act 21:23 So this is what we suggest that you should do; we have four men here who are under a vow;

Act 21:24 take these men along and be purified with them and pay all the expenses connected with the shaving of their heads. This will let everyone know there is no truth in the reports they have heard about you, and that you too observe the Law by your way of life.

Act 21:25 About the gentiles who have become believers, we have written giving them our decision that they must abstain from things sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from illicit marriages.'

Act 21:26 So the next day Paul took the men along and was purified with them, and he visited the Temple to give notice of the time when the period of purification would be over and the offering would have to be presented on behalf of each of them.

Act 21:27 The seven days were nearly over when some Jews from Asia caught sight of him in the Temple and stirred up the crowd and seized him,

Act 21:28 shouting, 'Men of Israel, help! This is the man who preaches to everyone everywhere against our people, against the Law and against this place. He has even profaned this Holy Place by bringing Greeks into the Temple.'

Act 21:29 They had, in fact, previously seen Trophimus the Ephesian in the city with him and thought that Paul had brought him into the Temple.

Act 21:30 This roused the whole city; people came running from all sides; they seized Paul and dragged him out of the Temple, and the gates were closed behind them.

Act 21:31 While they were setting about killing him, word reached the tribune of the cohort that there was tumult all over Jerusalem.

Act 21:32 He immediately called out soldiers and centurions and charged down on the crowd, who stopped beating Paul when they saw the tribune and the soldiers.

Act 21:33 When the tribune came up he took Paul into custody, had him bound with two chains and enquired who he was and what he had done.

Act 21:34 People in the crowd called out different things, and since the noise made it impossible for him to get any positive information, the tribune ordered Paul to be taken into the fortress.

Act 21:35 When Paul reached the steps, the crowd became so violent that he had to be carried by the soldiers; Act 21:36 and indeed the whole mob was after them, shouting, 'Do away with him!'

Act 21:37 Just as Paul was being taken into the fortress, he asked the tribune if he could have a word with him. The tribune said, 'You speak Greek, then?'

Act 21:38 Aren't you the Egyptian who started the recent revolt and led those four thousand cut-throats out into the desert?'

Act 21:39 'I?' said Paul, 'I am a Jew and a citizen of the well-known city of Tarsus in Cilicia. Please give me permission to speak to the people.'

Act 21:40 The man gave his consent and Paul, standing at the top of the steps, raised his hand to the people for silence. A profound silence followed, and he started speaking to them in Hebrew.

Act 22:1 'My brothers, my fathers, listen to what I have to say to you in my defence.'

Act 22:2 When they realised he was speaking in Hebrew, the silence was even greater than before.

Act 22:3 'I am a Jew', Paul said, 'and was born at Tarsus in Cilicia. I was brought up here in this city. It was under Gamaliel that I studied and was taught the exact observance of the Law of our ancestors. In fact, I was as full of duty towards God as you all are today.'

Act 22:4 I even persecuted this Way to the death and sent women as well as men to prison in chains

Act 22:5 as the high priest and the whole council of elders can testify. I even received letters from them to the brothers in Damascus, which I took with me when I set off to bring prisoners back from there to Jerusalem for punishment.

Act 22:6 'It happened that I was on that journey and nearly at Damascus when in the middle of the day a bright light from heaven suddenly shone round me.'

Act 22:7 I fell to the ground and heard a voice saying, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?"

Act 22:8 I answered, "Who are you, Lord?" and he said to me, "I am Jesus the Nazarene, whom you are persecuting."

Act 22:9 The people with me saw the light but did not hear the voice which spoke to me.

Act 22:10 I said, "What am I to do, Lord?" The Lord answered, "Get up and go into Damascus, and there you will be told what you have been appointed to do."

Act 22:11 Since the light had been so dazzling that I was blind, I got to Damascus only because my companions led me by the hand.

Act 22:12 'Someone called Ananias, a devout follower of the Law and highly thought of by all the Jews living there,

Act 22:13 came to see me; he stood beside me and said, "Brother Saul, receive your sight." Instantly my sight came back and I was able to see him.

Act 22:14 Then he said, "The God of our ancestors has chosen you to know his will, to see the Upright One and hear his own voice speaking, Act 22:15 because you are to be his witness before all humanity, testifying to what you have seen and heard.

Act 22:16 And now why delay? Hurry and be baptised and wash away your sins, calling on his name."

Act 22:17 'It happened that, when I got back to Jerusalem, and was praying in the Temple, I fell into a trance

Act 22:18 and then I saw him. "Hurry," he said, "leave Jerusalem at once; they will not accept the testimony you are giving about me."

Act 22:19 "Lord," I answered, "they know that I used to go from synagogue to synagogue, imprisoning and flogging those who believed in you;

Act 22:20 and that when the blood of your witness Stephen was being shed, I, too, was standing by, in full agreement with his murderers, and in charge of their clothes."

Act 22:21 Then he said to me, "Go! I am sending you out to the gentiles far away."

Act 22:22 So far they had listened to him, but at these words they began to shout, 'Rid the earth of the man! He is not fit to live!'

Act 22:23 They were yelling, waving their cloaks and throwing dust into the air, Act 22:24 and so the tribune had him brought into the fortress and ordered him to be examined under the lash, to find out the reason for the outcry against him.

Act 22:25 But when they had strapped him down Paul said to the centurion on duty, 'Is it legal for you to flog a man who is a Roman citizen and has not been brought to trial?'

Act 22:26 When he heard this the centurion went and told the tribune; 'Do you realise what you are doing?' he said. 'This man is a Roman citizen.'

Act 22:27 So the tribune came and asked him, 'Tell me, are you a Roman citizen?' Paul answered 'Yes'.

Act 22:28 To this the tribune replied, 'It cost me a large sum to acquire this citizenship.' 'But I was born to it,' said Paul.

Act 22:29 Then those who were about to examine him hurriedly withdrew, and the tribune himself was alarmed when he realised that he had put a Roman citizen in chains.

Act 22:30 The next day, since he wanted to know for sure what charge the Jews were bringing, he freed Paul and gave orders for a meeting of the chief priests and the entire Sanhedrin; then he brought Paul down and set him in front of them.

Act 23:1 Paul looked steadily at the Sanhedrin and began to speak, 'My brothers, to this day I have conducted myself before God with a perfectly clear conscience.'

Act 23:2 At this the high priest Ananias ordered his attendants to strike him on the mouth.

Act 23:3 Then Paul said to him, 'God will surely strike you, you whitewashed wall! How can you sit there to judge me according to the Law, and then break the Law by ordering a man to strike me?'

Act 23:4 The attendants said, 'Are you insulting the high priest of God?

Act 23:5 Paul answered, 'Brothers, I did not realise it was the high priest; certainly scripture says, "You will not curse your people's leader." '

Act 23:6 Now Paul was well aware that one party was made up of Sadducees and the other of Pharisees, so he called out in the Sanhedrin, 'Brothers, I am a Pharisee and the son of Pharisees. It is for our hope in the resurrection of the dead that I am on trial.'

Act 23:7 As soon as he said this, a dispute broke out between the Pharisees and Sadducees, and the assembly was split between the two parties.

Act 23:8 For the Sadducees say there is neither resurrection, nor angel, nor spirit, while the Pharisees accept all three.

Act 23:9 The shouting grew louder, and some of the scribes from the Pharisees' party stood up and protested strongly, 'We find nothing wrong with this man. Suppose a spirit has spoken to him, or an angel?'

Act 23:10 Feeling was running high, and the tribune, afraid that they would tear Paul to pieces, ordered his troops to go down and haul him out and bring him into the fortress.

Act 23:11 Next night, the Lord appeared to him and said, 'Courage! You have borne witness for me in Jerusalem, now you must do the same in Rome.'

Act 23:12 When it was day, the Jews held a secret meeting at which they made a vow not to eat or drink until they had killed Paul.

Act 23:13 More than forty of them entered this pact,

Act 23:14 and they went to the chief priests and elders and told them, 'We have made a solemn vow to let nothing pass our lips until we have killed Paul.'

Act 23:15 Now it is up to you and the Sanhedrin together to apply to the tribune to bring him down to you, as though you meant to examine his case more closely; we, on our side, are prepared to dispose of him before he reaches you.'

Act 23:16 But the son of Paul's sister heard of the ambush they were laying and made his way into the fortress and told Paul,

Act 23:17 who called one of the centurions and said, 'Take this young man to the tribune; he has something to tell him.'

Act 23:18 So the man took him to the tribune, and reported, 'The prisoner Paul summoned me and requested me to bring this young man to you; he has something to tell you.'

Act 23:19 Then the tribune took him by the hand and drew him aside and questioned him in private, 'What is it you have to tell me?'

Act 23:20 He replied, 'The Jews have made a plan to ask you to take Paul down to the Sanhedrin tomorrow, as though they meant to enquire more closely into his case.'

Act 23:21 Do not believe them. There are more than forty of them lying in wait for him, and they have vowed not to eat or drink until they have got rid of him. They are ready now and only waiting for your order to be given.'

Act 23:22 The tribune let the young man go with this order, 'Tell no one that you have given me this information.'

Act 23:23 Then he summoned two of the centurions and said, 'Get two hundred soldiers ready to leave for Caesarea by the third hour of the night with seventy cavalry and two hundred auxiliaries;

Act 23:24 provide horses for Paul, and deliver him unharmed to Felix the governor.'

Act 23:25 He also wrote a letter in these terms:

Act 23:26 'Claudius Lysias to his Excellency the governor Felix, greetings.

Act 23:27 This man had been seized by the Jews and would have been murdered by them; but I came on the scene with my troops and got him away, having discovered that he was a Roman citizen.'

Act 23:28 Wanting to find out what charge they were making against him, I brought him before their Sanhedrin.

Act 23:29 I found that the accusation concerned disputed points of their Law, but that there was no charge deserving death or imprisonment.

Act 23:30 Acting on information that there was a conspiracy against the man, I hasten to send him to you, and have notified his accusers that they must state their case against him in your presence.'

Act 23:31 The soldiers carried out their orders; they took Paul and escorted him by night to Antipatris.

Act 23:32 Next day they left the mounted escort to go on with him and returned to the fortress.

Act 23:33 On arriving at Caesarea the escort delivered the letter to the governor and handed Paul over to him.

Act 23:34 When he had read it, he asked Paul what province he came from. Learning that he was from Cilicia he said, Act 23:35 'I will hear your case as soon as your accusers are here too.' Then he ordered him to be held in Herod's praetorium.

Act 24:1 Five days later the high priest Ananias came down with some of the elders and an advocate named Tertullus, and they laid information against Paul before the governor.

Act 24:2 Paul was called, and Tertullus opened for the prosecution, 'Your Excellency, Felix, the unbroken peace we enjoy and the reforms this nation owes to your foresight Act 24:3 are matters we accept, always and everywhere, with all gratitude.

Act 24:4 I do not want to take up too much of your time, but I urge you in your graciousness to give us a brief hearing.

Act 24:5 We have found this man a perfect pest; he stirs up trouble among Jews the world over and is a ringleader of the Nazarene sect.

Act 24:6 He has even attempted to profane the Temple. We placed him under arrest.

Act 24:7 'I know that you have administered justice over this nation for many years, and I can therefore speak with confidence in my defence.'

Act 24:8 If you ask him you can find out for yourself the truth of all our accusations against this man.'

Act 24:9 The Jews supported him, asserting that these were the facts.

Act 24:10 When the governor motioned him to speak, Paul answered:

Act 24:11 As you can verify for yourself, it is no more than twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem on pilgrimage,

Act 24:12 and it is not true that they ever found me arguing with anyone or stirring up the mob, either in the Temple, in the synagogues, or about the town;

Act 24:13 neither can they give you any proof of the accusations they are making against me now.

Act 24:14 'What I do admit to you is this: it is according to the Way, which they describe as a sect, that I worship the God of my ancestors, retaining my belief in all points of the Law and in what is written in the prophets;

Act 24:15 and I hold the same hope in God as they do that there will be a resurrection of the upright and the wicked alike.

Act 24:16 In these things, I, as much as they, do my best to keep a clear conscience at all times before God and everyone.

Act 24:17 'After several years I came to bring relief-money to my nation and to make offerings;

Act 24:18 it was in connection with these that they found me in the Temple; I had been purified, and there was no crowd involved, and no disturbance.

Act 24:19 But some Jews from Asia -- these are the ones who should have appeared before you and accused me of whatever they had against me.

Act 24:20 At least let those who are present say what crime they held against me when I stood before the Sanhedrin,

Act 24:21 unless it were to do with this single claim, when I stood up among them and called out, "It is about the resurrection of the dead that I am on trial before you today."

Act 24:22 At this, Felix, who was fairly well informed about the Way, adjourned the case, saying, 'When Lysias the tribune comes down I will give judgement about your case.'

Act 24:23 He then gave orders to the centurion that Paul should be kept under arrest but free from restriction, and that none of his own people should be prevented from seeing to his needs.

Act 24:24 Some days later Felix came with his wife Drusilla who was a Jewess. He sent for Paul and gave him a hearing on the subject of faith in Christ Jesus.

Act 24:25 But when Paul began to treat of uprightness, self-control and the coming Judgement, Felix took fright and said, 'You may go for the present; I will send for you when I find it convenient.'

Act 24:26 At the same time he had hopes of receiving money from Paul, and for this reason he sent for him frequently and had talks with him.

Act 24:27 When two years came to an end, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus and, being anxious to gain favour with the Jews, Felix left Paul in custody.

Act 25:1 Three days after his arrival in the province, Festus went up to Jerusalem from Caesarea.

Act 25:2 The chief priests and leaders of the Jews informed him of the case against Paul,

Act 25:3 urgently asking him to support them against him, and to have him transferred to Jerusalem. They were preparing an ambush to murder him on the way.

Act 25:4 But Festus replied that Paul was in custody in Caesarea, and that he would be going back there shortly himself.

Act 25:5 He said, 'Let your authorities come down with me, and if there is anything wrong about the man, they can bring a charge against him.'

Act 25:6 After staying with them for eight or ten days at the most, he went down to Caesarea and the next day he took his seat on the tribunal and had Paul brought in.

Act 25:7 As soon as Paul appeared, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem surrounded him, making many serious accusations which they were unable to substantiate.

Act 25:8 Paul's defence was this, 'I have committed no offence whatever against either Jewish law, or the Temple, or Caesar.'

Act 25:9 Festus was anxious to gain favour with the Jews, so he said to Paul, 'Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and be tried on these charges before me there?'

Act 25:10 But Paul replied, 'I am standing before the tribunal of Caesar and this is where I should be tried. I have done the Jews no wrong, as you very well know.'

Act 25:11 If I am guilty of committing any capital crime, I do not ask to be spared the death penalty. But if there is no substance in the accusations these persons bring against me, no one has a right to surrender me to them. I appeal to Caesar.'

Act 25:12 Then Festus conferred with his advisers and replied, 'You have appealed to Caesar; to Caesar you shall go.'

Act 25:13 Some days later King Agrippa and Bernice arrived in Caesarea and paid their respects to Festus.

Act 25:14 Their visit lasted several days, and Festus put Paul's case before the king, saying, 'There is a man here whom Felix left behind in custody, Act 25:15 and while I was in Jerusalem the chief priests and elders of the Jews laid information against him, demanding his condemnation.

Act 25:16 But I told them that Romans are not in the habit of surrendering any man, until the accused confronts his accusers and is given an opportunity to defend himself against the charge.

Act 25:17 So they came here with me, and I wasted no time but took my seat on the tribunal the very next day and had the man brought in.

Act 25:18 When confronted with him, his accusers did not charge him with any of the crimes I had expected;

Act 25:19 but they had some argument or other with him about their own religion and about a dead man called Jesus whom Paul alleged to be alive.

Act 25:20 Not feeling qualified to deal with questions of this sort, I asked him if he would be willing to go to Jerusalem to be tried there on this issue.

Act 25:21 But Paul put in an appeal for his case to be reserved for the judgement of the emperor, so I ordered him to be remanded until I could send him to Caesar.'

Act 25:22 Agrippa said to Festus, 'I should like to hear the man myself.' He answered, 'Tomorrow you shall hear him.'

Act 25:23 So the next day Agrippa and Bernice arrived in great state and entered the audience chamber attended by the tribunes and the city notables; and Festus ordered Paul to be brought in.

Act 25:24 Then Festus said, 'King Agrippa, and all here present with us, you see before you the man about whom the whole Jewish community has petitioned me, both in Jerusalem and here, loudly protesting that he ought not to be allowed to remain alive.

Act 25:25 For my own part I am satisfied that he has committed no capital crime, but when he himself appealed to the emperor I decided to send him.

Act 25:26 But I have nothing definite that I can write to his Imperial Majesty about him; that is why I have produced him before you all, and before you in particular, King Agrippa, so that after the examination I may have something to write.

Act 25:27 It seems to me pointless to send a prisoner without indicating the charges against him.'

Act 26:1 Then Agrippa said to Paul, 'You have leave to speak on your own behalf.' And Paul held up his hand and began his defence:

Act 26:2 'I consider myself fortunate, King Agrippa, in that it is before you I am to answer today all the charges made against me by the Jews,

Act 26:3 the more so because you are an expert in matters of custom and controversy among the Jews. So I beg you to listen to me patiently.

Act 26:4 'My manner of life from my youth, a life spent from the beginning among my own people and in Jerusalem, is common knowledge among the Jews.

Act 26:5 They have known me for a long time and could testify, if they would, that I followed the strictest party in our religion and lived as a Pharisee.

Act 26:6 And now it is for my hope in the promise made by God to our ancestors that I am on trial,
Act 26:7 the promise that our twelve tribes, constant in worship night and day, hope to attain. For that hope,
Your Majesty, I am actually put on trial by Jews!
Act 26:8 Why does it seem incredible to you that God should raise the dead?
Act 26:9 'As for me, I once thought it was my duty to use every means to oppose the name of Jesus the Nazarene.
Act 26:10 This I did in Jerusalem; I myself threw many of God's holy people into prison, acting on authority from the chief priests, and when they were being sentenced to death I cast my vote against them.
Act 26:11 I often went round the synagogues inflicting penalties, trying in this way to force them to renounce their faith; my fury against them was so extreme that I even pursued them into foreign cities.
Act 26:12 'On such an expedition I was going to Damascus, armed with full powers and a commission from the chief priests,
Act 26:13 and in the middle of the day as I was on my way, Your Majesty, I saw a light from heaven shining more brilliantly than the sun round me and my fellow-travellers.
Act 26:14 We all fell to the ground, and I heard a voice saying to me in Hebrew, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me? It is hard for you, kicking against the goad.
Act 26:15 Then I said, "Who are you, Lord?" And the Lord answered, "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting.
Act 26:16 But get up and stand on your feet, for I have appeared to you for this reason: to appoint you as my servant and as witness of this vision in which you have seen me, and of others in which I shall appear to you.
Act 26:17 I shall rescue you from the people and from the nations to whom I send you Act 26:18 to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light, from the dominion of Satan to God, and receive, through faith in me, forgiveness of their sins and a share in the inheritance of the sanctified."
Act 26:19 'After that, King Agrippa, I could not disobey the heavenly vision.
Act 26:20 On the contrary I started preaching, first to the people of Damascus, then to those of Jerusalem and all Judaean territory, and also to the gentiles, urging them to repent and turn to God, proving their change of heart by their deeds.
Act 26:21 This was why the Jews laid hands on me in the Temple and tried to do away with me.
Act 26:22 But I was blessed with God's help, and so I have stood firm to this day, testifying to great and small alike, saying nothing more than what the prophets and Moses himself said would happen:
Act 26:23 that the Christ was to suffer and that, as the first to rise from the dead, he was to proclaim a light for our people and for the gentiles.'
Act 26:24 He had reached this point in his defence when Festus shouted out, 'Paul, you are out of your mind; all that learning of yours is driving you mad.'
Act 26:25 But Paul answered, 'Festus, your Excellency, I am not mad: I am speaking words of sober truth and good sense.
Act 26:26 The king understands these matters, and to him I now speak fearlessly. I am confident that nothing of all this comes as a surprise to him; after all, these things were not done in a corner.
Act 26:27 King Agrippa, do you believe in the prophets? I know you do.'
Act 26:28 At this Agrippa said to Paul, 'A little more, and your arguments would make a Christian of me.'
Act 26:29 Paul replied, 'Little or much, I wish before God that not only you but all who are listening to me today would come to be as I am -- except for these chains.'
Act 26:30 At this the king rose to his feet, with the governor and Bernice and those who sat there with them.
Act 26:31 When they had retired they talked together and agreed, 'This man is doing nothing that deserves death or imprisonment.'
Act 26:32 And Agrippa remarked to Festus, 'The man could have been set free if he had not appealed to Caesar.'
Act 27:1 When it had been decided that we should sail to Italy, Paul and some other prisoners were handed over to a centurion called Julius, of the Augustan cohort.
Act 27:2 We boarded a vessel from Adramyttium bound for ports on the Asiatic coast and put to sea; we had Aristarchus with us, a Macedonian of Thessalonica.
Act 27:3 Next day we put in at Sidon, and Julius was considerate enough to allow Paul to go to his friends to be looked after.
Act 27:4 From there we put to sea again, but as the winds were against us we sailed under the lee of Cyprus,
Act 27:5 then across the open sea off Cilicia and Pamphylia, taking a fortnight to reach Myra in Lycia.
Act 27:6 There the centurion found an Alexandrian ship leaving for Italy and put us aboard.
Act 27:7 For some days we made little headway, and we had difficulty in making Cnidus. The wind would not allow us to touch there, so we sailed under the lee of Crete off Cape Salme
Act 27:8 and struggled along the coast until we came to a place called Fair Havens, near the town of Lasea.
Act 27:9 A great deal of time had been lost, and navigation was already hazardous, since it was now well after the time of the Fast, so Paul gave them this warning,

Act 27:10 'Friends, I can see this voyage will be dangerous and that we will run considerable risk of losing not only the cargo and the ship but also our lives as well.'

Act 27:11 But the centurion took more notice of the captain and the ship's owner than of what Paul was saying;

Act 27:12 and since the harbour was unsuitable for wintering, the majority were for putting out from there in the hope of wintering at Phoenix -- a harbour in Crete, facing south-west and north-west.

Act 27:13 A southerly breeze sprang up and, thinking their objective as good as reached, they weighed anchor and began to sail past Crete, close inshore.

Act 27:14 But it was not long before a hurricane, the 'north-easter' as they call it, burst on them from across the island.

Act 27:15 The ship was caught and could not keep head to wind, so we had to give way to the wind and let ourselves be driven.

Act 27:16 We ran under the lee of a small island called Cauda and managed with some difficulty to bring the ship's boat under control.

Act 27:17 Having hauled it up they used it to undergird the ship; then, afraid of running aground on the Syrtis banks, they floated out the sea-anchor and so let themselves drift.

Act 27:18 As we were thoroughly storm-bound, the next day they began to jettison the cargo,

Act 27:19 and the third day they threw the ship's gear overboard with their own hands.

Act 27:20 For a number of days both the sun and the stars were invisible and the storm raged unabated until at last we gave up all hope of surviving.

Act 27:21 Then, when they had been without food for a long time, Paul stood up among the men. 'Friends,' he said, 'you should have listened to me and not put out from Crete. You would have spared yourselves all this damage and loss.'

Act 27:22 But now I ask you not to give way to despair. There will be no loss of life at all, only of the ship.

Act 27:23 Last night there appeared beside me an angel of the God to whom I belong and whom I serve,

Act 27:24 and he said, "Do not be afraid, Paul. You are destined to appear before Caesar, and God grants you the safety of all who are sailing with you."

Act 27:25 So take courage, friends; I trust in God that things will turn out just as I was told;

Act 27:26 but we are to be stranded on some island.'

Act 27:27 On the fourteenth night we were being driven one way and another in the Adriatic, when about midnight the crew sensed that land of some sort was near.

Act 27:28 They took soundings and found twenty fathoms; after a short interval they sounded again and found fifteen fathoms.

Act 27:29 Then, afraid that we might run aground somewhere on a reef, they dropped four anchors from the stern and prayed for daylight.

Act 27:30 When the crew tried to escape from the ship and lowered the ship's boat into the sea as though they meant to lay out anchors from the bows, Paul said to the centurion and his men,

Act 27:31 'Unless those men stay on board you cannot hope to be saved.'

Act 27:32 So the soldiers cut the boat's ropes and let it drop away.

Act 27:33 Just before daybreak Paul urged them all to have something to eat. 'For fourteen days', he said, 'you have been in suspense, going hungry and eating nothing.'

Act 27:34 I urge you to have something to eat; your safety depends on it. Not a hair of any of your heads will be lost.'

Act 27:35 With these words he took some bread, gave thanks to God in view of them all, broke it and began to eat.

Act 27:36 They all plucked up courage and took something to eat themselves.

Act 27:37 In all we were two hundred and seventy-six souls on board that ship.

Act 27:38 When they had eaten what they wanted they lightened the ship by throwing the corn overboard into the sea.

Act 27:39 When day came they did not recognise the land, but they could make out a bay with a beach; they planned to run the ship aground on this if they could.

Act 27:40 They slipped the anchors and let them fall into the sea, and at the same time loosened the lashings of the rudders; then, hoisting the foresail to the wind, they headed for the beach.

Act 27:41 But the cross-currents carried them into a shoal and the vessel ran aground. The bows were wedged in and stuck fast, while the stern began to break up with the pounding of the waves.

Act 27:42 The soldiers planned to kill the prisoners for fear that any should swim off and escape.

Act 27:43 But the centurion was determined to bring Paul safely through and would not let them carry out their plan. He gave orders that those who could swim should jump overboard first and so get ashore,

Act 27:44 and the rest follow either on planks or on pieces of wreckage. In this way it happened that all came safe and sound to land.

Act 28:1 Once we had come safely through, we discovered that the island was called Malta.

Act 28:2 The inhabitants treated us with unusual kindness. They made us all welcome by lighting a huge fire because it had started to rain and the weather was cold.

Act 28:3 Paul had collected a bundle of sticks and was putting them on the fire when a viper brought out by the heat attached itself to his hand.

Act 28:4 When the inhabitants saw the creature hanging from his hand they said to one another, 'That man must be a murderer; he may have escaped the sea, but divine justice would not let him live.'

Act 28:5 However, he shook the creature off into the fire and came to no harm,

Act 28:6 although they were expecting him at any moment to swell up or drop dead on the spot. After they had waited a long time without seeing anything out of the ordinary happen to him, they changed their minds and began to say he was a god.

Act 28:7 In that neighbourhood there were estates belonging to the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius. He received us and entertained us hospitably for three days.

Act 28:8 It happened that Publius' father was in bed, suffering from fever and dysentery. Paul went in to see him, and after a prayer he laid his hands on the man and healed him.

Act 28:9 When this happened, the other sick people on the island also came and were cured;

Act 28:10 they honoured us with many marks of respect, and when we sailed they put on board the provisions we needed.

Act 28:11 At the end of three months we set sail in a ship that had wintered in the island; she came from Alexandria and her figurehead was the Twins.

Act 28:12 We put in at Syracuse and spent three days there;

Act 28:13 from there we followed the coast up to Rhegium. After one day there a south wind sprang up and on the second day we made Puteoli, Act 28:14 where we found some brothers and had the great encouragement of staying a week with them. And so we came to Rome.

Act 28:15 When the brothers there heard about us they came to meet us, as far as the Forum of Appius and the Three Taverns. When Paul saw them he thanked God and took courage.

Act 28:16 On our arrival in Rome Paul was allowed to stay in lodgings of his own with the soldier who guarded him.

Act 28:17 After three days he called together the leading Jews. When they had assembled, he said to them, 'Brothers, although I have done nothing against our people or the customs of our ancestors, I was arrested in Jerusalem and handed over to the Romans.

Act 28:18 They examined me and would have set me free, since they found me guilty of nothing involving the death penalty;

Act 28:19 but the Jews lodged an objection, and I was forced to appeal to Caesar, though not because I had any accusation to make against my own nation.

Act 28:20 That is why I have urged you to see me and have a discussion with me, for it is on account of the hope of Israel that I wear this chain.'

Act 28:21 They answered, 'We have received no letters from Judaea about you, nor has any of the brothers arrived here with any report or story of anything to your discredit.

Act 28:22 We think it would be as well to hear your own account of your position; all we know about this sect is that it encounters opposition everywhere.'

Act 28:23 So they arranged a day with him and a large number of them visited him at his lodgings. He put his case to them, testifying to the kingdom of God and trying to persuade them about Jesus, arguing from the Law of Moses and the prophets from early morning until evening;

Act 28:24 and some were convinced by what he said, while the rest were sceptical.

Act 28:25 So they disagreed among themselves and, as they went away, Paul had one last thing to say to them, 'How aptly the Holy Spirit spoke when he told your ancestors through the prophet Isaiah:

Act 28:26 Go and say to this people: Listen and listen but never understand! Look and look but never perceive!

Act 28:27 This people's heart is torpid, their ears dulled, they have shut their eyes tight, to avoid using their eyes to see, their ears to hear, using their heart to understand, changing their ways and being healed by me.

Act 28:28 'You must realise, then, that this salvation of God has been sent to the gentiles; they will listen to it.'

Act 28:29

Act 28:30 He spent the whole of the two years in his own rented lodging. He welcomed all who came to visit him,

Act 28:31 proclaiming the kingdom of God and teaching the truth about the Lord Jesus Christ with complete fearlessness and without any hindrance from anyone.

Rom 1:1 From Paul, a servant of Christ Jesus, called to be an apostle,

Rom 1:2 set apart for the service of the gospel that God promised long ago through his prophets in the holy scriptures.

Rom 1:3 This is the gospel concerning his Son who, in terms of human nature

Rom 1:4 was born a descendant of David and who, in terms of the Spirit and of holiness, was designated Son of God in power by resurrection from the dead: Jesus Christ, our Lord,

Rom 1:5 through whom we have received grace and our apostolic mission of winning the obedience of faith among all the nations for the honour of his name.

Rom 1:6 You are among these, and by his call you belong to Jesus Christ.

Rom 1:7 To you all, God's beloved in Rome, called to be his holy people. Grace and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Rom 1:8 First I give thanks to my God through Jesus Christ for all of you because your faith is talked of all over the world.

Rom 1:9 God, whom I serve with my spirit in preaching the gospel of his Son, is my witness that I continually mention you in my prayers,

Rom 1:10 asking always that by some means I may at long last be enabled to visit you, if it is God's will.

Rom 1:11 For I am longing to see you so that I can convey to you some spiritual gift that will be a lasting strength,

Rom 1:12 or rather that we may be strengthened together through our mutual faith, yours and mine.

Rom 1:13 I want you to be quite certain too, brothers, that I have often planned to visit you -- though up to the present I have always been prevented -- in the hope that I might work as fruitfully among you as I have among the gentiles elsewhere.

Rom 1:14 I have an obligation to Greeks as well as barbarians, to the educated as well as the ignorant,

Rom 1:15 and hence the eagerness on my part to preach the gospel to you in Rome too.

Rom 1:16 For I see no reason to be ashamed of the gospel; it is God's power for the salvation of everyone who has faith -- Jews first, but Greeks as well-

Rom 1:17 for in it is revealed the saving justice of God: a justice based on faith and addressed to faith. As it says in scripture: Anyone who is upright through faith will live.

Rom 1:18 The retribution of God from heaven is being revealed against the ungodliness and injustice of human beings who in their injustice hold back the truth.

Rom 1:19 For what can be known about God is perfectly plain to them, since God has made it plain to them:

Rom 1:20 ever since the creation of the world, the invisible existence of God and his everlasting power have been clearly seen by the mind's understanding of created things. And so these people have no excuse:

Rom 1:21 they knew God and yet they did not honour him as God or give thanks to him, but their arguments became futile and their uncomprehending minds were darkened.

Rom 1:22 While they claimed to be wise, in fact they were growing so stupid

Rom 1:23 that they exchanged the glory of the immortal God for an imitation, for the image of a mortal human being, or of birds, or animals, or crawling things.

Rom 1:24 That is why God abandoned them in their inmost cravings to filthy practices of dishonouring their own bodies-

Rom 1:25 because they exchanged God's truth for a lie and have worshipped and served the creature instead of the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

Rom 1:26 That is why God abandoned them to degrading passions:

Rom 1:27 why their women have exchanged natural intercourse for unnatural practices; and the men, in a similar fashion, too, giving up normal relations with women, are consumed with passion for each other, men doing shameful things with men and receiving in themselves due reward for their perversion.

Rom 1:28 In other words, since they would not consent to acknowledge God, God abandoned them to their unacceptable thoughts and indecent behaviour.

Rom 1:29 And so now they are steeped in all sorts of injustice, rottenness, greed and malice; full of envy, murder, wrangling, treachery and spite,

Rom 1:30 libellers, slanderers, enemies of God, rude, arrogant and boastful, enterprising in evil, rebellious to parents,

Rom 1:31 without brains, honour, love or pity.

Rom 1:32 They are well aware of God's ordinance: that those who behave like this deserve to die -- yet they not only do it, but even applaud others who do the same.

Rom 2:1 So no matter who you are, if you pass judgement you have no excuse. It is yourself that you condemn when you judge others, since you behave in the same way as those you are condemning.

Rom 2:2 We are well aware that people who behave like that are justly condemned by God.

Rom 2:3 But you -- when you judge those who behave like this while you are doing the same yourself -- do you think you will escape God's condemnation?

Rom 2:4 Or are you not disregarding his abundant goodness, tolerance and patience, failing to realise that this generosity of God is meant to bring you to repentance?

Rom 2:5 Your stubborn refusal to repent is only storing up retribution for yourself on that Day of retribution when God's just verdicts will be made known.

Rom 2:6 He will repay everyone as their deeds deserve.

Rom 2:7 For those who aimed for glory and honour and immortality by persevering in doing good, there will be eternal life;

Rom 2:8 but for those who out of jealousy have taken for their guide not truth but injustice, there will be the fury of retribution.

Rom 2:9 Trouble and distress will come to every human being who does evil -- Jews first, but Greeks as well;

Rom 2:10 glory and honour and peace will come to everyone who does good -- Jews first, but Greeks as well.

Rom 2:11 There is no favouritism with God.

Rom 2:12 All those who have sinned without the Law will perish without the Law; and those under the Law who have sinned will be judged by the Law.

Rom 2:13 For the ones that God will justify are not those who have heard the Law but those who have kept the Law.

Rom 2:14 So, when gentiles, not having the Law, still through their own innate sense behave as the Law commands, then, even though they have no Law, they are a law for themselves.

Rom 2:15 They can demonstrate the effect of the Law engraved on their hearts, to which their own conscience bears witness; since they are aware of various considerations, some of which accuse them, while others provide them with a defence . . . on the day when,

Rom 2:16 according to the gospel that I preach, God, through Jesus Christ, judges all human secrets.

Rom 2:17 If you can call yourself a Jew, and you really trust in the Law, and are proud of your God,

Rom 2:18 and know his will, and tell right from wrong because you have been taught by the Law;

Rom 2:19 if you are confident that you are a guide to the blind and a beacon to those in the dark,

Rom 2:20 that you can teach the ignorant and instruct the unlearned because the Law embodies all knowledge and all truth-

Rom 2:21 so then, in teaching others, do you teach yourself as well? You preach that there is to be no stealing, but do you steal?

Rom 2:22 You say that adultery is forbidden, but do you commit adultery? You detest the worship of objects, but do you desecrate holy things yourself?

Rom 2:23 If, while you are boasting of the Law, you disobey it, then you are bringing God into contempt.

Rom 2:24 As scripture says: It is your fault that the name of God is held in contempt among the nations.

Rom 2:25 Circumcision has its value if you keep the Law; but if you go on breaking the Law, you are no more circumcised than the uncircumcised.

Rom 2:26 And if an uncircumcised man keeps the commands of the Law, will not his uncircumcised state count as circumcision?

Rom 2:27 More, the man who, in his native uncircumcised state, keeps the Law, is a condemnation of you, who, by your concentration on the letter and on circumcision, actually break the Law.

Rom 2:28 Being a Jew is not only having the outward appearance of a Jew, and circumcision is not only a visible physical operation.

Rom 2:29 The real Jew is the one who is inwardly a Jew, and real circumcision is in the heart, a thing not of the letter but of the spirit. He may not be praised by any human being, but he will be praised by God.

Rom 3:1 Is there any benefit, then, in being a Jew? Is there any advantage in being circumcised?

Rom 3:2 A great deal, in every way. First of all, it was to the Jews that the message of God was entrusted.

Rom 3:3 What if some of them were unfaithful? Do you think their lack of faith could cancel God's faithfulness?

Rom 3:4 Out of the question! God will always be true even if no human being can be relied on. As scripture says: That you may show your saving justice when you pass sentence and your victory may appear when you give judgement.

Rom 3:5 But if our injustice serves to bring God's saving justice into view, can we say that God is unjust when -- to use human terms -- he brings his retribution down on us?

Rom 3:6 Out of the question! It would mean that God could not be the judge of the world.

Rom 3:7 You might as well say that if my untruthfulness makes God demonstrate his truthfulness, to his greater glory, then I should not be judged to be a sinner at all.

Rom 3:8 In this case, the slanderous report some people are spreading would be true, that we teach that one should do evil that good may come of it. In fact such people are justly condemned.

Rom 3:9 Well: are we any better off? Not at all: we have already indicted Jews and Greeks as being all alike under the dominion of sin.

Rom 3:10 As scripture says: Not one of them is upright, not a single one,

Rom 3:11 not a single one is wise, not a single one seeks God.

Rom 3:12 All have turned away, all alike turned sour, not one of them does right, not a single one.

Rom 3:13 Their throats are wide -- open graves, their tongues seductive. Viper's venom behind their lips;

Rom 3:14 their speech is full of cursing and bitterness.

Rom 3:15 Their feet quick to shed innocent blood,

Rom 3:16 wherever they go there is havoc and ruin.

Rom 3:17 They do not know the way of peace,

Rom 3:18 there is no fear of God before their eyes.

Rom 3:19 Now we are well aware that whatever the Law says is said for those who are subject to the Law, so that every mouth may be silenced, and the whole world brought under the judgement of God.

Rom 3:20 So then, no human being can be found upright at the tribunal of God by keeping the Law; all that the Law does is to tell us what is sinful.

Rom 3:21 God's saving justice was witnessed by the Law and the Prophets, but now it has been revealed altogether apart from law:

Rom 3:22 God's saving justice given through faith in Jesus Christ to all who believe.

Rom 3:23 No distinction is made: all have sinned and lack God's glory,

Rom 3:24 and all are justified by the free gift of his grace through being set free in Christ Jesus.

Rom 3:25 God appointed him as a sacrifice for reconciliation, through faith, by the shedding of his blood, and so showed his justness; first for the past, when sins went unpunished because he held his hand;

Rom 3:26 and now again for the present age, to show how he is just and justifies everyone who has faith in Jesus.

Rom 3:27 So what becomes of our boasts? There is no room for them. On what principle- that only actions count? No; that faith is what counts,

Rom 3:28 since, as we see it, a person is justified by faith and not by doing what the Law tells him to do.

Rom 3:29 Do you think God is the God only of the Jews, and not of gentiles too? Most certainly of gentiles too,

Rom 3:30 since there is only one God; he will justify the circumcised by their faith, and he will justify the uncircumcised through their faith.

Rom 3:31 Are we saying that the Law has been made pointless by faith? Out of the question; we are placing the Law on its true footing.

Rom 4:1 Then what do we say about Abraham, the ancestor from whom we are descended physically?

Rom 4:2 If Abraham had been justified because of what he had done, then he would have had something to boast about. But not before God:

Rom 4:3 does not scripture say: Abraham put his faith in God and this was reckoned to him as uprightness?

Rom 4:4 Now, when someone works, the wages for this are not considered as a favour but as due;

Rom 4:5 however, when someone, without working, puts faith in the one who justifies the godless, it is this faith that is reckoned as uprightness.

Rom 4:6 David, too, says the same: he calls someone blessed if God attributes uprightness to that person, apart from any action undertaken:

Rom 4:7 How blessed are those whose offence is forgiven, whose sin is blotted out.

Rom 4:8 How blessed are those to whom the Lord imputes no guilt.

Rom 4:9 Is this blessing only for the circumcised, or is it said of the uncircumcised as well? Well, we said of Abraham that his faith was reckoned to him as uprightness.

Rom 4:10 Now how did this come about? When he was already circumcised, or before he had been circumcised? Not when he had been circumcised, but while he was still uncircumcised;

Rom 4:11 and circumcision was given to him later, as a sign and a guarantee that the faith which he had while still uncircumcised was reckoned to him as uprightness. In this way, Abraham was to be the ancestor of all believers who are uncircumcised, so that they might be reckoned as upright;

Rom 4:12 as well as the ancestor of those of the circumcision who not only have their circumcision but who also follow our ancestor Abraham along the path of faith that he trod before he was circumcised.

Rom 4:13 For the promise to Abraham and his descendants that he should inherit the world was not through the Law, but through the uprightness of faith.

Rom 4:14 For if it is those who live by the Law who will gain the inheritance, faith is worthless and the promise is without force;

Rom 4:15 for the Law produces nothing but God's retribution, and it is only where there is no Law that it is possible to live without breaking the Law.

Rom 4:16 That is why the promise is to faith, so that it comes as a free gift and is secure for all the descendants, not only those who rely on the Law but all those others who rely on the faith of Abraham, the ancestor of us all

Rom 4:17 (as scripture says: I have made you the father of many nations). Abraham is our father in the eyes of God, in whom he put his faith, and who brings the dead to life and calls into existence what does not yet exist.

Rom 4:18 Though there seemed no hope, he hoped and believed that he was to become father of many nations in fulfilment of the promise: Just so will your descendants be.

Rom 4:19 Even the thought that his body was as good as dead -- he was about a hundred years old -- and that Sarah's womb was dead too did not shake his faith.

Rom 4:20 Counting on the promise of God, he did not doubt or disbelieve, but drew strength from faith and gave glory to God,

Rom 4:21 fully convinced that whatever God promised he has the power to perform.

Rom 4:22 This is the faith that was reckoned to him as uprightness.

Rom 4:23 And the word 'reckoned' in scripture applies not only to him;

Rom 4:24 it is there for our sake too -- our faith, too, will be 'reckoned'

Rom 4:25 because we believe in him who raised from the dead our Lord Jesus who was handed over to death for our sins and raised to life for our justification.

Rom 5:1 So then, now that we have been justified by faith, we are at peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ;

Rom 5:2 it is through him, by faith, that we have been admitted into God's favour in which we are living, and look forward exultantly to God's glory.

Rom 5:3 Not only that; let us exult, too, in our hardships, understanding that hardship develops perseverance,

Rom 5:4 and perseverance develops a tested character, something that gives us hope,

Rom 5:5 and a hope which will not let us down, because the love of God has been poured into our hearts by the Holy Spirit which has been given to us.

Rom 5:6 When we were still helpless, at the appointed time, Christ died for the godless.

Rom 5:7 You could hardly find anyone ready to die even for someone upright; though it is just possible that, for a really good person, someone might undertake to die.

Rom 5:8 So it is proof of God's own love for us, that Christ died for us while we were still sinners.

Rom 5:9 How much more can we be sure, therefore, that, now that we have been justified by his death, we shall be saved through him from the retribution of God.

Rom 5:10 For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, how much more can we be sure that, being now reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

Rom 5:11 What is more, we are filled with exultant trust in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have already gained our reconciliation.

Rom 5:12 Well then; it was through one man that sin came into the world, and through sin death, and thus death has spread through the whole human race because everyone has sinned.

Rom 5:13 Sin already existed in the world before there was any law, even though sin is not reckoned when there is no law.

Rom 5:14 Nonetheless death reigned over all from Adam to Moses, even over those whose sin was not the breaking of a commandment, as Adam's was. He prefigured the One who was to come . . .

Rom 5:15 There is no comparison between the free gift and the offence. If death came to many through the offence of one man, how much greater an effect the grace of God has had, coming to so many and so plentifully as a free gift through the one man Jesus Christ!

Rom 5:16 Again, there is no comparison between the gift and the offence of one man. One single offence brought condemnation, but now, after many offences, have come the free gift and so acquittal!

Rom 5:17 It was by one man's offence that death came to reign over all, but how much greater the reign in life of those who receive the fullness of grace and the gift of saving justice, through the one man, Jesus Christ.

Rom 5:18 One man's offence brought condemnation on all humanity; and one man's good act has brought justification and life to all humanity.

Rom 5:19 Just as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by one man's obedience are many to be made upright.

Rom 5:20 When law came on the scene, it was to multiply the offences. But however much sin increased, grace was always greater;

Rom 5:21 so that as sin's reign brought death, so grace was to rule through saving justice that leads to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Rom 6:1 What should we say then? Should we remain in sin so that grace may be given the more fully?

Rom 6:2 Out of the question! We have died to sin; how could we go on living in it?

Rom 6:3 You cannot have forgotten that all of us, when we were baptised into Christ Jesus, were baptised into his death.

Rom 6:4 So by our baptism into his death we were buried with him, so that as Christ was raised from the dead by the Father's glorious power, we too should begin living a new life.

Rom 6:5 If we have been joined to him by dying a death like his, so we shall be by a resurrection like his;

Rom 6:6 realising that our former self was crucified with him, so that the self which belonged to sin should be destroyed and we should be freed from the slavery of sin.

Rom 6:7 Someone who has died, of course, no longer has to answer for sin.

Rom 6:8 But we believe that, if we died with Christ, then we shall live with him too.

Rom 6:9 We know that Christ has been raised from the dead and will never die again. Death has no power over him any more.

Rom 6:10 For by dying, he is dead to sin once and for all, and now the life that he lives is life with God.

Rom 6:11 In the same way, you must see yourselves as being dead to sin but alive for God in Christ Jesus.

Rom 6:12 That is why you must not allow sin to reign over your mortal bodies and make you obey their desires;

Rom 6:13 or give any parts of your bodies over to sin to be used as instruments of evil. Instead, give yourselves to God, as people brought to life from the dead, and give every part of your bodies to God to be instruments of uprightness;

Rom 6:14 and then sin will no longer have any power over you -- you are living not under law, but under grace.

Rom 6:15 What is the implication? That we are free to sin, now that we are not under law but under grace? Out of the question!

Rom 6:16 You know well that if you undertake to be somebody's slave and obey him, you are the slave of him you obey: you can be the slave either of sin which leads to death, or of obedience which leads to saving justice.

Rom 6:17 Once you were slaves of sin, but thank God you have given whole-hearted obedience to the pattern of teaching to which you were introduced;

Rom 6:18 and so, being freed from serving sin, you took uprightness as your master.

Rom 6:19 I am putting it in human terms because you are still weak human beings: as once you surrendered yourselves as servants to immorality and to a lawlessness which results in more lawlessness, now you have to surrender yourselves to uprightness which is to result in sanctification.

Rom 6:20 When you were the servants of sin, you felt no obligation to uprightness,

Rom 6:21 and what did you gain from living like that? Experiences of which you are now ashamed, for that sort of behaviour ends in death.

Rom 6:22 But, now you are set free from sin and bound to the service of God, your gain will be sanctification and the end will be eternal life.

Rom 6:23 For the wage paid by sin is death; the gift freely given by God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Rom 7:1 As people who are familiar with the Law, brothers, you cannot have forgotten that the law can control a person only during that person's lifetime.

Rom 7:2 A married woman, for instance, is bound to her husband by law, as long as he lives, but when her husband dies all her legal obligation to him as husband is ended.

Rom 7:3 So if she were to have relations with another man while her husband was still alive, she would be termed an adulteress; but if her husband dies, her legal obligation comes to an end and if she then has relations with another man, that does not make her an adulteress.

Rom 7:4 In the same way you, my brothers, through the body of Christ have become dead to the Law and so you are able to belong to someone else, that is, to him who was raised from the dead to make us live fruitfully for God.

Rom 7:5 While we were still living by our natural inclinations, the sinful passions aroused by the Law were working in all parts of our bodies to make us live lives which were fruitful only for death.

Rom 7:6 But now we are released from the Law, having died to what was binding us, and so we are in a new service, that of the spirit, and not in the old service of a written code.

Rom 7:7 What should we say, then? That the Law itself is sin? Out of the question! All the same, if it had not been for the Law, I should not have known what sin was; for instance, I should not have known what it meant to covet if the Law had not said: You are not to covet.

Rom 7:8 But, once it found the opportunity through that commandment, sin produced in me all kinds of covetousness; as long as there is no Law, sin is dead.

Rom 7:9 Once, when there was no Law, I used to be alive; but when the commandment came, sin came to life

Rom 7:10 and I died. The commandment was meant to bring life but I found it brought death,

Rom 7:11 because sin, finding its opportunity by means of the commandment, beguiled me and, by means of it, killed me.

Rom 7:12 So then, the Law is holy, and what it commands is holy and upright and good.

Rom 7:13 Does that mean that something good resulted in my dying? Out of the question! But sin, in order to be identified as sin, caused my death through that good thing, and so it is by means of the commandment that sin shows its unbounded sinful power.

Rom 7:14 We are well aware that the Law is spiritual: but I am a creature of flesh and blood sold as a slave to sin.

Rom 7:15 I do not understand my own behaviour; I do not act as I mean to, but I do things that I hate.

Rom 7:16 While I am acting as I do not want to, I still acknowledge the Law as good,
Rom 7:17 so it is not myself acting, but the sin which lives in me.
Rom 7:18 And really, I know of nothing good living in me -- in my natural self, that is -- for though the will to do what is good is in me, the power to do it is not:
Rom 7:19 the good thing I want to do, I never do; the evil thing which I do not want -- that is what I do.
Rom 7:20 But every time I do what I do not want to, then it is not myself acting, but the sin that lives in me.
Rom 7:21 So I find this rule: that for me, where I want to do nothing but good, evil is close at my side.
Rom 7:22 In my inmost self I dearly love God's law,
Rom 7:23 but I see that acting on my body there is a different law which battles against the law in my mind. So I am brought to be a prisoner of that law of sin which lives inside my body.
Rom 7:24 What a wretched man I am! Who will rescue me from this body doomed to death?
Rom 7:25 God -- thanks be to him -- through Jesus Christ our Lord. So it is that I myself with my mind obey the law of God, but in my disordered nature I obey the law of sin.
Rom 8:1 Thus, condemnation will never come to those who are in Christ Jesus,
Rom 8:2 because the law of the Spirit which gives life in Christ Jesus has set you free from the law of sin and death.
Rom 8:3 What the Law could not do because of the weakness of human nature, God did, sending his own Son in the same human nature as any sinner to be a sacrifice for sin, and condemning sin in that human nature.
Rom 8:4 This was so that the Law's requirements might be fully satisfied in us as we direct our lives not by our natural inclinations but by the Spirit.
Rom 8:5 Those who are living by their natural inclinations have their minds on the things human nature desires; those who live in the Spirit have their minds on spiritual things.
Rom 8:6 And human nature has nothing to look forward to but death, while the Spirit looks forward to life and peace,
Rom 8:7 because the outlook of disordered human nature is opposed to God, since it does not submit to God's Law, and indeed it cannot,
Rom 8:8 and those who live by their natural inclinations can never be pleasing to God.
Rom 8:9 You, however, live not by your natural inclinations, but by the Spirit, since the Spirit of God has made a home in you. Indeed, anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him.
Rom 8:10 But when Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin but the spirit is alive because you have been justified;
Rom 8:11 and if the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead has made his home in you, then he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will give life to your own mortal bodies through his Spirit living in you.
Rom 8:12 So then, my brothers, we have no obligation to human nature to be dominated by it.
Rom 8:13 If you do live in that way, you are doomed to die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the habits originating in the body, you will have life.
Rom 8:14 All who are guided by the Spirit of God are sons of God;
Rom 8:15 for what you received was not the spirit of slavery to bring you back into fear; you received the Spirit of adoption, enabling us to cry out, 'Abba, Father!'
Rom 8:16 The Spirit himself joins with our spirit to bear witness that we are children of God.
Rom 8:17 And if we are children, then we are heirs, heirs of God and joint-heirs with Christ, provided that we share his suffering, so as to share his glory.
Rom 8:18 In my estimation, all that we suffer in the present time is nothing in comparison with the glory which is destined to be disclosed for us,
Rom 8:19 for the whole creation is waiting with eagerness for the children of God to be revealed.
Rom 8:20 It was not for its own purposes that creation had frustration imposed on it, but for the purposes of him who imposed it-
Rom 8:21 with the intention that the whole creation itself might be freed from its slavery to corruption and brought into the same glorious freedom as the children of God.
Rom 8:22 We are well aware that the whole creation, until this time, has been groaning in labour pains.
Rom 8:23 And not only that: we too, who have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we are groaning inside ourselves, waiting with eagerness for our bodies to be set free.
Rom 8:24 In hope, we already have salvation; in hope, not visibly present, or we should not be hoping -- nobody goes on hoping for something which is already visible.
Rom 8:25 But having this hope for what we cannot yet see, we are able to wait for it with persevering confidence.
Rom 8:26 And as well as this, the Spirit too comes to help us in our weakness, for, when we do not know how to pray properly, then the Spirit personally makes our petitions for us in groans that cannot be put into words;
Rom 8:27 and he who can see into all hearts knows what the Spirit means because the prayers that the Spirit makes for God's holy people are always in accordance with the mind of God.

Rom 8:28 We are well aware that God works with those who love him, those who have been called in accordance with his purpose, and turns everything to their good.

Rom 8:29 He decided beforehand who were the ones destined to be moulded to the pattern of his Son, so that he should be the eldest of many brothers;

Rom 8:30 it was those so destined that he called; those that he called, he justified, and those that he has justified he has brought into glory.

Rom 8:31 After saying this, what can we add? If God is for us, who can be against us?

Rom 8:32 Since he did not spare his own Son, but gave him up for the sake of all of us, then can we not expect that with him he will freely give us all his gifts?

Rom 8:33 Who can bring any accusation against those that God has chosen? When God grants saving justice

Rom 8:34 who can condemn? Are we not sure that it is Christ Jesus, who died -- yes and more, who was raised from the dead and is at God's right hand -- and who is adding his plea for us?

Rom 8:35 Can anything cut us off from the love of Christ -- can hardships or distress, or persecution, or lack of food and clothing, or threats or violence;

Rom 8:36 as scripture says: For your sake we are being massacred all day long, treated as sheep to be slaughtered?

Rom 8:37 No; we come through all these things triumphantly victorious, by the power of him who loved us.

Rom 8:38 For I am certain of this: neither death nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nothing already in existence and nothing still to come, nor any power,

Rom 8:39 nor the heights nor the depths, nor any created thing whatever, will be able to come between us and the love of God, known to us in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Rom 9:1 This is the truth and I am speaking in Christ, without pretence, as my conscience testifies for me in the Holy Spirit;

Rom 9:2 there is great sorrow and unremitting agony in my heart:

Rom 9:3 I could pray that I myself might be accursed and cut off from Christ, if this could benefit the brothers who are my own flesh and blood.

Rom 9:4 They are Israelites; it was they who were adopted as children, the glory was theirs and the covenants; to them were given the Law and the worship of God and the promises.

Rom 9:5 To them belong the fathers and out of them, so far as physical descent is concerned, came Christ who is above all, God, blessed for ever. Amen.

Rom 9:6 It is not that God's promise has failed. Not all born Israelites belong to Israel,

Rom 9:7 and not all the descendants of Abraham count as his children, for Isaac is the one through whom your Name will be carried on.

Rom 9:8 That is, it is not by being children through physical descent that people become children of God; it is the children of the promise that are counted as the heirs.

Rom 9:9 The actual words of the promise were: I shall come back to you at this season, and Sarah will have a son.

Rom 9:10 Even more to the point is what was said to Rebecca when she was pregnant by our ancestor, Isaac,

Rom 9:11 before her children were born, so that neither had yet done anything either good or bad, but in order that it should be God's choice which prevailed

Rom 9:12 -not human merit, but his call -- she was told: the elder one will serve the younger.

Rom 9:13 Or as scripture says elsewhere: I loved Jacob but hated Esau.

Rom 9:14 What should we say, then? That God is unjust? Out of the question!

Rom 9:15 For speaking to Moses, he said: I am gracious to those to whom I am gracious and I take pity on those on whom I take pity.

Rom 9:16 So it is not a matter of what any person wants or what any person does, but only of God having mercy.

Rom 9:17 Scripture says to Pharaoh: I raised you up for this reason, to display my power in you and to have my name talked of throughout the world.

Rom 9:18 In other words, if God wants to show mercy on someone, he does so, and if he wants to harden someone's heart, he does so.

Rom 9:19 Then you will ask me, 'How then can he ever blame anyone, since no one can oppose his will?'

Rom 9:20 But you -- who do you think you, a human being, are, to answer back to God? Something that was made, can it say to its maker: why did you make me this shape?

Rom 9:21 A potter surely has the right over his clay to make out of the same lump either a pot for special use or one for ordinary use.

Rom 9:22 But suppose that God, although all the time he wanted to reveal his retribution and demonstrate his power, has with great patience gone on putting up with those who are the instruments of his retribution and designed to be destroyed;

Rom 9:23 so that he may make known the glorious riches ready for the people who are the instruments of his faithful love and were long ago prepared for that glory.

Rom 9:24 We are that people, called by him not only out of the Jews but out of the gentiles too.

Rom 9:25 Just as he says in the book of Hosea: I shall tell those who were not my people, 'You are my people,' and I shall take pity on those on whom I had no pity.

Rom 9:26 And in the very place where they were told, 'You are not my people,' they will be told that they are 'children of the living God'.

Rom 9:27 And about Israel, this is what Isaiah cried out: Though the people of Israel are like the sand of the sea, only a remnant will be saved;

Rom 9:28 for without hesitation or delay the Lord will execute his sentence on the earth.

Rom 9:29 As Isaiah foretold: Had the Lord Sabaoth not left us a few survivors, we should be like Sodom, we should be the same as Gomorrah.

Rom 9:30 What should we say, then? That the gentiles, although they were not looking for saving justice, found it, and this was the saving justice that comes of faith;

Rom 9:31 while Israel, looking for saving justice by law-keeping, did not succeed in fulfilling the Law.

Rom 9:32 And why? Because they were trying to find it in actions and not in faith, and so they stumbled over the stumbling-stone-

Rom 9:33 as it says in scripture: Now I am laying in Zion a stumbling-stone, a rock to trip people up; but he who relies on this will not be brought to disgrace.

Rom 10:1 Brothers, my dearest wish and my prayer to God is for them, that they may be saved.

Rom 10:2 I readily testify to their fervour for God, but it is misguided.

Rom 10:3 Not recognising God's saving justice they have tried to establish their own, instead of submitting to the saving justice of God.

Rom 10:4 But the Law has found its fulfilment in Christ so that all who have faith will be justified.

Rom 10:5 Moses writes of the saving justice that comes by the Law and says that whoever complies with it will find life in it.

Rom 10:6 But the saving justice of faith says this: Do not think in your heart, 'Who will go up to heaven?' --

Rom 10:7 that is to bring Christ down; or 'Who will go down to the depths?' -- that is to bring Christ back from the dead.

Rom 10:8 What does it say, then? The word is very near to you; it is in your mouth and in your heart, that is, the word of faith, the faith which we preach, Rom 10:9 that if you declare with your mouth that Jesus is Lord, and if you believe with your heart that God raised him from the dead, then you will be saved.

Rom 10:10 It is by believing with the heart that you are justified, and by making the declaration with your lips that you are saved.

Rom 10:11 When scripture says: No one who relies on this will be brought to disgrace,

Rom 10:12 it makes no distinction between Jew and Greek: the same Lord is the Lord of all, and his generosity is offered to all who appeal to him,

Rom 10:13 for all who call on the name of the Lord will be saved.

Rom 10:14 How then are they to call on him if they have not come to believe in him? And how can they believe in him if they have never heard of him? And how will they hear of him unless there is a preacher for them?

Rom 10:15 And how will there be preachers if they are not sent? As scripture says: How beautiful are the feet of the messenger of good news.

Rom 10:16 But in fact they have not all responded to the good news. As Isaiah says: Lord, who has given credence to what they have heard from us?

Rom 10:17 But it is in that way faith comes, from hearing, and that means hearing the word of Christ.

Rom 10:18 Well then, I say, is it possible that they have not heard? Indeed they have: in the entire earth their voice stands out, their message reaches the whole world.

Rom 10:19 Well, another question, then: is it possible that Israel did not understand? In the first place Moses said: I shall rouse you to jealousy with a non-people, I shall exasperate you with a stupid nation.

Rom 10:20 And Isaiah is even bold enough to say: I have let myself be found by those who did not seek me; I have let myself be seen by those who did not consult me;

Rom 10:21 and referring to Israel, he says: All day long I have been stretching out my hands to a disobedient and rebellious people.

Rom 11:1 What I am saying is this: is it possible that God abandoned his people? Out of the question! I too am an Israelite, descended from Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

Rom 11:2 God never abandoned his own people to whom, ages ago, he had given recognition. Do you not remember what scripture says about Elijah and how he made a complaint to God against Israel:

Rom 11:3 Lord, they have put your prophets to the sword, torn down your altars. I am the only one left, and now they want to kill me?

Rom 11:4 And what was the prophetic answer given? I have spared for myself seven thousand men that have not bent the knee to Baal.

Rom 11:5 In the same way, then, in our own time, there is a remnant, set aside by grace.

Rom 11:6 And since it is by grace, it cannot now be by good actions, or grace would not be grace at all!

Rom 11:7 What follows? Israel failed to find what it was seeking; only those who were chosen found it and the rest had their minds hardened;

Rom 11:8 just as it says in scripture: God has infused them with a spirit of lethargy; until today they have not eyes to see or ears to hear.

Rom 11:9 David too says: May their own table prove a trap for them, a pitfall and a snare; let that be their retribution.

Rom 11:10 May their eyes grow so dim they cannot see, and their backs be bent for ever.

Rom 11:11 What I am saying is this: Was this stumbling to lead to their final downfall? Out of the question! On the contrary, their failure has brought salvation for the gentiles, in order to stir them to envy.

Rom 11:12 And if their fall has proved a great gain to the world, and their loss has proved a great gain to the gentiles -- how much greater a gain will come when all is restored to them!

Rom 11:13 Let me say then to you gentiles that, as far as I am an apostle to the gentiles, I take pride in this work of service;

Rom 11:14 and I want it to be the means of rousing to envy the people who are my own blood-relations and so of saving some of them.

Rom 11:15 Since their rejection meant the reconciliation of the world, do you know what their re-acceptance will mean? Nothing less than life from the dead!

Rom 11:16 When the first-fruits are made holy, so is the whole batch; and if the root is holy, so are the branches.

Rom 11:17 Now suppose that some branches were broken off, and you are wild olive, grafted among the rest to share with the others the rich sap of the olive tree;

Rom 11:18 then it is not for you to consider yourself superior to the other branches; and if you start feeling proud, think: it is not you that sustain the root, but the root that sustains you.

Rom 11:19 You will say, 'Branches were broken off on purpose for me to be grafted in.' True;

Rom 11:20 they through their unbelief were broken off, and you are established through your faith. So it is not pride that you should have, but fear:

Rom 11:21 if God did not spare the natural branches, he might not spare you either.

Rom 11:22 Remember God's severity as well as his goodness: his severity to those who fell, and his goodness to you as long as you persevere in it; if not, you too will be cut off.

Rom 11:23 And they, if they do not persevere in their unbelief, will be grafted in; for it is within the power of God to graft them back again.

Rom 11:24 After all, if you, cut off from what was by nature a wild olive, could then be grafted unnaturally on to a cultivated olive, how much easier will it be for them, the branches that naturally belong there, to be grafted on to the olive tree which is their own.

Rom 11:25 I want you to be quite certain, brothers, of this mystery, to save you from congratulating yourselves on your own good sense: part of Israel had its mind hardened, but only until the gentiles have wholly come in;

Rom 11:26 and this is how all Israel will be saved. As scripture says: From Zion will come the Redeemer, he will remove godlessness from Jacob.

Rom 11:27 And this will be my covenant with them, when I take their sins away.

Rom 11:28 As regards the gospel, they are enemies, but for your sake; but as regards those who are God's choice, they are still well loved for the sake of their ancestors.

Rom 11:29 There is no change of mind on God's part about the gifts he has made or of his choice.

Rom 11:30 Just as you were in the past disobedient to God but now you have been shown mercy, through their disobedience;

Rom 11:31 so in the same way they are disobedient now, so that through the mercy shown to you they too will receive mercy.

Rom 11:32 God has imprisoned all human beings in their own disobedience only to show mercy to them all.

Rom 11:33 How rich and deep are the wisdom and the knowledge of God! We cannot reach to the root of his decisions or his ways.

Rom 11:34 Who has ever known the mind of the Lord? Who has ever been his adviser?

Rom 11:35 Who has given anything to him, so that his presents come only as a debt returned?

Rom 11:36 Everything there is comes from him and is caused by him and exists for him. To him be glory for ever! Amen.

Rom 12:1 I urge you, then, brothers, remembering the mercies of God, to offer your bodies as a living sacrifice, dedicated and acceptable to God; that is the kind of worship for you, as sensible people.

Rom 12:2 Do not model your behaviour on the contemporary world, but let the renewing of your minds transform you, so that you may discern for yourselves what is the will of God -- what is good and acceptable and mature.

Rom 12:3 And through the grace that I have been given, I say this to every one of you: never pride yourself on being better than you really are, but think of yourself dispassionately, recognising that God has given to each one his measure of faith.

Rom 12:4 Just as each of us has various parts in one body, and the parts do not all have the same function:

Rom 12:5 in the same way, all of us, though there are so many of us, make up one body in Christ, and as different parts we are all joined to one another.

Rom 12:6 Then since the gifts that we have differ according to the grace that was given to each of us: if it is a gift of prophecy, we should prophesy as much as our faith tells us;

Rom 12:7 if it is a gift of practical service, let us devote ourselves to serving; if it is teaching, to teaching;

Rom 12:8 if it is encouraging, to encouraging. When you give, you should give generously from the heart; if you are put in charge, you must be conscientious; if you do works of mercy, let it be because you enjoy doing them.

Rom 12:9 Let love be without any pretence. Avoid what is evil; stick to what is good.

Rom 12:10 In brotherly love let your feelings of deep affection for one another come to expression and regard others as more important than yourself.

Rom 12:11 In the service of the Lord, work not halfheartedly but with conscientiousness and an eager spirit.

Rom 12:12 Be joyful in hope, persevere in hardship; keep praying regularly;

Rom 12:13 share with any of God's holy people who are in need; look for opportunities to be hospitable.

Rom 12:14 Bless your persecutors; never curse them, bless them.

Rom 12:15 Rejoice with others when they rejoice, and be sad with those in sorrow.

Rom 12:16 Give the same consideration to all others alike. Pay no regard to social standing, but meet humble people on their own terms. Do not congratulate yourself on your own wisdom.

Rom 12:17 Never pay back evil with evil, but bear in mind the ideals that all regard with respect.

Rom 12:18 As much as possible, and to the utmost of your ability, be at peace with everyone.

Rom 12:19 Never try to get revenge: leave that, my dear friends, to the Retribution. As scripture says:

Vengeance is mine -- I will pay them back, the Lord promises.

Rom 12:20 And more: If your enemy is hungry, give him something to eat; if thirsty, something to drink. By this, you will be heaping red-hot coals on his head.

Rom 12:21 Do not be mastered by evil, but master evil with good.

Rom 13:1 Everyone is to obey the governing authorities, because there is no authority except from God and so whatever authorities exist have been appointed by God.

Rom 13:2 So anyone who disobeys an authority is rebelling against God's ordinance; and rebels must expect to receive the condemnation they deserve.

Rom 13:3 Magistrates bring fear not to those who do good, but to those who do evil. So if you want to live with no fear of authority, live honestly and you will have its approval;

Rom 13:4 it is there to serve God for you and for your good. But if you do wrong, then you may well be afraid; because it is not for nothing that the symbol of authority is the sword: it is there to serve God, too, as his avenger, to bring retribution to wrongdoers.

Rom 13:5 You must be obedient, therefore, not only because of this retribution, but also for conscience's sake.

Rom 13:6 And this is why you should pay taxes, too, because the authorities are all serving God as his agents, even while they are busily occupied with that particular task.

Rom 13:7 Pay to each one what is due to each: taxes to the one to whom tax is due, tolls to the one to whom tolls are due, respect to the one to whom respect is due, honour to the one to whom honour is due.

Rom 13:8 The only thing you should owe to anyone is love for one another, for to love the other person is to fulfil the law.

Rom 13:9 All these: You shall not commit adultery, You shall not kill, You shall not steal, You shall not covet, and all the other commandments that there are, are summed up in this single phrase: You must love your neighbour as yourself.

Rom 13:10 Love can cause no harm to your neighbour, and so love is the fulfilment of the Law.

Rom 13:11 Besides, you know the time has come; the moment is here for you to stop sleeping and wake up, because by now our salvation is nearer than when we first began to believe.

Rom 13:12 The night is nearly over, daylight is on the way; so let us throw off everything that belongs to the darkness and equip ourselves for the light.

Rom 13:13 Let us live decently, as in the light of day; with no orgies or drunkenness, no promiscuity or licentiousness, and no wrangling or jealousy.

Rom 13:14 Let your armour be the Lord Jesus Christ, and stop worrying about how your disordered natural inclinations may be fulfilled.

Rom 14:1 Give a welcome to anyone whose faith is not strong, but do not get into arguments about doubtful points.

Rom 14:2 One person may have faith enough to eat any kind of food; another, less strong, will eat only vegetables.

Rom 14:3 Those who feel free to eat freely are not to condemn those who are unwilling to eat freely; nor must the person who does not eat freely pass judgement on the one who does -- because God has welcomed him.

Rom 14:4 And who are you, to sit in judgement over somebody else's servant? Whether he deserves to be upheld or to fall is for his own master to decide; and he shall be upheld, for the Lord has power to uphold him.

Rom 14:5 One person thinks that some days are holier than others, and another thinks them all equal. Let each of them be fully convinced in his own mind.

Rom 14:6 The one who makes special observance of a particular day observes it in honour of the Lord. So the one who eats freely, eats in honour of the Lord, making his thanksgiving to God; and the one who does not, abstains from eating in honour of the Lord and makes his thanksgiving to God.

Rom 14:7 For none of us lives for himself and none of us dies for himself;

Rom 14:8 while we are alive, we are living for the Lord, and when we die, we die for the Lord: and so, alive or dead, we belong to the Lord.

Rom 14:9 It was for this purpose that Christ both died and came to life again: so that he might be Lord of both the dead and the living.

Rom 14:10 Why, then, does one of you make himself judge over his brother, and why does another among you despise his brother? All of us will have to stand in front of the judgement-seat of God:

Rom 14:11 as scripture says: By my own life says the Lord, every knee shall bow before me, every tongue shall give glory to God.

Rom 14:12 It is to God, then, that each of us will have to give an account of himself.

Rom 14:13 Let us each stop passing judgement, therefore, on one another and decide instead that none of us will place obstacles in any brother's way, or anything that can bring him down.

Rom 14:14 I am sure, and quite convinced in the Lord Jesus, that no food is unclean in itself; it is only if someone classifies any kind of food as unclean, then for him it is unclean.

Rom 14:15 And indeed, if through any kind of food you are causing offence to a brother, then you are no longer being guided by love. You are not to let the food that you eat cause the ruin of anyone for whom Christ died.

Rom 14:16 A privilege of yours must not be allowed to give rise to harmful talk;

Rom 14:17 for it is not eating and drinking that make the kingdom of God, but the saving justice, the peace and the joy brought by the Holy Spirit.

Rom 14:18 It is the person who serves Christ in these things that will be approved by God and respected by everyone.

Rom 14:19 So then, let us be always seeking the ways which lead to peace and the ways in which we can support one another.

Rom 14:20 Do not wreck God's work for the sake of food. Certainly all foods are clean; but all the same, any kind can be evil for someone to whom it is an offence to eat it.

Rom 14:21 It is best to abstain from eating any meat, or drinking any wine, or from any other activity which might cause a brother to fall away, or to be scandalised, or to weaken.

Rom 14:22 Within yourself, before God, hold on to what you already believe. Blessed is the person whose principles do not condemn his practice.

Rom 14:23 But anyone who eats with qualms of conscience is condemned, because this eating does not spring from faith -- and every action which does not spring from faith is sin.

Rom 15:1 It is for us who are strong to bear with the susceptibilities of the weaker ones, and not please ourselves.

Rom 15:2 Each of us must consider his neighbour's good, so that we support one another.

Rom 15:3 Christ did not indulge his own feelings, either; indeed, as scripture says: The insults of those who insult you fall on me.

Rom 15:4 And all these things which were written so long ago were written so that we, learning perseverance and the encouragement which the scriptures give, should have hope.

Rom 15:5 Now the God of perseverance and encouragement give you all the same purpose, following the example of Christ Jesus,

Rom 15:6 so that you may together give glory to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ with one heart.

Rom 15:7 Accept one another, then, for the sake of God's glory, as Christ accepted you.

Rom 15:8 I tell you that Christ's work was to serve the circumcised, fulfilling the truthfulness of God by carrying out the promises made to the fathers, Rom 15:9 and his work was also for the gentiles, so that they should give glory to God for his faithful love; as scripture says: For this I shall praise you among the nations and sing praise to your name.

Rom 15:10 And in another place it says: Nations, rejoice, with his people,

Rom 15:11 and in another place again: Praise the Lord, all nations, extol him, all peoples.

Rom 15:12 And in Isaiah, it says: The root of Jesse will appear, he who rises up to rule the nations, and in him the nations will put their hope.

Rom 15:13 May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in your faith, so that in the power of the Holy Spirit you may be rich in hope.

Rom 15:14 My brothers, I am quite sure that you, in particular, are full of goodness, fully instructed and capable of correcting each other.

Rom 15:15 But I have special confidence in writing on some points to you, to refresh your memories, because of the grace that was given to me by God.

Rom 15:16 I was given grace to be a minister of Christ Jesus to the gentiles, dedicated to offer them the gospel of God, so that gentiles might become an acceptable offering, sanctified by the Holy Spirit.

Rom 15:17 So I can be proud, in Christ Jesus, of what I have done for God.

Rom 15:18 Of course I can dare to speak only of the things which Christ has done through me to win the allegiance of the gentiles, using what I have said and done,

Rom 15:19 by the power of signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God. In this way, from Jerusalem and all round, even as far as Illyricum, I have fully carried out the preaching of the gospel of Christ;

Rom 15:20 and what is more, it has been my rule to preach the gospel only where the name of Christ has not already been heard, for I do not build on another's foundations;

Rom 15:21 in accordance with scripture: Those who have never been told about him will see him, and those who have never heard about him will understand.

Rom 15:22 That is why I have been so often prevented from coming to see you;

Rom 15:23 now, however, as there is nothing more to keep me in these parts, I hope, after longing for many years past to visit you, to see you when I am on the way to Spain-

Rom 15:24 and after enjoying at least something of your company, to be sent on my way with your support.

Rom 15:25 But now I have undertaken to go to Jerusalem in the service of the holy people of God there,

Rom 15:26 since Macedonia and Achaia have chosen to make a generous contribution to the poor among God's holy people at Jerusalem.

Rom 15:27 Yes, they chose to; not that they did not owe it to them. For if the gentiles have been given a share in their spiritual possessions, then in return to give them help with material possessions is repaying a debt to them.

Rom 15:28 So when I have done this, and given this harvest into their possession, I shall visit you on the way to Spain.

Rom 15:29 I am sure that, when I do come to you, I shall come with the fullest blessing of Christ.

Rom 15:30 Meanwhile I urge you, brothers, by our Lord Jesus Christ and by the love of the Spirit, that in your prayers to God for me you exert yourselves to help me;

Rom 15:31 praying that I may escape the unbelievers in Judaea, and that the aid I am carrying to Jerusalem will be acceptable to God's holy people.

Rom 15:32 Then I shall come to you, if God wills, for a happy time of relaxation in your company.

Rom 15:33 The God of peace be with you all. Amen.

Rom 16:1 I commend to you our sister Phoebe, a deaconess of the church at Cenchreae;

Rom 16:2 give her, in the Lord, a welcome worthy of God's holy people, and help her with whatever she needs from you -- she herself has come to the help of many people, including myself.

Rom 16:3 My greetings to Prisca and Aquila, my fellow-workers in Christ Jesus,

Rom 16:4 who risked their own necks to save my life; to them, thanks not only from me, but from all the churches among the gentiles;

Rom 16:5 and my greetings to the church at their house. Greetings to my dear friend Epaenetus, the first of Asia's offerings to Christ.

Rom 16:6 Greetings to Mary, who worked so hard for you.

Rom 16:7 Greetings to those outstanding apostles, Andronicus and Junias, my kinsmen and fellow-prisoners, who were in Christ before me.

Rom 16:8 Greetings to Ampliatus, my dear friend in the Lord.

Rom 16:9 Greetings to Urban, my fellow-worker in Christ, and to my dear friend Stachys.

Rom 16:10 Greetings to Apelles, proved servant of Christ. Greetings to all the household of Aristobulus.

Rom 16:11 Greetings to my kinsman, Herodion, and greetings to those who belong to the Lord in the household of Narcissus.

Rom 16:12 Greetings to Tryphaena and Tryphosa who work hard in the Lord; greetings to my dear friend

Persis, also a very hard worker in the Lord.

Rom 16:13 Greetings to Rufus, chosen servant of the Lord, and to his mother -- a mother to me too.

Rom 16:14 Greetings to Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and the brothers who are with them.

Rom 16:15 Greetings to Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas and all God's holy people who are with them.

Rom 16:16 Greet each other with the holy kiss. All the churches of Christ send their greetings.

Rom 16:17 I urge you, brothers, be on your guard against the people who are out to stir up disagreements and bring up difficulties against the teaching which you learnt. Avoid them.

Rom 16:18 People of that sort are servants not of our Lord Christ, but of their own greed; and with talk that sounds smooth and reasonable they deceive the minds of the unwary.

Rom 16:19 Your obedience has become known to everyone, and I am very pleased with you for it; but I should want you to be learned only in what is good, and unsophisticated about all that is evil.

Rom 16:20 The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

Rom 16:21 Timothy, who is working with me, sends greetings to you, and so do my kinsmen Lucius, Jason and Sosipater.

Rom 16:22 I, Tertius, who am writing this letter, greet you in the Lord.

Rom 16:23 Greetings to you from Gaius, my host here, and host of the whole church. Erastus, the city treasurer, sends greetings to you, and our brother Quartus.

Rom 16:24

Rom 16:25 And now to him who can make you strong in accordance with the gospel that I preach and the proclamation of Jesus Christ, in accordance with that mystery which for endless ages was kept secret

Rom 16:26 but now (as the prophets wrote) is revealed, as the eternal God commanded, to be made known to all the nations, so that they obey in faith:

Rom 16:27 to him, the only wise God, give glory through Jesus Christ for ever and ever. Amen.

1Co 1:1 Paul, called by the will of God to be an apostle of Christ Jesus, and Sosthenes, our brother, 1Co 1:2 to the church of God in Corinth, to those who have been consecrated in Christ Jesus and called to be God's holy people, with all those everywhere who call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, their Lord as well as ours.

1Co 1:3 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1Co 1:4 I am continually thanking God about you, for the grace of God which you have been given in Christ Jesus;

1Co 1:5 in him you have been richly endowed in every kind of utterance and knowledge;

1Co 1:6 so firmly has witness to Christ taken root in you.

1Co 1:7 And so you are not lacking in any gift as you wait for our Lord Jesus Christ to be revealed;

1Co 1:8 he will continue to give you strength till the very end, so that you will be irreproachable on the Day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

1Co 1:9 You can rely on God, who has called you to be partners with his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

1Co 1:10 Brothers, I urge you, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, not to have factions among yourselves but all to be in agreement in what you profess; so that you are perfectly united in your beliefs and judgements.

1Co 1:11 From what Chloe's people have been telling me about you, brothers, it is clear that there are serious differences among you.

1Co 1:12 What I mean is this: every one of you is declaring, 'I belong to Paul,' or 'I belong to Apollos,' or 'I belong to Cephas,' or 'I belong to Christ.'

1Co 1:13 Has Christ been split up? Was it Paul that was crucified for you, or was it in Paul's name that you were baptised?

1Co 1:14 I am thankful I did not baptise any of you, except Crispus and Gaius, 1Co 1:15 so that no one can say that you were baptised in my name.

1Co 1:16 Yes, I did baptise the family of Stephanas, too; but besides these I do not think I baptised anyone.

1Co 1:17 After all, Christ sent me not to baptise, but to preach the gospel; and not by means of wisdom of language, wise words which would make the cross of Christ pointless.

1Co 1:18 The message of the cross is folly for those who are on the way to ruin, but for those of us who are on the road to salvation it is the power of God.

1Co 1:19 As scripture says: I am going to destroy the wisdom of the wise and bring to nothing the understanding of any who understand.

1Co 1:20 Where are the philosophers? Where are the experts? And where are the debaters of this age? Do you not see how God has shown up human wisdom as folly?

1Co 1:21 Since in the wisdom of God the world was unable to recognise God through wisdom, it was God's own pleasure to save believers through the folly of the gospel.

1Co 1:22 While the Jews demand miracles and the Greeks look for wisdom,
1Co 1:23 we are preaching a crucified Christ: to the Jews an obstacle they cannot get over, to the gentiles foolishness,
1Co 1:24 but to those who have been called, whether they are Jews or Greeks, a Christ who is both the power of God and the wisdom of God.
1Co 1:25 God's folly is wiser than human wisdom, and God's weakness is stronger than human strength.
1Co 1:26 Consider, brothers, how you were called; not many of you are wise by human standards, not many influential, not many from noble families.
1Co 1:27 No, God chose those who by human standards are fools to shame the wise; he chose those who by human standards are weak to shame the strong,
1Co 1:28 those who by human standards are common and contemptible -- indeed those who count for nothing -- to reduce to nothing all those that do count for something,
1Co 1:29 so that no human being might feel boastful before God.
1Co 1:30 It is by him that you exist in Christ Jesus, who for us was made wisdom from God, and saving justice and holiness and redemption.
1Co 1:31 As scripture says: If anyone wants to boast, let him boast of the Lord.
1Co 2:1 Now when I came to you, brothers, I did not come with any brilliance of oratory or wise argument to announce to you the mystery of God.
1Co 2:2 I was resolved that the only knowledge I would have while I was with you was knowledge of Jesus, and of him as the crucified Christ.
1Co 2:3 I came among you in weakness, in fear and great trembling
1Co 2:4 and what I spoke and proclaimed was not meant to convince by philosophical argument, but to demonstrate the convincing power of the Spirit,
1Co 2:5 so that your faith should depend not on human wisdom but on the power of God.
1Co 2:6 But still, to those who have reached maturity, we do talk of a wisdom, not, it is true, a philosophy of this age or of the rulers of this age, who will not last long now.
1Co 2:7 It is of the mysterious wisdom of God that we talk, the wisdom that was hidden, which God predestined to be for our glory before the ages began.
1Co 2:8 None of the rulers of the age recognised it; for if they had recognised it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory;
1Co 2:9 but it is as scripture says: What no eye has seen and no ear has heard, what the mind of man cannot visualise; all that God has prepared for those who love him;
1Co 2:10 to us, though, God has given revelation through the Spirit, for the Spirit explores the depths of everything, even the depths of God.
1Co 2:11 After all, is there anyone who knows the qualities of anyone except his own spirit, within him; and in the same way, nobody knows the qualities of God except the Spirit of God.
1Co 2:12 Now, the Spirit we have received is not the spirit of the world but God's own Spirit, so that we may understand the lavish gifts God has given us.
1Co 2:13 And these are what we speak of, not in the terms learnt from human philosophy, but in terms learnt from the Spirit, fitting spiritual language to spiritual things.
1Co 2:14 The natural person has no room for the gifts of God's Spirit; to him they are folly; he cannot recognise them, because their value can be assessed only in the Spirit.
1Co 2:15 The spiritual person, on the other hand, can assess the value of everything, and that person's value cannot be assessed by anybody else.
1Co 2:16 For: who has ever known the mind of the Lord? Who has ever been his adviser? But we are those who have the mind of Christ.
1Co 3:1 And so, brothers, I was not able to talk to you as spiritual people; I had to talk to you as people still living by your natural inclinations, still infants in Christ;
1Co 3:2 I fed you with milk and not solid food, for you were not yet able to take it -- and even now, you are still not able to,
1Co 3:3 for you are still living by your natural inclinations. As long as there are jealousy and rivalry among you, that surely means that you are still living by your natural inclinations and by merely human principles.
1Co 3:4 While there is one that says, 'I belong to Paul' and another that says, 'I belong to Apollos' are you not being only too human?
1Co 3:5 For what is Apollos and what is Paul? The servants through whom you came to believe, and each has only what the Lord has given him.
1Co 3:6 I did the planting, Apollos did the watering, but God gave growth.
1Co 3:7 In this, neither the planter nor the waterer counts for anything; only God, who gives growth.
1Co 3:8 It is all one who does the planting and who does the watering, and each will have the proper pay for the work that he has done.

1Co 3:9 After all, we do share in God's work; you are God's farm, God's building.

1Co 3:10 By the grace of God which was given to me, I laid the foundations like a trained master-builder, and someone else is building on them. Now each one must be careful how he does the building.

1Co 3:11 For nobody can lay down any other foundation than the one which is there already, namely Jesus Christ.

1Co 3:12 On this foundation, different people may build in gold, silver, jewels, wood, hay or straw

1Co 3:13 but each person's handiwork will be shown for what it is. The Day which dawns in fire will make it clear and the fire itself will test the quality of each person's work.

1Co 3:14 The one whose work stands up to it will be given his wages;

1Co 3:15 the one whose work is burnt down will suffer the loss of it, though he himself will be saved; he will be saved as someone might expect to be saved from a fire.

1Co 3:16 Do you not realise that you are a temple of God with the Spirit of God living in you?

1Co 3:17 If anybody should destroy the temple of God, God will destroy that person, because God's temple is holy; and you are that temple.

1Co 3:18 There is no room for self-delusion. Any one of you who thinks he is wise by worldly standards must learn to be a fool in order to be really wise.

1Co 3:19 For the wisdom of the world is folly to God. As scripture says: He traps the crafty in the snare of their own cunning 1Co 3:20 and again: The Lord knows the plans of the wise and how insipid they are.

1Co 3:21 So there is to be no boasting about human beings: everything belongs to you,

1Co 3:22 whether it is Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, the world, life or death, the present or the future -- all belong to you;

1Co 3:23 but you belong to Christ and Christ belongs to God.

1Co 4:1 People should think of us as Christ's servants, stewards entrusted with the mysteries of God.

1Co 4:2 In such a matter, what is expected of stewards is that each one should be found trustworthy.

1Co 4:3 It is of no importance to me how you or any other human court may judge me: I will not even be the judge of my own self.

1Co 4:4 It is true that my conscience does not reproach me, but that is not enough to justify me: it is the Lord who is my judge.

1Co 4:5 For that reason, do not judge anything before the due time, until the Lord comes; he will bring to light everything that is hidden in darkness and reveal the designs of all hearts. Then everyone will receive from God the appropriate commendation.

1Co 4:6 I have applied all this to myself and Apollos for your sakes, so that you can learn how the saying, 'Nothing beyond what is written' is true of us: no individual among you must become filled with his own importance and make comparisons, to another's detriment.

1Co 4:7 Who made you so important? What have you got that was not given to you? And if it was given to you, why are you boasting as though it were your own?

1Co 4:8 You already have everything -- you are rich already -- you have come into your kingdom, without any help from us! Well, I wish you were kings and we could be kings with you!

1Co 4:9 For it seems to me that God has put us apostles on show right at the end, like men condemned to death: we have been exhibited as a spectacle to the whole universe, both angelic and human.

1Co 4:10 Here we are, fools for Christ's sake, while you are the clever ones in Christ; we are weak, while you are strong; you are honoured, while we are disgraced.

1Co 4:11 To this day, we go short of food and drink and clothes, we are beaten up and we have no homes;

1Co 4:12 we earn our living by labouring with our own hands; when we are cursed, we answer with a blessing; when we are hounded, we endure it passively;

1Co 4:13 when we are insulted, we give a courteous answer. We are treated even now as the dregs of the world, the very lowest scum.

1Co 4:14 I am writing all this not to make you ashamed but simply to remind you, as my dear children;

1Co 4:15 for even though you might have ten thousand slaves to look after you in Christ, you still have no more than one father, and it was I who fathered you in Christ Jesus, by the gospel.

1Co 4:16 That is why I urge you to take me as your pattern

1Co 4:17 and why I have sent you Timothy, a dear and faithful son to me in the Lord, who will remind you of my principles of conduct in Christ, as I teach them everywhere in every church.

1Co 4:18 On the assumption that I was not coming to you, some of you have become filled with your own self-importance;

1Co 4:19 but I shall be coming to you soon, the Lord willing, and then I shall find out not what these self-important people say, but what power they have.

1Co 4:20 For the kingdom of God consists not in spoken words but in power.

1Co 4:21 What do you want then? Am I to come to you with a stick in my hand or in love, and with a spirit of gentleness?

1Co 5:1 It is widely reported that there is sexual immorality among you, immorality of a kind that is not found even among gentiles: that one of you is living with his stepmother.

1Co 5:2 And you so filled with your own self-importance! It would have been better if you had been grieving bitterly, so that the man who has done this thing were turned out of the community.

1Co 5:3 For my part, however distant I am physically, I am present in spirit and have already condemned the man who behaved in this way, just as though I were present in person.

1Co 5:4 When you have gathered together in the name of our Lord Jesus, with the presence of my spirit, and in the power of our Lord Jesus, 1Co 5:5 hand such a man over to Satan, to be destroyed as far as natural life is concerned, so that on the Day of the Lord his spirit may be saved.

1Co 5:6 Your self-satisfaction is ill founded. Do you not realise that only a little yeast leavens the whole batch of dough?

1Co 5:7 Throw out the old yeast so that you can be the fresh dough, unleavened as you are. For our Passover has been sacrificed, that is, Christ;

1Co 5:8 let us keep the feast, then, with none of the old yeast and no leavening of evil and wickedness, but only the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

1Co 5:9 In my letter, I wrote to you that you should have nothing to do with people living immoral lives.

1Co 5:10 I was not including everybody in this present world who is sexually immoral, or everybody who is greedy, or dishonest or worships false gods -- that would mean you would have to cut yourselves off completely from the world.

1Co 5:11 In fact what I meant was that you were not to have anything to do with anyone going by the name of brother who is sexually immoral, or is greedy, or worships false gods, or is a slanderer or a drunkard or dishonest; never even have a meal with anybody of that kind.

1Co 5:12 It is no concern of mine to judge outsiders. It is for you to judge those who are inside, is it not?

1Co 5:13 But outsiders are for God to judge. You must banish this evil-doer from among you.

1Co 6:1 Is one of you with a complaint against another so brazen as to seek judgement from sinners and not from God's holy people?

1Co 6:2 Do you not realise that the holy people of God are to be the judges of the world? And if the world is to be judged by you, are you not competent for petty cases?

1Co 6:3 Do you not realise that we shall be the judges of angels? - then quite certainly over matters of this life.

1Co 6:4 But when you have matters of this life to be judged, you bring them before those who are of no account in the Church!

1Co 6:5 I say this to make you ashamed of yourselves. Can it really be that it is impossible to find in the community one sensible person capable of deciding questions between brothers, 1Co 6:6 and that this is why brother goes to law against brother, and that before unbelievers?

1Co 6:7 No; it is a fault in you, by itself, that one of you should go to law against another at all: why do you not prefer to suffer injustice, why not prefer to be defrauded?

1Co 6:8 And here you are, doing the injustice and the defrauding, and to your own brothers.

1Co 6:9 Do you not realise that people who do evil will never inherit the kingdom of God? Make no mistake -- the sexually immoral, idolaters, adulterers, the self-indulgent, sodomites, 1Co 6:10 thieves, misers, drunkards, slanderers and swindlers, none of these will inherit the kingdom of God.

1Co 6:11 Some of you used to be of that kind: but you have been washed clean, you have been sanctified, and you have been justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and through the Spirit of our God.

1Co 6:12 'For me everything is permissible'; maybe, but not everything does good. True, for me everything is permissible, but I am determined not to be dominated by anything.

1Co 6:13 Foods are for the stomach, and the stomach is for foods; and God will destroy them both. But the body is not for sexual immorality;

1Co 6:14 it is for the Lord, and the Lord is for the body. God raised up the Lord and he will raise us up too by his power.

1Co 6:15 Do you not realise that your bodies are members of Christ's body; do you think one can take parts of Christ's body and join them to the body of a prostitute? Out of the question!

1Co 6:16 Or do you not realise that anyone who attaches himself to a prostitute is one body with her, since the two, as it is said, become one flesh.

1Co 6:17 But anyone who attaches himself to the Lord is one spirit with him.

1Co 6:18 Keep away from sexual immorality. All other sins that people may commit are done outside the body; but the sexually immoral person sins against his own body.

1Co 6:19 Do you not realise that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you and whom you received from God?

1Co 6:20 You are not your own property, then; you have been bought at a price. So use your body for the glory of God.

1Co 7:1 Now for the questions about which you wrote. Yes, it is a good thing for a man not to touch a woman;

1Co 7:2 yet to avoid immorality every man should have his own wife and every woman her own husband.

1Co 7:3 The husband must give to his wife what she has a right to expect, and so too the wife to her husband.

1Co 7:4 The wife does not have authority over her own body, but the husband does; and in the same way, the husband does not have authority over his own body, but the wife does.

1Co 7:5 You must not deprive each other, except by mutual consent for a limited time, to leave yourselves free for prayer, and to come together again afterwards; otherwise Satan may take advantage of any lack of self-control to put you to the test.

1Co 7:6 I am telling you this as a concession, not an order.

1Co 7:7 I should still like everyone to be as I am myself; but everyone has his own gift from God, one this kind and the next something different.

1Co 7:8 To the unmarried and to widows I say: it is good for them to stay as they are, like me.

1Co 7:9 But if they cannot exercise self-control, let them marry, since it is better to be married than to be burnt up.

1Co 7:10 To the married I give this ruling, and this is not mine but the Lord's: a wife must not be separated from her husband-

1Co 7:11 or if she has already left him, she must remain unmarried or else be reconciled to her husband -- and a husband must not divorce his wife.

1Co 7:12 For other cases these instructions are my own, not the Lord's. If one of the brothers has a wife who is not a believer, and she is willing to stay with him, he should not divorce her;

1Co 7:13 and if a woman has a husband who is not a believer and he is willing to stay with her, she should not divorce her husband.

1Co 7:14 You see, the unbelieving husband is sanctified through his wife and the unbelieving wife is sanctified through the brother. If this were not so, your children would be unclean, whereas in fact they are holy.

1Co 7:15 But if the unbeliever chooses to leave, then let the separation take place: in these circumstances, the brother or sister is no longer tied. But God has called you to live in peace:

1Co 7:16 as a wife, how can you tell whether you are to be the salvation of your husband; as a husband, how can you tell whether you are to be the salvation of your wife?

1Co 7:17 Anyway let everyone continue in the part which the Lord has allotted to him, as he was when God called him. This is the rule that I give to all the churches.

1Co 7:18 If a man who is called has already been circumcised, then he must stay circumcised; when an uncircumcised man is called, he may not be circumcised.

1Co 7:19 To be circumcised is of no importance, and to be uncircumcised is of no importance; what is important is the keeping of God's commandments.

1Co 7:20 Everyone should stay in whatever state he was in when he was called.

1Co 7:21 So, if when you were called, you were a slave, do not think it matters -- even if you have a chance of freedom, you should prefer to make full use of your condition as a slave.

1Co 7:22 You see, anyone who was called in the Lord while a slave, is a freeman of the Lord; and in the same way, anyone who was free when called, is a slave of Christ.

1Co 7:23 You have been bought at a price; do not be slaves now to any human being.

1Co 7:24 Each one of you, brothers, is to stay before God in the state in which you were called.

1Co 7:25 About people remaining virgin, I have no directions from the Lord, but I give my own opinion as a person who has been granted the Lord's mercy to be faithful.

1Co 7:26 Well then, because of the stress which is weighing upon us, the right thing seems to be this: it is good for people to stay as they are.

1Co 7:27 If you are joined to a wife, do not seek to be released; if you are freed of a wife, do not look for a wife.

1Co 7:28 However, if you do get married, that is not a sin, and it is not sinful for a virgin to enter upon marriage. But such people will have the hardships consequent on human nature, and I would like you to be without that.

1Co 7:29 What I mean, brothers, is that the time has become limited, and from now on, those who have spouses should live as though they had none;

1Co 7:30 and those who mourn as though they were not mourning; those who enjoy life as though they did not enjoy it; those who have been buying property as though they had no possessions;

1Co 7:31 and those who are involved with the world as though they were people not engrossed in it. Because this world as we know it is passing away.

1Co 7:32 I should like you to have your minds free from all worry. The unmarried man gives his mind to the Lord's affairs and to how he can please the Lord;

1Co 7:33 but the man who is married gives his mind to the affairs of this world and to how he can please his wife, and he is divided in mind.

1Co 7:34 So, too, the unmarried woman, and the virgin, gives her mind to the Lord's affairs and to being holy in body and spirit; but the married woman gives her mind to the affairs of this world and to how she can please her husband.

1Co 7:35 I am saying this only to help you, not to put a bridle on you, but so that everything is as it should be, and you are able to give your undivided attention to the Lord.

1Co 7:36 If someone with strong passions thinks that he is behaving badly towards his fiance'e and that things should take their due course, he should follow his desires. There is no sin in it; they should marry.

1Co 7:37 But if he stands firm in his resolution, without any compulsion but with full control of his own will, and decides to let her remain as his fiance'e, then he is acting well.

1Co 7:38 In other words, he who marries his fiance'e is doing well, and he who does not, better still.

1Co 7:39 A wife is tied as long as her husband is alive. But if the husband dies, she is free to marry anybody she likes, only it must be in the Lord.

1Co 7:40 She would be happier if she stayed as she is, to my way of thinking -- and I believe that I too have the Spirit of God.

1Co 8:1 Now about food which has been dedicated to false gods. We are well aware that all of us have knowledge; but while knowledge puffs up, love is what builds up.

1Co 8:2 Someone may think that he has full knowledge of something and yet not know it as well as he should;

1Co 8:3 but someone who loves God is known by God.

1Co 8:4 On the subject of eating foods dedicated to false gods, we are well aware that none of the false gods exists in reality and that there is no God other than the One.

1Co 8:5 Though there are so-called gods, in the heavens or on earth -- and there are plenty of gods and plenty of lords-

1Co 8:6 yet for us there is only one God, the Father from whom all things come and for whom we exist, and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom all things come and through whom we exist.

1Co 8:7 However, not everybody has this knowledge. There are some in whose consciences false gods still play such a part that they take the food as though it had been dedicated to a god; then their conscience, being vulnerable, is defiled, 1Co 8:8 But of course food cannot make us acceptable to God; we lose nothing by not eating it, we gain nothing by eating it.

1Co 8:9 Only be careful that this freedom of yours does not in any way turn into an obstacle to trip those who are vulnerable.

1Co 8:10 Suppose someone sees you, who have the knowledge, sitting eating in the temple of some false god, do you not think that his conscience, vulnerable as it is, may be encouraged to eat foods dedicated to false gods?

1Co 8:11 And then it would be through your knowledge that this brother for whom Christ died, vulnerable as he is, has been lost.

1Co 8:12 So, sinning against your brothers and wounding their vulnerable consciences, you would be sinning against Christ.

1Co 8:13 That is why, if food can be the cause of a brother's downfall, I will never eat meat any more, rather than cause my brother's downfall.

1Co 9:1 Am I not free? Am I not an apostle? Have I not seen Jesus our Lord? Are you not my work in the Lord?

1Co 9:2 Even if to others I am not an apostle, to you at any rate I am, for you are the seal of my apostolate in the Lord.

1Co 9:3 To those who want to interrogate me, this is my answer.

1Co 9:4 Have we not every right to eat and drink?

1Co 9:5 And every right to be accompanied by a Christian wife, like the other apostles, like the brothers of the Lord, and like Cephas?

1Co 9:6 Are Barnabas and I the only ones who have no right to stop working?

1Co 9:7 What soldier would ever serve in the army at his own expense? And who is there who would plant a vineyard and never eat the fruit from it; or would keep a flock and not feed on the milk from his flock?

1Co 9:8 Do not think that this is merely worldly wisdom. Does not the Law say exactly the same? It is written in the Law of Moses:

1Co 9:9 You must not muzzle an ox when it is treading out the corn. Is it about oxen that God is concerned here,

1Co 9:10 or is it not said entirely for our sake? Clearly it was written for our sake, because it is right that whoever ploughs should plough with the expectation of having his share, and whoever threshes should thresh with the expectation of having his share.

1Co 9:11 If we have sown the seed of spiritual things in you, is it too much to ask that we should receive from you a crop of material things?

1Co 9:12 Others have been given such rights over you and do we not deserve more? In fact, we have never exercised this right; on the contrary, we have put up with anything rather than obstruct the gospel of Christ in any way.

1Co 9:13 Do you not realise that the ministers in the Temple get their food from the Temple, and those who serve at the altar can claim their share from the altar?

1Co 9:14 In the same way, the Lord gave the instruction that those who preach the gospel should get their living from the gospel.

1Co 9:15 However, I have never availed myself of any rights of this kind; and I have not written this to secure such treatment for myself; I would rather die than that . . . No one shall take from me this ground of boasting.

1Co 9:16 In fact, preaching the gospel gives me nothing to boast of, for I am under compulsion and I should be in trouble if I failed to do it.

1Co 9:17 If I did it on my own initiative I would deserve a reward; but if I do it under compulsion I am simply accepting a task entrusted to me.

1Co 9:18 What reward do I have, then? That in my preaching I offer the gospel free of charge to avoid using the rights which the gospel allows me.

1Co 9:19 So though I was not a slave to any human being, I put myself in slavery to all people, to win as many as I could.

1Co 9:20 To the Jews I made myself as a Jew, to win the Jews; to those under the Law as one under the Law (though I am not), in order to win those under the Law;

1Co 9:21 to those outside the Law as one outside the Law, though I am not outside the Law but under Christ's law, to win those outside the Law.

1Co 9:22 To the weak, I made myself weak, to win the weak. I accommodated myself to people in all kinds of different situations, so that by all possible means I might bring some to salvation.

1Co 9:23 All this I do for the sake of the gospel, that I may share its benefits with others.

1Co 9:24 Do you not realise that, though all the runners in the stadium take part in the race, only one of them gets the prize? Run like that -- to win.

1Co 9:25 Every athlete concentrates completely on training, and this is to win a wreath that will wither, whereas ours will never wither.

1Co 9:26 So that is how I run, not without a clear goal; and how I box, not wasting blows on air.

1Co 9:27 I punish my body and bring it under control, to avoid any risk that, having acted as herald for others, I myself may be disqualified.

1Co 10:1 I want you to be quite certain, brothers, that our ancestors all had the cloud over them and all passed through the sea.

1Co 10:2 In the cloud and in the sea they were all baptised into Moses;

1Co 10:3 all ate the same spiritual food

1Co 10:4 and all drank the same spiritual drink, since they drank from the spiritual rock which followed them, and that rock was Christ.

1Co 10:5 In spite of this, God was not pleased with most of them, and their corpses were scattered over the desert.

1Co 10:6 Now these happenings were examples, for our benefit, so that we should never set our hearts, as they did, on evil things;

1Co 10:7 nor are you to worship false gods, as some of them did, as it says in scripture: The people sat down to eat and drink, and afterwards got up to amuse themselves.

1Co 10:8 Nor, again, are we to fall into sexual immorality; some of them did this, and twenty-three thousand met their downfall in one day.

1Co 10:9 And we are not to put the Lord to the test; some of them put him to the test, and they were killed by snakes.

1Co 10:10 Never complain; some of them complained, and they were killed by the Destroyer.

1Co 10:11 Now all these things happened to them by way of example, and they were described in writing to be a lesson for us, to whom it has fallen to live in the last days of the ages.

1Co 10:12 Everyone, no matter how firmly he thinks he is standing, must be careful he does not fall.

1Co 10:13 None of the trials which have come upon you is more than a human being can stand. You can trust that God will not let you be put to the test beyond your strength, but with any trial will also provide a way out by enabling you to put up with it.

1Co 10:14 For that reason, my dear friends, have nothing to do with the worship of false gods.

1Co 10:15 I am talking to you as sensible people; weigh up for yourselves what I have to say.

1Co 10:16 The blessing-cup, which we bless, is it not a sharing in the blood of Christ; and the loaf of bread which we break, is it not a sharing in the body of Christ?

1Co 10:17 And as there is one loaf, so we, although there are many of us, are one single body, for we all share in the one loaf.

1Co 10:18 Now compare the natural people of Israel: is it not true that those who eat the sacrifices share the altar?

1Co 10:19 What does this mean? That the dedication of food to false gods amounts to anything? Or that false gods themselves amount to anything?

1Co 10:20 No, it does not; simply that when pagans sacrifice, what is sacrificed by them is sacrificed to demons who are not God. I do not want you to share with demons.

1Co 10:21 You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons as well; you cannot have a share at the Lord's table and the demons' table as well.

1Co 10:22 Do we really want to arouse the Lord's jealousy; are we stronger than he is?

1Co 10:23 'Everything is permissible'; maybe so, but not everything does good. True, everything is permissible, but not everything builds people up.

1Co 10:24 Nobody should be looking for selfish advantage, but everybody for someone else's.

1Co 10:25 Eat anything that is sold in butchers' shops; there is no need to ask questions for conscience's sake, 1Co 10:26 since To the Lord belong the earth and all it contains.

1Co 10:27 If an unbeliever invites you to a meal, go if you want to, and eat whatever is put before you; you need not ask questions of conscience first.

1Co 10:28 But if someone says to you, 'This food has been offered in sacrifice,' do not eat it, out of consideration for the person that told you, for conscience's sake-

1Co 10:29 not your own conscience, I mean, but the other person's. Why should my freedom be governed by somebody else's conscience?

1Co 10:30 Provided that I accept it with gratitude, why should I be blamed for eating food for which I give thanks?

1Co 10:31 Whatever you eat, then, or drink, and whatever else you do, do it all for the glory of God.

1Co 10:32 Never be a cause of offence, either to Jews or to Greeks or to the Church of God,

1Co 10:33 just as I try to accommodate everybody in everything, not looking for my own advantage, but for the advantage of everybody else, so that they may be saved.

1Co 11:1 Take me as your pattern, just as I take Christ for mine.

1Co 11:2 I congratulate you for remembering me so consistently and for maintaining the traditions exactly as I passed them on to you.

1Co 11:3 But I should like you to understand that the head of every man is Christ, the head of woman is man, and the head of Christ is God.

1Co 11:4 For any man to pray or to prophesy with his head covered shows disrespect for his head.

1Co 11:5 And for a woman to pray or prophesy with her head uncovered shows disrespect for her head; it is exactly the same as if she had her hair shaved off.

1Co 11:6 Indeed, if a woman does go without a veil, she should have her hair cut off too; but if it is a shameful thing for a woman to have her hair cut off or shaved off, then she should wear a veil.

1Co 11:7 But for a man it is not right to have his head covered, since he is the image of God and reflects God's glory; but woman is the reflection of man's glory.

1Co 11:8 For man did not come from woman; no, woman came from man;

1Co 11:9 nor was man created for the sake of woman, but woman for the sake of man:

1Co 11:10 and this is why it is right for a woman to wear on her head a sign of the authority over her, because of the angels.

1Co 11:11 However, in the Lord, though woman is nothing without man, man is nothing without woman;

1Co 11:12 and though woman came from man, so does every man come from a woman, and everything comes from God.

1Co 11:13 Decide for yourselves: does it seem fitting that a woman should pray to God without a veil?

1Co 11:14 Does not nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair, it is a disgrace to him,

1Co 11:15 but when a woman has long hair, it is her glory? After all, her hair was given to her to be a covering.

1Co 11:16 If anyone wants to be contentious, I say that we have no such custom, nor do any of the churches of God.

1Co 11:17 Now that I am on the subject of instructions, I cannot congratulate you on the meetings you hold; they do more harm than good.

1Co 11:18 In the first place, I hear that when you all come together in your assembly, there are separate factions among you, and to some extent I believe it.

1Co 11:19 It is no bad thing, either, that there should be differing groups among you so that those who are to be trusted among you can be clearly recognised.

1Co 11:20 So, when you meet together, it is not the Lord's Supper that you eat;

1Co 11:21 for when the eating begins, each one of you has his own supper first, and there is one going hungry while another is getting drunk.

1Co 11:22 Surely you have homes for doing your eating and drinking in? Or have you such disregard for God's assembly that you can put to shame those who have nothing? What am I to say to you? Congratulate you? On this I cannot congratulate you.

1Co 11:23 For the tradition I received from the Lord and also handed on to you is that on the night he was betrayed, the Lord Jesus took some bread,

1Co 11:24 and after he had given thanks, he broke it, and he said, 'This is my body, which is for you; do this in remembrance of me.'

1Co 11:25 And in the same way, with the cup after supper, saying, 'This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Whenever you drink it, do this as a memorial of me.'

1Co 11:26 Whenever you eat this bread, then, and drink this cup, you are proclaiming the Lord's death until he comes.

1Co 11:27 Therefore anyone who eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord unworthily is answerable for the body and blood of the Lord.

1Co 11:28 Everyone is to examine himself and only then eat of the bread or drink from the cup;

1Co 11:29 because a person who eats and drinks without recognising the body is eating and drinking his own condemnation.

1Co 11:30 That is why many of you are weak and ill and a good number have died.

1Co 11:31 If we were critical of ourselves we would not be condemned, 1Co 11:32 but when we are judged by the Lord, we are corrected by the Lord to save us from being condemned along with the world.

1Co 11:33 So then, my brothers, when you meet for the Meal, wait for each other;

1Co 11:34 anyone who is hungry should eat at home. Then your meeting will not bring your condemnation. The other matters I shall arrange when I come.

1Co 12:1 About the gifts of the Spirit, brothers, I want you to be quite certain.

1Co 12:2 You remember that, when you were pagans, you were irresistibly drawn to inarticulate heathen gods.

1Co 12:3 Because of that, I want to make it quite clear to you that no one who says 'A curse on Jesus' can be speaking in the Spirit of God, and nobody is able to say, 'Jesus is Lord' except in the Holy Spirit.

1Co 12:4 There are many different gifts, but it is always the same Spirit;

1Co 12:5 there are many different ways of serving, but it is always the same Lord.

1Co 12:6 There are many different forms of activity, but in everybody it is the same God who is at work in them all.

1Co 12:7 The particular manifestation of the Spirit granted to each one is to be used for the general good.

1Co 12:8 To one is given from the Spirit the gift of utterance expressing wisdom; to another the gift of utterance expressing knowledge, in accordance with the same Spirit;

1Co 12:9 to another, faith, from the same Spirit; and to another, the gifts of healing, through this one Spirit;

1Co 12:10 to another, the working of miracles; to another, prophecy; to another, the power of distinguishing spirits; to one, the gift of different tongues and to another, the interpretation of tongues.

1Co 12:11 But at work in all these is one and the same Spirit, distributing them at will to each individual.

1Co 12:12 For as with the human body which is a unity although it has many parts -- all the parts of the body, though many, still making up one single body -- so it is with Christ.

1Co 12:13 We were baptised into one body in a single Spirit, Jews as well as Greeks, slaves as well as free men, and we were all given the same Spirit to drink.

1Co 12:14 And indeed the body consists not of one member but of many.

1Co 12:15 If the foot were to say, 'I am not a hand and so I do not belong to the body,' it does not belong to the body any the less for that.

1Co 12:16 Or if the ear were to say, 'I am not an eye, and so I do not belong to the body,' that would not stop its belonging to the body.

1Co 12:17 If the whole body were just an eye, how would there be any hearing? If the whole body were hearing, how would there be any smelling?

1Co 12:18 As it is, God has put all the separate parts into the body as he chose.

1Co 12:19 If they were all the same part, how could it be a body?

1Co 12:20 As it is, the parts are many but the body is one.

1Co 12:21 The eye cannot say to the hand, 'I have no need of you,' and nor can the head say to the feet, 'I have no need of you.'

1Co 12:22 What is more, it is precisely the parts of the body that seem to be the weakest which are the indispensable ones.

1Co 12:23 It is the parts of the body which we consider least dignified that we surround with the greatest dignity; and our less presentable parts are given greater presentability

1Co 12:24 which our presentable parts do not need. God has composed the body so that greater dignity is given to the parts which were without it,

1Co 12:25 and so that there may not be disagreements inside the body but each part may be equally concerned for all the others.

1Co 12:26 If one part is hurt, all the parts share its pain. And if one part is honoured, all the parts share its joy.

1Co 12:27 Now Christ's body is yourselves, each of you with a part to play in the whole.

1Co 12:28 And those whom God has appointed in the Church are, first apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers; after them, miraculous powers, then gifts of healing, helpful acts, guidance, various kinds of tongues.

1Co 12:29 Are all of them apostles? Or all prophets? Or all teachers? Or all miracle-workers?

1Co 12:30 Do all have the gifts of healing? Do all of them speak in tongues and all interpret them?

1Co 12:31 Set your mind on the higher gifts. And now I am going to put before you the best way of all.

1Co 13:1 Though I command languages both human and angelic -- if I speak without love, I am no more than a gong booming or a cymbal clashing.

1Co 13:2 And though I have the power of prophecy, to penetrate all mysteries and knowledge, and though I have all the faith necessary to move mountains -- if I am without love, I am nothing.

1Co 13:3 Though I should give away to the poor all that I possess, and even give up my body to be burned -- if I am without love, it will do me no good whatever.

1Co 13:4 Love is always patient and kind; love is never jealous; love is not boastful or conceited, 1Co 13:5 it is never rude and never seeks its own advantage, it does not take offence or store up grievances.

1Co 13:6 Love does not rejoice at wrongdoing, but finds its joy in the truth.

1Co 13:7 It is always ready to make allowances, to trust, to hope and to endure whatever comes.

1Co 13:8 Love never comes to an end. But if there are prophecies, they will be done away with; if tongues, they will fall silent; and if knowledge, it will be done away with.

1Co 13:9 For we know only imperfectly, and we prophesy imperfectly;

1Co 13:10 but once perfection comes, all imperfect things will be done away with.

1Co 13:11 When I was a child, I used to talk like a child, and see things as a child does, and think like a child; but now that I have become an adult, I have finished with all childish ways.

1Co 13:12 Now we see only reflections in a mirror, mere riddles, but then we shall be seeing face to face. Now I can know only imperfectly; but then I shall know just as fully as I am myself known.

1Co 13:13 As it is, these remain: faith, hope and love, the three of them; and the greatest of them is love.

1Co 14:1 Make love your aim; but be eager, too, for spiritual gifts, and especially for prophesying.

1Co 14:2 Those who speak in a tongue speak to God, but not to other people, because nobody understands them; they are speaking in the Spirit and the meaning is hidden.

1Co 14:3 On the other hand, someone who prophesies speaks to other people, building them up and giving them encouragement and reassurance.

1Co 14:4 Those who speak in a tongue may build themselves up, but those who prophesy build up the community.

1Co 14:5 While I should like you all to speak in tongues, I would much rather you could prophesy; since those who prophesy are of greater importance than those who speak in tongues, unless they can interpret what they say so that the church is built up by it.

1Co 14:6 Now suppose, brothers, I come to you and speak in tongues, what good shall I do you if my speaking provides no revelation or knowledge or prophecy or instruction?

1Co 14:7 It is the same with an inanimate musical instrument. If it does not make any distinction between notes, how can one recognise what is being played on flute or lyre?

1Co 14:8 If the trumpet sounds a call which is unrecognisable, who is going to get ready for the attack?

1Co 14:9 It is the same with you: if you do not use your tongue to produce speech that can be readily understood, how can anyone know what you are saying? You will be talking to the air.

1Co 14:10 However many the languages used in the world, all of them use sound;

1Co 14:11 but if I do not understand the meaning of the sound, I am a barbarian to the person who is speaking, and the speaker is a barbarian to me.

1Co 14:12 So with you, as you are eager to have spiritual powers, aim to be rich in those which build up the community.

1Co 14:13 That is why anybody who speaks in a tongue must pray that he may be given the interpretation.

1Co 14:14 For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit may be praying but my mind derives no fruit from it.

1Co 14:15 What then? I shall pray with the spirit, but I shall pray with the mind as well: I shall sing praises with the spirit and I shall sing praises with the mind as well.

1Co 14:16 Otherwise, if you say your blessing only with the spirit, how is the uninitiated person going to answer 'Amen' to your thanksgiving, without understanding what you are saying?

1Co 14:17 You may be making your thanksgiving well, but the other person is not built up at all.

1Co 14:18 I thank God that I speak with tongues more than any of you;

1Co 14:19 all the same, when I am in the assembly I would rather say five words with my mind, to instruct others as well, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

1Co 14:20 Brothers, do not remain children in your thinking; infants in wickedness-agreed, but in your thinking grown-ups.

1Co 14:21 It says in the written Law: In strange tongues and in a foreign language I will talk to this nation, and even so they will refuse to listen, says the Lord.

1Co 14:22 So then, strange languages are significant not for believers, but for unbelievers; whereas on the other hand, prophesying is not for unbelievers, but for believers.

1Co 14:23 Suppose that, if the whole congregation were meeting and all of them speaking in tongues, and some uninitiated people or unbelievers were to come in, don't you think they would say that you were all raving?

1Co 14:24 But if you were all prophesying when an unbeliever or someone uninitiated came in, he would find himself put to the test by all and judged by all

1Co 14:25 and the secrets of his heart revealed; and so he would fall down on his face and worship God, declaring that God is indeed among you.

1Co 14:26 Then what should it be like, brothers? When you come together each of you brings a psalm or some instruction or a revelation, or speaks in a tongue or gives an interpretation. Let all these things be done in a way that will build up the community.

1Co 14:27 If there are to be any people speaking in a tongue, then let there be only two, or at the most three, and those one at a time, and let one of these interpret.

1Co 14:28 If there is no interpreter, then let each of them be quiet in the assembly, and speak only to himself and God.

1Co 14:29 Let two prophets, or three, speak while the rest weigh their words;

1Co 14:30 and if a revelation comes to someone else who is sitting by, the speaker should stop speaking.

1Co 14:31 You can all prophesy, but one at a time, then all will learn something and all receive encouragement.

1Co 14:32 The prophetic spirit is to be under the prophets' control,

1Co 14:33 for God is a God not of disorder but of peace. As in all the churches of God's holy people, 1Co 14:34 women are to remain quiet in the assemblies, since they have no permission to speak: theirs is a subordinate part, as the Law itself says.

1Co 14:35 If there is anything they want to know, they should ask their husbands at home: it is shameful for a woman to speak in the assembly.

1Co 14:36 Do you really think that you are the source of the word of God? Or that you are the only people to whom it has come?

1Co 14:37 Anyone who claims to be a prophet, or to have any spiritual powers must recognise that what I am writing to you is a commandment from the Lord.

1Co 14:38 If anyone does not recognise this, it is because that person is not recognised himself.

1Co 14:39 So, my brothers, be eager to prophesy, and do not suppress the gift of speaking in tongues.

1Co 14:40 But make sure that everything is done in a proper and orderly fashion.

1Co 15:1 I want to make quite clear to you, brothers, what the message of the gospel that I preached to you is; you accepted it and took your stand on it,

1Co 15:2 and you are saved by it, if you keep to the message I preached to you; otherwise your coming to believe was in vain.

1Co 15:3 The tradition I handed on to you in the first place, a tradition which I had myself received, was that Christ died for our sins, in accordance with the scriptures,

1Co 15:4 and that he was buried; and that on the third day, he was raised to life, in accordance with the scriptures;

1Co 15:5 and that he appeared to Cephas; and later to the Twelve;

1Co 15:6 and next he appeared to more than five hundred of the brothers at the same time, most of whom are still with us, though some have fallen asleep;

1Co 15:7 then he appeared to James, and then to all the apostles.

1Co 15:8 Last of all he appeared to me too, as though I was a child born abnormally.

1Co 15:9 For I am the least of the apostles and am not really fit to be called an apostle, because I had been persecuting the Church of God;

1Co 15:10 but what I am now, I am through the grace of God, and the grace which was given to me has not been wasted. Indeed, I have worked harder than all the others – not I, but the grace of God which is with me.

1Co 15:11 Anyway, whether it was they or I, this is what we preach and what you believed.

1Co 15:12 Now if Christ is proclaimed as raised from the dead, how can some of you be saying that there is no resurrection of the dead?

1Co 15:13 If there is no resurrection of the dead, then Christ cannot have been raised either, 1Co 15:14 and if Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is without substance, and so is your faith.

1Co 15:15 What is more, we have proved to be false witnesses to God, for testifying against God that he raised Christ to life when he did not raise him -- if it is true that the dead are not raised.

1Co 15:16 For, if the dead are not raised, neither is Christ;

1Co 15:17 and if Christ has not been raised, your faith is pointless and you have not, after all, been released from your sins.

1Co 15:18 In addition, those who have fallen asleep in Christ are utterly lost.

1Co 15:19 If our hope in Christ has been for this life only, we are of all people the most pitiable.

1Co 15:20 In fact, however, Christ has been raised from the dead, as the first-fruits of all who have fallen asleep.

1Co 15:21 As it was by one man that death came, so through one man has come the resurrection of the dead.

1Co 15:22 Just as all die in Adam, so in Christ all will be brought to life;

1Co 15:23 but all of them in their proper order: Christ the first-fruits, and next, at his coming, those who belong to him.

1Co 15:24 After that will come the end, when he will hand over the kingdom to God the Father, having abolished every principality, every ruling force and power.

1Co 15:25 For he is to be king until he has made his enemies his footstool, 1Co 15:26 and the last of the enemies to be done away with is death, for he has put all things under his feet.

1Co 15:27 But when it is said everything is subjected, this obviously cannot include the One who subjected everything to him.

1Co 15:28 When everything has been subjected to him, then the Son himself will be subjected to the One who has subjected everything to him, so that God may be all in all.

1Co 15:29 Otherwise, what are people up to who have themselves baptised on behalf of the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, what is the point of being baptised on their behalf?

1Co 15:30 And what about us? Why should we endanger ourselves every hour of our lives?

1Co 15:31 I swear by the pride that I take in you, in Christ Jesus our Lord, that I face death every day.

1Co 15:32 If I fought wild animals at Ephesus in a purely human perspective, what had I to gain by it?

1Co 15:33 If the dead are not going to be raised, then Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we shall be dead.

1Co 15:34 So do not let anyone lead you astray, 'Bad company corrupts good ways.' Wake up from your stupor as you should and leave sin alone; some of you have no understanding of God; I tell you this to instil some shame in you.

1Co 15:35 Someone may ask: How are dead people raised, and what sort of body do they have when they come?

1Co 15:36 How foolish! What you sow must die before it is given new life;

1Co 15:37 and what you sow is not the body that is to be, but only a bare grain, of wheat I dare say, or some other kind;

1Co 15:38 it is God who gives it the sort of body that he has chosen for it, and for each kind of seed its own kind of body.

1Co 15:39 Not all flesh is the same flesh: there is human flesh; animals have another kind of flesh, birds another and fish yet another.

1Co 15:40 Then there are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies; the heavenly have a splendour of their own, and the earthly a different splendour.

1Co 15:41 The sun has its own splendour, the moon another splendour, and the stars yet another splendour; and the stars differ among themselves in splendour.

1Co 15:42 It is the same too with the resurrection of the dead: what is sown is perishable, but what is raised is imperishable;

1Co 15:43 what is sown is contemptible but what is raised is glorious; what is sown is weak, but what is raised is powerful;

1Co 15:44 what is sown is a natural body, and what is raised is a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is a spiritual body too.

1Co 15:45 So the first man, Adam, as scripture says, became a living soul; and the last Adam has become a life-giving spirit.

1Co 15:46 But first came the natural body, not the spiritual one; that came only afterwards.

1Co 15:47 The first man, being made of earth, is earthly by nature; the second man is from heaven.

1Co 15:48 The earthly man is the pattern for earthly people, the heavenly man for heavenly ones.

1Co 15:49 And as we have borne the likeness of the earthly man, so we shall bear the likeness of the heavenly one.

1Co 15:50 What I am saying, brothers, is that mere human nature cannot inherit the kingdom of God: what is perishable cannot inherit what is imperishable.

1Co 15:51 Now I am going to tell you a mystery: we are not all going to fall asleep,

1Co 15:52 but we are all going to be changed, instantly, in the twinkling of an eye, when the last trumpet sounds. The trumpet is going to sound, and then the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed,

1Co 15:53 because this perishable nature of ours must put on imperishability, this mortal nature must put on immortality.

1Co 15:54 And after this perishable nature has put on imperishability and this mortal nature has put on immortality, then will the words of scripture come true: Death is swallowed up in victory.

1Co 15:55 Death, where is your victory? Death, where is your sting?

1Co 15:56 The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin comes from the Law.

1Co 15:57 Thank God, then, for giving us the victory through Jesus Christ our Lord.

1Co 15:58 So, my dear brothers, keep firm and immovable, always abounding in energy for the Lord's work, being sure that in the Lord none of your labours is wasted.

1Co 16:1 Now about the collection for God's holy people; you are to do the same as I prescribed for the churches in Galatia.

1Co 16:2 On the first day of the week, each of you should put aside and reserve as much as each can spare; do not delay the collection till I arrive.

1Co 16:3 When I come, I will send to Jerusalem with letters of introduction those people you approve to deliver your gift;

1Co 16:4 if it is worth my going too, they can travel with me.

1Co 16:5 In any case, I shall be coming to you after I have passed through Macedonia, as I have to go through Macedonia;

1Co 16:6 and I may be staying some time with you, perhaps wintering, so that you can start me on my next journey, wherever I may be going.

1Co 16:7 I do not want to make only a passing visit to you, and I am hoping to spend quite a time with you, the Lord permitting.

1Co 16:8 But I shall remain at Ephesus until Pentecost,

1Co 16:9 for a very promising door is standing wide open to me and there are many against us.

1Co 16:10 If Timothy comes, make sure that he has nothing to fear from you; he is doing the Lord's work, just as I am, 1Co 16:11 and nobody is to underrate him. Start him off in peace on his journey to come on to me: the brothers and I are waiting for him.

1Co 16:12 As for our brother Apollos, I urged him earnestly to come to you with the brothers, but he was quite firm that he did not want to go yet, and he will come when he finds an opportunity.

1Co 16:13 Be vigilant, stay firm in the faith, be brave and strong.

1Co 16:14 Let everything you do be done in love.

1Co 16:15 There is something else I must urge you to do, brothers. You know how Stephanas' family have been the first-fruits of Achaia and have devoted themselves to the service of God's holy people;

1Co 16:16 I ask you in turn to put yourselves at the service of people like this and all that work with them in this arduous task.

1Co 16:17 I am delighted that Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus have arrived; they have made up for your not being here.

1Co 16:18 They have set my mind at rest, just as they did yours; you should appreciate people like them.

1Co 16:19 The churches of Asia send their greetings. Aquila and Prisca send their best wishes in the Lord, together with the church that meets in their house.

1Co 16:20 All the brothers send their greetings. Greet one another with the holy kiss.

1Co 16:21 This greeting is in my own hand-PAUL.

1Co 16:22 If there is anyone who does not love the Lord, a curse on such a one. Maran atha.

1Co 16:23 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

1Co 16:24 My love is with you all in Christ Jesus.

2Co 1:1 Paul, by the will of God an apostle of Christ Jesus, and Timothy, our brother, to the church of God in Corinth and to all God's holy people in the whole of Achaia.

2Co 1:2 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2Co 1:3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the merciful Father and the God who gives every possible encouragement;

2Co 1:4 he supports us in every hardship, so that we are able to come to the support of others, in every hardship of theirs because of the encouragement that we ourselves receive from God.

2Co 1:5 For just as the sufferings of Christ overflow into our lives; so too does the encouragement we receive through Christ.

2Co 1:6 So if we have hardships to undergo, this will contribute to your encouragement and your salvation; if we receive encouragement, this is to gain for you the encouragement which enables you to bear with perseverance the same sufferings as we do.

2Co 1:7 So our hope for you is secure in the knowledge that you share the encouragement we receive, no less than the sufferings we bear.

2Co 1:8 So in the hardships we underwent in Asia, we want you to be quite certain, brothers, that we were under extraordinary pressure, beyond our powers of endurance, so that we gave up all hope even of surviving.

2Co 1:9 In fact we were carrying the sentence of death within our own selves, so that we should be forced to trust not in ourselves but in God, who raises the dead.

2Co 1:10 He did save us from such a death and will save us -- we are relying on him to do so.

2Co 1:11 Your prayer for us will contribute to this, so that, for God's favour shown to us as the result of the prayers of so many, thanks too may be given by many on our behalf.

2Co 1:12 There is one thing that we are proud of, namely our conscientious conviction that we have always behaved towards everyone, and especially towards you, with that unalloyed holiness that comes from God, relying not on human reasoning but on the grace of God.

2Co 1:13 In our writing, there is nothing that you cannot read clearly and understand;

2Co 1:14 and it is my hope that, just as you have already understood us partially, so you will understand fully that you can be as proud of us as we shall be of you when the Day of our Lord Jesus comes.

2Co 1:15 It was with this assurance that I had been meaning to come to you first, so that you would benefit doubly;

2Co 1:16 both to visit you on my way to Macedonia, and then to return to you again from Macedonia, so that you could set me on my way to Judaea.

2Co 1:17 Since that was my purpose, do you think I lightly changed my mind? Or that my plans are based on ordinary human promptings and I have in my mind Yes, yes at the same time as No, no?

2Co 1:18 As surely as God is trustworthy, what we say to you is not both Yes and No.

2Co 1:19 The Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was proclaimed to you by us, that is, by me and by Silvanus and Timothy, was never Yes-and-No; his nature is all Yes.

2Co 1:20 For in him is found the Yes to all God's promises and therefore it is 'through him' that we answer 'Amen' to give praise to God.

2Co 1:21 It is God who gives us, with you, a sure place in Christ

2Co 1:22 and has both anointed us and marked us with his seal, giving us as pledge the Spirit in our hearts.

2Co 1:23 By my life I call on God to be my witness that it was only to spare you that I did not come to Corinth again.

2Co 1:24 We have no wish to lord it over your faith, but to work with you for your joy; for your stand in the faith is firm.

2Co 2:1 I made up my mind, then, that my next visit to you would not be a painful one,

2Co 2:2 for if I cause you distress I am causing distress to my only possible source of joy.

2Co 2:3 Indeed, I wrote as I did precisely to spare myself distress when I visited you, from the very people who should have given me joy, in the conviction that for all of you my joy was yours too.

2Co 2:4 I wrote to you in agony of mind, not meaning to cause you distress but to show you how very much love I have for you.

2Co 2:5 If anyone did cause distress, he caused it not to me, but -- not to exaggerate -- in some degree to all of you.

2Co 2:6 The punishment already imposed by the majority was quite enough for such a person;

2Co 2:7 and now by contrast you should forgive and encourage him all the more, or he may be overwhelmed by the extent of his distress.

2Co 2:8 That is why I urge you to give your love towards him definite expression.

2Co 2:9 This was in fact my reason for writing, to test your quality and whether you are completely obedient.

2Co 2:10 But if you forgive anybody, then I too forgive that person; and whatever I have forgiven, if there is anything I have forgiven, I have done it for your sake in Christ's presence, 2Co 2:11 to avoid being outwitted by Satan, whose scheming we know only too well.

2Co 2:12 When I came to Troas for the sake of the gospel of Christ and a door was opened for me there in the Lord, 2Co 2:13 I had no relief from anxiety, not finding my brother Titus there, and I said goodbye to them and went on to Macedonia.

2Co 2:14 But, thanks be to God who always gives us in Christ a part in his triumphal procession, and through us is spreading everywhere the fragrance of the knowledge of himself.

2Co 2:15 To God we are the fragrance of Christ, both among those who are being saved and among those who are on the way to destruction;

2Co 2:16 for these last, the smell of death leading to death, but for the first, the smell of life leading to life. Who is equal to such a task?

2Co 2:17 At least we do not adulterate the word of God, as so many do, but it is in all purity, as envoys of God and in God's presence, that we speak in Christ.

2Co 3:1 Are we beginning to commend ourselves to you afresh -- as though we needed, like some others, to have letters of commendation either to you or from you?

2Co 3:2 You yourselves are our letter, written in our hearts, that everyone can read and understand;

2Co 3:3 and it is plain that you are a letter from Christ, entrusted to our care, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God; not on stone tablets but on the tablets of human hearts.

2Co 3:4 Such is the confidence we have through Christ in facing God;

2Co 3:5 it is not that we are so competent that we can claim any credit for ourselves; all our competence comes from God.

2Co 3:6 He has given us the competence to be ministers of a new covenant, a covenant which is not of written letters, but of the Spirit; for the written letters kill, but the Spirit gives life.

2Co 3:7 Now if the administering of death, engraved in letters on stone, occurred in such glory that the Israelites could not look Moses steadily in the face, because of its glory, transitory though this glory was,

2Co 3:8 how much more will the ministry of the Spirit occur in glory!

2Co 3:9 For if it is glorious to administer condemnation, to administer saving justice is far richer in glory.

2Co 3:10 Indeed, what was once considered glorious has lost all claim to glory, by contrast with the glory which transcends it.

2Co 3:11 For if what was transitory had any glory, how much greater is the glory of that which lasts for ever.

2Co 3:12 With a hope like this, we can speak with complete fearlessness;

2Co 3:13 not like Moses who put a veil over his face so that the Israelites should not watch the end of what was transitory.

2Co 3:14 But their minds were closed; indeed, until this very day, the same veil remains over the reading of the Old Testament: it is not lifted, for only in Christ is it done away with.

2Co 3:15 As it is, to this day, whenever Moses is read, their hearts are covered with a veil, 2Co 3:16 and this veil will not be taken away till they turn to the Lord.

2Co 3:17 Now this Lord is the Spirit and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom.

2Co 3:18 And all of us, with our unveiled faces like mirrors reflecting the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the image that we reflect in brighter and brighter glory; this is the working of the Lord who is the Spirit.

2Co 4:1 Such by God's mercy is our ministry, and therefore we do not waver

2Co 4:2 but have renounced all shameful secrecy. It is not our way to be devious, or to falsify the word of God; instead, in God's sight we commend ourselves to every human being with a conscience by showing the truth openly.

2Co 4:3 If our gospel seems to be veiled at all, it is so to those who are on the way to destruction,

2Co 4:4 the unbelievers whose minds have been blinded by the god of this world, so that they cannot see shining the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God.

2Co 4:5 It is not ourselves that we are proclaiming, but Christ Jesus as the Lord, and ourselves as your servants for Jesus' sake.

2Co 4:6 It is God who said, 'Let light shine out of darkness,' that has shone into our hearts to enlighten them with the knowledge of God's glory, the glory on the face of Christ.

2Co 4:7 But we hold this treasure in pots of earthenware, so that the immensity of the power is God's and not our own.

2Co 4:8 We are subjected to every kind of hardship, but never distressed; we see no way out but we never despair;

2Co 4:9 we are pursued but never cut off; knocked down, but still have some life in us;

2Co 4:10 always we carry with us in our body the death of Jesus so that the life of Jesus, too, may be visible in our body.

2Co 4:11 Indeed, while we are still alive, we are continually being handed over to death, for the sake of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus, too, may be visible in our mortal flesh.

2Co 4:12 In us, then, death is at work; in you, life.

2Co 4:13 But as we have the same spirit of faith as is described in scripture -- I believed and therefore I spoke -we, too, believe and therefore we, too, speak, 2Co 4:14 realising that he who raised up the Lord Jesus will raise us up with Jesus in our turn, and bring us to himself -- and you as well.

2Co 4:15 You see, everything is for your benefit, so that as grace spreads, so, to the glory of God, thanksgiving may also overflow among more and more people.

2Co 4:16 That is why we do not waver; indeed, though this outer human nature of ours may be falling into decay, at the same time our inner human nature is renewed day by day.

2Co 4:17 The temporary, light burden of our hardships is earning us for ever an utterly incomparable, eternal weight of glory, 2Co 4:18 since what we aim for is not visible but invisible. Visible things are transitory, but invisible things eternal.

2Co 5:1 For we are well aware that when the tent that houses us on earth is folded up, there is a house for us from God, not made by human hands but everlasting, in the heavens.

2Co 5:2 And in this earthly state we do indeed groan,

2Co 5:3 longing to put on our heavenly home over the present one; if indeed we are to be found clothed rather than stripped bare.

2Co 5:4 Yes, indeed, in this present tent, we groan under the burden, not that we want to be stripped of our covering, but because we want to be covered with a second garment on top, so that what is mortal in us may be swallowed up by life.

2Co 5:5 It is God who designed us for this very purpose, and he has given us the Spirit as a pledge.

2Co 5:6 We are always full of confidence, then, realising that as long as we are at home in the body we are exiled from the Lord,

2Co 5:7 guided by faith and not yet by sight;

2Co 5:8 we are full of confidence, then, and long instead to be exiled from the body and to be at home with the Lord.

2Co 5:9 And so whether at home or exiled, we make it our ambition to please him.

2Co 5:10 For at the judgement seat of Christ we are all to be seen for what we are, so that each of us may receive what he has deserved in the body, matched to whatever he has done, good or bad.

2Co 5:11 And so it is with the fear of the Lord always in mind that we try to win people over. But God sees us for what we are, and I hope your consciences do too.

2Co 5:12 Again we are saying this not to command ourselves to you, but simply to give you the opportunity to take pride in us, so that you may have an answer for those who take pride in appearances and not inner reality.

2Co 5:13 If we have been unreasonable, it was for God; if reasonable, for you.

2Co 5:14 For the love of Christ overwhelms us when we consider that if one man died for all, then all have died;

2Co 5:15 his purpose in dying for all humanity was that those who live should live not any more for themselves, but for him who died and was raised to life.

2Co 5:16 From now onwards, then, we will not consider anyone by human standards: even if we were once familiar with Christ according to human standards, we do not know him in that way any longer.

2Co 5:17 So for anyone who is in Christ, there is a new creation: the old order is gone and a new being is there to see.

2Co 5:18 It is all God's work; he reconciled us to himself through Christ and he gave us the ministry of reconciliation.

2Co 5:19 I mean, God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself, not holding anyone's faults against them, but entrusting to us the message of reconciliation.

2Co 5:20 So we are ambassadors for Christ; it is as though God were urging you through us, and in the name of Christ we appeal to you to be reconciled to God.

2Co 5:21 For our sake he made the sinless one a victim for sin, so that in him we might become the uprightness of God.

2Co 6:1 As his fellow-workers, we urge you not to let your acceptance of his grace come to nothing.

2Co 6:2 As he said, 'At the time of my favour I have answered you; on the day of salvation I have helped you'; well, now is the real time of favour, now the day of salvation is here.

2Co 6:3 We avoid putting obstacles in anyone's way, so that no blame may attach to our work of service;

2Co 6:4 but in everything we prove ourselves authentic servants of God; by resolute perseverance in times of hardships, difficulties and distress;

2Co 6:5 when we are flogged or sent to prison or mobbed; labouring, sleepless, starving;

2Co 6:6 in purity, in knowledge, in patience, in kindness; in the Holy Spirit, in a love free of affectation;

2Co 6:7 in the word of truth and in the power of God; by using the weapons of uprightness for attack and for defence:

2Co 6:8 in times of honour or disgrace, blame or praise; taken for impostors and yet we are genuine;

2Co 6:9 unknown and yet we are acknowledged; dying, and yet here we are, alive; scourged but not executed;

2Co 6:10 in pain yet always full of joy; poor and yet making many people rich; having nothing, and yet owning everything.

2Co 6:11 People of Corinth, we have spoken frankly and opened our heart to you.

2Co 6:12 Any distress you feel is not on our side; the distress is in your own selves.

2Co 6:13 In fair exchange -- I speak as though to children of mine -- you must open your hearts too.

2Co 6:14 Do not harness yourselves in an uneven team with unbelievers; how can uprightness and law-breaking be partners, or what can light and darkness have in common?

2Co 6:15 How can Christ come to an agreement with Beliar and what sharing can there be between a believer and an unbeliever?

2Co 6:16 The temple of God cannot compromise with false gods, and that is what we are -- the temple of the living God. We have God's word for it: I shall fix my home among them and live among them; I will be their God and they will be my people.

2Co 6:17 Get away from them, purify yourselves, says the Lord. Do not touch anything unclean, and then I shall welcome you.

2Co 6:18 I shall be father to you, and you will be sons and daughters to me, says the almighty Lord.

2Co 7:1 Since these promises have been made to us, my dear friends, we should wash ourselves clean of everything that pollutes either body or spirit, bringing our sanctification to completion in the fear of God.

2Co 7:2 Keep a place for us in your hearts. We have not injured anyone, or ruined anyone, or taken advantage of anyone.

2Co 7:3 I am not saying this to condemn anybody; as I have already told you, you are in our hearts -- so that together we live and together we die.

2Co 7:4 I can speak with the greatest frankness to you; and I can speak with the greatest pride about you: in all our hardship, I am filled with encouragement and overflowing with joy.

2Co 7:5 Even after we had come to Macedonia, there was no rest for this body of ours. Far from it; we were beset by hardship on all sides, there were quarrels all around us and misgivings within us.

2Co 7:6 But God, who encourages all those who are distressed, encouraged us through the arrival of Titus;

2Co 7:7 and not simply by his arrival only, but also by means of the encouragement that you had given him, as he told us of your desire to see us, how sorry you were and how concerned for us; so that I was all the more joyful.

2Co 7:8 So now, though I did distress you with my letter, I do not regret it. Even if I did regret it -- and I realise that the letter distressed you, even though not for long-

2Co 7:9 I am glad now, not because you were made to feel distress, but because the distress that you were caused led to repentance; your distress was the kind that God approves and so you have come to no kind of harm through us.

2Co 7:10 For to be distressed in a way that God approves leads to repentance and then to salvation with no regrets; it is the world's kind of distress that ends in death.

2Co 7:11 Just look at this present case: at what the result has been of your being made to feel distress in the way that God approves -- what concern, what defence, what indignation and what alarm; what yearning, and what enthusiasm, and what justice done. In every way you have cleared yourselves of blame in this matter.

2Co 7:12 So although I wrote a letter to you, it was not for the sake of the offender, nor for the one offended, but only so that you yourselves should fully realise in the sight of God what concern you have for us.

2Co 7:13 That is what I have found encouraging. In addition to all this to encourage us, we were made all the more joyful by Titus' joy, now that his spirit has been refreshed by you all.

2Co 7:14 And if I boasted about you to him in any way, then I have not been made to look foolish; indeed, our boast to Titus has been proved to be as true as anything we said to you.

2Co 7:15 His personal affection for you is all the stronger when he remembers how obedient you have all been, and how you welcomed him with fear and trembling.

2Co 7:16 I am glad that I have every confidence in you.

2Co 8:1 Next, brothers, we will tell you of the grace of God which has been granted to the churches of Macedonia,

2Co 8:2 and how, throughout continual ordeals of hardship, their unfailing joy and their intense poverty have overflowed in a wealth of generosity on their part.

2Co 8:3 I can testify that it was of their own accord that they made their gift, which was not merely as far as their resources would allow, but well beyond their resources;

2Co 8:4 and they had kept imploring us most insistently for the privilege of a share in the fellowship of service to God's holy people-

2Co 8:5 it was not something that we expected of them, but it began by their offering themselves to the Lord and to us at the prompting of the will of God.

2Co 8:6 In the end we urged Titus, since he had already made a beginning, also to bring this work of generosity to completion among you.

2Co 8:7 More, as you are rich in everything-faith, eloquence, understanding, concern for everything, and love for us too -- then make sure that you excel in this work of generosity too.

2Co 8:8 I am not saying this as an order, but testing the genuineness of your love against the concern of others.

2Co 8:9 You are well aware of the generosity which our Lord Jesus Christ had, that, although he was rich, he became poor for your sake, so that you should become rich through his poverty.

2Co 8:10 I will give you my considered opinion in the matter; this will be the right course for you as you were the first, a year ago, not only to take any action but also even to conceive the project.

2Co 8:11 Now, then, complete the action as well, so that the fulfilment may -- so far as your resources permit -- be proportionate to your enthusiasm for the project.

2Co 8:12 As long as the enthusiasm is there, the basis on which it is acceptable is what someone has, not what someone does not have.

2Co 8:13 It is not that you ought to relieve other people's needs and leave yourselves in hardship; but there should be a fair balance-

2Co 8:14 your surplus at present may fill their deficit, and another time their surplus may fill your deficit. So there may be a fair balance;

2Co 8:15 as scripture says: No one who had collected more had too much, no one who collected less had too little.

2Co 8:16 Thank God for putting into Titus' heart the same sincere concern for you.

2Co 8:17 He certainly took our urging to heart; but greater still was his own enthusiasm, and he went off to you of his own accord.

2Co 8:18 We have sent with him the brother who is praised as an evangelist in all the churches

2Co 8:19 and who, what is more, was elected by the churches to be our travelling companion in this work of generosity, a work to be administered by us for the glory of the Lord and our complete satisfaction.

2Co 8:20 We arranged it this way so that no one should be able to make any accusation against us about this large sum we are administering.

2Co 8:21 And so we have been careful to do right not only in the sight of the Lord but also in the sight of people.

2Co 8:22 Along with these, we have sent a brother of ours whose eagerness we have tested over and over again in many ways and who is now all the more eager because he has so much faith in you.

2Co 8:23 If Titus is in question -- he is my own partner and fellow-worker in your interests; and if our brothers -- they are the emissaries of the churches and the glory of Christ.

2Co 8:24 So then, in full view of all the churches, give proof that you love them, and that we were right to boast of you to them.

2Co 9:1 About the help to God's holy people, there is really no need for me to write to you;

2Co 9:2 for I am well aware of your enthusiasm, and I have been boasting of it to the Macedonians that 'Achaia has been ready for a year'; your enthusiasm has been a spur to many others.

2Co 9:3 All the same, I have sent the brothers, to make sure that our boast about you may not prove hollow in this respect and that you may be ready, as I said you would be;

2Co 9:4 so that if by chance some of the Macedonians came with me and found you unprepared we -- to say nothing of yourselves -- would not be put to shame by our confidence in you.

2Co 9:5 So I have thought it necessary to encourage the brothers to go to you ahead of us and make sure in advance of the gift that you have already promised, so that it is all at hand as a real gift and not an imposition.

2Co 9:6 But remember: anyone who sows sparsely will reap sparsely as well -- and anyone who sows generously will reap generously as well.

2Co 9:7 Each one should give as much as he has decided on his own initiative, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.

2Co 9:8 God is perfectly able to enrich you with every grace, so that you always have enough for every conceivable need, and your resources overflow in all kinds of good work.

2Co 9:9 As scripture says: To the needy he gave without stint, his uprightness stands firm for ever.

2Co 9:10 The one who so freely provides seed for the sower and food to eat will provide you with ample store of seed for sowing and make the harvest of your uprightness a bigger one:

2Co 9:11 you will be rich enough in every way for every kind of generosity that makes people thank God for what we have done.

2Co 9:12 For the help provided by this contribution not only satisfies the needs of God's holy people, but also overflows into widespread thanksgiving to God;

2Co 9:13 because when you have proved your quality by this help, they will give glory to God for the obedience which you show in professing the gospel of Christ, as well as for the generosity of your fellowship towards them and towards all.

2Co 9:14 At the same time, their prayer for you will express the affection they feel for you because of the unbounded grace God has given you.

2Co 9:15 Thanks be to God for his gift that is beyond all telling!

2Co 10:1 I urge you by the gentleness and forbearance of Christ -- this is Paul now speaking personally--I, the one who is so humble when he is facing you but full of boldness at a distance.

2Co 10:2 Yes, my appeal to you is that I should not have to be bold when I am actually with you, or show the same self-assurance as I reckon to use when I am challenging those who reckon that we are guided by human motives.

2Co 10:3 For although we are human, it is not by human methods that we do battle.

2Co 10:4 The weapons with which we do battle are not those of human nature, but they have the power, in God's cause, to demolish fortresses. It is ideas that we demolish,

2Co 10:5 every presumptuous notion that is set up against the knowledge of God, and we bring every thought into captivity and obedience to Christ;

2Co 10:6 once you have given your complete obedience, we are prepared to punish any disobedience.

2Co 10:7 Look at the evidence of your eyes. Anybody who is convinced that he belongs to Christ should go on to reflect that we belong to Christ no less than he does.

2Co 10:8 Maybe I have taken rather too much pride in our authority, but the Lord gave us that for building you up, not for knocking you down, and I am not going to be shamed

2Co 10:9 into letting you think that I can put fear into you only by letter.

2Co 10:10 Someone said, 'His letters are weighty enough, and full of strength, but when you see him in person, he makes no impression and his powers of speaking are negligible.'

2Co 10:11 I should like that sort of person to take note that our deeds when we are present will show the same qualities as our letters when we were at a distance.

2Co 10:12 We are not venturing to rank ourselves, or even to compare ourselves with certain people who provide their own commendations. By measuring themselves by themselves and comparing themselves to themselves, they only show their folly.

2Co 10:13 By contrast we do not intend to boast beyond measure, but will measure ourselves by the standard which God laid down for us, namely that of having come all the way to you.

2Co 10:14 We are not overreaching ourselves as we would be if we had not come all the way to you; in fact we were the first to come as far as you with the good news of Christ.

2Co 10:15 So we are not boasting beyond measure, about other men's work; in fact, we hope, as your faith increases, to grow greater and greater by this standard of ours,

2Co 10:16 by preaching the gospel to regions beyond you, rather than boasting about work already done in someone else's province.

2Co 10:17 Let anyone who wants to boast, boast of the Lord.

2Co 10:18 For it is not through self-commendation that recognition is won, but through commendation.

2Co 11:1 I wish you would put up with a little foolishness from me -- not that you don't do this already.

2Co 11:2 The jealousy that I feel for you is, you see, God's own jealousy: I gave you all in marriage to a single husband, a virgin pure for presentation to Christ.

2Co 11:3 But I am afraid that, just as the snake with his cunning seduced Eve, your minds may be led astray from single-minded devotion to Christ.

2Co 11:4 Because any chance comer has only to preach a Jesus other than the one we preached, or you have only to receive a spirit different from the one you received, or a gospel different from the one you accepted -- and you put up with that only too willingly.

2Co 11:5 Now, I consider that I am not in the least inferior to the super-apostles.

2Co 11:6 Even if there is something lacking in my public speaking, this is not the case with my knowledge, as we have openly shown to you at all times and before everyone.

2Co 11:7 Have I done wrong, then, humbling myself so that you might be raised up, by preaching the gospel of God to you for nothing?

2Co 11:8 I was robbing other churches, taking wages from them in order to work for you.

2Co 11:9 When I was with you and needed money, I was no burden to anybody, for the brothers from Macedonia brought me as much as I needed when they came; I have always been careful not to let myself be a burden to you in any way, and I shall continue to be so.

2Co 11:10 And as Christ's truth is in me, this boast of mine is not going to be silenced in the regions of Achaia.

2Co 11:11 Why should it be? Because I do not love you? God knows that I do.

2Co 11:12 I will go on acting as I do at present, to cut the ground from under the feet of those who are looking for a chance to be proved my equals in grounds for boasting.

2Co 11:13 These people are counterfeit apostles, dishonest workers disguising themselves as apostles of Christ.

2Co 11:14 There is nothing astonishing in this; even Satan disguises himself as an angel of light.

2Co 11:15 It is nothing extraordinary, then, when his servants disguise themselves as the servants of uprightness. They will come to the end appropriate to what they have done.

2Co 11:16 To repeat: let no one take me for a fool, but if you do, then treat me as a fool, so that I, too, can do a little boasting.

2Co 11:17 I shall not be following the Lord's way in what I say now, but will be speaking out of foolishness in the conviction that I have something to boast about.

2Co 11:18 So many people boast on merely human grounds that I shall too.

2Co 11:19 I know how happy you are to put up with fools, being so wise yourselves;

2Co 11:20 and how you will still go on putting up with a man who enslaves you, eats up all you possess, keeps you under his orders and sets himself above you, or even slaps you in the face.

2Co 11:21 I say it to your shame; perhaps we have been too weak. Whatever bold claims anyone makes -- now I am talking as a fool -- I can make them too.

2Co 11:22 Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they descendants of Abraham? So am I.

2Co 11:23 Are they servants of Christ? I speak in utter folly -- I am too, and more than they are: I have done more work, I have been in prison more, I have been flogged more severely, many times exposed to death.

2Co 11:24 Five times I have been given the thirty-nine lashes by the Jews;

2Co 11:25 three times I have been beaten with sticks; once I was stoned; three times I have been shipwrecked, and once I have been in the open sea for a night and a day;

2Co 11:26 continually travelling, I have been in danger from rivers, in danger from brigands, in danger from my own people and in danger from the gentiles, in danger in the towns and in danger in the open country, in danger at sea and in danger from people masquerading as brothers;

2Co 11:27 I have worked with unsparing energy, for many nights without sleep; I have been hungry and thirsty, and often altogether without food or drink; I have been cold and lacked clothing.

2Co 11:28 And, besides all the external things, there is, day in day out, the pressure on me of my anxiety for all the churches.

2Co 11:29 If anyone weakens, I am weakened as well; and when anyone is made to fall, I burn in agony myself.

2Co 11:30 If I have to boast, I will boast of all the ways in which I am weak.

2Co 11:31 The God and Father of the Lord Jesus -- who is for ever to be blessed -- knows that I am not lying.

2Co 11:32 When I was in Damascus, the governor who was under King Aretas put guards round Damascus city to catch me,

2Co 11:33 and I was let down in a basket through a window in the wall, and that was how I escaped from his hands.

2Co 12:1 I am boasting because I have to. Not that it does any good, but I will move on to visions and revelations from the Lord.

2Co 12:2 I know a man in Christ who fourteen years ago -- still in the body? I do not know; or out of the body? I do not know: God knows -- was caught up right into the third heaven.

2Co 12:3 And I know that this man -- still in the body? or outside the body? I do not know, God knows-

2Co 12:4 was caught up into Paradise and heard words said that cannot and may not be spoken by any human being.

2Co 12:5 On behalf of someone like that I am willing to boast, but I am not going to boast on my own behalf except of my weaknesses;

2Co 12:6 and then, if I do choose to boast I shall not be talking like a fool because I shall be speaking the truth. But I will not go on in case anybody should rate me higher than he sees and hears me to be, because of the exceptional greatness of the revelations.

2Co 12:7 Wherefore, so that I should not get above myself, I was given a thorn in the flesh, a messenger from Satan to batter me and prevent me from getting above myself.

2Co 12:8 About this, I have three times pleaded with the Lord that it might leave me;

2Co 12:9 but he has answered me, 'My grace is enough for you: for power is at full stretch in weakness.' It is, then, about my weaknesses that I am happiest of all to boast, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me;

2Co 12:10 and that is why I am glad of weaknesses, insults, constraints, persecutions and distress for Christ's sake. For it is when I am weak that I am strong.

2Co 12:11 I have turned into a fool, but you forced me to it. It is you that should have been commanding me; those super-apostles had no advantage over me, even if I am nothing at all.

2Co 12:12 All the marks characteristic of a true apostle have been at work among you: complete perseverance, signs, marvels, demonstrations of power.

2Co 12:13 Is there any way in which you have been given less than the rest of the churches, except that I did not make myself a burden to you? Forgive me for this unfairness!

2Co 12:14 Here I am, ready to come to you for the third time and I am not going to be a burden on you: it is not your possessions that I want, but yourselves. Children are not expected to save up for their parents, but parents for their children,

2Co 12:15 and I am more than glad to spend what I have and to be spent for the sake of your souls. Is it because I love you so much more, that I am loved the less?

2Co 12:16 All right, then; I did not make myself a burden to you, but, trickster that I am, I caught you by trickery.

2Co 12:17 Have I taken advantage of you through any of the people I have sent to you?

2Co 12:18 Titus came at my urging, and I sent his companion with him. Did Titus take advantage of you? Can you deny that he and I were following the guidance of the same Spirit and were on the same tracks?

2Co 12:19 All this time you have been thinking that we have been pleading our own cause before you; no, we have been speaking in Christ and in the presence of God -- and all, dear friends, to build you up.

2Co 12:20 I am afraid that in one way or another, when I come, I may find you different from what I should like you to be, and you may find me what you would not like me to be; so that in one way or the other there will be rivalry, jealousy, bad temper, quarrels, slander, gossip, arrogance and disorders;

2Co 12:21 and when I come again, my God may humiliate me in front of you and I shall be grieved by all those who sinned in the past and have still not repented of the impurities and sexual immorality and debauchery that they have committed.

2Co 13:1 This will be the third time I have confronted you. Whatever the misdemeanour, the evidence of two or three witnesses is required to sustain a charge.

2Co 13:2 I gave you notice once, and now, though I am not with you, I give notice again, just as when I was with you for a second time, to those who sinned before, and to all others; and it is to this effect, that when I do come next time, I shall have no mercy.

2Co 13:3 Since you are asking for a proof that it is Christ who speaks in me; he is not weak with you but his power is at work among you;

2Co 13:4 for, though it was out of weakness that he was crucified, he is alive now with the power of God. We, too, are weak in him, but with regard to you we shall live with him by the power of God.

2Co 13:5 Put yourselves to the test to make sure you are in the faith. Examine yourselves. Do you not recognise yourselves as people in whom Jesus Christ is present? - unless, that is, you fail the test.

2Co 13:6 But we, as I hope you will come to recognise, do not fail the test.

2Co 13:7 It is our prayer to God that you may do nothing wrong -- not so that we have the credit of passing a test, but because you will be doing what is right, even if we do not pass the test.

2Co 13:8 We have no power to resist the truth; only to further the truth;

2Co 13:9 and we are delighted to be weak if only you are strong. What we ask in our prayers is that you should be made perfect.

2Co 13:10 That is why I am writing this while still far away, so that when I am with you I shall not have to be harsh, with the authority that the Lord has given me, an authority that is for building up and not for breaking down.

2Co 13:11 To end then, brothers, we wish you joy; try to grow perfect; encourage one another; have a common mind and live in peace, and the God of love and peace will be with you.

2Co 13:12 Greet one another with the holy kiss. All God's holy people send you their greetings.

2Co 13:13 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all.

Gal 1:1 From Paul, an apostle appointed not by human beings nor through any human being but by Jesus Christ and God the Father who raised him from the dead,

Gal 1:2 and all the brothers who are with me, to the churches of Galatia.

Gal 1:3 Grace and peace from God the Father and our Lord Jesus Christ

Gal 1:4 who gave himself for our sins to liberate us from this present wicked world, in accordance with the will of our God and Father,

Gal 1:5 to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Gal 1:6 I am astonished that you are so promptly turning away from the one who called you in the grace of Christ and are going over to a different gospel-

Gal 1:7 not that it is another gospel; except that there are trouble-makers among you who are seeking to pervert the gospel of Christ.

Gal 1:8 But even if we ourselves or an angel from heaven preaches to you a gospel other than the one we preached to you, let God's curse be on him.

Gal 1:9 I repeat again what we declared before: anyone who preaches to you a gospel other than the one you were first given is to be under God's curse.

Gal 1:10 Whom am I trying to convince now, human beings or God? Am I trying to please human beings? If I were still doing that I should not be a servant of Christ.

Gal 1:11 Now I want to make it quite clear to you, brothers, about the gospel that was preached by me, that it was no human message.

Gal 1:12 It was not from any human being that I received it, and I was not taught it, but it came to me through a revelation of Jesus Christ.

Gal 1:13 You have surely heard how I lived in the past, within Judaism, and how there was simply no limit to the way I persecuted the Church of God in my attempts to destroy it;

Gal 1:14 and how, in Judaism, I outstripped most of my Jewish contemporaries in my limitless enthusiasm for the traditions of my ancestors.

Gal 1:15 But when God, who had set me apart from the time when I was in my mother's womb, called me through his grace and chose

Gal 1:16 to reveal his Son in me, so that I should preach him to the gentiles, I was in no hurry to confer with any human being,

Gal 1:17 or to go up to Jerusalem to see those who were already apostles before me. Instead, I went off to Arabia, and later I came back to Damascus.

Gal 1:18 Only after three years did I go up to Jerusalem to meet Cephas. I stayed fifteen days with him

Gal 1:19 but did not set eyes on any of the rest of the apostles, only James, the Lord's brother.

Gal 1:20 I swear before God that what I have written is the truth.

Gal 1:21 After that I went to places in Syria and Cilicia;

Gal 1:22 and was still unknown by sight to the churches of Judaea which are in Christ,

Gal 1:23 they simply kept hearing it said, 'The man once so eager to persecute us is now preaching the faith that he used to try to destroy,'

Gal 1:24 and they gave glory to God for me.

Gal 2:1 It was not until fourteen years had gone by that I travelled up to Jerusalem again, with Barnabas, and I took Titus with me too.

Gal 2:2 My journey was inspired by a revelation and there, in a private session with the recognised leaders, I expounded the whole gospel that I preach to the gentiles, to make quite sure that the efforts I was making and had already made should not be fruitless.

Gal 2:3 Even then, and although Titus, a Greek, was with me, there was no demand that he should be circumcised;

Gal 2:4 but because of some false brothers who had secretly insinuated themselves to spy on the freedom that we have in Christ Jesus, intending to reduce us to slavery-

Gal 2:5 people we did not defer to for one moment, or the truth of the gospel preached to you might have been compromised. . .

Gal 2:6 but those who were recognised as important people -- whether they actually were important or not: There is no favouritism with God -those recognised leaders, I am saying, had nothing to add to my message.

Gal 2:7 On the contrary, once they saw that the gospel for the uncircumcised had been entrusted to me, just as to Peter the gospel for the circumcised

Gal 2:8 (for he who empowered Peter's apostolate to the circumcision also empowered mine to the gentiles),

Gal 2:9 and when they acknowledged the grace that had been given to me, then James and Cephas and John, who were the ones recognised as pillars, offered their right hands to Barnabas and to me as a sign of partnership: we were to go to the gentiles and they to the circumcised.

Gal 2:10 They asked nothing more than that we should remember to help the poor, as indeed I was anxious to do in any case.

Gal 2:11 However, when Cephas came to Antioch, then I did oppose him to his face since he was manifestly in the wrong.

Gal 2:12 Before certain people from James came, he used to eat with gentiles; but as soon as these came, he backed out and kept apart from them, out of fear of the circumcised.

Gal 2:13 And the rest of the Jews put on the same act as he did, so that even Barnabas was carried away by their insincerity.

Gal 2:14 When I saw, though, that their behaviour was not true to the gospel, I said to Cephas in front of all of them, 'Since you, though you are a Jew, live like the gentiles and not like the Jews, how can you compel the gentiles to live like the Jews?'

Gal 2:15 We who were born Jews and not gentile sinners

Gal 2:16 have nevertheless learnt that someone is reckoned as upright not by practising the Law but by faith in Jesus Christ; and we too came to believe in Christ Jesus so as to be reckoned as upright by faith in Christ and not by practising the Law: since no human being can be found upright by keeping the Law.

Gal 2:17 Now if we too are found to be sinners on the grounds that we seek our justification in Christ, it would surely follow that Christ was at the service of sin. Out of the question!

Gal 2:18 If I now rebuild everything I once demolished, I prove that I was wrong before.

Gal 2:19 In fact, through the Law I am dead to the Law so that I can be alive to God. I have been crucified with Christ

Gal 2:20 and yet I am alive; yet it is no longer I, but Christ living in me. The life that I am now living, subject to the limitation of human nature, I am living in faith, faith in the Son of God who loved me and gave himself for me.

Gal 2:21 I am not setting aside God's grace as of no value; it is merely that if saving justice comes through the Law, Christ died needlessly.

Gal 3:1 You stupid people in Galatia! After you have had a clear picture of Jesus Christ crucified, right in front of your eyes, who has put a spell on you?

Gal 3:2 There is only one thing I should like you to tell me: How was it that you received the Spirit -- was it by the practice of the Law, or by believing in the message you heard?

Gal 3:3 Having begun in the Spirit, can you be so stupid as to end in the flesh?

Gal 3:4 Can all the favours you have received have had no effect at all -- if there really has been no effect?

Gal 3:5 Would you say, then, that he who so lavishly sends the Spirit to you, and causes the miracles among you, is doing this through your practice of the Law or because you believed the message you heard?

Gal 3:6 Abraham, you remember, put his faith in God, and this was reckoned to him as uprightness.

Gal 3:7 Be sure, then, that it is people of faith who are the children of Abraham.

Gal 3:8 And it was because scripture foresaw that God would give saving justice to the gentiles through faith, that it announced the future gospel to Abraham in the words: All nations will be blessed in you.

Gal 3:9 So it is people of faith who receive the same blessing as Abraham, the man of faith.

Gal 3:10 On the other hand, all those who depend on the works of the Law are under a curse, since scripture says: Accursed be he who does not make what is written in the book of the Law effective, by putting it into practice.

Gal 3:11 Now it is obvious that nobody is reckoned as upright in God's sight by the Law, since the upright will live through faith;

Gal 3:12 and the Law is based not on faith but on the principle, whoever complies with it will find life in it.

Gal 3:13 Christ redeemed us from the curse of the Law by being cursed for our sake since scripture says: Anyone hanged is accursed,

Gal 3:14 so that the blessing of Abraham might come to the gentiles in Christ Jesus, and so that we might receive the promised Spirit through faith.

Gal 3:15 To put it in human terms, my brothers: even when a will is only a human one, once it has been ratified nobody can cancel it or add more provisions to it.

Gal 3:16 Now the promises were addressed to Abraham and to his progeny. The words were not and to his progenies in the plural, but in the singular; and to your progeny, which means Christ.

Gal 3:17 What I am saying is this: once a will had been long ago ratified by God, the Law, coming four hundred and thirty years later, could not abolish it and so nullify its promise.

Gal 3:18 You see, if the inheritance comes by the Law, it no longer comes through a promise; but it was by a promise that God made his gift to Abraham.

Gal 3:19 Then what is the purpose of the Law? It was added to deal with crimes until the 'progeny' to whom the promise had been made should come; and it was promulgated through angels, by the agency of an intermediary.

Gal 3:20 Now there can be an intermediary only between two parties, yet God is one.

Gal 3:21 Is the Law contrary, then, to God's promises? Out of the question! If the Law that was given had been capable of giving life, then certainly saving justice would have come from the Law.

Gal 3:22 As it is, scripture makes no exception when it says that sin is master everywhere; so the promise can be given only by faith in Jesus Christ to those who have this faith.

Gal 3:23 But before faith came, we were kept under guard by the Law, locked up to wait for the faith which would eventually be revealed to us.

Gal 3:24 So the Law was serving as a slave to look after us, to lead us to Christ, so that we could be justified by faith.

Gal 3:25 But now that faith has come we are no longer under a slave looking after us;

Gal 3:26 for all of you are the children of God, through faith, in Christ Jesus,

Gal 3:27 since every one of you that has been baptised has been clothed in Christ.

Gal 3:28 There can be neither Jew nor Greek, there can be neither slave nor freeman, there can be neither male nor female -- for you are all one in Christ Jesus.

Gal 3:29 And simply by being Christ's, you are that progeny of Abraham, the heirs named in the promise.

Gal 4:1 What I am saying is this: an heir, during the time while he is still under age, is no different from a slave, even though he is the owner of all the property;

Gal 4:2 he is under the control of guardians and administrators until the time fixed by his father.

Gal 4:3 So too with us, as long as we were still under age, we were enslaved to the elemental principles of this world;

Gal 4:4 but when the completion of the time came, God sent his Son, born of a woman, born a subject of the Law,

Gal 4:5 to redeem the subjects of the Law, so that we could receive adoption as sons.

Gal 4:6 As you are sons, God has sent into our hearts the Spirit of his Son crying, 'Abba, Father';

Gal 4:7 and so you are no longer a slave, but a son; and if a son, then an heir, by God's own act.

Gal 4:8 But formerly when you did not know God, you were kept in slavery to things which are not really gods at all,

Gal 4:9 whereas now that you have come to recognise God -- or rather, be recognised by God -- how can you now turn back again to those powerless and bankrupt elements whose slaves you now want to be all over again?

Gal 4:10 You are keeping special days, and months, and seasons and years-

Gal 4:11 I am beginning to be afraid that I may, after all, have wasted my efforts on you.

Gal 4:12 I urge you, brothers,-be like me, as I have become like you. You have never been unfair to me;

Gal 4:13 indeed you remember that it was an illness that first gave me the opportunity to preach the gospel to you,

Gal 4:14 but though my illness was a trial to you, you did not show any distaste or revulsion; instead, you welcomed me as a messenger of God, as if I were Christ Jesus himself.

Gal 4:15 What has happened to the utter contentment you had then? For I can testify to you that you would have plucked your eyes out, were that possible, and given them to me.

Gal 4:16 Then have I turned into your enemy simply by being truthful with you?

Gal 4:17 Their devotion to you has no praiseworthy motive; they simply want to cut you off from me, so that you may centre your devotion on them.

Gal 4:18 Devotion to a praiseworthy cause is praiseworthy at any time, not only when I am there with you.

Gal 4:19 My children, I am going through the pain of giving birth to you all over again, until Christ is formed in you;

Gal 4:20 and how I wish I could be there with you at this moment and find the right way of talking to you: I am quite at a loss with you.

Gal 4:21 Tell me then, you are so eager to be subject to the Law, have you listened to what the Law says?

Gal 4:22 Scripture says that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave girl and one by the freewoman.

Gal 4:23 The son of the slave girl came to be born in the way of human nature; but the son of the freewoman came to be born through a promise.

Gal 4:24 There is an allegory here: these women stand for the two covenants. The one given on Mount Sinai -- that is Hagar, whose children are born into slavery;

Gal 4:25 now Sinai is a mountain in Arabia and represents Jerusalem in its present state, for she is in slavery together with her children.

Gal 4:26 But the Jerusalem above is free, and that is the one that is our mother;

Gal 4:27 as scripture says: Shout for joy, you barren woman who has borne no children! Break into shouts of joy, you who were never in labour. For the sons of the forsaken one are more in number than the sons of the wedded wife.

Gal 4:28 Now you, brothers, are like Isaac, children of the promise;

Gal 4:29 just as at that time, the child born in the way of human nature persecuted the child born through the Spirit, so now.

Gal 4:30 But what is it that scripture says? Drive away that slave girl and her son; the slave girl's son is not to share the inheritance with the son of the freewoman.

Gal 4:31 So, brothers, we are the children not of the slave girl but of the freewoman.

Gal 5:1 Christ set us free, so that we should remain free. Stand firm, then, and do not let yourselves be fastened again to the yoke of slavery.

Gal 5:2 I, Paul, give you my word that if you accept circumcision, Christ will be of no benefit to you at all.

Gal 5:3 I give my assurance once again to every man who accepts circumcision that he is under obligation to keep the whole Law;

Gal 5:4 once you seek to be reckoned as upright through the Law, then you have separated yourself from Christ, you have fallen away from grace.

Gal 5:5 We are led by the Spirit to wait in the confident hope of saving justice through faith,

Gal 5:6 since in Christ Jesus it is not being circumcised or being uncircumcised that can effect anything -- only faith working through love.

Gal 5:7 You began your race well; who came to obstruct you and stop you obeying the truth?

Gal 5:8 It was certainly not any prompting from him who called you!

Gal 5:9 A pinch of yeast ferments the whole batch.

Gal 5:10 But I feel sure that, united in the Lord, you will not be led astray, and that anyone who makes trouble with you will be condemned, no matter who he is.

Gal 5:11 And I, brothers -- if I were still preaching circumcision, why should I still be persecuted? For then the obstacle which is the cross would have no point any more.

Gal 5:12 I could wish that those who are unsettling you would go further and mutilate themselves.

Gal 5:13 After all, brothers, you were called to be free; do not use your freedom as an opening for self-indulgence, but be servants to one another in love,

Gal 5:14 since the whole of the Law is summarised in the one commandment: You must love your neighbour as yourself.

Gal 5:15 If you go snapping at one another and tearing one another to pieces, take care: you will be eaten up by one another.

Gal 5:16 Instead, I tell you, be guided by the Spirit, and you will no longer yield to self-indulgence.

Gal 5:17 The desires of self-indulgence are always in opposition to the Spirit, and the desires of the Spirit are in opposition to self-indulgence: they are opposites, one against the other; that is how you are prevented from doing the things that you want to.

Gal 5:18 But when you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the Law.

Gal 5:19 When self-indulgence is at work the results are obvious: sexual vice, impurity, and sensuality,

Gal 5:20 the worship of false gods and sorcery; antagonisms and rivalry, jealousy, bad temper and quarrels, disagreements,

Gal 5:21 factions and malice, drunkenness, orgies and all such things. And about these, I tell you now as I have told you in the past, that people who behave in these ways will not inherit the kingdom of God.

Gal 5:22 On the other hand the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, trustfulness,

Gal 5:23 gentleness and self-control; no law can touch such things as these.

Gal 5:24 All who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified self with all its passions and its desires.

Gal 5:25 Since we are living by the Spirit, let our behaviour be guided by the Spirit Gal 5:26 and let us not be conceited or provocative and envious of one another.

Gal 6:1 Brothers, even if one of you is caught doing something wrong, those of you who are spiritual should set that person right in a spirit of gentleness; and watch yourselves that you are not put to the test in the same way.

Gal 6:2 Carry each other's burdens; that is how to keep the law of Christ.

Gal 6:3 Someone who thinks himself important, when he is not, only deceives himself;

Gal 6:4 but everyone is to examine his own achievements, and then he will confine his boasting to his own achievements, not comparing them with anybody else's.

Gal 6:5 Each one has his own load to carry.

Gal 6:6 When someone is under instruction in doctrine, he should give his teacher a share in all his possessions.

Gal 6:7 Don't delude yourself: God is not to be fooled; whatever someone sows, that is what he will reap.

Gal 6:8 If his sowing is in the field of self-indulgence, then his harvest from it will be corruption; if his sowing is in the Spirit, then his harvest from the Spirit will be eternal life.

Gal 6:9 And let us never slacken in doing good; for if we do not give up, we shall have our harvest in due time.

Gal 6:10 So then, as long as we have the opportunity let all our actions be for the good of everybody, and especially of those who belong to the household of the faith.

Gal 6:11 Notice what large letters I have used in writing to you with my own hand.

Gal 6:12 It is those who want to cut a figure by human standards who force circumcision on you, simply so that they will not be persecuted for the cross of Christ.

Gal 6:13 Even though they are circumcised they still do not keep the Law themselves; they want you to be circumcised only so that they can boast of your outward appearance.

Gal 6:14 But as for me, it is out of the question that I should boast at all, except of the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world.

Gal 6:15 It is not being circumcised or uncircumcised that matters; but what matters is a new creation.

Gal 6:16 Peace and mercy to all who follow this as their rule and to the Israel of God.

Gal 6:17 After this, let no one trouble me; I carry branded on my body the marks of Jesus.

Gal 6:18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, my brothers. Amen.

Eph 1:1 Paul, by the will of God an apostle of Christ Jesus, to God's holy people, faithful in Christ Jesus.

Eph 1:2 Grace and peace to you from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Eph 1:3 Blessed be God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with all the spiritual blessings of heaven in Christ.

Eph 1:4 Thus he chose us in Christ before the world was made to be holy and faultless before him in love,

Eph 1:5 marking us out for himself beforehand, to be adopted sons, through Jesus Christ. Such was his purpose and good pleasure,

Eph 1:6 to the praise of the glory of his grace, his free gift to us in the Beloved,

Eph 1:7 in whom, through his blood, we gain our freedom, the forgiveness of our sins. Such is the richness of the grace

Eph 1:8 which he has showered on us in all wisdom and insight.

Eph 1:9 He has let us know the mystery of his purpose, according to his good pleasure which he determined beforehand in Christ,

Eph 1:10 for him to act upon when the times had run their course: that he would bring everything together under Christ, as head, everything in the heavens and everything on earth.

Eph 1:11 And it is in him that we have received our heritage, marked out beforehand as we were, under the plan of the One who guides all things as he decides by his own will,

Eph 1:12 chosen to be, for the praise of his glory, the people who would put their hopes in Christ before he came.

Eph 1:13 Now you too, in him, have heard the message of the truth and the gospel of your salvation, and having put your trust in it you have been stamped with the seal of the Holy Spirit of the Promise,

Eph 1:14 who is the pledge of our inheritance, for the freedom of the people whom God has taken for his own, for the praise of his glory.

Eph 1:15 That is why I, having once heard about your faith in the Lord Jesus, and your love for all God's holy people,

Eph 1:16 have never failed to thank God for you and to remember you in my prayers.

Eph 1:17 May the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, give you a spirit of wisdom and perception of what is revealed, to bring you to full knowledge of him.

Eph 1:18 May he enlighten the eyes of your mind so that you can see what hope his call holds for you, how rich is the glory of the heritage he offers among his holy people,

Eph 1:19 and how extraordinarily great is the power that he has exercised for us believers; this accords with the strength of his power

Eph 1:20 at work in Christ, the power which he exercised in raising him from the dead and enthroning him at his right hand, in heaven,

Eph 1:21 far above every principality, ruling force, power or sovereignty, or any other name that can be named, not only in this age but also in the age to come.

Eph 1:22 He has put all things under his feet, and made him, as he is above all things, the head of the Church;

Eph 1:23 which is his Body, the fullness of him who is filled, all in all.

Eph 2:1 And you were dead, through the crimes and the sins

Eph 2:2 which used to make up your way of life when you were living by the principles of this world, obeying the ruler who dominates the air, the spirit who is at work in those who rebel.

Eph 2:3 We too were all among them once, living only by our natural inclinations, obeying the demands of human self-indulgence and our own whim; our nature made us no less liable to God's retribution than the rest of the world.

Eph 2:4 But God, being rich in faithful love, through the great love with which he loved us,

Eph 2:5 even when we were dead in our sins, brought us to life with Christ -- it is through grace that you have been saved-

Eph 2:6 and raised us up with him and gave us a place with him in heaven, in Christ Jesus.

Eph 2:7 This was to show for all ages to come, through his goodness towards us in Christ Jesus, how extraordinarily rich he is in grace.

Eph 2:8 Because it is by grace that you have been saved, through faith; not by anything of your own, but by a gift from God;

Eph 2:9 not by anything that you have done, so that nobody can claim the credit.

Eph 2:10 We are God's work of art, created in Christ Jesus for the good works which God has already designated to make up our way of life.

Eph 2:11 Do not forget, then, that there was a time when you who were gentiles by physical descent, termed the uncircumcised by those who speak of themselves as the circumcised by reason of a physical operation,

Eph 2:12 do not forget, I say, that you were at that time separate from Christ and excluded from membership of Israel, aliens with no part in the covenants of the Promise, limited to this world, without hope and without God.

Eph 2:13 But now in Christ Jesus, you that used to be so far off have been brought close, by the blood of Christ.

Eph 2:14 For he is the peace between us, and has made the two into one entity and broken down the barrier which used to keep them apart, by destroying in his own person the hostility,

Eph 2:15 that is, the Law of commandments with its decrees. His purpose in this was, by restoring peace, to create a single New Man out of the two of them,

Eph 2:16 and through the cross, to reconcile them both to God in one Body; in his own person he killed the hostility.

Eph 2:17 He came to bring the good news of peace to you who were far off and peace to those who were near.

Eph 2:18 Through him, then, we both in the one Spirit have free access to the Father.

Eph 2:19 So you are no longer aliens or foreign visitors; you are fellow-citizens with the holy people of God and part of God's household.

Eph 2:20 You are built upon the foundations of the apostles and prophets, and Christ Jesus himself is the cornerstone.

Eph 2:21 Every structure knit together in him grows into a holy temple in the Lord;

Eph 2:22 and you too, in him, are being built up into a dwelling-place of God in the Spirit.

Eph 3:1 It is because of this that I, Paul, a prisoner of the Lord Jesus on behalf of you gentiles. . .

Eph 3:2 You have surely heard the way in which God entrusted me with the grace he gave me for your sake;

Eph 3:3 he made known to me by a revelation the mystery I have just described briefly-

Eph 3:4 a reading of it will enable you to perceive my understanding of the mystery of Christ.

Eph 3:5 This mystery, as it is now revealed in the Spirit to his holy apostles and prophets, was unknown to humanity in previous generations:

Eph 3:6 that the gentiles now have the same inheritance and form the same Body and enjoy the same promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel.

Eph 3:7 I have been made the servant of that gospel by a gift of grace from God who gave it to me by the workings of his power.

Eph 3:8 I, who am less than the least of all God's holy people, have been entrusted with this special grace, of proclaiming to the gentiles the unfathomable treasure of Christ

Eph 3:9 and of throwing light on the inner workings of the mystery kept hidden through all the ages in God, the Creator of everything.

Eph 3:10 The purpose of this was, that now, through the Church, the principalities and ruling forces should learn how many-sided God's wisdom is,

Eph 3:11 according to the plan which he had formed from all eternity in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Eph 3:12 In him we are bold enough to approach God in complete confidence, through our faith in him;

Eph 3:13 so, I beg you, do not let the hardships I go through on your account make you waver; they are your glory.

Eph 3:14 This, then, is what I pray, kneeling before the Father,

Eph 3:15 from whom every fatherhood, in heaven or on earth, takes its name.

Eph 3:16 In the abundance of his glory may he, through his Spirit, enable you to grow firm in power with regard to your inner self,

Eph 3:17 so that Christ may live in your hearts through faith, and then, planted in love and built on love,

Eph 3:18 with all God's holy people you will have the strength to grasp the breadth and the length, the height and the depth;

Eph 3:19 so that, knowing the love of Christ, which is beyond knowledge, you may be filled with the utter fullness of God.

Eph 3:20 Glory be to him whose power, working in us, can do infinitely more than we can ask or imagine;

Eph 3:21 glory be to him from generation to generation in the Church and in Christ Jesus for ever and ever.

Amen.

Eph 4:1 I, the prisoner in the Lord, urge you therefore to lead a life worthy of the vocation to which you were called.

Eph 4:2 With all humility and gentleness, and with patience, support each other in love.

Eph 4:3 Take every care to preserve the unity of the Spirit by the peace that binds you together.

Eph 4:4 There is one Body, one Spirit, just as one hope is the goal of your calling by God.

Eph 4:5 There is one Lord, one faith, one baptism,

Eph 4:6 and one God and Father of all, over all, through all and within all.

Eph 4:7 On each one of us God's favour has been bestowed in whatever way Christ allotted it.

Eph 4:8 That is why it says: He went up to the heights, took captives, he gave gifts to humanity.

Eph 4:9 When it says, 'he went up', it must mean that he had gone down to the deepest levels of the earth.

Eph 4:10 The one who went down is none other than the one who went up above all the heavens to fill all things.

Eph 4:11 And to some, his 'gift' was that they should be apostles; to some prophets; to some, evangelists; to some, pastors and teachers;

Eph 4:12 to knit God's holy people together for the work of service to build up the Body of Christ,

Eph 4:13 until we all reach unity in faith and knowledge of the Son of God and form the perfect Man, fully mature with the fullness of Christ himself.

Eph 4:14 Then we shall no longer be children, or tossed one way and another, and carried hither and thither by every new gust of teaching, at the mercy of all the tricks people play and their unscrupulousness in deliberate deception.

Eph 4:15 If we live by the truth and in love, we shall grow completely into Christ, who is the head

Eph 4:16 by whom the whole Body is fitted and joined together, every joint adding its own strength, for each individual part to work according to its function. So the body grows until it has built itself up in love.

Eph 4:17 So this I say to you and attest to you in the Lord, do not go on living the empty-headed life that the gentiles live.

Eph 4:18 Intellectually they are in the dark, and they are estranged from the life of God, because of the ignorance which is the consequence of closed minds.

Eph 4:19 Their sense of right and wrong once dulled, they have abandoned all self-control and pursue to excess every kind of uncleanness.

Eph 4:20 Now that is hardly the way you have learnt Christ,

Eph 4:21 unless you failed to hear him properly when you were taught what the truth is in Jesus.

Eph 4:22 You were to put aside your old self, which belongs to your old way of life and is corrupted by following illusory desires.

Eph 4:23 Your mind was to be renewed in spirit

Eph 4:24 so that you could put on the New Man that has been created on God's principles, in the uprightness and holiness of the truth.

Eph 4:25 So from now on, there must be no more lies. Speak the truth to one another, since we are all parts of one another.

Eph 4:26 Even if you are angry, do not sin: never let the sun set on your anger

Eph 4:27 or else you will give the devil a foothold.

Eph 4:28 Anyone who was a thief must stop stealing; instead he should exert himself at some honest job with his own hands so that he may have something to share with those in need.

Eph 4:29 No foul word should ever cross your lips; let your words be for the improvement of others, as occasion offers, and do good to your listeners;

Eph 4:30 do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God who has marked you with his seal, ready for the day when we shall be set free.

Eph 4:31 Any bitterness or bad temper or anger or shouting or abuse must be far removed from you -- as must every kind of malice.

Eph 4:32 Be generous to one another, sympathetic, forgiving each other as readily as God forgave you in Christ.

Eph 5:1 As God's dear children, then, take him as your pattern,

Eph 5:2 and follow Christ by loving as he loved you, giving himself up for us as an offering and a sweet-smelling sacrifice to God.

Eph 5:3 Among you there must be not even a mention of sexual vice or impurity in any of its forms, or greed: this would scarcely become the holy people of God!

Eph 5:4 There must be no foul or salacious talk or coarse jokes -- all this is wrong for you; there should rather be thanksgiving.

Eph 5:5 For you can be quite certain that nobody who indulges in sexual immorality or impurity or greed -- which is worshipping a false god -- can inherit the kingdom of God.

Eph 5:6 Do not let anyone deceive you with empty arguments: it is such behaviour that draws down God's retribution on those who rebel against him.

Eph 5:7 Make sure that you do not throw in your lot with them.

Eph 5:8 You were darkness once, but now you are light in the Lord; behave as children of light,

Eph 5:9 for the effects of the light are seen in complete goodness and uprightness and truth.

Eph 5:10 Try to discover what the Lord wants of you,

Eph 5:11 take no part in the futile works of darkness but, on the contrary, show them up for what they are.

Eph 5:12 The things which are done in secret are shameful even to speak of;

Eph 5:13 but anything shown up by the light will be illuminated

Eph 5:14 and anything illuminated is itself a light. That is why it is said: Wake up, sleeper, rise from the dead, and Christ will shine on you.

Eph 5:15 So be very careful about the sort of lives you lead, like intelligent and not like senseless people.

Eph 5:16 Make the best of the present time, for it is a wicked age.

Eph 5:17 This is why you must not be thoughtless but must recognise what is the will of the Lord.

Eph 5:18 Do not get drunk with wine; this is simply dissipation; be filled with the Spirit.

Eph 5:19 Sing psalms and hymns and inspired songs among yourselves, singing and chanting to the Lord in your hearts,

Eph 5:20 always and everywhere giving thanks to God who is our Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Eph 5:21 Be subject to one another out of reverence for Christ.

Eph 5:22 Wives should be subject to their husbands as to the Lord,

Eph 5:23 since, as Christ is head of the Church and saves the whole body, so is a husband the head of his wife;

Eph 5:24 and as the Church is subject to Christ, so should wives be to their husbands, in everything.

Eph 5:25 Husbands should love their wives, just as Christ loved the Church and sacrificed himself for her

Eph 5:26 to make her holy by washing her in cleansing water with a form of words,

Eph 5:27 so that when he took the Church to himself she would be glorious, with no speck or wrinkle or anything like that, but holy and faultless.

Eph 5:28 In the same way, husbands must love their wives as they love their own bodies; for a man to love his wife is for him to love himself.

Eph 5:29 A man never hates his own body, but he feeds it and looks after it; and that is the way Christ treats the Church,

Eph 5:30 because we are parts of his Body.

Eph 5:31 This is why a man leaves his father and mother and becomes attached to his wife, and the two become one flesh.

Eph 5:32 This mystery has great significance, but I am applying it to Christ and the Church.

Eph 5:33 To sum up: you also, each one of you, must love his wife as he loves himself; and let every wife respect her husband.

Eph 6:1 Children, be obedient to your parents in the Lord -- that is what uprightness demands.

Eph 6:2 The first commandment that has a promise attached to it is: Honour your father and your mother,

Eph 6:3 and the promise is: so that you may have long life and prosper in the land.

Eph 6:4 And parents, never drive your children to resentment but bring them up with correction and advice inspired by the Lord.

Eph 6:5 Slaves, be obedient to those who are, according to human reckoning, your masters, with deep respect and sincere loyalty, as you are obedient to Christ:

Eph 6:6 not only when you are under their eye, as if you had only to please human beings, but as slaves of Christ who wholeheartedly do the will of God.

Eph 6:7 Work willingly for the sake of the Lord and not for the sake of human beings.

Eph 6:8 Never forget that everyone, whether a slave or a free man, will be rewarded by the Lord for whatever work he has done well.

Eph 6:9 And those of you who are employers, treat your slaves in the same spirit; do without threats, and never forget that they and you have the same Master in heaven and there is no favouritism with him.

Eph 6:10 Finally, grow strong in the Lord, with the strength of his power.

Eph 6:11 Put on the full armour of God so as to be able to resist the devil's tactics.

Eph 6:12 For it is not against human enemies that we have to struggle, but against the principalities and the ruling forces who are masters of the darkness in this world, the spirits of evil in the heavens.

Eph 6:13 That is why you must take up all God's armour, or you will not be able to put up any resistance on the evil day, or stand your ground even though you exert yourselves to the full.

Eph 6:14 So stand your ground, with truth a belt round your waist, and uprightness a breastplate,

Eph 6:15 wearing for shoes on your feet the eagerness to spread the gospel of peace

Eph 6:16 and always carrying the shield of faith so that you can use it to quench the burning arrows of the Evil One.

Eph 6:17 And then you must take salvation as your helmet and the sword of the Spirit, that is, the word of God.

Eph 6:18 In all your prayer and entreaty keep praying in the Spirit on every possible occasion. Never get tired of staying awake to pray for all God's holy people,

Eph 6:19 and pray for me to be given an opportunity to open my mouth and fearlessly make known the mystery of the gospel

Eph 6:20 of which I am an ambassador in chains; pray that in proclaiming it I may speak as fearlessly as I ought to.

Eph 6:21 So that you know, as well, what is happening to me and what I am doing, my dear friend Tychicus, my trustworthy helper in the Lord, will tell you everything.

Eph 6:22 I am sending him to you precisely for this purpose, to give you news about us and encourage you thoroughly.

Eph 6:23 May God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ grant peace, love and faith to all the brothers.

Eph 6:24 May grace be with all who love our Lord Jesus Christ, in life imperishable.

Phi 1:1 Paul and Timothy, servants of Christ Jesus, to all God's holy people in Christ Jesus at Philippi, together with their presiding elders and the deacons.

Phi 1:2 Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Phi 1:3 I thank my God whenever I think of you,

Phi 1:4 and every time I pray for you all, I always pray with joy

Phi 1:5 for your partnership in the gospel from the very first day up to the present.

Phi 1:6 I am quite confident that the One who began a good work in you will go on completing it until the Day of Jesus Christ comes.

Phi 1:7 It is only right that I should feel like this towards you all, because you have a place in my heart, since you have all shared together in the grace that has been mine, both my chains and my work defending and establishing the gospel.

Phi 1:8 For God will testify for me how much I long for you all with the warm longing of Christ Jesus;

Phi 1:9 it is my prayer that your love for one another may grow more and more with the knowledge and complete understanding

Phi 1:10 that will help you to come to true discernment, so that you will be innocent and free of any trace of guilt when the Day of Christ comes,

Phi 1:11 entirely filled with the fruits of uprightness through Jesus Christ, for the glory and praise of God.

Phi 1:12 Now I want you to realise, brothers, that the circumstances of my present life are helping rather than hindering the advance of the gospel.

Phi 1:13 My chains in Christ have become well known not only to all the Praetorium, but to everybody else,

Phi 1:14 and so most of the brothers in the Lord have gained confidence from my chains and are getting more and more daring in announcing the Message without any fear.

Phi 1:15 It is true that some of them are preaching Christ out of malice and rivalry; but there are many as well whose intentions are good;

Phi 1:16 some are doing it out of love, knowing that I remain firm in my defence of the gospel.

Phi 1:17 There are others who are proclaiming Christ out of jealousy, not in sincerity but meaning to add to the weight of my chains.

Phi 1:18 But what does it matter? Only that in both ways, whether with false motives or true, Christ is proclaimed, and for that I am happy;

Phi 1:19 and I shall go on being happy, too, because I know that this is what will save me, with your prayers and with the support of the Spirit of Jesus Christ;

Phi 1:20 all in accordance with my most confident hope and trust that I shall never have to admit defeat, but with complete fearlessness I shall go on, so that now, as always, Christ will be glorified in my body, whether by my life or my death.

Phi 1:21 Life to me, of course, is Christ, but then death would be a positive gain.

Phi 1:22 On the other hand again, if to be alive in the body gives me an opportunity for fruitful work, I do not know which I should choose.

Phi 1:23 I am caught in this dilemma: I want to be gone and to be with Christ, and this is by far the stronger desire-

Phi 1:24 and yet for your sake to stay alive in this body is a more urgent need.

Phi 1:25 This much I know for certain, that I shall stay and stand by you all, to encourage your advance and your joy in the faith,

Phi 1:26 so that my return to be among you may increase to overflowing your pride in Jesus Christ on my account.

Phi 1:27 But you must always behave in a way that is worthy of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come to you and see for myself or whether I only hear all about you from a distance, I shall find that you are standing firm and united in spirit, battling, as a team with a single aim, for the faith of the gospel,

Phi 1:28 undismayed by any of your opponents. This will be a clear sign, for them that they are to be lost, and for you that you are to be saved.

Phi 1:29 This comes from God, for you have been granted the privilege for Christ's sake not only of believing in him but of suffering for him as well;

Phi 1:30 you are fighting the same battle which you saw me fighting for him and which you hear I am fighting still.

Phi 2:1 So if in Christ there is anything that will move you, any incentive in love, any fellowship in the Spirit, any warmth or sympathy -- I appeal to you,

Phi 2:2 make my joy complete by being of a single mind, one in love, one in heart and one in mind.

Phi 2:3 Nothing is to be done out of jealousy or vanity; instead, out of humility of mind everyone should give preference to others,

Phi 2:4 everyone pursuing not selfish interests but those of others.

Phi 2:5 Make your own the mind of Christ Jesus:

Phi 2:6 Who, being in the form of God, did not count equality with God something to be grasped.

Phi 2:7 But he emptied himself, taking the form of a slave, becoming as human beings are; and being in every way like a human being,

Phi 2:8 he was humbler yet, even to accepting death, death on a cross.

Phi 2:9 And for this God raised him high, and gave him the name which is above all other names;

Phi 2:10 so that all beings in the heavens, on earth and in the underworld, should bend the knee at the name of Jesus

Phi 2:11 and that every tongue should acknowledge Jesus Christ as Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Phi 2:12 So, my dear friends, you have always been obedient; your obedience must not be limited to times when I am present. Now that I am absent it must be more in evidence, so work out your salvation in fear and trembling.

Phi 2:13 It is God who, for his own generous purpose, gives you the intention and the powers to act.

Phi 2:14 Let your behaviour be free of murmuring and complaining

Phi 2:15 so that you remain faultless and pure, unspoilt children of God surrounded by a deceitful and underhand brood, shining out among them like bright stars in the world,

Phi 2:16 proffering to it the Word of life. Then I shall have reason to be proud on the Day of Christ, for it will not be for nothing that I have run the race and toiled so hard.

Phi 2:17 Indeed, even if my blood has to be poured as a libation over your sacrifice and the offering of your faith, then I shall be glad and join in your rejoicing-

Phi 2:18 and in the same way, you must be glad and join in my rejoicing.

Phi 2:19 I hope, in the Lord Jesus, to send Timothy to you soon, so that my mind may be set at rest when I hear how you are.

Phi 2:20 There is nobody else that I can send who is like him and cares as sincerely for your well-being;

Phi 2:21 they all want to work for themselves, not for Jesus Christ.

Phi 2:22 But you know what sort of person he has proved himself, working with me for the sake of the gospel like a son with his father.

Phi 2:23 That is the man, then, that I am hoping to send to you immediately I can make out what is going to happen to me;

Phi 2:24 but I am confident in the Lord that I shall come myself, too, before long.

Phi 2:25 Nevertheless I thought it essential to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and companion-in-arms since he came as your representative to look after my needs;

Phi 2:26 because he was missing you all and was worrying because you had heard that he was ill.

Phi 2:27 Indeed he was seriously ill and nearly died; but God took pity on him -- and not only on him but also on me, to spare me one grief on top of another.

Phi 2:28 So I am sending him back as promptly as I can so that you will have the joy of seeing him again, and that will be some comfort to me in my distress.

Phi 2:29 Welcome him in the Lord, then, with all joy; hold people like him in honour,

Phi 2:30 because it was for Christ's work that he came so near to dying, risking his life to do the duty to me which you could not do yourselves.

Phi 3:1 Finally, brothers, I wish you joy in the Lord. To write to you what I have already written before is no trouble to me and to you will be a protection.

Phi 3:2 Beware of dogs! Beware of evil workmen! Beware of self-mutilators!

Phi 3:3 We are the true people of the circumcision since we worship by the Spirit of God and make Christ Jesus our only boast, not relying on physical qualifications,

Phi 3:4 although, I myself could rely on these too. If anyone does claim to rely on them, my claim is better.

Phi 3:5 Circumcised on the eighth day of my life, I was born of the race of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew born of Hebrew parents. In the matter of the Law, I was a Pharisee;

Phi 3:6 as for religious fervour, I was a persecutor of the Church; as for the uprightness embodied in the Law, I was faultless.

Phi 3:7 But what were once my assets I now through Christ Jesus count as losses.

Phi 3:8 Yes, I will go further: because of the supreme advantage of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord, I count everything else as loss. For him I have accepted the loss of all other things, and look on them all as filth if only I can gain Christ

Phi 3:9 and be given a place in him, with the uprightness I have gained not from the Law, but through faith in Christ, an uprightness from God, based on faith,

Phi 3:10 that I may come to know him and the power of his resurrection, and partake of his sufferings by being moulded to the pattern of his death,

Phi 3:11 striving towards the goal of resurrection from the dead.

Phi 3:12 Not that I have secured it already, nor yet reached my goal, but I am still pursuing it in the attempt to take hold of the prize for which Christ Jesus took hold of me.

Phi 3:13 Brothers, I do not reckon myself as having taken hold of it; I can only say that forgetting all that lies behind me, and straining forward to what lies in front,

Phi 3:14 I am racing towards the finishing-point to win the prize of God's heavenly call in Christ Jesus.

Phi 3:15 So this is the way in which all of us who are mature should be thinking, and if you are still thinking differently in any way, then God has yet to make this matter clear to you.

Phi 3:16 Meanwhile, let us go forward from the point we have each attained.

Phi 3:17 Brothers, be united in imitating me. Keep your eyes fixed on those who act according to the example you have from me.

Phi 3:18 For there are so many people of whom I have often warned you, and now I warn you again with tears in my eyes, who behave like the enemies of Christ's cross.

Phi 3:19 They are destined to be lost; their god is the stomach; they glory in what they should think shameful, since their minds are set on earthly things.

Phi 3:20 But our homeland is in heaven and it is from there that we are expecting a Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ,

Phi 3:21 who will transfigure the wretched body of ours into the mould of his glorious body, through the working of the power which he has, even to bring all things under his mastery.

Phi 4:1 So then, my brothers and dear friends whom I miss so much, my joy and my crown, hold firm in the Lord, dear friends.

Phi 4:2 I urge Euodia, and I urge Syntyche to come to agreement with each other in the Lord;

Phi 4:3 and I ask you, Syzygus, really to be a 'partner' and help them. These women have struggled hard for the gospel with me, along with Clement and all my other fellow-workers, whose names are written in the book of life.

Phi 4:4 Always be joyful, then, in the Lord; I repeat, be joyful.

Phi 4:5 Let your good sense be obvious to everybody. The Lord is near.

Phi 4:6 Never worry about anything; but tell God all your desires of every kind in prayer and petition shot through with gratitude,

Phi 4:7 and the peace of God which is beyond our understanding will guard your hearts and your thoughts in Christ Jesus.

Phi 4:8 Finally, brothers, let your minds be filled with everything that is true, everything that is honourable, everything that is upright and pure, everything that we love and admire -- with whatever is good and praiseworthy.

Phi 4:9 Keep doing everything you learnt from me and were told by me and have heard or seen me doing. Then the God of peace will be with you.

Phi 4:10 As for me, I am full of joy in the Lord, now that at last your consideration for me has blossomed again; though I recognise that you really did have consideration before, but had no opportunity to show it.

Phi 4:11 I do not say this because I have lacked anything; I have learnt to manage with whatever I have.

Phi 4:12 I know how to live modestly, and I know how to live luxuriously too: in every way now I have mastered the secret of all conditions: full stomach and empty stomach, plenty and poverty.

Phi 4:13 There is nothing I cannot do in the One who strengthens me.

Phi 4:14 All the same, it was good of you to share with me in my hardships.

Phi 4:15 In the early days of the gospel, as you of Philippi well know, when I left Macedonia, no church other than yourselves made common account with me in the matter of expenditure and receipts. You were the only ones;

Phi 4:16 and what is more, you have twice sent me what I needed in Thessalonica.

Phi 4:17 It is not the gift that I value most; what I value is the interest that is mounting up in your account.

Phi 4:18 I have all that I need and more: I am fully provided, now that I have received from Epaphroditus the offering that you sent, a pleasing smell, the sacrifice which is acceptable and pleasing to God.

Phi 4:19 And my God will fulfil all your needs out of the riches of his glory in Christ Jesus.

Phi 4:20 And so glory be to God our Father, for ever and ever. Amen.

Phi 4:21 My greetings to every one of God's holy people in Christ Jesus. The brothers who are with me send you their greetings.

Phi 4:22 All God's holy people send you their greetings, especially those of Caesar's household.

Phi 4:23 May the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

Col 1:1 From Paul, by the will of God an apostle of Christ Jesus, and from our brother Timothy

Col 1:2 to God's holy people in Colossae, our faithful brothers in Christ. Grace and peace to you from God our Father.

Col 1:3 We give thanks for you to God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, continually in our prayers,

Col 1:4 ever since we heard about your faith in Christ Jesus and the love that you show towards all God's holy people

Col 1:5 because of the hope which is stored up for you in heaven. News of this hope reached you not long ago through the word of truth, the gospel

Col 1:6 that came to you in the same way as it is bearing fruit and growing throughout the world. It has had the same effect among you, ever since you heard about the grace of God and recognised it for what it truly is.

Col 1:7 This you learnt from Epaphras, our very dear fellow-worker and a trustworthy deputy for us as Christ's servant,

Col 1:8 and it was he who also told us all about your love in the Spirit.

Col 1:9 That is why, ever since the day he told us, we have never failed to remember you in our prayers and ask that through perfect wisdom and spiritual understanding you should reach the fullest knowledge of his will

Col 1:10 and so be able to lead a life worthy of the Lord, a life acceptable to him in all its aspects, bearing fruit in every kind of good work and growing in knowledge of God,

Col 1:11 fortified, in accordance with his glorious strength, with all power always to persevere and endure,

Col 1:12 giving thanks with joy to the Father who has made you able to share the lot of God's holy people and with them to inherit the light.

Col 1:13 Because that is what he has done. It is he who has rescued us from the ruling force of darkness and transferred us to the kingdom of the Son that he loves,

Col 1:14 and in him we enjoy our freedom, the forgiveness of sin.

Col 1:15 He is the image of the unseen God, the first-born of all creation,

Col 1:16 for in him were created all things in heaven and on earth: everything visible and everything invisible, thrones, ruling forces, sovereignties, powers -- all things were created through him and for him.

Col 1:17 He exists before all things and in him all things hold together,

Col 1:18 and he is the Head of the Body, that is, the Church. He is the Beginning, the first-born from the dead, so that he should be supreme in every way;

Col 1:19 because God wanted all fullness to be found in him

Col 1:20 and through him to reconcile all things to him, everything in heaven and everything on earth, by making peace through his death on the cross.

Col 1:21 You were once estranged and of hostile intent through your evil behaviour;

Col 1:22 now he has reconciled you, by his death and in that mortal body, to bring you before himself holy, faultless and irreproachable-

Col 1:23 as long as you persevere and stand firm on the solid base of the faith, never letting yourselves drift away from the hope promised by the gospel, which you have heard, which has been preached to every creature under heaven, and of which I, Paul, have become the servant.

Col 1:24 It makes me happy to be suffering for you now, and in my own body to make up all the hardships that still have to be undergone by Christ for the sake of his body, the Church,

Col 1:25 of which I was made a servant with the responsibility towards you that God gave to me, that of completing God's message,

Col 1:26 the message which was a mystery hidden for generations and centuries and has now been revealed to his holy people.

Col 1:27 It was God's purpose to reveal to them how rich is the glory of this mystery among the gentiles; it is Christ among you, your hope of glory:

Col 1:28 this is the Christ we are proclaiming, admonishing and instructing everyone in all wisdom, to make everyone perfect in Christ.

Col 1:29 And it is for this reason that I labour, striving with his energy which works in me mightily.

Col 2:1 I want you to know, then, what a struggle I am having on your behalf and on behalf of those in Laodicea, and on behalf of so many others who have never seen me face to face.

Col 2:2 It is all to bind them together in love and to encourage their resolution until they are rich in the assurance of their complete understanding and have knowledge of the mystery of God

Col 2:3 in which all the jewels of wisdom and knowledge are hidden.

Col 2:4 I say this to make sure that no one deceives you with specious arguments.

Col 2:5 I may be absent in body, but in spirit I am there among you, delighted to find how well-ordered you are and to see how firm your faith in Christ is.

Col 2:6 So then, as you received Jesus as Lord and Christ, now live your lives in him,

Col 2:7 be rooted in him and built up on him, held firm by the faith you have been taught, and overflowing with thanksgiving.

Col 2:8 Make sure that no one captivates you with the empty lure of a 'philosophy' of the kind that human beings hand on, based on the principles of this world and not on Christ.

Col 2:9 In him, in bodily form, lives divinity in all its fullness,

Col 2:10 and in him you too find your own fulfilment, in the one who is the head of every sovereignty and ruling force.

Col 2:11 In him you have been circumcised, with a circumcision performed, not by human hand, but by the complete stripping of your natural self. This is circumcision according to Christ.

Col 2:12 You have been buried with him by your baptism; by which, too, you have been raised up with him through your belief in the power of God who raised him from the dead.

Col 2:13 You were dead, because you were sinners and uncircumcised in body: he has brought you to life with him, he has forgiven us every one of our sins.

Col 2:14 He has wiped out the record of our debt to the Law, which stood against us; he has destroyed it by nailing it to the cross;

Col 2:15 and he has stripped the sovereignties and the ruling forces, and paraded them in public, behind him in his triumphal procession.

Col 2:16 Then never let anyone criticise you for what you eat or drink, or about observance of annual festivals, New Moons or Sabbaths.

Col 2:17 These are only a shadow of what was coming: the reality is the body of Christ.

Col 2:18 Do not be cheated of your prize by anyone who chooses to grovel to angels and worship them, pinning every hope on visions received, vainly puffed up by a human way of thinking;

Col 2:19 such a person has no connection to the Head, by which the whole body, given all that it needs and held together by its joints and sinews, grows with the growth given by God.

Col 2:20 If you have really died with Christ to the principles of this world, why do you still let rules dictate to you, as though you were still living in the world?

Col 2:21 'Do not pick up this, do not eat that, do not touch the other,'

Col 2:22 and all about things which perish even while they are being used -- according to merely human commandments and doctrines!

Col 2:23 In these rules you can indeed find what seems to be good sense -- the cultivation of the will, and a humility which takes no account of the body; but in fact they have no value against self-indulgence.

Col 3:1 Since you have been raised up to be with Christ, you must look for the things that are above, where Christ is, sitting at God's right hand.

Col 3:2 Let your thoughts be on things above, not on the things that are on the earth,

Col 3:3 because you have died, and now the life you have is hidden with Christ in God.

Col 3:4 But when Christ is revealed -- and he is your life-you, too, will be revealed with him in glory.

Col 3:5 That is why you must kill everything in you that is earthly: sexual vice, impurity, uncontrolled passion, evil desires and especially greed, which is the same thing as worshipping a false god;

Col 3:6 it is precisely these things which draw God's retribution upon those who resist.

Col 3:7 And these things made up your way of life when you were living among such people,

Col 3:8 but now you also must give up all these things: human anger, hot temper, malice, abusive language and dirty talk;

Col 3:9 and do not lie to each other. You have stripped off your old behaviour with your old self,

Col 3:10 and you have put on a new self which will progress towards true knowledge the more it is renewed in the image of its Creator;

Col 3:11 and in that image there is no room for distinction between Greek and Jew, between the circumcised and uncircumcised, or between barbarian and Scythian, slave and free. There is only Christ: he is everything and he is in everything.

Col 3:12 As the chosen of God, then, the holy people whom he loves, you are to be clothed in heartfelt compassion, in generosity and humility, gentleness and patience.

Col 3:13 Bear with one another; forgive each other if one of you has a complaint against another. The Lord has forgiven you; now you must do the same.

Col 3:14 Over all these clothes, put on love, the perfect bond.

Col 3:15 And may the peace of Christ reign in your hearts, because it is for this that you were called together in one body. Always be thankful.

Col 3:16 Let the Word of Christ, in all its richness, find a home with you. Teach each other, and advise each other, in all wisdom. With gratitude in your hearts sing psalms and hymns and inspired songs to God;

Col 3:17 and whatever you say or do, let it be in the name of the Lord Jesus, in thanksgiving to God the Father through him.

Col 3:18 Wives, be subject to your husbands, as you should in the Lord.

Col 3:19 Husbands, love your wives and do not be sharp with them.

Col 3:20 Children, be obedient to your parents always, because that is what will please the Lord.

Col 3:21 Parents, do not irritate your children or they will lose heart.

Col 3:22 Slaves, be obedient in every way to the people who, according to human reckoning, are your masters; not only when you are under their eye, as if you had only to please human beings, but wholeheartedly, out of respect for the Master.

Col 3:23 Whatever your work is, put your heart into it as done for the Lord and not for human beings,

Col 3:24 knowing that the Lord will repay you by making you his heirs. It is Christ the Lord that you are serving.

Col 3:25 Anyone who does wrong will be repaid in kind. For there is no favouritism.

Col 4:1 Masters, make sure that your slaves are given what is upright and fair, knowing that you too have a Master in heaven.

Col 4:2 Be persevering in your prayers and be thankful as you stay awake to pray.

Col 4:3 Pray for us especially, asking God to throw open a door for us to announce the message and proclaim the mystery of Christ, for the sake of which I am in chains;

Col 4:4 pray that I may proclaim it as clearly as I ought.

Col 4:5 Act wisely with outsiders, making the best of the present time.

Col 4:6 Always talk pleasantly and with a flavour of wit but be sensitive to the kind of answer each one requires.

Col 4:7 Tychicus will tell you all the news about me. He is a very dear brother, and a trustworthy helper and companion in the service of the Lord.

Col 4:8 I am sending him to you precisely for this purpose: to give you news about us and to encourage you thoroughly.

Col 4:9 With him I am sending Onesimus, that dear and trustworthy brother who is a fellow-citizen of yours. They will tell you everything that is happening here.

Col 4:10 Aristarchus, who is here in prison with me, sends his greetings, and so does Mark, the cousin of Barnabas -- you were sent some instructions about him; if he comes to you, give him a warm welcome-

Col 4:11 and Jesus Justus adds his greetings. Of all those who have come over from the circumcision, these are the only ones actually working with me for the kingdom of God. They have been a great comfort to me.

Col 4:12 Epaphras, your fellow-citizen, sends his greetings; this servant of Christ Jesus never stops battling for you, praying that you will never lapse but always hold perfectly and securely to the will of God.

Col 4:13 I can testify for him that he works hard for you, as well as for those at Laodicea and Hierapolis.

Col 4:14 Greetings from my dear friend Luke, the doctor, and also from Demas.

Col 4:15 Please give my greetings to the brothers at Laodicea and to Nympha and the church which meets in her house.

Col 4:16 After this letter has been read among you, send it on to be read in the church of the Laodiceans; and get the letter from Laodicea for you to read yourselves.

Col 4:17 Give Archippus this message, 'Remember the service that the Lord assigned to you, and try to carry it out.'

Col 4:18 This greeting is in my own hand-PAUL. Remember the chains I wear. Grace be with you.

1Th 1:1 Paul, Silvanus and Timothy, to the Church in Thessalonica which is in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. Grace to you and peace.

1Th 1:2 We always thank God for you all, mentioning you in our prayers continually.

1Th 1:3 We remember before our God and Father how active is the faith, how unsparing the love, how persevering the hope which you have from our Lord Jesus Christ.

1Th 1:4 We know, brothers loved by God, that you have been chosen,

1Th 1:5 because our gospel came to you not only in words, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with great effect. And you observed the sort of life we lived when we were with you, which was for your sake.

1Th 1:6 You took us and the Lord as your model, welcoming the word with the joy of the Holy Spirit in spite of great hardship.

1Th 1:7 And so you became an example to all believers in Macedonia and Achaia

1Th 1:8 since it was from you that the word of the Lord rang out -- and not only throughout Macedonia and Achaia, for your faith in God has spread everywhere. We do not need to tell other people about it:

1Th 1:9 other people tell us how we started the work among you, how you broke with the worship of false gods when you were converted to God and became servants of the living and true God;

1Th 1:10 and how you are now waiting for Jesus, his Son, whom he raised from the dead, to come from heaven. It is he who saves us from the Retribution which is coming.

1Th 2:1 You know yourselves, my brothers, that our visit to you has not been pointless.

1Th 2:2 Although, as you know, we had received rough treatment and insults at Philippi, God gave us the courage to speak his gospel to you fearlessly, in spite of great opposition.

1Th 2:3 Our encouragement to you does not come from any delusion or impure motives or trickery.

1Th 2:4 No, God has approved us to be entrusted with the gospel, and this is how we preach, seeking to please not human beings but God who tests our hearts.

1Th 2:5 Indeed, we have never acted with the thought of flattering anyone, as you know, nor as an excuse for greed, God is our witness;

1Th 2:6 nor have we ever looked for honour from human beings, either from you or anybody else,

1Th 2:7 when we could have imposed ourselves on you with full weight, as apostles of Christ. Instead, we lived unassumingly among you. Like a mother feeding and looking after her children, 1Th 2:8 we felt so devoted to you, that we would have been happy to share with you not only the gospel of God, but also our own lives, so dear had you become.

1Th 2:9 You remember, brothers, with what unsparing energy we used to work, slaving night and day so as not to be a burden on any one of you while we were proclaiming the gospel of God to you.

1Th 2:10 You are witnesses, and so is God, that our treatment of you, since you believed, has been impeccably fair and upright.

1Th 2:11 As you know, we treated every one of you as a father treats his children,

1Th 2:12 urging you, encouraging you and appealing to you to live a life worthy of God, who calls you into his kingdom and his glory.

1Th 2:13 Another reason why we continually thank God for you is that as soon as you heard the word that we brought you as God's message, you welcomed it for what it really is, not the word of any human being, but God's word, a power that is working among you believers.

1Th 2:14 For you, my brothers, have modelled yourselves on the churches of God in Christ Jesus which are in Judaea, in that you have suffered the same treatment from your own countrymen as they have had from the Jews,

1Th 2:15 who put the Lord Jesus to death, and the prophets too, and persecuted us also. Their conduct does not please God, and makes them the enemies of the whole human race,

1Th 2:16 because they are hindering us from preaching to gentiles to save them. Thus all the time they are reaching the full extent of their iniquity, but retribution has finally overtaken them.

1Th 2:17 Although we had been deprived of you for only a short time in body but never in affection, brothers, we had an especially strong desire and longing to see you face to face again,

1Th 2:18 and we tried hard to come and visit you; I, Paul, tried more than once, but Satan prevented us.

1Th 2:19 What do you think is our hope and our joy, and what our crown of honour in the presence of our Lord Jesus when he comes?

1Th 2:20 You are, for you are our pride and joy.

1Th 3:1 When we could not bear it any longer, we decided it would be best to be left without a companion at Athens,

1Th 3:2 and sent our brother Timothy, who is God's helper in spreading the gospel of Christ, to keep you firm and encourage you about your faith

1Th 3:3 and prevent any of you from being unsettled by the present hardships. As you know, these are bound to come our way:

1Th 3:4 indeed, when we were with you, we warned you that we are certain to have hardships to bear, and that is what has happened now, as you have found out.

1Th 3:5 That is why, when I could not bear it any longer, I sent to assure myself of your faith: I was afraid the Tester might have put you to the test, and all our work might have been pointless.

1Th 3:6 However, Timothy has returned from you and has given us good news of your faith and your love, telling us that you always remember us with pleasure and want to see us quite as much as we want to see you.

1Th 3:7 And so, brothers, your faith has been a great encouragement to us in the middle of our own distress and hardship;

1Th 3:8 now we can breathe again, as you are holding firm in the Lord.

1Th 3:9 How can we thank God enough for you, for all the joy we feel before our God on your account?

1Th 3:10 We are earnestly praying night and day to be able to see you face to face again and make up any shortcomings in your faith.

1Th 3:11 May God our Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, ease our path to you.

1Th 3:12 May the Lord increase and enrich your love for each other and for all, so that it matches ours for you.

1Th 3:13 And may he so confirm your hearts in holiness that you may be blameless in the sight of our God and Father when our Lord Jesus comes with all his holy ones.

1Th 4:1 Finally, brothers, we urge you and appeal to you in the Lord Jesus; we instructed you how to live in the way that pleases God, and you are so living; but make more progress still.

1Th 4:2 You are well aware of the instructions we gave you on the authority of the Lord Jesus.

1Th 4:3 God wills you all to be holy. He wants you to keep away from sexual immorality,

1Th 4:4 and each one of you to know how to control his body in a way that is holy and honourable,

1Th 4:5 not giving way to selfish lust like the nations who do not acknowledge God.

1Th 4:6 He wants nobody at all ever to sin by taking advantage of a brother in these matters; the Lord always pays back sins of that sort, as we told you before emphatically.

1Th 4:7 God called us to be holy, not to be immoral;

1Th 4:8 in other words, anyone who rejects this is rejecting not human authority, but God, who gives you his Holy Spirit.

1Th 4:9 As for brotherly love, there is no need to write to you about that, since you have yourselves learnt from God to love one another,

1Th 4:10 and in fact this is how you treat all the brothers throughout the whole of Macedonia. However, we do urge you, brothers, to go on making even greater progress

1Th 4:11 and to make a point of living quietly, attending to your own business and earning your living, just as we told you to,

1Th 4:12 so that you may earn the respect of outsiders and not be dependent on anyone.

1Th 4:13 We want you to be quite certain, brothers, about those who have fallen asleep, to make sure that you do not grieve for them, as others do who have no hope.

1Th 4:14 We believe that Jesus died and rose again, and that in the same way God will bring with him those who have fallen asleep in Jesus.

1Th 4:15 We can tell you this from the Lord's own teaching, that we who are still alive for the Lord's coming will not have any advantage over those who have fallen asleep.

1Th 4:16 At the signal given by the voice of the Archangel and the trumpet of God, the Lord himself will come down from heaven; those who have died in Christ will be the first to rise, 1Th 4:17 and only after that shall we who remain alive be taken up in the clouds, together with them, to meet the Lord in the air. This is the way we shall be with the Lord for ever.

1Th 4:18 With such thoughts as these, then, you should encourage one another.

1Th 5:1 About times and dates, brothers, there is no need to write to you

1Th 5:2 for you are well aware in any case that the Day of the Lord is going to come like a thief in the night.

1Th 5:3 It is when people are saying, 'How quiet and peaceful it is' that sudden destruction falls on them, as suddenly as labour pains come on a pregnant woman; and there is no escape.

1Th 5:4 But you, brothers, do not live in the dark, that the Day should take you unawares like a thief.

1Th 5:5 No, you are all children of light and children of the day: we do not belong to the night or to darkness,

1Th 5:6 so we should not go on sleeping, as everyone else does, but stay wide awake and sober.

1Th 5:7 Night is the time for sleepers to sleep and night the time for drunkards to be drunk,

1Th 5:8 but we belong to the day and we should be sober; let us put on faith and love for a breastplate, and the hope of salvation for a helmet.

1Th 5:9 God destined us not for his retribution, but to win salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, 1Th 5:10 who died for us so that, awake or asleep, we should still live united to him.

1Th 5:11 So give encouragement to each other, and keep strengthening one another, as you do already.

1Th 5:12 We appeal to you, my brothers, to be considerate to those who work so hard among you as your leaders in the Lord and those who admonish you.

1Th 5:13 Have the greatest respect and affection for them because of their work. Be at peace among yourselves.

1Th 5:14 We urge you, brothers, to admonish those who are undisciplined, encourage the apprehensive, support the weak and be patient with everyone.

1Th 5:15 Make sure that people do not try to repay evil for evil; always aim at what is best for each other and for everyone.

1Th 5:16 Always be joyful;

1Th 5:17 pray constantly;

1Th 5:18 and for all things give thanks; this is the will of God for you in Christ Jesus.

1Th 5:19 Do not stifle the Spirit

1Th 5:20 or despise the gift of prophecy with contempt;

1Th 5:21 test everything and hold on to what is good

1Th 5:22 and shun every form of evil.

1Th 5:23 May the God of peace make you perfect and holy; and may your spirit, life and body be kept blameless for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

1Th 5:24 He who has called you is trustworthy and will carry it out.

1Th 5:25 Pray for us, my brothers.

1Th 5:26 Greet all the brothers with a holy kiss.

1Th 5:27 My orders, in the Lord's name, are that this letter is to be read to all the brothers.

1Th 5:28 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

2Th 1:1 Paul, Silvanus and Timothy, to the Church in Thessalonica which is in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ

2Th 1:2 Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2Th 1:3 We must always thank God for you, brothers; quite rightly, because your faith is growing so wonderfully and the mutual love that each one of you has for all never stops increasing.

2Th 1:4 Among the churches of God we take special pride in you for your perseverance and faith under all the persecutions and hardships you have to bear.

2Th 1:5 It all shows that God's judgement is just, so that you may be found worthy of the kingdom of God; it is for the sake of this that you are suffering now.

2Th 1:6 For God's justice will surely mean hardship being inflicted on those who are now inflicting hardship on you,

2Th 1:7 and for you who are now suffering hardship, relief with us, when the Lord Jesus appears from heaven with the angels of his power.

2Th 1:8 He will come amid flaming fire; he will impose a penalty on those who do not acknowledge God and refuse to accept the gospel of our Lord Jesus.

2Th 1:9 Their punishment is to be lost eternally, excluded from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his strength

2Th 1:10 on that day when he comes to be glorified among his holy ones and marvelled at by all who believe in him; and you are among those who believed our witness.

2Th 1:11 In view of this we also pray continually that our God will make you worthy of his call, and by his power fulfil all your desires for goodness, and complete all that you have been doing through faith;

2Th 1:12 so that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you and you in him, by the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2Th 2:1 About the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, brothers, and our being gathered to him:

2Th 2:2 please do not be too easily thrown into confusion or alarmed by any manifestation of the Spirit or any statement or any letter claiming to come from us, suggesting that the Day of the Lord has already arrived.

2Th 2:3 Never let anyone deceive you in any way. It cannot happen until the Great Revolt has taken place and there has appeared the wicked One, the lost One,

2Th 2:4 the Enemy, who raises himself above every so-called God or object of worship to enthroned himself in God's sanctuary and flaunts the claim that he is God.

2Th 2:5 Surely you remember my telling you about this when I was with you?

2Th 2:6 And you know, too, what is still holding him back from appearing before his appointed time.

2Th 2:7 The mystery of wickedness is already at work, but let him who is restraining it once be removed,

2Th 2:8 and the wicked One will appear openly. The Lord will destroy him with the breath of his mouth and will annihilate him with his glorious appearance at his coming.

2Th 2:9 But the coming of the wicked One will be marked by Satan being at work in all kinds of counterfeit miracles and signs and wonders,

2Th 2:10 and every wicked deception aimed at those who are on the way to destruction because they would not accept the love of the truth and so be saved.

2Th 2:11 And therefore God sends on them a power that deludes people so that they believe what is false, 2Th 2:12 and so that those who do not believe the truth and take their pleasure in wickedness may all be condemned.

2Th 2:13 But we must always thank God for you, brothers whom the Lord loves, because God chose you from the beginning to be saved by the Spirit who makes us holy and by faith in the truth.

2Th 2:14 Through our gospel he called you to this so that you should claim as your own the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

2Th 2:15 Stand firm, then, brothers, and keep the traditions that we taught you, whether by word of mouth or by letter.

2Th 2:16 May our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father who has given us his love and, through his grace, such ceaseless encouragement and such sure hope, 2Th 2:17 encourage you and strengthen you in every good word and deed.

2Th 3:1 Finally, brothers, pray for us that the Lord's message may spread quickly, and be received with honour as it was among you;

2Th 3:2 and pray that we may be preserved from bigoted and evil people, for not everyone has faith.

2Th 3:3 You can rely on the Lord, who will give you strength and guard you from the evil One,

2Th 3:4 and we, in the Lord, have every confidence in you, that you are doing and will go on doing all that we tell you.

2Th 3:5 May the Lord turn your hearts towards the love of God and the perseverance of Christ.

2Th 3:6 In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, we urge you, brothers, to keep away from any of the brothers who lives an undisciplined life, not in accordance with the tradition you received from us.

2Th 3:7 You know how you should take us as your model: we were not undisciplined when we were with you,

2Th 3:8 nor did we ever accept food from anyone without paying for it; no, we worked with unsparing energy, night and day, so as not to be a burden on any of you.

2Th 3:9 This was not because we had no right to be, but in order to make ourselves a model for you to imitate.

2Th 3:10 We urged you when we were with you not to let anyone eat who refused to work.

2Th 3:11 Now we hear that there are some of you who are living lives without any discipline, doing no work themselves but interfering with other people's.

2Th 3:12 In the Lord Jesus Christ, we urge and call on people of this kind to go on quietly working and earning the food that they eat.

2Th 3:13 My brothers, never slacken in doing what is right.

2Th 3:14 If anyone refuses to obey what I have written in this letter, take note of him and have nothing to do with him, so that he will be ashamed of himself,

2Th 3:15 though you are not to treat him as an enemy, but to correct him as a brother.

2Th 3:16 May the Lord of peace himself give you peace at all times and in every way. The Lord be with you all.

2Th 3:17 This greeting is in my own hand-PAUL. It is the mark of genuineness in every letter; this is my own writing.

2Th 3:18 May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

1Ti 1:1 Paul, apostle of Christ Jesus appointed by the command of God our Saviour and of Christ Jesus our hope, 1Ti 1:2 to Timothy, true child of mine in the faith. Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and from Christ Jesus our Lord.

1Ti 1:3 When I was setting out for Macedonia I urged you to stay on in Ephesus to instruct certain people not to spread wrong teaching

1Ti 1:4 or to give attention to myths and unending genealogies; these things only foster doubts instead of furthering God's plan which is founded on faith.

1Ti 1:5 The final goal at which this instruction aims is love, issuing from a pure heart, a clear conscience and a sincere faith.

1Ti 1:6 Some people have missed the way to these things and turned to empty speculation,

1Ti 1:7 trying to be teachers of the Law; but they understand neither the words they use nor the matters about which they make such strong assertions.

1Ti 1:8 We are well aware that the Law is good, but only provided it is used legitimately,

1Ti 1:9 on the understanding that laws are not framed for people who are upright. On the contrary, they are for criminals and the insubordinate, for the irreligious and the wicked, for the sacrilegious and the godless; they are for people who kill their fathers or mothers and for murderers,

1Ti 1:10 for the promiscuous, homosexuals, kidnappers, for liars and for perjurors -- and for everything else that is contrary to the sound teaching

1Ti 1:11 that accords with the gospel of the glory of the blessed God, the gospel that was entrusted to me.

1Ti 1:12 I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who has given me strength. By calling me into his service he has judged me trustworthy,

1Ti 1:13 even though I used to be a blasphemer and a persecutor and contemptuous. Mercy, however, was shown me, because while I lacked faith I acted in ignorance;

1Ti 1:14 but the grace of our Lord filled me with faith and with the love that is in Christ Jesus.

1Ti 1:15 Here is a saying that you can rely on and nobody should doubt: that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners. I myself am the greatest of them;

1Ti 1:16 and if mercy has been shown to me, it is because Jesus Christ meant to make me the leading example of his inexhaustible patience for all the other people who were later to trust in him for eternal life.

1Ti 1:17 To the eternal King, the undying, invisible and only God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

1Ti 1:18 Timothy, my son, these are the instructions that I am giving you, in accordance with the words once spoken over you by the prophets, so that in their light you may fight like a good soldier

1Ti 1:19 with faith and a good conscience for your weapons. Some people have put conscience aside and wrecked their faith in consequence.

1Ti 1:20 I mean men like Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have handed over to Satan so that they may learn not to be blasphemous.

1Ti 2:1 I urge then, first of all that petitions, prayers, intercessions and thanksgiving should be offered for everyone,

1Ti 2:2 for kings and others in authority, so that we may be able to live peaceful and quiet lives with all devotion and propriety.

1Ti 2:3 To do this is right, and acceptable to God our Saviour:

1Ti 2:4 he wants everyone to be saved and reach full knowledge of the truth.

1Ti 2:5 For there is only one God, and there is only one mediator between God and humanity, himself a human being, Christ Jesus,

1Ti 2:6 who offered himself as a ransom for all. This was the witness given at the appointed time,

1Ti 2:7 of which I was appointed herald and apostle and -- I am telling the truth and no lie -- a teacher of the gentiles in faith and truth.

1Ti 2:8 In every place, then, I want the men to lift their hands up reverently in prayer, with no anger or argument.

1Ti 2:9 Similarly, women are to wear suitable clothes and to be dressed quietly and modestly, without braided hair or gold and jewellery or expensive clothes;

1Ti 2:10 their adornment is to do the good works that are proper for women who claim to be religious.

1Ti 2:11 During instruction, a woman should be quiet and respectful.

1Ti 2:12 I give no permission for a woman to teach or to have authority over a man. A woman ought to be quiet,

1Ti 2:13 because Adam was formed first and Eve afterwards,

1Ti 2:14 and it was not Adam who was led astray but the woman who was led astray and fell into sin.

1Ti 2:15 Nevertheless, she will be saved by child-bearing, provided she lives a sensible life and is constant in faith and love and holiness.

1Ti 3:1 Here is a saying that you can rely on: to want to be a presiding elder is to desire a noble task.

1Ti 3:2 That is why the presiding elder must have an impeccable character. Husband of one wife, he must be temperate, discreet and courteous, hospitable and a good teacher;

1Ti 3:3 not a heavy drinker, nor hot-tempered, but gentle and peaceable, not avaricious,

1Ti 3:4 a man who manages his own household well and brings his children up to obey him and be well-behaved:

1Ti 3:5 how can any man who does not understand how to manage his own household take care of the Church of God?

1Ti 3:6 He should not be a new convert, in case pride should turn his head and he incur the same condemnation as the devil.

1Ti 3:7 It is also necessary that he be held in good repute by outsiders, so that he never falls into disrepute and into the devil's trap.

1Ti 3:8 Similarly, deacons must be respectable, not double-tongued, moderate in the amount of wine they drink and with no squalid greed for money.

1Ti 3:9 They must hold to the mystery of the faith with a clear conscience.

1Ti 3:10 They are first to be examined, and admitted to serve as deacons only if there is nothing against them.

1Ti 3:11 Similarly, women must be respectable, not gossips, but sober and wholly reliable.

1Ti 3:12 Deacons must be husbands of one wife and must be people who manage their children and households well.

1Ti 3:13 Those of them who carry out their duties well as deacons will earn a high standing for themselves and an authoritative voice in matters concerning faith in Christ Jesus.

1Ti 3:14 I write this to you in the hope that I may be able to come to you soon;

1Ti 3:15 but in case I should be delayed, I want you to know how people ought to behave in God's household -- that is, in the Church of the living God, pillar and support of the truth.

1Ti 3:16 Without any doubt, the mystery of our religion is very deep indeed: He was made visible in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen by angels, proclaimed to the gentiles, believed in throughout the world, taken up in glory.

1Ti 4:1 The Spirit has explicitly said that during the last times some will desert the faith and pay attention to deceitful spirits and doctrines that come from devils,

1Ti 4:2 seduced by the hypocrisy of liars whose consciences are branded as though with a red-hot iron:

1Ti 4:3 they forbid marriage and prohibit foods which God created to be accepted with thanksgiving by all who believe and who know the truth.

1Ti 4:4 Everything God has created is good, and no food is to be rejected, provided it is received with thanksgiving:

1Ti 4:5 the word of God and prayer make it holy.

1Ti 4:6 If you put all this to the brothers, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus and show that you have really digested the teaching of the faith and the good doctrine which you have always followed.

1Ti 4:7 Have nothing to do with godless myths and old wives' tales. Train yourself for religion.

1Ti 4:8 Physical exercise is useful enough, but the usefulness of religion is unlimited, since it holds out promise both for life here and now and for the life to come;

1Ti 4:9 that is a saying that you can rely on and nobody should doubt it.

1Ti 4:10 I mean that the point of all our toiling and battling is that we have put our trust in the living God and he is the Saviour of the whole human race but particularly of all believers.

1Ti 4:11 This is what you are to instruct and teach.

1Ti 4:12 Let no one disregard you because you are young, but be an example to all the believers in the way you speak and behave, and in your love, your faith and your purity.

1Ti 4:13 Until I arrive, devote yourself to reading to the people, encouraging and teaching.

1Ti 4:14 You have in you a spiritual gift which was given to you when the prophets spoke and the body of elders laid their hands on you; do not neglect it.

1Ti 4:15 Let this be your care and your occupation, and everyone will be able to see your progress.

1Ti 4:16 Be conscientious about what you do and what you teach; persevere in this, and in this way you will save both yourself and those who listen to you.

1Ti 5:1 Never speak sharply to a man older than yourself, but appeal to him as you would to your own father; treat younger men as brothers, 1Ti 5:2 older women as mothers and young women as sisters with all propriety.

1Ti 5:3 Be considerate to widows -- if they really are widowed.

1Ti 5:4 If a widow has children or grandchildren, they are to learn first of all to do their duty to their own families and repay their debt to their parents, because this is what pleases God.

1Ti 5:5 But a woman who is really widowed and left on her own has set her hope on God and perseveres night and day in petitions and prayer.

1Ti 5:6 The one who thinks only of pleasure is already dead while she is still alive:

1Ti 5:7 instruct them in this, too, so that their lives may be blameless.

1Ti 5:8 Anyone who does not look after his own relations, especially if they are living with him, has rejected the faith and is worse than an unbeliever.

1Ti 5:9 Enrolment as a widow is permissible only for a woman at least sixty years old who has had only one husband.

1Ti 5:10 She must be a woman known for her good works -- whether she has brought up her children, been hospitable to strangers and washed the feet of God's holy people, helped people in hardship or been active in all kinds of good work.

1Ti 5:11 Do not accept young widows because if their natural desires distract them from Christ, they want to marry again, 1Ti 5:12 and then people condemn them for being unfaithful to their original promise.

1Ti 5:13 Besides, they learn how to be idle and go round from house to house; and then, not merely idle, they learn to be gossips and meddlers in other people's affairs and to say what should remain unsaid.

1Ti 5:14 I think it is best for young widows to marry again and have children and a household to look after, and not give the enemy any chance to raise a scandal about them;

1Ti 5:15 there are already some who have turned aside to follow Satan.

1Ti 5:16 If a woman believer has widowed relatives, she should support them and not make the Church bear the expense but enable it to support those who are really widowed.

1Ti 5:17 Elders who do their work well while they are in charge earn double reward, especially those who work hard at preaching and teaching.

1Ti 5:18 As scripture says: You must not muzzle an ox when it is treading out the corn; and again: The worker deserves his wages.

1Ti 5:19 Never accept any accusation brought against an elder unless it is supported by two or three witnesses.

1Ti 5:20 If anyone is at fault, reprimand him publicly, as a warning to the rest.

1Ti 5:21 Before God, and before Jesus Christ and the angels he has chosen, I charge you to keep these rules impartially and never to be influenced by favouritism.

1Ti 5:22 Do not be too quick to lay hands on anyone, and never make yourself an accomplice in anybody else's sin; keep yourself pure.

1Ti 5:23 You should give up drinking only water and have a little wine for the sake of your digestion and the frequent bouts of illness that you have.

1Ti 5:24 The faults of some people are obvious long before they come to the reckoning, while others have faults that are not discovered until later.

1Ti 5:25 Similarly, the good that people do can be obvious; but even when it is not, it cannot remain hidden.

1Ti 6:1 All those under the yoke of slavery must have unqualified respect for their masters, so that the name of God and our teaching are not brought into disrepute.

1Ti 6:2 Those whose masters are believers are not to respect them less because they are brothers; on the contrary, they should serve them all the better, since those who have the benefit of their services are believers and dear to God. This is what you are to teach and urge.

1Ti 6:3 Anyone who teaches anything different and does not keep to the sound teaching which is that of our Lord Jesus Christ, the doctrine which is in accordance with true religion,

1Ti 6:4 is proud and has no understanding, but rather a weakness for questioning everything and arguing about words. All that can come of this is jealousy, contention, abuse and evil mistrust;

1Ti 6:5 and unending disputes by people who are depraved in mind and deprived of truth, and imagine that religion is a way of making a profit.

1Ti 6:6 Religion, of course, does bring large profits, but only to those who are content with what they have.

1Ti 6:7 We brought nothing into the world, and we can take nothing out of it;

1Ti 6:8 but as long as we have food and clothing, we shall be content with that.

1Ti 6:9 People who long to be rich are a prey to trial; they get trapped into all sorts of foolish and harmful ambitions which plunge people into ruin and destruction.

1Ti 6:10 'The love of money is the root of all evils' and there are some who, pursuing it, have wandered away from the faith and so given their souls any number of fatal wounds.

1Ti 6:11 But, as someone dedicated to God, avoid all that. You must aim to be upright and religious, filled with faith and love, perseverance and gentleness.

1Ti 6:12 Fight the good fight of faith and win the eternal life to which you were called and for which you made your noble profession of faith before many witnesses.

1Ti 6:13 Now, before God, the source of all life, and before Jesus Christ, who witnessed to his noble profession of faith before Pontius Pilate, I charge you

1Ti 6:14 to do all that you have been told, with no faults or failures, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ,

1Ti 6:15 who at the due time will be revealed by God, the blessed and only Ruler of all, the King of kings and the Lord of lords, 1Ti 6:16 who alone is immortal, whose home is in inaccessible light, whom no human being has seen or is able to see: to him be honour and everlasting power. Amen.

1Ti 6:17 Instruct those who are rich in this world's goods that they should not be proud and should set their hopes not on money, which is untrustworthy, but on God who gives us richly all that we need for our happiness.

1Ti 6:18 They are to do good and be rich in good works, generous in giving and always ready to share-

1Ti 6:19 this is the way they can amass a good capital sum for the future if they want to possess the only life that is real.

1Ti 6:20 My dear Timothy, take great care of all that has been entrusted to you. Turn away from godless philosophical discussions and the contradictions of the 'knowledge' which is not knowledge at all;

1Ti 6:21 by adopting this, some have missed the goal of faith. Grace be with you.

2Ti 1:1 From Paul, apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God in accordance with his promise of life in Christ Jesus, 2Ti 1:2 to Timothy, dear son of mine. Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and from Christ Jesus our Lord.

2Ti 1:3 Night and day I thank God whom I serve with a pure conscience as my ancestors did. I remember you in my prayers constantly night and day;

2Ti 1:4 I remember your tears and long to see you again to complete my joy.

2Ti 1:5 I also remember your sincere faith, a faith which first dwelt in your grandmother Lois, and your mother Eunice, and I am sure dwells also in you.

2Ti 1:6 That is why I am reminding you now to fan into a flame the gift of God that you possess through the laying on of my hands.

2Ti 1:7 God did not give us a spirit of timidity, but the Spirit of power and love and self-control.

2Ti 1:8 So you are never to be ashamed of witnessing to our Lord, or ashamed of me for being his prisoner; but share in my hardships for the sake of the gospel, relying on the power of God

2Ti 1:9 who has saved us and called us to be holy -- not because of anything we ourselves had done but for his own purpose and by his own grace. This grace had already been granted to us, in Christ Jesus, before the beginning of time,

2Ti 1:10 but it has been revealed only by the appearing of our Saviour Christ Jesus. He has abolished death, and he has brought to light immortality and life through the gospel, 2Ti 1:11 in whose service I have been made herald, apostle and teacher.

2Ti 1:12 That is why I am experiencing my present sufferings; but I am not ashamed, because I know in whom I have put my trust, and I have no doubt at all that he is able to safeguard until that Day what I have entrusted to him.

2Ti 1:13 Keep as your pattern the sound teaching you have heard from me, in the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus.

2Ti 1:14 With the help of the Holy Spirit who dwells in us, look after that precious thing given in trust.

2Ti 1:15 As you know, Phygelus and Hermogenes and all the others in Asia have deserted me.

2Ti 1:16 I hope the Lord will be kind to all the family of Onesiphorus, because he has often been a comfort to me and has never been ashamed of my chains.

2Ti 1:17 On the contrary, as soon as he reached Rome, he searched hard for me and found me.

2Ti 1:18 May the Lord grant him to find the Lord's mercy on that Day. You know better than anyone else how much he helped me at Ephesus.

2Ti 2:1 As for you, my dear son, take strength from the grace which is in Christ Jesus.

2Ti 2:2 Pass on to reliable people what you have heard from me through many witnesses so that they in turn will be able to teach others.

2Ti 2:3 Bear with your share of difficulties, like a good soldier of Christ Jesus.

2Ti 2:4 No one on active service involves himself in the affairs of civilian life, because he must win the approval of the man who enlisted him;

2Ti 2:5 or again someone who enters an athletic contest wins only by competing in the sports -- a prize can be won only by competing according to the rules;

2Ti 2:6 and again, it is the farmer who works hard that has the first claim on any crop that is harvested.

2Ti 2:7 Think over what I have said, and the Lord will give you full understanding.

2Ti 2:8 Remember the gospel that I carry, 'Jesus Christ risen from the dead, sprung from the race of David';

2Ti 2:9 it is on account of this that I have to put up with suffering, even to being chained like a criminal. But God's message cannot be chained up.

2Ti 2:10 So I persevere for the sake of those who are chosen, so that they, too, may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

2Ti 2:11 Here is a saying that you can rely on: If we have died with him, then we shall live with him.

2Ti 2:12 If we persevere, then we shall reign with him. If we disown him, then he will disown us.

2Ti 2:13 If we are faithless, he is faithful still, for he cannot disown his own self.

2Ti 2:14 Remind them of this; and tell them in the name of God that there must be no wrangling about words: all that this ever achieves is the destruction of those who are listening.

2Ti 2:15 Make every effort to present yourself before God as a proven worker who has no need to be ashamed, but who keeps the message of truth on a straight path.

2Ti 2:16 Have nothing to do with godless philosophical discussions -- they only lead further and further away from true religion.

2Ti 2:17 Talk of this kind spreads corruption like gangrene, as in the case of Hymenaeus and Philetus, 2Ti 2:18 the men who have gone astray from the truth, claiming that the resurrection has already taken place. They are upsetting some people's faith.

2Ti 2:19 However, God's solid foundation-stone stands firm, and this is the seal on it: 'The Lord knows those who are his own' and 'All who call on the name of the Lord must avoid evil.'

2Ti 2:20 Not all the dishes in a large house are made of gold and silver; some are made of wood or earthenware: the former are held in honour, the latter held cheap.

2Ti 2:21 If someone holds himself aloof from these faults I speak of, he will be a vessel held in honour, dedicated and fit for the Master, ready for any good work.

2Ti 2:22 Turn away from the passions of youth, concentrate on uprightness, faith, love and peace, in union with all those who call on the Lord with a pure heart.

2Ti 2:23 Avoid these foolish and undisciplined speculations, understanding that they only give rise to quarrels;

2Ti 2:24 and a servant of the Lord must not engage in quarrels, but must be kind to everyone, a good teacher, and patient.

2Ti 2:25 He must be gentle when he corrects people who oppose him, in the hope that God may give them a change of mind so that they recognise the truth

2Ti 2:26 and come to their senses, escaping the trap of the devil who made them his captives and subjected them to his will.

2Ti 3:1 You may be quite sure that in the last days there will be some difficult times.

2Ti 3:2 People will be self-centred and avaricious, boastful, arrogant and rude; disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, irreligious;

2Ti 3:3 heartless and intractable; they will be slanderers, profligates, savages and enemies of everything that is good;

2Ti 3:4 they will be treacherous and reckless and demented by pride, preferring their own pleasure to God.

2Ti 3:5 They will keep up the outward appearance of religion but will have rejected the inner power of it. Keep away from people like that.

2Ti 3:6 Of the same kind, too, are those men who insinuate themselves into families in order to get influence over silly women who are obsessed with their sins and follow one craze after another,

2Ti 3:7 always seeking learning, but unable ever to come to knowledge of the truth.

2Ti 3:8 Just as Jannes and Jambres defied Moses, so these men defy the truth, their minds corrupt and their faith spurious.

2Ti 3:9 But they will not be able to go on much longer: their folly, like that of the other two, must become obvious to everybody.

2Ti 3:10 You, though, have followed my teaching, my way of life, my aims, my faith, my patience and my love, my perseverance

2Ti 3:11 and the persecutions and sufferings that came to me in places like Antioch, Iconium and Lystra -- all the persecutions I have endured; and the Lord has rescued me from every one of them.

2Ti 3:12 But anybody who tries to live in devotion to Christ is certain to be persecuted;

2Ti 3:13 while these wicked impostors will go from bad to worse, deceiving others, and themselves deceived.

2Ti 3:14 You must keep to what you have been taught and know to be true; remember who your teachers were,

2Ti 3:15 and how, ever since you were a child, you have known the holy scriptures -from these you can learn the wisdom that leads to salvation through faith in Christ Jesus.

2Ti 3:16 All scripture is inspired by God and useful for refuting error, for guiding people's lives and teaching them to be upright.

2Ti 3:17 This is how someone who is dedicated to God becomes fully equipped and ready for any good work.

2Ti 4:1 Before God and before Christ Jesus who is to be judge of the living and the dead, I charge you, in the name of his appearing and of his kingdom:

2Ti 4:2 proclaim the message and, welcome or unwelcome, insist on it. Refute falsehood, correct error, give encouragement -- but do all with patience and with care to instruct.

2Ti 4:3 The time is sure to come when people will not accept sound teaching, but their ears will be itching for anything new and they will collect themselves a whole series of teachers according to their own tastes;

2Ti 4:4 and then they will shut their ears to the truth and will turn to myths.

2Ti 4:5 But you must keep steady all the time; put up with suffering; do the work of preaching the gospel; fulfil the service asked of you.

2Ti 4:6 As for me, my life is already being poured away as a libation, and the time has come for me to depart.

2Ti 4:7 I have fought the good fight to the end; I have run the race to the finish; I have kept the faith;

2Ti 4:8 all there is to come for me now is the crown of uprightness which the Lord, the upright judge, will give to me on that Day; and not only to me but to all those who have longed for his appearing.

2Ti 4:9 Make every effort to come and see me as soon as you can.

2Ti 4:10 As it is, Demas has deserted me for love of this life and gone to Thessalonica, Crescens has gone to Galatia and Titus to Dalmatia;

2Ti 4:11 only Luke is with me. Bring Mark with you; I find him a useful helper in my work.

2Ti 4:12 I have sent Tychicus to Ephesus.

2Ti 4:13 When you come, bring the cloak I left with Carpus in Troas, and the scrolls, especially the parchment ones.

2Ti 4:14 Alexander the coppersmith has done me a lot of harm; the Lord will repay him as his deeds deserve.

2Ti 4:15 Be on your guard against him yourself, because he has been bitterly contesting everything that we say.

2Ti 4:16 The first time I had to present my defence, no one came into court to support me. Every one of them deserted me -- may they not be held accountable for it.

2Ti 4:17 But the Lord stood by me and gave me power, so that through me the message might be fully proclaimed for all the gentiles to hear; and so I was saved from the lion's mouth.

2Ti 4:18 The Lord will rescue me from all evil attempts on me, and bring me safely to his heavenly kingdom. To him be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

2Ti 4:19 Greetings to Prisca and Aquila, and the family of Onesiphorus.

2Ti 4:20 Erastus stayed behind at Corinth, and I left Trophimus ill at Miletus.

2Ti 4:21 Make every effort to come before the winter. Greetings to you from Eubulus, Pudens, Linus, Claudia and all the brothers.

2Ti 4:22 The Lord be with your spirit. Grace be with you.

Tit 1:1 From Paul, servant of God, an apostle of Jesus Christ to bring those whom God has chosen to faith and to the knowledge of the truth that leads to true religion,

Tit 1:2 and to give them the hope of the eternal life that was promised so long ago by God. He does not lie

Tit 1:3 and so, in due time, he made known his message by a proclamation which was entrusted to me by the command of God our Saviour.

Tit 1:4 To Titus, true child of mine in the faith that we share. Grace and peace from God the Father and from Christ Jesus our Saviour.

Tit 1:5 The reason I left you behind in Crete was for you to organise everything that still had to be done and appoint elders in every town, in the way that I told you,

Tit 1:6 that is, each of them must be a man of irreproachable character, husband of one wife, and his children must be believers and not liable to be charged with disorderly conduct or insubordination.

Tit 1:7 The presiding elder has to be irreproachable since he is God's representative: never arrogant or hot-tempered, nor a heavy drinker or violent, nor avaricious;

Tit 1:8 but hospitable and a lover of goodness; sensible, upright, devout and self-controlled;

Tit 1:9 and he must have a firm grasp of the unchanging message of the tradition, so that he can be counted on both for giving encouragement in sound doctrine and for refuting those who argue against it.

Tit 1:10 And in fact there are many people who are insubordinate, who talk nonsense and try to make others believe it, particularly among those of the circumcision.

Tit 1:11 They must be silenced: people of this kind upset whole families, by teaching things that they ought not to, and doing it for the sake of sordid gain.

Tit 1:12 It was one of themselves, one of their own prophets, who said, 'Cretans were never anything but liars, dangerous animals, all greed and laziness';

Tit 1:13 and that is a true statement. So be severe in correcting them, and make them sound in the faith

Tit 1:14 so that they stop taking notice of Jewish myths and the orders of people who turn away from the truth.

Tit 1:15 To those who are pure themselves, everything is pure; but to those who have been corrupted and lack faith, nothing can be pure -- the corruption is both in their minds and in their consciences.

Tit 1:16 They claim to know God but by their works they deny him; they are outrageously rebellious and quite untrustworthy for any good work.

Tit 2:1 It is for you, then, to preach the behaviour which goes with healthy doctrine.

Tit 2:2 Older men should be reserved, dignified, moderate, sound in faith and love and perseverance.

Tit 2:3 Similarly, older women should behave as befits religious people, with no scandal-mongering and no addiction to wine -- they must be the teachers of right behaviour

Tit 2:4 and show younger women how they should love their husbands and love their children,

Tit 2:5 how they must be sensible and chaste, and how to work in their homes, and be gentle, and obey their husbands, so that the message of God is not disgraced.

Tit 2:6 Similarly, urge younger men to be moderate in everything that they do,

Tit 2:7 and you yourself set an example of good works, by sincerity and earnestness, when you are teaching, and by a message sound and irreproachable

Tit 2:8 so that any opponent will be at a loss, with no accusation to make against us.

Tit 2:9 Slaves must be obedient to their masters in everything, and do what is wanted without argument;

Tit 2:10 and there must be no pilfering -- they must show complete honesty at all times, so that they are in every way a credit to the teaching of God our Saviour.

Tit 2:11 You see, God's grace has been revealed to save the whole human race;

Tit 2:12 it has taught us that we should give up everything contrary to true religion and all our worldly passions; we must be self-restrained and live upright and religious lives in this present world,

Tit 2:13 waiting in hope for the blessing which will come with the appearing of the glory of our great God and Saviour Christ Jesus.

Tit 2:14 He offered himself for us in order to ransom us from all our faults and to purify a people to be his very own and eager to do good.

Tit 2:15 This is what you must say, encouraging or arguing with full authority; no one should despise you.

Tit 3:1 Remind them to be obedient to the officials in authority; to be ready to do good at every opportunity;

Tit 3:2 not to go slandering other people but to be peaceable and gentle, and always polite to people of all kinds.

Tit 3:3 There was a time when we too were ignorant, disobedient and misled and enslaved by different passions and dissipations; we lived then in wickedness and malice, hating each other and hateful ourselves.

Tit 3:4 But when the kindness and love of God our Saviour for humanity were revealed,

Tit 3:5 it was not because of any upright actions we had done ourselves; it was for no reason except his own faithful love that he saved us, by means of the cleansing water of rebirth and renewal in the Holy Spirit

Tit 3:6 which he has so generously poured over us through Jesus Christ our Saviour;

Tit 3:7 so that, justified by his grace, we should become heirs in hope of eternal life.

Tit 3:8 This is doctrine that you can rely on. I want you to be quite uncompromising in teaching all this, so that those who now believe in God may keep their minds constantly occupied in doing good works. All this is good, and useful for everybody.

Tit 3:9 But avoid foolish speculations, and those genealogies, and the quibbles and disputes about the Law -- they are useless and futile.

Tit 3:10 If someone disputes what you teach, then after a first and a second warning, have no more to do with him:

Tit 3:11 you will know that anyone of that sort is warped and is self-condemned as a sinner.

Tit 3:12 As soon as I have sent Artemas or Tychicus to you, do your best to join me at Nicopolis, where I have decided to spend the winter.

Tit 3:13 Help eagerly on their way Zenas the lawyer and Apollos, and make sure they have everything they need.

Tit 3:14 All our people must also learn to occupy themselves in doing good works for their practical needs, and not to be unproductive.

Tit 3:15 All those who are with me send their greetings. Greetings to those who love us in the faith. Grace be with you all.

Phm 1:1 From Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus and from our brother Timothy; to our dear fellow worker Philemon,

Phm 1:2 our sister Apphia, our fellow soldier Archippus and the church that meets in your house.

Phm 1:3 Grace and the peace of God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Phm 1:4 I always thank my God, mentioning you in my prayers,

Phm 1:5 because I hear of the love and the faith which you have for the Lord Jesus and for all God's holy people.

Phm 1:6 I pray that your fellowship in faith may come to expression in full knowledge of all the good we can do for Christ.

Phm 1:7 I have received much joy and encouragement by your love; you have set the hearts of God's holy people at rest.

Phm 1:8 Therefore, although in Christ I have no hesitations about telling you what your duty is,

Phm 1:9 I am rather appealing to your love, being what I am, Paul, an old man, and now also a prisoner of Christ Jesus.

Phm 1:10 I am appealing to you for a child of mine, whose father I became while wearing these chains: I mean Onesimus.

Phm 1:11 He was of no use to you before, but now he is useful both to you and to me.

Phm 1:12 I am sending him back to you -- that is to say, sending you my own heart.

Phm 1:13 I should have liked to keep him with me; he could have been a substitute for you, to help me while I am in the chains that the gospel has brought me.

Phm 1:14 However, I did not want to do anything without your consent; it would have been forcing your act of kindness, which should be spontaneous.

Phm 1:15 I suppose you have been deprived of Onesimus for a time, merely so that you could have him back for ever,

Phm 1:16 no longer as a slave, but something much better than a slave, a dear brother; especially dear to me, but how much more to you, both on the natural plane and in the Lord.

Phm 1:17 So if you grant me any fellowship with yourself, welcome him as you would me;

Phm 1:18 if he has wronged you in any way or owes you anything, put it down to my account.

Phm 1:19 I am writing this in my own hand: I, Paul, shall pay it back -- I make no mention of a further debt, that you owe your very self to me!

Phm 1:20 Well then, brother, I am counting on you, in the Lord; set my heart at rest, in Christ.

Phm 1:21 I am writing with complete confidence in your compliance, sure that you will do even more than I ask.

Phm 1:22 There is another thing: will you get a place ready for me to stay in? I am hoping through your prayers to be restored to you.

Phm 1:23 Epaphras, a prisoner with me in Christ Jesus, sends his greetings;

Phm 1:24 so do my fellow-workers Mark, Aristarchus, Demas and Luke.

Phm 1:25 May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

Heb 1:1 At many moments in the past and by many means, God spoke to our ancestors through the prophets; but

Heb 1:2 in our time, the final days, he has spoken to us in the person of his Son, whom he appointed heir of all things and through whom he made the ages.

Heb 1:3 He is the reflection of God's glory and bears the impress of God's own being, sustaining all things by his powerful command; and now that he has purged sins away, he has taken his seat at the right hand of the divine Majesty on high.

Heb 1:4 So he is now as far above the angels as the title which he has inherited is higher than their own name.

Heb 1:5 To which of the angels, then, has God ever said: You are my Son, today I have fathered you, or: I shall be a father to him and he a son to me?

Heb 1:6 Again, when he brings the First-born into the world, he says: Let all the angels of God pay him homage.

Heb 1:7 To the angels, he says: appointing the winds his messengers and flames of fire his servants,

Heb 1:8 but to the Son he says: Your throne, God, is for ever and ever; and: the sceptre of his kingdom is a sceptre of justice;

Heb 1:9 you love uprightness and detest evil. This is why God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness, as none of your rivals.

Heb 1:10 And again: Long ago, Lord, you laid earth's foundations, the heavens are the work of your hands.

Heb 1:11 They pass away but you remain, they all wear out like a garment.

Heb 1:12 Like a cloak you will roll them up, like a garment, and they will be changed. But you never alter and your years are unending.

Heb 1:13 To which of the angels has God ever said: Take your seat at my right hand till I have made your enemies your footstool?

Heb 1:14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent to serve for the sake of those who are to inherit salvation?

Heb 2:1 We ought, then, to turn our minds more attentively than before to what we have been taught, so that we do not drift away.

Heb 2:2 If a message that was spoken through angels proved to be so reliable that every infringement and disobedience brought its own proper punishment,

Heb 2:3 then we shall certainly not go unpunished if we neglect such a great salvation. It was first announced by the Lord himself, and is guaranteed to us by those who heard him;

Heb 2:4 God himself confirmed their witness with signs and marvels and miracles of all kinds, and by distributing the gifts of the Holy Spirit in the various ways he wills.

Heb 2:5 It was not under angels that he put the world to come, about which we are speaking.

Heb 2:6 Someone witnesses to this somewhere with the words: What are human beings that you spare a thought for them, a child of Adam that you care for him?

Heb 2:7 For a short while you have made him less than the angels; you have crowned him with glory and honour,

Heb 2:8 put all things under his feet. For in putting all things under him he made no exceptions. At present, it is true, we are not able to see that all things are under him,

Heb 2:9 but we do see Jesus, who was for a short while made less than the angels, now crowned with glory and honour because he submitted to death; so that by God's grace his experience of death should benefit all humanity.

Heb 2:10 It was fitting that God, for whom and through whom everything exists, should, in bringing many sons to glory, make perfect through suffering the leader of their salvation.

Heb 2:11 For consecrator and consecrated are all of the same stock; that is why he is not ashamed to call them brothers

Heb 2:12 in the text: I shall proclaim your name to my brothers, praise you in full assembly; or in the text:

Heb 2:13 I shall put my hope in him; followed by Look, I and the children whom God has given me.

Heb 2:14 Since all the children share the same human nature, he too shared equally in it, so that by his death he could set aside him who held the power of death, namely the devil,

Heb 2:15 and set free all those who had been held in slavery all their lives by the fear of death.

Heb 2:16 For it was not the angels that he took to himself; he took to himself the line of Abraham.

Heb 2:17 It was essential that he should in this way be made completely like his brothers so that he could become a compassionate and trustworthy high priest for their relationship to God, able to expiate the sins of the people.

Heb 2:18 For the suffering he himself passed through while being put to the test enables him to help others when they are being put to the test.

Heb 3:1 That is why all you who are holy brothers and share the same heavenly call should turn your minds to Jesus, the apostle and the high priest of our profession of faith.

Heb 3:2 He was trustworthy to the one who appointed him, just like Moses, who remained trustworthy in all his household;

Heb 3:3 but he deserves a greater glory than Moses, just as the builder of a house is more honoured than the house itself.

Heb 3:4 Every house is built by someone, of course; but God built everything that exists.

Heb 3:5 It is true that Moses was trustworthy in the household of God, as a servant is, acting as witness to the things which were yet to be revealed,

Heb 3:6 but Christ is trustworthy as a son is, over his household. And we are his household, as long as we fearlessly maintain the hope in which we glory.

Heb 3:7 That is why, as the Holy Spirit says: If only you would listen to him today!

Heb 3:8 Do not harden your hearts, as at the rebellion, as at the time of testing in the desert,

Heb 3:9 when your ancestors challenged me, and put me to the test, and saw what I could do

Heb 3:10 for forty years. That was why that generation sickened me and I said, 'Always fickle hearts, that cannot grasp my ways!'

Heb 3:11 And then in my anger I swore that they would never enter my place of rest.

Heb 3:12 Take care, brothers, that none of you ever has a wicked heart, so unbelieving as to turn away from the living God.

Heb 3:13 Every day, as long as this today lasts, keep encouraging one another so that none of you is hardened by the lure of sin,

Heb 3:14 because we have been granted a share with Christ only if we keep the grasp of our first confidence firm to the end.

Heb 3:15 In this saying: If only you would listen to him today; do not harden your hearts, as at the Rebellion,

Heb 3:16 who was it who listened and then rebelled? Surely all those whom Moses led out of Egypt.

Heb 3:17 And with whom was he angry for forty years? Surely with those who sinned and whose dead bodies fell in the desert.

Heb 3:18 To whom did he swear they would never enter his place of rest? Surely those who would not believe.

Heb 3:19 So we see that it was their refusal to believe which prevented them from entering.

Heb 4:1 Let us beware, then: since the promise never lapses, none of you must think that he has come too late for the promise of entering his place of rest.

Heb 4:2 We received the gospel exactly as they did; but hearing the message did them no good because they did not share the faith of those who did listen.

Heb 4:3 We, however, who have faith, are entering a place of rest, as in the text: And then in my anger I swore that they would never enter my place of rest. Now God's work was all finished at the beginning of the world;

Heb 4:4 as one text says, referring to the seventh day: And God rested on the seventh day after all the work he had been doing.

Heb 4:5 And, again, the passage above says: They will never reach my place of rest.

Heb 4:6 It remains the case, then, that there would be some people who would reach it, and since those who first heard the good news were prevented from entering by their refusal to believe,

Heb 4:7 God fixed another day, a Today, when he said through David in the text already quoted: If only you would listen to him today; do not harden your hearts.

Heb 4:8 If Joshua had led them into this place of rest, God would not later have spoken of another day.

Heb 4:9 There must still be, therefore, a seventh-day rest reserved for God's people,

Heb 4:10 since to enter the place of rest is to rest after your work, as God did after his.

Heb 4:11 Let us, then, press forward to enter this place of rest, or some of you might copy this example of refusal to believe and be lost.

Heb 4:12 The word of God is something alive and active: it cuts more incisively than any two-edged sword: it can seek out the place where soul is divided from spirit, or joints from marrow; it can pass judgement on secret emotions and thoughts.

Heb 4:13 No created thing is hidden from him; everything is uncovered and stretched fully open to the eyes of the one to whom we must give account of ourselves.

Heb 4:14 Since in Jesus, the Son of God, we have the supreme high priest who has gone through to the highest heaven, we must hold firm to our profession of faith.

Heb 4:15 For the high priest we have is not incapable of feeling our weaknesses with us, but has been put to the test in exactly the same way as ourselves, apart from sin.

Heb 4:16 Let us, then, have no fear in approaching the throne of grace to receive mercy and to find grace when we are in need of help.

Heb 5:1 Every high priest is taken from among human beings and is appointed to act on their behalf in relationships with God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins;

Heb 5:2 he can sympathise with those who are ignorant or who have gone astray, because he too is subject to the limitations of weakness.

Heb 5:3 That is why he has to make sin offerings for himself as well as for the people.

Heb 5:4 No one takes this honour on himself; it needs a call from God, as in Aaron's case.

Heb 5:5 And so it was not Christ who gave himself the glory of becoming high priest, but the one who said to him: You are my Son, today I have fathered you,

Heb 5:6 and in another text: You are a priest for ever, of the order of Melchizedek.

Heb 5:7 During his life on earth, he offered up prayer and entreaty, with loud cries and with tears, to the one who had the power to save him from death, and, winning a hearing by his reverence,

Heb 5:8 he learnt obedience, Son though he was, through his sufferings;

Heb 5:9 when he had been perfected, he became for all who obey him the source of eternal salvation

Heb 5:10 and was acclaimed by God with the title of high priest of the order of Melchizedek.

Heb 5:11 On this subject we have many things to say, and they are difficult to explain because you have grown so slow at understanding.

Heb 5:12 Indeed, when you should by this time have become masters, you need someone to teach you all over again the elements of the principles of God's sayings; you have gone back to needing milk, and not solid food.

Heb 5:13 Truly, no one who is still living on milk can digest the doctrine of saving justice, being still a baby.

Heb 5:14 Solid food is for adults with minds trained by practice to distinguish between good and bad.

Heb 6:1 Let us leave behind us then all the elementary teaching about Christ and go on to its completion, without going over the fundamental doctrines again: the turning away from dead actions, faith in God,

Heb 6:2 the teaching about baptisms and the laying -- on of hands, about the resurrection of the dead and eternal judgement.

Heb 6:3 This, God willing, is what we propose to do.

Heb 6:4 As for those people who were once brought into the light, and tasted the gift from heaven, and received a share of the Holy Spirit,

Heb 6:5 and tasted the goodness of God's message and the powers of the world to come

Heb 6:6 and yet in spite of this have fallen away -- it is impossible for them to be brought to the freshness of repentance a second time, since they are crucifying the Son of God again for themselves, and making a public exhibition of him.

Heb 6:7 A field that drinks up the rain that has fallen frequently on it, and yields the crops that are wanted by the owners who grew them, receives God's blessing;

Heb 6:8 but one that grows brambles and thistles is worthless, and near to being cursed. It will end by being burnt.

Heb 6:9 But you, my dear friends -- in spite of what we have just said, we are sure you are in a better state and on the way to salvation.

Heb 6:10 God would not be so unjust as to forget all you have done, the love that you have for his name or the services you have done, and are still doing, for the holy people of God.

Heb 6:11 Our desire is that every one of you should go on showing the same enthusiasm till the ultimate fulfilment of your hope,

Heb 6:12 never growing careless, but taking as your model those who by their faith and perseverance are heirs of the promises.

Heb 6:13 When God made the promise to Abraham, he swore by his own self, since there was no one greater he could swear by:

Heb 6:14 I will shower blessings on you and give you many descendants.

Heb 6:15 Because of that, Abraham persevered and received fulfilment of the promise.

Heb 6:16 Human beings, of course, swear an oath by something greater than themselves, and between them, confirmation by an oath puts an end to all dispute.

Heb 6:17 In the same way, when God wanted to show the heirs of the promise even more clearly how unalterable his plan was, he conveyed it by an oath

Heb 6:18 so that through two unalterable factors in which God could not be lying, we who have fled to him might have a vigorous encouragement to grasp the hope held out to us.

Heb 6:19 This is the anchor our souls have, reaching right through inside the curtain

Heb 6:20 where Jesus has entered as a forerunner on our behalf, having become a high priest for ever, of the order of Melchizedek.

Heb 7:1 Melchizedek, king of Salem, a priest of God Most High, came to meet Abraham when he returned from defeating the kings, and blessed him;

Heb 7:2 and Abraham gave him a tenth of everything. By the interpretation of his name, he is, first, 'king of saving justice' and also king of Salem, that is, 'king of peace';

Heb 7:3 he has no father, mother or ancestry, and his life has no beginning or ending; he is like the Son of God. He remains a priest for ever.

Heb 7:4 Now think how great this man must have been, if the patriarch Abraham gave him a tenth of the finest plunder.

Heb 7:5 We know that any of the descendants of Levi who are admitted to the priesthood are obliged by the Law to take tithes from the people, that is, from their own brothers although they too are descended from Abraham.

Heb 7:6 But this man, who was not of the same descent, took his tithe from Abraham, and he gave his blessing to the holder of the promises.

Heb 7:7 Now it is indisputable that a blessing is given by a superior to an inferior.

Heb 7:8 Further, in the normal case it is ordinary mortal men who receive the tithes, whereas in that case it was one who is attested as being alive.

Heb 7:9 It could be said that Levi himself, who receives tithes, actually paid tithes, in the person of Abraham, Heb 7:10 because he was still in the loins of his ancestor when Melchizedek came to meet him.

Heb 7:11 Now if perfection had been reached through the levitical priesthood -- and this was the basis of the Law given to the people -- why was it necessary for a different kind of priest to arise, spoken of as being of the order of Melchizedek rather than of the order of Aaron?

Heb 7:12 Any change in the priesthood must mean a change in the Law as well.

Heb 7:13 So our Lord, of whom these things were said, belonged to a different tribe, the members of which have never done service at the altar;

Heb 7:14 everyone knows he came from Judah, a tribe which Moses did not mention at all when dealing with priests.

Heb 7:15 This becomes even more clearly evident if another priest, of the type of Melchizedek, arises who is a priest

Heb 7:16 not in virtue of a law of physical descent, but in virtue of the power of an indestructible life.

Heb 7:17 For he is attested by the prophecy: You are a priest for ever of the order of Melchizedek.

Heb 7:18 The earlier commandment is thus abolished, because of its weakness and ineffectiveness

Heb 7:19 since the Law could not make anything perfect; but now this commandment is replaced by something better-the hope that brings us close to God.

Heb 7:20 Now the former priests became priests without any oath being sworn,

Heb 7:21 but this one with the swearing of an oath by him who said to him, The Lord has sworn an oath he will never retract: you are a priest for ever;

Heb 7:22 the very fact that it occurred with the swearing of an oath makes the covenant of which Jesus is the guarantee all the greater.

Heb 7:23 Further, the former priests were many in number, because death put an end to each one of them;

Heb 7:24 but this one, because he remains for ever, has a perpetual priesthood.

Heb 7:25 It follows, then, that his power to save those who come to God through him is absolute, since he lives for ever to intercede for them.

Heb 7:26 Such is the high priest that met our need, holy, innocent and uncontaminated, set apart from sinners, and raised up above the heavens;

Heb 7:27 he has no need to offer sacrifices every day, as the high priests do, first for their own sins and only then for those of the people; this he did once and for all by offering himself.

Heb 7:28 The Law appoints high priests who are men subject to weakness; but the promise on oath, which came after the Law, appointed the Son who is made perfect for ever.

Heb 8:1 The principal point of all that we have said is that we have a high priest of exactly this kind. He has taken his seat at the right of the throne of divine Majesty in the heavens,

Heb 8:2 and he is the minister of the sanctuary and of the true Tent which the Lord, and not any man, set up.

Heb 8:3 Every high priest is constituted to offer gifts and sacrifices, and so this one too must have something to offer.

Heb 8:4 In fact, if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, since there are others who make the offerings laid down by the Law,

Heb 8:5 though these maintain the service only of a model or a reflection of the heavenly realities; just as Moses, when he had the Tent to build, was warned by God who said: See that you work to the design that was shown you on the mountain.

Heb 8:6 As it is, he has been given a ministry as far superior as is the covenant of which he is the mediator, which is founded on better promises.

Heb 8:7 If that first covenant had been faultless, there would have been no room for a second one to replace it.

Heb 8:8 And in fact God does find fault with them; he says: Look, the days are coming, the Lord declares, when I will make a new covenant with the House of Israel and the House of Judah,

Heb 8:9 but not a covenant like the one I made with their ancestors, the day I took them by the hand to bring them out of Egypt, which covenant of mine they broke, and I too abandoned them, the Lord declares.

Heb 8:10 No, this is the covenant I will make with the House of Israel, when those days have come, the Lord declares: In their minds I shall plant my laws writing them on their hearts. Then I shall be their God, and they shall be my people.

Heb 8:11 There will be no further need for each to teach his neighbour, and each his brother, saying 'Learn to know the Lord!' No, they will all know me, from the least to the greatest,

Heb 8:12 since I shall forgive their guilt and never more call their sins to mind.

Heb 8:13 By speaking of a new covenant, he implies that the first one is old. And anything old and ageing is ready to disappear.

Heb 9:1 The first covenant also had its laws governing worship and its sanctuary, a sanctuary on this earth.

Heb 9:2 There was a tent which comprised two compartments: the first, in which the lamp-stand, the table and the loaves of permanent offering were kept, was called the Holy Place;

Heb 9:3 then beyond the second veil, a second compartment which was called the Holy of Holies

Heb 9:4 to which belonged the gold altar of incense, and the ark of the covenant, plated all over with gold. In this were kept the gold jar containing the manna, Aaron's branch that grew the buds, and the tables of the covenant.

Heb 9:5 On top of it were the glorious winged creatures, overshadowing the throne of mercy. This is not the time to go into detail about this.

Heb 9:6 Under these provisions, priests go regularly into the outer tent to carry out their acts of worship,

Heb 9:7 but the second tent is entered only once a year, and then only by the high priest who takes in the blood to make an offering for his own and the people's faults of inadvertence.

Heb 9:8 By this, the Holy Spirit means us to see that as long as the old tent stands, the way into the holy place is not opened up;

Heb 9:9 it is a symbol for this present time. None of the gifts and sacrifices offered under these regulations can possibly bring any worshipper to perfection in his conscience;

Heb 9:10 they are rules about outward life, connected with food and drink and washing at various times, which are in force only until the time comes to set things right.

Heb 9:11 But now Christ has come, as the high priest of all the blessings which were to come. He has passed through the greater, the more perfect tent, not made by human hands, that is, not of this created order;

Heb 9:12 and he has entered the sanctuary once and for all, taking with him not the blood of goats and bull calves, but his own blood, having won an eternal redemption.

Heb 9:13 The blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a heifer, sprinkled on those who have incurred defilement, may restore their bodily purity.

Heb 9:14 How much more will the blood of Christ, who offered himself, blameless as he was, to God through the eternal Spirit, purify our conscience from dead actions so that we can worship the living God.

Heb 9:15 This makes him the mediator of a new covenant, so that, now that a death has occurred to redeem the sins committed under an earlier covenant, those who have been called to an eternal inheritance may receive the promise.

Heb 9:16 Now wherever a will is in question, the death of the testator must be established;

Heb 9:17 a testament comes into effect only after a death, since it has no force while the testator is still alive.

Heb 9:18 That is why even the earlier covenant was inaugurated with blood,

Heb 9:19 and why, after Moses had promulgated all the commandments of the Law to the people, he took the calves' blood, the goats' blood and some water, and with these he sprinkled the book itself and all the people, using scarlet wool and hyssop;

Heb 9:20 saying as he did so: This is the blood of the covenant that God has made with you.

Heb 9:21 And he sprinkled both the tent and all the liturgical vessels with blood in the same way.

Heb 9:22 In fact, according to the Law, practically every purification takes place by means of blood; and if there is no shedding of blood, there is no remission.

Heb 9:23 Only the copies of heavenly things are purified in this way; the heavenly things themselves have to be purified by a higher sort of sacrifice than this.

Heb 9:24 It is not as though Christ had entered a man-made sanctuary which was merely a model of the real one; he entered heaven itself, so that he now appears in the presence of God on our behalf.

Heb 9:25 And he does not have to offer himself again and again, as the high priest goes into the sanctuary year after year with the blood that is not his own,

Heb 9:26 or else he would have had to suffer over and over again since the world began. As it is, he has made his appearance once and for all, at the end of the last age, to do away with sin by sacrificing himself.

Heb 9:27 Since human beings die only once, after which comes judgement,

Heb 9:28 so Christ too, having offered himself only once to bear the sin of many, will manifest himself a second time, sin being no more, to those who are waiting for him, to bring them salvation.

Heb 10:1 So, since the Law contains no more than a reflection of the good things which were still to come, and no true image of them, it is quite incapable of bringing the worshippers to perfection, by means of the same sacrifices repeatedly offered year after year.

Heb 10:2 Otherwise, surely the offering of them would have stopped, because the worshippers, when they had been purified once, would have no awareness of sins.

Heb 10:3 But in fact the sins are recalled year after year in the sacrifices.

Heb 10:4 Bulls' blood and goats' blood are incapable of taking away sins,

Heb 10:5 and that is why he said, on coming into the world: You wanted no sacrifice or cereal offering, but you gave me a body.

Heb 10:6 You took no pleasure in burnt offering or sacrifice for sin;

Heb 10:7 then I said, 'Here I am, I am coming,' in the scroll of the book it is written of me, to do your will, God.

Heb 10:8 He says first You did not want what the Law lays down as the things to be offered, that is: the sacrifices, the cereal offerings, the burnt offerings and the sacrifices for sin, and you took no pleasure in them;

Heb 10:9 and then he says: Here I am! I am coming to do your will. He is abolishing the first sort to establish the second.

Heb 10:10 And this will was for us to be made holy by the offering of the body of Jesus Christ made once and for all.

Heb 10:11 Every priest stands at his duties every day, offering over and over again the same sacrifices which are quite incapable of taking away sins.

Heb 10:12 He, on the other hand, has offered one single sacrifice for sins, and then taken his seat for ever, at the right hand of God,

Heb 10:13 where he is now waiting till his enemies are made his footstool.

Heb 10:14 By virtue of that one single offering, he has achieved the eternal perfection of all who are sanctified.

Heb 10:15 The Holy Spirit attests this to us, for after saying:

Heb 10:16 No, this is the covenant I will make with them, when those days have come. the Lord says: In their minds I will plant my Laws writing them on their hearts,

Heb 10:17 and I shall never more call their sins to mind, or their offences.

Heb 10:18 When these have been forgiven, there can be no more sin offerings.

Heb 10:19 We have then, brothers, complete confidence through the blood of Jesus in entering the sanctuary,

Heb 10:20 by a new way which he has opened for us, a living opening through the curtain, that is to say, his flesh.

Heb 10:21 And we have the high priest over all the sanctuary of God.

Heb 10:22 So as we go in, let us be sincere in heart and filled with faith, our hearts sprinkled and free from any trace of bad conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

Heb 10:23 Let us keep firm in the hope we profess, because the one who made the promise is trustworthy.

Heb 10:24 Let us be concerned for each other, to stir a response in love and good works.

Heb 10:25 Do not absent yourself from your own assemblies, as some do, but encourage each other; the more so as you see the Day drawing near.

Heb 10:26 If, after we have been given knowledge of the truth, we should deliberately commit any sins, then there is no longer any sacrifice for them.

Heb 10:27 There is left only the dreadful prospect of judgement and of the fiery wrath that is to devour your enemies.

Heb 10:28 Anyone who disregards the Law of Moses is ruthlessly put to death on the word of two witnesses or three;

Heb 10:29 and you may be sure that anyone who tramples on the Son of God, and who treats the blood of the covenant which sanctified him as if it were not holy, and who insults the Spirit of grace, will be condemned to a far severer punishment.

Heb 10:30 We are all aware who it was that said: Vengeance is mine; I will pay them back. And again: The Lord will vindicate his people.

Heb 10:31 It is a dreadful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

Heb 10:32 Remember the great challenge of the sufferings that you had to meet after you received the light, in earlier days;

Heb 10:33 sometimes by being yourselves publicly exposed to humiliations and violence, and sometimes as associates of others who were treated in the same way.

Heb 10:34 For you not only shared in the sufferings of those who were in prison, but you accepted with joy being stripped of your belongings, knowing that you owned something that was better and lasting.

Heb 10:35 Do not lose your fearlessness now, then, since the reward is so great.

Heb 10:36 You will need perseverance if you are to do God's will and gain what he has promised.

Heb 10:37 Only a little while now, a very little while, for come he certainly will before too long.

Heb 10:38 My upright person will live through faith but if he draws back, my soul will take no pleasure in him.

Heb 10:39 We are not the sort of people who draw back, and are lost by it; we are the sort who keep faith until our souls are saved.

Heb 11:1 Only faith can guarantee the blessings that we hope for, or prove the existence of realities that are unseen.

Heb 11:2 It is for their faith that our ancestors are acknowledged.

Heb 11:3 It is by faith that we understand that the ages were created by a word from God, so that from the invisible the visible world came to be.

Heb 11:4 It was because of his faith that Abel offered God a better sacrifice than Cain, and for that he was acknowledged as upright when God himself made acknowledgement of his offerings. Though he is dead, he still speaks by faith.

Heb 11:5 It was because of his faith that Enoch was taken up and did not experience death: he was no more, because God took him; because before his assumption he was acknowledged to have pleased God.

Heb 11:6 Now it is impossible to please God without faith, since anyone who comes to him must believe that he exists and rewards those who seek him.

Heb 11:7 It was through his faith that Noah, when he had been warned by God of something that had never been seen before, took care to build an ark to save his family. His faith was a judgement on the world, and he was able to claim the uprightness which comes from faith.

Heb 11:8 It was by faith that Abraham obeyed the call to set out for a country that was the inheritance given to him and his descendants, and that he set out without knowing where he was going.

Heb 11:9 By faith he sojourned in the Promised Land as though it were not his, living in tents with Isaac and Jacob, who were heirs with him of the same promise.

Heb 11:10 He looked forward to the well-founded city, designed and built by God.

Heb 11:11 It was equally by faith that Sarah, in spite of being past the age, was made able to conceive, because she believed that he who had made the promise was faithful to it.

Heb 11:12 Because of this, there came from one man, and one who already had the mark of death on him, descendants as numerous as the stars of heaven and the grains of sand on the seashore which cannot be counted.

Heb 11:13 All these died in faith, before receiving any of the things that had been promised, but they saw them in the far distance and welcomed them, recognising that they were only strangers and nomads on earth.

Heb 11:14 People who use such terms about themselves make it quite plain that they are in search of a homeland.

Heb 11:15 If they had meant the country they came from, they would have had the opportunity to return to it;

Heb 11:16 but in fact they were longing for a better homeland, their heavenly homeland. That is why God is not ashamed to be called their God, since he has founded the city for them.

Heb 11:17 It was by faith that Abraham, when put to the test, offered up Isaac. He offered to sacrifice his only son even though he had yet to receive what had been promised,

Heb 11:18 and he had been told: Isaac is the one through whom your name will be carried on.

Heb 11:19 He was confident that God had the power even to raise the dead; and so, figuratively speaking, he was given back Isaac from the dead.

Heb 11:20 It was by faith that this same Isaac gave his blessing to Jacob and Esau for the still distant future.

Heb 11:21 By faith Jacob, when he was dying, blessed each of Joseph's sons, bowed in reverence, as he leaned on his staff.

Heb 11:22 It was by faith that, when he was about to die, Joseph mentioned the Exodus of the Israelites and gave instructions about his own remains.

Heb 11:23 It was by faith that Moses, when he was born, was kept hidden by his parents for three months; because they saw that he was a fine child; they were not afraid of the royal edict.

Heb 11:24 It was by faith that, when he was grown up, Moses refused to be known as the son of Pharaoh's daughter

Heb 11:25 and chose to be ill-treated in company with God's people rather than to enjoy the transitory pleasures of sin.

Heb 11:26 He considered that the humiliations offered to the Anointed were something more precious than all the treasures of Egypt, because he had his eyes fixed on the reward.

Heb 11:27 It was by faith that he left Egypt without fear of the king's anger; he held to his purpose like someone who could see the Invisible.

Heb 11:28 It was by faith that he kept the Passover and sprinkled the blood to prevent the Destroyer from touching any of their first-born sons.

Heb 11:29 It was by faith they crossed the Red Sea as easily as dry land, while the Egyptians, trying to do the same, were drowned.

Heb 11:30 It was through faith that the walls of Jericho fell down when the people had marched round them for seven days.

Heb 11:31 It was by faith that Rahab the prostitute welcomed the spies and so was not killed with the unbelievers.

Heb 11:32 What more shall I say? There is not time for me to give an account of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, or of David, Samuel and the prophets.

Heb 11:33 These were men who through faith conquered kingdoms, did what was upright and earned the promises. They could keep a lion's mouth shut,

Heb 11:34 put out blazing fires and emerge unscathed from battle. They were weak people who were given strength to be brave in war and drive back foreign invaders.

Heb 11:35 Some returned to their wives from the dead by resurrection; and others submitted to torture, refusing release so that they would rise again to a better life.

Heb 11:36 Some had to bear being pilloried and flogged, or even chained up in prison.

Heb 11:37 They were stoned, or sawn in half, or killed by the sword; they were homeless, and wore only the skins of sheep and goats; they were in want and hardship, and maltreated.

Heb 11:38 They were too good for the world and they wandered in deserts and mountains and in caves and ravines.

Heb 11:39 These all won acknowledgement through their faith, but they did not receive what was promised,

Heb 11:40 since God had made provision for us to have something better, and they were not to reach perfection except with us.

Heb 12:1 With so many witnesses in a great cloud all around us, we too, then, should throw off everything that weighs us down and the sin that clings so closely, and with perseverance keep running in the race which lies ahead of us.

Heb 12:2 Let us keep our eyes fixed on Jesus, who leads us in our faith and brings it to perfection: for the sake of the joy which lay ahead of him, he endured the cross, disregarding the shame of it, and has taken his seat at the right of God's throne.

Heb 12:3 Think of the way he persevered against such opposition from sinners and then you will not lose heart and come to grief.

Heb 12:4 In the fight against sin, you have not yet had to keep fighting to the point of bloodshed.

Heb 12:5 Have you forgotten that encouraging text in which you are addressed as sons? My son, do not scorn correction from the Lord, do not resent his training, Heb 12:6 for the Lord trains those he loves, and chastises every son he accepts.

Heb 12:7 Perseverance is part of your training; God is treating you as his sons. Has there ever been any son whose father did not train him?

Heb 12:8 If you were not getting this training, as all of you are, then you would be not sons but bastards.

Heb 12:9 Besides, we have all had our human fathers who punished us, and we respected them for it; all the more readily ought we to submit to the Father of spirits, and so earn life.

Heb 12:10 Our human fathers were training us for a short life and according to their own lights; but he does it all for our own good, so that we may share his own holiness.

Heb 12:11 Of course, any discipline is at the time a matter for grief, not joy; but later, in those who have undergone it, it bears fruit in peace and uprightness.

Heb 12:12 So steady all weary hands and trembling knees

Heb 12:13 and make your crooked paths straight; then the injured limb will not be maimed, it will get better instead.

Heb 12:14 Seek peace with all people, and the holiness without which no one can ever see the Lord.

Heb 12:15 Be careful that no one is deprived of the grace of God and that no root of bitterness should begin to grow and make trouble; this can poison a large number.

Heb 12:16 And be careful that there is no immoral person, or anyone worldly minded like Esau, who sold his birthright for one single meal.

Heb 12:17 As you know, when he wanted to obtain the blessing afterwards, he was rejected and, though he pleaded for it with tears, he could find no way of reversing the decision.

Heb 12:18 What you have come to is nothing known to the senses: not a blazing fire, or gloom or total darkness, or a storm;

Heb 12:19 or trumpet-blast or the sound of a voice speaking which made everyone that heard it beg that no more should be said to them.

Heb 12:20 They could not bear the order that was given: If even a beast touches the mountain, it must be stoned.

Heb 12:21 The whole scene was so terrible that Moses said, 'I am afraid and trembling.'

Heb 12:22 But what you have come to is Mount Zion and the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem where the millions of angels have gathered for the festival,

Heb 12:23 with the whole Church of first-born sons, enrolled as citizens of heaven. You have come to God himself, the supreme Judge, and to the spirits of the upright who have been made perfect;

Heb 12:24 and to Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant, and to purifying blood which pleads more insistently than Abel's.

Heb 12:25 Make sure that you never refuse to listen when he speaks. If the people who on earth refused to listen to a warning could not escape their punishment, how shall we possibly escape if we turn away from a voice that warns us from heaven?

Heb 12:26 That time his voice made the earth shake, but now he has given us this promise: I am going to shake the earth once more and not only the earth but heaven as well.

Heb 12:27 The words once more indicate the removal of what is shaken, since these are created things, so that what is not shaken remains.

Heb 12:28 We have been given possession of an unshakeable kingdom. Let us therefore be grateful and use our gratitude to worship God in the way that pleases him, in reverence and fear.

Heb 12:29 For our God is a consuming fire.

Heb 13:1 Continue to love each other like brothers,

Heb 13:2 and remember always to welcome strangers, for by doing this, some people have entertained angels without knowing it.

Heb 13:3 Keep in mind those who are in prison, as though you were in prison with them; and those who are being badly treated, since you too are in the body.

Heb 13:4 Marriage must be honoured by all, and marriages must be kept undefiled, because the sexually immoral and adulterers will come under God's judgement.

Heb 13:5 Put avarice out of your lives and be content with whatever you have; God himself has said: I shall not fail you or desert you,

Heb 13:6 and so we can say with confidence: With the Lord on my side, I fear nothing: what can human beings do to me?

Heb 13:7 Remember your leaders, who preached the word of God to you, and as you reflect on the outcome of their lives, take their faith as your model.

Heb 13:8 Jesus Christ is the same today as he was yesterday and as he will be for ever.

Heb 13:9 Do not be led astray by all sorts of strange doctrines: it is better to rely on grace for inner strength than on food, which has done no good to those who concentrate on it.

Heb 13:10 We have our own altar from which those who serve the Tent have no right to eat.

Heb 13:11 The bodies of the animals whose blood is taken into the sanctuary by the high priest for the rite of expiation are burnt outside the camp,

Heb 13:12 and so Jesus too suffered outside the gate to sanctify the people with his own blood.

Heb 13:13 Let us go to him, then, outside the camp, and bear his humiliation.

Heb 13:14 There is no permanent city for us here; we are looking for the one which is yet to be.

Heb 13:15 Through him, let us offer God an unending sacrifice of praise, the fruit of the lips of those who acknowledge his name.

Heb 13:16 Keep doing good works and sharing your resources, for these are the kinds of sacrifice that please God.

Heb 13:17 Obey your leaders and give way to them; they watch over your souls because they must give an account of them; make this a joy for them to do, and not a grief -- you yourselves would be the losers.

Heb 13:18 Pray for us; we are sure that our own conscience is clear and we are certainly determined to behave honourably in everything we do.

Heb 13:19 I ask you very particularly to pray that I may come back to you all the sooner.

Heb 13:20 I pray that the God of peace, who brought back from the dead our Lord Jesus, the great Shepherd of the sheep, by the blood that sealed an eternal covenant,

Heb 13:21 may prepare you to do his will in every kind of good action; effecting in us all whatever is acceptable to himself through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Heb 13:22 I urge you, brothers, to take these words of encouragement kindly; that is why I have written to you briefly.

Heb 13:23 I want you to know that our brother Timothy has been set free. If he arrives in time, he will be with me when I see you.

Heb 13:24 Greetings to all your leaders and to all God's holy people. God's holy people in Italy send you greetings.

Heb 13:25 Grace be with you all.

Jam 1:1 From James, servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ. Greetings to the twelve tribes of the Dispersion.

Jam 1:2 My brothers, consider it a great joy when trials of many kinds come upon you,

Jam 1:3 for you well know that the testing of your faith produces perseverance, and

Jam 1:4 perseverance must complete its work so that you will become fully developed, complete, not deficient in any way.

Jam 1:5 Any of you who lacks wisdom must ask God, who gives to all generously and without scolding; it will be given.

Jam 1:6 But the prayer must be made with faith, and no trace of doubt, because a person who has doubts is like the waves thrown up in the sea by the buffeting of the wind.

Jam 1:7 That sort of person, in two minds,

Jam 1:8 inconsistent in every activity, must not expect to receive anything from the Lord.

Jam 1:9 It is right that the brother in humble circumstances should glory in being lifted up,

Jam 1:10 and the rich in being brought low. For the rich will last no longer than the wild flower;

Jam 1:11 the scorching sun comes up, and the grass withers, its flower falls, its beauty is lost. It is the same with the rich: in the middle of a busy life, the rich will wither.

Jam 1:12 Blessed is anyone who perseveres when trials come. Such a person is of proven worth and will win the prize of life, the crown that the Lord has promised to those who love him.

Jam 1:13 Never, when you are being put to the test, say, 'God is tempting me'; God cannot be tempted by evil, and he does not put anybody to the test .

Jam 1:14 Everyone is put to the test by being attracted and seduced by that person's own wrong desire.

Jam 1:15 Then the desire conceives and gives birth to sin, and when sin reaches full growth, it gives birth to death.

Jam 1:16 Make no mistake about this, my dear brothers:

Jam 1:17 all that is good, all that is perfect, is given us from above; it comes down from the Father of all light; with him there is no such thing as alteration, no shadow caused by change.

Jam 1:18 By his own choice he gave birth to us by the message of the truth so that we should be a sort of first-fruits of all his creation.

Jam 1:19 Remember this, my dear brothers: everyone should be quick to listen but slow to speak and slow to human anger;

Jam 1:20 God's saving justice is never served by human anger;

Jam 1:21 so do away with all impurities and remnants of evil. Humbly welcome the Word which has been planted in you and can save your souls.

Jam 1:22 But you must do what the Word tells you and not just listen to it and deceive yourselves.

Jam 1:23 Anyone who listens to the Word and takes no action is like someone who looks at his own features in a mirror and,

Jam 1:24 once he has seen what he looks like, goes off and immediately forgets it.

Jam 1:25 But anyone who looks steadily at the perfect law of freedom and keeps to it -- not listening and forgetting, but putting it into practice -- will be blessed in every undertaking.

Jam 1:26 Nobody who fails to keep a tight rein on the tongue can claim to be religious; this is mere self-deception; that person's religion is worthless.

Jam 1:27 Pure, unspoilt religion, in the eyes of God our Father, is this: coming to the help of orphans and widows in their hardships, and keeping oneself uncontaminated by the world.

Jam 2:1 My brothers, do not let class distinction enter into your faith in Jesus Christ, our glorified Lord.

Jam 2:2 Now suppose a man comes into your synagogue, well-dressed and with a gold ring on, and at the same time a poor man comes in, in shabby clothes,

Jam 2:3 and you take notice of the well-dressed man, and say, 'Come this way to the best seats'; then you tell the poor man, 'Stand over there' or 'You can sit on the floor by my foot-rest.'

Jam 2:4 In making this distinction among yourselves have you not used a corrupt standard?

Jam 2:5 Listen, my dear brothers: it was those who were poor according to the world that God chose, to be rich in faith and to be the heirs to the kingdom which he promised to those who love him.

Jam 2:6 You, on the other hand, have dishonoured the poor. Is it not the rich who lord it over you?

Jam 2:7 Are not they the ones who drag you into court, who insult the honourable name which has been pronounced over you?

Jam 2:8 Well, the right thing to do is to keep the supreme Law of scripture: you will love your neighbour as yourself;

Jam 2:9 but as soon as you make class distinctions, you are committing sin and under condemnation for breaking the Law.

Jam 2:10 You see, anyone who keeps the whole of the Law but trips up on a single point, is still guilty of breaking it all.

Jam 2:11 He who said, 'You must not commit adultery' said also, 'You must not kill.' Now if you commit murder, you need not commit adultery as well to become a breaker of the Law.

Jam 2:12 Talk and behave like people who are going to be judged by the law of freedom.

Jam 2:13 Whoever acts without mercy will be judged without mercy but mercy can afford to laugh at judgement.

Jam 2:14 How does it help, my brothers, when someone who has never done a single good act claims to have faith? Will that faith bring salvation?

Jam 2:15 If one of the brothers or one of the sisters is in need of clothes and has not enough food to live on,

Jam 2:16 and one of you says to them, 'I wish you well; keep yourself warm and eat plenty,' without giving them these bare necessities of life, then what good is that?

Jam 2:17 In the same way faith, if good deeds do not go with it, is quite dead.

Jam 2:18 But someone may say: So you have faith and I have good deeds? Show me this faith of yours without deeds, then! It is by my deeds that I will show you my faith.

Jam 2:19 You believe in the one God -- that is creditable enough, but even the demons have the same belief, and they tremble with fear.

Jam 2:20 Fool! Would you not like to know that faith without deeds is useless?

Jam 2:21 Was not Abraham our father justified by his deed, because he offered his son Isaac on the altar?

Jam 2:22 So you can see that his faith was working together with his deeds; his faith became perfect by what he did.

Jam 2:23 In this way the scripture was fulfilled: Abraham put his faith in God, and this was considered as making him upright; and he received the name 'friend of God'.

Jam 2:24 You see now that it is by deeds, and not only by believing, that someone is justified.

Jam 2:25 There is another example of the same kind: Rahab the prostitute, was she not justified by her deeds because she welcomed the messengers and showed them a different way to leave?

Jam 2:26 As a body without a spirit is dead, so is faith without deeds.

Jam 3:1 Only a few of you, my brothers, should be teachers, bearing in mind that we shall receive a stricter judgement.

Jam 3:2 For we all trip up in many ways. Someone who does not trip up in speech has reached perfection and is able to keep the whole body on a tight rein.

Jam 3:3 Once we put a bit in the horse's mouth, to make it do what we want, we have the whole animal under our control.

Jam 3:4 Or think of ships: no matter how big they are, even if a gale is driving them, they are directed by a tiny rudder wherever the whim of the helmsman decides.

Jam 3:5 So the tongue is only a tiny part of the body, but its boasts are great. Think how small a flame can set fire to a huge forest;

Jam 3:6 The tongue is a flame too. Among all the parts of the body, the tongue is a whole wicked world: it infects the whole body; catching fire itself from hell, it sets fire to the whole wheel of creation.

Jam 3:7 Wild animals and birds, reptiles and fish of every kind can all be tamed, and have been tamed, by humans;

Jam 3:8 but nobody can tame the tongue -- it is a pest that will not keep still, full of deadly poison.

Jam 3:9 We use it to bless the Lord and Father, but we also use it to curse people who are made in God's image:

Jam 3:10 the blessing and curse come out of the same mouth. My brothers, this must be wrong-

Jam 3:11 does any water supply give a flow of fresh water and salt water out of the same pipe?

Jam 3:12 Can a fig tree yield olives, my brothers, or a vine yield figs? No more can sea water yield fresh water.

Jam 3:13 Anyone who is wise or understanding among you should from a good life give evidence of deeds done in the gentleness of wisdom.

Jam 3:14 But if at heart you have the bitterness of jealousy, or selfish ambition, do not be boastful or hide the truth with lies;

Jam 3:15 this is not the wisdom that comes from above, but earthly, human and devilish.

Jam 3:16 Wherever there are jealousy and ambition, there are also disharmony and wickedness of every kind;

Jam 3:17 whereas the wisdom that comes down from above is essentially something pure; it is also peaceable, kindly and considerate; it is full of mercy and shows itself by doing good; nor is there any trace of partiality or hypocrisy in it.

Jam 3:18 The peace sown by peacemakers brings a harvest of justice.

Jam 4:1 Where do these wars and battles between yourselves first start? Is it not precisely in the desires fighting inside your own selves?

Jam 4:2 You want something and you lack it; so you kill. You have an ambition that you cannot satisfy; so you fight to get your way by force. It is because you do not pray that you do not receive;

Jam 4:3 when you do pray and do not receive, it is because you prayed wrongly, wanting to indulge your passions.

Jam 4:4 Adulterers! Do you not realise that love for the world is hatred for God? Anyone who chooses the world for a friend is constituted an enemy of God.

Jam 4:5 Can you not see the point of the saying in scripture, 'The longing of the spirit he sent to dwell in us is a jealous longing.'?

Jam 4:6 But he has given us an even greater grace, as scripture says: God opposes the proud but he accords his favour to the humble.

Jam 4:7 Give in to God, then; resist the devil, and he will run away from you.

Jam 4:8 The nearer you go to God, the nearer God will come to you. Clean your hands, you sinners, and clear your minds, you waverers.

Jam 4:9 Appreciate your wretchedness, and weep for it in misery. Your laughter must be turned to grief, your happiness to gloom.

Jam 4:10 Humble yourselves before the Lord and he will lift you up.

Jam 4:11 Brothers, do not slander one another. Anyone who slanders a brother, or condemns one, is speaking against the Law and condemning the Law. But if you condemn the Law, you have ceased to be subject to it and become a judge over it.

Jam 4:12 There is only one lawgiver and he is the only judge and has the power to save or to destroy. Who are you to give a verdict on your neighbour?

Jam 4:13 Well now, you who say, 'Today or tomorrow, we are off to this or that town; we are going to spend a year there, trading, and make some money.'

Jam 4:14 You never know what will happen tomorrow: you are no more than a mist that appears for a little while and then disappears.

Jam 4:15 Instead of this, you should say, 'If it is the Lord's will, we shall still be alive to do this or that.'

Jam 4:16 But as it is, how boastful and loud -- mouthed you are! Boasting of this kind is always wrong.

Jam 4:17 Everyone who knows what is the right thing to do and does not do it commits a sin.

Jam 5:1 Well now, you rich! Lament, weep for the miseries that are coming to you.

Jam 5:2 Your wealth is rotting, your clothes are all moth-eaten.

Jam 5:3 All your gold and your silver are corroding away, and the same corrosion will be a witness against you and eat into your body. It is like a fire which you have stored up for the final days.

Jam 5:4 Can you hear crying out against you the wages which you kept back from the labourers mowing your fields? The cries of the reapers have reached the ears of the Lord Sabaoth.

Jam 5:5 On earth you have had a life of comfort and luxury; in the time of slaughter you went on eating to your heart's content.

Jam 5:6 It was you who condemned the upright and killed them; they offered you no resistance.

Jam 5:7 Now be patient, brothers, until the Lord's coming. Think of a farmer: how patiently he waits for the precious fruit of the ground until it has had the autumn rains and the spring rains!

Jam 5:8 You too must be patient; do not lose heart, because the Lord's coming will be soon.

Jam 5:9 Do not make complaints against one another, brothers, so as not to be brought to judgement yourselves; the Judge is already to be seen waiting at the gates.

Jam 5:10 For your example, brothers, in patiently putting up with persecution, take the prophets who spoke in the Lord's name;

Jam 5:11 remember it is those who had perseverance that we say are the blessed ones. You have heard of the perseverance of Job and understood the Lord's purpose, realising that the Lord is kind and compassionate.

Jam 5:12 Above all, my brothers, do not swear by heaven or by the earth or use any oaths at all. If you mean 'yes', you must say 'yes'; if you mean 'no', say 'no'. Otherwise you make yourselves liable to judgement.

Jam 5:13 Any one of you who is in trouble should pray; anyone in good spirits should sing a psalm.

Jam 5:14 Any one of you who is ill should send for the elders of the church, and they must anoint the sick person with oil in the name of the Lord and pray over him.

Jam 5:15 The prayer of faith will save the sick person and the Lord will raise him up again; and if he has committed any sins, he will be forgiven.

Jam 5:16 So confess your sins to one another, and pray for one another to be cured; the heartfelt prayer of someone upright works very powerfully.

Jam 5:17 Elijah was a human being as frail as ourselves -- he prayed earnestly for it not to rain, and no rain fell for three and a half years;

Jam 5:18 then he prayed again and the sky gave rain and the earth gave crops.

Jam 5:19 My brothers, if one of you strays away from the truth, and another brings him back to it,

Jam 5:20 he may be sure that anyone who can bring back a sinner from his erring ways will be saving his soul from death and covering over many a sin.

1Pe 1:1 Peter, apostle of Jesus Christ, to all those living as aliens in the Dispersion of Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia, who have been chosen, 1Pe 1:2 in the foresight of God the Father, to be made holy by the Spirit, obedient to Jesus Christ and sprinkled with his blood: Grace and peace be yours in abundance.

1Pe 1:3 Blessed be God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who in his great mercy has given us a new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead

1Pe 1:4 and into a heritage that can never be spoilt or soiled and never fade away. It is reserved in heaven for you

1Pe 1:5 who are being kept safe by God's power through faith until the salvation which has been prepared is revealed at the final point of time.

1Pe 1:6 This is a great joy to you, even though for a short time yet you must bear all sorts of trials;

1Pe 1:7 so that the worth of your faith, more valuable than gold, which is perishable even if it has been tested by fire, may be proved -- to your praise and honour when Jesus Christ is revealed.

1Pe 1:8 You have not seen him, yet you love him; and still without seeing him you believe in him and so are already filled with a joy so glorious that it cannot be described;

1Pe 1:9 and you are sure of the goal of your faith, that is, the salvation of your souls.

1Pe 1:10 This salvation was the subject of the search and investigation of the prophets who spoke of the grace you were to receive,

1Pe 1:11 searching out the time and circumstances for which the Spirit of Christ, bearing witness in them, was revealing the sufferings of Christ and the glories to follow them.

1Pe 1:12 It was revealed to them that it was for your sake and not their own that they were acting as servants delivering the message which has now been announced to you by those who preached to you the gospel through the Holy Spirit sent from heaven. Even the angels long to catch a glimpse of these things.

1Pe 1:13 Your minds, then, must be sober and ready for action; put all your hope in the grace brought to you by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

1Pe 1:14 Do not allow yourselves to be shaped by the passions of your old ignorance,

1Pe 1:15 but as obedient children, be yourselves holy in all your activity, after the model of the Holy One who calls us,

1Pe 1:16 since scripture says, 'Be holy, for I am holy.'

1Pe 1:17 And if you address as Father him who judges without favouritism according to each individual's deeds, live out the time of your exile here in reverent awe.

1Pe 1:18 For you know that the price of your ransom from the futile way of life handed down from your ancestors was paid, not in anything perishable like silver or gold, 1Pe 1:19 but in precious blood as of a blameless and spotless lamb, Christ.

1Pe 1:20 He was marked out before the world was made, and was revealed at the final point of time for your sake.

1Pe 1:21 Through him you now have faith in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory for this very purpose -- that your faith and hope should be in God.

1Pe 1:22 Since by your obedience to the truth you have purified yourselves so that you can experience the genuine love of brothers, love each other intensely from the heart;

1Pe 1:23 for your new birth was not from any perishable seed but from imperishable seed, the living and enduring Word of God.

1Pe 1:24 For all humanity is grass, and all its beauty like the wild flower's. As grass withers, the flower fades, 1Pe 1:25 but the Word of the Lord remains for ever. And this Word is the Good News that has been brought to you.

1Pe 2:1 Rid yourselves, then, of all spite, deceit, hypocrisy, envy and carping criticism.

1Pe 2:2 Like new-born babies all your longing should be for milk -- the unadulterated spiritual milk -- which will help you to grow up to salvation, 1Pe 2:3 at any rate if you have tasted that the Lord is good .

1Pe 2:4 He is the living stone, rejected by human beings but chosen by God and precious to him; set yourselves close to him

1Pe 2:5 so that you, too, may be living stones making a spiritual house as a holy priesthood to offer the spiritual sacrifices made acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.

1Pe 2:6 As scripture says: Now I am laying a stone in Zion, a chosen, precious cornerstone and no one who relies on this will be brought to disgrace.

1Pe 2:7 To you believers it brings honour. But for unbelievers, it is rather a stone which the builders rejected that became a cornerstone, 1Pe 2:8 a stumbling stone, a rock to trip people up. They stumble over it because they do not believe in the Word; it was the fate in store for them.

1Pe 2:9 But you are a chosen race, a kingdom of priests, a holy nation, a people to be a personal possession to sing the praises of God who called you out of the darkness into his wonderful light.

1Pe 2:10 Once you were a non-people and now you are the People of God; once you were outside his pity; now you have received pity.

1Pe 2:11 I urge you, my dear friends, as strangers and nomads, to keep yourselves free from the disordered natural inclinations that attack the soul.

1Pe 2:12 Always behave honourably among gentiles so that they can see for themselves what moral lives you lead, and when the day of reckoning comes, give thanks to God for the things which now make them denounce you as criminals.

1Pe 2:13 For the sake of the Lord, accept the authority of every human institution: the emperor, as the supreme authority, 1Pe 2:14 and the governors as commissioned by him to punish criminals and praise those who do good.

1Pe 2:15 It is God's will that by your good deeds you should silence the ignorant talk of fools.

1Pe 2:16 You are slaves of no one except God, so behave like free people, and never use your freedom as a cover for wickedness.

1Pe 2:17 Have respect for everyone and love for your fellow-believers; fear God and honour the emperor.

1Pe 2:18 Slaves, you should obey your masters respectfully, not only those who are kind and reasonable but also those who are difficult to please.

1Pe 2:19 You see, there is merit if, in awareness of God, you put up with the pains of undeserved punishment;

1Pe 2:20 but what glory is there in putting up with a beating after you have done something wrong? The merit in the sight of God is in putting up with it patiently when you are punished for doing your duty.

1Pe 2:21 This, in fact, is what you were called to do, because Christ suffered for you and left an example for you to follow in his steps.

1Pe 2:22 He had done nothing wrong, and had spoken no deceit.

1Pe 2:23 He was insulted and did not retaliate with insults; when he was suffering he made no threats but put his trust in the upright judge.

1Pe 2:24 He was bearing our sins in his own body on the cross, so that we might die to our sins and live for uprightness; through his bruises you have been healed.

1Pe 2:25 You had gone astray like sheep but now you have returned to the shepherd and guardian of your souls.

1Pe 3:1 In the same way, you wives should be obedient to your husbands. Then if there are some husbands who do not believe the Word, they may find themselves won over, without a word spoken, by the way their wives behave, 1Pe 3:2 when they see the reverence and purity of your way of life.

1Pe 3:3 Your adornment should be not an exterior one, consisting of braided hair or gold jewellery or fine clothing,

1Pe 3:4 but the interior disposition of the heart, consisting in the imperishable quality of a gentle and peaceful spirit, so precious in the sight of God.

1Pe 3:5 That was how the holy women of the past dressed themselves attractively -- they hoped in God and were submissive to their husbands;

1Pe 3:6 like Sarah, who was obedient to Abraham, and called him her lord. You are now her children, as long as you live good lives free from fear and worry.

1Pe 3:7 In the same way, husbands must always treat their wives with consideration in their life together, respecting a woman as one who, though she may be the weaker partner, is equally an heir to the generous gift of life. This will prevent anything from coming in the way of your prayers.

1Pe 3:8 Finally: you should all agree among yourselves and be sympathetic; love the brothers, have compassion and be self-effacing.

1Pe 3:9 Never repay one wrong with another, or one abusive word with another; instead, repay with a blessing. That is what you are called to do, so that you inherit a blessing.

1Pe 3:10 For Who among you delights in life, longs for time to enjoy prosperity? Guard your tongue from evil, your lips from any breath of deceit.

1Pe 3:11 Turn away from evil and do good, seek peace and pursue it.

1Pe 3:12 For the eyes of the Lord are on the upright, his ear turned to their cry. But the Lord's face is set against those who do evil.

1Pe 3:13 No one can hurt you if you are determined to do only what is right;

1Pe 3:14 and blessed are you if you have to suffer for being upright. Have no dread of them; have no fear.

1Pe 3:15 Simply proclaim the Lord Christ holy in your hearts, and always have your answer ready for people who ask you the reason for the hope that you have.

1Pe 3:16 But give it with courtesy and respect and with a clear conscience, so that those who slander your good behaviour in Christ may be ashamed of their accusations.

1Pe 3:17 And if it is the will of God that you should suffer, it is better to suffer for doing right than for doing wrong.

1Pe 3:18 Christ himself died once and for all for sins, the upright for the sake of the guilty, to lead us to God. In the body he was put to death, in the spirit he was raised to life, 1Pe 3:19 and, in the spirit, he went to preach to the spirits in prison.

1Pe 3:20 They refused to believe long ago, while God patiently waited to receive them, in Noah's time when the ark was being built. In it only a few, that is eight souls, were saved through water.

1Pe 3:21 It is the baptism corresponding to this water which saves you now -- not the washing off of physical dirt but the pledge of a good conscience given to God through the resurrection of Jesus Christ,

1Pe 3:22 who has entered heaven and is at God's right hand, with angels, ruling forces and powers subject to him.

1Pe 4:1 As Christ has undergone bodily suffering, you too should arm yourselves with the same conviction, that anyone who has undergone bodily suffering has broken with sin,

1Pe 4:2 because for the rest of life on earth that person is ruled not by human passions but only by the will of God.

1Pe 4:3 You spent quite long enough in the past living the sort of life that gentiles choose to live, behaving in a debauched way, giving way to your passions, drinking to excess, having wild parties and drunken orgies and sacrilegiously worshipping false gods.

1Pe 4:4 So people are taken aback that you no longer hurry off with them to join this flood which is rushing down to ruin, and then abuse you for it.

1Pe 4:5 They will have to answer for it before the judge who is to judge the living and the dead.

1Pe 4:6 And this was why the gospel was brought to the dead as well, so that, though in their bodies they had undergone the judgement that faces all humanity, in their spirit they might enjoy the life of God.

1Pe 4:7 The end of all things is near, so keep your minds calm and sober for prayer.

1Pe 4:8 Above all preserve an intense love for each other, since love covers over many a sin.

1Pe 4:9 Welcome each other into your houses without grumbling.

1Pe 4:10 Each one of you has received a special grace, so, like good stewards responsible for all these varied graces of God, put it at the service of others.

1Pe 4:11 If anyone is a speaker, let it be as the words of God, if anyone serves, let it be as in strength granted by God; so that in everything God may receive the glory, through Jesus Christ, since to him alone belong all glory and power for ever and ever. Amen.

1Pe 4:12 My dear friends, do not be taken aback at the testing by fire which is taking place among you, as though something strange were happening to you;

1Pe 4:13 but in so far as you share in the sufferings of Christ, be glad, so that you may enjoy a much greater gladness when his glory is revealed.

1Pe 4:14 If you are insulted for bearing Christ's name, blessed are you, for on you rests the Spirit of God, the Spirit of glory.

1Pe 4:15 None of you should ever deserve to suffer for being a murderer, a thief, a criminal or an informer;

1Pe 4:16 but if any one of you should suffer for being a Christian, then there must be no shame but thanksgiving to God for bearing this name.

1Pe 4:17 The time has come for the judgement to begin at the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the end for those who refuse to believe God's gospel?

1Pe 4:18 If it is hard for the upright to be saved, what will happen to the wicked and to sinners?

1Pe 4:19 So even those whom God allows to suffer should commit themselves to a Creator who is trustworthy, and go on doing good.

1Pe 5:1 I urge the elders among you, as a fellow-elder myself and a witness to the sufferings of Christ, and as one who is to have a share in the glory that is to be revealed:

1Pe 5:2 give a shepherd's care to the flock of God that is entrusted to you: watch over it, not simply as a duty but gladly, as God wants; not for sordid money, but because you are eager to do it.

1Pe 5:3 Do not lord it over the group which is in your charge, but be an example for the flock.

1Pe 5:4 When the chief shepherd appears, you will be given the unfading crown of glory.

1Pe 5:5 In the same way, younger people, be subject to the elders. Humility towards one another must be the garment you all wear constantly, because God opposes the proud but accords his favour to the humble.

1Pe 5:6 Bow down, then, before the power of God now, so that he may raise you up in due time;

1Pe 5:7 unload all your burden on to him, since he is concerned about you.

1Pe 5:8 Keep sober and alert, because your enemy the devil is on the prowl like a roaring lion, looking for someone to devour.

1Pe 5:9 Stand up to him, strong in faith and in the knowledge that it is the same kind of suffering that the community of your brothers throughout the world is undergoing.

1Pe 5:10 You will have to suffer only for a little while: the God of all grace who called you to eternal glory in Christ will restore you, he will confirm, strengthen and support you.

1Pe 5:11 His power lasts for ever and ever. Amen.

1Pe 5:12 I write these few words to you through Silvanus, who is a trustworthy brother, to encourage you and attest that this is the true grace of God. Stand firm in it!

1Pe 5:13 Your sister in Babylon, who is with you among the chosen, sends you greetings; so does my son, Mark.

1Pe 5:14 Greet one another with a kiss of love. Peace to you all who are in Christ.

2Pe 1:1 Simon Peter, servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to those who have received a faith as precious as our own, given through the saving justice of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ.

2Pe 1:2 Grace and peace be yours in abundance through the knowledge of our Lord.

2Pe 1:3 By his divine power, he has lavished on us all the things we need for life and for true devotion, through the knowledge of him who has called us by his own glory and goodness.

2Pe 1:4 Through these, the greatest and priceless promises have been lavished on us, that through them you should share the divine nature and escape the corruption rife in the world through disordered passion.

2Pe 1:5 With this in view, do your utmost to support your faith with goodness, goodness with understanding,

2Pe 1:6 understanding with self-control, self-control with perseverance, perseverance with devotion,

2Pe 1:7 devotion with kindness to the brothers, and kindness to the brothers with love.

2Pe 1:8 The possession and growth of these qualities will prevent your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ from being ineffectual or unproductive.

2Pe 1:9 But without them, a person is blind or short-sighted, forgetting how the sins of the past were washed away.

2Pe 1:10 Instead of this, brothers, never allow your choice or calling to waver; then there will be no danger of your stumbling,

2Pe 1:11 for in this way you will be given the generous gift of entry to the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

2Pe 1:12 That is why I will always go on recalling the same truths to you, even though you already know them and are firmly fixed in these truths.

2Pe 1:13 I am sure it is my duty, as long as I am in this tent, to keep stirring you up with reminders,

2Pe 1:14 since I know the time for me to lay aside this tent is coming soon, as our Lord Jesus Christ made clear to me.

2Pe 1:15 And I shall take great care that after my own departure you will still have a means to recall these things to mind.

2Pe 1:16 When we told you about the power and the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, we were not slavishly repeating cleverly invented myths; no, we had seen his majesty with our own eyes.

2Pe 1:17 He was honoured and glorified by God the Father, when a voice came to him from the transcendent Glory, This is my Son, the Beloved; he enjoys my favour.

2Pe 1:18 We ourselves heard this voice from heaven, when we were with him on the holy mountain.

2Pe 1:19 So we have confirmation of the words of the prophets; and you will be right to pay attention to it as to a lamp for lighting a way through the dark, until the dawn comes and the morning star rises in your minds.

2Pe 1:20 At the same time, we must recognise that the interpretation of scriptural prophecy is never a matter for the individual.

2Pe 1:21 For no prophecy ever came from human initiative. When people spoke for God it was the Holy Spirit that moved them.

2Pe 2:1 As there were false prophets in the past history of our people, so you too will have your false teachers, who will insinuate their own disruptive views and, by disowning the Lord who bought them freedom, will bring upon themselves speedy destruction.

2Pe 2:2 Many will copy their debauched behaviour, and the Way of Truth will be brought into disrepute on their account.

2Pe 2:3 In their greed they will try to make a profit out of you with untrue tales. But the judgement made upon them long ago is not idle, and the destruction awaiting them is for ever on the watch.

2Pe 2:4 When angels sinned, God did not spare them: he sent them down into the underworld and consigned them to the dark abyss to be held there until the Judgement.

2Pe 2:5 He did not spare the world in ancient times: he saved only Noah, the preacher of uprightness, along with seven others, when he sent the Flood over a world of sinners.

2Pe 2:6 He condemned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah by reducing them to ashes as a warning to future sinners;

2Pe 2:7 but rescued Lot, an upright man who had been sickened by the debauched way in which these vile people behaved-

2Pe 2:8 for that upright man, living among them, was outraged in his upright soul by the crimes that he saw and heard every day.

2Pe 2:9 All this shows that the Lord is well able to rescue the good from their trials, and hold the wicked for their punishment until the Day of Judgement,

2Pe 2:10 especially those who follow the desires of their corrupt human nature and have no respect for the Lord's authority. Such self-willed people with no reverence are not afraid of offending against the glorious ones, 2Pe 2:11 but the angels in their greater strength and power make no complaint or accusation against them in the Lord's presence.

2Pe 2:12 But these people speak evil of what they do not understand; they are like brute beasts, born only to be caught and killed, and like beasts they will be destroyed, being injured in return for the injuries they have inflicted.

2Pe 2:13 Debauchery even by day they make their pleasure; they are unsightly blots, and amuse themselves by their trickery even when they are sharing your table;

2Pe 2:14 with their eyes always looking for adultery, people with an insatiable capacity for sinning, they will seduce any but the most stable soul. Where greed is concerned they are at their peak of fitness. They are under a curse.

2Pe 2:15 They have left the right path and wandered off to follow the path of Balaam son of Bosor, who set his heart on a dishonest reward, but soon had his fault pointed out to him:

2Pe 2:16 a dumb beast of burden, speaking with a human voice, put a stop to the madness of the prophet.

2Pe 2:17 People like this are dried-up springs, fogs swirling in the wind, and the gloom of darkness is stored up for them.

2Pe 2:18 With their high-sounding but empty talk they tempt back people who have scarcely escaped from those who live in error, by playing on the disordered desires of their human nature and by debaucheries.

2Pe 2:19 They may promise freedom but are themselves slaves to corruption; because if anyone lets himself be dominated by anything, then he is a slave to it;

2Pe 2:20 and anyone who has escaped the pollution of the world by coming to know our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and who then allows himself to be entangled and mastered by it a second time, ends up by being worse than he was before.

2Pe 2:21 It would have been better for them never to have learnt the way of uprightness, than to learn it and then desert the holy commandment that was entrusted to them.

2Pe 2:22 What they have done is exactly as the proverb rightly says: The dog goes back to its vomit and: As soon as the sow has been washed, it wallows in the mud.

2Pe 3:1 My dear friends, this is the second letter I have written to you, trying to awaken in you by my reminders an unclouded understanding.

2Pe 3:2 Remember what was said in the past by the holy prophets and the command of the Lord and Saviour given by your apostles.

2Pe 3:3 First of all, do not forget that in the final days there will come sarcastic scoffers whose life is ruled by their passions.

2Pe 3:4 'What has happened to the promise of his coming?' they will say, 'Since our Fathers died everything has gone on just as it has since the beginning of creation!'

2Pe 3:5 They deliberately ignore the fact that long ago there were the heavens and the earth, formed out of water and through water by the Word of God,

2Pe 3:6 and that it was through these same factors that the world of those days was destroyed by the floodwaters.

2Pe 3:7 It is the same Word which is reserving the present heavens and earth for fire, keeping them till the Day of Judgement and of the destruction of sinners.

2Pe 3:8 But there is one thing, my dear friends, that you must never forget: that with the Lord, a day is like a thousand years, and a thousand years are like a day.

2Pe 3:9 The Lord is not being slow in carrying out his promises, as some people think he is; rather is he being patient with you, wanting nobody to be lost and everybody to be brought to repentance.

2Pe 3:10 The Day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then with a roar the sky will vanish, the elements will catch fire and melt away, the earth and all that it contains will be burned up.

2Pe 3:11 Since everything is coming to an end like this, what holy and saintly lives you should be living

2Pe 3:12 while you wait for the Day of God to come, and try to hasten its coming: on that Day the sky will dissolve in flames and the elements melt in the heat.

2Pe 3:13 What we are waiting for, relying on his promises, is the new heavens and new earth, where uprightness will be at home.

2Pe 3:14 So then, my dear friends, while you are waiting, do your best to live blameless and unsullied lives so that he will find you at peace.

2Pe 3:15 Think of our Lord's patience as your opportunity to be saved; our brother Paul, who is so dear to us, told you this when he wrote to you with the wisdom that he was given.

2Pe 3:16 He makes this point too in his letters as a whole wherever he touches on these things. In all his letters there are of course some passages which are hard to understand, and these are the ones that uneducated and unbalanced people distort, in the same way as they distort the rest of scripture -to their own destruction.

2Pe 3:17 Since you have been forewarned about this, my dear friends, be careful that you do not come to the point of losing the firm ground that you are standing on, carried away by the errors of unprincipled people.

2Pe 3:18 Instead, continue to grow in the grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory, in time and eternity. Amen.

1Jo 1:1 Something which has existed since the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our own eyes, which we have watched and touched with our own hands, the Word of life -- this is our theme.

1Jo 1:2 That life was made visible; we saw it and are giving our testimony, declaring to you the eternal life, which was present to the Father and has been revealed to us.

1Jo 1:3 We are declaring to you what we have seen and heard, so that you too may share our life. Our life is shared with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ.

1Jo 1:4 We are writing this to you so that our joy may be complete.

1Jo 1:5 This is what we have heard from him and are declaring to you: God is light, and there is no darkness in him at all.

1Jo 1:6 If we say that we share in God's life while we are living in darkness, we are lying, because we are not living the truth.

1Jo 1:7 But if we live in light, as he is in light, we have a share in another's life, and the blood of Jesus, his Son, cleanses us from all sin.

1Jo 1:8 If we say, 'We have no sin,' we are deceiving ourselves, and truth has no place in us;

1Jo 1:9 if we acknowledge our sins, he is trustworthy and upright, so that he will forgive our sins and will cleanse us from all evil.

1Jo 1:10 If we say, 'We have never sinned,' we make him a liar, and his word has no place in us.

1Jo 2:1 My children, I am writing this to prevent you from sinning; but if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ, the upright.

1Jo 2:2 He is the sacrifice to expiate our sins, and not only ours, but also those of the whole world.

1Jo 2:3 In this way we know that we have come to know him, if we keep his commandments.

1Jo 2:4 Whoever says, 'I know him' without keeping his commandments, is a liar, and truth has no place in him.

1Jo 2:5 But anyone who does keep his word, in such a one God's love truly reaches its perfection. This is the proof that we are in God.

1Jo 2:6 Whoever claims to remain in him must act as he acted.

1Jo 2:7 My dear friends, this is not a new commandment I am writing for you, but an old commandment that you have had from the beginning; the old commandment is the message you have heard.

1Jo 2:8 Yet in another way, I am writing a new commandment for you -- and this is true for you, just as much as for him -- for darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining.

1Jo 2:9 Whoever claims to be in light but hates his brother is still in darkness.

1Jo 2:10 Anyone who loves his brother remains in light and there is in him nothing to make him fall away.

1Jo 2:11 But whoever hates his brother is in darkness and is walking about in darkness not knowing where he is going, because darkness has blinded him.

1Jo 2:12 I am writing to you, children, because your sins have been forgiven through his name.

1Jo 2:13 I am writing to you, fathers, because you have come to know the One who has existed since the beginning. I am writing to you, young people, because you have overcome the Evil One.

1Jo 2:14 I have written to you, children, because you have come to know the Father. I have written to you, parents, because you have come to know the One who has existed since the beginning. I have written to you, young people, because you are strong, and God's word remains in you, and you have overcome the Evil One.

1Jo 2:15 Do not love the world or what is in the world. If anyone does love the world, the love of the Father finds no place in him, 1Jo 2:16 because everything there is in the world -- disordered bodily desires, disordered desires of the eyes, pride in possession -- is not from the Father but is from the world.

1Jo 2:17 And the world, with all its disordered desires, is passing away. But whoever does the will of God remains for ever.

1Jo 2:18 Children, this is the final hour; you have heard that the Antichrist is coming, and now many Antichrists have already come; from this we know that it is the final hour.

1Jo 2:19 They have gone from among us, but they never really belonged to us; if they had belonged to us, they would have stayed with us. But this was to prove that not one of them belonged to us.

1Jo 2:20 But you have been anointed by the Holy One, and have all received knowledge.

1Jo 2:21 I have written to you not because you are ignorant of the truth, but because you are well aware of it, and because no lie can come from the truth.

1Jo 2:22 Who is the liar, if not one who claims that Jesus is not the Christ? This is the Antichrist, who denies both the Father and the Son.

1Jo 2:23 Whoever denies the Son cannot have the Father either; whoever acknowledges the Son has the Father too.

1Jo 2:24 Let what you heard in the beginning remain in you; as long as what you heard in the beginning remains in you, you will remain in the Son and in the Father.

1Jo 2:25 And the promise he made you himself is eternal life.

1Jo 2:26 So much have I written to you about those who are trying to lead you astray.

1Jo 2:27 But as for you, the anointing you received from him remains in you, and you do not need anyone to teach you; since the anointing he gave you teaches you everything, and since it is true, not false, remain in him just as he has taught you.

1Jo 2:28 Therefore remain in him now, children, so that when he appears we may be fearless, and not shrink from him in shame at his coming.

1Jo 2:29 If you know that he is upright you must recognise that everyone whose life is upright is a child of his.

1Jo 3:1 You must see what great love the Father has lavished on us by letting us be called God's children -- which is what we are! The reason why the world does not acknowledge us is that it did not acknowledge him.

1Jo 3:2 My dear friends, we are already God's children, but what we shall be in the future has not yet been revealed. We are well aware that when he appears we shall be like him, because we shall see him as he really is.

1Jo 3:3 Whoever treasures this hope of him purifies himself, to be as pure as he is.

1Jo 3:4 Whoever sins, acts wickedly, because all sin is wickedness.

1Jo 3:5 Now you are well aware that he has appeared in order to take sins away, and that in him there is no sin.

1Jo 3:6 No one who remains in him sins, and whoever sins has neither seen him nor recognised him.

1Jo 3:7 Children, do not let anyone lead you astray. Whoever acts uprightly is upright, just as he is upright.

1Jo 3:8 Whoever lives sinfully belongs to the devil, since the devil has been a sinner from the beginning. This was the purpose of the appearing of the Son of God, to undo the work of the devil.

1Jo 3:9 No one who is a child of God sins because God's seed remains in him. Nor can he sin, because he is a child of God.

1Jo 3:10 This is what distinguishes the children of God from the children of the devil: whoever does not live uprightly and does not love his brother is not from God.

1Jo 3:11 This is the message which you heard from the beginning, that we must love one another,

1Jo 3:12 not to be like Cain, who was from the Evil One and murdered his brother. And why did he murder his brother? Because his own actions were evil and his brother's upright.

1Jo 3:13 Do not be surprised, brothers, if the world hates you.

1Jo 3:14 We are well aware that we have passed over from death to life because we love our brothers.

Whoever does not love, remains in death.

- 1Jo 3:15 Anyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you are well aware that no murderer has eternal life remaining in him.
- 1Jo 3:16 This is the proof of love, that he laid down his life for us, and we too ought to lay down our lives for our brothers.
- 1Jo 3:17 If anyone is well-off in worldly possessions and sees his brother in need but closes his heart to him, how can the love of God be remaining in him?
- 1Jo 3:18 Children, our love must be not just words or mere talk, but something active and genuine.
- 1Jo 3:19 This will be the proof that we belong to the truth, and it will convince us in his presence,
- 1Jo 3:20 even if our own feelings condemn us, that God is greater than our feelings and knows all things.
- 1Jo 3:21 My dear friends, if our own feelings do not condemn us, we can be fearless before God,
- 1Jo 3:22 and whatever we ask we shall receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do what is acceptable to him.
- 1Jo 3:23 His commandment is this, that we should believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and that we should love one another as he commanded us.
- 1Jo 3:24 Whoever keeps his commandments remains in God, and God in him. And this is the proof that he remains in us: the Spirit that he has given us.
- 1Jo 4:1 My dear friends, not every spirit is to be trusted, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, for many false prophets are at large in the world.
- 1Jo 4:2 This is the proof of the spirit of God: any spirit which acknowledges Jesus Christ, come in human nature, is from God,
- 1Jo 4:3 and no spirit which fails to acknowledge Jesus is from God; it is the spirit of Antichrist, whose coming you have heard of; he is already at large in the world.
- 1Jo 4:4 Children, you are from God and have overcome them, because he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world.
- 1Jo 4:5 They are from the world, and therefore the world inspires what they say, and listens to them.
- 1Jo 4:6 We are from God; whoever recognises God listens to us; anyone who is not from God refuses to listen to us. This is how we can distinguish the spirit of truth from the spirit of falsehood.
- 1Jo 4:7 My dear friends, let us love one another, since love is from God and everyone who loves is a child of God and knows God.
- 1Jo 4:8 Whoever fails to love does not know God, because God is love.
- 1Jo 4:9 This is the revelation of God's love for us, that God sent his only Son into the world that we might have life through him.
- 1Jo 4:10 Love consists in this: it is not we who loved God, but God loved us and sent his Son to expiate our sins.
- 1Jo 4:11 My dear friends, if God loved us so much, we too should love one another.
- 1Jo 4:12 No one has ever seen God, but as long as we love one another God remains in us and his love comes to its perfection in us.
- 1Jo 4:13 This is the proof that we remain in him and he in us, that he has given us a share in his Spirit.
- 1Jo 4:14 We ourselves have seen and testify that the Father sent his Son as Saviour of the world.
- 1Jo 4:15 Anyone who acknowledges that Jesus is the Son of God, God remains in him and he in God.
- 1Jo 4:16 We have recognised for ourselves, and put our faith in, the love God has for us. God is love, and whoever remains in love remains in God and God in him.
- 1Jo 4:17 Love comes to its perfection in us when we can face the Day of Judgement fearlessly, because even in this world we have become as he is.
- 1Jo 4:18 In love there is no room for fear, but perfect love drives out fear, because fear implies punishment and no one who is afraid has come to perfection in love.
- 1Jo 4:19 Let us love, then, because he first loved us.
- 1Jo 4:20 Anyone who says 'I love God' and hates his brother, is a liar, since whoever does not love the brother whom he can see cannot love God whom he has not seen.
- 1Jo 4:21 Indeed this is the commandment we have received from him, that whoever loves God, must also love his brother.
- 1Jo 5:1 Whoever believes that Jesus is the Christ is a child of God, and whoever loves the father loves the son.
- 1Jo 5:2 In this way we know that we love God's children, when we love God and keep his commandments.
- 1Jo 5:3 This is what the love of God is: keeping his commandments. Nor are his commandments burdensome,
- 1Jo 5:4 because every child of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world -- our faith.
- 1Jo 5:5 Who can overcome the world but the one who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?
- 1Jo 5:6 He it is who came by water and blood, Jesus Christ, not with water alone but with water and blood, and it is the Spirit that bears witness, for the Spirit is Truth.

1Jo 5:7 So there are three witnesses,

1Jo 5:8 the Spirit, water and blood; and the three of them coincide.

1Jo 5:9 If we accept the testimony of human witnesses, God's testimony is greater, for this is God's testimony which he gave about his Son.

1Jo 5:10 Whoever believes in the Son of God has this testimony within him, and whoever does not believe is making God a liar, because he has not believed the testimony God has given about his Son.

1Jo 5:11 This is the testimony: God has given us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.

1Jo 5:12 Whoever has the Son has life, and whoever has not the Son of God has not life.

1Jo 5:13 I have written this to you who believe in the name of the Son of God so that you may know that you have eternal life.

1Jo 5:14 Our fearlessness towards him consists in this, that if we ask anything in accordance with his will he hears us.

1Jo 5:15 And if we know that he listens to whatever we ask him, we know that we already possess whatever we have asked of him.

1Jo 5:16 If anyone sees his brother commit a sin that is not a deadly sin, he has only to pray, and God will give life to this brother -- provided that it is not a deadly sin. There is sin that leads to death and I am not saying you must pray about that.

1Jo 5:17 Every kind of wickedness is sin, but not all sin leads to death.

1Jo 5:18 We are well aware that no one who is a child of God sins, because he who was born from God protects him, and the Evil One has no hold over him.

1Jo 5:19 We are well aware that we are from God, and the whole world is in the power of the Evil One.

1Jo 5:20 We are well aware also that the Son of God has come, and has given us understanding so that we may know the One who is true. We are in the One who is true as we are in his Son, Jesus Christ. He is the true God and this is eternal life. Children, be on your guard against false gods.

2Jo 1:1 From the Elder: my greetings to the Lady, the chosen one, and to her children, whom I love in truth -- and I am not the only one, for so do all who have come to know the Truth -- and I am not the only one, for so do all who have come to know the Truth-

2Jo 1:2 because of the truth that remains in us and will be with us for ever.

2Jo 1:3 In our life of truth and love, we shall have grace, faithful love and peace from God the Father and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father.

2Jo 1:4 It has given me great joy to find that children of yours have been living the life of truth as we were commanded by the Father.

2Jo 1:5 And now I am asking you -- dear lady, not as though I were writing you a new commandment, but only the one which we have had from the beginning -- that we should love one another.

2Jo 1:6 To love is to live according to his commandments: this is the commandment which you have heard since the beginning, to live a life of love.

2Jo 1:7 There are many deceivers at large in the world, refusing to acknowledge Jesus Christ as coming in human nature. They are the Deceiver; they are the Antichrist.

2Jo 1:8 Watch yourselves, or all our work will be lost and you will forfeit your full reward.

2Jo 1:9 If anybody does not remain in the teaching of Christ but goes beyond it, he does not have God with him: only those who remain in what he taught can have the Father and the Son with them.

2Jo 1:10 If anyone comes to you bringing a different doctrine, you must not receive him into your house or even give him a greeting.

2Jo 1:11 Whoever greets him has a share in his wicked activities.

2Jo 1:12 There are several things I have to tell you, but I have thought it best not to trust them to paper and ink. I hope instead to visit you and talk to you in person, so that our joy may be complete.

2Jo 1:13 Greetings to you from the children of your sister, the chosen one.

3Jo 1:1 From the Elder: greetings to my dear friend Gaius, whom I love in truth.

3Jo 1:2 My dear friend, I hope everything is going happily with you and that you are as well physically as you are spiritually.

3Jo 1:3 It was a great joy to me when some brothers came and told of your faithfulness to the truth, and of your life in the truth.

3Jo 1:4 It is always my greatest joy to hear that my children are living according to the truth.

3Jo 1:5 My dear friend, you have done loyal work in helping these brothers, even though they were strangers to you.

3Jo 1:6 They are a proof to the whole Church of your love and it would be a kindness if you could help them on their journey as God would approve.

3Jo 1:7 It was entirely for the sake of the name that they set out, without depending on the non-believers for anything:

3Jo 1:8 it is our duty to welcome people of this sort and contribute our share to their work for the truth.

3Jo 1:9 I have written a note for the members of the church, but Diotrephes, who enjoys being in charge of it, refuses to accept us.

3Jo 1:10 So if I come, I shall tell everyone how he has behaved, and about the wicked accusations he has been circulating against us. As if that were not enough, he not only refuses to welcome our brothers, but prevents from doing so other people who would have liked to, and expels them from the church.

3Jo 1:11 My dear friend, never follow a bad example, but keep following the good one; whoever does what is right is from God, but no one who does what is wrong has ever seen God.

3Jo 1:12 Demetrius has been approved by everyone, and indeed by Truth itself. We too will vouch for him and you know that our testimony is true.

3Jo 1:13 There were several things I had to tell you but I would rather not trust them to pen and ink.

3Jo 1:14 However, I hope to see you soon and talk to you in person.

3Jo 1:15 Peace be with you; greetings from your friends; greet each of our friends by name.

Jud 1:1 From Jude, servant of Jesus Christ and brother of James; to those who are called, to those who are dear to God the Father and kept safe for Jesus Christ,

Jud 1:2 mercy, peace and love be yours in abundance.

Jud 1:3 My dear friends, at a time when I was eagerly looking forward to writing to you about the salvation that we all share, I felt that I must write to you encouraging you to fight hard for the faith which has been once and for all entrusted to God's holy people.

Jud 1:4 Certain people have infiltrated among you, who were long ago marked down for condemnation on this account; without any reverence they pervert the grace of our God to debauchery and deny all religion, rejecting our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

Jud 1:5 I should like to remind you -- though you have already learnt it once and for all -- that the Lord rescued the nation from Egypt, but afterwards he still destroyed the people who refused to believe him;

Jud 1:6 and the angels who did not keep to the authority they had, but left their appointed sphere, he has kept in darkness in eternal bonds until the judgement of the great Day.

Jud 1:7 Sodom and Gomorrah, too, and the neighbouring towns, who with the same sexual immorality pursued unnatural lusts, are put before us as an example since they are paying the penalty of eternal fire.

Jud 1:8 Nevertheless, these people are doing the same: in their delusions they not only defile their bodies and disregard Authority, but abuse the Glories as well.

Jud 1:9 Not even the archangel Michael, when he was engaged in argument with the devil about the corpse of Moses, dared to denounce him in the language of abuse; all he said was, 'May the Lord rebuke you.'

Jud 1:10 But these people abuse anything they do not understand; and the only things they do understand -- merely by nature like unreasoning animals -- will turn out to be fatal to them.

Jud 1:11 Alas for them, because they have followed Cain; they have thrown themselves into the same delusion as Balaam for a reward; they have been ruined by the same rebellion as Korah -and share the same fate.

Jud 1:12 They are a dangerous hazard at your community meals, coming for the food and quite shamelessly only looking after themselves. They are like the clouds blown about by the winds and bringing no rain, or like autumn trees, barren and uprooted and so twice dead;

Jud 1:13 like wild sea waves with their own shame for foam; or like wandering stars for whom the gloom of darkness is stored up for ever.

Jud 1:14 It was with them in mind that Enoch, the seventh patriarch from Adam, made his prophecy when he said, 'I tell you, the Lord will come with his holy ones in their tens of thousands,

Jud 1:15 to pronounce judgement on all humanity and to sentence the godless for all the godless things they have done, and for all the defiant things said against him by godless sinners.'

Jud 1:16 They are mischief-makers, grumblers governed only by their own desires, with mouths full of boastful talk, ready to flatter others for gain.

Jud 1:17 But remember, my dear friends, what the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ foretold.

Jud 1:18 'At the final point of time', they told you, 'there will be mockers who follow nothing but their own godless desires.'

Jud 1:19 It is they who cause division, who live according to nature and do not possess the Spirit.

Jud 1:20 But you, my dear friends, must build yourselves up on the foundation of your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit;

Jud 1:21 keep yourselves within the love of God and wait for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to give you eternal life.

Jud 1:22 To some you must be compassionate because they are wavering;

Jud 1:23 others you must save by snatching them from the fire; to others again you must be compassionate but wary, hating even the tunic stained by their bodies.

Jud 1:24 To him who can keep you from falling and bring you safe to his glorious presence, innocent and joyful,

Jud 1:25 to the only God, our Saviour, through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, authority and power, before all ages, now and for ever. Amen.

Rev 1:1 A revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave him so that he could tell his servants what is now to take place very soon; he sent his angel to make it known to his servant John,

Rev 1:2 and John has borne witness to the Word of God and to the witness of Jesus Christ, everything that he saw.

Rev 1:3 Blessed is anyone who reads the words of this prophecy, and blessed those who hear them, if they treasure the content, because the Time is near.

Rev 1:4 John, to the seven churches of Asia: grace and peace to you from him who is, who was, and who is to come, from the seven spirits who are before his throne,

Rev 1:5 and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the First-born from the dead, the highest of earthly kings. He loves us and has washed away our sins with his blood,

Rev 1:6 and made us a Kingdom of Priests to serve his God and Father; to him, then, be glory and power for ever and ever. Amen.

Rev 1:7 Look, he is coming on the clouds; everyone will see him, even those who pierced him, and all the races of the earth will mourn over him. Indeed this shall be so. Amen.

Rev 1:8 'I am the Alpha and the Omega,' says the Lord God, who is, who was, and who is to come, the Almighty.

Rev 1:9 I, John, your brother and partner in hardships, in the kingdom and in perseverance in Jesus, was on the island of Patmos on account of the Word of God and of witness to Jesus;

Rev 1:10 it was the Lord's Day and I was in ecstasy, and I heard a loud voice behind me, like the sound of a trumpet, saying,

Rev 1:11 'Write down in a book all that you see, and send it to the seven churches of Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia and Laodicea.'

Rev 1:12 I turned round to see who was speaking to me, and when I turned I saw seven golden lamp-stands

Rev 1:13 and, in the middle of them, one like a Son of man, dressed in a long robe tied at the waist with a belt of gold.

Rev 1:14 His head and his hair were white with the whiteness of wool, like snow, his eyes like a burning flame,

Rev 1:15 his feet like burnished bronze when it has been refined in a furnace, and his voice like the sound of the ocean.

Rev 1:16 In his right hand he was holding seven stars, out of his mouth came a sharp sword, double-edged, and his face was like the sun shining with all its force.

Rev 1:17 When I saw him, I fell at his feet as though dead, but he laid his right hand on me and said, 'Do not be afraid; it is I, the First and the Last; I am the Living One,

Rev 1:18 I was dead and look -- I am alive for ever and ever, and I hold the keys of death and of Hades.

Rev 1:19 Now write down all that you see of present happenings and what is still to come.

Rev 1:20 The secret of the seven stars you have seen in my right hand, and of the seven golden lamp-stands, is this: the seven stars are the angels of the seven churches, and the seven lamp-stands are the seven churches themselves.'

Rev 2:1 'Write to the angel of the church in Ephesus and say, "Here is the message of the one who holds the seven stars in his right hand and who lives among the seven golden lamp-stands:

Rev 2:2 I know your activities, your hard work and your perseverance. I know you cannot stand wicked people, and how you put to the test those who were self-styled apostles, and found them false.

Rev 2:3 I know too that you have perseverance, and have suffered for my name without growing tired.

Rev 2:4 Nevertheless, I have this complaint to make: you have less love now than formerly.

Rev 2:5 Think where you were before you fell; repent, and behave as you did at first, or else, if you will not repent, I shall come to you and take your lamp-stand from its place.

Rev 2:6 It is in your favour, nevertheless, that you loathe as I do the way the Nicolaitans are behaving.

Rev 2:7 Let anyone who can hear, listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches: those who prove victorious I will feed from the tree of life set in God's paradise."

Rev 2:8 'Write to the angel of the church in Smyrna and say, "Here is the message of the First and the Last, who was dead and has come to life again:

Rev 2:9 I know your hardships and your poverty, and -- though you are rich -- the slander of the people who falsely claim to be Jews but are really members of the synagogue of Satan.

Rev 2:10 Do not be afraid of the sufferings that are coming to you. Look, the devil will send some of you to prison to put you to the test, and you must face hardship for ten days. Even if you have to die, keep faithful, and I will give you the crown of life for your prize.

Rev 2:11 Let anyone who can hear, listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches: for those who prove victorious will come to no harm from the second death."

Rev 2:12 'Write to the angel of the church in Pergamum and say, "Here is the message of the one who has the sharp sword, double-edged:

Rev 2:13 I know where you live, in the place where Satan is enthroned, and that you still hold firmly to my name, and did not disown your faith in me even when my faithful witness, Antipas, was killed among you, where Satan lives.

Rev 2:14 "Nevertheless, I have one or two charges against you: some of you are followers of Balaam, who taught Balak to set a trap for the Israelites so that they committed adultery by eating food that had been sacrificed to idols;

Rev 2:15 and among you too there are some also who follow the teaching of the Nicolaitans.

Rev 2:16 So repent, or I shall soon come to you and attack these people with the sword out of my mouth.

Rev 2:17 Let anyone who can hear, listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches: to those who prove victorious I will give some hidden manna and a white stone, with a new name written on it, known only to the person who receives it."

Rev 2:18 'Write to the angel of the church in Thyatira and say, "Here is the message of the Son of God who has eyes like a burning flame and feet like burnished bronze:

Rev 2:19 I know your activities, your love, your faith, your service and your perseverance, and I know how you are still making progress.

Rev 2:20 Nevertheless, I have a complaint to make: you tolerate the woman Jezebel who claims to be a prophetess, and by her teaching she is luring my servants away to commit the adultery of eating food which has been sacrificed to idols.

Rev 2:21 I have given her time to repent but she is not willing to repent of her adulterous life.

Rev 2:22 Look, I am consigning her to a bed of pain, and all her partners in adultery to great hardship, unless they repent of their practices;

Rev 2:23 and I will see that her children die, so that all the churches realise that it is I who test motives and thoughts and repay you as your deeds deserve.

Rev 2:24 But on the rest of you in Thyatira, all of you who have not accepted this teaching or learnt the deep secrets of Satan, as they are called, I am not laying any other burden;

Rev 2:25 but hold on firmly to what you already have until I come.

Rev 2:26 To anyone who proves victorious, and keeps working for me until the end, I will give the authority over the nations

Rev 2:27 which I myself have been given by my Father, to rule them with an iron sceptre and shatter them like so many pots.

Rev 2:28 And I will give such a person the Morning Star.

Rev 2:29 Let anyone who can hear, listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches."

Rev 3:1 'Write to the angel of the church in Sardis and say, "Here is the message of the one who holds the seven spirits of God and the seven stars: I know about your behaviour: how you are reputed to be alive and yet are dead.

Rev 3:2 Wake up; put some resolve into what little vigour you have left: it is dying fast. So far I have failed to notice anything in your behaviour that my God could possibly call perfect;

Rev 3:3 remember how you first heard the message. Hold on to that. Repent! If you do not wake up, I shall come to you like a thief, and you will have no idea at what hour I shall come upon you.

Rev 3:4 There are a few in Sardis, it is true, who have kept their robes unstained, and they are fit to come with me, dressed in white.

Rev 3:5 Anyone who proves victorious will be dressed, like these, in white robes; I shall not blot that name out of the book of life, but acknowledge it in the presence of my Father and his angels.

Rev 3:6 Let anyone who can hear, listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches."

Rev 3:7 'Write to the angel of the church in Philadelphia and say, "Here is the message of the holy and true one who has the key of David, so that when he opens, no one will close, and when he closes, no one will open:

Rev 3:8 I know about your activities. Look, I have opened in front of you a door that no one will be able to close -- and I know that though you are not very strong, you have kept my commandments and not disowned my name.

Rev 3:9 Look, I am going to make the synagogue of Satan -- those who falsely claim to be Jews, but are liars, because they are no such thing -- I will make them come and fall at your feet and recognize that I have loved you.

Rev 3:10 Because you have kept my commandment to persevere, I will keep you safe in the time of trial which is coming for the whole world, to put the people of the world to the test.

Rev 3:11 I am coming soon: hold firmly to what you already have, and let no one take your victor's crown away from you.

Rev 3:12 Anyone who proves victorious I will make into a pillar in the sanctuary of my God, and it will stay there for ever; I will inscribe on it the name of my God and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem which is coming down from my God in heaven, and my own new name as well.

Rev 3:13 Let anyone who can hear, listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches."

Rev 3:14 'Write to the angel of the church in Laodicea and say, "Here is the message of the Amen, the trustworthy, the true witness, the Principle of God's creation:

Rev 3:15 I know about your activities: how you are neither cold nor hot. I wish you were one or the other,

Rev 3:16 but since you are neither hot nor cold, but only lukewarm, I will spit you out of my mouth.

Rev 3:17 You say to yourself: I am rich, I have made a fortune and have everything I want, never realising that you are wretchedly and pitifully poor, and blind and naked too.

Rev 3:18 I warn you, buy from me the gold that has been tested in the fire to make you truly rich, and white robes to clothe you and hide your shameful nakedness, and ointment to put on your eyes to enable you to see.

Rev 3:19 I reprove and train those whom I love: so repent in real earnest.

Rev 3:20 Look, I am standing at the door, knocking. If one of you hears me calling and opens the door, I will come in to share a meal at that person's side.

Rev 3:21 Anyone who proves victorious I will allow to share my throne, just as I have myself overcome and have taken my seat with my Father on his throne.

Rev 3:22 Let anyone who can hear, listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches." '

Rev 4:1 Then, in my vision, I saw a door open in heaven and heard the same voice speaking to me, the voice like a trumpet, saying, 'Come up here: I will show you what is to take place in the future.'

Rev 4:2 With that, I fell into ecstasy and I saw a throne standing in heaven, and the One who was sitting on the throne,

Rev 4:3 and the One sitting there looked like a diamond and a ruby. There was a rainbow encircling the throne, and this looked like an emerald.

Rev 4:4 Round the throne in a circle were twenty-four thrones, and on them twenty-four elders sitting, dressed in white robes with golden crowns on their heads.

Rev 4:5 Flashes of lightning were coming from the throne, and the sound of peals of thunder, and in front of the throne there were seven flaming lamps burning, the seven Spirits of God.

Rev 4:6 In front of the throne was a sea as transparent as crystal. In the middle of the throne and around it, were four living creatures all studded with eyes, in front and behind.

Rev 4:7 The first living creature was like a lion, the second like a bull, the third living creature had a human face, and the fourth living creature was like a flying eagle.

Rev 4:8 Each of the four living creatures had six wings and was studded with eyes all the way round as well as inside; and day and night they never stopped singing: Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God, the Almighty; who was, and is and is to come.'

Rev 4:9 Every time the living creatures glorified and honoured and gave thanks to the One sitting on the throne, who lives for ever and ever,

Rev 4:10 the twenty-four elders prostrated themselves before him to worship the One who lives for ever and ever, and threw down their crowns in front of the throne, saying:

Rev 4:11 You are worthy, our Lord and God, to receive glory and honour and power, for you made the whole universe; by your will, when it did not exist, it was created.

Rev 5:1 I saw that in the right hand of the One sitting on the throne there was a scroll that was written on back and front and was sealed with seven seals.

Rev 5:2 Then I saw a powerful angel who called with a loud voice, 'Who is worthy to open the scroll and break its seals?'

Rev 5:3 But there was no one, in heaven or on the earth or under the earth, who was able to open the scroll and read it.

Rev 5:4 I wept bitterly because nobody could be found to open the scroll and read it,

Rev 5:5 but one of the elders said to me, 'Do not weep. Look, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has triumphed, and so he will open the scroll and its seven seals.'

Rev 5:6 Then I saw, in the middle of the throne with its four living creatures and the circle of the elders, a Lamb standing that seemed to have been sacrificed; it had seven horns, and it had seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits that God has sent out over the whole world.

Rev 5:7 The Lamb came forward to take the scroll from the right hand of the One sitting on the throne,

Rev 5:8 and when he took it, the four living creatures prostrated themselves before him and with them the twenty-four elders; each one of them was holding a harp and had a golden bowl full of incense which are the prayers of the saints.

Rev 5:9 They sang a new hymn: You are worthy to take the scroll and to break its seals, because you were sacrificed, and with your blood you bought people for God of every race, language, people and nation

Rev 5:10 and made them a line of kings and priests for God, to rule the world.

Rev 5:11 In my vision, I heard the sound of an immense number of angels gathered round the throne and the living creatures and the elders; there were ten thousand times ten thousand of them and thousands upon thousands,

Rev 5:12 loudly chanting: Worthy is the Lamb that was sacrificed to receive power, riches, wisdom, strength, honour, glory and blessing.

Rev 5:13 Then I heard all the living things in creation -- everything that lives in heaven, and on earth, and under the earth, and in the sea, crying: To the One seated on the throne and to the Lamb, be all praise, honour, glory and power, for ever and ever.

Rev 5:14 And the four living creatures said, 'Amen'; and the elders prostrated themselves to worship.

Rev 6:1 Then, in my vision, I saw the Lamb break one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures shout in a voice like thunder, 'Come!'

Rev 6:2 Immediately I saw a white horse appear, and its rider was holding a bow; he was given a victor's crown and he went away, to go from victory to victory.

Rev 6:3 When he broke the second seal, I heard the second living creature shout, 'Come!'

Rev 6:4 And out came another horse, bright red, and its rider was given this duty: to take away peace from the earth and set people killing each other. He was given a huge sword.

Rev 6:5 When he broke the third seal, I heard the third living creature shout, 'Come!' Immediately I saw a black horse appear, and its rider was holding a pair of scales;

Rev 6:6 and I seemed to hear a voice shout from among the four living creatures and say, 'A day's wages for a quart of corn, and a day's wages for three quarts of barley, but do not tamper with the oil or the wine.'

Rev 6:7 When he broke the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature shout, 'Come!'

Rev 6:8 Immediately I saw another horse appear, deathly pale, and its rider was called Death, and Hades followed at its heels. They were given authority over a quarter of the earth, to kill by the sword, by famine, by plague and through wild beasts.

Rev 6:9 When he broke the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of all the people who had been killed on account of the Word of God, for witnessing to it.

Rev 6:10 They shouted in a loud voice, 'Holy, true Master, how much longer will you wait before you pass sentence and take vengeance for our death on the inhabitants of the earth?'

Rev 6:11 Each of them was given a white robe, and they were told to be patient a little longer, until the roll was completed of their fellow-servants and brothers who were still to be killed as they had been.

Rev 6:12 In my vision, when he broke the sixth seal, there was a violent earthquake and the sun went as black as coarse sackcloth; the moon turned red as blood all over,

Rev 6:13 and the stars of the sky fell onto the earth like figs dropping from a fig tree when a high wind shakes it;

Rev 6:14 the sky disappeared like a scroll rolling up and all the mountains and islands were shaken from their places.

Rev 6:15 Then all the kings of the earth, the governors and the commanders, the rich people and the men of influence, the whole population, slaves and citizens, hid in caverns and among the rocks of the mountains.

Rev 6:16 They said to the mountains and the rocks, 'Fall on us and hide us away from the One who sits on the throne and from the retribution of the Lamb.

Rev 6:17 For the Great Day of his retribution has come, and who can face it?'

Rev 7:1 Next I saw four angels, standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back the four winds of the world to keep them from blowing over the land or the sea or any tree.

Rev 7:2 Then I saw another angel rising where the sun rises, carrying the seal of the living God; he called in a powerful voice to the four angels whose duty was to devastate land and sea,

Rev 7:3 'Wait before you do any damage on land or at sea or to the trees, until we have put the seal on the foreheads of the servants of our God.'

Rev 7:4 And I heard how many had been sealed: a hundred and forty-four thousand, out of all the tribes of Israel.

Rev 7:5 From the tribe of Judah, twelve thousand had been sealed; from the tribe of Reuben, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Gad, twelve thousand;

Rev 7:6 from the tribe of Asher, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Naphtali, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Manasseh, twelve thousand;

Rev 7:7 from the tribe of Simeon, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Levi, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Issachar, twelve thousand;

Rev 7:8 from the tribe of Zebulun, twelve thousand; and from the tribe of Benjamin, twelve thousand had been sealed.

Rev 7:9 After that I saw that there was a huge number, impossible for anyone to count, of people from every nation, race, tribe and language; they were standing in front of the throne and in front of the Lamb, dressed in white robes and holding palms in their hands. They shouted in a loud voice,

Rev 7:10 'Salvation to our God, who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb!'

Rev 7:11 And all the angels who were standing in a circle round the throne, surrounding the elders and the four living creatures, prostrated themselves before the throne, and touched the ground with their foreheads, worshipping God

Rev 7:12 with these words: Amen. Praise and glory and wisdom, thanksgiving and honour and power and strength to our God for ever and ever. Amen.

Rev 7:13 One of the elders then spoke and asked me, 'Who are these people, dressed in white robes, and where have they come from?'

Rev 7:14 I answered him, 'You can tell me, sir.' Then he said, 'These are the people who have been through the great trial; they have washed their robes white again in the blood of the Lamb.'

Rev 7:15 That is why they are standing in front of God's throne and serving him day and night in his sanctuary; and the One who sits on the throne will spread his tent over them.

Rev 7:16 They will never hunger or thirst again; sun and scorching wind will never plague them,

Rev 7:17 because the Lamb who is at the heart of the throne will be their shepherd and will guide them to springs of living water; and God will wipe away all tears from their eyes.'

Rev 8:1 The Lamb then broke the seventh seal, and there was silence in heaven for about half an hour.

Rev 8:2 Next I saw seven trumpets being given to the seven angels who stand in the presence of God.

Rev 8:3 Another angel, who had a golden censer, came and stood at the altar. A large quantity of incense was given to him to offer with the prayers of all the saints on the golden altar that stood in front of the throne;

Rev 8:4 and so from the angel's hand the smoke of the incense went up in the presence of God and with it the prayers of the saints.

Rev 8:5 Then the angel took the censer and filled it from the fire of the altar, which he then hurled down onto the earth; immediately there came peals of thunder and flashes of lightning, and the earth shook.

Rev 8:6 The seven angels that had the seven trumpets now made ready to sound them.

Rev 8:7 The first blew his trumpet and, with that, hail and fire, mixed with blood, were hurled on the earth: a third of the earth was burnt up, and a third of all trees, and every blade of grass was burnt.

Rev 8:8 The second angel blew his trumpet, and it was as though a great mountain blazing with fire was hurled into the sea: a third of the sea turned into blood,

Rev 8:9 a third of all the living things in the sea were killed, and a third of all ships were destroyed.

Rev 8:10 The third angel blew his trumpet, and a huge star fell from the sky, burning like a ball of fire, and it fell on a third of all rivers and on the springs of water;

Rev 8:11 this was the star called Wormwood, and a third of all water turned to wormwood, so that many people died; the water had become so bitter.

Rev 8:12 The fourth angel blew his trumpet, and a third of the sun and a third of the moon and a third of the stars were blasted, so that the light went out of a third of them and the day lost a third of its illumination, and likewise the night.

Rev 8:13 In my vision, I heard an eagle, calling aloud as it flew high overhead, 'Disaster, disaster, disaster, on all the people on earth at the sound of the other three trumpets which the three angels have yet to blow!'

Rev 9:1 Then the fifth angel blew his trumpet, and I saw a star that had fallen from heaven onto the earth, and the angel was given the key to the shaft leading down to the Abyss.

Rev 9:2 When he unlocked the shaft of the Abyss, smoke rose out of the Abyss like the smoke from a huge furnace so that the sun and the sky were darkened by the smoke from the Abyss,

Rev 9:3 and out of the smoke dropped locusts onto the earth: they were given the powers that scorpions have on the earth:

Rev 9:4 they were forbidden to harm any fields or crops or trees and told to attack only those people who were without God's seal on their foreheads.

Rev 9:5 They were not to kill them, but to give them anguish for five months, and the anguish was to be the anguish of a scorpion's sting.

Rev 9:6 When this happens, people will long for death and not find it anywhere; they will want to die and death will evade them.

Rev 9:7 These locusts looked like horses armoured for battle; they had what looked like gold crowns on their heads, and their faces looked human,

Rev 9:8 and their hair was like women's hair, and teeth like lion's teeth.

Rev 9:9 They had body-armour like iron breastplates, and the noise of their wings sounded like the racket of chariots with many horses charging.

Rev 9:10 Their tails were like scorpions' tails, with stings, and with their tails they were able to torture people for five months.

Rev 9:11 As their leader they had their emperor, the angel of the Abyss, whose name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in Greek Apollyon.

Rev 9:12 That was the first of the disasters; there are still two more to come.

Rev 9:13 The sixth angel blew his trumpet, and I heard a single voice issuing from the four horns of the golden altar in God's presence.

Rev 9:14 It spoke to the sixth angel with the trumpet, and said, 'Release the four angels that are chained up at the great river Euphrates.'

Rev 9:15 These four angels had been ready for this hour of this day of this month of this year, and ready to destroy a third of the human race.

Rev 9:16 I learnt how many there were in their army: twice ten thousand times ten thousand mounted men.

Rev 9:17 In my vision I saw the horses, and the riders with their breastplates of flame colour, hyacinth-blue and sulphur-yellow; the horses had lions' heads, and fire, smoke and sulphur were coming from their mouths.

Rev 9:18 It was by these three plagues, the fire, the smoke and the sulphur coming from their mouths, that the one third of the human race was killed.

Rev 9:19 All the horses' power was in their mouths and their tails: their tails were like snakes, and had heads which inflicted wounds.

Rev 9:20 But the rest of the human race, who escaped death by these plagues, refused either to abandon their own handiwork or to stop worshipping devils, the idols made of gold, silver, bronze, stone and wood that can neither see nor hear nor move.

Rev 9:21 Nor did they give up their murdering, or witchcraft, or fornication or stealing.

Rev 10:1 Then I saw another powerful angel coming down from heaven, wrapped in cloud, with a rainbow over his head; his face was like the sun, and his legs were pillars of fire.

Rev 10:2 In his hand he had a small scroll, unrolled; he put his right foot in the sea and his left foot on the land

Rev 10:3 and he shouted so loud, it was like a lion roaring. At this, the seven claps of thunder made themselves heard

Rev 10:4 and when the seven thunderclaps had sounded, I was preparing to write, when I heard a voice from heaven say to me, 'Keep the words of the seven thunderclaps secret and do not write them down.'

Rev 10:5 Then the angel that I had seen, standing on the sea and the land, raised his right hand to heaven,

Rev 10:6 and swore by him who lives for ever and ever, and made heaven and all that it contains, and earth and all it contains, and the sea and all it contains, 'The time of waiting is over;

Rev 10:7 at the time when the seventh angel is heard sounding his trumpet, the mystery of God will be fulfilled, just as he announced in the gospel to his servants the prophets.'

Rev 10:8 Then I heard the voice I had heard from heaven speaking to me again. 'Go', it said, 'and take that open scroll from the hand of the angel standing on sea and land.'

Rev 10:9 I went to the angel and asked him to give me the small scroll, and he said, 'Take it and eat it; it will turn your stomach sour, but it will taste as sweet as honey.'

Rev 10:10 So I took it out of the angel's hand, and I ate it and it tasted sweet as honey, but when I had eaten it my stomach turned sour.

Rev 10:11 Then I was told, 'You are to prophesy again, this time against many different nations and countries and languages and kings.'

Rev 11:1 Then I was given a long cane like a measuring rod, and I was told, 'Get up and measure God's sanctuary, and the altar, and the people who worship there;

Rev 11:2 but exclude the outer court and do not measure it, because it has been handed over to gentiles -- they will trample on the holy city for forty-two months.

Rev 11:3 But I shall send my two witnesses to prophesy for twelve hundred and sixty days, wearing sackcloth.

Rev 11:4 These are the two olive trees and the two lamps in attendance on the Lord of the world.

Rev 11:5 Fire comes from their mouths and consumes their enemies if anyone tries to harm them; and anyone who tries to harm them will certainly be killed in this way.

Rev 11:6 They have the power to lock up the sky so that it does not rain as long as they are prophesying; they have the power to turn water into blood and strike the whole world with any plague as often as they like.

Rev 11:7 When they have completed their witnessing, the beast that comes out of the Abyss is going to make war on them and overcome them and kill them.

Rev 11:8 Their corpses lie in the main street of the great city known by the symbolic names Sodom and Egypt, in which their Lord was crucified.

Rev 11:9 People of every race, tribe, language and nation stare at their corpses, for three-and-a-half days, not letting them be buried,

Rev 11:10 and the people of the world are glad about it and celebrate the event by giving presents to each other, because these two prophets have been a plague to the people of the world.'

Rev 11:11 After the three-and-a-half days, God breathed life into them and they stood up on their feet, and everybody who saw it happen was terrified;

Rev 11:12 then I heard a loud voice from heaven say to them, 'Come up here,' and while their enemies were watching, they went up to heaven in a cloud.

Rev 11:13 Immediately, there was a violent earthquake, and a tenth of the city collapsed; seven thousand persons were killed in the earthquake, and the survivors, overcome with fear, could only praise the God of heaven.

Rev 11:14 That was the second of the disasters; the third is to come quickly after it.

Rev 11:15 Then the seventh angel blew his trumpet, and voices could be heard shouting in heaven, calling, 'The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and his Christ, and he will reign for ever and ever.'

Rev 11:16 The twenty-four elders, enthroned in the presence of God, prostrated themselves and touched the ground with their foreheads worshipping God

Rev 11:17 with these words, 'We give thanks to you, Almighty Lord God, He who is, He who was, for assuming your great power and beginning your reign.'

Rev 11:18 The nations were in uproar and now the time has come for your retribution, and for the dead to be judged, and for your servants the prophets, for the saints and for those who fear your name, small and great alike, to be rewarded. The time has come to destroy those who are destroying the earth.'

Rev 11:19 Then the sanctuary of God in heaven opened, and the ark of the covenant could be seen inside it. Then came flashes of lightning, peals of thunder and an earthquake and violent hail.

Rev 12:1 Now a great sign appeared in heaven: a woman, robed with the sun, standing on the moon, and on her head a crown of twelve stars.

Rev 12:2 She was pregnant, and in labour, crying aloud in the pangs of childbirth.

Rev 12:3 Then a second sign appeared in the sky: there was a huge red dragon with seven heads and ten horns, and each of the seven heads crowned with a coronet.

Rev 12:4 Its tail swept a third of the stars from the sky and hurled them to the ground, and the dragon stopped in front of the woman as she was at the point of giving birth, so that it could eat the child as soon as it was born.

Rev 12:5 The woman was delivered of a boy, the son who was to rule all the nations with an iron sceptre, and the child was taken straight up to God and to his throne,

Rev 12:6 while the woman escaped into the desert, where God had prepared a place for her to be looked after for twelve hundred and sixty days.

Rev 12:7 And now war broke out in heaven, when Michael with his angels attacked the dragon. The dragon fought back with his angels,

Rev 12:8 but they were defeated and driven out of heaven.

Rev 12:9 The great dragon, the primeval serpent, known as the devil or Satan, who had led all the world astray, was hurled down to the earth and his angels were hurled down with him.

Rev 12:10 Then I heard a voice shout from heaven, 'Salvation and power and empire for ever have been won by our God, and all authority for his Christ, now that the accuser, who accused our brothers day and night before our God, has been brought down.'

Rev 12:11 They have triumphed over him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word to which they bore witness, because even in the face of death they did not cling to life.

Rev 12:12 So let the heavens rejoice and all who live there; but for you, earth and sea, disaster is coming -- because the devil has gone down to you in a rage, knowing that he has little time left.'

Rev 12:13 As soon as the dragon found himself hurled down to the earth, he sprang in pursuit of the woman, the mother of the male child,

Rev 12:14 but she was given a pair of the great eagle's wings to fly away from the serpent into the desert, to the place where she was to be looked after for a time, two times and half a time.

Rev 12:15 So the serpent vomited water from his mouth, like a river, after the woman, to sweep her away in the current,

Rev 12:16 but the earth came to her rescue; it opened its mouth and swallowed the river spewed from the dragon's mouth.

Rev 12:17 Then the dragon was enraged with the woman and went away to make war on the rest of her children, who obey God's commandments and have in themselves the witness of Jesus.

Rev 12:18 And I took my stand on the seashore.

Rev 13:1 Then I saw a beast emerge from the sea: it had seven heads and ten horns, with a coronet on each of its ten horns, and its heads were marked with blasphemous titles.

Rev 13:2 I saw that the beast was like a leopard, with paws like a bear and a mouth like a lion; the dragon had handed over to it his own power and his throne and his immense authority.

Rev 13:3 I saw that one of its heads seemed to have had a fatal wound but that this deadly injury had healed and the whole world had marvelled and followed the beast.

Rev 13:4 They prostrated themselves in front of the dragon because he had given the beast his authority; and they prostrated themselves in front of the beast, saying, 'Who can compare with the beast? Who can fight against it?'

Rev 13:5 The beast was allowed to mouth its boasts and blasphemies and to be active for forty-two months; Rev 13:6 and it mouthed its blasphemies against God, against his name, his heavenly Tent and all those who are sheltered there.

Rev 13:7 It was allowed to make war against the saints and conquer them, and given power over every race, people, language and nation;

Rev 13:8 and all people of the world will worship it, that is, everybody whose name has not been written down since the foundation of the world in the sacrificial Lamb's book of life.

Rev 13:9 Let anyone who can hear, listen:

Rev 13:10 Those for captivity to captivity; those for death by the sword to death by the sword. This is why the saints must have perseverance and faith.

Rev 13:11 Then I saw a second beast, emerging from the ground; it had two horns like a lamb, but made a noise like a dragon.

Rev 13:12 This second beast exercised all the power of the first beast, on its behalf making the world and all its people worship the first beast, whose deadly injury had healed.

Rev 13:13 And it worked great miracles, even to calling down fire from heaven onto the earth while people watched.

Rev 13:14 Through the miracles which it was allowed to do on behalf of the first beast, it was able to lead astray the people of the world and persuade them to put up a statue in honour of the beast that had been wounded by the sword and still lived.

Rev 13:15 It was allowed to breathe life into this statue, so that the statue of the beast was able to speak, and to have anyone who refused to worship the statue of the beast put to death.

Rev 13:16 It compelled everyone -- small and great alike, rich and poor, slave and citizen -- to be branded on the right hand or on the forehead,

Rev 13:17 and made it illegal for anyone to buy or sell anything unless he had been branded with the name of the beast or with the number of its name.

Rev 13:18 There is need for shrewdness here: anyone clever may interpret the number of the beast: it is the number of a human being, the number 666.

Rev 14:1 Next in my vision I saw Mount Zion, and standing on it the Lamb who had with him a hundred and forty-four thousand people, all with his name and his Father's name written on their foreheads.

Rev 14:2 I heard a sound coming out of heaven like the sound of the ocean or the roar of thunder; it was like the sound of harpists playing their harps.

Rev 14:3 There before the throne they were singing a new hymn in the presence of the four living creatures and the elders, a hymn that could be learnt only by the hundred and forty-four thousand who had been redeemed from the world.

Rev 14:4 These are the sons who have kept their virginity and not been defiled with women; they follow the Lamb wherever he goes; they, out of all people, have been redeemed to be the first-fruits for God and for the Lamb.

Rev 14:5 No lie was found in their mouths and no fault can be found in them.

Rev 14:6 Then I saw another angel, flying high overhead, sent to announce the gospel of eternity to all who live on the earth, every nation, race, language and tribe.

Rev 14:7 He was calling, 'Fear God and glorify him, because the time has come for him to sit in judgement; worship the maker of heaven and earth and sea and the springs of water.'

Rev 14:8 A second angel followed him, calling, 'Babylon has fallen, Babylon the Great has fallen, Babylon which gave the whole world the wine of retribution to drink.'

Rev 14:9 A third angel followed, shouting aloud, 'All those who worship the beast and his statue, or have had themselves branded on the hand or forehead,

Rev 14:10 will be made to drink the wine of God's fury which is ready, undiluted, in his cup of retribution; in fire and brimstone they will be tortured in the presence of the holy angels and the Lamb

Rev 14:11 and the smoke of their torture will rise for ever and ever. There will be no respite, night or day, for those who worship the beast or its statue or accept branding with its name.'

Rev 14:12 This is why there must be perseverance in the saints who keep the commandments of God and faith in Jesus.

Rev 14:13 Then I heard a voice from heaven say to me, 'Write down: Blessed are those who die in the Lord! Blessed indeed, the Spirit says; now they can rest for ever after their work, since their good deeds go with them.'

Rev 14:14 Now in my vision I saw a white cloud and, sitting on it, one like a son of man with a gold crown on his head and a sharp sickle in his hand.

Rev 14:15 Then another angel came out of the sanctuary and shouted at the top of his voice to the one sitting on the cloud, 'Ply your sickle and reap: harvest time has come and the harvest of the earth is ripe.'

Rev 14:16 Then the one sitting on the cloud set his sickle to work on the earth, and the harvest of earth was reaped.

Rev 14:17 Another angel, who also carried a sharp sickle, came out of the temple in heaven,

Rev 14:18 and the angel in charge of the fire left the altar and shouted at the top of his voice to the one with the sharp sickle, 'Put your sickle in, and harvest the bunches from the vine of the earth; all its grapes are ripe.'

Rev 14:19 So the angel set his sickle to work on the earth and harvested the whole vintage of the earth and put it into a huge winepress, the winepress of God's anger,

Rev 14:20 outside the city, where it was trodden until the blood that came out of the winepress was up to the horses' bridles as far away as sixteen hundred furlongs.

Rev 15:1 And I saw in heaven another sign, great and wonderful: seven angels were bringing the seven plagues that are the last of all, because they exhaust the anger of God.

Rev 15:2 I seemed to be looking at a sea of crystal suffused with fire, and standing by the lake of glass, those who had fought against the beast and won, and against his statue and the number which is his name. They all had harps from God,

Rev 15:3 and they were singing the hymn of Moses, the servant of God, and the hymn of the Lamb: How great and wonderful are all your works, Lord God Almighty; upright and true are all your ways, King of nations.

Rev 15:4 Who does not revere and glorify your name, O Lord? For you alone are holy, and all nations will come and adore you for the many acts of saving justice you have shown.

Rev 15:5 After this, in my vision, the sanctuary, the tent of the Testimony, opened in heaven,

Rev 15:6 and out came the seven angels with the seven plagues, wearing pure white linen, fastened round their waists with belts of gold.

Rev 15:7 One of the four living creatures gave the seven angels seven golden bowls filled with the anger of God who lives for ever and ever.

Rev 15:8 The smoke from the glory and the power of God filled the temple so that no one could go into it until the seven plagues of the seven angels were completed.

Rev 16:1 Then I heard a loud voice from the sanctuary calling to the seven angels, 'Go, and empty the seven bowls of God's anger over the earth.'

Rev 16:2 The first angel went and emptied his bowl over the earth; at once, on all the people who had been branded with the mark of the beast and had worshipped its statue, there came disgusting and virulent sores.

Rev 16:3 The second angel emptied his bowl over the sea, and it turned to blood, like the blood of a corpse, and every living creature in the sea died.

Rev 16:4 The third angel emptied his bowl into the rivers and springs of water and they turned into blood.

Rev 16:5 Then I heard the angel of water say, 'You are the Upright One, He who is, He who was, the Holy One, for giving this verdict:

Rev 16:6 they spilt the blood of the saints and the prophets, and blood is what you have given them to drink; it is what they deserve.'

Rev 16:7 And I heard the altar itself say, 'Truly, Lord God Almighty, the punishments you give are true and just.'

Rev 16:8 The fourth angel emptied his bowl over the sun and it was made to scorch people with its flames;

Rev 16:9 but though people were scorched by the fierce heat of it, they cursed the name of God who had the power to cause such plagues, and they would not repent and glorify him.

Rev 16:10 The fifth angel emptied his bowl over the throne of the beast and its whole empire was plunged into darkness. People were biting their tongues for pain,

Rev 16:11 but instead of repenting for what they had done, they cursed the God of heaven because of their pains and sores.

Rev 16:12 The sixth angel emptied his bowl over the great river Euphrates; all the water dried up so that a way was made for the kings of the East to come in.

Rev 16:13 Then from the jaws of dragon and beast and false prophet I saw three foul spirits come; they looked like frogs

Rev 16:14 and in fact were demon spirits, able to work miracles, going out to all the kings of the world to call them together for the war of the Great Day of God the Almighty.-

Rev 16:15 Look, I shall come like a thief. Blessed is anyone who has kept watch, and has kept his clothes on, so that he does not go out naked and expose his shame.-

Rev 16:16 They called the kings together at the place called, in Hebrew, Armageddon.

Rev 16:17 The seventh angel emptied his bowl into the air, and a great voice boomed out from the sanctuary, 'The end has come.'

Rev 16:18 Then there were flashes of lightning and peals of thunder and a violent earthquake, unparalleled since humanity first came into existence.

Rev 16:19 The Great City was split into three parts and the cities of the world collapsed; Babylon the Great was not forgotten: God made her drink the full winecup of his retribution.

Rev 16:20 Every island vanished and the mountains disappeared;
Rev 16:21 and hail, with great hailstones weighing a talent each, fell from the sky on the people. They cursed God for sending a plague of hail; it was the most terrible plague.
Rev 17:1 One of the seven angels that had the seven bowls came to speak to me, and said, 'Come here and I will show you the punishment of the great prostitute who is enthroned beside abundant waters,
Rev 17:2 with whom all the kings of the earth have prostituted themselves, and who has made all the population of the world drunk with the wine of her adultery.'
Rev 17:3 He took me in spirit to a desert, and there I saw a woman riding a scarlet beast which had seven heads and ten horns and had blasphemous titles written all over it.
Rev 17:4 The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet and glittered with gold and jewels and pearls, and she was holding a gold winecup filled with the disgusting filth of her prostitution;
Rev 17:5 on her forehead was written a name, a cryptic name: 'Babylon the Great, the mother of all the prostitutes and all the filthy practices on the earth.'
Rev 17:6 I saw that she was drunk, drunk with the blood of the saints, and the blood of the martyrs of Jesus; and when I saw her, I was completely mystified.
Rev 17:7 The angel said to me, 'Do you not understand? I will tell you the meaning of this woman, and of the beast she is riding, with the seven heads and the ten horns.
Rev 17:8 'The beast you have seen was once alive and is alive no longer; it is yet to come up from the Abyss, but only to go to its destruction. And the people of the world, whose names have not been written since the beginning of the world in the book of life, will be astonished when they see how the beast was once alive and is alive no longer, and is still to come.
Rev 17:9 'This calls for shrewdness. The seven heads are the seven hills, on which the woman is sitting.
Rev 17:10 The seven heads are also seven emperors. Five of them have already gone, one is here now, and one is yet to come; once here, he must stay for a short while.
Rev 17:11 The beast, who was alive and is alive no longer, is at the same time the eighth and one of the seven, and he is going to his destruction.
Rev 17:12 'The ten horns which you saw are ten kings who have not yet been given their royal power but will have royal authority only for a single hour and in association with the beast.
Rev 17:13 They are all of one mind in putting their strength and their powers at the beast's disposal,
Rev 17:14 and they will go to war against the Lamb; but because the Lamb is Lord of lords and King of kings, he will defeat them, he and his followers, the called, the chosen, the trustworthy.'
Rev 17:15 The angel continued, 'The waters you saw, beside which the prostitute was sitting, are all the peoples, the populations, the nations and the languages.
Rev 17:16 But the ten horns and the beast will turn against the prostitute, and tear off her clothes and leave her stark naked; then they will eat her flesh and burn the remains in the fire.
Rev 17:17 In fact, God has influenced their minds to do what he intends, to agree together to put their royal powers at the beast's disposal until the time when God's words shall be fulfilled.
Rev 17:18 The woman you saw is the great city which has authority over all the rulers on earth.'
Rev 18:1 After this, I saw another angel come down from heaven, with great authority given to him; the earth shone with his glory.
Rev 18:2 At the top of his voice he shouted, 'Babylon has fallen, Babylon the Great has fallen, and has become the haunt of devils and a lodging for every foul spirit and dirty, loathsome bird.
Rev 18:3 All the nations have drunk deep of the wine of her prostitution; every king on the earth has prostituted himself with her, and every merchant grown rich through her debauchery.'
Rev 18:4 Another voice spoke from heaven; I heard it say, 'Come out, my people, away from her, so that you do not share in her crimes and have the same plagues to bear.
Rev 18:5 Her sins have reached up to the sky, and God has her crimes in mind: treat her as she has treated others.
Rev 18:6 She must be paid double the amount she exacted. She is to have a doubly strong cup of her own mixture.
Rev 18:7 Every one of her pomps and orgies is to be matched by a torture or an agony. I am enthroned as queen, she thinks; I am no widow and will never know bereavement.
Rev 18:8 For that, in one day, the plagues will fall on her: disease and mourning and famine. She will be burned to the ground. The Lord God who has condemned her is mighty.'
Rev 18:9 'There will be mourning and weeping for her by the kings of the earth who have prostituted themselves with her and held orgies with her. They see the smoke as she burns,
Rev 18:10 while they keep at a safe distance through fear of her anguish. They will say: Mourn, mourn for this great city, Babylon, so powerful a city, in one short hour your doom has come upon you.
Rev 18:11 'There will be weeping and distress over her among all the traders of the earth when no one is left to buy their cargoes of goods;

Rev 18:12 their stocks of gold and silver, jewels and pearls, linen and purple and silks and scarlet; all the sandalwood, every piece in ivory or fine wood, in bronze or iron or marble;

Rev 18:13 the cinnamon and spices, the myrrh and ointment and incense; wine, oil, flour and corn; their stocks of cattle, sheep, horses and chariots, their slaves and their human cargo.

Rev 18:14 'All the fruits you had set your hearts on have failed you; gone for ever, never to return again, is your life of magnificence and ease.'

Rev 18:15 'The traders who had made a fortune out of her will be standing at a safe distance through fear of her anguish, mourning and weeping.'

Rev 18:16 They will be saying: Mourn, mourn for this great city; for all the linen and purple and scarlet that you wore, for all your finery of gold and jewels and pearls;

Rev 18:17 your huge riches are all destroyed within a single hour.' All the captains and seafaring men, sailors and all those who make a living from the sea kept a safe distance,

Rev 18:18 watching the smoke as she burned, and crying out, 'Has there ever been a city as great as this!'

Rev 18:19 They threw dust on their heads and said, with tears and groans: 'Mourn, mourn for this great city whose lavish living has made a fortune for every owner of a sea-going ship, ruined within a single hour.'

Rev 18:20 'Now heaven, celebrate her downfall, and all you saints, apostles and prophets: God has given judgement for you against her.'

Rev 18:21 Then a powerful angel picked up a boulder like a great millstone, and as he hurled it into the sea, he said, 'That is how the great city of Babylon is going to be hurled down, never to be seen again.'

Rev 18:22 Never again in you will be heard the song of harpists and minstrels, the music of flute and trumpet; never again will craftsmen of every skill be found in you or the sound of the handmill be heard;

Rev 18:23 never again will shine the light of the lamp in you, never again will be heard in you the voices of bridegroom and bride. Your traders were the princes of the earth, all the nations were led astray by your sorcery.

Rev 18:24 In her was found the blood of prophets and saints, and all the blood that was ever shed on earth.'

Rev 19:1 After this I heard what seemed to be the great sound of a huge crowd in heaven, singing, 'Alleluia! Salvation and glory and power to our God!

Rev 19:2 He judges fairly, he punishes justly, and he has condemned the great prostitute who corrupted the earth with her prostitution; he has avenged the blood of his servants which she shed.'

Rev 19:3 And again they sang, 'Alleluia! The smoke of her will rise for ever and ever.'

Rev 19:4 Then the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures threw themselves down and worshipped God seated on his throne, and they cried, 'Amen, Alleluia.'

Rev 19:5 Then a voice came from the throne; it said, 'Praise our God, you servants of his and those who fear him, small and great alike.'

Rev 19:6 And I heard what seemed to be the voices of a huge crowd, like the sound of the ocean or the great roar of thunder, answering, 'Alleluia! The reign of the Lord our God Almighty has begun;

Rev 19:7 let us be glad and joyful and give glory to God, because this is the time for the marriage of the Lamb.

Rev 19:8 His bride is ready, and she has been able to dress herself in dazzling white linen, because her linen is made of the good deeds of the saints.'

Rev 19:9 The angel said, 'Write this, "Blessed are those who are invited to the wedding feast of the Lamb," ' and he added, 'These words of God are true.'

Rev 19:10 Then I knelt at his feet to worship him, but he said to me, 'Never do that: I am your fellow-servant and the fellow-servant of all your brothers who have in themselves the witness of Jesus. God alone you must worship.' The witness of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

Rev 19:11 And now I saw heaven open, and a white horse appear; its rider was called Trustworthy and True; in uprightness he judges and makes war.

Rev 19:12 His eyes were flames of fire, and he was crowned with many coronets; the name written on him was known only to himself,

Rev 19:13 his cloak was soaked in blood. He is known by the name, The Word of God.

Rev 19:14 Behind him, dressed in linen of dazzling white, rode the armies of heaven on white horses.

Rev 19:15 From his mouth came a sharp sword with which to strike the unbelievers; he is the one who will rule them with an iron sceptre, and tread out the wine of Almighty God's fierce retribution.

Rev 19:16 On his cloak and on his thigh a name was written: King of kings and Lord of lords.

Rev 19:17 I saw an angel standing in the sun, and he shouted aloud to all the birds that were flying high overhead in the sky, 'Come here. Gather together at God's great feast.'

Rev 19:18 You will eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of great generals and heroes, the flesh of horses and their riders and of all kinds of people, citizens and slaves, small and great alike.'

Rev 19:19 Then I saw the beast, with all the kings of the earth and their armies, gathered together to fight the Rider and his army.

Rev 19:20 But the beast was taken prisoner, together with the false prophet who had worked miracles on the beast's behalf and by them had deceived those who had accepted branding with the mark of the beast and those who had worshipped his statue. These two were hurled alive into the fiery lake of burning sulphur.

Rev 19:21 All the rest were killed by the sword of the Rider, which came out of his mouth, and all the birds glutted themselves with their flesh.

Rev 20:1 Then I saw an angel come down from heaven with the key of the Abyss in his hand and an enormous chain.

Rev 20:2 He overpowered the dragon, that primeval serpent which is the devil and Satan, and chained him up for a thousand years.

Rev 20:3 He hurled him into the Abyss and shut the entrance and sealed it over him, to make sure he would not lead the nations astray again until the thousand years had passed. At the end of that time he must be released, but only for a short while.

Rev 20:4 Then I saw thrones, where they took their seats, and on them was conferred the power to give judgement. I saw the souls of all who had been beheaded for having witnessed for Jesus and for having preached God's word, and those who refused to worship the beast or his statue and would not accept the brand-mark on their foreheads or hands; they came to life, and reigned with Christ for a thousand years.

Rev 20:5 The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were over; this is the first resurrection.

Rev 20:6 Blessed and holy are those who share in the first resurrection; the second death has no power over them but they will be priests of God and of Christ and reign with him for a thousand years.

Rev 20:7 When the thousand years are over, Satan will be released from his prison

Rev 20:8 and will come out to lead astray all the nations in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, and mobilise them for war, his armies being as many as the sands of the sea.

Rev 20:9 They came swarming over the entire country and besieged the camp of the saints, which is the beloved City. But fire rained down on them from heaven and consumed them.

Rev 20:10 Then the devil, who led them astray, was hurled into the lake of fire and sulphur, where the beast and the false prophet are, and their torture will not come to an end, day or night, for ever and ever.

Rev 20:11 Then I saw a great white throne and the One who was sitting on it. In his presence, earth and sky vanished, leaving no trace.

Rev 20:12 I saw the dead, great and small alike, standing in front of his throne while the books lay open. And another book was opened, which is the book of life, and the dead were judged from what was written in the books, as their deeds deserved.

Rev 20:13 The sea gave up all the dead who were in it;

Rev 20:14 Death and Hades were emptied of the dead that were in them; and every one was judged as his deeds deserved. Then Death and Hades were hurled into the burning lake. This burning lake is the second death;

Rev 20:15 and anybody whose name could not be found written in the book of life was hurled into the burning lake.

Rev 21:1 Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth; the first heaven and the first earth had disappeared now, and there was no longer any sea.

Rev 21:2 I saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride dressed for her husband.

Rev 21:3 Then I heard a loud voice call from the throne, 'Look, here God lives among human beings. He will make his home among them; they will be his people, and he will be their God, God-with-them.'

Rev 21:4 He will wipe away all tears from their eyes; there will be no more death, and no more mourning or sadness or pain. The world of the past has gone.'

Rev 21:5 Then the One sitting on the throne spoke. 'Look, I am making the whole of creation new. Write this, "What I am saying is trustworthy and will come true."

Rev 21:6 Then he said to me, 'It has already happened. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. I will give water from the well of life free to anybody who is thirsty;

Rev 21:7 anyone who proves victorious will inherit these things; and I will be his God and he will be my son.

Rev 21:8 But the legacy for cowards, for those who break their word, or worship obscenities, for murderers and the sexually immoral, and for sorcerers, worshippers of false gods or any other sort of liars, is the second death in the burning lake of sulphur.'

Rev 21:9 One of the seven angels that had the seven bowls full of the seven final plagues came to speak to me and said, 'Come here and I will show you the bride that the Lamb has married.'

Rev 21:10 In the spirit, he carried me to the top of a very high mountain, and showed me Jerusalem, the holy city, coming down out of heaven from God.

Rev 21:11 It had all the glory of God and glittered like some precious jewel of crystal-clear diamond.

Rev 21:12 Its wall was of a great height and had twelve gates; at each of the twelve gates there was an angel, and over the gates were written the names of the twelve tribes of Israel;

Rev 21:13 on the east there were three gates, on the north three gates, on the south three gates, and on the west three gates.

Rev 21:14 The city walls stood on twelve foundation stones, each one of which bore the name of one of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

Rev 21:15 The angel that was speaking to me was carrying a gold measuring rod to measure the city and its gates and wall.

Rev 21:16 The plan of the city is perfectly square, its length the same as its breadth. He measured the city with his rod and it was twelve thousand furlongs, equal in length and in breadth, and equal in height.

Rev 21:17 He measured its wall, and this was a hundred and forty-four cubits high -- by human measurements.

Rev 21:18 The wall was built of diamond, and the city of pure gold, like clear glass.

Rev 21:19 The foundations of the city wall were faced with all kinds of precious stone: the first with diamond, the second lapis lazuli, the third turquoise, the fourth crystal,

Rev 21:20 the fifth agate, the sixth ruby, the seventh gold quartz, the eighth malachite, the ninth topaz, the tenth emerald, the eleventh sapphire and the twelfth amethyst.

Rev 21:21 The twelve gates were twelve pearls, each gate being made of a single pearl, and the main street of the city was pure gold, transparent as glass.

Rev 21:22 I could not see any temple in the city since the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb were themselves the temple,

Rev 21:23 and the city did not need the sun or the moon for light, since it was lit by the radiant glory of God, and the Lamb was a lighted torch for it.

Rev 21:24 The nations will come to its light and the kings of the earth will bring it their treasures.

Rev 21:25 Its gates will never be closed by day -- and there will be no night there-

Rev 21:26 and the nations will come, bringing their treasure and their wealth.

Rev 21:27 Nothing unclean may come into it: no one who does what is loathsome or false, but only those who are listed in the Lamb's book of life.

Rev 22:1 Then the angel showed me the river of life, rising from the throne of God and of the Lamb and flowing crystal-clear.

Rev 22:2 Down the middle of the city street, on either bank of the river were the trees of life, which bear twelve crops of fruit in a year, one in each month, and the leaves of which are the cure for the nations.

Rev 22:3 The curse of destruction will be abolished. The throne of God and of the Lamb will be in the city; his servants will worship him,

Rev 22:4 they will see him face to face, and his name will be written on their foreheads.

Rev 22:5 And night will be abolished; they will not need lamplight or sunlight, because the Lord God will be shining on them. They will reign for ever and ever.

Rev 22:6 The angel said to me, 'All that you have written is sure and will come true: the Lord God who inspires the prophets has sent his angel to reveal to his servants what is soon to take place.'

Rev 22:7 I am coming soon!' Blessed are those who keep the prophetic message of this book.

Rev 22:8 I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. When I had heard and seen them all, I knelt at the feet of the angel who had shown them to me, to worship him;

Rev 22:9 but he said, 'Do no such thing: I am your fellow-servant and the fellow-servant of your brothers the prophets and those who keep the message of this book. God alone you must worship.'

Rev 22:10 This, too, he said to me, 'Do not keep the prophecies in this book a secret, because the Time is close.'

Rev 22:11 Meanwhile let the sinner continue sinning, and the unclean continue to be unclean; let the upright continue in his uprightness, and those who are holy continue to be holy.

Rev 22:12 Look, I am coming soon, and my reward is with me, to repay everyone as their deeds deserve.

Rev 22:13 I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End.

Rev 22:14 Blessed are those who will have washed their robes clean, so that they will have the right to feed on the tree of life and can come through the gates into the city.

Rev 22:15 Others must stay outside: dogs, fortune-tellers, and the sexually immoral, murderers, idolaters, and everyone of false speech and false life.'

Rev 22:16 I, Jesus, have sent my angel to attest these things to you for the sake of the churches. I am the sprig from the root of David and the bright star of the morning.

Rev 22:17 The Spirit and the Bride say, 'Come!' Let everyone who listens answer, 'Come!' Then let all who are thirsty come: all who want it may have the water of life, and have it free.

Rev 22:18 This is my solemn attestation to all who hear the prophecies in this book: if anyone adds anything to them, God will add to him every plague mentioned in the book;

Rev 22:19 if anyone cuts anything out of the prophecies in this book, God will cut off his share of the tree of life and of the holy city, which are described in the book.

Rev 22:20 The one who attests these things says: I am indeed coming soon. Amen; come, Lord Jesus.

Rev 22:21 May the grace of the Lord Jesus be with you all. Amen.
